His Friendly Proffer on the African Question
FOR A JOINT COMMISSION

But His Proposal to France Has Been beneath it the Hand of Power.

British Premier Proposes a Commission on Boundaries, But He Lays Down the Frontier Lines, Conceding Only, Claiming for England and Egypt a Certain Fixed Sphere of Influence—France Must Accept It or Things Will Again Reach a Crisis.

London, Dec. 23.—The Anglo-French dispute over territorial possessions in Africa have been opened up for diplomatic settlement. Lord Salisbury formally proposed today to the new French Ambassador at London, M. Paul Cambon, that a joint commission be appointed for the delimitation of the frontiers.

Lord Salisbury, however, in his notes, partially lays down the frontier lines, conceding to France certain territory to the south and west of a line drawn westward from the Ubangui watershed, but firmly claiming for Egypt and England a sphere of influence over the Bah-el-Ghazal, Darfur, Bahr and all the territories to the east shore of Lake Tchad.

These diplomatic negotiations are the result of Major Michaux's evacuation of the Fashoda. At the time the French force occupied that point on the Nile, Lord Salisbury notified the French Government that no negotiations could be considered for the settlement of the long-standing African territorial disputes until the French withdrew completely from the Nile. News of Major Marchand's withdrawal from Fashoda and retreat back into the interior of Africa having been received last week, the British Government now turns to diplomacy for peaceful settlement of the matter.

How France will regard England's declaration that the Bah-el-Ghazal and the shores of Lake Tchad are beyond the sphere of negotiations, is doubtful, as it is these very regions east of the Nile that the French have been most desirous of securing. If France declines to accept the conditions laid down for diplomatic negotiations, the whole matter may again revert to the territorial stage it reached at the time of Marchand's occupation of Fashoda.

Rev. Dr. Eby Refused a Donation From a Theatrical Entertainer.

Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 23.—There was a rousing roar of applause in Home Church Methodist Church on Sunday evening, when the course of his sermon, Rev. Dr. Eby informed his congregation that he had refused to take the $200 part proceeds of the Savoy Theatre entertainment. The theatre, which is really a music hall, gave a benefit entertainment and realized $120, which was given to different clergy men for the poor. Dr. Eby and others refused to touch the "devil's money." Dr. Eby in his sermon said: "This pretty little theatre is owned by a twin institution run by the same money-making, vice-producing, and lies as far as they can, into the city of Vancouver. The other half of the institution is one of the most respectable deities in the city today. This money was a bribe to the clergy to shut their mouths in reference to the villainy already done on the sly, and being prepared for in larger doses when this city is educated to it and the churches are sufficiently sagged. If I had sold my Lord very cheaply and if I had hanged myself for all work of reform."

POISON GERM WORKED WITH SPEED
Post Mortem Decision That Death Was Caused by Acute Septicemia—What Was the Septic?

The home of Ven. Archbishop Boddy, 21 Westchester street, was suddenly plunged into the deepest mourning yesterday, by the terrible death of Mr. Arthur Percival Boddy, the Archbishop's youngest son. The young man, who was only 24 years of age, was well and hearty on Monday, when he enjoyed his Christmas dinner with the family. That evening he made a casual remark about feeling a chilly sensation, but on rising on Tuesday morning he complained of biliousness. Wednesday morning he got worse, and Dr. McNeil was called in.

A Remarkable Case.
Dr. McNeil found that he had a remarkable case on hand. When he arrived at the bedside at 10 a.m., he found Mr. Boddy comatose, and the patient complained of excruciating pain on touching any part of the body. The whole surface of the body had become mottled with dark purple spots caused by hemorrhaging of small blood vessels. The patient was in a tremor, and he was not cold. He was delirious at times, his temperature was 104, respiration every known remedy was applied to resuscitate him, the physician remaining at the bedside until 11 a.m. The young man's condition was a little, and he again called on Dr. McNeil as he saw the patient. Several other doctors were called in, but the doctor asked for a consultation. Several other doctors were called in, but the doctor asked for a consultation.

Post Mortem Held.
Owing to the peculiar action of the disease, whatever it was, it was decided to hold a post-mortem, which was held at 5 p.m. in the presence of the Archbishop, Mr. Boddy, Mr. McNeil, Mr. Moran, and Mr. W. H. Stowe. All the attending physicians were found to be in a state of hemorrhage and the decision arrived at was that death was caused by acute septicemia, or acute blood poisoning. The acuteness of the case is puzzling the physicians, and they are endeavoring to ascertain the nature of the septic fever, which the young man's condition was very peculiar.

The Earl of Rosebery is bequeathed several valuable pictures, and his sons receive legacies.

BLOODY TIMES IN HAVANA KING TRIED TO BREAK JAIL

Spanish Policemen Shouted for Spain When Menaced by Cubans and is Dying.

Havana, Dec. 23.—This afternoon a Spanish named Fernandez, a member of the municipal police, was surrounded by a crowd of Cubans in Bonza-street. Cuban and American flags were waved in his face. His rifle was twisted out of his hands, and half a hundred men yelled to him: "Shoot Cuba Libre or Die!" Fernandez threw up his arms as if to assent, and then, when he had to say, he cried out in clear tones "Viva Espana! Viva Espana!" Three knives were thrust into him, and tonight he is dying.

It is a favorite sport among the Cubans to stop in the streets persons supposed to be pro-Spanish, and to make them kiss the Cuban flag and cry "Viva Cuba Libre!" Sometimes these incidents have their humorous features, but quite as often the victims are brutally treated. To-day a fight was started by some Cubans carrying American and Cuban flags, who declared that they had been insulted by Spanish marines. A Cuban drew a pistol, and declaring that he would defend the American flag, fired several shots. According to unofficial reports a Spanish soldier was killed, a Spanish marine fatally wounded and at least one other, if not several, hurt.

THE FRENCH VIEW OF IT

A Claim That England Plays a Double Game IN DEALING WITH SPAIN

Is Substantial Aid Being Given to Don Carlos to Force Concessions?

England's Aim is Also Said to Be to Convince the Queen Regent That Lord Salisbury is Her Best Friend, That He Will Help Spain if Some Little Concession is Given to Britain in Return.

Paris, Dec. 23.—La Liberté writes in the assertion which is the first among the Parisian journals to make, that England is playing a double game in Spanish politics. It again declares that English money—"and much of it"—is backing Don Carlos, and it even goes further to the point of pretending that English bankers have made loans to the pretender with the approbation and even at the request of the British cabinet. "Of that we are absolutely certain," says this journal. "If the fact has been denied at Madrid it has been denied at the bidding of the Foreign Office."

England's aim is to convince the Queen Regent that Lord Salisbury is her best friend, so La Liberté outlines the situation. Salisbury instigates that he will help Spain if some little concession be given in return—a port on the other side of the Strait of Gibraltar, for instance, so that Great Britain could completely block entry to the Mediterranean. "England might even ask for Cadix. This done, she would close her purse to Don Carlos and open it for the Queen Regent. To force the Queen to accept this plan England is now aiding the Charles."

This leading article closes with these words, which will reflect the spirit now prevailing in France, even among moderate republicans, toward England: "But the Queen Regent has too intelligent constitutional advisers, and herself is too enlightened to be fooled in this way. They know what friendship with England costs this week." This spirit of mistrust of England is due chiefly to the forgotten sting of the Fashoda incident.
