IN CONTRAST TO PRINCE'S WELCOME

London Mourned as Field
Marshal was Buried

Laid at Rest Between Roberts
and Wolsley—Murder
Revives Talk of Unarmed Police—News Topics in Empire Metropolis.

(From Our Own Correspondent)
London, June 26—Nothing at all was wanting to make solemnly impressive
the slow passing of the murdered Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson to his grave
in St. Paul's. Great silent crowds filled the streets, in startling contrast with those that lined the route to greet the prince last week, only the day before Sir Henry Wilson was shot down, latchkey in hand, on his own doorstep. A dramatic pall of storm clouds threw a sombre shade over the city, and an Irish drizzle from the south west fell dimly on roof and road. I watched the long state funeral procession wind round
the Embankment; first the Life Guards,
the Blues and the Red's, in their distinctive cloaks, their horses stepping slowly, then the Foot Guards—Grenadiers, Coldstreams, Scots and Welsh, with arms
reversed, save only the color parties, whose rifles with fixed bayonets were at the slope; now the field-marshal's white charger, saddled, but riderless
with reversed top boots in the stirrups, and now the gun-carriage, drawn by horses ridden by R. H. A. drivers in the blue and gold of that famous corps,
with flag-draped coffin, on which rested
Sir Henry's white-plumed hat and sword.
Around the gun-carriage marched the pall-bearers, a solemn-visaged galaxy of illustrious commanders, Foch, French and Heuty conspicuous among them all.
Then came a single carriage in which sat Lady Wilson. At her passing even the lowest whisper of the awed crowd were hushed.

Between Roberts and Wolsley.
Motor-cars laden with flowers of magnificent hues and profuse wealth followed last of all. As the gun-carriage reached Blackfriars the guns from the park boomed out their echoing requiem, in final adieu to the great soldier whose ear was so long tuned to them, the military bands, throbbing into funeral rhapsody, and all the troops slow-marched.
And so up the steep hill into the vast shadow of St. Paul's, where "with dirges due in sad array" Field-Marshal Wilson was laid between Wolsley and "Bobs," and the Guards' buglers sent the heart-rending cadences of "The Last Post" winding over his open grave.

Police Precautions.
That the authorities were afraid of some sort of demonstration was proved by the elaborate precautions taken in St. Paul's Churchyard. The chairman of a city company, who has seen every ceremony at St. Paul's for twenty-five years, told me that this was the first occasion the public had been excluded from the churchyard. A few people, however, were allowed through the barriers just as the funeral procession reached the top of Ludgate Circus. The silence in the vast empty space was most impressive,
the cooing of the pigeons being the only sound until the giant bells began to toll.
This was by special license, the bells
normally being tolled only for royalty,
the lord mayor or the dean. The police were even afraid that some further outrage might be perpetrated at Sir Henry Wilson's house in Eaton Square before the funeral. All day on Sunday there was a small crowd outside the house, and not one man passed the door without removing his hat. Several women laid wreaths on the steps without disturbance to the household by ringing the bell.

The Acid Test.
Even the staunchest Irish sympathizers with Mr. Griffith and Mr. Collins now agree that it is up to them to face hard facts in Ireland without and further procrastination. The Provisional Government now has behind it the clear impression of Irish public opinion. Despite the unhappy pact with the Republicans,
and thanks to the courage of some Irish politicians and voters, the pro-treaty party possess a strong majority, with the complete assurance that the great mass of Irish people support them. The acid test will be whether in these new circumstances the official Irish government acts with courage and determination in suppressing "six-chamber government." It is only the only way to save Ireland and to save themselves.

Naturally the murder has revived once more in an acute form the old controversy about arming the police. One imagines the result may be that our London police will soon cease to be the only unarmed force in any capital in the world. Nowadays every undesirable or desperado carries an automatic as a matter of course. A Scotland Yard official told me recently that he believed a "gun" was now as common on this side of the Atlantic as the other. But whereas the New York policeman carries a pistol that resembles a small machine gun, the London policeman has only a short, trustworthy, handy enough for trench fighting, but useless as a revolver yard away. This places a premium on the worst kinds of crime, because criminals know they will hold any considerable advantage. They will be the only possessor of a weapon of formidable power. It is idle for Home Office officials to talk of the regulation allowing any constable to have a pistol who is on dangerous duty, or to talk about the misadventure of such a weapon in unskilled hands. Every policeman may suddenly need a firearm, and revolver practice is as necessary as button polish for modern constables.

German Monarchist Plot.
The murder of Dr. Rathenau is looked upon by those who really know Germany
as one more link in the steadily-lengthening chain of Junker conspiracy against the republican constitution. Rathenau, Scheidtmann, Rathenau, have each been singled out in turn, and others have almost certainly been marked down. The huffing problem is to fathom how deep
the monarchist plot extends its activities, and still more its sympathies. The ex-
-kaiser himself realizes that never can he hope to regain his throne, because Germany abhors his flight to Holland.
But nothing is more likely than that Germany will revert to her old kaiser regime. Our English Jacobins were nothing compared with the spirit that animates
the German Junkers of today. Men whose Prussian code made obedient suicide the resort of those who offended

the ruler's majesty are little likely to succeed throughout the country. The struggle is between the socialists and the military case in Germany make a dangerous

racies, but essentially also of value to the
struggle is between the socialists and the military case in Germany make a dangerous
forcing chamber for reactionary conspiracies, but essentially also of value to the Prince and Press.

Now that the Prince of Wales is back,
a little may be said of a matter which primarily is of domestic interest to the country, but essentially also of value to the country and the throne.
On the prince's tour to Canada there were serious but unpublished complaints of the treatment of the press. These complaints were repeated on the Australian tour, and now one hears them again in connection with the tour just completed. For the various correspondents who have accompanied the prince it may be said that they are men of the world and of the greatest experience and highest standing in the calling, men not likely to be unreasonable in a personal point of view or to be tactless in their duty, otherwise they would not be what they are. One imagines that the reporting of the prince's tours should be most popular with the ex-war correspondents, and other great "specials." Yet I have known a blunt refusal to be given by a "special" to his editor as the result of previous experience. Little blame attaches to the prince, who has a healthy young man's dislike of more publicity
than is necessary, but great responsibility lies on his staff.

Prince Florizel, I Think?
Fashionable New Bond street and Piccadilly must have been wondering whether by any fortunate chance Prince Florizel of Bohemia had returned to Park lane and social activity again after sub-letting his Windsor street tobacco shop to some war-torn aristocrat in reduced circumstances, because on several recent afternoons, just about the most fashionable promenade hour, a remarkable figure has paced the giddy haunts. A gentleman of unmistakably distinguished bearing, above the Life Guard standard, with solemn oval face, of handsome refinement, and wearing a well-berbed Imperial on his chin, takes the air of the West End. His silk hat is of an exotic tapering Parisian model; his extremely tight-fitting black morning coat edged with braid only partly conceals a brilliant canary-color vest; his trousers are impeccably cut by a startling hue, accentuated by spotless spats of almost blinding whiteness,
and he carries an ebony silver-headed stick jauntily. He is followed at heel by a smart little nigger boy in the scarlet jacket and white breeches, with riding tops of a groom, carrying a dress case with the gentleman's name address. But in the absolute unconsciousness of the gentleman and the solid gravity of the small nigger not even the most cynical observer would

Add Pearly Teeth
To your attractions—Combat the film

Have you noticed how many smiling women now show pretty teeth? And how much they add to beauty?
Millions now combat the film—that dingy film on teeth. And they gain results which, when you know them, you will never go without.

Film is unsightly
You can feel on your teeth a viscous film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. Mere brushing does not end it. So much remains to form the basis of dingy costs.
Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.
Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles and most dingy teeth are now traced to film.

Now millions do this
To save the teeth it was essential to combat that film. So dental science, after long research, found two ways to do it. Leading dentists the world over now advise their daily use.

BETTER THAN HARD COAL
Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whippers on stove covers or pipe
and does not mat or clog when burning,
is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article.

No other soft coal burns just like Broad characteristics.

A GRACIOUS ACT.

The government of Quebec has performed a very gracious act, which should be appreciated in Ontario. We have in St. John a statue of Samuel de Champlain. It is proposed to erect a monument to the great colonizer in Orillia, Ontario, to mark the three hundredth anniversary of the advent into Ontario of the white race.

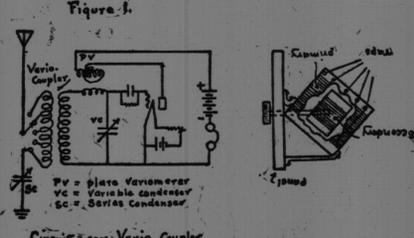

CAT ADOPTS ORPHAN PUPPIES.

Cobalt, July 18—Six orphaned bulldogs are being "mothered" by a pet cat at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, who reside on the Conlags property here. Puss formerly was the unrelenting foe of all members of the canine race who came her way, but when the puppies' mother died when they were three days old she stepped nobly into the breach, and the orphans respond readily when she purrs. The cat has not returned to her owner, Mrs. Clemens, wife of the Captain at the mine, since taking over her new responsibilities.

The secondary of the vario coupler is divided into two parts one of which is in inductive relation to the primary and the other is in inductive relation to the plate variometer. The portion of the secondary in inductive relation to the primary consists of twenty turns of wire on a four inch tube with top every ten turns, and a variable condenser in series with the primary and ground having a capacity of about .001 microfarads.

They will make their home in Port McNicoll (Ont.). Many friends extended hearty good wishes, and the bride and groom received a large number of gifts, including silver, china and cut glass, testifying to the high esteem in which they were held.

GIRL FIGHTS TO DIE, SAILED IN MIDRIVER

Battles With Policeman Who Leaps After Her From Pier—Tug Aids Both. Rescuer Already a Hero.

(New York Times)

Battling with a girl bent upon suicide in the swift current of the East River, Patrolman Matthew Corry of the East Sixty-seventh street police station risked his life early yesterday until a tugboat picked up the pair and brought them ashore. The girl, who said she was Rose Lawrence, twenty-one years old, a cook, of 811 East Seventy-eighth street, was taken to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Corry was patrolling his beat along the docks that border Exterior street at East Seventy-ninth street, about 7:30, when he saw a young woman walk to the end of the pier and take off her hat. He ran toward her, but she leaped into the river before he could reach her side. The patrolman followed and grabbed her in midstream as she was about to sink for the third time. But she raised blows on his face and arms in a desperate effort to drown herself.

When the tide had carried Miss Lawrence and her would-be rescuer several blocks downstream, the tugboat Theslis sighted them, cut loose from a barge she was towing and steamed alongside. Two boatmen leaned over and soon had Corry and the woman on board. The couple were landed at Dr. Flanagan, an ambulance surgeon from Reception Hospital, treated Miss Lawrence, who was little the worse for her experience.

At 811 East Seventy-eighth street Miss Lawrence was not known, but it was learned that her mother and another relative were notified by the Bellevue Hospital authorities and visited her there. The young woman talked to them, said physicians at the hospital for her attempt at drowning.

Patrolman Corry has been on the police force about a year. He is thirty years old and lives at 35 East 106th street. He was commended a year ago for his capture of an armed man in a Harlem cellar.

SENTENCE BOY TO GO TO CHURCH FOR A YEAR

Attempted Burglary Charge to be Changed if He Keeps Promise.

Charles Lelenthal, 17, of Woodside, New York, has started serving a sentence imposed upon him by Magistrate James J. Conway in the Long Island City Police Court, by going to church with his parents. The boy had been arrested when he was discovered in front of a store early in the morning. The boy declared that he was on his way home, but the detective entered a charge of attempted burglary against him.

When the boy was first arraigned his mother appeared and pleaded for him. She said he had always been a good boy and she did not understand why he was out at the time the detective found him. Magistrate Conway reserved decision until he received a report from the probation officer that the boy's record was good.

The magistrate asked the boy if he had been attending church regularly and he said he had not. He was told that if he would promise to go to church regularly for a year with his parents or alone the charge would be changed to disorderly conduct and he would be placed on probation for a year. Young Lelenthal agreed and he was told to report regularly to the probation officer.

SKIRT LENGTH PROBLEM. An Opinion That Eight Inches Above Ground Is About Right. (New York Times.) The question of skirt lengths is uppermost in the minds of retail buyers who are coming to this market to purchase fall dresses, suits and separate skirts. This is particularly true in the case of dresses, inasmuch as they constitute the largest portion of the women's ready-to-wear garment business from the standpoint of the number of articles sold.

Commenting yesterday on what might be considered the proper skirt length for fall, Executive Director David N. Mosselson of the Associated Dress Industries of America said that it is safe to regard the skirt which comes within eight inches of the ground as the length that will be worn by the majority of women who want to be in style at the same time want to avoid being extreme.

"As is usual with all styles," he continued, "there are many women who overdo. Some dresses are seen on the street already which might be called ankle length, but they are not generally accepted as good style. With the continuance of the straight-line effect, the extremely long skirt will necessarily have to follow the old hobble style, which was obnoxious to all women. It was not only uncomfortable, but unsightly. The straight-line silhouette does not permit of the flare necessary in the long skirt, unless it is especially well draped, and this can be done only in the higher-priced garments. Buyers will be safe in confining their orders to conservative lengths. The woman or girl who still wants a short skirt can have it by raising the hem to any length she desires."

SOLID COLORS IN GOOD PATTERNS

Sort of Patterns Men Grow Fonder of as They Wear.

"There are certain fundamental principles of art which must be observed," said the Chief Designer. "Gainsborough found the golden truth of one of them when he painted the $600,000 picture of the Blue Boy—solid blue pigment without any attempt at frills or fancy scrolls. It was a masterpiece. 'You cannot weave a fancy style into a bright pattern, but a plain cloth made as a homespun should be used for the prevailing mode in outdoor summer suits. Homespun and Donegals have the call of this season, and their usage is enhanced by the new 'Dixie and English Goller' designs in four-piece suits. It is these two models on which I rest my claim to distinctive creations suited to the modern man who believes in the proper mixture of business and play. They are my own sartorial masterpieces, and I think they will hold their vogue for many years.'—Creary's, at 87 Charlotte street, have all the new models in Semiready Suits on show.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

Season's Prospects Detailed by the Dominion Fruit Branch at Ottawa.

The July fruit and vegetable report of the Dominion Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is full of matter of importance to growers and shippers. Apples, on the whole, promise exceedingly well in Ontario, although Spy, Baldwin and Greening promise to be light. In the other apple-growing provinces a crop twenty-five per cent. lighter than last year is indicated. Peaches and plums promise well in Ontario; so, too, do cherries and currants, with grapes and raspberries are likely to prove a fairly good crop, but pears appear to be below the average.

A larger acreage than usual has been sown to onions, and one per cent. less to potatoes. The prairie provinces, British Columbia and the maritime provinces all show a rather large decrease in the acreage devoted to potatoes, and Quebec shows an increase of six per cent. over last year.

Under Mr. Hoover's handling of relief funds and shipment and distribution of supplies it was not necessary to deduct a cent for administration or distribution from the funds placed at his disposal by Congress or the donations made through the American relief organization. In addition to relieving starvation the organization kept terrifying epidemics of typhus, typhoid, smallpox and famine fever under measurable control.

Mr. Hoover says in his report that he is advised by his Russian staff that the relief organization is now reaching in jeopardy, and that the loss of life due to starvation ceased some time ago, "although," he adds, "most every one in Russia is hungry."

While Mr. Hoover finds it impossible to give an estimate of the number of lives saved, he notes that the 200 members of the American relief organization's personnel and their 80,000 Russian assistants have conducted 15,000 kitchens and distributing stations and fed in round numbers about 3,250,000 children and 5,300,000 adults.

$59,500,000 SPENT IN RUSSIAN RELIEF

Hoover Reports to President Harding on the Great U. S. Effort There—788,878 Tons of Supplies.

Washington, July 18.—Herbert Hoover, as Chairman of the American Relief Organization, has rendered to President Harding a preliminary report of the work of the organization in relieving distress in Russia and other countries in Europe under the authority of an act of Congress. The report covers the activities of the relief organization up to July 1, and is to be supplemented by a complete report when the distribution of supplies is finished and final accounts have been received from Russia.

The preliminary report shows that $59,500,000 had been expended or allocated for expenditure, while 140 shiploads, aggregating 788,878 tons of food and medicines, have been provided for starving and sick men, women and children. There is excellent prospect of a good harvest in Russia, and while the breakdown in distribution is likely to cause some suffering, Mr. Hoover does not hesitate to say that the great famine is under control and the situation promises to be much better after the harvest.

Under Mr. Hoover's handling of relief funds and shipment and distribution of supplies it was not necessary to deduct a cent for administration or distribution from the funds placed at his disposal by Congress or the donations made through the American relief organization. In addition to relieving starvation the organization kept terrifying epidemics of typhus, typhoid, smallpox and famine fever under measurable control.

Mr. Hoover says in his report that he is advised by his Russian staff that the relief organization is now reaching in jeopardy, and that the loss of life due to starvation ceased some time ago, "although," he adds, "most every one in Russia is hungry."

She was arrested by Detective Henry Sharrock of the railway police, who found her soliciting alms outside the subway station at Eighty-sixth street and Lexington avenue. Sharrock had a hard tussle when placing the woman under arrest, he said. When searched by a matron, at the East Sixty-seventh street station, most of the $1,334 was found sewed in the lining of her dress. She described herself as Marie Lettisia, sixty years old, of 322 East 107th street.

FORD COLLECTING OLD FARM TOOLS. Dearborn, Mich., July 18.—Henry Ford is collecting threshing machines. He returned recently from a three-day automobile trip through southwestern Pennsylvania, in the vicinity of Washington, Pa., where he went in search of an old "bunty" thrasher of the vintage of 1820, which he had heard had been discovered in an old foundry. He found the machine and also one of the 1847 period. Both were purchased and sent to Detroit.

Ford is housing his threshing-machine collection on his old home farm near Dearborn and intends to make this farm a museum of early farm implements.

HOSPITAL TENDERS. A special meeting of the board of commissioners of the General Public Hospital was held yesterday afternoon. The contract for painting the exterior woodwork was given to J. H. Pullen whose figure for the work was $750. The matter of tenders for a supply of 1,500 tons of coal was set over for further consideration. Provisionally the approval of the municipal council, the tender of Wheaton and Co. for building a retaining wall on the south side of the hospital property was accepted, the figure being $3,978. M. E. Ager presided and Commissioners W. Emerson, J. L. O'Brien and J. King Kelly and R. H. Gale, superintendent of the hospital, were present.

The case against Willard Foster, charged with selling liquor in his beer shop on Mill street, was dismissed in the police court yesterday afternoon when the defendant testified that the man who claimed to have bought liquor from him had come into his shop drunk and had been ejected. Frank Doherty corroborated this evidence. J. A. Barry appeared for Foster.

ONE GIRL DROWNS, ANOTHER SAVED IN CHESTER BASIN

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Chester Basin, July 17.—Tena Corkum, eighteen, was drowned, and Vera D'Aubin was rescued in an unconscious condition by her sister, Marguerite, when the first two girls waded beyond their depth on the beach here this afternoon.

The sister made desperate efforts to take both girls to shore but, herself exhausted, was compelled to let go of the one to save the other. Miss Corkum's body was recovered later. She was a daughter of W. P. Corkum, merchant, and belonged to Chester Basin.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO. Referring to the cattle embargo, in a recent interview in the London Times, Rev. Dr. Cody of Toronto said:—"The question concerns the economic unity of Canada and its relation to the empire. If we are going to have trade going east and west in Canada, to maintain Canadian unity, and through that Canadian unity Imperial unity, I think the barriers in the way of that trade should be few as possible. There is a strong feeling in Canada that the removal of the embargo was promised. Canadians feel that the embargo, so far as Canada was concerned, was not justified by the facts of disease. As that is practically universally admitted this embargo should now be removed and the promise redeemed. There is a strong sentimental feeling on this point in Canada. Moreover, if you do not keep your currents of trade going very largely east and west they are going to go north and south. They do to a considerable extent go north and south now, and if we want to keep Canadian unity we have to make trade conditions in the west as favorable as possible. However, I think it is mainly this strong sentimental feeling. We do not want our cattle to be under the stigma, and we do not believe that this promise given by this great mother of nations will not ultimately be redeemed. We have every confidence that the Motherland will do what is just and fair."

IMPERIAL'S CROWDS SEEMED TO CONCUR

With Powerful Argument in "Hail the Woman"—Some Were a Bit Critical, But—

Quite forgetting the increase in snapperism in city life nowadays, it was a bold stroke on Imperial theatre's part to select so startling a domestic problem story as "Hail the Woman" for its opening attraction this week. The boldness is not because the picture is at all indelicate or offensive to normal minded people but because it is nakedly real and can be duplicated in fact in hundreds of instances in this community and others where over-zealous and hypocritical men and women still crush women into the earth and allow offending man full liberty and social standing.

"Hail the Woman" is a type of story a long time overdue in every town since it registers a rude check to those complacent "Christians" who still uphold the antiquated and ungodly double standard of morals, one for the man and another for the woman. At the Imperial theatre last night and yesterday afternoon immense crowds were convinced of the cruelty and unforgiving nature of this moral attitude and the Thomas H. Ince production presided a bolder, louder sermon than could possibly have been enunciated from the pulpit.

The creed "Men and their sons first" of which Oliver Beresford (Theodore Roberts) is the ruthless advocate in "Hail the Woman," is as despicable as it is selfish and out of date. Wrongs without number have been wrought under that slogan ever since the world began.

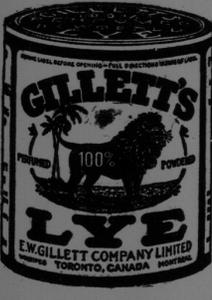

Made at Home

Imperial Premier Gasoline is "Made in Canada". Every time you buy it, you not only get greatest value in return for your money, but you contribute to the prosperity of Canada.

Five great, modern refineries, with the latest equipment and processes known to the science of refining, are engaged in the manufacture of Imperial Premier Gasoline. It possesses every quality of a good motor fuel—burns clean—delivers full power and mileage from your car or truck.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

There was a time that everything was sacrificed to the sons. It was thought that the girls hardly mattered, since they did not perpetuate the family name. And if a woman erred, she was cast out, whereas man's sins were forgiven seventy-seven times seven times.

Though this pernicious theory is fast dying out under the influence of modern thought, there are still to be found a surprisingly large number of bigoted souls who believe that "King Man can do no wrong." These people are of a mentality that belongs rightfully in old times, when the "bondswoman," who could be cast out into the desert with her child, seems to have been a recognized institution.

"Hail the Woman" shows the abysmal injustice of this line of reasoning, in a clear and pitiless light. It gives a striking picture of Oliver Beresford in his smug, man-made self-sufficiency, believing himself one of the chosen few who walk in the light. His entire being is concentrated on his ambition to make of his son David a missionary who shall carry the gospel to the far-off lands, irrespective of the fact that the boy is too weak to be a light in the darkness of others. And though he is ready to condone the greatest faults in David's character, he does not even give his daughter, Judith, the benefit of the doubt, but condemns her outright.

But Judith Beresford has the strength of character not to "flake under" weakly to her bigoted father. She courageously espouses the cause of her brother's pitiful, forlorn little girl-wife, and does not hesitate to go out in the world and make a living. And even then she does not selfishly live her own life, but she devotes herself to good works and cares for her brother's helpless child. And in the end her very greatness of character compels her father and her brother to recognise the claims of blood and justice.

GASOLINE STOCKS IN U. S. HIGHEST ON RECORD

Bureau of Mines Survey Shows That Supply is Gaining on Consumption.

New York, July 18.—Gasoline reserve stocks in the United States are the largest in the history of the country, and are growing at a much faster rate than domestic consumption, according to figures compiled by H. J. Lowe, petroleum economist of the Bureau of Mines, at the request of the American Automobile Association. The present stocks, on which figures were compiled at the end of the first quarter of 1922, were 854,232 gallons, which was greater by 20 per cent. than for the first quarter of 1921, and 36 per cent. greater than for the first quarter of 1920.

While the consumption of gasoline has increased, the report showed that only 7 per cent. more was used in the first quarter of 1922 than in the first quarter of 1921, and only 26 per cent. more than the first quarter of 1920. Thus, in spite of the increasing number of cars, the association officials point out, the stocks of gasoline are increasing still more rapidly.

"I cannot see a just reason for this year's advance in the price of gasoline," said George C. Diehl, president of the A. A. A. "If the stocks were diminishing instead of increasing, there might be some reasonable basis for the advance but, with stocks growing faster than consumption, prices should come down instead of advance. I hope every motorist in the United States will make it his business to write his congressman and senator urging their co-operation in making any investigation of this question a success."

The increased price for gasoline was 4 to 5 cents in various parts of the country during the first three months of the present year. Knowing that each increase of one cent in the price of gasoline means an additional bill of $30,000,000 for the motorists of America, the association is working diligently to obtain an official investigation which will give a reason for the advance.

FAMILY MIX-UP THEIR FAREWELL

Eugene Emmett, Jere McAuliff, Play to Appreciative Audiences at Opera House.

"The Family Mix-up," a musical farce comedy offered by Eugene Emmett, Jere McAuliff and company as the first bill during their farewell week, was a distinct success last evening. It is a farce comedy intermingled with songs and dances, finishing with a little review, using a pretty little Scotch number as a finale.

Mr. Emmett would like all local talent, if they have had experience or otherwise, to meet him before the professional try-out on the stage Wednesday night.

Mr. Emmett is of the opinion that a good deal of talent remains dormant in towns of this nature, and says that many a successful artist finds him or herself at these try-outs. He will offer every assistance to find out if the applicants' ability warrants costly development, and further, offers to use any young man or woman who has the ability that Mr. Emmett requires, so those who can sing or dance fairly well are asked to attend this professional try-out on Wednesday night.

GOOD PICTURE AT THE UNIQUE

Eileen Percy, in a Charming Comedy, Entertains Well.

The motion picture patrons who left the Unique Theatre last night after witnessing the performance of Eileen Percy, a clever Fox star, in her latest vehicle, "Elope if You Must," apparently agreed with the consensus of critical opinion, that Miss Percy is one of the screen's most pleasing actresses. Favorable comment was heard on every stage in the pocket but rich in resourcefulness and ingenuity, the little star manifests a charm and sophistication which will win their way into the hearts of all who see this new Fox production.

The presentation contains a great number of hilariously amusing situations, each clean and wholesome and marked by a spirit and speed irresistible. As a youthful actress who aids a wealthy father in preventing the marriage of his daughter to a man whose only claim to notice is based on social position, Miss Percy fulfills every demand of this lively comedy-drama.

The story was written by E. J. Rath and the direction was in care of C. R. Wallace.

NORMA TALMADGE AT QUEEN SQUARE

Contrast of Women in "Love's Redemption" — Romance and Tragic Element Both Prominent.

What an English girl will do under certain circumstances and what an untrained girl of the Jamaican Island will do under similar conditions are an entirely different thing. The difference is emphasized when the situation involves Norma Talmadge brings out this essential difference of characters in "Love's Redemption," her current first national attraction at the Queen square theatre.

The star takes the part of the Jamaican girl whose keen wit discovers the card sharp at his trade and refuses to be silent while her husband is being fleeced. Instead, she denounces the trick and her action causes a fair-sized rumpus that shocks the sensibilities of the English girl who would have maintained a discreet silence and settled the matter afterwards.

It is this keen contrast of characters that provides both the tragic element and the conflict, as well as giving the romantic impulse to Miss Talmadge's latest vehicle, a picture of unusual charm, scenic beauty and heart appeal.

Harrison Ford is Miss Talmadge's leading man. He will be remembered for his excellent work in "The Wonderful Thing," Miss Talmadge's previous release.

This picture will be shown for the last time tonight.

New York, July 18.—The estate of Olive Thomas Pickford, film star and wife of Jack Pickford, who died by poison in Paris on September 10, 1920, was appraised at $37,064 gross and $27,644 net, all of which goes to her mother, Mrs. Laurence Van Kirk of St. Louis.

The report shows that her husband paid all the funeral expenses. Her property included $8,000 as the value of two autos, and the remainder consisted chiefly of jewelry and clothing.

I believe that price guarantees are fallacious anyhow. We were not long on merchandise, but without having agreed to make any change in our price we felt that the only fair thing to do was to furnish shoes to our patrons of the best quality at the lowest possible prices in accordance with the current market. We therefore filled that $23,000,000 worth of orders at $8,500,000 below the price at which the goods had been sold.

CANADA LIKELY TO BE SHORT OF HARD COAL THIS WINTER. Ottawa, July 17.—"There will probably be a shortage of anthracite coal for domestic use in Canada next winter," said S. J. Cooke, chief of the mining, metallurgical and chemical branch of the Dominion bureau of statistics today. The opinion continues: "Imports into central Ontario of anthracite coal in domestic sizes during the six months ending June, 1922, amounted to 776,000 tons as compared with 1,421,000 tons, the average quantity imported during the same period in the three preceding years. Of the same grades, the province of Quebec received 240,000 tons this year as compared with an average importation of 315,000 tons in the three preceding years."

No Pause In Growth of Canadian Building

1922 Half Yearly Total Sets New Record in Actual Volume of Work Performed—Solving the Housing Problem.

(MacLean Building Reports, Ltd., 845 Adelaide street, West, Toronto.)

One of the most encouraging features—and there are many of them—in Canadian building statistics for the first half of 1922, is the steady expansion which has occurred, month by month, in the value of work performed. Starting with the small total of $8,892,000 in contracts awarded during January, the figures compiled by MacLean Building Reports Limited show a swiftly rising tide, which culminates in the $85,620,400 record for June, the latest month under review. The progress of the industry may be set forth as follows:

January $ 8,892,000
 February 10,718,200
 March 13,468,000
 April 29,428,400
 May 84,837,800
 June 85,620,400

Analysing this table on the basis of locality, it appears that Ontario leads conspicuously, accounting as it does for more than 56 per cent. of the $85,620,400 half-yearly Dominion total, as follows:

Province	Value
Ontario	$74,856,900
Quebec	31,284,300
British Columbia	9,786,000
Manitoba	4,860,000
Alberta	3,688,200
Nova Scotia	2,857,000
Saskatchewan	2,686,400
New Brunswick	1,775,000
P. E. Island	177,500

Dissecting the Dominion half-yearly figures once more, this time from the viewpoint of the type of work undertaken, the forecasts made earlier in the year by MacLean Building Reports Limited, that 1922 would be a year of exceedingly active home building, are fully borne out. Indeed, the housing problem, for long a sore in the country's side, is not last being energetically attacked as the following reveals:

6 Months Total Percentage	Value
Residential	$38,435,800 40.3
Business	39,680,900 29.9
Industrial	10,050,700 7.6
Public Works and Utilities	29,905,100 22.2

Just how relatively important residential construction has grown to be is evident from the tabulated table, showing divisions of Canadian building during the last four and a half years, expressed in percentages—

Year	Residential	Business	Industrial	Public Works and Utilities
1917	14.7	26.3	36.0	20.1
1918	24.7	31.4	30.0	13.9
1919	21.4	33.7	25.3	19.6
1920	31.9	35.3	6.9	25.9
1921	40.3	29.9	7.6	22.2
1922 (6 months)	40.3	29.9	7.6	22.2

It is instructive to compare the trend of building over a period of years. The following figures are selected, therefore, by MacLean Building Reports Limited, to show the half yearly total, measured in monetary value, for the past six years. By this standard 1922 stands out as a

T. S. SIMMS & CO., LTD., CELEBRATE 50TH BIRTHDAY

Perhaps the matter of labor disputes is one that is least in the minds of the officials of the T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., but if some of the officials of many of the big troublesome industries could have seen the members of the staff of this local concern celebrating the fiftieth birthday of the company they would have seen how employer and employee can be brought together to work in unison for the good of all.

in the employ of the company for upwards of fifty years and are still in its service. Among the number were two men who have been in the service for a period of forty-eight years each, while two others have been with it for over forty years. Ten have served the company for between thirty and forty years. It is doubtful if any other concern in the country can boast of such a high percentage of veterans among their employes.

During the evening an admirable toast list was carried out. The feature of the programme was the address of L. W. Simms, the president, in which he related in some detail the history of the brush-making industry in this city. The for Ontario, who intends to tour the mining district of Northern Ontario this summer, visiting all the active mines and other areas where at present there is no active work being done.

first brush was made in this city by a man named Andrews on the west side of the harbor in 1846. Mr. Simms told and of the beginning which his father, the late T. S. Simms, made in 1872 in a partnership with M. Murphy. In the following year they employed about fifty men and they had an output worth $41,000. It was in the following year that John Kennedy, at the age of twelve, and Ben Knowles, at the age of fifteen, and who were at the banquet last night, entered the employ of Murphy and Simms. A Great Increase.

The business at present had increased twenty times what it was at that time and last year the company did business amounting to $853,000. In the course of his address, Mr. Simms told of the reverses which his father had met with before the industry was placed on a firm footing. He told how his father and mother had sat in the old burial ground and watched their building at the corner of Union and Carmarthen streets burn to the ground, which caused his father to remark that he had seen his last dollar burn up. But he was not daunted by this misfortune and soon started up again in Dock street. The firm later moved to Smyth street and Union street before the present plant was constructed at Fairville in 1912.

A. M. Belding, on behalf of the press, expressed his appreciation for the invitation to attend and said that he was glad to see evidences of such co-operation on the part of employers and employes. The following is the toast list: The King, proposed by L. W. Simms, responded to with musical honors. Our Salesmen, proposed by Harry Champelovier and responded to by J. L. Brown. Our Home Forces, C. H. Gratton and responded to by Warren Roop. Reminiscences of Earlier Days, by Ben Knowles and John Kennedy. Our Oldest Employes, spoken to by F. M. Baker. The gathering was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

Do not put the Rinso direct from the package into the tub. Make the Rinso liquid first.

Mix half a package of Rinso in a little cool water until it is like cream. Then add two quarts of boiling water and when the froth subsides you will have a clear, amber coloured liquid; put it in a tub of cool or lukewarm water and you will have enough for a batch of clothes. If the clothes are extra soiled, use more Rinso.

Eight Inning Tie. The league game between the St. Peter's and St. John's last evening was called in the eighth inning on account of darkness with the score standing 6-6. It was one of the most sensational games played this season and the result was in doubt until the last man was out. Both teams drove the ball to all corners of the field and this sensational hitting coupled with snappy and occasionally a loose play kept the fans keyed up to a high degree of excitement. The big feature was a home run with one on base, by "Scotty" Stirling. He poked the ball well over centre field fence near the score board for one of the longest hits yet made on the grounds. The score:

Gunners Defeat Fusiliers. The Gunners retained their lead in the Garrison League by defeating the Fusiliers last evening on the Barracks square diamond by the score of 16 to 2. The Fusiliers put up a hard fight to keep their opponents down and played sterling ball up to the sixth inning when the Gunners put over a heavy barrage of hits.

Kid Lewis' Success. London, July 17—(Associated Press by Mail)—Kid Lewis, the welter an middle-weight champion of Great Britain, must have learned much during his long stay in the United States, despite his reverses in his last year there, for he has won all sorts of champions since returning home. His latest achievement was knocking out Frank Burns, middle-weight champion of Australia, making Lewis the title-holder of the empire in that division.

Up until the eleventh and last round of the bout Burns outpointed Lewis, in the opinion of several boxing experts, but in that period the Kid made a clever feint and then crossed a smashing right to the jaw that landed the Australian on his back. Lewis was criticized for holding part of the way. Burns lost the championship, for which he had come all the way from Australia, but he took home a gold medal for rescuing a drowning man. One night at his training camp Burns jumped out of bed and into the Thames in the night after the unfortunate man, an succeeded in bringing him ashore.

In Willard Camp. Los Angeles, July 18—Soldier Burke, a heavy-weight boxer, will join the Jess Willard training camp as one of Willard's sparring partners. Willard is training for a possible return match with Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion.

Ruffing Re Dempsey. Boston, July 18—The State Boxing Commission yesterday announced that Jack Dempsey would not be permitted to fight in Massachusetts until a challenger for the title appears to measure up better than any mentioned to date.

Roxbury Boy Wins. Boston, July 18—Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury defeated Jack Perry of Pittsburg in a ten round bout here last night. Shevlin was awarded the referee's decision.

Wills Scores K. O. Winnipeg, July 18—Harry Wills, negro heavy-weight, and challenger for Jack Dempsey's heavy-weight crown, knocked out Jack Clark, negro of Joplin, Mo., in the third round of a scheduled ten round bout here last night. Outweighing his opponent by forty pounds and using a variety of length and reach, Wills made a punching bag of Clark, who laid a glove on the contender for heavy-weight honor only once during the three rounds. Wills immediately pressed with his speed, science and hitting powers. He knocked Clark down once in the first round and three times in the third before the referee made the count. More than 6,000 gave Wills a big reception but the bout was not much better than an exhibition, Clark being ready for the "haymaker" in the third.

The Best Swimmers. Los Angeles, July 18—Duke Kahana-moku, Hawaiian swimmer, announced here that he is through with competitive swimming. "For that matter," he continued, "I have been through with it for a year. All talk about meeting I've seen Johnny Weissmuller and myself to settle the matter of supremacy is foolish. He is the greatest swimmer the world has ever seen."

Oscar Henning, the Duke's manager, added: "The Duke himself has timed Weissmuller in 52-1-5 seconds for the 100 yards in practice at Honolulu and knows just what he can do. The Duke will always be able to do what he is doing now—swim 50 or 100 yards faster than anybody except a world's champion without a day of training, but he has no intention of attempting to compete with Weissmuller, who is 15 years his junior and who, the Duke acknowledges, is the finest swimmer he has ever seen."

Canadian Henley. St. Catharines, Ont., July 18—The Canadian Henley will be held on Friday and Saturday next week, and big preparations are being made by the management of the aquatic club to look after the visitors.

Hilton Belyea, singles champion of Canada, will be here to defend his title, and Bob Dibble, previous champion, is coming over, it is said, determined to win back his lost honors. All the familiar crews—Argonauts, Dons, Ottawas, Detroit, Buffalo, Montreal, etc.—will again be seen on the Henley course as expected. There is good accommodation for the boats of the visiting oarsmen.

Grace Direct Defeated. The defeat of Grace Direct by John Henry was the feature of the opening day of the grand circuit meet at Kalamazoo yesterday. The event was the 205 pace and the best time was 2:03. The 216 trot went to Jack H., two out of three heats, best time 2:07. The 212 trot went to Leo Worthy in straight heats, best time 2:08.

National Championships. The thirty-fourth annual Canadian national track and field championships will be held in Calgary on August 12 under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. There are twenty numbers on the programme, including running races from 100 yards to five miles, standing and running high and broad jumps, pole vault, hammer throwing, etc. A gold medal, emblematic of the championship of Canada will be given to the winner in each event; a silver medal to the second; and a bronze medal to the third. A special prize will be given to the competitor gaining most points in the championship events. Entries will be received not later than Monday, August 7.

SULLIVAN WOULD BOX HERE. The following letter was received by The Telegraph yesterday from Mike ("Twin") Sullivan, of Cambridge (Mass.). Sporting Editor, Dear Sir:—Please state in your paper that I would like to box any of the local waterweights or light middleweights. We always enjoyed our trips to St. John and never did we have a better time in all our travels around the world. With best wishes to Jack Power, W. H. McQuade and all our friends. BENEFIT GAME DESERVES SUPPORT. Tonight the St. Peter's and St. John's will stage the benefit game to aid Hilton Belyea defend his sculling title. Hilton expects to leave for the course on Thursday. That will give him about a week's practice for the big race. In view of what the famous oarsman has done to place St. John on the sporting map throughout the length and breadth of Canada and the United States, a large turnout to tonight's game is expected. Either Davis or King will receive the assignment for St. Peter's, while the pitch choice of St. John is still unknown. These teams have been putting up some stiff arguments lately, and in addition to having the satisfaction of knowing that they helped Hilton, the fans going to tonight's game can be assured of a snappy contest.

CRIPPLE BECOMES ATHLETE. Remarkable Career of Brutus K. Hamilton, Missouri University Star. Brutus K. Hamilton, who recently finished one of the most creditable athletic careers in college history by graduating from the University of Missouri, was given up as hopelessly crippled when he was a boy of ten. He now holds the American decathlon and pentathlon championships, but when he was a boy at Harrisonville, Mo., little hope was put out for his physical recovery. The family physician told Hamilton's parents that the youngster was suffering from a disease of the hip, and his left leg was to be more than an inch shorter than the right. Despite all this Hamilton was finally cured and was able to walk again. Then perseverance and will power gained many honors on track and field. Entering the University of Missouri, the high school star attracted the eye of Coach Bob Simpson, one of the greatest hurdlers of his day. Simpson continued the development of Hamilton as an all-around athlete. Hamilton finished his high school career in broad and high jumping, shot putting, discus and javelin throwing, sprinting and hurdling. He won two national championships, was captain of the football team last year and took part in the Olympic games in 1920. He was graduated with next to the highest honors in scholastic work.

FILM MOB SCENE. London, July 5—(By Mail)—Nelson on top of his column in Trafalgar Square was far from lonesome in the early hours of morning a few days ago. About 1,600 people, at 83 per person, turned his dignified abode into a film studio, and under the direction of Mr. Maurice Tomeray, an enterprising Franco-American, they enacted mob scenes for a film version of Sir Hall Caine's story, "The Christian". The crowd gathered about 1 a. m., and for four hours, in rain that started with a drizzle and finished a driving storm, they were marshaled about by the 100 producers' assistants while the camera men were busy. Great searchlights had been fixed on buildings all round the square, official policemen kept order, and at the sound of a klaxon the extraordinary scenes began. The director with a huge megaphone shouted his instructions. He wanted "pep," "vim," "hustle," and he had it. Men and women, mostly in East-end "get-up," made a riotous confusion. When the "hero," Richard Dix, had clambered on to the plinth, had been mobbed and photographed, the crowd disappeared along the Thames Embankment.

GIRL HIKERS COMING.
At the Maine Public Bureau in Portland one day last week, says the Bangor Commercial correspondent, there were two girls who were hiking from New York when they were not able to steal a ride and are to be gone on their trip all summer. They asked to be routed where they could see all that there was of interest east of Portland. The Bureau mapped out a route for them to Calais, taking in the coast scenery, thence to St. John, Digby, Halifax, through Grand Pre, Bras d'Or lakes and the land of Evangeline; thence to Moncton, Fredericton and back into Maine at Houlton, north to Van Buren and from there through Temiscouata lake, Riviere de Loup and up the Saguenay river, returning from there to Quebec, from which they would proceed to New York through the White Mountains.

HYDRO MATTER TO PUBLIC SOON

Early Next Week the Mayor Hopes to Make an Announcement.

At a meeting of the common council this morning Mayor McLellan announced that the first of next week he hoped to be able to present to the members and the public what appeared to him now as the best possible solution of the hydro problem. Whether the recommendation would take the form of a civic distribution plant or whether it be in the nature of an acquisition of the New Brunswick Power Company rights and assets or as to the definite nature of this presentation, he said, he was not ready to speak. But, as to any seeming delay in regard to contracting for the power with the N. B. Hydro Electric Commission or as to the beginning of the construction of a civic distribution plant or in regard to the nature and quantity of the work which had been done on behalf of the city, he said that the time was not far distant when a presentation of the recommendations would satisfy the public that no time had been lost. The fact was, he said, that they had been working night and day on this matter. For the information of any "doubting Thomases" he said he would direct attention to the fact that for every day not signed up with the N. B. Hydro Commission the city had saved $875 a day. He expressed a hope that the citizens would understand that in this matter and acting in his official capacity he must regard the interests of the whole citizenship. If the taxpayers of St. John, he said, with an opportunity afforded them would consider any recommendation made by himself in regard to this matter in a fair, reasonable and somewhat optimistic manner he had no doubt that the acceptance of such a recommendation would mean that ninety per cent. of the ratepayers in regard to St. John under the distribution of hydro electric energy would have been realized.

BOND ISSUE IS VOTED FOR

Haymarket Square Paving Work Cost—Meeting of the Common Council.

The weekly meeting of the common council was held this morning instead of this afternoon so as not to conflict with a meeting of the county council this afternoon. A report of the committee of the whole was adopted, containing five recommendations, the most important of which was on dealing with the tender of the Stephen Construction Company for the Haymarket Square paving. A standing vote was unanimous for a bond issue of $85,160 for the work.

Commissioner Frink was authorized to call for tenders for eighty-five tons of asphalt for his department.

J. H. McGuire wrote that a retaining wall at 503-505 Main street was giving way and asking the matter receive consideration. This was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works.

A communication from Alexander G. Mays asking for an appointment as constable was referred to Mayor McLellan with power to act.

A communication from William J. McAlary, manager of the McLaughlin Motor Car Company with regard to his assessment was referred to the mayor with power to act.

On motion of Commissioner Frink a report regarding a retaining wall at 184-188 Prince Edward was received and a copy ordered sent to E. B. Bustin, representative of the Sterling Realty Company. Commissioner Frink said that in order to get at the retaining wall he would have to tear up a section of the new sidewalk.

Commissioner Bullock moved that pasture rights held by Mrs. A. J. Muller on city lands in Lancaster be rescinded and granted to John Gray; also that similar rights be given to Mrs. Sarah Lee for 85, and to A. J. Taylor for 112. His motion passed.

PARIS TRIAL IS OFF FOR WEEK

His Counsel Withdraws from Case and Reconsiders.

Asks Three or Four Weeks More Before Fourth Trial—Attorney General Opposed and Court Refuses Mr. Vernon's Application.

After considerable argument, a refusal by His Honor Judge Chandler to grant application of G. H. Vernon, K.C., counsel for prisoner, and the withdrawal of Mr. Vernon from the case, an adjournment of one week was made this morning in the circuit court in the case of John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley. Affidavits were presented by Mr. Vernon who asked for a continuance for three or four weeks. Hon. Mr. Byrne, K.C., attorney general, opposed the application and His Honor decided against it. Mr. Vernon then said he would have to withdraw as counsel as he found it impossible to get the necessary witnesses in time. He did withdraw but after a few moments asked leave to confer with Mr. Byrne, which was granted.

Upon their return to the court Mr. Vernon asked that a week or two be granted him. Mr. Byrne said he would neither oppose nor approve but would leave the matter to the discretion of the court. His Honor finally granted a week's stay. Upon his announcement of withdrawal Mr. Vernon was complimented by the judge upon the way he had handled the case and His Honor said he regretted that he had withdrawn.

Of ninety-one jurors summoned forty-four were absent and His Honor said he would call with this phase later in the session.

The Application.

Mr. Vernon presented an affidavit by John Paris showing the progress of the case thus far, that three trials and an appeal had occurred with little time elapsing between them. It read to the effect that further information had been received since the fourth of July which it was believed upon investigation would prove clearly that the defendant was not the guilty man. Want of money prevented the investigation proceeding and three to four weeks were asked for. If forced to trial now, an injustice would be done.

The affidavit of D. A. Morrison, chief of police of Truro, showed that he had been engaged by Mr. Vernon to follow up certain information in the interests of Paris, and this statement, saying further that steps were being taken to have the necessary funds secured.

The Crown.

The attorney general was asked by the court if he had any affidavits in reply but said that he had not as he felt the statements contained in the affidavits for the defence were too general in their nature. He was convinced that in his capacity as attorney general he owed it to the people of this province that he should strenuously oppose this application for a continuance, feeling that it was not made for any other purpose but to obtain a delay. He contended further that the affidavits did not contain sufficient information. They might be a plea to sympathy but the court should be guided by law and justice. He read from Tremear's criminal code sections applying to continuance, showing that there were three main essentials: Satisfying the court as to the absence of a material witness, no latches, and a reasonable expectation that a witness can be procured in the time for continuance. As to funds the attorney general said application could have been made to the court and a subpoena would have been granted without cost to the defendant. He could see no justification for the application and contended that proper bonds and fees was not shown. In the interests of the administration of law and order in the province he requested that the court refuse the request.

Prisoner's Counsel.

Replying to the above arguments, Mr. Vernon said that it could not be shown the defence was guilty of latches and no affidavits had been submitted by the crown to this effect. The interests of justice, he said, were tantamount to the interests of justice, the same as if the application were made in the interests of the crown. He challenged the crown to show that there was no bona fides. Regarding the question of funds, they were needed for purposes of carrying on investigations and these inquiries he felt should show beyond a doubt that another than Paris was the guilty man. Had he had as many thousands as the crown had spent in their investigations he felt he could have gotten the right man. This was the first indulgence he had asked of the court and he felt the application should be granted.

His Honor refused to grant the application saying he did not find it based upon sufficient grounds.

Mr. Vernon then announced his withdrawal but arrangements were finally made as above stated.

Paris sat coolly in the enclosure throughout the argument, his knees crossed, his face inscrutable.
