A FLEET MARRIAGE.

BY AN IRISHMAN.

Lady C. was a beautiful woman, but Lady C. was an extravagant woman. She was still single, though rather past extreme youth. Like most pretty females, she had looked too high, and estimated her own loveliness too dearly, and now she refused to believe that she was not so charming as ever. So no wonder she still remained unmarried.

Lady C. had but five thousand pounds in the world. She owed about forty thousand pounds: so, with all her wit and beauty, she got into the Fleet prison, and was likely to remain there.

Now in the time I speak of, every lady had her head dressed by a barber; and the barber of the Fleet was the handsomest barber in the city of London. Pat Phelan was a great admirer of the sex; and where's the wonder?—Sure Pat was an Irishman. It was one very fine morning when Phelan was dressing her captivating head, that her ladyship took it into her mind to talk to him, and Pat was well pleased, for Lady C.'s teeth were the whitest, and her smile the brightest in all the world.

'So you're not married, Pat,' says she.
'Devil an inch! you're honor's ladyship, says he.

'And wouldn't ye like to be married,' again asks she?

'Would a duck swim?'

'Is there any one you'd prefer?'

'May be, madame,' says he, 'you never heard of Kathleen O'Reilly, down beyant Donegal? Her father's cousin to O'Donoghue, who's own steward to Mr. Murry, the under-agent to your Lord Kingston, and—'

'Hush! says she; 'sure I don't want to know who she is. But would she have you, if you asked her?'

'Ah, thin, I'd only wish I'd be after trying that same.'

'And why don't you?'

'Sure I'm too poor.' And Phelan heav'd a prodigious sigh.

'Would you like to be rich?'

'Does a dog bark?'

'If I make you rich, will you do as I tell you?'

'Millia, murders! your honor, don't be tantalizing a poor boy.'

'Indeed I'm not,' said Lady C. 'So listen. How would you like to marry me?'

'Ah, thin, my lady, I believe the King of Russia himself, would be proud to do that same, let alone a poor devil like Pat Phelan.'

'Well Phelan, if you'll marry me to-morrow, I'll give you one thousand pounds.'

'Oh! whist! whist! I whist! I sure I'm mad, or enchanted by the good people,' roared Pat, dancing around the room.

'But there are conditions,' says Lady C. 'After the first day of our nuptials you must never see me again, nor claim me for your wife.'

'I don't like that,' says Pat, for he had been ogling her ladyship most desperately.

'But remember Kathleen O'Reilly. With the money I'll give you, you may go and marry her.'

'That's thrue,' says he. 'But, thin—the bigamy?'

'I'll never appear against you,' says her ladyship. 'Only you must take an oath never to go telling all the story.'

'Devil a word I'll ever say.'

'Well, then,' says she, 'there's ten pounds. Go and buy a licence, and leave the rest to me; and then she explained to him where he was to go, and when he was to come and all that.'

The next day Pat was true to his appointment and found two gentlemen already with her ladyship.

'Have you got the licence?'

'Here it is my lady,' says he; and he gave it to her. She handed it to one of the gentlemen who was reading.

'Perform the ceremony,' says she.

'And sure enough in ten minutes Pat Phelan was the husband, the legal husband of the lovely Lady C.

'That will do,' says she to her new husband as he gave her a hearty kiss, 'that'll do. Now sir give me my marriage certificate.'

The old gentleman did so, and, bowing respectfully to the five pound note she gave him, he retired with his clerk; for, sure enough, I forgot to tell you he was a parson.

'Go and bring me the warden,' says my lady to one of her servants.

'Yes, my lady,' says she; and presently the warden appeared.

'Will you be good enough,' says Lady C., 'in a voice that would call a bird off a tree, will you be good enough to send and fetch me a hackney coach? I wish to leave this prison immediately.'

'Your ladyship forgets,' replied he, 'that you must pay your forty thousand pounds before I can let you go.'

'I am a married woman. You can detain my husband but not me.' And she smiled.

at Phelan, who began rather to dislike the appearance of the thing.

'I tell you I am married.'

'Where's your husband?'

'There, sir! and she pointed to the astonished barber; there he stands. Here is my marriage certificate, which you can peruse at your leisure. My servants yonder are witnesses of the ceremony. Now detain me, sir, one instant at your peril.'

The warden was dumb-founded, and no wonder. Poor Phelan would have spoken, but neither party would let him. The lawyer below was consulted. The result was evident. In half an hour Lady C. was free, and Pat Phelan, her legitimate husband, a prisoner for debt to the amount of £40,000.

Well, sir, for some time Pat thought he was in a dream, and the creditors thought they were still worse. The following day they held a meeting; and finding how they had been tricked, swore they'd detain poor Pat forever. But as they well knew that he had nothing, and could not feel much shame in going through the insolvent court, they made the best of a bad bargain, and let him out.

Well, you must know about a week after this, Paddy Phelan was sitting by his little fire, and thinking over the things he had seen, when as sure as death the postman brought him a letter, the first he had ever received, which he took over to a friend of his, one Ryan, a fruit seller, because you see, he was no great hand at reading or writing, to decipher for him. It ran thus:—

'Go to Donegal, and marry Kathleen O'Reilly. The instant the knot is tied I'll fulfil my promise of making you comfortable for life. But as you value your life and liberty never breathe a syllable of what has passed. Remember you are in my power if you tell the story. The money will be paid to you directly you inclose me your marriage certificate. I send you fifty pounds for present expenses.'

Oh! happy Paddy! Didn't he get drunk that same night, and didn't he start the next day for Cork, and didn't he marry Kathleen, and touch a thousand pounds? By the powers he did! And what is more, he took a cottage, which perhaps you know, not a hundred miles from Bruffin in the County of Limerick; and fair, he forgot his first wife clean and entirely, and never told any one but myself, under a promise of secrecy, the story of his 'Fleet Marriage.'

So remember, as it is a secret, don't tell it to any one you see.

PAYING LIKE A SINNER.—Several years ago in North Carolina, where it is not customary for the tavernkeepers to charge the minister anything for lodging and refreshments, a preacher presuming stopped at a tavern one evening, made himself comfortable during the night and in the morning entered the stage, without offering pay for his accommodations.

The Landlord soon came running up to the stage, and said, 'There was some one who had not settled his bill.' The passengers all said they had but the preacher, who said he understood that he never charged a minister anything. 'What, you a minister of the Gospel—a man of God? cried the innkeeper, you came to my house last night—you sat down to the table without a blessing; I lit you to your room, and you went to bed without praying to your Maker (for I stood there until you retired); you rose and washed without prayer; ate your breakfast without saying grace; and as you came to my house a sinner, and ate and drank like a sinner you have got to pay like a sinner!'

PARSON OUTWITTED.—A parson once asked an honest Quaker, where his religion was before Gen. Fox's? 'Where thin was,' said the Quaker, before Harry Tudor's time.—Now thou has been free with me,' added the Quaker; 'pray let me ask thee a question. Where was Jacob going when he was tormented ten years of age? canst thou tell that?'

'No, nor you either, I believe.' 'Yes, I can,' replied the Quaker, 'he was going into his eleventh year was he not?'

SINGULAR GEOLOGICAL FACT.—At Modena, in Italy, within a circle of four miles around the city, whenever the earth is dug and the workmen arrive at a distance of 63 feet, they come to a bed of chalk, which they bore with an auger, five feet deep. They then withdraw from the pit before the auger is removed, and upon its extraction the water bursts up with great violence, and quickly fills the well thus made—the supply of water being neither affected by rains or drouths. At the depth of fourteen feet are found the ruins of an ancient city, houses, paved streets and mason work. Below this again is a layer of earth, and at twenty six feet walnut trees are found, entire, with leaves and walnuts upon them. At twenty eight feet soft chalk is found, and below this vegetables and trees.

NEW ORLEANS, June 14.—Considerable excitement was caused here to day by rumours of an intended rising of the slaves in this city. Information was given to the Police at a late hour last night, by a free negro, who pointed out the ring-leader. The latter, when arrested was found heavily armed. He confessed that a band of 2500 well organized negroes had conceived a plan to attack the city next day in several places at once, including the powder magazine, the mint, and the principal banks. The city was then to be set on fire; as a signal to the surrounding country to join the insurrection. Twenty other arrests have been made.

Freights to the United States have varied a little, rather lower rates taken, for dead weight.

PORTLAND AND MONTREAL RAILROAD.—The Portland Avertiser learns from parties who have just been on the line of the above road, that only about ten miles of rails on each side of the line remain to be laid. Gangs of men are at work on each side, and both sides will have the rails laid by the 1st of July.

THE CAPE RAY TELEGRAPH.—The prospect of this magnificent enterprise, we are glad to say, is full of promise. An encouraging move has just been made towards it by Mr. Gisborne, who left this port in the Ellen Gisborne, accompanied by the "Grace Darling" last Monday, for Trinity Bay, taking two hundred and fifty laborers and tradesmen to commence in that locality the necessary operations for the laying down of the wires to Cape Ray.

Though we cannot put out of view the various and weighty difficulties to be encountered in the prosecution of such an enterprise, still these earnest practical steps naturally induce sanguine expectations. They give assurance that American capitalists are thoroughly alive to the immense advantages involved in the success of this great scheme; and where means are ample, this was the all important point to establish. It would seem excessive scepticism, in such circumstances, to doubt that the end will be attained.

As for Newfoundland, we of course appreciate the establishment of the Telegraph almost altogether by its bearing on the grand object of Direct Steam Communication. It is to us, per se, a matter of very minor moment. But as a means of compelling to latter acquisition as an inevitable consequence, we cannot but regard every step of its progress with the most lively and anxious interest. [Newfoundland.]

REBELLION IN VENEZUELA.—Advices from Puerto Gabelle of June 1st, represent the country of Venezuela to be in a very critical condition. The Government of President Monagas has been for a long time very unpopular, and efforts are being made to overturn it, in favor of Gen. Paez. General Miranda and Castellanos were in the interior, in open rebellion, with 2000 troops. Government is busy raising an army, and had appointed the President's brother to the command of a guard mobile of 20,000 troops. A party of the military which has been sent into the interior to quell the rebellion, returned discomfited. The treasury was completely exhausted, and the government troops unpaid. To add to the general discontent, Monagas had silenced the press at Caracas, and imprisoned the editors.

THE FISHERIES.

At a late hour last evening we received the following highly interesting and important communication, dated from St. George's Bay on the 30th May. Of course the Legislature, now in session, will take immediate cognizance of this matter, and will adopt such energetic but prudent measures, as the exigencies of the case may require.

"I take the first opportunity to inform you that the French cutter has assumed the exclusive right of the fisheries here, and has driven all the English schooners out of the Bay, which were about 40 in number. They were forbidden to take any fish on board after the cutter arrived, and many were driven out and not allowed to take up their nets that were in the water, and their boats and herrings that were in them were taken from them, and the schooners compelled to go out of the Bay with a strong head wind, and some that returned on account of the heavy sea and wind were fired into by the cutter, and were compelled to go out without dropping anchors. We do not know how to act in the matter, having no authority from the Government, nor even the treaty to govern us;—but you may depend upon it, it made the English blood boil to see the French humbling and driving the English to the number of forty vessels, out of the Bay, and firing into them, &c. I was forbidden to take herring on board my schooner; I had four lying here. One of them was loaded with 967 barrels; the others I cannot load in bulk, which will be considerable loss to me and the inhabitants. They allow us to make our herrings on shore, but not to put any on board the schooner. I called on the French Commodore, and he told me we might thank or blame Tobin for all this, for stopping the French from fishing on the Labrador last season, and that their government had ordered them to stop the English in every place where they had right of fishery. I am informed that the inhabitants in Cod Roy have been stopped for several days from fishing by the French cutter. If they have the exclusive right of the fishery, it is more than we were aware of. We always have been informed that the Treaty only granted them the right to the fishery in common with the English; but they now assume the exclusive right to the fishery, and have taken it at the mouth of the cannon. But the rights of the matter will no doubt be taken up by the government and adjusted soon. [St. Johns (N. F.) Ledger.]

MADRID.—A letter from an officer in the U. States Navy, dated Funchal, Madeira, May 1st, is published in the Portland Avertiser. The following is an extract:

"The hill sides of Madeira appear pictures of fertility, and it is to be hoped a year of fruitfulness is to succeed the last year of famine. As we approached our anchorage this morning, the fishermen in the boats, as we passed them, saluted us by doffing their hats and crying 'A good nation'—a good nation,' showing that the charity of Boston and New York has been felt and appreciated, and fulfilling an old saying, that the way to the people's hearts is down their throat."

THE STANDARD.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29, 1853.

MASONIC.—On Friday last (24th June) a number of "brethren of the mystic tie" from St. Stephen, Milltown, and Calais, united with Hibernian Lodge No. 318 of this town, in celebrating "St. John's Day," under their banners, and proceeded to the Scotch church, where a most eloquent and impressive discourse was delivered by the Rev. John Ross, A. M., the esteemed Pastor of that church. The services being concluded, the brethren again formed a procession, and proceeded to their lodge room, where a substantial lunch had been prepared. After ample justice had been done to the collocation, and some masonic and loyal sentiments had been given and responded to, the company separated in love, peace and harmony.

EXCURSION.—On the 4th July Monday next, we learn from posted Hand Bills, there are to be Excursions by Steam on the river between Eastport and Calais. The Splendid steamer "Eastern City," has been advertised to make an excursion from Calais touching at Robinson and St. Andrews and passing among the beautiful islands of Passamaquoddy Bay—returning to Calais in time for the "Fire Works." Give the Eastern City a "bumper" her gentlemanly commander Capt. Winchester, will, as usual, be on hand to make all things agreeable.

Our contemporary the St. Stephen's Patriot, is publishing sketches of our Parliamentary Men; which are said to be in most instances correct. The following is the Patriot's sketch of the

"In person, is of common size, firmly built, and indicates in his movements, much activity. His features are very pleasing, wearing in good humour a continual smile—the very index of good fellowship—but when irritated his countenance assumes a form betokening a violent and hot temper; his complexion is quite fair, and his eyes the tell tales of mischief and intellect. In debate Mr. Wilmot is a rapid speaker—his voice is as pleasing as his features; and he speaks with much force—studying neither rule nor vehemence; and yet, despite his disregard of scholastic elocution, his sentiments are correctly expressed. Mr. Wilmot is a professed protectionist, and undisguised enemy of vote by Ballot. The good old English way, the open, mainly, British way, as he termed it, of coming to the Pall he delighted in; and any opposing method he denounces most unsparingly. Mr. Wilmot forsook the liberal party and joined the Gov't with Mr. Gray; and is as popular as his polished coadjutor, with the party whose cause he espoused. As Surveyor General, we believe he gives the country entire satisfaction. If there be an honorable man among the batch of Government officers, we would venture to say as Nathan to David—'thou art a widely different circumstance.' 'Thou art the man.' If Mr. Wilmot would impose knowledge upon the country, we must wait for proof ere we believe it; at present whether protectionist or free-trader, conservative or liberal, we put him down as an upright man—and will, until we are convinced, to the contrary."

TESTIMONIAL TO W. J. RITCHIE, ESQ.—The Underwriters of London and Liverpool have through Messrs. Reed of St. John presented Mr. Ritchie with a splendid piece of Plate as a testimonial of the high estimation in which they hold his professional services, and for the services rendered in protecting their interest in the salvage case against the Boadicea. The plate bears the following inscription:—"Presented by the Underwriters of London and Liverpool to W. J. RITCHIE, ESQ., St. John N. B. as an acknowledgment of his valuable services in successfully defending their interest in an action for salvage on the Ship Boadicea, before the Admiralty Court of that Province."

The testimonial consists of a Centre Piece, on the base of which stand three female figures, representing the Graces, supporting a column in the centre; on the base is the inscription. It must be very gratifying to Mr. Ritchie, as one of the ablest Lawyers in the Province, as well as his indomitable perseverance for his clients, are duly appreciated abroad and at home.—Courier.

We take the following extract from the leading article in the Woodstock Reformer of the 23d inst.:

RECIPROCITY.

As the Saint Andrews and Quebec Railway advances towards the completion of the first eighty miles (from St. Andrews to Woodstock) it behoves the fertile and favorably situated County of Carleton to look ahead and meditate upon the sources of trade that will feed the line, remunerate the stockholders, and develop the resources of Carleton and the District of the Upper Saint John. Loyal as are the men of Carleton to their Sovereign Lady and the glorious flag of the Red Cross, fondly as they are attached to the constitution of their country, and anxious as they may be for the prosperity and consolidation of the empire, they are not blind to their own interest, and cannot be expected to remain passive while the remotest chance remains of bettering their condition by honorable means without any sacrifice of principle.

In all probability the Railway from Saint Andrews to Woodstock, will be completed in the autumn of 1854. This will bring the Shire town of Carleton within four hours' travel of the Bay of Passamaquoddy, and nearer to the American Atlantic ports, in time of time than the city of St. John. When this Railroad shall have been completed, the surplus produce of Carleton and Victoria will require a market that can scarcely be found elsewhere than in the United States, and not there, except under great disadvantages, unless the rulers of the great Republic relax their present exclusive system. Whenever this Railway shall be opened, Carleton will be prepared to furnish our Western neighbor with an enormous amount of sawed lumber, iron, oats, butter, and cordwood; to which other sections of the Province will add any quantity of fish, ships, coal and gypsum. Surely a proper supply of these articles in the American markets must benefit the purchaser equally with the salesman. They want the articles, and their present duties intended to be prohibitory, in many instances not so, but a tax upon their own consumers; while it is quite evident that, under a system of reciprocity, we should receive but little cash, and take our pay in flour, salt, beef, pork, West India goods, tar, woolen and mixed fabrics, implements of husbandry, and a thousand and one "Yankee Notions."

We cannot but feel anxious that reciprocal trade upon a liberal basis should be established between the Colonies and the United States, for probably no county in New Brunswick would be so immediately and directly benefited thereby as Carleton; but while we feel thus anxious we would by no means consent to any arrangement not founded upon justice and equity, and must confess that, owing to the over-bearing arrogance and grasping spirit of our Western neighbors the prospect of effecting such arrangement is dim and obscure. It is many years since Canada has danced attendance upon the American Congress, soliciting in vain for free trade.—Again and again have the legislatures of the lower Provinces placed resolutions on their Journals, declaring in favor of reciprocity with the United States. These efforts, it is true, attracted the attention of American statesmen, who proposed terms to the Senate, without effect; but had the Senate agreed to the said propositions, they were such as could never obtain the sanction of the Colonies.

A Special meeting of the European & North American Railway Company was held at the Commercial Bank, St. John, on Saturday last, when the following gentlemen were chosen DIRECTORS.—Robert Jardine; Daniel J. McLaughlin; Edward Allison; W. J. Ritchie; George Boisford; S. L. Tiley, Hon. John Robertson.

George P. Sanetion and James McFarlane were elected Auditors.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, ROBERT JARDINE, Esq., was unanimously elected President.

GREAT FIRE AT CAMBRIDGEPORT.—We learn from the Boston Courier, that on Sunday last a fire broke out in a stable in the rear of the Cambridgeport Hotel on Main street, and spread very rapidly. The Pike Hotel, Pratt's Hotel, stables, &c., Cutler & Crossman's lumber yard, Leonard's coal yard, dwellings belonging to Jewell Bent, Jr., and Dr. Parkman's heirs; several stores, and a part of Cambridge Bridge, to city Toll House, were all consumed. The loss is estimated by persons considered as good judges in such matters to be not less than $70,000.

NOR BAD.—The Boston Times says that at the Tom Moore supper on Monday evening, ex-Mayor Quincy, while descending upon the Irish character, observed that, although he had never been at Cork, he had "seen so many drawings of it that evening, he felt himself almost an Irishman."

MASONIC.—On Wednesday last several of our "brethren of the mystic tie," principally members of the Albion and Carleton Union Lodges of this City, proceeded to Norton for the purpose of installing a Masonic Lodge in that delightful locality.—Brother Henry P. City, was installed as Master, and after the ceremony the visiting brethren joined the members of "Corinthian" the name of the new Lodge at an elegant cold collation.—After a few masonic and loyal sentiments had met with a due response, the company separated and returned to their respective homes. We cordially tender to our Corinthian brethren the right hand of fellowship, and our best wishes for their masonic and individual prosperity.—[Chronicle.]

By JOHN TALLIS & CO. OF LONDON.
THE LIFE AND TIMES OF THE LATE
Duke of Wellington;
By Lieut. Col. Williams: (a Companion in Arms of His Grace.)

Comprising the Campaigns and Battle-Fields of Wellington and his Comrades, the Political Life of the Duke and his Contemporaries, and a detailed account of England's Battles by Sea and Land, from the commencement of the Great French Revolution to the present time, interspersed with Anecdotes Personal Incidents, and Adventures, etc.
ADDRESS.

The earthly career of Arthur Duke Wellington has closed; one of the greatest men of the nineteenth century, the foremost military commander of any age, has paid the debt of nature. The time has now arrived for giving to the world a History of the Great Captain—of the Events of his Life and Time—a life marked by patriotism, probity and honour, and events the greatest which have ever agitated the civilized world, and whose influence will be felt upon society till the end of time. Such a work must appeal to the best and proudest feelings in the heart of every Briton—the glory of his country, the honour of its name and position among the nations—may his own existence as a freeman, are recorded and engraven in the annals of the "well fought fields," and the deadly imminent breaches, the immortal battles and the glorious sieges in which Wellington and his Companions in-arms gathered unflinching laurels, placed their country's honour and renewal on the highest pinnacle of fame and glory, and tore the victor's wreath from the brows of heroes decorated with the trophies of Italy, Egypt, and Germany.

To supply such a desideratum in the English literature, the publishers of The Life and Times of the Duke of Wellington have determined to produce a book which shall present to the reader, not only the dry details which a mere biographical sketch would afford, but a comprehensive work, embracing the contemporaneous history of the period; exhibiting the circumstances which brought about the great events in which the Duke and his contemporaries were engaged, and giving to the reader a connected narrative of the lives and actions of the Warriors and Statesmen of the nineteenth century; and this from the pen of one who was a companion in arms of the great hero, and participated with him in many a well-fought field.

In order to carry out their views, the Publishers have determined that the work shall be profusely illustrated by Portraits of the Warriors and Statesmen of the last half century who have shed a lustre upon the history of their country; also representations of the most important engagements by sea and land from the period of 1780 till 1852; so that the work, when finished, shall form an Illustrated Gallery of the Naval and Military Exploits of England.

It has been well said, "Character is the true strength of nations; true glory their best inheritance. When the time shall come that the British heart no longer thrills at the names of Cressy, Poitiers, Agin-court, Blenheim, Ramillies, Oudenarde, Malplaque; of Malaver, Salamanca, Toulouze, Waterloo—the last hour of the British Empire will be struck." The promotion and elevation of national spirit and feeling is therefore the duty and interest of every true and loyal son of England.
May Heaven inspire the hearts of every one of us with that spirit and feeling.

Conditions of Publication.—The work will be issued on the 1st and 15th of every month, in Parts at 1s. 3d. and Divisions handsomely bound at 9s. 4d. printed on Imperial 8vo double columns, each part will be embellished by two highly finished steel Engravings, and will contain 32 pages of letter press. A beautiful steel Engraving, 13 by 19 inches, the storming of Seringapatam, the first victory in which the late Duke of Wellington was engaged in India, to every subscriber to the work.

JUDSON'S CHEMICAL EXTRACT OF

CHERRY AND LUNGWORT,

FOR THE CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Spitting of Blood, Night Sweats, Asthma, Liver Complaints, and CONSUMPTION.

DO NOT NEGLECT IT.
Can be and has been cured in thousands of cases by this only certain remedy.

JUDSON'S CHEMICAL EXTRACT OF CHERRY AND LUNGWORT, and no remedy has ever before been discovered that will certainly

CURE CONSUMPTION.
The most strongly marked and developed cases of Pulmonary Consumption, where the lungs have become diseased and ulcerated and the case so utterly hopeless, as to have been pronounced by Physicians and friends, to be past all possibility of recovery, and at times thought to be dying, has been cured by this wonderful remedy, and are now as well and hearty as ever.

It is a compound of medications which are peculiarly adapted to and essentially necessary for the cure of

COUGHS AND CONSUMPTION.
Its operation is mild, yet efficacious; it loosens the phlegm which creates so much difficulty, relieves the cough and assists nature to expel from the system all diseased matter by excretion, producing a most delightful change in the breathing and chest, and this, after the prescriptions of the very best medical men and the inventions of kind sorrowing friends and Nurses, have failed to give the smallest relief to the Consumptive sufferer.

THOUSANDS OF CONSUMPTIVE persons have been deceived in buying medicines which were said to be infallible cures, but which have proved only palliatives, but this medicine is not only a palliative but a cure for ulcerated lungs. It contains no deleterious Drugs and one trial will prove its astonishing efficacy better than any assertions or certificates in curing consumption and all diseases of the Lungs, such as Spitting of Blood, Coughs, pain in the side and chest, night sweats, &c. &c.

About 1000 certificates of almost miraculous cures, performed by this medicine, from some of the first Doctors, Clergymen and Merchants, have been sent us for this medicine, but the publication of the books too much like Quackery, to show them to any person calling at our office. This medicine will speak for itself and enough in its own favour wherever it is tried.

Caution.—This medicine is put up in a large bottle and you must find the name of Comstock & Brother, Proprietors, New York, on the splendid Wrapper around the bottle. All orders must be addressed to Comstock & Brother, No. 9, John St. New York.

CARLTON'S RING-BONE CURE.
For the cure of Ring-Bone, Blood Spavin, Bone Spavin, Windgalls, and Splint—a certain remedy.

CARLTON'S CONDITION POWDER FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

The changes of weather and season, with the change of use and feed, have a very great effect upon the blood and sinuous fluids of horses. It is at those changes they require an assistant to nature to throw off any disorder of the fluids of the body that may have been imbibed, and which, if not attended to, will result in the Yellow Water, Heaves, Worms, Botts, &c. All of which will be prevented by giving one of these powders, and will at any time cure it when any symptoms of disease appears if used in time. They purify the blood, remove all inflammation and fever, loosen the skin, cleanse the water, and invigorate the whole body, enabling them to do more work with the same feed. The action of these powders is direct upon all the secretory glands, and therefore have the same effect upon the Horse, the Ox, the Ass, and all Herbivorous animals—all diseases arising from or producing a bad state of the blood are speedily cured by them.
