HOW OLD ARE TREES

Many Canadians hold the mistaken idea that when forests burn, a new crop of timber grows in about 30 years. Most of the timber trees in Eastern Canada are from 70 to 150 years old, with occasional old spruce running up to 250 years.
In forests of this kind it is no uncommon thing to find a spruce of less than three inches in diameter of the stump and 12 to 15 feet high, which is already 50 to 100 years old. (This is the result of suppression under the heavy shade of other trees.)
"Covered Wagon" is the very latest name for the girl who has not bobbed her hair.
Don't hit a man while he is down unless you can keep him down.

NEW PASTOR AND WIFE TENDERED RECEPTION

Rev. John Hockin and Mrs. Hockin Welcomed to Berwick—Addresses by Local Clergy and Others

The reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. John Hockin in the United Church at Berwick on Tuesday evening, was a very happy occasion. The spirit of friendliness and good-will being the keynote. The school room of the church had been transformed into a place of beauty, with travelling vines, vivid goldfish and scarlet poppies against a background of green, giving an effect both artistic and beautiful.

The Secretary, B. H. Lee, acted as chairman, with evident enjoyment. Mayor Parker, in a pleasant address, welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Hockin to the town. He said he had a warm feeling in his heart for Mr. Hockin. As Mayor of the Town he had become accustomed to being condemned, and it was a pleasant change to have the Town Council and Mayor being earnestly prayed for.

Rev. F. M. Webster first assured Mayor Parker and the Town Council were warmly mentioned in their prayers, and then extended a whole-hearted cordial welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Hockin from the Anglican Church. He expressed his pleasure in welcoming the son of such a worthy father, and assured Mr. Hockin of the friendly relations existing amongst the churches of the town.

Rev. John Mackinnon, of the United Church, Waterville and Woodville, expressed his personal pleasure in welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Hockin, paying a tribute to them both and speaking of his regard for Mrs. Hockin's brother and father.

Rev. H. E. Allaby, in a very earnest address, brought greetings from the United Baptist Church. He spoke of his pleasure in co-operating with Mr. Hockin in the union services on Sunday evenings.

Dr. Hugh MacKinnon, said he was glad to welcome a son of such a father, as Rev. Arthur Hockin, and added the welcome of the laymen to that of the clergy of the town.

Speeches did not occupy the entire time. Miss Myra Lee contributed variety and enjoyment by giving a reading, which was heartily enjoyed, and a piano duet by Mrs. S. H. Parker and Miss Eagles was very much appreciated.

Ice cream and cake came as the next diversion, and seemed to meet with the same approval as the rest of the program.

After refreshments, Mr. Lee called on Mr. Hockin for a speech. He responded in a very witty speech, expressing surprise and disappointment. He had supposed that Mr. Hockin, after the ice cream appeared, would close with an appeal for co-operation, that each should do his or her share of work to go forward to a successful finish.

The singing of "God Save the King" brought a most enjoyable evening to a close—Berwick Register.

Nature's Warnings

DANGER SIGNAL THAT EVERYONE SHOULD TAKE SERIOUSLY

Pain is one of Nature's warnings that something is wrong with the body. Indigestion, for instance, is characterized by pains in the stomach, and often about the heart; rheumatism by sharp pains in the limbs and joints; headaches are a sign that the nerves or stomach are out of order. In some ailments, such as anemia, pain is not so prominent. In this case Nature's warning take the form of pallor, breathlessness after slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, and loss of appetite. Whatever form these warnings take, wise people will not ignore the fact that many diseases have their origin in poor blood, and that when the blood is enriched the trouble disappears.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most helpful in such cases because they purify and build up the blood to its normal strength. In this way it tones up the nerves, restores the appetite and gives perfect health. Miss Hazel Berndt, of Annapolis, Ont., has proved the great value of this medicine and says: "I am a young girl and have been working in a factory for the past four years. For two years I had been in such poor health that at times I could not work. I was thin and pale, and troubled with headaches and fainting spells. I doctored nearly all this time, but it did not help me. My mother advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using them for a while I could notice an improvement in my condition. I used nine boxes and can truthfully say that my health is restored. When I began taking the pills I weighed 97 pounds and now I weigh 114. I feel that I owe my good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and hope that all ailing people will give them a fair trial."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MORE INDUSTRIES NEEDED TO MAKE THINGS HUM

A writer to the daily press recently said that the Valley needs, and should have, canning factories scattered all over it. These are our own sentiments, but sentiments never built anything very substantial yet.

We have seen more vegetable and fruit canning in the Valley than in the Province going for a year. This is a crying shame. But who's to blame?

Take tomatoes, for instance, what does the market avail for the producer? Not very much to be sure, because in the first place the average farmer does not grow very many, and secondly he is not encouraged by a steady market. Now, if we had several up-to-date canneries in the Valley, there would be a market for all the tomatoes grown. However, Nova Scotians will pay all kinds of prices for canned tomatoes at the stores, but mark you, they are not Nova Scotia produced, nor are they canned in the Province. Tomatoes can be grown here by the ton, and there does not seem to be any necessity to grow them in large quantities. People would sooner pay a higher price for foreign goods, with a whole lot of water (not juice) thrown in for good measure. We ask, is this the right thing? Oh, yes, it is, if you are "nos". Then, how about a remedy?

Tomatoes are but one thing. We know all kinds of vegetable suitable for canning purposes. Also strawberries, raspberries, blueberries, cranberries, etc. And of course, we have apples, pears, and other fruits we all know about. So, considering what can be grown with ease, there does not seem to be any reason why good canning factories, well managed, could not be kept going all year, if not the whole year round.

Now would be a good time to get heads together and see what the solution would be, and if possible get underway buildings and equipment, so as to be ready for the spring. The farmers would then know what to do, and would plant accordingly. In this way there would be continuous employment for a large number. This would bring more dollars to the tiller of the soil. It would mean more business all around, and more business means prosperity, and prosperity seems to be the thing we are all clamoring for.

If Ontario can produce, manufacture and sell to us on a profitable scale, why can't we do the same thing? Surely Ontario and the other provinces have no more brains and business ability within their boundaries than Nova Scotia. Where's our enterprising and ambitious spirit? Shall we sleep while others are up and doing?

MR. J. NORMAN FRANK DIES

M. J. Norman Frank, a resident of Lawrencetown throughout the eighty years of his lifetime until the past year, died last Wednesday, Sept. 16, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. G. Bowley, Middleton, where he had lived for the past three months.

His parents were James and Maria Frank of Lawrencetown.

The late Mr. Frank was a musician of note and until a few years ago was a professional vocalist and teacher, as well as an instrumentalist of ability, and was widely known.

He was a devout member of the Methodist Church, and in politics he was a Liberal.

Surviving children are:—Mrs. D. D. Jarvis, Paradise, N.S.; Mrs. Cassidy, Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. W. G. Bowley, Middleton; Archibald Frank, Cambridge, Mass.; Roy in the Canadian West, and Audley, at Lawrencetown.

The funeral took place on Friday, and interment was at Lawrencetown. Services being conducted by Rev. A. B. Higgins of Lawrencetown and Rev. P. A. Walker of Middleton.

Mr. Frank was twice married, his first wife having been Miss Sarah Phillips of St. John, and his second, Miss Emma Miller of Lawrencetown.

A certain town has bought a new fire engine, and the superintendent, after gathering all his men together, suggested that an appropriate motto should be placed over the station. The several suggestions were made. Finally one man arose and said: "I move the following motto—'May this fire engine be like the old maids in our village, always ready, but never called for.'"

14 RULES TO START SCHOOL YEAR RIGHT

Parents' Association of New York Tell How Difficulties May be Avoided

NEW YORK, Sept. 7th.—The United Parents' Association of Greater New York schools have issued a list of fourteen suggestions to parents as a means of aiding children to start the new school year right.

"Many of the difficulties which beset children could be avoided if their parents understood the schools better and realized how much their co-operation helps," the association says. The suggestions follow:

Arrange the breakfast and lunch hours so that there is no rushing at home or at school.

Encourage punctuality and regular attendance, not permitting trifles to interfere.

See that the children are dressed simply, neatly, modestly, and suitably in accordance with the weather.

Insist upon children under 14 having at least ten hours sleep.

Find out how much time should be devoted to home work and see that it is faithfully done.

Provide a quiet place for some study with good light and ventilation. Prevent interruptions as far as possible. Show an interest in the children's school work, athletics and other activities.

Visit the classroom during Open School Week and at other times for better understanding.

Do not criticize the teachers or school at all within the children's hearing. Always hear both sides of every question and ask the teacher about it.

Insist in the children habits of obedience and respect for authority.

Picture the school as a happy, desirable place rather than as one children should dread.

Keep in mind that the school offers unlimited opportunities to those who take advantage of them, parents as well as pupils.

A school survey has been undertaken. The results of the investigation should be highly informative to parents. Watch for reports on it.

Plan to meet other parents in the school. It will help you understand your children better. Mothers should arouse the interest of fathers in the school activities and get their co-operation. If there is a parents' association in your children's school join it. If there is none, why not form one? Intelligent co-operation brings splendid results to all.

PRESBYTERY MEETS

A special meeting of the Annapolis Digby Presbytery was held last Thursday in the United Church, Middleton. The afternoon session consisted of routine business presided over by Rev. J. G. Hockin, chairman of the Presbytery. This was the first gathering of its kind since the formation of the United Church and is one of the means provided by the General Conference, which recently met in Toronto, to provide maintenance for and do extension work for the United Church of Canada.

Dr. Wilson, of Toronto, and Rev. Harry Clarke, of Halifax, have been appointed to oversee the work in the Maritime, both of whom were present and gave addresses.

Saves $24 A Year

Cooking experts figure that the SMP Enamelled Ware Roaster will save the average Canadian family fully $24.00 a year in meat bills. The secret is, it roasts the meat with very little shrinkage. Also, it makes cheap cuts taste like the best ones.

You place the roast in the roaster, put on the cover; the roaster does the rest. No heating required. Every roast is perfectly cooked.

The cover fits close, so that cooking odors cannot escape. Grease can't splutter out, which means a sweet clean oven. Prices range from $10.00 to $15.00 each, depending on size and finish—and don't forget the saving of $24.00 yearly.

The knife comes with blade as illustrated, will close up just like a knife. It is flat and can be carried on a key ring or hung on a nail. IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Ten years ago, when I went back to visit childhood scenes once more, Bill Jones still ran a grocery shack. Which folks politely called a store.

He was a thrifty soul, Bill was. And people said he saved his dough. When trade came he'd fairly buzz. He always kept his stock just so.

And yet he never got ahead; He looked all run down at the heel; He seemed to be quite under-tired, As tho he lacked a good square meal.

He tied up prunes, he tied up tea, From six at noon till six at night; He labored most industriously, Yet, finances were always tight.

This Week I saw Bill Jones again, What strides he's made these last ten years! He's grown almost beyond my ken; He's rich and stands well with his peers.

I marvelled at this change, forsooth I never thought Bill had the pep; I classed him as a dork in truth, Yet here he was, out front, in step!

"How come, And why, What secret scheme Has wrought this wondrous change?" "I thought you never could redeem Your fortunes from the ebbing tide."

"It was a simple thing," said Bill, And looked right into my eyes, "I had no luck at all, until, I found it paid to advertise."

The happiest man in the world is the one who lets his neighbors tend to their own affairs.

The average motorist, thinks Massey, would rather run in debt than run out of gas.

A girl never has her nose buried so deeply in her books that she can't get it with a powder puff.

THE END OF SUMMER

"When poppies in the garden bleed, And cornucopia goes to seed, And pansies, blossoming past their prime, Grow smaller and smaller all the time, When on the mown field, shrunk and dry,

Brown dock and purple thistle lie, And smoke from forest fires at noon Can make the sun appear the moon, When apple seeds, all white before, Begin to darken at the core,

I know that summer, scarcely here, Is gone until another year."

—Edna St. Vincent Millay.

"May I PRINT a kiss on your lips?" I said, And she nodded her sweet permission And I went to PRESS and I rather regret.

We printed a full EDITION, But one EDITION is not enough. She said with a charming pout: So again in the PRESS the FORM was placed.

And we got several EXTRAS out. From the memories of P. D.

WIT SQUELCHES FRESHIE

One of these smart young men, who always seek to embarrass salespeople entered a store recently. He picked out the prettiest salesgirl and said:

"I can't remember whether I want a camisole or causerole—" "That depends upon whether the chicken is alive or dead," remarked the young lady.

Britain Celebrates Hundred Years of Railroading

Upper—Stephenson's first engine on the Stockton & Darlington Railway. Insert—The interior of the observation car on the Canadian Pacific Trans-Canada. Lower—The Trans-Canada leaving Montreal.

The old Stockton and Darlington Railway, in England, is a matter of history now. Its board of directors is no more; its inventor has passed to his reward; its rolling stock, or what survives of it, rests in peace in museums—having served its day and been left behind in the march of progress.

But this year—a century since the time when the Stockton and Darlington Railway was regarded as a marvelous engineering achievement and threatened the supremacy of the stage coach as a means of long-distance transportation—the ancient engines have been taken down from their pedestals, the wheels oiled, the rust removed and once again high hatted gentlemen and bonneted maidens have been bumped along from Stockton to Darlington behind the first real locomotive England ever had.

Thus the people of Great Britain celebrated its railway centenary. Processions of defunct rolling stock, and rolling stock that is almost defunct illustrated the evolution of railway transportation and gave to the rising generation an insight into the agony of our grandparents had to endure if they wished to go from one place to another by train. The Duke and Duchess of York attended the celebrations and, watching the parades, became thoroughly infected with the spirit of the occasion. All those who took part in the processions, and some of those who didn't, dressed in the costumes of the period, giving to the celebrations an atmosphere altogether in keeping with the nature of the celebration.

By way of showing the wonderful development that has taken place in railroading since the first engine painfully puffed its way from Darlington to Stockton there is shown above one of the engines used in the centenary celebrations pulling a replica of the original train constructed with the ultra-modern Trans-Canada, the all-steel Canadian Pacific Train, which nowadays conveys its passengers from one part of the Dominion to another, three thousand miles away, at a speed considered unattainable by our forefathers, and a greater comfort and security than many of them enjoyed at home.
