ST. JOHN, N. B., DECEMBER 4, 1922. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

APPOINT THE COMMISSION.

The Civic Power Commission should be appointed by the City Council tomorrow. The ten days given the New Brunswick Power Company to reply to the city's offer for its property expires today. There can be no further excuse for delay. The city has too much at stake. It must begin to pay for the Musquash current the first of May. The New Brunswick Electric Power Commission gave the city an additional month's grace on the request of the Council, which wanted to be in a position to use some of the current as soon as the payments began. If now the weeks are wasted in wholly unnecessary discussions the cost to the city will be heavy. It is not worth $300 per day to the citizens to read reports day after day of useless debates at City Hall. The sub-station must be built, no matter what the New Brunswick Power Company may do. It cannot be built in a day. The Civic Power Commission must be appointed at once, so that the work may not be delayed. It should be appointed tomorrow.

From remarks made by some of the Commissioners when the matter was before the Council last week, one or two of them want to nominate members of the Commission. Mayor Fisher has prepared a slate after much careful thought. He realized that every member of the Commission should be a stout friend of hydro and of the policy the people have three times endorsed. It will not do to play the game of favoritism or sectionalism in a matter of such vital importance. The Commissioners should be very ill-advised to disturb the slate prepared by the Mayor unless they can present a stronger one composed of men as heartily in favor of the full hydro policy. There are no perquisites in connection with this policy. The men who serve will do so without pay and without in the slightest degree profiting more than any other citizens by the work done. They will serve because they have believed in hydro, have fought for hydro, and desire the city to get the fullest benefit to be derived from light and power at cost. Mayor Fisher makes no nominations on the score of personal friendship. He is asking certain citizens to serve the city without one cent of remuneration. They are willing to do it because they are convinced they can render the city a real service. The citizens are behind Mayor Fisher in this matter. They have found that they can trust him, and they will not approve of any factious opposition to the efforts he is making to get on with the job.

THE RESPONSIBILITY.

Any member of the City Council who stands out tomorrow against the immediate appointment of the Civic Power Commission will have difficulty in convincing the people that his sympathies are not with the New Brunswick Power Company. If there is any talk about waiting until the Lieutenant Governor comes home and signs the contract, it will be well understood that such opposition is purely factious, since the Governor has already approved of the Government's hydro policy, and would have no desire to force its resignation by refusing to perform a constitutional duty. No Commissioner can plead with a straight face that he wants more time to study the question. Even if he should be so ignorant he could have no excuse for refusing to carry out the policy the people understood so well that they have endorsed it three times. Delay means loss to the city, which no Commissioner can afford to inflict. The only possible gainers by the postponement of the question are the New Brunswick Power Company and the people who want to obstruct. No member can say that any attempt is being made to drive him. The situation is merely made clear, and each member must accept responsibility for the course he chooses to pursue.

EPICRAMS.

(H. Bellock in The Evening Mercury) On His Books. When I am dead, I hope it may be said: "His sins were scarlet, but his books were red."

On Noman, A Guest. Dear Mr. Noman, does it ever strike you, The more we see of you the less we like you?

On Pugsley, A Don. Pugsley denies the soul, why, so do I. The soul of Pugsley heartily deny.

On Torture, A Public Singer. Torture will give a dozen pence or more To keep a drab from bawling at his door. The public taste is quite a different thing— Torture is positively paid to sing.

On Fauchet, A Parasite. Fauchet talks against good liquor to excess, And then about hissing Patrons, And then he talks about himself. And then We turn the conversation on to men.

On Hygiene. Of old when folk lay sick and sorely they died. But here's a happier age; for now we know Both how to make men sick and keep them so.

On Lady Poltague, A Public Peril. The devil, having noted the way of them, Went off to tempt My Lady Poltague, My Lady, tempted by a private villain, To his extreme annoyance, tempted him.

The Telephone. Tonight in million-voiced London I was lonely as the million-pointed star Until your single voice. Ah! so the sun Peoples all heaven, although he be but one!

LIGHTER VEIN. Ask Mother. Willie—"Pe teacher says we are here to help others." Willie—"Well, what are the others here for?"

He Knew Her. Mrs. Peck—I really ought to go to that club meeting this afternoon, but can't get up enough energy to start. Peck—Won't it help you along if I order you not to go?

Off Stage. Tragedian—Did you see how the audience cried last night when I played the death scene? Rival—Yes, they knew you weren't really dead.

Preferred Bliss Ignorance. "Dear," said Willie to "Trilly," "did you ever love another girl?" "Why, Mary?" he began. "No," she replied to me, Jack-llie to me and keep me happy."

VISION IN RUSSIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH DENIED

Petrograd Professor Declares the Institution is Stronger Than Ever Spiritually.

London, Nov. 10.—(By Mail)—Denying the claim of the Bolshevik press that a reformation is now springing in the Russian Orthodox Church, a professor of the great religious organization which has guided the spiritual life of Russian home life for the last six centuries, Professor Nicholas Antonov, recently before the faculty of a theological institute, states that the Russian Orthodox Church is now spiritually stronger than ever before.

It is a far cry to the Peace River, and we in the east know very little about it. Not so many years ago it was only a name on the map. Recently a man who professed to know what he was talking about declared that many of the original settlers were leaving the Peace River district because of poor railway service and exorbitant rates of transportation. The Peace River folk heard about it, and their Board of Trade promptly gave the report a flat denial. It asserted there were no more contented and prosperous people in Canada. The Peace River Standard, for they have a newspaper, wired that the farmers were seedling a recovery scheme. Another witness testified that despite a dry season considerable wheat near the town of Peace River this year averaged 20 to 25 bushels to the acre. These western people, in whatever part of the west they live, have one quality that is admirable. They refuse to admit the superiority of any other part of the country over that where they have made their home.

Switzerland has just emerged from a national panic. There was a fear that the referendum which has been held at last become a weapon for the destruction of the state. The vote on Saturday was on the proposal to make a large levy on capital that it would be ruinous. It was a Communist proposal so radical that people of wealth were making various provisions to save themselves, even to the extent of sending their wealth abroad. There was really no reason for fear, as the vote was defeated by a vote of seven to one.

If the City Council should fail to appoint the Civic Power Commission the New Brunswick Power Company would feel that it was really getting on very nicely at City Hall. It would naturally assume that a Council which did not know in what direction it was going would not prove a very formidable enemy in a clinch.

Not to appoint the Civic Power Commission would be to play into the hands of the New Brunswick Power Company and also waste the city's money.

YESTERDAY IN CITY CHURCHES

At St. Paul's church yesterday morning, His Lordship Bishop Richardson confirmed seventeen candidates, who were presented by Archdeacon Croft, the rector. In the evening, forty candidates were presented to the Mission church by Rev. J. V. Young, priest-in-charge. The rite was witnessed by large numbers, many being turned away at the evening service. Bishop Richardson preached impressively at both services, explaining at each the scriptural basis for the observance of this rite.

The preacher in the Queen square Methodist church last night was Rev. George Steel, D. D., superintendent of Methodist missions for the Maritime Provinces. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Neil MacLaughlan, and there was a large congregation present. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed at the close of the service.

Rev. Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, of Acadia Seminary, conducted the services in the Germain street Baptist church last night. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. S. P. Poole, who was in Sydney. In the morning Dr. DeWolfe spoke especially of education in his sermon. He was the guest of T. H. Estabrook while in the city. He leaves this morning by the Digby boat to return to Wolfville.

Queen square Methodist church has advanced one more cog in the wheel of progress and now issues a monthly newspaper, The Broadcaster. The paper is published through the efforts of the Young People's Association, a branch of the church which has only recently been formed. The purpose of The Broadcaster is to keep the members of the congregation familiar with the activities of the church. The staff consists of G. Clayton Teed, editor; R. S. Stevenson, assistant editor; staff, Miss Esther Welford, Miss Daisy Stephenson and Kenneth MacLaughlan and Arthur L. Robertson.

Sacred Concert. A concert of sacred music was given in Centenary church last night after the close of the regular service and the choir and soloists were heard to great admiration. Those taking part included the choir of Centenary church, which has attained a high reputation in the city, with Thomas Guy and Mrs. Blake Feenstra as soloists. The organists were Miss Alice Head, of Centenary and T. C. Cochrane, of the Central street Baptist church. After the opening hymn sung by the congregation, Mr. Guy sang the baritone solo, "A Psalm of Thanksgiving." A quartet, consisting of Messrs. Lanoy, Lockhart, Carlton and Wright, sang the next number and Mrs. Blake Feenstra, the soprano soloist. "The Penitent." During the taking of the offertory, T. C. Cochrane played the organ voluntaries. "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord," and the programme closed with choral beauty. The sacred concert was one that will be remembered with special pleasure.

At both services in Centenary church yesterday, Rev. R. C. England, of the coming Rosebud tag day and strongly commended it as helping a worthy cause. He wished to say that they did not protest against tag day but that they were not taking part in it. He wished to say that they did not protest against tag day but that they were not taking part in it.

The executive of the Fredericton Board of Trade decided recently to issue a resolution to the Minister of Railways in regard to the matter of representation for New Brunswick on the board of directors of the Canadian National Railways. The town manager system of administration was also discussed.

First Private Bank in Soviet Russia is Opened. Moscow, Nov. 1.—(By Mail)—The first private bank in Soviet Russia, the Commercial Bank, begins operations this month. The bank was organized as a trade bank by H. Ashberg, a Swedish financier, with the aid of American and German capital. The Russian state bank of Moscow has one member on the board and participates in the capital to the extent of 10 per cent. The founders of the bank do not intend to finance industry, but will assist in the organization of several limited companies with foreign capital for the development of industrial enterprises.

For the purpose of banking operations in Germany a special bank, the Guaranty and Credit Bank for the East, is being organized in Berlin with the aid of the Russian state bank through which all operations of the new Commercial Bank will pass.

EUGENICS TEST IN CHICAGO'S BUREAU

System of Voluntary Health Tests for Marriage License Applicants is Begun.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—A system of health inspection for applicants for marriage licenses, both men and women, was started in Chicago last week without public announcement.

Dr. Andrew M. Roman, with a view to obtaining statistics upon which to appeal to the legislature for compulsory examinations, acts as a volunteer secretary, information bureau and examiner, with the approval of the Health Commissioner Dundesen. His station is in the marriage license office. To all men and women who apply for wedding permits he explains the purpose of the eugenics inspection and asks that they consent to it.

"Three hundred have agreed to the test," said Dr. Roman. "It has been notable that women approved the examinations and men, as a rule, demurred, unless they are accompanied by their future wives."

"The large number who have submitted to the examination led me to hope the co-operation of Dr. Dundesen, and hereafter I will direct the applicants to his office."

Dr. Dundesen said the Health Department has been making tests in large numbers ever since the newspapers printed appeals to prospective brides to ask health permits before marriage.

"We have given a large number of health certificates," said the commissioner, "and have found a certain percentage of disease. While this office does not wish to be placed in the position of announcing anything causing embarrassment to the public, I personally believe it is a splendid thing for parents to marry to get a certificate and a guarantee of freedom from disease."

NEED OF VEGETABLE FOOD.

Most People Do Not Eat Enough of It, Says Dr. Biggs. The importance of vegetables in our diet was emphasized by New York State Health Commissioner Hermann M. Biggs in one of his recent Radio Health Talks.

"The value of leafy green vegetables in our daily diet," said Dr. Biggs, "has not until recently been fully appreciated even by food experts. We know that they are desirable, but not until the vitamins were discovered and certain ones found to be in vegetables was it known just how essential the latter are to most people eat vegetables, but they do not eat enough of them. While vegetables are not as cheap a source of energy for work as cereals, they are less expensive as a rule than fruit; and when economy is necessary, fresh vegetables may replace fresh fruit."

"Like fruit, vegetables tend to prevent or correct the disease known as anaemia, which is due to lack of red corpuscles in the blood. All vegetables contain valuable mineral matter needed to keep the blood in proper condition, and to build or renew bones and tissues. Hunger is often times due to the absence of vegetables in the previous meal, especially in the case of children. The habit of eating between meals, and an unwholesome craving for more food is never so prevalent among those who use vegetables liberally and regularly."

"Potatoes, baked or boiled or mashed, are used practically every day by everybody; but the green vegetables of all kinds should be more commonly used. Some kinds of 'pot greens,' such as beet tops, turnip tops, dandelions, chard, spinach and lettuce should appear not less than three times a week in our menus, and daily use of one or more of these is a very profitable investment."

"Within recent years the tomato has come into its own—as a 'protective food' the ('protective foods,' as you know, are those without which certain diseases like scurvy or rickets develop). Tomato juice may be substituted for orange juice in the case of artificially fed infants."

"Almost all vegetables, except cabbage, cucumbers and corn should be used freely for children after the fifth year. For young children, vegetables should be thoroughly cooked and rubbed through a sieve."

RUSSIAN PEASANTS IN CAZAR'S PALACE

Priming Laws for Proletariat Amid Scene of Imperial Splendor.

Moscow, November 30. (By Mail)—Russia's Parliament of Workers and Peasants, in their picturesque garb, have assembled in the great throne room of the czar's old palace, within the Kremlin, to discuss new laws designed to benefit the proletariat.

The legislation to be considered includes the labor code of land laws, civil laws, and laws which require readjustment owing to the new economic policy.

The Parliament, known officially as the All-Russian Centre Committee, is the highest legislative body in Russia.

The throne room, where more than 300 members from various parts of Russia have assembled, is virtually unchanged from the days of the reign of Emperor Nicholas except that the throne has been concealed by a white sounding board intended to improve the acoustics.

Upon the walls, which are of light blue and gold, and upon the ten immense gilded pillars, still remain the arms of the imperial family, and from ten enormous chandeliers scores of the old imperial double eagles still look down on the lawmakers, four of whom are women.

The reception hall of the Empress, adjoining the throne room, is filled with telephones and noisy typewriters operated by short-haired stenographers.

The room of St. George, of gold and white, the largest room in the Kremlin, with six candelabra supporting more than 3,000 incandescent lights, is being used as a smoking room by the peasant lawmakers.

DEVICES INSTALLED IN CHURCHES ENABLES DEAF TO HEAR

London, Nov. 12. (By Mail)—Excuses for not attending church are fading faster and fewer. The Eastbourne correspondent of the London Daily Express notes that an electric installation to enable deaf members of the congregation to hear the preacher clearly is to be installed at the Presbyterian church there.

The Rev. James Reid draws great numbers of people to this church by his forceful sermons.

U.S. MOVES TO CLAMP DOWN ON ALL INFORMATION

Administration Seeks to Test Government Power.

Enforce by Spurring Agents to Greater Vigor—League Blames Judges—Courts and Officers Make Increasing Violations Easier, Declare Drys.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Confronted with an increased number of violations of the prohibition law, the Administration has moved to test the power of the government to enforce it.

The Volstead act, which forbids the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, is being enforced by agents of the Department of Justice.

The agents are being urged to enforce the law more vigorously, and the courts are being urged to impose the severest sentences on violators.

Along with the release of the Daugherty letter, it was disclosed that Prohibition Commissioner Hayes and Acting Prohibition Director Yelverton, of New York, held a conference with the Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair on the question of law enforcement.

These officials agreed that a series of "dry" raids throughout the country should be staged at once in the hope that the administration's desire to wipe out the illicit traffic will be made known.

Another development in the prohibition situation today was the statement of the Anti-Saloon League, that the World's Anti-Alcohol Convention in Montreal, which was attended by judges and United States district attorneys, who were charged with being unsympathetic to the Volstead act.

Whether said the following statements of the convention's action had been forwarded to the White House.

Evidence accumulated that responsibility for the repeal of the Federal Prohibition law is chargeable chiefly to those Federal Judges and United States district attorneys who are in sympathy with the prohibition law.

"Failure of United States District Attorneys to call upon the people to support the law-breaker and the imposing of sentences which are less than those imposed by Federal Judges, is making law enforcement in many localities a mockery. Experience is daily proving that this policy is not effectively administered by officers hostile to it.

Appointment Under Contract.

"In our judgment the best way to check lawlessness is for the Executive to call upon the people to support the officers who will firmly and courageously enforce the law. We are reluctant to grant such appointments, and to mobilize public sentiment for law and order."

"It was also made clear in the conference that the power should be retained by the majority party. This is especially important in view of the many applicants for these places under the new judicial system."

"Our attention is invited to the injunctive features of the national prohibition act. Nuisance proceedings have been found to be an effective means of control, and more frequent resort to them is desired. This department is ready as it always has been, to assist you by furnishing forms or briefs of authorities for instituting this practice in your district."

"We are sending to United States attorneys in this district where breweries are located criminal information proceedings against individuals and companies unlawfully manufacturing cereal beverages. We desire that these be filed and tried promptly. The need for this is especially apparent in injunction proceedings, as the courts may be reluctant to grant restraining orders if the evidence shows the nuisance to have been committed at a remote place."

"Wherever there is an adequate local prohibition law, endeavor by every means at your command to stimulate enforcement of it by local officers. Seek to establish, as far as your office, a spirit of co-operation between State and Federal enforcement agencies to the end that each may discharge its full proportion of the obligation of enforcement."

"Believing that a violation of one law tends to disrespect of other laws, these suggestions regarding your proceedings."

STRANGE RESULTS FROM OPERATIONS

Vienna Biologist Transplants Heads of Insects—Says Bodies Change to Fit New Heads.

Paris, Dec. 4.—Walter Finkler, a Viennese biologist, has succeeded in transplanting the heads of insects, and the bodies of the insects have changed to fit the new heads.

Finkler took a series of insects—biting flies and caterpillars—and with fine scissors cut their heads off. He then grafted the heads of other insects that were to which they originally belonged. After a few weeks the insects operated on began to recover, but to the intense surprise of the professor the newly formed insects began in every case to assume the characteristics of the heads which had been grafted on to them.

"Bodies lost their original color and took the color of the insect whose head they were wearing. A female insect on to which a male head had been grafted produced a male offspring."

"Not only did the professor succeed in changing the heads of insects and larvae of the honey bee, but an operation hitherto considered quite impossible."

SERIOUS FIRE IN NORTH END

Two alarms from box 123 last night gave warning of a serious fire in Main street which lasted from 10:40 until two o'clock this morning. The damage done by the destruction of a barn in the rear of the premises of James Murphy, 149 Main street, was of the order of $10,000.

The barn, which was owned by the Murphy family, was a two-story structure of ground floor and in the second story the home of Ernest Starkey. The rear of George Mullin's property, 143 Main street, was slightly burned. The fire is said to have originated in a stove in the barn.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the seed of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

TRUCKS TRY TO GET JEWS IN PALESTINE INTO PLOT

Anglo Nationalists Urge the Chief Rabbi to Ask Shift in British Mandate.

London, Nov. 12. (By Mail)—Already the Turkish have commenced a serious campaign of intrigue, declares a correspondent to The London Daily Telegraph. The Jewish Chronicle has received the following serious information: "The Turkish are plotting to bring about Turkish intrigue in Palestine."

The Nationalist Government of Ankara has been asked to request the chief rabbi of Turkey that he should organize meetings and manifestations everywhere by Jews of the country, in favor of the Mandate for Palestine being transferred to Turkey.

This request has caused much perturbation in the chief rabbinate, in view of the present very critical political situation. The rabbinical council, however, have held two long sittings to discuss the delicate situation. They were confronted by a very difficult problem. In organizing the manifestations asked for they knew that the sentiments of world Jewry, and, further, they felt that it would constitute also a demonstration on the part of the Jews of Turkey against Great Britain, which at present holds the mandate for Palestine.

If, on the other hand, they refused to comply with the request, the Anglo government might interpret the refusal as a bad light, and the consequences for Eastern Jews might be very serious.

They replied, the chief rabbinite officially intimated to the representative of the government of Ankara that it had all the time been going on about the rate of between three and four diameters of the moon a day. At present it is the seventh magnitude, somewhat too faint to be seen with the naked eye.

Surplus S on Card Leads to Arrest of Van Alten, Expert "Pennyweighter"—Police Present His Record.

New York, Dec. 4.—Victor Van Alten, who is sought by the police of three cities in connection with diamond thefts, was arrested at the offices of Steele-Gelb-Gorn, Inc., by Detective John Barron of the Fifth avenue squad. Van Alten called on the jeweler shortly before 4 o'clock and presented a card on which he had written Klein & Sons, Alabama. He asked to see diamond rings set in platinum. The member of the firm who waited on Van Alten knew that the name of the firm was "Klein & Son," and becoming suspicious, he summoned Detective Barron. When under arrest Van Alten threatened to bring suit against the detective for false arrest, but, according to the police, finally acknowledged his identity.

Van Alten, the police say, uses the aliases Noble, Martin, Ford and Farley, and is one of the cleverest diamond thieves in the country. His method, they say, is to pose as an out-of-town jeweler, and after buying a quantity of goods on credit to disappear. He is also said to be an adept in the art of "pennyweighting" or substituting cheap imitations for gems.

It was during June, 1921, according to police records, that Van Alten first came to the attention of the New York police when he visited this city and disappeared after swindling a number of prominent firms. His first appearance was the offices of Ingerman, Goldsmith & Co., where, after representing himself as a retail jeweler from Beltingham, Wash., he pulled a loop and pair of tweezers from his pocket and examined several stones with the aid of a connoisseur. After selecting several stones, valued at about $6,000 Van Alten asked to be recommended to a reliable mounting manufacturing house, and was referred to S. Brand & Sons, 18 East Twenty-third street.

Jeweler Recognizes Visitor. When Van Alten entered the Brand office he was recognized by Mr. Brand as the man who had appeared at his store nearly a year before and represented himself as a jeweler of Easton, Pa. After selecting several thousand dollars worth of jewelry which he said he would call for in the morning, Van Alten went to the telephone presumably to make a call but did not lift the receiver from the hook. He did not return on the following day and it was not until some time later that Mr. Brand discovered the loss of a diamond ring valued at $250. On the same day, Van Alten went to the office of Abel Brothers, 16 Maiden Lane, where he asked to see some diamond rings. A tray containing about 200 rings was set before him, several of which he said he would call for in the morning. Van Alten stated that it was too late to cash a check at the bank that day; but that he would return in the morning for the goods. When he did not return an examination was made of the contents of the tray and it was found that a ring valued at $925 was missing, an imitation having been substituted.

Headquarters records further show that on March 15, 1920, Van Alten was arrested at Springfield, Mass., charged with stealing a pearl and diamond pendant, and fined $50, that on his release he came to New York, visited the firm of A. Suderov, 49 Maiden Lane, and made off with a quantity of jewelry valued at $3,000; that he victimized R. H. Macy & Co., for which he was arrested at Springfield, Mass., on June 12, 1920, and "kipped" bail; that he again bobbed up, this time in Seattle, Wash., and again he jumped bail, and was next heard of in New York in December, 1921.

This time, the police say, Van Alten visited the firm of Hans Bressler, at 83 West Thirty-eight street, and presented the card of a Sharon (Pa.) jeweler. After consulting a credit list Mr. Bressler found the Sharon jeweler's credit listed at $20,000, and Van Alten had no difficulty in charging $5,000 worth of diamonds. When arrested yesterday Van Alten was charged only with the theft of jewelry valued at $5,000 from Hans Bressler. His photograph has been shown to the other jewellers, all of whom have identified him.

The prisoner gave his New York address as 2 East 125th street. He said that he was a native of Sweden and gave Vancouver, B. C., as his home.

The firemen were called out on Saturday night about 11 o'clock to a house in Carmarthen street, near Princess, to extinguish a small chimney fire. The application of a little salt put out the fire before any damage was done.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Marquis Curzon, the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, who twice married wealthy American women, was referred to as "a pompous popinjay" and "an anti-American ingrate" by Alderman Thomas F. Byrne at a session of the Chicago City Council.

Alderman Byrne asked for a state law to permit municipalities to collect a fifty per cent. tax on incomes for-

"Curzon, who has consistently opposed American interests, was made by American dollars which he received from the Leiter estate by virtue of the marriage settlement and will of Levi Leiter. Druggist Asks Separation from Woman He Trained to a Bronx Apartment House—Listened at the Shaft.

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Unable to find his wife after searching for her for four months, George Rauh, a Mount Vernon druggist of that city, heard her voice from the bottom of a shaft in an apartment house at 66 Vermlaya avenue, the Bronx, while she was informing the janitor, whom, the plaintiff said, he had "gotten next to," that her garbage was descending in the dumbwaiter. Rauh said he had followed his mother-in-law to this address and at first was refused admittance to the apartment. So as to be sure of his ground Rauh consulted the janitor, who conceived the plan of listening to the women's voices from the section of the house to which Rauh said he had followed his wife's mother.

This was part of Rauh's testimony in his suit for separation. Rauh said that the first four years of married life, spent at 1420 Hancock street, Brooklyn, and the next four years were all right. Rauh decided to go into the garage-business with Frederick Shippey of Mount Vernon. The plaintiff says he owned half the stock and found it necessary to obtain the assistance of his wife, Theresa. Then the trouble started. According to Rauh his wife and Shippey developed more than a platonic friendship. They spent much time together in the garage in the early hours of the morning, he said, with only a sputtering kerosene stove for illumination.

On Nov. 11, 1918, Rauh said he left his wife after a quarrel over "early hours." Rauh told the court "she struck me in the face and knocked my glasses off and I hastily struck her back in the fact, and then she took a mirror reflector from the table and crashed it over my head. She also tried to hit me with a beer bottle and a chair, but her mother and the janitor intervened."

On another occasion Rauh said he was out hunting for his wife when he discovered her coming down the street with Shippey. Rauh says he told his former partner there was going to be no more going about with his wife. Shippey had an opposite view, Rauh says. After it was all over, Rauh testified, he washed the blood from his hands.

At 10:55 o'clock Saturday night a still alarm was sent in for a chimney fire in the Craig Private Hospital, 98 Wentworth street. No damage was done.

Many young people took advantage of the opportunity to try out their skates on Lily creek yesterday, as there was a large crowd both afternoon and evening.

The jury disagreed in the case of Howe vs. Elwell after a two-hour consideration of the evidence Saturday. The jurors were discharged and the trial will come up again at the next sitting of the court.

Mr. Justice Crockett's charge occupied the time in the morning. The claim was for $5,000. Daniel Mallin, K. C., appeared for the plaintiffs, and Kelley & Ross for the defendants.

The property at the corner of Lancaster and Prince street, w. e. belonging to James F. Humphreys, has been sold to Mrs. Edna Urquhart, wife of Arthur P. Urquhart, merchant of this city. Armstrong and Bruce have conveyed lot 5, Block 2, of Portland place, to Taylor and White, copiers.

F. S. A. Mc Mullin, president of the Trades and Labor Council, has been unanimously endorsed by that body as a nominee for the civic hydro commission. At a meeting of the Council on Friday night it was announced that Mr. Mc Mullin's name was among those who Mayor Fisher intended to recommend to the Common Council for appointment. WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

IRREGULAR IN WALL STREET FINANCIAL

Some Stocks Advance, Others Go Down—Price Changes on the Montreal Exchange.

New York, Dec. 4.—(10.30)—Opening prices in today's stock market were decidedly irregular, food, motor and coal shares being moderately strong while oil and shipping shares were under pressure.

STERLING AT A NEW HIGH TODAY. New York, Dec. 4.—The apparently poor quality of the buying power led professional traders to try some experimental short selling towards the end of the first hour.

MONTEAL, DEC. 4.—The local stock exchange was not very busy during the early trading this morning. The papers, which are generally stronger than some of their old time strength and activity of late, were represented this morning by Abitibi, unchanged at 64.

BRASILIAN WAS ONE OF THE FEW STOCKS. It opened at 22 1/2, unchanged at 44, but soon eased off a half to 43 1/2, a decline of 1/2 from its last week's price.

INTELLIGENT GIVING. (Vancouver Sun). At last three Canadian cities are entering wholeheartedly into the task of ending discrimination begging and setting up a system for giving intelligently.

RECORD ORANGE CROP. According to the resident correspondent of The Produce News, who presents statistics gathered from authoritative sources and running over a period of more than thirty-six years, the Florida crop for 1922-23 will be the largest ever harvested.

FINANCIAL NOTES. London, Dec. 4.—Bar silver 92 1/2-16 1/2. New York, Dec. 4.—Foreign bar silver 64 1/2.

NEW YORK MARKET

CHICAGO GRAIN OPENING. Open High Low. July wheat, Dec wheat, May corn, Dec oats.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

(McDougall & Cowans' Private Wire) New York, Dec. 4.—Livings and Cowsay: "Some irregularity may be expected from tax selling but the present market indicates that last Monday's lows will not be seen again in at least several months."

MARKET NEWS NOTES. (McDougall & Cowans, Private Wire). New York, Dec. 4.—Southern Pac. orders 8,688 freight and passengers.

SEE A SHORT LIFE FOR NEW U. S. TARIFF

Effects Already Noticed Making the Regulations Unpopular—A Big 1924 Issue.

Washington, Dec. 4.—(By Canadian Press)—Although there is no real sign of another revision of the tariff in the near future, it is nevertheless a fact that there is much muttering of discontent in and out of Congress over the new law.

The full effects of that law are not as yet felt. However, two things are clear. One is that there is a tendency on the part of manufacturers to increase in price. The other is that the agricultural industry of the United States is still in a most serious condition and the tariff bill, with its high agricultural rates, has not been of any decisive advantage to the farmers.

CLARK CHILDS & CO.—"Borrowing demand for stocks, not so much on the floor as privately, shows a big short account."

HOUSEMAN & WELLS—"We think there are going to be plenty of opportunities to buy stocks this month."

BECHTOLD & CO.—"If we cancel the minor downward trend, as we expect, then we will certainly welcome any technical reaction towards the middle of the month as the last opportunity this year to buy back stocks sold higher."

THOMSON McKIMM—"The stock market will probably show some seasonal dullness and irregularity during the winter and the end of the year."

THOMSON McKIMM—"The stock market will probably show some seasonal dullness and irregularity during the winter and the end of the year."

CANADA'S CROPS FOR THIS YEAR

According to calculations jointly accepted by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, the total yields of the principal field crops are provisionally estimated in bushels as follows:

Wheat, 371,425,000; Oats, 215,038,000; Corn, 17,882,000; Potatoes, 99,675,000; Turnips, etc., 86,088,000; Beans, 1,454,700; Clover, 14,847,000; Alfalfa, 728,400; Fodder corn, 7,882,100; Flaxseed, 6,684,200.

For 1922 the total production of wheat, as now estimated, is the highest of any year since 1915, when the average was 371,425,000 bushels.

LABOR, IT IS PLAIN, IS MUCH DISAFFECTIONED with the new tariff law. If the president and tariff commission were to make quick and effective use of the flexible provisions to reduce rates, some of the discontent against the tariff would be allayed.

REPORT RECEIVED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE FROM THE U. S. COMMERCIAL ATTACHE IN LONDON gives figures for the first nine months of the year for Great Britain during last September, the details of which have just been announced in London.

Aviator Made $30,000 in Summer as Liquor Carrier

Look it From Montreal, 35 Cases at a Time, for Wealthy New Yorkers—Business Men Said to be Financing Purchase of Airships.

(By Canadian Press)
New York, Dec. 4.—Liquor running by airplanes from Montreal to Long Island points has become so profitable that many aviators, including one of the foremost fliers on the continent, have entered the bootlegging game, according to Frank J. Hale and James L. Kerrigan, federal dry agents investigating liquor law violations in New York and New Jersey coastal counties.

Aviators inclined toward the adventure of liquor running, said Kerrigan in an interview, are experiencing no difficulty in getting financial backing. With the demand for liquor exceeding the supply, he declared, "responsible business men are underwriting the purchase of flying machines."

"We know of one instance," asserted Kerrigan, "where a Wall street broker made arrangements for an aviator to obtain cargoes of liquor in Montreal. The liquor was purchased by the aviator, who would swoop around when I broker. The full story of his operations has been told us by this particular aviator, but we cannot make an arrest until we have absolute evidence on which to build a case.

"The aviator who conspired with the broker to bring liquor over the border went into the bootlegging game, he told us, more on a dare than as a money-making scheme. The profits were so large, however, that he continued to make trips to Montreal. Forty-five trips between Montreal and a Long Island landing field netted this aviator $30,000 for a summer's work. The round trip from Montreal to his Long Island landing field, he said was made in a day.

"This man was under a verbal contract, according to his story, to supply liquor to a group of wealthy men associated with the broker who had underwritten the flights. On each of the trips he brought over the border thirty-five cases of whiskey, for which he received $20 a case as a transportation fee. The liquor previously had been purchased by the broker. After he had discharged his cargo without being apprehended there was no danger in his admitting that he had brought the stuff in because the evidence was well hidden.

"My route was from Long Island obliquely across Manhattan Island, the aviator is alleged to have told Hale and Kerrigan, and then paralleling the Hudson to Albany, where I verred easterly to Rutland. From Rutland I flew northwest to the northern edge of Lake Champlain. A few minutes later brought me to the airstrip outside of Montreal. While this was a semi-government field I was able to arrange for landing there.

Safety Precautions.
"The Canadian inspectors whom I frequently met at the airstrip," the aviator is quoted saying, "treated me cordially enough. Once a while they would swoop around when I landed. They were watching for

GOVERNOR-ELECT HAS HIGH HOPES

Sir William Allardyce Sees New Era Ahead for Newfoundland.

London, Nev. 4.—(By Mail)—The Royal Colonial Institute gave a luncheon yesterday at the Hotel Victoria, Northumberland avenue, to Sir William Allardyce, late Governor of Tasmania, on his appointment as Governor of Newfoundland. Sir Godfrey Lagden (chairman of the Council) presided.

In proposing "Our Guest," the chairman said that though a comparatively young man, Sir William Allardyce was an old Fellow of the Colonial Institute, for which he had been a great propagandist. As Governor of Tasmania his income was insufficient, and, having to dip into his own resources, he found it necessary to tender his resignation. When men were promoted to high office in the empire they ought to be provided with an adequate salary to support that office. Now he was going to Newfoundland, where he would find very progressive people who would be glad of his versatile expression in helping them to develop their resources. The Premier of Newfoundland (Sir Richard Squires), who was in this country but was unable to attend the luncheon, was trying to get settlers for that country. He wanted to get farmers to cultivate farm produce, vegetables, meat, and other things, for which they were now entirely dependent on other countries. The members of the Institute wished the Governor happiness and prosperity in his new life.

Sir William Allardyce, who was warmly received, said he believed the Royal Colonial Institute was one of the most important links of Empire. They should make the best use of the Empire. It contained more desirable agricultural land than there was in any other part of the world, and in developing it they would all consolidate under the flag. Therefore they should help those who were doing all they could to maintain the Empire. More Fellows and more money were wanted in the Institute. It was a valuable agency at headquarters, and he was glad that ladies were now admitted as full members.

He did not know much about Newfoundland, but he was looking forward to the opportunities it would give him of advancing its interests. Newfoundland had not had sufficient propaganda in the past. He thought that the people of this country could do far better by going there for fishing and shooting than they could by going elsewhere. As to the future of Newfoundland, he believed there was a new era in store for her, and he constructed herself that she would be better than ever she had been in the past.

THE DOG WAS INSULTED.
(Exchange.)
How is it that dogs and other animals, too, know that children love them, and that even when they see rough they do not mean to hurt them? Even children, however, can go too far, as Albert Payson Terhune tells us in the following story. One of his dogs is named Wolfe. It is not safe, he says, for strangers to take the slightest liberty with him, but from children Wolfe will endure any mauling. Only once, he says, has he known a child to protest at the familiarity of a child. A friend called bringing along her son, a boy between three and four years old. Wolfe sat down beside him, and the two were having a jolly time together, when a growl of utter disgust from the dog made us all look around. The baby piped up triumphantly, "I bitted off one of Wolfe's whiskers, and he tasted just like a worm." No wonder Wolfe had growled.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Charles A. Gregory, Federal prohibition director for Illinois, who retired last week, had been offered approximately $5,000,000 in bribes during his one year in office, according to his friends. Mr. Gregory refused to discuss the bribes, but indicated that he was glad to retire. Mr. Gregory's friends say he was overwhelmed by offers of money and favors worth at least $1,000,000 during his first month in office. Most of the approaches, it is said, were made by attorneys representing wealthy men and syndicates owning large holdings of whiskey in bond. Joseph C. Andrews will have charge of the local dry forces until Mr. Gregory's successor is appointed.

LINEMAN INJURED.

Daniel Myatt of Somerset street, a lineman employed on the St. John's Moncton hydro line, fell from the top of a pole forty-eight feet high at a point near Lakeside on Saturday afternoon and apparently has escaped practically unharmed. Eugene Urqui, French amateurweight champion, won the featherweight championship of Europe last Saturday by defeating Billy Matthews on England in the seventh round of a scheduled twenty round bout. The bout was stopped in a crisis. Urqui had an opportunity on the defensive throughout and showed his power for the count on seven, nine and nine in the seventh round, when the referee stopped the bout to save Matthews from further punishment.

A complete investigation of the circumstances surrounding the bout between George Carpenter and one who will be through out in the near future, is being conducted by the French Boxing Commission in the Chamber of Deputies. Skillfully interwoven in a story of action and suspense is the intrigue and plotting of a reactionary party to control the government of a South American Republic. This furnishes a background of Spanish atmosphere with the fire and passion of the Latin temperament and the lure of the native dances. Cafe scenes, interesting situations in which youngsters take an active part and thrilling chases make the picture replete with interest and action. Coy Wetz & Jr., one of the cleverest of the silent actors of the screen, has many comedy scenes in which he is ably assisted by a dog. Taken in its entirety, "You Never Know" is one of the best photodramas Earle Williams has made.

pared with the mere thirteen of the Giants. The latter, however, announced only a partial list, and after a minute comparison it looks as if the recruit crop will be bigger and busier at San Antonio than at New Orleans. Some of the names on the Yankee roster have a familiar sound. One of them is that of Glenn Killinger, football coach in the autumn and second baseman in the summer months. Also there is Hinky Haines, another Penn State gridiron star, who finished as an outfielder with Reading last year. Others on the list of recalled players are Ed Neusel, outfielder from the Albany club; O. D. Tucker, same position, who comes back from the New Orleans team; and Pitchers Gorman Wilson and Manly Llewellyn, the former a Sioux City product, the latter a performer at Buffalo in the past summer.

Here are the names of the new rookies who will be assembled and inspected for the first time next March: Ben Hongouff of Buffalo, star catcher of the International League, for whom the Yankees are said to have paid the proverbial penny; Outfielders Benjie F. Acton from the Wilson (N. C.) club, Henry La Valle from Worcester, Mass., and Elton Langford, who admits to Lubbock, Texas; Shortstop John Wright from Chattanooga, pitchers Bill Dearman from White Plains, Oscar Reitter from Sioux City and Elbert Johnson, drafted from Aberdeen of the Dakota League.

Of the three pitchers Dearman is the only left-hander. He is a semi-pro picked up on the sand lots of the metropolitan district and he made the last Western trip with the Yanks, without, however, getting into any league games. Judging from outward appearances, the Yanks will not have as populous a camp as the Giants, who will have a list well over forty.

People who like to dabble in that sort of thing compiled a list of the places where major league teams will train next year. It was discovered that only St. Louis and Philadelphia in the American and St. Louis and New York

The IMPERIAL GLEEFULLY OFFERS
May Roberts Rhinehart's Best of All Hospital Romances
"A GLORIOUS FOOL"

Goldwyn Cast, Headed by Helene Chadwick and Richard Dix

IF YOU WERE A PRETTY PROBATIONER NURSE and were assigned to the case of a rich young boob-ite who got bunged up in a trolley smash of his own doing (listen now) this good-looking young chap thinking himself dying wanted to wed you and leave you his fortune just to spite the girl who jilted him, what would you do? That's what Jane Brown was up against. More than that the senior house doctor was making violent love to her. Then she got interested in a baby in the maternity ward—a baby with a missing father—and amongst them all she was half crazy. But the ending's wonderful. Best screen yarn in a blue moon.

People in the Tangle:

- Jane Brown—Student hospital nurse who certainly runs into a strenuous love affair.—Helene Chadwick
- Billy Grant—Rich, good looking, jilted, gets tight, steals trolley car, smash, then hospital.—Richard Dix
- Miss Hart—Cold, calculating, efficient, emotionless nursing machine.—Vera Lewis
- Head Nurse—Austere, commanding, offers tyrannical, but no horror for Billy.—Kate Lester
- The "Dummy"—Hospital attendant who polishes brass. Deaf and dumb but oh, so wise.—Otto Hoffman
- Jenks—Usual type of hospital porter—bowling, scrapping, obsequious, not disdaining tips.—John Lince
- Surgical Intern—Young doctor on staff who wants to be Jane's lover but Jane is in a "jam".—Theo. Van Elts
- Mr. Lindley Grant—Wealthy and rather uppish who gave tuppence cousin the "raspberry".—Frederic Vroom
- Mrs. Lindley Grant—"We have merely performed an unpleasant duty," she said.—Lillian Langdon
- Al—A tough guy, father of the hospital baby and who did the square thing after all.—George Cooper

"THE FOUR SEASONS"
Nature's Own Art Gallery

The Film Digest, Toronto, Nov. 23, says: "It is four months since 'The Four Seasons' was released in Canada, but no first-run theatre has evidently had the vision to avail itself of presenting an attraction to its public, which would reflect glory upon the house in which it was shown. There are no murders, or women beautifully gowned, no little encounters, no triangles or quadrangles of love and all that goes under that heading. Beauty, entertainment, education, combined with such artistic mastery and fidelity of detail as to stamp 'The Four Seasons' as a unique screen contribution, worthy to be preserved in the archives of a National Museum.

Produced by Sir Charles Urban of England.

its fight against the white plague and further reduce the death rate from this disease. The first sale will be made by "Big Six" this afternoon at one o'clock when he calls on Mayor Hylan at the City Hall to sell him his quota of stamps for 1922. Mathewson's efforts will be devoted to interesting the thousands of baseball fans with whom he is still an idol in the sale of seals. On Saturday he will be escorted by the Mayor's Committee of Women to the auditorium at Wanamaker's, where he will address an audience of boys and girls during the showing of a moving picture called "Putting on More Foundies."

CHURCH MUSIC
(Toronto Globe)

Sir:—It seems to me that in our church services today quite a lot of time is taken up by the choir, which I think might more profitably be devoted to congregational singing or in they speak the deepest experience of the ministry of God's Word. Very often they give us an anthem, a quartette and a solo. Now these are very delightful in their place, but surely the purpose for which Divine service is called is not for our entertainment, and during the week time there is far too much time taken up with various entertainments without taking further time out of the short hour or hour and a half morning and evening service. It is a pity that more of the all Thy mercies, O my God, my rising soul surveys." My faith looks up to Thee, Thou Lamb of Calvary." "When Book Divine. How short a time is I survey the wondrous Cross." "Jesus, the brief reading of a few verses Thou joy of loving hearts." Let us have more congregational singing (and helpful exposition of, say, a chapter or two) may more praise ascend from the hearts of God's children, more time to the ministry of God's Word and less time to our modern day choir.

Swiss Silks
ONE DOLLAR
A whole window of dollar gift ties tells you how little you may spend to have kingliness in cravats. A man's wife cannot fail to make good—every one was chosen to hit the nail on the head and make the applause genuine. It is a strange thing to say, but there is the window to back it up. Any man can shut his eyes and take one he'd be proud to wear anywhere.
Swiss Brocade Silks—just imagine it—for only a dollar, and boxed up in holly fashion, too. Roman gold subdued dazle striping alternating with broad diagonal black. A hundred notions in plain stripes, pepper and salt in standard tints. Artistic decorations inspired of small blossoms with soft pedal on the floweriness. Out and out floral effects in bright silver on dull fields. Oh, you'll never imagine how nifty unless you look at that exciting window.
