ADVERTISE IN THE PLANET

RUSS STAFF ALL IN DARK

They Followed Rejstvensky Like Sheep to the Slaughter.

Not One Officer of His Staff Knew His Plans, and All the Conference Admirals Nebogoff Had With Him Lasted Only Fifteen Minutes—No Training En Route, and Demoralization When Battle Began.

Vladivostok, June 13.—A series of interviews with the correspondents of the Associated Press has had with naval officers who survived the battle of the Sea of Japan has developed a most sensational story of the causes of the Russian disaster first of all, and the complete demoralization which followed the sinking of the flagship Kikassu and the wounding of Admiral Rejstvensky.

It is explained that not a single officer of the fleet knew the commander-in-chief's plans. The admirals in command of divisions knew no more than the sub-lieutenants and had to rely only on the signals of the flagship, Admiral Nebogoff, on whom the command devolved, had seen Rejstvensky only once after the junction of their squadrons, and then only for fifteen minutes.

All the stories of extensive target practice in Madagascar, it seems, were false. During the entire voyage there was practically no training in gunnery worthy the name, and the gun practice was confined to three shots per vessel. Their ignorance as to the happenings at Madagascar. Some of the crews certainly were untrained in gunnery, and exhausted by the eight months' voyage under trying moral and physical conditions were not a mist for the veteran Japanese, whose marksmanship was wonderful.

One by One They Go. They concentrated their fire on one ship until she was placed out of action and then on another, thus successively sinking the battleships Alexander III, and Kikassu. Some ships developed deplorable structural defects. The Oshibata sank without having a single hole below the waterline. Heavy seas entered the vessel above the water line, and the water then came in through the gun ports. Several times during the voyage, did not stand the strain they had been calculated to stand, and burst, flooding and heeling the vessel over until she turned turtle. The lack of homogeneity among the ships made it impossible to maneuver in harmony. The Vladimir Monomach, Admiral Oushakov and Admiral Senavin had to lag behind on this account, becoming easy victims.

Finally the ammunition was exhausted after the first day's fighting. Rejstvensky's position was cramped, and his transports were badly placed, and caused confusion, while the Japanese were raining projectiles even from machine guns on the Russian ships.

The latter, however, were huddled together blanketing each other's fire. Only the leaders of the columns could bring their guns to bear, and even these the untrained gunners fired wildly.

Victims of Mines. To render matters worse, the mines and torpedoes sown in the paths of the Russian divisions added to the confusion. The Borodino, Admiral Nakimoff and Navarin fell victims to these obstructions.

The sailors and officers were not altogether to blame. The main fault lies elsewhere. There were many heroes among the Russians. Capt. Bosh of the Oshibata committed suicide on her bridge as the ship sank rather than surrender. There were thousands of other heroes whose names the world will never know.

Japan Cavalry Keeps On. Toledo, June 13.—Official announcement is made at the headquarters of the Imperial army that a detachment of the Japanese cavalry succeeded in dislodging Russian cavalry in the vicinity of Hailuogang, six miles south of the Liyangwopeng. Hailuogang, two miles southwest of Hailuogang, was occupied. Another force defeated the Russians near Shaochengtun, 15 miles north of Kiangping, and Kachowatun, two miles northeast of Shaochengtun. An ambulance was occupied north of Shaochengtun, two miles east of Kachowatun, and ten miles west of Liyangwopeng.

No Japs Need Apply. Baltimore, June 13.—The navy department has passed an order barring the Japanese from the American warships during the war game on the Chesapeake. While the order is a general one, excluding all but regularly accredited persons, it is known to be intended especially to prevent the wily Japs from stealing any more of the secrets of American naval tactics.

Charged With Robbery. Toronto, June 13.—Robert Tushingham, a recent arrival from the old country, who is employed as night watchman at Bond's grocery store on King street, was taken into custody yesterday morning by Detective Duncan and Constable Welch on a charge of robbing William E. Bancroft, a guest at the Tremont Hotel, of $250 on Saturday. He had $150 on his person when arrested, and the detectives say that he positively admitted his guilt. He was remanded by the police magistrate till tomorrow.

PEACE MEETING IS SURE

Official Assurance Given By Both Russia and Japan.

Conference Will Not Be Held in Washington, Both Belligerents Agreeing Upon That, But It May Be at Summer Resort or at The Hague—An Armistice As Soon as Arrangements Are Definitely Completed.

Washington, June 13.—Official assurance that the President's efforts to bring Russia and Japan together to discuss peace will be crowned with success was brought to the White House yesterday by Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, who called by appointment and in the name of Emperor Nicholas formally accepted the President's offer of good will, and to state that they would appoint plenipotentiaries to meet the plenipotentiaries of Japan to discuss the question of peace. The place of meeting is at present being discussed.

President Roosevelt now has unequivocal assurances from both Russia and Japan of the acceptance of his propositions that they enter on negotiations for peace. The President likewise is assured of the sincerity of both governments.

Japan was the first of the two powers to indicate its acceptance of President Roosevelt's proposition. The formal response to his identical note of Thursday last was received from the Japanese Government Saturday.

While the response of the Japanese Government is not reduced to writing, it is regarded for the time as sufficient for the negotiations. It is expected that the plenipotentiaries of the two Governments has not been finally selected.

Briefly the situation is this. Japan does not wish Paris, and Russia is unfavorable to London or Chicago. Both are opposed to Washington for climatic reasons, though neither would oppose the selection of an American watering place, and among Newport and Manchester-by-the-Sea. Of the places under consideration in Europe, it is said Russia is most inclined to Bayona, and Japan is most inclined to Biarritz. As soon as the arrangements are completed definitely, an armistice will be agreed upon, and the great armies in Manchuria will have their bayonets pending the formal negotiations of a permanent treaty of peace.

Official Reply on the Way. St. Petersburg, June 13.—Russia's official reply is now on its way to Washington. Foreign Secretary Lamshed transmitted it to Ambassador Meyer and later the Ambassador had an interview with the Foreign Minister at the Russian Embassy.

Blanket Order. The members of the Council of the Ministry, has issued a blanket order forbidding newspapers to mention or to publish the proceedings of any congress or meeting held, without the permission of the Government.

St. Petersburg, June 13.—The Russian experiment in Parliamentarism will begin in September.

French Cabinet Changes. Paris, June 13.—It is expected that several diplomatic and ministerial changes resulting from the resignation of M. Delcasse, until recently Foreign Minister, will be settled at today's meeting of the Cabinet. Leon Bourgeois will probably succeed M. Bihourd as Ambassador at Berlin, thus inaugurating a new conciliatory policy concerning Morocco. Premier Rouvier is still undecided about retaining the portfolio of Foreign Affairs, with the expectation that M. de Freycinet or M. Constans (Ambassador to Turkey) will enter the Foreign Office if Mr. Rouvier concludes to retain the finance portfolio.

G. T. R. Objected. Lindsay, June 13.—The Board of Railway Commissioners met here yesterday. There were three applications for gas and flagmen at railway crossings, and an application for inter-switching between the Grand Trunk and C. P. R.

The Board reserved judgment as to railway crossings. The Grand Trunk opposed the inter-switching, claiming to be heard, but the Board took evidence and reserved judgment, pending decision of London application, to be heard on the 20th instant, and also reserving the right to the Grand Trunk to put in expert evidence.

Paster Becomes Demented. Leamington, June 13.—Entirely by influenza, followed by an access in the ear from which he suffered greatly, Rev. W. H. Locke, pastor of the Methodist Church here, who had just been transferred by the conference to Kincardine, is temporarily demented, and has been taken to London asylum for treatment. His wife is in Chatham Hospital, where she recently underwent an operation. Worry on her account, in addition to his own illness, had much to do with Mr. Locke's condition.

May Be Bannockburn. Detroit, June 13.—A Duluth despatch says Capt. Price of the steamer Crescent City discovered about 15 miles west of White Fish Point, Lake Superior, the floating deck and cabin of a steamer. It is believed that the wreckage may be from the Canadian steamer Bannockburn, which disappeared in Lake Superior in November, 1902.

Even flattery may begin at home. The most effective coquetry is incoherence.

"BUCK UP" OR "GET OUT"

City Council Tells Board of Health to Tend to Business or Members Will be Bounced Instantly

Matters Dealt with at Last Night's Civic Session—Mayor Cowan Makes Some Suggestions.

The City Council landed on the Board of Health with both feet last night, and the members thereof will in future attend strictly to business or promptly walk the plank. In fact those who don't show up at the next meeting will understand that their ticket of leave is filled in and their successors named. The Council has shooed its axe for the non-working ornaments and firmly professed its intention of having a Board that will in future report for duty when called and transact such business as may be awaiting attention.

It was evident that the Mayor and Aldermen have for some time had their eagle eyes on the delinquencies of the Health Board. The average wasn't stated but the peremptory manner of dealing with the case left the impression that the record of Board meetings was a meagre and shabby one—a quorum was secured at about one in six meetings called. As the members of the Board are, after all, appointed to meet and do business, and not exclusively to act as decorations for empty civic street parades, the Council last evening notified them to get busy—and the message was sent collect.

There'll be no "holding the fort" unless the members forthwith get down to honest hard work and make up for past delinquency.

Several other matters of importance came before the City Council session last evening. The Mayor and all the aldermen were present.

Chief Ertichard reported that the mechanical gang was out of repair. He asked for a tape register. Property.

Requests to cut down trees were referred to Chief of Police.

The latter Day Saints asked exemption for site of their tabernacle. Finance.

The Canadian Flour Mill Co. wrote protesting against blocking of Head street spur—Board of Works.

The Chatham Steam Co. asked the privilege of piping the streets. Finance.

W. H. Harper reported that the lane and sidewalk adjoining his premises were blocked by rigs and asked that the matter be attended to. Property.

Electric Windor, Essex & Lake Shore Electric Co. made application for service lines franchise on certain streets.—Industrial.

The Algonac City Council extended a challenge for a baseball match at Algonac on July 4.—Referred to Ald. Westman.

The Engineer reported that to main all the streets for water service would cost $17,898.75.—Finance.

Ald. Bell for Finance reported no action at present on grocers' closing by-law, that taxes for the Central school garden be exempted; that Wm. Chrysler be paid $27 interest and that accounts referred be paid.

Ald. Bell recommended the endowment of a bed in the consumptive sanatorium at $300.

The chairman also reported on the investigation re the Murray street pavement.

The report was adopted.

Ald. O'Keefe, for Board of Works, reported that $163 was paid E. T. Jones, and that he had done work necessary for this amount. Adopted.

Ald. Potter, for Parks and Cemetery, reported that the residence of the cemetery caretaker was beyond repair, and committee had instructed Architects Wilson & Son to prepare plans for new residence.

Ald. Potter also recommended that owners of lots fallen or leaning, should be instructed to repair them according to by-law.

The report was adopted.

Ald. Westman, for Property, reported that the city pay one-third of cost of sanitary improvement to Harrison Hall; also recommended the dispensing of market caretaker in the meantime, while Mr. Chrysler will clean market twice a week for $2 per week.

The report was adopted.

Ald. Austin reported the arrangement made with the County Council re leasing offices in Harrison Hall. The Mayor asked the committee to make their estimates as soon as possible.

The Mayor called attention to the Opera House, which he said must either be remodelled or closed. The Opera House was not nearly complying with the by-law. Referred to Property.

The Mayor said the Board of Health was appointed by the Council and they always failed to have a quorum.

On motion of Ald. Westman, the Clerk was instructed to notify the members of the Board that if they didn't attend the next meeting the Council would appoint other members.

Ald. Westman moved that the petition of Chatham Steam Co. be referred to the Board of Works.

Alfred Edmondson asked the Council to extend the license of Mrs. Mount's license.

Ald. Austin reported that no enticement was held out to Mrs. Mount for a renewal of her license. Ald. Edmondson moved that the Council extend the number of city licenses to 14.

The Mayor said the motion was out of order.

Barrister W. Frank Smith addressed the Council on behalf of the city dealers, and claimed that the peddlars' license by-law was not enforced.

Ald. Potter said the matter had been brought up by him before. He drew attention to a case in which a fine of $1 was imposed and the by-law broken. Ald. Potter said the matter should be thoroughly looked into.

Ald. Bell pointed out that it was beyond the jurisdiction of the Council. They could not direct a judge as to his finding.

The Mayor made a good point when he drew the attention of the aldermen to his ruling that in future aldermen must not allow themselves to be privately interviewed by outside parties during the session.

GOES TO DUNDAS

Chatham has suffered a distinct loss in the person of W. J. Bennett, who left yesterday afternoon for Dundas to fill a responsible position in that place. For nearly two years Mr. Bennett has acted as foreman for the Hadley Co., with great satisfaction to his employers. During that time he has made numerous friends, who greatly regret his departure. Mr. Bennett was a valued member of Christ Church, his son, Stewart, being a member of the vestry choir.

A TRIUMPH FOR TRUTH.

Without declaring in favor of Japan's contentions, it can be said in a most important sense that the success of the Japs in the present war is a triumph of truth, points out the Toronto News.

When we think for a single moment of the vast and complex operations necessary to put an army in the field and maintain it as an effective force, we see that both sides in this great contest have performed absolute miracles of organization. The arm-chair critic may sneer at Russia for the defeats she has suffered, but the fact remains that she has transported hundreds of thousands of men speedily over a new railway, has massed them in fighting array at points about six thousand miles from her capital, has kept them in food and equipment, and has maintained them as an effective organization until now. At the same time, she has sent a magnificent fleet half-way around the world to meet the enemy in his own waters in a vain hope of breaking his control of the sea. The men who could do such things as these are worthy of honor individually and as a nation.

High above any virtue that the Russians have shown, however, shines the glorious honesty with one another of the little Japs. They also had their great problems of transport and supply. Every battle, every move in preparation for battle, has gone to prove that the Japs, from the Mikado to the man whose business it was to feed one of the army mules, have done their work in dependable, workmanlike fashion. Not a man among them, apparently, has scamped his work or in any way lied to those who were depending upon the service he was to render. It is not merely that the men who were sent out to get themselves killed did that part of the business effectively—that sort of "grandstand play" has been the choice morsel for the soldier throughout all generations—but the man who was told to carry a bag of rice to a given point must have carried the whole bag to that point, the man who was set to add up columns of figures must have added them up correctly, and so on with every little duty, however unimportant or however easy it may have been for him to shirk with impunity.

The result has been that the men at the head, whose business it was to organize and calculate a victory, have been able to figure closely. The question whether a certain brigade could reach a given point in a given time may have made all the difference. It is evident that every brigade, and every corps, reached the point it was due to reach, that it reached there on schedule time and ready for the work it was to do. The teachers who brought up the Japs to be honest with one another are the real victors in this war.

SOLIQUY OF A RUSSIAN ADMIRAL.

Togo or not Togo—that is the question.
For if to go be not Togo, yet still
To stay may be Togo—so there's the rub.
Say, is it nobler in our hulls to take
The shells and mines of these uncringing Japs,
And being rattled in the thick of fight
To add our own to help the work along,
Or show clean heels across the Chinese Sea,
To rest in peace secure, perchance
To dream of trawlers that we think torpedo boats?
And yet to go may be Togo, alas!
His very name by losing is not lost,
His multitudes spirit walks abroad
Over all the world-wide seas. And Should we flee,
The undiscovered Togo, from whose trail
No mariner escapes, confuses the will
And makes us rather face the Japs
Than headless fly to those we know not of.
'Tis thus these Japs make cowards
of us all.
Could I once set a steady foot on land,
I'd hit the trail across Siberia's plain,
Where Togo's are not allowed to go;
and haste
To throw my sword before the mighty Czar,
And then hear with true joy his word of punishment:
"Back to the mines!"—be they not
the Japanese.

Bitter Tea Is Not Good Tea

People who don't like tea know only the kind that is just bitter, the low-land tea that has more tannin in the leaf than you can kill with any amount of sugar.

It was indeed a happy social Christian event that filled to overflowing the home of Mr. and Mrs. Old, West Park Avenue, last evening, when parents and guardians presented to God nine children in the rite of baptism. Rev. Mr. Cobblestick conducted the service of dedication, which with his address to the parents, impressed most seriously all present. The minister having to leave early to fill other engagements, Mr. McGregor arrived just in time to kindly interest and amuse—especially the juveniles—with his fine gramophone, after which the company were hospitably entertained by Mrs. Old with refreshments. Six of the children were of her family and one each from the homes of Messrs. James Dyer, John Kerr and John King.

BLENHHEIM

June 13.—The people of this town were shocked to hear on Saturday morning of the death of Mrs. Ed. Morse, from blood poisoning. The deceased had been ill a very short time. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and seven children. Her remains were taken to Chatham on Saturday and were interred in Maple Leaf Cemetery yesterday.

Late on Saturday evening word was received from Ridgeway that Wm. H. Irwin, of this place, was found dead lying on a bed in one of the rooms of the Arlington Hotel. One could hardly realize that it was true, as he had left on Thursday for Merlin to superintend the erection of the L. O. F. hall at Merlin. On Saturday he visited friends in Ridgeway and complained of feeling unwell. During the afternoon he procured strychnine at P. Bawden's drug store, which, it is supposed, he took. His remains were brought to his home yesterday. The funeral services were conducted at the house this afternoon at two o'clock, by Rev. Geo. McQuillan, after which interment took place at the Evergreen Cemetery. Funeral was in charge of the K. O. T. M. The deceased leaves a widow and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Taylor, of Zone, visited Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Welsh over Sunday.

A lawn social will be held on Wednesday evening, June 14th, on J. W. Gibson's lawn. One of the features of the evening will be the burning of the Nichol note. A good program will be given and light refreshments will be served from 7 to 10 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Miss Beemer, of Wingham, visited at Jos. Steward's last week.

Levi Tyrell, of Chatham, spent Sunday with his cousin, G. O. Coburn.

There was a large attendance at the annual conference of the L. D. S. of the Chatham District, which was held at the Cedar Springs Church on Saturday and Sunday. A large number of Elders B. C. Evans, of London, and B. St. John, Ridgeway, preached to a large congregation, after which five candidates were baptized, and at the evening service the candidates were confirmed. The speakers at the evening service were Elders R. Leverton and S. H. Bacon. During these services the music and singing was given by the amalgamated choir of the district, which was enjoyed by all present. Conference then adjourned, after passing the necessary resolutions to meet on October 8th, 7th and 8th, at the Olive Branch District.

Attacks of colic, cholera, morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by All Druggists.

TILBURY

June 13.—James Waddell, of Tilbury East, died yesterday on the 89th anniversary of his birthday. Deceased settled in Tilbury East 36 years ago, was postmaster for many years of Edgeworth postoffice, since discontinued, and was highly respected. He leaves a widow and four children, Mrs. Moody, of Sanikilias, Mrs. Ed. Wilson, of Tilbury East, William B., of Minnedoca, Man.; and Robert G., on the homestead, and leaves one surviving brother, Robert H., of Tilbury East. The funeral takes place to-morrow to Stewart cemetery, after a short service at the house.

Local churches were well attended Sunday. A feature at the Anglican church at the morning service was the baptism of two infants, it being Whit Sunday. In the Methodist church Rev. J. J. Uren at the morning service expressed his regret at leaving here—a regret which he was assured was felt equally by his congregation. In the Presbyterian church Rev. Mr. McQuarrie preached eloquently at the evening service to a large congregation, which always greets the reverend gentleman in Tilbury, where he is justly popular with all classes.

Self Protecting Plants.
Plants protect themselves much the same as insects. One of the uses of the movements of the sensitive plant is to frighten animals. A venturesome, browsing creature coming near it is afraid to touch a plant which so evidently is occupied by spirits. The squirting cucumber of the Mediterranean alarms goats and cattle by discharging its ripe fruits explosively in their faces the moment the stem is touched. The cucumbers contain a pungent juice, which discharges itself into the eye of its opponent, and the smarting sensation which results is hard to bear. The dainty grass of Parnassus is beautiful, but dishonest. It is a bog herb, has glossy green leaves and pure white blossoms and is supposed to be the poet's flower. Its milk white flowers are lovely, yet they are deceivers. The drops of honey which bees and insects fancy they see inside the petals are solid, glassy imitations of honey, which fool the bees, which are lured in this way that they may carry off the pollen to other blossoms and are held fast until they die.

Warning Of Old Age.

A famous French general when asked how it was that he had such an erect carriage replied that it was because he bent over and touched the floor with his fingers thirty times every day. If he had acquired rigidity of the spine so that he could not do that he would have had with it weak abdominal muscles, which result in portal congestion. This portal congestion interferes with stomach digestion and with the action of the liver. The poison destroying power of the liver is lessened, auto intoxication results and arteriosclerosis and old age come on at a much earlier day. But by keeping the spine flexible and the abdominal muscles strong and taut the portal circulation is kept free and old age is held off—Good Health.

Two Expressive Quotations.

Some sentences are like autographs; you feel that they must have been written by these people; no one else could have written them.

Such is this, by Tallezand: "To succeed in the world it is much more necessary to possess the penetration to discover who is a fool than to discover who is a clever man."

And Napoleon's character is drawn full length in this sentences remark of his: "I command or I am silent."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

A House of Commons "Bull."

It was entirely proper that the latest "bull" added to the House of Commons collection should be contributed by the member from Donegal. He announced his intention while cross-questioning the Attorney-General for Ireland of putting "another question which distinctly arises, Mr. Speaker, out of the answer which the right honorable gentleman has not given." The House roared.

It is always easy to trump up an excuse for finding fault.

RACE OF OCEAN YACHTS

STARTED FROM NEW YORK FOR ENGLAND 3,000 MILES OFF.

Emperor William's Gold Cup, Valued
At $5,000, the Prize They Are Competing For—Some Data About This and Other Yacht Races Across the Ocean in the Past—The Kaiser's Interest.

THE transatlantic yacht race which started from Santock on May 17 will decide who shall hold the Kaiser's gold cup.

Emperor William of Germany has long been known for his interest in yachting. Even from boyhood he has been fond of the sea and its ships, and a picture taken of his majesty when he was between two and three years of age and on a visit to his grandmother, the late Queen Victoria, shows him in the costume of a little sailor boy, an appropriate dress in view of the liking
for the water he has manifested since. It is said the Emperor has had in mind such a race
as this for several years. Two seasons ago he wished to offer a cup to be raced for under similar conditions, but satisfactory arrangements could not be made. A year ago the offer was renewed, with the result that a race was agreed upon to be sailed in May, 1905, under the auspices of the Imperial Yacht club of Kiel. The cup

THE HAMBURG—YACHT KAISER HOPES WILL

that the ruler of Germany has given as the prize for the winner of the race is a splendid vessel of pure gold valued at $5,000. The finish of the race will be off the Lizard lightship, on the south-eastern coast of England.

The race now on promise to be the greatest of its kind ever sailed over the ocean from one continent to another. Three transatlantic sailing races have been held in the past—in 1866, 1870 and 1887—but only one of these was an international race. In the first race three yachts participated, in the others two. There are eleven entries in the race for the Kaiser's cup, and three nations are represented—Germany, England and the United States. It will be a struggle for supremacy between the yachtmanship of the respective nations. England will be represented by the Sunbeam, owned by Lord Brassey of the Royal Yacht squadron, and the Valhalla, owned by the Earl of Crawford, also of the Royal Yacht squadron. The first is a schooner and the second a full rigged ship. The Sunbeam has voyaged all over the world, and Lady Brassey has written a book about the journeys. The Valhalla is a vessel of 1,500 tons and 237 feet in length. She is elegantly equipped and has participated in many contests.

The yacht which the German Emperor would like to see win the cup is the Hamburg. She is owned by a syndicate of 200 German yachtsmen,

THE KAISER'S CUP.
headed by Herr Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-America line. Two years ago she beat the Kaiser's own yacht, the Meteor. The Hamburg was designed by the famous English builder, George L. Watson. The United States yachts entered are all well known for their speed and include the Atlantic, Apache, Utowana, Endymion, Albatross, Hildegarde, Thistle and Plover.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, that it is now of Womb, and Leucorrhoea, that after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we, the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee;
no other medicine for woman's life is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base
such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, sketch on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute, under the plea that "it is just as good."
Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures and which is backed by those willing to forfeit $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrhoeal drain
a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 25 cents in stamps.

London's Underfed Children.

After an investigation of the question of the presence in elementary schools of large numbers of children who on account of being underfed are unable to derive proper benefits from the instructions, the Local Government Board has issued an order dealing therewith in the spirit of truly paternal Government.

The order instructs managers and teachers who find children coming to school inadequately fed immediately to notify the overseers of the poor, who will at once supply the requisite relief.
This must never be in the form of money, but in the form of food.

An interesting feature of the order is the fact that complete discretion is vested in the overseers as to whether the relief shall be given as a loan or as poor relief in the ordinary sense. In either case the father will be informed and will have an opportunity to make the necessary provision himself.

If he fails to do this, and in the opinion of the overseers it is a case of neglect, their relief will be regarded as a compulsory loan which they will be able to recover in a County Court.

If, however, the parent is considered a bona-fide poor person unable to bear the expense, the burden will fall on the rates, the parent not being disfranchised as is ordinarily the case on receipt of parish relief.

The relief is not continued more than a month on a single application.
The Local Government Board suggests that if a second application be made on account of the same child within six months the parent is considered whether it is their duty to proceed against the father under the Vagrancy Act or the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act.

MOTHER OF A GREAT HOUSE.

Dowager Duchess of Abercorn, Queen
Victoria's Oldest Friend.

The Dowager Duchess of Abercorn (who was Louisa Jane Russell, daughter of the sixth Duke of Bedford, died recently of gastritis at Coates Castle, Sussex.

The Dowager Duchess of Abercorn
the "Mother of the Hamiltons," bore
the same relation to the British peerage through her family connections as did Queen Victoria to the Royal families of Europe. At the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra
seven of her descendants of the third

DOWAGER DUCHESS OF ABERCORN.
and fourth generations acted as court pages. She was born July 8, 1812, and was consequently in her 92nd
year.

Last year on her birthday she received the congratulations of 146 of her 205 direct descendants, and she has seen her great great-grandson, the infant son of Lord Douglas. She was married in 1832 to the first Duke of Abercorn, whose Irish estates at Newtown Stewart, County Tyrone, are among the finest in Ireland. She had 14 children, of whom 10 survive, the Marchioness of Lansdowne being one of the daughters. Among her 65 grandchildren are the Duke of Marlborough, the Duchess of Leeds, the Marchioness of Waterford, the Marquis of Hamilton, and the Earls of Durham, Dalkeith, Lichfield, and Kerry. She herself was a Russell, the second daughter of John, sixth Duke of Bedford, who was born in 1766.

The family gathering on her birthdays were interesting occasions, as more than once the duchess' descendants assembled to offer their congratulations to the venerable lady, many traveling from distant parts of the globe to file before her, headed by her eldest daughter, the Dowager Duchess of Lichfield, with 13 children and 13 grandchildren, followed by the 13 children and 15 grandchildren of the late Countess of Durham. The duchess was regarded with great affection, not only in her own family, but in the wide spreading circle beyond it, and she continued to the last to enjoy her alert and active qualities, which were enhanced by her powers of bright conversation.

Coates Castle, near Petworth, Sussex, is the dowager house belonging to the Duchess of Abercorn, and is a pretty place, where the duchess has chiefly lived since the death of her husband in 1887.

London's Famous Eye Surgeon.

Wide notice in the English press of the wonderful cures effected of myopia, astigmatism and other defects of the eyes without the use of glasses by Dr. Stephen Smith, surgeon to the eye department of the Battersea Hospital, London, have placed him in a prominent position in the public eye, and great interest has been evinced in the world over in his methods. His mode

DR. STEPHEN SMITH.
of curing errors of refraction consists in manipulation and directly applied pressure on the affected portion of the eye structure. Describing his methods, he said recently:

"My treatment may be briefly described as a manipulation of the eye,
the massage varying with the affection. Myopia is treated in one way, hypermetropia in another, while the various kinds of astigmatism require special means adequate to each.
The process is so gentle and gradual that not the least pain, offense, and there is never the slightest injurious effect. The patient is treated only a few minutes daily. Some are cured in a few days. Occasionally there is no improvement for two weeks, and then amelioration is rapid.

Growth of the Hair.

It is a curious fact that a boy's hair
grows one-half slower than a girl's.
In boys the average rate of growth is three feet three inches in six years,
being an average of .18 inch a day.
During the 21st and 24th years a man's hair grows quicker than at any other period. It takes an eyelash 20 weeks to reach a length of .429 inch, and then its life is from 100 to 150 days. By means of a camera, the wink of an eyelash has been measured, and it was found that 20 winks can be made in four seconds.

Japan's Population.

The population of Japan totals at least 5,000,000 more than that of Great Britain. If you include Formosa and the other annexations the Japanese people numbered 46,500,000 six years ago, and they were then increasing by nearly 500,000 a year. Japan also has some very big towns. Tokio has a population of about 1,500,000. Osaka between 800,000 and 900,000, and there are about 30 others with a population of more than 50,000.

Charles Dickens' Mss.

With regard to the despatches which appeared the other day in the American papers, to the effect that J. Pierpont Morgan was making a sort of literary corner in the Mss. of Charles Dickens and was gradually acquiring possession of all of them, it may be just as well to state that this is quite impossible. For with the exception of the original Mss. of "Our Mutual Friend," all the original Mss. of Charles Dickens' novels are in the possession of the British Government and preserved in the South Kensington Museum in London, to which national institution they were bequeathed. The Mss. of "Our Mutual Friend" was owned by the late George W. Childs of Philadelphia, to whom the late Sir Philip Cunliffe-Owen offered on behalf of the English Government the sum of $10,000, so as to complete the collection at South Kensington. But Mr. Childs could not make up his mind to part with the treasure, which either remains in the possession of his widow or else was bequeathed by him to one of the public institutions of Philadelphia.
From this it will be seen that at the best Mr. Morgan might obtain some Mss. of a magazine article written by Charles Dickens.

Hong Kong First.

The importance of the Far East in the commerce of the world at the present time is strikingly illustrated by this statement, made by the United States bureau of statistics:

The port at which in 1903 was the largest vessel tonnage movement was Hong Kong. The total amount of the tonnage of the vessels entering and clearing from it was about 20,000,000, or, if Chinese junks engaged in the foreign trade be included, more than 21-000,000. London is second, with 13-000,000, followed closely by Antwerp.
The tonnage of New York in 1904 was 13,000,000. Hong Kong, it may be remembered, is a free port at which many vessels engaged in the Chinese, Japanese and Australasian trade call. London would head the list but for the fact that often its vessels take part of their cargo from another British port,
as Cardiff, and receive their foreign clearance at it.

The case against the man named Defer, who is charged by his wife with choking her, promises to have some interesting developments when it comes up next Wednesday in the Police Court. This case was adjourned from yesterday. It is said that a lively row took place at the Defer residence last evening, all of which may be considered when the Judge arrives at his decision in the present case. If Mr. and Mrs. Defer cannot agree their three children will probably be taken in charge by the Children's Aid Society.

On my own behalf and on behalf of the other members of my family,
I desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the members of the different societies for the care and attention they gave to my late husband, and to our many friends for their sincere expressions of sympathy
in our affliction.

EVERY PLACE ON THE PRAIRIES

Has its Cures Credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

John White Could Get Nothing to Help His Rheumatism Till He Tried The Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Yellow Grass, Assa, N. W. T., June 12.—(Special)—No place on the prairies but can furnish some proof of the splendid work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing in wiping out the kidney ailments of the west. It was near here that little Edith Harris was so wonderfully cured of Dropsy by them, and now Mr. John White is giving an experience almost as remarkable. "I think," Mr. White says, "I should let the public know of the benefit I got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had Rheumatism for years, and neither doctors nor medicines did me a bit of good till last spring I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They did me a great deal of good. I feel like recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills even stronger than I talk." Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidney. Sound Kidneys strain all seeds of disease out of the blood. They tone up the body to its highest standard of health and energy.

Excellent Exercise.

"Yes," said the good old professor, "the memory may be perfectly trained by proper study."
"But," asked the absentminded scholar, "what do you consider the best exercise for the memory, professor?"
"Remember the poor,"—Othello Standard and Times.

YOUR WORN-OUT STOMACH.

What it needs is the strengthening influence of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they work marvels where the stomach and digestion are poor. In a day the appetite increases and the whole system is rapidly strengthened. No stomach specialist could write a better prescription than Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butter-nut. At all dealers in a yellow box, price 25c., or five boxes for one dollar.

First Patent in China.

The Chinese Government, according to German papers, has granted its first patent. It is for an electric lamp, the inventor of which is an inhabitant of Nanking, the old capital of the Chinese empire, who calls his lamp the "bright moonlight," and asserts that it is far superior to foreign glow lights that hitherto have been sold at Shanghai and other Chinese cities.

WHY DO WOMEN SUFFER?

Such pain and endure the torture of nervous headache when 25c. buys a sure cure like Nerviline. A few drops in sweetened water brings unfailing relief. You feel better at once, your braced up, invigorated, headache goes away after one dose. The occasional use of Nerviline prevents indigestion and stomach disorders—keeps up health and strength. Every woman needs Nerviline and should use it, too. In 25c. bottles everywhere.

Motor Cars in the Desert.

A number of motor cars have been sent to Khartoum to be tried in the desert. If they are found to be of value a large number will be sent there and used to carry people across the sands where camels are now employed.

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor, but they don't strengthen it. Stomach is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the blood-making glands. It is superior to every other preparatory body-building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a valuable aid when the bowels are irregular. They are small. Children take them readily.

The Fatalism of Esther

By INA WRIGHT HANSON

Copyright, 1905, by Ina Wright Hanson

"I don't see any wrong in it," I announced stoutly.

Esther laughed. There had been a time when Esther's laughter was a privileged sight as well as sympathy. Dimples played hide and seek around her challenging mouth, but the very birthplace of laughter lay in her eyes, curleup and black lashed.

"If I owned something," I continued, "and while I was away some one took it, whether by mistake, not knowing it belonged to me, or by intention, shouldn't I have a right to take it away from him?"

"Oh, sophistry, thy name is Jack! How came you to own me?" Esther queried gently.

"By right of discovery," I answered promptly. "Years and years ago—"

"Not so many," murmured Esther.

"Well, the day that you walked shyly into the schoolroom and the teacher gave you a desk next to mine and without once glancing my way you went to reading in your little book."

"And you naughtily interrupted my diligent study by smuggling over to me a white candy, which flouted crimsonly on its somewhat sticky surface the impudent question, 'Will you be mine?'"

"What did you do with the candy?" I asked eagerly.

Esther toyed with the diamond on her third finger—maledictions on its bold glitter.

"I ate it," she acknowledged.

"You darling!" I exclaimed. "Of course you ate it, and by that sign and symbol you became mine that minute, and you are mine now. Esther, take off that ring."

"Jack," she said gravely, "you are letting your fancy run away with your good sense. We were children then. If we had grown up together it might have been different, but your path lay in the east, while mine led me west, where I met Judge Wells. I had forgotten you."

"Esther," I protested.

"Had forgotten you," she repeated, though a flush belied her words. "So when Judge Wells did me the honor, the very great honor, Jack, to ask me to marry him, I consented. If you had stayed in the east, where you belonged, all would have been well, but you must come out here and make me miserable!" She turned suddenly toward the window, and her little hand made a quick move toward her eyes.

"Esther, dear, it was better that you are miserable now for a little time, better that I came before your marriage than afterward. It isn't too late to rectify matters now, dear."

"It is too late," she insisted, "and I am not your dear. It is right for me to marry Judge Wells, or it wouldn't have happened so. If you were the right one, why didn't you come sooner?"

"Esther, you are a fatalist."

"You may call me what you please, but I must do right. I have promised to marry Judge Wells."

"It isn't right for you to give yourself to him when every time you see him you wish it were some one else. When you shrink from his highly respectable kisses—"

Esther turned sharply toward me.

"What right have you to say—how do you know I do—that?"

Poor little innocent darling.

"I know you love me," I answered gloomily.

Esther neither denied nor assented. She stood quite still and looked out the window. I left my chair and went over to her.

"Little girl, you won't be happy. I should say it even if I didn't want you so badly myself. Judge Wells is immaculate in appearance, manners, morals, but he is not sympathetic. He never palliates an offense in his legal work nor overlooks an indiscretion in his private life. He—"

"I think you misjudge him, but anyway I settled all that since you came, but I can make him happy, and I promised, and I will. Oh, Jack if you won't go away, let's go out in the air! I'm stifling."

I brought her garden hat, all wreathed with flowers the color of her dear eyes, and we went out. We went down the walk into the dusty highway. We ascended a hill and stood at the top, watching some boys coasting down the other side. They sat in their wagons—they had two roped tandem—and, with their feet upon the axle to guide their course, they steered swiftly and noisily down the slope.

"We used to coast on sleds down snow covered hills, Esther," I remarked.

Then an object in the distance caught my eye. I was properly thankful just then that Esther's pretty eyes were a trifle nearsighted. The boys were dragging their wagons slowly toward us.

"Esther, let's hire the wagons and coast down the hill—just once, for the happy old times' sake."

She laughed nervously.

"How absurd, Jack! Suppose somebody saw us?"

"It's a small request when you deny me happiness," I whispered.

She was silent, so I made the bargain with the grinning boys. With some weak protesting from Esther, I assisted her into the back wagon and took my place in the front.

"Not a great amount of room, but we can't always have everything just to suit us," I remarked cheerfully, putting my feet on the axle and taking the wagon tongue in my hands.

With considerable advice from the officious owners, we were off. Faster and faster we sped, dodging rocks, running perilously near a live oak tree and drawing up on the little wooden bridge into the dignified presence of Judge Wells.

"Good morning, judge," I said jauntily. "Great sport, this California coasting. Do you ever indulge?"

But the judge took no notice of me. His horrified gaze was upon Esther, his affianced wife, curled ungracefully in the trailer, her hat gone, her yellow hair rippling over her shoulders, and her long ringing out like a reckless child.

The judge opened his mouth, and his words rasped on the lining of a saw.

"Miss Graham, I wish to consider our engagement as if it had never existed. I must deny myself the pleasure of being the life companion of a—um—holden!"

With stately stride the judge ascended the hill. The boys had overtaken us. I paid them, and they ran, shouting, away. Then I turned, not without some misgivings, toward Esther. She was crumpled on a rock at the end of the bridge, her yellow hair covering her as with a mantle, her shoulders shaking ominously. Was it with grief or laughter? I advanced—retreated—advanced. Then she spoke:

"Jack, dear, are you sure you paid those precious boys enough?"

And looking at her, I was content, for the laughter that played around her challenging mouth had also returned to her pretty eyes.

One Came Out After The Other.

Suffered with Boils for Six Months.

Mr. Elie Brazeau, Meadowside Station, Ont., tells of his experience with Boils and Burdock Blood Bitters.

He says:—"In the Spring of 1899 I was continually troubled with boils—one coming after another for about six months. I suffered terribly, and was in a very bad condition. In August I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and began to feel better after taking it. I kept on until I had used five bottles, and can truthfully say that I was cured, and have remained so ever since. I have not had the least sign of a boil."

There is nothing like Burdock Blood Bitters for bad blood, boils, pimples, dyspepsia, indigestion, or any trouble arising from the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood.

Could Not Walk Ten Yards Without Resting.

Mrs. D. Herkimer, Hall's Bridge, Ont., was Troubled with Weak Heart and Sleeplessness.

How many women are troubled with a weak heart? How many lie, night after night, trying to sleep, and can't? Perhaps you are one of them! If so, read what Mrs. Herkimer says. It may save you years of suffering if you take her advice:—

"I am now enjoying the best of health, after having used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled with a weak heart, and was afraid to draw a long breath, for the pain it would cause me. I could not sleep at night, and it was impossible for me to walk ten yards without resting myself. I cannot speak too highly of your Heart and Nerve Pills; they are the greatest pill I have ever used, and can recommend them to all sufferers."

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cents per box, or 8 boxes for $1.25. For sale by all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price.
