BLOCKADERS MAY CONTINUE GAB-FEST FOR SOME DAYS LONGER--THE SITUATION

The Discussion Will Be Confined to Clause By Clause.

Rules of Parliament Will Be Changed to Stop Trouble.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, March 10.—It is expected that the naval engagement will be resumed in the Commons this afternoon with prospects of another all-week sitting, unless developments at a ministerial caucus this afternoon should alter the situation. It is understood that at this caucus a decision will be reached as to the desirability of applying some measure of closure in Commons debates.

OTTAWA, March 10.—When the Liberals continue their obstruction of the Naval Aid Bill to-day—as they promise to do—they will not be able to travel the wide field of history and action left to them during the week that has just passed.

OTTAWA, March 10.—The change while hardly amounting to a closure, will suffice to prevent any minority, now or hereafter, abusing its privileges and blocking the necessary legislation.

The final touches to the program of the week will be given at a Ministerial caucus to be held to-day, and which will be succeeded by an important Cabinet Council.

Opposition Concerned.

That the failure of the past week and the certain prospect of a second before this week is giving the Opposition considerable concern was evidenced on Monday afternoon.

The Saturday Adjournment.

Laurier and the Closure

OTTAWA, March 10.—An indication of the Liberal anxiety to keep aloft by straws of imaginary comfort was given on Saturday. Sir James Whitney arrived in Ottawa.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is beginning to realize that the party has been placed in a hopeless position, that the Government cannot be forced to the country, and that the blockade must ultimately end in a humiliating collapse.

Moreover, Sir Wilfrid Laurier has ideas on the subject of closure. He knows that if some sort of closure is introduced as a result of the recent deadlock the responsibility will be his, and it is not a responsibility he is very anxious to assume.

Man Found Dead in Bodega Hotel Was Bert Griffin

The unfortunate man who was found dead in the Bodega Tavern on Friday night was Bert J. Griffin. He was identified on Saturday night by Mr. Chas. Teetsell, with whom he boarded at 19 Greenwich street.

Well Thought Of.

A Courier representative visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teetsell yesterday evening and in course of an interview, Mr. Teetsell stated that the deceased had come to his place to board about a month ago and that he was a painter by trade and employed as a letterer in the paint shop of the Adams Wagon Co.

He had stated that his folks were in good circumstances at the present time.

King George Lauds Canada For Generous Gift of Dreadnoughts

Opening of British Parliament To-day When King Made Reference to Defence Matters Now Under Discussion in Canada.

LONDON, March 10.—Even King George has not been omitted from the campaign of the suffragettes in the British Isles.

Vague threats had been uttered that something would be done by them during the ceremony of the opening of Parliament and while the King and Queen Mary were on their way to Westminster to-day, five women attempted to approach His Majesty in historic Whitehall and to hand him a petition setting forth the grievances of women.

The names of the five arrested women are Lillian Wilcox, Dorothy Smith, Kathleen Paget, Gertrude Vaughan and Grace Stuart. Each of them was armed with a rolled-up petition setting forth the grievances of women.

LONDON, March 10.—King George to-day opened the third session of the present parliament after a prorogation of only two days, the briefest recess on record.

The stately ceremonial was performed in the House of Peers, where His Majesty with Queen Mary took their places on the throne in the presence of a great gathering of richly-robed and jeweled peers and peersesses.

The opening was preceded by the familiar procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall, the centre of the brilliant picture being occupied by the great gilded glass coach drawn by the famous Hanoverian cream-colored horses, whose sole duty is to participate in these pageants.

A drizzling rain fell throughout the day, but this had no effect on the tens of thousands of sight-seers who hedged the route in dense masses and kept up a wave of cheering, calculated to act as a deterrent to anyone who might have had the intention of marring the function.

The King's speech from the throne was devoted chiefly to the steps which had been taken to bring the Balkan war to an end and to the expression of the desire of the European powers to hasten the conclusion of peace.

His Majesty opened with a graceful reference to the jubilee of the marriage of his parents, King Edward VII, and Queen Alexandra, and to his gratitude for the affection shown by the nation to the widowed Queen Mother Alexandra.

The portion of the speech dealing

MEN PERSIST IN DEMANDS

The men are very much dissatisfied and it is just possible there will be a walkout unless demands for salary increase, which have been considered fair and just are met.

TAX RATE THIS YEAR WILL BE ONE MILL ON DOLLAR LESS

FIREMEN ALSO WANT INCREASE

If the police department receives an increase in salary the firemen will certainly make a similar application and press it to the limit, was the statement made by one of the department this morning to The Courier.

'T WAS A WILD GOOSE CHASE

Constable Kerr's Trip to Toronto Was Fruitless--No Bennett Yet.

"It was a case of mistaken identity. The detective who thought he had Jack Bennett didn't have him at all, but another Indian whom I at once recognized."

This spoke High County Constable Kerr yesterday afternoon on his arrival back from Toronto. It was another wild-goose chase, and the constable was greatly disappointed.

"Did they get him?" was the query heard on all sides on the street.

The representatives who called were: Library Board, D. J. Waterous, E. Henwood, School Board, I. Scruton; Collegiate Board, J. P. Pitcher, R. E. Ryerson, Secretary; Buskard; Parks' Board, E. L. Good and J. J. Hawkins.

Mr. Alex. Cromar, Contractor—"You may rest assured there will be a big building season here this year. We are sitting up nights working on contract figures."

AN EXPLOSION NEAR GLASGOW

Terrific Crash When Dynamite Exploded at Irvine.

GLASGOW, Scotland, March 10.—A terrific explosion killed many inhabitants of the town of Irvine of Ayrshire, and injured hundreds of others to-day as well as virtually wrecked the town itself.

The explosion occurred at Nobel's Explosives Works at Arder, 20 miles from Glasgow.

ONE MINUTE INTERVIEWS

Mr. Alex. Cromar, Contractor—"You may rest assured there will be a big building season here this year. We are sitting up nights working on contract figures."

County Constable Kerr—"Next time I go after Bennett, I want the man to send me a photograph of the Indian first."

Capt. Wm Bentham—Brant Dragons—"Three squadrons will have to be recruited this year in their entirety, but the regiment will be up to full strength."

Mrs. E. D. Henwood Was Victim of Unfortunate Mishap.

Mrs. E. D. Henwood was the victim of a very painful and what might have resulted in a very serious accident on Saturday evening.

Music and Drama

"The Shepherd of the Hills," a dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's novel of the same name, by Mr. Wright and Elsbury V. Reynolds, is announced for production at the Grand Opera House, on Tuesday, March 11.

Never in the history of publishing of books has a novel attained such a wide-spread popularity in the short space of four years. It has exceeded by over one hundred thousand copies the sale of the previous biggest seller "David Harum." In making a play of his story the author, in collaboration with Mr. Reynolds, has retained the big dramatic possibilities of the book, making the love story of "Young Matt" and "Sammy Lane" his big theme. The play would be interesting even if it only depended upon its excellent character drawing, its entertainment, as the characters of the mountaineers of the Ozarks are indeed unusual upon the stage and lend a picturesqueness that is really worth while.

An attraction which should cause more than the usual desire to see a play is Neil Twomey's dramatization of Gene Stratton-Porter's widely-read story "Freckles," which will be the hit of the Grand Saturday Matinee. When it is considered that this fascinating story of Indiana's great swamp country, "The Limberlost," has had more than a million readers, there is no wonder that the drama is causing far more than the ordinary attention. Where a book contains the vital requisites for dramatization, the play is always of more interest than the story, because the imagination is not taxed and the characters are living, breathing ones.

AS TO AN ELECTION.

If there should be an immediate general election, which is not at all likely, what in the name of common sense would the Grits hope to gain?
 It is said that in such event they would count on a solid Quebec, but whatever feeling does exist in that Province is as much against the Laurtier proposal as the Borden. In fact, rather than vote for either, the spectator might be presented of a third party under Monk and Bourassa.
 That they could make any headway in Ontario is too ridiculous to receive much consideration. The vast majority among the people of this Province are heartily in favor of doing something in the matter of and right now. Take the two Plans as an illustration. Our friends, if they would, have to do a vast amount of scraping to even get two men to stand, and then it would be to recognize that they would be put up for sacrificial purposes.
 That which is true of these two things is also true of dozens of others in Ontario.

Yanukha does not afford them any hope, neither does British Columbia or Prince Edward Island.
 When then do they expect to come to the rescue?
 Moreover, and it is a factor to be considered, the Conservatives go to the country next time as the men in command, and would lock horns with a determined opposition, instead of
 with a government strongly entitled for years, as in 1911.
 Some more, an early election does seem probable, but if it should come, the things likely to happen to Laurier's aspirations would be altogether pitiful to relate.

THE SPECTACLE AT OTTAWA.
 Liberal speakers and Liberal papers are all endeavoring to make the pretence that their blocking of Ottawa have been adopted
 "Canadian autonomy"; to save
 "Canadian self-respect"; and a lot of brass buncombe of similar tone.
 The matter of fact it is not being done for anything of the kind, and they know it.

The main, sole, and sordid object is to lack into power once more,
 and this desire is accelerated because they wish to have another crack at Laurier, as there is no other hope developing.
 "Canadian autonomy" eh?
 What essential is that imperilled by the Borden plan? Not to the loss of a fraction of one centilla.
 Canada as a nation, within the great British Empire, is, and always will be, British, and the wording of the Borden proposals still further emphasizes that fact.
 To have "Canadian self-respect"
 is a matter of fact, it has for long been the great, yes, very great, desire of Canada, that she has for long allowed the Mother Land, at the cost of millions, to keep up a bluff for the defence, among other shames of the Empire, of Canadian and Canadian trade routes.
 The Borden project is to remove this unworthy stain.
 The Ministers of a Liberal government in the Old Land have stated that an emergency contribution will ably as great a revolution in its own way as that of the life-history of the automobile itself.

 The man who loves his horses will be the first to buy an automobile, because on the top of the saving to horse flesh and the consideration due to the animal, the automobile will save the man's time enormously. It carries the man or parcel to the desired place in less than half the time the horse will take it while it brings the farmer into close touch with the city since twenty miles with an auto is equal to six to a horse.
 The automobile is here to stay, and when you see a man who tells you what is going to happen if this ben-eigne buggy craze does not stop, he is the one who is getting ready to purchase.
 Good roads mean progress, prosperity, and benefit to the people using the city, and advantages to the people who live in the country. Good roads help all alike, like good streets.
 Good roads mean prosperous farms,
 had mean abandoned farms, sparsely settled country.

NOTES AND COMMENTS
 "Never touched me," is what the Naval Bill can say to that bunch of Grit jaw slammers.
 x x x
 Red Deer Clark is proving very dear to this country, owing to his voluminous powers of talk.
 x x x
 It is pretty safe these days to address any member of the Opposition at Ottawa as "Majaw."
 x x x
 Kicked out of Waterloo, Mackenzie King has now found a resting-place for his weary feet in North York.
 And that's where he'll get his gain
 when the time comes.
 x x x
 Do you notice how coolly the Borden Government is taking the situation at Ottawa? As for the Laurierities, they are presenting an hysterical exhibition of themselves unparalleled in Canadian political history.
 x x x
 Gab, gab, gab, the Grits still are talking.
 There's no let up to their saggy
 sound,
 Should election come they'd all be stalling.
 Hunting for some more Grits underground.
 x x x
 Dr. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, has been speaking in Washington again on behalf of Reciprocity. Some kind friends ought to take him on one side and tell him that he is making a laughing-stock and a nuisance of himself in seeking to make himself a self-appointed legislator on behalf of the Canadian people.

THE COST TO THE COUNTRY.
 Says the Ottawa Journal of Thursday last:
 "Parliament last year cost the country $2,444,000. The figures are taken from the Auditor-General's report.
 Last year the House was in session slightly over five months.
 This means that for the session of 1911-12 there was a cost to Canadians each day of something like $16, 000. If six thousand is deducted from this amount for salaries and indemnities which would be as great for a session of a month's duration—there is left $10,000 expenditures each day for maintenance and contingencies.
 Unless the obstructive tactics which the Opposition are now carrying out are abandoned, this session will run well up into the three million mark.
 This week alone will add an unnecessary amount of not less than $65,000 to the sum total.
 Up to to-day at noon the present deadlock had cost not less than $40, 000, and the price of the naval debate had reached the sum of $270,000.
 This huge sum must be placed against the navy before anything tangible has been done."

AUTOMOBILES FOR THE FARMERS
 Somebody, writing in the Petrolia Topic on the above subject, contributes a most interesting article from which these extracts are taken.
 To many of us it seems like yesterday when we stared at the "greatest thing of the century—the new horseless carriage, the first motor car (for the word "Automobile" had not yet been coined). It was a wonderful sight and to our boyish imagination eclipsed all we had ever seen either in visible machinery or invisible magic.
 To the wisecracks of the day the thing was a nine-days' wonder, a freak of some crazy conception, a silly and very expensive toy, designed and constructed by some fellows who had more money than time they knew what to do with, but to the serious rank and file such a thing could have no practical value.
 "Replace the horse!" Never in this world however long it might last!
 And just there the prophets were right, for it will never oust our four-footed friend from the economy of nature in general, and our social environment in particular. What has happened in the interval scarcely needs telling, but it is just this: the horse is of greater value and is in greater demand to-day for that reasonable and legitimate position it was "designed and built" to fill in the service of man.
 But what a change has come over things since then! In those days the horse on the street or toiling under its crushing burden along the country road was no more the subject of commiseration than is the Auto-truck of our city. While the rudely fashioned motor car has developed in less time than a quarter of a century into one of the biggest industries on earth, who will say that the value of horse flesh has depreciated, or that at the same time there has not been an equally sensible betterment in the quality and number of pre-bred horses.

BETTER THAN SPANKING Spanking will not cure children of habit but a dangerous disease. The tressing disease and to make known its merits they send a 50c. pack-

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

A Relay Race of Talkers.
 Toronto Telegram: A parliamentary majority must be as free to act as a parliamentary minority is free to talk.
 A majority is as well entitled to exercise its liberty of speech. What does it profit to elect a parliament for five years if a relay race of talkers can dissolve that Parliament at the end of eighteen months?
The Lion and Her Sturdy Cubs.
 Saskatoon, Sask., Starr.—"In the last six years a reduction of more than three hundred million dollars was made in the gross national debt of Great Britain. To be exact, $333,475-965 was taken from the national total of Britain's national indebtedness. Compelled to outstrip the naval growth of continental naval powers, which added to their national debts in a vain endeavor to outdistance Britannia, she had added to her navy and paid for the additions out of current account. Evidently the lion is as lusty as ever, and with her sturdy cubs will be able in the future, as in the past, to maintain her financial and general supremacy."

WORST STOMACH TROUBLE ENDED

Pape's Diapesin gives instant relief and the relief lasts.
 Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapesin and realize, not only immediate, but lasting relief.
 This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy, or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.
 If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heart burn, that is a sign of indigestion.
 Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping.
 This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.
 Pape's Diapesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and di-gests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.
 Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.
 These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

You Can See Their Goodness!

If you want to see with your eyes which rolled oats are best, compare a handful of Tillson's with a handful of any other rolled oats made.

Then if you wrote down the visible difference in the flakes, your tabulation would be like this:

Tillson's Flakes	The Other Flakes
Whole-unbroken.	A few whole—many broken.
Almost as thin as paper.	Much thicker than Tillson's.
Evenly thin.	Some thicker than others.
Uniform size.	All sizes.
Clean.	Mixed with particles of flour.

There's the Tillson's story in a nutshell. The unbroken flakes explain why Tillson's porridge is never in a jellied mass, but always as inviting as it is palatable. The extreme and even thinness of the Tillson's flakes, together with their uniform size and freedom from foreign particles, shows why Tillson's in 15 minutes are thoroughly cooked and perfectly digestible.

CAN LAUGH AT LIFE'S MINOR ILLS

SINCE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER KIDNEY DISEASE.

New Brunswick Woman Tells How She Was Rescued from Ill Health by the Twin Remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

NEGUAC ALLAIN, P. O. N. B. Mar. 10.—(Special)—Mrs. Jos. G. Savoy, a well known resident of this place, whose ill-health has been a matter of much concern to her friends, is telling of the cure she found for her troubles in Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"My health is fine now," Mrs. Savoy says, in an interview. "The pains are gone from my side and back and when I go to bed I can sleep. Before I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, I could not eat anything heavy, such as meat, but now I can eat practically what I please with no ill effects."

Mrs. Savoy was in a generally run-down condition, and her cure came about by using the natural remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured and invigorated her kidneys, thus purifying her blood and improving the circulation.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets insured proper digestion of her food, thus furnishing the body with the nutrition it required. Women with healthy kidneys and sound digestion can afford to laugh at the minor ills of life.

Son of Clergyman

Courier representative that the last they saw of the deceased was after tea on Friday night when in company with their son-in-law, Mr. Campbell Smith, he left the house to go up to one of the stores to purchase a rubber, which he did in Stedman's stationery store, for the purpose of using same to do some graining for a friend to whose home he intended to go when he returned. When the deceased did not come home on Friday night or Saturday morning those in the house became curious at his absence, and Mr. Teetsell took a walk around the principal streets to see if he could find him and not being successful returned home. He picked up an evening paper and read the account of the affair and becoming suspicious that something was wrong, went to the undertaking establishment where he identified the remains.

Mr. Campbell Smith.

Mr. Campbell Smith stated that he left the home of his father-in-law Mr. Teetsell, on Green street, on Friday night after tea and walked up to Stedman's stationery store, where the deceased purchased a rubber as he said for the purpose of using while doing some graining for a friend, which he intended to do after he went home. Mr. Smith said that they had gone into the bar room of the Bodega Tavern between 8 and 9 o'clock and were served. They came back shortly after nine and were served again. They went outside and after a short conversation parted and that was the last he had seen of him.

Mr. Smith said the deceased was a very steady man, very fond of children, a good singer and could play and sing at the piano, and would frequently do so for a long time, in fact he said that was how the deceased spent the most of his spare time.

Mr. Smith said that Griffin had a very refined manner, was always courteous and showed that he was a thorough gentleman.

One Year.

Mr. Teetsell and Mr. Smith stated that it was just a year from the time the deceased left England. Mr. Teetsell intended to communicate with the deceased's relatives at once.

On His Person.

On the deceased's person when searched were found a ten dollar bill two twenty-five cent pieces and a piece of paper marked:

"Port of Southampton, England, Date of departure 7, 5, 12, Name of Steamer, Anconia. (John B. Griffin). American Consulate, Southampton, England."

Canadian Immigration, admitted, March 19th, 1912.

At the Adams' Wagon works, Griffin also made friends.

The police think that his death was due to strangulation, as when found his head was reclining forward, and he had fallen asleep in this position. While Griffin was intoxicated it is doubted if this was really the cause of death. The inquest will be held on Wednesday evening.

POLICE COURT

Interesting Cases Heard by Magistrate Livingston This Morning

Charles La Rush was charged with abducting the 14 year old daughter of Margaret Neilson in court, this morning La Rush, who boarded at the Neilson house started out early Sunday morning for a trip to Hamilton, to spend the day, the Neilson girl accompanying him The latter had a case to deliver to a Miss Foster in Hamilton, which she served it as an excuse for her going. Mrs. Neilson became anxious about her daughter and upon the arrival of the pair on a late car Sunday evening, La Rush was arrested. This morning the case came up. Mr. Charlton appeared for the defendant and Mr. McEwen for the crown, in the absence of Mr. Wilkes. The Neilson girl said that it was upon her suggestion that they had gone and they had not thought that anything was wrong. Moreover, the Neilson girl had told La Rush she was 17, although she was but 14. His Worship was of the opinion that the girl was mostly to blame and dismissed the case, advising the girl to pay more attention to the advice of her mother in future.

Alex. Lowe appeared for the first time in over a year on a charge of being drunk and was allowed to go.

Wm. Harrison's case was adjourned until to-morrow. He was also charged with being drunk.

Heavy Fine.

Arthur Ingely evidently is fond of excitement or else likes to hear the ding-a-ling of the fire carts. He paid twenty-five dollars for the privilege of calling out the firemen when nothing was doing. He was found guilty of sending in a false alarm from Box 62. P. C. Pickles gets the reward for the conviction.

Two plumbers, T. Minnes and Alf Taylor were charged with a breach of the water by-law, their case has been adjourned for a week.

Walter Nichols was found guilty of stealing five dollars from the pockets of a boarder in the same house as costs this morning as a gentleman reminds that stealing is a crime.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The Prime Minister's announcement was received with a tempest of cheers from his followers, a roar of enthusiasm that showed the party to have come out of the first week of the struggle more than ever determined that Canada shall do the decent thing by the Empire. The hundred and twenty-nine hours ended in a scene which has never been equalled in the House. Probably nothing exactly like it will ever come again. The midnight adjournment after a whole week of continuous sitting was witnessed by a great throng of sightseers, who filled all the galleries of the chamber with eager interest at the scene which was being enacted on the floor of the green chamber. A large number of ladies in evening dress occupied the Speaker's, Senate ladies' galleries, and at the close of the sitting they were serenaded by the jubilant Conservative members.

Mr. Carvell the Last.

Frank B. Carvell, one of the most prominent of the Liberal obstructionists, had held the floor for an hour before the arrival of the clock announced the arrival of Sunday. Carvell was going over the old ground of alleged discrepancies between the sets of figures given to the House on the cost of fleet building.

He was the target for frequent interruptions of a good-natured sort, and his conclusions as to the accuracy of the figures supplied by the Admiralty elicited exclamations of deep and profound surprise, such as "couldn't that bump you?" He was also requested by a Conservative member to "break it easy."

At 12 o'clock Premier Borden, who had been given an ovation on entering the chamber, asked Mr Carvell if he wanted to continue after midnight.

"No," said Mr. Carvell.

"Then," said the Prime Minister, "I will move that the committee rise and report progress, and ask leave to sit again."

The Speaker then made the formal announcement that the committee had reported "some progress," at which there was a laugh, the Opposition having obstructed all progress on the bill. Mr Borden moved the adjournment of the House.

Liberals Not Good Singers.

The motion was carried at once, and the tension broke. Both sides of the house began to cheer. The Liberal members attempted to sing "God Save the King," but by reason of unfamiliarity or for some other cause the attempt was a dismal failure, ending in a sound like the last cheerer warning the rest of a banshee. The Conservative members, however, on striking up the National Anthem made a complete success of the undertaking.

Thereupon the Liberals sang "Canada," the strains of which were speedily lost in those of "The Red, White and Blue," begun simultaneously by the Conservatives. After a while at the back of the chamber the Conservative choir sang "Good Night Ladies," and afterwards, "Rule Britannia."

The Liberals with a final cheer had already left the chamber.

The Liberal wind jammers kept up all through Saturday morning their continuous performance. From 3 a.m. the successive speakers were Bourassa of Lewis; Mulhally of Provencher; Warnock of MacLeod; Verville of Maisonneuve, and Nesbitt of Oxford.

The last mentioned finished at 10, and then for an hour Mr. Pugsley jumped into the trench. White of Victoria, Alberta, a man who is seldom heard from, followed.

THE BELOVED POETESS

THE LATE MISS JOHNSON

A friend of the late Miss Johnson telephoned the Courier this morning to state that she had just opened an old photograph birthday book in which Miss Pauline Johnson had written the date of her birth and autograph. Brotherhood Service.

The annual service of the Colborne Street Church Brotherhood was held last evening. About 200 men occupied the centre seats. There was a very large congregation present. The pastor, Rev. T. E. Holling, preached on "The conservation of the human assets of the nation." Referring to the modern movements that are attracting men, Mr. Holling remarked on the great growth and wonderful possibilities of the Brotherhood and Men and Religion Movement. The choir rendered an anthem in excellent style. Mrs. Leeming inspired the audience with her rendition of Alletson's "The Lord is My Light," and also sang a duet with the pastor.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid took place on Friday morning, at the Library, with a good attendance, and was presided over by the President, Mrs. J. E. Waterous.

The minutes having been read and approved, the financial statement followed. In the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Watt, through illness, Mrs. F. D. Fees were received from Mrs. Mitchell, Collector for Cainsville, $6.00; Mrs. Maynard, Eagle Place, $13.00; Miss Jones, North Ward, $11.75; and from Holmdale Children's Aid, $2.65, collected by Messdames Hutton, Varey, Syer and Hartwell. Bitter-Sweet.
Just a living and a smiling, force of habit, that is all.
Just a smile to nature, drinking sweet-sour gail.
Just a kindly loving feeling for the rabbit and the elite.
Caring not for snow or summer, feeding her on bitter-sweet.

Wearry days of toil and trouble pass on ever-moving screen;
Sunny hours of cheerful effort, laughing spirits near, unseen.
Life flows on: soon life eternal, soon His smile and bliss complete.
Changed from atom into being—gone all taste of bitter-sweet.
—Caroline in the Scranton Times.

Passing of Fat Babies
It seems that with babies, as with wearing apparel, there is fashion which must be observed, if one would be popular. There was a time when a fleshy, dimpled darling took prizes at London baby shows, but its day has gone by. These facts have just been emphasized by a show that has just opened, at the St. Columba Church Medical mission. There are 60 competitors, but only one Falstaffian baby among them.

"There is no doubt," said a nurse in attendance, "that plump babies have gone out of fashion. These thin, even graceful, little creatures are well nourished, too, so the fact that they are not fat cannot be laid to their food among them."

To study these 60 Hoxton babies all so gay in their grand frilly caps and bows of ribbon was to realize what a revolution has taken place in the baby world. The modern infant in arms is as different from its predecessor of five or six years ago as chalk from cheese. The beely "John Bull" baby has gone out of fashion.

Dr. Wilkes, Brantford's Great Trotter Sold To a Calgary Man

That sensational and consistent performer, Dr. Wilkes, owned by Mr. R. W. McIrvine, was sold in Brantford on Saturday for a good round sum, Mr. F. T. Lowes of Calgary, is the new owner. The announcement of the deal will be received with great interest by local horsemen. Dr. Wilkes proved a wonderful performer last year. His big races were at Columbus, O., and Augusta, Me., although the campaign he went through was a heavy one and proved him a horse of real stamina. Dr. Wilkes (2:11 1/4), was sired by Willingwood easily led the defence of the N.H.A. with 15 goals to the credit of Ernie Russell, of Wanderers, who will down lamely for a centration, bagging but six goals all season.

McDonald and his Sydney team should blaze the trail in the Stanley Cup series. And that Quebec will be quite congenial to the outcome experts.

Farrell and will be placed on the baseball black list. Lamond cannot play organized baseball any place on the continent outside of Brantford in spite of the fact that he doesn't like the size of the salary offered. President Nelson states that he has offered Lamond all he can pay under the salary limit, and that no matter how well he likes a player, he will not have the club go over the $1,400 per month limit. There was something like $30 per month between the Red Sox boss and Lamond, with the result that Matty will probably play in the buster this summer.

The Brantford club has fortified itself by securing two cracking good catchers in McCarthy and English, last year's second string catcher, Collins, having been released.

Big Opening is Under Way
The Canadian League opening here on May 7, when the Ottawa team plays Brantford promises to be a hummer this year. Hon. J. W. Hanna, provincial Secretary, has been invited to pitch the first ball, and will likely accept the invitation. An effort will be made to have a half holiday among the stores for the occasion. At any rate it is hoped to have the stores close at 3 o'clock on the big day.

SPORTING COMMENT By FREE LANCE

A well-known horseman remarked to-day that he never remembered when local horsemen were so enthusiastic in Brantford as at the present time. "There are," he said "some mighty good young horses in the city now, and there is no question but that the horse is coming back for carriage purposes again. The Toronto horse show this year promises to be a brilliant affair. Among the local owners who have picked up some remarkably clever performers are Messrs. Wisner, Colter, E. H. Wehling and Mr. Fred Westbrook. The great work of Dr. Wilkes around the circuit last summer was mighty creditable to his owner, Mr. R. W. McIrvine. Dr. Wilkes will be seen in many of the big stakes races again this year, and will doubtless pull down a lot of money for his owner, Mr. D. T. Lowes, of Calgary.

And who would ever think that Matty Lamond would become a hold-out? Discussing the baseball schedule, President Nelson says he is not impressed with the fact that he has Guelph here for three Saturdays.

The funniest ringside comment Jim Corbett ever heard, he says, was at the Palzar Kaufman fight in New York. Palzar was pummeling Kaufman around the ring and giving him an unmerciful beating. Just after Kaufman was staggering from an unusually hard wallop, some on in the gallery piped up— "Kaufman, you're wanted at the telephone."

When Sir Thomas Lipton was a boy on the banks of the Clyde, he dreamed of building yachts and sailing them. And by the time he moved, still single-handed, from Stobcross street to High street, he had made plans for all the High streets of Great Britain; before he had an acre of his own he had determined upon the tea garden in Ceylon. He crossed the Atlantic a poor boy, to finish his education in the open university of the labor market. After a rough time in and out of work, he was able to return to Glasgow, a hundred pounds in pocket. Then came the first shop, swept and served by its owner; the bed beneath the counter; the first customer and the million followers; the first advertisement (it cost seven-and-six in the local paper); the vans upon the highway; the ships at sea; the farms and factories at home; the company and the Cup; the title and the Alexandra Trust; Osside and King Edward. He has made good use of his wealth. His gift to the Princess of Wales' fund for the Diamond Jubilee feast for the poor was £25,000, and he handed a cheque for £100,000 to the Lady Maybrook of London. Signed photographs in drawing rooms and state cabins commemorate many picturesque incidents in the history of the merchant prince. He visited Sandringham; and King Edward was on board Shamrock II when the mast so famously collapsed. Sir Thomas has had many triumphs—but the Cup is still unwon, and the famous yachtman still unmarried.

Says Tom Watson, a well known football writer: Great efforts are being made to put down the betting evil in the old country in connection with football, and the cases arising out of the raid by Newcastle police on the premises of Collins and Chayton, the big football bookmakers, were disposed of by a fine of £100 each and £50 costs. It was declared by the prosecuting officer that this concern had as agents numerous club officers, players and officials. The cases having been dealt with, the Football Association will order a commission to be held in Newcastle to enquire into these statements. There is also an interesting case proceeding in Edinburgh, and here also big penalties may be inflicted.

"Baseball Brains is Baseball Brains," Says Pitcher Blanding
PENSACOLA, Fla., March 10.—"Baseball brains is baseball brains," says Fred Blanding, one of the college men on the Nap roster. "The only value a higher education is to a baseball player is that college career makes him more susceptible to training," says Fred. "During a fellow's years at college he learns how to train. He becomes accustomed to working his physical self under the direction of one. When he enters big league baseball and comes to the spring training trips it is easier for him to stand the grind of the conditioning practice.

Seized Gate Money to Pay for Sweaters.
Hamilton, Mar 10.—On a warrant of execution, a Sheriff's officer seized the Tecumseh's share of the gate receipts at the hockey match on Friday night at the Alert's rink. It is said that a local men's furnishing firm seized the money to satisfy a claim for sweaters that were furnished to the Tecumseh's. The latter played the Toronto here in an exhibition game.

In Big Leagues

The Boston Nationals have sold outfielder Kaiser to San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League.

The Detroit Club this season, among others, adopted the policy of paying the expenses of recruits to the training camp.

Catcher George Schlei, released by Louisville, may, according to reports, join Manager Stovall at Waco and assist in coaching the Browns' pitchers.

Frank (Inky) Davis, star third baseman of the Georgetown university team at Washington, has signed with Cincinnati, but will not report until June 1.

Jimmy Maroney, a southpaw pitcher, who had trials with both Detroit and the Chicago Cubs last season has been signed by Columbus of the American Association.

Because of the illness of his wife, Shortstop Arnold Hauser, of the St. Louis Cardinals, has been given permission to delay his reporting at the training camp in Georgia.

Charles Keckner, a scout for the St. Louis Browns, is coaching the Albright College team at Myersburg, Pa., his regular spring job before he goes out gum-shoeing.

Manager Griffith announces that Scout Kahoe's sole duty this year will be to land a capable second baseman for the Cubs, and that if he does that his season's pay will have been earned.

John F. Kilfoyle, who gave up money like a millionaire to the American League going in the wardways, left an estate valued at $220,000. It goes to his widow outside of some minor bequests.

Hugo T. Wedell, a Philadelphia National recruit, is a regular high-brow, being a member of the faculty of the University of Kansas when not working at baseball. The Kansas professor is a third baseman.

Reports from Tampa are that Manager Evers has already selected his team and that Bridwell will be the regular shortstop, with Corridor only a substitute. Phelan will be under study to Zimmerman at third.

The Naps have signed a Mississippi semi-pro pitching product named Paddy, who has already been named Pettty. He is a right hander and his home town is Dodson, in Mississippi. It is presumed Bob Gilks found him.

Charles Doolin, manager of the Phillies, has changed his mind about selling Pat Moran, the veteran catcher to the Cincinnati Reds. Doolin has informed Joe Tinker, however, that he can have Moran in exchange for a player.

One report has it that John Kling will get $6,000 a year for backstopping for the Reds, and President Herrman and Manager Tinker were so keen for him that they offered to make arrangements to set him up in the billiard business in Cincinnati.

Baseball Stories Of Interest

Rollo Zeider of the White Sox was presented with a little wabanone carved out of ivory by Rossy Rosenbaum, one of the reporters who accompanied the Comiskey party to California. Zeider showed it to the boys at the hotel, and one of them asked: "Where'd it come from, Rollo?"

"Why, it's the wishbone of a turtle," grinned Zeider. And the recruit believed it.

One of the most laughable incidents connected with the trip of the White Sox special to California was at a certain station where speeches and presentations were made.

Comiskey, Callahan, Ed. Walsh, Tip O'Neill, Ted Sullivan and several of the ladies of the party were standing on the observation platform and the crowd was yelling wildly not to say enthusiastically.

A prominent orator of the town reeled off yards of red hot chatter and became so excited he mixed his language up a trifle. "And, finally," he shouted, "I will say one thing for your benefit, Mr. Comiskey. The citizens of this place will sympathize with the White Sox at the end of this season."

Certainly some thought. The holdout went upon the stage, and there he learned the grammar; they taught him how to rant and rage, to raise a tragic clamor. He soon became an actor fine.

Was hep to slange capers," he heard on the baseball diamond, at the expense of Amos Strunk, of the Athletics, in Chicago one day last summer.

Walsh was pitching one of his usual air-tight games, and when Strunk hit an easy grounder to short, Gleason started to kid the player, said Cicotte. "Strunk returned the compliment and compared Gleason to a bit of old junk."

The Kid gave a short laugh, and then turning to Billy Evans, who was snoring exclaimed: "Billy, look at the original door knob."

"As he spoke Gleason pointed at Strunk's head. "Amos flushed to the roots of his hair, tried to answer, couldn't and then retreated to the Philadelphia bench.

"During the remainder of the season all a player had to say to get Strunk's goat, was 'door knob.' Amos would fight at the mention of that.

London on All Stars
London, Ont., March 10.—Wilbur Moranz, the 19-year-old forward of the London junior O.H.A. team has been selected to play left wing for the all-stars against the Orillia champions. Moranz will be pitted against Jupp, the fastest right wing player in the junior series and will undoubtedly make a good showing. He is a fast and clever stickhandler. His aggressiveness on the London juniors gives him the preference over all the other left wings in western Ontario.

Real Tragedy Was Enacted
It's too bad, but it has to be done. The verdict was unanimous, but attached thereto was a recommendation of mercy.

The case was tried in the police station, Sunday morning. Assembled were members of the force and License Inspector Eacrett. The subject of trial was a quantity of booze, including a half keg of beer and a wagon load of the bottled variety. Willing hands tenderly lifted the effervescent stuff and poured it into the storm sewer in the paved highway, adjacent to headquarters. Said booze had been seized, not because of its quality, but because of its quantity at one Roback's house, a foreigner. He was fined $100, but the tragic end of the booze, was the saddest part of it all.

"First thing they know, they'll be having an investigation," said a burly constable over the reports. "That booze is flowing freely around the police station."

Geo. English, Brantford's new catcher, and one of the most promising recruits secured this year.

CHURCH AND STAGE

Success of Rev. J. O. Hannay as Dramatist Creates Alliance.

Mr. George A. Birmingham has made his debut as a playwright before a London audience with a farce entitled "General John Regan." This is not his first attempt on the stage, for a year ago a comedy of his was produced at Dublin with great success.

"George A. Birmingham" is the pseudonym of the Rev. James O. Hannay, honorary canon of St. Patrick's and rector of Westport, in County Mayo. He was born and reared in Ulster, has always belonged to the Protestant Church, and is, notwithstanding, an ardent Home Ruler and an enthusiastic Gaelic Leaguer. It is as an author that "George Birmingham" is known in Great Britain and this country. He has given us admirable fiction in "Spanish Gold," "The Major's Niece," and "The Northern Iron," whilst he is also responsible for a most diverting book entitled, "The Lighter Side of Irish Life."

As a writer for the stage, "George Birmingham" has had absolutely no training. He has been visiting the theatre on a few occasions in his own country, and attending a few Bernard Shaw plays since, he has been a stranger to the theatrical world. He confesses he is absolutely ignorant of stage technique, and yet his play has been very favorably received by the critics.

A friend suggested to him that he should write a play to attempt to dramatize some of his novels, but without success. Then he recalled the plot of a short story which he contributed to a magazine many years ago. On the idea of this short story he built his play. He took three nights to write it, then he revised it, and after handing it over to the typist he dispatched it to Mr. Chas. Hawtreay, who at once made an offer for its production.

The Prophecy of 1813. I wonder whether you know the story of the prophecy of the four fatal figures four times repeated which is being talked about all over Paris just now, asks John N. the "Bystander." The prophecy was made in 1829 by Mademoiselle Lenormand, a French "wise woman," of the present Kaiser's never-to-be-forgotten grandfather, William the First of Prussia asked Mademoiselle Lenormand in 1829 when he would take his command of the army. "Put down the figures of this year," she said, "and add them to the date like this, 1829 plus 1 plus 8 plus 2 plus 9 equals 1849." "You may remember that in 1849 William the First of Prussia marched against the Duchy of Baden. "What will be the most important event in my career after this one?" she asked William. "Put down 1849 and add the four figures composing it to it in the same way," said the prophetess. "The result is 1871, when the King of Prussia became Emperor of Germany. "And the date of my death?" he asked. "Take 1871 and use the same key to your destiny in the same manner," said Mlle. Lenormand. He added 1, 8, 7 and 1 to 1871 and the total 1888 was the year of his death. "And when?" he asked. "Will Germany have to fight with all her strength to defend what we hope to conquer for her?" Mlle. Lenormand pointed to the pencil and the figures 1888. "Three rights are 24," she said. "Add 25. Add 25 to 1888." The result is 1913. Are you superstitious?

Taming the Shrew. A friend of Sobern, the elder, the great comedian, told an anecdote of him the other day. Once, when he was a member of Laura Keane's company, Miss Keane, whose temper was as impetuous and violent, took offence and became exceedingly angry with him. It was evening, and she had summoned him to come to her room, intending to vent her rage in a tirade of censure.

"I know her way," afterwards related Sobern, "and I did not wait for her to speak. "Before you utter a word, Miss Keane," I said, "let me turn down the gaslight."

"What is that for?" she cried, amazed as well as enraged. "Because," I answered, "I can bear to endure whatever you have to say, but I cannot bear to see those beautiful eyes blazing with passion and that lovely face distorted with wrath. Go on now, and say whatever you please."

"She was immediately mollified, and we were friends again."

Don't Smoke in Winter. A phisician writing to The Family Doctor (London) says that smoking has a worse effect on most people in winter than in summer, and he advises all smokers who find their health and mental faculties impaired in winter to forgo apparent reason to accept success as the explanation and to cut down their smoking during the colder months. Tobacco, he says, is a powerful drug, and cannot be consumed in large quantities without producing a certain effect on the heart. It must be remembered that during the winter the heart has a great deal more work to do than in summer, for the cold causes the blood vessels to become small and pinched. It is thus less able to bear the extra strain put upon it by smoking.

Remission Amnesty. On the occasion of a coronation, the royal clemency is usually extended to some classes of offenders. When our present King came to the throne all deserters from the army or navy were pardoned, and allowed to come back to their homes if they had left the country.

The Gray Kangaroo. Perhaps the most remarkable of Australia's fauna is the big gray kangaroo, which, measuring seven feet from nose to tail, can clear ten yards at a jump and travel faster than a horse.

IMPERIALIST PIONEER

EX-PREMIER DEAKIN HAS WORK EDIHARD FOR THE IDEA.

Australian Statesman Was Largely Responsible For Bringing the Australian Naval Schemes to Their Present Stage of Advancement. Paid For British Squadron to Protect Island Continent.

It is more than ever easy for Canadians to say that Canada leads all the overseas dominions in the matter of Imperial relationship and defence. In Australia there may be different opinions, says Canadian Courier. The present Australian High Commissioner, Sir George Reid, in Canada a few months ago, may think differently. Sir Premier Andrew Fisher, who rode with Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the coronation procession. And Mr. Alfred Deakin, Premier before Sir Andrew Fisher, may have his own ideas about the significance of a Vancouver conference for the purpose of studying what may be done to organize a Pacific Imperial squadron, both Canadian and Australian, for the defence of Imperial interests on the Pacific.

HON. ALFRED DEAKIN. The recent utterances of Premier Sir Richard McBride point in this direction.

But whatever statesmen may or may not think of the concept, it is certain that Australia, who, twelve years ago, emerged from her "penal twilight," has done Imperial things which she began to do under the energetic Premiership of Mr. Deakin before the present Labor party got the ascendancy in the Commonwealth. In Australia the naval and military service began to do under the leadership of Imperial Government and the Commonwealth for the maintenance of a naval force from 1903 to 1913. Australia made no contribution; the payments were for a squadron of British ships to be stationed in Australian waters. A more recent feature of their program is the building and maintenance of certain bases for an Australian squadron of the royal navy, under the command of the Commonwealth, in times of peace, and part of the eastern fleet of the royal navy in war. In military matters, the Premier Deakin, which began in 1903, made great progress. Australia, under the present Labor Government, has practical compulsory service—no called by that name—in which every man between sixteen and twenty-six is a soldier, and must spend certain number of days every year in military training. Ex-Premier Deakin, who has just resigned from the Opposition in Australia, knows how advanced that service is. He was member for Ballarat in the House of Representatives; several times member of the Federal Council for Australia, chairman of committee of public accounts, and for twenty years consecutively member of the Parliament of Victoria.

A Piscatorial Bishop. The Rt. Rev. Edmund Archbishop Knox, Bishop of Manchester, Eng., witnessed an alliance the other week between the See of Manchester and that of Lincoln, for a son of his married daughter of the Bishop of Lincoln. Bishop Knox has four sons and two daughters—a very imposing family these days.

The bishop is the son of a clergyman, and was born in Bangor. He was educated at St. Paul's School, and Oxford. His "Varsity career" was a brilliant one, for he gained numerous honors and was Boden Sanserif Scholar. For a time he was a tutor at Merton College, Oxford, and his parish work commenced when he was appointed to the living of Leicester. He then proceeded to the important living of Aston, Birmingham, after which his promotion was rapid. He was appointed an Honorary Canon of Worcester Cathedral, then Suffragan of Worcester in 1893. From 1894 to 1903 he was Bishop of Coventry, from whence he was appointed to Manchester.

A Blow to Chevalier. Mr. Albert Chevalier, the famous interpreter of "cooter" life, had a somewhat disturbing experience in the early days of his career. He was giving a performance at a West End theatre, but the audience failed to appreciate or respond to his humor. Just as he was nearing the end of his performance there was a terrific round of applause, and he thanked his stars that success was his at last. He was about to take an encore, when the manager seized him by the arm and pulled him into the wings.

"Done well, haven't I?" asked Mr. Chevalier. "Hear the applause!" "You silly ass, they're not clapping you," replied the manager. "It's the Prince of Wales who's just come in."

AN EASTERN REFORMER.

Madame Badia Is One of Egypt's Strongest Women.

The chief objection to be brought against a western education for Oriental women is that the finished article is too often a hybrid, neither East nor West. She is apt to ape the ideas of the West yet without assimilating them thoroughly; to despise the customs of her own country instead of trying to improve or develop the best that they embody. "Yet there are some glorious exceptions. From time to time some 'gem of purest ray serene' is thrown up on the wave of education. Bahis Badia, the daughter of a professor judge was educated at one of the chief girls' schools in Cairo that are under the Egyptian Government. She is an Egyptian of the Egyptians and glories in it. Her school days were extremely happy and she formed a warm friendship with the headmistress, one of the most intelligent and best of the honorables of the Egyptian metropolis. At school Bahis studied with zeal and did well in all subjects; mathematics, literature, history, and the study of the Koran. Her learning grew with a strong root in the garden of her mind. When she returned to her father and home she still pursued her law studies. He observed degenerating tendencies in the mixture of law and business.

In the cultured atmosphere of her country home, she was conversant with such topics as Home Rule, the Workmen's Compensation Act, the comparative strength of the German and British fleets, and the influence of the cups of fragrant black coffee with which the chief meal of the day is concluded. In politics Madame Badia is an ardent Nationalist, believing firmly in Egypt for the Egyptians. She has the noblest aspirations for her own sex and wishes to see her country advanced towards the undignified position which they have held in Egypt for centuries to the state of independence and independence of the days before the Prophet. For her records that women of the Orient, in the pre-Mohammedan era, followed professions and went unveiled, respected by all men, and were engaged in an Egyptian woman of to-day. Under the present divorce laws it is possible for a man to repudiate his wife on slight and frivolous pretexts. The schools are too few, as yet, to deal with more than a very small portion of the rising generation. In many homes the girls lead unhappy lives, become disabled by their sex, they grow neglected to womanhood with the highest degree of ignorance and religious instruction. For many generations mere physical beauty has been almost all that has been asked of them and their own chief aim.

Madame Badia's house is comfortably furnished in a style partly European, partly Eastern. It is a low-roofed building. Like all Redoubt is extremely hospital. When her solitude is shared by some valued friend of her school days it is her delight to plan pleasant entertainments of carriage drives, picnics or some interesting scene of native life during the visit.

When the daily domestic tasks are finished, she reads, writes and thinks. Her sister-in-law is a woman of the old-fashioned type, occupied with her babies but understanding little of how part of the eastern fleet of the royal navy in war. In military matters, the Premier Deakin, which began in 1903, made great progress. Australia, under the present Labor Government, has practical compulsory service—no called by that name—in which every man between sixteen and twenty-six is a soldier, and must spend certain number of days every year in military training. Ex-Premier Deakin, who has just resigned from the Opposition in Australia, knows how advanced that service is. He was member for Ballarat in the House of Representatives; several times member of the Federal Council for Australia, chairman of committee of public accounts, and for twenty years consecutively member of the Parliament of Victoria.

Commons-Hawlers. The Lower House in England is more prolific in quantity, if not in quality, than its stock of hawks than the Lords, seeing that it has no many more opportunities. Capt. Craig, the fiery Ulsterman, cooked the following oratorical stew: "The naked sword is drawn for the fight, and never again will the black smoke of the Nationalists' tar barrels enshroud the Home Rule wind to darken the hearts of Englishmen. If anything could kill Home Rule, one would think that would."

A Nationalist member, upon a recent occasion, was pointing ridicule upon the fact that farms from which both tenants and live stock had been evicted, were under police protection. "What foolishness!" he said, "what all the beasts on it are the sea-gulls that fly over it!"

Sir Wm. Dyke was criticizing the Standing Order forbidding poets upon speaking during general elections. Someone had quoted Lord Halsbury as doing so, and Sir William solemnly declared that the only honorable gentleman has gone to the top of the tree and caught a very large fish."

Diner's Wanderings. One of the latest West End characters in London is the perambulating diner. The person in question, an elderly man, entered a restaurant in Soho, and in a moment was supplied with a dish of five oysters and a glass of water. The diner, who had not said a word, ate the oysters thoughtfully, emptied the glass, paid the waiter, and in five minutes had left. "Heard off?" "As for the soup," said the diner, "he never has more than one course at any place. With the soup he will have half a bottle of white wine and some toast. Then he will go to a third place for the fish, and to a fourth for something from the grill. With this he will have half a bottle of burgundy. He never has any sweets or cheese, but finishes at a fifth restaurant, where he gets the best coffee. He holds me one evening that a fifth restaurant in Soho each of which excelled in a certain dish. He says the little walk between each course helps his digestion. A dinner takes him about two hours."

The Difference. A good story against himself is told by the Archbishop of Canterbury. When he was a curate at Thirford he conducted a Sunday school class in a neighboring parish. The subject was King Solomon, and after the lesson he catechized the children. "Tell me, boys," he said, "what was the difference between Solomon and other men?" "He was wiser than other men," said the future primate. "Was there any difference, for instance, between King Solomon and myself?" A pupil, who was no answer. "Come, reply," said the archbishop, "was there any difference between you and me?"

Jumping a Thousand Hurdles. The craze for strange records began a great many years ago. There was an elderly London omnibus driver named Priestly who at Hull, in 1863, jumped a thousand hurdles, each three feet six inches high, in sixty-one and a half minutes. It is said that this record has never since been equalled. Priestly began omnibus driving in the same year, 1863, and during his forty-six years in the service of the London General Omnibus Co. he drove a distance of about 880,000 miles.—London Strand.

LAW FOR LAW'S SAKE

H. M. LUDWIG HAS NO USE FOR BUSINESS-BARRISTERS.

The New President of the Ontario Bar Association Thinks the Mixture of Law and Business Will Have a Deteriorating Effect on the Bar in Ontario, and Urges Strongly Against It.

"In my opinion—law is a profession and not a sideline to a business. A lawyer has no business in real estate or company management, at the expense of his legal work. In this kind of thing keeps up, where are we going to get our real leaders of the bar?" The opinions with the question tagged on were given by Mr. H. M. Ludwig, who has been made president of the Ontario Bar Association. He takes the place of Mr. Nickel, K.C., of Belleville, last year's president. Mr. Ludwig is as well known as any lawyer in Ontario to members of the honorable profession. He has held all the positions which a barrister may fill who gives attention to the broader aspects of the law.

H. M. LUDWIG, K.C. which, if unchecked, may do away with really impressive arguments in the courts. His view of the law is that of an artist—law for the law's sake. Great pictures are not painted on great books written by men engaged in side lines; nor should legal interpretations of weight be the work of lawyers, distracted by remote interests.

President Ludwig is one of the most distinguished graduates of Osgoode Hall Law School. He won the medals in every year of his course, and graduated with the gold medal. In 1892 he was president of the Osgoode Legal and Literary Society, in days when an election at the school was the event of the year. During 1892-3 he was examiner of the Law Society. In 1910 he was made K.C. Mr. Ludwig, for twenty-five years, has been the firm of Ritchie, Ludwig and Ballantyne.

GRANDMOTHER USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HER FADED OR GRAY HAIR

Mixed With Sulphur It Makes Hair Soft, Beautiful Cures Dandruff

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She glossy and abundantly darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But the being at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called

"Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting Wyeth's which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair—its splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it is so easy to use too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

Essential Differences Between Polar Regions

Interesting Article of Dr. Allen Cleghorn of This City—Some Conclusions.

The annual banquet of the National Geographic Society, recently held in Washington, was marked by several features of more than usual interest. Admiral Peary, the discoverer of the North Pole, presented Captain Roald Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole, with the Society's gold medal. In the course of his remarks Peary drew attention to the fact that conditions at the two poles are as different as can possibly be. They may be summarized as follows:

1 (a) The North Pole is situated at the centre of the hemisphere of the land, yet is itself located in an ocean. (b) The South Pole is situated at the centre of the hemisphere of water, yet is itself located in a continent.

2 (a) An explorer at the North Pole stands on the frozen surface of an ocean two miles or more in depth. (b) An explorer at the South Pole stands on the surface of a great interior snow cap, two miles or more above sea level.

3 (a) The most northerly north polar lands possess an abundance of animal life—musk-ox, reindeer, Polar bear, wolf, fox, Arctic hare, ermine, lamming, and birds, as well as some forms of insect life—and during the few weeks in summer numbers of brilliant flowers. (b) On the Antarctic continent there is absolutely no form of animal or vegetable life, though two or three species of sea birds (Arctic Krug) breed during a few weeks in summer at several places on the coast.

4 (a) Human life is found within some 700 miles of the North Pole. (b) The nearest human life is some 2,000 miles from the South Pole.

5 (a) Expeditions to discover the North Pole have been going on for nearly 400 years. (b) Efforts to reach the South Pole date back only 140 years.

6 (a) The history of the North Pole is thickly marked with disasters—crushed and foundering ships and the deaths of hundreds of brave men. (b) The history of the South Pole shows the loss of but one ship and a comparatively few men.

7 (a) In one respect the two poles are alike. Their conquest depended on the animal, man, and the Eskimo dog. Another speaker of interest at the banquet was Mr. Hiram Bingham—Professor of South American History at Yale—Prof. Bingham has just returned from a trip—Archaeological—to Peru, and his discoveries were extremely interesting, to say the least. This is Prof. Bingham's second visit to the land of the Incas. The first expedition, in 1911, accomplished little owing to topographical difficulties and lack of sufficient funds.

During the last year, however, a new expedition was eminently successful in its investigations. Prof. Bingham and his associates made a study of the astrology and geology of the Cuzco region, and came to the conclusion that the human remains found there in the former expedition were by no means as old as had been supposed.

The principal geographical work lay in the identification of the ruins of several cities and towns. In particular there was the remarkable "Whik City"—a buried town, away down in the turnips on the Urubamba River, below Ollatay and Ambo, which place was considered by other archaeologists to be one of the frontier fortresses of the Incas. Down below this place and buried in the jungle was found a city called Machu Picchu. This city, built of white granite, is on top of a ridge surrounded by precipices from two to three thousand feet deep, above the Urubamba River, four or five days from Cuzco, the well-known Incas capital.

With regard to this city nothing could be found in the chronicles anywhere. No one, barring a few Indians, had ever heard of it. In this expedition, Vitcos, the last capital of the Incas was being looked for and here was found the first capital. This important communication of Prof. Bingham carries the Incas history back many centuries and the result of future explorations will be watched with interest.

The banquet was favored by the presence of and speeches from both the British and French Ambassadors, and Mr. Redfield made an appeal for more and better teaching of geographical knowledge in the schools.

Rheumatism Crippled Arms

So stiffened up by rheumatism that he could not dress himself without help was the condition of Mr. Clarke, who tells in this letter how he was entirely cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The kidneys must be got right before rheumatism can be really cured and hence the success of this great medicine. Mr. James Clarke, Maidstone, Sask., writes: "I can honestly say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have done me a world of good."

"A friend wrote from England and begged me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This treatment soon brought relief, and in six months I was entirely free of rheumatism. That was four years ago. I am now 60 years of age, and can do a day's work with any man."

Do you need additional capital in your business? If so, I will incorporate same into a Limited Company and procure such capital as required. Write or call. Athol George Robertson, 58 Colborne St., Toronto. Telephone Main 3113.
