GERMANY MAKES INITIAL PAYMENT TO ALLIES

Matthews' Application For Bail Granted By High Court

EVACUATION BY FRENCH WILL COME IN NIGHT

"Invisible" Movement of the Troops in Occupied Areas Is Planned.

GERMANY PAYS

Makes Initial Remittance of 20,000,000 Gold Marks Under Dawes Plan.

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, Sept. 2.—Germany today made her initial payment of 20,000,000 gold marks under the Dawes plan. The payment was received here by Leon Fraser, assistant to Owen B. Young, agent-general ad interim for reparations payments.

WILL MOVE IN NIGHT.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The date for the evacuation of Dortmund and the surrounding territory to the River Lippe has not yet been definitely fixed, but one thing has been settled, namely, that the withdrawal of the troops will be conducted with the greatest secrecy. "Invisible" evacuation will follow in the wake of the attempted "invisible occupation." The citizens of Dortmund, it is forecast, will awake some morning to find the French troops gone. The order, it is stated, will be given after sunset, and the operation conducted during the night. This method of evacuation has been adopted, it is explained, in order to ward off any possible incident by the French troops expressing their hostility by words or acts which might develop into an insult to the French flag or army. The withdrawal, however, is still some weeks away, it is declared, as the French customs officers on the eastern frontier of the occupied territory are not due to leave, according to the London pact, until Sept. 20, and the troops will remain there until the French civilian occupants have left.

WOOL MANUFACTURERS FAVOR LOAN TO GERMANY

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Sept. 2.—The effect of the proposed international loan to Germany is being keenly considered amongst the leading representatives of the Yorkshire woolen trade. Walter Andrews, former president of the British Wool Federation, expresses the opinion that the loan will strengthen the position of the top-makers and spinners in Great Britain but eventually the British manufacturers will face keener competition as the outcome of the loan. Nevertheless he says the loan of money to Germany is necessary at the present time.

The cost of wool combing in Germany is forty per cent less than it is in Yorkshire.

Eddy Company here and will affect from around 100 to 125 workers. The firm in the wage scale was approximately from 40 to 42 cents per hour to 33 to 35 cents per hour.

Frost Damages Western Crop

Canadian Press Despatch.
Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 2.—Crops in the Cupar district suffered Sunday night under 12 degrees of frost and a number of other points report four degrees. Heavy winds Saturday also caused slight damage, early frosts suffering to the greatest extent.

Forty-seven C. N. Men Will Be Reinstated

Workers Who Were Laid Off Will Be Employed Throughout Winter.

Word was received on Saturday by the local office of the C. N. R. from headquarters, to reinstate some 47 men who had been laid off a few weeks ago, and that the 50 men who were to have been put off this week will be kept on the payroll through the winter. The 47 men are back at work today.

This means that while the men are working only three weeks in the month that they are assured of work through the winter. A coincidence is that between the time that these men were laid off and the letter from headquarters, the city clerk had written the C. N. R. in behalf of the council protesting the laying off of the men, and expressing the hope that no more men would be laid off. The action of the National road will do much to lessen unemployment in the city during the winter.

BOAT UPSETS IN STORM, CAUSING DEATHS OF TWO

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Sept. 2.—Word was received here last night that two men had been drowned and many others had narrow escapes when a Verchères boat containing 75 persons crossing Lake Connelly, 15 miles north of Shawbridge, upset during the storm of Sunday night.

The dead are Michael Shea, 58, master mechanic, and William James, 54, locomotive engineer, both of the C. P. R.

BRAZILIAN REBELS ARE CONTINUING ACTIVITIES

Associated Press Despatch.
Buenos Aires, Sept. 2.—Advices from Santos indicated that some contingents of the Brazilian rebels have retired into the State of Matto Grosso, and that they continue active there. Railroad traffic to Carumbá, on the Bolivian border has ceased.

Federal forces continue their operations against the rebels and expect to suppress them shortly, say official advices from Carumbá.

NEW PACT IS SOUGHT BY LITTLE ENTENTE

Smaller Nations of Europe After Better Safeguard Through League.

ASSEMBLY OPENS

Commissions to Study Various World Problems Are Named.

Associated Press Despatch.
Geneva, Sept. 2.—The small nations of Europe, especially the members of the Little Entente, manifested today their determination to achieve some international pact which they consider will really safeguard their security when they selected Foreign Minister Duce of Rumania to preside over the important deliberations of the third assembly commission, which is to probe the entire problem of disarmament and security.

There seems here to be a distinct movement, under the apparent leadership of France, to insist that all international deliberations for the limitation of armaments shall be held through the mechanism of the League of Nations. If this movement develops it might sidetrack, it is thought, the United States government's reported intention to convene a new disarmament conference unless it be definitely linked with the League. For the moment, at least, the movement is entirely confined to the lobby discussions of the delegates.

He faced a crowd of over 100,000 people to see the race, for they like the Prince of Wales, had been drawn by the desire to witness the running of the special international sweepstakes. It was a holiday crowd, too, that had poured to the track from New York City and thousands of points in the United States; it was the Prince of Wales' greatest popularity contact with the American people, greater than anything on his 1919 visit. It was done also against the advice of his American friends, who feared for his safety in such a mob. The fear was unfounded. There were some uncomfortable moments when he might have been squeezed to death by the crowding curious thousands who milled around him. But he suffered no harm.

The prince had been at a garden party, luncheon at "The Elms," at Glen Cove, L. I. He left there at 2:40 in the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Roger Winthrop, his hostess at the Burden home here, and by Major E. D. Metcalf, his aide.

His big car shot out from the Pratt gates, preceded by two policemen on motorcycles, and followed by two or three cars of Scotland Yard men. American secret service men and New York State detectives, following the beautiful roads of Long Island at times reaching a speed of forty miles an hour, though the roads were jammed as they progressed west with holiday lines of cars. The trip of twenty-five miles took some forty minutes.

Escapes Crowd.
It was 3:30 when the prince's car turned into Belmont Park and drove up to the club house entrance, which was decorated with American and French flags. Few in the crowd expected him, and he had almost sneezed to death by the crowding reserved for members of the Westchester Racing Association before those nearby realized that the slight figure in blue-gray flannel suit with a Panama hat, hopping down around his ears, was the Prince of Wales. Then there was a rush from all sides. But he was already half way up the stairs at a fast clip, his attendants wedged themselves solidly behind him.

The prince was wearing in his buttonhole an enamel badge, denoting membership of the Turf and Field Club. He was pushing his way through the crowd, but there has been no fighting as yet.

RAILWAY CONNECTIONS WITH PEKING SEVERED

Associated Press Despatch.
Shanghai, Sept. 2.—Forces under General Luyung-Hsiang, military governor of Chekiang Province, have cut the Shanghai-Nanking Railway, 15 miles from this city. Railway connections with Peking, therefore, is broken. Outposts of the troops under Gen. Chi Sheng Yuan, military governor of Kiang Su Province, are pushing near Shanghai, but there has been no fighting as yet.

CARS OF LIQUOR ARE CONFISCATED

Magistrate Graydon Hands Down His Decision in Case.

Three carloads of beer, valued at $9,000, seized by License Inspector Bolton on Aug. 23 and owned by a wealthy American bootlegger, will probably be turned into the gutter or sold at the Ontario dispensary. The bottles alone are valued at $1,000.

Thursday and Friday have been definitely set apart for the assembly debate on disarmament and security, with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain and Premier Herriot of France the chief speakers. Greece came out strongly today for the Armenians when she introduced a resolution providing for the transfer of the Armenian refugees to the Caucasus and the creation thereof an Armenian national home.

HERRIOT ON WAY.

Associated Press Despatch.
Lyons, France, Sept. 2.—Premier Herriot is leaving this morning for Geneva to attend the League of Nations assembly of the League of Nations.

MACDONALD LEAVES.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Sept. 2.—Premier MacDonald left this morning for Geneva, where he is to head the British delegation in the fifth assembly of the League of Nations, now in session there.

Commenting on reports that when he addresses the assembly on Thursday he intends to propose immediate proportional disarmament under the control of the league, the premier said to reporters:

"I am sorry to find all sorts of prophecies being made which have no foundation. I am not going to discuss the purpose of making speeches, though I will have some things to say, but to try and demonstrate by my presence how much confidence I have in the power of the league to do good work and how anxious I am that every national delegation should be as strong and representative as possible."

Mr. MacDonald plans to leave Geneva on Saturday, returning to London, where he will spend a holiday until the last week of September. Then he plunges into the party's big autumn campaign, which kind the Laborites have ever attempted.

INQUEST IS ORDERED INTO STRANGER'S DEATH

Canadian Press Despatch.
Cochrane, Sept. 2.—The body of an unknown man was found on the street near the Northland Hotel on Saturday morning, the head badly cut and the pockets of his clothes turned inside out.

It is known that he had sold furs on Friday and had about $300 that day. Various rumors are current, one being that he was murdered for his money, another that he fell from a balcony of a hotel and the body was carried a distance and left, and a third that he had been in a fight and died from alcoholic poisoning. An autopsy will be held to determine cause of death.

Supreme Court Judge Grants $30,000 Bail For Matthews

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Sept. 2.—Justice Fisher at Osgoode Hall this morning approved of the application for bail of Charles A. Matthews, Jun., former deputy provincial treasurer, who a week ago was committed for trial at the next sitting of the general sessions court on charges arising out of the sale of provincial bonds.

Bail was fixed this morning at $30,000, in securities to be approved by the crown attorney.

Matthews was released from the Don jail shortly after 2 o'clock today.

DANISH GOVERNMENT IS TEST OF SOCIALISM

Plans of Total Disarmament Are Watched With Great Interest.

NO COMPROMISE

Dane's Worship of Tradition Runs Back to the Vikings.

This is the eighth of a series of articles by Rex of Raribits fame following a summer of travel in Europe.

An experiment in socialism that holds world interest is being made in Denmark. The tiny country whose viking ancestors once conquered the whole of Northern Europe, is now governed by a group of radical reformers, whose announced intention is to make Denmark the first authentic socialist state the world has known.

Like Great Britain, the destiny of Denmark is controlled by a minority Labor party. But unlike the MacDonald ministry, that of Stauning, this Danish socialist government will not tolerate half measures or compromise so far as Socialist principles are concerned. Within a year they intend putting all the Marxist theories of government into operation. If they are successful, they predict that every other country in Europe will follow suit. If they fail, they claim their failure will sound the death knell of scientific Socialism.

Just now the eyes of the world are riveted on this little Scandinavian nation largely because it is taking such drastic steps toward disarmament, but primarily because the Stauning government has included so many revolutionary planks in its legislative platform.

Complete Disarmament.
One of these is complete disarmament. Another is the abolition of all titles, acquired and hereditary. A third calls for the abdication of King Christian IX, and the establishment of a state of free socialists. When it is appreciated that the average Dane's worship of tradition and all the cobwebbed antiquity that goes with a glorified military history is greater even than that of the average Englishman, it is easy to imagine the feelings of shock and resentment with which Stauning's Socialist proposals were greeted. But the government has been in harness for three months. And during that time it has shrewdly distributed Marxist propaganda all over Denmark. Before it makes Denmark a Socialist nation it intends to make the majority of Danes Socialists.

The writer was privileged to have a ten-minute chat with Premier Stauning in the ministry of Marine, Copenhagen. Before his selection as premier by the Socialists, Stauning was an obscure harness-maker. He is an unemotional, squat little man with a fierce mouth and deep-set eyes.

WARD ONE LEADS IN '24 INCREASES

Population Jump 527 Since First of Year—Figure Now 14,573.

An increase of 527 in Ward One is noted in the report for the ward by V. K. Greer, Commissioner Harry Bennett to the council. This is the largest increase in any of the wards this year, giving Ward One a population of 14,573.

The report of the commissioner says in part:

The record of children shows between 8 and 7 years, 535; 8 and 13 years, 1,199; 14 and 15 years, 369; 16 and 17 years, 329, a total of 2,432. Of this number 2,243 are under the guardianship of public school, 189 separate and 189 separate.

SLEEPING SICKNESS EPIDEMIC CONTINUES

Mortality in England and Wales Not as High as in Other Years.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Sept. 2.—The epidemic of sleeping sickness which began in England and Wales at the beginning of the year shows little sign of abating, and its seriousness has been brought home to everybody by the deaths of several well-known persons, among whom was one of England's crack footballers.

The epidemic has extended without a break from the beginning of February until now, the only redeeming feature being the comparatively low death rate. During this period the number of cases in England and Wales amounted to more than 4,000, the exact number registered between Feb. 2 and Aug. 9 being 4,024. The death toll was 12 or 21 per cent as compared with 40 per cent of the cases in former epidemics.

BRITISH EXPERIENCED MUCH RAIN IN AUGUST

London, Sept. 2.—Cables from Canada tell about the heat wave that has visited the Dominion, in striking contrast to the kind of weather that has prevailed in Great Britain.

August in this country took its departure amid maledictions, and the best its apologists have could say in its favor was that actually there were eleven days in August without rain. In many places in Great Britain the temperature never rose above seventy degrees any day last month.

CITY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE OVER 10,000 OPENING DAY

Bells Ring and Pupils Begin March For Another Term.

ONE IS SILENT

All Report Attendance Equal to That of Other Years.

All roads led to school today. Along sunny pathways came over 10,000 students, fresh from the long vacation and eager to get back to educational training. They came to schools that had been renovated and repaired, and found books and equipment waiting; they met new teachers and they met new school chums.

This morning 75 per cent of the expected public school enrollment had been registered. This is as high as usual on the morning of opening day, said authorities. Partial enrollment at twenty of the public schools showed that 6,812 pupils had attended classes this morning. Of these, 501 were kindergarten pupils. Figures were not available from three of the schools and additional scholars at the other schools are expected to bring the grand total up to some 5,500 or more in a few days' time.

Enrollment at public schools this morning was as follows: Aberdeen, 512; Alexandra, 291; Boyle Memorial, 411; Chelsea Green, 53; Chesley Avenue, 524; Ealing, 374; Empress Avenue, 400; Knollwood, 96; Lord Roberts, 431; Lorne Avenue, 465; Pottersburg, 189; Rectory Street, 266; Riverview, 257; Ryerson, 306; St. George's, 501; Talbot Street, 248; Tecumseh Avenue, 416; Trafalgar, 217; Victoria, 416; Wortley Road, 456.

Proportion Good.
"The proportion is as good as in other years," said Senior Inspector V. K. Greer, this morning. We expect a large number of pupils will be coming in this afternoon. Our staff is complete and the manual training instructors are making plans to prepare to start classes tomorrow morning."

At the old Empress Avenue School some pupils were seen playing around after the hour of nine had struck this morning.

"Why aren't you in school?" they were asked.

"Oh, we're all right. The bell hasn't sounded yet," was the innocent reply.

And the time-honored chime had not been rung. In fact it will not sound for some days yet. The bell, by which folks in the district have set their clocks for half a century, had been mired over to the new Empress Avenue School, now being built, and will not be used until the new school is opened.

Enrollment Good.

Enrollment at the separate schools was particularly good this morning and more pupils than last year are expected, particularly with a fourth year class added at De la Salle Collegiate. The total separate school enrollment is expected to reach 1,275.

"We have 1,500 pupils quite easily," commented Principal E. A. Miller of the Central Collegiate, speaking of the enrollment for the three units. "We have made allowance for those who have registered and who have failed or changed their minds, and we are still sure of 1,500 students." The opening day attendance was quite high and encouraging, Principal Miller stated.

"There were over 100 more students in the opening day classes than a year ago," enthusiastically declared Principal H. B. Beal of the Technical High School. "Our attendance today was 650." Further registrations for the Technical School will be accepted this week and the principal's report will be open tonight and on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

FRENCH SEND WARSHIPS TO CHINESE TROUBLE ZONE

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, Sept. 2.—The French ministry of marine has ordered the armored cruiser, Jules Ferry, and the protected cruiser, Colmar, to proceed to Shanghai from Saigon, French Indo-China, to protect French interests in Southern China in view of the prevalent hostilities.

The ordering of these naval units to proceed to Shanghai was on request of the French charge d'affaires at Peking, whose reports on the situation in Southern China have caused some anxiety in French government quarters. The charge reported that the threatened trouble there had by no means been avoided and that the concentration of troops south of Shanghai was continuing, although no movement upon the city had been started.

Mexican President Defends Government's Action In Expelling British Agent

OBREGON SCORES BRITISH POLICY

Mexican President Declares Government Justified in Expelling Cummins.

CLAIMS DISCOURTESY

Associated Press Despatch.
Mexico City, Sept. 2.—Vigorously attacking the policy of Great Britain in connection with the suspension of diplomatic relations with Mexico and the virtual expulsion of the British agent, H. S. Cummins, Mr. Obregon declared that the country had made notable progress during the last four years of his administration. President Obregon submitted his final presidential message last night at the opening session of the 31st congress.

From the beginning of 1922, the president charged, Mr. Cummins' attitude was offensive to the dignity of the Mexican government. He next related the efforts of the Mexican government made to have Mr. Cummins replaced by what he termed a more tactful representative.

The president concluded with a reiteration of the statements made to the British government that the attempted expulsion of Mr. Cummins was not due to representational matters, but was made on behalf of British subjects but on account of his discourteous attitude toward the Mexican government.

REVOLT COST MILLIONS.

Associated Press Despatch.
Mexico City, Sept. 2.—Fifty-six thousand men, including 25,000 traitors from the army, took part in the recent revolt headed by Adolfo de la Huerta, and the cost to the Mexican government of suppressing the movement was approximately 60,000,000 pesos ($30,000,000). President Obregon declared in his final presidential message to congress last evening.

Despite the enormous cost of crushing the rebellion, and what he reiterated was the mismanagement of the treasury under the secretaryship of De la Huerta, Mexico was in a vastly improved financial position. The 1924 budget showed an apparent deficit of 7,500,000 pesos, but this included a large amount of extraordinary expenses incurred in 1923. The administration had liquidated more than 38,000,000 pesos of extraordinary expenses.

The president took occasion to attack the policy of the British government in connection with the case of its charge despatches, H. S. Cummins, who was virtually expelled from Mexico because of the attitude toward the government.

General Obregon charged that Mr. Cummins had sent false reports to London regarding the spread of the recent rebellion, and had plotted to overthrow the government.

Mr. Obregon also mentioned the case of Sir Thomas Hoehler as special commissioner to investigate the situation.

With the execution of Great Britain and Venezuela, he pointed out, Mexico enjoyed cordial relations with all countries. He referred especially to the recognition of Soviet Russia, and the resumption of diplomatic relations with the United States.

FARMERS SERVED WELL, 1924 FIGURES SHOW

Middlesex Agricultural Branch Handles 6,500 Calls This Year.

The Middlesex branch of the department of agriculture is serving the farmers of the county better than it has ever done before, according to available figures. Some 6,500 calls and inquiries have been received at the office so far this year, which is almost double 1923 statistics.

While figures for the year so far are not complete, Mr. Finn, district representative, stated that over 5,000 circulars on the corn borer have been distributed, as well as some thousands in the better live stock and poultry campaigns. In 1923, circulars were distributed last year.

During 1923 there were 3,553 personal calls at the office, 1,511 telephone calls and 1,935 letters received. Correspondence figures will be much higher this year, Mr. Finn declares.

FAST MAIL SECRET IS TOLD TO BUSINESSMEN

The businessman of today is considered by the postal department to be alive to the keen competition offered him. For this reason a little mailing tip is given out. It promises a quicker service for the firms which adopt it.

"The letters in bundles so that they all face the same way and hand them in to the postoffice. This will give you the jump on your competitor right at the start," advises the department.

If mail is tied in bundles, one for the city and another for out-of-town, those bundles do not have to go through the slow method of being sorted out from thousands of other letters put in the mail boxes. They get the start of the mail box letters and are on their way at once.

TITE HEADS AGITATION TO CLOSE OFFICE HERE

William Tite will head a deputation of unemployed to the city council tonight. Being the case of the unemployed before the aldermen he will present a resolution asking for the cessation of the activities of the unemployed until such time as unemployment ceases.

His argument will be that with so many men out of work it is folly on the part of either the federal or provincial governments to encourage immigration, except in such cases as actual farm help, which can be maintained on the land through the winter.

MOTORIST ANXIOUS TO LEND HELP, HELD UP BY BANDITS

George Irving of Welland Is Victim of Midnight Robbery.

GOT ALL HE HAD

Series of Attempted Holdups Reported in Same District Lately.

Canadian Press Despatch.
St. Catharines, Sept. 2.—George Irving of Welland was held up by two coatless motor bandits at the point of a gun last night and robbed of between $45 and $50 in cash, a number of books and papers and several checks. When motoring to Thorold alone, he observed an automobile on the road, near the junction of the plank road as it turns towards Allanburgh and the stone road leading to Fonthill. Thinking the men were in difficulties, Irving drew in to the side of the road, stopped, got out and inquired if any help was needed. "Hold up your hands," was the answer, emphasized by a jab in the pit of the stomach with the point of a revolver.

After robbing Irving, the men took off in the direction of St. Catharines by the mountain road. The car appeared to be a six or eight-cylinder car with dark green body and dark top. A series of attempted holdups have been reported on the Port Robinson road recently.

COUNCIL TO DELVE INTO COURT TANGLE

Judge Warner's Resignation To Be Talked, Though Power Is Little.

While Alderman McKay told the finance committee at its last meeting that neither it nor the city council could do anything in regard to the resignation of Rev. Quintin Warner, judge of the juvenile court, and that action in the matter could only be taken by the attorney-general, the letter comes tonight for consideration by the council.

Alderman Douglass while realizing that the council has no legal power to appoint or remove a judge of this court thinks that the council has a right to be heard in the matter of the resignation of the council, if properly presented to the attorney-general, should carry some weight.

"We can't make the appointment, of course, to the juvenile court," he says, "but surely our recommendation of some one to fill the position of attorney-general, in this case, is just as well that the matter should be discussed in the council. It will give the members a chance to review the whole subject and see the exact position of the city in the matter."

Alderman Bottrell, who throughout the idea of a consistent opposition to the idea of the juvenile court in London, sees that the city has no power in the matter either of appointing a judge or of saying what the salary of the judge shall be, and says his only regret is that the city should have embarked on an adventure in juvenile correction to which there is apparently no financial end.

CROSSING PROBLEM SHOWS MANAGER NEED, IS CLAIM

Mayor Wenige quotes the level crossing problem in London as an instance of the need for a more centralized form of government for the city. He objects to the loss of time and efficiency in the handling of time and other problems, and believes that a city manager could be able to get the results the city needs without the loss of time now experienced.

"Take this question of the level crossing," he declared. "The city has sent letters after letters to the railway board asking for action and making suggestions, both on the C. & N. R. and all that we get is a letter of acknowledgment. If we had a city manager who was paid to give his whole time to the work of the city, it would be his business to see that we get more than merely a letter."

COURT ACTION LOOMS IN SEWER INFRACTIONS

A shortage of some three hundred sanitary sewer connections is reported by the sanitary inspector for the year. The reason he gives is unemployment and lack of money. Last year at this time over 1,000 such connections had been put in on his recommendation by residents of the city. This year the number is less than twelve hundred, though his recommendations are as numerous as last year.

While these connections are ordered by him on sanitary grounds and in the public interest, the cost of making them falls directly and entirely on the individual householder. He says that he does his best to temper justice with mercy, all the more so in these difficult times, but that he will soon have a batch of names for prosecution in the police court if the work is not done immediately.

OBJECTS TO ARREST AND JOINS PROCESSION

David Walton, who objected to Fred Lewis being in the custody of the police on a Springfield car on Saturday night, carried his objections a little further in the language of a letter to the aldermen, and was arrested by Constables Ed Dawson and McConnell.

Walton pleaded not guilty to disorderly conduct brought before County Magistrate Hawshaw this morning, but after the evidence of Constable McConnell, who repeated some of the language used, the court fined him $5 and costs.

"CARDELO" GAME FINISHES IN COURT

Six Russians Contribute $2 Each For Amusement on Sunday.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Alex, and Wilfred Polvin, general storekeepers, Manotick, near here, were held up in their store last night at the point of a gun and robbed of $75 by two youthful desperadoes. The bandits entered the store, where the proprietors were working, pointed a revolver and ordered them to hold up their hands. The merchants complied and the bandits relieved them of all the money they had on their persons and in the till.

BUCHANAN AGAIN 'URGES ENGINE

Obtains Valuable Data on the Diesel Solution For Hydro Problem.

"I had already had my mind made up regarding the advisability of securing a Diesel engine for London's power system," said General Manager E. J. Buchanan of the public utilities commission, today, following a trip to the Diesel Engine Company's plant at Auburn, N. Y. "But I was able to get some valuable data at the plant regarding the operation of the engines."

The utilities manager declares that the purchase and installation of a 150-horsepower crude oil engine will do much to cut down the peak load on the city's hydro power consumption. It is more feasible than a power dam on the River Thames and more economical, he says. London pays for its power at a rate which is governed by the peak load, when the consumption is for a short time much higher than for the greater part of the day. With a crude oil engine helping to shoulder the burden during the peak load, the power rate would be cut down appreciably, it is argued.

"These engines, of course, are used chiefly as marine engines," Mr. Buchanan explained to The Advertiser. "But small towns all over the world are buying them for power production, and that is why they have gotten in wrong with the power interests. In many places, however, they have produced much cheaper, in a small way, than the charges made by some of the power companies."

Comparison of the Diesel engine is simpler than the ordinary engine, as neither carburetor nor spark plug are necessary, hot combustion being alone necessary to ignite the crude oil fuel.

BICYCLE RACES WILL FEATURE BIG MEET

Four Sprints Planned For the Industrial Meet on Saturday.

Bicycle races will be a feature of the London industrial athletic meet at the Western Fair grounds Saturday. There will be four races, three for men and one for women. The men's races will be one, two and five-mile sprints, and the women's will be a half-mile sprint.

George R. Sinclair, secretary of the meet, reports that the entries for the races are coming in freely. The entries close at 10 o'clock. There are 28 classes in the event, 17 are for men and 11 for women. The races will be taken only on the regulation forms, which may be obtained at the Y. M. C. A.

WOULD-BE JACK DEMPSEY LOSSES TO PARK OFFICER

Fred Lewis got the idea into his head at a Springfield picnic on Saturday that he was a second edition of Jack Dempsey, and that he was going to "mop up" the picnic grounds. He found out, however, that he was no match for Constable Ed Dawson, who soon had him in his power. He was fined $10 and costs, and was taken to the police court.

"CARDELO" GAME FINISHES IN COURT

Six Russians Contribute $2 Each For Amusement on Sunday.

Six Russians fresh to this country, and probably a little homesick, gathered together at 573 South street on Sunday to play a quiet little game of "cardelo."

They played well into the night. Money was on the table, and was being transferred from one player to the other. The game had reached an advanced stage when two policemen entered. The players could not speak English, but they could recognize a constable. They scampered like rabbits, some making for the open windows and others for the door.

Seven of them lined up in police court this morning in single file, with Myers Gootson leader of the line. He acted as official interpreter, and informed his fellow players in Russian that they were there to answer a charge of gambling and playing cards for money on Sunday.

Money was exhibited in court as proof of the gambling, and the constables gave an account of the games. Immediately upon their arrival the door bills were scooped from the table, and the Russians tried to make an escape. All of the players were captured. Myers Gootson was merely a spectator, and he only appeared in court this morning to act as interpreter for his companions.

Peter Discount, Mike Mitchell, Mike Kouk, John Ekkert, and Kolobak and Tony Kaudratavich were the offenders, and they pleaded guilty to the charge. Magistrate Graydon pointed out that the offence was not a very serious one, and that people in the walks of life were doing the same. He fined each of the men $2 and costs, and let them go with a warning.

MAYOR DECLINES TO TAKE OTTAWA CHANCE

Will Make Special Trip To Seek Aid For City Unemployed.

Mayor Wenige and Alderman McKay will not go to Ottawa tomorrow to attend the conference on unemployment, the mayor announced this morning. The reason he gives is that the city has received no official invitation, and that he does not want to be left out in the cold after going all the way to Ottawa.

"The conference," he says, "would have the say as to whether we were to be given a hearing or not. If it decided against hearing us, we would be in a most uncomfortable light. We shall, instead, go down to see the minister of labour and see the needs of the city separately. Frank White, the member for London, has offered to come with us, and that should strengthen our hands. The need for a solution to the unemployment crisis is now more than ever, and we expect to get some form of help from the minister in Ottawa."

SLUMP IN MARRIAGES HITS CITY IN AUGUST

Statistics Show Sixteen Fewer Ceremonies Performed This Year.

The vital statistics in the office of the city clerk for August show that there were 16 fewer marriages than in the same month in 1923. The score this year for the month is 54. The births are 127 as compared with 130 in 1923, and the deaths are 47, a great deal less than the August 1923 figure of 81.

By some coincidence the births this month are exactly equal as between the sexes, there being 65 of each. The deaths are 39 male and 8 female. The reduced number of deaths is said to be accounted for by the hot, dry summer.

JAIL PHYSICIAN FINDS IRISH SETTLER INSANE

John O'Neil, the young Irish immigrant who tried to commit suicide on a farm in London Township, a week ago by hanging, has been adjudged insane by jail physician, Dr. James D. Wilson. It was announced at the court house this morning.

O'Neil, who is but 28 years of age, will be taken to the Ontario Hospital and will then be deported to Ireland, authorities stated.

An unfortunate young man was found in the barn by a farmer, a week ago Saturday morning hanging from a rope. County police were summoned and had O'Neil removed to jail.

DOG FOUND SUFFERING FROM TURPENTINE BURNS

Constables from the local police department made a drunk run to Craig street at noon today, when a frantic citizen phoned the information that a mad dog was loose on the street.

Investigation showed that some individual with a mean disposition had poured turpentine on a little Boston bulldog and the animal was frantic with pain. The dog was taken to the police station and later turned over to George Tustin of the Humane Society. The canine sports an expensive collar, and is minus a dog tag.

DRUNK DRIVER FOUND BESIDE WRECKED CAR

Roman Ewanski Escapes Jail Term and Is Fined $10.

Roman Ewanski, a Polish gentleman, who owns a motor car, staged a regular holiday yesterday aided by some strong liquor. Motorcycle Officer Gavin Monahan of the London force and Provincial Motorcycle Constable Friend found Mr. Ewanski beside his smashed car on the governor's road.

This morning in county police court, Ewanski was fined $10 and sent for being drunk. He was defended by J. Cousins of the legal firm of T. Scandrett.

The prisoner declared an American tourist struck his car, but no further evidence was offered along this line. Ewanski was not seen driving his car or he would not be doing a seven-day term in jail without the option of a fine.

OFFICER TAKES LEAD IN AIDING PRISONER

High Constable Wharton Furthers Cause of Destitute Man.

There may be some police officers who "haven't a heart," but High Constable Wharton, of the Middlesex County police, cannot be numbered among them.

The high constable has a heart, and a mighty big one, as the following incident will prove.

Percy George, who escaped from the Orillia Hospital several weeks ago, was found wandering near Westminster Hospital, and was arrested by Mr. Wharton. The unfortunate man had no home and when he came before the court on Saturday he was quite dejected.

"I have some good friends in Clinton," Percy declared. "If I could only get there I would be all right."

"Let's hear the fellow on his way," said the high constable, "and let's pass the hat round, boys, and let's see you dig deep." The high constable saw the example with a $2 bill and in a few minutes Mr. George was presented with $5 and sufficient cash to buy a ticket to Clinton.

TWO ARE GIVEN FREEDOM ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE

John and James Lawrence, who were remanded to jail several weeks ago on charges of vagrancy, were prepared for the winter months and they appeared before Magistrate Graydon in police court this morning.

They pleaded for "another chance," and promised that they would endeavor to find work immediately if allowed out of jail. Magistrate Graydon let the men go on suspended sentence on these conditions.

CARE IS ADVISED.

Letters addressed to Strathroy often go for long trips to Strathmore and Strathcona, Alberta, and to Strathnaver, British Columbia, because of the similarity of the names. The postal department announced today that in order to overcome serious delay and possible non-delivery, mail matter addressed to these points should be carefully written, so that there will be no possibility of the letters going to the wrong postoffice.

RAIN AIDS CROPS.

Last night's heavy rain was of much benefit to district crops. R. A. Finn of the department of agriculture reported today. The rain will give an added impetus to fall plowing, which has been held up in some districts owing to lack of moisture.

HEBRIDES HOMES IN VILE STATE

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Sept. 2.—"Russia has been described as a huge slum," declared Jas. Stewart, secretary for health for Scotland, "but if you go to the Hebrides you will find thousands of homes not equalled for squalor anywhere. There are habitations in the Hebrides without windows or chimneys, and there are habitations in which human beings and cattle are living under the one roof."

KITCHENER WOMAN DIES IN NIGHT CRASH

Miss Adelaide Siebert Victim of Accident Near Windsor.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Windsor, Ont., Sept. 2.—When the automobile in which she was driving with relatives was struck by a Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore electric car, about 1:30 this morning, Miss Adelaide Siebert, 34 Ellen street, Kitchener, received injuries which resulted in her death about an hour and a half later.

The accident occurred near Cottam, about twenty miles from here, when the party was returning to Detroit from Kitchener. The car was owned and driven by J. Wilfred Mistle of 7553 Webb street, Detroit. Mistle, a 4-year-old daughter and Miss Dorothy Hahn of Detroit were also passengers in the car.

The automobile, a small sedan, was struck just as it crossed the tracks of the electric line, which here curve across the heavy electric car was traveling without lights, and that, as the night was stormy, it gave no sign of its approach until the crash occurred.

Miss Hahn is the most seriously injured of the survivors. She has a fractured skull, and is in a serious condition. The Mistles were all cut and bruised severely. Miss Mistle may be suffering from internal injuries. The car was a complete wreck.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS FETE CITY ORPHANS

The Knights of Columbus were hosts yesterday to the children of the Protestant and Mount St. Joseph orphanages. A jolly picnic for the children was held at the Mount St. Joseph grounds on Labor Day.

The children from the Protestant orphanage were conveyed to the grounds in automobiles by the knights. There were 55 of these children and 150 from the Mount St. Joseph Home.

Many prominent clergy and welfare workers were present. An interesting program of sports was run off and the children were delighted with the outing.

FIREMAN'S REINSTATEMENT STILL BIG PROBLEM

No application for a position on the fire department has yet been received by Chief Aitken from Fireman Graham. In the meantime the chief is considering his problem and is considering the problem set him by the finance committee and wondering what the majority really want him to do. While the matter of dealing with Graham was left entirely in his hands, he feels that the people who are supporting the ex-fireman made their stand clear enough and that there is a powerful faction behind Fireman Graham supporting his claim for re-consideration.

On the other hand, he has been told plainly by Alderman Bottrell and others that to allow this former member of the force to become a member again is to lay himself open to charges of insufficiency, and to heat the request made for a new chief, or the president was in the city yesterday.

SENORITA LAUDS AUDIENCES HERE

Fernandeta Erau Typifies Nerve and Color of Ancient Spain.

NOW AT LOEW'S

London has in its midst today a charming visitor from sunny Spain. She is Senorita Fernandeta Erau, who is in town with Tod Watson's International Review at Loew's Theatre.

Senorita Erau lives up to all the pretty stories one hears of faraway Spain, its beautiful ladies, the vcrve and color of its dances and traditional domance.

Yesterday afternoon after The Advertiser had seen Senorita Erau give interpretations of the dances of Spain and France and Hungary. Manager Jackson of Loew's took us backstage to meet the charming dancer.

It was indeed a treat, but the interview required an interpreter, for Senorita, who has just arrived in America, does not speak English as yet, and the reporter does not know Spanish.

Through Mr. Watson, Senorita Erau expressed her delight in being in America. The audiences had given her a wonderful reception wherever she had gone during her short stay. In Europe people were wildly enthusiastic over their favorites. Here one did not need to be well known to be accorded a most friendly reception.

Senorita Erau is petite. So tiny is she that in her native land she was given the title of "The Cinderella of Spain" because her feet are so small that all her shoes have to be made to order.

The gowns worn by Senorita Erau are beautiful examples of Spanish costume design. Yards upon yards of real lace go into the making of them. They are all made in Spain and carry the signature of the makers in pen and ink.

The dancer guards these treasures, for they are a link with the homeland. With a sigh she pointed to the huge wardrobe trunks that held them and then pointed to a single crease, or two in one of the gowns, and laughingly told us in Spanish that her poor gowns never know what it is to get the treatment they deserve.

Three Thousand Attend Labor Day Celebration, See Two Women Honored

Enjoy Exciting Program of Motorcycle, Bicycle, and Sport Events.

MEDALS PRESENTED

Big Parades and Speeches Mark Holiday in Canadian Cities.

Labor's big day at Queen's Park yesterday was a roundly-applauded success. With over 3,000 citizens in attendance, sparkling clear weather, music by the Great War Veterans brass band and the MacDonald Pipers, and a fine program of varied events Labor Day proved one of the high spots in gala day history of recent years.

There were plenty of onlookers, capable and energetic officials and plenty of entrants in all the events. There was foot racing, bicycle racing, motorcycle racing and harness horse racing. There were competitions for scout troops and in folk dancing. There was of course the inevitable baby show, and it was a big success too. The day was brought to a close with a prize drawing for holders of lucky tickets.

Honor For Bravery.

A pleasing feature of the program was the presentation by His Worship the Mayor of medals to two brave women, Mrs. Mary Fortner, 62 Cavendish street, and Miss Emily Roulton, 60 Cavendish street, who last May rescued little Jack Jarvis from the icy waters of the Thames. The medals came from the city and the city, as represented by the huge crowd at the labor celebration, cheered the two brave women to the echo.

W. J. Ashton, chairman of the Labor Day committee of the Trades and Labor Council, expressed great satisfaction at the success of the gala day. It was the greatest success ever, he told The Advertiser. P. D. Burk was secretary of the special committee. Ald. Frank McKay, Mayor Wenige, Daniel Wright and Dr. H. A. Stevenson were prominent among the guests of the event.

Foot Racing.

Good entry lists were shown in the foot racing, results of which were: Boys, 8 and under, Jack McClary, Peter Gorman, Billie Godfree. Girls, 8 and under, Freida Henshaw, Mary Delmage, Rose Hall. Ladies' 50 yards, Helen Cartledge, Agnes Foster, Katie Barnes. Girls, 12 and under, 50 yards, Marlon Galbraith, Helen Kissella, Dorothy Lee. Half-mile special, men, Lee Hedden, Jack Day.

Motorcycle Events.

A. Waddell of London, riding an Excelsior, romped to victory in the five-mile open motorcycle event, five seconds ahead of P. Haines on an Indian. Waddell's time was 5:10. J. Waddell was third man, five seconds behind Haines. When the riders first got away H. Cambridge was the principal in a bad spill on one of the turns and the judges ordered the race re-started. Cambridge had engine trouble and failed to go further than the first half-mile lap. He challenged the winner, but a special race did not materialize. Bill Cole and Tom Navin were also entrants in the race.

Bicycle Racing.

Gerald Davies won the shield donated by the London Bicycle Association for best average in cycling meets for the season. He had 33 points out of a possible 40, in the senior competition and received the shield presented by Chairman Ashton. W. A. Godfrey presented the junior cup to A. Palmbly, junior, who notched 29 points out of 40. Winners in the push bike events yesterday were: Men's 2-mile handicap for shield donated by Mayor Wenige and cup donated by A. T. Tanner—Gerald Davies, Allan Palmbly. Time 5:04. Half-mile boys' handicap—Arthur Captadonia (scratch), Perry Clements and H. Tomlin. 1-mile handicap—Frank Graham, A. Palmbly.

Scout Competition.

Scouts from half a dozen London troops took part in a big display, in which high marks were secured, the Third London, St. David's of East London, scored just a few points above the Eighth London. A splendid showing was made by the boys in the First Aid demonstration particularly. The judges, Rev. C. H. Cree, William Lovejoy, P. Potter and James Pearson, were high in their praise of the demonstration.

Points were given for attendance, appearance, general demeanor, in the march past and for First Aid work. The final standing for the shield and standard was: Third London (St. David's) 89½ per cent; Eighth London, 84½; Ninth London (St. Paul's) 78½; Twelfth London (St. John's), 73½; Sixth London (St. John's), 73½.

Waiters' Rooms House Royalty From Denmark

Associated Press Despatch. London, Sept. 1.—In the course of a motor tour of England, Prince Viggo of Denmark and Princess Viggo, formerly Miss Eleanor M. Green of New York, reached Bath last night and sought rooms at the principal hotel. Not giving their names, they were told there was nothing available except a couple of servants' bedrooms. Entering into the democratic spirit of the adventure the prince and princess asked to be shown the rooms, which were remained for the night. It was some time before the management of the hotel discovered the identity of the royal visitors.

Michael's, 69; Seventh London (Christ Church), 63.

Dancing Competitions.

As pretty an event as has been seen since the Highland games was the dancing competition. There were sixteen entries in the girls' competitions for Highland dancing and seven in the Irish dances. ### PARADE AT TORONTO.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 1.—Led by Robert H. Cox, president of the district Trades and Labor Council, 3,000 stalwart trade unionists paraded today from Queen's Park to the exhibition grounds for the annual demonstration and sports. With the assistance of firms which availed themselves of the opportunity to advertise their products, trade union officials presented a finer display than in many years.

Mayor Hiltz and about a dozen other members of the city council marched in the parade. It was the first appearance of the brewery workers since prohibition dealt a serious blow to the business from which they derived a living. They were the employees of one of the breweries, and carried with them and on floats matters to advertise the sale of beer. One of them read: "Man gets little here below; drink our beer and let 'er go."

It was also the first time that members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America participated in a demonstration here. In single file they were led by Vice-President Paul Schurp of the international union, and William Watts, chairman of the union's negotiating committee. The other organizations presented a greater strength than in other years. There were many attractive floats contributed by unions and businessmen of the demonstration committee.

TOM MOORE SPEAKS.

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—With a splendid parade and a huge throng gathered on Cartier Square to listen to the stirring addresses made by prominent labor leaders, Labor Day was fittingly celebrated in Ottawa today.

Constructive criticism was given by Tom Moore, president of the Allied Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the chief speaker, who warned his hearers that the solution of the unemployment problem did not lie in a general wage reduction of workers. Mr. Moore reviewed what labor had accomplished in the last 30 years, and declared that he refused to be pessimistic. Talking on the unemployment problem he asserted that what was now needed was not empty declarations but a reasonable view of the situation. He said that the time was nearer when the people would take control of their own affairs so that the prosperity shared at the present time by a few, would be enjoyed by all.

Mr. Moore discussed the immigration question, and declared that the colonization of land by the Canadian government to British settlers was in itself quite admirable, but he could see no reason why the federal government should not extend the same opportunities to the unemployed in Canadian cities, who would be glad to go back to the land if they received financial assistance.

That the federal government was side-stepping the eight-hour day issue, which was a vital question, was charged by Mr. Moore.

Opposes Wage Cuts.

He further charged that the government was following the dictates of the employers. He said that at the government unemployment conference on Wednesday he expected to be bombarded with suggestions to reduce the wages as a means of solving the unemployment problem.

"The solution of the unemployment problem does not lie in a wage reduction," said Mr. Moore, and he warned his hearers to steel their minds against insidious propaganda of the employers, who, he charged, had started the movement to create unemployment as a means of reducing the wages of the workers. P. M. Draper, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, made a stirring plea for unity and support. There existed a decided apathy towards the cause of labor, both among non-members and members of the unions, he declared, and this apathy must be shaken.

TWO MILES OF FLOATS.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Sept. 1.—With Mayor Duquette, accompanying executives of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, and ex-Mayor Medard Martineau walking with officers of Citizens' Union, No. 58, the annual Labor Day parade here today attracted a record turnout of trade unionists. The column was more than two miles long.

Colorful floats, multi-hued banners and flags, bands galore, and a squad of pipe banders, allured the crowds, which lined the route of the procession and cheered the marchers.

ORPHANS GUESTS AT HOLLY PICNIC

Over Two Hundred Entertained Yesterday by Knights of Columbus.

More than two hundred children from the Catholic and Protestant orphan homes were the guests of the Knights of Columbus in a joint picnic at Mount St. Joseph. It was a picnic in which the community spirit of London was highly exemplified. The children played their games, ran races, and the winners were given prizes. The "also-rans" were also given prizes, which consisted for the most part of running shoes, boots, stockings, ties and handkerchiefs. Among those present were: His Lordship Bishop Fallon, Rev. John Agnew of the Ridout Street Methodist Church, Rev. W. L. Hiles of the Robinson Memorial, Brigadier McManis, Salvation Army, Mrs. Beecher and Mrs. Spence, directors of the Protestant Orphans' Home; Mrs. Chamber, matron of the orphanage; better known to the children as "Mamma" Mrs. B. C. McCann, president of the Catholic Women's League; Mrs. Peddell, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union; and Dr. Claude Browne, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, which is the highest office which can be conferred in this province. The children were taken to Mount St. Joseph in automobiles loaned for the occasion, and following the sports were taken back to the orphanage to which they belonged. The children were supplied with coddle, colored paper hats which were worn throughout the day.

The sports were comical in the extreme. In the events the contestants boxed while blindfolded. More blows fanned the air in this contest than those which touched either opponent.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES ENJOY BIG PICNIC

Mayor and Aldermen Cavort at Springbank With Works' Department.

Welcomed to Springbank Park by a holiday sun, though with sufficient breeze to make it bearable, 2,000 employees of the city works department held their annual picnic on Saturday.

The mayor and several of his aldermanic henchmen and opponents added the lustre of their criticism to the events of the day. The mayor acted as umpire in the tug-of-war, and what it resulted in a complete and unanimous victory for the huskies on the north end he murmured softly to the watching aldermen, "I think that pull was quite according to the procedure bylaw, wasn't it?"

As some of the aldermen remarked during the afternoon, the city employees are a very healthy-looking lot. Together with their families they made the largest and jolliest crowd which has graced the city park this year. Under City Engineer W. P. Meier, who, as chairman of the picnic committee, was master of ceremonies, everything went along with the gusto of a hockey game in zero weather.

The afternoon began auspiciously with a toast to the success of the day. The mayor, surrounded by a few aldermen, collected in the refreshment marquee, known to the vulgar as the "beer tent," and in "solemn conclave gathered," drank this toast in "two per cent." They quaffed the fluid with courage and tried to smile and pretend they liked it, but as one of them whispered: it was an "insipid drink and only made the drinker hotter and before."

Cigars, ice cream and soft drinks were to be had in return for tickets, which had been issued by the committee, and early in the afternoon a second supply of these things had to be procured. By 6 o'clock everything had gone, all the ball games had been played, all the races run, and all the prizes awarded, and the cars filled up with their loads to take the holiday-makers back to the city.

"That's the best civic picnic I was ever at," quoth the mayor, as he climbed into his car for the home stretch, his cigar glowing like a city council criticism during one of the late peppy sessions.

Mayor Scores.

During the softball game, in which the pen-pushers succumbed to the pick-handlers with a score of 15 to 13, the mayor, who umpired, was subject to some stringent criticism. "You're rotten," shouted the pick-handlers, "Some of those decisions are nearly as bad as some of your council decisions. Oh, you umpire." But the mayor was impervious to this barracking.

On another occasion a foul ball landed in the bleachers and was fielded by a lady. With a fine south paw action she returned the pill to the field and flattened the mayoral straw crown on the way. Straw hats, however, on picnic days have no value, and his worship continued to carry on his work under a severe cross-fire, with his usual imperturbability and glowing cigar.

The married ladies defeated the single ladies in a softball game, and the score was so large that the scorer went on strike and wandered over to the amusement park to get a rest. The teams for the pick-handlers and the pen-pushers were as follows: Pen-pushers—Roy Garratt, P. Robertson, C. Ball, 1b; Ald. Shaw, 2b; Ald. Greer, ss; Hodgins, 3b; Moffatt, rf; Pope, lf; Steers, cf. Pick-handlers—Hite, p; Campbell, cf; Logan, 1b; Early, 2b; Devour, ss; Elgie, 3b; Roden, rf; Lewis, lf; Johnston, cf.

Sport Results.

The full results of the sports were as follows: Boys' race, 6 years and under—J. Smith, E. Baxter, W. Blackhall and A. Shoebottom.

Boys' race, 9 years and under—L. Horton, J. Mark, E. Breerton and W. Paridine.

THE SEA HAWK

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

SYNOPSIS.

Sir Oliver Tressilian, renowned for his exploits on the Spanish Main, is betrothed to Rosamund Godolphin, but the marriage is opposed by Rosamund's brother, Peter, who takes every opportunity to manifest his antagonism. A stinging insult finally provokes Oliver, in a fit of jealousy, to threaten to kill him, but the thought of Rosamund deters him. That night, however, Oliver's young half-brother, Lionel, accuses what Oliver would have liked to do, and is himself wounded in the encounter. Peter, Lionel relates, in a fit of jealous anger over a woman, he had killed merely in self-defense. Terror-stricken, he extracts a promise from his brother to keep the affair a secret. Suspicion fastens upon Oliver, who unavailingly protests his innocence to Rosamund and her guardian, Sir John Killigrew. He tells him a trail of blood, undoubtedly that of the murderer, has been found to lead from the dead body to his doorway.

CHAPTER V. (Continued.)

He returned home with hell in his heart. He knew now for sure that he had his resentment against Rosamund that there was no room in his bosom for despair. He would not let himself be defeated. He would fight them tooth and claw, and yet Lionel should not suffer. He would take care of that. And then the thought of Lionel changed his mood a little. How easily could he have shattered their accusation, how easily have brought her to her proud knees imploring pardon of him? By a word he could have done it. But he feared lest that word must jeopardize his brother.

In the calm still watches of that night as he lay sleepless upon his bed and saw things without heat, there crept a change into his mental attitude. He reviewed all the evidence that had led him to his conclusions, and he was forced to confess that she was in some measure justified of them.

There was a heavy cross to bear. Yet for Lionel's sake he must bear it with what fortitude he could. Lionel must not be sacrificed to his egoism for a deed that in Lionel he could not account other than justified. He were base indeed did he so much as contemplate such a way of escape as this.

But if he did not contemplate it, Lionel did, and went in terror during those days, a terror that kept him from sleep and so fostered the fever in him that on the second day after that grim affair he had the look of a ghost, hollow-eyed and gaunt. Sir Oliver remonstrated and scolded, and in such terms as to put heart into him anew. Moreover, there was other news that day to allay his terrors: the justice had been informed of the event, and the accusation that was made; but they had refused point-blank to take action in the matter. The reason of it was that one of them was that same Master Anthony Baine, who had witnessed the affront offered Sir Oliver. He declared that whatever had happened to Master Godolphin as a consequence was no more than he deserved, no more than he had brought upon himself, and he gave it as his decision that his conscience as a man of honor would not permit him to issue any warrant to the constable.

Sir Oliver received this news from that other witness, the parson, who himself had suffered such rudeness at Godolphin's hands, and who man of the gospel and of peace though he was, entirely supported the justice's decision—or so he declared.

Sir Oliver thanked him, protesting that it was kind in him and in Master Baine to take such a view, but for the rest saying that he had had no hand in the affair, however much appearances might point to him.

When, however, it came to his knowledge two days later that the whole countryside was in a ferment against Master Baine as a consequence of the attitude he had taken up, Sir Oliver summoned the parson and straightway rode with him to the justice's house at Truro, there to afford him evidence.

"Master Baine," he said when the three of them were closeted in that room of theirs where he had heard of the just and gallant pronouncement you have made, and I am come to thank you and to express my admiration of your courage."

Master Baine bowed gravely. He was a man whom Nature had made grave.

"But since I would not that any evil consequences might attend your action, I am come to lay proof before you that you have acted more rightly even than you think, and that I am not the slayer."

"You are not?" ejaculated Master Baine in amazement.

"Oh, I assure you I use no subterfuge with you, as you shall judge. I have proof to show you as I say, and I am come to do so now before time might render it impossible. I do not desire it to be made public just yet, Master Baine, but I wish you to draw up some such document as could satisfy the courts at any future time should this matter be taken further, as well it may."

"Of course you, Sir Oliver, that had you killed him after what happened I could not hold you guilty of having done more than punish a boorish and arrogant offender." "I know, sir, but it was not so. One of the pieces of evidence against me—indeed the chief item—is that from Godolphin's body to my door there was a trail of blood." The other two grew tensely interested. The parson watched him with unblinking eyes.

"Now it follows logically, I think, inevitably indeed, that the murderer must have been wounded in the encounter. The blood could not possibly have been the victim's, therefore it must have been the slayer's. That the slayer was wounded indeed we know, since there was blood upon Godolphin's sword. Now Master Baine, and you, Sir Andrew, shall be witnesses that there is upon my body no so much as a scratch of recent date. I will strip me here as

BABY SHOW FEATURES LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

Blue-Eyed Billy Mace Captures Honors in Championship Event.

SPORTS PROGRAM

Cleveland Girls Defeat London Nine in Softball Game.

Yesterday lakeside entertained the largest Labor Day crowd that has ever spent the holiday at Port Stanley. Officially of the L. & P. S. say the crowd broke the record for any Labor Day, and for any day within recent years, with the exception of Sunday, the hottest day in two years when the thermometer was 94.5 in the shade.

Nature was in her most beneficent mood. An emerald lake, a sky of Australian blue, clear and illimitable, and a softly cooling breeze off the water, satisfied the enthusiastic swimmer, the tired city man and girl, and up on the heights the most curly-headed cherub participating in his or her first public competition, and gaining the plaudits of the large ring of watchers at the baby show.

While proud mothers were showing their offspring on the heights, members of the ladies' softball teams were warming up on the diamond a hundred feet below, and out in the curling breakers of the lake swimmers and mere sand paddlers were getting their share of the holiday for an additional twenty-five cents.

The demerit of this Labor Day festival was demonstrated sufficiently by the sight of a well-known London near millionaire squinting half way up the heights cliff. To his right were two girls chewing gum, and discussing the latest movie scandal, and to his left a fellow and his girl, dreaming of the time when their ship would come in. He himself was wrapt up in the ball games, and followed each play with some comment and criticism. He was all alone and in getting down from his perch slipped and achieved a beautiful white stain on his immaculate white ducks, but he looked happy and nobody noticed him.

Rain Held Off. There was no rain, not even the one-tenth of an inch, which if it had fallen would have entitled 33 holders of lucky tickets to the prizes presented by the London and Port Stanley Railway in its "Ain't Gonna Rain No More" competition. There was much speculation as to the possibility of rain, but the low-hanging heat smudge, hand-high over the horizon, and the sparkle of the lake foretold their disappointment.

The daylight fireworks provided plenty of amusement, with the queer, animals, and various flags floating down from the exploding rockets. There was a rush on the part of impetuous youths for these tokens of scientific pyrotechnics. The trial of the 98 steps up to the heights was attempted by a few of the more valiant and though one charming young thing struggling up the Jacob's ladder with her swimmer's arm around her waist, she was held back by gasps. "It's worse than a climb," said a man who was in the case of Phoebe Sutherland, who fell and cut her forearm and sprained her ankle. Dr. Jackson after being treated, said the work was a case to touch the hospital tent were of the minor variety, and extended from general faintness to a touch of the sun.

Minor Accidents. The day was not marred by any serious accident. The only accident requiring the attention of a medical man was in the case of Phoebe Sutherland, who fell and cut her forearm and sprained her ankle. Dr. Jackson after being treated, said the work was a case to touch the hospital tent were of the minor variety, and extended from general faintness to a touch of the sun.

Blue-eyed Billy Mace won the baby show championship, taking a thunderous applause as he was carried round in the final, and a fine tribute to his bonny smile and golden curls when he was awarded the silver cup.

The Favorite Knits of Cleveland defeated the Brownies of London in a thrilling slug-fest, by a score of 19 to 18. Hitting came easier than fielding to both teams.

'NAUGHTY NIFTIES' IS SNAPPY SHOW

Burlesque Company Now Playing at Majestic Above Average.

COTUMES BRIGHT

The entertainment provided at the Majestic Theatre for the first three days of this week might best be summed up as snappy, as Gus Kahn presents the "Naughty Nifties," with a snappy company of snappy comedians, singers and dancers.

Happily this show can boast of a singer, much above the average, in the person of Miss Edna Somers. She has a voice possessing a richness rarely found in burlesque.

There are also with the "Naughty Nifties" a larger number of comedians than are usually found in one cast. Dick Hahn and Ed. Jordan have the knack of being funny without obvious effort. James W. Francis and Jack Holiday share the honors.

Mr. Holiday has a splendid voice and a likeable personality.

Division has been taken as the keynote of the Hahn production. The program promises 2 acts, 10 scenes, 10 episodes and 11 diversions. Put this into a few minutes less than three hours entertainment and you have little waste time. The wit and humor, singing and dancing is carried out at a merry clip.

Ed. Jordan is an impersonation of Lew Kelly, famous dope fiend of burlesque, was one of the hits. Mr. Gordon takes the part well. His lines are well chosen and Francis and Hahn complete a good bit of fun-making.

The entire company arrayed in the kits was another of the diversions that pleased the audience. In fact the national dress of Scotland was almost invariably greeted with enthusiasm. And speaking of dress, the costumes of the "Naughty Nifties" have been well done. There are many pleasing changes, and there is a fashion review which shows clever designing.

The living models are always a favorite with the burlesquers. They have seen a dash of comedy by Hahn and Company.

"Kankakee Kourt" is as new as its name. In this scene there was some diverting blackface clowning. The blackface artist was above the average and well supported.

The "Naughty Nifties" is a burlesque above the average. It is snappy, diverting and proved altogether delightful for yesterday's audiences. The comedians are really funny, the music is good, the wardrobe is elaborate. The scenes in many cases show a charming simplicity. What more could one desire?

The history of the Willisie Family dates back prior to the American revolution. The family emigrated to America from Holland in 1775, and settled in Dutchess County, New York State. Following the revolution, they moved to Henrichsburg, Quebec, along with many other United Empire Loyalists. There the founder of the family, Thomas Willisie, died. His descendants later moved to Western Ontario and settled in Adelaide and Westborough Townships.

The reunion is an annual affair, and members from Toronto and Michigan towns attend.

Officers were elected at the meeting yesterday for the coming year, and it was decided to hold the picnic on Labor Day next year.

Races were run off and softball games were played. The results of the races are:

WILLSIE FAMILY HOLDS REUNION

To have attended every reunion of the Willisie Family since the first annual outing is the record of Maurice and Jake Willisie of Bedford. They attended yesterday's reunion at Springbank. Levi Willisie of Belmont captured the honor of being the oldest man in attendance.

BILL AT LOEW'S WELL BALANCED

"Lily of the Dust," Starring Pola Negri, Is Real Treat.

The new bill at Loew's Theatre is one of outstanding merit, and as a holiday feature added greatly to the celebration of Labor Day. The feature picture, "Lily of the Dust," a Paramount masterpiece starring Pola Negri, is a real treat to those who appreciate this leading screen artist in a play, which if not designed for her, is at least a wonderful vehicle for her particular type of talent.

This picture takes one behind the scenes in the higher military life of Central Europe, and from the setting one gathers that the particular events so ably depicted by this production might be seen any time in Prussia. It is a difficult play to enact, for not only is the plot an involved one, but the whole production is a disquieting departure from the hackneyed theme of an insipid love affair with its equally insipid ending. Apart from the fact that the plot centers around the love affair of a young officer, the play is a novelty, including nearly every feature and device which can be brought into the production of photoplays.

The other part of the program is quite as strong as the feature picture, the news serial being a particularly good one, showing, among other events, the takeoff of the American flyers from their trip from the Orkney Islands to Iceland.

The "Gumps" and their summer outings forms the humorous side of the program, and from start to finish this picture is a scream. If Andy and Min and Chester are funny in the funny paper, they are infinitely more so in the film, and their ten days of camping is simply "Gump" to the life.

The vaudeville turns are exceptionally good, the leading turn being Tom Watson and his International Revue, a splendid musical stunt, carrying a wonderful dance act as a sideline.

The balance of the vaudeville turns are on a smaller scale, but of equal merit, in fact, it is a long time since London has been favored with such a uniformly good show as that which is holding the spotlight on Loew's stage during the first half of this week.

Fifty Bushels Wheat An Acre

Special to The Advertiser. Mitchell, Sept. 1.—Quite a number of farmers in this vicinity have had their fall wheat threshed, and it averages forty bushels and over to the acre. Angus Sinclair had forty-seven bushels to the acre, and from a ten-acre field, Kenneth Roney had five hundred bushels of wheat, fifty bushels to the acre.

ST. JOHNS CEMETERY DECORATION SERVICES

Decoration services were held at St. John's Cemetery, London Township yesterday at 3 p.m. A large number of people from London, Lucan, Hyde Park and districts were present.

On a platform in the grove in the churchyard Rev. William Lowe, rector of St. John's Church, held a short service. Following the opening prayer, the lesson, 1st Thessalonians, 4:13 to the end, was read. This was followed by a hymn played by the London Orange brass band.

The decoration of the graves followed. Little girls dropped flowers on the graves while flags were placed on each grave.

Addresses were made by Ven. Archdeacon Sage, D.D., Geo. Stanley of Lucan and Rev. Canon C. R. Gunne, M.A.

MARTIN MAY RUN AGAIN.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Sept. 1.—Mederic Martin, ex-mayor of Montreal and member of the "Cigarmakers' Union No. 58," came back to Montreal today for the first time since he was defeated in the mayoral elections last May, and marched in the Labor Day parade.

His ex-works hinted that the last had not been heard of him as a mayoral candidate.

well-known citizen, and one of the oldest Masons in the city, who died on Saturday soon after suffering a heart attack, while walking in his garden at his residence, 25 Evergreen avenue. Mr. Sare was for 50 years a prominent member of Masonry in this city. He was also an active member of St. George's Society.

The reports say that on the island of Montseri in the British Leeward group, 40 persons were killed and many injured and numerous houses were destroyed and other material damage done by the hurricane which struck the islands in its vicinity the night of August 23 and raged the following day, according to reports received here.

On the island of Nevis, in the British Leeward Islands, four persons were killed and 300 houses destroyed. At St. Jan eight persons met death. Hundreds of persons on the various islands are homeless and are being sheltered in churches and the police stations. The cotton, limes and other crops are declared to have been destroyed or damaged.

The government here is sending building materials, food, medical supplies and doctors to the stricken islands. Many injured persons have been brought here for treatment.

They were rounding a bend in the road on the front wheels gave way, throwing the car completely around and on its side. Morgan and his brother were riding on the outside underneath. The other two were thrown clear. Cars coming behind came to the rear of the overturned car. The injuries proved fatal, and he died almost immediately. A despatch from Nome, Alaska, received by the Hudson Bay Company here Friday night states that the Lady Kindersley has all sails set and her engines running in an endeavor to break through the ice. A heavy northwest wind is blowing. With the United States government cutter Boxer standing nearby, and the Hudson Bay Company's own vessel, Baychimo, due to arrive in the city on Saturday, the outlook is held bright not only for the rescue of the schooner but also for the safety of the Lady Kindersley and her cargo.

OFFICER DAWSON LEADS AS PICNIC SUPERVISOR
County Constable Proves Worth in Various Ways at Springbank.

On Saturday evening when the last of the picnickers of the city work's department were starting home from Springbank Park there was a chorus of congratulations for County Constable Dawson for the way in which he had handled the crowds, helped the basket picnickers to find cosy places for tea and lent a willing hand with every event of the day.

The constable had been in evidence all day and in every part of the grounds. He had been serviceable in a dozen ways and had thrown in as good measure his own genial personality. He drank two per cent beer with the mayor and aldermen in the hot and extremely stuffy refreshment tent, he had helped mothers find lost infants, he had shown when the last trees were for the families with baskets, and generally kept an eye on everything.

Mr. Dawson has been the genial guardian of the park this summer, and has endeared himself to both children and grown-ups by his sympathy and courteous handling. A large picnic where, as in this case, there are over 2,000 people, is quite a fine art, and that he succeeded was in 1912, died at his summer home in Beverly last night. He was born in Canada 62 years ago, the son of Sir Hugh Allan, founder of the Allan line.

September Blues.
Th' melancholy days are here,
As sang some bloomin' poet.
Who must o' had September blues
An' took that way to show it.

Though I ain't claimin' to be wise,
Like this here versifier,
He surely spilled a lot o' sense
When he twanged on his lyre.

"Th' melancholy days" is right,
As all my heart is knowin'.

Th' while I sadly shake my head
To see th' summer goin'!

September only laughs at me
An' all my foolish hopin'.

To hold back th' flight o' time
So that th' schools won't open!

Wasted Effort.
Little Bobby was told that if he prayed hard he might get a little sister.

So, one night, after he had prayed for some time, he added: "— dear
Lord, if you have a baby almost finished, don't wait to put in her tonsils, as they have to be taken out anyway."

Reigning Monarch.
Madge: "What broke up the mah
jong game at the Newpops?"
Marjorie: "Their kid mistook the tiles for his building blocks and they wouldn't let us take them away from him."

Such Is Vanity!
Mary: "How did Bertha sprain
her wrist, dear?"
Eleanor: "Showing off her new engagement ring, I believe."

How He Gets By.
The bullfrog has the biggest pull
Of any pollywog,
With swank and bunc he fills 'em
full;
The tadpoles stand aghast,
The bullfrog sure is nineteenth bull
And one-tenth only—frog.

Appetizing.
Motorist: "Six hot frankfurters sandwiches with sauerkraut, please."
Roadside vendor (to assistant):
"Litter o' six pups with the beddin'."

REFLECTIONS OF A WOMAN
On Love and Matrimony.
Love is a strong drink which in-toricates one person and sobers another.

Matrimony may either be a break into happiness, or a brake on happiness.

Love is a dance, and all must, in secret or openly, caper to its tunes.

A woman who marries a second time merely illustrates the well-known fact that some people just can't say "No"; while a man who marries a second time illustrates the well-known saying that it's difficult for some people to let well enough alone.

Whatever may be said against matrimony, there's one good thing that can be said for it: It keeps one's mind pretty well occupied.

But Before.
Nancy: "I suppose you were all excited when Fred proposed, weren't you, dear?"
Peggy: "Heavens, no! I was perfectly calm by that time."

Hughes: "You look all in, old man.
Been working hard at the office?"
Stone: "No; just helping the wife do a little shopping before she goes away on her vacation."

Fugitives From Justice.

Cracked.
Jack brought his sweetheart some peaches.
He had at his disposal;
But when he asked, "Ain't fond of nuts?"
She cried, "My third proposal!"

Submarine Frightfulness.
The crab scares all the fish because
He has a pair of wicked claws.
And though he thinks his tricks are cute,
He's nothing but a shellfish brute.

"Seems funny," mused the old railroad conductor, "that the only children that ride on my trains are all under 12 years of age."

The Guarantee.
Girl: "Will this bathing suit shrink?"
Clerk: "Yes, money back if not satisfied."

"Yep," reminisced "Pa" Woods, as he sat idly sucking his pipe.
"Mine and ma's a romance in two scenes. I seen her and she seen me."
"Yep," reminisced "Pa" Woods as he sat idly sucking his pipe. "Mine and ma's a romance in two scenes.
I seen her and she seen me."

Busy.
Caller: "Haven't you any idea when your mistress will be back?"
Maid: "It's very uncertain. She's in conference with her barbar."

Supper Debut.
Professor—"What is the quickest way to produce sawdust?"
Student—"Why—er—"

Who Wins?
First music girl student: "I can hold 'a' for fifteen seconds."
Second: "I can hold 'it' for twenty seconds."
Third: "That's nothing. John held
'm' for three hours last night."

Bobby (overcome in the woodshed)
—No more smoking for me; I'm sick of it.

and her own knowledge of its great healing efficacy, cause Nurse to carry a box of this valuable herbal balm about with her wherever she goes.

Zam-Buk provides Nurse with an instant soothing first-aid for cuts, bruises, burns, or scalds, and a remedy that can always be depended upon to swiftly eradicate eczema, ringworm, blood-poison, ulceration or other troublesome skin or scalp disease.

Never experiment with doubtful ointments compounded from animal fats and zinc, mercury, or other poisonous minerals. Zam-Buk, scientifically prepared from rare herbal extracts and vegetable oils, is Nature's own healer.

A WOUND IS AN OPEN DOOR

Absorbine Jr. enables you to shut the door quickly.

The skin is Nature's own protection against germs. When it is bruised, broken or cut, that protection is withdrawn. The door is open. As quickly as possible Nature closes it by forming what we call a scab and renders you comparatively safe against infection. But this scab sometimes takes days to form and until it has fully sealed the wound, even until the wound has thoroughly healed again you must furnish the required protection yourself. A few drops of Absorbine Jr. in the water will give you an antiseptic wash that will kill all possibility of infection and help nature to heal the wound. As well as being a very powerful germicide, Absorbine Jr. will draw out the inflammation and bring instant relief. Absorbine Jr. is antiseptic, germicide and liniment in one container—handy to keep always in the house; easy to carry around if you travel.

AUSTRALIA CANCELS GRANT FOR BUILDERS

Drops Offer of Assisted Passage To Eight Hundred Britshers.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 1.—Australia has cancelled the arrangement under which she granted assisted passages to skilled building craftsmen from this country to the Commonwealth. This course has been taken because of the criticism here against the scheme on the ground that it took workmen from England at a time when this country itself was badly in need of houses. With the builders' strike settled, here now seems to be a chance for house-building to be conducted with some vigor.

While the metal working trades may have been attracted in recent years, it is felt there is no assurance that when the trade revival actually comes there will not be a shortage of skilled labor in Britain. Under the scheme Australia was prepared to receive 800 house builders from here, and 150 of these have already sailed.

CANADIAN WOOLLENS CO. SHOWS DROP IN BUSINESS

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Canadian Woollens, Limited, annual report, just issued, reflects unfavorable conditions in the industry, which are attributed to the management to further increase in British preference at the last session of Parliament. In his comments on the period under review, A. O. Dawson, president, states that because of this preference, successful textile manufacturing in woollen fabrics in Canada has become exceedingly difficult, and in some cases impossible.

Peter Rabbit Is Caught by Mrs. Garter Snake in Act of Moving Her Stones

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Peter Rabbit declined with thanks the invitation of Jimmy Skunk to join in a feast of the eggs of Mrs. Blacksnake which he had just dug out from under the big, fat stone on a sunny bank in the Old Pasture. Peter does not eat eggs. Jimmy Skunk says that Peter does not know what is good. Jimmy never refused an egg when he can get one, and he isn't particular what kind of an egg it is.

So Peter left Jimmy to his feast, and went on his way. He had learned something. He hadn't known before that snakes laid eggs. "I might have guessed it, though," thought he. "The babies of Spotty the Turtle and all his relatives come from eggs, so why shouldn't baby Snakes come from eggs? It seems too bad for Jimmy Skunk to take all those eggs, and I guess no one will feel very badly about it, excepting Mrs. Blacksnake. I suppose Mrs. Greensnake and Mrs. Garter Snake and Mrs. Rattlesnake lay eggs just the same as Mrs. Blacksnake. It is queer I never have found any of them. I guess it is because I never have thought to look for them and wouldn't have known where to look for them, if I had
