THE FEUDS OF THE TURP.
Head S. Jay E. Johnston and the Little Brown Jug and Their Owners.
From the Chicago Tribune.
The fastest trotter in the world, Mand S., is owned by William H. Vanderbilt, who, like most of the descendants of the Amsterdam Dutch, the first white settlers in New York, inherits a love for fast horses. The trotter with the second fastest record—Jay-Eye-See—is the property of J. I. Case. The two fastest pacers the turf has ever known are the property of Commodore N. W. Kittson of St. Paul, Minn., a man who will shortly have completed the allotted age of three score years and ten, and he takes to-day as great an interest in matters pertaining to turf sports as do the men who are more than a generation behind him in years. As an experienced horse raiser, as well as a sportsman, the horses referred to, Johnston and Little Brown Jug, have records respectively of 2:10 and 2:11 1/2. These figures, however, are not the best ever posted. They are now at Cincinnati, where a part of Mr. Kittson's horses have been kept during the winter in order that they might enjoy the benefits of a milder climate than is to be found at the home of their owner. They will be on the turf during the coming season, and should no accident befall them, there is little doubt that the pacer record of 2:10 made at Chicago last fall by Johnston will be materially reduced, as either of the horses mentioned is capable under favorable conditions of a mile in considerably faster time.
Commodore Kittson is a man whose wealth runs up well into the millions, and he has accumulated it by more than half a century of exacting application to business. Over fifty years ago, when the west was practically an unknown wilderness, John Jacob Astor, the founder of the family which bears his name, sent Commodore Kittson, then a boy, into the Hudson bay region as his agent in the purchase of furs, and since that time he has been prominently identified with the interests and developments of the Northwest. His fancy for fast horses, however, came only when his income mounted into the hundreds of thousands per year, and he has gratified it in the most complete and lavish manner.

SPORTING NOTES.
Hamilton baseballers appear to be in great demand on the outside.
The St. Andrew's baseball club of Toronto has elected Theo. Clift captain and James Cook secretary-treasurer.
At Newmarket yesterday the Two Thousand guinea stake was won by Foy's Scott Free, owned by St. Mark's 2d and W. Loughby of Harvester 3d.
A prize fight took place at Rockaway, L.I., yesterday between Matt Connelly and Gus Hickey. Eleven rounds were fought, Connelly winning by a knockout.
Andre Christol, the Frenchman, and Prof. Joseph Labossiere, a Canadian, wrestled Greco-Roman at Rochester Monday night, the latter winning by 2 to 1.
Billy Wynne of the Ruby billiard parlor, Queen and William streets, has backed George Mullin against Alex. Seymour (winner of the recent tournament) in a game of pool to take place next week.
Score of the go-as-you-please match at 1 p.m. yesterday: Rowell 297; Fitzgerald, 285; Day, 221; Norman, 207; Vint, 260; Herty, 267; Elton, 248; New, 128; Parshot, 255. Thompson and Burrell have withdrawn.
James Henigan and George Walker, catcher and pitcher of the Centrals, have been offered professional positions on the Harrisburg, Pa., professional team. Walker is anxious to accept the position, but Henigan's business will not allow him, and it is not probable that either will go.
The Athletic baseball club has reorganized for the season, and it is expected to have a series of games with clubs from the west. The club will meet in Vignin's hall, St. David street, Friday evening to complete arrangements for grounds.
Racing at Memphis Monday: One mile, Broughton 1st, Magnun 2d, First Boston 3d. Two mile, Broughton 1st, Magnun 2d, First Boston 3d. Three-quarters of a mile, Centennial 1st, Success 2d, Polonia 3d. Mile and a half, Lute Poole 1st, Miss Yates 2d, War Sign 3d. Hurdle race, Curry 1st, Brannon 2d, Judge Burnett 3d.

A Baby at the Headsteeple.
Not long ago an English lady took passage on a vessel bound from Kingston, Jamaica, to London. A large, strong and active monkey on board the vessel took a fancy to the lady's child, a babe about two months old. The monkey would follow the lady from place to place, watching her as she rocked and fondled her little one. It so happened on a beautiful afternoon during the voyage that a distant sail attracted the attention of the passengers. The polite captain offered the lady the use of his glass. She placed her child on the sofa and had just raised the glass to her eye, when a cry was heard. Turning quickly, she beheld a sailor in pursuit of the monkey, which had grasped the infant firmly with one arm and was nimbly climbing the rigging. The other fainted as the monkey reached the top of the mainmast. The captain, who had seen the sailor in pursuit of the monkey, was in a moment, to his great joy, he saw the monkey carefully descending. Reaching the deck, it looked cautiously around, advanced to the sofa, and placed the child upon it. The captain restored the child to its mother, who was soon satisfied that her darling had escaped without injury.

A CASE OF LEPROSY.
Its Victim Hobbling in the Streets of Port Moody.
The Port Moody Gazette contains the following: What is undoubtedly a genuine case of leprosy has come to light in Port Moody within the past few days. The afflicted person is a Chinaman named Ah Gow, who has lived the past winter in a miserable hut on the right-of-way near Kyle street. He was examined by Dr. Hyslop in the presence of several other gentlemen, and the doctor, who has had much experience in this disease in the South Pacific, unhesitatingly pronounces it a genuine case of leprosy. The poor wretch is able to hobble around by the aid of a stick, and seems to live entirely on charity. He was ordered the other day on Douglas street by the Gazette man, and induced for a slight consideration to exhibit his feet. The disease is in its advanced stage. He has a thick crust of the disease in his case. On the right foot four of the toes have each lost a joint, and the remaining bones are only protected from the shoe by a thin wrapping of paper, while the flesh for some distance back is scaling off. The left foot is still worse, as one toe is gone entirely, and the rest are about ready to follow suit. His limbs are extremely emaciated, and the knee joints begin to exhibit symptoms of the disease, while his whole body is of a greenish yellow hue. Although he is the most wretched-looking object it has ever been our ill fortune to encounter, and his plaintive cry of "No catches chow-chow heap long time" is really pitiable.

Entarrah—A New Treatment.
Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern science has been attained by the Dixon treatment for entarrah. Out of 2000 patients treated during the past six months, fully ninety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent of the patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissues, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination; this accomplished, the catarrh is practically cured, and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him four years ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured the disease. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Messrs. A. H. DIXON & SON, 30 King street west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on catarrh.—Montreal Star.

Decidedly in the Dark.
From the Texas Siftings.
Two gentlemen met at the depot, in Austin, and engaged in conversation.
"I have seen you somewhere, but I am in the dark as to where it was."
"Well, I have a dim recollection of having seen you, too, somewhere."
"If you were in the dark, and the other has only a dim recollection, I think, perhaps, you must have passed each other in the cars, in a railroad tunnel, some years ago," observed a third party who was present.

Simplic Strategies.
From the Oil City Derrick.
"Johnnie," said a Second street girl to her bashful company as they strolled up the ends of the sofa the other night, "I see by the Derrick that a lady in New Jersey 104 years old boasts of having been kissed by Washington."
"Yes," said Johnnie, "I saw it too."
"Suppose you were to become a great man like Washington?"
"Well," said Johnnie.
"And I were to live to be 104 years old."
"Well," said Johnnie.
"I couldn't say you of what the old lady said of Washington, could I?"
Then he kissed her.

Taken at His Word.
From the Texas Siftings.
An unmarried episcopal clergyman proposed to reciprocate his health, which has suffered from his lenten asceticism, by taking a trip into the country. This was what he proposed to take a lady friend, also unmarried. He said:
"Now that lent is over, I propose to take."
"Oh, don't you propose? Let me propose. You know this is leap year," and before the preacher could help himself he was an accepted suitor.

The Blotched Cow.
I had a curious interview with a dairyman, on Lake Minnetonka. Having been always under the impression that the preacher was the great pioneer of civilization, I was surprised when my friend told me that the cow was the great civilization. He argued that the attendance which the cow needed kept people at home, and at home he could do no mischief. There is considerable truth in this, because the home is the blessed symbol of civilization.—Becher.

An Heiress-Hunter's Confession.
From the Philadelphia Call.
hear that you are to marry a wealthy American girl," said one British nobleman to another.
"Ya'as," replied his lordship.
"You must allow me to congratulate you. Are there any incumbrances on her property?"
"Ya'as—the lady."

She Will Doubtless Be Young.
From the Portland, Me., Press.
Little Rachie Weeks of Gray, only seven years old, read the new testament through and finished it in three days, before her seventh birthday, and had never attended school a day.

By the Use of Buckingham's Dye.
The whiskers may be easily made a permanent, natural brown or black, as desired.

The Careless Kalmouder.
From Puck.
The whitewasher sings a merry song,
As he dances the scaffolding along,
And whispers to the occupants,
He is staying in with a merry smile,
That lights up his facial wrinkles,
And moves on your eavesdropper, and like
Than upon the wall he sprinkles.

A Woman Gambler.
From an Eagle City (Idaho) Letter.
Amid the general din of the saloon, and rising above the general confusion, the tinkling sound of ivory chips may be heard in the words "Queen high," "pau kings," "bets to lose!" and the like, uttered in a soft but penetrating voice which attracts one on entering the door. Making my way to a corner of the room, and allowing a path cautiously through a pack of men, I saw a remarkable sight. Before one of the ordinary poker tables sat a woman of no ordinary beauty. The traces of refinement had not yet been obliterated by coarse associations and reckless dissipation. She was dressed in a close-fitting gown, fitting about the bust like the waist of a riding habit, and adorned with a double row of starting gilt buttons. On her head was a jaunty jockey cap of blue, but her little nose-shading a face whose delicate lines and marked individuality would in any other place have secured for its possessor immediate notice as a "social beauty." Yet there she sat, dealing the cards with a graceful ease, born evidently of long practice in the game. Casuals of the rough talk and ribald jokes of the men, the female gambler dealt the cards, raked in the chips, paid losses, replied to the address of the men and attended to business with a devilish carelessness and calmness which was simply horrible. A more painful sight I never saw for there was a redness of wickedness about the scene which robbed it of the violence of the scene and invested that woman in the corner of a gaming camp with a horror which was simply satanic.

A Great Cook Catch.
John Roscoe, while hunting near Barlow, Ky., cut a tree for coals, in which he caught twelve cats and eighteen gallons of clean, nice honey.

Quantity in Medicine.
No indication of value. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is concentrated and powerful; requires a smaller dose, and is more effective, dose for dose, than any other Sarsaparilla. It is the best of all blood medicines.

Within the past ten years a dollar has been lost in purchasing lots in Ontario or its suburbs. On the contrary every dollar so invested has doubled itself in five years, some in three. The real estate market is the rising suburb of the city and a dollar invested in a lot there will soon double itself. Geo. Clarke of the L'Esperance Hotel, 100 St. James street, has terms that are acceptable to all. An entrance fee of $10, and $2 a week for 182 weeks will purchase the lot $200. A specialty and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Messrs. A. H. DIXON & SON, 30 King street west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on catarrh.—Montreal Star.

WOMEN BY GOLD HUNTERS. A British Columbia Man Who Did Not Find the Precious Metal.

From the Victoria, B. C., Standard, April 28. In consequence of the false report which appeared in the daily Colonist of Thursday last, George Brown of Becher's bay was worried yesterday by an immense number of visitors to his farm. They came singly, they came in couples, they came in droves, but they all came with one object, to get a glimpse of the man who had been found with gold.

They were disappointed, but they were not deterred. They were told that the gold was in the mine, but they were not satisfied. They were told that the gold was in the mine, but they were not satisfied.
