HON. W. E. FOSTER RESIGNED OFFICE AS PREMIER OF PROVINCE THIS AFTERNOON

HON. P. J. VENIOT AND NEW GOVERNMENT SWORN IN TONIGHT

Hon. C. W. Robinson Speaks of Rumor That He Might be Next Governor of New Brunswick—Talk of Deputy Minister of Public Works—Hon. Dr. Roberts Tells of Health Matters.

HON. W. E. FOSTER, Retiring Premier.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 1.—The resignation of Hon. W. E. Foster as Premier of New Brunswick was placed in the hands of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor this afternoon. His Honor arrived from Ottawa early in the afternoon. A statement issued by the retiring premier in explanation of the circumstances making necessary his retirement appears elsewhere in this issue.

The swearing in of the new Premier, Hon. P. J. Veniot, and his cabinet will take place tonight. It is likely to be fairly late as several members of the government have not yet arrived but are expected on evening trains. Hon. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Health; Hon. J. P. Byrne, Attorney-General; Hon. P. J. Veniot, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. W. E. Foster, all are here now. The new premier will make an announcement to the people of the province on Friday. He will spend much of his time at Fredericton in order to carry on better the double duties of the Premiership and Minister of Public Works. The appointment of a deputy minister in the department would not come as a surprise. provincial departments are John T. O'Brien of Fairville, and John A. Barry of St. John.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 1.—Hon. C. W. Robinson arrived in Fredericton this afternoon, Ottawa, where he has spent several days. He reached here on the same train with Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley. Immediately upon his arrival Hon. Mr. Robinson announced that he would accept Pugsley's nomination as deputy minister of lands and mines, and declared that after giving the matter very careful consideration he was in a position to say that he was not an aspirant for the position of Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick.

"No, not at the present, anyway," Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley replied immediately to his office at the Provincial buildings, where he was at once waited upon by the Hon. Walter E. Foster, who tendered the resignation of himself and his cabinet and nominated Hon. Peter J. Veniot, Minister of Public Works in the outgoing cabinet, as his successor. Hon. Mr. Veniot will be summoned this afternoon and invited to form a cabinet. He will do so and at the executive council chamber at 8.30 p. m. this evening the new premier and his government will be sworn in.

When Lieut.-Governor Pugsley was asked if he would make any statement as to his own future or respecting newspaper reports that he was soon to resign from his position, he replied: "So many nice things have been said as to the success which would mark my return to the practice of the legal profession that I am almost tempted to try it."

As soon as it became known that Hon. Mr. Robinson was not to accept the position of Lieutenant-Governor reports at once gained circulation in political circles that Hon. Dr. Pugsley would continue to act for a somewhat longer period than had been planned as Lieutenant-Governor, and that he might continue in office until after the conclusion of the coming session of the legislature.

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEW BRUNSWICK
Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 1, 1923.—I have this afternoon handed to His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, my resignation as Premier of my native province, a position which I have had the honor of occupying since 1917, and after eleven years of active service to the party to which I owe allegiance. My resignation has been accepted and I have, after consulting with the government supporters in the legislature, advised His Honor to call upon the Honorable P. J. Veniot to form a government.

It is not necessary for me to say that I have taken this action with the deepest regret. It has been my privilege during my term of office to form lasting friendships of many representative men from all parts of the province, not only those loyal and true supporters of the government in the legislature, but also of my opponents whose courtesy and consideration for my shortcomings have made my path easier.

I am passing to others the arduous duties of office not because of any dimensions within the government or its ranks, or of any declining support by the members towards the government or its policies, but in order that I may be able to devote my time and attention to my personal business interests.

When I made my last appeal to the people in the general election of 1921 I had been a program for approval which was endorsed by the electorate. The policies enunciated on that occasion have been brought into being, some of them to completion, but nevertheless I feel that it is only fair and right that my successor should have an opportunity of formulating his plans before the time arrives for his appeal to the electorate.

In taking leave of office I desire to express the hope that my successor, who has so ably administered the important Department of Public Works, will in his sphere of activity be accorded that degree of sympathy and patience which is so helpful in the task which lies before him and that when the time arrives when he and his supporters appeal to the people, they will, without prejudice, be fairly and honestly judged upon their record.

To the press I wish to express my appreciation of many courtesies extended.

W. E. FOSTER.

LONG PLEDGED; DEATH STEPS IN
London, Feb. 1.—In the midst of its flood murder case and sundry divorce scandals London has had its attention attracted to a tragedy of true love.

Alfred Tompkins was engaged to a girl fifteen years before he could marry her because of his poverty. But his record has been beaten by a Londoner and his sweetie, who were betrothed thirty years. Finally the man died from the effects of an accident before the wedding day. His name was Robert Stockey, and he lived in Kenilworth town, one of the poorer suburbs of London. He was a bookbinder.

When he was thirty-one he became engaged. His fiancée says that during the last fifteen years they met every evening, but that marriage was out of the question because of Stockey's poverty.

Finally in October, 1921, when Stockey was sixty-one years old, he was knocked down by a motor bus. He was in St. Pancras Hospital eighteen months before he succumbed to his injuries.

Lausanne In Hope Conference After All Will Prove Success

London Believes Events of Day Will Put French Note in Abeyance—Had Reserved Right to Undertake Separate Negotiations With Turks.

London, Feb. 1.—(Canadian Press)—The British government today received a note from France, the substance of which is that France reserves the right to undertake separate negotiations with Turkey in the event of the Lausanne conference failing. The opinion was expressed in official circles here that the events of the last twenty-four hours appear to have put the French note in abeyance. The news received from Lausanne states there is great hope the conference will prove successful.

London, Feb. 1.—Pending the publication of the actual text of Premier Poincare's note to the Turks, the London papers are inclined to regard the original report as to the import of the French communication was not so serious as first supposed notwithstanding their having a background of fact.

Lausanne, Feb. 1.—The Russian delegation at the Near East conference, which is held officially at a meeting of the Straits commission today that Russia would not sign the convention providing for control of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus.

As Hiram Sees It HENRY CLEWES, N.Y. BANKER, IS DEAD

Was Known as "The Dean of Wall Street"

Passes Away at Age of 83—Was Destined for Ministry in England, But Became Outstanding Figure in U. S. Financial Life.

New York, Feb. 1.—Henry Clewes, widely known banker, died yesterday afternoon at his home in West 121st street after an illness of several months. Henry Clewes, the dean of Wall Street, author and public speaker, for more than 50 years was one of the leading financiers in the United States.

He was also a director of the American Civic Alliance, the Peace Society, the Royal Society of Arts of England, the American Chamber of Commerce of Paris, director of the International Peace Forum, president of the American Peace and Arbitration League, former president of the National Highway Traffic Association, former treasurer of the American Geographical Society and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He was a founder of the Union League Club of New York and a member of the Turf and Field Club, Army and Navy, Economic Union Clubs of New York, the Authors' of London and the Boston City Club.

He wrote several books, including "Twenty Eight Years in Wall Street" (1887), "The Wall Street Point of View" (1900), "Fifty Years in Wall Street" (1908), and "Speeches and Essays" (1910). In one of his voluminous letters he tells an interesting story of how he got into the New York Stock Exchange for $800 when membership in that body was at that time $100,000.

"I was a young man then, a very young man, and one of many who wanted to get into the exchange. The old members of that organization considered themselves a close corporation and fought tooth and nail to keep us out. They charged one-eighth for each stock transaction. When I advertised for and while that I would execute orders for stock at one-eighth, cutting the commission in half, they were glad to take me in."

Mr. Clewes married Miss Lucy Madison Worthington, a grand niece of President Madison and a descendant of General Andrew Lewis, next in command to General Washington in the Revolutionary War. For many years they made their home in New York City and had a summer residence in Newport, R. I.

Ottawa Man's Effort to Get to Jail Succeeds
Brings Beer to Police Station and Drinks as Sergeant Looks on.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Joseph Guigue, 39 years of age, went to jail yesterday on his own accord to assure himself three meals a day and a roof over his head. Tuesday night he walked into police headquarters and with a cheery greeting produced a bottle of strong beer from his pocket. Then he began to sip the contents.

"What have you there?" asked the constable.

"Why, beer of course. And its good stuff, too," Guigue said.

"Better let me have it," replied the constable.

"Sure, better let me up," replied Guigue.

In court Guigue pleaded guilty to violating the liquor law. Magistrate Jovyn, imposed the usual fine of $200 and costs or three months in jail. Guigue took the three months and jailed contentedly.

WHERE THEY FIRE OFF PISTOLS TO KILL TIME

Except for the Annoyance of Vagrant Bullets, Stephen Graham Finds Chihuahua, Mexico, a Very Interesting City.

(By Stephen Graham in New York Evening Post) Chihuahua, Mexico, Jan. 15.—There are a thousand miles of sand and shyness after you pass the frontier from America. The Santa Fe country seems to extend endlessly southward. Desert just enters the train and almost stifles you. From the window of the railway carriage you see the yuccas with their strange and the dead cactus extended to you a dusty hand, welcoming you to no man's land. The contour of the mountains are as in New Mexico—wind-worn, wind-shaped—and there are great rounded hats of rock, gray and sun-washed. Occasionally one comes to wretched mud-built villages where the whole population turns out in rags to sell coffee and chili sandwiches to passengers at the halting places. Three hundred miles south of El Paso the wilderness is broken by Chihuahua, of which Cunningham Graham has written, fondly pronounced Chih-oh-ah-oo-a in London but locally Chih-wah-wah. I broke my journey in this city which enjoys the refreshment of spirit which comes when suddenly you escape from winter and change one country grown familiar for one which is unfamiliar. Chihuahua, capital of one of the United States of Mexico, is a fine city, or the ruin of one. Not so deep as Pompeii, yet it lies well under the dirt. War and revolution have battered it. Mud has swept over its street car lines. Economically it seems to be a piece of the United States. American goods alone are in the shops and at prices 50 to 100 per cent higher than in America itself. Even food, such as butter and sugar and cheese and bacon, seems to be largely imported and heavily taxed. There is much poverty and want. But what a spacious city it is! The gardens are fresh and flowering with violets. Fountains are playing. The tradition of Spain is strong in the architecture, which expresses the dignity of human life—and of being a Spaniard. Alas! the most striking characteristic of the city is, I suppose, characteristic of all Mexico, and that is the pistol and ivory pointed revolver. There are shop windows full of revolvers and pistols. Every other man has some such weapon in his hip pocket. Fire-rings are discharged at all moments—or joy, or to kill, or through mere habit. The Mexicans fire them off to kill time. On Sundays, a Bullfight. The city seems to have two regular restaurants, and you either dine with "jump or dine with Sing. The city and plays in front of Porfirio Diaz's "palacio Nacional every afternoon. At the other end of the city you may watch soldiers drilling, though hardly in the style of the Guards. In the

TRY TO SHOOT WHEN CORNERED

Negroes Fighting on Trolley Car Subdued by Police Chief—Speedy Arrests.

Mount Holly, N. J., Feb. 1.—Two Philadelphia negroes, caught in the act of robbing a home at Moorestown, near here, attempted to shoot the Chiefs of Police of that place and Meple Shade, when they had been cornered on a trolley upon which they were fleeing. The negroes were quickly disarmed and locked up in the jail here. They gave their names as James Stafford and Max Evers, and said they returned to their home about midnight and noticed a front window open and a light upstairs. On the second floor they found two armed negroes, who ordered them to the first floor after they had taken Mrs. Lytle's watch and the sum of money she had. They then fled.

THE AMERICAN ATTITUDE

Senator Borah has renewed his demand for a world economic conference. He insists that the United States cannot afford to remain indifferent. President Harding, however, has indicated that he will not change his policy. On this point a Washington dispatch says: "So far as his foreign policy is concerned, the President at this time sees no possible way by which the United States can intervene in the Ruhr and reparations matter without making matters indefinitely worse and without inviting a rebuff both from Germany and from France, which would seriously hamper beneficial assistance to be offered at a time when the European nations are so much in need of it."

THE MOON IS ON THE SEA.

(Christopher Morley in N. Y. Evening Post)

We don't know whether he is aware of it or not, but jolly old Billy Adams, the California ex-sailor, who is now in a good ten or twelve page letter, has quite a number of fans in these parts. A number of these fans are writing to reprint Billy's poem about Billy Adams, which first appeared in the Outlook. Well, we suppose we ought to call up the Outlook and get their permission first, but we hate telephoning when we can get out of it, so we'll reprint it first and apologize afterwards. Here you are:

Billy Peg-Leg's Fiddle.
I've a pal called Billy Peg-Leg, with a leg a leg a leg.
And Billy's leg's a ship's cook and lives on the sea.
And hanging by his griddle
Old Billy fiddle fiddle
For fiddling in the dog-watch
When the moon is on the sea.

We takes our luck 'n' tough ships, 'n' we takes our luck 'n' any ships to slip away to sea.
We takes our luck 'n' the best of them, 'n' we takes our luck 'n' the best of them.
An' the bell strikes for the dog-watch
An' the moon is on the sea.

You'd ought to see the tops'ls, the tops'ls, the tops'ls
When the moon's a-shinin' on them
Along a liff'n sea.
How the dandy boys say,
"Peg-Leg, make that fiddle play
An' we'll dance away the dog-watch
While the moon is on the sea."

Then it's fun to watch them dancin', the tall ship, the tall ship
To the tune of Peg-Leg's fiddle, a fiddle 'n' a fiddle
It's fun to watch them dancin', a waltz 'n' his wood leg
When 'o'us takes the fiddle
So Peg can dance 'n' me.

The moon is on the sea, the dark moon, the dark moon
The night wind pipin' plaintively along a liff'n sea.
There ain't no female women,
No big beer glasses brimmin',
An' Billy Peg's an' me.

We takes our luck 'n' the tough ships, the tough ships
We takes our luck 'n' any ships to slip away to sea.
We takes our luck 'n' the best of them, 'n' we takes our luck 'n' the best of them.
An' the bell strikes for the dog-watch
An' the moon is on the sea.

BILL ADAMS.
A CANADIAN ICE-STORM.
Last night, I said good-night to bare
To dark, bare trees beneath a sunless sky.
I woke, transplanted to another world.
A Fairy wood, hewn from one endless gem.
One sparkling diamond, cut by Sculptor's hand.
In grand expression, as in fragile line,
Each shingle, each blade, tinkling in the sun.
Each living diamond, each case, twig
Fence, each stone, each shrub—a wondrous, glistening thing!
The North Wind came and held high carnival.
It touched the grasses, and the soul of bright colors shimmered there and sang to us.
A "quail" song. It capered through the trees
Upon the hillside, and, suddenly, it seemed as if the whole big sparkling wood
Had burst and flung its myriad fire.

In wild profusion to the keen blue sky.
EXILES ON THE SEA
(New York Tribune)
"Fear is expressed that even Russian refugee ships, with more than five hundred persons aboard, have been lost in the China Sea."
Could there be a more fitting and timely occasion for the United States to show its sympathy for the victims of the Russian Revolution? Rejected by Red Russia and by its native Siberia, sailing on to new adventures in the China Sea, facing the same fate as our own Manila, why should this portless squadron keep the shores of the United States? Why not seek out its only logical destination—the "Port of Missing Men"?

The callousness of our still covers the world. Were it not so well covered, it would not be so well covered. It is not so well covered as it is. It is not so well covered as it is. It is not so well covered as it is.

Montreal Gazette.—"According to the statistics of the Department of Excise, the consumption of spirituous liquors in Canada is growing less. The figures per capita consumption per gallon, drawn from the official reports, are these:—

Spirits	Beer	Wine
1914	1,091	7,200	124
1915	1,089	7,144	101
1916	1,087	7,054	97
1917	1,085	6,964	93
1918	1,083	6,874	89

In no year since Confederation, has the consumption of spirits been so small as in 1922, the reason being doubtless the prohibitory legislation of the various provinces, and it is gratifying to all who desire moderation in the use of intoxicants to learn that the consumption last year was much less than in any previous like period."

With Emma Goldman denouncing Trotsky and Lenin from exile and "Big Bill" Haywood, old and broken, with honor as a prophet even in Russia, there is little incentive on the part of malcontents to see the country seek to organize an attempt to bring in anarchy. The percentage of alcohol in the United States, old and broken, with all the requirements of the Volstead law is five times that of the percentage of followers of Lenin and Trotsky in the United States. Clearly the "Red" movement, so far as America is concerned, is kickless.

FRANCE MISUNDERSTOOD

SAYS PAUL BOURGET

France is grossly misunderstood, declares Paul Bourget, famous French author and academician, in an article appearing in the February issue of "Our World" magazine.

"For a Frenchman who like myself has not his country since the terrible thunderbolt of August, 1914, it is saddening to learn—sometimes by reading the foreign newspapers, sometimes by conversation with travellers, on the whole sympathetic—how much our country is misunderstood in the French author says.

Propaganda, which has not receded from any means to spread slander about the military and civilian leaders of the country, is one of the chief reasons for the misunderstanding, according to M. Bourget.

"Such a campaign of slander would be a recantation of the invader's own intention or province to enter into the country. It is only in special circumstances, which impose on us the necessity of a public opinion in other lands cannot easily appreciate. These peculiar necessities summed up in a few words: We are obliged by our frontier to maintain a strong army, just as the English are obliged by their island position, to maintain a navy adequate to defend their coasts.

"I show us our point of danger: Paris, the heart of the nation, at so short a distance from the sea, and in the hands of a hundred years has marched on our capital, following in the tracks of the German IV in the XIII Century, to name among the ancient invasions only the one which is most famous.

"That the France of 1922—the ruins of the last century—must be maintained in any price a solid wall of soldiers between herself and her eternal invader, is not less legitimate than it is necessary. That this same France insists that on the contrary she should remain as thoroughly disarmed as the Peace Treaty, she signed, demands, is not less legitimate than it is necessary. This however, is the principal complaint made against France by those who criticize her.

MORE THAN UNION IN PROBLEM OF CHURCHES

(Montreal Gazette)

There is considerable diversity of opinion in regard to the question of union in Canada; not so in the United States. Speaking generally, the movement to bring the Presbyterians and Methodists together began many years ago, and since then the Anglican Church has been considering the question as well from many viewpoints.

There is by no means a unanimous desire in the Y. Century and of Otto IV in the XIII Century, to name among the ancient invasions only the one which is most famous.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

Lesson No. 221. METHODS OF OBTAINING GRID BIAS.

In radio receiving circuits employing the vacuum tube as a detector or an amplifier, the grid of the tube is the element which controls the flow of current between the plate and the filament and the manner in which the controlling action is exerted depends upon the bias potential impressed upon the grid. In the accompanying diagram, Fig. (4) shows an important characteristic curve which illustrates the relation existing between values of grid voltage and corresponding values of plate current. The curve has the shape of an elongated letter "S" and for the purposes of detection it is necessary for the grid potential to be adjusted to a point (D) on the upper bend of the curve or point (A) on the lower bend. At either of these points the alternating voltage of the incoming signal impresses equal positive and negative voltage variations upon the grid, and owing to the shape of the curve a greater amount of plate current flows in one direction than in the other. This amounts to practically a flow of current in one direction due to the rectifying action of the tube.

When it is desired to obtain proper amplification of the incoming signal, without distortion, it is apparent that the grid voltage must be adjusted to a point on the straight line portion of the curve so that the plate current resulting from a change in grid voltage in one direction is equal to the plate current resulting from an equal change in grid voltage in the opposite direction. If the grid voltage is adjusted to the point (C) on the straight line portion of the curve, it will be noted that when voltage variations are applied to the grid so that the grid becomes alternately positive and negative, there will be a flow of grid current during each interval when the grid is positive. This flow of grid current weakens the effect of the positive variation with the result that the amplification is distorted. To avoid this effect, a small negative is adjusted to the point (B). The voltage variations of the incoming wave oscillate about this point, but do not render the grid positive at any time, thus preventing the flow of grid current and obtaining distortionless amplification by producing a symmetrical output current wave.

In Fig. (1) is shown the method of controlling the grid potential by use of a grid leak which is shunted across the grid condenser and provides a leakage path for the accumulation of electrons, which otherwise would maintain the grid at a negative potential. The grid leak is a high resistance of approximately one megohm. The detection properties of the tube are greatly improved by using the positive terminal of the filament as the common junction, whereas, if no grid condenser is employed, the negative terminal of the filament may be used as the common junction. In this circuit (S-1) represents the tuned secondary coil and (F-1) the primary of an interstage transformer.

In Fig. (2) is shown a single stage of amplification, (S-2) and (P-2) being respectively the secondary and primary of the interstage transformer. In this case the grid is maintained at a small negative potential by inserting a "C" battery in the grid lead with the negative terminal of the battery connected to the grid. This battery consists of a few cells of the small flashlight type and maintain the grid bias potential ranging from 1.5 to 20 volts depending upon the conditions of operation.

In Fig. (3) is shown a method of obtaining a small negative grid bias by inserting in the filament lead a resistance of one to three ohms, this resistance being provided with a sliding contact to which the grid is connected through the secondary (S-3) of the interstage transformer. By adjusting the position of the sliding contact the desired grid bias may be obtained.

These methods are in general use for providing suitable values of grid bias so that the grid may exercise the necessary controlling action upon the plate current and, through operation at proper points on the characteristic curves, obtain satisfactory results in the detection and distortionless amplification of radio waves.

CAT TURNS ON GAS AND DIES WITH BOY

Lad's Mother, Who Recently Lost Her Husband and Daughter, in a Critical Condition.

New York, Feb. 1.—Abraham Chapnick, 9 years old, is dead and his mother is in a critical condition at Gouverneur Hospital from gas poisoning, caused by an open jet in their apartment in a tenement at 163 Attorney street. Tabby, the pet cat of the Chapnick household, which jumped on the range and turned on the gas jet, also perished in the fumes.

Mrs. Chapnick came to this country about two years ago from Brest-Litovsk in Poland with her two children, Anna and Abraham. She had been sent for by her husband, who died before she reached America. On landing at Ellis Island, her daughter Anna became ill and died in a few days.

The mother and the boy found lodgings on the lower east side. Mrs. Chapnick went to work as a milliner and Able went to school.

Two months ago the Chapnick's moved into the Attorney street tenement, and here the mother found an old schemer from Brest-Litovsk, Mrs. Hilda Chock. On her way to the Chapnick apartment, Mrs. Chock met in the hallway downstairs a man to whom Mrs. Chapnick was to be married a few weeks. They went upstairs together but could not get in and went away.

Several hours later, Mrs. Chock, accompanied by her husband, returned to the Chock apartment and smelled gas at the door. Then they broke in and found the mother and her boy on the floor, and Mrs. Chock threw open the windows while her husband summoned an ambulance.

Dr. Calucci, who responded from Gouverneur Hospital, said the boy was dead. The mother showed signs of life and after working over her with a palliator for more than half an hour she was taken to the hospital. Tabby was found dead several hours later in a foot tub beside the stove.

IN FAVOR OF ACT BUT CRITICIZE ENFORCEMENT

Toronto, Feb. 1.—The Conservatives have never attacked the Ontario Temperance Act, what they do criticize is the methods by which it is being enforced, according to the contention of H. P. Hill (West Ottawa) in the Ontario legislature yesterday.

FIRST WHITE MAN TO MAKE JOURNEY TO PEKING

British General Travels from Peking to Calcutta via Tibet—Many Adventures.

Calcutta, Jan. 31.—(Canadian Press)—Brig-Gen. George Periera, C.B., has arrived here having completed the 7000 miles from Peking via Lhasa through territory never before traversed by a white man, having had many exciting adventures and making the whole of the journey through Tibet at a height of over 12,000 feet. The strain, however, due to doing more than half of this distance on foot, has resulted in clots of blood at the back of the neck of his left leg, and some weeks in bed will be the result.

General Periera passed through the brigand infested country of Shensi, one of the two most wild provinces of China, and he was only able to get through by having the local magistrates make the necessary arrangements with the brigands, who number about 50,000, and have started the country to a state of chaos.

Having reached Tzung, the starting point of all caravans across Tibet, Gen. Periera fell in with some French missionaries and also met Serenson, the Danish explorer, who had been refused permission to enter Lhasa. For the great trek the general engaged interpreters, and bought eighteen mules and five horses, with a quantity of supplies, and then had to make his own saddles before he could start out.

The going was easy for the first couple of days, but the next seven or eight the explorer saw no human nor tree nor blade of grass. Five mules died but a large Tibetan caravan came by from which several yak were obtained. These animals stand the cold much better. Northeastern Tibet is a region of extraordinary varieties of climate, and three or four different kinds of weather may be experienced in less than an hour. Usually there was heavy rain at night when it was bitterly cold. To the east Tibetan mountains, though it is only a solitary mountain. It lay in a bend of the yellow river and was completely covered with snow, to a great height. This mountain has never been scientifically measured, and it may rank among the highest in the world.

After this appalling journey across Tibet it was a relief to get into Lhasa, where the general found a few shops. Here he met Madame Neel, a French Buddhist lady who was the only European he met during his entire journey to Tibet down to Gyantse, which is a British trade center. At Lhasa Gen. Periera was hospitably received and was the guest of Tharong Shap, the Commander-in-Chief of the Tibetan Army, who provided him with a villa in the best residential quarter in Lhasa.

POLITICAL DRAMA TO AVENGE CHICAGO DOCTOR IS READY

Play Built Around Suicide of Sachs in 1916. Opening There on Monday Next, in Campaign for Reform.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Politics is beginning to cast its shadow over the drama and the drama is becoming an instrument of political agitation and reform, according to a story published in "The Chicago Daily News."

Next Monday afternoon at the Shubert theatre, an organization for the "People's" will present a play by Mrs. Arthur Aldis called "The Will of the People," with numerous society folk and professional actors taking part, before a more or less picked audience of prominent Chicagoans. And the play is evidently almost all that the title indicates.

In "The Will of the People" the action centers around the altruistic efforts of a physician not interested in politics, who has become the head of a great municipal sanitarium. This physician lives his life in an effort to help the poor and sick. Politics begins to weave its ugly hand over his institution, hindering more and more the operations of the doctor. Eventually he is forced to resign by the grafting machine. Meanwhile things go wrong in the sanitarium and the physician gets the blame. Then he commits suicide.

The plot of Mrs. Aldis' play can hardly be recalled the tragic suicide of Dr. Theodore B. Sachs, who killed himself on April 2, 1916, shortly after political influences had forced his resignation from the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, of which he had been the self-sacrificing and efficient chief. Politics was blamed for the death of Dr. Sachs, and Mrs. Aldis' play, it is said, is an effort to rap the machine which caused it.

The play will be followed by a questionnaire distributed to the audience, and the lesson it is supposed to teach. "What do you want in the theatre?" will be one of the questions.

200 DANISH FAMILIES EMIGRATE TO CANADA

Unemployment Leads Farmers to Seek Cheap Lands and New Homes in Ontario.

London, Dec. 25.—(By Mail).—On account of the great unemployment in Denmark two hundred families, all farmers, of the northern part of Jutland, intend to emigrate to Canada, says the Copenhagen correspondent of "The London Times."

"The Canadian government has promised to put land in Ontario at their disposal, and after six months in Canada they will be able to obtain a loan of $500 (£10) for each family. The government will also see that the Danes are able to purchase the necessary horses and cows at reasonable prices. Where five or six families are living together the government has promised to build a school. Representatives of the emigrants have asked the Danish government for financial help to make the voyage, but they have not yet had an answer."

THRIFT AND BEAUTY MAKE IDEAL WIVES IN TYRON

Divorce is Unknown in County of Martial Bliss in Ireland.

There is one country in the British Isles where divorce is unknown, and that is Tyron, Ireland, where it is said that it would be impossible to find an unhappy married man. Beauty and thrift are the two outstanding qualities of the Tyron girls.

A new dress every two years is the rule of the average girl, and with this she is seemingly quite satisfied. A pair of boots or shoes lasts her many years. This is mainly because the women in country districts wear shoe leather even when they are going to town, and even then they go barefooted as far as the suburbs. On the outskirts of a town one may see a woman sitting by the way side putting on shoes and stockings before going in to make her purchases.

On the way home, at a discreet distance from the populous district, the shoes and stockings are taken off and the rest of the journey completed on bare feet.

It is said that a Tyron girl sees her thrifty habits, even though she marry a well-to-do man.

NOTABLE CAREER OF THE NEW PRESIDENT

President-elect Burton of the University of Chicago is a scholar of international reputation in his field, an educator of wide observation, and an experienced and accomplished administrator.

For thirteen years he has been Director of the Libraries of the University, which employs a staff of 100 persons and involves a large annual budget. He has studied in Germany at the Universities of Leipzig and Berlin. He represented the University of Tercentenary of Badalian Library at Oxford, in 1902, and has made a careful study of the British educational methods. As chairman of the Oriental Education Commission of the University, he visited China in 1908-9, and examined the educational conditions and institutions of that country, and of India and Japan. He revisited China as chairman of a commission of the Foreign Mission Conference of North America in 1921 and 1922, and the report of that commission, largely written by Dr. Burton, will have a profound effect upon the educational development of that country. He has been chairman of the Board of Education of the Northern Baptist Convention since 1912. This has brought him into touch with educational needs and situations in all parts of the North. Professor Burton has a really extraordinary knowledge, derived from personal observation of actual educational conditions over the world.

Professor Burton was a life-long friend of President Harper, and strongly devoted to the ideals of investigation and research on which the University is founded. He has worked in close co-operation with President Judson, and on two occasions, in 1911, and 1903, has been Acting President of the University.

Women in 56 countries defy severe climates

In the world's big cities where smoke and dirt age a woman's skin they depend on this famous method

In almost every country today, even on the bitter plains of North China and Manchuria, women have learned to defeat the ravages of climate on their skin.

They climb and ski and toboggan on the roofs of the world—play out of doors in zero weather as a matter of course—the soft skin of their face unharmed!

In great cities, too, where coal dust and dirt have made fresh, supple skins almost an impossibility with just ordinary care, women now defy them to do their worst. The smoke-stacks of Manchester and Pittsburgh, even the "black fogs" of London can be coped with—since this famous method was developed which takes care of the skin.

Two things were found essential to make the skin immune to cold and damp and dirt. First, to clean the skin with just the right amount and kind of oil it needs. And then to give it un-ing outdoor protection. To meet these two demands, Pond's developed two different creams,—Pond's Vanishing Cream and Pond's Cold Cream, each with its special purposes. Millions of women, where climates are most severe and under the most trying conditions of dirt and wind, have found that these two creams insure them the beautiful supple skin they want.

First, the special cleansing that does more than cleanse

Give your skin a nightly cleansing with the cold cream that contains just the right amount and kind of oil to work in and out without clogging—Pond's Cold Cream. So rich in the right kind of oil it cleans thoroughly and keeps the skin beautifully supple, too. Yet it is light enough to wipe off with a soft cloth and leave your skin fresh and clear.

In commercial cities especially, where soot and dust dry and age the skin of face, neck and hands, women depend on this particular kind of cleansing that overcomes these coarsening influences.

Unharmed! The soft skin of her face though constantly exposed to icy winds. In the fashionable winter resorts of the world, women depend upon Pond's Vanishing Cream to protect against exposure. They treasure, too, its perfect smoothness as a base for the powder.

To keep your skin beautifully clear and supple, give it every night the kind of cleansing that millions of women have found successful in defeating the coarsening effect of soot and dirt—Pond's Cold Cream.

And then the unfailing outdoor protection

Especially never fail, before going out, to apply the delicate vanishing cream which is known to women all over the world as the famous protective cream—Pond's Vanishing Cream. It contains the most effective softening and soothing ingredient known to skin specialists. And it is so beautifully proportioned that your skin absorbs it freely with no possibility of clogging.

In the winter resorts like the Swiss Alps, and in our own windiest and coldest cities, where women must have special protection, they find this cream unfailing. Because it is greaseless, it may be worn day and evening without fear of its causing a shine.

Use this double method. First the cream that cleans and oils. And then the famous outdoor protection. The most trying climate and conditions leave your skin unharmed. Immune from cold and damp, smoke and dirt. As cities have grown bigger and dirtier and as more women have gone to far countries of extreme climates, Pond's has met every need with these two creams.

Wherever you live, try these two creams this winter and see how beautifully clean and supple they keep your skin. Both these creams, Pond's Cold Cream and Pond's Vanishing Cream, are found in all departmental stores and drug stores in jars or tubes at 50 cents each. They contain nothing which promotes the growth of hair.

WILL CONCLUDE THIS AFTERNOON

Soldier Pension and Re-establishment Matters.

Five Witnesses Heard Here This Morning—Cases Reported on and Suggestions Made to Members of the Royal Commission.

The Royal Commission on Pensions and Re-establishment, reconvened this morning in the court room for the second day of its sitting. It had been hoped to finish the hearing of evidence this morning, but it was found to be impossible on account of the great number of cases cited.

Considerable attention in the matter of the regulations governing the giving of pensions was advanced at various times throughout the morning by J. Paton, secretary of the Board of Pension Commissioners, who is accompanying the commission on their tour. The witnesses heard this morning were Major John S. Scott of Fredericton, J. P. Bourgeois of Moncton, W. B. Manser of Woodstock, and G. Earle Logan and Dr. G. B. Peat of St. John. Several cases of grievances were noted and some suggestions made as to the remedy of conditions.

The commission adjourned about one o'clock, and met again this afternoon to finish the business of the sitting. It is probable that the members will be invited to inspect the sheltered workshops in the city some time during the afternoon. They will leave tonight on the 7.15 o'clock train.

Fredericton Evidence.

The first witness this morning was Major John S. Scott of Fredericton. He said there was no complaint of the treatment by the local D. S. C. R., but the proper treatment had not been applied in some cases. In speaking of the matter of men of other than military age, he felt that they should not be barred from pensions because they were over or under age at the time of enlistment. He mentioned the case of a man who went overseas as a member of a reinforcement squad to the 26th Battalion, and was sent home with a disability in 1918, which was diagnosed as lumbago, but which turned out to be a different disease. He now wears a leather harness to get around. The D. S. C. R., he contended, said the man was ineligible on account of the limit of age, but that he had tubercular cases. Application for pension was not made because it was felt that none would be given where treatment was refused.

He said that Dr. Vanwart had refused to issue any certificates in favor of the returned men's disabilities being attributable to war service, even in cases where other Fredericton doctors decided that they were. This case, he said, was taken up with the Dominion command of the W. Y. A., and by them with the D. S. C. R. in Ottawa.

Asked if the man had been seen by a D. S. C. R. doctor, he said he did not believe he had, but that the report of Dr. Vanwart had been accepted without question.

To remedy such cases he suggested that a local board in touch with a provincial central board be organized to hear and recommend treatment to the D. S. C. R.

Another case he mentioned was that of a man injured so that he received a thirty per cent. disability and later an addition of ten per cent. for a facial deformity. He said that this deformity should be classed as more than a ten per cent. disability, because its appearance practically kept him from getting a position where he was in touch with the public.

Major Scott gave an example of a man who enlisted in 1914, was involved in 1918 and sent to St. Lucia, where he got malaria and was kept several years. There was a great disability, he said, in the medical history sheet of this man, as no trace of the malaria was recorded as having existed some time after he had.

Major Scott also spoke of cases of commutation of pensions. He recommended that these cases should be reopened and that commutation should be stopped altogether.

Colonel McKeown speaking of a case of a man discharged as medically unfit who was refused a pension on the grounds that he was over age, said he felt that he was entitled to a pension because he was unfit for service on discharge on account of his service and not merely on account of his age.

Orphan Pensions.

In regard to the matter of orphan pensions, Major Scott cited a case of a man who enlisted as a single man but was returned only to enlist later as a married man. He did not mention the child when pay was assigned and there had been no pension for the child.

In the matter of the disposal of the canteen funds he advocated the use of the money towards the founding of a home for aged soldiers of the Great War.

G. Earle Logan said that the New Brunswick central committee had adopted the principle of a home for the Maritime Provinces, in Moncton or Amherst.

Mr. Logan in speaking of the matter of pensions being ordered only for legitimate children, called attention to the fact that the New Brunswick laws made a child legitimate when marriage was performed subsequent to birth.

Dr. G. B. Peat was recalled on the matter of existing needs of re-establishment. He divided the cases of men to be dealt with into ten sub-divisions according to the treatment they had or had not received.

In the matter of commutations he said, the great complaint from the men was that they had been placed in lower categories if they refused commutation.

A statement made by Mr. Logan of remarks he said Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, as minister of rationing, had made in the matter of commutation was not allowed.

Dr. Peat called on W. B. Manser, of Woodstock, to give evidence of men who had been forced to commute or whose pensions had been lowered. Manser told of the case of a man who originally got a pension of $18.50 which was raised to $22 and later lowered to $10 a month. He said that he was forced to commute his pension to help out his family, and was now asking a pension of $22.50 a month.

Mr. Manser also told of a request

LEWTRAW OUT OF THE RACES TODAY

Good Ice and Milder Weather at Saranac Lake

Battling Siki Barred from Landing on the Shores of Great Britain — British Football and Other Late Sport.

A Canadian Press despatch today gives further details of yesterday's races at Saranac Lake, in which St. John figured well, and says:

"Harry Kasky, of Chicago, scored a double victory in the Aftonlock gold cup championship races on Pontiac rink here yesterday, winning the one half and the three quarter mile events. Kasky and Charles Gorman of St. John, fought out both races and apparently will continue their battle for victory in the meet. Kasky now has 90 points and Gorman 60, with their competitors trailing well.

"Charles Jewtraw of Lake Placid, gave both Kasky and Gorman a brisk contest in the preliminaries but fell in the remale of the half mile race and was carried from the track with a badly cut knee. He is not expected to appear in contests today.

"Kasky slid over the tape in the half mile a scant few inches ahead of Gorman, while Frank Garnett of St. John, and William Murphy, of New York, were tied for third place. The winner's time was 1:18 4-5.

"Garnett and Gorman started a sprint within two laps of the final round in the third quarter mile race but failed to maintain their lead. Kasky finished well ahead of Richard Donovan of Johnson City, and Gorman managed to make third place. The time was 2:14 1-5.

The events today, the closing programme of the meet, are the 440 yard and the three mile races. The ice has continued good and the weather has moderated greatly from the intense cold of the past few days.

REACT TO STIMULUS OF NEW SALES IDEAS

Develops New Ways of Increasing Trade in Cards, Gifts and Enlargements

"Suggestion" Sells Them—Great Care Taken in the Arrangement of Store and in Building Displays.

When A. J. White opened his art shop in one of the new and high-rented places in Highland Park, Calif., six months ago, there were some who wondered how long he could stand the pace.

Now White wonders how much longer his available space is going to be sufficient for, in spite of the fact that he has built a balcony in the rear of his room and has increased his window display space by making staircase pyramidal features, the store is cramped for space.

"Here's one I like," the customer will say. "I like it because it is so different from the others. It is so attractive and so useful."

Underneath the sample in the album is a number and the price. The salesgirl immediately goes to the stock book bearing a corresponding number and hands out a clean card.

While I'm here I might as well pick out cards for Emily's birthday and little Bobbie's, it is a remark typical of the shoppers. It means increasing the average sale considerably.

There is not a penny postcard in the store in spite of the fact that stores all about sell them. Instead, White stocks his shelves with cards of his own design.

In a rack, adjacent to the file of finished enlargement prints is an assortment of frames, some for each size print. There are shades for blacks of warm sepia framing. The enlarging of his prints is taken from the finished file as quickly as possible.

His plan gets results. The number of selling slogans have been popularized by White to such an extent that many sales are made to people who quote them when they buy.

"The print that is worth keeping is worth framing." This slogan has brought in dozens of sales. Recently a man and his wife came in with three enlargements to be framed. One of the pictures was old and soiled. The other two had been made recently.

"Thought we'd better take your advice," said the woman. "We ought to have had this print framed long ago—we'll not let these other two get soiled."

Through building up a steady stream of framing business, White accumulated a great collection of short-ends of pictures. He was about to throw these away when his mind happened to ponder what the total length would be and the cost.

Then he got an idea. He had small friendship cards framed with the old pieces, talking pictures, match the shades of the cards with suitable molding. Underneath he glued felt and at either side a miniature brass handle. He put through a trial lot marked at $1.50 and placed these in his display window as "souvenir trays."

They sold almost the first day as gifts. Now he keeps a lot of a dozen and a half going at all times. He has odds and ends of holding, using cards that would ordinarily sell for from a dime to a quarter.

THE INDUSTRIAL HEART OF GERMANY IN FRENCH HANDS

Some Found With Blackjacks—Others With Whiskey.

New York, Feb. 1.—A warning to members of the Ku Klux Klan that they must give up their allegiance to the "invisible empire" or get out of Brooklyn, is issued by District Attorney Dodd of Kings county and Magistrate Dale.

The warning was voiced at the arraignment of eight alleged members of the "inner circle" of the Klan, who were arrested by members of the bomb squad after they had attended what they claimed admitted to have been a Klan meeting. They were held in $1000 bail for further examination—seven on one charge of having a bottle of whiskey in the automobile in which all were arrested.

The first persons rounded up by the police since Mayor Hylan's order to drive the Klan from the city, gave these names in court: Alfred C. Clarke, John F. Ollins, a chauffeur; Ellisworth B. Morse, an assistant manager; William D. M. Simmons, advertising manager of a large typewriter manufacturing concern; Joseph M. Gilmore, a photographer; Thomas Jones, a salesman; Charles T. Mulford, a bank clerk, and Robert Ferguson, a student at Pratt Institute.

Council for some of the defendants demanded an immediate hearing, but Magistrate Dale refused until he was told of the presence of the blackjacks in the car after the men had departed from the meeting which, it was learned, was held in a building owned by a Masonic organization and occupied by the daytime by the Brooklyn traffic court. William Haddon, superintendent of the building, said the owners had leased the hall to a group known as the Brooklyn Circle Club, and that he never thought the organization was part of the Klan.

Lieut. L. E. Gagan, leader of the raiding party, broke in: "Your honor, I'll tell what that meeting was. It was a Ku Klux Klan meeting—what they call a Klavern, or a meeting like that. They don't want to answer questions about it. They want to keep it secret."

Magistrate Dale turned to M. R. Matheson, the attorney for the majority of the klanners. "Do not worry," Matheson replied. "I'll see that they get their trial."

Matheson turned to one of the prisoners arrested behind the bar again. "Do not worry," Matheson replied. "I'll see that they get their trial."

Open Klan Meeting. "I am informed that it was an open meeting of the Ku Klux Klan, and that it was held in a building owned by a Masonic organization and occupied by the daytime by the Brooklyn traffic court."

Before facing bail, Magistrate Dale went into his private office and conferred with the district attorney's office. He said he had been requested by District Attorney Dodd to say that the Klan would be driven out of St. John as fast as it appeared.

Fixed Valuation Requests. The Mayor said there were some matters of legislation to be considered. He read a letter from the Maritime National Company, Ltd., asking for a renewal of fixed valuation and suggesting a hearing by council. A further letter assured the plant, it was said, was removed to Montreal, but as soon as the action of the council was learned some further arrangements might be considered.

The average number of employees was 123 to 150. A further letter assured the council that during the period of fixed valuation they would take no steps to reduce output to decrease the number of men employed. They had no objection to being taxed in full on the property used in the coal business. The company was taking over the Gregory property on May 1.

Regarding the county assessment act, the city solicitor wrote recommending that a sub-section 2 of section 15 be repealed or a new section substituted. The section in question dealt with the taxation of residents of the County employed in the city. It was agreed to allow the matter to stand until all commissioners were furnished with copies of the solicitor's opinion.

Half Holiday Matter. To Commissioner Thornton the Mayor said that he was giving attention to the request of the Winter Carnival Committee for a proclamation covering two half-holidays during the international skating meet.

SPRUCE LAKE MAIN

BOND ISSUE $12,000 UNDER EXPENSES

Commissioner Wignmore Asks for Increase, But Matter Awaits Engineer's Report—Other Matters Before Council.

A statement that the bond issue for the Spruce Lake water main, completed last year, was over-expended by $12,000, was made by Commissioner Wignmore at a committee meeting of the Common Council.

The matter was laid over until a full report from the city engineer, an application for grading of Cranston avenue, an application from the Maritime Rail Co. for extension of fixed valuation period for taxation, and an offer from B. R. Armstrong to deed a strip of land at the junction of Lansdowne avenue and Henry street to the city.

The Armstrong matter was brought up to meet 2:30 street. It was 280 feet long, and from three to eight feet wide. The owner was paying a frontage tax without receiving any benefits, and was anxious to be relieved of the charge against it. The commissioner said that he would bring in a report on the matter.

Commissioner Frink asked for authority to purchase a 500-gallon gasoline tank not to exceed $884.64. He said $600 had been appropriated for the tank and the balance was to be made up by the city.

Spruce Lake Main. Commissioner Wignmore, reporting on the Spruce Lake main, said the bond issue had been authorized for $377,400, but this had been exceeded by $12,000. He asked that the bond be increased to $399,400. He explained that $6,025 in interest charges was part of the cost of the main.

There was $38,845 due the contractors and an amount due the Provincial Government for road repairs. He brought the amount outstanding up to $38,316.67.

He said that the pipe was now in good shape, the leakage being only fifty-eight per cent. of the amount allowed under the contract. The contractor was asked to repair the pipe.

The engineer's report explained that only 2-1/2 per cent. of the main was in good shape. He suggested that the contractor be allowed to repair the pipe.

Commissioner Thornton said that he understood that the contract price was to be the final cost and he thought that before action was taken a full and complete report should be presented by the city engineer.

The matter was allowed to stand until the engineer's report was received. The clerk read a letter from L. D. Millidge, Cranston avenue, calling attention to the advisability of grading the street so that water and sewerage could be provided.

The matter was referred to Commissioner Frink.

Fixed Valuation Requests. The Mayor said there were some matters of legislation to be considered. He read a letter from the Maritime National Company, Ltd., asking for a renewal of fixed valuation and suggesting a hearing by council.

A further letter assured the plant, it was said, was removed to Montreal, but as soon as the action of the council was learned some further arrangements might be considered.

ARREST MADE IN SCOTLAND YARD POISON CASE

Germany Deceived by Rumor from Lausanne, Taunt the French and Boast of Coming Victory. Essen, Feb. 1.—The Ruhr forgot its own troubles last evening upon receipt of Lausanne messages from German sources announcing "the final break between England and France over the Near East question."

"Certain war between Great Britain and France" screamed the headlines in front of the bulletin boards in Essen and Dusseldorf to cheer the other announced. Great crowds gathered in front of the bulletin boards in Essen and Dusseldorf to cheer the other announced. Great crowds gathered in front of the bulletin boards in Essen and Dusseldorf to cheer the other announced.

The police had been waiting in front of the newspaper offices in expectation that the French ultimatum to Germany would be published. When news of a break at Lausanne was announced the people were greatly relieved and greeted the bulletins with tumultuous cheers. Extra editions of the Westphalian Gazette and the Dusseldorf Tageblatt were snapped up promptly at one hundred marks a copy.

Officers on duty at French headquarters volunteered the information that no official advice as to a Franco-British break had been received from Paris and that the joy of the Germans is likely to prove premature. "We will defeat the French," was the cry heard again and again as patrols of soldiers dispersed the crowds. The population was good natured, however, and taunted the French soldiers without offering any resistance.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole. Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

Any Touch of Indigestion

Until your various digestive organs are in order your food, instead of properly nourishing you will be liable to clog and poison your system. Your blood will be poor and impure and your nervous system thoroughly run down.

DETAILS OF ESTATE OF COL. ROOSEVELT

Widow, Son and Cousin File Final Accounting and Ask to Be Relieved—Referee Approves Report.

Details of the estate of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt were filed in the Supreme Court at New York in an accounting by his widow, Mrs. Edith K. Roosevelt, his son, Theodore Jr., and his executor, George Emery Roosevelt.

During the period of the accounting, from Jan. 6, 1919, when Colonel Roosevelt died, to May 31 last, the total income, securities and other personal effects which came into the hands of the executors was $801,171, as stated, which included $275,000 as the increase in value of property and the collection of assets, $37,850 increase from the estate of Colonel Roosevelt's father, and $480.00 "profits on investments."

The debts included $9,890 as Colonel Roosevelt's income tax for 1918, an item of $500 paid by the executors on a check drawn by Colonel Roosevelt on Aug. 29, 1918, on account of the distribution of the 1918 Nobel Prize. By the time the check was returned to the Oyster Bay Bank for payment Colonel Roosevelt had died and payment was refused.

The executors paid an undertaking bill of $854 and spent $2,539 maintaining watchmen at Colonel Roosevelt's grave. They paid $746 for a headstone and $375 for planting at the grave. The accounting shows that the value of Colonel Roosevelt's art and literary property and other personal effects was $41,826. The executors sold his saddle horse, Truxton, for $600 and collected $8,000 on a mortgage paid by his son Theodore. They received $23,437 as the same die on the assets of the estate is a mortgage for $20,000 made by George G. Thompson on the property at 162 East Seventy-fifth Street.

The bulk of the estate was in stocks and bonds. Colonel Roosevelt had $30,000 on the first issue of Liberty bonds and $20,000 of the fourth. He had $24,000 of two issues of the Victory Loan. The only bond he owned found to be valuable was one of $3,000 of the Republic of Mexico. The stocks found

Colonel Roosevelt owned one $1,000 Canadian Victory Loan, worth $978.

John P. Conway, who was appointed referee to take the accounting, submitted his report with the account of the executors, and recommended that their accounts be approved. He also upheld their action in rejecting the claim of Emma R. Barker and Western Bank, $9,281; 20 Ontario Pacific prior lien, $17,100; 20 Northern Pacific prior lien, $14,200; 20 Erie, $14,200; 20 Iron Mountain & Southern 48, $16,400; 20 Union Pacific first 48, $10,800; 20 United States Steel sinking fund 48, $16,000; 20 Wabash, $8,000.

They Are Worth Their Weight in Gold. The executor's report was approved by Charles J. Simpson and purporting to have been examined by Colonel Roosevelt. The executors reported the sale of the authorities and stated that Colonel Roosevelt's name had been used on the document. This was prosecuted here and convicted of forgery.

SOLDIER MATTERS BEFORE THE ROYAL COMMISSION

At yesterday afternoon's session of the Royal Commission on pensions and re-establishment, the evidence of Dr. G. B. Peat was continued. F. A. Nicholson, of St. Stephen, read the resolutions passed by the St. Stephen returned men's meeting and the rest of the session was occupied in hearing "Pine Island" delegates. Dr. Peat advised a home for men totally incapacitated or with almost total disabilities.

In the matter of men with tuberculosis he recommended that the report of the doctor in charge be accepted as the attribution of the disease. Some examples were given of men not getting treatment.

The report of the St. Stephen returned men's board to investigate cases of appeals for treatment and a system of old age pensions.

Dr. H. E. Johnson, of Charlottetown, asked that a unit of the D. S. C. B. be established on Prince Edward Island and complained that there had been a lack of publicity as to the methods of application for treatment. He recommended that pensions should not be changed without adequate examination.

The pensions of men who died should not be stopped, he said inasmuch as there were dependents and there should be some good supervision of children when men had died of disease. He also recommended sheltered workshops and Colonel S. S. Wetmore, unit director of the D. S. C. B., at Halifax said that the matter would be taken up with the Red Cross on the Island. Men taking farms under the Soldiers' Settlement scheme should not lose all their money in cases of the farms being sold for less than cost, he thought. He urged that men should not lose their pensions because of disabilities previous to enlistment. Cases illustrating these were cited. W. Woodside of Charlottetown, suggested that the canteen funds should be used for a fund to provide for the education of orphaned children of returned men.

Do not buy for goods. Bodognoff too sugared his declarations of reduced production in most enterprises with statistics on coal production in many cases. In the pre-war total, and of oil, which has reached 90 per cent. of pre-war production, he stated that the Soviets have taken to exporting it in comparatively large quantities. Coal too is being exported, not because the country has a surplus, but because so much of Russia's industry lies idle that all the mine cannot be used. In fact, this is not an isolated instance. The whole Russian market is over-filled and goods find no buyers. Industry is in a position to produce much more than at present, but its output is purposely restricted in many cases. A resolution passed by the Congress during the last few hours of its session, has grown so rapidly. Soaring still insufficient for the country's need, has grown so rapidly. CARRY 20 FAMILIES TO SAFETY AT FIRE

Police and Firemen Rescue Tenants Trapped on Upper Floors.

New York, Jan. 31.—Twenty families whose lives were imperiled by fire sweeping through a five-story brick tenement house at Clinton and Delancy Streets were carried to safety by firemen of Truck Company 4 by means of aerial ladders or piloted through smoke-filled hallways to the street by policemen.

Shortly before 5:30 Patrolman Edward Cron of the Clinton Street Station noticed flames issuing from the upper floors of the tenement house. After turning in a call for apparatus, Cron summoned Patrolman Pollock from a near-by post and together they hurried upstairs.

The fire, which had started in an apartment on the third floor, had spread rapidly up the stairs and mushroomed into the rooms on the upper floors. The hallways were filled with smoke and the flames were leaping up the stairway.

Calling to Pollock to lead out the families on the second floor, Cron hurried up to the floor above sounding his night-stick on the doors. Frightened women responded to his knocking only to be driven back into their apartments by dense volumes of smoke which were driven through and out the windows by the draught.

Escape by the stairway was no longer possible, and Cron hurried the panic-stricken tenants to the fire escapes. About this time Acting Chief Martin arrived with Truck Company 24 and Engine Companies 17 and 18. Fire escapes on both the Orchard Street and Delancy Street sides were lined with tenants, the majority of whom were women, many carrying babies in their arms. They hailed the approach of the fire apparatus with frightened cries and gestures. Many in the panic of the moment, probably would have jumped save for the timely arrival of the firemen.

Life nets were spread on both sides of the house, and the aerial ladder quickly placed in position. A general exodus of tenants began. In the scramble for safety many of the rescued disappeared after they reached the street.

Among those saved were: Becky Liebowitz, 55 years old, who was with her daughter Mrs. Fanny Bronstein on the fourth floor; Charles Edelstein, 34 years old, his wife Gusie, and their three children, Sam aged 10, Anna, 9, and Louis 1; Sam Gokar, 45 years old, his wife Helen, and their seven children, Morris 23, Regina 19, Esther 18, Harry 14, Helen 13, Pauline 10, and Yetta 7.

Several of the women fainted and were carried down the ladders by firemen Joseph Usher, Leonard Falam and Joseph Glynn.

On the third floor was Lillie Konowitz, Jacob Konowitz, his wife Mollie and daughters, Rachel 8, and Silvia 10 months. Rachel, frightened by the excitement hid under a bed. She was found by the firemen, who carried her to the street.

On the second floor were an aged couple, Meyer Yagorda, 70 years old, and his wife Blanche, 72. They were carried out by Pollock, assisted by Louis Cardello and Al Voger, pedestrians, who had followed the policemen upstairs.

Twelve-year-old Tillie Kealiger, who was visiting a playmate, Adelheid Gordon, said that the fire started in the apartment of Mrs. Fannie Kosowsky, who lived with her 8-year-old daughter Pearl on the third floor. Tillie said she was playing with her friend when she heard the rapping of the patrolman's stick and looking out the door saw the stairs all ablaze. Louis Gordon, 37 years old, the two girls, and his son Morris, 11, and Sam, 9, all rushed to the fire-escape when they saw that escape by the stairway was out of the question. All were rescued by firemen.

LONDON FEARS GERM TUBES Containing Deadly Bacilli, and Found in Streets—Great Alarm.

London, Feb. 1.—All London is asking these days who the mysterious laying germ tubes around the streets of London. In the last week, on three different occasions, these tubes containing deadly bacilli have been found in different parts of the city.

Is it some medical student playing a "practical" joke? Or is it some professor whose habits of forgetfulness cause him to carelessly leave the most deadly objects around in the most unexpected places? Or is it a maniac that is at work?

London would give a good deal to know the correct answers to these questions. So far the police have not been able to throw any light upon the mystery.

On December 27 twenty-one test tubes were picked up in Brixton Road by a "hobby." He didn't have any idea of what they were until he brought the tubes into the police station. Then he was surprised to learn that he was carrying enough germs with him to kill off a fair-sized town.

A few days later twenty-four germ tubes, packed in two cardboard boxes, were found in a garage in one of the poorer quarters of Windsor. How they came there is still an unsolved mystery.

When the tenant or one of his assistants is not there the premises are always locked up. The only explanation seen is that the guilty party climbed over the garage gates, which are ten feet high, and put the boxes under a sack, where they were discovered by a chance movement of the covering material.

The latest chapter is the finding of a case containing a number of glass tubes in which were germs of various diseases in a doorway in Henrietta Street, in the West End district.

The police have been aroused by this series of puzzling incidents, and special efforts are being made to get at the bottom of the mystery.

R. L. Charlton, of Montreal, inspector of marine insurance, will be in the city on Monday and will exhibit a number of port slides in the Seaman's Institute. These slides are being shown by request of the Board of Trade.

SING FOR JOY AS THEY REACH U.S.

108 Members of the Berlin Grand Opera Company See Riches Ahead—Stars Paid $4 Month in Germany.

New York, Feb. 1.—As the President Roosevelt, bringing the 108 members of the Berlin Grand Opera Company, plowed her way through ice-choked water to her pier, songbirds of the company stood baredheaded on deck, singing lusty praises of joy at their thought of the salaries of millions of marks which soon were to replace the starvation wages of their homeland.

The company's full chorus of sixty men and women intoned the chorus from Wagner's opera "The Mastersinger," while principals of the company crowded, radiant-faced, at the rails feasting their eyes on America. "Happy!" exclaimed one of the prima donnas. "No, I am more than happy. Only a few months ago I sang in a provincial German opera house and received 18,000 marks a month for my work. That was eighty cents in your money and I was the best paid singer in the house. Now I will receive the equivalent of millions of marks a month and the terrible struggle with want and worry will be at an end."

Other members of the company pointed out that the best opera stars in Germany are paid a maximum of about 100,000 marks or $4 a month, while minor singers received fifty cents a month.

In America, it was declared, leading members of the company would be paid the equivalent of 25,000,000 marks a month, while even the lesser stars and musicians would get several millions.

The opera company, which was said by Georg Hartmann, its general director, to be the first German company to be brought to this country, will tour the United States, opening its engagement in Baltimore on Jan. 31, then filling engagements here and in Philadelphia.

Visit Due to Drop in Mark. Leo Blech, director of the chorus, said the visit had been made possible by the depreciation of the mark. "At any other time," he declared, "our visit would have been impossible, but with the dollar quoted at more than 20,000 marks many things have become possible for those fortunate enough to possess dollars."

Herr Blech said that despite the economic suffering prevalent in Germany, the opera houses and theatres were always crowded to capacity. A large portion of the audience, he said, was made up of foreigners who pay from five to ten times the ordinary prices for tickets.

The company includes Jacques Urias, former German tenor at the Metropolitan Opera House; Elsa Aasen, dramatic soprano; Jessyka Koetnik and Ottilie Metzger-Latter-Mann.

The department was willing to let the law of supply and demand regulate teachers' salaries. Only when the supply was equal to the demand would there be a cut in salaries.

In 1919 Ontario was short 2,700 qualified teachers. Although 3,500 had been graduated since then the department was faced with a shortage of 900. The government was considering several changes in the system of grants.

MOTOR ACCIDENT TURNS WOMAN'S TRESSES WHITE To what extent are automobiles responsible for prematurely white hair? Paris has just been hearing of an authenticated case of a lady who narrowly escaped being run over by a car and was so frightened that she fell in a faint. On being revived and taken to her home, several locks of her hair had turned quite white.

NEW ARMY BULLET DEADLIEST YET

Adds 30 Per Cent to Machine Gun Zone—Work of Army Experts.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The work of army experts since the war has produced a new bullet for use in rifles and machine guns which is expected to add enormously to the effectiveness of these weapons. The new bullet is known as a "boat-tail" because of a six degree taper at the tail. Exhaustive tests by the army have shown that the change in shape has given wings to their bullets, adding 1,400 yards to the maximum range attained and flattening the trajectory or arc of flight at 1,000 yards approximately thirty per cent.

In addition the army experts have worked out a new jacket for the bullets that virtually eliminates fouling of barrels. Tests at the arms infantry school have fixed the maximum range of the new bullet at 4,800 yards as compared to 3,450 yards with the present ammunition. It also has been demonstrated that at 600 yards with the new ammunition it is possible to put every shot into a circle the size of a teacup, as the "boat-tail" bullet is less subject to wind current deflection.

The army has in reserve a large store of war-time rifle ammunition which will be used up before any project of equipping with the new "model 1922" boat tail bullet ammunition is undertaken.

For war purposes officers believe the greatest advantage of the "boat tail" will be in the increased range and effectiveness of machine gun fire. It means an increase of at least thirty per cent in the deadlines of machine gun range fire because of the flatter trajectory alone.

With the present ammunition, firing at 1,000 yards the bullet reaches an elevation of 182 inches at the top of the arc. With the new bullet the maximum rise is 192 inches. Translated in terms of danger to the enemy at the point on which fire is directed, this means that there is a space of 100 yards where no man on his feet would be safe, while with the present ammunition the space is 100 yards.

The tests showed that the new bullets could be fired at 1,000 yards into a six-inch bullseye. This compares to the accuracy of the old ammunition at about 500 yards. With this striking increase in accuracy at long range, the "boat-tail" development, it is said, means that the United States now has the means of laying down a machine gun barrage at a range no other power could equal.

REPORTS LARGE SHORTAGE IN NUMBER OF TEACHERS Although the Normal Schools of Ontario are graduating more teachers than ever in the history of the province, there is still a large shortage. Commercial concerns make such attractive offers and give so much better salaries that qualified teachers were leaving the profession. So declared Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education, before the Carleton Council this week.

The department was willing to let the law of supply and demand regulate teachers' salaries. Only when the supply was equal to the demand would there be a cut in salaries.

In 1919 Ontario was short 2,700 qualified teachers. Although 3,500 had been graduated since then the department was faced with a shortage of 900. The government was considering several changes in the system of grants.

"The Torch of Verified Circulation"

Lights up the way for the Advertiser

The Telegraph and The Evening Times, with a combined daily net paid circulation exceeding 30,000 copies, are the only A. B. C. (Audit Bureau of Circulation) papers in the province of New Brunswick. These newspapers alone give the advertiser a verified circulation whose extent is absolutely known and established beyond question.

Mr. Advertiser, do you realize what this means?

All of the principal Canadian dailies are members of the A. B. C. That is, they give their advertisers, present and prospective, circulation figures which are audited, certified and approved by an independent court whose standing is recognized in business circles throughout Canada and the United States.

Mr. Advertiser, Look at this:

The Following Canadian Newspapers are members of the A. B. C.:

- St. John—The Telegraph and The Evening Times (the only A. B. C. papers in New Brunswick).
- Halifax—The Chronicle and Echo, The Herald and Mail.
- Charlottetown—The Guardian.
- Quebec City—Le Soleil, L'Evenement.
- Montreal—The Gazette, The Star, The Herald, La Presse, La Patrie, Le Canada, Le Devoir, The Standard.
- Ottawa—The Citizen, The Journal, Le Droit.
- Toronto—The Globe, The Star, The Mail and Empire and Sunday World, The Telegram.
- London—The Advertiser, The Free Press.
- Brantford—The Expositor.
- Brockville—The Recorder and Times.
- Fort William—The Times-Journal.
- Hamilton—The Spectator.
- Kingston—The British Whig, The Standard.
- Windsor—The Border Cities' Star.
- Winnipeg—The Manitoba Free Press, The Tribune.
- Saskatoon—The Star, The Phoenix.
- Regina—The Leader, The Post.
- Calgary—The Morning Albertan, The Herald.
- Edmonton—The Bulletin, The Journal.
- Vancouver—The Province, The Sun, The World.
- Victoria—The Colonist, The Times.

Mr. Advertiser, in that list you have the chief newspapers of Canada. They give you an independent audit of their circulation by a universally recognized authority.

"Net Paid" circulation does not mean old lists of doubtful value. "Net Paid" means that every subscriber included in the figures is either paid in advance or does not owe for more than six months. The Telegraph and Times, remember, have a combined "net paid" daily circulation of more than 30,000 copies.

Figuring by circulation The Telegraph and Times rates are the lowest in the Maritime Provinces.

By putting the same ad in both papers you cover the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick as with a blanket, so far as prospective buyers of your goods are concerned, for these two papers reach to a really wonderful extent the people in this city and this province who are in a position to purchase the goods that local or national advertisers offer for sale, be these goods bonds or toothpicks, razors or mowing machines, diamonds or medicines, shoes or silks.

Think over the facts, Mr. Advertiser. Just ask yourself quietly and thoughtfully what that chain of leading Canadian newspapers means. Their verified circulation is their greatest advertising solicitor. Think about "the torch of verified circulation."

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

BRITAIN'S REGARDING HER FOREIGN TRADE

Substantial Improvement in 1922 Indicates Trend of World Production.

The foreign trade of Great Britain during 1922 showed gradual but substantial improvement both from the point of view of the total value of exports and imports and from the point of view of the balance of trade. This is of significance, it is pointed out by bankers in New York, because "the commerce of the United Kingdom affords one of the most sensitive indications of the general trend of production and trade throughout the world."

In regard to England's surplus of merchandise imports, the bank points out that this has been reduced to normal pre-war proportions, and is again amply covered by items of income in the invisible trade balance. Imports of raw materials are increasing, and this not only evidences the recovery of industrial activity in the United Kingdom, but provides a stimulus to trade in all parts of the world whence supplies of cotton and wool, rubber, hides, metals, timber and other basic commodities are drawn.

As further evidence of the improvement of the bank points out that if the effects of price changes are eliminated British imports of foodstuffs have been not far from the pre-war level during 1920, 1921 and 1922. Imports of raw materials for use in manufacture, which in 1921 were only 62 per cent. of the 1913 level, in 1922 amounted to about 80 per cent. of the pre-war volume. Cotton and wool are the major items in the raw material category, and imports of the former are about 20 per cent. more than the 1913 level.

Exports of British products have risen on the basis of 1913 prices to eliminate the effects of price changes also show an increase for 1922, as compared with 1921, of about 20 per cent. Among British exports of manufactures cotton goods, notably yarn and piece goods, are important. Yarn exports, which as a result of a half during the war have recovered their pre-war level, while piece goods exports, which still far below the pre-war volume of 7,000,000 yards, have increased from less than 3,000,000 yards in 1921 to 4,000,000 yards in 1922.

Another item of great importance among British exports is coal. In 1913 73,000,000 tons were exported, but in 1922, under the combined influence of the British coal strike and world-wide depression, exports dropped to 25,000,000 tons. In 1922 they recovered to about 65,000,000 tons.

Regarding the direction of British trade, the bank says: "The war caused substantial changes in the direction of British foreign trade, but the general trend since the armistice has been toward a restoration of the pre-war distribution. Thus, on the import side goods from other European countries which in 1913 made up 40 per cent. of the total, in 1919 comprised only 15 per cent. of the total for the current year they averaged about 30 per cent."

About 18 per cent. of the goods imported formerly came from Asiatic countries; the ratio increased to 15 per cent. in 1919, and is now about 11 per cent. British India furnishes the greater part of these imports. Imports from Africa were, before the war, about 7 per cent. and are now about 7 per cent. of the total. Australasia has definitely increased its proportion from 8 per cent. in 1913 to 13 per cent. in 1922. Canada has also increased its proportion from 4 to 8 per cent. of the total. The United States before the war furnished over 18 per cent. of the total imports, by far the largest amount of any one country. In 1919 its share was no less than 33 per cent. but for 1922 has receded to about 22 per cent.

The relative importance of exports to Australasia and to the United States has increased moderately, while those to Canada, Africa and South and Central America are slightly less important than before the war. It is clear that, on the whole, the direction of British exports has been restored practically to normal."

BRITISH MARKET STEADIES ON DEBT TERMS ACCEPTANCE

London, Feb. 1.—Great Britain's acceptance of the U. S. debt funding proposals has eliminated from the financial atmosphere one of the factors recently operating against stability, and an immediate effect of this decision was seen today on the stock exchange. Orders were received for the gilt edged securities which, under the lead of the war loan improved smartly, imparting confidence to the other sections of the market.

SHIPPING SILK DOUBLE PRE-WAR PRICES

Despite Increased Cost of Raw Product, Manufacture Increases Greatly.

(New York Times)
The manufacture of silk in the United States continues to record rapid increases, despite the fact that the raw product is selling at prices more than double the pre-war average. The capital invested in the industry of this country is now in excess of the half billion mark and the value of the output is the highest record yet. The Department of Commerce show that the average import price for the raw silk entering the country in that month was $7.14 a pound, against an annual average of $3.15 per pound in 1913.

Regarding the imports of raw silk into this country, the review says that "curiously, too, the quantity of silk being brought into the country even at these spectacular prices of over $7 a pound, is approximately twice as great as in 1913, when the price was less than half that today."

Japanese Trade Leaders Visit Canada

The Japanese Mission, which recently arrived at Vancouver on board the Canadian Pacific steamer "Empress of Australia" and crossed Canada via the C. P. R. on their way to New York, where they are to attend an international silk conference.

Speaking to a reporter, Mr. Miyasaki said: "Japan is slowly changing, she is assuming new habits and the ways of living as she changes her way of production. Industrialism has taken hold of us. As a result, you understand, we are going through the same difficulties which Great Britain did during the beginning and the middle of the last century. Industrialism is multiplying our population."

He stated that Japan, if the proper steps were taken, would be a good customer for Canadian grain, and speaking of general trade conditions in his own country said, that when complete liquidation had cleared the financial atmosphere, trade would once more take great strides forward. He added, "We are now buying a lot of lumber from you, and it is certain we will want more, much more. Your lumber has such a beautiful grain, and you know, we don't paint our houses in the interior."

It is believed to have been the first city to attain a population of a million. Zinc was discovered in the year 1850.

COMBINES BILL AT OTTAWA IS DISCUSSED

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—(Canadian Press)—The promise in the speech from the throne of a bill to safeguard the interests of consumers and producers from undue enhancement of prices or unfair restriction of trades by combines, monopolies, trusts or mergers, is the subject of discussion in many quarters. Generally, it is understood, this is to mean that the Government will bring down a bill similar to the combines and trust legislation which was superseded by the act creating the Board of Commerce. Under the old act, two or three consumers or producers themselves could go before a judge and ask for an investigation into any alleged combine or trust. With the passage of the Board of Commerce legislation this act ceased to be effective and it is understood the proposal now is to place before parliament a measure similar to that of some years ago which was placed on the statute books when the present Prime Minister was Minister of Labor.

In 1918, the United States produced 840,647,000 gallons of gasoline. What is believed to be the shortest name in the United States, is Ida Eak.

PROPOSED FUND TO MITIGATE LOSSES THROUGH FAILURES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 1.—A committee which will investigate the possibility of a proposal to establish a fund which would mitigate the losses suffered by wholesale dealers through failures in the retail trade was appointed here yesterday at a meeting of about fifty wholesale dealers from various parts of the province.

It is believed to have been the first city to attain a population of a million. Zinc was discovered in the year 1850.

COMBINES BILL AT OTTAWA IS DISCUSSED

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—(Canadian Press)—The promise in the speech from the throne of a bill to safeguard the interests of consumers and producers from undue enhancement of prices or unfair restriction of trades by combines, monopolies, trusts or mergers, is the subject of discussion in many quarters. Generally, it is understood, this is to mean that the Government will bring down a bill similar to the combines and trust legislation which was superseded by the act creating the Board of Commerce. Under the old act, two or three consumers or producers themselves could go before a judge and ask for an investigation into any alleged combine or trust. With the passage of the Board of Commerce legislation this act ceased to be effective and it is understood the proposal now is to place before parliament a measure similar to that of some years ago which was placed on the statute books when the present Prime Minister was Minister of Labor.

In 1918, the United States produced 840,647,000 gallons of gasoline. What is believed to be the shortest name in the United States, is Ida Eak.

MONTREAL WINTER SPORTS

(1) The leaders of the snowshoe parade halt in front of the Windsor Hotel, Montreal. Lord and Lady Bragg, who opened the Montreal winter sports carnival, meet (2) Learning young, E. P. Standberg and daughter Elsie. (3) Skating on Mount Royal. Left, Miss Phyllis Mackenzie; in right, Miss Helia Perreault, of Quebec.

THIS year is seeing a wonderful revival of winter sports in Montreal. A great carnival is now being held and will continue to March 6th. Mount Royal Park, so well adapted to winter sports, always had its crowd of winter sports people. But this year the sporting spirit is greatly augmented. The famous mountain toboggan slide, abandoned since war time, has been rebuilt and is now in operation. Skating runs are well patronized and bands of snowshoers may be seen frequently tramping over the hill. Many curling and hockey matches are on the programme. Recent heavy snowfalls have left the ground in ideal condition for winter sports.
On February 2nd it is expected that the prettiest Montreal sports girl will be chosen. She will be called Miss Montreal. Almost thirty girls are in the competition. During the week beginning February 4th Miss Canada will be selected. Girls from many parts of Canada are entered in this competition.
Very interesting features of the winter sports will be the roasting of two buffalo at McGill Stadium and a feast of buffalo meat; an Indian village on Fletcher's field; and Dominion Square is to be flooded for skating, and lighted with electricity.
Special attention is being given to the making of out-of-town visitors happy. Arrangements are complete for the formation of a club to be composed of visitors to the Montreal winter sports. Membership of the Club will admit visitors to the privileges of the Park Toboggan Club, the Montreal Ski Club, and the M. A. A. skating rink. The new organization will be known as the Montreal Esquimaux Club. The first president of the Club is Senator John J. Walsh, of Boston, while the vice-president is Mr. George A. Ferris, a New York lawyer. The committee has arranged to provide members with equipment, consisting of skis and snowshoes, on a rental basis, and for the convenient distribution of this equipment a small hut has been built on Mount Royal.

LITHUANIA THE TROUBLE MAKER
Lithuania, which seeks to throw still more mud into the European waters by invading the disputed territory of Poland, is one of the little Baltic countries which achieved a form of independence as a result of the war. Its importance lies more in its location, between Russia and Germany, than in its size or population, having an area of 22,000 square miles and a population of 2,000,000. Detached at last from the restless Poland, Lithuania felt the growing-pains of national aspirations of "self-determination," as Woodrow Wilson would say, and, after the signing of the German armistice for the Republic of the war, emerged to possess a Republic of form and government and a president.
At the end of the 14th and the beginning of the 15th century, Lithuania was the most formidable power in the North, extending from the Baltic to the Black Sea. On one occasion Moscow was almost taken,

FAILS IN SCHOOL WORK.
BOY TAKES OWN LIFE.
The body of John Cavin, fourteen years old, golf champion and choir leader at Sturgis High School, Sturgis, Michigan, was found Saturday night in an abandoned shack outside the city limits by a searching party of 800 men and boys.
A bullet hole through the head, and a .22 calibre revolver taken from the Cavin home, and found beside the body, indicated that the boy had taken his own life.
Young Cavin disappeared last Tuesday, after his parents had received reports of his studies in school which indicated he was not doing well.

New York, Feb. 1.—Despite the extension of ocean bootlegging, fishing still remains the chief industry of the island of Miquelon, according to M. REVISION OF THE ANGLICAN PRAYER BOOK DISCUSSED

Lord Hugh Cecil Explains Purpose of Proposed Changes. More Elasticity of the Non-controversial Matters, Including the Baptism and Communion Services and Use of Vestments. (Special to The Times). Toronto, Feb. 1.—The Parliament of the Church of England, recently established, under the name of the National Assembly, is sitting in the great hall of Church House, Westminster, London, this week. Major, principal of Ripon Hall, Oxford, examining chaplain to the Bishop of Hereford and editor of "The Modern Churchman."

CROSS 55 MILES OF BAD ICE

Four Men With Sleigh Brave Lake Michigan to Save Two Lives. Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Feb. 1.—A fifty-five-mile trip in horse-drawn sleighs over a dangerous expanse of ice-sheeting Lake Michigan between Washington Island and Sturgeon Bay, in the hope of saving the lives of two young men in need of a surgical operation, was completed by Captain George Moe of the Plum Island Coast Guard station and three companions, including a physician, with the result that hope is held at a local hospital for the boys' recovery.

FRANCE'S REPLY TO THE CHARGE OF MILITARISM

"You accuse me of being militaristic—look here are my arms!" From L'Echo de Paris. The young men were suffering from the after effects of pneumonia and pleurisy, Captain Moe stated, and their serious condition made departure from the islands necessary to save their lives. In telling of the thrilling trip across the ice, Captain Moe said: "The ice on the bay has been behaving wildly for the last two weeks, being on a continual move, back and forth from the shore. When we were a short distance from shore, we were forced to chop large chunks of ice banked in our path. Several times we were forced to the beach, upon which the boys were being carried, upon one end and then set the rear end down to avoid bumps, which we feared would be in their opinion sufficient ground fatal."

CHUMS 40 YEARS; DIE TOGETHER

Struck by Automobile on Way Home from Work—Chauffeur Burned. New York, Feb. 1.—Homeward bound from work together, as had been their daily custom for twenty-five years, James Kane, 63, and Patrick J. Smythe, 65, Bayonne neighbors and inseparable friends, were run down and killed by an automobile truck. The men were run over by opposite wheels of the truck. The Kane and Smythe families had lived across the street from each other for more than forty years. Mrs. Smythe and her four daughters were as friendly with Mrs. Kane and her son as the two heads of the family were toward each other. Twenty-five years ago both Kane and Smythe got jobs with the Babcock & Wilcox Boiler Company. Smythe rose to a foremanship and Kane worked in his department. They were within a few blocks of their home when they started to cross the street. A truck heavily loaded with rubber and driven by Frank Foster, was approaching. Both of them saw it and they tried to avoid it, but, according to the driver and another witness, they apparently became confused and stopped right in the path of the truck. Smythe was instantly killed. Kane's legs were severed from his body. He was still alive when a surgeon reached him, but soon after he arrived at the Bayonne Hospital, he, too, died. Foster was arrested on a charge of manslaughter. He told the police that the accident was unavoidable.
