Ask Better Service.

H. Westoby, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Ald. G. A. Drew, and R. L. Torrance spoke along similar lines and urged that it was in the interests of the people residing in this section of Ontario that improved service be given. Sir Henry in his reply, stated that everything possible would be done and as soon as possible to improve this northern service, realizing that the bulk of the passenger traffic of Western Ontario came from this section, and he ntimated that gasoline or storage battery cars may be inaugurated ome of the lines. He pointed out owever, that finances had to be considered, but that the officals considered. were already working on the project, and an intimation was given that if these lines were made to pay Sir Henry, and V. G. Snell, local they might ultimately be electrified. With regard to the Toronto Subur-ban Railway Sir Henry stated that plans were already being perfected or improvement to the terminal fa cilities at Toronto, but did not stat what these plans were, or exactly when they would be extended.

Sir Gilbert Parker and Rudyard Kipling Write For The Advertiser.

What will be the outcome in the Ruhr? What will happen to England if France fails-if there is another war?

Sir Gilbert Parker, the famous Canadian writer, who will make his bow this week as a contributor to The Advertiser, deals with these and allied questions of vital interest in his new work, "Europe Now," of which the first installment will appear tomorrow. In a manner at once dramatic and simple, he presents his view of the latest tangle of national desires and interests.

Canada is proud to claim Sir Gilbert Parker as a Canadian. He went over to the motherland and became a British M. P. But that wasn't allowed to interfere with the writing of novels read by millions.

His place of prominence in the world of affairs, and his close association with European politics have given him unique opportunity for understanding not only surface manifestations, but the undercurrent of movements in progress, and the significance of these. The Advertiser has obtained exclusive rights to publish "Europe Now," which comes as an authoritative pronouncement.

Remember how you used to thrill over "Soldiers Three," how your blood coursed more rapidly through your veins for the strong beat of "Plain Tales From the Hills" and the incomparable "Jungle Book"? You quarreled with your friends over the right ending for "The Light That Failed." Should everything come out all serene in the last "close up"? Or should Dick have died, facing the Fuzzy Wuzz? "The Day's Work" rang in your ears until it became a part of your life rhythm. "What has happened to Kipling?" is the question which has been going the rounds of the world for the past decade, with the answer an interrogation mark. Kipling, the old Kipling, the strong man of English literature, has come back once more, and soldiers have been the source of his inspiration. With all the gripping power of "Soldiers Three," brought him renown, Rudyard Kipling has told the story of "The Irish Guards" in the great world war. Readers of The Advertiser are to have an opportunity of testing the flavor and worth of the latest work of the famous author. "The Irish Guards" will be published exclusively in this paper in weekly installments, beginning tomorrow.

"The Advertiser has so many good articles, it would be possible to keep in touch with the best thought of the world without buying any other publication," said a prominent leader in London women's organizations the other day.

It was thus she sensed and appreciated the intentions behind The Advertiser's daily offerings to give a well-balanced, authentic and interestcompelling diet.

The tastes and needs of all classes of readers are taken into consideration, not forgetting the children.

A "Mother Goose" feature about to be introduced is for the wide-awake hours of the boys and girls, and bound to prove of absorbing interest. Then there are the Doo-Dads, dear to the heart of childhood. They are good for long sieges of rainy and shut-in days.

What about ""scrap-booking" them? Just think of the joy of a sustained "History of the Doings of the Doo-Dads for those young enough to understand!

Conviction Greater Than Discipline.

The writer of a column of comment in the Ottawa In Canada. The details are like this:

official Liberalism has determined to let the West go hang; that its plan of campaign is to make the Liberal party a 'big business' party; to steal the Conservative cry of protection; to have the government considered safe by the banks, the railways, the trust companies, and the manufacturers. Liberal tactics, indeed, are quite transparent. The party leaders know that Quebec, the one essentially Conservative province, is against Mr. Meighen. They know that the Maritime Provinces will as soon throw in their lot with the Liberals as with the Conservatives, and, in any case, will never go Progressive. And they reason that all that is necessary to keep the Liberals in office is to champion protection in Ontario. By these tactics, by hiving free traders into a western sectional party, and by hiving Conservatives into an ultra-Tory Toronto party, they believe that they can weaken both factions to such an extent that the country will have confidence in neither. The Liberal party would become the refuge of all the 'safe and sane' elements; the extremists would be outside, and divided against themselves."

Granted, for the sake of argument, that all the above were true, what would happen? Only one thing could happen in such an atmosphere, viz., the Liberal party would perish; at least it would cease to be a Liberal party.

Such a state of affairs as the Journal outlines would not be possible, because the bringing of it to pass assist in financing a road scheme. would entail the job of fooling and hoodwinking a lot small tribute to their sense of values when it suggests such a thing could be done.

The whole exhibition is a splendid fingerpost to the solution of much of what is referred to as the "boy problem." "My boy does not seem to know what to do in his spare time. We find it hard to get him interested in anything." Is that so? Then a look through the Hobby Fair will put a dozen very good answers to that parental complaint.

The Money of the People.

Wellington Hay, in his nomination speech at Milverton, made a sensible remark when he claimed that municipal councils, whether they were county, township, town or city, must wake up to the fact that when they pass resolutions and ask for monetary assistance from the province they are asking for something that means more taxation on the people.

In the long run a provincial government has only one source of revenue, and that is the people.

Getting government money is not finding cash-it is taking it from the people.

Premier King took the same position not long ago when he turned down a deputation that asked him to

"I will move at the next session of the council that the L. & P. S. be also surveyed by the citizens' research bureau," the chairman explained, "providing, of course, that we have the power to do this."
"We certainly have that power,"

Mayor Wenige replied. "We appoint the London & Port Stanley commissioners, and surely we should have something to say about the road, and should have all information neces sary, in the interests of the citizens. Ve appoint the commissioners, and t lies within our province to rescind he bylaw and ask for their resignations, if we view such action as timely and imperative."

WIN SCHOOL EVENTS

Empire Day Delightfully Celebrated by North End Pupils.

Empire Day was delightfully celeorated at Ryerson public school when, after days of preparation, one of the most unique and delightful outings ever held for pubils in the north end of the city was staged in Putherugh Park. To foster the spirit of competition and school spirit among the younger pupils the school authorities conceived the idea of dividing the pupils into two factions for the day, the "Reds" and the "Blues."

Ten days before the big celebration, Roy Kennedy was chosen to wave the red banner and Miss Margaret Laing the blue flag, and every pupil from Grade 8 down to the kindergarten had been allotted one or the other side.

On Empire Day, 41 events were run off, and the interest the youngsters took in each of the races and how their side was coming along in the question of points was pleasurably observed by many onlookers, as well as the teachers themselves, through whose efforts the day was made

Waving banners and yelling school waving banners and yeiling school songs the entire school marched to the park, where the events were staged. On the program were flat races, chum races, three-legged races, obstacle races, blind pig races, raley races jumning and hopping relay races, jumping and hopping events, end-ball contests, potato races, club snatch contests, dodge ball and baseball games for both boys and girls.

When the points were all counted it was found that the "Reds" had won out by 109 points.

The competition between the two sections started on Monday last wit 1 a poster competition. At this time the "Blues" were 150 points to the good. The poster contest winners good. The poster contest winners were Charlie Muffen, Isabel Clive, Frank Kennedy, Allan Miller, Walter Tamblyn, Tom Senton, Celes Chiera, Wyrle Chambers, Jim Cairncross, Hugh Kennedy, Louise Schoos, Teddy Wright, Norman Price, Robert Moran. J. Marshall, Douglas Scholes, David Scholes, Helen Curtiss, Billie Robinson, Charles Eady, Cedric Tanner, Margaret Wood, Patricia Sylvester and Roger Dorland.

The individual class winners in the events are: H. B. Galpin's class, Helen Price and Jack May; D. H. Carr's class, Marjorie Curtiss and Matt Sandford; Miss H. Chapman's class, Mary Moran and Jim Walker; Stark and Jack Libbings; Miss Grace Sing's class, Louise Neville and Roger Dorland; Miss M. Giddens' class, Phyllis Davenport and Donald Phyllis Davenport and Donald Campbell; Miss Muriel Lancaster's class, Joyce Butchart and Henry Boker; Miss E. ### LINIMENT FOUND TO BE POWERFUL GERMICIDE

Originally, Absorbine Jr. was sold only as a pain reliever and an embrocation. It was quickly discovered that the liniment was positive death to all forms of germ life, and it is now used as a mouth wash, for wound dressing and for all disinfecting purposes.

Another surprise was yet in store. A Wm. Pratt of Springfield, Mass., applied Absorbine Jr. to a varicose vein to relieve the intense pain. Not only did the pain leave, but he noticed every day the swollen vein becoming smaller. The treatment was kept up and, today, Mr. Pratt's legs, though he has never used anything else on them, are as smooth as when he was a boy. It has now been proved that Absorbine Jr. is an actual specific for varicose veins, leg ulcers, boils, pyorrhoea and a number of other ailments and injuries besides that for which it was first prepared. Nothing serves so many every day purposes and nothing is better entitled to its place in every home. When it is needed, it will be needed in a hurry.

Stratford got to Pring in the first and gathered enough runs to win. With two gone they slammed in two singles. Then Jamieson leaned on it for a three-bagger, scoring on Edwards' single. They added another in the fourth. London rapped two in the second and one in the fifth. Pring pulled himself out of a nasty hole in the second, when with three on bases Moore popped a foul fly to Armstrong. Likewise London had three on in the fourth, but Southcott hit into a double play.

Harry Owens skipped the high rink at yesterday afternoon's presidents' and vice-presidents' opening tournament at the Thistle Club, winning both games, with the Thistle Club, winning both games, with a plus of 17.

Ideal weather made the opening day a feature one, and veteran members of the club recalled that not for several years had such excellent weather greeted the opening of the season. The greens were in excellent condition.

Results were as follows:

bad bet to take the short odds in a wager that Tommy Loughran will fight a fallen idol on June 25. Funny things do sometimes happen in no-decision scraps.

Loughran is a tough bird, as Greb himself discovered last winter. Besides being tough, he is clever. For McTigue to take the second dose so soon after the Greb affair is, in the opinion of the writer, more than a five-day program. Of course, though, if Mikes beats them both he will be considered quite some slick boy.

Two bang-bang triples by McNamara, London's new outfielder from Washing-ton, and Schaefer following a walk, effected two tallies in the London third. In the fifth Wernke hurled himself right into trouble with two walks and Mc-Namara's double sandwiched in between, Mostade's double relieving the pressure on the bags to the extent of one tally. Thut's sacrifice fly, a walk to Boyle and Churry's double completed rough work for three more runs. Ernie Neitzke got by the sixth, but in the seventh three singles, a walk and Thut's double turned in three counters, and another trio was added Stimpson safe on Vermilyea's misplay and Getsie on a choice were scored by Schaefer's double. London Tecs broke their long losing streak, and the faithful clients, and probably a large overflow from the chilly opening day of some weeks ago, saw them turn the trick yesterday morning in the first of the holiday bill by a 2 to 5 count. In the afternoon the Braves had a relapse and lost a 5 to 4 argument, but not before they had threatened to lay the old Schwartje jinx for good and all with a two-run rally that felt one run short of making the affair eat into the lunch hour. The Tecs didn't gain much on the day as far as the standing goes, but they did get the crowd warmed up to something like the old fervor with their sustained clouting after the Aces had blown Lefty McCallum off the hill in the first inning with a shrill cadenza of base warblers, Jeanes' triple striking a heavy note along with Lopez's and Dowell's far-from-squeaky two-ply knocks. A brace of triples in staccato by McNamara and Schaefer in the third was the start of retaliation for McCallum's rough treatment, and they laid a fuse under Wernke in the fifth which brought Ernest Neitzke, dapper, hard-hitting ex-Tec of a couple of seasons ago, forth as a relief pitcher. They unloosed an offensive against Neitzke, too, meanwhile giving Haines, who took up from the second inning, interproof support.

A sudden break in the Atlantic Gulf and West Indies stocks had no effect upon other members of the shipping group. A revival of interest in Pennsylvania Seaboard Steel was due to reports that the company's plants are operating at full capacity, and that it is once more making money.

Nothing in the developments of the day attracted as much interest as the survey of business conditions by the chairman of the Steel Corporation, addressing the American—Iron and Steel Institute. The striking points were his statement that he could not see for the next six months at least any material falling off in the demand for steel products, and second, his reference to the propaganda designed to "create the impression that there will be in the near future a substantial recession in business activities."

OPTIMISM PREVAILS IN STEEL INDUSTRY

Manufacturers Must Keep the Prices at Reasonable Level.

Level.

Canadian Press Despatch.

New York, May 25.—A comprehensive survey of the iron and steel business tontained in the address today of Elbert.

H. Gary, chairman of the United States institute. Mr. Gary affirmed that while that there will be a substantial diminution for the demand for furnished steel in the United States during the next six months at least," steel manufacturers must not permit prices to go above a level which is fair and reasonable.

Continuing, he declared the furnaces Continuing, he declared the furnaces and mills of iron and steel many Continuing, he declared the furnaces and mills of iron and steel manufacturers were at present operating at nearly full capacity. limited and modified only by the lack of sufficient working forces. The producers find it difficult to satisfy the peremptory demands of consumers. Stocks of finished materials in warehouses throughout the United States are very low. The unfilled orders on the books of the steel manufacturers are not less than 15 or 16 million tons, and the new bookings and shipments of finished materials per day for the whole industry are eightly or ninety thousand tons.

In support of his contention that there would not, in the near future, be a material slackening in the demand and use for steel, Mr. Gary emphasized the necessity of consumers, not only in the United States but in those for eign countries whose supply of iron and steel products is dependent on the output of North American manufacturers. Financial statements, he declared, showed that the ability of prospective purchasers to pay for steel was very encouraging.

Laidlaw-Buyers are taking steel in ry large quantities. Clarke Childs—Rails look the best Harris Winthrop-We would rather Harris Winthrop—We would rather buy than sell.

Jones, Easton, McCallum—If we are correct in our views that the trend of business will be toward contraction, then the real underlying trend will be downward. But this does not mean downward. But this does not mean that you have got to have a declining market every day. Substantial rallies must come, and the present one may extend further, but it will be of little values unless longs take advantage of it and sell stocks on the strong markets.

WANT AD TIPS

Courtesy For Inquirers Who Do Not Buy

"Well," said the caller hesitatingly, as though fearing to offend, edging toward the steps, "I think I'll look about some more before I buy.

The moment when an inquirer, after being shown an advertised article, indicates that while her verdict may not be negative, it, at least, is not affirmative—she wishes to see what others offer-comes not once, but many, many times in the experience of Want advertisers. What is the proper thing to do when the inquirer starts to leave?

The right thing, usually, is to be pleasant and courteous, and freely to let the visitor go away. The same situation arises uncounted times in the retail stores of the country, and best practice in these is best practice of the Want advertiser.

Said a merchant who has had phenomenal success: "I attribute much of my steady growth in patronage to my policy of letting store visitors go away readily without buying. I instruct my salespepople never to "hang on" to a visitor, never to seem displeased at his departure, but on the contrary, to send him away with courtesy and a smile.

"I figured it this way: A policy of hanging on, holding in the store just as long as possible, would make a sale to an occasional person. But all would be antagonized by it, and, finally getting away, wouldn't come back. Now, many go away, look at the offerings of others, and then come back and buy. They like to come back, because we have treated them with thorough courtesy.

"Being courteous to the departing inquirer, freely letting him leave, actually sells him in the end.

This is excellent policy for the Want advertiser. Do this, however: Obtain the name, address and phone number, if possible, of the inquirer. Several days later, if you haven't sold your article, call up the latter. Inform him your article is still for sale. Inquire whether he has bought or not. Many times this little act will result in a sale.

Official U. S. Circles Show Renewed Interest In Much-Discussed Subject.

WANT BIG CANADIAN

Associated Press Despatch Washington, May 25. - Reports from Ottawa that Premier King expects to take up the subject of sending a Canadian representative to Washington have aroused renewed interest here in this much-discussed

According to gossip here, the actual sending of a Canadian representative to this country is likely to wait until after the imperial conference at London next fall. However, it is generally expected the problem will be solved and that it will not be a great while before Canada will have direct representation in the United States capital. Such representation will meet with general approval in Congress and official quarters. It is the understanding in Washington that Premier King purposes-when Canada does send a representative-to choose the ablest he can find, a man, who will at once be on good terms with the British embassy and at the same time a thorough Canadian, capable of looking after Canada's excapable of looking after caldudes softensive interests in the exchanges of formal and informal diplomacy between that country and the United States.

It is the feeling of United States officials and members of Congress that it would be of mutual advantage o the two countries if such proble as reciprocity, the development of the St. Lawrence and the many problems which exist or arise from time to time could be taken up with the least pos-sible formality. It is said to be quite likely that when Canada sends a representative to Washington he will be among other things, a man who will among other things, a man who will have a thorough understanding of the agricultural problems and sentiment of both Western Canada and the United States.

CONCRETE HIGHWAYS are economical

MANY municipalities have learned by experience how costly some roads are. Swiftly moving pleasure vehicles, and heavily laden trucks have revolutionized road traffic. For modern traffic permanent highways are necessary, and ultimate economy must be considered when planning our highways.

The country's requirements call for an even greater speeding up of Canada's modern road building programme in order to cope successfully with present day traffic.

Concrete highways are permanent. They reduce upkeep costs to a minimum and thus lessen the taxpayer's burden. Experience has shown that Concrete roads are most economical in the long run. Concrete highways lower haulage costs, thus benefitting both farmer and consumer. The even surface invites tourist trade and contributes to the comfort of every user.

Faced as we are with the need of providing roads capable of withstanding the increased strain of modern traffic, we surely must recognize that road economy calls for the adoption of that higher type of paving which concrete makes possible.

CLOSE FINISHES AT WEST LORNE

Trotters and Pacers of District Show Speed At Annual Meet.

PLAN GRANDSTAND

Officials of Club Declare Day Most Successful On Record.

Special to the Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.

West Lorne, May 25 .- The Empire ay race meet of the West Lorne Racing Association held here yesterwas the most successful in he history of the association. There vas a total of 24 entries in the four races staged, and in most cases an additional heat had to be run to select a winner, so close was the competition. Close fields and neck and neck finishes were the order of he day and a crowd of nearly 4,000 race fans watched them with keen interest, the first big event of its kind for the season in Western Ontario. The most spectacular race was the .15 class, trot or pace, with a $250 ourse. This race was won by Della Unko, a gray mare from Chatham, and judging from her form in this first meet, she intends to improve on er performance of last year. The 2.25 class was won by Mack Darian, who had just a shade more speed than the runner-up, Bell Hal, of Tillsonburg. This race was a close one, and four heats were run before decision could be reached 2.50 class was a hard race which ran to five heats before a de-cision could be reached, as each of the preliminary heats brought out a new winner. The fifth heat, however, proved that Onocose, an unheralded "dark horse" had just a little the better form, for he came under the tape about an ayelash ahead of Pearl igen of Tillsonburg.

Novice Race. The 3 minute class for green horses was about as hotly contested as the 2.15 pace, for although the entrants were supposed to be green in every sense of the word, the horses did not show it on the track. They made a few ragged starts, and were called back each time by the starter, but once away they put up the neatest race of the day. Naturally they were not as "track wise" as the entries in the other races, but on the stretches they showed that their breeding pointed back to some fast blood. The winner, Hal Opra, owned by Nix. of Tillsonburg, is a smooth horse with plenty of reach, and a worker from the drop of the hat. The track was fast, and in all heats the time made was within an ace of the time allowed under the different classes. The judges were: R. Fraser, Dutton; A. McWilliam, Dutton, and T. Hetzel of Rodney. The starter was Charlie McCall of St. Thomas. The task of the officials was not an easy one, as this being the opening event in this district the drivers were a bit over-anxious to see what they could grab in the way of trick

Baseball Game.

An interesting feature of the day's outing was the exhibition baseball game between West Lorne and Dut-The teams were evenly matched and put up a good game, although somewhat handicapped by the poor condition of the diamond. The game was close, and at one time threat ened to rob the race track of its fol-lowing. The Dutton aggregation proved too strong for the home team and in the ninth inning brought two men in on a three-base hit, and clinched the game 8 to 6 in their

The officials of the West Lorne Racing Club are unanimous in declaring today's meet the most successful ever held in point of gate receipts, the brand of racing put up, and in the excellent weather with which the meet was favored. It is understood that today's racing will make possible the much-needed grandstand which the association has promised its natrons for some years. The next event in Western Ontario racing is the Tillsonburg meet to be staged early next month, and many of the entrants present at West Lorne have stated their intention of entering again at Tillsonburg.

CANADA SCHOOL CHILDREN CELEBRATE EMPIRE DAY

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, May 25 .- Empire Day was generally celebrated Wednesday in the schools of Canada as in other parts of the British Empire, with various patriotic exercises, parades of cadets and other appropriate ceremonies. As a rule, throughout Canada the special celebration was confined to the chiltomorrow, Victoria Day, in honor of the birthday of Queen Victoria, whose death in 1901 terminated a reign of more than 60 years.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION CAUSES MAN'S DEATH

Blast From 80,000-Gallon Tank Rocks City of Birmingham, Alabama.

Associated Press Despatch. Birmingham, Ala., May 24. — One ian, a negro workman, was killed and Norwood, a fashionable suburb, was threatened early today when an 80,000 gallon tank of gasoline exploded in the center of 71 other tanks containing 2,000,000 gallons of gas-oline and crude oil at the plant of the Wofford Oil Company. The blast rocked Birmingham, and thousands persons hurried to the fire, but fled when they realized their danger. Working in terrific heat, firemen played streams of water on the tanks about that which exploded, and saved the situation. They placed the loss at approximately $40,000.

I Am An Author!

In the very next month's issue of that little Ohio magazine, my article occupied the seat of honor. At this writing I do not remember my opening paragraph, but the second paragraph began with the following sentence: "Much has been written and said about prisons and prison inmates and the better plan of management of and for them. That seems to be an eternal question, or at least one like Banquo's ghost-it will not down."

Of course a peculiar thrill of joy attended my reading of that, my first attempt at writing for publication. I had no fault to find with the thought of the thing; but the more I read that article, the more errors of construction I found in it. And right there I learned one worth-while rule concerning the business of writing, namely, never to be in haste about writing anything for publication.

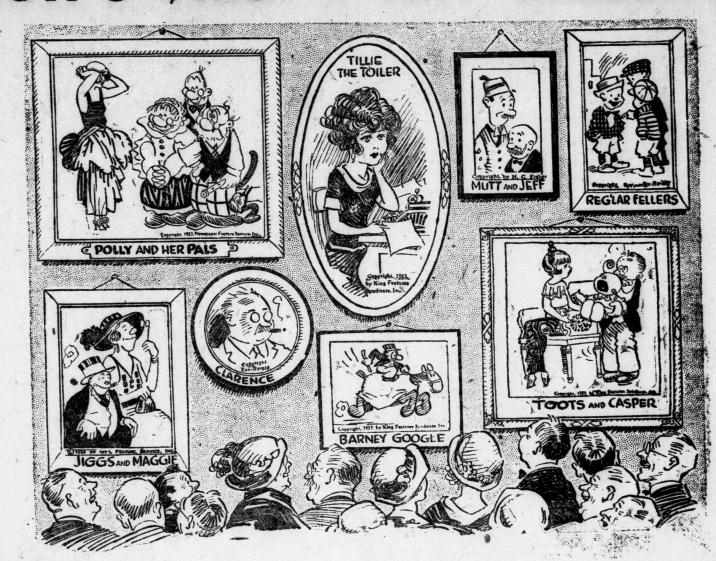

It seemed, however, that others paid more attention to the thoughts as expressed than they did to the construction. That article was re-
