The Voice of UNB

MISSION OPENS MONDAY

UNB RADIO DIRECTOR RESIGNS

Roger Dupuis, resigned his position as Director of the UNB Radio Society Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the Society. A spokesman for Radio UNB said that his resignation came as a surprise to the members and that Mr. Dupuis gave as one of his reasons for his decision the fact that his duties were interfering with his academic work. There were other reasons which he declined to disclose.

An earlier report intimated that pressure had been brought upon Mr. Dupuis as a result of an unspecified turn of events within the Society but this was denied by the Radio UNB spokesman who said that it was definitely a personal decision on Mr. Dupuis' part.

Keith Thompson, SRC president, in commenting on the resignation, said that it had to pass through the SRC to become official, since his appointment had been ratified by the SRC in the fall of the college year. Regarding the reasons for Mr. Dupuis' resignation, the president said that it was to his knowledge due to "personal reasons". He said that he would also "at this time like to pay tribute to the manifold and successful efforts of Mr. Dupuis in bringing about with the co-operation of his executive an amazing enlargement in Radio UNB's facilities and services."

Radio UNB is being directed presently by a committee composed of the four members of the executive — Bruce Ward, Al Dunnet, Basil Ross and Don Saunders. The Society will continue to be run by this committee until the annual appointments for campus activity positions in March.

WUSC DELEGATE CHOSEN

One student and one faculty member of UNB will be attending the annual WUSC seminar to be held this year in Poland. It was announced by the WUSC organization on campus recently that Tony Laskowsky, a second year Law student has been chosen to represent the university at these sessions during July and August. Prof. David Galloway of the English department is one of the Canadian university faculty members who will accompany the group of students chosen from universities across the country.

SOVIET AMBASSADOR ON CAMPUS

The University of New Brunswick International Affairs Club announced that it has received acceptance of an invitation to the Soviet Ambassador to speak at the university. The ambassador,

His Excellency A.A. Aroutunian, will speak to students, faculty and the general public in Memorial Hall, Tuesday, January 16, at 8 p.m. This speaking engagement will follow a similar one at Mount Allison University the day before. Dr. Aroutunian, a former professor of economics, will address the assembly on "Soviet Foreign Policy on Current World Issues". During his stay at UNB, the ambassador will tour the campus, meet the President, and the Premier of the province and will attend functions in his honour.

Bob Thompson, president of the International Affairs Club stressed that all are welcome to come and hear the ambassador, whether or not a member of the club. This is one of a continuing series of meetings designed to permit students and the general public to meet outstanding public figures, and to hear views expressed on vital issues.

Mr. Serrelk Hillman of Time magazine and Mr. Douglas How of the Reader's Digest.

Discussion in the plenary session centred mainly around the improvement of CUP services and a motion made to record the speech of Denis Belleval, editor of Le Carabin (Laval). Mr. Belleval's address to the conference concerned an editorial on separatism which appeared in the University of Toronto Varsity and which he felt expressed unwarranted prejudice. (See editorial "Right or Rights", p. 2).

The conference was brought to a close with the election of Roger McAphee, editor of the Ubysey (UBC) to the office of the National CUP President for next year.

CUP CONFERENCE HELD AT RYERSON

The annual Canadian University Press Conference was held in Toronto at the Ryerson Institute of Technology from Dec. 27 to 29. Delegates from twenty-three universities across Canada attended the conference. Highlights of the session were the speeches and symposiums, when delegates were given the opportunity to hear the opinions of leading men in the newspaper field in Canada. On Wednesday the 27th, Blair Fraser, Editor of Maclean's magazine spoke to the delegation on the responsibilities and problems of the editor of a newspaper. Other speakers on Wednesday were Scott Young, sports columnist, The Globe and Mail, and Mr. Steevings, City Editor of the Toronto Telegram. On Thursday, Pierre Berton, Toronto Daily Star columnist, addressed the delegation on the requirements which must be met by those intending to enter the journalistic field after graduation.

One of the most important topics of discussion which emerged again and again throughout the symposiums and question periods was the definition of the responsibility of the student editor with respect to editorial policy.

Mr. Stanley Westall, editorial writer for the Globe and Mail, stated that student editors had a responsibility to their publishers — "the executive of the student federation". His statement was somewhat in disagreement with the opinions of two of the previous speakers who had suggested that the responsibility of the editor was primarily to the student body and the institution which they were attending and not to the student representative government. It was their opinion that the editorial policy should in no way be subject to the opinions or wishes of the members student government.

Seminars which dealt with the technical aspects involved in the publishing of a newspaper were conducted by Mr. H. C. Hawes and Mr. E. U. Schrader, members of the R.I.T. faculty and by Right or Rights?

One of the most hotly contested motions at the CUP conference concerned the expression of "Disappointment" by the editor of Laval's Le Carabin over an editorial which appeared in the University of Toronto's Varsity. The editorial, entitled "House Divided" dealt with the growing movement for separatism in Quebec. The Laval editor, Denis Belleval, in a speech to the conference strongly inferred that the Varsity was evidently not aware of the facts as they existed in Quebec and referred to the description of the French culture in Quebec, described in the editorial as a "hold-over from another century". A motion was made by the University of Ottawa Fulcrum and seconded by the McGill Daily that this expression of "disappointment" be recorded in the minutes of the conference — whereupon all hell broke loose. The motion was labelled by some papers as an infraction of the CUP rule not to express editorial opinion as a collective body and by another paper as a motion of censure "in a weaker sense". What had begun as a motion which concerned one particular editorial was expanded to include all editorials and as a result the uniqueness of this particular motion was completely veiled in the smoke of a "universal principle" disagreement and hence it was defeated.

What was forgotten was that this was a particular editorial on a particular subject and it occurred at an unique and crucial time, not only for Quebec and the rest of Canada but for the members of CUP, at a time when the unity of the English and French papers are striving for or should be striving for greater unity and understanding. The absence of the French language papers Le Quartier Latin (University of Montreal) and Le Campus Estrien (University of Sherbrooke) was eloquent testimony to the failure of CUP to attain this unity. It is rather obvious that editorials such as the one which appeared in the Varsity are not written with the aim of promoting unity and understanding but rather with the aim of condemning. The Varsity maintained that it was within its rights in publishing this editorial under the principles of a free press. No one would deny for a moment that it was overstepping the boundaries of these rights but that does not necessarily mean that printing the editorial was the right thing to do, especially at this time.

However, for such busy people as student editors it is probably ridiculous to expect them to consider not only the question "Am I within my rights in printing this?" but also the question "Is this the right thing to print?" and possibly even more ridiculous to expect them to have correct and detailed knowledge of the facts on which they are merely expressing an opinion. And so the only thing which we can expect are more irresponsible, blundering, blustering editorials... and, Oh yes, we won't forget that it's alright, alright... Ooops. I mean that they're within their rights!

Whosit? Whatzis?

Does God exist? Was Christ the mortal son of God or is this a paradox? Did Christ arise from the dead and ascend into heaven? Is there a heaven? Is the Bible the Word of God or the testament of man? Are we to take everything that is written in the Scriptures literally — only some of it — where do we differentiate between literal and figurative translation of the Scriptures?

All these questions and many more will be discussed in the bull sessions at UNB's Christian Mission. Do you believe in God? If so, why? If not, why not? The purpose of this mission is not to save the souls of all the "lost" university students in Canada, but merely to make them think about their beliefs. In a world of instability and rapid change it is necessary that each of us knows the answers to these questions. If we do not, then our beliefs are shrouded with a blind faith. We simply say that such and such is or is not so without knowing the logical reasons for it being either.

The Christian Mission will give the atheists an opportunity to voice their opinions, the sceptics the opportunity to question the beliefs of others, the believers the opportunity to substantiate or prove invalid the reasons why they believe, the disinterested the opportunity to cast off their veils of lethargy and take a stand with respect to their convictions.

The Great Migration

About twenty freshmen from residence have been asked to collect their comic books, their decks of cards, their cartons of bottles, their socialite wardrobes, not to mention their wits, and proceed down the hill because of their appalling Christmas exam results. This mass purge is not intended as a punishment, but as being cruel only to be kind. Last year flunkies of four or five Christmas papers failed their year automatically. This year they get a second chance in May, but from residence downtown.

It is time to examine not only the entrance qualifications at UNB, but also the system of residence life. Is residential life conducive to good academic achievement? Or is residence rather a social symbol, a means of shirking responsibility, and a home for lapsidical, undisciplined ditherers? Is the solution merely to dispose of the lazy student, in order to allow others to carry on their studies uninterrupted? But are all the ditherers included in the twenty freshmen flunkies? Doubtful.

If the keen students would assert themselves (how about using that shower-dunking trick on uncooperative noisemakers) to set a tradition where noise, laziness and slovenliness are taboo, perhaps this would be a satisfactory substitute for expulsion from residence... because perhaps twenty freshmen might not fail... The responsibility remains with the students in residence.

PURELY WHIMSICAL

with Wayne Anderson

According to the dictionary a mission is a body sent by a religious community to convert heathens. A Christian mission is coming to UNB this Sunday and will be here all next week. The chief missionary or missionary will be an eminent Christian leader, Bishop Stephen Neill, author, editor of World Christian Books and staff member of the World Council of Churches. He will be assisted by an impressive host of associate missionaries. Each day throughout the week there will be chapel services, special talks and lectures, panel discussions and bull sessions. The message of Christianity will be presented by experts and attacked by student atheists. Tom Kear, the President of the mission at UNB said that its purpose "is to present the Christian message for serious consideration by the students, and to persuade them to come to a definite conclusion on it, either one way or the other."

By January 21 all the agnostics and other undecided minds should be converted, either to Christianity or to atheism. We atheists have before us a wonderful chance to take our stand and rise to victory over Christian mythology. The theme of the mission is "Christ Our Contemporary". Does Christ belong to our time, or is he outdated? Discussion of this should prove enlightening.

First of all we can ask the missionaries how they know that Christ really existed. The Bible says so, but The Iliad and The Odyssey say that Zeus and his fellow gods existed. I can believe one as easily as the other. By the way, where is Zeus now? Is he drawing unemployment insurance?

Are we to abandon rational and honest thinking to put blind and unquestioning faith in The Bible? Are we to believe that Christ was resurrected and that he rose to heaven because his followers say so? How about Mohammed who his followers say also rose bodily into heaven? Was this the same heaven into which Christ ascended, or do I have my choice of heavenly resorts after I die?

We might ask why we should worship Christ in priority to all other gods. Is it simply because our Western civilization is traditionally Christian? Buddha seems to be the more popular choice in the Far East. Geography evidently plays a big part in determining one's religious beliefs.

If we accept Christ simply as a great man, then two results are inevitable. First we give up all hope of getting into heaven, because HE was the only way, and secondly we find that Christ wasn't so terribly wise after all. For one thing he had an over inflated ego. He thought that HE was everything. "I am the way, the truth, and the light. No man cometh unto the Father but by ME." This strikes me as being terribly conceited. He kept talking about everlasting fire with weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. A trace of sadism in his character, wouldn't you say?

"Love thy neighbour", is one of the better doctrines of Christianity, which has left a profound impression on our society. Yet do the Protestants love the Catholics and vice versa? The USA advertises "In God We Trust", and it is heartwarming to see how the whites are infatuated with the negroes.

A learned friend of mine said, "Religion is the storehouse of prejudice". He also said it is not a question of Christ being a contemporary, but rather a matter of his being right or wrong. If right he always was and always will be. I am convinced that, although Christ said many wise things, he deserves to be worshipped no more than does Socrates or Abraham Lincoln.

Once we turn from degrading superstition to lucid and free thought we shall be able to progress towards a better world at a new rate which will no longer be impeded by the church. We atheists should have fun asking the missionaries the above and other questions. Do you suppose that it would be possible for us to convert a few of the missionaries to atheism? It could happen unless they are unreasonably prejudiced. It should be a fascinating and rewarding week. Our mission as atheists is to rescue as many people as possible from the bonds of superstition.

WHY THE CGE BUSINESS TRAINING COURSE HAS BEEN SO SUCCESSFUL IN DEVELOPING OUTSTANDING MANAGERS FOR INDUSTRY

The Company's operations are highly diversified. Thus, men are exposed to varied sets of business problems in such diverse fields as nuclear reactors, heavy apparatus for industry, electronic equipment and appliances for the home.

The Company's organization is decentralized into product business departments. This brings men from finance, engineering, marketing and manufacturing into close daily association for business planning and decision-making, increases knowledge and understanding of all functions of the business.

Rotating assignments are combined with graduate seminar classes. A variety of initial finance-oriented on-the-job assignments in several product business departments and graduate-level seminar courses provide a solid grounding in many areas of business operation.

There are continuing opportunities for professional development. The opportunity to continue throughout a career to move not only across functions, but also between product business departments, assures varied experience in depth. A dynamic environment creates unusual opportunities for the outstanding man.

Company representatives will be visiting your campus for the purpose of interviewing men interested in the 1962 Spring openings on —

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

THE MISSION: What is it?

by DALE BRAY, Mission Publicity Manager

In the fall of 1960 a group of university students and faculty met to begin plans for a University Christian Mission at UNB. This group consisted of members of the Canterbury Club, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship and the Student Christian Mission. The members of this organizing group represented various denominations of the Christian Church. The first major task was to choose missionaries who would be capable of understanding the student mind and of answering the intellectual questions of the thinking student.

In order to fulfill these qualifications the name of Bishop Stephen Neill was suggested as he has led in many University Christian Missions throughout the world such as those at Oxford University, Harvard, University of Toronto, and the University of Melbourne. The associate missionaries were chosen keeping in mind both denomination and vocation so that a broad coverage of the Christian faith might be presented to the student body. Bishop Neill will be supported by a team of seven associates, each of whom is a specialist in their field; Dr. Katherine Hockin (Toronto, Education and World Affairs); Dr. R. C. Chalmers (Halifax, Systematic Theology); Canon Michael Creal (Toronto, Religious Education); Dr. David Summers (Toronto, Executive Secretary, Religion and Labour Council of Canada); Mr. Wilbur Sutherland (Toronto, Canadian Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship); Dr. Gordon van Wylen (Ann Arbor, Michigan, Mechanical Engineering); and Dr. Ronald Williams (Toronto, Biochemistry).

In drawing up the program it was seen that the Christian gospel must be presented intellectually rather than emotionally. The basic aim of the Christian Mission must be to present the claims of Christ to an adult and intellectually maturing generation of university students. Therefore, the mission will mainly present the Christian gospel objectively in the form of debates, panels, bull sessions and lectures. To provoke discussion and argument members of the faculty have been chosen to participate in debates and panels.

Noon hour debates and panel discussions represent as broad a field of thought as possible in relation to the Christian faith. Titles have a broad range and include: The Bomb—Why Not?; Man, an Electrical Machine; Creation: Chance or Providence?; Is the Church Spiritually Bankrupt?; Christian, Go Home; The Holy Trinity; Sects, the Odium of the Churches; Sex, the Opium of the People; Monday Sins of Sunday Saints. In addition to the noon hour sessions Bishop Stephen Neill will deliver the main mission address at Memorial Hall between 5 - 6 p.m. on the mission theme "Christ our Contemporary."

But do you have any questions? In order that students may take the opportunity to have their questions answered, several question boxes will be situated around the campus. An invitation is extended to all students in residence to attend residence bull sessions to ask any pertinent questions. Announcements as to time and place of these sessions will be made in your residence.

This is your opportunity—plan to examine or re-examine the Christian faith during the Mission week.

Train for a Career With a Future

Here are four interesting and rewarding plans for young men interested in a career as a commissioned officer in the Canadian Army:

SUBSIDIZATION FOR PROFESSIONAL TRAINING—There are tri-Service plans wherein university students in medicine or dentistry can be subsidized during their course and become commissioned Doctors or Dentists in the Canadian Armed Forces.

THE REGULAR OFFICER TRAINING PLAN—This is a tri-Service Plan wherein high school graduates receive advanced education and leadership training at one of the Canadian Service Colleges or a university to become officers in the Royal Canadian Navy, the Canadian Army or the Royal Canadian Air Force.

THE CANADIAN OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS—University undergraduates may obtain a commission by training during their spare time and summer holidays. The student who trains under this plan is paid for his actual training time and is not obligated for full-time service after graduation.

THE OFFICER CANDIDATE PROGRAMME—Selected high school graduates, not wishing to undergo academic training for a degree, may qualify as a short service officer after a brief intensive period of military training and later may apply to become a regular officer.

You may obtain full information on any of these plans from your University Army Resident Staff Officer.

Bloomers Win 43rd Straight

Intramural Sports
by GIL LEACH

by Di Thompson

Doug McPhee of the Oilers overskates a rolling puck in Wednesday night's action at LB Rink in Fredericton. UNB topped the Oilers 6-4 for their second win in three games between the two clubs this season. The Devils play St. Thomas tomorrow night in the NB-PEI opener, when they will be out to improve a 4-1 pre-season record. Don Ciotti and Joel Violette of the Devils anxiously watch the bouncing disc.

SCORING

First Period:
1—UNB, Bolitho (Clark) 1:27
2—UNB, MacGillivray (Simpson) 11:24
3—UNB, Barteaux (Bolitho, MacGillivray) 17:37
4—UNB, Marchant (Violette, Hughes) 19:37
Penalties: Wells 7:02, McKinnon 16:07.

Second Period:
5—Oilers, Moore (Hewey, McPhee) 7:05
6—Oilers, Moore (Hewey, McPhee) 11:35
7—UNB, Violette (Ciotti, Hughes) 16:12
8—UNB, Clark (Wells, Barteaux) 16:50
Penalties: Bolitho 1:15, Wells 16:53.

Third Period:
9—Oilers, McPhee (Hewey, Snow) 4:02

If Tuesday night's game is any indication, the Red Bloomers just may manage another undefeated season. Their most recent game was against St. Stephen, and UNB was on the right end of a decisive 49-21 score. Miss Shaw tapped on wood as she remarked that this was the team's 43rd consecutive victory. A rather unusual but very pleasant fact concerning this game was that each of the five forwards made the score sheet. Sandy Pomeroy was top scorer with 15 points, followed by Pat Pickard with 12, Joan Slater 9, Mary MacAfee 8 and Peg Donovan with 5. The shooting percentages for the game were high, as the Bloomers made 23 baskets from 49 shots, for 46.9% and sank 4 out of 8 foul shots.

In their next game, the Bloomers meet UNB Grads on Jan. 16. But the stiffest competition to date is expected when the girls travel to Mount A. for an invitational tournament on Jan. 19-20. Teams from Mt. A., Teachers' College and Dalhousie will also be present, and of these three opponents, Dal will probably give the most trouble. They were a strong team last year, and this year, under the coaching of Iris Bliss, could well prove to be even stronger. The memory of last year's UNB-Dal game, in which the Bloomers just managed to eke out a victory by a one-point margin, practically guarantees that the girls will have to struggle to maintain their record.

10—Oilers, MacKenzie (McKinnon, McPhee) 19:36
Penalties: Parent 1:53, Clark and Wiseman 3:50, Hewey and Wells 11:47, Delaney 15:02, Snow (2 min. & Misc.) and Hewey (Misc.) 16:42; Clark and Delaney 17:46, Marchant 18:53.

RAIDERS OPEN '62 NB-PEI SEASON AT SDU TONIGHT

by Mike Noble

The NB-PEI intercollegiate basketball circuit swings into action tonight with the UNB Varsity tangling with the host St. Dunstan cagers in the loop's initial game.

Not much has come out of the Island town in the way of scouting reports, but coach Don Nelson predicts a real tussle if past records indicate any trend. About the only news to reach Fredericton in relation to the capabilities of the St. Dunstan cagers has come in via rumours, but rumours talk big, and Nelson is quick to point out how tough the Islanders can be on their own floor. They have a notorious record for being the league's spoilers, and one can be sure they will be well prepared to keep their reputation intact.

Last year the Raiders dumped them in the Lady Beaverbrook gym 73-41, then set out a week later to duplicate the feat on the Island. The UNB cagers managed to return home with a win, but the score was a close 65-59. St. Dunstans then tripped Mount A to start the Sackville crew skidding to one of its worst seasons on record.

This year they boast a stronger team, and have already given proof of their court prowess by humbling the Xaverians, once titans in the Maritime cage game for a decade. The St. F.X. collegians had outscored rival SMU in an earlier tilt this year, and the Santamarians have held Husson to an exciting two point game which they lost in the semi-final of this year's Bluenose classic. Just to carry this little bit of philosophical reasoning one step further, the Red Raiders suffered a 60-52 setback to Husson in an NECC game in December. It should be a close one but coach Nelson and his boys are looking for a big win.

Players making the trip are captain Roy Miller, Rollie Labonte, Laird McLennan, Clary Lay, Ted Tomchak, Ed Browne, Bob Baber, Don Morgan, Gordie Jones, and Ken Harvey. Starting the game tonight will be Morgan at the pivot with Labonte and Tomchak at the guard positions. Miller and McLennan will work on the forward line. Missing will be Dean Martin, and Arlen Burleigh. Rearguard Ed. Browne, will also see plenty of action in tonight's contest.

I'm sure diagnosis
Points to a neurosis,
But, I'm positive
he'd be quite dead!"
