"STAND FOR THE PEOPLE"—LLOYD GEORGE

U. S. CURRENCY BARRED FROM POSTOFFICES

Ottawa Issues Instruction for Refusal of All American Money.

FUNDS NOW DISCOUNTED

Orders Received and Put Into Effect in Local Office.

Latest instructions from the postal department at Ottawa to the London postoffice state that United States money must not be accepted on post-office accounts, and will be returned by the bank at the postmaster's risk. W. H. Skinner, deputy postmaster in London, pointed out that United States money orders consigned to Canada in the future will have to be discounted when they are cashed. He further stated that American money received will either be discounted or returned to the sender.

The latest bulletin from the capital brought out the fact that American currency is now at par in nearly every part of the Dominion, and is discounted at some points. In view of these facts to insure efficiency in all branches of the department it was thought wise to restrict the acceptance of American money. Postmasters are informed, however, that while the department cannot authorize the acceptance of United States money as legal currency in Canada, it may be taken at offices where it is accepted at par by the bank in which the postmaster deposits his surplus cash. The officials are reminded that this is a matter to be settled between the postmasters and the bank.

BELIEVE CURZON STILL TO BE FOREIGN SECRETARY

As Minister in New Cabinet Will Represent Britain at Turk Peace Conference.

London, England, Oct. 21.—It is generally accepted as definitely settled that Lord Curzon will remain secretary for foreign affairs in the new cabinet, and thus will represent Great Britain at the Turkish peace conference, for which he is continuing to arrange the preliminaries. While a plan for a formal exchange of views by representatives of Italy, France and Great Britain in London, as to the economic and financial clauses of the projected peace treaty have been practically abandoned, it is expected that the conference, these subjects will occur before the conference. There are many knotty problems along these lines confronting the negotiators.

The day is to be celebrated on a large scale in the capital.

Propose James Gray For Mayor's Chair

CITIZENS URGE MERCHANT TO SEEK ELECTION

Believe City Would Be Benefitted by Efficient Business Administration.

MAY PROVE 'DARK HORSE'

Suggested Candidate Refuses Statement on Issue at Present Time.

Declaring that it is time for the inauguration of a "more businesslike administration" as they term it, in civic affairs, representative citizens are urging that James Gray stand as a mayoralty candidate at the coming election. Subsequently questioned as to whether he would accept the nomination, Mr. Gray did not care to discuss the question publicly at this time, however. He was perfectly frank, however, and admitted that he had been approached upon the matter. It was suggested that Mr. Gray's proposed candidature give ample assurance that they will exert every effort, they say, "to impress upon Mr. Gray the necessity for a man of his caliber at the head of civic affairs in 1923."

It has been known in civic circles for more than a week past that a group of citizens had been quietly casting about for a suitable candidate who had never been a candidate for municipal office, and it was frankly admitted that a "dark horse" was under consideration.

Not until Saturday morning, however, was any official intimation given as to who the candidate would be if he were willing to allow his name to go before the ratepayers on December 4 next.

WILL HOLD MATINEE DOG SHOW THANKSGIVING DAY

London Canine Association Completes Plans At Regular Meeting.

The London Canine Association have completed plans for a matinee dog show to be held in the dog building at the Western Fair grounds Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 6, from 2 to 6 p.m.

Secretary W. E. J. Potts stated Friday that it would be a "Ribbon Show," and all dog owners in the city are asked to enter their dogs.

There was much enthusiasm at the meeting Friday, and it was decided to offer special prizes for puppies.

Red, six months. From present indications officers of the association expect a large and successful show.

BELIEVES PUBLIC SHOULD VOTE ON CITY HALL SITE

Lt.-Col. W. G. Coles Wants Expression of Opinion On Federal Square Proposition.

Should the new city hall be constructed on the Spencer block or on the federal square? Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles contends that the ratepayers should be allowed an opportunity at the next civic election to state their wishes in this respect.

As the member of the city council, ten years ago, when the present site was purchased, and when the federal square was obtained, Col. Coles is reluctant to see the federal square abandoned without adequate consideration.

He maintains, however, that the new municipal buildings should be constructed in 1923 some place, but questions where, and at what expense, temporary shelter will be sought for the offices, should construction be attempted on the Spencer Block.

Col. Coles holds that the people should be given a chance to vote upon a choice of sites, and fears that this would not be possible if the ballot goes to the people as already proposed by the mayor and councillors.

14,751,391 BUSHELS GRAIN IN STORE, BIG INCREASE

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—According to returns received at the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for the week ending Oct. 13, 1922, the quantity of grain in store shows a net increase of 14,751,391 bushels. Increases are as follows: Wheat, 11,679,127 bushels; oats, 1,824,739 bushels; barley, 553,343 bushels; flax, 253,983 bushels, and rye 444,199 bushels.

TRIALS OF MOVING DAY GO WITH PREMIER'S RESIGNATION

LLOYD GEORGE TO LEAVE DOWNING STREET.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—One of the privileges of a British prime minister is to issue an honors list when his government retires. Premier Lloyd George's awards, which nominally will be conferred by the King, probably will be made known next week, and all Britain is interested to see how he will treat his former followers who seceded.

Three members of the cabinet have official residences provided by the government. The premier lives in a gloomy old house, at No. 10 Downing street, where cabinet meetings are held and where the premier's secretariat, a relic of the war, which lately has been criticized because of the cost, entailed, occupies office buildings, erected in the garden during the war.

The chancellor of the exchequer has a house next door, while the first lord of the admiralty occupies a fine old habitation which forms a wing of the admiralty buildings.

The families of Mr. Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain and Baron Lee already have begun packing, to make way for new occupants. Mr. Lloyd George will retire to a country house he has just finished building, close to his favorite golf links at Chert, Hindhead, Surrey. The Chamberlains and Lees both own town houses in London.

Andrew Bonar Law, the premier designate, is a widower of considerable position, and no inclination toward fashionable society. His administration, therefore, doubtless will be uneventful, socially.

The premier also has at his disposal the magnificent country estate, Chequer's Court, presented to the government by Baron Lee last year as a country seat for premiers, but Mr. Bonar Law is not likely to be attracted by it.

FEAR SAND MAY RUIN NEW WELL

City Authorities Expect Second Drilling Will Have To Be Made.

From present indications it will be imperative for the Ohio well diggers to sink another well close to the one practically in a state of completion, near Egerton street, southeast London, according to civic officials Saturday.

The latter fact confirms that the drillers will never be able to clear the sand from the present well. T. O. Poe, general manager of the Ohio Well Drilling Company, of Massillon, Ohio, is expected to arrive in London Monday, when an official report to this effect is anticipated.

The water is there, the city authorities point out, the only difficulty encountered in drilling appears to be an unlimited quantity of sand. It will be necessary, they say, to sink another well in the immediate vicinity, with the hope that sand will not be encountered to such a degree.

The present well, about 90 feet in depth, was completed several weeks ago, and the drillers had been kept busy placing the casing to prevent possible cave-in. Then the removal of sand from the bottom was commenced, and this work has continued with but little show of success.

City officials state, until they can believe that further efforts along this line would be fruitless.

It is felt that in any event the city will be the gainer by an increased daily water output of from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 gallons, as there is every evidence, the experts assure, that water is there below the surface in vast quantities.

The civic waterworks authorities explain that the pumping of water containing sand in such quantities as is now apparent, would damage their pumping apparatus.

BRITISH CRISIS HITS GERMAN CURRENCY

Speculators Celebrate Lloyd George Retirement by Causing Marks to Slump.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—That international speculation celebrated the retirement of David Lloyd George by unloading German marks, is the conclusion reached by a majority of the financial writers. These writers are almost unanimous in averring that, for the time being those French elements which approve of Premier Poincaré's attitude of hostility toward Germany indisputably are victorious.

The more reserved critics avow that, whatever the new alignment in the European situation is to be forthcoming out of the present crisis in Great Britain, it is bound to exert an unfavorable influence on Germany's economic development, and also measurably retard the task of stabilizing the mark.

Berlin continues to go New York one better in battering down the mark. The dollar rate reached 3,900 marks in the trading after the close of the bourse yesterday.

The speculating frenzy goes on unabated. Yesterday there was a record attendance, and the trading resulted in such confusion that brokers were unable to accommodate their clients.

AMERICAN SHIP LEADS CANADIAN

Start Shows "Henry Ford" 100 Yards in Advance of "Bluenose."

Disregard Race Signal to Postpone Start Until 10:30 o'clock.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 21.—Henry Ford took a lead of 100 yards over the Canadian Bluenose at the start of the first international fisherman's race today. Both captains had disregarded the race committee's signal to postpone the start to 10:30 o'clock. The wind is very light.

At 10:10, with the Henry Ford enjoying a lead of a quarter of a mile, the judges sent out a recall, but both skippers kept on their course. The judges started after the schooners, evidently with the idea of letting the captains have their way of calling it a race. A motorboat was sent out to the Ford from one of the coast-guard cutters, but Captain Morrissey refused to return. At 10:30 both boats approached the first turn, running before the wind with their staysails scandalized. The Ford was well in the lead.

Close Co-operation in Civic Bodies, Keynote for 1923, Says Baker.

Close co-operation between the several civic bodies should be the keynote for 1923, urges City Clerk Sam Baker, who deplores that there has been certain friction in past years.

The city clerk also favors a more detailed consideration of the city's problems by the general mass of the ratepayers, but he declined to note that to date interest is indeed quickened among the electors. This is evidenced by the numerous daily requests for information respecting the new voters' list.

CANADA HEADS LIST OF BUTTER EATING NATIONS

Statistics Show Per Capita Consumption Is 27 Pounds Per Annum.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Canadian Press.—Canada comes first in a list of thirteen nations in the per capita consumption of butter, according to figures compiled by the United States department of agriculture, and made public today.

Each person in Canada is credited with consuming 27 pounds of butter a year, compared with 15 pounds in the United States. The latter nation comes tenth in the list. Sweden, Denmark, Great Britain, Italy, France, Switzerland and other nations whose production and consumption of butter is high, were listed in the department's new handbook of dairy statistics. Sweden leads in the consumption of milk, with 68 gallons given as the annual amount consumed by each person. Great Britain and Italy were lowest in milk consumption.

HIT BY CAR, FALLS 30 FEET TO DEATH

St. Catharines, Oct. 21.—While walking to work this morning, John Vidican, sixteen, employed on the Welland ship canal, was caught by a Niagara-St. Catharines and Toronto Railway car on a trestle, near Elwood, and crushed to death, falling thirty feet to instant death.

His father, John Vidican, resides at 1121 Erie street, Windsor.

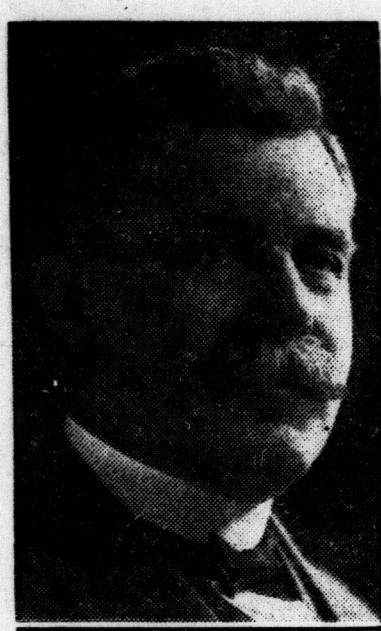

CLAIMS PROFIT WILL SHOW ONLY AFTER C. N. R. DEBT IS CANCELLED

CALGARY, Oct. 21.—Before the Canadian National Railways can ever hope to be in a position of showing a profit on operations, the huge accumulation of debt contracted in past years will have to be wiped out. In other words, the new board of directors must have a clean book to start with.

Such was the opinion expressed by E. R. Decary of Montreal, who, with several officials, paid a brief visit here yesterday.

Mr. Decary was inclined to look to the future with confidence, inasmuch as the operations of the Grand Trunk and Canadian National had shown marked improvement.

Urged To Run

JAMES GRAY.

MANY citizens are using every effort to persuade James Gray to become a candidate for the mayoralty in the coming civic election. Mr. Gray has not yet made a decision on the matter.

FIX SPEED LIMIT FOR AUTO BUSES

Interprovincial Road Conference Recommends Maximum Rate of 20 Miles.

Meeting Suggests Solutions for Many Traffic and Highway Problems.

Quebec, Oct. 21.—Matters pertaining to highways throughout Canada were thoroughly discussed and passed upon at the inter-provincial road conference at the Chateau Frontenac last night.

Among the most important resolutions unanimously adopted was the limiting of speed for automobile buses to 20 miles an hour, and the reciprocity of licenses concerning passenger cars.

Residents of Quebec now touring Ontario and vice versa will now be allowed a reciprocity of 90 days being required to take out a license for their cars from the government of the province of which they are traveling in, while thirty days will be allowed to residents of the states entering Canada. It is understood that this does not change the present tourist law.

Uniform regulations regarding vehicular traffic was left with the governments of the various provinces to deal with.

Regarding commercial vehicles the conference proposed that the governments reach a reciprocal arrangement governing all regulations provided the vehicles complied with the laws and speed of the province.

Automobile buses will be required to take out licenses in all provinces in which they operate, and as the speed for auto buses will soon be limited to 20 miles an hour, the proprietors of said buses will be required to furnish a tally and timetable of their movements before being issued a license by the government.

Some discussion arose as to the fixing of a weight for vehicles using the highways, and the consensus of opinion was that a weight limit should be fixed. The conference also favored one trailer or semi-trailer on the highway.

Restrict Loads. A restriction of loads and traffic during some season of the year while the roads are being frozen or thawed was also unanimously favored, as well as the inspection of and regulation of traffic for the safety to life and limb and for the preservation of the roads.

All provinces will have a uniform regulation regarding headlights on all types of cars. This will be two white lights on the front of the vehicle and one red lamp at the rear.

Another regulation urged with a view of public safety, was the control by the government of all "danger signs." The following representatives of the provincial governments were in attendance: Quebec—Hon. J. L. Perron, K.C., minister of roads; J. L. Boulanger, deputy minister; H. M. Nacker, chief engineer. Ontario—Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of highways; W. A. McLean, deputy minister; G. C. Parker, secretary highway department. Manitoba—A. McGillivray, chairman provincial good roads board.

BREAK WORLD'S GLIDING RECORD.

New Haven, Oct. 21.—In the gliding competition at Tiford Hill today G. R. Olley, in a Fokker biplane, broke the world's record for gliding with a passenger, remaining in the air 49 minutes.

RETIRED PREMIER MAY SEEK FULL CONFIDENCE OF BRITAIN AS LIBERAL AND FREE TRADER

Expected to Enter Political Fight With Backing of Huge Party Funds—Will Outline Future Policy at Leeds Tonight—Predict General Election Will Take Place November 18.

Leeds, Oct. 21.—(By the Associated Press).—Former Prime Minister Lloyd George, speaking at a great meeting of Coalition Liberals here this afternoon, declared the "banner of party strife" had been hoisted at the recent meeting of Conservatives at the Carlton Club, which voted against continuing the coalition.

"It is for the people of this country," he exclaimed, "to decide whether party comes first or the nation first. I stand for the people."

Mr. Lloyd George asserted that the combination which had achieved the victory in the late war had been brought to an end, not because it had ceased to serve the nation, but because a party was not getting enough out of it. He then launched into a vigorous defence of his administration in his usual picturesque language.

Lloyd George, the retiring prime minister, raised his voice this afternoon in a challenge from "out of the wilderness" against his political opponents. Mr. Lloyd George was greeted with loud applause as he took the platform to open his campaign.

The hall seats 3,000 persons, and more than twice that number applied for admission. With the ex-premier on the platform were Sir Hamar Greenwood, former chief secretary for Ireland; Charles McCurdy, ex-parliamentary secretary of the treasury, and some other members of the late government.

The Conservative party meeting for the election of Mr. Lloyd George as leader will be held Monday afternoon at the Hotel Cecil, the Carlton Club not affording enough room to accommodate the prospective attendance. This meeting will be followed, according to the best information, by announcement of the dissolution of parliament either Monday night or Tuesday.

Predict Election. Expectation continues generally that the polling will take place Nov. 18, and it is believed the reconstitution of parliament can meet by Nov. 28.

As ratification of the Irish treaty is no longer a contentious matter, it is believed it can be disposed of within the specified time, and Parliament is likely to rise for its Christmas recess early in December.

If the Conservatives come into power as a result of the election, their policy will, it is declared, not be to aim so much at legislative achievements as to concentrate upon "sound administration and economy."

Among the chief features of the foreign policy will be the maintenance and strengthening of the entente with France and a recasting of the British near eastern policy. The future attitude of Austen Chamberlain and his followers who voted for the coalition, is much debated.

The leaders of this group met privately last night and discussed the prospects, but different versions of the decision taken at the meeting are given by the political writers on the morning newspapers. One of these is that the coalitionists will accept the inevitable and join the Conservatives, and there is reason to believe this course will surely be followed by some of them.

Form Separate Group. Another statement is that Chamberlain and his followers will form a separate group, inspired by a spirit of benevolent independence from the main Conservative party, which they will not directly oppose in the elections, and with which they may cooperate to a certain extent afterward.

The Times' political correspondent says that when it comes to parliamentary action there is scarcely a doubt that the two sections of the party will be in complete agreement and that the apparent split will be small.

This view is not favored by the more extreme Tories, who say the coalitionists have indeed "gone into the wilderness," and will wander there some time in political oblivion. The supposition that they will join the predicted center party under Mr. Lloyd George, is now rejected almost everywhere.

Several of the political writers this morning agree that the center party idea has been completely abandoned, and that Lloyd George will make his appeal to the country when the election campaign begins as a pure Liberal and free trader, strong on economy and favoring the League of Nations. He is credited with having at his disposal the coalition Liberal machine, whose funds, according to the Daily Mail, amount to nearly £3,000,000.

Speaks at Leeds. Mr. Lloyd George's speech at Leeds tonight is awaited with an interest comparable to that before his Manchester address, for it is felt that much of the whole political future depends upon how he holds that "sword," which he declared he had taken in hand when he left London.

Meanwhile former Premier Asquith maintains silence, and the intention of his followers among the Liberals are unknown.

He is reported to be preparing a message to the nation, but its contents are not known.

CLAIMS SULTAN TREATIES VOID

Kemalist Ministry of Finance Announces Cancellation of Agreements from March, 1920.

French Financiers Surprised When Loans Considered Nullified.

London, England, Oct. 21.—The Times Constantinople correspondent says that French financial circles there are painfully surprised by a communication to the Ottoman public administration and the Ottoman bank of a note from the Ankara government embodying a statement issued recently by the Turkish Nationalist ministry of finance to the effect that all conventions, treaties, contracts and decrees promulgated by the government of the sultan since March 16, 1920, are regarded by the Kemalists as null and void. March 16, 1920, is the day on which allied occupation of Constantinople became effective.

Alluding to the period subsequent to March, 1920, the note, according to the correspondent, says: "Loans arranged by the Constantinople government and advances connected with such loans and all financial affairs concluded or about to be concluded by it are considered ineffective."

The correspondent recalls that large sums have been advanced to the Constantinople government in the last two years, and intimates that such repudiation of these debts is likely to cause embarrassment. He describes the financial plight of Constantinople as "worse than ever."

WANT WARSHIPS RETURNED. Constantinople demands of the Nationalist peace demands of the Nationalists, Hamid Bey, the Kemalist representative, told the Associated Press yesterday, would be restitution to Turkey for the three battleships ordered in England and confiscated at the outbreak of hostilities. Two of the ships, the Agincourt and the Erin, now are part of the British fleet. The third was never finished.

Hamid said that Turkey had paid 95 per cent of the cost of these ships. Restitution for the Goeben and the Turgut Reis, which were captured by the British, would also form part of the Turkish demands.

KEMALISTS WAR WEARY. Chanak, Oct. 21.—Reports have been received from the interior of Turkey in Kemal regions behind the lines, that the Turkish soldiers are war-weary, and desire to return to their homes, this being especially so among the men whose families have recently been under Greek occupation.

Seven mutinous Turkish leaders now are imprisoned at Ezine as part of the scheme of the Kemalist government to restore civil order and discipline in Western Anatolia.

EFFORT MADE TO RESTORE FLAG SHIP "VICTORY"
London, Oct. 21.—Canadian Press Cable.—Today, the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar, an appeal headed "Save the Victory" is issued by Sir F. C. Doveson-Sturdee as president of the Society for Nautical Research. The appeal is for funds to "save this noble ship, and to restore her to her former condition at Trafalgar when she was Nelson's flagship."

CARMEN SCORES GREAT TRIUMPH

Delighted Audience At Grand Applauds Work of Ada Paggi.

Madame De Lys Will Wear Latest Paris Creations in "La Tosca."

In the "Carmen" of last night, with Ada Paggi in the stellar role, the De Leo Opera Company sustained the brilliant success of their previous performances at the Grand Opera House.

To begin with, the company had the incentive which comes with a full house, and an audience eagerly confident of their ability.

Madame Paggi's laurels have already been won, and as far as London is concerned she is accorded the prestige of an old-established favorite, although her appearance last night was but her third in the city.

She vested her role of Carmen with so much dramatic fire and vivacity that from the commencement to the tragedy of the final scene, tribute was paid her of an almost awed admiration.

Madame Paggi does not appear in today's performance, and it is with regret that London bids her farewell. The greatest single triumph of the evening was achieved by Richard Bonelli, who came here particularly to play the role of Escamillo. His voice is powerful yet melodious, and his Torador song so brilliant, so convincing, and so full of charm and virility that a vigorous demand for an encore was but a natural result and had it been possible, Bonelli would have been brought back many times to render again the thrilling number.

Particularly beautiful and stirring was the song again as Escamillo advances toward the smuggler's camp. Just as Paggi endowed her role with brilliancy and magnetism, so was the role of the Torador colored with a picturesque glamor and swagging pride, which bore ample evidence of Bonelli's dramatic skill.

Marie Cassellotti was a second artist who appeared last night for the first time, and although she lacked the depth and intensity of Paggi and Bonelli, yet her voice was remarkably clear and sweet, and at all times full of the pure charm which accompanies the role of Micaela.

Carlos Milhau did excellently with the role of Don Jose.

It is interesting to note that Edith de Lys, who received so warm a reception in the opening performance of "Aida," appears tonight in the title role of "La Tosca," and is supported by G. Martire in the role of Cavar Adrossi and Alfredo Ganfoni in the role of Scarpia.

Madame de Lys' costumes for tonight are new Parisian creations, designed especially for her—O. H.

FAVORS EX-ALD. WILSON AS LABOR'S CANDIDATE

There is a move afoot, it was reported Friday night, among certain of the electors to have ex-Ald. William Wilson endorsed as a Labor candidate in Ward 2 at the coming civic election.

Discussing the question, Fred Young, a prominent union man, and one-time delegate to the trades and labor council, expressed the opinion that the suggestion would be well received.

"I have talked with several today just on that matter," he explained, "and they all seemed favorably impressed with Mr. Wilson's attitude at the citizens' mass meeting at the Labor Temple Thursday night, when he came out publicly and supported Ald. H. B. Ashplant on the annexed school issue."

Former Kaiser Signs Name 'William II.' At Civil Betrothal Ceremony At Doorn

DOORN, Oct. 20.—The civil betrothal ceremony of Ex-Emperor William and the Princess Reuss, took place this morning in the drawing-room of the castle here, now occupied by the former emperor of Germany.

The ex-ruler was in high good humor, as he, signing the document, signed his name, "William II." The bride did not appear, but sent a power of attorney, Baron Schimmel Pennik, burgomaster of Doorn, accompanied by the secretary of commerce, entered the drawing-room and presided over the formality with great dignity. Germany's fallen ruler affixed his signature with all due solemnity in the presence of many of those prominent in his own entourage, including the court marshal.

In accordance with Dutch law, the betrothal notice will be posted on the communal notice board at the municipal building, where it must remain for a full fortnight, proclaiming the bans of marriage.

WANTS MRS. SMITH AS COMMISSIONER

Ontario Girl Guides Executive Recommends Her Appointment to Succeed Mrs. Betts.

Two London members of the executive of the Ontario Provincial Council of Girl Guides were signally honored this week at the meeting of the executive, held by courtesy of the Toronto council in their headquarters in Bloor street, Toronto, on Thursday. Following the expressions of deep regret over the resignation of the provincial commissioner, Mrs. F. P. Betts, the executive was unanimous in decision to recommend Mrs. H. D. Warren, Canadian commissioner, and the Canadian Council, the appointment of Mrs. E. B. Smith, assistant commissioner, to succeed Mrs. Betts.

The resignation of Mrs. Harmon E. Westland from the office of corresponding secretary was also respectfully accepted. Miss Beth Pennington of London, who has rendered outstanding service to the guide movement in Ontario, through editing and publishing the official organ, The Bulletin, an idea that originated with herself, was asked to accept the corresponding secretaryship, and associated with the office, a new one, that of organizing secretary for Ontario. "A badge of merit" will be presented to Mrs. Betts before she takes a contemplated trip abroad, in slight recognition of the invaluable work she has done in shaping up guide work in the province during her term as first commissioner.

A "thanks badge" was voted to Miss Pennington for running The Bulletin.

Urge Annual Camp. In connection with the subject of training for officers, the establishment of an annual training camp on a permanent basis was approved.

A resolution went from the meeting to the Canadian headquarters, requesting the Canadian Council to appoint a representative to the Ontario council, to take the place of Mrs. H. E. Westland. Mrs. W. R. Lang of Toronto, who has recently returned from England, gave a glowing account of a great guide conference held in Cambridge, at which 52 nationalities were represented.

Mrs. E. A. Hardy of Toronto was appointed representative to the Canadian Council, to take the place of Mrs. H. E. Westland. Mrs. W. R. Lang of Toronto, who has recently returned from England, gave a glowing account of a great guide conference held in Cambridge, at which 52 nationalities were represented.

Announcement was made of a guide calendar which Mrs. Betts is preparing, with the assistance of Miss Dorothy Davis. The executive pledged itself to bring the matter before the various associations in the province, with a view to pushing the sales for the benefit of guide activities.

An invitation was accepted to hold the next quarterly meeting in Hamilton in January. The council was entertained at tea at the Toronto headquarters at the close of the session by Mrs. F. W. Marlowe, Toronto commissioner.

Men of the British navy must enlist for a period of twelve years.

ADJUDGE WOMEN UNFIT TO STAND TRIAL FOR MURDER

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Annie Oigbam and Mrs. Julia Currie, against whom indictments of murder stand, were both declared unfit for trial, on account of insanity by juries, before Chief Justice Meredith in the assizes today. The women were then returned to the hospital for insane where they have been under observation for some time. The two hearings occupied slightly over an hour, during which time the courtroom rang with shouts and cries of Mrs. Oigbam, who had to be restrained by a police matron and the sheriff's officer. In each case the women were charged with the murder of infant children in their own homes.

PLAN FOR FINANCIAL CONTROL OF GERMANY

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The French plan for the financial control of Germany, presented to the reparations commission by M. Barthou today, suggested the immediate creation of a committee of the world's leading businessmen to deal with Germany's capacity to pay, and to consider the question of the inter-allied debt. It would leave the final settlement of the question, however, to the proposed Brussels conference.

JAPS WILL WITHDRAW VLADIVOSTOK TROOPS

TOKIO, Oct. 20.—Terror reigns in Vladivostok as the completion of Japanese evacuation approaches, according to dispatches received here today.

Last night the city was plunged in darkness by the failure of the lighting plant. White guards roamed the city in the darkness, pillaging business houses and residences and holding up pedestrians.

On the outskirts of the town Japanese troops and Red forces of the advancing Far Eastern Republic army are reported to have clashed.

OLD RUGS MADE NEW
IN MODERN LAUNDRYBachelor Gets Socks Darned
Without Humps—Dye-
Pot Works Magic.

A collar just home from the laundry, say such a progressive and up-to-date institution as the Parisian Laundry of Ontario, is not merely a trifling article of attire to be tossed lightly about, selected or rejected at whim. It's something to be treated with respect, not to say reverence, even if it only took 3 1/2 cents to restore it to the owner, immaculate, starched to just the right degree, properly folded, spaced to hold a tie, and glass-smooth as to silk. A collar, in whatever class it may come, garden variety or creation de luxe, undergoes 21 distinct processes from the time it arrives with the laundry until it is ready for the "family gathering" prior to being bundled up to go home.

All next week, from Monday, Oct. 23, to Saturday, 28, the public will be privileged to see how its collars are washed and ironed, its curtains and rugs, sweaters and fur coats are cleaned, and old rooms made new through the modern dyeing processes for rugs, drapes and other furnishings. The Parisian Laundry of Ontario, Limited, is observing National Laundry Week in Canada and the United States by keeping "open house" daily from 10 to 5, Monday to Saturday, during which time all who are interested will be conducted through the plant at Dundas street by thoroughly informed guides.

Visit Aida S. C. H.

A feature which will very specially appeal is the fact that an educational trip will mean not only an interesting experience, but helping along the good cause of the War Memorial Children's Hospital. For every adult who visits the laundry in the hours announced on the days announced 10 cents will be given by the company to the War Memorial Children's Hospital.

Delighted with the prospect of such a generous gift for the War Memorial Children's Hospital, the War Memorial Children's Hospital committee, under the convener of Mrs. Arthur H. Smith, has arranged to have groups of hostesses from the committee and affiliated societies on duty each forenoon and afternoon to receive and look after registration, in order that not a single dime may be lost.

The privileged press, enjoying a preliminary peep on Friday forenoon, discovered a number of surprising things about the Parisian Laundry, one of 20,000 in Canada and the United States, that will be open for inspection next week.

The old conception of a laundry was a place where clothes were properly soaked in soap and water, bleached, starched, if they were that kind of articles, mangled or ironed (frequently mangled). In the Parisian Laundry visitors of next week will discover emphasis placed on dry cleaning, pressing, dyeing, making the baby carriage fur rug look like new, effectually routing moths in furs, rich draperies, rugs and garments, then some more emphasis placed on washing soiled household linen, personal attire, etc., with the minimum of friction, and ironing by caressing steam pressure, with the exception of a finishing brush up with the iron.

If, in spite of all the tender care lavished, a break will appear, then quickly, dexterity, with the aid of the most progressive machinery, an almost invisible patch is matched in. If it happens to be "His Hostery" the bachelor man will never dream of the ineffable skill of the darning machine which flashed back and forth, neatly weaving in the broken strands once more.

"Why get married when you can have your socks darned without a bump?" is the pertinent question which makes a bachelor visitor will doubtless ask himself.

Leopard Changes Spots.
Londoners will be stylish. That was the meaning of a shiny, rich, black velvet rug, hung up to dry, for an impressively large room. "If your old rugs will not fit into your new ideas of decoration, why get them dyed," said the manager, in-chief, waving his hand to a pile of rugs and draperies awaiting the process.

"But my rug is green, and I want a blue," sighed a woman of the press. And then the amazing revelation came that the leopard can at last change its spots, or next thing to it, can be reincarnated as a heavenly blue. You don't ask any more in fear and trembling, "What color will it take?" You invoke the genius of the modern laundry. He strips the old color out, or gets back to a basic color, and, lo, the green comes out of the wizard's pot, a soul-satisfying blue! All the rest, even to the story of the famous laundry for testing processes, with servants available to all the laundries comprising the National Laundrymen's Association, will be heard and seen by visitors during National Laundry Week, with 10 cents for every adult visitor from the treasury of the Parisian Laundry of Ontario to the War Memorial Children's Hospital.

REALIZE NEED OF INSTRUCTION

A request from the London Council of Girl Guides will go to the provincial, asking that arrangements be made, if possible, for instructors to train guides and guides for first-class work. Decision with regard to this step was made at the first meeting of the autumn of the London council presided over on Friday by the commissioner, Mrs. C. H. Hill.

The question was discussed of adequate instruction in signalling, and Mrs. Hill was asked to make arrangements for an instructor for the local companies.

Interesting discussion took place with regard to badges, led by Miss Stella Macklin, convener, and Miss Mary Moore.

Deep regret was expressed over the fact that Mrs. P. P. Better, former commissioner, is severing her connection with the local association.

Amongst those present at the meeting were Mrs. Hill, Miss Macklin, Miss Moore, Miss Helen D'Avignon, Mrs. C. H. Somerville, Mrs. Fred White, Mrs. George Ellis and Miss Louise Duffield. Miss D'Avignon announced a Halloween party which the Y. W. C. A. guides will hold next week.

The bride looked charming in her gown of white georgette, with a veil of tulle, trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss M. McCracken acted as bridesmaid, and was gown in white satin and georgette, and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. Donations Flood Civic Center,
Carload Speeds On Way To North

Sympathy for the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario on the part of the citizens of London has literally "tidal wave" in donations sent in during the past week to the civic headquarters at 539 Richmond street. After the three great lorries had left on Friday with enough goods to fill a whole car, Mrs. A. T. Edwards, convener, and her assistants, were weary enough to throw up their hands and entreat a merciful breathing spell.

The car, northward bound from London, contains furniture of every description, two sewing machines, a couple of stoves, twelve bedsteads with mattresses and springs, a dining-room set complete, two good sofas, great quantities of men's, women's and children's warm clothing, and thousands of pairs of boots and shoes for people of all sizes. It was unnecessary to spend money for new shoes, so many in good repair were donated.

The money voted by the council, and donations sent in, have been spent by Mrs. Edwards for warm caps for men and boys, cap sets for girls, bedding, groceries, condensed milk, junket, etc., with special attention to the needs of the very young children in the way of food. Further donations of money will go for food for children.

Dale was the guest of honor also at a tea given at the home of Miss May Caldwell, Tecumseh avenue.

Miss Dora Bradish, who is leaving the services of the Bank of Montreal, Market Square branch, was presented Friday by the members of the staff with a silver basket and tray. The presentation, which was made by the manager, Mr. G. F. Pearson, was suitably responded to by Miss Bradish.

In compliment to Miss Helen Ruse, a much-feted bride-to-be, Miss Anne Burgess entertained at her home in Stanley street on Friday evening, the guests showering the fair guest of honor with many useful and novel articles. Miss Pirie Holm, Wharfedale road north, is entertaining for Miss Ruse next Tuesday evening.

The annual chicken supper given by the Brick Street Methodist Church was a happy event of this week. The hall was attractive with flags and autumn foliage, and the long tables were decked with autumn flowers and unshaded candles. The Harmonic Quartet, assisted by Mrs. W. H. R. Smith, gave a charming program, which was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. J. E. Weir, Erie avenue, gave a kitchen shower Thursday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Helen Ruse, a bride-elect of the near future. Jack O'Lanterns, black cats and other Halloween decorations made gay the rooms where a merry evening was spent. A tea wagon decked with tulle bows and ribbons was wheeled in, laden with all manner of useful and attractive pans, pots, etc., for kitchen service. The table from which the tempting supper was served was covered with a cluny lace cloth, and centered with a coy Kowpie doll bride.

The FLAMING JEWEL

by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

©1922 GEORGE H. MORAN COMPANY

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Murder, tinged with a diabolical irony, appeared again in the history of the Flaming Jewel, that priceless gem first stolen from the COUNTESS OF ESTHONIA, by the great international thief, QUINTANA, and later stolen from Quintana by MIKE CLINCH.

In his cabin in the Adirondacks, Clinch was guarding the jewel against the open enmity of Quintana and the secret motive of JAMES DARRAGH, who, out of love for the countess, had sworn to restore the gem. Darragh is at Clinch's camp under the name of HAL SMITH, when Quintana captures EVE STRAYER, Clinch's beautiful step-daughter.

Eve escapes from Quintana after risking her life guarding a packet which she thought contained the Flaming Jewel, but which held nothing but two bars of chocolate. This false packet was seized by Quintana from EARL LEVERETT, a trap-thief, and Quintana in turn was robbed by Hal Smith. Clinch and his men have gone out to wipe out Quintana's gang.

Go On With the Story.

EPISODE SIX.

CHAPTER I.

MIKE CLINCH and his men "drove" Star Peak, and drew a blanket covert.

There was a new shanty atop, camp debris, plenty of signs of recent occupation everywhere—hot embers in which still smoldered, bottles odorless of claret, and an aluminum culinary outfit, unwashed, as though Quintana and his men had departed in haste.

Far in the still valley below, Mike Clinch squatted beside the runway he had chosen, a cocked rifle across his knees. And, as Clinch squatted there, murderously intent, ever the fixed obsession burned in his fever brain, stirring his thin lips to incessant muttering—a sort of soundless invocation, part chronicle, part prayer:

"O God, in your big, swell mansion up there, all has went contrary with me sense you let that there millionnaire Harrod, come into this here forest. . . He went and built up hisself an habitation, and he put up a wall of law all around me where I was earnin' a lawful livin' in 'Thy nice, clean wilderness. . . And now comes this here Quintana and robs my girlie. . . I promised her mother I'd make a lady of her little Eve. . . I loved my wife. . . Once she showed me a piece in the Bible—I ain't 'And the woman she fled into the wilderness where there was a place prepared for her of God.' . . That's what you wrote into your own Bible, O God! You can't go back on it. I see it."

"And now I wanta to ask, What place did you prepare for my Eve? What spot have you reference to? You didn't mean my 'Damp' did you? Why, Lord, that ain't no place for no lady. . . And now Quintana has went and robbed me of what I'd saved up for Eve. . . Does that go with Thee, O Lord? No, it don't. And it don't go with me, neither. I'm a-goin' to git them two minks that robbed my girlie—I am! . . . Jake Kloon, he done it in cahoots with Earl Leverett, and Quintana set 'em on."

A far crash in the forest stilled his twitching lips and stiffened every iron muscle. As he lifted his rifle, Sid Hone came into the glade.

"Yahoo! Yahoo!" he called. "Where be you, Mike?"

"Where be you, Mike?"

"TUNE UP," HE SAID. "TELL CLINCH YOUR STORY."

Clinch slowly rose, grasping his rifle, his small, gray eyes ablaze.

"Where's Quintana?" he demanded.

"Hain't you seen nobody?"

"No."

One by one the men who had driven Star Peak loped up in the red sunset, light gathering around Clinch and wiping the sweat from sun-reddened faces.

"Well," inquired Jim Hastings finally "do we quit, Mike, or do we still hunt in Drowned Valley?"

"Not me at night," remarked Blomgrens mildly.

"Not amongst them sink-holes," added Hone.

Suddenly Clinch turned and stared at him. Then the deadly light from his little eyes shone on the others one by one.

"Roy," he said, "I gotta get Quintana. I can't never sleep another wink till I get that man. Come on. Act up like gents all. Let's go."

The Hastings boys, young and rash, shuffled into the trail. Blomgrens hesitated, glanced askance at Clinch, and instantly made up his mind to take a chance with the sink-holes rather than with Clinch.

"God Almighty, Mike, what be you aimin' to do?" faltered Harvey.

"I'm aimin' to stop the inlet and outlet to Drowned Valley, Harvey. replied Clinch in his pleasant voice.

"God is a-goin' to deliver Quintana into my hands."

He licked his lips furtively, his cold, bright eyes fastened on Clinch.

"G'wan, Earl," nodded the latter, "heave her up."

"That's all I sez, 'Goodby, Jake. An' if you heed my warnin'—I'll gotten gains ain't a-goin' to prosper nobody.' That's what I said to Jake Kloon, the last solemn words I spoke to that there man now in his bloody grave."

"Hey," demanded Clinch.

"That's where Jake is," repeated Leverett. "Why, so help me, I want gone ten yards when bang goes a gun, and I see this here Quintana come outen the bush. I do, and walk up to Jake, and frisk him, and Jake still a-kickin' the moss to silvers. Yessir, that's what I seen."

"G'wan."

"Yessir. . . N'then Quintana, he shoved Jake into a sink-hole. Thas-wot I seen with my two eyes. Yessir. N'then Quintana he run off. I jist set down in the trail. I did: n'then Hal come up and acted like I had stole your packet."

The dusk in the forest had deepened so that the men's faces had become mere blotches of gray.

Smith said to Clinch, "That's his story, Mike. But I preferred he should tell it to you himself, so I brought him along. . . Did you drive Star Peak?"

"There wa'n't nothin' onto it," said Clinch, very softly. Then, of a sudden, his shadowy visage became contorted and he jerked up his rifle and threw a cartridge into the magazine.

"You dirty louse!" he roared at Leverett, "you was into this, too, a-robbin' my little Eve."

"Run!" yelled somebody, giving Leverett a violent shove into the woods.

In the darkness and confusion, Clinch shouldered his way out of the circle and fired at the crackling noise that marked Leverett's course—fired again, lower, and again as a distant crash revealed the frenzied flight of the trap-robbler. After he had fired a fourth shot, somebody struck up his rifle.

"Aw," said Jim Hastings, "that ain't no good. You act up like a kid, Mike. Tain't no far to Ghost Lake, n'then Troopers might hear you."

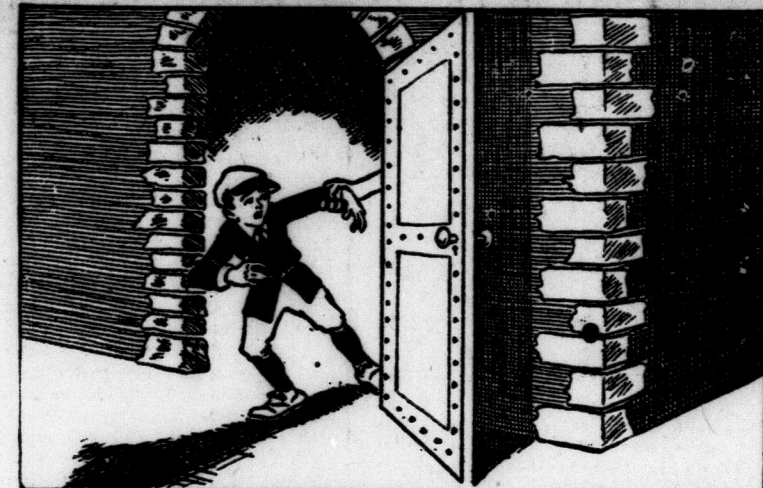

"After a silence, Clinch spoke, his voice heavy with reaction. "Into that there packet is my little girl's dower. It's all I got to give her. It's all she's got to make her a lady. I'll kill any man that robs her or that helps rob her. N'these fellas are a-goin' with me. N' I want you should go back to my Dump and look after my girlie while I'm gone."

"All right," said Smith, briefly. He added: "Look out for sinkholes, Mike."

Clinch tossed his heavy rifle to his shoulder. "Let's go," he said in his pleasant, misleading way. "and I'll shoot any fella that don't show up at roll call."

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES.

AFTER his two captors had shown him the huge tower, Jack was dragged inside. "Notice the strong doors this place has," said one of the men. "It is practically impossible for a person to escape from a place like this."

"All right. What next?"

"Then," continued Clinch. "I call-late to set down and wait."

"How long?"

"I don't know. All I know is that whatever is livin' in Drowned Valley at this hour has gotta live and die there. For it can't never live to come outen that there morass walkin' onto two legs like a real man."

CHAPTER II.

CLINCH had not taken a dozen strides before Hal Smith loomed up ahead in the rosy dusk, driving in Leverett before him.

An exclamation of fierce exultation burst from Clinch's thin lips as he flung out one arm, indicating Smith and his sinking prisoner.

"Who was that catamount that suspicious Hal? I wasn't worried none, neither. Hal's a gent, Mebbe he sticks up folks, too, but he's a gent. And gents is honest, or they ain't gents."

Smith came up at his easy, tireless gait, hustling Leverett along with prods from gun-butt or muzzle, as came handiest.

The prisoner turned a ghastly visage on Clinch, who ignored him.

"Got my packet, Hal?" he demanded.

Smith spoke Leverett with his rifle: "Tune up," he said, "tell Clinch your story."

"Jake done it," muttered Leverett, thickly.

"Done what?"

"Stole that there packet o' yours—whatever there was into it."

"Who put him up to it?"

"A fella called Quintana."

"What was there in it for Jake?" inquired Clinch pleasantly.

"Ten thousand."

"How about you?"

"I told 'em I wouldn't touch it. Then, they pulled their guns on me, and I was scared to equal."

"So that was the way?" asked Clinch in his even, reassuring voice.

Leverett's eyes traveled stealthily around the circle of men, then reverted to Clinch.

"I dassin't touch it," he said, "but I dassin't squeal. . . I was huntin' onto Drowned Valley when Jake meets up with me."

"I got the packet," he sez, 'and I'm a-goin' to double cross Quintana, I am, and beat it. Don't you wish you was whacks with me?'"

"No," sez I, 'honesty is my policy no matter what they tell about me. S'help me, I ain't never robbed no trap and I ain't no skin thief, whatever lies folks tell. . . All I ever done was run a little hooch, same's everybody."

"He licked his lips furtively, his cold, bright eyes fastened on Clinch.

"G'wan, Earl," nodded the latter, "heave her up."

"That's all I sez, 'Goodby, Jake. An' if you heed my warnin'—I'll gotten gains ain't a-goin' to prosper nobody.' That's what I said to Jake Kloon, the last solemn words I spoke to that there man now in his bloody grave."

THEN Jack was led upstairs to the multimillionaire's room. "It looks like you are in for it," said one of the men to Jack. "Old Man Ogrs has no use for people who come snooping around on his property."

Hair to Be Worn Straight This Autumn

HAIR, SHORT, AND UNCURLED, IS THE LATEST

DOROTHY DALTON ADOPTS THE NEW STRAIGHT BOBBED MODE

And now the solution; it's all very simple.

Nobody's going to curl the hair. They're going to leave it straight. They are going to depend on the natural gloss of a well-groomed head for the standard of chic and beauty. Of course, all the hair-dressers will be furious, but no doubt they will bear up under the blow.

The new coiffure for bobbed hair is the straight bob. It is very pleasing, and follows the lines of the head in a manner that is undeniably artistic. It will turn out at the ends naturally and smartly in most cases, as the short-bob, natural head-dressing does the photo above. The picture shows Dorothy Dalton, the Paramount motion picture star, in "The Siren Call," an Irvin Willat production, doing her hair in this newest and smartest bobbed mode. She is one of the first screen stars to adopt this sensible and attractive dressing sponsored by Paris.

Paris, for the long haired, designs the slick-back mode of wearing the hair, as shown in one of the sketches above. Dips and stray wisps of hair plastered cunningly and artfully against the cheek, are an added attraction. The hair is drawn back very tightly, and knotted low at the back—near the nape of the neck. This knotting of the hair there, gives a picturesque profile absent from the hair dressing modes for many years. It is pleasing and favorable to many women, and it is surprising it has not come back before.

All letters to Cynthia Grey must be written in ink, on one side of the sheet, and must be accompanied by real name of writer as well as a pen-name, with address in full, and sent care of The Advertiser.

OFFERS QUILT BLOCKS.
Dear Miss Grey,—Is there room for one more? I enjoy the letters so much, I just had to come. I thought maybe I could help the fund a little, so I am offering enough blocks for a quilt, all ready placed. They are about nine inches square. There are 64 altogether. Anyone wanting them may get them by sending 50 cents to Miss Grey, and postage, of course. I have an idea of sending our age in pennies to the S. C. H. Fund a good one, so I am including mine, but don't tell anyone how ancient I am. The quilt block is a good idea, but would mean a tremendous amount of work for someone. Won't take any more of your valuable space, but will come again if I may. Yours sincerely,
DOONSIDER.

Anyone wishing the blocks offered by Doonsider may have the same by sending the amount set by her for the quilt fund. Thank you for sending the sum equivalent to your age for our hospital fund. Yes, the quilt block will mean a lot of extra work for someone. Hope it won't be Cynthia. No, your pattern is a little different from mine, but if it is a good one would be quite acceptable.

MISSED HER LETTER.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wrote some time ago to explain that I received the suit from A Pest, and a nice useful parcel from Betty's mother. I also enclosed 35c for the cot. I have watched every day to see it in the paper, so I made up my mind to try again. Hoping I am more successful this time. Can you please tell me how to clean white blinds? Find enclosed mite for the cot. Your letter appeared in the Mail-Box some time ago, and in answer to it a Boxite has sent in this way of cleaning white blinds: Get some white paint and paint the blinds and they will be like new. This may also be done to a light colored blind. Thank you for the enclosed hospital mite.

longer), put in jars and seal. I have a pair of good boots, will fit a girl 12 years of age, if anybody wants them. My address is with Miss Grey. Enclosed find small mite for S. C. H.

A REAL DANE.
I am mailing you Ravenlock's address, so that you can write to her direct for the recitations. Thank you for the Danish recipe, which I am an excellent one. Any city dweller who would like the shoes offered by A Real Dane could get her address from the Mail-Box and call at her home for them.

A MACARON RECIPE.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am troubling you again. I am busy making a friendship quilt. I would be delighted to receive a twelve-inch square of white calico, with the sender's name and address worked with red marking cotton. My intentions are to work a large piece for the center, marked "Boxites." Don't you think this a novel idea? I will return the favor in any way possible. Here is a very easy and a very tasty way of making macarons: One pound of cocoa-nut, 1 tin condensed milk. Pour the milk over the coconut to such a consistency that you can form the mixture into pyramids on a buttered tin. Bake for a few minutes in a hot oven. Enclosed please find mite for S. C. H. fund.

MY LANCASHIRE LASSIE.

I am sure that you will be honored to think they are to be included on your friendship quilt. Thank you for the macaron recipe, which sounds very simple indeed. Thanks too for the enclosed mite. I was wondering where you had gone to, My Lancashire Lassie.

CYNTHIA GREY'S PUDDING.

Dear Mail-Box,—What would we do without the Mail-Box? We come to it with help and for help and advice, and seldom go away empty-handed.

I received a real good hint the other day, so will pass it on, as I tried it and found it good. To clean silverware put it in an aluminum kettle, and boil it in soda water. It cleans it like new. I don't know what the aluminum has to do with it, but one could experiment with other kinds. It takes the black out of all the creases in fancy silver. One would also have to use the baking soda according to quantity of water and silver.

I will send a Cynthia Grey pudding, which perhaps some of the new members may not have tried. Slice tart apples in the bottom of pudding dish, sweeten and add a sprinkle of spice. Make a batter of 1/2 teaspoon of soda dissolved in a cup of warm milk, a pinch of salt, tablespoon shortening, 1/2 cup sugar and flour enough to make batter. Beat well and pour over apples. Goes real nice with whipped cream.

I must quit now and get to Cinnamon Vine. Please send enclosed letter to Cinnamon Vine. Thanks, A Pest, for passing on the hint re cleaning silver, also for giving the Cynthia Grey pudding. Your letter has been forwarded to Cinnamon Vine.

ATTENTION, IRISH PADDY.

Dear Miss Grey,—It is a long time since I wrote to the Mail-Box. But I read your letters every day, and I am very much interested in your cozy corner. I see where Mystery wants the cucumber relish recipe that appeared in the paper last year. I sent one last year, but do not know if it is the one she wants. I saved it when it was printed and I am sending you the recipe in print. I was corresponding with Irish Paddy, but I have lost her address. If she sees this letter, I hope she will write. I wonder if any of the Boxites live near here? We have tourists from all over the world visiting around here in the summer. I just live about a block from the beach of Georgian Bay. It is beautiful here in summer, and no matter how hot the day, we usually get the grandest breeze off the bay. Isn't it fine the way the S. C. H. fund is growing? Here is a mite toward it. The last time I signed May, but I see someone has claimed that name, so will close, wishing you and the Boxites every success, and sign.

MAY FROM WARTON.

Cucumber Relish—One dozen cucumbers, 1 quart onions, 4/2 cups brown sugar, 1/2 cup mustard, 2/4 cups flour, 1 ounce curry powder, 1 ounce turmeric, 1 ounce celery seed, 3 pints vinegar. Peel cucumbers and slice with onions in salt over night. Bring sugar, vinegar and spices to a boil, add Cucumbers, onions and flour. Cook until soft. (Very nice.)

IT IS RATHER LATE FOR THE CUCUMBER RECIPE.

MOLLY DISLIKES FASHIONS.

Dear Miss Grey,—Our corner is becoming very useful and helpful of late. Sorry I can't help any in that line now as the ladies in our town have a social service committee and they take anything we can spare and have a cheap sale every month. Our church also sends a box to the west every autumn so that we haven't much surplus clothing left. I think it's just fine to pass along anything we can do without, and it may be just the thing some one else is needing. Our church ladies have just got out a cook book too, so for my part I would prefer to give a little once in a while direct, so I am enclosing my mite for S. C. H. fund. What do you all think of the new fashions? I for one hope the long trailing skirts will never come in fashion again. I think the short skirts were just fine, not too short, of course. But the long dangling earrings they are the limit. True, we are not compelled to wear them, but "my lan" o' love, we have to look at them pretty often and it's some punishment even to look at them. What say ye, Boxites? And the big sleeves—but words fail me—I must branch off to some other subject. Perhaps we could do

HAZEL EYES.

I saw some of your dolls at the Children's Hospital, and like every one else, fell in love with them. What a lovely idea to give dolls to the little children at Christmas. It would keep you quite busy dressing so many, but you will be repaid when you see how delighted the babies are with them. Here is a hair grower that was sent in to the Mail-Box, but as I never used it, I cannot tell you if it is effective or not: 7 ozs. bay rum, 9 ozs. witch hazel, 1 drop hydrochloric acid, 1 dram salt (common). Mix bay rum and witch hazel; add half oz. carbonate magnesia and shake well; filter, add salt and let it dissolve; add hydrochloric acid, which will clarify liquid. Apply, rubbing well into the scalp each night.

LOST HER SON, TOO.

Dear Miss Grey,—Please find enclosed $1 for S. C. H. fund in memory of our fallen son, my own included. Also one dime sent to me for music. I received a letter this week asking if I had more music at the same price. I have kindly publish the fact when it is in time for this news to go in the paper, and if they would state if a song, comic, secular or sacred is required, or a two-step. I will try and oblige. I have sent the third roll of music to Emma, for which I believe she sent a shin-plaster each time. I received three letters of appreciation. Surely God's hand is in providing this wonderful weather when fuel is scarce. I have had beautiful flowers this summer. Cosmos are in the lead now, and so lovely, mauve, white and crimson. I distribute them freely and next day the bushes are full of bloom again. I wish for success to attend all schemes for fund. Your page is very helpful and so interesting. I feel so disappointed when there are no letters. Sincerely yours,

TO PAINT LINOLEUM.

Dear Miss Grey,—We are taking The Advertiser and like it very much, and I think the letters are very helpful. Now I would like a little help. About a year ago a lady wrote telling about painting linoleum; that she would tell anyone wanting to know what to use. Am enclosing ten cents, and was pleased to get this information.

JUST AS I AM.

If the person who offered to tell about painting linoleum sees your letter I am sure she will let you know. I am unable to tell you the name of any special preparation to use, but if you go to a hardware store they will tell you what to get. Thank you for the enclosed mite for our hospital fund.

Well, I must close, and will remain as before, with best wishes to all.
MOLLY MAGUIRE
I think it is a splendid idea to form a social service committee in each town or village and in this way you do not overlap when helping the needy ones. Thank you for the enclosed hospital mite. So you don't like the long skirts Molly? Well, I am afraid they are hard to stay, whether we like them or not. The styles have changed entirely since the summer months, when we had the short dresses, flapper hats and bobbed hair. Now it is an entirely different young lady we see, with long draped skirts and sedate hats.

SAUCE FOR THE CAT.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have been quite interested reading the many letters, but its several years since I wrote the page. In my last letter I offered to correspond with a boxite wanting information about the north country. The funny part was that her father's and my address are the same. She visited him last Christmas, and we had several chats over the phone, but were unable to meet on account of the depth of snow (four feet on the level), and the day she was coming here it was snowing and blowing too much and oh, so cold! A boxite asked the way to prevent cats eating chickens. Tie the cat up and turn the hen on it. When she is through the hen won't like chickens any more. I have been told it's a sure cure.

When I wrote last I was Mother of Three Girls. Now I am

MOTHER OF FOUR GIRLS.

It was quite a coincidence that you should write to this boxite, wasn't it. Mother of Four Girls? I hope you aren't living near the district where the forest fires have been raging. I think the method of curing the cat of eating the chickens a rather harmless one, as the cat would not be able to defend itself. I am sure you don't love cats. So your babies are all girls. Thank you for the inclosures.

ATTENTION, CARROT TOP.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw Parrot's letter and she thinks I am in England. I did intend going, but I did not find it very convenient, so I am still in dear old London, Ont. Forgive me Parrot, but I will write you a nice letter when you see, I belong to the G. F. S. Club at our church and we are giving dolls to the children at Christmas in the new hospital. I have them to dress and I have over thirty to do. Some I bought from wigs on, others I have to buy hair and put it on. I have twenty-three finished, so you see I have been busy. There are not two dolls dressed alike. I do wish you could see them, Miss Grey, everyone thinks they are lovely. I know the children will like them. Carrot Top, write to me. Where, oh where is Carrot Top. Oh where, oh where can she be. Can you tell me what is good for falling hair? Mine is very bad. What do you think of my writing this time? Is it better? I will send you a donation for the cot next time I write. From

FINDS RAILWAY SHOULD NOT CUT EMPLOYEES' PAY

Report of Conciliation Board Submitted To Department of Labor.

AFFECTS 7,000 C. N. R. MEN

Declare Reduction Would Prevent Workers Supporting Families Properly.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—That a reduction in wages of clerks, freight-handlers, roundhouse, store, shop, station and other lesser-paid employees on the Canadian National Railways should not be made was the finding submitted to the department of labor this afternoon by the board of conciliation appointed last August to deal with the question.

The report is signed by the chairman, P. T. Costello, and H. S. Ross, K.C., representative of the employees, George D. Kelley, representative of the railways, did not concur in the finding, and will submit a minority report.

More than 7,000 employees of the Canadian National Lines in all parts of Canada are affected. The principal reason given for the decision was that any further reduction in wages of the classes under consideration would leave them without adequate means of supporting their families in a proper manner. The report stated that after full investigation of all available statistics it was believed that little or no reduction in the cost of living in Canada had occurred during the last year.

Another interesting point which had a direct bearing on the finding was that of the financial position of the National Lines. "The Canadian Northern and the Canadian Government Railways were not paying before they were amalgamated, and had to be taken over by the government because of large deficits," it is observed. "It should not be expected that these deficits would so soon be on a paying basis, and it should not be forgotten that these roads were built mainly for the purpose of opening up new territory, the development of which has been retarded on account of unfortunate conditions brought about by the war. These low-paid employees should not be asked to bear more than their share of a burden which should be carried by the country as a whole."

The necessity for hearty co-operation between the managements and employees of the system at this juncture is also strongly stressed, the report pointing out that the movement of grain and coal should not be hampered by industrial unrest. The proposed wages, it was said, tend to prevent this co-operation.

Beatty Flagship Lion Will Not Be Scrapped.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—It is understood that Earl Beatty's flagship Lion will not go to the scrap heap after all, that the admiralty has withdrawn the Lion from the list of battle-ships due to be scrapped as the outcome of the Washington conference.

It was announced on October 6 that the admiralty had found it impossible to accede to the desire expressed in many quarters that Admiral Beatty's flagship in the great war should be preserved. It was stated then that the cost of maintaining the Lion as a national relic would be very large.

He was first elected to the Ontario Legislature in 1874, and as a Conservative to the Dominion parliament in 1900, sitting for the old federal constituency of Center Wellington.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: John McGowan, Teeswater; Mrs. Margaret Johnston, Brampton; Mrs. Ben Broughton, Regina; Mrs. T. C. IRISH SITUATION IMPROVING DAILY

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—Richard Mulcahy, minister of defence, refused in the Dail Eireann today an appeal made to him by George Cavan Duffy for assurance that Irish prisoners would not be deported to St. Helena or some other place where the British navy would be required to prevent their escape.

Mr. Mulcahy refused also to name the place of deportation. William Cosgrave, president of the Dail Eireann, described the Irish military situation as "well in hand and improving daily."

"I have no doubt whatever as to the ultimate result," he declared. "All that is wanted is for the people to forget there is any interruption of normal conditions and get back to work."

Your best friend lives right here

CANADA is a rich market for the national advertiser when the daily newspaper is a vital part of his merchandising organization. It is a business graveyard for those who look far afield for miraculous help.

When your special salesmen, window dressers and sampling crews are building up sales in our trading area this month what possible effect has "national" circulation a thousand miles away on their effort, except to add the burden of wasted dollars to the product they sell.

With consistent intelligence you use this circulation to carry today's selected message today. If tonight's conference reveals tomorrow's big problem, tomorrow's newspaper will meet the task. This kind of advertising is not easy. It is not "publicity." It is controlled and directed merchandising force.

"The flexibility of newspaper advertising and the choice it presents of the amount, class and location of circulation enable the advertiser quickly to direct his campaign wherever and whenever it is most needed," says The Canadian Shredded Wheat Co., Ltd.

Your good product, intelligently merchandised with the help of the daily newspaper, will widen its market faster than production can keep pace with the increase.

All Are Delighted with Vicks

London Families Find It Wonderful For Cold Troubles

London people became acquainted last winter with Vicks VapoRub, the vaporizing salve for all cold troubles.

In the hundreds of homes where it has been tried, Vicks is already a standby for croup, children's colds, bronchitis, catarrh and various skin hurts and itchings.

Truly "The Remedy of 100 Uses"

Vicks, the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, is a combination in salve form of the old time-tries remedies, Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Thyme, Oil of Turpentine and other volatile oils.

When Vicks is applied it has two immediate actions. Externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, relieving the soreness and tightness of the chest. Internally, the volatile ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are inhaled directly into the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and relieving the congestion and inflammation.

For croup and common colds you just rub Vicks over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. One application at bedtime usually prevents a threatened attack of croup. Colds are ordinarily broken up over night. Croup attacks are usually eased in 15 minutes.

For deep chest colds, tonsillitis, bronchitis or incipient pneumonia, hot, wet towels should first be applied over the throat and chest, to open the pores of the skin and then use Vicks. For head colds, asthmatic or catarrhal troubles, insert a little Vicks up the nostrils, snuffing well back. Also melt some in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the vapors arising.

ABSORBED through the skin, and at the same time,

In the United States, where Vicks originated, it is almost universally used in preference to internal "dosing." Mothers prefer it for children's cold troubles because it acts directly and quickly, and because it is applied externally and hence does not disturb the most delicate stomach. It is fine, also, for cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, sores, bites, stings, itching skin troubles and other forms of skin inflammation.

URGES PASTORS TO SPREAD CALL OF EVANGELISM

Rev. John MacNeill Addresses Delegates of Baptist Convention.

HUNDREDS ATTEND

Opening Session At Toronto Devoted To Ministers' Conference.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Leading Baptists of two provinces gathered in Toronto today hundreds strong, when the 34th annual meeting of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec assembled for a seven-day conference in Walmer Road Baptist Church. The opening session was devoted to the ministers' conference, which was featured by inspirational addresses of two prominent divines, one a Baptist and the other a Presbyterian.

An outline of a plan of superannuation was gained from a brief address on the subject given by Rev. C. K. Duncan of Bradford, which preceded a report which is to be brought in later on in the convention. He stated the question of superannuation had always been of interest, because of the fact that in of like station in life, the salary of the ministers of the gospel had ever been too small to provide for the needs of the whole of his life. The generous response of the people to the forward movement, however, had led to the hope that the present gratuity scheme would give place to a pension or annuity plan. In this regard the board was prepared to submit a scheme to the convention for its consideration, which would guarantee an annuity equal to half of a minister's average salary during a term of 25 years, and it was the conviction of the board that in the growing liberality of the churches in the matter of the minister's salary, the method of self-help would be appreciated by both ministers and churches alike.

The convention opened with devotional service conducted by Rev. L. H. Vail of Boston, followed by the introduction of new pastors. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. W. F. Spidell, Midland, and was responded to by Rev. M. A. MacLean, D.D., Ottawa. An address on the status of retired ministers was given by Rev. E. M. Keirstead, D.D., LL.D., of McMaster University. A living example of the harmony now existing between the two great denominations was emphasized by the presence of Rev. G. C. Pidgeon, D.D., of Bloor Street Presbyterian Church, who delivered an address on "The Preacher as a Prophet." "Evangelism," the keynote of the convention, was struck by Rev. John MacNeill, D.D., pastor of the church in which the convention is being held, who spoke on the subject, "The Preacher as an Evangelist," in which he said the world not yet having been conquered for Christ, the church could not live except by conquest. It was admitted in regard to warfare that the best defensive was an offensive, and this applied with great force to the church. Consequently all preachers of the church should feel the tremendous imperative need of launching an ever-forward offensive with the evangelism of Jesus Christ.

Detroit Woman Declares Husband Wouldn't Pay in Own Home.

Mrs. Edna C. Care Enters Suit For Divorce From Noted Clubman.

DETROIT, Oct. 20.—"My husband is a wonderful poker player, really wonderful, but he wouldn't play at home," pretty Mrs. Edna C. Care, 23 of 2101 Blaine avenue, said today of Guy C. Care, the clubman husband, ten years her senior, whom she is suing for divorce.

Core, prominent here and in Jackson, and known in the latter city as the "luckiest man in the City Club," had spurned her offers to give card parties in their home, Mrs. Care said. He preferred to stay out all night, five nights out of the week, and pursue his winning streak at various clubs, she claimed.

"Lucky at cards, unlucky at love," the saying goes, you know," said Mrs. Care, "but I don't think he considers himself unlucky, not after I found him registered with another woman under a fictitious name in a Kalamazoo hotel."

Mrs. Care refused to tell the story of her sleuthing, the results of which figure prominently in her complaint filed yesterday. She charges also that he intercepted telegrams sent to her by various women, and that he insulted her publicly in both the City Club and the Jackson Country Club. Last there be no mistake, his feelings for her, she avers in her complaint, he told her on one of these occasions that he did not love her.

Core, who is now in Albany, N. Y., was formerly an official of the Jackson Motor Company and editor of the City Club magazine, having been a Chicago newspaperman before coming to Jackson.

Oil Light Beats Electric or Gas BURNS 94% AIR.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, S. E. Johnson, 246 Craig St., W. Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to put some aside for a rainy day. I have also purchased a beautiful kitchen range, some pieces of furniture, a lovely sleigh for my horse, a clothes-wringer and many other useful things, besides clothes for my children. All these things I would never have attained if I had not purchased my machine some two years ago.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy W. Taylor, of Alberta, has been made much more prosperous and happy by the use of an Auto-Knitter. They have a large family and the problem of making ends meet advertisement showed the way to make money at home, and now the Taylors have this to say of their success: "Within fifteen months after getting our Auto-Knitter, and after having provided food, clothing and pay for some of our children, we were able to put some aside for a rainy day. The older child now takes music lessons. The regular income that the Auto-Knitter brings in pays the bills and brings a confidence and encouragement that knows no doubt, as it has been our mainstay and comfort in times of adversity."

SWISS BUDGET DEFICIT IS 83,000,000 FRANCS

The military expenses of the country have been reduced to 78,000,000 francs, according to the budget.

Labelle, P.Q., April 18th, 1921. "It is my duty to tell you and publish to all what your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives' has done for me."

"I suffered with Rheumatism for ten months; could hardly move in bed; and was miserable all the time. I tried several physicians and took many remedies, but they left me at the same place, in bed and suffering. The Rheumatism was so bad. "I finally started in taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and continued the treatment regularly as I found myself getting better. MOB BREAKS IN JAIL, KILLS TWO

George and Ed. Hartley Are Victims of Armed Men At Camden, Tenn.

Took Prisoners To Vacant Lot and Riddled Them With Bullets.

CAMDEN, Tenn., Oct. 20.—George Hartley and Ed. Hartley, white, recently convicted of voluntary manslaughter, were taken from the jail here at midnight last night by a party of armed men and shot to death, it was learned today.

The mob formed silently and approached the jail without arousing the suspicion of Sheriff Flowers. "Life," they called, "we want to see you a minute."

The sheriff opened the door, was grabbed and overpowered and the keys to the cells in which the men were confined were obtained.

The two prisoners, it was reported, were removed a short distance from the jail and shot to death, about fifty shots being fired.

The Hartleys were tried twice for the death of relatives.

Mrs. Core refused to tell the story of her sleuthing, the results of which figure prominently in her complaint filed yesterday. She charges also that he intercepted telegrams sent to her by various women, and that he insulted her publicly in both the City Club and the Jackson Country Club. Last there be no mistake, his feelings for her, she avers in her complaint, he told her on one of these occasions that he did not love her.

GAVE LIFE TO SAFE OTHERS FROM FIRE

Edward Depries Contracted Pneumonia While Fighting Flames in New Ontario.

HAILEYBURY, Oct. 20.—Nearly two weeks ago Edward Depries worked with all his strength to save the belongings of his relatives in the great fire. The homes in North Cobalt of four families who were near relatives to him were destroyed in the flames along with most of their household belongings. Depries' own home in Cobalt was saved. Yesterday after making a final fight Edward Depries died in the Mines hospital in Cobalt from pneumonia, contracted while he worked in the fire to save his relatives. His was not the heroism of working to save his own life and the lives of his own family. It was the even greater heroism of going out of safety into danger to help others, suffering exposure in so doing that cost him his life.

He leaves behind him a young wife and two little children. Depries is but one example of many unknown cases of heroism. He was not a prominent man in the district nor one on whom a great responsibility rested. He was a Frenchman who had his own life to live and his own relatives for whom he made the great sacrifice.

Another case of unmentioned heroism concerned foreigners, some of them unable to speak English, who braved a horrible death and worked right up until the last minute to store away a great quantity of dynamite at the Coniagras mine, Cobalt, which, if the flames had reached it, would have cost many lives. The last case of dynamite was sent down the mine shaft just as the roof of the shed which the dynamite had been stored caught fire.

A Truly Youthful Skin Easy to Have

The complexion may acquire that girlish flush, the real essence of physical beauty, only by means of the capillary circulation. In advancing age, anemia, lowered vitality, etc., the circulation is poor; the complexion appears pale, sallow or faded. If, however, the lifeless scarf skin is removed, the skin beneath, being that much nearer the capillaries, exhibits a healthier, rosier bloom; the new complexion is youthful in fact as well as in appearance. It will be glad news to many that such a complexion may be easily obtained—the offensive outer cuticle safely, painlessly removed by the use of a special preparation was. The wax, procurable at any drug store (one ounce is sufficient), is used at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning. It completely absorbs the skin, minute, invisible particles coming off day by day until all of it is gone. Then the exquisitely beautiful girlish complexion is in evidence—a result which astonishes every one who tries this simple treatment.—Adv.

"What kind of a Want Ad I would like to know?"

"Well, I'll tell you. We wanted a high-grade servant, one that was capable, willing and experienced, and who could provide the best references, so we sent a Want Ad that told all these facts, stating the wages and outlining just what we expected of a maid. The result was that we chose this one from several applicants."

How to Make Money at Home in Spare Time!

Every Wife or Self-Supporting Girl Can Use Extra Money for Clothes. Why Not Make it Yourself—Right at Home, This New Way?

IS THE more-money problem worrying you? Does it seem as if the rent comes due oftener, that the children's clothes wear out quicker, the family bills pile up higher than before?

Does it seem as if the dollars simply will not stretch to meet the bills and still get the things you need and want?

Think what it would mean, then, to be able to earn at home the extra amounts you need for the little luxuries you desire. Think of having always at hand a means of turning your spare hours into money!

If you are ambitious, if you want more money, if you have some spare time each week, plus the will-to-work and a degree of adaptability, you CAN turn your spare hours into dollars by knitting Olde Tyme All-Wool Socks at home on the Auto-Knitter.

Mrs. John Fitzgerald, a Newfoundland woman whose husband was working only half-time, took up Auto-Knitting in order to increase the family income. By managing her time systematically, she is able to make substantial amounts without interfering with her household duties. When she sells her output locally, to stores and neighbors, she often makes $35.00 a week clear profit. Mrs. Fitzgerald writes:

"I have made with my machine the net sum of $500.00. This money has supplied me with the necessary wants for two years and I have been able to put some aside for a rainy day. I have also purchased a beautiful kitchen range, some pieces of furniture, a lovely sleigh for my horse, a clothes-wringer and many other useful things, besides clothes for my children. All these things I would never have attained if I had not purchased my machine some two years ago."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy W. Taylor, of Alberta, has been made much more prosperous and happy by the use of an Auto-Knitter. They have a large family and the problem of making ends meet advertisement showed the way to make money at home, and now the Taylors have this to say of their success: "Within fifteen months after getting our Auto-Knitter, and after having provided food, clothing and pay for some of our children, we were able to put some aside for a rainy day. The older child now takes music lessons. The regular income that the Auto-Knitter brings in pays the bills and brings a confidence and encouragement that knows no doubt, as it has been our mainstay and comfort in times of adversity."

When Mrs. A. A. Clark and her husband, of Alberta, hopefully rented a farm they expected to make good money, but what with drought and poor prices their plans failed and they were forced to find some way of making extra money. Then it was that the Auto-Knitter came to help. Mrs. Clark now writes:

"We had planned to send the whole output to the company, but when we saw what a good article the machine could produce and how readily they sold, we decided to build up a good local trade. In all we have made over $200.00 this last winter."

These are but a few of the many people who are turning spare hours into cash with the Auto-Knitter. Many workers whom we prefer to class as exceptional report much larger earnings than those we mention. The earnings vary with the amount of time devoted to the work and the speed of the individual operator, but whether the amount be large or small, it is most welcome, and helps to make the lives of these workers easier and happier.

Guaranteed Price for Standard Products

You are given a signed Five Year Contract, guaranteeing you a market for every pair of standard Olde Tyme Socks you produce, and having a definite price which you will be paid for your work, in addition to which you will be furnished with yarn to replace, pound for pound, that which you send us in the form of socks.

You can work as much as you please or as little as you please—and the standard product you complete can be disposed of promptly and profitably to the company. You are not compelled or obligated in any way to send any part or all of your work to the company unless you wish. You can make socks to put some aside for a rainy day. You can make socks and sell them to your friends, neighbors and local stores, then it is always your privilege to send your standard socks to us and receive our fixed rate of payment, together with replacement yarn.

More Than $18,000 a Year Being Paid to Workers

To workers who are taking advantage of the Work Contract, we are now paying earnings at the rate of more than $18,000.00 per year. In addition to this, we are shipping workers more than $92,000 worth of fine Olde Tyme Wool Yarn.

From these workers, we are receiving Olde Tyme Wool Socks at the rate of more than 150,000 pairs per year. This does not include the large number made by workers and sold to their own trade. This immense number of pairs are received at the factory, where they are sorted and shipped to more than 1,000 dealers in all parts of the country, including department stores, men's furnisheers and general stores.

Yet out of this large number of socks received, from novices as well as experts, from new workers as well as old, less than 5% have to be laid aside and returned as being below the standard set for Olde Tyme All-Wool Socks.

Positive Proof of Success

The large volume of socks received shows that Auto-Knitting is not an exclusive accomplishment, confined to the abilities of the few, but a profitable home occupation that can be successfully entered by the average individual.

TELLS BEST WAYS OF MOUNTING TIRE

Expert Points Out Advantages of Careful Handling of Tubes and Casings.

It would seem as though the apparently simple process of mounting or detaching a tire from the rim is thoroughly understood by every motorist, but, according to the tire repair shops, the owner still has a great deal to learn to do the work properly.

Spend a moment over the method used by one of the best tire mounters and incidentally one of the fastest.

Before any work is done, spread open the casing to be sure it is free from anything that might injure the tube. Run the back of your hand against the inside of the tire all around. Also examine the connection where the two ends of the fabric meet to be sure there is not the slightest break that might cause a tube pinch.

Look over the rim, and if it appears rusty scrape off what rust you can and then coat the rim lightly with rim paint to prevent further rusting. Then inflate the tube sufficiently so it will have some definite shape. The inside of the casing is then lightly sprinkled with talc. Too much talc is not good, because the excess will form lumps.

The tube then is inserted in the casing. The expert uses a head spreader, so the work will be easy, and he does not allow the tube to rest on the ground. This is done to prevent any particles of dirt from sticking to the tube. A few grains of sand will soon imbed themselves in the tube.

Then the flap is inserted by spreading the head, which prevents the flap from doubling over.

It is usually an easy matter for most owners to get the tire on the rim, whether of the split type or any other, so that one side is in place, but when it comes to getting the other bead in position trouble gets in.

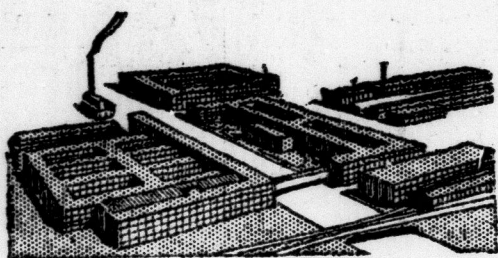

"I have seen drivers pound away for minutes trying to get a stiff-beaded tire on a rim without even thinking of the pounding the rim all out of shape and multiply their troubles.

"With the rim standing up in its usual position, slip the tire in place so the valve stem goes through the hole. Then rest the rim on its side to force one side of the tire over the rim. This is done with the ordinary tire iron, or, better still, a piece of spring leaf, assisted by a hammer. The bead is pried over the rim. Where the bead is very stiff the longer the tire iron or spring leaf the better. You may have to strike the bead itself a few blows toward the end of the work, or you may find it more convenient to use two irons, one operated by an assistant.

"When one bead is over on a split rim the other can be started with the iron and then finished by striking the bead with the hammer. If the bead does not go over readily, don't pound away and possibly injure the bead. If it gets stuck assist with the iron.

"If an iron is used to assist in getting the second bead over be sure that the end of the iron rests against the rim and not the tube. Before any pressure is applied to the iron use your sense of feeling, for it is easy to determine if the iron is resting against metal or rubber.

"In mounting a soft bead clincher tire, such as used on Ford's, tube pinches are common, unless the operator remembers to keep the iron close to the metal rim. It is somewhat easier in mounting a soft bead clincher to use an ordinary tire iron and a screwdriver at the same time."

CONCLUDES GREAT ENDURANCE RUN

Willys-Knight Car Makes Unusual Record, Completing 5,200-Mile Test in Ten Days.

Completing within ten days' time what is generally a season's run for the average motorist, a Willys-Knight touring car has just completed a 5,200-mile no-stop, endurance-economy run without a repair of any character, and without even a puncture, according to J. W. McLaughlin, Willys-Overland dealer here.

This test, made in the rugged, mountainous country of Northern New Hampshire by the Boston branch of the Willys-Overland Company, as a demonstration of the car's endurance and economy, is vouched for by representatives of various Boston newspapers and other persons who were passengers at various stages during the trip.

No less than 50 different passengers rode in the car during the test, and as many as twenty different drivers were at the wheel.

While the passengers slept during the night stops, the motor purred on in front of the hotel where they were stopping, one of the drivers and an official observer staying with the car to attest this fact.

The car never missed a single explosion in the 5,200 miles, and at the end of the run climbed Mount Washington, N.H., 6,300 feet above the sea level.

Worn Cylinders Have Bad Effect on Car

The bad effects of worn cylinders are not confined to the motor. A motor, when running unevenly, will soon, by its constant jerking, ruin the clutch, transmission, universal joints and differentials.

Taking into consideration the fact that in a medium type four-cylinder motor of five-inch stroke, running at a normal speed of 20 miles per hour, the actual travel of each piston assembly up and down the walls of the cylinder is over 600 feet per minute. Therefore, it is not surprising that these parts, though made of the very best material, must eventually show wear. Aside from the natural wear these conditions often occur in motors which are practically new, because of overheating, lack of oil or water and other reasons.

It is customary to overhaul a motor at least once a year. The valves are ground, carbon removed, bearings refitted and worn parts bushed or replaced. Adding to this an attractive coat of paint usually constitutes a general overhauling.

And, after all this, the motor does not have its old power and pep, and the reason for this is:

The cylinders, pistons and rings, the most vital and important parts, which are subjected to the most abuse and wear, and to the greatest variable heat conditions, the parts on which depend the power and snap, the consumption of oil and gasoline, have been neglected and placed in the background.

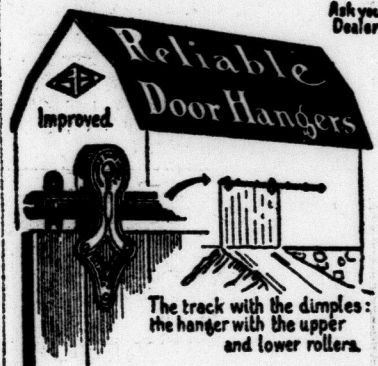

There is only one way to overcome this trouble. The cylinders must be re-ground and re-fitted with oversize pistons and piston rings.

This important work has been greatly misconstrued and misrepresented.

There have been various inferior methods resorted to in the attempt to perform this most essential work.

There is a vast difference between boring, reaming, lapping, etc., and actual cylinder grinding.

Modern mechanical principles

taught them that the most practical method of performing the work is by grinding.

They resolved from the beginning to place this line of work on a higher standard, to make it one of satisfaction and economy to the car owner as well as the repair man and dealer, and spared no effort or expense with that end in view.

Nearly 700 French chauffeurs were reported for reckless driving in a single day in Paris.

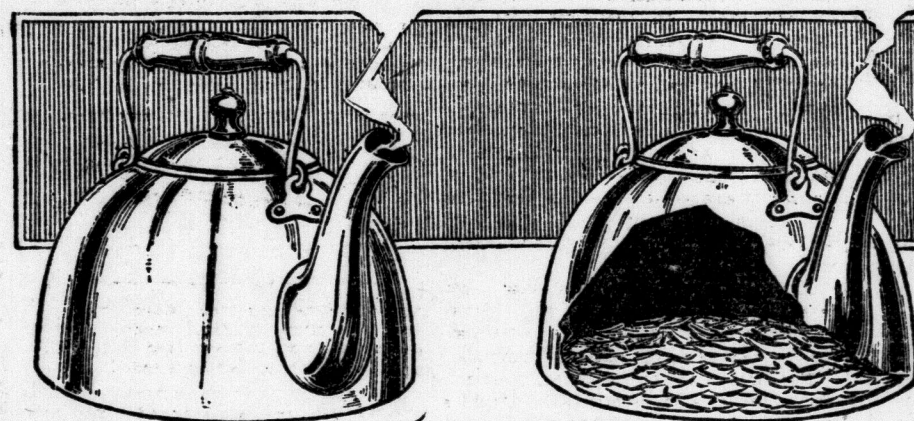

Skilled automobile mechanics in Germany receive less than $1 for an eight-hour working day.

During 1921 $60,000,000 was spent on highways in the United States, for state, county and other roads outside of cities.

Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin constitute the biggest center in the world for the sale of motor vehicles.

Automobiles approximating a valuation of $100,000,000 were stolen in the United States last year. In New York State alone more than $30,000,000 worth of motor vehicles and accessories were stolen.

There is a Difference in Motor Oil

Why EN-AR-CO Motor Oil Lubricates Better

STEAM that escapes through a tea kettle spout, if caught and condensed, would be pure water.

Distilled water is manufactured on this same principle, only on a larger scale.

Along the sides and at the bottom of the tea kettle scale is formed and accumulates—the residue that is left over after passing of the water into steam.

Imagine a tea kettle that will hold 25,000 gallons, then you have some idea of an oil still, used for this purpose. Into one of these huge oil stills goes the selected Crude Oil from which En-ar-co Motor Oil is always refined.

This oil is heated until it forms a vapor. The vapor is then condensed into a liquid distillate (the same as the vapor from a tea kettle spout is condensed), further refined and then filtered. The result is a clear, clean oil, containing no free carbon—En-ar-co Motor Oil.

A motor oil loaded with residue will break under heat and fail to perform its function. The residue and deposit which becomes incandescent, causes pre-ignition under heavy duty and finally, after continued use, coke-like carbon forms, just as scale is formed in the tea kettle.

All refiners make lubricants, just as all cooks make biscuits, yet there is as much difference in oils as there is between the delicious light, flaky biscuits Mother makes and the heavy, soggy apologies for biscuits some restaurants serve. In each case the raw materials are practically the same, but the "making" is different.

To protect and safeguard your motor, use En-ar-co Motor Oil in your automobile, truck, or tractor. It contains no sediment-forming impurities. It is always uniform in excellence.

SEES ADVANTAGES IN TRUCK HIGHWAY

Motor Transportation Would Relieve Congestion of Freight on Railroads.

Various times in the last few years speakers have held out in glowing terms the promise that the future held for the motor truck. Frequently these speakers had the magic quality of silver-tongued oratory, which they could and did launch unhampered by a knowledge of the facts pertaining to their subject.

This has brought the subject of highway transportation into disrepute in many quarters because different people, charmed either by the glittering generalities of the orator or the seductiveness of the smooth-talking motor truck salesman, have been led to embark in the motor transportation field without sufficient technical or mechanical knowledge of their machine, without business experience or judgment in this particular line.

Vast possibilities are opened up by the plans of motor truck highways. There can be no question but that the country would be better served if and when highways are laid out and constructed solely for the use of motor trucks, motor truck trains consisting of trains of trailers as well as convoys of trucks.

The motor truck will then be in a position to realize the promise of its future, that of picking up and delivering to main distributing centers the bulk of farm products with but one handling and no delays—thus obviating the present methods of many handlings and frequent and long delays. Secretary of Commerce Hoover has said that 10 per cent of the perishable foodstuffs never reach the consumers because the farms on which they are raised are too remote from the market at which they are sold.

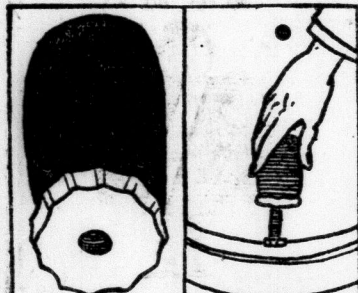

"By motor trucks," he adds, "the farmer will be able to reach better markets farther away than by horse and wagon. He will be able to spend more time actually producing on his farm and be able to sell food more cheaply by eliminating the present tremendous waste. By use of motor trucks the farmer will be able to produce more and sell at less cost."

In addition to this, it will serve greatly to relieve the railroads of their terminal expense in handling less than carload freight over distances up to 75 miles perhaps. This is the most expensive freight which the railroads haul, and nearly every pound of it represents a loss to them.

By a series of motor truck trunk line highways this congestion can be avoided in the large centers, for it is near and between such centers that the need for them exists, and there the greatest number of motor trucks is concentrated. These trunk line highways will have many centers, for feeder highways, which will tap all the adjacent territory. The day may well come when we shall see a multitude of trucks rolling across the land headed for these main lines, where they will be organized into trains or convoys and moved under a rigid traffic control by the block system of signaling, with gasoline and emergency repair stations at intervals all along the routes.

CARRY OWN AIR SUPPLY.

Motorists will soon be carrying their own air supply if an invention just being marketed proves successful. The device is a steel container holding dry carbon dioxide gas under pressure. It is placed over the valve stem, the barrel turned, and the gas released into the tube. Each of these holds enough gas to inflate a 30x3 1/2 tire to 65 pounds pressure. It can be refilled. It is said the gas is not harmful to rubber.

Tells How To Keep Down Expenses

BY F. A. CUFFE.

You have all seen the motorist who has that uncanny faculty of always having his car ready when it is wanted. He is the fellow who really enjoys motoring. I have merely stolen his method of working, which amounts to this—the man who anticipates trouble is better off than the man who simply remedies it after it occurs.

The following ideas will show you why my car is ready to go on a long trip any day of the year.

The first place to look for fuel wastes is at the carburetor. I adjust the carburetor to give the leanest possible mixture consistent with satisfactory operation.

Again, if the ignition system is not right, fuel will be wasted. Many a driver decides that his battery doesn't need additional water after he has examined the first cell. He happens to look into it. But I examine all cells, for it very often happens that one cell will be in bad condition or that it may be cracked so that it will require more water than the rest. And after cleaning and adjusting the spark plugs I use a jeweler's eyeglass to inspect the porcelain for elusive cracks that often escape unnoticed with the naked eye.

The valve system must also be carefully watched or it will be a prolific source of fuel waste when the valves are not seating properly.

The only way to make sure about tire mileage is to record it. I do this on a card or a slip of paper or write on the wall of the garage. When I put on a tire, I set down its number and the mileage record when it goes into service. If it comes off for a time, I make a record of the mileage to date and a new record when it goes on again.

I keep the rubber hose connection between the radiator and the cylinder jacket outlet and the pump connections covered with shellac to keep them waterproof and impervious to oil and grease. I never let the tires stand in pools of oil on the garage floor. Oil rots the rubber.

Often mud and small stones will get into the air spaces between the cells of the radiator. I remove this mud and tightly wedged stones by directing the stream of my hose through the cells from the inside.

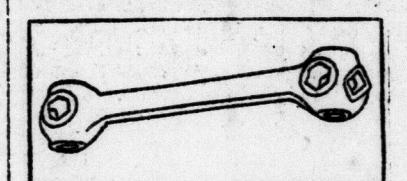

To clean the inside of the radiator of rust and deposits, I pour through a hot solution of soda and water, instead of scraping.

I have found that by removing stained and dirty running boards the covering can be made to look like new simply by wiping with a clean rag saturated with kerosene. Floor boards also can be cleaned in this way.

My friend next door invariably greets his car when he opens his garage door with: "Well, how are you this morning, old boy?" Somehow the spirit of that man gets into his car, for he has the least trouble with wear and tear. Car kindness means car service and car service means dollar saving.

Booth Tarkington Play Brings Charming Elsa Ryan To Grand

Noted Actress Returns to Legitimate Stage to Play Leading Role in Cleverly Written Comedy Built By a Master Pen Around the Problem, "A Woman's Age."

One of the most interesting attractions of the season will appear at the Grand House, next Thursday and Saturday evening and Sunday matinee, when Augustus Thurston presents his new star, Miss Elsa Ryan, in Booth Tarkington's most successful comedy, "The Intimate Strangers," which has had Miss Ryan back to the legitimate stage, after her successful essay in vaudeville.

She is as charming, gracious and as when seen in "Peg o' My Heart" for "Three." "Peg" for "Three," etc., with her art matured and fascinating than ever.

Mr. Tarkington's new play has an interesting angle dealing with age. In this comedy he contrasts the very youthful with those who are not quite so youthful. One night in April, Miss Isabel Stuart (Elsa Ryan) finds herself stranded in a country railway station in upper New York State. There has been a storm followed by washouts, wires down and no trains running.

Also stranded in the same station is William Ames, a New York lawyer and bachelor approaching middle age. They become acquainted. He is fascinated with her, because as he tells her she is the sweet old-fashioned type.

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, 8:15, MATINEE WEDNESDAY, 2:15 — Thurston, the world's greatest wonder worker, prince of illusionists and emperor of necromancy—1,000 acts, 30 people, 100 birds and animals.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY EVENINGS, 8:15; MATINEE SATURDAY, 2:15—Elsa Ryan America's dainty comedienne in Booth Tarkington's delightful comedy, "The Intimate Strangers."

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 30, 31, NOV. 1, at 8:15; MATINEE WEDNESDAY, NOV. 1 AT 2:15 — F. Stuart Whyte's pantomime fantasy, "Prince Charming, Jr." a show of girls and gorgeousness.

He hates the modern "little huskies" in knee breeches, bobbed hair, talking slang and smoking cigarettes. "These modern girls have won freedom and sacrificed charm," he says. They are thoroughly decorous, this Mr. Ames and Miss Stewart, and have reached the age when at certain hours sleep becomes stronger than romance. Miss Stewart yawns and nods acquiescence while Ames "almost proposes." Then they settle down to sleep the night through on the station benches.

Next morning they are aroused by Miss Stuart's niece, Florence, a typical flapper, who has driven over in a motor car with Johnnie White, her youthful admirer, who later in the play thinks he would like to become better acquainted with a woman older than himself, for whom he could have a "sacred feeling." They all drive back to Miss Stuart's home.

Despite his abhorrence of "flappers," Ames is somewhat taken with Florence, who in turn finds him "intriguing" as an elderly man of experience. Then begins a humorous contest between niece Florence and her aunt Isabel for Ames' attentions. Meanwhile Ames is beginning to wonder just how old this aunt Isabel is who talks of the Hayes and Tilden Campaign, and the Chicago World's Fair as of her time.

Finally, of course, he ceases to bother about her age, becoming convinced that she is the sort he wants, no matter what her age, which is really just a little more than 28, and everything ends happily.

The unusually talented players supporting Miss Ryan include Coates Grayson, Don Harrington, Mary Wall, Lisle Leigh, Harry K. Fowler, Rene D'Arcy and Fred Coulter.

THURSTON PLAYS BEFORE ROYALTY

Magician Who Gave Impromptu Exhibition Before King and Czar Comes To Grand.

The strangest exhibition of magic ever given before royalty occurred some years ago on the platform of a railway station in Copenhagen. Among those present were King Christian of Denmark, King George of Greece, the Czar of Russia and King Edward of England, and their suites.

The visiting rulers had just paid an official call upon the King and Queen of Denmark and were departing for their respective homes. Suddenly one of the porters attached to Edward's party accidentally knocked the hat off one of the Czar's attendants.

With a courteous apology the English servant stooped to pick up the hat; but uttered an exclamation of surprise. From the hat he drew forth a struggling white rabbit, and held it up.

The royal party, laughing at the amazement on the face of the owner of the hat, quickly gathered around, as the "porter" with dexterous celerity took from the hat, a duck, yards and yards of ribbon, paper roses, and a dozen goldpieces.

Then, at the request of King Edward, his remarkable "porter" gave an impromptu exhibition of magic lasting half an hour, in which all the monarchs participated, testing the man's extraordinary powers with all sorts of tricks with coins, cards and other objects.

Not only did the servant-conjuror amuse and puzzle every member of the party, but he actually frightened several of the Czar's retinue, who were deeply religious.

At the conclusion of the unusual program, King Edward stepped forward and said: "Allow me to present my friend, Howard Thurston, the eminent American magician, who is also my magic teacher."

"How did you like our little show?" Needless to say, both the English sovereign and the Yankee illusionist, were applauded loud and long.

Thurston and his remarkable company appear at the Grand on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening.

PRINCE CHARMING COMES TO GRAND

Mirthful Musical Play Declared To Be Best Work of F. Stuart Whyte.

Probably no one has contributed more to the entertainment of the Canadian people than has F. Stuart Whyte, the pantomime producer; and the announcement that his latest and best musical play, "Prince Charming, Jr.," is to be seen at the Grand Opera House for three nights and a Wednesday matinee, commencing Monday, Oct. 30, will be greeted with genuine pleasure by his vast clientele.

"Prince Charming, Jr.," is described as a big music-box of fun, exploding with spontaneous mirth and twinkling with melody.

The book and lyrics were written by Pierre Bazard, while the musical numbers were all composed by Lieut. B. C. Hilliam, who was responsible for the score of "Buddies."

The production has been made along even more elaborate lines than any of its predecessors, while the costumes are the last word in gorgeousness.

Among the featured members of the company the name of Zara Clinton has a thrill of pleasant memories all its own. Her role this season is that of a cockney kitchenmaid, who meets a real prince; first, on the battlefields of France, where she served with the Salvation Army; and later at a Cinderella ball in a famous chateau.

The chorus has been chosen with a view of glorifying Dominion's girlhood. In fact, "Prince Charming, Jr.," has been written, composed, built and assembled, with an intimate knowledge of public requirements, by a producer who has spent a million dollars in Canada during the last ten years.

This season will mark the eleventh annual presentation of a Stuart Whyte show on this side. He came here from England with his first company just twelve years ago, and last season was the only one in which he did not make at least one Canadian production.

During his absence from the local field, Mr. Whyte has been, for the most part, in London and New York gathering material for his future efforts and establishing himself in the theatrical world of Broadway, where he retains several interests.

MORDEN RESIGNS FROM COMMITTEE

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Following Robert Morden's resignation yesterday from the management committee of the British Empire Exhibition because the committee refused to restrict the supplies for the exhibition restaurants to British Empire produce, Col. Col. Morden has written to Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian high commissioner in London, urging him to use his influence in the overhauling of the committee, which, he alleges, contains practically no real business-men.

JURY EXONERATES BRANTFORD MAN

Contractor Cleared of All Blame in Death of Alfred Hurrel.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 20.—At the inquest held tonight to inquire into the death of the late Alfred Hurrel, who was fatally injured by a fall from a scaffold on October 16, Coroner Hicks first examined Jesse Usher, employer of the deceased. Questioned by Crown Attorney Charlton, Usher stated that he had seen Hurrel working at a dormer window from a scaffold firmly braced to the building at a height of about 22 feet. The witness described how Hurrel must have fallen first to a canopy, 10 feet below the scaffold, and then to the sidewalk. Usher had no idea of how the accident had occurred, and believed that every precaution had been taken to assure the safety of his workmen. He added that Hurrel had been in his employ about three weeks.

Leonard Lear, a relative of the deceased, and also employed by Usher, could offer no suggestions concerning the cause of the tragedy, since the plank from which Hurrel had been working was found to be entirely intact after the accident. Questioned by members of the jury, Lear said that the deceased would have been obliged to step through a window, which was directly in front of the scaffold. Alfred Mead, who was next called to give evidence, said that he had been working on the ground with his back toward Hurrel when the accident happened.

Death was due to a fracture of the skull, said Dr. L. H. Coates, who examined the deceased at the hospital and later conducted the post-mortem. Dr. R. H. Palmer confirmed the evidence of Dr. Coates.

After a very short consultation the jury brought in the following

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

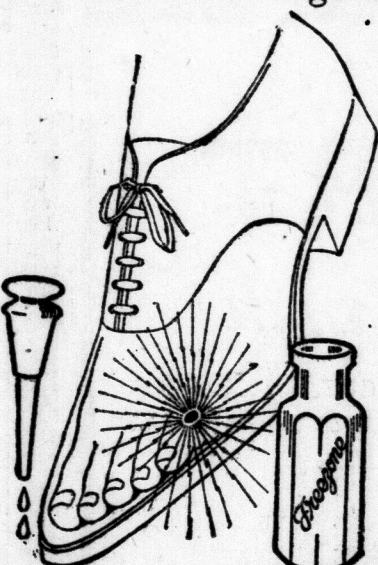

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out, and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat and chest cold, and is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. A Royal Beneficiary PRINCESS Mary, daughter of George V. granddaughter of Edward VII and great granddaughter of the great Queen Victoria, is to benefit by a monthly income insurance policy—the best provision any husband, rich or poor, titled or plain commoner, can make for his wife. When Princess Mary attains the age of 50, whether her husband be living or not, she will receive an annual income thenceforth of $60,000.00 for the rest of her life.

This is a remarkable endorsement of the value of Life Insurance and, more particularly, of the monthly income policy. Viscount Lascelles, for all his wealth and high position, chooses to protect the future of his wife with a monthly income policy issued by an insurance company on this side of the Atlantic.

What was wisdom on the part of the husband of Princess Mary, the royal daughter of England, is no less wise as an example to be followed by the husbands of Canada. The monthly income policy is the safest and most satisfactory form of insurance for the protection of wives and mothers of families.

The Kaiser's Memoirs

By WILHELM VON HOHENZOLLERN,
(Former Emperor of Germany)

I HAVE been informed that an important role was played in the preparation of the world war directed against the monarchical central powers by the policy of the international "Great Orient Lodge," a policy extending over many years and always envisaging the goal at which it aimed. But the German great lodges, I was furthermore told—with two exceptions wherein non-German financial interests are paramount and which maintain secret connection with the "Great Orient" in Paris—had no relationship to the "Great Orient." They were entirely loyal and faithful according to the assurance given me by the distinguished German Freemason who explained to me this whole interrelationship, which had, until then, been unknown to me. He said that in 1917 an international meeting of the lodges of the "Great Orient" was held, after which there was a subsequent conference in Switzerland; at this the following program was adopted: Dismemberment of Austria-Hungary, democratization of Germany, elimination of the German Emperor, abdication of the German Emperor, restitution of Alsace-Lorraine to France, union of Galicia with Poland, elimination of the Pope and the Catholic Church, elimination of every state church in Europe.

I am not now in a position to investigate the very damaging information which has been transmitted to me in the best of faith concerning the organization and activities of the Great Orient Lodges. Secret and public political organizations have played important parts in the life of peoples and states ever since history has existed. Some of them have been beneficial; most of them have been destructive; if they had to have secret passwords which shunned the light of day. The most dangerous of these organizations hide under the cloak of some ideal object or other—such as active love of their neighbors, readiness to help the weak and poor and so forth—in order that, with such pretexts as a blind, they may work for their real secret ends. It is certainly advisable to study the activities of the Great Orient Lodges, since one cannot adopt a final attitude toward this world-wide organization until it has been thoroughly investigated.

I shall not take up the war operations in this work. I shall leave this task all the more readily to my officers and to the historians, since I, writing as I am without a single document, would be able to describe events only in very broad outline. When I look back upon the four arduous war years with their hopes and fears, their brilliant victories and losses in precious blood, what is uppermost in my mind is the feeling of ardent gratitude and undying admiration for the unequalled achievement of the German nation in arms.

Proud of German Army.

Just as no sacrifice in endurance and private was too great for those staying at home, so also the army, in defending itself during the war, originally forced upon us, did not merely overcome the crushing superiority of twenty-eight hostile nations, but likewise, on land and water and in the air, won victories whose glory may have paled a bit in the mists of the present day but, for that very reason, will shine forth all the more brightly in the light of history. Nye is that all. Wherever there was distress among our allies, German intervention, often with weak forces, always restored the situation and often won noteworthy successes. Germans fought on all the battlefields of the far-flung world war.

Surely the heroic bravery of the German nation deserved a better fate than to fall a victim to the dagger that treacherously stabbed it from behind; it seems to be the German destiny that Germans shall always be defeated by Germans. Recently I read the unfortunately not entirely unjustified words: "In Germany every Siegfried has his Hódur behind him."

Finally, let me say a word concerning the German "atrocities" and give two instances thereof! After our advance into Northern France I immediately ordered that art treasures be protected. Assigned to each army, who traveled about inspecting, photographing and describing churches, chateaux and castles. Among them Professor Clemens, curator of the Rhine Province, especially distinguished himself and reported to me, when I was at the front, on the protection of art treasures.

All the collections in towns, museums and castles were catalogued and numbered; whenever they seemed to be imperiled by the fighting they were taken away and assembled, at Valenciennes and Maubeuge, in two splendid museums. There they were carefully preserved and the name of the owner marked on each article.

The old windows of the cathedral of St. Quentin were removed by German soldiers, at the risk of their lives, under English shell fire. The story of the destruction of the church by the English was told by a German Catholic priest, who published it with photographs, and it was sent, by my orders, to the Pope.

At the chateau of Pinon, which belongs to the Princess of Peix, who had been a guest of mine and the empress, the headquarters of the general commanding the Third Army Corps was located. I visited the chateau and lived there. Previously the English had been quartered there, and had ravaged the place terribly. The commanding general, von Lochow, and his staff had a great deal of trouble getting it into some sort of shape again after the devastation wrought by the English. Accompanied by the general, I visited the private apartments of the princess, which, up to then, our soldiers had been forbidden to enter. I found that her entire wardrobe had been thrown out of the clothes presses by the English soldiers and, together with her hats, was lying about on the floor. I had every garment carefully cleaned, hung in the presses, and locked up. The writing desk had also been broken into and the princess' correspondence was scattered about. At my command, all the letters were gathered together, sealed in a package, placed in the writing desk, and locked up.

Afterwards, all the silverware was found buried in the garden. According to the villagers, this had been ordered as early as the beginning of July, so the princess had known about the war long before its outbreak. I at once ordered that the silver be inventoried, deposited in the bank at Aix-la-Chapelle and returned to the princess after the war. Through neutral channels I caused news to be transmitted to the princess in Switzerland by my court marshal, Freiherr von Reischach, concerning Pinon, her silverware, and my care of her property. No answer was received. Instead, the princess had published in the French press a letter to the effect that General von Kluck had stolen all her silver.

On account of my care and the self-sacrificing work of German art experts and soldiers—partly at the risk of their lives—art treasures worth billions were preserved for their French owners and for French towns. This was done by the Huns, the boches!

CHAPTER XI. The Pope and Peace.

IN the summer of 1917 I received at Kreuznach, a visit from the Papal

Nuncio Pacelli, who was accompanied by a chaplain. Pacelli is a distinguished, likeable man, of high intelligence and excellent manners, the perfect pattern of an eminent prelate of the Catholic Church. He knows German well enough to understand it easily when he hears it, but not sufficiently to speak it with fluency.

Our conversation was conducted in French, but the nuncio now and then employed German expressions of speech. The chaplain spoke German fluently, and took part—even when not asked—in the conversation, whenever he feared that the nuncio was becoming too much influenced by what I said.

Very soon the conversation turned on the possibility of peace mediation and the bringing about of peace, in which connection all sorts of projects and possibilities were touched upon, discussed and dismissed.

Finally suggested that the Pope should make an effort, seeing that my peace offer of Dec. 12, 1916, had been rejected in such an unprecedented manner. The nuncio remarked that he thought such a step would be attended with great difficulties; that the Pope had already been rebuffed when he had made certain advances in this direction; that, aside from this, the Pope was absolutely in despair on account of the slaughter, and wondered ceaselessly how he might help toward freeing the world of the scourge of war. Any suggestion as to this, he added, would be most valuable to the Vatican.

I stated that the Pope, as the highest in rank among all the priests of the Roman Catholic Church, should issue instructions to his priests in all countries, to banish hate, once for all, from their minds, since hate was the greatest obstacle in the path of the peace idea; that it was, unfortunately, true that the clergy in the entente countries were, to a positively frightful extent, the standard-bearers and instigators of hate and fighting.

I called attention to the numerous reports from soldiers at the beginning of the war concerning abbots and parish priests captured with arms in their hands; to the machinations of Cardinal Mercier and the Belgian clergy, members of which often worked as spies; to the sermon of the Protestant Bishop of London, who, from the pulpit, glorified the "Barbarians" murderers; and to other similar cases. I added that it would be, therefore, a great achievement if the Pope should succeed in having the Roman Catholic clergy in all the countries at war condemn hatred and recommend peace, as was already being done by the German clergy, be it from the pulpit or by means of pastoral letters.

Urged Papal Intercession.

Pacelli found this idea excellent and worthy of attention, but he remarked that it would be difficult to enlist the efforts of the various prelates in its support. I replied that, in view of the severe discipline of the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church, I could not imagine that, if the Pope should solemnly call upon the prelates of the church to preach reconciliation and consideration for the foe, these of any country whatsoever should refuse obedience; that the prelates, on account of their eminent rank, were above all parties, and, since reconciliation and love of our neighbor were fundamental principles of the Christian religion, they were absolutely in duty bound to work toward making people observe these principles.

Pacelli agreed to this and promised to give the idea his earnest attention and report upon it to the Vatican. In the further course of the conversation, the nuncio asked what form—beyond the purely ecclesiastical step suggested by me—the bringing about of peace possibilities through the intervention of the Pope might take. I pointed out that Italy and Austria were two Roman Catholic states, upon which the Pope could bring influence to bear easily and effectively; that one of these lands was his native country and place of residence, in which he was greatly revered by the people and exerted direct influence upon his fellow-countrymen; that Austria was ruled by a sovereign who actually bore the title "apostolic"; who, with all his family, had direct relations with the Vatican and was among the most faithful adherents of the Catholic Church; that I was, therefore, of the opinion that it would not be difficult for the Pope to try at least to make a beginning with these two countries and cause them to talk peace.

I added that the diplomatic skill and wide viewpoint of the Vatican were known the world over; that, if once a beginning were made in this way—and it had a good chance of success—the other powers could scarcely refuse an invitation from the Vatican later on to an exchange of views which should be, at first, not binding upon them.

The nuncio remarked that it would be difficult for the Vatican to make the Italian government agree to such a thing, since it had no direct relations with the said government and no influence upon its members; that the Italian government would never look with favor upon an invitation, even to mere conferences.

Here the chaplain interposed that such a step by the Pope was absolutely out of the question, since it would entail consequences which might be actually dangerous to the Vatican; the government would attack the Pope, the "piazza" (the man in the street), against the Vatican, and the Vatican certainly could not expose itself to that. When I refused to attach importance to this objection, the chaplain grew more and more excited, saying that I did not know the Romans; that, when they were incited they were simply terrible; that just as soon as the "piazza" got into action things would get disagreeable; that, if it did, there was even a possibility of an attack on the Vatican, which might actually imperil the life of the Pope himself.

Scouts Danger From "Piazza."

I replied that I, too, was well acquainted with the Vatican; that no rabble or "piazza" could storm it; that, in addition, the Pope had a strong party of adherents in society circles, and among the people which would at once be ready to defend him. The nuncio agreed with me, but the chaplain continued unabashed to expatiate upon the terrors of the "piazza" and paint the risks run by the Pope in the blackest of colors.

I then remarked that anyone wishing to capture the Vatican must first get a battery of heavy mortars and howitzers, as well as pioneers and storm troops, and institute a regular siege; that all this was scarcely possible for the "piazza"; that, therefore, it was highly improbable that the latter would undertake anything. Moreover, I mentioned having heard that measures had already been taken in the Vatican to guard against such an emergency. At this the priest was silent.

The nuncio then remarked that it was difficult for the Pope to do anything really practical toward peace without giving offence and arousing opposition in lay Italy, which would place him in danger; that it must be borne in mind that he was, unfortunately, not free; that had the Pope his own where he could govern autonomously and do as he pleased, the situation would be quite different; that, as matters stood, he was too dependent upon lay Rome and not able to act according to his own free will.

I remarked that the aim of bringing peace to the world was so holy and great that it was impossible for the Pope to be frightened away, by purely worldly considerations, from accomplishing such a task, which seemed created especially for him; that, should he succeed in it, the grateful world would assuredly bring influence to bear upon the Italian government in support of his wishes and of his independence.

This made an impression on the nuncio; he remarked that I was right, after all; that the Pope must do something in the matter.

Then I called the attention of the nuncio to the following point: He must have noticed, I said, how the Socialists of all countries were zealously working in favor of peace efforts. I told him that we had always allowed the German Socialists to travel to foreign parts in order to discuss the question of making peace at conferences, because I believed them to be acquainted with the desires and views of the lower classes; that we placed no obstacles in the path of anybody desiring to work honestly and without veiled purpose in the interests of peace; that the same desires for peace existed among the entire nations and among their Socialists, but that the latter were prevented by refusal of passports from attending congresses in neutral lands; that the desire for peace was gaining strength in the world, nations were acquiring it more and more, and that nobody in any government should be found willing to work for peace—I, unfortunately, had failed in my attempt—the peoples would finally take the matter into their own hands. I added that this was the Lord had always walked into the midst of the "piazza," spoken to it, and finally gone to his death on the cross for the sake of this hostile "piazza."

Was I now to believe, I asked, that his "vicerey upon earth" was afraid of the possibility of becoming a martyr, like his Lord, in order to bring peace to the bleeding world, all on account of the ragged Roman "piazza"? I, the Protestant, thought far too highly of a Roman priest, particularly of the Pope, to believe such a thing. Nothing could be more glorious for him, I went on, than to devote himself, unreservedly, body and soul, to the great cause of peace, even despite the remote danger of thus becoming a martyr!

With shining eyes, the nuncio grasped my hand and said, deeply moved: "Vous avez parfaitement raison! C'est le devoir du Pape, il faut qu'il agisse, c'est par lui que le monde doit être regagné à la paix. Je transmettrai vos paroles à Sa Sainteté" (You are absolutely right! It is the duty of the Pope; he must act; it is through him that the world must be won back to peace. I shall transmit your words to his holiness.)

The chaplain turned away, shaking his head, and murmured to himself: "Ah, la piazza, la piazza!"

YOUNG HARD OILS
PLAY NICE GAMELondon Crew Had Slight Edge
All Way Through.

The local Collegiate first team amply retaliated for their defeat at the hands of the Petrolia High two weeks ago, when they defeated the Junior Hard Oils at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon to the tune of 5-3. Arden, Wilson, Barbour and O'Rourke were the outstanding stars of the L. C. I. squad, while Steadman, Veale and McLarty did the best work for the Petrolia boys.

First Quarter.
London had the first kick and gradually worked down to the enemy five-yard line where they failed to go over on their last down. Petrolia then took the pigskin, and Arden kicked to mid-field, where Arden took the ball and ran for 50 yards before he was downed. After two tries, London put Wilson over the line for their first touchdown, which on being converted by Lawrence, made 6 points for the L. C. I. After this the London team went through the Petrolia line continually, but they were unable to ring up another tally in the first quarter.

Second Quarter.
The Hard Oils came back strong in this round, and after a degree of sawing back and forth by both sides, went over the London touch-line, making their first try. They failed, however, to convert this.

Petrolia tried a couple new plays in this canto, but the London line held them beautifully, and the Hard Oils started a kicking spree, and the L. C. I. backline reciprocated and thus managed to make a forced rouge—more point for London.

Fourth Quarter.
This season was a continuation of the former, with London getting through the Petrolia line more frequently. The local boys, by kicking and line plunging, worked down to the Hard Oil danger zone and finally put over a long kick which went for a forced rouge, London's last point.

The line-ups:
London: Centre.....Pepper
Hart.....Veale
McCracken.....R. Winger
Westman.....Baker
Wilson.....Halves
Lawrence.....Tanton
Arden.....Quarterback
Barbour.....B. Winger
Grace.....Wing
Umpire.....Sessing
Line-men: Blake, Ross, McDougall.

Manager Pat Moran of the Cincinnati Reds, while attending the world series, laid stress on the fact that Cincinnati had changed to stage the event in 1922. Moran, who made a sensational finish with the Reds, taking second place on the last day of the season by winning a double header from Pittsburgh, is confident his club will make things merry for the Giants.

ORIENTS BANQUET
THEIR BALL TEAM

The Orient club banquipped their baseball team, winners of the local O. R. A. group, and runners-up in the semi-finals, in the rooms of the club last evening. Manager Ted Brand and his players were the subject of many tributes during the evening. A splendid program featured the evening's entertainment.

Ed. Walsh, in his day one of the greatest pitchers in the game, produced, will not be a member of the American League staff of umpires next year. Walsh, out of the game late in the season because of illness, and has decided to give up the national pastime. He is acting as a deputy sheriff at Meriden, Conn., his home.

Manager Ty Cobb of Detroit is strong for "Tip Collins, who is to come to the Tigers next year in a trade with Boston. Collins has perhaps more stuff than any right-hander in the American League, but has never been very successful. Lack of control, and a manager who could bring out the best that is in him, has had much to do with the failure of Collins to shine.

REPORT CANADIAN
TRADE AVERAGEFair Activity of Wholesale
Stocks Keep Manufacturers Busy.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—There is a little better demand for fall and winter goods in the Halifax district, but wholesalers reported business a little less active, according to the weekly trade report issued today by the Canadian Credit-men's Trust Association here. In Montreal, the report continues, wholesalers report business very much better and manufacturers are busy. Collections are somewhat better and retail business is improving.

Wholesale and manufacturing trade is moderately active in Toronto and retailers report a slight improvement in business.

Retail trade in Winnipeg is not up to expectations, but the wholesale trade is somewhat heavier and orders for certain lines of Christmas goods are coming in briskly.

Saskatoon reports wholesale trade as being fair, but that good weather has interfered materially with retail business, especially in winter goods. Collections are not very brisk. Crop movement is giving a slight impetus to business in districts supplied by Calgary, although continued fine weather has worked against usual seasonal sales of men's furnishings and footwear.

There is no improvement in wholesale or retail business in British Columbia.

BUILDS BIG BUSINESS BY CLEANLINESS AND SERVICE

R. R. Allen Lives Up to Motto in Operation of Home Dairy Store.

The first thought that comes to one, on entering the Home Dairy Store at 172 Dundas street, is "Cleanliness."
Basing his motto on "Cleanliness and Service," R. R. Allen, manager of the company, has built up in the last fourteen months the most popular home-cooking and dairy business in the city of London. The interior of the store is enamelled snow white, and this, together with the white marble floor and the immaculate uniforms of the staff, tends to bear out the firm's slogan of cleanliness.

Their cuisine has met with the general approval of London housewives; such delicacies as doughnuts, salads, cottage cheese, marmalades, jams, cooked macaroni and beans are placed on sale, fresh daily, and the prices of all these are comparatively low. Besides this range of prepared foods, the best of butter and the freshest of new-laid eggs are received every morning.

The sale of fresh buttermilk is also an important item of this store's trade, and on paying five cents you may drink all you are able.
The staff of this store is most courteous and obliging, and carries out to the last detail, "Service to the Public."

BARTON AND RUMBLE BUILD QUALITY TRUCKS

Londoners Design and Manufacture High Standard Truck of All-Canadian Make.

During the last four or five years local automobile and auto truck manufacturing has made wonderful strides, and is now recognized as one of London's leading industries.

Four years ago the firm of Barton & Rumble, which was then solely a garage business, branched out into the making of motor trucks, since they saw a growing demand in Canada for high-class and distinctly Canadian trucks.
Mr. Barton and Mr. Rumble laid plans for placing on the market a truck which would be the last word in design, stability and maximum of utility. Today these plans have had fruition in trucks which are growing more popular daily, and being seen on almost every highway in Western Ontario.

The design of these trucks is solely the work of Mr. Barton and Mr. Rumble, and the firm is entirely independent of any American concern.

Their motto from the first has been to attain a standard of unquestioned quality before assuming quantity production. They have four models of trucks, ranging from one to five tons' capacity, and scores of orders for new machines are on hand for spring delivery.

Succeed In London

LONDON, Ontario, during the last decade, has shown a remarkable progress in every line of industry, in keeping with the gradual advance and improvement in this sphere throughout the world. Ten years ago the manufacturing center of this city was confined almost entirely to the uptown district, but now the outlying parts are yearly becoming built up and more populous because of the numerous factories and mills being built within their limits.

Our city has acquired an enviable reputation throughout Canada for the variety and excellence of its products and we, as Londoners, should show our civic loyalty by doing our best at all times to heighten and increase this reputation by boosting London and every phase of life it represents.

Let our people become a host of boosters and this London of ours will go forward more quickly and more surely to a greater and more lasting popularity.

BUILD UP REPUTATION AS TIRE SPECIALISTS

H. M. Maine and A. G. Leonard, Vulcanizers, Bring Fame to "Ontario Used Tire Sales."

"Although we have been in business in London for less than two years our trade has grown wonderfully," states H. M. Maine of the Ontario Used Tire Sales, when questioned recently as to business in his particular line.

Mr. Maine and A. G. Leonard specialize in all kinds of rubber repair work, the vulcanizing of tires being their chief branch.

They buy the best of used tires, and after rebuilding them sell them to Londoners at the lowest possible prices. These two men opened their first shop at 351 Talbot street, but owing to increased business were soon forced to move to larger quarters at 339 Talbot.

By positively guaranteeing all work handled, no matter of what type, they have built up an enviable reputation as tire specialists, and it is their wish to give their customers the best of service at all times.

W. C. BENSON DECLARES BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

Says This is Particularly Noticeable in Metal Manufacturing Concerns.

William C. Benson, C.A., resident partner of Oscar Hudson & Co., in an interview on Thursday, declared that business in general is improving all over the country, and is particularly noticeable in the metal manufacturing industries. "All our clients in the metal manufacturing business have orders well in advance of production," stated Mr. Benson.

"The excellent harvest in the Prairie Provinces, with an increased demand from European markets, even though the yield in the United States is somewhat smaller than last year, should make for continued industrial improvement."

Mr. Benson pointed out the rapid growth of Oscar Hudson & Co., and the necessity for the increase in the London staff, as tending to show that the city's business interests and concerns are beginning to show rapid increase in trade.

The recent addition to the local staff was necessary, said Mr. Benson, to keep pace with the firm's well-known standard of "Prompt and Efficient Service." Recently Mr. Benson was placed in charge of the head office of the firm in Toronto during the absence of Mr. Hudson, who is in the West at present, has reopened the branch office in Vancouver, which was closed during the war. The firm has now ten branches and agencies, the more important being in Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, London, St. John's, N.B., Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver in Canada; Buffalo in the United States, and London in Great Britain.

J. A. PAGE GUIDES PLANT IN EAST END TO SUCCESS

Builds Small Tin-Fitting Concern Into Prosperous Businesshouse in Few Years.

Along with the rapid growth of London East the hardware and sheet metal works of J. A. Page of 507 Dundas street has progressed during the last fourteen years from a small tin-fitting concern to one of the largest of its kind in the city.

The business of this firm, however, is not confined solely to the city as much of its trade is with the suburbs—Broughdale, Pottersburg and the surrounding country.

Several years ago Mr. Page added a complete line of hardware, paints and kindred merchandise to his sheet metal business and since this addition his trade has shown a remarkable growth and he feels optimistic for the future—both for his own line and every other sphere of industry in London.

Come to Church Tomorrow

"YES, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of fact the average man does not thus worship. Here are a few benefits to be derived from church attendance:

"You will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if you are not familiar with the Bible, you have suffered loss.
"You will take part in singing some good hymns.
"You will meet and nod or speak to good neighbors. You will come away feeling a little more charitably inclined toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance.

"Join in church work for the sake of showing your faith in your works."
Make your start in church service tomorrow. A fair trial of church attendance will convince you it's well worth while.

Hymns You Like to Sing.

"There Is a Fountain Filled With Blood."—Wm. Cowper.

THIS hymn was written for us by William Cowper, a "poor soul for whom there was no way in life but toward madness," as the Atlantic Monthly remarked. Those who read the painfully interesting story of his life read a tragedy. He was born in 1731, and died in 1800.

Cowper lost his mother when he was only six years old, and this loss was irreparable for one so frail and timid. Though he excelled in football at school, he was always in delicate health. He studied law, but was a poor lawyer, "neither seeking business, nor sought by it." However, he needed money. He therefore applied for the clerkship of the House of Lords. When told to appear before this august body to prove his fitness, he grew so excited that his mind, which had early showed signs of weakness, became utterly deranged. For years he was in an asylum for the insane, and though seemingly cured he brooded all his life over the horrors of his mental condition. In the intervals of his terrible malady he wrote the hymns that made him famous and beloved. Referring to the strange fact that such a man became the church's great poet of affection, Mrs. Browning wrote:

O poets, from a maniac's tongue
Was poured the deathless singing!
O Christians, at your cross of hope
A hopeless hand was clinging!
O men, this man in brotherhood your weary hearts beguiling,
Groaned only while he taught you peace,
And died while ye were smiling.

In 1765 Cowper took up his abode at Olney, where John Newton was curate. They soon grew as inseparable as David and Jonathan. The sturdy Newton, unweakened by his former dissipation, was a big brother to his frail friend. However, Newton's belief in the predestination of many to hell, had a disastrous effect on the mind of his poor companion. This pious soul at times imagined itself doomed to everlasting perdition.

While Cowper and Newton lived at Olney they together wrote and published the well-known "Olney Hymns." Of these "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood" is perhaps the most famous. Some have found the idea of bathing in blood repulsive, but this is not true of those who revel as passionately as Cowper in the doctrine of salvation by the blood of Christ. Many of these attribute their conversion to this hymn. For Cowper it was only this faith that long stood between him and the madman's cell or the suicide's grave.

Moreover, the idea expressed in Cowper's hymn is strictly scriptural. In Zechariah xiii.1, we read: "There shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness." That Newton based his hymn on these words is apparent from the heading he wrote for it: "Praise for the Fountain Opened."

The mental darkness deepened as Newton's life drew to its close. However, those who saw his face as he lay on his bier, saw nothing but composure, mingled with holy surprise. The clouds had passed.—Karl H. Ehlers.

GUELPH, Oct. 29.—Since the announcement was made last week that George Everson was to retire from the position as turnkey at the county jail, a position which he has filled for the past 30 years, Sheriff Allen has been besieged with applications for the position, and while he has not made any official announcement as yet as to who will get the position, it is understood that Louis Edwards, who is a guard at the Ontario Reformatory, will be the name submitted to the inspector at Toronto for the position.

HALID EDIB HANOU.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The woman behind Kemal. That's what they call Halid Edib Hanoum, one of the first Turkish women of all time to make her mark in history.

She is said to be the person who has inspired Kemal Mustapha with his grandiose dreams of a revived Turkey astraddle of the straits of the Bosphorus, with one foot in Europe and the other in Asia. It is known that she was one of the first real Turkish women to be graduated from the American College at Constantinople. She has absorbed both Turkish and European cultures.

Romantic legend is already busy with her story and it is already hard to sift fact from fiction. It is known that she is the daughter of a Turk who was an official at the Yildiz Kiosk, the home of the sultans at Constantinople. It is known that she was one of the first real Turkish women to be graduated from the American College at Constantinople. She has absorbed both Turkish and European cultures.

BOTH ST. CLAIR CHANNELS OPEN

River Navigable From One Side To Other For Big Vessels.
Fleet of Dredges Complete Work of Removing Middle Shoal.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Oct. 29.—The American channel of the St. Clair River was opened today for the first time after being closed during the season while engineers were engaged in removing the middle shoal. Thus far the first time in history, the St. Clair River is navigable from one side to the other for big freighters, and the completion of the improvement is made in time to allow the heavy traffic in coal and grain to take advantage of it. The deepening of the American channel constitutes one of the most important developments in river improvements for some years. Huge quantities of shoal were removed by a fleet of dredgers, which have been at work since spring.

Excellent prices were obtained at a sale of purebred Holstein cattle at the farm of R. L. Allingham, Sarnia township, this afternoon, and a feature was that practically all the high-priced animals were purchased locally. Forty head realized $7,000, heifers averaging $190. The highest price paid for a 2-year-old heifer, $400 being realized, while a fine yearling bull brought $300. Buyers were present from many points of Ontario and Michigan. Mr. Allingham is giving up farming.

Efforts to halt the interdiction fight of Father Delorme by the invocation of the canonical laws of the Roman Catholic Church, which prohibit the prosecution of a member of the clergy in the civil courts without ecclesiastical sanction, crumbled today in the superior court when Mr. Justice Bruneau ruled that the ecclesiastical law could not invalidate civil proceedings. His lordship in his decision referred at length to the Tremblay-Depatie marriage case which was fought up to the Privy Council, the latter ruling the civil law supreme over all ecclesiastical law.

As each member of the family council groined the words, "for interdiction," Rosa Delorme, the priest's sister, sitting nearby, visibly blanched. At the conclusion of the roll Judge Bruneau remarked, "Well, as you are unanimous—"

"I am not," Rosa interrupted. She is, however, not a member of the family council, being debarred on account of her sex.

"I am not," Rosa interrupted. She is, however, not a member of the family council, being debarred on account of her sex.

Efforts to halt the interdiction fight of Father Delorme by the invocation of the canonical laws of the Roman Catholic Church, which prohibit the prosecution of a member of the clergy in the civil courts without ecclesiastical sanction, crumbled today in the superior court when Mr. Justice Bruneau ruled that the ecclesiastical law could not invalidate civil proceedings. His lordship in his decision referred at length to the Tremblay-Depatie marriage case which was fought up to the Privy Council, the latter ruling the civil law supreme over all ecclesiastical law.

ANDREW BONAR LAW WILL URGE KING GEORGE TO ACT AT ONCE

Conservative Chieftain Declares Time Will Be Ample For Irish Legislation.

LLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS

Tells Crowd At St. Pancras Station He Is Prepared For Fight.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press).—In the still highly speculative political situation tonight only two facts stood out as definite—that there will be almost immediately a general election, and that parliamentary ratification of the Irish constitution is safely assured.

Andrew Bonar Law, who is to lead the new government which will take the place of that of David Lloyd George, in a message to an evening newspaper, confirmed his intention to advise King George immediately to dissolve Parliament, and added that this fact would give ample time to deal with the Irish legislation. He did not indicate, however, whether the present Parliament would be dissolved according to schedule on Nov. 14 to deal with the Irish question, or whether general elections would be held immediately, and the Irish legislation left to the new Parliament.

Either plan would be practicable, the only point being that ratification of the Irish treaty must be effected before Dec. 6. Whichever course is adopted, Irish legislation is quite safe from any attempt to frustrate an Irish settlement.

Lloyd George, in a message sent to William Cosgrave, president of the Dail Eireann, at the head-quarters of opposition from him in his new position as leader of the opposition in Parliament. The Marquis of Salisbury, on behalf of the "die-hard" has made a similar promise. There is no party in the House of Commons that is likely to offer any hindrance to the carrying of the Irish treaty into effect.

Will Reveal Plans Today. The retiring premier left today for Leeds "with his sword in his hand," as he asserted in a short address at the St. Pancras station prior to his departure. Although he delivered addresses from the rear of his car on the way to Leeds, he has left until tomorrow's speech in Leeds a revelation of what his tactics will be. There is intense curiosity everywhere as to what line his speech will take—whether he has any new domestic reforms, or whether he plans to propose as a new election strategy. There have been rumors that he has some new plan for unemployment insurance, with a view to defeating the Labor vote from the London party, and bringing it into the fold of his proposed new center party.

The rebel Conservatives, who are headed by Mr. Bonar Law, Sir George Younger and Stanley Baldwin, who brought about the fall of Mr. Lloyd George's government, have contended that they were trying to get back to the old party system. Only the result of the general elections will show how far they have succeeded in this intention. Up to the present the only consequence of their tactics has been the adding of still another group to the existing party groups, thereby bringing the British Parliament still nearer to the four systems of the European parliaments.

Four Parties Now. Mr. Lloyd George, who during the war split the Liberal party into two sections, has now done the same thing with the Conservative party. Thus, instead of the two original parties there are now four, with the Labor party making the fifth. There will no longer be an Irish party, which for so many years, during the great home rule agitation, was able to dominate the Westminster parliament by throwing its 70 members to whichever side it chose. With the five separate parties, it is clear that no single party can form a big enough bloc to carry on a government without the support of other parties. At Sheffield he told the crowd that gathered about his car in London at the election of the Conservative party, that he was standing for national unity.

At Sheffield he told the crowd that gathered about his car in London at the election of the Conservative party, that he was standing for national unity. The Liberal Association at Nottingham presented Mr. Lloyd George with an address, to which the little Welshman replied that he was standing for national unity.

Political circles consider that it will be interesting to watch and see how far the Conservative electorate will follow the Bonar Law ministry in throwing off allegiance to Lloyd George, and whether his personal lieutenants, Lord Balfour, Lord Birkenhead, Austen Chamberlain, Sir Robert Horne and others who followed their chief into the wilderness, will be able to maintain the somewhat anomalous position as Conservative adherents of a nominally Liberal group.

Irate Waterloo Citizens Demand Dealers Rush Deliveries of Coal.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, Oct. 20.—Fuelless families in Waterloo are raising a loud complaint regarding the falling down of the coal foreign system at a time when many families are actually in distress as a result of the cold spell, while the coal that would alleviate conditions lies in local coal yards for failure of enough tenders to deliver it.

Fuel Controller Bechtel was asked by the coal dealers of Waterloo today to stop issuing permits until they had caught up with undelivered orders.

Numerous irate citizens asked the fuel controller for permits, and demanded that he force the coal dealers to put on more permits for delivery. The controller suspended giving out permits today until some satisfactory arrangement can be arrived at.

chief, or whether they will gradually drift back into the regular Unionist fold.

Speculate On Cabinet.

The press was very busy today in forming a new cabinet for Bonar Law. The speculations of the various newspapers showed there was no lack of able men for a new administration. There was a general agreement that Stanley Baldwin would be the new chancellor of the exchequer and Lord Curzon the foreign secretary, but in other respects there was agreement only on the names of leading men—Charles Amery, the Earl of Derby, the Marquis of Salisbury, Lord Selbourne, Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, Sir George Younger and others—but not on the posts they would fill.

The most interesting suggestion, which has been advanced with a considerable air of authority, is that Lord Carson, the former Ulster leader, will be the new lord chancellor. This would prove a very interesting appointment, by reason of the fact that Lord Carson, a strong anti-Free State man, would replace Viscount Birkenhead, who was an ardent supporter of the Irish treaty. Placidity would be added to the situation, as Carson is a fact that the former close friendship between the two men was cooled because of their divergent views on Ireland.

Mr. Bonar Law tonight met all of the chief supporters at the headquarters of the Unionist Association to complete the arrangements for Monday's gathering of members of the party to elect him leader. There was also discussion of the outlines of the new government's policy.

King George will remain at Buckingham for the few days necessary to attend to the formalities incident to the change in government and the elections. Political and electioneering activities are gathering strength daily. The flood gates of election oratory already have opened.

According to the most authoritative information tonight there will be an immediate dissolution of parliament and elections will be held Nov. 10.

WELCOMES LLOYD GEORGE. LONDON, Oct. 20.—A great crowd welcomed Lloyd George and his party on their arrival here by special train tonight. Mr. Lloyd George delivered five speeches at various railway stations on the way here from London, and everywhere was greeted warmly.

At Wellington the retiring premier compared himself to Lord Channing, who once represented that party. Channing, he said, had fought many similar battles for liberty and fair play.

"I invite your support in a battle for national interests," Mr. Lloyd George told his audience at Kettering.

At Leicester he said: "You probably have heard that they don't like me at the Carlton Club. That fact seems to have added to the number of my friends not only at Leicester but all along the route. I have never known such remarkable demonstrations."

"We won the war together, and peace was being helped by all sections. We were pulling through together, and now the new Carlton Club orders—party first. No wonder some of the oldest, ablest and most experienced leaders of the Conservative party protested against that order and declined to carry it out."

The Liberal Association at Nottingham presented Mr. Lloyd George with an address, to which the little Welshman replied that he was standing for national unity.

Expects Injunction Will Be Issued To Halt Erection of Kitchener City Hall

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, Oct. 20.—Another wrench has been thrown into the machinery that was started moving Wednesday night, when the city council determined to proceed with the plans of the new city hall, by the announcement here today by H. L. Janzen, a former mayor of the city, that an injunction will be taken out against the corporation, restraining the architect, from proceeding with the calling for tenders and the starting of construction.

Mr. Janzen declared that the council made a great mistake in determining to proceed at this time of year, and he intimated that the basis of the appeal for an injunction will be that the council should first consult the railway board, with a view to getting a confirmation on the suitability of the site.

The announcement of the threatened injunction proceedings came as no surprise to the members of the city council, as it was expected there would be opposition to their determination to get action on the building program this year. It is stated that the motive behind the threatened restraining measure is amalgamation with Waterloo. It is common knowledge from long experience in Kitchener that efforts to join Waterloo to this city must first be preceded by the location of the city hall half way between the two municipalities. The present site of the city hall is at the extreme limit of location away from Waterloo, and is undesirable to the amalgamation faction.

It is not thought any movement for an injunction will prove successful, as the bylaw passed by the ratepayers last year, authorizing the raising of debentures for the erection of a new municipal building, distinctly provided that the building be erected at the rear of the present city hall. This distinct provision in the bylaw is expected to defeat efforts to obtain an injunction to halt building operations.

HAMILTON, Oct. 20.—Rev. R. B. Rowe, a well-known Methodist minister in this district, died this morning in his 80th year. He was for six years assistant pastor of Centenary Methodist Church here. He is survived by his widow, one son, James S. Rowe, principal of Ryerson School, Brantford, and three daughters, Mrs. Christopher Fry of Norwich, Mrs. (Rev.) W. H. Barracough of Lindsay, and Mrs. Warren Fry of St. Thomas.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS
If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.
When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.
Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Take this, also, keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

FRANCE WOULD EXERCISE RIGID CONTROL OVER GERMAN FUNDS

Louis Barthou Submits Plan For Approval of Allied Reparations Commission.

URGES BRUSSELS PARLEY

Would Call Together Leading Financial Experts of World To Decide Policy.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Complete and rigid control of all German finances, power to veto expenditures and regulate taxation, and authority to dictate the arrangement of the budget of the various German states are among the chief proposals contained in the plan of the French government for a solution of Germany's financial difficulties, and for placing that country in a position to meet her reparations payments.

The plan was submitted to the reparations commission tonight by Louis Barthou, the French representative on the commission, and discussion of the project will begin tomorrow. Although not mentioned in the official summary, M. Barthou's plan contemplates a meeting of leading businessmen of the world to determine Germany's capacity to pay, and to consider the question of inter-allied debts.

The plan, in effect, is a reply to the British reparations project recently placed before the commission by Sir John Bradbury. It differs radically from the British point of view.

Barthou Urges Conference. M. Barthou urges the calling of a Brussels conference to deal with a broad reparations settlement and allied debts, and the question of German payments in 1923 and 1924. France would limit the powers of the reparations commission to application of the new guarantee and reforms for Germany, leaving the more comprehensive issues to an international meeting.

The proposition would gradually put Germany on a gold basis, beginning with an issue of gold treasury securities. M. Barthou would have Germany pay her outstanding obligations in paper currency, and he calculates that then Germany's paper circulation would be $10,000,000,000 marks, which at the present rate of exchange is worth less than the Reichsbank gold reserve.

The moment has come, according to M. Barthou, when the allies must take energetic steps or else be faced by a Germany proclaimed before the world as ruined nation, despite the fact that her actual capital is intact.

"We don't accept the contention that Germany is totally incapable of paying," says M. Barthou in his plan. "Despite Germany's enormous budget difficulties she retains tremendous riches, and has great strength to continue production and maintain her national vitality."

Would Fix Receipts. The French would so interpret the theory of prohibition of interference in Germany's internal affairs as to permit this radical control of German finances; the budget of the various German states would be supervised thoroughly, to prevent extravagances, regulate expenditures, and make arrangements for indemnity payments. A committee would be permanently established in Berlin and would have charge of carrying out of all new reforms. In case Germany should refuse immediately to observe the new demands, she would be declared in voluntary default by the

"My Sword Is in My Hand," Declares Lloyd George.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—"My sword is in my hand," was the keynote of the farewell of Premier Lloyd George to the great throng which gathered at St. Pancras station to give him an enthusiastic send-off as he left for Leeds today to deliver his address tomorrow.

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart that you have come here, this great assembly, to cheer me on my pilgrimage," he said. "I am a free man. The burden is off my shoulders, but my sword is in my hand."

commission under the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles. A minimum of receipts would be fixed, and a maximum of expenditures would be set and Germany would be required to float international loans at an opportune moment. Neither the government, nor the states would float loans without allied authority.

M. Barthou's memorandum concludes with seven proposals, as follows:

"First—Immediately to place German public finances under control of Germany's creditors, as previously outlined.

"Second—To take all measures necessary to balance the budget, and to keep it balanced; meanwhile progressively including it in the reparations payments not otherwise provided for, and the interest on loans floated for reparations payments.

"Third—To forbid the German treasury to discount any bonds of any sort with the Reichsbank, and to require submission of all issues of treasury obligations, either of short or long term, to the allied control authorities.

"Fourth—To place the Reichsbank under inter-allied supervision in order to see that it observes all allied requirements affecting it.

"Fifth—To strengthen to whatever degree the allied supervisory authorities deem necessary dispositions taken to prevent the export of capital and the hoarding of foreign exchange.

"Sixth—As soon as circumstances permit, to begin the issuance of gold treasury securities, the flotation of which is to be facilitated by certain financial aids to be devoted exclusively to the strengthening of the Reichsbank metal reserve, as far as necessary, so as to insure success of currency reform, and also to payment of reparations not covered in the budget.

"Seventh—The German government would continue to collect gold or in foreign exchange at least 24 per cent on the value of exports. The receipts from these collections, as well as customs duties on exports and imports would be paid into a special Reichsbank account in the name of the committee on guarantees, and under the committee's control the German government would dispose of this money as long as the reparations commission found the German government fulfilled obligations which had been, or would be, imposed by the commission.

"If at any time the commission finds otherwise," says the memorandum, "then the committee on guarantees will take possession of the sums to its credit in this account and the collections made thereafter, which it will see are regularly paid into this account."

Biggs Unable To OPEN NEW ROAD
Will Remove Barriers From Waterloo-Elmira Highway Without Ceremony.

Special to London Advertiser.
KITCHENER, Oct. 20.—Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, conveyed his regrets to Mayor Weichel in a letter received by the Waterloo mayor today, stating that he could not be present at the opening of the highway between Waterloo and Elmira Saturday. Owing to the inability of the minister to be present, the highway will be opened without ceremony.

The new choir society, recently organized here, was known as the Philharmonic Society of Kitchener and Waterloo, according to an announcement made today following the counting of the votes handed in by the members who registered their ballots on the name last night. The prize for suggesting the name that was adopted went to E. O. Clement.

Delay in the erection of the Sudbury school building here has caused a controversy between the contractor and school board, in which both sides of the argument are passing the buck from one to the other. The contractor claims that failure of the board to obtain delivery of the boiler has held him up in the schedule to put in the plastering, as the boiler was needed to heat the building while the work was in progress. Owing to the failure of the boiler to arrive, the work of plastering has had to be postponed, and with the result the building will not be ready for occupancy until after January. In the meantime Victoria school is over-taxed in the effort to provide accommodation for the regular pupils and the overflow from the unfinished school.
