The bill was reported, but the third reading was reserved at the request of Mr. Ellis, who asked for delay on the request of St. John merchants on account of the clauses about salt packages.

The bill to incorporate the Dominion Rifle Association was read a second and third time.

Hon. Mr. Fielding moved the house into supply, when Sir Charles Hibbert. Tupper brought up as an amendment another Yukon charge. This is a charge against F. C. Wade, registrar of the Yukon, government solicitor, Yukon land agent, etc., etc. It is alleged that Wade on behalf of the government entered into negotiations with Morrison and Macdonald, to whom the government leased the water front at L'awson. The grant was made without competition, at a price which enabled the lessees to sub-let at $7,500 per month profit. Sir Hibbert charges that Wade was at the time this transaction took place, the paid counsel of Morrison and Macdonald, from whom he had a retainer of $10,000. Having briefly discussed the case, Sir Hibbert moved an amendment setting forth the circumstances and asking for investigation by a judicial commission. Hon. Pr. Sproule thought Mr. Sutherland had made about the lamest defence ever heard in the house.

The discussion was continued by Col. Forden, Col. Laurier and Mr. Clancy when the amendment was rejected by a vote of 51 to 26.

OTTAWA June 6 - The solici seneral's bill to emend the law relat-ing to the election of members of the house of commons, contains so many changes that he has printed the ac again as a whole, with the amend-ments in brackets. A large part of the 60 pages is thus enclosed, showing that the government made rather a poor at-tempt to frame the election law two years ago. Yet in going over it again this scasim, in committee, clause af-ter clause is found unworkable, and after some criticism, stands over for further amendment. The franchise bill, which goes in company with the elec-tion bill, was amended last session and will require, fresh treatment this year. Most of the difficulties in both acts grow out of the policy of this gov-ernment, whch is to adopt the provincial franchise and part of its machinery for federal election purposes.

This departure was proclaimed as a great economy. The cost of the dominion lists was figured out and the new ministry was going to save the country all that. But now it has been discovered that there is no actual saving. The ministers find that they must still print the federal lists at the printing bureau here. Thus, they incur the larger part of the expenditure which they previously condemned and hoped to escape. The only saving would be in the cost of preparing and revising the lists. Formerly the preparation was at the cost of the dominion treasury, which paid the revisors. By the present law the provincial and municipal officers are supposed to furnish the provincial lists for use as a federal list. But here has come in the great difficulty. Lists of electors which should have been in the hands of the clerk of the crown here some time last autumn, have been straggling in all winter and through the spring. Some constituencies have not yet furnished the comrlete list. It would have been impossible for the government to have had an election any time in the last anine months on a revised list. It would be impossible to hold one today, because last year's lists are not yet all print-The whole machine has broken ed.

Solicitor General Fitzpatrick department of justhe whole have been trying to find tice out of these dif-WSY some ficulties. But the radical difficulty is to compel obedience from officers who are not in the service of the dominion. No doubt the lists could be procured if they were well paid for it, but that is the thing which the government has been trying to escape. As it is, the clerk of the crown has to solicit in the form of a pauper the services which the government here should be able to command. The bill before the house contained provisions supposed to meet the case, but on criticism they were

He favors punishment to the giver and taker of the bribe by imprisonment, without option of fine. But Sir Charles the affidavits located definitely the oncers charged. It may be some time before the judicial committee gets that far. Much time will thus be gained by the machine. When the critical stage is reached and the disclosures are comand all the rest of the members realize that the difficulty is not to make the brib-ery punishable, but to secure its punishment. Suppose imprisonment is the penalty, who would prosecute? Mr. ing, what accident and what action shall we expect? ner, for Harvey; James Stewart, for Aima. The offence of stealing votes after they are cast is more easy to reach than that of corruption. In this class of crime the vote transferred is stolen without the consent of the voter and the criminal has not the elector to back him up in his offence. While corrupt practices have more or less prevailed through the whole history of the country, the machine for stealing ballots after they are handed in is new institution. My friends of the Chronicle and Telegraph may amuse their readers by hypocritical pretense that corruption belongs to one party. They can have a monopoly of that pharisical pretense. But the threshing machine which Mr. Preston, now immigration inspector, wanted to hug. is a purely partizan and modern piece of mechanism. It is not known that any government except the one at Tcronto and the other at Ottawa ever was supported by such a contrivance.

The personation of a returning officer seems to be a device that has come in since Sir Wilfrid became premier.

It was first known in West Elgin. when, as Mr. McNish, the liberal candidate, confessed, it was practised by a gang of outsiders who invaded the constituency. This Elgin campaign was crganized by Mr. Preston, who was appointed by the dominion to a $3,000 office on the day following the elections, and the day following his hug the machine telegram. Among the participants in that campaign was Mr. Duncan Bole, then a salaried official both of the Ottawa and Toronto government. He left his office at the Soo and travelled to Elgin to hold a poll in the name of a resident railway officer. Laurier Talks Admirably About His Commission of Enquiry Into the Ballot Frauds-He Talked Just as Nobly Last October, But Later on Broke His Word, to Save the "Machine."

OTTAWA, June 6 .- Sir Wilfrid Lau- colleagues in the government voted rier's West Huron and Brockville commission to enquire into election frauds has developed into a roving commisnot support himself.

sion of three judges to enquire into such frauds, wherever they may have existed in Canada any time since confederation. This is all very well if only the operations of the commission are not so extended in point of time and in space that they will never get to Huron and Brockville, nor overtake the threshing machine which has been getting in its work since 1896. We cannot get away from the fact that the enquiry originates from certain charges made in respect to these two by elections. These are the charges which were supported by affidavits and evidence. They are the ones which were brought up in the house and which, with the approval of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, were referred to the committee of privileges. The enquiry into these elections disclosed some as tounding facts, which have been further explained by the Pritchett affidavits. The enquiry which Sir Wilfrid cudered before the committee of the house, which he and Sir Richard Cartwright distinctly promised should be carried to a completion there, is still in the air, voted out of the committee by the direction of the prime minister himself, and with his distinct promise that the enquiry should be conducted elsewhere. Now he is at liberty to make as much investigation into other matters as he pleases. But this is the immediate subject and the one in regard to which the government has placed itself under deeper suspicion by its interference, and by the fact of its appointment of the chief of the machine to important public offices. the question as to their right to vote. This ought to be the first business of the whole three declared that they had against the clause which Mr. Blair asked the house to support, but did Sir Charles Tupper pointed out these things, referring particularly to Mr. Blair's absence from the committee at a critical time, when his own clause was under consideration, and the simultaneous appearance there of two other ministers to oppose expropriation. Sir Charles quoted the proverb to the effect that "it is better to trust the devil you know than the devil you don't know," and remarked politely that while he did not mean toapply the term personally to the three ministers, he thought that when Mr. Blair, who always took an active part in the committee on railways, disappeared and two strange ministers came, the situation was not imrroved

The rival company offered to accept an agreement for expropriation on payment of the actual expended. Mr. Campbell money agreed to do the same, but when the rival company was turned down he repudiated his agreement. voting down a clause which he himself had prepared and offered to the committee as his own proposition. He strengthened his position with the party by taking in two members as directors, and the whole three of them voted for their own bill both in the committee and in the commission, which has been appointed to take up the unfinished work. After that, if there are any other frauds committed by or charged against either party, they also ought to be investigated.

In Sir Wilfrid's speech promising the commission, he stated that the judges would be appointed from the highest courts in the land. Two of them are judges of the high courts of Ontario. The third dccs not fill the bill. Judge MacTavish is a county court judge, a recent appointment by the Laurier government. In the election of 1896 and afterwards he was an active campaigner and campaign manager for his party.

The new famous bill for the construction of the Toronto-Collingwood railway has passed its third reading and has witnessed two more changes of base on the part of the minister of railways. The career of Mr. Blair in relation to this bill is like that of the Roman emperor who was called the tennis ball of fortune. When the bill was first in the house, Mr. Blair set forth that the railway was an important national enterprise and might be appeared at Dawson. The boat was required by the government as a link to do business on the Yukon River in the chain of transportation. He above Dawson, and it was necessary therefore sgreed that provision should for her to be a British boat; accordbe made for its expropriation by the 'ingly she was transferred to a Dawson government. At the second meeting he agreed to prepare a clause to provide for such expropriation. At the transfer was colorable, that the boat third meeting he brought in his clause and opposed it. At the fourth meeting he opposed it. From the fifth he was absent, and two other ministers appeared to oppose expropriation on any terms. So the bill was reported. In the committee of the whole all the ministers opposed the clause which Mr. Blair had prepared.

Yesterday, Mr. Clarke, on the motion for a third reading, moved the Blair clause, with the paragraph to which Blair chiefly objected struck out. This clause provided for a return of the subsidies in case the road should be taken over. Mr. Blair then announced that the amendment as corrected had his approval, and he thought the house should adopt it. Having so spoken, he listened while Mr. Campbell, the promoter of the company, and several other government supporters denounced his view. Then he went away When the vote was taken the Blair clause was rejected by a majority of 12. Mr. Blair did not vote with the minority. He went out. The only supporters of the government who voted as Mr. Blair recommended were Richardson and Puttee, both independent liberals, and Mr. Britton, who had charge of the rival bill. The whole conservative vote was for the Blair elause.

So now we have Mr. Blair-Declaring for an expropriation clause

As there has not been a dollar spent on the road except the amount necessary to railroad the bill through the house, which has been done at the expense of the United States promoters, there is no doubt that the members told the truth when they said they had invested nothing in it. But the interest of a member does not depend upon what he has spent in an enterprise before the house, but what he expects to make out of it. These three members are promoting their own financial interests by their speeches, by their votes, and by their influence over the ministers who depend upon them and their colleagues for their existence.

The case of the John C. Barr brought up by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, and discussed last evening for some hours. is this: The ship belonged to the North American Transport Company, a United States corporation. She had been rebuilt in 1897-8 at a United States port. Her engines and other equipment was put in new, and she was practically a new ship when she the third reading party who now appears as the owner. Sir Charles Hibbert alleges that the is still the property of the American company, and that she is improperly competing with Canadian boats on the same route.

The other part of the charge is that when the transfer took place the Barr was entered at the Custom House at a valuation of $10,000, on which duty was paid. It is alleged that the boat was worth $50,000 or $60,000, and that a swindle was thus perpetrated. A complaint was made against this valuation, and the government sent Mr. McMichael, the appraiser, who multiplied the value by two and a half and assessed the boat at $25,000, which, it is said, represents about half her value. However, the owners were obliged to pay $1,800 more duty and another $1,800 as a penalty. But it is claimed that the boat ought to have been confiscated.

A third feature in the case is the fact that Mr. F. C. Wade, who was solicitor for the Yukon government under salary at that time, and who held half a dozen other government offices in the Yukon, was also solicitor for the North American Transport company in this and other transactions. Mr. Wade has been one of Mr. Sifton's campaign managers in Manitoba. He went up to the Yukon with no end of government offices, and has become solicitor for nearly every important company located there which had business to do with the government. In a number of the mining cases wherein frauds have been alleged or favoritism charged Mr. Wade, who was legal adviser of the government, cropped up also as the solicitor for the other side. In the famous transaction condemned by Mr. Ogilvie, wherein Mr. McDonald was given the Dawson shore privileges at a price which allowed him to make a small fortune, Mr. Wade appeared as the counsel for every straight supporter of the gov- Mr. McDonald, who was paying him it is not a new offence, and there is no ernment but one and while all his own $10,000 a year in that capacity. He has two or three pages of amendments to propose, and they are all in the direction of greater stringency. He proposes to stop at its the cor.uptic expenditure in source elections. His proposition is that the agent and manager of a candidate shall not only show in minute detail how they spend the money, but from what source they receive it. The expenses are limited according to the English rule, and Mr. Casgrain hopes to shut out all expenditure other than that allowed by law. Not only does he propose to punish the giver of bribes and the man who offers them, but also the taker and the man who asks for them. He claims that the temptation comes more often from the voter than from the canvasser, and he wants to get at the elector who stands around the poll and refuses to vote until the last hour unless he gets his pay.

There is no doubt that in the present temper of the country Mr. Casgrain's efforts will be appreciated. Whatever hypocrisy may be found among stump speakers and a certain class of news paper writers, all serious men admit that the corrupt use of money in elec tions is an offence that does not belong to a particular party, and that it is a menace to the country. The premature celebration a few days ago of the fall of Pretoria did not dampen the ardor of the citizens of St. John when news came last week that Roberts had really entered the Boer capital. There was a reeling of relief that the stronghold had been taken without loss of life, a feeling of joy that the war was nearing a close, and a feeling of deeper pride in the great er:pire whose flag now floats over the city from which so lately Kruger issued his edicts against the outlander. A holiday was not proclaimed, but the citizens soon showed that they were in the mood for rejoicing. It scemed as if everybody had been laying in a stock of flags for this event, for before noon the streets, both business and residential, seemed a mass of fluttering banners. To attempt a description of the decorations would be too great a task. Public buildings, stores, hotels, private houses, delivery wagons and private turnouts were profusely adorned with flags and bunting, and patriotic emblems were worn by nearly everybody.

In the afternoon the streets presented an unusually animated appearance. There was no definite plan of celebration, but the people were abroad in thousands, admiring the handsome decorations and exchanging congratu lations on the fall of Pretoria.

And all day long many were busy in preparation for last evening's demonstration, which, considering the very brief time in which it was planned and arranged for, was beyond question the most imposing and creditable ever seen in St. John. The Sun had the pleasure of an interview yesterday with R. Rutherford of London, England, a member of the firm of Wilkinson & Graviller, West India merchants, London and Barbados. The firm are owners of plantations in Barbados, and they and their predecessors have been interested in the sugar trade of that island since early in the eighteenth century. Mr. Rutherford, who left for Monttreal yesterday afternoon, has been in the lower provinces partly on business and partly for pleasure, as he has relatives in Nova Scotia. Speaking of Barbados, he said to the Sun that the island is dependent on the sugar industry, and any effort to secure closer trade relations with Canada must take into consideration

Deaths of Former Provincialists-Prominent Politicians to Visit the Provinces This Summer - Dull Spruce Market - Mackerel Continue Plentiful.

(Fiom Our Own Correspondent.) EOSTON. June 7 .- Now that th end of the Boer war is in sight, public interest here is centred in the politica campaign and the attempt being made in the courts of New York state to de stroy the "wicked" ice trust. The so called war in the Philippines has long since ceased to attract more than ordinary attention, although the antiimperialists are still bammering away at the Hanna-McKinley dynasty and its revolutionizing, colony-propogating policy. The regular republicans, whose leaders are charged with being re sponsible for the multiplicity of trusts and combines, which have risen like mushrooms in the night, during the present administration, are now finding consolation in the probing which the American Ice company is being subjected to. The reason of the rejoicing within the republican ranks is due to the fact that Mayor VanWyck of

New York city and other prominent Tammany democrats who have been prominent in denconcing trusts, are themselves heavy stockholders in the ice combine, which has this season caused consternation among the poor in large cities by doubling the price of the commodity. Many believe that the developments will result in curtailing the vote which the democrats expected to gain in New York state next fall. It should be said, however in justice to the national democratic leaders, that they have not been in sympathy with Tammany and have recognized that notorious ring only in order to preserve harmony in the Empire state for the fall campaign. The national fight between the republi cans on one side, and democrats, silver republicans, populists and anti-imperialists on the other. promises to be bitter struggle, with calumny, recrim inations and all sorts of abuse constituting a large part of the ammuni tion of both McKinley's and Bryan's campaigners. NO. 5 COMPANY.

District Engineer Brown of the north end made a splendid showing, having two of the most attractive pieces of apparatus in the procession. No. 5 hose cart was particularly attractive. A splenaid copy of the picture, "What We Have We'll Hold," was draped at dogs and Master David McLellan. On the tail of the cart was the inscription, "Let 'em all come." The idea was an excellent one and was splendidly carried out, reflecting the greatest credit upon the company. No. 5 engine, drawn by a beautiful team, over which Arthur Delaney held the ribbons, looked very pretty. Engineer John Montague rode on the tail of the steamer.

AT HALIFAX.

Rutherford looks forward, but at the HALIFAX, June 5 .- The Ladysmith celebration was repeated with interest tonight by Halifax people in honor of the fall of Pretoria and the collapse of Krugerism. The whole population was on the streets tonight and vast the back of the seat, while in the cart was one of Harry McLellan's $5,000 paraded through the streets. This was headed by the three militia regiments of the city, who had fired a feu de joie in the City Hall square. Then same the mayor and aldermen in carriages and scores of private carriages, all brilliantly illuminated. Then came the apparatus of the Halifax fire department, making a splendid scene. But this was only a small part of the Halifax demonstration, for every citizen seemed to have a celebration of his own under way, and the town went wild. Never before was the citadel flagstaff decorated at night. A royal salute was fired by orders of General Seymour, and the ships of war and mercantile marine, like the city, were draped in bunting.

BRITISH COLUMBIA IN LINE. 4 4 miles

The Martin government met with an ignominous defeat in the British Columbia election on Saturday. In a house of 38 members it is doubtful if the premier will have more than eight followers. In some respects the results are uncertain, as the opposition is made up of several parties or factions, but there is no doubt that Mr. Martin is not the premier that British Columbia wants. There is also no doubt that the new legislature is under conservative control. Roughly speaking, half the members elected ran as straight opposition candidates. These are nearly all conservatives, as the Martin men are nearly all liberals. Then there is a party of eight or ten who ran as conservatives and in favor of organizing a government on party lines. The provincial party led by Mr. Carter Cotton also a conservative, has not fared well in the election, and Mr.

lesigns the rivals of Britain may hav hed, they will see clearly enough that the time is not opportune to provoke a conflict. They can see that though the Transvaal is not wholly ified, and though Kruger threatens a prolonged resistance, the continu ance of the struggle, now that both Johannesburg and Pretoria have tallen, will not seriously tax the re irces of England nor require the efforts of the whole of the splending army which Lord Roberts has made so formidable as a fighting machine Moreover, the military spirit through out the empire is at so high a pitch that the response to such an appeal to patriotism as a war with Russia would involve would be universal and magnificent. Not lightly nor wanton ly would the people rally round the flag, but with a stern determination to maintain its prestige, and guard the world embracing interests of this vast indicate that the Martin government has been badly defeated. The returns empire. The astute statesmen of are yet incomplete, and there may be Europe are not unmindful of these some changes. So far ten government things. Britain is not handicapped by the South African war. In a military sense she is the stronger, and the more ready to defend her own than tefore the ultimatum of Oom Paul was received.

"A BRILLIANT NEW BRUNSWICK-ER."

The ninth anniversary of the death of Sir John A. Macdonald was celebrated on a large scale by the conservatives of Toronto. The sixth of June brings together in that city the young, conservatives and "the boys of the old brigade." Among the speakers were Mr. Bergeron, the man who defeated Tarte in Beauharnois, and the young member for Kent, N. B. Of the latter gentleman the Toronto Mail and Empire editorially says:

"Mr. McInerney, M. P. for Kent, N. B., was a revelation to the people of the west. He is one of the ablest speakers in parliament, and is a man of sterling worth. Cultured, eloquent, a master of the art of illus-'tration by speech, he rises to the 'standard of D'Arcy McGee. An Irish-Canadian, his character and his abilities do honor- to the great race which gave to public life in the old days a McGee and a Curran, and which in Ontario has given us Mr. J. "J. Foy. These visits to Toronto afford us samples of what the liberal conservative party has in the way of patriotism, talent and cloquence from outside of our own province. It 'is a rich store, of which the country may well be proud."

Cotton himself is defeated. So also is Mr. Wilson, leader of the party line conservatives. He and Carter Cotton were the victims of a triangualr contest in Vancouver which resulted in the election of Mr. Martin and one of his colleagues with two conservatives. whereas four conservatives would have been elected if Mr. Cotton and Mr. Wilson had worked together. Ex-Governor C. H. MacIntosh, who was mentioned as a possible leader, was beaten by the labor vote in the Rossland camp. Of the former leaders the principal survivor is Mr. Turner, who was premier when the previous election was held, and was dismissed by Governor McInnis. At that time Mr. Turner claimed to have a majority behind him, but he was not allowed to test the question by calling the house together. After summoning a politician who could not form a government, his honor called into existence the Semlin ministry, of which Mr. Martin was a member. Mr. Martin was afterwards dismissed by the premier, and still later Mr. Semlin was outvoted in the legislature. The premier claimed that he had still a majority, and in fact showed it by a vote the next day, but the governor turned him out and sent for Mr. Martin, whose government has now been emphatically condemned by the people. It seems to be time for the lieutenant governor to disappear and for Mr. Turner to organize a new ministry. As he is a conservative, and as a large majority in the legislature are of the same party, and as Sir Wilfrid Lauriers' appointee in the governor's seat has signally failed in his attempts to capture the government for the liberal party, now is the time for the liberal conservatives to step in and administer the government on correct principles. The coalition system has been a failure, and it is evident that the people do not want to be ruled by the party which calls itself. liberal.

This is a growing time with the liberal conservative party in the West as well as the East. "What we have we hold" would be an excellent motto for that party in the present circumstances.

BRITAIN AND CHINA.

The South African war has lessened the probability of European complications orising out of the troubles in China. That war has revealed the British empire as a fighting power much more fermidable than her rivals dreamed of, and the end of it finds England with a seasoned army of the highest quality ready to be thrown into the balance, wherever the need might arise. Joaquin Miller's sneer, "Who cares for the toothless old lion now ?" is not likely to be echoed either in Paris or St. Petersburg. Whatever an amendment to the health code placing consumption in the same category as small pox, diphtheria, yellow fever and other contagious and infectious diseases. The amendment provides fines and imprisonment for physicians who fail to report cases of consumption within thirty days after they so diagnose them The Ontario Medical Association last week reaffirmed its declaration of the previous year that the treatment of consumption in sanatoria has proved superior to anything that could be done in hospitals. The association further declares that cases which are in too advanced a stage for treatment in a sanatorium should be rigidly isolated. It is further held that the maintenance of the tuberculous poor should in the general interest be a charge upon legislatures, municipal corporations, and philanthropic organizations. The association emphatically urges "that the present is an opportune time for the dominion and provincial legislatures, provincial and local boards of health, combining with medical men and others to determine ful illness. what are the best situations, conditions, and methods for carrying out the ideas of the separate housing, care, and treatment of tuberculosis, especially of the poor." The Ontario legislature has passed an act respecting municipal sanatoria for consumptives, and this is welcomed as affording a practical means for combating and lessening the ravages of the disease in that province.

One of the correspondents volunteerthe British government was all at sea. on the China question. We have heard that remark several times before with respect to the same subject. A year to be making great headway, Lord Salisbury was vigorously scolded by the press. But in due time his lordship was able to show not only that he had not been asleep, but that he had been very wide awake. He may now fairly ask a suspension of judgment for a few days.

The deceased, who was a most estimable young lady, was an active and willing worker in St. James' church, to retire had been for several years in principles to a glorious victory.

dominant influence in Canadian public affairs, among them the secularization of the clergy reserves, the abolition of seignorial tenure, and the almost complete settlement of the educational question, which, had he been spared a few years more, would have entirely disappeared from the public arena (Hear, hear.) There was also that greater question of confederation. which he strove to carry to a successful issue with that strength and perseverance which were his great characteristics. It should not be forgotten that to such men as the present leader of the liberal conservative party much credit was due for the assistance they festo issued to the electorate of the whole country: 'A British subject I was born, a British subject I will die.'

Mr. McInerney alluded to the many rendered Sir John Macdonald in the great effort to consolidate the British North American provinces. "It is known in the maritime provinces full well," said the speaker, "that had it not been for the grand influence of Si Charles Tupper, the task that Sir John Macdonald and Sir George Cartier and George Brown had set unto themselves in these upper provinces would not have been completed in our day. (Cheers.) Following confederation came the Intercolonial railway. Forty and fifty years ago our communications, our social relations, were more with the cities of the Atlantic seacoast in the United States than with Quebec or Montreal or Toronto, What a change since then! Today your merchants send their goods to sur towns and seaports, and take from us in exchange such manufactures and products as we are able to send you." The three cardinal virtues of Sir John Macdonald were faith, hope and love. He had faith in Canada, he had nope in her future. and he loved his country with an undying love. In a memor-able speech at Quebec he declared he was no Pharisee, that he had his faults and was a sinner, but he wished those present and all whom his words would reach to remember that he should be forgiven by them as he hoped to be forgiven by his Divine Master, because if he had sinned much he had also loved much. He loved not only this country, but the dominating ideal of his life, proved by every step in nis political career, was that he might bind this young country in the silken ties of love to the Mother Land. (Cheers.) Today they saw the effects of his love and devotion.

"Ask yourself," said the speaker, 20 years ago it would not have been thought an idle dream that thousands of the brave sons of Canada would cross the seas to fight the battles of the Empire. (Cheers.) It has been well said that the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church, and

I make bold to say that from the sacrifices of our young Canadians on the African veldts, from the blood they have roured out on that far distant soil, will arise a spirit that will dominate this country for all (Cheers.) Of our beloved chieftain we can say in the roet's words, 'Whatrecord leaps to light, he never ever shall be shamed.' His life stands free from personal corruption. No man can say he was a lover of money. A working out his great ideas for the upbuilding of his country." (Cheers.) In conclusion, the speaker said the memory of Sir John Macdonald would reinforce conservatives for the struggle which might shortly be upon and until compelled by failing health them, and enable them to carry his

Since Leaving Off Coffee.

"I wish to give my experience with coffee for the benefit of other people. I used coffee for several years and was a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia. The doctor told me not to use coffee or tea and put me on a light diet, and I felt better.

"Then I commenced to drink coffee again and had the same trouble come

"One day I told a friend about it. who said if I would stop drinking coffee altogether I would feel better, and advised me to use Postum Food Coffee in its place.

"I tried the Postum, but did not like it, so I told him about it and he said I didn't cook it right, that is, didn't boil it enough and that I should use cream instead of milk, and to make sure I would use it he sent a package to the house.

"After I used that package I would have no more coffee in the house. Now I don't know what it is to have dyspepsia and I can eat anything. I also give Postum to my two children and they are the healthiest children you could find anywhere. The youngest is a boy of 13 months old, and we have been giving him Postum for seven months, three times a day. He weighs 30 pounds, and I know that Postum is what keeps both of them so healthy. "I think all people who have dyspepcupied by employes. This mill has been lying idle for over two years, and on Saturday the first full day's work was done. Since its purchase by the present concern a onsiderable amount of repairs have been put on it, and Saturday work was commenced sawing hemlock, as there was no spruce available . The men knocked off as usual Saturday evening, and everyone was pleased that the mill had again begun to give employment. Edward Smith, the watchman, who has been at the place for a large number of years, and who has proved himself a careful and painstaking man, was on duty Satur-day. During the night he made four trips through the mill and everything appeared to be all right.

About five o'clock Sunday morning he found the place on fire. He immediately went to the engine room and blew the whistle, there being just sufficient steam on to do it.

By the time the people came out, the building was almost completely on fire. Mr. Jordan, the foreman, with Mr. Smith, went into the engine room was a member of Anchor lodge, No. and got out the hose, but there was 41 Knights of Pythias. He leaves a not sufficient steam in the boiler to work the pumps. They then endeavored to save what they could, but about the only thing gotten out was a small chest of tools belonging to the engineer.

Word had been sent in to the Fairville fire department, and to the north end for assistance, and the men came out immediately. It was found, however, that it was impossible to save the mill, which was burning fiercely, so their efforts were turned toward preventing the fire from spreading to

went over to see the ruins. Where the mill stood, there was a tangled mass of machinery and saws. Big pieces of steel were twisted as if they were made of wire, and were tossed together in almost inextricable confusion. The boiler house and the blast furnace showed signs of the terrific heat they had passed through. The boilers fooked all right, but it is impossible to judge to what extent they have been damaged. This mill was built a long time ago by Bartlett, and later passed from his hands into that of the Messrs.

King, who ran it for almost 25 years Some years ago the boiler blew up and several slighter accidents oc curred. A short time ago it was putchased by Stetson. Cutler & Co. for about $13,000, and repairs in the vicinity of two or three thousand dollars have been put on it. When the property was bought by the present concern, the insurance of $15,000 was also transferred. It was a splendid property and it: would take probably forty or fifty thousand dollars to rebuild the mill alone. It would average a daily cut of about 100,000 feet, and give employment to about 100 men. On Saturday only half of the mill, which was a gang one, was worked, but the rest change. of the men were to be employed. After over two years of idleness, it was a Apart from the necessity referred to source of considerable joy that work was to be resumed. Work will be commenced clearing away the rubbish as soon as it cools, but :t is hardly likely that a new mill will be built for some time, if it is ever.

A fatted calf, which came down on the Hampstead yesterday morning about ten o'clock, waited impatiently until after eight last evening for the appearance of its owner. It waited only because it was securely tied. There was no doubt that it missed its mother and its regular meals, and it gave decided utterance to its wants in a fashion that made most of the residents in that vicinity aware of its plight. No one knew to whom the calf was consigned, and if there had been a tag on it once it had evidently disposed of its hope of securing an abiding place. Sergt. Baxter heard about the trouble and sent word to John Mc-Carthy to bring the animal up to his barn for safety. Before Mr. McCarthy reached the wharf the calf had disappeared, either its owner had arrived to claim it or some prodigal son had taken it home.

Hen. Donald Ferguson of Charlottetown passed through the city Saturday on his way to Ottawa. In speaking of fruit growing on the island, Senator Ferguson told a Sun reporter that more work was being done this year in grafting and setting out fruit trees than was ever done there before. It is only within the last few years that the islanders have awakened to the fact that they are able to grow apples that will readily compete in the English market with the best fruit from Nova Scotia: Mr. Ferguson was the pioneer in shipping apples from the island to the old country, and has N. P. E. ISLAND EXHIBITION.

(Charlottetown Guardiam.) The legislative grant of $6,000 in aid of an interprovincial exhibition assures us of a competitive fair in our midst during the coming autumn. It has become a necessity not only because of the fact that our stock owners and field producers, eager to compete with all comers, were thronging from year to year to the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick fairs and were carrying off many prizes, but because they would this year have been shut out from the Halifax and St. John competitions if the Island longer refused to give an exhibition at home. We had run the principle of jughandled reciprocity in exhibitions to the limit, and there must needs be a.

there was a popular demand at home for an exhibition this year. As already announced, the date will be 24th to 28th September, which is probably as good a time as could be chosen without conflicting with the dates seected by St. John and Halifax.

Getting Ready for Warm Weather.

A complete change in breakfast would, at this time of year, improve the health of anyone. Meat, potatoes and coffee become tiresome. The system calls for, a change, but what to? Hot and halfcooked pastry and starchy cereals are unattractive. Vegetbles taste good but furnish too little nourishment to sustain one until the next meal, particularly if brain work is required.

A most appetizing, convenient and healthful breakfast can be made on Grape-Nuts (a ready cooked food), a little cream or milk, some fruit and perhaps two soft eggs. (Pint tin cup of sharply boiling water, put in two eggs, not one, nor three, cover and set off stove, serve in just nine minutes. Whites will be like oream and half digested.) The Grapethree or four teaspoons should be used at one meal, that amount furnishes full strength and nourishment up to the next.

"Shanghai, under yesterday's date, ables that there has been street fighting in Pekin since early Sunday afternoon. The Russians are making large purchases of canned provisions at Shanghai, and everything points to an outbreak of hostilities. All British missicnaries will probably be ordered to return quickly to treaty posts."

The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in a despatch dated yesterday, says :

"Reports from the Yun-Nan-Fu district say that the French minister has telegraphed that a crisis is imminent, and that he is advising all foreignersto evacuate Yun Nan."

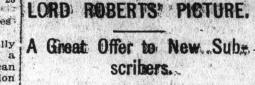

All the telegrams indicate that the ituation has not in the least improved." On the contrary, the disorder has. spread from the neighborhood of Pekin to the capital itself, which is growing turbulent in anti-toreign demonstrations. In addition to the burning of the Pekin club, the secretary of the Belgian legation has been roughly handled in the streets. Hostile crowds continue to demonstrate against the gations. Two thousand international troops are approaching the city, and the advance guard is due to arrive today (Tuesday). The United States, according to despatches from Copenhagen, have given "hearty adhesion" to the scheme for a European demonstration. The Russlan minister in Pekin, who also acts as the envoy of Denmark, is credited with having sent a despatch to the Danish foreign office to the effect that is demonstration has been planned, under the leadership of England and Russia, in which all the great powers and several of the smaller will take part. The latter are not called upon to send troops, as there are enough on the spot: but they are to be asked to delegate the right to hoist their flags to the great powers in order that a demonstration may be made or a battle fought under the flags of all Europe. Japan and the United States have been informed and agree to the arrangement. DISMISSED WITHOUT CAUSE.

WATERSIDE, Albert Co., June 5. marriage of William Bray of New Rorion and Mrs.' Martha J. Virgie of this place took here this evening in the church, which was finely decora-ted with plants and an arch made of evergreen and flowers, under which the bridal party stood. The bride was handsomely attired in a suit of velvet and white satin. Mrs. Howard Carter, who acted as bridesmaid, also wore a gown of velvet and white satin. Mr. Carter did the duties of groomsman. The bridal party entered the church to the music of the wedding march, and retired from the building during march the strains of the serenade played by Miss Jennie D. Anderson The pestor, Rev. Mr. Addison, tied the nuptial knot. Mr. Bray and bride, who have the best wishes of the people here, will at once proceed to their residence at New Horton.

Miss Lilly Fillmore, who has been teaching at Beaver Brook, has left her school and come home on account of illness. Miss Fillmore will be obliged to leave off teaching for a year.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., June 5 .- At a meeting of the town council last evening, Coun. Lindsay moved, seconded by Coun. Graham, that James Harvey be town marshal in place of the late Coun. Chief of Police Macfarlane. Gallagher moved, seconded by Coun. Dibblee, that Henry Ingraham be marshal

Coun. Carr proposed an amendment to the amendment, that Acting Marshal McCarron go on duty at 2 p. m. and remain till 1 a. m., and that the present night watchman be employed for the remainder of the night, and moved that the police committee be given until Friday evening's meeting to talk with Mr. McCarron on the subject. The mayor considered Coun. Carr's motion out of order, even if he had had a seconder, which he had not. The amendment was then put. Couns. Gallagher, Dibblee and Jones voting aye, and Couns. Lindsay, Graham and Carr, nay. The mayor ask ed until Friday evening to make his decision, as the way matters stood, the appointment practically remained with him. This privilege was allowed him.

Rev. W. B. Wiggins was heard by the council. He said he came before them as a citizen much interested in the India famine relief fund. He thought the council should do something towards alleviating the misery of our fellow subjects in India. His congregation, comparatively small as it was -Reformed Baptist-had donated already about $120. He thought from a philanthropic, patriotic, Christian motive the call from India, was one which should be listened to. The mayor agreed with Mr. Wiggins but stated that the council could not legally make a donation to this fund. He favored calling a public meeting of citizens.

Coun. Graham immediately announced that he would give his Opera house, free, for such a meeting, and it was decided to call a public meeting for Monday evening next. HAMPTON, Kings Co., June 6 .- Yesterday, on the receipt of the news of the fall of Pretoria, the same demonstrations of enthusiastic loyalty and rejoicings which characterized the relief of Ladysmith and Mafeking, the Queen's birthday, and the premature statement that the Transvaal capital was in possession of the British forces, were repeated by the people of the shire town of Kings. The first flag flung to the breeze was the new dominion ensign of the superior school, quickly followed by the running un of the flag on the Court House, and the display of bunting from the stores and private houses. 'There was, however, for an hour or so after the first intelligence was received, some hesitation in giving full credit to the good news, the public mind taking into consideration the hasty and too arden belief which was accorded to the despatch of Earl Roslyn last week. But when it became known that Lord Roberts had informed the war office of his intention to make his formal entry into Pretoria at 2 p. m. (Cape Colony time), there was no further delay in accepting the statement as the veritable truth. Men, women and children donned their badges, miniature flags, parti-colored ribbons, and any and every emplem which would manifest their delight and satisfaction. The teams employed at hauling from the mills and about the station were also decked out with flags and colors, while the mill and factory whistles, and church bell vied with the screaming and tooting trains as they came and went all day long. While work was not suspended. there were not wanting indications that the evening would not be allowed to pass without some signal display of the patriotism of the people, and shortly after six o'clock the gathering crowds gave token of what was to follow. Soon the cheering notes of the Cornet band were heard, and the factory hands, male and female, arrayed in their best, in teams gaily decorated, and on foot, together with a corps of bicyclists and Captain Spocner's company of the 74th Battalion, and many others, paraded to the village, where a salute was fired, songs sung, and cheers given. Returning to the Court House addresses were delivered by Fred M. Sproul and Rev. F. C. Wright (Baptist), the band playing patriotic airs, and the crowds cheering. Mr. Sproul, in eloquent words, referred to the great events of the war culminating in the fall of Bloemfontein, Johannesburg and Pretoria, in which Canada had been accorded the privilege of taking so prominent a part. He incidentally scored the dominion government for their dilatoriness in taking action when the Australian colonles were contributing their contingents, and showed how the loyal sentiments of the people forced them to do that which with more ready grace should have been done at the very first. The reference must have stung some who were listening, for truth is ever sharp and pointed, but there was no bitterness in the words, and grit and tory alike applauded the speaker as he portrayed the beneficient results which are to recreate and reconstitute the late Boer republics into prosperous and happy British colonies. Mr. Wright dealt with the contrast between his experiences during the past few weeks and those of the preceding four or five years in New Eng- | Selling Agent were strongly anti-British, and since the war began as strongly pro-Boer. He drew a cheering picture of the Dutch colonists of South Africa under the benign sway of the imperial gov-ernment when peace shall be estab-lished, and prophesied that the next generation there would bless the na-tion which had redeemed them from the barbarisms of that oligarchy which, under the false colors of the term "republic," had brought such dire distress and the calamities of war upon their fathers of our own day. Hearty cheers were then given for the Queen, Lord Roberts and the Canthe queen, Lord Roberts and the Can-adian contingents, and to the inspir-ing strains of The British Grenadiers, the band, troops and people marched away to the square behind the station, where a royal salute was fired, and where a royal salute was inred, and with renewed cheers and singing, the crowds wended their way homeward. Regret was expressed at the absence of Judge Wedderburn, who was ex-pected to preside and speak at the public meeting in front of the Court House. He had been there while the parade was gone to the village, but the air being very chilly, and his health not robust, he found it impossible to remain.

A most noticeable feature of the occasion was the presence of almost every child in the community who was able to walk many of too tender years to comprehend what the demonstra-tion meant, but who in later years will bless the parents who permitted them to be unconscious participants in the celebration of those epoch-making events which characterize the closing year of the nineteenth century. Many friends of the liberal government here are asking what the powers that be can mean by importing such a class of people as those which passed in through on their way westward on Sunday last. A dirtier, more unkempt or barbarous locking crowd could not be gathered up from the Kaffir kraals of South Africa ... It is doubtless a good thing for Gallicia to be rid of such a disreputable looking horde, but the people here are asking whence the government received a mandate to cleanse the augean stables of Europe and dump the loathsome mass upon the fair fields of Canada. Workmen have commenced repairs upon the interior of the Methodist church. The dentals which mark the position of the wall plate are to be aken out, and the spaces between the rafters, which now form the six arches of the roof, are to be covered with sheathing, oil finished, and the walls kalsomined a delicate tint. The work will cccupy about two weeks, and service will be held in the Baptist BENTON NEWS. BENTON, Carleton Co., June 9 .- A very happy event took place at the residence of Charles Furrow, Inches's Ridge, last Wednesday afternoon, when his daughter, Jane, took as partner for life Charles Henry Wright of Dickenson's Field, The couple were made one by Rev. C. N. Barton, and will reside at Dickenson's Field. The community was shocked las week by the news of the sudden and untin ely death of Mrs. Charles Wright of Benton, at the comparatively early age of fifty-eight. The day she died she had eaten her dinner as usual and at five o'clock was a corpse. She leaves a family of five sons and four laughters. The funeral was attended by Rev. C. N. Barton. The four-months-old son of William Anderson died very suddenly last week. The Baptist church here is being repaired. When the news of the capture of Pretcria reached here on Tuesday, the victory was celebrated right loyally by the residents. A company have sent prospectors here to explore the lumber lands of Eel River, with the intention of erecting a pulp mill should the cruise be successful. Laurier Announces Composition. of the Ballot Fraud Commission.

Out of One Hundred and Forty-six Officers Who Received War Commissions, Only Five Were from New Brunswick-Divided on Strict Party Lines.

OTTAWA, June 4.-When the orders of the day were called, Sir Wilfrid Laurier read the order in council respecting the judicial commission for investigating ballot frauds. The order sets forth that charges have been made as to substitution of ballots and other frauds committed by returning officers and others, before, after and during the election of 1898, and that it is desirable to investigate these char-

Accordingly, Chief Justice Sir Alexander Boyd, Judge Falconbridge of the Ontario high court, and Judge Mc-Tavish of the Cntario county court, are appointed to hold such an investigation. They are authorized to hold an enquiry in any case wherein the facts before them furnish reasonable grounds for such inquiry.

The commissioners are given power to appoint two counsel, learned in the law, to assist in the investigation, and also to engage reporters and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers.

The commission is authorized to go farther back than the election of 1898. The court is to proceed with all due despatch and to report to the minister of justice at the completion of each branch of the inquiry. The judges may at the conclusion of the investigation recommend any legislation they may deem feasible to prevent ballot frauds in future,

Sir Charles Tupper asked that the order in council be printed, observing that he might tomorrow, after reading it, be able to offer some suggestions which would make the enquiry more effective.

The premier agreed to this.

The hard fought bill for the incor poration of the Canada National Railway company, being the company which proposes to build the line from Toronto to Collingwood, was read a second time in the house today. Mr. Clarke moved the house back into con:mittee to incorporate the expropriation clause. This was rejected after a sharp debate, by a vote of 47 to 38.

Hon. Mr. Blair stated that $1,906 had been paid in compensation for the loss of Dewar's mill property at Barry river.

that 146 officers have received commissions in the force sent to Africa from Canada. Of these five were from New Brunswick, six from Nova Scotia and three from Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Ellis asked whether it was the intention to fill vacancies Africa by promoting officers now serving in the ranks in Africa, or to send officers from Canada. The government replied that the matter was in the hands of Lord Reberts.

ne time he hoped that the enquiry uld not ctop there, but should cover he whole ground and take up all ases. Whether supporters of either arty had been guilty, both parties ad or should have a common interest party had been guilty, both preserving the purity of the ballot. And speaking for the party he led, Sir Charles said he hoped that the enquiry would not be closed until all frauds included in its scope had been exposed and al offenders, no matter what party they worked for, had been punished. Sir Wiffrid Laurier was pleased to find Sir Charles satisfied with the personnel and scope of the inquiry. Sir Charles-"Yes, so far as it goes."

As to the suggestions of the opposition leader, Sir Wilfrid promised to convey them to the minister of justice, who had charge of the matter. The premier would, however, say that he did not think it well to suggest to the commissioners what counsel they should employ, or in what order they should take up cases. It would be better to leave the latter in the hands of the judges and not interfere with them at all. Ample provision would be made to pay all expenses. He had known only Dr. Devlin in the Mr. Borden of Halifax made some matter. A sample furnished by Devsuggestions as to legislation that might lin when the goods were bought, was be required to give the commissioners tested by the government analysist and found to be the same in quality as the nec the necessary powers. BRITISH LUMBER MARKET.

(Timber Trades Journal, May 26.)

Sir Wilfrid Laurier told the house that the government had not offered any suggestions to the imperial government respecting the settlement of the Transvaal question.

Hen. Mr. Fielding's bill to amend the Bank act passed its third reading. When the house was moved into supply, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper moved a vote of censure on the government in respect to the schooner John C. Barr. This bcat, which belonged to the North American Transportation company, was entered for duty at Dawson at a valuation of ten thousand dollars, whereas she is said to be worth at least sixty thousand. Entered at that value and paying duty on that appraisement, the John C. Barr went into business on the Yukon as a Canadian boat in competition with vessels built in this country. The discussion was continued by Ministers Paterson and Davis, and Mr. Fraser on the government side, Dr. Montague, Mr. Borden and Clarke Wallace speaking on the opposition side. It was pointed out that the valuation was so absurdly low that the chief appraiser multiplied it by two and a half, raising it to $25,000, but that the vessel was not confiscated, nor was any further action taken to punish the fraud than the imposition of double rates for the additional valuation.

A division took place at 12.30, when the amendment was voted down by a vote of 43 to 22, a straight party vote The house then went into supply and adjourned at 1.30 a. m.

OTTAWA, June 5.-On the orders of the day, Sir Charles Tupper offered some remarks concerning the proposal of the premier about the royal commission to inquire into election frauds. Sir Charles said he has no fault to find with the personnel of the commission, nor as to the direction of the enquiry so far as its scope went. He would, however, suggest some additional ideas. · He suggested that the commission should not only inquire into the conduct of persons accused of manipulating hallots, but should enquire as to who engaged them to do this work and from what source they got their pay. Sir Charles also quoted Edward Blake to show that such an investigation as this could not be made effective withfrom prosecution. He also asked that rect report, but it was a considerable proper provision be made for the pay- success. ment of witnesses and their mainten ance. He proposed that the two counsel employed should be so selected that the opposition party would be able to give assistance to the enquiry. In view of the doubts expressed whether voters can testify as to how they voted, and in view of the importance of such testimony in an enquiry like this, Sir Charles hoped that the commission would be empowered to hear such evidence. He would also propose that the evidence taken before the privieges committee be placed at the disposal of the commissioners. Then he would suggest that as the West Huron and Brockville elections enquiry had begun and had made some progress, and as this commission grew out of be tested in the force at Kingston.

congratulate Mr. Casgrain on his course. He said that the feeling in the country was strongly in favor of the most stringent laws and the rigid enforcement of them against bribery and frauds in elections. Sir Charles would favor the punishment of bribery, both as to the giver and taker of bribes, who should be imprisoned without option of a fine.

After further discussion Mr. Cas grain proposed that the controverted elections act should be amended to give effect to the stringent clauses which he desired to embody in the election act. It was no use to provide for election inquiries when it was possible to "saw off" election protests. It was desirable to amend the law so that the abandonments of petitions by agreement between parties could not take place. He also proposed to follow the English custom by the appointment of a prosecuting officer, who should attend the trial of petitions and afterwards bring to justice all persons shown to have violated the law.

The election law was discussed all the evening. The clauses relating to P. E. Island were held over, as they appeared to be unworkable. . The clause providing the method of obtaining the provincial election list for federal purposes was found to be involved and complicated and was stood over, and several other sections were allowed to stand. On the clause relating to the acposit, Mr. Ingram, conservative, advocated the abolition of the deposit of $200 by candidates.

His view was supported by Mr. Puttee, labor-liberal, and Mr. Rogers, patron-liberal.

The house will probably be divided on this subject at the third reading, Mr. Ingram having given notice to that effect.

Mr. Casgrain proposed that in cities of ten thousand people the polls shall be open from seven in the morning. and that working men have precedence in voting; also that employers should be compelled to give their men time to vote without less of wages.

Some members suggested a half holiday, and after considerable discussion the clause was left to stand. Some progress was made with the bill and the house adjourned at 12.45. NOTES.

The town celebrated tonight for the third time the taking of Pretoria. The demonstration was not equal in noise out a clause indemnifying witnesses to the one which followed the incor-

> OTTAWA, June 6 .- A rather stormy afternoon was passed in the house over a question of the supply of emergency food for the soldiers in Africa. Mr. Monk, of Jacques Cartier, brought the matter up. He said he had information leading to the belief that a grave injustice had been done to the Canadian soldiers. He asked for investigation into, certain allegations made in the military Gazette, and supported by certain facts. It appeared that more than a year ago Dr. Devlin of Montreal brought to the attention of the militia department a concentrated and condensed food called Proteine, which the department caused to that was bought? Mr. Fitzpatrick refused to answer.

He added that the director general had recommended Dr. Devlin's food and that a contract was entered into for it. The solicitor was proceeding when Mr. Monk asked him to bring down the contract to which he referred.

Sir Charles Tupper appealed to the speaker, and after a stormy debate, Mr. Bain ruled that the papers be brought down at once.

After Mr. Fitzpatrick had proceeded further, Mr. Monk asked him if he would take the responsibility of saying that the food bought was the same as that tested at Kingston.

The solicitor replied, amid derisive cheers, that he would not be drawn out of his line of argument. Growing angry, he shook his fist across the house, shouting: "They dare not charge that an inferior article was substituted for the goods contracted for. They date not make that charge of criminal conduct."

Mr. Monk here interposed: "I may say to the honorable gentleman that I do intend to make just that charge. After hearing the statements of the ministers I am now convinced that there has been such substitution." Mr. Fitzpatrick-That is a brave act for a member to make such a charge here, surrounded as he is with immunity. I defy him to go outside the house and make such a charge against the firm which supplied the goods.

Mr. Monk said he did not even know what firm it was. He did not know who was the party, as the minister had withheld the contract. Mr. Fitzpatrick closed by repeating his challenge to Mr. Monk to go somewhere out doors and make his charges. When the dispute was going on about bringing down the papers, the solictor general lost his temper altogether and shouted that it was time to find out whether the majority was to be ruled by the minority.

This was cheered by the opposition, who reminded him that both sides must be ruled by the speaker.

As soon as Mr. Fitzpatrick took his seat. Sir Charles demanded the production of the contract and other papers.

Mr. Fitzpatrick objected and there was another uproar.

Speaker Bain finally ruled that the papers should be produced. Col. Borden then said there was no formal contract, only an offer and approval. He undertood to explain, but the opposition insisted that there should be no more discussion until the papers came. Peace was not restored until Colonel Borden sent the papers to the table, amid rousing opposition cheers.

Col. Tisdale resumed the discussion and was speaking when Mr. Monk rose to a point of order, stating that one paper was missing. Amid great laughter it was produced by Mr. Blair, who had taken a seat near Col. Borden and had the missing document in his possession.

The discussion was continued by

The till reducing the rate of interest where no contract was made, to five per cent., was read a second time. Senator Wood said that changes like this should not be made abruptly. Public opinion should be directed to the matter, and the people ought to know about a change that might affect existing contracts. Senator Power said that five per cent. today was more than six per cent. twenty years ago. Senator Perly said that interest laws were not much good. Money lenders in the west would continue to claim ten or twelve per cent.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 30 .-The centennial celebration was continued today and everything passed off without a hitch. This was students' day and was certainly a most interesting one, This morning a pro-cession, headed by the 71st Battalion band, marched from the college to the Opera House. The parade was made up much the same as that of yesterday, and contained the lieut. govercor, visiting delegates, aldermen, students and others. A big crowd followed the procession to the Opera the chair, and seated with nim on Hee admitted that in universal exhibition it was not usual to pay for space, but this was an exception Mr. Foster asked if the governmen knew this beforehand.

Hon. Mr. Fisher said he thought not until the invitation had been accepted Answering further questions, Mr. Fisher said Tarte was at the head of the organization.

Dr. Sprcul said the government had sent to Paris the most extravagant people in the country, including Perreault, whose waste of money at the centennial at Philadelphia was a scandal. and Mr. Tarte, who was a greater spender than Perrault. He asked what was the total expenditure to date.

Mr. Fisher said it was $175,900. The minister stated that when Tarte got to Paris he found the Canadian build ing unsatisfactory, and had spenf sev eral thousands more in decorations. Mr. Foster wanted to know whether Tarte had any limits fixed on his expenditure. Mr. Fisher said Tarte knew the tent of the vote, but being further questioned, explained that the $30,000 additional now asked was called for by a request from Tarte.

The minister was asked as to the truth of the cable report of Tarte's recent achievements on opening day, and said he had made no inquiries about it.

Mr. Foster-This is lofty indiffer ence

Mr. Davin gathered by questions that Canada had 20 officials at Paris. Dr. Montague said the waste money at this show was getting to be a scandal. We had already far exceeded the estimate and new demands came every day. It was a great mistake to place the affair in the hands of Tarte, whose recklessness in the use of public money was well known, and who was chiefly desirous of making a great personage of himself. The doctor thought that the government should have withdrawn from the fair when it was learned that space was charged for, and the whole affair was a money making fake. Mr. Bergeron asked whether Mr Tarte was keeping a house in Paris at the expense of the country. Hon. Mr. Fisher-He keeps a house, but I have not yet fixed his expenses. Mr. Bergeron-Then he spends what he likes.

Hon. Mr. Fisher-Yes. Mr. Davin made some fun of the laborate suite of men and women who had gone to Paris in Tarte's train. Hon. Mr. Fisher said he hoped the Paris exhibition would not cost more than three hundred thousand dollars.

The item passed, and further items were discussed until after two a. m., when the committee rose and the house adjourned.

NOTES.

The cost of commissions of investigation held by the government since 1896 have reached $94,000. This appears by a return obtained today by Mr. Foster. John A. Bowes, L. P. D. Tilley and

The stage was very prettily and ar- was most brautifully decorated and tistically decorated with potted plants, i draped with flags, bunting, flowers, sembly was seated, Chancellor Harrison called upon Mayor Beckwith.

His worship delivered an address of velcome, and before doing so he paid a fervent and sympathetic tribute to the memory of the late Dr. T. H. Rand. His worship then said that it gave him much pleasure to welcome on behalf of the city the assembly of dis-

the kindliest relations had always existed between the city and the college. |

All citizens welcome the guests on this occasion and wished the university a long and prosperous career. Chancellor Harrison replied to the address and thanked the citizens and the city corporation for the kindly and much appreciated interest which they had ever manifested in the university, and especially upon the present occasion.

Short speeches were then delivered universities, Rev. Dr. Hackett of Mc-Gill, Rev. Dr. deSoyres of St. John, A. W. Harris, president of the University of Maine; Dr. S. W. Dyde, Dr. W. W. Bailey of Brown University, Rev. T.

S. Macklem, provost of Trinity University of Toronto; Rev. Dr. Chase, president of Bates College, and others. All the gentlemen made most pleasing addresses and were listened to very attentively. At the conclusion of the meeting the delegates and others were entertained at luncheon at Windsor Hall by the city corporation. The function was a success in every way and reflected great credit upon the proprietor of the popular hostelry. His Lordship of Fredericton said grace, and after the menu had been fully discussed a short toast list was honored. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra furnished music for the occasion. This afternoon was occupied by the annual sports and tonight the students entertained the public at a concert in the Opera House. The building was filled to overflowing and the splendid programme was hearthy received. The annual sports were held upon the athletic grounds of the college, and attracted a large crowd of people. The events were fairly well contested, but did not call forth enthusiasm from the viz.: Standing broad jump, running broad jump, 220 yards dash, hop, step and jump, and hurdle race. E. Mac-Kenzie won the belt for the best all round athlete with twenty four points. Following is the list of events and

FREDERICTON, May 31.-The N. B. centennial celebration was brought to a close tonight by a conversazione given by the students at the college building. The function was a most brilliant one, there being present the lieutenant governor. Premier Emmerson and members of the government, distinguished delegates, and ladies and gentlemen from the city and elsewhere. The whole building

At the conclusion tion of the city itself. The city was | of the ceremony Chancellor and Mrs. greatly indebted to the university and | Harrison entertained the guests at a garden party.

The U. N. B. centennial celebration is over, and the premoters, of the scheme can certainly look back and congratulate themselves over the splendid way in which the whole thing has passed off. The clerk of the weather has been most unusually kind, and the bright sunshine and balmy weather has done much towards making the celebration the great success that it was. The old institution on the hill by Dr. Johnson of McGill and Dublin great boom from the ceremonies of the past few days, and great things may be expected before its next centennial has rolled around.

Visitors to the city during the various celebrations over victories which have perched on British arms during the present war have said that Fredericton is the most loyal city in the dominion. Perhaps the statement may be a little broad, but nevertheless Fredericton can keep pace with any of the cities within the empire. Scarcely had the statement that Pretoria had surrendered been bulletined when the city began to celebrate. Flags, bunting and national colors were flung to the breeze and citizens appeared in the streets in force. Mayor Beckwith immediately proclaimed a half holiday and business was practically suspended. The 71st band sppeared before the R. R. C. I. barracks this afternoon and played God Save the Queen and Soldiers of the Queen. An immense crowd gathered and gave three hearty cheers for Her Majesty, "Bobs," and officers and men in South Africa. The fife and drum band, playing national airs. paraded the streets in a buckboard wagon gaily decorated. Tonight the enthusiasm is unabated. Rockets, colored fires, crackers and cheering mobs crowd. Five records were broken, are in evidence everywhere, and the imperial spirit dominates everything.
