towards completion, and the day is not distant when this unique experiment will be presented to the world for protracted example, and it is to be hoped in every way that it will prove a success, and not the least of the reasons for the desire is, that Canada should have the credit and fame of first mover in this application of modern engineer-skill, since desire is, that Canada should have the credit and fame of first mover in this application of modern engineer-skill, since she is the first to risk money and credit in the undertaking. The engineers are Sir John Fowler and Sir Benjamin Baker the contractor who built that great work, Firth of Forth bridge. The Marine Railway has a subsidy of $175,000 a year from the Dominion Government for 25 years to meet ato some extent, uncertainties that can better be borne by the whole people, than by a few persons who risk so many inditions in any case. The Banker's Monthly commenting on this entermise, laments that the American people were prevented from undertaking souling $2,000,000 in pensions present and prospective, for pensions present and prospective, for pensions of Mr J. No Reciprocity

It is now definately known the attitude the American Government maintains toward Reciprocity with Canada in any form, except except one which will guarrantee to the Republic all the benefits with any disadvantages

But the Sherman bill did not seem to the inajority of the members to origin about what they wanted at a sufficiently fast rate. They want and openly declared to that effect, that the total amexation of the Dominion of Canada is the sole object of their diplomatic lives. When, last winter, a member of a Toronto paper wentsto Washington and was there pumped as to the probable desires of the Canadians regarding allegiance to the stars and stripes, and as to the best method in bringing it to pass, this identical course was fiinted at, if not by Me-Kinley, by one of the leaders in the matter. The Americans want Canada, they want to reap the benefit of our natural resources and finish the work of developing them that Canadians have started. Mr. Wiman has been william F. George and Patrick Hebert were appointed country valuators, by the Municipal Council. Those appointments were the result of a little "deal" amongst three of our leading councillors, who had each his little log rolling to do In that year Mr. Gallagher, who was a victualleri the town of Moneton, failed in business and at the next meeting of the Council, his dismissal became a live issue, as a mad hornet to turn him of Canada is the sole object of their diplomatic lives. When, last winter, a member of a Toronto paper went to was creditor for a "big critier" being as active as a mad hornet to turn him out. The lawyers were consulted. Mr. Emmerson gave a somewhat evaluation, the premises. Mr. Hanington advised that the Council had full power in the premises. Mr. Hanington advised that the Council had no power to displace him. As the Council did not pay nor offer to pay for either opinion, it is but fair to both of the above legal gentlemen to say, that they probably gave as much research alone probably payers. This friendly effort we cannot find something amongst trent to suit us, and send them some of our products in return. This friendly effort to increase trade between the West Indies and our Eastern Provinces is rivalled by an attempt to enlarge the trade between some of the Spanish East Indian Islands and the Western province of British Columbia. One swift, questioning glance from her brown eyes, and then the snowy lids drooped again, and the flush grew brighter in each crimson cheek. I tried to paint,' continued Victor, as he sought to read her shy, averted gaze, 'but my fingers had forgotton their art. Whenever I sat down at the painting I am to finish for the Academy, another face came between me and the canvas—a sweet face with a rare smile upon the innocent lips, and tender, brooding eyes—a face that is dearer and fairer to me than all the world beside. Look up, Agnes, and tell me that my love is not in vair.'

She lifted her eyes—those tender, wistful eyes—to his face, aud Victor was satisfied. In their expression he read the sweet answer that her lips could not frame into words, and the sun shone, and the birds sang a blessing on the lovers' betrothal.

They sat there in aghat charming orchard till the sun sank in the crimson west and the night wind began to moan, fitfully in the trees.

Points About Advertising.

Mr. John Wanamaker says: "1 never in my life used such a thing as a poster, or dodger, or hand bill. My plan for fifteen years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up with what I wanted, I would not give an advertisment in a news paper of 500 circulation for 5,000 dodgers or posters. If I wanted to sell cheap jewellery or run a gambling scheme I might use posters, but I would not insult decent reading public with handbills. The class of people who read such things are poor mater ial to look to for support in mer-chantile affairs. I deal directly with the publisher I say to bim, 'How long will you let me run a column of matter through your paper for $100 or $500? as the case may be. I let him do the figuring and if I think he is not trying to take more then his share I give him a copy. I lay aside the profits on a particular line of goods for advertising purposes.
