The handsome edifices which were built last spring to replace the buildings which fell a victim to the all devouring element in April last are gone and in their place is a long line of smoldering embers and broken timbers to tell of the glory that once was their's.

The fire originated in the second story of the Monte Carlo at 3:15 this atternoon. A few minutes later an alarm was rung in and the fire department responded promptly. Meanwhile, however, the fire had spread being Efforts of the Firemen-The Lat- easily carried by the lining and paper ter Worked Heroically -- Entire which covered the walls. in a few moments the fire was bursting from both ends and sides of the building. The alarm was given by Miss Secondina Russo who first discovered the flames in the front part of the building.

Two streams were turned on almost immediately and for a short time it looked as though the devouring element would yield to the desperate efforts of the fire company. But such was not to be the case. At 3:30, just when it appeared as though control of the fire might be gained, a sharp northern wind sprang up and in a few minutes it was apparent that the entire block practically was doomed. At 3:45 the fire had burst through the walls dividing the Monte Carlo from the Hoffman house and fanned by the steadily increasing blaze that handsome building was soon in flames. Five minutes later the Opera house, one of Dawson's finest structures, was in flames had become apparent that the entire (Continued on Page 2.)

The contempt case of A F. George occupied nearly the entire day in Judge Dugas' court. Numerons authorities were city by Attorney Woodworth in behalf of his client in an endeavor to show that his client was within his rights in using the language which appeared in the open letter to Judge Dugas in the Sunday Gleaner of Dec, 10,

At the end of, the argument, Judge Dugas, while not by any means condoning the offense, ordered a stay of proceedings in view of the following letter written by Mr. George :

Honorable Justice Dugas:

The comments and reports made by me in the Sunday Gluase and 10, 1899, were written in good faith and were not designed to be unfair or show disrespect to the court, or influence the judgment in Regina vs. Forrest.

I have however, heard it expressed that such a construction can be placed upon them, this opinion being expressed by persons of legal training.⁽³⁾ That such should be the case is a matter of extreme regret to myself, and I openly avow the regret I feel, that I should have written anything which could possibly influence either judge or jury in the case of Regina vs. Forrest, or capable of being misconstrued into a disrespect of the court. ARNOLD F. GEORGE.

Poet-Scout Fails in.

Capt. Jack Crawford, the poet scout, met with quite a mishap Monday, Capt. Jack was returning from a trip to Hunker creek. He was driving his little jenny and taking matters comfortably reclining upon his Yukon sled. At a point about five miles up the Klondike the captain took the wrong trail and before he was, aware of what was going on, sled, jenny and captain were all precipitated into the chilly waters of the Klondike by reason of a break in the ice. Captain Jack was supported in a measure by the sled, but the poor little jenny was entirely submerged with the exception of a portion of her head. Rescue was at hand, however, in the person of Dick Adams, the Nugget's Hunker man, and another traveler, both of whom proceeded immediately to extricate the unfortunate scout from bis perilous position. In a few minutes the captain and his steed were safe on solid ice and making tracks for home. With the exception of a general chill over his body the captain was none the worse for his ducking.

Captain Jack yesterday presented his rescuer, Dick Adams, son of Acting Consul Adams, with a handsome gold watch chain. Capt. Crawford says that if Mr. Adams had not come to his reliet when he did, nothing could have prevented his freezing to death. We congratulate Mr. Adams on his well deserved gift, and Capt. Crawford on his escape and recovery from the after effects of his accident.

NOTICE.

When a newspaper offers its advertising space at a nominal figure, it is a practical admission of "no circulation." THE KLONDIKE NUGGET asks a good figure for its space and in justification thereof guarantees to its advertisers a paid circulation five times that of any other paper published between Juneau and the North Pole.

WHEN?

Some months ago a statement given under official authority appeared in the columns of the local press to the effect that within a very short time the privilege would be extended to the Canadian citizens of Dawson and the Yukon territory of casting their ballots for the election of two members to our territorial legislative body-the Yukon council.

It appears to us that the time for that election is about due. The council as it is at the present time organized, is a sort of combination legislative and administrative body. Its sessions are held behind closed doors and such information as to its proceedings is made public as in the judgment of mel wise. With the election of members by direct vote of those entitled to the suffrage in the territory the sittings of the council would become public, and the adminis trative deliberations of that body would be confined to executive sessions

It is natural to suppose that with a portion of its members responsible directly to the people of this territory, matters which concern and affect the public weal would be given more consideration than is now the case.

More alacrity would be displayed in solving such problems as the lighting of the public streets, the establishment of a thorough system for maintaining weapons do not necessarily mean a proportionate increase in slaughter.

OUR SEMI.WEEKLY.

The Semi-Weekly Nugget will be printed on Wednesdays and Saturdays hereafter, instead of on Tuesdays and a distance of several blocks. Fridays as heretofore. This earrangement enables us to place in the, Semi Weekly the news of the three prece ling days as taken from the Daily, and by that means our creek subscribers and others who prefer subscribing for the Semi Weekly only, will, receive the benefit of practically all the news of the week condensed in the two issues. The Nugget is lookin, out with particular care for its creek patrons, where the SemieWeekly has its largest circu lation. The system of delivering which we have established on the various creeks is almost perfect, each creek being covered within 24 hours from the time the paper leaves the press.

Advertising contracts made for the Daily Nugget include insertion in the Semi-Weekly, which gives the advertiser a reading clientage unsurpassed by the circulaion of all the other papers in Dawson combined.

Willie Semple editor and proprietor of the late lamented Sunday Gleaner, is now kicking his heels in high glee upon the soil of Uncle Sam's domain. Semple will now have plenty of op portunity to air his views in safety. The stories of, all the martyrs, the Pil gim Fathers and everbody else that ever was persecuted for righteousness' sake will pale into insignificance when compared with the tales which Semple will have to relate. It will not be surprising to learn that he has taken the lecture platform, with a view of turning the Dominion of Canada wrong side out. We miss our guess if the festive Willie does not give the Boer war a hard run for space in the newspapers for the next few weeks.

The Yukon territory is a hard country for the evil doer. The natural conditions are such that escape from Daw son up the river is almost impossible. For any man to attempt to leave the territory behind him by any other route than the trail up or down the river would simply be suicide. Added to this is a police service from the vigiance of which few criminals escare. In all probability no new country was ever before settled by a mixed class of people and so few serious crimes recorded as have occurred in this territory since the discovery of gold was first announced.

DESTROYED AGAIN,

When it became apparent that the entire block was doomed an army of willing workers began immediately the work of removing the stocks of goods from the stores and saloons along the block. The police and military did heroic service in saving the goods and hundreds of bystanders gave their servi ces cheerfully and without charge.

As the flames gradually enveloped the Opera house, the front of tha building began swaying backwards and forwards, and suddenly with a mighty sound, fell prone into the streets, caus ing a scatter among the bystanders on all sides.

The following is a list of the build ings burned and the people who occu pied them, as nearly as could be ascertained at the time of going to press : The Monte Carlo, owned by Holden and Smith and used as a saloon and variety theater. In the alley adjoining the Monte Carlo, was a news stand occupied by Phillips & Co.; stock recovered. The Hoffman house, unoccupied at present, had a small stock of doomed block to places of safety. Sale & Co.; jewelers, occupied part of the front, but saved everything. The Northern Trading Co. occupied the vext building, but saved their entire stock. Next came the Palace barber shop, the fixtures being all saved, however.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce down town office was in a part of the building occupied by the Palace Barber shop, but precaution was used and the fixtures were saved. The stock of the Merchant's Cafe, a small building on the same lot, was saved. This and the building on both sides were torn down by the soldiers to head off the flames, The next building was occupied by the Northern Trading Co., but everything was saved. The Canadian Bank of Commerce saved their books and will be ready for business at the main office. While the force all were trying to stop the advance of the fire towards. First avenue, the Board of Trade, situated directly north of the Monte Carlo burst into flames and is a total loss. The building occupied by the Canadian bank of Commerce was torn down and the fire stopped at this place. Conchita's little boy disappeared for ome time during the excitement, but was found later on.

Estimates of the total loss run from 750;000 to $1,000,000.

Geo. Apple is one of the heaivest property losers by the fire. He owned the Hoffman house, Bodega building, the Grotto building and in fact all the property fronting on Third street, from the alley up to Second avenue.

A young woman named Leta who was at the Monte Carlo in the capacity of soubrette, is missing and it is feared she perished in the flames.

The Horseshoe building was owned by Ben Levy.

The Monte Carlo, where the fire originated, was owned by Ed Holden and Jack Smith, C. C. Kelly and Holden owned the entire business including bar, club rooms and theater.

the healthfulness of the city or the organization of a system of public instruction.

Some day or other Dawson must become an incorporated town, conducting its own affairs and electing its own municipal officers.

This would probably follow closely in the wake of the election of the new members of the council. For the welfare of the community at large, the sooner this election is announced the better.

CASUALTIES ARE SMALL.

A remarkable feature of the South African war is the limited number of casualties. Considering the strength of the contending forces and the improved offensive weapons in use there have been very few men killed.

In fact the proportion of fatalities is less than would have occurred three hundred years ago under similar circumstances. Students of modern warfare will have something to ponder over when the war 1s at an end. There will be a great many theories advanced in explanation of the fact that battles occurred where tons upon tons of shot and shell were hurled by the contend ing forces at each other, and hardly enough men killed to call the affair a in very respectable quantities. The adbattle. One thing seems to be apparent

We understand that the trustees of the Board of Trade will discuss this evening the appointment of a committee on' sanitation. This is certainly a wise move. Unless great precautions are taken the health of the city will certainly be endangered when spring opens and putrifying masses of filth and garbage now harmless by reason of being frozen, begins to give forth their noisome stenches. Dawson is not by any means an unhealthy place and a little caution will save it from becom ing such.

Our telegrams speak of a crowd of people being [at Skagway en route to Nome. While numbers are not mentioned the Nomads must be showing up vance guard of [the' pilgiims may be and that is that improvement in expected to show up very shortly.

Up until 6 o'clock the fire had been kept away from Second street.

Fire Notes.

Rev. Hetherington of the Methodist church, announces that the church will be open free of charge for shelter to all persons who may desire same.

The A. C. Co. covered their entire block on the south side with wet blankets to protect it from the intense heat.

The fire originated in room No. 1 of the Monte Carlo, occupied by Florence Brocee. A small fire broke out in the same room about a week ago.

Frank Hudson was standing in front of the Monte Carlo when the flames suddenly burst out. He was quite severely burned.

Jaqueline was carried out of the Monte Carlo in a fainting condition. Contact with the fresh air soon, revived her.

Annie O'Brien, the little actress, was in a hysterical condition over the loss

SEMPLE TALKS.

Skagway, Jan. 10 .- D. W. Semple, late editor and proprietor of the Sunday Gleaner of Dawson, arrived here today.

He came out from Dawson with two dogs, which he left at Cariboo yesterday, completing the journey to Skagway on foot.

Semple says that upon first leaving e headed for Fortymile, but doubled back, and by traveling at night managed to reach Skagway. He says that he "will damn Fred Wade or die in the attempt."

Lyon is in jail.

B. A. Liscom and W. C. (Swiftwater) Gates were in court, the former with an account of $81.25 for labor performed, which account Gates said was about $65 too high. Liscom told his story and was supposed to be cross examined by "Swift," and for several minutes Magistrate Perry was kept busy instructing the questioner to re frain from giving his own testimony. and confine himself to asking questions. Liscom likewise deviated somewhat from the course prescribed for witnesses and volunteered some information on points not intended to be brought out. Liscom told "Swiftwater" that he ought to be ashamed of himself to treat an old schoolmate as he hadtowit: Leave him a pauper in a land where meals cost from $1 upwards. The court finally brought them back to earth and after considerable adding and subtracting had been done the order of the court was that Gates pay $38.75 and the costs. And "de swiftest ting dat ever hit de Klondike" paid the bill like a maa.

It is known that they left Dawson together several weeks ago, and it is also known that for several days the two occupied a cabin on the trail between Minto and Five Fingers and that they passed on up the river about the time of the disappearance of the three men. The fact that they separated afterwards looks very suspicious. They will be safely held pending further investigation. AFTER CLAYSON'S BODY.

Fort Selkirk, Jan. 10.-A detail of mounted police from this point are searchng for the body of F. H. Clayson, supposed to have been murdered on the tral.

Skagway, Jan. 10. - There is a settled conviction here that F. H. Clayson has been murdered on the trail. It is known that Clayson carried with him a large sum of money. The police have arrested a man named Graves at White noon when the usual fine and costs, horse and Raldh O'Brien at Tagish on $56, were paid.

This morning W. S. Allen and F. M. jones each paid $2 and costs for committing nuisances on the streets.

The case of Edward Metcalf vs the Victoria Meat Market, McDougall, prop., for a month's wages where only nine days' labor were performed, Meccalf being discharged at that time, was dismissed and costs charged to plaintiff. McDougall proved that there were good grounds for his discharge of Metcalf, it being established by two wit nesses that he, Metcalf, was in the apron.

Warrants for the arrest of between 30 and 40 gamblers were issued, and fully. that number were up yesterday after Who'll Be Next?

The question, "Who'll be next?" is one which many persons in Dawson are now putting to themselves without being able to frame a satisfactory answer. The occasion for the asking o the question is that the police have started out on a round up of vagrants and if being out of work and unable to procure it constitutes vagrancy, then does that evil stalk rampant in Dawson at the present time There is no desire on the part of the law to prefer a charge of vagrancy against a man who is anxious to work, but who cannot secure employment, but just how the officials distinguish between men idle through circumstances and those idle through choice is not apparent. There is a line of demarkation, but to the casual observer and in a place like Dawson where hundreds of men hug barroom stoves six days every week that line habit of blowing his nose on his work does not stand out in bold relief, and just how it is discerned by the officers is a mystery. Hence the query "Who'll be next?' ~
