An Antwerp Woman Charged With Murdering for Life Insurance.

Chinese and Japanese Armies Facing Each Other in Korea.

Dr. Oronhyatekha Banquetted by London Foresters.

British Subjects Killed in West African Warships Ordered There—English Trades Unions Favor Mineral Land Nationalization.

Awful Accusations.

ANTWERP, Sept. 6.—Mme. Henry Joni has been committed for trial on the charge of having murdered her brother, sister and uncle to get their life insurance.

Moors Routed.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Advises from Fez, Morocco, say that a body of Moorish troops, en route to Marakech for the purpose of punishing some rebellious tribes, were met at Tadia by a strong force of tribesmen and completely routed.

To Avenge Britain.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Government has decided to send a gunboat to the Benue River, West Africa, to suppress Chief Nana, whose tribesmen recently attacked and killed a number of British subjects. The collision grew out of an opposition of the natives of Benue to British traders.

Oronhyatekha Banquetted.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Dr. Oronhyatekha, chief of the Independent Order of Foresters, was entertained at a banquet by the London Order of Foresters this evening. The speaker was a member of the relations between Great Britain and Canada.

British Warship Ashore.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Sept. 6.—The British warship Ringarooma has gone ashore on the island of Mallico in the New Hebrides group. Assistance has been sent to her. No details can be obtained. The Ringarooma is an eight gun 2,575-ton cruiser of 7,500 horse-power. She is detailed for service in Australian waters.

The Divine Right (?)

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—Most of the evening papers print conspicuously an account of an incident at the unveiling of the old Emperor's statue at Koenigsburg on Tuesday. After the ceremony Emperor William, turning to a group of officials and officers, said impressively: "This is the spot where King William openly declared that he held his throne as the gift of God alone. My own deepest conviction is expressed in the declaration, which has ever served to guide all my actions."

Austrian Maneuvers.

VIENNA, Sept. 6.—The Austrian maneuvers ended today with the four-hour battle under the walls of Landscron. The cavalry's work was especially creditable. Two bodies from the opposing armies charged at full speed, with lances fixed, across the Schlossberg fields and halted within 40 paces of each other. The infantry fought on the Schesder slope and at Schlossburg. The day ended with a cannonade from 121 guns. Gen. Anton Tuma commanded the attacking force and Gen. Meria the defensive one. The umpires decided that the defense had failed. Emperor Franz Josef was present throughout the day.

Distinguished Admiral Dead.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Admiral Inglefield died yesterday.

Sir Edward Inglefield, Kt., K.C.B., D.C.L., F.R.S., was born in Cheltenham in 1829. He was educated at the Portsmouth Naval College, and at the age of 20 took part in the operations of the coast of Sidon. He was detailed subsequently for service in South America. He commanded H.M.S. Comus in the naval battle of the Parana, and soon afterward got the rank of commander. He became vice-admiral in 1875, superintended the Malta dockyards from 1872 to 1877, and was commander-in-chief of the North American station in 1878-79. He commanded several works on naval subjects and one on his experiences in the Arctic regions.

The Times on the Tariff.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Times will say editorially tomorrow: "It is improbable that American tariff will be altered before the winter of 1897 or 1898. Attempts will be made to modify it piecemeal, but nothing will be done by the present Congress. The Republicans are likely to get a majority in the House in November elections, but they will be unable to command enough votes in the Senate to override the President's veto. Therefore in the next Congress the tariff will be in a deadlock, over which business men, whether protectionists or tariff reformers, may rationally rejoice. The whole world is interested in the revival of business in the States, and the settlement of the tariff for three years is one of the conditions making for a long delayed recovery, but completely changed methods of American railway management are equally necessary to this improvement."

English Trade Unionism Enlarged.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—At today's sitting of the Trades Union Congress a keen fight is progressing over the election of a secretary for the ensuing year. The Socialists are confident of electing Tom Mann, and the moderates are hopeful of re-electing Commoner Fenwick. A section of the delegates support Samuel Woods.

A prolonged debate ensued upon a resolution to nationalize all lands containing mines and minerals. Mr. James Kier Hardie, M.P., moved an amendment that besides the land the whole means of production, distribution and exchange of the output of mines ought to be nationalized. Mr. Hardie's motion was carried by a vote of 219 to 61.

Mr. Lloyd, the delegate representing the American Federation of Labor, addressed the congress. He said the time had come when the wage earners of the world should unite in closer fraternity. The fact that the trades unions of Great Britain had made greater progress in the matter of federal-tion than those of America he thought was partly due to the fact that there was little homogeneity among the workmen of America. The honesty of purpose of the labor leaders in England was recognized in America as the one secret of the success of their efforts in cementing trades unions.

Waiting to Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 6.—Pekin newspapers, brought by the steamer Peru, which arrived this morning, contain news that bodes ill for Li Hung Chang. The sole responsibility in the conduct of the present war rests on him, and for every disaster the Chinese land or sea forces sustain he is held accountable. The Hichi and several other papers state that a committee for the impeachment of the Viceroy has been appointed, and that Wang Jung-Ho, Li Hung Tsan, Chang Chitang, and an elder brother of this Chang, all enemies of the Viceroy, have been appointed its members. That the court of Peking was disposed towards a pacific policy, and that the declaration of war was forced upon it by the Viceroy Li, is evident from the great consternation with which the statesmen in Peking received the news of the sinking of the Kow Shung. The Viceroy underrated Japan, which he regarded as incapable of taking any decisive step.

A private telegram is said to have been received in Tokio to the effect that it has been proposed that the Chinese military council take advantage of the want of men-of-war on the Japanese coast to send warships to attack a number of ports at the same time. The correspondent says the reports of great Chinese victories in Korea are pure fiction.

The Koreans attacked 50 Japanese foragers recently, capturing 30, and handed them over to the Chinese. The troops were coming from Japan are landed at Chemulpo. Twelve mountain guns and twelve mortars have been taken ashore at that port.

A Tokio dispatch says that the last reports from the front tell of heavy rains which have impeded military operations. The streams of the Korean Peninsula have risen rapidly, and much of the adjacent low land is partially flooded. The Japanese officers say it is not likely that any battle will be fought before the floods subside.

The Japanese regulars in Korea now number 30,000. Some 18,000 Japanese occupy a strong position at Ping-Yang. They have thrown up earthworks and mounted heavy guns. The Chinese army, with about 20,000 men, has taken up a position facing the Japanese. Scouting parties from the two camps have met frequently and exchanged shots, but the mortality has been inconsiderable. The spirit of the Japanese troops is said to be all that could be desired. The Marquis of Saouji, president of the department of imperial orders, has arrived in Korea with a large suite. His mission is to convey to the Korean King the Emperor's congratulations in view of Korea's achievement of her independence.

WATER MELON TRAGEDY.

A Farmer Poisons His Crop and Causes the Death of His Son and Two Others.

He Is Himself Shot Dead by the Father of a Victim.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—A special from Magnolia, Ark., says: Near Dykesville, La., just across the Arkansas State line, Clinton Thompson, a farmer, has a fine melon crop. Raids by boys became so frequent, the old man put poison in some of the finest melons, and awaited results. Yesterday his son Felix and George Bridges, a neighbor's son, and a man named Jacob Muir were found dead in the patch. The neighbor, whose son was among the victims, was the first to discover the dead bodies, and called Thompson out to show him the corpses. When Bridges learned that Thompson had poisoned the melons and caused the death of his son he drew his revolver and shot him dead.

A STARTLING STORY.

Which Is Pronounced a Canard—Who Started It?

HAZELTON, Pa., Sept. 6.—There is absolutely no truth in the reports sent out by a Chicago association styling itself the Associated Press, of a cave-in of the surface at Scotch Valley, a mining hamlet about six miles distant from here.

Fatal Accident at Paris.

PARIS, Ont., Sept. 7.—Wm. James, about 65 years of age, caretaker of the Paris cemetery, died yesterday from the effects of a fall from a tree. Deceased was trimming shade trees at the residence of John Walker when apparently he made a misstep, and falling about twelve feet received internal injuries. He was highly respected.

The Pope's Benediction.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 6.—The C. M. B. A. Grand Council has been in session all day, and at midnight had not concluded its deliberations. Nearly all this morning and afternoon was taken up with amendments to the constitution and bylaws. A cable message was received from the Pope conveying his apostolic benediction. Tomorrow afternoon a special train will leave at 7 o'clock with the delegates, who have accepted the invitation of the Italian branches to visit that city.

ALL MEN

Young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves broken down from excess of overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of vitality, loss of memory, bad heart, dimness of sight, palpitation of the kidneys, headaches, pimples on the face and body, itching or peculiar sensation about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitting of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deepness in the urine, loss of power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, fullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, swollen eyes, surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLES, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension every function goes in consequence. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance, may be permanently cured. The Worst Yet.

Seven Hundred Dead in Pine County, Minn., Alone.

Pestilence Feared From the Dead Bodies of Animals.

An Entire Indian Party Perish in the Flamingo.

BARNOB, Minn., Sept. 7.—Dr. Cowan, coroner of Pine county, believes that the dead list in this county will reach 700. A serious problem for the survivors in this neighborhood is the disposal of the dead animals. The region about Hinckley is littered with the carcasses of horses, cows, hogs, deer, and even a few moose. The terrible stench from them promises to breed pestilence among the few people left.

PINE LAKE, Minn., Sept. 7.—A courier brings a report that the bodies of 23 Chippewa Indians, bucks, squaws and papooses, lie upon the baked sands between here and Opstead, a small settlement on the eastern shores of Lac Mille Lacs. They are scattered over ten miles of country and will in all probability prove food for buzzards and wolves, as the country where they lie is too far from civilization for burial ceremonies. The Indians left their reservation two months ago and built a hunting lodge along one of the forks of Spadina Creek. Chief Wascontin was the big chief of the party, and he perished with his followers.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 7.—The relief commission is here. It will ascertain if there is any chance of the saw mills being rebuilt in the burned district. If not, it is planned to rebuild Hinckley, as a farming town and junction of the two roads. All the territory burned over is ready for the plow, and it was the opinion of the commissioners that all heads of families can be given farms of generous dimensions. The St. Paul and Duluth Railroad representatives offered to give farms to all who do not now own them. It was further outlined that the women and children refugees who are here will be provided for in this city until the fathers can put up temporary buildings in the burned district. Single men will be urged and aided to seek work elsewhere, and an effort will be made to have the orphans adopted into worthy families. Those not so cared for will be maintained in State institutions.

PINE CITY, Minn., Sept. 6.—The worst has been told and it is doubtful if there will be any very large additions to the list of dead. Supplies are coming in at a rapid rate, and there is no lack in any department of the relief work.

HINCKLEY, Minn., Sept. 6.—Today word was received of the discovery of ten more bodies about a mile and a half northeast of Hinckley.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 6.—For the first time in five days a train came in over the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway tonight. The fires are not out, but with no wind to fan them the country will be comparatively safe.

CROMWELL BURNED UP. CARLTON, Minn., Sept. 6.—Fire last night burned everything at Cromwell except the school house. The fire came upon the place without warning. People saved their lives by going into the lake. It is feared that many settlers have lost their lives. A relief train was sent at once and brought the people here.

Louisiana Sugar Growers Desert the Democrats Because They Can't Get It.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 6.—The sugar planters' convention in this city today was the most remarkable gathering in many years, and the most serious break in the Democratic party in twenty years is now actually threatened. The convention declared in favor of an alliance with the Republican party on national issues, and two, and possibly three, congressional districts, comprising the sugar region, are endangered to the Democrats. There are 300 representative men present.

T. D. Tims, for many years financial inspector of the Dominion Finance Department, and who was superannuated a few years ago, dropped dead in Kingsmere, Ont., on Tuesday from heart failure.

The emigration returns for the month of August show the number to have sailed for Canada to be 3,349, a decrease of 1,250 as compared with August of last year. During the eight months of the year only 18,000 emigrants have sailed for Canada as compared with 43,000 last year.

A Sarnia dispatch says: On Thursday afternoon, about 5 p.m., John Green, a well-known farmer of Sarnia township, while returning home on the London road with his team, was killed by a freight train at the London road crossing of the G. T. R. about two miles from Sarnia. His horse was going at a rapid pace, and Green evidently was not on the lookout. The track is visible on both sides for some distance. Both horses were killed.

Forest Fires Make Havoc in the Rainy River District.

52 People Burned to Death—The Settlers Need Aid.

RAT PORTAGE, Sept. 7.—The steamer Highland Maid brings reports from the Rainy River district.

Justices are sweeping the whole length of the river. Fort Francis was threatened, but the citizens have succeeded in checking the flames. The postoffice at Emo narrowly escaped.

The fire raged on Grassy River road. Mr. Grimshy's house was surrounded and caught fire. Mrs. Grimshy, with her daughter, aged 18, a son of 16, two little children aged 2 and 4 years, and a baby of six months, started on foot for Rainy River, three miles distant, by the corduroy road, through a narrow cutting. The corduroy caught fire and their escape was completely cut off. All six were suffocated, and the bodies of all, except the mother, when found were nothing but charred remains. Mrs. Gamsby was alive when rescuers arrived on the scene, but she died on Sunday morning from the awful injuries she had received and from the shock of her terrible experience. All were buried in one grave. The scene at the graveside was heartrending. The bereaved father and one son were further in the woods when the rest of the family were burned, and they escaped.

Nearly all the settlers along the river have suffered the loss of their hay crops, cordwood and other effects, and many their houses and barns. The Indians at the Sault and Manitou Rapids have lost their hay crops. The settlers are all willing to start again, but have no remunerative work, and an urgent appeal for assistance is made in their behalf.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

—The Seventh band concert in Victoria Park last night—the last of the season—afforded enjoyment for thousands. The programme was up to the mark. A liberal collection was taken up in aid of the band.

—It is not true, as has been reported, that the band concert season has concluded. The band of the First Hussars has, under its agreement with the City Council, yet to give two, if not three, concerts on alternate Tuesdays.

—In the case of Halle vs. Humble, Mr. Evans today before Judge Muir moved to have the cause referred to Toronto. Mr. Burton, for plaintiff, asked to have it sent to London. It is for recovery of the price of a piano sold to the defendant, who lives in London. The affidavits, etc., were left with the judge, who reserved judgment. [Hamilton Times.]

—Yesterday Messrs. Ball, Brooks and Johnston, the committee appointed at the recent vestry meeting of Holy Trinity Church, Chatham, to confer with the bishop on the question of a successor to the Rev. Arthur Murphy, met his lordship here. From the names submitted by the bishop and the committee separately a list will be chosen, and from this list the committee will select a name to be submitted to the bishop for his approval. There are a score of applicants.

—Ira Halliday, who has occupied the Police Court Tige on 28 different occasions, was on deck again this morning. Ira was in for drunkenness and vagrancy. His wife was present and said he was anything but a gentleman, and would not support his family, and it was very difficult for her to keep the children. Halliday was discharged. Charles Hayes could not get work in the city, although he had tried very hard. The charge of vagrancy against him was dismissed.

London, Friday, Sept. 7.

With the Methodist Conference comes a blessed rain. No greater boon could reach the people of the West at the present time.

Port Huron has decided to lay brick pavements on a five-inch concrete foundation. The pavements will be disappointing they do not have greater lasting qualities than the brick sidewalks in the same city.

The trade restrictionist leaders are armed at the success of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier's tour in the West. They have arranged to send Sir Charles H. Tupper to Manitoba to try to counteract the effect of Mr. Laurier's visit. This seems like sending out a pigmy to overcome a giant.

The British postoffice has recently introduced a new system of notation for its stamps. The letters from A to M are used to represent the hours and also twelve intervals of five minutes each; thus A means 1:05, A B 1:10, and so on. A M and P M are expressed by A and P after an asterisk; thus M C A means 12:15 a.m.
 Herein is exemplified the foolishness of the stamp. Surely it is just as easy to write or stamp 12:15 a.m. as it is to write or stamp M C A, and decidedly more intelligible.

President Allison, of Mount Allison University, New Brunswick, who is a delegate to the Methodist General Conference
 in this city, was formerly superintendent of education in Nova Scotia. He says that while education is progressing in the Maritime Provinces, he knows of no country that is the equal of Ontario in educational work.
 While such independent testimony as this is pleasing to us, we must not take it for granted that our system is perfect. Confessedly the best equipped people educationally, it may turn out on examination that our educational authorities are trying to do too much. That is, there is a danger in the tendency to over-weigh the pupil with too many studies at one time? Thorough training in a few branches, rather than the imparting of a smattering in many, should be the aim.
 Too many children attempt much and thoroughly finish nothing.

The experience of the owners of the Central copper mine at Keweenaw, Mich.,
 should be laid to heart by Canadians of enterprise. For 40 years this mine has been run. During this time the mine has returned to its stockholders $27,000,000 in dividends on an investment of $100,000.
 The vein had been worked by some persistent race, and it was the traces they left of their work that led to the discovery of the mine in 1854. The shutdown is due to the utter exhaustion of the vein. There are in Canada just as rich copper veins as this Michigan deposit has proved to be.
 There are just as valuable lead mines as are to be found anywhere in the world. We have mines rich in silver ore, too. All that we need is the removal of trade restriction
 and the influx of population and capital
 that would come naturally to us if trade freedom ruled instead of monopolist favoritism in the councils of this great Dominion.
 Fortunately, a brighter day is dawning.

FOUR MILLIONS SQUANDERED.
 The Toronto News is an opponent of the Liberal party, but it has the courage to say:

"When Hon. David Mills said the Federal Government was spending $4,000, 000 a year more than there is need for he told the literal truth."

That being the case, is it not time for every independent taxpayer to work for a change of Government? Under Hon. Alex.
 Mackenzie, Mr. Mills and his associates,
 the business of the country was managed for $23,000,000 a year. Now it costs from $36,000,000 to $38,000,000 per annum.
 What a boon it would be to the farmers,
 merchants, manufacturers and their respective staffs if the $4,000,000 over-taxation for this year were now in the pockets of the people, as it would have been under an Administration such as it is to be hoped will soon rule at Ottawa.

THE GRAND TRUNK.

Bradstreet's, a recognized authority on railway and financial affairs in this country, expresses the conviction that the Grand Trunk Railway, though exhibiting a great shrinkage in earnings during the first six months of the year, has held its own as well as the majority of its United States competitors. The first six months of 1894, remarks Bradstreet's, have "undoubtedly been the leanest period as regards traffic and earnings which the railroads of North America have ever experienced. The Canadian roads may have had more than their share of it, and the Grand Trunk, depending as it does largely upon through business originating in the United States, may have suffered more than its due share of the reduction. At the same time it may be asserted that if a number of our leading railroad lines were forced to make an exact and separate statement of their earnings and expenses for the first half of the current year without being able to modify the decrease of the last six months by the somewhat better returns of the last half of 1893 or (as it is hoped) the improved traffic and earnings of the current six months, the figures would in many instances be much worse than those which the Grand Trunk presents and which arouse the dismay of the English financial press."

This is a truthful statement, and only does justice to the hard-working staff of the Grand Trunk, than whom there is not a more earnest, painstaking body of men in this country. The management, as Bradstreet's points out, is careful and vigorous, and the reduction of operating cost has been carried without doubt to as great lengths as were compatible with the ultimate economical operation of the property.
 Bradstreet's adds: "That it could not equal the reduction of gross revenue at a time of unparalleled traffic conditions should involve no reflection, and to American observers at least the great Canadian company has, all things considered, done very well indeed."

It seems that the first half of 1894, compared with 1893, brought gross receipts nearly $1,000,000 less, but the reduction of working expenses was $725,- 000. A much better showing would have been made for the Grand Trunk had the company been able to obtain its coal and other necessities free of taxation. In this respect, it is well to remember, the Grand Trunk and its work
 people are put at a distinct disadvantage compared with its competitors in the United States, which enjoy these benefits.

MR. LAURIER ON PROHIBITION.

At the great mass meeting in Winnipeg
 the other evening, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier made the following references to recent developments with regard to prohibition:
 "You know that the Minister of Finance has his moments of weakness as every other man, but he has also his moments of frankness. Some years ago I was told by the Minister of Finance that in one of his moments of weakness he had advocated prohibition for Canada in the year 1884,
 but seven years afterwards he admitted that his opinion had been formed in a moment of weakness, and that the matter had better go no further. There was a commission appointed to sit and get information to enlighten us, but he could not, he would not, make up his mind as to what he would do. Well, this was three years ago, and during these three years we have not yet received the result of that commission. Three years have elapsed but the result has not yet been made known.
 It took six months to appoint three commissioners, and then it took the three commissioners two years to collect evidence,
 to draw a report which may never appear,
 to publish and print the report. I doubt if we will have it at all. I think the Minister of Finance practiced a trick somewhat like a famous charlatan. Speaking to a crowd he said that he could take a donkey and teach it how to write. 'Bring me a donkey,' he said, 'the most donkey of all donkeys,'
 and I warrant that in two years I will teach him how to read and write and make him a professor. 'Done,' said the king of the country, 'but mind you, if at the end of ten years the donkey does not read and write off your head!' 'Accepted,' said the charlatan, but one of his friends told him that he was sure to lose his head at the end of ten years. 'Don't you fear,' he replied,
 'at the end of ten years the donkey will be dead.'
 (Laughter.) Seeing that after three years
 we have not had the report, may I venture to say that Mr. Foster, when he issued that commission, said to himself, 'Before this commission has reported, prohibition or the Government will be dead.'
 Prohibition is not dead, at least not in Manitoba, if I am to judge by the late election. (Applause.) Prohibition is not dead, but the Government is very sick.
 (Applause.) * * * As I told you a month ago, I have received letters asking me to give my views upon certain matters.
 I have been asked to give my opinion upon prohibition for Manitoba. This is a question upon which I have no hesitation to speak, because last year at Ottawa, as Mr.
 Mulock said, we dealt with that question.
 Then it was given much consideration.
 The Liberal convention dealt with it,
 and they pronounced upon it, and their pronouncement upon it was this which I am here to speak about. It was due to Sir Oliver Mowat in the Province of Ontario, and to Mr. Greenway in the Province of Manitoba, that a plebiscite was taken to discover the opinions of the people of this country with regard to the question of prohibition, and I have only this to say here, that we will stand by the wishes of those by whom we are placed in power, and we will act according to the will of the people whose desires will be carried out, even if it were to throw out of power forever the Liberal party. (Loud and continued applause.) Sir, I do not desire to make any political capital out of this question. I am simply stating what is the pledge of the Liberal party, and by that pledge we will stand or fall."

A PREMIER'S BAD EXAMPLE.

(Canada Presbyterian.)
 Sir John Thompson has a perfect right to bow at whatever altar he pleases. If he preferred the Catholic to the Methodist Church, he had the undoubted right.
 He leaves the one and unite with the other.
 He has no right, however, to violate the law
 of the land by taking a pleasure excursion
 from Toronto to Niagara Falls on Sabbath.
 His offense is aggravated by the fact that he is Minister of Justice himself, and should therefore have all the more respect for the law. If the honorable gentleman in this thinks he can defy public opinion in this western country, he makes a huge mistake.

Facts and Figures.

A motion of great interest to Sunday school workers is one of a forward movement type. It proposes that the conference place itself on record in favor of adhering to one uniform lesson for all the departments in the Methodist Sunday schools throughout Canada.

THE RIGHTS OF WOMEN.

Women's rights are not overlooked in the notices, as one important proposal made is this: That the affairs of the General Missionary Society and Woman's Missionary Society be supervised by a joint board on which women shall have equitable representation.

In relation to missions it is also moved that no new missions be established by a conference without the approval of the missionary board or its executive.

THE PASTORAL TERM.

A fight is impending over the question of an extension of the pastoral term. The matter has been argued and fought out vigorously at the preceding General Conference meetings, but dies hard. It is thought that it will get its death blow for a generation at this gathering. The vote for an extension of the term to four years in a vote of 86 for to 122 against. At the last General Conference at Montreal the vote was 102 for and 131 against.

NOTES.

The court of appeal meets again tonight.
 Courtney Fessey, of Toronto, the Ontario
 representative of the Montreal Daily Wines-ness, is doing the conference for that journal. He is accompanied by Mrs.
 Fessey.

A local photographer sent an invitation for the members of the conference to sit singly or in a body. It elicited a long-drawn sigh from one member. A committee got the communication.

The souvenir programme comes quite handy. It contains the names and bulletins of all delegates, a surface map of London,
 time tables, photographs of churches, etc.
 It is thought that the conference will last nearly three weeks. One hundred and forty-five memorials were to committee last night along with twenty notices of motion. Food for thought and discussion.

The gavel that Dr. Carman used is made of oak taken from John Wesley's chapel,
 City road, London, Eng. "Now don't fall down and worship it," said the doctor,
 jokingly, "but it's a good enough gavel,
 and it is a good gavel to knock a man on the head with."

If it is shown that 300 persons have traveled by rail to attend the conference, a free return fare will be accorded those
 free return fare will be accorded those attending. As many delegates will be brought out today if the number is in attendance, in order that advantage may be taken of the rate.

There is a striking resemblance between
 Dr. Potts, of Toronto, and the late Rev.
 George Boyd, formerly pastor of the church in which the conference is being held. The likeness is more remarkable around the eyes and upper portion of the face and head. The late pastor was not as full in the lower face as the doctor.

The following newspaper representatives are among the delegates: Rev. Dr. Dewar, Christian Guardian; George Wilson,
 Port Hope Guide; P. S. W. Moyer, Berlin
 News; H. V. Moore, Acton; J. Rutherford, Owen Sound Times. The Toronto and
 Montreal papers are represented.

Dr. Burns, Hamilton, vouches for the following: On the grounds of the Ladies' College, Hamilton, there is a grape vine
 with branches extending nearly 100 feet south at the stem and about 90 feet north, or nearly 190 feet from north to south. It has several lateral branches all the same length, averaging six feet wide on the wall, heavily laden with bunches of grapes of excellent flavor.

HERE AND THERE.

A Campaign Roorbach Exploded.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—The result of the inquiry in the case of Mr. Grundy, who complained about the management of the Peterboro registry office, has been made known. In his report Mr. Fleming, inspector of registry offices, recites the story of the diemissal and the causes thereof, gives the testimony of the legal profession of Peterboro and of Judge Weiler, and of the Conservative members for the two Peterboros in the provincial House, all speaking in high praise of the efficiency of Mr. Morow, the registrar, and of the able manner in which the business of the office is conducted. Mr.
 Fleming cannot recommend the Provincial Government to interfere on behalf of the diemissal official, Mr. Grundy.

AN ANTI-BRITISH SENTIMENT.

Being Worked Up in Japan—Latest from the Seat of War.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 7.—The steamer
 Empress of China has arrived here, eleven days from Yokohama, and brings the latest war news.

The anti-English sentiment in Japan is being fostered by the Government, and it daily grows stronger.

The Japanese were preparing to bombard
 Che Foo, but promised to give two days'
 notice to foreigners.

Japan had floated a loan of 30,000,000
 yen, 5 per cent interest. It was well taken up.

China was floating a loan in order to float first-class battleships. It is said she has bought 10 of Chile's navy.

Japan will soon have 100,000 soldiers in Corea.

The North China Daily News says China
 is evading Japan on sea. Japan has enormously strengthened her forces, and there is nothing to hinder them from marching on Peking.

It is said British Admiral Freemantle
 has wired reinforcements for the North China squadron.

Smuggling on the St. Clair.

ST. CLAIR, Mich., Sept. 7.—John Jacobs
 and John Green, of Toronto, were arrested
 this morning just after landing from a rowboat, in which were two trunks containing 600 pounds of opium, which was seized. The prisoners had previously arranged for horse and wagon, which was in waiting to carry away the trunks.

 field fence, but he had scarcely passed second base when Donovan sent a ball in from deep right field, but it did not work.
 Turner was allowed his run and Empire

FRIDAY BARGAIN DAY

The importance attached to Bargain Day is not the selling of any kind of stuff cheap, but it is giving the public the right kind of goods at the right prices. The very fact of the enormous trade that is being done here from week to week compels us to replenish our stock with new and seasonable goods in the same period. And buying in the best markets enables us to give you new and fashionable goods at low prices.

The Magic Touch

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla. You smile at the idea. But if you suffer from Dyspepsia

And indigestion, try a bottle, and before you have taken half a dozen doses, you will involuntarily think, and no doubt exclaim,

"That Just Hits It!"

"That soothing effect is a magic touch!" Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates a natural, healthy desire for food, gives refreshing sleep, and in short, raises the health tone of the entire system. Remember

Domino Wins the $5,000 Race at Sheepshead Bay—American Wheelman to Enter Politics for Good Roads—Notable Events of the Turf.

THE TURF.

A $5,000 RACE.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, Sept. 6.—The attendance here today must have been disappointing to the members of the Coney Island Jockey Club. There were not more than 10,000 persons present when the first race was run. The event of the day was the fifth race, a match between Domino, ridden by Taral, and Clifford, with Simms up. They broke even at first attempt. Domino set the pace. They were head and head as they came out of the chute. Domino gradually increased his advantage, and at the first furlong post he was leading her by a neck. He gradually improved upon this until he was half a length to good as they swept by first quarter post. Domino retained this lead to the home stretch. As soon as they were squared away for home Simms called upon Clifford. A mighty shout went up as the lash descended upon his flank. But Taral made no move, sitting till as a statue upon Domino. Again and again the whip descended upon Clifford's flanks, and Simms' steeplechase heels were riven viciously into his ribs. But it was no use. Clifford was doing his best, and Domino was doing better. Domino came in grand fashion, and won easily by two parts of a length. Clifford was whipped out. The prize of $5,000 goes to Domino. The official fractional time for the race was as follows: First furlong 0:14 5/8, second 0:24 2/5, third 0:36 5/8, fourth 0:49 2/5, fifth 1:02 2/5, sixth 1:14 1/2, seventh 1:26 2/5 and the mile 1:39 2/5.

Other races were well contested. The first being won by Jack-o'-the-first. In this race Peacemaker was the very bad third. Peacemaker soon left away in the second race but Peacemaker led to Terrapin, but distance who had been within striking took up by much all the way, then challenged once more. He was in him victorious, who came away centered between standing still, and in the third winner by two lengths. headed the buxenny and Chattanooga a gap between they once opened up who were well by and the others, long post Hugh. At the last furlong and remained thirged to the front head. Dorian winging by a short nose case. The fifth with riders started and they had thirteen When they did, Galt had getting off lead and was never behind in the hard drive, by a hair a lew in the first race, 1 mile—A. J. Tenth race, 1 mile—Galt 1, M. V. 2, B. H. 3; time 1:20.

heat Joe Patchen went like the wind and forced Robert J. to make a spurt of speed almost at the wire that was phenomenal. Col. Taylor, of St. Louis, the owner of the black stallion, had said before the race that if the gelding won he would have to beat his time at Fort Wayne, which was 2:03 3/4. The fast pacer scored for the word at 4:05, with the track in the pink of condition. Patchen held the pole. They scored once without getting the word, but at the second time they went away with Patchen a little in the lead. Robert J. jumped at Starter Walker's word "go" and went up in a quickly throwing the son of Hartford into his stride by pulling him to the outside of the track. He was then six lengths behind, but settled down to win the heat. Patchen went the eighth in sixteen seconds and was still six lengths ahead at the quarter. Jack Curry, who was driving him, thought he saw victory and a world's record for the black when he passed the half far in the lead, but the gelding was gaining, and in the third quarter was nearly at his side. Down the home stretch Patchen still held the lead, until about the last furlong, when the gelding made one of those spurts that not even the liberal use of the whip could make Patchen head off. There was great excitement when it was found that the time of the heat made it up to that time the fastest ever paced in a race. The enthusiasm knew no bounds when the next heat showed up with its 1 1/2 seconds faster time. In this heat Patchen seemed a sure winner until almost under the wire, when Robert J. forged a length ahead. Curry tried the whip, but it was plain that the black was going his fastest. The performance, however, was so satisfactory to the crowd that both horses and their drivers, their owners and the driving club were given three cheers. The third heat began with a beautiful even start, but the gelding broke at the quarter and lost six lengths again. He settled down and came in the winner without seeming to be pushed to his limit. His winning spurt in the last furlong caused tumultuous cheering. The time by quarters for the three heats was: First heat—30 1/2, 1:02 1/2, 1:34, 2:03 3/4. Second heat—30 1/2, 1:01 1/2, 1:30 1/2, 2:02 1/2. Third heat—30 1/2, 1:01 1/2, 1:33 1/2, 2:04 1/2. Average 2:03 2/5.

Alix was not successful in reducing the world's trotting record, the best she could do being 2:04 1/2. The first attempt was made in 2:07 1/2, but at the first quarter the mare had cast a shoe. McDowell thought, however, that as she was going very fast he would keep up, but when just past the seven-eighths she broke and lost fully 4 seconds before going down. The first quarter was made in 31, the half 1:01 1/2, the third quarter in 1:32, and she seemed likely to finish in 2:03 when she broke. McDowell announced that he would try again, but the mare could not do better than come within 3/4 of a second of Nancy Hanks' time. But for a break she would have just about equaled it.

The sensations of the track today included an incident that will be investigated by the judges. J. E. Bush, who was driving Willie Bronson in the 2:35 class, and Ben Walker, who was driving Brookfield, were caught in a close place in the first quarter, and Walker, it is charged, resented an insulting epithet by striking at Bush with his whip. When the race was over Bush got a revolver, threatening to kill Walker. The threat was heard by a policeman, who started for Bush, but he had slipped the weapon to a friend and thus escaped arrest. The affair was related to the judges, who summoned witnesses for a hearing.

The fastest half mile ever paced in harness or saddle was made today by Edna Harris, aged 12 years. The time was 59 1/2 seconds. Summaries:

FASTEST MILE EVER RIDDEN.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 6.—J. P. Bliss went on Hampden Park today the fastest mile ever made on a bicycle, making the record for the paced mile, flying start, 1:52 3/5, and lowering the three-quarter record to 1:23 1/5. He was paced by three tandem teams. The records for the distance were 1:52 3/5 for the mile and 1:24 4/5 for the three-quarters made at Waltham on July 28 by H. C. Tyler.

THE LONDON.
The regular monthly meeting of the London Bicycle Club last night was, as usual, well attended. The treasurer's report showed the club to be in a good financial position. The house committee have been hard at work and have the rooms in fine shape. The members are proud of their new home, and hope to put in a good time during the winter evenings. The subject of a club dinner was discussed, and all were quite favorable to the scheme. It is an understood thing that it will be held in December, of which more will be said later on. The club decided to discontinue the club runs in the evenings, but will hold one to close the season on some moonlight night.

A meeting of the racing board was held, when the resignation of Bruce Holt was accepted, and Mr. Sam Sterely elected to fill the vacancy. Bruce leaves for Chicago today, where he has secured a situation.

During the month of August, London Club members carried off no less than 24 prizes at race meets.

Roadway is now in Toronto training for his 100 mile race next week. He is confident of reducing the present record.

PISCATORIAL.
On Monday last four gentlemen from London, members of the Dorchester Station Fishing Club, visited Mr. Albert White's trout preserve and caught about $20 worth of trout with a hook and line. They afterwards purchased 1,000 trout from Mr. White for their trout pond at Dorchester, paying $100 for them, to take them as they came, large and small. They will get some dandies, and it will, no doubt, make a great addition to their already well-stocked preserve. —[Laymer Express.]

POW. MOORE'S UNKNOWN.
LONDON, Sept. 6.—Pow. Moore, accompanied by Chasley Mitchell, met Paddy Slavin today to arrange a fight between him and an unknown. Slavin agreed to fight for $3,000 a side at the National Sporting Club, Nov. 19. Moore to name his man two weeks before that day. The articles were not signed, as Slavin's backer was absent. It is said the Slavin's backer wished to draw out the plan that he wished to back Slavin only against Corbett or Jackson.

The Labor Congress

Will Continue to Knock at the Government Door.

The Idea of a Separate Political Party Not Entertained—The Motion to Shut Out Government Employees Voted Down.

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—At the meeting of the Trades and Labor Congress this morning the committee on the president's address reported as follows: "We believe that the time has arrived to stop knocking at the Government doors, and the time has now arrived to take such independent political actions as will leave the doors open to us all the time through the formation of an independent labor party."

The Ontario executive was complimented for securing the passing of laws in the interest of the laboring classes.

Delegate Darlington, of Montreal, moved the adoption of the clause relating to the forming of a labor party. He said that the laboring men had been tried with all along by the Government.

President Beale said that such men as delegate Darlington had done more harm to the cause of labor than could be well imagined. He (Beale) advocated still knocking at the doors of the Government instead of forming an independent party. There were still enough of consistent labor men to demand these reforms.

Delegate Darlington insisted that reforms were only brought about by men of advanced views. The cause of labor was retrograding because they had not a party of their own to further their interests.

Delegate O'Donoghue supported the president's address and moved that it be carried as presented.

Delegate Carey opposed the views held by Delegate Darlington, which, however, were supported by Delegate McLean, of London. Labor men, the latter said, should have candidates of their own in all vital contests.

Delegate Armstrong, of Toronto, thought the committee should have brought in a report condemning the Government for not giving better labor legislation. He moved in amendment that the report be referred back to the committee for reconsideration.

Delegate Armstrong afterwards withdrew his amendment, and the result was that O'Donoghue's amendment was carried by 29 to 5. All the other clauses were adopted.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the members visited the Government printing bureau, and at 2 o'clock they had luncheon at Rockliffe Park.

A committee was appointed to bring in a resolution on relating to the formation of a Canadian organization that shall have power to issue charters and levy a capitation tax on labor organizations.

EXCLUDING GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES.
The resolution that was held over from yesterday to make Government employees ineligible as delegates to the congress was then brought up, and caused a lively discussion. Delegates moved in amendment that only persons employed by the year by the Government be excluded from the congress.

Delegate O'Donoghue, of Toronto, said he had been an employee of the Government for years. He said that there was not a labor delegate there would refuse a good Government position if he was offered it. Resolution was lost by a large majority.

An evening session was held as to the advisability of admitting the Patrons of Industry, the Grangers and the Single Taxers. The question was filed.

On behalf of the committee of ways and means Delegate Currie reported that the per capita tax be 8 cents per head per year; that 1,500 copies of the proceedings be printed in English and 500 in French, and that the union label be on all printed matter. The report was adopted.

On motion of Delegate Lalancette a resolution was passed, calling for the abolition of the law permitting the seizures for wages in case of debt.

A COLONIZATION SCHEME.
Delegate Langevin, Quebec, moved a resolution to adopt a colonization scheme, which the former had prepared for the unemployed lands in the Northwest. The scheme was, in effect, to take the unemployed people from the centers of population to the territories and have them educated in the art of agriculture, as well as get a military training, so that they could be called upon in the case of necessity to protect the settlers. In this way the services of mounted police could be dispensed with. Congress adjourned after referring the matter back.

The grocery store of James Hamilton, of Port Credit, Ont., was robbed Thursday morning. The safe was blown open and about $40 in bills and a like amount in silver taken.

Fires in New Brunswick.
St. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 6.—Extensive forest fires are raging all round the neighborhood. Several houses have been burned within a few miles of the city. The city is full of smoke, and unless something is done immediately to stay the progress of the fires the destruction of property will be very great.

Albert's First Letter to Victoria.
The following is a correct copy of the first letter ever received by the Queen from her ever-lamented husband:

BONN, June 28, 1857.
My Dearest Cousin: I must write you a few lines to present you my sincerest felicitations on the great change which has taken place in your life. Now you are Queen of the mightiest land in Europe; in your hand lies the happiness of millions. May heaven assist you and strengthen you with its strength in that high and difficult task. I hope that your reign will be long, happy and glorious, and that your efforts may be rewarded by the thankfulness and love of your subjects. May I pray you to think likewise sometimes of your cousins in Bonn, and to continue to them that kindness you favored them with till now. Be assured that our minds are always with you. I will not be indiscreet and abuse your time. Believe me, always your majesty's most obedient and faithful servant.

KNOWLEDGE
Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

WOODS' FAIR
SPECIAL BARGAIN DAYS SATURDAY AND MONDAY

SEPT. 8 and 10.

We have thought that if we made Monday only our special bargain day, as at first intended, it would work a great injustice to our customers from a distance, especially the farming community, who patronize us largely, and who seldom visit London except on a market day. We have therefore decided for the present to have two special bargain days—Saturday and Monday. In consolidating our two stores in one we find we have a large lot of odds and ends, some slightly damaged and some perfect, which must be closed out, and we have decided to give special attention to closing out these lines on Saturday and Monday, and we will offer them at ruinously low prices. They will include a wide range to select from. We will spread a large table of these goods at the rear of the store, to make it more convenient for customers to make their selections.

We will offer to close 15 only Royal Canadian Wringers, the best wringer made, worth $3 50, Bargain Days, $2 25.

10 dozen Tubular Lanterns, best makes, plain and painted, worth 60c to 75c, your choice 34c.

We have on hand about 500 pairs Unmounted Oil Linen Window Shades, single dado and plain, best quality of goods, all colors, which we will offer Bargain Days with Hartshorn spring roller and nickel pull complete for 39c.

Copper Bottom Tea Kettles, No. 8, 34c; No. 9, 39c.

Copper Nickel Tea Kettles, worth $2 50 to $3, greatest bargain ever offered, your choice Bargain Days, No. 8 or 9, $1 each.

15 Bars Best Electric Soap, 25c.

Heliotrope, Baby's Own and Infants' Delight, 8c per cake.

3 large bars Laundry Soap for 25c.

Morse's Mottled, five bars for 25c.

No. 1 Refined Coal Oil, Sept. 8 and 10, 9c per imperial gallon.

TANGLED THREADS

"Even to Richard North," he enjoined rather anxiously.

"Even to Richard North. I have kept secrets in my day, doctor, and can keep 'em again."

Dr. Rane put the paper in his pocket-book, deposited that in the breast pocket of his coat, and took his departure. But now, being a shrewd man, a suspicion that he would not have given utterance to for the world, lay on Dr. Rane—that it was more in accordance with probability that the paper had dropped out of his pocket book than from Molly Green's petticoats.

A heavy weight lay there on his breast!

And he went along with a loitering step, asking himself how the paper could have originally come there.

CHAPTER IV.

Oliver Rane was in his bed chamber; a front apartment facing the road. It will be as well to give a word of description to this first floor, for it was a very large and comfortable one. It consisted of a large landing place, its boards white and bare, with a spacious window looking to the side of the house, as the dining room beneath it. Wide, low down, and unobscured was this window; giving, in conjunction with the bare floor and walls, a staring appearance to the place. Mrs. Cumberland's opposite landing (could you have seen it) presented a very different aspect. It was carpeted, its statue, vase, bookcases, and its pretty window drapery. Dr. Rane could not afford luxuries yet; or, indeed, superfluous furniture of any sort. The stairs led almost close to his window, so that in coming down from any of the bedrooms, or the upper floor, you had to face it.

To get into Dr. Rane's chamber—the best in the house—an ante room had to be passed through, and its door was opposite the large window. Two chambers opened from the landing; they faced the back lane that ran along beyond the garden wall. Above, in the roof, were two other rooms, both three cornered. Phillips, the old serving woman, slept on that floor in one of them; Dr. Rane on this; the house had no other inmates.

The ante room had no furniture; unless some curious looking articles lying on the floor could be called so. They seemed to consist chiefly of glass jars covered in dust, a cylindrical glass pump, and other things belonging to chemistry, of which science the doctor was fond. Certainly the architect had not made the most of this floor, or he would never have given so much space to the landing. But if the ante room was not furnished, Dr. Rane's chamber was; and well furnished too. The walls were white and gold, the dressing table and chest of drawers before the window and opposite the door. On the left was the fireplace; the handsome white Arabian bedstead was picked out with gold and its hangings of green damask, matched the window drapery and the soft colors of the carpet.

Seated at the round table in the middle of the room, his hand raised to support his head, was Dr. Rane. He had only just come in, and it was now one o'clock, when the dinner hour. It was that same morning mentioned in the last chapter, when he had quitted Mrs. Gass's house with that dangerous piece of paper weighing upon his pocket and his heart. He had been detained out. As he was entering the house of the sick man, Ketter, whom he had proceeded at once to see, about in the street, and much wild running of women, warned him that something must have happened. Two men had fallen into the river at the house of the North Works; and excited people were shouting that they were drowned. Not quite, as Dr. Rane saw when he reached the spot; not beyond hope of restoration. Patiently the doctor persevered in his efforts. He brought life into them at length; and stayed afterwards caring for them. After that, he had Ketter and other patients to see, and it was nearly one when he bent his steps toward his own house. The morning he had said to himself that he would call at the Hall on his return; but he passed its gates; perhaps because it was his dinner hour, for one o'clock was striking.

Hanging up his hat in the small hall, leaving his cane in the corner—a pretty trifle with a gold star for its handle—he was making straight for the stairs, when the servant, Phillis, came out of the kitchen. A little woman of some 55 years, with high shoulders, and her head carried forward. Her chin and nose were sharp and mild, the sweet dark eyes were subdued, and the hair, peeping from beneath the close white cap, was gray. She wore a dark cotton gown and check apron. A tidy looking, respectable woman, in spite of her unfashionable appearance.

"Is that you, sir? Them folks have been over from the brick-kilns, saying the woman's not so well today, if you'd please to go to her."

Dr. Rane nodded. He went on up the stairs and into his own room, the door of which he locked. Why? Phillis was in the habit of intruding upon him, and there was no one else in the house. The first thing he did was to take the paper received from Mrs. Gass out of his pocket book, and read it attentively twice over. Then he struck a match, set fire to it, and watched it consume away in the empty grate. A dangerous man, whoever hand had penned it, and the physician did well, in the interests of humanity, to put it out of sight for ever. The task over, he leaned against the window frame, and lapsed into thought. He was dwelling upon the death at Dallery Hall, and what it might bring forth.

Hepburn, the undertaker, was right. There was to be no inquest. So much Dr. Rane had learned from Richard North; who hastened to the works on hearing of the accident to his man. The two Whiteborough doctors had given the certificate of death; apoplexy, to which there had been a previous tendency, though immediately brought on by excitement; and nothing more was required by law. From a word spoken by Richard, Dr. Rane gathered that it was a man who had set her teeth against an inquest. And quite right too; there was no necessity whatever for one, had been the comment made by Oliver Rane to Richard. But now—now when he was alone with himself and the naked truth; when there was no man at hand whose opinion it might be to humor or deceive; no eye upon him save God's, he could not but acknowledge that that had been Mr. North, had it been his son who was thus cut off from life, he should have caused an inquest to be held. Ay, ten inquests, as the law would have allowed them; if by that means he might have traced the letter home to its writer.

Quitting the window, he sat down at the table and bent his forehead upon his hand. Never in his whole life had anything so afflicted him as this death; and it was perhaps natural that he should set himself to see whether, or not, any sort of excuse might be found for the anonymous writer. He began putting himself in ideas in the writer's place, and argued the point for him; for and against. Chiefly for it was on that side bias leaned. It is very easy, as the world knows, to find a plea for those in whom we are interested or whom misfortune falls; it is so natural to indulge for their sakes in a little sophistry. Such sophistry came now to the help of the physician.

"What need had Edmund North to fly into a furious passion?" ran the self argument. "Only a madman might have been expected to do so. There was nothing in the letter that need have excited him, absolutely nothing. It was probably written with a very harmless intention; certainly the writer never could have dreamt that it might have the effect of destroying a life. Destroying a man's life! A dash passed into Oliver Rane's face at the thought, dying neck and brow? And, with it, recurred the words of Hepburn—that the writer was a murderer and might come to be tried for it. A shiver! There is no other self reproach under heaven that can bring home so much anguish to the conscience. But—could a man be justly called a murderer if he had never had thought or intention of doing anything of the kind?"

"Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia."—Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville, Ont. In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and cream, and my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now 79 years of age I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. I am well-known in this section of Canada, having lived here 57 years; and you have liberty to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case."

NO CATTLE CARS FOR THEM.

Eastern Visitors to London Travel in Style—A Palace on Wheels.

The parlor car Baddeck, of the Intercolonial Railway, brought to London the party of about twenty delegates from the Maritime Provinces to the Methodist Quadrannual Conference here. The car came through Ontario via the G. T. R. It is a striking instance of the perfection to which first-class railway carriages have been brought in the last few years by Canadian inventive genius. The appointments are equal in all respects to those of a first-class hotel, and the discomforts of travel have been reduced to a minimum.

The car is comfortable, even luxurious. A steam heating system, which can be regulated in the car to the required temperature, and a dozen other conveniences and comforts undreamt of in railway traveling ten years ago have been introduced. The Baddeck has a snug compartment for smokers, a drawing room and dressing apartments, and a buffet; but Conductor J. F. Vaughan, who has charge of the car, prides himself most on the lighting, which is by electricity, from a storage battery placed under the car.

The Baddeck's usual run is between Halifax and Montreal, and as a great part of the journey is by daylight, special attention was given to tasteful decoration, which is unnecessary in a mere sleeping car. The interior presents as pleasing an effect, with its rich upholstery and beautiful carving on the panels, as any well-furnished drawing-room, and traveling in it should not only be comfortable but luxurious. Conductor Vaughan and Mr. W. H. Price, traveling passenger agent of the Intercolonial, came through with the delegates.

A Long, Long Sign.

Pope talks about waiting a sigh from India to the Pole. A long, long sign that would be. Talk about sighing, why if all the sighs of the women of the world, for just one day, could be gathered in one sigh, it would be long enough to reach from here to the farthest fixed star. But thousands of women suffer and sigh because the victims of disease. Others would suffer as sorely and sigh as often if they had not been wise enough to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a wonderful recuperator of wasted strength and of sovereign efficacy in all those derangements and maladies peculiar to their sex, by which the vitality is sapped and the seeds of death are sown.

Dr. R. V. Pierce: Dear Sir—I have taken the "Favorite Prescription" and I can recommend it to any body that suffers with any female disease. I have tried several doctors' prescriptions but none did me the good that yours did. Yours respectfully, MATTIE TERRY, Post Mistress, Sherrer Hill, Dallas county, Ala.

MOTHERS, Do You Know

that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

It Was Cholera.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Sept. 7.—It is now an assured fact that John P. Walther, the immigrant who was taken ill on a Baltimore and Ohio train and who died last night in a caboose near this city, suffered with Asiatic cholera. They say that there is no fear of another case in this city.

The scrofulous taint which may have been in your blood for years, may be thoroughly expelled by giving Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

Edward, a Saxon word, means happy keeper.

Gentlemen,—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs. HIGHT, Montreal, Que.

Do you know that at Keene Bros. you can buy furniture cheaper than any place in London? A trial order will convince you that we lead in prices, considering quality. Give us a trial. Yours truly, KEENE BROS., 127 King street, opposite Market House.

2.—The street railway company has discontinued the evening excursion cars.

—J. P. Coulton, agent of "Lost in New York," which appears at the Grand in Fair week, is in the city.

—The Bishop of Huron will lecture in the opera house, Goderich, on Sept. 10, on his travels in the Orient.

—Rev. F. H. Fatt, of Merrittton, formerly of this city, has resumed active work. His health is greatly improved.

—Mr. Richard Wright has purchased the handsome residence, 540 Dundas street, owned by Mr. Dore, the price paid being $3,000.

—Mrs. MacRobert, of Florence, mother of Chairman MacRobert, of the Board of Education, is very ill, and very little hopes are entertained for her recovery.

—John E. Frank, a popular young resident of Stratford, died in the hospital here on Wednesday from consumption. The body was taken to Stratford.

—The horse attached to McLeod's East End delivery wagon ran away yesterday morning and after smashing the harness and shaft, tried to hide itself behind a woodpile in the rear of Bartlett's block.

—Mr. Frank Ryan, G. T. R. train dispatcher, Stratford, was married on Wednesday at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Niagara Falls, to Miss Sarah Cookley, of that place. The bride was attended by her sister Agnes, and Mr. Jas. Miller, G. T. R. dispatcher, of London, supported Mr. Ryan.

—Patrick Wallace, of London township, had a black coat and vest stolen the other day. He suspected Albert Robinson, Egerton street, of having committed the theft. Wallace had a search warrant issued and Robinson's premises were examined, but the missing clothing was not found.

—The remains of the late Lorne Swackhamer, who was killed at Woodstock by the car shop excursion train returning to this city from Niagara Falls on Saturday night, were buried in Hamilton yesterday. Members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen were present from Toronto, London and Sarnia Tunnel.

—Some mean sneak thieves have broken into the poor box of St. James Church, South London, and stolen the contents. They entered through the basement window and prised the box open with a chisel. The rector recently made an appeal on behalf of the parish poor, and it is thought quite a sum was put in the box. It had not been opened for six months.

—Another trolley accident was narrowly averted in London West on Wednesday afternoon. About 4:30 o'clock the car was rapidly approaching Dundas street when a 2-year-old boy nestled himself in the center of the track. Motorman George Stead applied the brakes quickly and the car was brought to a standstill—but none too soon.

—Quite a lot of excitement was created in the vicinity of the East London G. T. R. station yesterday afternoon. A number of tramps bothered the residents so much that the patrol wagon was summoned. The wagon soon arrived and with it came two policemen and Detective Nickle. The same number returned in the rig, for the Coxeyites took flight and continued their march in the direction of Washington.

—Miss Ray Hunter, only daughter of Mr. Wm. Hunter, liveryman, South London, was united in marriage on Wednesday evening to Mr. Truman Vanlinder, of Petrolia. The ceremony was performed at the bride's residence, Rev. Thomas Cullen officiating. Mr. Thomas Routledge, of Lambeth, assisted the groom, and Miss Bertha Davey, Lambeth, acted as bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Vanlinder left for Petrolia, where they will reside.

—Mr. A. H. Clinger, son-in-law of Detective James Crawford, Queen's avenue, had a narrow escape from death in the forest near Hinkley, Miss. Mr. Clinger is a traveler, and while en route to St. Paul the train was forced to return to the forest of fire ahead. It was soon overtaken by the flames, and the passengers were compelled to seek shelter in a swamp about six miles from Hinkley. There they remained for twelve hours. Mr. Clinger's eyes were injured by the heat and smoke.

—The board of works held another fifteen minute session last night, the members present to transact business being Ald. Thomas Jones (chairman), (Carratt), Shaw, Taylor, Coo, Secretary Bell, Engineer Davidson and Commissioner Owens. The estimate of the engineer as to the cost of macadamizing Dufferin avenue (already published in the ADVERTISER) was received, but no action was taken thereon. R. H. Cullen and others wanted the city to supply tile to connect the Christ Church rectory with the church drain. The request was granted. Taxpayers will be called for painting the iron bridges.

—Mount Pleasant correspondence Brantford Examiner: Mrs. McMechan, of London, who came under the auspices of the W. M. S. of the Methodist Church, was here and gave a most excellent address on the woman's work of that society. Mrs. McMechan is probably one of the clearest women among those who advocate the cause of missions from the public platform, and should she come this way again there is no doubt but a large and more enthusiastic audience would be out to welcome her.

—Ald. Parnell (chairman) and the balance of No. 3 committee continued their tour of inspection on the lighting of London last night. Nos. 1, 3 and 6 wards were visited. In the two former there was no ground for complaint, the lighting was good. But in South London the story was entirely different. There was plenty of room for more lights. This was the unanimous opinion of the tourists. At the invitation of Mr. Hunt the electric light plant was visited, and "one of the best" was the impression made on the visitors—and some of them had been to Chicago.

—The regular season of the Grand opens tonight with Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown." The engagement has special interest attached to it from the fact that this most successful of Hoyt's comedies comes to the Grand with the same company that presented it for six hundred and fifty-six consecutive nights at Hoyt's Madison Square Theater, New York. Not only is this the longest run ever known in the history of farce comedy, but no play, no matter what its character, whether drama, spectacular, opera or farce, had ever before been given for so many successive performances in the metropolis. The cast is the same, including Harry Cenor in his original creation of "Welland Strong." Bessie Clayton, the little dancer, is a special feature of this engagement.

—The members of No. 2 committee of the board of education—some of them at least—will make themselves heard at the next meeting of the board. They had at a recent meeting spent just one hour talking about the purchase of land for Aberdeen school. After due deliberation it was decided that it was unnecessary. Last night, however, the committee was surprised on being confronted with an account of $14 for hose ordered by Chairman MacRobert. It aroused the indignation of some members who thought the chairman should pay the account himself. A recommendation to that effect was not passed, but the board's attention will be called to the item. Jones Bros. presented an account for $24 for cutting two doors in Aberdeen school, which Contractor Taylor should have done. The account will be paid, and Mr. Taylor's cash will be reduced to make the contract figures balance.

A grant of supplies will be ordered, including two blackboards for Aberdeen school and two new seats for Rectory street. The trees on school property will be cut in compliance of the city bylaw, and tenders will be called for painting the fences around the Wortley road, Askew street and Quebec street schools. The supplying of two blackboards at Belleville street was left with Trustee Johnston. The members present were: Trustees Blackwell (chairman), Stephenson, Anderson, Johnston, Greenlees, Turner, and Secretary McElheran.
