'Modern Medicine" for March combate the delusion that beef tea is nourishing, and from their article on the subject:

one occasion that thousands of patients have been starved to death while being fed on animal broths, beef tea, etc. No error could be greater than the notion very commonly held by the laity, and still quite too largely entertained by the members of the medical profession, that beef extracts, beef tea, nillon, animal broths, etc., are peculiarly nonrishing in character. We can adduce no better evidence to the contrary than is afforded by the following paragraphs from "Bunge's Physiological and Pathological Chemistry," one of our latest and most re-

"We must guard against supposing that meat bouillon posesses a strengthening and nourishing influence. In regard to this the ful of bouillon can be made from a teaspoonfull of meat extract—could yield an effectual source of nourishment, that the extractives of meat were synonymous with concentrated

"Let us inquire what substances could render bouillon nutritious. The only article of food which meat yields to boiling water is gelatin. It is well known that albumen is coagulated in boiling, the galcogen of meat is rapidly converted into sugar, and this again into lactic acid. The quantity of gela-tin is, moreover, very small; for a watery solution which contains only one per cent of gelatin coagulates on cooling. Such coagulation may occur in very strong soups and gravies, but never in bouillon.

Bouillon, therefore contains much less than one per cent. of gelatin. In preparing extract of meat, the quantity of gelatin educed as much as possible, because it is in a high degree liable to putrefactive changes, preservation of the preparation. The other constituents of bouillon are decomposition products of foodstuffs-products of the oxi dations and decompositions which take place in the animal organism. They cannot be nger capable of yielding any kinetic energy, or at most such a small amount that it is of importance whatever.

And Carrie went home. She was very pretty, this bright-eyed New England damsel. Fred Jones had loved her ever since they were children together, and Capt. Logan, who had come down to spend the Christmas holidays with his cousins, the Kendricks, had become so fond of those bright blue eyes and golden hair that he had prolonged his visit into January. "Pon my word, she's a regular beauty," said the captain, staring through the tiny window panes at the retreating figure of

As the captain plunged into a dark corner

there was a jingle, and the string of bells, suspended from a nail, hit him directly on the neck, so like the grasp of death cold fingers that he could not but start.

And it took the worthy captain fully sixty seconds more to realize that the trap door was closed and fastened on the lower side. He rushed to the window and threw it up, only to see Sam speeding up the hill.

flesh is heir to, would soon become things of the past if all forms of taxation of every kind were done away with, and a single tax, or a tax on land were substituted for them. With the zeal of a true missionary they have attacked the people of Delaware, presumably because that state is small, and are now carrying on a vigorous campaign with a view of putting up candidates at the approaching state election. They have sent out a large number of speakers, dressed somewhat after the manner of members of all the other ills, social and financial, which somewhat after the manner of members of the Salvation Army, who deliver addresses, distribute tracts and pamphlets, and in var-immense crop of wheat is only a side-show, so to speak, compared with the corn of the tory of that country. Putting the price to the grower at twenty five cents per bushel, which is a very low estimate, the corn crop alone will add no less than $500,000,000 to the wealth of the country. American statisticians are computing that the exportation of the wheat and corn of this year's crop to Europe will be large enough to turn the balance of trade in favor of their country and put a stop to the exportation of gold which has been going on for years. Our neighbors have an enormous interest bill to pay yearly to their European creditors, chiefly in Eogland, and the exportation of gold to meet this and other obligations did much to help bring on the panic in financial circles experienced there a year or two ago. The prospect of paying these obligations in natural products, instead of the precious metal, will now go a long way towards reviving business and restoring confidence once more among the business men of the nation. The magnificent the wealth of the country. American statis-

No place appears test. They had selected Dallas, Texas, as the place for the fight, and extensive prepars have been made in the way of providing buildings, etc., but the governor of the state and local officials have recently made it known that the affair will not be permitted within that state. -News of further cruel outrages agains Christian missionaries in China has been received during the past week. This time it is the American missionaries who suffer at the hands of infuriated Chinese mobs. In fairs in China it would seem advisable that all missionaries should be withdrawn from the interior stations to places of safety. And then Great Britain and the United States should unite in teaching the heathen Chinee that his solemn treaty obligations must be

Miss Homer also distributed ten prizes for excellency of work done during the year.

The LaHave Excursion.

The grand cheap excursion to Bridgewater on Sept. 4th promises to be a stupendous affair. A large number of people in this vicinity have signified their intention of taking advantage of the cheap rates and the attractive program and will go to Bridgewater for a day or two for sport and recreation. The price of the tickets for the round trip is redicalously small arid anybody can afford it. We understand the Oddfellows of Bridgewater have made ample provision for the accommodation of all visitors. The program of sports—aquatic and athletic, concerts by several bands, a performance by a first-class company at the Music hall, and a grand ball, are attractions that should draw a large patronage. Excursionists are guaranteed a most enjoyable time. For airrangements and other particulars see posters and advertisement. Tickets now on sale at $1.35 by Neily & Kinney and at railway station.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28TH, 1895.

—They seem to have all kinds of cranks over in the United States. Just now that peculiar class which acknowledges one Henry George as its great apostle and progenitor is making a rather energetic effort to convert the people of the little state of Delaware to its particular hobby. This latter is the single, or land tax theory. The apostles of this theory profess to believe that all the poverty of this world, together with about all the other ills, social and financial, which the Salvation Army, who deliver addresses, distribute tracts and pamphlets, and in various other ways propagate their peculiar doctrine.

The amusing feature of the case will readily be seen when it is remembered that Delaware is an agricultural state, whose legislation some years ago abolished all land taxes, and now derives its state revenue solely from the taxation of railroads and liquor-saloons. To expect to convince the farmers of that state that it would add to their wealth or lessen their financial burdens by ceasing to tax railroads and saloons and taxing land instead seems a pretty heavy contract. Men who start out under such circumstances expecting to make converts to such a doctrine as that certainly have more zeal than judgment. This seems to be a peculiarity of the entire school of single taxers, anyhow.

—And now it would appear that Canada's immense crop of wheat is only a side-show, so to speak, compared with the corn of the United States. This is computed to realize a total of two billion bushels, or to put it in another form, two thousand millions bushels, which is by long odds the largest in the history of that country. Putting the price to the grower at twenty-five cents per bushel, DODGE-LANDERS. SHIRREFF-TROOP.

MARSTERS—LONG.

One of the always pleasant events took place at the residence of Mr. Harris Long, together with the wheat crop of Canada, should make times good on this continent, at any rate.

—The election in Westmorland, N. B., on Saturday last resulted, as was expected, in the election of Mr. Powell, the government candidate, by a large although greatly reduced majority from that of Mr. Wood at the last dominion election. At the last local election in New Brunswick, held October 25th, 1893, both Messrs. Killam and Powell were elected, although running on opposite sides at that time. Mr. Killam, the liberal candidate in Saturday's contest, led Mr. Powell by 96 of a majority. This is probably what induced the liberals to enter into this contest with so much spirit, and led them to have some hopes of victory, even in the face of Mr. Wood's great majority of 2148 in the dominion election of '91.

Graduated with Honors.

Among the many sons of Bridgetown who have gone from her to win success and honors, Mr. Walter W. Chipman, son of William Chipman, Eq., of this town, who recently gaduated from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, completing a four years course he medicine, must be accorded honorable recognition. During his entire course at the University his scholarship and rank have been most creditable. During his first winter session 1891-1892 he took first-class honors in Practical Anatomy, and was presented by the-classes of '93 and '94 with a bag of surgical instruments worth £16; in the session of 1894-1895 he won the second prize for proficiency in surgery, and first-class honors in Midwifery, securing a medal, and was again presented with a case of instruments by the senior classes. At his final examination he had the honor of winning the Buchanan scholarship, which is worth £65 and a year's admittance to the private hospital under the superintendence of Sir James Simpson. The success which has followed his advancement as a student is most gratifying to his many friends, and gives promise of a successful and honorable career in his chosen profession. The Monitor extends congratulations. Among the many sons of Bridgetown who

Lord Lansdowne on the Scott Act. Addressing a meeting at Bath, Eng., quite recently, Lord Lansdowne said:—

"In Canada, while he had the honour of being connected with the Government of that country, a very strong Temperance Act known as the Scott Act was in operation. In 1886 no fewer than 63 counties had adopted it, but by the year 1893, 43 of these had abandoned it, whilst in the great province of Ontario, out of 41 counties 25 had adopted it by the year 1885, and the whole of them had abandoned it four years afterwards. In the mean time there had been bitter animosities, constant evasion of the law, contraband dealing, and the substitution of dangerous intoxicants for more harmless and beller fleider, the contraband dealing, and the substitution of dangerous intoxicants for more harmless and dangerous intoxicants for more harmless and bulky fluids; the spy and the informer had plied their trade, and there was corruption amongst the officials and perjury in the law courts, until at last the people rose as one man and emancipated themselves from the tyranny which had been imposed upon them."

Competition says we must secure the business of transferring the country's commodities to all points of consumption, even at the risk of a loss. Fruit Trees and Vines in Summer and Fall.

The way to secure a large crop of fruit dition this fall. The larger share of work with fruit is done early in the spring, for then the sprayer must be used frequently and much time is necessarily devoted to the destruction of insects instead of to the cultivation of trees and plants. There is but little work given fruit trees and vines during the summer and fall, yet much can be done that would render spring work less laborious. In of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People the obliteration of grape rot success has partially attended the spring applications of solutions for that purpose, but the sprayer can do better service until the crop is harvested than in spring, as the spores will be easier destroyed. After the vines are clear of grapes work can be performed in the endeavor to rid the ground of the spores by the free use of lime and the several recognized mixtures for that purpose. When such mat-ters are deferred until winter the delay permits of the firmer establishment of the spores and their distribution by rains and winds.

FERTILIZERS IN THE FALL. It requires a large amount of water to dissolve some fertilizers, especially phosphates in the form of bone, meal or Carolina rock that has not been acidulated. The fall is an excellent time to apply such, and their application is beneficial to trees and vines, which are believed to store up certain substances that are utilized for the formation of fruit during the spring or bearing season. nenters with strawberries have found summer and fall applications of fertilizers to the plants of great assistance in increasing the yield and quality of berries the following spring and on a plot which produced at the of nearly 5,000 quarts per acre this season the heaviest application of fertilizers was made the previous summer. The practice of abandoning the fruit fields until the growing season again arrives is to lose time, for weeds and grass take away a large portion of the plant food of the soil, and the exhausted trees and vines have but a partial supply of plant food with which to recover from their work of fruit production.

PLANT FOOD ESSENTIAL.

A large crop takes from the soil nearly all the elements of growth. As stated, all applications of phosphate will be of advantage in the summer, but a little later there should be given a slight dressing of potash. Early in the spring more potash should be applied, By this method there will be less loss during winter by rains, and the plant food will be given at the most appropriate periods. In n orchard a grass crop may be grown oc casionally when fertilizers are used liberally, but the sod should be turned under and the land well limed. It is the weeds that do the damage, and especially to small fruits. It is not profitable to postpone cultivation until spring, for the damage to the fruit crops is in the fall, when the trees and vines are being robbed by intruding plants and weeds, as well as being injured by insects that should

Two Serious Sins. Egg eating and feather pulling are unde niably two very bad habits. If a fowl gets this mania, better decapitate the specime as soon as possible. Evil tricks are easily learned, and one bad bird will rapidly de noralize a whole flock. But usually there is something wrong in the management when either of the above vices is contracted. A disposition to eat feathers denotes a morbid needed in the rations. If the birds are idle, we have another prolific cause, for as to men. To guard against egg eating be careful to give the hens no egg shells before they have been completely crushed so as to they have been completely crushed so as to of my urine.

Chicken Cholera.

One of our subscribers living near Downey sends the Cultivator the following: "A sure cure for chicken cholera and howel trouble, which latter is brought on in hot weather by drinking too much water is the following-Use Venetian red, giving a level teaspoonful of the powder to each twelve fowls, mixing it with soft food. Keep the fowls shut up for four days and feed on rice or bread or some soft food, and give no drinking water for 24 hours, then give them water during the day, but leave no water in the pen over night where the fowls can drink i cold in the morning.

"This cure is so effective and speedy tha one is liable to let the sick chicken go at once, when a relapse comes on and death is certain. If you are not prepared to keep the fowls shut up after treating them and feed as directed, then no remedy will do."

The Horse Your Friend.

This being so, be sure to keep the harness soft and clean, particularly inside of the collar and saddle, as the perspiration, if allow ed to dry in, will cause irritation and produce gall. The collar should fit closely, with sufficient space at the bottom to admit your hand; a collar too small obstructs the breathing, while one too large will cramp and draw the shoulders into an unnatural position, thus obstructing the circulation. Never al low your horse to stand on hot, fermenting manure, as this will soften the hoof and bring on disease of the feet; nor permit the old litter to lie under the manger, as the grasses will taint his food and irritate his

A MONTREALER RELATES HIS WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE.

HE HAD TRIED FOREIGN AND LOCAL PHY-SICIANS AND WAS OPERATED UPON WITHOUT SUCCESS - DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS CURED WHEN ALL OTHER

of special interest, owing to the peculiarity present instance the gentleman is well known in Montreal. Mr. Charles Frank, inspector of the mechanical department of the Belle Telephone Co., at 371 Aqueduct street, and who resides at 54 Argyle Avenue, in an interview with a Herald reporter, related th following wonderful cure by the use of Pink Pills. Mr. Frank, who is 25 years of age, is a Russian by birth, exceedingly intelligent, speaks several languages fluently, and is now apparently in good health. "My illness came about in a peculiar way," said Mr. Frank. "Up to three years ago I was in the best of health. About that time while in Glasgow, Scotland, where I was employed as a clerk in a hotel, and while sculling o the Clyde, a storm came up, and I had pretty rough time of it for a while. I evidently must have injured myself internally, although I felt nothing wrong at the time. On my way home, however, I fell helpless on the street, and had to be conveyed home in a cab, as my legs were utterly unable to hold me up. I was confined to bed for sev-eral days in the same helpless condition, when I rallied, but found that my urine was of a strange reddish hue. I called in a physician, who prescribed, but did me no good.

Caught in a Storm on the Clyde. I then called in Sir George McLeod, M. D., who also perscribed and advised me to go to the hospital. I was averse to doing this, and he advised me then to try a change of climate, telling me that my bladder was af fected. I acted on his suggestion as to change and came to Montreal. I did not do anything for about a year, as I wished to get cured. All this time my urine was tainted with blood, although I was suffering no pain, but this abnormal condition was a source o continual anxiety. I finally went to the General Hospital, where the physician in charge advised me to stay, which I did. After remaining there for five weeks with no benefit, a consultation of physicians was held and an operation suggested, to which I this time agreed. After the operation was performed I was no better, my condition re naining absolutely unchanged. From this out I was continually trying medicines and physicians, but derived no benefit from any thing or anyone. I was in despair, as the physicians who had operated on me could not decide as to my trouble. I visited the hospital once more, and they said they would operate again; but I did not care to underg Satan finds some mischief still for idle a second and perhaps equally unsuccessful hands to do" is as readily applicable to fowls operation. Some physicians thought my trouble was consumption of the bladder, others that it was Bright's disease, but nothing could cure that strange bloody condition > worked myself up to my present position But I was in a state of constant anxiety, as I felt myself getting weaker all the time, and was listless and sleepy and weak in the legs I was also pale and ill-looking, no doub owing to loss of blood. From a naturally cheerful man I became morose, and gave up all hopes of ultimate recovery. One Satur day, some months ago, while walking along Bleury street, having seen the advertis ment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the Mon treal Herald, I stopped at John T. Lyons drug store, and bought a box. I had tried so many medicines that I said to myself 'If they don't cure me I can't be any worse off than before.' After taking the first box I felt stronger and more cheerful although there was no change in the bloody condition of my urine. But I felt encouraged and got three more boxes, determined to make a thorough trial of Pink Pills. After I had finished the second box I found my urine was getting clearer, so I continued the use of the pills, taking two after each meal. When I had finished the third box my urine was quite clear, for the first time in three years. I was delighted and continued taking the pills until I had finished six boxes. I am strong now and have had no recurrence of the trouble, and as you can see, the flush of health shows itself in my face. To think that I was cared by the use of $3.00 worth of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after trying a number of physicians and undergoing as operation in vain is a puzzle to me, and I am sorry that I didn't know about this grand medicine before. I would have willingly given $200 or $300 to have been guaranteed a cure by anyone."

"I am willing," said Mr. Frank, in conclusion, "to see anyone who wishes to verify this interview, as I consider it my duty to my fellow-men and a matter of gratitude to the marvellous cure their medicine has affect ed. I have come to the conclusion that Pink Pills are the best blood builders in existence, and I think everyone should try them.'

Salmon to Be Admitted Free

The tariff, as revised at the last session of Parliament, provided that the duty on fresh salmon shall be one half cent per pound, provided that it may be admitted free of duty upon proclamation of the Governor-in-council which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that fresh salmon may be imported into the United States from Canada free into the United States, an order was passed to-day abolishing the duty on salmon coming into Canada. Our exports of fresh salmon to the republic last year aggregated in value $125,430, whereas our i ports from the same were valued only $55,

The Life of Man.

What a wonderful fact it is this eager, What a wonderful fact it is this eager, restless, human life. Always unpatisfied, always reaching out for something just beyond its reach. Wearing itself out in the headlong rush for place and power, or the solution of some vexed problem. Wearing itself out. Why should this result be hastened by disregard of health? There is no reason save man's proverbial disregard of nature's laws. The individual whose health has been broken down by over-exertion in any line of human activity should seek at once the aid of Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic, the greatest health restorer of the age. It insures healthy digestion, builds up the wasted tissues, and gives renewed energy to nerve and brain. A course of this great remedy restores a man to his full vigor of strength. It is sold by all druggists and dealers at 50 cts. per bottle or six bottles for $2.50, and is manufactured only by the Hawker Medicine Co., (Ltd.,) St. John, N. B., and New York City. is weakening. You cannot afford to fall below your healthy weight. If you will take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda when your friends first tell you you are getting thin, you will quickly restore your healthy weight and may thereby prevent serious illness.

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce a day of Scott's Emulsion. This seems extraordinary: but it is absolutely true. Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Perhaps you think the little ones are so Perhaps you think the little ones are so young they will not notice what you do; but that is a great mistake. Children are very sharp observers, and seem to have an instinctive appreciation of people's motives. They may not remember special great kindnesses you have done them, but the influence of the special great kindnesses you have done them, but the influence of the special great kindnesses you have done them, but the influence of the special great kindnesses you have done them, but the influence of the stuck up tiger lilies and the purty smellin' grasses. stinctive appreciation of people's motives. They may not remember special great kindnesses you have done them, but the influence of your daily example will go with them through life. It rests with yourself whether that example is for good or evil.

An old lady relates a sample incident. One day, when a child, she was dressing some dolls when her eldest sister came into er room and asked her what she was doing it for. She replied, somewhat rudely, that it was a secret, and she could not tell her.

The Russian Face Bath.

The principle of the Russian bath for the face is to bathe it with such hot water that it will make one jump every time it is applied, and then a minute later, to bathe it with cold water. The reaction which this causes in the blood will cause the skin to glow and tingle with warmth. Then it should be wiped dry with a towel. Day by day the skin will grow firmer, and the wrinkles will gradually disappear. The use of hot and cold water for the face is important in many ways. Hard, cold water, will not remove the grease and dirt which settles in the pores of the skin: but, if hot water be used first, and then cold, the dirt will be removed and the skin strengthened. Dirt, grit and grease will settle in the skin when the face is washed only with hard, cold water and soap, and this alone, in time, injures the color and softness of it. One should never bathe the face in hard water if a fair complexion is desired. The water should be softened with a little borax, or a few drops of ammonia. When the face is very hot it should not be bathed. Wait until it cools off a little.

Bishop Vincent Admires a Woman With a

A lovely woman is a woman who, without artifice, wins the love of those who know her best; the woman who has strength and symmetry of personal character; who follows a true and lofty ideal with a firm will, and who adjusts herself with grace to the sphere which becomes her. She may be required to do what we call outside work for her living and for the support of those dependent upon her, but the womanly quality is so manifest in all her movement and spirit that the demands of business and society never mar the gentleness, the firmness, the purity which are always associated in the mind of wise men with the true ideal of womanhood.

Make Children Happy. Women should do their utmost to see that the childhood of their boys and girls should be as happy as outward circumstances ren-der possible. Every mother should make a study in the art of creating happiness in her children. That art cannot be learned from a sweet and tender pity, "if I had your vine unselfishness. Poverty is no bar to its attainment. Happiness at all times is "a pearl not of the Indian, but of the empyrean ocean." but the mother who tries so to love as to go to heaven every day" will be sure to bring it thence and impart it to her little
