

SETTLEMENT WITH STREET RAILWAY.

Everything Said to be Satisfactory.

Extensions Promised by the Company.

Mountain Steps Are Still In Use.

At last the Street Railway question is settled. That is the opinion of Chairman Sweeney of the Conference Committee and the city officials.

A Toronto paper to-day printed a story to the effect that the Radial Railway was trying to purchase property bounded by Adelaide, Temperance and Sheppard street for a station at that terminal of the road.

Mountain residents are still using the Wentworth street steps, although they are supposed to be closed.

Inspector Devlin, of the Dominion Immigration Department called here yesterday afternoon for James Paxton and his wife and child, for whose deportation an order was granted recently.

William Findlay secured a permit today for a brick house on Home-road avenue, between Locke and Garth streets, to cost $2,800, and W. H. Trowden & Company were granted one for two brick houses on Wright avenue, between Clyde and Leeming streets for the Wentworth Building Company, to cost $2,400.

The Harbor Committee will make an inspection this afternoon of the Mutual Steamship Company's boat at the International wharf and meet to-morrow afternoon to make a recommendation to the council regarding the lease of the city docks to the company.

The aldermen will have a busy time to-night. At 7:30 the Board of Works Committee will be struggling with that knotty question and after that the Conference sub-committee will go over the draft committee prepared by City Solicitor Waddell and Colonel Gibson in connection with Street Railway matters.

On account of the rain the Parks Board was again obliged to postpone its annual inspection to-day.

Man Garrotted

Chicago, May 21.—Robt. C. P. Holmes, purchasing agent for the Commonwealth Edison Electric Co., in an alley in the down town district early to-day, was found dead with the marks of garrotting on his neck and his face black from the strangulation.

WE WILL FILL THE JAILS.

Sixty Moulders Committed for Trial at Brantford.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Brantford, May 21.—The annual meeting of the Brantford District of the Methodist Church concluded its sessions in Wellington street church here this afternoon. Reports were submitted on the membership of the churches throughout the district which showed an encouraging increase during the year.

A big parade of union moulders is promised to the police court to-day. Yesterday afternoon four constables served a large number of summonses to the union men, for having done picket duty recently near the Buck Stone Works, in Wellington street, as many as five summonses to appear. The moulders refuse to call their pickets off, and will elect to be tried before Judge Hardy.

A test case will be made of the charges that have been preferred against them. The strike committee received a report from the members, who claim it as a matter of course, that they are confident of winning, although the victory may be long deferred. They claim that had conditions existed among the strike-breakers, several of whom have left during the past week, no summons at all would have been issued, and the work of the vigilance committee, although the strike has been on for nearly two months.

Moulders Committed. Sixty union moulders were this morning committed for trial on the charge of picketing in the vicinity of the Buck Stone Works. They were represented by W. A. Hollinrake, who stated to Magistrate Livingston and Crown Attorney Henderson that his advice to the men was to discontinue picket duty.

The union moulders, however, are acting on the advice of their counsel, J. G. O'Brien, of Toronto. Magistrate Livingston and the crown attorney authorized the police to make arrests in future, the magistrate stating he would refuse to give bail to any of the strikers arrested. The decision has caused great sorrow among the members, who claim it as a lawful privilege to do peaceable picket duty in the neighborhood. "We will fill the jails," stated President Gardner, of the I. M. U., this morning. The police yesterday served 140 summonses. The defendants this morning were allowed out on personal recognizance to appear at 10 o'clock.

A high voltage wire at the Cocksbutt plow works nearly caused a bad fire early this morning. The incipient blaze was just discovered in time by the watchman in the cellar below the office, and the East and Central departments responded to the alarm. The joists were burnt and the fire crept up the wainscoting. The damage was slight.

Mr. W. S. Wismer, a Brantford man, who is hard of hearing, had a narrow escape at the Queen's Hotel fire yesterday. The fire started in the second story, and felt the vibration on the windows when some one knocked.

Mass Meeting. A mass meeting of the Liberals will be held in Victoria Hall to-night, in the interests of Mr. M. W. McEwen, the Liberal candidate. The principal speakers are Rev. J. A. Macdonald, of the Globe, and Mr. T. H. Preston. The election campaign is on here in earnest, and both parties are working strenuously. The Liberals are confident of securing a solid party vote for their candidate, which means a victory on June 8th.

SOMETHING GOOD. A delightful four hours' sail on the fast steamer Turbina with an hour and a half to spend at Toronto and a floral souvenir for each lady is the feature of the initial trip of this popular steamer, leaving Hamilton at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

In addition to a first-class dining-room a buffet service has been inaugurated, so get dinner or lunch on the boat and enjoy yourself. The return fare is only 50 cents and the boat is commodious enough to ensure a very comfortable outing. An orchestra has been engaged for the return trip from Toronto, which will be appreciated by every patron of this fast steamer.

Hamilton Sons of England have been invited to attend divine service with the Burlington Lodge in St. Luke's Church, Burlington, on Sunday next.

PARTY WHIP HELD OVER HEADS OF CONSERVATIVE ALDERMEN.

Told They Must Support Power Project No Matter What the Result May Be.

The Hydro-Power proposition is to be made a straight party issue if the Tory machine in Hamilton can do it. At no matter what sacrifice to the city's interests, the Government's scheme is to be supported by the Conservative aldermen.

"Party interests before civic interests" is the machine's slogan. Eleven aldermen have received this mandate from the party bosses, and the orders are to "obey."

When the story leaked out in municipal circles this morning that a caucus had been held last night at which the eleven Conservative aldermen had the law laid down to them by the party bosses, it created somewhat of a sensation. It is the boldest move the machine has made since undertaking to control civic administration in Hamilton, for it aims to force a majority of the Council to plunge Hamilton into a scheme, the cost of which no one can estimate.

Efforts to stampede the Council into rallying to the support of the project by such threats as to place the switching station several miles from Hamilton proved unavailing. Then came the Cataract's guarantee offer, in writing, to supply Hamilton with power at 10 per cent, less than the lowest price the commission can bring it here. This won over most of the wavering aldermen, and only one or two members of the Council, including Mayor Stewart, who declared he thought the city should close with the Government, even though the Cataract offered power at half the cost, showed any opposition to it.

The Power Committee to-night is to deal with the question. It was urged that something be done. A power behind the scenes moved, and the Tory aldermen were instructed to assemble last night. It is said that the meeting was held in the office of John Milne, president of the Conservative Association. Mr. Milne was one of the first members of the original Hydro-Power Commission. Prominent party leaders laid the law down.

The Tory aldermen were instructed to stand loyally behind the Government in this matter. It was urged that, with the Provincial elections at hand, and with a close fight in both the Hamilton and Brantford Conservative Associations, it would injure the chances of the Conservative candidates if Hamilton refused to support one of the chief planks of the Conservative platform, the Government's power policy, or any measure favored by Premier Whitney and his followers.

There is little doubt that without interference the Power Committee to-night would have decided in favor of the Cataract offer, and made a recommendation to that effect to the City Council.

What will the council do now? There are eleven Conservative aldermen. Will they obey the machine's orders, and stand together? Some of them, including Ald. Farrar, who once posed as an independent, have expressed themselves in favor of the Cataract offer. It is said that others are seriously considering backing over the traces. The question is one of vital importance to the ratepayers of Hamilton, for the issue is whether their money is to be spent in the interests of the city of Hamilton, or the Tory machine, bossed by John Milne and his lieutenants.

Probably no contract that ever had to be considered by the aldermen of Hamilton requires more careful consideration than the Hydro-Electric contract, which is to be considered by the committee to-night. Those who have had the opportunity of reading the contract over say there are items in it that the aldermen little dream of. In the matter of cost the estimate for Hamilton has been placed at $17,500. The city is to be held liable for an expenditure of $15,650, which is the Commission's estimate of Hamilton's share of the cost of constructing the transmission line, transformer station and works. The contract also calls for an estimate of $5,442 annually for line loss, renewals, etc. This is an item that the local advocates of the system have not been saying much about, but it is in the contract, and those who have studied it carefully say it is an addition to the $17,500. The item on a basis of 1,500 horse power amounts to $3.63 a horse power, bringing the cost to Hamilton up to $21,137. The figures are right in the contract and the aldermen cannot be too careful to find out exactly what they mean.

The contract also provides that "The (Continued on page 10.)"

BRANTFORD CARS.

This Trip Will be Popular on the Holiday.

A temporary time table will come into effect on the new Brantford & Hamilton Electric Railway on Saturday, May 23rd. There will be twelve cars each way, leaving both terminals every hour and a half, as follows: 6:30, 8, 9:30 and 11 a. m.; 12:30, 2, 3:30, 5, 6:30, 8, 9:30 and 11 p. m.

The new road is sure to attract thousands on Victoria Day, and a special service will be given. Cars will leave both terminals at 20 minutes after every hour from 6:20 a. m. until 10:20 p. m. The last car of the day will leave at 11 p. m.

NON-JURY CASES

Finished For Time Being by Mr. Justice Riddell.

Justice Riddell finished up the non-jury sittings of the High Court yesterday afternoon. The action of Allith Manufacturing Co. vs. Smith, to recover $7,000 damages on a breach of an agreement was taken up. Before proceeding very far, His Lordship referred the case to Judge Monck, to go into the accounts of the company. Morden vs. Morden, alimony action, was laid over until June 1, when His Lordship will be in the city and take up the remnants of the non-jury sittings. Spence vs. Chosen Friends, Dynes vs. Hamilton Radial and Dixon vs. Crappisi, will all go over. Whipple vs. Burke will be dealt with by the local master.

CALLED TO ERSKINE.

Present Call is Mr. Mitchell's Second to Hamilton.

Rev. E. A. Mitchell, who has accepted a call to Knox Church, and who will be inducted next week, in his address to the Presbytery at Ottawa, referred to a previous call to Hamilton. Seventeen years ago, right after his graduation, he was invited, at the unanimous call, to Erskine Church, this city. He declined at that time because he felt he had not had sufficient experience to undertake the work of such an important charge.

THE RESERVES

Called Out For Unveiling Next Monday Morning.

All reserves of the British army who served in any war during the reign of Queen Victoria are requested to parade on Monday next, Victoria Day, at Drill Hall at 10:30, for the purpose of attending the unveiling of the statue. They are requested to wear their war decorations, if they have any. Capt. Marshall will address the men before turning out to go to Gore Park for the ceremony.

There is quite a large number of reserves in this city and a large turnout is hoped for.

A BIG FIRE.

Memphis, Tenn., May 21.—The warehouse and grain elevator of Jones & Rodgers, and the building and warehouse occupied by the Orgill Bros. & Co. a hardware concern, were destroyed last night by fire. The loss is estimated at $325,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

DYNAMITED BIG BRIDGE.

Fifty Pounds of Explosive Used to Wreck Structure.

Bridge Was Over Railroad at Baychester, N. Y.

New York, May 21.—A new bridge under construction on the Harlem branch of the N. Y. New Haven and Harford Railroad, was wrecked by dynamites to-day. A charge of 50 pounds of the explosive was discharged under the first span, twisting the huge girders and practically wrecking the whole structure.

To-day's outrage followed an unsuccessful attempt to wreck a bridge on the same railroad over the Harlem River early yesterday.

The bridge was a modern steel structure which had been erected over the tracks near the Baychester Station for foot and vehicle traffic and for many months had been the scene of almost constant labor troubles. It is alleged that striking workmen have made frequent threats to blow up the bridge unless their grievances were adjusted, and as a result, two watchmen have been on guard at the bridge every night. Yesterday, when the futile attempt was made to destroy the other bridge, another watchman was added to the force, and all three were on duty last night. Just at dawn there came a terrific report, and the grinding and tearing of great steel girders. Two of the watchmen, who were at the end of the bridge, were thrown to the ground. Hundreds of windows in the vicinity were broken. As the watchmen scrambled to their feet they saw two men dashing away through the semi darkness. A fusillade of shot was sent after them, but none reached the mark.

Railroad experts who viewed the work of the wreckers, are unanimous in declaring that at least fifty pounds of dynamite must have been placed under the abutment work at the south end of the bridge. It is believed that it will take two months to repair the damage done.

Mr. H. A. E. Cox left on Tuesday for Otto Lake, New Ontario, where he will superintend the operations of the Otto Lake Mining Co., Limited.

So far, the ice cream crop is all right.

My Methodist friends appear to have done well since they came to this country. How they do grow.

The Board of Health might take a look at No. 3 police cells, and see what Chairman Nicholson is doing to drive them out.

Have you seen Gardner Duncan's nose? They're daisies, and that's funny.

Then, again, are you a Cataract man?

Be sure to read Mr. McLemont's speech in this evening's Times.

Who wants to close up the Wentworth steps? That would be a crazy idea.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell will have my best wishes in the fight against the common enemy in Hamilton.

Of course, Mr. Scott and Mr. Hendrie, both being worthy men, may imagine that money talks around election time. But the long green is forbidden by law.

Well, the cat-o'-nine tails is not a pleasant thing to look forward to.

Hear Mr. Wardrope to-night. It will be a statesmanlike address.

Our leader will be here on Tuesday night. Great time, great speech, great results. Don't miss it.

Mr. McLemont is a good enough labor candidate for me.

The Wentworth street steps are too great a convenience—in fact, a necessity—to the people living on the mountain, to talk about taking them away. The aldermen should not be misled by one or two interested parties.

GRECO MURDER CASE CONCLUDED TO-DAY.

"I am Murdered"

El Paso, Texas, May 21.—Monroe M. Harrell, 32 years old, formerly of Oklahoma City, but for a number of years connected with newspaper work in El Paso, was shot and instantly killed last night by J. E. Mitchem, proprietor of the El Paso Evening News. Mitchem, who was arrested after the shooting, says that Harrell had threatened to take his life.

The shooting occurred in front of the News office. According to the statement of Policeman Cord, who is the only witness to the killing, Harrell passed him and a minute later called "Mitchem." The patrolman turned just as Mitchem drew a revolver from his pocket and fired. Harrell fell to the sidewalk, mortally wounded. Before dying he said, "I am murdered."

HODGIN'S CHARGES.

Get Information Second Hand From Assistant Engineer.

Experimental Farm For Newfoundland—Million-Dollar Station.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Ont., May 21.—The special committee of the Commons on the Hodgins charges continued this morning the examination of Major Hodgins, taking up particularly the sources of his information on which he based his charges of over-classification of rock cuttings on district F of the National Transcontinental. Examined by Mr. Charles Murray, counsel for the Transcontinental committee, major said that much of his information came from his assistant engineer, Mr. Heaman, the latter, however, after taking service with the G. T. P., had declined to hand out any more information. "He did not tell me as much as I wanted to know," said the major. He had been furnished with a note book, containing some field notes made by Mr. Heaman, and on the sole authority of these notes one or two of the charges of over-classification had been made.

A report to the Trade and Commerce Department by Trade Commissioner Arund, of Newfoundland, states that Prof. C. A. Zavitz, of the Ontario Agricultural College, has been engaged by the Newfoundland Government to assist in the organization of the first experimental farm to be established on the island. An appropriation of $25,000 has been made for the purpose. The contract for the new million dollar union station at Winnipeg, to be used by the C. N. R. G. T. P. and National Transcontinental Railways has been awarded to Messrs. Galloway & Sons, of Montreal. The contract for building alone, exclusive of furnishings, etc., amounts to $886,000.

THE CAR STRIKE.

The Cleveland Trouble Will Likely be Settled To-day.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 21.—Apparently the last obstacle in the way of a peaceful settlement of the pending car strike in this city was removed to-day when the employees of the Old Fire City Co., the original 3 cents fire line, agreed to leave their seniority rights in the hands of the arbitrators. This has been the chief bone of contention between the union leaders and President Dupont of the Municipal Traction Co., since the beginning of the present trouble. President Dupont has insisted throughout that he would give the Forest City men, who stood by the company and refused to strike, the first choice of run.

With this impediment removed it is thought an agreement will certainly be reached to-day at which all the difficulties at issue will be submitted to arbitration and the strike declared off.

While many lawless acts were perpetrated during the night by strike sympathizers, no person was seriously hurt, a half dozen cars were damaged by the explosion of dynamite, and one or two persons were slightly cut by broken window glass.

HOLIDAY SERVICE UNEXCELLED

The Hamilton Steamboat Co., with their two fine steamers, Macassa and Modjeska, will give a service for Victoria Day that is bound to suit the fancy of the travelling public. The fine steamer Modjeska, just from the hands of the decorators, painters and upholsterers, will make her first appearance on Saturday, May 23rd, when she will leave Hamilton at 9 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., the Macassa at 2 p. m.

On Monday, Victoria Day, a special service of six round trips will be run, the first boat to leave Hamilton at 7:45 a. m., and continue at three-hour intervals throughout the day. In addition to the 5:15 p. m. boat leaving Toronto on the holiday, two special trips will be run, leaving at 8 and 11 p. m. The fare for the round trip will be 50 cents, good going Saturday, May 23rd, and Sunday, May 24th, returning good until Tuesday, May 26th, 1903.

The reputations of the two steamers Macassa and Modjeska are well known to Hamilton citizens, and no expense is being spared to give the same up-to-date service that has proven in every way a success during the past seasons. First class lunch counters, run by well known caterers, on both boats with moderate prices.

Conflicting Testimony by the Doctors.

Charge In Favor of the Accused.

Judge Criticises Medical Fraternity.

The trial of Giuseppe Greco for the murder of Antonio Rieszio, was concluded shortly after noon to-day and the jury retired. Shortly after 1 the court adjourned until 2:15, and the verdict had not been brought in at that time. The judge's charge was in favor of the prisoner.

The evidence in the Greco murder trial was not very illuminating yesterday afternoon, until the medical evidence of Drs. Rennie, Elliott and Edgar was submitted by the Crown. They all swore that Rieszio died from pneumonia, brought on by exposure, and the wound he had received. The cross-examination by Mr. M. J. O'Reilly, counsel for the prisoner, did not shake their testimony, although they admitted that pneumonia was contagious, and that it could be developed from causes other than wounds. Owing to the absence of Chief Justice, the Crown did not close its case last night.

Salvatore, another Italian in the same shanty as Rieszio, was the first witness on the stand after adjournment. His evidence was much the same as Mendola's in regard to the manner of living in the shanty. Witness swore that he heard the voice of some one calling for help after Rieszio had gone outside at the invitation of Giuseppe Greco, but he could not swear whether it was Rieszio or Mendola who had called. He saw Greco with a knife in his hand, applied in the air. Witness did not see Rieszio when he went outside, but he saw Bruno Greco in the doorway. Witness said that he asked Bruno Greco what was the trouble, and offered to act as peacemaker in the matter. Bruno Greco did not reply to witness, and he went back into the shanty. He saw Rieszio when he was brought into the shanty, and noticed that he was wounded. He told of the trip to Hamilton, and corroborated the evidence of Mendola. Witness said the knife that Giuseppe Greco had in his possession was about seven inches long.

"Have you seen the knife many times before?" asked Mr. O'Reilly in cross-examination. "Yes, many times."

"Are you sure it was the same knife?"

"I am not sure, but it looked like one I saw before."

Mendola was recalled to answer some questions asked by his Lordship in regard to the distance from the shanty when Rieszio went out and the spot where he was found.

Pantalone, another Italian, related the story of the manner of living and swore that when the trouble occurred he heard Rieszio say, "Mary, I am killed." Witness said he saw the wound in Rieszio's side.

Campanella, who also lived in the shanty with Rieszio, was the next witness. He said he heard Giuseppe Greco talking to himself, but could not understand what he was saying. He swore that he saw the knife in Greco's hand, and also saw Bruno Greco with a stick in his possession, and saw the wound in Rieszio's side.

Leonardo, an Italian, corroborated the evidence of Campanella.

Mr. Nichol, a machinist employed at the quarry, said that he saw two men running west from the quarry about 7:30 that night. Witness spoke to them, but did not receive any reply. Witness identified the men as Giuseppe and Bruno Greco.

FINE TURNOUT. Highlanders Had 453 on Parade in the Rain. Another good turnout for the 91st Regiment last night! Rain has produced no dampening effects on the parades of this regiment, as 453 officers and men in line testified. It seems as if fate was against the local regiments, as almost every parade night there has been rain to keep the men in the hall, hampering the drill. This is bound to have an effect on the inspection which is drawing near, but the men and officers are working as hard as they can to get in first-class shape. Col. Logie expressed himself as well pleased with the turnout. He referred to the team that would compete for the Schumaker Challenge Trophy, and stated that the ranges would be closed to other members on the day of this match. They will be open on Monday all day for practice. Col. Logie reminded the men of the parade to St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning, and asked for a large turnout.

MARKETS and FINANCE Thursday, May 21.—Trade was very dull on the cereal market to-day again, as among the butchers, who disposed of a fair quantity of meats. Only a few farmers along with some market gardeners were in, and the demand for their offerings was small. Green stuff was plentiful. Potatoes were scarce but on account of the light demand, they did not advance in price. The prices for meats, vegetables, poultry and dairy produce remain the same. To-day's ruling prices were: Poultry and Dairy Produce. Cooking Butter, 25 to 30; Dairy Butter, 23 to 30; Creamery Butter, 23 to 30; Maple Syrup, quart, in sealers, 40 to 45; Maple Syrup, gallon, in sealers, 1.25 to 1.40; Turbids, quart, in sealers, 9 to 10; Citron, quart, in sealers, 9 to 10; Cheese, per lb., 18 to 20; Eggs, per doz., 23 to 25; Chickens, pair, 1.00 to 1.50; Turkey, per doz., 1.00 to 1.25; Ducks, per pair, 1.00 to 1.25; Maple Sugar, lb., 25 to 30. SUGAR MARKETS. Sugar, raw, steady; fair refining, 11c; central, 10 1/2 to 11c; 436, notations, 11c; 34c, refined, steady. NEW YORK SUGAR MARKET. Sugar, raw, steady; fair refining, 11c; central, 10 1/2 to 11c; 436, notations, 11c; 34c, refined, steady. WISCONSIN WHEAT MARKET. Following are the closing quotations on Wisconsin grain futures: Wheat—May 19 bid, July 11 1/4 bid. May—May 14 bid, July 10 1/4 bid. CHEESE MARKETS. Woodcock—At the cheese market here to-day, 17 factories offered 1,643 boxes, 19 1/2 was the highest bid with no sales, factories asking higher prices. BRITISH CATTLE MARKETS. London—London cables for cattle were quiet at 14 1/2 per lb. dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 11c to 11 1/2c per lb. MONTREAL LIVESTOCK. Montreal—About 40 head of cattle, 80 much cow, 700 calves, of sheep and swine, 500 fat hogs were offered for sale to-day. The wet weather seems to have a depressing effect on trade and the prices of cattle were lower. Prime hogs at 14c each, 15c to 15 1/2c for the quality good cattle, 4 1/2c to 5 1/2c and the milkmen's strippers, a 4c to 5c per lb. was secured to-day. The following are the prices: range from $25 to $50 each. Cows sold at $2 to $3 each, the general average being at $1.50 each. Hogs at $4 to $6 per lb. and spring lambs at $4 to $5 each. Good lots of fat hogs sold at $6.00 to $6.25 per cwt, weighed at 125.

Stocks and Bonds New York, May 21. Noon letter.—The market during the morning moved irregularly, with good buying in Con. Gas and other leading issues, but influential selling from interests largely responsible for recent advance. R. O. was weak, owing to poor earnings, which suggested that the dividend may necessarily be reduced. There were some offerings of A. N. C. on the announcement statement of yesterday. The market closed with a gain, but the advance was not sustained. At present it is figured that the 8 per cent. dividends are being earned with $4,000 to spare. There is some doubt as to whether steel prices will be reaffirmed at the meeting to-night, and doubt as to whether the Westinghouse Electric will escape registration. The stockholders must subscribe to the new stock by June 1. Many seem to have held out from the plan. The Republic Steel preferred dividend meeting is due, and there has been talk of suspension of dividends, which are currently 4 1/2c. A. N. has declared a semi-annual cash dividend of 2 1/2 per cent., as compared with 3 per cent. paid in certificates of indebtedness six months ago. It is said that Rockefeller interests accumulated large amounts of 3 1/2 per cent. around 4 1/2c. Rates for time money are so low that comparison with investment yield of many dividend paying stocks tends to stimulate purchases. Many buyers during the panic have, it is said, been inclined to take profits.—Emmis & Stoppard.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1908.

A DISGRACED PREMIER.

Whitney endeavors to minimize the monstrous crime of his gerrymander by saying that he had no later data as to population than the census of 1900, and was, therefore, working in the dark. Instead of being an excuse, this is but a confession of the scoundrelly nature of the outrage perpetrated against the fairness and justice of the franchise. The law contemplates a readjustment of the constituencies after each decennial census, and not between such periods. The object of the redistribution to be made at such times is to so rearrange the boundaries of constituencies as to reasonably equalize population so as to make the representation in the Legislature bear some proportion to the people represented. Nothing was further from the intention of the framers of the law than that the power of redistribution should be used capriciously by a Government, and with the manifest object of deliberately violating the purpose and intent for which the provision was made, to render nugatory the principle of representation by population, so vital a principle in our constitution.

There is no pretence on the part of Whitney that he aimed at equalizing population by his gerrymander. The fact is that in most cases he aggravated the lack of equalization! There was no pretence of respecting county boundaries, or of maintaining the political constituency associations that had existed. Townships were taken from one constituency, and placed in another, wherever it seemed probable that a seat might be stolen thereby; and this was done with the effect of increasing the population of more populous constituencies, and decreasing the less. Notorious instances are found in Essex, Middlesex, Hastings, and other places. Huron was helplessly cut up, a second attempt having been resorted to, to try to give the Tories in one riding of a county giving a large Liberal majority, so that there would be one Tory seat and two probably Tory ones. This was accomplished by making one riding a narrow strip over 30 miles in length.

Starting with an effort to cover his crime with the cloak of respectability, Whitney announced that the redistribution would be referred to a committee of three Tories and two Grits. Very soon, however, the committee fare was exposed. The schedules were presented to it ready made by the Premier and his machine, and nothing was left for it to do but ratify them, which, of course, the majority of the committee obediently did, objections by the minority being only gibes. Even Whitney himself bravely replied to a query as to what the committee's duties were that he did not know any use that it could serve. He had resolved upon the crime against the electorate, and he did not propose that any awkwardness should be caused by the criticism of a committee.

Whitney's gerrymander is one of the meanest outrages ever perpetrated by a small and unprincipled politician. It can neither be defended on grounds of public policy, nor excused by the presence of rendering the equalization of the constituencies better. It is a deliberate goal for which no more is to be said than for the robbing of a citizen's household by the thief who works with dark lantern and jimmy. And it is by this means that Whitney seeks to snatch another lease of power from the people he has so ruthlessly betrayed.

AMES TASTE FOR SLANDER.

In the discussion of the timber limits matter, to which the Tories have reverted, now that Rowlin and Rogers have again turned their backs on Ottawa, Mr. Ames cut a rather humiliating figure on Tuesday. He had made a number of unflattering insinuations against Mr. Burrows, when that gentleman took him to task for the cowardly manner in which he was treated by the Opposition when he challenged them in the Public Accounts Committee to call him to the witness stand and subject him to examination. Mr. Ames had insinuated—the Opposition has not been honorable enough to make any charge—that in the case of three limits, bought by Mr. Burrows by tender, the bids suggested that he had obtained a knowledge of the other figures. This cowardly and contemptible insinuation was met by showing that Mr. Burrows' bid was $3,345 more than the next highest tenderer's. Why should he have thrown away $3,345 when, had he had knowledge of the other figures, $5 or $10 would have sufficed? Mr. Burrows also gave Mr. Ames' statement that he owned 1,600 square miles of timber lands, the lie direct; and he also took occasion to state that he had no interest in the Cedar Lake limit, which the Mail and Empire said he had bought for $500, and was now holding at $200,000. Mr. Burrows emphatically stated that no such quantity of timber grew upon any limit in the Northwest. Mr. Ames was not to be satisfied, however; his other statements might be falsehoods, but he would get him on another limit. To his discomfort, Mr. Burrows explained: "I did not buy it from the Government. I bought it from Shaw Bros., who acquired it from the Tory Government 18 years ago." And the House laughed, while Mr. Ames collapsed.

As the Tories refused to call Mr. Burrows before the Public Accounts Committee, Mr. Burrows took the opportunity to make a somewhat full statement by way of showing his position and the malicious falsehood in which Mr. Ames and his fellow slandersmongers have indulged. Mr. Burrows explained that he was interested in 17 limits, in six of them with others. His tenders totalled $50,000 against $48,079, the next highest, showing that the Government gained $10,050 by his purchasing. This purchase price was not by any means all the Government obtained, although Mr. Ames seeks to leave that impression. One limit, for which he paid the Government $1,500 bonus for the lease, he had paid $11,970 in timber dues. For nine years he had paid the Government from $6,000 to $7,000 a year in timber dues. Instead of having 1,600 square miles of limits, he had only 434, and part of that was jointly owned by others. He was not in the lumber business as a politician. He had been engaged in it all his life, and the limits had been obtained by public tender, and before he became a member of the House.

With such a plain statement of facts, borne out by the records before him, Mr. Ames might be expected, were he an honorable man, to withdraw the rash and false insinuations in which he has indulged. He has not done so. The public may draw its own conclusions. The fact that he refused to call Mr. Burrows as a witness before the Public Accounts Committee when he was present, and asking to be examined, shows that some other object was aimed at than the obtaining of the fact and doing justice in the premises.

MCCLEMONT'S SPEECH.

The Times publishes elsewhere in this evening's issue a full report of the speech of Mr. McClemont delivered in East Hamilton last evening. It lays down in clear, concise terms the reasons he asks for the votes of the electors, and tells where he stands on the public Provincial questions of the day. In it he reviews the great work done by the late Liberal Government—the fight it fought on behalf of Provincial rights, the great public philanthropic institutions it established all over the Province, the legislation passed for the benefit of labor, the building up of New Ontario and the building of the Temiskaming Railway, which has made possible the receipt of a largely increased income by the Province. He declared himself in favor of technical education and of the establishment of a college in Hamilton. He also declared himself in favor of an independent commission to regulate the liquor traffic. On the question of labor he reiterated his statement that he favored the creation of a Provincial Minister of Labor to look after the interests of the workmen. His position in this respect is more advanced than that of Mr. Studholme. He again appealed to his Tory opponents for a clean election, offered to enter upon an agreement with that end in view, and declared that he would not spend one cent wrongfully in this campaign. His speech, which had the ring of victory about it, was an able and eloquent presentation of his views on public affairs, and we earnestly ask all our readers to give it careful perusal.

THE REPTILE FUND.

Both Messrs. Wardrop and McClemont made up their minds from the first that, as far as they are concerned, this shall be a clean, honest election. They have both announced that they will not spend one cent illegitimately, that if they cannot be elected honestly they do not want to be elected at all. They have no money to use for the benefit of the doubtful voter, the loose fish or purchasable vote. Not only have they made their position clear on this point, but they have both stated their willingness to enter into a compact or bargain with their opponents to that effect. But so far no notice has been taken of their offer. All decent voters, of whatever party, cannot help but admire the stand on behalf of purity of elections taken by the Liberal candidates, and it is to be regretted that the Tory candidates are not so anxious to have a clean election. However, crooked work will be closely watched by the supporters of the Liberal candidates. The law against bribery is now very strict, and the men with the long green will have to be mighty sly if they escape detection. Men thus caught will have a good chance to make the acquaintance of the inside of the jail.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Remember, MacKay on Tuesday night! If you have not got your name on the voters' list yet there is still another chance; but you must move quickly. Parse-snatching becomes a really serious matter in the light of Judge Snider's severe sentence. Such punishment should tend to discourage crimes of that kind. Stratford will give its ratepayers a chance to vote on the Hydro-Electric scheme, with what later knowledge has been gained concerning it, before saddling them with the large debt and liability which it involves. Last year's council made a bad muddle of the question of the location of the Southern Home, and this year's council's dilatoriness has added difficulty to the situation. It is not unreasonable that the people of the neighborhood should be heard as to the site, but there is no excuse for the aldermanic delay which complicates the question. Hon. Mr. Foster and his colleagues have apparently changed their minds as to forcing the Government to go to the country, for yesterday they allowed the estimates for the Northwest Mounted Police and part of those for civil government to pass the House. It is still somewhat a matter of conjecture as to the reason for the changed front, although the Toronto World reiterates its statement that Sir Wilfrid has come to an agreement with the Opposition to withdraw some of the Election Bill clauses and substitute others agreeable to the Manitoba Tories. It may be taken for granted, however, that the Premier will not sacrifice the rights of his Liberal following in Manitoba.

Hon. George E. Foster, M. P., is franking, from the House of Commons, political circulars urging North Ontario people to register. That is not exactly stealing money from the country, but there will be many who will regard it as a reprehensible abuse of privilege by a man who pretends to high principles and a fine regard for discrimination in the use of public money.

The Toronto News, Mr. Whitney's chief personal auditor, declares that "the Conservatives contend that there should be uniform Federal lists prepared under the authority of judicial officers." That is exactly the proposal made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to satisfy the Opposition with regard to the Aylesworth bill. Why did it not accept that? Why does the News not demand of its party that it accept judicially prepared lists?

Welland Liberals are out to redeem the constituency. In last election Mr. E. E. Fraser (Con.), had 201 majority. Thousands of old Liberals are now rallying to the support of Mr. George W. Sutherland, and many decent Conservatives, who have been deceived in Whitney, will be found with them on June 8. The moral sense of Welland has been deeply shocked by Whitney's violation of his trust, and his prostitution of every principle to the machine, and there will be some surprises when the ballots are counted.

The junior Tory organ is shedding the disguise of independence and appears to desire to be more Tory than the Whitney Government. It ridicules Mr. Beck's assertion that the Hydro scheme is not a political question, says it is idle to represent it as being non-political, and declares that it would like to see Hendrie and Studholme elected to support it. One excuse will do just as well as another for the Herald blossoming out as a Tory partisan when an election campaign comes around.

Now that Major Hodgins has been constrained to admit that under adjustment of the work on the section regarding which he made his charges, the cost of the work in mixed cuttings would, under the force account method of classification (that is, paying according to the actual cost of the work), which was the method that he himself suggested to the Commission, have cost more than under the classification against which he complained, the charges lose much of their importance.

There are not so many "smart" gibes at the city dock these days. The interested ones, who have, from time to time, ridiculed its purchase as a foolish one involving the city in loss, are silent now. The aldermen have already accepted the offer of Taylor Bros. for $1,500 a year for use of part of the dock, they to keep a man in charge at no expense to the city. The city dock is a good investment, and, like the revenue mill, will prove to be an excellent thing for Hamilton. But we shall miss the sneers.

The senior Tory organ laments "the rapid toboggan slide fall of the Globe from its advocacy of high ideals." The high-minded Spectator is disgruntled because the Globe objects to the Premier's falsehood on the floor of the Legislature, his utter abandonment of his professions of principle, and his surrender to the evil elements of his party. The Spectator cannot forgive the Globe for objecting to the La Rose steal, the license inequities, and the gerrymander. Why can't the Globe still and be knifed, without making a fuss, it wonders.

The Mail and Empire is not going to lose any campaign effect that can be made out of Major Hodgins' testimony. It seeks to make much of it by resorting to the device of manufacturing the report of the evidence instead of giving it in the Major's own words. He had stated that by over-classification the N. T. R. was being robbed of $400,000 on the Lake Superior Junction section. According to the Mail's faked report, he reduced that to $2,000,000. As a matter of fact, however, in his examination he swore that the over-classification would add only $400 a mile, or $70,000 for the entire section!

The Toronto World admits that Laurier's proposition to have the voters' lists where not compiled by the municipal authorities prepared by the judges, is a "desirable end," and it admits that it would be difficult "to secure either Dominion or Provincial officials who command the confidence of both political parties when entrusted with the responsibility of making up electoral rolls." But in the face of that and of the admission that the Manitoba lists are now in the hands of partisan agents, the World still severely condemns the Dominion Government for the situation precipitated by its attempt at reform!

The power monopoly organ, in its effort to induce the aldermen to refuse to effect a saving of 10 per cent. over the Hydro-Electric Commission's price, says, "If the only electric power to be used in Hamilton were the power for lighting the streets, pumping water, and other civic purposes * * * the city would not be able to buy Cataract power for less than the cost of Government power." Naturally enough, because there would be no other power to offer, none being used, according to the organ's supposition. The fact remains, however, that more power is used—and it is cheaper than in competing cities—and the price offered for power for lighting and pumping is guaranteed to be cheaper by 10 per cent. than the Hydro Commission's figures. And no competition is promised by the Hydro scheme while the city is shut up to absolute monopoly for 30 years.

Whitney Don't Want It (Woodstock Sentinel-Review).

Some of the Whitney papers are calling on the people to stand by the Niagara power. And not without reason. If the people do not stand by it, who will? The Whitney Government, there is excellent reason for believing, would be glad to be well rid of the whole perplexing problem.

Nobody Cares (Woodstock Sentinel-Review).

Hon. Adam Beck threatens that the Conservatives, in retaliation on their political opponents, will make the power question a party issue. It will be interesting to see what becomes of the threat. There is a prevailing opinion that, apart from Mr. Beck himself, there is nobody connected with the Government sufficiently attached to the power proposal to boom it, even for campaign purposes.

Jim's Advice (Grimsby Independent).

My advice to the men and boys of this town is "cut out the whiskey bottle habit." Local option or no local option, get away from the habit of carrying a whiskey bottle. It may appear to be lots of fun now, but the day will come when it will be a curse to you, so cut it out and cut it out right away. It benefits nobody but the man in Hamilton who sells the whiskey.

Nearing Its End (Stratford Beacon).

At last night's meeting of the City Council the Finance Committee reported that as the Hydro-Electric contract which the city had been asked to sign did not contain any guarantee of the price of power delivered at Stratford, it was not in accordance with the by-law passed last January, and a new by-law omitting these conditions would have to be submitted to the ratepayers. This report was unanimously adopted by the council.

The meaning of this action is the killing of the Hydro-Electric power scheme so far as Stratford is concerned, for it is inconceivable that any body of ratepayers would vote for a by-law which would render the city liable for charges amounting annually to $30,000 or $35,000 without knowing what the cost of power would be or being able to make a single contract with a manufacturer. The people of this city are not in the habit of going it blind on municipal expenditures.

The Purity Campaign. (London Advertiser).

"If you want a technical school you should elect a member who is persona grata to the Government," said Hon. John Strathearn Hendrie to the electors of West Hamilton. "Can you expect the Government to give as large grants to the Liberal candidates who would criticize everything they do? Do you think the Government is going to be as liberal to a constituency that opposes it?" asked Thomas Herbert Lennox, Conservative candidate for North York, speaking at New Liskeard. "You will make the mistake of your lives if you send down a Liberal. Blood is thicker than water. It is not human that a Government should do as much for a man who is everlastingly kicking open the back door as it would be for a supporter," was the delicate appeal of Robert Roswell Games, Conservative candidate for Manitowish, speaking from the same platform as Mr. Lennox.

"We will bribe no constituency," declares the Hon. James Pecksniff Whitney. Courtesy is an art with almost infinite possibilities. It may seem a little thing to say the right word, but it has helped many a man up the ladder of achievement and without it many a man of talent has gone down in defeat.

The Merry Widow Hat. (Montreal Herald).

A Toronto clergyman has declared war upon the merry widow hat, his righteous anger being aroused by the complaint of a small boy that at a church service of more than ordinary solemnity, he had "sprained his neck" trying to get a view of the ceremonies, his line of vision being broken, whatever he might do, by one of these hats. At another recent function, which involved a universal wish to see a great personage, the front row of women's headgear rose like a curtain to shut off the view. It being a stand-up affair, and the great personage not being very tall, the great discovery of that hour hit upon the plan of taking a line over the shoulder of the lady in front of him, and so, under the merry widow hats, managed to catch an occasional rare and fleeting glance of him who was the object of interest. The fact is, of course, that the merry widow hat is designed to be looked at from in front, and a clergyman who thought little of being seen would be likely to feast his eyes upon the viking-like array planted before him, unless, in deed, his mind might be distracted by the obsession, common to the male side of humanity, of wanting to know for sure what sort of face went with so attractive a headgear—a quest not invariably satisfactory to the aesthetic soul. It may just be, therefore, that the "sprain" in the boy's neck had its counterpart in the minister's own, which, with an ever so slightly disordered liver, and a low average of physical charm under the hats, would be sufficient to account for his present denunciation. Nevertheless, it is not to be believed, that the doom of the hat is sealed, if the women believe it catches the eye and challenges a second look, its chances are good to run the brief life such fashions always live. It is with such passions a good deal as with the measles; when they break out everywhere they are soon over with altogether, whereas to drive them is to invite disaster.

Pure Olive Oil. This oil cures constipation, aids the sluggish liver and often prevents appendicitis. J. W. Ferris, druggist, 32 James street north, has just received from Marseilles, France, an importation of the finest quality, expressed specially for internal use. It is almost tasteless, easily assimilated and very nutritious. Sold in bottles, sealed this or bulk. There are divers ways of getting in the swim.

Dundas, May 21.—Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock while Stanley Frank Verrell, the three-year-old boy of Henry Verrell, an employee of Johnston's carriage shop, was playing with some other children along the creek bank, near the old cotton mill premises, he fell into the stream, and was carried a considerable distance before being rescued by George Cornell. On Tuesday afternoon Charles Abel, formerly of Bullock's Corners, had Thomas O'Connor, sen., and Thomas O'Connor, jun., before Mayor Moss on a charge of assault and robbery of a chattel mortgage. Abel caused considerable amusement to the back-benchers by his manner of giving evidence. According to his story, the O'Connors knocked him down, struck him and robbed him of the chattel mortgage, but Abel's witnesses, Closson Hanes and J. J. Morden, said that O'Connor, sen., did not touch Abel, and that when Abel fell the papers fell on the road, and O'Connor, sen., picked them up, and that O'Connor, jun., afterwards came running up and slapped Abel several times with his open hand. The charge against O'Connor, sen., was dismissed, and that against O'Connor, jun., was amended to common assault, to which he pleaded guilty, and was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $12.50.

DOMBEY NIGHT.

Delightful Evening For the Dickens Fellowship.

A large and select audience gathered in the recital hall of the Conservatory of Music last evening to hear Mr. William Miles, of London, England, give his recital of "Dombey and Son" under the auspices of the Hamilton branch of the Dickens Fellowship. Mr. Miles has a splendid voice, and a strong personality, which holds the unwavering attention of the audience. That the recital won the hearty approval of those present is attested by the applause at the conclusion of the programme. He divided the subject into two parts, the first dealing with the birth, childhood and premature death of Paul, and the other relating to Mr. Dombey's second matrimonial venture. His portrayal of the scene in the death chamber was exceedingly fine, and the entire presentation of the incidents in little Paul's short career was striking and pathetic. His Major Bagstock was a most humorous and amusing character. Mr. Miles extracted effectively the abounding humor, the deep pathos and the faultless penetration of character which Dickens instilled into the work. Mr. George Allan sang a solo in his own inimitable style, accompanied by C. Percival Garratt.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY.

Grand Army Will Attend First Congregational Church.

The last Sunday in the month of May is observed by the Grand Army Posts in the United States as memorial day, and in every city, town or village union services are held in one or more churches, which are attended by old soldiers and their families. Occasionally this day has been observed by the C. A. R. post in this city. The Rev. J. K. Unsworth, pastor of the First Congregational Church, corner of Hughson and Cannon streets, has kindly consented to preach the memorial sermon on next Sunday morning, May 24, at eleven o'clock. The Post Commander extends an invitation to all American citizens resident in Hamilton to unite with the post in this memorial service to the comrades who have answered the last roll call. The members of the Post and the wives of deceased comrades will meet at Green's hall, corner of King and Catharine streets, at 10 o'clock, to march to the church. Decoration day services will be held on Saturday, May 30, which every comrade in Hamilton is expected to attend. The ladies of Hamilton have been very kind in past years in providing flowers for decoration day. There will be a committee at Green's Hall on that morning to receive contributions of flowers.

SHIPPERS MEET.

Demand Simple Bill of Lading From Railways.

Mr. W. R. Dunn, traffic manager of the International Harvester Company, presided at a meeting of a committee of the representatives of business institutions of Canada interested in the simple bill of lading, which shippers are demanding. The meeting was held in Toronto yesterday. They discussed the clauses of the bill of lading submitted by the railways to the Board of Railways Commissioners. Objection was taken to every clause, and it was decided that a clean and simple bill of lading would be in the best interests of the shippers as well as of the railways. The sub-committee will meet again and draw up a simple bill of lading, which they will refer to the railway for approval. If then they cannot agree the whole question will go before the Railway Commission.

They were caught in a shed near the robbery, attired in new clothing, all alike. This morning they all said they had received no word from friends. The Magistrate sentenced each of them to three years and six months in Kingston Penitentiary. They all smiled, as sentence was pronounced.

SERVED HIM ABOUT RIGHT.

LOUIS HARE'S FUN COST HIM ABOUT $50.

And He Got No Sympathy From the Court—Charge Against Eddie Burke Dismissed.

At Police Court this morning Louis Hare, who had Eddie Burke arrested on a charge of stealing $45 from him, was told he had not made out a case against Burke, and that he deserved to lose his money. Burke pleaded not guilty, and declined to elect a jury. The case was set for Monday night he was drinking with Burke, and was introduced to a young woman. The three went to the Jockey Club, and had some fun and then came back uptown. They went to Burke's back yard, and had some more drinks, and Hare told the couple $2 for the fix. He was just leaving when he missed his pocketbook and the $45. He taxed them with the theft, but both denied it. Later he saw his pocketbook in a shed, but there was no money in it. Burke wanted to tell his story, but the Magistrate told him it was unnecessary. "It serves you right. That's all I can say," said his Worship as he discharged Burke.

FELL TO DEATH.

Balloon Drops Three Thousand Feet and Officer Killed.

Rio Janeiro, May 21.—A fatal balloon ascension was made here yesterday, by Lieut. Fonseca, of the Brazilian army. The lieutenant came out from France recently with a military balloon and this morning he completed his preparations for his first ascension before the military school. The military school and a large gathering of officers had assembled to witness the experiment. Fonseca entered the car and was completing his final preparations when a strong gust of wind obliged the men who were holding the gasbag to let go. The balloon shot up into the air, breaking the last rope that held it to the ground. It rose to an altitude of three thousand feet, when suddenly it collapsed and fell down to the earth with unchecked rapidity. The lieutenant was crushed to death. It is supposed that the accident was caused by a false manoeuvre on his part.

HARD TO PLEASE.

Six Woman Suffragettes Arrested in London To-day.

London, May 21.—A number of militant women suffragettes, dissatisfied with the reply of Prime Minister Asquith to an important delegation of Radical members of the House of Commons yesterday on the question of claims of women for enfranchisement, made a demonstration in front of the Premier's residence in Downing street this morning, and the police reserves had to be called out in order to clear the thoroughfare. They arrested six of the noisiest demonstrators. The six women taken into custody all went to prison for periods of from one week to one month, rather than give recognizances for their good behavior.

GRECO MURDER.

CASE CONCLUDED.

been cut, and the blood was spurting from it into the abdominal cavity. Witness said that he must have taken two or three quarts of blood from the cavity. Dr. Elliott corroborated Dr. Rennie's evidence. Mr. O'Reilly, in his opening remarks to the jury, said the jurors were not to be prejudiced against Greco, because he was a foreigner. There was no evidence to show there was malice on the part of Greco against the deceased. The crown had not produced any evidence as to any statement from Rieszio during the time the Greco brothers were at large, and nothing was said by Rieszio during the time he was in the hospital. There was evidence to show that the wound had completely healed and that pneumonia had not resulted from that source. The evidence of the crown's most important witness, Mendola, was contradicted by three or four witnesses. The crown had not produced a title of evidence to show that there was any quarrel. Evidence had been put in to show that pneumonia might develop from various causes. Mr. O'Reilly eloquently pleaded for the release of his client. Mr. Coatsworth, the crown prosecutor, in his address, said there was no doubt that Giuseppe Greco had used a knife on Rieszio, as the evidence of Mendola proved. The main facts of the case were agreed on by both prosecution and defence, viz., that Rieszio was called outside; that all the Italians saw the knife in Greco's hand, and that Bruno Greco was assisting his brother in frightening the rest of the Italians into silence. Mr. Coatsworth brought out the fact that the evidence put in by the doctors of both sides, went to show that a wound might bring on pneumonia. The exposure and the wound no doubt brought on the disease.

His Lordship, in addressing the jury said that jurors cannot too carefully consider the evidence before finding the prisoner guilty. The offence of murder is punishable by death. His Lordship then went into the evidence of Mendola, the first man to go outside to assist the brother of help. He referred to the stabbing, and the events that led up to it. Speaking of the evidence of the medical men, His Lordship said: "Medical men in the view of the jury, and in the following views and judgments, and assist in the candid expressions of science. It is calculated to shake one's confidence in the medical profession. When medical men are on the stand they should seek as far as possible to rid themselves of all bias and prejudice and assist the all in reaching the truth of the matter."

His Lordship said that the jury could not find Greco guilty on mere supposition. The jurors must be sure of their verdict without a shadow of a doubt. He would hold the prisoner responsible if the prisoner struck the blow that caused the death of Rieszio, but the death of Rieszio must be connected with the act of the prisoner. His Lordship held that it was not safe for the jury to say in view of the differences of the medical men, that the act of the prisoner caused pneumonia. The jury would have to be sure that there was intent. Was it an accident or was it intended? The jury retired to consider the case at 12.20.

OVER 50 KILLED.

And a Hundred Hurt in a Railway Wreck in Belgium.

Antwerp, May 21.—The worst railroad catastrophe ever recorded in Belgium took place near Contich, six miles south-east of Antwerp, this morning, when, because of a misplaced switch, the Antwerp express, running at 50 miles an hour, crashed into a train loaded with pilgrims on a siding. Every car of the pilgrims' train, except the foremost one, was telescoped. The cars were literally ground to pieces and practically all the passengers were either killed or badly injured. About fifty dead people already have been removed from the wreck and more are being extended to more than 100 injured. Surgeons, doctors, and nurses arrived early from Antwerp at the scene of the wreck. Shrieking and helpless wounded persons are still pinned under the debris, and the scene is one of horror that beggars description.

The station at Contich has been converted into a temporary morgue and hospital, and is rapidly filling up with the dead and wounded. The work of rescue is being admirably handled, and everything possible being done to alleviate the sufferings of the injured. All the clergy and physicians of Contich and the soldiers from the neighboring barracks are taking part in the work. In addition to the surgeons who have hurried down from Antwerp, an ambulance corps from Amiens also is on the scene. It now appears that the locomotive of the express train jumped the track, plunged into and completely wrecked the last three passenger coaches of the train on the siding. This train was carrying an excursion of pilgrims to a local shrine.

THREE LOST AT TILLSONBURG.

The Bartender of the Queen's Hotel Burned to Death.

Some Other Guests So Badly Hurt They May Die.

One Man Escaped by Sliding Down the Water Pipe.

Tillsonburg, May 20.—By the burning of the Queen's Hotel here early this morning three lives were lost and at least three persons seriously injured, while the majority of the sixty people, sleeping under the roof were in imminent danger of being cut off by the flames, and escaped in their night clothes by ladders and by jumping from the balconies. The Queen's Hotel was a three-story frame structure full of inflammable material. There were about forty rooms in the building, and most of them were occupied last night. Although no signs of life had been observed by a citizen, who passed by about 5:10, just a few minutes later when the servants were downstairs they found the lower part of the building in flames. Rushing up to the bedroom floors they roused the sleeping guests. The flames followed them after them, and in an incredibly short time the whole interior of the hotel was filled with fire and smoke. The guests who had been first alarmed, got safely out by the stairway or reached the balconies, to which ladders were speedily raised. Before those on the upper story could be warned off by means of the stairway was cut off, and those left in the hotel had to choose between a horrible death by fire and the chance of escape by the windows. Miss Gray jumped from the balcony of the second story. She was dead, and her skull being crushed in, and death was instantaneous. Bernard was on the second story, he, too, jumped when the flames came near him. He expired a few minutes after he was picked up by the rescuers, and it was at first supposed that he had died from the effects of the leap. It was discovered, however, that the flames had fatally burned him before he jumped.

Wheatley's Body Found.

Of the manner in which the third victim, Thomas Wheatley, the bartender, met his death nothing is known. The fire burned till the early afternoon, and a search of the ruins after it had been extinguished revealed a body burned beyond recognition, which must be his. He was 32 years of age and a son of Chief of Police Wheatley, of Clinton. It is thought death came as he slept in his room on the third story, and when the roof crashed in his body was carried down two floors to the dining room, where it was found.

Of the injured the most seriously hurt were Mrs. Mero, wife of John Mero, proprietor of the hotel; Miss Mero, and Miss Dunbar, of Buffalo. The elder lady was sleeping on the first floor and jumped from her bedroom window. She injured her back quite badly. Her husband was almost overcome by the blinding smoke, but was able to crawl down the steps on his hands and knees. Miss Minnie Mero and Miss Dunbar both jumped, the latter sustaining terrible injuries to her head on the concrete sidewalk. She was removed to the hospital, and but little hope is held out for her recovery. Miss Mero fractured her right leg, but not dangerously injured.

The Misses Campbell, employed in the store of John Northway & Co., who were on the first floor, jumped from the balcony, but Miss Maud was seriously injured.

Rescued Just in Time.

W. A. McCollum, who is a druggist here, and has an artificial leg, was overcome by smoke in his room while endeavoring to get into some clothing. He made his way to the window, however, and was rescued in a semi-conscious condition by the willing men who were rendering invaluable assistance to the unfortunate.

A thrilling escape was that of Mr. Chevington, who got to safety by climbing around on a coping. Episodes of this nature followed each other in quick succession, and the unfortunate as they reached the road were looked after at neighboring places. The seriously injured were hurried to the hospital, and the others who attended to those who were not seriously hurt. The heat from the fire was terrific, and blistered the feet of those who got out barefooted on to the stone sidewalk.

Escaped by the Water Pipe.

R. M. Overholt, a traveller for Bradshaw & Sons, Toronto, had a sensational escape. He was on the third story, and to jump meant certain death. All hope from the inside was cut off. The only possible avenue of escape was the water pipe that ran up the wall at the side of his window. It was extremely hazardous for anybody but a born sailor to attempt, but there was no alternative. He slid out to the sill, clutched the precarious support and slid to a lower roof. Here he had to repeat his performance before he landed safely on the ground. There were many other thrilling scenes, the actors in which were unknown. Among the commercial travellers who escaped unhurt but lost valuable outfits were Robert McKewen, of the Office Specialty Co., W. C. Halliday, of H. W. Nelson & Co., H. B. Jackman, of J. J. Taylor & Co., W. T. Prosser, of Austin & Co., W. S. Wisner, of Massey Harris Co., J. Miner, of Heintzman & Co., John Huxley, of W. B. Hamilton & Co.

Fire Escapes on Top Story.

The hotel is a total loss, and the firemen and citizens had a stiff fight to keep the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings. The M.C.R. ticket office and Short's tailor shop were damaged. The hotel was put up about thirty years ago, but was valued at $20,000, on which there was $15,000 insurance, divided as follows: $10,000 in Sun Fire and $15,000 divided between the British America, Phoenix and Commercial Union. The building was equipped with fire escapes on the top story, and there were balconies on the others.

The body of Mr. Bernard was sent to Toronto this afternoon for interment. The remains of Miss Gray were shipped to Stayner, and the body of Mr. Wheatley, the third victim, will go to Clinton to-morrow. An inquest has been deemed unnecessary. The physicians in attendance upon the injured have good hopes of the recovery of Mrs. Mero, her daughter, and Miss Dunbar.

NEW WAY TO BE WELL

Healthfulness of Oranges

The one lesson which most people never seem to learn is, how to guard their health. We have been eating oranges since time immemorial, yet how many of us know that orange juice contains a medicinal principle which has a marked action on the stomach, bowels, kidneys and skin? Some physicians go so far as to say that they can cure the average case of Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness and Dry Skin with orange juice and proper diet.

This can be easily proved to the satisfaction of any sufferer. Take the juice of one or two oranges every morning before breakfast, take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night at bedtime, exercise a reasonable care in diet, and the proof will be found in health.

The cure will be greatly assisted and hastened by taking "Fruit-a-tives" in conjunction with the orange juice. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the medicinal principle of oranges, apples, figs and prunes are many times increased by the special way in which they are combined. Then tonics are added and the whole made into tablets. "Fruit-a-tives" may be obtained at all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price—50c a box—4 for $2.50. "Fruit-a-tives," Limited, Ottawa.

Thomas Wheatley is in this city. When informed of the disaster and that her husband was missing Mrs. Wheatley was almost prostrated. About two years ago young Wheatley fell in love with a Miss Delmont of London. The young man's parents opposed the marriage and the couple were married clandestinely. Not wishing to incur the wrath of his parents, the couple decided to live apart for a few years, or until such time as the consent of Wheatley's father could be obtained. Mrs. Wheatley has been holding a position in the Savoy Hotel. She at once made haste to catch a train for Tillsonburg.

Miss Jessie Gray was a daughter of Mr. John Gray, grocer, of Stayner, and was about thirty years old. She had been at Tillsonburg since Christmas, and before that was at Eggersville.

Clarence A. Bernard, the Toronto victim of the fire, lived at 27 Jameson avenue, Parkdale, with his wife, and three young daughters.

POPE BLOCKS PLAN.

Refuses Sanction to Proposed Societies for Aged Priests in France.

Paris, May 20.—It is officially announced here that the Pope has instructed the French episcopate to refuse the clause in the Church Devolution Law providing for the creation of mutual aid societies for aged priests.

These societies, it was planned, would not only take care of the property, but also certain pension funds for aged priests, amounting to $4,000,000, but in accordance with a recent amendment to the Devolution of Church Property Bill, they would accept pious foundations for mass.

The news of this refusal is received with much regret by the independent newspapers. This refusal of the church will result, under the law, in turning over funds valued at many million dollars to public charities.

The Pope asks all priests to offer up one mass a year on behalf of those who instituted the pious foundations, and he says that one mass will be said each month at Rome for the repose of the souls of these persons. Furthermore, the Pope sets forth that he has deposited the sum of money necessary for the saying of 2,000 masses a year to this same end.

THREE FATAL ACCIDENTS.

Two of Them on the Railway—One a Drowning.

Montreal, May 20.—Two fatal railway accidents occurred in the city this morning. J. Eccleston was hit by a Grand Trunk engine and died on the way to the hospital. The other fatality occurred on the C. P. R. tracks between the Place Viger Station and Hochelaga. A man named Larouche was run over by an engine and his head severed from his body. Inquests will be held in both cases to-morrow.

ERROR IN BOOKKEEPING.

Charge Against Mr. Deacon, of Stratford, Dismissed.

Stratford, May 20.—F. B. Deacon, formerly manager of the Stratford Fuel, Ice, Cartage & Contracting Company, appeared to-day before Police Magistrate Oloane on a charge preferred by J. A. Crear of stealing a note for $1,000. The charge was dismissed on the ground of an error in bookkeeping.

Afraid to Sleep.

Miss Norma K. Straubenzik, well-known in Bedford, says: "Every year I was attacked with asthma. I used every medicine I ever heard of, and treated with many physicians. I was able to get relief, but never a permanent cure. When a bad attack came on I was afraid to go to sleep, the coughing and choking were so severe. Catarrhone cured me, and for more than a year I haven't been bothered." Catarrhone invariably cures Asthma and Catarrh. 25c. 50c and $1.00 sizes; the latter is guaranteed. Sold everywhere.

London Policeman's Escape.

London, May 21.—R. J. Robertson, one of the recently appointed policemen, had a marvellous escape from death last night. Robertson was standing close to the G. T. R. tracks at the Tecumseh House on Richmond street, bidding good-bye to a friend and did not notice the near approach of the eastern flyer. Before Robertson knew what struck him he was tossed over ten feet away, turning a complete somersault in his flight. To the great astonishment of those who saw the accident, Robertson picked himself up and continued on duty as if nothing had happened.

THE DEADLY BUTTERCUP.

Cancer in It, Says a Philadelphia Physician.

Philadelphia, May 20.—Dr. W. W. Chaffant, whose declaration that many cases of measles are due to a poison contained in the common field buttercup attracted considerable attention, is out with another statement in arraignment of the flower.

He now accuses it of being the cause of cancer. "The active poisons in the buttercup," says Dr. Chaffant, "are substances which produce inflammation at contact, and when taken internally may cause inflammation of the stomach and convulsions, and frequently death. The poison is transferred also in milk and meat."

The familiar and to many persons disagreeable smell of mutton is, he asserts, a distinctly cancerous smell. He states that he has produced conditions similar to those of cancer by rubbing healthy flesh with buttercups, and declares that in all probability the disease has its origin in the meat or milk of animals which eat the flowers. He urges the destruction of the bloom.

DYNAMITE IN THE RIVER.

An Attempt to Blow Up Bridge Across the Harlem.

New York, May 20.—That an attempt was made last night to blow up the new bridge of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad over the Harlem River at West 125th street, became known today when a valise containing ten sticks of dynamite was found floating in the river. An investigation followed the finding of the valise, and the police learned that the watchman on the bridge had been set upon by a man during last night, when he caught them in the act of placing a charge of dynamite under the structure. The watchman succeeded in driving off the men, who dropped the dynamite into the river. It was picked up by a barge captain, who turned it over to the police.

SAVED THE CHILDREN.

Mr. Robert Quinn, of Ottawa, Lost His Life Bravely.

Ottawa, May 20.—From injuries received yesterday when he was run over by a heavy wagon in the attempt to save some children from being run over, Robert Quinn, of the firm of R. & G. Dunn, Ottawa, died early this morning at his home. Mr. Quinn was driving his wagon home, when the bit in his horse's mouth broke, and the animal plunged madly forward. In front of the horse several little children were playing. To save them Mr. Quinn jumped down and caught the horse by the neck.

He succeeded in turning the horse aside and saved the children, but he was thrown to the ground and the wagon passed over his back. His injuries were of a severe internal character. He died at 4 o'clock this morning.

DROWNED AT LONDON.

Luke O'Kieffe's Body Found in River at Springbank Park.

London, May 20.—Luke O'Kieffe, an inmate of the Aged Peoples' Home, was drowned in the Thames River last night at Springbank Park. The body was discovered face downwards in two feet of water by Thomas Sumner, the caretaker of the park. Two whiskey flasks were found on the adjoining bank. The drowned man had never been known to drink to excess.

FOUND DEAD IN COTTAGE.

Tragic End of Aged London Woman Who Lived Alone.

London, Ont., May 20.—Mrs. Eliza Kelly, about 70 years of age, was found dead at 9:25 o'clock this morning in her cottage, 436 Park avenue, where she lived alone. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition, showing that death, which was due to natural causes, had taken place about four days ago.

APPROVED OF ANNEXATION

Upon Terms to be Outlined by the City.

Committee to Arrange Firemen's Time Off.

New Water Extensions Passed by the Aldermen.

The Fire and Water Committee did not get down to business last night till 9 o'clock, and had just nearly started when the expenditure to date and estimated expenditure came up. Mayor Stewart and the five members present, Chairman Clark, and Ald. Anderson, Guy, Peregrine and Wright, and the clerk, City Solicitor and the City Engineer talked for an hour on them. The final decision met with general favor. It was to lay the estimates over to the next meeting. As they were presented last night they were enough to scare the committee.

The question of asking the Municipal Board for permission to issue debentures for waterworks construction was laid over till the next meeting. The cause of this was that no proper estimate could be made on the mountain system, he could see. One of the Ald. A. J. Wright brought up a proposition to get new shops for the department at a cost of $6,000. The shops are needed badly. Mayor Stewart asked the committee to recommend that the mountain district under consideration be annexed. He stopped the storm of protest by the announcing that his resolution was what the Railway and Municipal Board wanted to make their finding.

"If you are not satisfied with the finding," said his worship, "you are given the right by the board to rescind the motion; and the district is not allowed to state the terms."

The recommendation was made. The tenderers for the electric pumps are getting tired of the way the city is holding their money, waiting on the Hydro-Electric people. Several have written, among them the Philadelphia tenders, and as they were high they will get their cheque at once, and the others can get theirs by substituting a bond.

City Engineer Barrow reported that a water main to Paradise Road district would be a bad investment, as far as the cost of the water is concerned. As far as the cost of the water is concerned, the City Engineer Barrow would lay out a route, and they would pass on it at the next meeting. The estimated cost was $4,000. In the end it was decided to lay a temporary two-inch main at a cost not to exceed $400, to the three manufacturers on the road, to lay the pipe and make connections.

A lot next to the new fire station on Sanford avenue was ordered bought at a cost of $400. The lot is 20 feet in frontage. As Chairman Clark and Chief Ten Eyck both said they would buy it if the committee did not, the order was made. The money will be paid next January out of the new appropriation. Chief Ten Eyck and Building Inspector Anderson said the building of the Crane Company on Charles street, was not a fit place for the storing of oils. The company asked for six months' extension of their oil storing license till they could get a place outside the city.

The Crown Oil Co.'s building, MacNab street north, was also reported as unfit for oil storing. They asked for leave to store not more than 20 gallons of inflammable and light oils. These two complaints were agreed to stand, and the companies were asked to fix up a bit and do what Chief Ten Eyck suggests. Larger mains, and, in some places, new mains and hydrants, will be installed as follows:

Burington street, Hughson to MacNab—$850.

Wood street, from John to MacNab—$1,175.

Caroline street, King to Napier—$640. Total cost estimated $3,145.

It was also decided to install a 6-inch main on South street at a cost of $600. All the residents of the street petitioned for it.

The application of the members of the fire department for every fifth day off, instead of four days a month, was not very clear. It was decided to appoint Chief Ten Eyck and Chairman Clark a committee to see what could be done without putting any $1 for a goat. "Here's an account for $1 for a goat," said Secretary James. "What's that?" was the instant chorus, as all turned towards the Chief for an explanation. "Aw! he means for two pounds of butter for horse oatmeal," said the Chief. Other accounts were passed, and the Central Station telephone placed on a separate line, and this will likely be done, as it is needed at every fire and is at present a party line, with seven connections.

Fire in Manitoba Town.

Russell, Man., May 20.—The west side Main street, for over half a block, was wiped out by fire last night. The loss is approximately $100,000, and not half covered by insurance. Among the places burned were: T. A. Wright's office, G. W. Glover's store, R. R. Rogers' office, the Oddfellows' Hall, J. W. Fraser's store, A. R. Gallin's office, and F. Matheson's store.

Insurance Companies Win Suit Over Kingston Disaster.

London, May 20.—The question whether the fire which partially destroyed the city of Kingston, Jan. 23, in January of 1907 broke out before or after the earthquake was decided in the King's Bench division to-night in favor of the insurance companies interested in the losses incurred. The earthquake caused the fires, and that consequently they were protected from the claims for damages under the earthquake exemption clause in their policies.

The present test case was brought by a Manchester firm against the London & Lancashire Fire Insurance Co. It had occupied the attention of the court for the best part of a month. Many witnesses were brought from Jamaica, and leading counsel were engaged by both sides.

Fatal Accident at Wilbur.

Kingston, May 20.—John Warrington, of Falkirk, Lanark county, was instantly killed at the iron mines at Wilbur. A large piece of rock fell and struck him on the head. An inquest is to be held to-morrow.

Marriages in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, May 20.—Marriages performed in this Province by American clergymen and Salvation Army officers will be declared illegal, and those celebrating such will be liable to prosecution in future.

CANDIDATE M'CLEMENT ON ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Splendid Address Last Night by the Liberal Candidate For East Hamilton.

Labor Question, License Laws, Technical Education and Law Reform Dealt With.

Tory Corruption Funds--Government Aiding the Toronto Hog to Enormous Extent.

Enthusiasm with the prospect of sweeping East Hamilton, headquarters last night, notwithstanding a downpour of rain, to hear the candidate, William M. McClement, lay down the platform on which he expects to be carried to victory on election day. With all the vigor and eloquence of which he is capable, the speaker enunciated the policy and principles of Liberalism and the clear-cut attitude he himself has taken on questions of vital interest to the people of the Province of Ontario. His slashing attacks on the Whitney Administration for its failures to fulfill its promises and the bungling of everything of any importance it had undertaken were features of the stirring address, which was punctuated throughout with vigorous applause.

A United Party.
The chairman, Mr. Thomas Robson, in a few words, introduced the speaker, who in a stirring two-hour address held the undivided attention of the crowd.

Prophecying a sweeping victory, Mr. McClement declared that the hope was justified by the encouragement he was receiving in his canvass from every nook and corner of the riding. "As I remarked on other nights," he said, "in going from factory to factory I can see victory in the air. I never knew a contest, and I have engaged in many of them, when our Liberal friends were more loyal and enthusiastic to the candidate and the party than they are on this occasion. I think it augurs much for my success in this campaign."

The Liberal party of this Province are appealing to the people of Ontario under different conditions to what it was three years ago. To-day we are a party in opposition and a party in opposition is generally a good fighting party. To-day our members sit on the left of the Speaker, instead of on the right, but the Liberal party of this Province is not dead, although in opposition. It has lost none of that old-time enthusiasm that has characterized it in the past. Liberals to-day are as loyal and true to the principles and policies of Liberalism as they were to those principles and policies when they were enunciated by our old leaders, instead of the new.

"The Liberal party of Ontario do not forget that the Liberal party was largely instrumental in building up and developing this Province as the leading province of the Dominion. Our friends do not forget that it was Sir Oliver Mowat, one of our great leaders, who stood up for Provincial rights in this Province. Nor do they forget that it was the Liberal party that built up the great system of hospitals, asylums and refuges for the care of the unfortunate; that it was the Liberal party which built up the great educational system, the pride and boast of this Province. Liberals do not forget that it was this party that opened up New Ontario, built the Temiskaming Railway, opening up that great northern part of the province and revealed a wealth that we never dreamed we possessed. They remember that through all the years this great work was being done not a word of encouragement was received from the Opposition, which obstructed in every way the great works for the Province of Ontario."

Liberal Policies and Principles.
The accomplishment of this work in all those years necessitated an expenditure of $188,000,000, and while the present Government, then in opposition, was there to watch every dollar of expenditure, and now that they have succeeded in getting possession of the departments, the files and records, the Whitney Administration has not been able to show that a single dollar was misapplied. I think that is the most satisfactory record of the Liberal party, the most satisfactory evidence that the policy and principles for which the Liberals of this Province stood for thirty-three years is to be found in the fact that Whitney, now that he is in power, has not seen fit to depart, but to follow out almost slavishly, in detail that policy. He is neither bold enough and honest enough nor honest enough and bold enough as his followers proclaim it, to depart one iota from the policy laid down by the Government in Ontario or to depart one iota from the new trail blazed in Northern Ontario.

"Where the Government has departed it has been afraid to assume the responsibility. They have chosen to do that work and shifted the responsibility to what is known as government by commission, something that was never heard of under the old rule. We have a power commission, a school book commission, a railway commission to do the work of the Ministers and a general partisan, roving commission throughout this Province, with a political axe to cut off the heads of all Liberals and replace them with party followers and henchmen, and so successfully has that been carried into effect that not a single Liberal Justice of the Peace remains, only three Liberal inspectors are left and as far as I am aware not a single Liberal commissioner."

"The old system of responsible government which our forefathers fought for and established in this country is a thing of the past. We have now, instead of a government of the people, for the people and by the people, a responsible government through our representatives, a government of commissions, by commissions and for commissions and at a very great expense to the people of this Province. These commissions have cost $114,700, or nearly three times as much as the Cabinet Ministers' salaries. I hold that if we pay Cabinet Ministers their salaries they should do their duty and not shift it to a commission. The cost of civil government has increased in 1907 by reason of these commissions $46,000.

Against Corruption.
"I come to another point on which I wish to place myself on record once again. I enter this contest as a young man, forty-three years of age. I believe with a good character to those who know me best, with some fair knowledge of the political history and events of the last twenty years, with fair ability only to discuss and enunciate those policies to the people, to go into this contest determined that there is not one dollar to be spent, outside of legitimate expenses, towards my election. I do not desire and will not permit my party to spend one dollar to buy the vote of an indifferent, irresponsible or bribe-seeking elector of this constituency. I want every man, young and old, who goes into this campaign with me to come out of it with as clean hands as I will, and I insist that the election from beginning to end shall be conducted in a clean and honest manner."

"I have asked my opponents to join with me in seeing that this election is free from the slightest taint of bribery or corruption of any kind. I think the better elements of both political parties deplore that there has been so much corruption in elections. Long for the day when our politics will be clean and pure and when the humblest man, not blessed with much of this world's goods, will be in the same position to enter into a contest as the wealthiest man in the land."

"I am awaiting an answer from my opponent and if that man does not express a desire to join hands with me can judge whether they desire a clean contest or not. The position I take is that if the arm of the law is not sufficiently strong to crush out political corruption and if our legislation is not sufficiently strong to accomplish it, then it is up to the honor of political candidates and parties to join hands and see that what the arm of the law and legislation seem unable to perform, is enforced."

The Labor Question.
Mr. McClement reiterated his statements as to what he stood for on the labor question, and what he was prepared to do in the interests of the laboring class if elected.

"I am proud," he said, "of the fact that I am the son of a mechanic; that I come of a laboring family, and one of many brothers who are mechanics and workmen in the various trades of the Province. As a young solicitor his relation and business associations have been mostly with workmen, and he had come to understand their wants. For thirteen years he had been a member of and closely connected with many fraternal societies, which were composed of laboring men. There was no better trustee of the workingman's money than the fraternal societies of the city, which threw a cloak of protection around the laboring man and his family."

"My strongest claim is that I am a member of the Liberal party in this Province, which has done more in the interests of labor than any political party in history to-day," he said. The statements were endorsed with cheers and applause. Mr. McClement declared that no State or Province on the continent had done more for the protection of the workingman than did Ontario under the Liberal Government. The speaker recited many of the legislative measures enacted in the interests of labor. Not a single measure in labor's interests had been passed by the Whitney Government which was not passed by the Liberal Government. He has been two years in office, while the Liberal Government had to its credit thirty-three acts, or one for every year. Mr. McClement also referred to what the Dominion had done for labor.

"If there is one party," said Mr. McClement, "that owes true allegiance to the Liberal principles and Liberal policies, it is the workingman of the Province of Ontario. I take an independent stand on this matter. I have the speech of Mr. Studholme before me. We are personal friends, and I have not a word to say against him, except that I hope that he won't be elected. He has been two years in the House, and I do not doubt enthusiastic in the cause of labor. But I have perused his literature, and nowhere do I find him asking that a Minister be appointed to look after the interests of the laboring man."

"The stand I take is that the time has arrived when the labor interests are sufficiently strong and organized labor of sufficient importance in the city and throughout the Province to have a Minister of Labor in the Cabinet, and an active Minister to look after labor's interests. We have a Minister of Power and other Ministers. I ask any man are these as important in this Province as the interests of the thousands of workmen throughout Ontario and the Dominion. If there is any interest that should have a Minister, it is the laboring people of Ontario."

Mr. McClement outlined how this new position could be created without any extra expense to the Province. He believed in liberal remuneration for the office and would provide for this by taking $1,000 off each of the present Cabinet Ministers' salaries. There were some who contended that labor's interests could only be conserved by appointing a labor man. Was there any hope of labor getting sufficient representation in the House to accomplish this? He pointed out that the farmers some years ago, under an organization known as the Patrons of Industry, had succeeded in getting a number of representatives into Parliament, but not one of that independent body remained to-day.

"What I maintain is this," said the speaker, "and I think it is a tenable position. Labor can only get its just rights or claims recognized through one political party or the other. When you depend that one party or the other, seeing the number of votes behind it and recognizing the force of it, are bound to take a stand and recognize the claim if it is legitimate. What I say is that these rights are better conserved by appealing to one party or the other."

The License Laws.
Taking up the liquor license question, merchant to collect his bills, just as the workman had the same right to collect his wages from his employer. Another point was infants' estates. These should be more localized. At present there was an official guardian at Toronto, and this often proved very expensive, as well as limiting the possibility of a personal knowledge of the case. He was more in favor of placing cases in the hands of county judges.

Not Trusting People.
Urging another strong reason why the Government majority should be cut down," he said, "The majority of the Government is altogether too large and the Opposition is altogether too small. Forty-two of a Government majority and twenty-six of an Opposition Government is not conducive to good government, and it is not in the interests of the electorate of Ontario. The history of all Governments, wherever existing, show that governments with such large majorities become more and more aggressive and watchful opposition in Ontario. "It will not be Whitney's fault if he does not go back with as great a majority as he had before. He had once said, 'Let us trust the great democracy of the people, the time has come when all good men, when all Christian men who wish good government must get together or what their conscience, but he is not appealing to the independent, the great body of Christian electors. He is going to give them the go-by, and is pinning his faith to a gerrymander and political fund, contributed by MacKenzie and Mann, the railway magnates, and the LaRose Mine promoters."

That Political Fund.
"In guaranteeing the Canadian Northern bonds and giving $300,000 to the LaRose Mining people, I submit that he has done more to destroy the confidence of the electors of the province of Ontario, more to doom the Government sooner or later, than any legislation it has passed during the three years of its administration. "Mr. Whitney has explained that the Government has given this $300,000 to get certain information. It is a pretty big sum to pay 'for some information' regarding a mining claim in the north. If it is honest information, why is it not made public? If the people paid $130,000 for this information are they not entitled to give the Government $130,000?"

Mr. McClement also dealt in detail with the Canadian Northern deal. He said, "The only inference that you can reasonably draw from this is that it was laying a foundation and paving the way for a large election fund, to carry on this election against the Government. This election fund, that fund will be contributed from the $300,000, and from MacKenzie and Mann, to enable them to cash their bonds on the money market of the world. If it was honest or fair, why did they fear the light of day, and rush it through at the last hour of the session?"

"Under the head of Toronto the hog of the province, Mr. McClement said that in his opinion the time had arrived when the other parts of the province should be taken against the Government being carried on almost entirely in the interests of Toronto. On every opportunity that arose the Government threw more corn and fodder to the hogs of Toronto. Education, wholesale houses and the courts of administration were centered there. The representation had now been increased from four to eight members, giving every elector in Toronto the right to vote for two members, while in every other part of the province a man's vote was worth only half the value. This was unfair."

Mr. McClement also dealt with the government of Toronto University showing that sixteen out of the twenty members of the Board of Governors, resided in Toronto, while the whole Province had to pay for the maintenance of the university. Every time the people of another part of the Province, with any legislation, that was likely to seriously affect that city, the municipality making the recommendation, had to reckon with the phalanx before it could get its request granted.

"How long, he asked, 'are the people of Hamilton going to stand for this? Is justice or is it equity? How long are we going to be governed by the Albany Club of Toronto, as the people to the south of us are said to be by Tammany?'"

Normal College Steal.
Discussing the education question, Mr. McClement ably outlined what the Liberal Government had done for education and showed how Whitney's administration had bungled it. First of all he had appointed Dr. Pyne, a man who knew very little about educational matters. From the time he has been appointed these things have been in a chaotic state, and this was shown by the record at teachers' conventions.

"The administration," he said, "had made one serious blunder, seriously affecting the city of Hamilton. Its first act in revolutionizing the educational system of the Province was to remove the Normal College, which was the boast and pride of the city of Hamilton, an institution on which the city had expended $75,000; an institution that brought 150 of the best educated young men and women to Hamilton to give the benefit of their social and intellectual influence to the community; an institution that had been a source of revenue to widows and boarding house keepers."

To-day if a man desired to have his daughter receive higher education he was obliged to send them abroad at big expense. The college had been taken away from here notwithstanding the protest of Liberals and Conservatives, and everyone conceded that it was a fatal one on the part of Government.

The School Book Bubble.
Mr. McClement punctured the cheap school book bubble, quoting the opinion of Editor Cooper, of the Canadian Courier, a Conservative in politics, who had declared that the reduction might last a year and a half, and that at the end of that time the prices would probably be higher. The speaker scored the Government for its order to abolish the model school. While not going into the finances of the Province, he clearly showed that instead of the $600,000 of a surplus, which the Government boasted of this year, there would really have been an immense deficit had it not been for the sources of revenue established by the old Government and which were vigorously denounced by Premier Whitney when in Opposition. How would the Government have been in a position to guarantee the bonds of the Canadian Northern, to pay $130,000 for commissions, to pay out $43,000 to Conservative lawyers in fees in 1907 to give the Cabinet Ministers large increases, and to increase the cost of civil government 46 per cent., were it not for this revenue?

Eulogy of Leaders.
Mr. McClement closed his able address with an eloquent eulogy of the two leaders, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. A. G. MacKay. Of the Provincial leader he said: "It has ever been the good fortune of the Liberal party to have its best men who have stood high in the public life of this Province and Dominion. The present outlook in this Province was never brighter or with greater promises of victory for the Liberal party than at the present time, and if there is one factor that will contribute more than anything else to the success of Liberalism on this occasion, I think it will be found in the able, eloquent leader, Hon. A. G. MacKay. I think I see in him a rising star in the political firmament of Ontario, destined at no distant date to lead the Liberal party to victory again, when Liberalism will be re-born under new conditions in this Province."

Of Sir Wilfrid Laurier he said: "The greatest leader the Liberal party ever had in Canada, the largest, boldest, public spirited Canadian that has ever been given birth by this Canada of ours, French by his tradition and ancestry, an ardent admirer of the British constitution and taking his political inspiration from schools of English statesmanship; imbuing his religion at the knees of a Catholic mother, yet the great dream of his life has been to unite and weld together the various races and creeds in one harmonious whole."

In glowing terms he pictured what Sir Wilfrid had done to build up a great Canadian nationality. "I tell you," he said, "that Sir Wilfrid when his time comes to cross the bar will have left Canadian Liberalism much greater than he found it, for great and good as the principles have been in the past, under great leaders, under the regime of Sir Wilfrid it stands for more than it ever did in the history of Canada or the British Empire. It is broader and it is deeper, it is more Canadian, more British, and more imperial in its aims and objects."

A Workingman's Views.
P. F. Griffin spoke briefly. He was not there as a political aspirant, but simply as a workingman, Whitney when he said he ought to be returned to power, because he had given the people honest administration. Mr. Griffin then dealt trenchantly with the Government's failure to give matters. No one need go any further than Hamilton for an illustration of politics and license matters. He referred to how the only Commissioner who was lukewarm was replaced by a stronger man, the greatest fault he found in the Government was its departure from responsible government. He declared that if people had the same independence as they did at the time of the rebellions in 1849 and 1837 they would not submit to it for a minute.

"The speaker advanced many strong reasons why the laboring classes should rally round the Liberal flag, and promised greater addresses than this later in the campaign."

YOU MAN'S Y'S.
A parlor meeting of the Somerset Y's was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. C. Macartney, 91 Grant avenue. After the regular business had been disposed of the following programme was enjoyed: Bible reading, by Miss Kappelle; song, Miss Dexter; instructive and interesting talk on the W. C. T. U. work among the lumbermen, by Mrs. W. B. Smith; recitation, Miss Dalton, piano solo, Miss M. Davis; another guessing contest, in which all took part. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Macartney and after a vote of thanks to the hostess the meeting dispersed.

IN GOD WE TRUST.
Washington, May 21.—Announcement was made at the White House yesterday that President Roosevelt had signed the bill directing the restoration to gold and silver coins of the motto "in god we trust," ordered by him struck from the gold coin some months ago, on the ground that the law did not authorize its use.

While all of the Atlantic ports are exporting $20,750,000 worth of merchandise each week, New York's share of the total is $11,980,000.

Music and the Drama

In the palmiest days of old-time minstrelsy the "sketch" as it is called, had not been developed, but with the revival of minstrelsy this feature has become a fixed part of the best shows and always makes a hit. The Toronto Rowing Club Minstrels, who perform here to-morrow night in the Grand Opera House, will present a "sketch" that for smart dancing and singing is really a gem. Anyone who has seen McIntyre and Heath in the "Ham Tree" will have a good idea of what W. Laflamme and Ad. Strathdee—the two comedians—put up in their sketch entitled "Shipwrecked."

They are whistling to-day the tune of a new song which was written for "Ad. Strathdee." It is called "Sometimes." Good topical songs are hard to get; but so clever is Mr. Strathdee's song that Arthur Davis already has it in the engraver's hands for immediate publication.

George Budway will sing a corking good song entitled "Who's the Boss?" In fact, all the songs, sentimental ballads and topical songs are bright and catchy.

At the Savoy Theatre.
The Summers Stock Company should continue to play to big business for the remainder of the week, with its excellent comedy offering, "The Wrong Man," performed yesterday. The specialties between the acts are a pleasing feature. In addition to dainty little Doris Canfield, who has been delighting the theatre's patrons, Lou Atwell, a boy with a splendid voice, is scoring a big hit in illustrated songs. The attraction next week will be "The Silver King," and it will undoubtedly prove one of the biggest drawing cards of the repertoire in which the company appears.

"Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire."
No one can challenge the assertion that J. M. Barrie, as an author of books, is a delightful entertainer. Sentiment and satire, truth to life, and fantasy, sympathetic humor and ironical wit make his play, "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," restfully enjoyable. It is full of sparkling humor, and is a play that grows on one from the first to the second act, and still on into the third. And the merits of the play are admirably brought out by Roselle Knott and a capable company. Miss Knott gives an unsurpassable performance of the wife and mother. The maternal spirit is strong and tactful. She mingles opposing emotions with dexterous ease. Her acting is vivacious and effective. Andrew Robson as Col. Grey, Alice's husband, is especially strong in the part of an English gentleman, and makes the character one of much interest. It is clean cut and convincing, and he uses contrasts with a good and true effect.

This will be the attraction at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Between the Acts.
Before Nazimova, the great Russian actress, had been playing in English a year, Alan Dale, the critic, interviewed her. This is how he expressed himself: "Madame Nazimova's English is perfection. I am quite convinced that in order to speak English delightfully one has to be born in Russia."

Nazimova will be seen at the Grand next week.

The sale of seats for Ralph Stuart's appearance in "Strongheart" at the Grand on Monday afternoon and evening, next promises to attract his admirers in goodly numbers. It will open at the box office of the Grand on Friday morning.

The comedy, "Brewster's Millions," was presented at the Grand last night before a large audience. It was well put on, the principals being clever and the scenic effects fine. Robert Ober, as "Monty Brewster," made a big hit.

Who with Andrew Robson, another Hamilton performer, will be seen at the Grand on Saturday in "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire."

THE ISLANDS OF THE ARCTIC.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier States Government's Position.

Mounted Police and Civil Government Items Voted.

Bill Respecting Grand Trunk Pacific Guaranteed Bonds.

Ottawa, May 20.—Anxious that there should be no further delay in obtaining the appropriations necessary to carry on the business of the country, the Government took the opportunity to-day to move the House into supply, and in a comparatively short space of time votes amounting in the aggregate to nearly a million dollars were passed. The items chiefly related to the Mounted Police and a number for civil government, including salaries for civil servants in several departments.

G. T. Pacific Guarantee Bonds.

Earlier in the session Hon. Mr. Fielding introduced a bill authorizing the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company to pledge for the raising of money necessary for the construction of the road the bonds guaranteed by the Government. The bill also provided for a letter of credit being granted to the company authorizing them to expend on the construction of the road a sum not exceeding $1,000,000 out of the proceeds of the guaranteed bonds.

To Give Letter of Credit.

The third purpose of the bill related to the facilitating of operations of the company in the construction of the railway and to avoid delays. To enable them to make prompt payments it was proposed to give the company a letter of credit, authorizing them to expend a sum of money, not exceeding a million dollars, out of the proceeds of guaranteed bonds.

Dr. Sprague—Would that money not be part of the consolidated funds? Hon. Mr. Fielding—It is a part of the consolidated funds; it is money which belongs to the G. T. P. Company, but which, in respect that it was guaranteed by the Government, had been placed in a special account, and could only be drawn upon on the certificate by the Government's engineers.

The Islands of the North.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Possession is nine points of the law. Proceeding, he said that if twenty years ago Mounted Police had been sent into the Yukon the difficulties which had to be contended with would not have arisen.

The Lost Papers.

On motion to go into supply, Mr. Borden called attention to the disappearance of papers relating to the Stansfeld by-election of 1904. He informed that after the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery had discovered the papers relating to the general election of 1904 in the box where the by-election papers should have been, he had not communicated the fact to the solicitor acting for the petitioners in the election case.

The Premier's View.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier endorsed the tribute Mr. Borden had paid to Mr. Lamotte, and said that Mr. Chadwick, assistant, and Mr. Foley, the present Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, were both honest, painstaking officials. How the accident had taken place it was difficult to say. The conclusion he had arrived at was that the papers had disappeared before the death of Mr. Lamothe. The objection that the office of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery was accessible to several parties applied equally to other departments, but he welcomed the suggestion that there should be an investigation as to the cause of the accident, also as to whether further precautions might be taken to safeguard papers.

Mr. Foster asked whether an investigation had not already taken place. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he did not see that there had been any need for a special investigation. Everybody agreed that the disappearance of the papers was purely an accident. If there had been any reason to suppose that there had been foul play it would have been different. But he could not see what purpose anybody could have for destroying these papers.

Suggests a Third Party.

Mr. Foster thought it was just as easy to suppose that a third party had, for a purpose, taken the papers as to be believed that Mr. Lamotte had made a mistake. The case should have been at once placed in the hands of the Dominion Police.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—My own conviction is that it was an accident. Hon. Mr. Fielding said the Speaker had asked Mr. Foley to make a suggestion as to better accommodation and appliances for securing the documents.

Troops at Quebec.

Mr. Macdonnell regretted that the Militia Department had abandoned the proposed mobilization of 20,000 to 25,000 men of the militia at Quebec for the tercentenary celebration of 1908. The Government had practically pledged itself to the project, and the disappointment over the situation as now known would be keen, especially among militiamen, who had looked forward to the mobilization with great interest.

The Mounted Police.

Mr. Cookshutt, Col. Ward, Mr. Porter and Mr. Taylor supported the views advanced by Mr. Macdonnell after which the matter dropped, and the House went into Committee of Supply, taking first the Royal Northwest Mounted Police items, a branch of the Prime Minister's Department.

Mr. Foster asked why, in view of these posts and the fact that American whalers in northern waters now quietly admitted Canadian jurisdiction, there was any necessity for Capt. Bernier's expeditions to northern waters.

Civil Government Estimates.

Civil Government estimates of the various departments were then taken up, some progress being made. On some pertaining to post offices Mr. Armstrong asked about reported mail robberies in the west.

Mystery of a Box Car.

Winnipeg, Man., May 20.—The body of an unknown man was found in an empty box car on the Standard Soap Company's track.

Serious Flood in Quebec.

ONLY A JOKE. SENATOR JAFFRAY RESIGNS FROM NIAGARA PARK BOARD.

The Correspondence Between the Premier and Mr. Jaffray Indicates That Mr. Whitney's Humor is Not Always Taken in the Way He Would Like.

Ottawa, May 20.—Hon. Robert Jaffray recently sent to Premier Whitney from Ottawa a letter, tendering his resignation as a member of the Niagara Falls Park Commission.

A COMPARISON.—Quite well understood, and people had thought firmly established and clearly recognized, is the principle that a redistribution of the constituencies should take place only after a decennial census, when the figures are fresh and relatively correct and reliable. Recognizing this principle, former Liberal Governments passed two, and only two, general redistribution measures: one in 1874, following the census returns published in 1871, and one in 1885, following the census of 1881.

ANOTHER COMPARISON.—In 1885 the Hon. Wm. Ewart Gladstone brought down a redistribution bill containing general principles, but not until he had consulted with Conservative leaders, and the leaders had agreed upon every line of the bill. Then the actual delimiting of the constituencies was left to an independent commission.

STILL ANOTHER COMPARISON.—In 1902 Mr. Whitney supported the Jamieson bill, which called for three things: 1. Fewer representatives in the Province. 2. Redistribution only immediately after a decennial census. 3. That our fifteen High Court Judges should select three of their number to fix the boundaries of the constituencies.

This was Mr. Whitney's attitude while in Opposition and when asking the people to trust him. Having secured for the nonce their confidence, he spurns his past promises and pledges and refuses to implement them.

THE MIDDLESEXES may be taken as a specimen of the value of the Premier's statement that he was honestly endeavoring to equalize the population, or to remove some injustice done by former Governments. East, West and North Middlesex have been untouched since Confederation.

Under the pretext of equalizing the population of the constituencies he makes changes in Brockville and Leeds when the difference of population was less than 1,000; also the same in Cardwell and Peel; and yet he leaves untouched East and West Lambton, with a difference of 12,000 in population, and numbers of others where the difference varies from 2,000 to 10,000.

Opening Games In International.

HAMILTON WON FROM THE FALLS.

Yankees Were Defeated by a Score of 2 to 1.

Long Pitched a Three-Hit Game—Guelph Whitewashed the London Team—Scores in the Minor Leagues.

Almost within sight of the Brock monument, but on U. S. soil, the Hamilton Tigers trounced the Niagara Falls, N. Y., Yankees. It was the opening game in the new International Baseball League, and the event was the biggest thing of the season so far in the busy border city. Prior to the game there was an automobile parade, headed by the Elks' Band, and Mr. Henri McMahon, who was the recent Democratic candidate for the Senate, but who was defeated by Governor Hughes' man. Behind these came Mayor Douglas; Col. Isaacs, the fire commissioner; the two opposing ball teams, the managers of the teams, the press representatives, and Nelson Pitton and his cream horse. The procession passed through the principal streets and disbanded at the ball park. Here about 1,000 fans gathered and saw a battle of pitchers. It was a twirlers' contest from the time Mayor Douglas closed his address and said "Play ball!" And to the delight of the host of Canadians present the "man from Canada," as the rooters termed him, had the better of the argument from start to finish. The aforementioned gentleman was Nelson Long, a native, and he was there with domestic curves that were equal to the imported article. He caused twelve Yankees to pound the mist-laden air, and think that there were holes in their bats. On the principle, perhaps, that charity begins at home, he did not hand a single free walking ticket, and only three hits were made off his delivery. As a result of his efforts the conclusion was arrived at by the Hamilton delegation that Long's name is written on the payroll in India ink, instead of in erasable lead. Long proved to be the Nelson of the Yankees' Trafalgar.

Quite a number of Hamilton old boys were at the game. Among them were P. J. Burke and Nelson Pitton, the former being a hotelkeeper on the United States side of the river, and the latter being the proprietor of a hostelry on the Canadian side.

Manager Paige invited Mr. Pitton to reply to the Mayor's address of welcome to the Canadians, but Nelson was suffering from a throat affection, and declined to talk in the open air.

The accommodation for the reporters at the Falls ball park is poor. Larry Burke made a hit with the umpire, Culligan, the other league umpire was also on the grounds, having been sent there instead of to Guelph by the President, through a misunderstanding.

The long and the short of the game yesterday was the Hamilton battery. OPENING HERE TO-MORROW. The Hamiltons play at Niagara Falls again to-day and to-morrow the International League will open here, at Britannia Park. The Yankees will be the opposing team. The game will be dished up. The game will start at 4 o'clock sharp and Mayor Stewart will make a short speech and pitch the first ball. If the weather is fine there will be a record-breaking crowd present, no doubt, as a great many fans have had a relapse—got the ball fever bad again. According to plans prepared by Manager Paige before he left Niagara Falls last night, Fense is to pitch to-day's game, and Hill Gleason will be in the box to-morrow. Harvey Muir will twirl on Saturday. No other changes will be made in the team for the series with the Yankees.

HAMILTON MAN PRESIDENT.

Chicago, May 21.—The Fire Insurance Baseball League has been organized by the general agency teams in Chicago, with William Leith, of the Royal, as president, and J. W. Kwech, of the Continental, as secretary and treasurer. The eight companies included are the Royal, Queen, Connecticut, Hartford, German American, National, Delaware and Hellas and Germania. They will play on Saturdays for a trophy to be held from year to year by the winning club.

GUELPH BEAT LONDON.

Guelph, May 21.—The International League opened the season here yesterday under very favorable auspices. The game, which was well attended, was one of the best exhibitions seen in this city since the days of the old Maple Leafs, and if the class of ball served up throughout the season equals that of yesterday's, the success of the Guelph team so far as home support goes, is assured. The game was won by Guelph by the score of five runs and one inning to nothing.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP.

Well, Hamilton is tie with Guelph to-day for first place in the International! Paige will likely give written consent now to have his picture in the papers.

Good for Guelph! Any team that bumps the Beavers is our friend.

No, Mr. Long, the Londoners don't outclass the other teams in the International, but it looks as if the Beavers are a class by themselves.

The Beavers are at the "bottom of the class."

Niagara Falls—so did the Niagara nine.

Battling Nelson wants to own a ball team. Wonder if we could interest him in Montreal?

The features of the game was a running catch by Ned Murray, of Guelph, in the seventh inning, when London had two men out and a man on third.

EASTERN LEAGUE SCORES.
At Toronto—It was a slaughter of the innocents yesterday in the first game of the series between Newark and Toronto, one of the visiting flingers, in no less a person than Tom Hughes, a twirler of no mean ability, being driven to the barn in the third, after five runs had been scored; but this was not all the run-getting, as you will see by the score sheet, which reads: Toronto 9, Newark 1. Elongated Hughes, last year with Montreal, always a slow worker, is not in it for a minute in every sense of the word, and one who never heard of a fable. These two mound artists, with their small-like movements, served to keep the game going for nearly two hours and a half, after it had been decided in the third inning: Score: R. H. E. Newark 9 4 5 Toronto 1 4 2 Batteries—Miller, Hughes and Stange; Applegate and Pierce.

At Rochester—Providence smothered Rochester yesterday, because the locals could not get into the game at opportune times. McLean was hit hard and often. Score: R. H. E. Providence 7 13 1 Rochester 1 4 1 Batteries—Barry and Clark; Berger, McLean and Hurley.

Signed Articles for a 45-Round Bout on July 4th.
San Francisco, May 21.—Joe Gans and Battling Nelson last night signed articles for a 45-round battle, to take place in this city on the afternoon of July 4. Selig, representing Gans, insisted upon the referee breaking the men, but to this Willie Britt, on behalf of Nelson, refused. Gans demanded a guarantee, which promoter Coffroth refused. Then Selig asked for 60 per cent, win, lose or draw, and finally the division of 60 and 40 per cent, was agreed as a winner's and loser's end.

RUBE WADDELL QUITS.
Philadelphia, May 21.—The St. Louis baseball team of the American League left this city last night for Boston, leaving "Rube" Waddell, the former Philadelphia pitcher, behind. "Rube" quit the team yesterday, after declaring that he had not been treated fairly by the management.
After pitching against his old team mates here on Tuesday and carrying the St. Louis Club to victory, Waddell made a demand for an advance in salary. He did not get the money. Yesterday he walked up to the desk in the hotel where the western players were stopping and turned in his uniform and the key to his room. When asked for an explanation, he turned to Secretary J. C. Rickert, of the western team, and said: "I can't get my money, so here is my suit and you can tell Manager McAleer I have quit." He can blackmail me, if he wants to."

Thirteen Horses Are Likely to Start.

Seagram Entry Will Likely be Odds On on Saturday.

Toronto, May 21.—Present indications are that thirteen horses will go to the post for the King's Plate on Saturday, making a field of three less than last year. The following are the probable starters, with their riders:

- W. C. Campbell, Burlington, chf., Good Likeness, by Connoisseur—117
- Robert Davern, Toronto, chf., Captain 4, by Kapanga Horse—119
- H. J. Maclean, Donlands, chf., Sauce o' Gold, 3, by Gamble Orr—101
- Joe E. Seagram, Waterloo, chf., Dog of War, 3, by Havoc—106
- Joe E. Seagram, Waterloo, chf., Pse Weep (Milesbury), chf., Licenses—106
- Joe E. Seagram, Waterloo, chf., Samsis, 3, by Havoc—Semy (train-brother)—106
- Joe E. Seagram, Waterloo, chf., Half-a-Crown, 4, by Hailing—122
- Martyrdom (Sealing)—122
- Valley Farm Stable, Hamilton, chf., Shimonee, 3, by Martimas—Lydie (McCarthy)—101
- Valley Farm Stable, chf., The Lincoln—3 1 1 2 0
- Valley Farm Stable, chf., Gold Cup—101
- Valley Farm Stable, chf., Archie Whyte, 3, by Dorwentwater—106
- Noble (—)—106
- Woodstock Stable, Woodstock, b.f., Supper Dances, 4, by Morpheus—117
- Woodstock Stable, Woodstock, b.f., New Dance (E. Walsh)—117
- Woodstock Stable, Woodstock, b.f., Table Bay, 3, by Milner—Home-like (Goldstein)—101 above list, and unless some unforeseen developments occur in the meantime it may be taken as the lot that will do battle for the Guinea. Of the thirteen named, eight are supplied from three stables, and besides his own stable Mr. Seagram can claim credit for breeding three of the others, the Woodstock pair and Good Likeness. When ever half of the field were bred at Waterloo one appreciates the influence Mr. Seagram's breeding operations have on the King's Plate. The Seagram entry will likely be odds on.

ROSEBEN BACK TO FORM.
New York, May 21.—The track at Belmont Park yesterday was deep in mud and mud-runners of the pronounced type were in demand. Roseben, carrying 140 pounds, showed a return to his old form when he easily won the first race. The big horse was heavily played, and, breaking in front, soon had a lead of three lengths, which he increased to the finish to six lengths. He was loudly cheered when he passed the finish line. Trance, at 5 to 1 favorite, won the Bouquet Selling Stakes easily from Fitzherbert.

CALL TO TRAINERS AND JOCKEYS.
Trainers, jockeys and valets who intend being present at the Hamilton Jockey Club meeting are requested to make application for licenses not later than June 1st, and their attention is called to the following rules: Licenses granted by a trainer's club, New York, or National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, for 1908, will be recognized, and a Hamilton Jockey Club license issued free of charge.
Application blanks can be had from F. W. Gerhardt at the Woodbine, Toronto, or from the secretary, A. R. Loudon, Grand Opera House, Hamilton.

A HAMILTON MAN MADE TOP SCORE.

Toronto, May 21.—There were 39 competitors in the Olympic trial sports at the Exhibition Grounds yesterday afternoon. Fifteen qualified for the finals on Friday. The shoots will be continued to-day, when another fifteen will qualify for the finals. The team that will go to the old country will be selected from the first six.

The shooters who qualified yesterday were: G. Beatty, of Hamilton; A. W. Westover, Sherbrooke; Dr. Wilson, Hamilton; George Vivian, Toronto; J. Jennings, Toronto; M. E. Fletcher, Hamilton; G. M. Howard, Toronto; George M. Dunk, Toronto; D. McMahon, Hamilton; George McGill, Toronto; E. Williams, Toronto; Wm. Fenton, Toronto; P. Wakefield, Toronto. The well-known professionals, J. R. Taylor and E. G. White, gave exhibitions; the former making 149 and the latter 151. The competitors shot 200 clay targets. Considering the southeast wind, which made the shooting difficult, the scores are the following:

LONGBOAT'S CASE.

Flanagan Would Like to Turn Indian Over to Sherring.

Toronto, May 21.—Tom Longboat will not run in the 15-mile Ontario trial Marathon Race Monday.
He was examined by Dr. J. Guinane and Dr. E. W. Sprague, the police surgeon, on behalf of the Olympic Trade Commission, and both agreed that, while the Indian was in good physical condition as far as everything else was concerned, he had a severe attack of boils, and a disordered stomach and a strained side.

Both advised that he be laid up for a week or ten days to get rid of the boils and improve his stomach.
"I'll gladly turn the Indian over to J. H. Crocker or Billy Sherring right now," said Tom Flanagan. "They should take charge of him and get him into shape for the race. His record entitles him to this consideration at the hands of the Canadian team authorities."

THREE FROM HALIFAX.

Halifax, N. S., May 21.—Hans Homer, of the Crescents, Gordon Wolfe, of Dartmouth Boys' Club and L. Lennerton, of the same club, will represent Nova Scotia in the Marathon Olympic trial at Toronto.
Nine contestants will start in a fifteen-mile race yesterday, and the finish of the leaders was as above. The conditions were not very favorable for the runners, the weather being warm and the roads covered with dust, clouds of which were raised by teams and autos ahead of and following the competitors. Though Homer led almost from the start the race was well contested throughout. Homer finished in 1:37, and Wolfe in 1:37.6, while Lennerton was only a short distance behind them.

MAY TRY AGAIN.

Toronto, May 21.—Billy Thomas of the Irish-Canadians will attempt to lower the McAulhey record for the Hamilton-to-Toronto run, which will start on Saturday. When the weather and road conditions will be more favorable than at present.
Thomas was going well in Tuesday's run until he cramped. Will Meade lost his way at Clarkson, and lost a good deal of time before he got back to the course. As that he stuck gamely to his task, and finished at 4:40. He may also attack McAulhey's record next fall.

ST. GEORGE'S GIRL LOST THIS GAME.

A very interesting game of basketball was played in the gymnasium at the school on Tuesday evening between the Collegiate G. A. C. and St. George's G. F. S. The girls of both teams were well matched, and the collegiate girls excelled themselves in their combinations. They won by a score of 14 to 10.
Collegiate—Forwards, Miss Z. Zimmerman and Miss E. Marshall, centre, Miss Steinberg and Miss A. Hayman.
St. George's—Forwards, Miss O'Hara, Miss Gibson, centre, Miss E. Stewart, Miss E. Buscombe, defence, Miss R. Buscombe, Miss N. Bennett.
The officials were Mr. E. Buscombe, referee; Mr. H. Walker, umpire; Miss Gillies and Miss A. C. as scorers.
A. C. is set to be defeated.

BATTERED WITH A CLUB.

Hired Man Assaults Farmer Near Brockville.
Brockville, May 20.—Robert Stewart, an elderly farmer, residing two miles north of the town, was the victim of an assault which was made on Tuesday evening between the Collegiate G. A. C. and St. George's G. F. S. The girls of both teams were well matched, and the collegiate girls excelled themselves in their combinations. They won by a score of 14 to 10.

Stewart, with his hired man, James Young, aged 24 years, of this town, went out to a field to do some seeding. Stewart stooped over to adjust a nut on the machine, when Young struck him over the head with a padded club, which he had secreted under his clothes. Seven or eight blows were struck before Stewart was able to work in another field, said what was going on, and ran to his neighbor's assistance.

Young took to his heels and has eluded capture, though the countryside is out on a search. That the robbery of the house was the motive of Young is certain. So carefully was it planned that Stewart's dog was chained up and not found until some time later.
Young when a youth had a bad criminal record, at one time serving a term for attempting to wreck a train on the New York Centre.

SANCTIFYING A CRIME.

Night Riders Held Prayer Meeting at Barn-Burning.
Lancaster, Ky., May 20.—Kneeling on the ground in the moonlight with their heads bowed, under their leader, his masked face turned toward heaven, offered prayer, a band of "night riders" Tuesday night destroyed the big tobacco barn of H. G. Maddox, not far from this place.
The spectacle was witnessed by Flint Randall and Miss Maggie Tate, two young people, returning from a party, who were captured by the raiders and forced to accompany them to the prayer meeting and barn burning.

After the torch had been applied the young people were led some distance away, with instructions to go home. As they left, they heard the strains of "Nearer My God to Thee," the accompaniment of crackling timbers and the roar of the flames.

TRANSFER OF PRISONERS.

Treaty Between U. S. and British Concerning Canada Reported.
Washington, May 20.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations voted today to report favorably a convention with Great Britain relating to wreckage and salvage and the transfer of prisoners in Canadian waters. A general arbitration treaty with Denmark was favorably reported, as were also two treaties with Japan for the protection of American trade marks, patents and copyrights in Manchuria and Korea, and Japanese trade marks, patents and copyrights in the United States. At an executive session later in the day the treaties were ratified by the Senate.

municipality must determine (and) existing contracts at the earliest date possible, thus providing an absolute monopoly for 300 years.

The London Advertiser says that Hon. Adam Beck interviewed Mayor Stevely on Monday and informed him that the contract must be passed by the Council instanter.

Mayor Stevely replied that the matter was one for the Council, and that when the Council studied the contract and gave its assent, the contract would be passed.

Then Mr. Beck called up Ald. Beattie over the telephone and commenced to berate him for not assisting in putting the contract through.

It is quite evident that Hon. Adam Beck has been playing a game of bluff with Hamilton. The aldermen were first told that it made no difference whether this city was in the scheme or out of it.

Just why the Government is so anxious to get Hamilton in is demonstrated by the conditions in London. The aldermen there have indicated that they will not plunge that city into a million dollars of expense to get a reduction on street and civic lighting.
