a Complete Outfit of Clothes, and Got Clean Away-Story of the Murder.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 30.-Edward and John Biddle, awaiting execution in the county jail for the murder of Grocer Thomas D. Kahney, of Mount Washington, overpowered the guards at 4 o'clock this morning, and escaped.

Both prisoners had been PROVIDED WITH SAWS with which they cut the bars in their cells and were ready at any moment to make an opening sufficiently large to pass through. The prisoners oc-cupied adjoining cells on the second They had evidently been preparing for escape for some time, and had assistance from the outside, as both were armed with revolvers. Shortly before 4 o'clock one of the Biddles called to James McGeary, who had charge of the outside gates, and asked for some cramp medicine in a hurry, saying his brother was dangerously sick. McGeary hastened to the cell with the medicine when John Biddle sprang through the opening in the cell and SHOT HIM. There were but three men on duty, and the third was on one of the up-per ranges. He was ordered down at the points of the revolvers, and the three guards were put in the dungeon. GOT THE KEYS.

The keys were taken from Keeper McGeary, and the two desperate pris-oners had a clear field. The only persons who witnessed the escape were prisoners who could not interfere or give an alarm. The Biddles went to the wardrobe, where the guards kept their clothing, and each PUT ON A NEW SUIT.

They then unlocked the outside gates and passed into the street.

The escape was not discovered until the daylight guards came on duty, at 6 o'clock. They were informed by prisoners where the night guards had but, and they were soon released from the dungeon and sent to the hospital.

THE MURDER. For several months preceding the Kahney murder, daring burglaries were of almost nightly occurrence. The police seemed powerless to prevent them. On the morning of April 12 last Mrs. Kahney was awakened by burg-lars and called to her husband, a cripple, who was sleeping in an adjoining room with one of his children. As he entered the door of his wife's room he was shot dead. The burglars then fled. THE ARREST. A few hours later Detective Fitzgerald and two officers surprised the Biddle brothers at their home. But before they were captured. Fitzgerald was killed, and Edward Biddle, who shot him, was dangerously wounded. Walter Dorman, another of the gang, and two women, Jessie Bodine and J. Dorman is still in jail awaiting sentence. The women were released.

NO CLUE TO THE FUGITIVES. The entire detective force is at work on the case, but up to 10 o'clock there was no clue as to the direction the murderers had taken The Biddle brothers are commonly reported to hail from St. Thomas,

Mrs. Soffel was the only person admitted to the jail since last Sunday. Yesterday afternoon she visited them during the warden's absence. Last evening she retired at 9 o'clock. She told her husband that she was going to visit a sister at McDonald, and that she would retire early so that she could get an early start. Warden Soffel was about the jail until after midnight. He retired to his own room, which is separate from Mrs. Soffel's, shortly before 1 o'clock. When he awoke this morning he asked for Mrs. Soffel and was informed that she was absent. Later, when the details of the escape became known, he telephoned to McDonald and was informed that Mrs. Soffel was not there. Soffel immediately made a frank con-

The Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking in support of a resolution against the legalization of marriage with a deceased wife's sister, drew a comparison between English and American morals. He denied that the moral law is as much observed in America as it is in England; divorce is far easier there than here, and he regarded the prevalence of divorce as a certain sign that the moral line in life has been lowered. Americans, he argued, were distinctly beneath Eng-

Such permission would bind neither the British Government to the discussion of terms or the initiation of any negotiations nor pledge the Dutch Government for the success of its self-

It is understood that Great Britain is awaiting the receipt of Lord Kitchener's views on this suggestion, plained in a statement made by Warden and is willing to grant the requested Peter K. Soffel. A majority of the London papers, while in nowise complaining of the Dutch action, treat it as hopeless because it is unauthorized. CHOSEN FROM

Sales Last Month.

Considering the large number of remedies for coughs and colds that are now offered to the public, and in view of the fact that nearly every druggist has a preparation of his own which he makes an effort to substitute for the medicine asked for, it seems truly remarkable that the demand for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine should increase by such leaps and bounds.

During October the sales of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine exceeded by several hundred bottles the record of any previous month In its history. When it is remembered that this preparation receives very little newspaper advertising the evidence seems to be conclusive that it makes its way by sheer force of merit.

Thinking people recognize the harmfulness and danger of using strong drugs which are said to cure a cold in a few hours. They prefer to cling to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, which they know beyond a treatment for coughs, colds, croup bronchitis, whooping cough, throat Irritation, asthma, and even consump-

The combination of linseed and turpentine, with half a dozen other ingredients of equal value for treating colds, in such proportion as they are found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, has proven to be a perfect protection against such developments as pneumonia, consumption, and serious lung troubles. You can with certainty rely on this preparation to afford prompt relief and perfect cure. Do you suppose that the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine would be more than three times that of any similar preparation if it was not the most effective remedy that money can buy? It has stood the test and proven itself worthy of the confidence that is placed in it. People recommend it one to another, and so the good news spreads. Presbyterian Church.

Session Expects Further Increase in Membership-Work of Church Organizations.

The annual meeting of the St. James' Presbyterian Church was held last night, and resulted in abundant evidence being given of its prosperity. It was not largely attended, but as the paster, Rev. A. J. McGillivray, said, this might be taken as an indication of the congregation's satisfaction with the work of the year, the members having learned by the printed report how the church affairs stood. Messrs. Gillean McLean and T. A.

Rowat were appointed chairman and secretary of the meeting respectively, and the former said, in speaking of the estimates for this year, that they would in all probability exceed last year's expenditures by over $870. They had 157 subscribers, and 13 more were estimated as the number of new subscribers who would be secured during the year. He suggested an advance in the subscriptions of the various subscribers in a certain proportion, which would leave the managers with a balance at the end of the year. Rev. Mr. McGillivray said that the total membership was 320, and in view of the average number of subscribers in other churches, he thought that between 225 and 250 subscribers should be secured, and various methods were proposed for increasing the subscriptions, although no action was taken. Messrs. H. M. Douglass, P. J. Thompson, B.A., and D. M. Cameron, three retiring managers, were reappointed for another term of three years in office, and Mr. J. McPherson was also appointed to the board. Messrs. S. Baker and John Drewe were appointed auditors, and the miscommittee, Messrs. Baker, Omond. Weir, Brown, McPherson, Tytler, Gray and Rev. Mr. Ballantyne, which was temporarily appointed last year, was re-elected for the year 1902. The managers will appoint the stewards and ushers.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the societies and officers who have worked during the year for the church's success.

The session reported that the attendance upon the services and the interest manifested abundantly justified the erection of their beautiful and commodious house of worship in the northern part of the city. An evidence of the interest in and need for the church was found in the fact that 165 persons had been added to the communion roll in less than two years, and they had every reason to believe that large accessions would mark the history of the church in the future as in the past. The report said further that the session rejoiced in the continued prosperston thanked the congregation for this ity of the Sababth school and in the ident, Mr. A. S. No Argument Needed. WOMEN HAVE

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot readily cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief. The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane. The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaicol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient

The manufacturers of the new catarrh Cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.
Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stu-

A WILD RIDE.

Their Cab Horses Dash Three Miles Along Elevated Track.

Fast Train Meeting Them Stopped by Telephone Just in the Nick of Time-The Drunken Driver Arrested.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—In a wild ride in a hack on the elevated tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Sunday evening three women narrowly escaped with their lives. Charles Spaulding, the driver, was arrested when the team was caught in front of on the elevated tracks for three miles. A dozen policemen with lanterns were compelled to fire several shots before Spaulding would halt. At the same time the Kenosha fast express was flagged to avoid a collision, and the crew and passengers were badly scared by the belief that train robbers were at work.

FUNERAL, THEN MAD RIDE. The occupants of the carriage were Mrs. Joseph Griffin, of 874 Montrose boulevard, with her daughter, Miss Alice Griffin, and Miss Kate Padden. The three women had attended a funeral at Forest Home during the afternoon, and were being driven home. Mrs. Grif-fin's husband is the owner of the Sunnyside livery, where the team belonged.

It was about 6 o'clock in the evening when Spaulding, who had taken a few drinks to fortify himself for the cold ride, drove the cab containing the women up the incline of a switch which runs from Diversey bouleveard to the main line of the Northwestern. Then Spaulding turned the horses north on the elevated structure, and before the women could protest whipped the animals to their highest speed, thinking, he said afterwards, that he could find a place to get back to the road before he would be discovered on the tracks. When he first turned on the switchway he said he believed that was a part of the road, and when he discovered the mistake did not have room enough to turn around.

WOMEN CRY: MAN LASHES HORSES.

When the carriage wheels began to jump from cross-tie to rail and back again the women became badly fright-ened, and cried to Spaulding to stop the horses. The man's answer was a crack of the whip. After a half mile had been passed the women began to scream for help, and in their efforts to open the window of the carriage broke the glass. Then their cries were heard, and the Sheffield avenue police were notified. The town hall police station only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a wagon to the tracks. Before the police could reach the crossing at Addison street and the railroad, however, the cab had passed.

The ironwork on the subway at the Addison street crossing caught the top of the carriage and held it for an instant. Seizing the opportunity, Mrs. Griffin and the two young women jumped. In another instant the driver had got clear of the obstruction and started north again.

Mrs. Griffin fainted as she struck the ground. Several persons who had been attracted by the screams of th ran to the scene, and Mrs. Griffin was carried to the residence of John Farare a household necessity in my famley, 549 Newport avenue. Later in the evening Mr. Griffin came in a carriage to remove her to her home, but the physicians would not allow her to be taken away.

FLAG TRAIN, STOP RUNAWAY. When the town hall police found they were unable to capture Spaulding the Summerdale police were notified, and a patrol wagon filled with policemen went on a run to the railroad station. for liabilities, $10,849 26-a total of When the wagon reached the tracks the light of the cab could be seen coming from the south. At the same time to view. "Run and flag that train," shouted Sergeant O'Halloran, of the Summerdale station, putting a lantern into the hands of one of the policemen. Then he, with other men, started to intercept the horses.

Spaulding showed no disposition to check the team, and Sergeant O'Halloran fired several shots from his re-volver almost in the animals' eyes. The team wavered, one of the horses fell to its knees, and the wild ride was ended. Just as the team was stopped the train that had been signaled came to a standstill only a few feet away. The engineer, who feared a holdup, said that he almost had decided to throw open the trottle and dash by the warning lantern. The train was delayed fifteen minutes while the carriage was lifted from the track and carried to the side of the road. Another train from the city also was stopped until the vehicle was taken down the switchway at Berwyn

Mr. Griffin said that Spaulding had been addicted to the morphine habit. He had been employed by him for three months. Spaulding was locked up on a temporary charge of "drunk and disorderly."

Cures Kidney Disease

Richard Elliot of London Praises Powley's Liquified Ozone.

Powley's Liquified Ozone cures kidney diseases by Nature's process, strengthens the system and drives out the impurities from the blood. It is a wonder worker; cures people who have been given up to die; people who will now tell you they owe their lives to its marvelous power to cure. We publish statements of Canadian people, men you can write to, who have been cured of Bright's disease of the kidneys by Powley's Liquified Ozone. They are all facts; we invite your investigation. Gentlemen:

For months past I have suffered with a bowel and kidney complaint, for which I tried many remedies in a vain effort to regain my health. I have used about three bottles of the new remedy, Ozone, and have been greatly benefited thereby. It is the finest remedy I have ever come I wish you much success with it and I can heartily endorse all you claim for it.

You have my permission to publish this.
(Signed) RICHARD ELLIOT,

DECADENCE OF THE CANADIAN GRANGES

Fresident Jabel Robinson Urges the Filling Up of Their Depleted Ranks.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—The Dominion Grange opened its annual meeting here yesterday. In his address to the members, the president, Jabel Robinson, M.P., deplored the fact that their ranks are thinner than they were twenty years ago, and that of over 1,000 granges organized in Canada only 76 are reported to be working. He contrasted this with the flourishing condition of the grange in the United States, where New York alone has over 60,000 members.

Mr. Robinson recommended agitation looking to the aboli-tion of the numbered ballot in Ontario elections, to the better pro-tection of cattle crossing railways, and to improvement in the railway drainage laws. Mr. Robinson expressed the view that the Dominion and Provincial Governments were doing intelligent work

The whole result of the purchase of the Booth system by Dr. Webb and his friends will be to consolidate, under the New York Central control, a railway connection between New York and Ottawa, and between the great lakes to Quebec, via the south shore of the St. Lawrence. Hon. James Sutherland Re-elected by Acclamation.

The handsome Court House Auditorlum at Woodstock was yesterday crowded to the doors, the occasion being the nomination, for the vacancy in North Oxford in the House of Commons, caused by the acceptance by Hon. James Sutherland, of the porttolio of Marine and Fisheries in the Dominion Government. No opposition being offered, at 2 p.m. sharp, Sheriff Brady declared the new Minister duly elected once more as Member of the Parliament of Canada. No one can tell in advance how the speaking at an after-meeting is going to turn out; but it is not often that the speaking is more successful than yesterday afternoon at Woodstock. Mr. C. S. Hyman, M. P., in a humorous and felicitous speech, conveyed the goodwill of London and Western Ontario; W. S. Calvert, M. P., Chief Dominion Whip, became at once a favorite with the audience; Wm. Gibson, ex-M. P., received a pleasant reception; timely words came from Andrew Pattullo, M. P. P .: Rev. Dr. McMullen and Mr. Stock. Archie Campbell, the hero of the recent fight in West York, interested the audience. Short but admirable speeches were made by Hugh Guthrie, M. P. for South Wellington, and Col. Thomson, M. P. for Haldimand. These young

But the speech of speeches was the beautiful oratorical effort-which needed apparently no effort-of Mr. Charles Marcil, M. P. for Bonaventure, Quebec Province. There may be one or two Canadian speakers who equal Mr. Marcil in oratorical charm, but we know of no Canadian speaker, whether he speaks in the language of France, or in the tongue of Shakespeare, who excels him when at his best, as he was at Woodstock.

It is needless to say the new Minister met with an extremely cordial and gratifying reception. To the mollifying influences of the happy occasion, Mr. Sutherland's opponents contributed, by avoiding all vexatious opposition to his formal re-election.

The new Minister gave an outline of the scope and importance of the interests committed to his charge as Minister of Marine and Fisheries. To this we shall refer in more detail in another

The Dominion Has Had a Prosperous Year.

That the year 1901 has been a prosperous year for Canada, requires no demonstration; but it may be interesting to see the sum worked out from the standpoint of the amount and the rewards of employment. The Labor Gazette thus summarizes the careful official reports for the entire Dominion for the whole year. It is unnecessary to point out the interest and value of such a bird's-eye review. There is nothing like getting at the facts; yet previous to the establishment of the Dominion Labor Bureau, and of the Labor Gazette, there was no adequate method either of collection or publication of the facts in relation to labor.

Says the Gazette: "Reviewing the situation as a whole, the month of December may be regarded as a fitting close to the year, which from an industrial point of view has been marked by substantial progress throughout. In the agriculture, duct during last year, being the profishing and lumbering industries the harvests have all but unparalleled any of previous years. In these industries it has been found possible to secure, in response to high rates of pay, a supply of labor adequate to the demand. In mining, there have been in- tentiaries show that they have been a dustrial difficulties in some quarters stimulus to good conduct on the part which occasioned temporary unem- of the convicts, and have had an excelployment to groups of men, but the lent effect upon discipline generally. output of some of the mines has been in excess of what it ever was, and that the average daily penitentiary there has not been a time when skilled workmen were obliged to lack employ- and rose to 1,447 in 1838-19, has been ment unless for self-imposed reasons. In manufactures the record has been the same. Failures of industrial enterprises of any standing have been practically unknown, while not a month has passed without the comment being general, that business premises were being enlarged, the staffs working overtime to keep up with existing orders, or more hands being taken on. Individual trades have shared equally in this prosperity. For the building trades, in particular, the year, in almost all parts of the Dominion, has been an exceptionally active one. The metal, engineering and ship-building trades have been scarcely less active. The printing and allied trades have been well, and at some periods exceptionally well employed. and there has been an equally healthy condition prevailing in many other trades, all which might be mentioned the end of the year, 147 were under 20 as pointing to the substantial nature ed, perhaps, of all, as an index of the year's production and the consequent general employment of the great 30 years, 5 for 25, 1 for 23, 1 for 22, 1 body of workers, has been the ex- for 21, 17 for 20, 1 for 18, 2 for 17, 2 for cessive business done by transporta- 16, 23 for 15, 22 for 14. "Present conditions point to a continuance during the winter season of the general prosperity of the year just closed, and there are marked indications of there being the usual activity in the spring."

Proposed Thinking Match.

Since the recent Liberal gains in Ontario, there has been a loud outcry in Opposition circles for a new deal in the management of the Conservative party. Writers in the Conservative newspapers are especially severe on their leaders. One of these, in the newspaper of the Opposition member for East York, asks:

"Is there no one to raise the standard for the people? What means this deathly silence? Let us think."

That is right. Start a thinking match, and invite the unreasoning critics of the Administration to enter the competition, and remain in it for a long time before they again essay to discuss public affairs. The trouble with them is that they talk before they think, and so make no impression on the country.

The Case of Young Norton.

While a certain sympathy may naturally enough go forth for a young man like Ransom Norton, who pleaded guilty to tampering with the municipal ballot box, and also for his very respectable friends and connections, it was impossible for the Police Magistrate to have done otherwise than he thought it his duty to do. Magistrate Love did not go either beyond his duty of beyond public opinion in his severe reprehension of the practice for which young Norton, an otherwise respectmen will be more heard of farther on. able and well-meaning young man, is to undergo a term of imprisonment. We believe the vast majority of the electors on each political side desire that elections, whether political or municipal, should be honestly conducted. Anything else should be regarded as intolerable. It is true there are "smart alecks" on both sides, thinking themselves quite clever, when they are simply silly, who appear to consider all things fair in war, and who talk glibly of "fight the devil with fire." But we repeat that the mass of the electorate on each side are both respectable and conscientious, and have no sympathy with either electoral trickery or corruption.

Our Convict Population.

The annual report of Hon. David

Mills, Minister of Justice, on the penitentiaries of the Dominion, contains much that is interesting to the public. Dealing with the operation of the ticket-of-leave acts, which have now been in operation for two years, the Minister points out that during the year ended June 30 last 199 tickets-of-leave were granted, of which 126 were given to convicts in penitentiaries, and the remaining 73 to prisoners confined in jails and other public prisons. This shows an increase of 54 on the total number of tickets issued in the previous year. Of these, one was canceled by the full remission of sentence, in order to enable the recipient to be taken to a foreign country for medical treatment; another was withdrawn because a prisoner declined to accept it; and a third was canceled for breach of its conditions. Returns received during the year show seven forfeitures for conviction of indictable offenses; four of which are chargeable to the year 1899-1900. Adding the three remaining forfeitures for conviction to the cancellation for breach of conditions of license above mentioned, there is a total of four licenses revoked for misconportion of 2.01 of the total number of licenses issued. The Minister of Justice is warranted in reaching the conclusion that the acts have proved successful from a reformatory point of view, while the reports from the peni-The report of the inspector shows population, which was 1,250 in 1894-95. reduced to 1,405. To the operation of the parole act during the past two years the check given to the gradual increase of population is credited.

There was only one escape from the penitentiaries last year. Indeed, there have been but eight escapes in the last seven years, and as in nearly every case the runaway was caught, returned, and duly punished, there does not seem to be much wisdom in anyone undergoing punishment running the risk of trying to get away. The number of convicts released on parole from the various penitentiaries last year was as Binder Twine Manufacturing at Kingston Penitentiary.

There is a reference in the report of Penitentiary Inspector Stewart in the last annual report of the Minister of Justice will no doubt give rise to some discussion both in and outside of the House of Commons. The inspector thus deals with the question of the binder twine production and sale at Kingston Penitentiary:

"The twine factory affords employment to about 40 convicts for whom it would be hard to find other work. From the date of its commencement its success has been rendered difficult by the persistent misrepresentation of our twine by a number of manufacturers and importers, whose efforts to obtain larger prices have been frustrated by its operation. The experience of the past season leads to the conclusion that the suggestions con tained in the resolution adopted by the House of Commons at its last session cannot be followed without loss sion cannot be followed without loss to the institution. It is with diffidence that I venture an opinion inconsistent with the wisdom of Parliament, but I respectfully submit that the suggestions referred to do not meet the ject in view. In practice, the large dealrs purchase their entire stock early in the spring, in order that their agents may dispose of it before harvesting begins. They are not likely to solicit and accept orders for stock that may or may not be available on July 1 following. Having purchased their stock they are not likely to compete for any larger lot of twine subsequently placed on the market. Again, few farmers purchase their twine before harvest approaches, when they are able to estimate the quantity required, and they are not interested efore that time. A compliance with the suggestions contained in the resolution makes twine available to farmers at a period in the year when they are not likely to purchase, and places a large quantity of twine on the market long after dealers have completed their The usages of the trade seem to require that the provisions of the resolushould be inverted-the stock on hand in the early spring being disposed of by tender, and the subsequent output of the factory held to meet orders from farmers.'

The system thus condemned was that unanimously agreed to by the House of Commons at its last session. Whether the House is prepared to change its views, in the light of practical experience, remains to be seen.

The Drinking Water "Cure." Of alleged "cures" for disease, or neans for prolonging human existence, ing. there seems to be no end. Here we have Dr. Wood telling a gathering of New York vegetarians that the great specific for preserving health and insuring longevity is-water. During the past year, Dr. Wood declared, he had taken about a gallon of distilled water every day, and the result was that he had become stronger, healthier, and more elastic and flexible in joint foot of the long hill running into Wiland muscle, although 62 years of age. than he has been since boyhood, and the chronicler says he demonstrated hill, a quarter of a mile long, with terhis flexibility by placing the palms of rific speed. At the bottom it jumped his hands flat upon the floor without into the Pennsylvania Railway station, carrying away the side of the depot bending his knees, and by standing on one foot and putting the other to his face. He said he had stood on a box eight inches in height and touched the floor with his fingers. The results, Dr. dealing force. Wood claimed, were produced by the powerful solvent properties of distilled water in removing from the system the deposits of lime and other earthy salts and other minerals which bring on premature hardening of the tissues. He pointed out that neither boiling nor filtering rendered impure water safe to ably die. use. Disease germs, he contended. bred with great rapidity in the best filters and pass through with the water. The only safe water to use for drinking and cooking is that purified by distillation. Here in London it is easy to get an abundance of good drinking water, for our source of supply is unequaled on the continent, but there is a trifle too much lime in it for the comfort of the consumer. We question, however, if many of our citizens could be prevailed upon to drink day in and day out a gallon of water, be it ever so pure.

In Great Britain, despite the big traffic that there is on the railways. there is much complaint of the rates charged to the public. Mr. K. B. Murray, secretary of the London Chamber of Commerce, says that the cheapening of inland freight is one of the pressing needs of the United Kingdom. At the Coronation of King Edward-Her White Satin Dress to Have a Trail Three Yards Long.

[Staff Correspondent Detroit News.] Washington, D.C., Jan. 30.-President Roosevelt has accepted an invitation, extended by Whitelaw Reid, for his daughter, Alice Roosevelt, to attend the coronation of King Edward, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reid. Miss Roosevelt will be presented at court. Her dress, it is said, will be of white satin with the regulation train three yards long.

From the schoolroom to the White House Miss Alice Roosevelt has passed in a few short months, an experience liable to turn a head older than that of a girl barely 18, but which has left her, so far, the same genuine, kindhearted girl her young friends have always known her to be-sweet, naive, and bubbling over with a fund of irrepressible spirits. Miss Roosevelt went to Washington last fall and invitations from the representative residents of the capital began to shower on her for all days and all hours-for luncheons, dinners, teas and dances. Fortunately, she loves society and revels in the attentions showered upon her, but, unfortunately, her health is not of the best, and many a regret has to be sent-and most sincere regrets they have been, for she would like to go to all the functions planned r her.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

School Text-Books the Subject of an Animated Debate-Mr. Whitney Said That Witnesses Gave False Testimony Before the Commission.

Toronto, Jan. 30 .- Quite unexpectedly an innocent-looking motion on yesterday's order paper at the legislature provoked the liveliest debate of the session thus far. It was a call from Col. Matheson for copies of the evidence taken before the royal commission on school text books, whose report was presented in 1898. The member for South Lanark made the present school books of the province and the conditions under which they were issued. Hon. Mr. Harcourt, minister of education, replied in a telling speech, fully custaining his reputation for alertness when his department is attacked. Mr. Whitney, in vigorous terms, made bold to say that it would be found that witnesses had given false evidence before the royal commission. This statement was earnestly challenged by the premier, who closed the discussion, and who quoted figures to show that our text-books were the cheapest on the continent.

Earlier in the afternoon Dr. Jes-sop's bill providing for a reconstitution of the Medical Council was referred to a special committee. The budget debate will be resumed today by Mr. Lucas, and it is expected to conclude by the middle of next week.

Orillia's victory dates back to 1885. The Caledonians won in 1882, Galt in 1889, and Lindsay won twice, in 1887 and 1898. All donians won in 1882, Galt in 1839, and Lindsay won twice, in 1897 and 1898. All three have been runners-up, Orillia filling that place twice, the first time as long ago as 1876. Dundas was the runner-up in 1894, and again in 1893. Southampton is the baby club of the lot, so far as the Outario Curling Association is concerned, being in for the first season. Southampton represents a strong group, including such old reliable clubs as Seaforth, St. Marys and Stratford. It takes good curling to win in that district.

WANT COLONIAL PRODUCTS. The British official reply to New Zealand, regarding army meat contracts, reveals the fact that a preference for colonial products, quality, price and time of delivery is equal, is now an accepted principle in the British war department. This is due largely to Mr. Chamberlain's intervention. The colonial secretary has insisted that this is the least Brit ain can do to show her appreciation of colonial support. It is understood the Canadian Government had no friction whatever with the war office regarding the Canadian share of the army contracts. The department was most sympathetic and co-operative. New York, Jan. 30.—The snow which began falling here yesterday morning continued through the night and to-day. Usually a heavy snow ties up or badly delays traffic in this city; but as this storm began in daylight the elevated and surface roads were able to keep their tracks clear, and practically all lines were running on schedule time. It was very thick on the bay, however, and the ships in the harbor moved very slowly.

There were 500 passengers on the ferry boat, of whom about 100 were women. The tug forged its way through the light woodwork that covers the ladies' cabin, and the women inside were panic-stricken. Their shrieks, combined with the crackling sound of the breaking timbers, quickly brought a number of the use for almost a century as a cure men passengers over to their side of for chills, fever and colds. After the pains left me I felt quite numb for a while, and a sensation like needles sticking in my arm and head. The pains were most terrible, and I got no relief till I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. Do the Dying Suffer Pain? People do not like to think of death;

it is an unpleasant subject, but it con-stantly obtrudes itself, and there has been much speculation as to whether mental or physical pain attends the final act. Observation teaches us that there is little pain of either kind in dying. Experience will come to us all one of these days, but it will come too late to benefit those who remain. It seems to be a kind provision of nature that, as we approach the dread event, our terrors diminsh, and the coward and hero die alike-fearless, indifferent, or resigned. As to physical pain, Dr. Edward H. Clarke, in "Visions," says: "The rule is that unconsciousness not pain, attends the final act. To the subject of it death is not more painful than birth. Painlessly we come; whence we know not. Painlessly go; whither we know not. Nature kindly provides an anaesthetic for the body when the spirit leaves it. Previous to that moment, and in preparation for it. respiration becomes feeble, generally slow and short, often accomplished by long inspirations, and short, sudden expirations, so that the blood is steadily less and less oxygenated. At the same time the heart acts with corresponding debility, producing a slow, feeble, and often irregular pulse. As this process goes on, the blood is not only driven to the head with diminished force and in less quantity, but what flows there is loaded more and more with carbonic acid gas, a powerful anaesthetic, the same as that derived from charcoal. Subject to its influence the nerve centers lose consciousness and sensibility, apparent sleep creeps over the system; then comes stupor and then the end."

 I find it on the lawn;
 Sometimes I find it (in your mind),
 That is, I find it gone.

 I find it in the hall;
 I find it tucked behind the screen,
- I find it not at all. I find it sometimes in the rear, And sometimes out in front; I always find, that ere I find, I find I have to hunt.

BEAUTIFUL SPECIMENS OF COP-PER.

Mr. J. H. Mr. F. E. Cooper, of Grand Forks, from whom Mr. Glass received this beautiful addiof mineral and geological specimens by mail, writes to say, that these samples are the results of the new converter, which the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Company of Grand Forks, B. C., have recently installed, and which was in course of construction when Mr. Glass visited the works in December. It is proving a great success. Heretofore the "matte" which this company has produced by the hundreds of they have been compelled to ship by rail to the United States, to be refined, thus involving tremendous expense now, by this new process, and right on the spot, where all their works are concentrated, they are able to reduce their product to a minimum. The company having proved without a doubt the genuine possibilities of the new converting plant other extensive mining and smelting companies of Canada will certainly introduce the same process, thus keeping within the borders of our own Dominion this most important industry of refining metals. An ocular demonstration can be had of the results of this new converter by visiting the store of Mr. Thomas Gillean, Richmond street, in whose window the beautiful specimens are on exhibition for a few days.

hard to describe. Her complaint was bronchitic asthma, of the kind that giver? keer; you gasping, coughing, choking for breath day and night. To one in this condition death would come almost as a blessing.
Speaking of her case, Mrs. Boyd

"Bronchitis is bad enough itsays: self, but together with asthma makes a frightful combination. I suffered from these diseases in all their intensity, and for long enough neven expected to be well.

"I was never free from feverishness, headache and gasping for breath, and night was the same as day. I was a burden to myself, a worse one to my friends. Of course I am quite well now, and it's how I was cured I want to tell you about. I cured myself in a very simple manner, simply by inhaling Catarrhozone for ten minutes every hour. That Catarrhozone is certainly a wonderful cure for Bronchitis and Asthma. I am not without experience, and when I say it is the most marvelous remedy ever produced I mean it. for I know I would not be alive today if I hadn't been fortunate enough to use it." The above statement ought to convince even the most skeptical of the merits of Catarrhozone, but any yet in doubt can write to Mrs. Boyd, at Leonardville, N. B., and see what she has to say. Capt. Dunlop, of Kingston, was cured, after long years of suffering by Catarrhozone, and will be pleased to tell his experience to any one who will write to him on the sub-

Woman and Courtship.

You have no idea how little men seem to realize what courtship means to a woman! To them it is merely a period It is reported that the C. P. R. will of waiting for the auspicious moment to arrive when the all-important question may be asked; but with a girl everything is different, and courtship at its best is, after all, a time of bitter-sweetness, in which hope and fear are freely mingled. For, however true and deep her love may be, she is powerless to ascertain if her feelings are reciprocated, and can only guess by a man's actions what her heart longs to know. So, naturally, a girl looks for The election of Mayor Campbell and and expects those countless little "nothings" which mark the difference between the lover and the friend. And yet many a man will argue to himself, "We've been friends for years, and why should my conduct alter because I have discovered I want to make my friend my wife?" But he knows very well that, though he can-not define the exact moment when friendship turned to love, there is, nevertheless, an unconscious feeling now in her presence that their relationship is not exactly what it used to be. There is a strange shyness—though no word of love may have been spoken -that makes conversation difficult between them. She, maybe, is diffident and blushing when he is about, and says just the things she doesn't mean to, in her very anxiety to hide both from him and the world the true state of her feelings. But whatever the circumstances are-and they vary in the case of every separate couple-in each and every instance a girl does expect some courting. The man who sits moodish and bored through an evening when she is pre-sent, and neglects the customary courtship usages, is certainly neither worthy Mrs. Boyd, of Leonardville, N.B.. Was the name of a lover nor the love of a good woman. If the prize is worth Stared in the Face for Months by having, it is worth winning, and every girl appreciates beyond even its fullest graphers are the smallest kindly action on the value the smallest kindly action on the part of the man she loves. It is so simple to send flowers, sweets and music, which all tell their own tale; What Mrs. Boyd suffered would be and, even if they arrive anonymously what girl ever yet failed to guess their

> Oh, yes, girls do want courting, and plenty of it, too. "Tis love that make the world go round," and even in these days, when the need of money makes women put their shoulders to the wheel, every man who really cares for a girl can do much to "ease for her life's weary burden" by a little kindness, a little thoughtfulness, and plenty

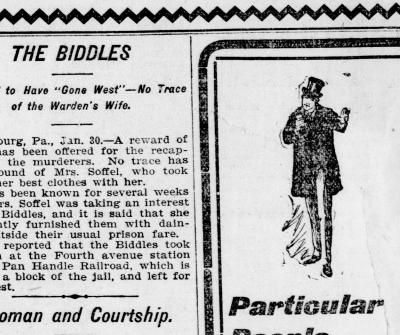

It is vain for any member of the sterner sex to urge the characteristics of the girl of the age as an excuse for his own delinquencies; for be the object of his love ever so independent, or self assertive, and proud, he may be sure that beneath that cold exterior there is the spirit and heart of a true, loving woman. And though, like Undine, her soul may sleep, it only waits for the burning touch of Cupid's magic wand to wake it into breathing, pulsing life. Courtship is just the time for Cupid to feel his feet, ere he claims his fullest prerogatives; and, to these who use it wisely, it should prove a gradual, mutual growing together of two souls, hovering on the confines of strange, new world into which they will one day step, to walk with en-chanted feet along life's rugged road.-Scottish America.

+0+0+0+000+0+0+0+ "If we were fighting for that fellow instead of young Lester, I'd just go to bed at once, and order my-self not to be called till after the poll." The practical man, young as he was, and new to the work, found his labor and new to the work, found his labor congenial—far, more congenial than he had found Sophocles and Newton. Ho was the only man on the blue side who could fight the invader with his own peculiar weapons on equal terms. He canvassed indefatigably, and not in too scrupulous a manner; he spoke often and well; and though, as an orator, he and well; and though, as an orator, he was rather apt to talk over the heads of his audience, he thereby gained no little reputation for himself. A mob is always rather flattered by having addressed to it what it does not quite understand. And then, too, he had the advantage over Prescott of being well up in all local allusions; and he had the prestige of having not only been born in all local allusions; and he had the prestige of having not only been born and bred in the place, but of having become an honor to it besides—a prestige that he and White worked to the uttermost. Perhaps, after all, the cry of "Lester for ever!" was only less loud because for the name of "Lester" was so ofter substituted that of "Warden."

Madam Clare was not slow to see how things were going, and she became not a little jealous. But she made him a welcome visitor at Earl's Dene whenever he had occasion to call there, and treated him as his merits and services deserved. Miss Raymond, too, who had deserved. Miss Raymond, too, who had caught the election fever in its most intense form—so much so as to become sometimes quite angry with her candisometimes quite angry with her candidate for not coming out so strongly as he ought—came to treat Warden as the hero of the hour; indeed, she heard his praises sung by all around her so often and so loudly that, being a very different sort of young lady from what Miss Clare had been, she quite got rid of the impression that he had somehow made upon her at their first meeting. It was true that he could not ride across countrue that he could not ride across country: but then he could talk, and even with more enthusiastic amazons than Alice Raymond the tongue of silver out-weighs the best hand that ever lay on weighs the best hand that ever lay on bridle, when its owner knows how to use it discreetly. As for Marie, she grew ten times more proud of him than ever, and took such warm though ignorant in-verest in all he did, that he would have been more than man had he not felt the eld chain renew itself in spite of everychain renew itself in spite of everything.

And then, too, in those exciting, harassing weeks, he needed rest sometimes, more especially as the life he was now leading was not well calculated to restore his nervous tone. And where should he find rest? At home? His father now talked nothing but politics, and Mr. Brown, of whom he had to see quite enough during the day, had now become a more frequent evening visitor than ever. At Earl's Dene? Nothing but politics there also; and besides, when he went there he had to exert himself and to sustain his reputation. Where, in fact, should he find rest but where he ought to find it—that is to say, with Marie?

Nor was he the only visitor at Mon-sieur Lefort's. He a nerally confined himself to calling there in the evening; but when he did change to go there in the daytime, he more han once found Hugh Lester neglecting his interest for a while to hear Mademoselle Angelique a while to hear madeline sense angenque sing.

This sounds but a sligit matter, nor did anyone concerned see any harm in it. To Marie it would have seemed the most natural thing possible had all the county crowded into the little room to hear the music that she held to be the most beautiful in the world; and, girl as she was, she was not che of those who cannot see two people together without at once leaping to extreme con-clusions. Monsieur Lefort did not trou-ble his head about it—he had other things clusions. Monsieur Lefort did not trouble his head about it—he had other things to think about it—he had other things to think about than such nonsense. Warden could not have seen any danger in it, or he would not rather have encouraged these visits of Lester's than otherwise, with a view to getting his candidate out of the way while he worked to better purpose without him. Lester, one may assume, did not; nor Angelique, one may hope, when one remembers the existence of Felix. What Madam Clare would have thought about it is another thing; but, fortunately for her repose of mind, her nephew did not include his visits to No. 23 in his daily journal of the progress of his canvass. He always had plenty to tell her without alluding to such a trifle.

But the result of it was that more and more he left Warden to bear the burden and heat of the day alone, and that the latter daily advanced in the trust and confidence of Earl's Dene. Miss Clare did not like him overmuch; but she trusted him and was grateful to him, and that, with her, meant something better than liking. At all events, if he was setting sail under false colors, it was with a fair and favorable wind.

PART V.—CHAPTER X.

PART V.-CHAPTER X. PART V.—CHAPTER X.

It must not be supposed, however, in spite of what has been said, that the comings in and goings out of so important a person as Hugh Lester were not closely observed by those to whom they were of no consequence at all. Nor must it be supposed that even so unapproachable a person as Madame Clare was by her greatness protected altogether from the insults of her enemies.

One day, when she and her guest were being driven by the family coachman in a dignified manner along the High street, a shabby fellow, conspicuously decorated with the popular colors of green and orange, tossed into her lap the following production of the popular muse, written on a scrap of paper as dignerated as the workers.

"take care tak care o maddom C—e & pra mor carfull Be for Denthrop Quean is not a erl nor a dean but No. 23

muse, written on a scrap of paper as disreputable as the marksman himself:

The first impluse of the great lady was, seeing the colors that the man wore, to throw it back contemptuously into the street unopened; but Miss Raymond, with a more popular tact, affected a curiosity to see it. "Will you not read it first?" she asked.
"It is sure to be some scurrility or other. No."

But she had hesitated; and so she did read it. Then she did not throw it into the street, but put it quietly into her pocket, dirty as it was.

"And may I not see it too?" asked Miss Raymond.

"No my dear: it is not fit for you to "No, my dear; it is not fit for you to

If Miss Clare had only known what was going on at No. 23 at that very Marie was generally in the room when Hugh called, but not always. She was not an idle person; she was her father's zealous and willing houhsekeeper, and the belidron's purpose and generally her statements. zealous and willing houhsekeeper, and the children's nurse and governess besides. If her cousin, who was at home for a holiday, had time and leisure to entertain visitors, she had not. She liked to see Hugh, with whom she had beer me very good friends; but duty had to eome before pleasure, and, as she liked to have her evenings free, for her husband's sake, she had always plenty to do in the day. On this occasion, whatever she might be doing, she was certainly not in the room, which was occupied by Hugh and Angelique only. The cupied by Hugh and Angelique only. The latter was sitting at the harpsichord, but was not playing, unless playing can be held to consist in striking an oc-casional chord, or playing scraps of imaginary tunes with one hand.

[To be Continued.] YEARS OF TORTURE

A Kingsville Man Has Had a Trying Experience-After Many Failures, He at Last Finds Relief and a Cure.

Heartburn is one of the most painful and dangerous forms of indigestion and is usually followed by chronic dyspepsia. But if nothing worse ever came after, heartburn is bad enough

Mr. John B. Tuckwell, of Kingsville, Ont., was for five years a victim of rtburn in its most distressing form. He tried every remedy he could hear of, but got no relief whatever till at last he got so bad that he could hardly stand it. He used soda, although he knew that in doing so he was seriously and permanently injuring his stomach, but the pain was so great that he could not even sleep. soda relieved him for a time and relief was welcome even if purchased at so high a price.

The alkali of the soda acts on the fermenting mass of undigested food and stops the fermentation for a time, but it is extremely injurious to the delicate tissues of the lining of the stomach and bowels, and should never be taken even as a last resort. Some months ago Mr. Tuckwell heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and began treatment of this medicine. the very beginning he found relief and so he was encouraged to keep on for a cure. He was not disappointed, for after a short treatment the symptoms began to disappear altogether and now he is free. He is thankful and takes every opportunity to recommend Dodd's Dyspepesia Tablets to those who suffer from stomach troubles.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured many long-standing cases of heartburn and sour stomach, and it is be-lieved that they will cure any ailment arising from a wrong condition of the stomach or digestive organs, such as biliousness, bloating, or headache. Even chronic dyspepsia yields easily to a persistent treatment of this splenmedicine. There are now 15 independent colored churches in Boston, where thirty years ago it was difficult to support

FIRST CHURCH CONGREGATION

Past Year Contained Much for Which It Is Grateful.

Evening Show Church To Be Progressive.

The sixty-ninth annual meeting of the Rev. W. J. Clark, took place in the lecture room of the church last night. There was a large attendance of members and adherents. The reports, which were printed by the various exceptionally heavy demands organizations in connection with the congregation showed the church to be in a prosperous condition. Among the more urgent necessities is an adequate Sunday school room and vestry. Efforts are being put forth towards the raising of funds for the erection of a suitable addition to the church for that purpose, and it is thought, that at no distant date, the First Presbyterian Church will be thoroughly equipped in this respect.

Mr. Lawrence Gibson read the session statement in which was mentioned the fact that during the past year (1901) there had been fifteen deaths in the congregation. Special reference was made to the death of Mrs. Robert Reid, sen., who had been a valued member of the church for over half a century. There have been 10 infant and 1 adult baptisms during the year. The session financial statement shows a balance on hand of $40 17. The response on the part of the congregation to the century fund has been a very generous one, over $760 having been paid into the century fund since the last report reat the annual meeting. sum of $5,629 85 has been remitted to Dr. Warden, the church treasurer, for the common fund; $100 of this has been contributed by the Sabbath school; $2,491 54 has been paid on the church debt, making a total raised of $8,101 39, a sum over $100 in excess of what was undertaken. The Sabbath school report was presented by Mr. J. I. Anderson. The average attendance of both teachers and pupils during the year just closed was exceptionally high, indicating that teachers and pupils had the welfare of the school at heart. The number enrolled during the year was 237, exclusive of visitors. The school is now composed of 21 classes, including the primary class. The total amount of collections raised by the Sabbath school was $266 07, which sum has been de-byterian Church. The report of the W. F. M. S., which was prepared by Mrs, John Cameron, was read by Mr, Cameron. The contributions have exceeded those of the previous year, in spite of the fact that, owing to inclement weather, the average attendance has been much lower than that of the previous year. The society has now a membership of 67. Increased interest in the meetings is being manifested, which is assured by the spirit in which work, in connection with providing for the needy in our Canadian Northwest, is performed. The total contribution for the year aggregated $252 12, of which sum $153 70 has been handed to the presbyterial treasurer.

There has been an increase in the amount of missionary contributions. During the year 1901, $871 63 was contributed, as opposed to $829 90 for the previous year. A lively interest was taken in the late Dr. Robertson's special Northwest mission fund. There in my studies.' was an understanding that the congregation contribute $500 annually for a period of three years, payable halfisters' salaries. The report of this Bryan, convener.

Miss Mabel Reid, read the report of the Victoria Mission Band; eleven kept for over three months, and put regular meetings had been held during the year, with an average attendance of seventeen. During the year the sum of $87 40 has been raised, which, after disbursements amounting to $23 51 had been deducted, was sent to the presbyterial treasurer. The Young Women's Mission Circle, according to the report read by Miss Isabel McPherson, the secretary, showed a membership of 41, with an average attendance of 22 members. Two bales of bedding and clothing were prepared, which were sent to Labrador and New Liskeard, near Lake Temiscaming. The total contributions for the year amounted to $145 18, which

"I know one dish I can prepare for breakfast as well as any cook on earth," said my husband one day when the cook was ill and he had volunteered to help get breakfast. He appeared with his dish and I discovered it was Grape-Nuts, which, of course, was easy to prepare, for it was perfectly cooked at the factory, but it was a good illustration of the convenience of having Grape-Nuts about.

We just added a little cream and, of course, had a delicious bit of food. We took up Grape-Nuts immediately after a hot country and our stomachs were | night. in bad condition, and we were in bad health generally. When we first tried it I confess we thought there were other and better things to eat, and we were told we must acquire a taste for this new food. Sure enough, in a day or two, we liked Grape-Nuts better than any other kind of food on the table. We both gained steadily in health and strength, and this was caused by Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee.

A friend of ours had a similar experience. She was seriously ill with indigestion and could find nothing to eat that would not give her heartburn and palpitation, especially at night. She found that a small dish Grape-Nuts with cream made her a satisfactory supper and gave her a comfortable night's rest. In a short

The officers of the Young Men's Debating Club for the ensuing year are: President, Rev. W. J. Clark; vice-president, W. C. Barron; secretary-treasurer, J. A. C. Roach. The object of the meeting is the promotion of the art of public speaking and the incul-cation of the rules of procedure.

The report of the Ladies' Aid So-ciety shows that organization to be in a very creditable condition as regards attendance and finances. The society comprises 36 members and 60 contributors. The receipts of the year were $252 32. Were $252 52.

The reports were all adopted. Rev.
W. J. Clark, who acted as chairman during the reading of the reports vacated the chair in behalf of Mr.

Fisher, chairman of the business managing committee where reports aging committee, whose report was The Annual Reports Presented Last received and adopted clause by clause.

The statement of the board of managers, presented by Mr. Arch. Macpherson, said that the receipts, with the aid of the anniversary service contributions, were sufficient to meet the the First Presbyterian Church, which the books an adverse balance of $244 73 is the twelfth during the pastorate of from the previous year, also $775 15 accumulated interest on mortgage, $360 for organ repairs, and other extra unavoidable outlays, and yet leave a balance of $41 44. The inability to reduce the church debt, owing to the money, left the former at $9,208 46. The total receipts for the year were $6,499 52, of which $4,718 41 was through envelopes, $585 58 in open collections, and $827 88 in anniversary service special collections. The receipts from envelopes increased $162 23 over the preceding year, showing no lack of faithfulness on the part of the givers by that means, but the managers urgently requested that those were indifferent in this regard should give as their means offered, and regularly. The managers made a number of recommendations. One hundred dollars was granted to the Sunday school, and the salary of Mr. E. G. Johnston, the caretaker, was fixed at $362. The grant of $300 to Chalmers Church was reduced $50, and a like reduction will be made each year until the grant is exhausted. The reduction was made with the consent of the Chalmers Church management, which has been receiving aid from both the First and Knox Churches for four years. The augmentation grant to the young congregation in the south end of the city has also been cut off.

The board of management for the ensuing year is composed of the fol-lowing members, namely, Messrs. Allen, Crombie, Shuttleworth, Sharp, Fisher and Drs. Arnott and Wood. Mr A, M. Hamilton was appointed treasurer and Messrs. Complin and Walter Simson were appointed auditors. The sum of $650 was set aside for choir purposes. The meeting closed with votes of thanks to the choir, ushers and other officers connected with the church. ONE OF THE BOYS.

Mother Rather Got the Start of Them

Sometimes the mother plays a turn on the young people and greatly to their benefit. A young lady in Memvoted to mission schemes of the Pres- phis, Tenn., Miss B. She says: "Every member of our family could write a testimonial about Postum Food Coffee and what it has done for us. Father has really been made over since quitting coffee and using Postum, but I must tell you about brother. "When he came home from college last summer he was thin and looked dreadfully. We questioned him about his food and drink. He said he drank coffee. 'Of course, I can't get along without a good cup of coffee three times a day.' Mother did not say anything to him, but made Postum for him just the same, and at the next meal he complimented her on the coffee. Several times he said, 'Now, if "You may depend upon it, the lesson was one he will never forget. My younger brother quit coffee about a year ago, and has been using Postum Food Coffee, and he has been built up from a regular invalid until he is now a fat, rosy-cheeked boy, full of life and fun. > NEWFOUNDLAND'S CONTRIBU-TION.

St. Johns, Nfld., Jan. 29.-The colonial government has undertaken to renew for the present year the French shore modus vivendi, which expired Dec. 31 last. Mr. Chamberlain, the British colonial secretary, wired the colonial government a request for this action, urging his desire to dispose of the Boer war before reviving negotiations with France respecting the Newfoundland shore.

The colonial cabinet, in acquiescing to Mr. Chamberlain's request, recorded the fact that it was done as the colony's contribution towards the solution of imperial problems in South Africa. Newfoundland being unable to send men there, takes this means of testifying her co-operation in the imperial policy, and is confident that the redress of her grievances will be next undertaken.
