OFFICIALS CONSIDER MANUFACTURE OF FORD CARS IN CITY

Definite Assurance Given That Plant Will Be Reopened in London in Short Time-Officials Consider Several Changes in Building-Nothing Definite Decided on the Ouestion to Date.

MEN ADVISED TO RETURN TO LONDON

The local assembling plant of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, which has been closed for the past year, will reopen next month. The secretary to W. R. Campbell, vice-president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, stated this definitely to The Advertiser today. The operations of the plant will be on a much larger scale than heretofore and almost 100 men will be employed. "We have decided to open the London branch of the Ford Com-pany sometime next month," Miss Grace Salconer, secretary to Mr. Campbell, announced to The Advertiser. "Directors of the company are at present considering plans for the manufacture of cars in London as well as certain changes in the plant, although nothing definite has been reached. The only thing I can definitely state is that the plant will be reopened in the near future." Closed Year Ago.

The local branch of the Ford Motor Company, situated on Waterloo street at the C. P. R. crossing, closed on Sept. 1, one year ago. Plants at Toronto and Windsor had been enlarged, and it was said at the time that the London branch was unne-cessary for the distribution of cars

According to former employees of the Ford company in London, the style in which the local branch was constructed proved to be unsatis-factory for the assembling of motor cars, although as many as 3,000 autos were turned out in a year. The Lon-don plant were distributors for the Increase in drunkenness during first three months of government sale is less than Edmonton's 111 per cent, but still substantial. -See Page Two.

Chief of Police Ritchie does not find much fault with government sale in Calgary, apart from increased drinking by women, because he believes bootlegging in Alberta cannot be overcome Magistrate Saunders of Calgary is less satisfied. He thinks the legal penalties for government sale infractions are unjust to the poor man and favor the rich, and he is disturbed over the increase in drunkenness and reckless driving which has followed the new law.

Today's article on Page Two quotes the official police figures on this point. They show a 52 per cent increase in drunkenness during the first three months of government sale, as compared with Edmonton's increase of 111 per cent.

Hits Tariff Plan.

Towards the Conservative leader, Stanley Baldwin, the premier was quite gentle, and spoke indeed of his "commendable courage" when in the last election he produced his tariff proposals regardless of the fate they might bring upon his party. Even so, the premier could not refrain from describing such proposals as "nostrums"—always a hard-worked word when tariffs are under discussion.

'white paper.' letter is addressed to the British high commissioner for Egypt and the Sudan. It says that pending some future agreement between the two countries the duty of preserving order in the Sudan rests in fact upon his majesty's government. Made Five Demands.

In the course of the conversations between the British prime minister and Zagloul Pasha, the latter made tive demands for modifications in the Egyptian status quo, namely, withdrawal of all the British forces from Egyptian territory; withdrawal of the financial judicial advisors; disappearance of all British control over the Egyptian government, notably in connection with foreign relations; abandonment by the British government of their claim to protect foreigners and minorities in Egypt, and abandonment by the British of their abandonment by the British of their claim to share in any way in protecting the Suez canal.

"I raised the question of the canal "I raised the question of the canar straightaway," writes the premier, "because its security is of vital interest to us, both in peace and in war," and he goes on to declare that no British government, in the light of its experience in the great war could divest itself wholly, even in favor of an ally, of its interest in guarding such a vital link in British

What The Moderation League Stands For

ARTICLE NUMBER ONE

This is the first of a series of articles which will appear daily in London newspapers until October 23rd.

The Moderation League stands for Temperance, moderation and reason in consumption, sale and distribution of beverage liquors under a law that will have the respect and co-operation of the majority of the public.

Only by such respect and cooperation can any law be efficiently

No law, however honestly con= ceived or however worthy the motive underlying its adoption, can be properly enforced unless it has behind it the solid backing of a preponderating majority of public opinion.

The warmest advocates of the O. T. A. cannot claim for it the support of such a majority.

If you saw a burglar enter a house or store wouldn't you instantly run or phone for a police-

If you saw a miscreant setting fire to a house or barn wouldn't you immediately give the alarm?

Because you are personally opposed to burglary and arson; because these are crimes for which you have no sympathy nor any desire to protect those who commit them.

But do you feel the same way about the man who violates the Ontario Temperance Act by producing a bottle from his desk, or in his hotel bedroom, or on a train, or in any other place which the law forbids?

Do you feel like running for a policeman when you see a bootlegger disposing of his wares?

Or have you little compunction in taking a drink from the office or bedroom bottle, thus yourself becoming a lawbreaker? Perhaps even you sympathize with the bootlegger enough to pay him his price for a bottle-even though you run the risk of death or blindness by drinking it. Because there are thousands of good people, even among those who voted for the O. T. A., who will willingly connive at infractions of the law and will themselves cheerfully break the law as opportunity offers, the O. T. A. lacks the force of public opinion to make it a success.

The Moderation League is opposed to the O. T. A. because, in its attempt to make people total abstainers by legal compulsion, it has increased crime and brought a law of the land into contempt, thereby engendering disrespect for all laws. The Moderation League believes that true temperance can come only through an individual sense of responsibility under a law that is respected and can be properly enforced.

It believes that Government control of the sale of liquor will eliminate the bootlegger by destroying his market. Government control is for all classes of the community. It is not a law for the rich of for the poor-as the O. T. A. is. Under the O. T. A. the rich man who stocked his cellar is in legal possession of what he wants, while the poor man has to go without.

Under Government control the Government will get the revenue, not the bootlegger. The millions of dollars now being spent on law enforcement and on bootleggers by the public will go to the Government and help to build roads and schools, as is being done in Quebec.

Government control is enforceable and decent conditions can be maintained-conditions which are impossible under the O. T. A.

The Moderation League stands for a sane law, capable of enforcement.

On October 23rd mark your ballot for Government Control. MARK

Are you in favor of the continuance of The Ontario Temperance Act?

How Two Mothers Helped Their Daughters By Giving Them Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Every mother possesses information of vital importance to her young daughter, and the responsibility for the girl's future is largely in her hands.

When a schoolgirl's thoughts become sluggish, when she suffers the consequences of wet feet, pain, head aches, fainting spells, loss of sleep and appetite, and is irregular—her mother should have a care for her health and give her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which has proved a reliable aid to Nature for just such conditions in many cases.

Had Faith in It

Hamilton, Ortario. - "When I was a young girl I took Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound because father and mother had faith in it. It had helped mother and it helped me. I took eleven bottles of it then and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. Now I am on my third bottle for later female troubles. I would go two or three months and then have such bearing-down pains they were unbearable. I would have to go to bed and was unable to do my housework. I was weak and would faint at the least little thing I did. My husband got me the first bottle and I am already feeling better in every way. I can do my washing now and before I could not even walk about at that time. I recommend the Vege-table Compound to every woman." Mrs. CLARA BROADHURST, 395 Fair-field Avenue, Hamilton, Ontario.

For Joy of Good Health Crandall, Manitoba.—"When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me friend who had taken it and told me about it - so I got some. Every month after taking it I grew stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Com-pound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told ever so many women about your medi-cine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Her baby was born fifteen days before mine and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back aches so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter and I hope some one will be helped by it."-Mrs. JOSEPH H. KIDD.

Turning Point.

This play, I think, was one of the big turning points of the game. I do know this, that it eased Marberry's troubled self considerably. He could not have had a barrel full of confidence after yesterday, and I do know that the Washington team was considerably worried, for they had their best bet, Walter Johnson, warming up during the last few innings.

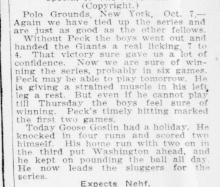

Harris made several beautiful plays around second. He is covering more territory on ground balls than Frisch and taking that angle into consideration he came very near matching Frisch's work of yesterday.

It begins to look to me as if this

If the weather is dull, it is probable that Raynes, with his fast ball, will be used, but if it is warm and bright Lindsay will get the assignment. These two held Bridgeburg to two and six hits respectively, and are both in excellent shape for the game. The management is full of confidence. The team played good ball in Bridgeburg and expects to repeat in Brantford.

At the same time the commissioner emphasized that the door to further investigation is still open and that he is prepared to act quickly upon any further evidence or information having a bearing on the case.

The commissioner denied that either O'Connell or Dolan in visiting him at his hotel, had appealed for a change in his decision, but from a reliable source it was reported that Landis after the hearing informed both men they had given him no ground on which to base any change in his verdict.

It cannot be argued that it was not good business to have a fine road and a good piece of railway track, but it was not according to the law. Other places have had similar problems, and hence the demand for a department to deal with such matters.

The same end could probably be served by hanging some of the existing departments. The case does not warrant the establishment of a new department, and adding to the amount of government for which the people will have to pay. THE HEART OF THE HOUSE

I love the Spanish idea of building a house. They do not put the garden out in front, as Americans do, nor behind, as do the English, but in the center of the house.

It looks as if they built the garden first and the house around it. This seems to me to be the proper appreciation eg the value of outdoors. Only when one has inclosed a little bit of it does it seem his own. It means a bit of earth more private than in any

Perhaps this form of building may be applicable only to warm climates. But every climate is warm at some time of the year, and if one is going to be outdoors at all, how much better to be able to sit in the seclusion of one's own walls, in one's own

This gives the house an aloofness that is exceptional. It is self-contained.

One gets the impression that a court full of flowers and trees is the heart, or gracious soul, where it might be possible to live beautifully as one could never live in an English suburban villa with its terrible uniformity and complete lack of imagination.

The garden in the center of the house gives an opportunity to sit outdoors and, at the same time, an opportunity for privacy. There is a delightfulness about sitting or dining under the open sky that one cannot find under any roof, and the garden in the house supplies us not only with a bit of ground that is our own, but a bit of sky that is ours.

It is characteristic of America, and all our western civilization, to confine most of the attention to the house one lives in. It would be better if the garden space were considered an integral part of the residence and if the garden was inclosed in the

Perhaps such things are the result of instincts that lie deeper in us than we imagine, but very probably it is the result of custom and the present custom of having the garden added as an adjunct to the house is one more honored in the breach than in the observ-

We do not live enough out of doors. Probably this is because of our unfavorable climate, but there is many a day and many a night which would better be spent out of doors than in the house.

The Ideal Girl Has the Beauty of Health, She Is Womanly, Intelligent, Full of Enthusiasm, Competent, Independent, Romantic-A Real Helpmeet—And You Will Find Her Everywhere.

A man wants me to paint him a picture of the ideal girl as I vision

Well, to begin with, she is easy on the eyes. It doesn't matter what color her hair is, just so it isn't bobbed, for a woman's glory is her hair, and I like to see it piled in shimmering masses of gold or waved in dusky darkness about her head, and, best of all, I like it when it is a flaming red splender. None of your short-haired, mop-headed, Circassian freaks, who look as if they had just escaped from a side show at the circus, for me.

Nor does it make any difference whether my ideal girl is blonde or brunette, or betwixt and between. I like them either way, and I like them plump, but not fat, because fat in a young girl is the hallmark of a slothful mind and a lazy body. And I like them slim and willowy, but not the J. O. Brown, who defeated the arguments put up by C. Walker and J. Stewart. Mrs. John Rose, speaking ful mind and a lazy body. And I like them shin and white, the state of the state of

The chief beauty of my ideal girl is the beauty of health.

She has the sparkling eyes, the clear skin, the strength and vigor that make her every movement a joy to watch. She radiates youth and vitality, and that comes as near to being personal magnetism as anything upon which we can put our fingers.

My ideal girl is always well dressed. She doesn't underestimate the value of clothes. She knows that a woman's frock and hat are the frame that sets off a living picture and palliates the faults of even a chromo, but she is not dress mad.

Her skirts are never the shortest nor the longest, nor her bodices the thinnest, and before she adopts any style she considers well whether it will enhance her charms or make her look like a figure of fun by revealing hitherto unsuspected defects in her anatomy.

My ideal girl is womanly. She never ape, the clothes, nor the manners, nor the morals of man. She never tells off-colored stories. She doesn't swear nor drink, and wild horses couldn't arag her into a suit of knickerbockers, for well she knows that a woman's trump card is her femininity, and when she casts that into the discard she is beaten. My ideal girl is no fool, and she knows that dressed up in boy's clothes she is no more interesting than her little brother. And nobody is crazy about him. Also she is wise to the fact that there is something about a young gir a chiffon dress that smacks of everything that is fresh and sweet, and fragrant, and that makes a subtle appeal to every beholder. The rosebudwith-the-dew-still-on-it girl isn't so very common nowadays. Maybe that church, this city, will be the speaker is why we fall so hard for her when we do find her. But she never has on My ideal girl is full of enthusiasms. She bubbles over with the joy of living, and she is interested in everything under the sun.

She doesn't yawn in the face of Mont Blanc and walk through the Louvre with her eyes shut. She thrills to all that is beautiful in art and nature, and is touched to tears by noble acting or some fine and eloquent passage in a book. She is alive from head to foot. She is eager to take her part in the world and to make the most of her life for herself and others My ideal girl is competent. She takes no stock in the clinging-vine stuff. She has trained herself to some definite trade or occupation, and she is perfectly capable of making her own living and taking care of herself. life that she doesn't spend all of her time counting her heart beats. My ideal girl will make a splendid wife when she marries, but the man she marries will have to be a real man to win her and a real man to hold her, for she will not belong to the doormat class of spouses. But to the man who wants a chum and not a domestic slave, she will give a love and sympathy and tenderness and understanding that will make her truly a helpmeet.

American Can, Maxwell and General Electric Advance 1½ Points.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Oct. 8.—Stock prices displayed a firm tone during the morning.

With the xception of American Can, Maxweil Motors and General Electric, which advanced 1½ points each, gains in most of the standard industrials were small.

More speculative interest was displayed in the motors, metals, local tractions and specialties. Interboro Rapid Transit and National Lead each climbed more than 2 points, while Atlantic Coast Line, Stewart-Warner Goodrich, American Tobacco B, and Industrial Alcohol were among the score or so issues to rise a point or so.

Except for the slight improvement in business reported by the weekly steel trade reviews, there was little in the day's news to affect the course of prices of securities.

RESERVES ARE RUSHED

Situation Around Sunkiang Is Regarded as Serious.

Associated Press Despatch.
Shanghai, Oct. 8.—Although Red CONSTABLE STRATTON ross units, who had been following up the fighting near Sungkiang, 28 miles to the southwest on the Shanghai-Hangchow railway line, were brought back to Shanghai today, defense headquarters at Lungwha, south of the city, denied there had been any Chekiang retreat in the Sungliang reaction.

It was admitted, however, that the situation around Sungkiang, where the combined Kiangsu - Anhwei-Fukien forces have almost surrounded the city, was serious. It also was admitted that reserves were being rushed toward Sungkiang to check the encircling movement of the enemy.

Provincial Constable T. Y. Stratton, one of the most popular members of the provincial police force has received notice of his transfer to Kitchener on Oct. 14.

Constable Stratton has had charge of Middlesex county for two years It was admitted, however, that the around Sungkiang were handicapped by lack of ammunition, because Wu Pei Fu, military commander-in-chief of the central government at Peking, to which the three provinces of Kiangsu, Anhwei and Fukien owe allegiance, had ordered the munitions stream from Danyang (Hupeh province) arsenal diverted to the north, where he is fighting General Chang Tso-Lin of Manchuria. around Sungkiang were handicapped

EGG MARKET REVIEW

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Oct, 7. — Generally speaking the storage egg market is firm and higher. Considering the quantity already sold on export account, it is doubtful that after these have been moved that there will be enough left in storage to satisfy the home demand. Basing an estimate on the present market at Chicago, the United States egg-would cost about 40c to 43c delivered Toronto and Montreal.

GRAIN MARKET GOSSIP

tina and Cordova; weather unsettled.

There was no let-up in the foreign demand for wheat overnight, and early sales were estimated in excess of 1,000,000 bushels.

The feverish buying of wheat and rye early has subsided. Winnipeg has lost all its early advance. Even Liverpool shows a reactionary tendency.

Corn and oats run into commission seiling on every rally. Both markets lack important support.

Weather clear and cool in Manitoba; milder west.

Wheat sales placed at 4,000,000 bushels; 5,000,000 in all positions. England, France and Italy are the principal buyers. Japan was buying on the Pacific coast. Rye sales placed at 500,000 bushels.

Excitement in Liverpool has not subsided but Prombel! 500,000 bushels. Excitement in Liverpool has not subsided, but Bromhail says that purchases are for the immediate future, and that demand is likely to slacken as wheat becomes available

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried. ©

You've probably heard of this wellknown plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good. syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

He set out on a slow circuit of the well, the corsairs urging the two slaves to follow him that all buyers might see and inspect them.

In the foremost ranks of the crowd near the gate stood Ali, sent thither by Othmani to purchase a score of stout fellows required to make up the contingent of the galease of Sakr-el-Bahr.

With a shrug the dalal began his circuit of the well, the corsairs thrusting Lionel after him. Here one rose to handle him, there another, but none seemed disposed to

"Five philips is the foolish price offered me for this fine young Frank," cried the dalal. "Will no True-Believer pay ten for such a slave? Wilt not thou, O Ayoub? Thou, Hamlet—ten philips?"

But one after another those to whom he was offered shook their heads. The haggardness of Lionel's face was too unprepossessing.
They had seen slaves with that look before, and experience told them that no good was ever to be done with such fellows. Moreover, though shapely, his muscles were too slight, his flesh looked too soft and tender. his flesh looked too soft and tender. Even at five philips he would be dear. And then, before Ali could bid for another of the slaves he desired to acquire, a tall, elderly Jew, dressed in black doublet and hose like a Castilian gentleman, with a ruffle at his neck, a plumed bonnet on his gray locks, and a serviceable dagger hanging from his girdle of hammered gold, had claimed the attention of the dalal.

In the pen that held the captives of the lesser raids conducted by Biskaine sat an Andalusian girl of perhaps some twenty years, of a beauty

She had attracted the Jew's no-cice, and it is not impossible that here may have stirred in him a de-sire to avenge upon her some of the ruel wrongs, some of the rackings burning, confiscations, and banish-ments suffered by the men of his race at the hands of the men of hers. He may have bethought him of invaded ghettos, of Jewish maidens ravished, and Jewish children butchered in the name of the God those Spanish Christians worshiped, for there was something almost of contemptuous fierceness in his dark eyes and in the hand he flung out to indicate her.

October 23rd will determine much of the destiny of Ontario.

Let it be determined aright.

A victory for Government Control seems assured. But we cannot afford to take chances. Each citizen of Ontario who desires the life of his Province to be characterised by temperance and toleration has a duty.

That duty is to support the Moderation League in every possible way.

Time, Money, Service and Sympathy are needed. The time for action is NOW.

A campaign of the magnitude of that in which the League is presently engaged is expensive. If you are with us clip off and mail the attached coupon. Any money you send will be spent in your own district.

LITTLE GIRL DIES

2-Year-Old Kathleen Loughrey Succumbs To Injuries at Victoria Hospital.

Kathleen Loughrey, 2 years and 2 months old, 339 Simcoe street, daugh ter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loughrey, died last night in Victoria hospital as the result of injuries received when struck yesterday by an auto driven by Mrs. M. B. Fenton.

The accident occurred at noon yesterday. The little girl was playing across the street from her home with her sister Bernice, who is 3 years old. Her mother called to them to come to dinner, and Bernice started to run across the street. Mrs. Fenton was driving north on Waterloo street, and when she saw Bernice run into the street, she swerved her car to avoid hitting the child. But just as she swung the car, Kathleen ran off she swung the car, Kathleen ran on the curb and, it is stated, it was impossible for the woman to avoid hitting her. The front wheel of the car passed over the little girl's chest. Several of her ribs were broken, and these pierced her lung. She was taken to the hospital by Mrs. Fenton, and all efforts were work to save the and all efforts were made to save the little tot's life, to no avail. She seemed to rally during the afternoon, but

COMMISSION WILL BE NAMED TO PROBE SETTELL CHARGES

Ontario Government Decides To Take Action Following Consideration by Provincial Cabinet of Charges Made in Letter Received by Sir Adam Beck.

SAYS PERSONAL ITEMS CHARGED TO HYDRO

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Oct. 7 .- The Ontario government will appoint a commission to investigate certain charges against officials of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission and certain insinuations regarding hydro administration contained in a letter written to Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the hydro commission, by his former secretary, Clarence Settell. Settell is now in custody in Hamilton, charged with obtaining $29,925 by fraudulently cashing a hydroelectric check.

The decision to appoint a commission came after the letter had been considered by the provincial cabinet at a meeting starting this afternoon and which was not concluded until tonight. It was followed by a later meeting between Premier Ferguson, Sir Adam Beck, Hon. W. H. Price, K.C., Hon I. B. Lucas, hydro solicitor, and F. A. Gaby, chief hydro engineer. This conclave lasted until close to midnight, at which time the intention to appoint a commission tomorrow was stated by the prime minister.

There's a certain time of day when it requires very little mental magic for me to imagine myself in the role of a famous. moving picture star.

And that time of day is precisely at 9:01 a.m., when I'm looking for the first time at my fresh pile of morning mail, to determine what my shopping duties are to be.

Then I feel something in common with Mary Pickford. For the letters I find on my desk each morning must be almost as numerous as the ardent "fan" mail which Mary's secretary hands to her daily.

And I'm sure my correspondents are no less extensive in their range. Only the other day, when I commenced to open my mail, found a letter from San Antonio, way down in Texas. Just beneath it was a request for samples, from Cobalt, way up in "our New North." Often, often I get a whiff of the Atlantic or Pacific in letters from British Columbia or Prince Edward
