Ottawa, June 29.—The rush of members out of town for the holiday left the house of commons without a quorum at 11 o'clock tonight and brought the conscription debate for the week to a somewhat lame and impotent conclusion. Mr. Boulay, the Conservative-Nationalist member for Rimouski, made the point, and Mr. Speaker had no choice but to adjourn the house. Under the rules only twenty members are required for a quorum, and not for years has the government been thus counted out. There were only 13 members present when the house adjourned.

COALITION GOVERNMENT BELIEVED IN PROSPECT

Ottawa, June 29.—The arrival of N. W. Rowell, leader of the Liberal party in Ontario in the city today, and the fact that he had a long conference with the prime minister at his home, has aroused anew the talk regarding the formation of a union government. It is taken for granted that the formation of such a government will be announced shortly after the conscription bill passes the house. The belief is that it will include Liberals from outside parliament, as well as Liberals in the house, who supported conscription.

They captured 2000 yards of German trenches in the Oppy region and they further penetrated the German defences in the Lens region on a wide front.

BORDEN MAKES APPEAL IN STIRRING MESSAGE

Canada's Premier Marks Semi-Centennial of Dominion Day by Manifesto to People Never to Falter. Ottawa, Ont., June 29.—"Let us with resolute spirit so maintain our purpose and our effort that in this last and greatest chapter of human history, striving and triumph it shall be the Canada of today. Much has been done, but the country is still far from the goal. The great struggle which has been waged since Confederation, and the great problems with which the country is faced in its fiftieth anniversary. The premier's message reads: "Amid the welter and horror of a war which devastates civilization, we pause for a moment to consider the Canada of half a century ago and the Canada of today. Much has been added to us; our boundaries have been vastly extended so as to embrace half a continent; our population has nearly trebled; there has been a measurable development of our resources; we have grown enormously in production, commerce and wealth; facilities of communication and transportation have been provided beyond all anticipation; the general conditions of life and the standards of living have been conspicuously raised. Education facilities have been greatly enlarged. In all these and many other incidents of the world's progress Canada has more than held her own."

MEDICAL DOCTORS ARE CRITICIZED

Christian Scientist Claims They Desire Monopoly in Field of Health.

OSTEOPATHS PROTEST

Cases for Various Healing Systems Presented Before Medical Commission.

Justice Hodgins and the Medical Commission of Ontario, meeting in the parliament buildings yesterday, heard from various representatives of the different cults employed in the art of healing in the province, who were invited to the attack of Dr. John Ferguson contained in a paper read at the sitting of the commission several weeks ago. In his statement Dr. Ferguson said that the "outside cults" were not properly qualified to diagnose the various ailments, and he advised that all such practitioners be required to take the regular medical course before following their various modes of practice.

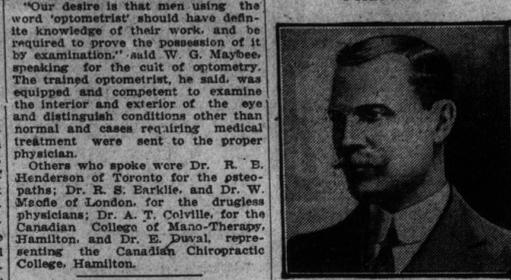

Dr. Clifford P. Smith of Boston, chairman of the publication committee of the Christian Science Church, made the assertion that the medical profession sought to become a ruling class, with all other people as its subjects, and that it wished to obtain a monopoly in the field of health. He explained at length the reasons why the medical profession had a right to regulate health did not require legislative regulation any more than the public morals required a state regulation. He explained at length the methods of healing employed by Christian Scientists.

Judge Smith said that the item which Dr. Ferguson had quoted from the New York Medical Record to the effect that a corner in Brooklyn had held a Christian Science practitioner as a grand jury for failing to report a case of communicable disease was unfortunate for Dr. Ferguson's purpose. The actual facts of this case as printed in the New York and Brooklyn papers were, he said, that it was not the Christian Scientist but the licensed physician who failed to report the case.

Speaking for the osteopaths, Dr. E. H. Sisset of Kitchener, declared that it was folly for Dr. Ferguson to declare that osteopathy should be administered only under the direction of an allopathic physician. He pointed

"I think it my duty to tell you what 'Fruit-a-tives' has done for me. Three years ago I began to feel run-down and tired, and suffered very much from liver and kidney trouble. Having read of 'Fruit-a-tives,' I thought I would try them. The result was surprising. During the 3 1/2 years past, I have taken them regularly and would not change for anything. I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using 'Fruit-a-tives,' and I know now what I haven't known for a good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain."

LIBERALS HOLD STORMY MEETING

Heated Argument Arises at Gathering in Northwest Toronto.

NICKEL AGAIN

Government is Criticized on Taxes Assessed Against International Company.

A controversy of unusual interest was introduced at the organization meeting of the Liberals of Northwest Toronto in Sovereign Hall, Dovercourt road, last night, which not only disturbed and delayed proceedings for some time, but threatened to disrupt the meeting entirely. It was a "joint meeting of the up-coming party," it was announced, and a prominent part in the discussion was that the names of those who took part in the meeting should be submitted to the meeting for approval.

John Dunbar immediately arose and objected to the motion, but was not in favor of the men named. He felt that the business of the meeting was being sidetracked and that certain men should be elected to office who would do nothing after getting there. Frank Regan then attempted to speak in the motion, but was informed that the privilege of voting was open to members of the riding only. Mr. Regan replied that he was a member of a central Liberal organization and had the right to walk into any Liberal meeting and vote.

"What is the central organization to which you refer?" enquired Mr. Lindsey. "If you are a little more acquainted with the Liberal organizations of this city it would be a question," said Mr. Regan, "with some warmth." "At least I am entitled to a courteous answer," Mr. Regan then replied that he was secretary of Ward Three Liberal Association. He referred to the matter under discussion. The meeting, he said, had proceeded wrongly from the start. If outsiders had not right to vote at the meeting, he would not have taken the riding to walk in and usurp the position of chairman, and it was a mistake to elect a chairman from the riding. The speaker was supported by a large following, who repeatedly applauded his remarks.

Mr. McLaughlin sprang to his feet, and contended that Mr. Regan had no voice in the meeting other than the wishes of the association, and the chair allowed him. He said he had no objection to the motion, but he held to come there and act as a dictator. "I do not think the position he holds entitles him to come here and invite us to vote for him," said Mr. McLaughlin. "It is a meeting called by the citizens of Northwest Toronto, of which he is not one."

"I did not intend to vote on the resolution," said Mr. Regan. "I intend to move an amendment." Objection being offered to this, the chairman moved to settle the matter by a vote of the meeting in regard to allowing Regan the right of moving an amendment. The motion was carried by the decision of the meeting. The vote followed and his proposal was ruled out of order.

John Dunbar then took the floor. He had voted against the majority because it was always agreed to the wishes of the chair, but he was accustomed to liberty of speech. "My friend," he said, "referring to the riding of Northwest Toronto and takes upon himself what we came here to do."

Secured Dewar's Election. W. J. O'Neil, secretary of Ward 4 Liberal Association, was in sympathy with the opponents of the resolution. It had been proposed that a committee be appointed to choose a committee and he thought that the company had paid a dividend of $7.75 a share on the common stock, but the press did not state, he said, that the par value of common stock was $25 a share, making the dividend $12.12 per cent. Nor was it generally known that in 1914 the directors had dealt out to themselves two and a half shares for every one share formerly held. They had pocketed themselves a dividend of $14,000, taken from the business of this country and made from this and other sources. And in spite of this enormous profit, they had the effrontery, he declared, to compromise with the government at an annual tax of $40,000.

After the troubled waters of the meeting had been calmed, the speaking began. Mrs. J. W. Bundy, vice-president of the Toronto Women's Liberal Association, spoke. The women, she said, asked for co-operation and assistance in the extension of their organization work, which had been begun. She predicted a higher standard of candidates in future elections, cleaner politics and a better government, as the result of the entrance of women into politics.

Wm. McDonald, M.L.A., for North Bruce, criticized the workings of the present government, directing his remarks more particularly to certain individuals. He gave himself credit for the production of the idea of woman suffrage to parliament and took much time and labor to tell his audience what "he" had done in the matter. He held the department of education up for criticism and obtained interesting remarks from the various departmental examination papers of the past year, passages of which he read to the audience. Nelson Parliament, M.L.A., Prince Edward County, stated that if we were to build up a co-operation there must be a better co-operation between rural and city people. They must live together and take part in each other's life, he said, were putting forth mighty efforts these days as a patriotic necessity. High prices to city dealers were caused by the money interest.

Mrs. Deeks, president of the Toronto Women's Liberal Association, also spoke. The following committee was elected:

RESEARCH BUREAU HAS PHILANTHROPIC SCHEME

Organization Which Would Be Clearing House for Information and Contributions.

The bureau of research, in a pamphlet just issued, states that on account of the large amount of indiscriminate and unsystematic giving, an organization which would be a clearing house for both information and cash should be established. This federation would receive all moneys donated to philanthropic institutions and pay them to those designated. Thus, instead of being continually canvassed by solicitors the citizen could obtain from the central organization the information required about the different charities and contribute the amount he desires.

18 HELD FOR THEFT.

Alleged to have stolen a gold locket and chain and a child's silk bag from 272 George street, Fred Daloch; 281 Yonge street, was arrested last night by Acting Detective McConnell. According to the police, Daloch took the trinkets while rooming at the house.

POLICE PAID VISIT.

Frank Millia, 438 College street, was taken into custody last night by Plainclothesmen Forbes and Dunn on a charge of keeping a common gaming house at the above address. Eight others were "found in."

POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS AFTER BUDAPEST RIOTS

Budapest, June 29.—According to Budapest advices, the Hungarian Minister of the Interior announced in the house of deputies that the chief of police had resigned as a result of a riotous demonstration in Budapest. The Hungarian Government, it was announced, would compensate those persons who sustained property damage during the rioting.

STRUCK BY MOTOR CAR.

Walter Rowe, 75 Ashburnham avenue, sustained injuries to the head yesterday afternoon when knocked down by a motor car at the corner of Davielville avenue and Yonge street. He was removed to St. Michael's Hospital. His condition is favorable.

REMARKABLE SCENES ON THE WESTERN FRONT

APPLE GROWING IN NOVA SCOTIA

Early June in the Evangeline country.

THERE is no part of Canada where apple production is more successfully carried on than in the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia. The principal reason for this, apart from the fact that soil and climatic conditions are favorable, is that practically all of the large commercial orchards are situated in a continuous and closely connected chain. "The Valley" is approximately 80 miles in length, with an average width of 9 miles. There are about 40 shipping stations in that area, all being on the main line of the Dominion Atlantic Railway with its terminus at Halifax. Consequently the facilities for shipping and for export are perfect.

There is one other reason for the success with which fruit growing is carried on in Nova Scotia, and that is the systematic manner in which the fruit is marketed. Over one-half of the entire apple crop is packed and marketed co-operatively. Each particular section of the Annapolis Valley has its own co-operative association, and all these subsidiary companies are responsible to one main selling association, the United Fruit Companies. All of the fruit marketed by this organization is uniformly packed in accordance with specific grading rules and marketed under the brand of the central selling body. The details concerning the operating methods of the United Fruit Companies (too lengthy to be outlined here) are well worth careful study. Their headquarters are at Berwick which is the principal apple shipping station.

By far the greater portion of Nova Scotian apples is exported to Great Britain, the principal market being London. In the year 1911, which was a record season, almost 2,000,000 barrels of apples were marketed. At that time Nova Scotian fruit was introduced in the Prairie Provinces. There is every indication that shipments to those markets will be increased, inasmuch as the Gravenstein apple, for which Nova Scotia is famous, matures at a time when apples are in great demand in the Canadian West. A growing trade is also being developed with South America and South Africa, corresponding geographically to the trade in apples between British Columbia and Australia.

It is rather interesting to note that the apple barrel used in Nova Scotia contains only 96 quarts, as compared with the 112 quart barrel of Ontario. The Canadian Government regulations call for a minimum size of 96 quarts and Nova Scotia has adapted that minimum. The difference in the size of the two barrels must therefore be always taken into consideration when comparing the prices of Ontario and Nova Scotia apples in any particular market.

It is impossible to single out any variety of apple which is most successfully grown in Nova Scotia. Several varieties succeed equally well. Undoubtedly the province is most famous for the Gravenstein, because that variety is grown more extensively in the Annapolis Valley than in any other part of Canada. About 15 per cent of the apples marketed in Nova Scotia are Gravensteins. It is a tender, early fall apple, usually harvested between September 10th and 25th, and should be consumed under ordinary conditions by the end of October. If stored in a suitable cellar it will keep in prime condition until Christmas.
