THOSE who attended the second of the series of concerts under the auspices of the Presbyterian church in the Lyceum on Tuesday evening, went home delighted with the evening's entertainment. The impersonations of John B. Ratto were a revelation to all and his complete present of every character personated mastery of every character personated brought forth the warmest commendation from those present. Mr. Ratto's rapid changes and true delineations of rapid changes and true defineations of the characters represented showed him to be a master in his profession, and should he again visit Watford he will be greeted Dy a larger audience than was present Tuesday. J. Edward Jackson, the basso, rendered some excellent standard selections that were attentively listened to and much appreciated by those present,

Below are a few of the many questions that will be asked and some of the state-ments that will be made by candidates nominated:—

I stand for equal rights to all. How can a policeman arrest a man or quell a riot when he is miles away? How much was saved by having a Board of Education?

Another year in office and I will make my division the best in the town. I got more for the money spent than any other man who has had my division.

I advocate a reduction in expenditure all along the line. I advocate paving Main street with

The man who piles poor gravel on Main street does not know anything about road-making.

If elected, I will manage the affairs of the town as I would my own. How much of the business of the public school section of the Board of Education was done legally?

If I had charge of Main street the work would be done properly. Regarding local option it is for the people to say. I have only one vote and that will be cast right. You all know where I stand on local

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Should female teachers draw the same salary as male teachers, is a question that on the face of it must inevitably in justice be answered in the affirmative. Ability to perform a certain work is the basis upon which salaries are generally paid, yet the average trustee takes the ground that male teachers should receive more for their services than Of course, on the other hand, the male teacher has more to do with his salary as a rule, having in many cases, a family to keep, which is not often the lot of the lady teacher. Recently the lady teachers of New York have obtained from the civic Government a recognition of the principle that there should be no discrimination against their sex in the matter of pay.

A Discovery of home for his wife and children, no matter what he has done in the way of achleving wealth and honor; if he has done that, he is a grand success. If he has not done that, and it is his own fault, though he be the highest in the land, he is a most pitiable failure. We wonder how many men in a mad pursuit of gold, which characterizes the age, realize that there is no fortune which can be left to their families as great as the memory of a happy home.

> "The water of the villages and rural districts of Ontario is bad, very bad," said Dr. W. T. Connell, Queen's University, Kingston, in an address on "Water Supply" to the Women's Institute convention at the Guild Hall, Toronto. "Out of one thousand samples of well water of eastern Ontario I found two-thirds of them to be polluted, and in one village eightly per cent. of the wells were polluted. In eastern Ontario nearly all the wells are surface wells and this accounts for the bad eondition of the water. There is more typhoid in our rural districts than in any of our cities and the cause of this is that in many cases the wells are too near the pig pen, the horse stable, or worse still, the Party journalism is amusing during an election campaign. If Premier Whitney makes a speech the Mail applauds it as a wonderful deliverance, full of brilliant ideas and practical legislation, while The Globe can see nothing wonderful about it at all, and almost weeps when it thinks of what a poor imitation of a statesman Sir James is. But if Mr. Rowell addresses the populace then The Globe swells out and points with pride to the magnificent, eloquent, convincing, earnest speech of the new leader, and The Mail will speak of the self-same address as a most disappointing, weak-kneed affair. Yes, party papers have Puck and Judge nailed to the wall for real humor in an election campaign.

Few papers on the continent hold the place in the confidence of the people that the Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer, with its Illustrated Magazine Section, does to-day. For threescore and seven years it has been accorded the foremost place among the metropolitan weeklies of Canada. Not satisfied with this, the enterprising management that has made The Daily Globe one of the leading newspapers on the continent has increased the size of the Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer and added several new writers to the staff in order that it may keep pace with the progressive spirit that is permeating our urban and rural population.

The mail service and great distances make it almost impossible for a large portion of the people to get the benefit of the splendidly equipped news and telegraph service of The Daily Globe.

By this addition to the staff and enlargement of the paper the management of the Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer hope to compensate those who must be satisfied with a super cross a week by

Killed by a Bull.

Joseph Alderman, one of the township's best known farmers, was killed by a bull in his barn on lot 6, con. 1, Brooke, on Sunday evening shortly after five o'clock.

Mr. Alderman had gone to his barn to tie up the animal, telling his wife that he would be back to the house in a few minutes. At no appearance of her husband, Mrs. Alderman grew uneasy and went to the barn where she found her husband lying in a gutter and the infuriated animal tramping him to death.

A son was phoned for and he succeeded in driving the animal off, but it was too late, Joseph Alderman's life had fied.

The animal was a Shorthorn Durham and not long ago deceased had beaten it off when the brute attacked him. Sunday evening an Inwood butcher appeared on the scene and despatched the animal.

Deceased was 59 years and 11 months

Deceased was 59 years and 11 months old and leaves besides his wife a grown-up family. The funeral was held Thurs-day to Rickard's cemetery.

Smallest Typewriter.

The London papers tell of a novelty in the way of a midget typewriter that has just been put on the market. It is made to look like a watch and is not much bulkier. There is a revolving disk provided around its edge with rubber type. An indicator on the outside shows what letter is in position to print. The printing itself is done by placing the apparatus on the sheet of paper, turning the disk until the desired letter is in place, and then pushing down on the little stem or knob in the ring.

It is hardly to be expected that this machint will do the work of the best $100 typewriters, but with practice it can be operated with considerable speed and the writing looks very creditable. Many kinds of miniature typewriters have been got up, but this is the "last word" in that line.

INWOOD.

A. H. J., of Inwood, asked the Toronto Mail-Empire the tollowing question:—
"If a man is hired for 7 months, how many holidays is he entitled to? (2) Must he commence work at six o'clock in the morning and can he stop at 6 o'clock at night? Ans.—The man is entitled to have all the legal holiday's unless he has agreed to work on such days. (2) Farm laborers are usually expected to be ready for work that is ready to do the chores about the place, such as attending to cattle and horses shortly after daylight. They, then have breakfast, and after breakfast commence the regular work of the day, and are expected to work until dark with an hour at noon for rest and dinner, at noon for rest and dinner,

No Man is Stronger

Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impaire digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "deems't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach strer esting, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enrighes the blood, Invigorates the Tiver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

It is so easy and inexpensive to have an abundant supply of ice all summer that it is really surprising that every farm is not provided with an ice-house. The spread of concrete construction on the farm has been followed by the erection of such buildings and Canada, and it is the purpose of this article to give some suggestions which may help those who have not yet built, to plan their ice-houses.

Concrete, being indestructible and not easily penetrated by heat or cold, is a splendid material for the walls. It has the added advantage of being comparatively chap, since sand, stone, are the farm and the work can be more to the farm by the farm sunt label. The farm sunt label work can be more to the farm that the concrete is purpose of the farm and the work can be received and water are usually available.

MADDENED THE BEAR.

Used by the Mexicans.

The Mexicans in California had an agenuous method of trapping bears before the advent of the Yankees brought modern firearms into the region. A piece of meat was nalled to the stout horizontal limb of an oak tree. From a limb five or six feet above a rope was suspended, to the end of which a large stone was made fast so that it hung about six inches above and a trifle nearer the trunk than the meat on the lower limb.

When a hear smalled the meat from

When a bear smelled the meat from afar he would climb up the tree and make his way to the balt. In doing so he would push the stone pendulum to one side. Just as he was about to fasten his teeth in the meat the stone would swing back and bang his head. This would arouse the anger of the bear, and he would give the stone a sweep of his paw which would send it swinging farther out. The consequence was a harder bang and more anger. The more he struck the stone the harder he would be hit in return, until from feroclous anger he would lose his caution and attack the pendulum with all his vigor. One powerful sweep, then bang, and bruin would be tumbled out of the tree to the rocks below, where, disabled by his fall, be would be at the mercy of those who set the trap whenever they chose to

THE HANDY MAN.

His Job of Varnishing the Door Was Not a Howling Success. Mr. Brewster thought his front door looked as though a coat of varnish would do it no harm and resolved to do it himself to save the expense of a painter.

Finding an old "golden sirup" tin in the yard, he went off to the shop for "best oak varnish." He placed it in the pantry for the night and was up early next morning and by half past 12 had got the door finished, "I don't like it now it's done, don't like it now it's done," he said to his wife. "It's bad varnish," replied she "He's sold you the wrong sort of

He thought so, too, and went back to the shop, taking what was left with

"This is funny varnish you sold me," said he. "It's dull, sticky stuff."

After examining it the shopman said:

"This is not what I sold you. This is It then dawned on him that he had got hold of the wrong tin, and he went back home to explain to his wife, who at once said: "Good gracious James! And I've made the pud ding with the other tinful!" Then, after a moment's pause, "You'll dine today on roast mutton and varnish pudding!"-Pearson's Weekly.

The Gallery Gods' Applat Lawrence Barrett once told of a conversation he had with Edwin Booth. The latter had been congratulated upon an ovation given him by a crowder house on the opening night of an engagement. "The sweetest music to my ears," said the great tragedian, "is the shouting of the boys in the gallery. I know they are not applauding because I have a reputation or because they wish to make a display. They simply give vent to their natural enthusiasm. When they shout I know that I am giving a good performance. As for the parquet, it may clap its hands out of politeness. A dramatic critic who had certain notions as to how a line should be read will applaud if I read it his way; otherwise he will remain quiet, I can never analyze the applause of the front rows, but the gallery is sincere in its likes or dislikes."

Shakespeare's Education. Shakespeare could not have been an educated man, that is, in the academic sense of the word, for he was a mere youth when he went to London from Stratford and had had, up to that time only such mental training as he could pick up in the schools of his native town. It nowhere appears that he attended school after leaving Stratford. And yet, as Matthew Arnold says, he lived during his London residence "in a current of ideas in the highest degree animating and nourishing to the creative faculty in a society permeated by fresh thought, intelligent and alive. And he used not only the ideas which he imbibed as they floated around him, but all the learning he could pick up without neglecting his calling.-New York American.

They Wake the Torpid Energies.

—Machinery not properly supervised and left to run itself, very soon shows fault in its working. It is the same with the in its working. It is the same with the digestive organs. Unregulated from time they are likely to become torpid and throw the whole system out of gear. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills were made to meet such cases. They restore to the full the flagging faculties, and bring into order all parts of the mechanism.

SCIATICF. EXPECTED DEATH ANY LAY

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Realth Restored by "Nerviline.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith if Nerviline that Victor P. Hires mages the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, color, and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made may powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up, my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spend on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my genderal health and imgrove meat. I continued this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my genderal health and imgrove meat. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that. Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urgo everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism, or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't, had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 50 cents per bottle, trial size, 25c; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co. Kingston, Ont.

The home of Mr. James Griffeth, 12th line, Brooke, was the scene of a pretty though quiet wedding on Wednesday, Nov. 29th at high noon, when his youngest daughter, Esther Pearl, was united in marriage to Mr. Norman McGill, a prosperous young farmer of Warwick township. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. C. Burton, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride was prettyly attired in white Swiss embroidery and entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by her aunt, Miss Marguerite McGillicuddy. Immediately after the nuptial knot was tied and congratalations all repaired to the dining room where a sunptuous dinner was served. A beautiful array of handsome and useful presents testified to the popularity of the bridal couple. They have the best wishes of a wide circle of triends for their future happiness. They will be home to their friends after Jan. 1st.

"I am one of those persons whose dystem requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhili, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have

Dr. Hamilton's Pills A Family Medicine

Both Came Suddenly to the Same Person and One Was Many Millions

By DAVID WALTER CHURCH Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Why should we read fairy stories with marvelous happenings when there are such occurring in real life? The imagination is not capable of creating the possibilities that occasionally occur among persons who are made of flesh and blood and have souls. What imagination a century ago in a long stripling Illinoisian could detect the leader of the greatest political crisis the world has ever known? And in the acquisition of wealth, what more wonent in fancy than the story of a real Mexican peon who came into an income of $10,000,000 a year?

In a town of northern in an adobe house lived an old man Pedro Alvarado by name, a peon, who, with his Indian wife, worked and saved till he had accumulated $100. With the money the couple bought a piece of land on the top of a rocky, hill near by the town in which they lived. Why they put their hard earned savings in this barren and not very ac-cessible summit and continued to save and to pay $40 a year taxes on it when they needed the very necessaries of life is not known. It is possible that the wife, having been an Indian, had heard a tradition handed down from her forefathers that there was a treasure buried there.

Be this as it may, there must have been some reason for the old couple putting all their money in a barren rock, and this view is borne out by the fact that old Alvarado, having willed his purchase to his son and three nephaws. called upon the former to swear

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

writes:

"For some time I had been in a low depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this cine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box.

DO YOU USE PILLS? that he would never part with his in terest in it. When we remember that this legacy bequeathed to young l'e dro was supposed to be worth but $25 we cannot but assume that his father must have had an inkling that its value was much greater.

After the old couple died the summit of the barren rock was not divided mong the beirs, but kept as one property, Then came men who believed that there might be silver under the rock. They had plenty of money and were ready to risk it in an investiga-They offered the heirs a large sum for the property, and Pedro's cous ins were willing and anxious to sell But Pedro, true to his oath, refused to part with his share. In vain the others begged him not to stand in their way of taking advantage of the offer. Pedro stood firm. But after awhile a friend loaned him the money to buy out his cousins' interest and make the investigation as to what the property contained.

One day men began to work on the top of the hill with pick and shovel.

A month passed and nothing but ordi nary earth and rock was displaced. The cousins came to see and feered at Pedro for a fool. But Pedro had been loaned sufficient money to pursue his investigations to the end and worked on. Another month passed and yet an other with the same result. Then one day in a twinkling all was changed. A vein was struck indicating that the Palmilla mine, as it was called, was the richest silver mine that had ever been opened. And now this story takes on a won-derful change. Pedro Aivarado, son of a Mexican peon father and an indian mother, heir to a beggarly estate supposed to be worth but $25, sudden-ly springs into an income of $30,000 a day. The fairy waves her wand and the adobe but in which Pedro was born is changed into a sumptuous palace furnished from the manufactories of the old word. Money without limit is given away, thrown away. Whatever the silver king funcies he buys. Those in his employ are loaded with luxuries. It seems to be the desire of all men to live in a palace, for all men who acquire immense fortunes build such structures to live in. Nevertheless their abodes are typical of their origin. Pedro built his paluce, and when he got it finished and furnished it was wonderful to behold, especially in the latter respect. The furniture all came abroad. The most costly bedsteads, chairs and cabinets were ship ped from Paris; rugs came from the orient, and Pedro, instead of walking on the wooden floor-or, more likely the dirt floor-to which he had been accustomed, sank in the soft substances manufactured by Persian workmer But the most curious freak of this suddenly enriched man was a mania for pianos. His palace was filled with them. They, too, came from those factories where the most skilled workmen were employed in their building and their mechanism was encased in the most costly woods, often beautifully inlaid. They were in his parlors, in his living rooms, bedroomsanywhere, everywhere where there was room for them, and room in Pe-dro's palace was abundant. Singularly enough but one selfish motive guides this suddenly enriched man. The rest are all altruistic. He is besieged by persons eager to buy his mine, or if they cannot do that at least a part of it. By selling and permitting educated business men to work it the income could be greatly increased. But no argument, no amount of cajoling, could move the man who had sworn he would not

Then it was represented to him that by certain simple business reforms he might himself make his mine more largely. All the ore taken from it was carried down the hill on mules. Why not build a little railroad for the purpose, which could be operated at much less expense? "But what would those do who now make their living by driving the mules?" asked Pedro. The simple business scheme is re-fused. Wastefulness continues. The owner's employees draw immense sal-aries, and how much they steal be-sides does not appear, except in the opulent manner in which they live.

Will the mine always stand this waste, this drain? Will there not come a day when the vein will run out? And then? Well, then the silver king and those who are sucking his wealth will collapse.

Among them all there is one who sees such a result. Pedro's wife had drudged as a peon until the mine was opened. She remembered that part of her life and had no desire to return to it. Why not from this river of wealth on which they were floating turn aside something to support them in case the fountain should dry up?

And so she did. Instead of putting away a few copper coins at a time as her father-in-law had done with which to buy his rock, she took $1,000 bills and hid them. For years she stored away these bills. No one knew that they were being hidden, no one knew their hiding place. The waste, the ex-

Every woman knows that there is nothing so good for hair and scalp trouble as Parisian Sage. If Parisian Sage is used two or three times a week it will keep the scalp nice and clean and remove dandruff. It makes the hair lustrous and fluffy, and keeps it from falling out.

We urge every woman who loves radiant and fascinating hair to go to T. B. Taylor & Sons to-day and get a large 50 cent bottle of Parisian Sage, they guarantee it to cure dandruff, fallidg hair and itching scalp, or money back.

travagance, the money sucking by em-ployees, relations, dependents contin-ued, but every now and again the former peon woman hid away a thousand dollar bill.

True enough, what Senora Alvarado foresaw at last came about. The earth taken out of the mine became ss rich. Instead of producing $30,000 day it produced but a few hundred dollars to the ton. All it-was worth must be paid to those who carried it from the mine into the valley and for getting the silver out of it. Pedro had seen his fortune loom up almost in a night; now he saw it sinking rapidly away. Then to crown his loss water appeared in his mine.

Water is the great danger, the great trouble when it comes, in mining. Tunnels must be built, expensive pumps must be put in, either one or both. Pedro had but one business idea in his head. That was to hold on to his property. But now even that idea had ceased to be practicable. His mine was no longer valuable unless worked on business principles, and Pedro was not a business man.

Since there had been nothing put way, so there was nothing when the end came. The man who had given way and wasted millions now found himself unable to give or waste any longer. It was the old story of the fairy who, had raised palaces and other luxuries for the pauper, by mutter-ing another incantation caused them to vanish.

Then Senora Alvarado, who had een tucking away thousand dollar bills very conveniently, died. In distributing her effects a maid who had been a long while in her service was sked if there was anything that had belonged to her mistress she would like to have. She said there was an old quilt the senora had always used which it would gratify her to possess The beloved woman had slept under it for many years and would never let it go out of her own keeping. Surely this would be a treasured souvenir.

But Pedro remonstrated against the faithful servitor having nothing but an old quilt much worn and not over clean. He urged the maid to name ever, clung to the quilt and would not be comforted without this article so attimately associated with her mis-

Now, Pedro was aware that his wife had not sympathized with him in his extravagance; indeed, she had repeatedly warned him that he would come to grief by it. Knowing this he won dered if the good woman had not put something away for a rainy day. The eagerness of the maid to possess the quilt caused him to suspect that something might be hidden in it. Instead of giving it he began to rip it. Out came a thousand dollar bill. Ripping on be found another, and so, as Pedro had grown fabulously rich overnight in finding silver under a rock, he now gained a fortune in an old quilt. He took out 800 thousand dollar billsquite enough to soothe him for the running out of his mine and to enable him to live handsomely for the rest of his days.

Pedro Alvarado yielding to the inevitable turned over his mine to others. Some Americans are the new owners and are working it on modern princi-ples. Meanwhile the owner lives on the income of the 800 one-thousand-dollar bills that were successively saved up by his more farseeing wife in the old quilt through a long term of years.

There is an unexplained feature in this story that, appealing as it does to the curiosity, is the most important part of it. Why did the senior Alva-rado put all the little money he had in the rock that covered the mine, and why did he pledge his son under oath not to sell it? The only possible solution seems to be that some Spanlards years ago prospected in the region and from the trend of veins of silver found suspected that the top of the hill in question contained the same metal. This may have been known to the Indians and been handed down from one generation to another. That the hill contained the immense treasure that Pedro junior discovered no one could have known. This must of necessity be one of the remarkable freaks of fate.

"When the sores first broke out I called in a doctor; but his treatment did so good. I tried salves and lotions and washes of all kinds, but the sores still spread. The disease finally became so bad that the child's face and shoulder were completely covered with sores. Imagine the pain the poor child (not a year old) had to suffer!

"One day a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. I did not have much faith at that time that Zam-Buk would be able to work a cure, but as there could be no harm in trying it, I obtained a supply. At that time the disease had defied all remedies I had tried for over a year. By the time I had tried one box of Zam-Buk there was a marked improvement. I continued the Zam-Buk treatment and day by day the sores showed signs of improvement, until the enzema was confined to the child's shoulder, one sore on which had been particularly deep. By degrees this, also, was healed, and finally Zam-Buk banished every trace of the disease.

"I have waited asyara months before mentioning this."

Ontario's 1910 Lumber Cut.

Ontario still produces a little over one-third of the quantity of the lumber out annually in Canada, but its annual cut, while increasing, is increasing more slowly each year. Ontario's 1909 cut was 17 per cent. greater than in 1908; its 1910 cut was only 7.5 per cent. more than in 1908; its 1910 cut was only 7.5 per cent. more than in 1909. The Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior has compiled statistics showing that 1,642,-191,000 feet of lumber, worth $30,011,000 was cut in Ontario during 1910, but that British Columbia will be Canada's avenier has umbia will be Canada's premier lumber province in a short time. . The diversified forests of Ontario have enabled this province to hold its supremacy up to the present, as illustrated in 1901, when the chief cut of seventeen species came from Ontario. White pine to the value of $17,743,074 came from Ontario forests and formed 85 per cent. of Canada's white pine cut. Nearly half of the hemlock cut in Canada in 1910 was cut in Cntario as was over 90 per cent. of the red pine. Ontario contributed over 70 per cent. of the one-half was white pine. Red pine contributed 10 per cent, hemlock 12 per cent., leaving 25 per cent to be equally divided among the hardwoods and less important conifers. To arrive at the correct amount cut by the lumber mills of Ontario in 1910, there must be added to the above lumber cut, 1,976,000,000 shingles worth $3,55g,211 and 851,953,000 lath worth $1,943,544.

The Late Peter McGill.

The Late Peter McGill.

The late Peter McGill who died at the home of his brother, Neil, on the 14th con. Bosanquet, was born at Varmouth, Elgin Co. He was married about 26 years ago to Miss Kate Waddell, of Orano, and by this marriage four children were born, one son and three daughters, who with the widow, survive him, all residing in Toronto. Deceased came to Bosanquet from Edmonten four years ago, since residing in the district. Two brothers and four sisters also survive him, namely, Neil of Bosanquet; Archie of Salem, Oregon; Mrs. Neil McIntyre, Mrs Douglas McIntyre, Sarah and Bessie McGill, of Bosanquet. The funeral took place from the residence of Mr. Neil McGill, Thursday afternoon to the G. T. R. depot, Forest, the remains being taken to Toronto for interment. The services were conducted by Rev. L. H. Currie, of Forest. The pall bearers were Messrs. Norman and Archie McGill, W. and N. Anderson, Alt. Johnson and Franklin Frayn.

FOR SKIN DISEASES

A Treatment that Costs Nothing Unless It Provides Satisfactory Relief.

We have a grayish-white ointment with a pleasant odor that is clean to use, which we believe is the best known remedy for the relief of skin diseases. It is especially efficacious for overcoming eczema in all its various forms, ringworm, acne, pimples, blotches, insect bites, tetter, certain forms of ulcers, sores and wounds. It is strongly antiseptic, cleansing, soothing and healing. It stops all itching and burning caused by skin eruntions.

It stope all itching and burning caused by skin eruptions.

We are so positive this ointment is unequaled that we offer it with the distinct understanding that if after having given it a reasonable trial, you are not satisfied with the results, you have only got to tell us and we will, without quibbling, return every cent paid us for it. We exact no promises or obligations whatever.

We want you to try Rexall Eczema Ointment. The first application gives a refreshing sense of relief, and because of its germ destroying power, it eradicates the germ or parasite which causes eczema and many other eruptions. It quickly allays the inflammation, gives protection to the inflammation, gives protection to the inflamed surfaces, and helps restorehealthy tissue. It is particularly active in relieving skin ailments peculiar to children. You certainly cannot lose anything by trying it. We would not dare make this offer except we are positive Rexall Eczema Ointment will satisfactorily benefit you. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can only offerin its to our store. Slang and Manners.

It is a sympton of advancing years for those who have reached the middle period of life to begin making comparisons between old and new ways. They may not have entered "anecdotage" in which the phrase, "Why when I was a boy," assumes a lively currency. But a habit of recalling things grows upon them. They divide their time between the present and the past. They hear the familiar talk of schoolboys and collegians, and begin remembering the slang of their youth. How re-mote and distant sounds "hunkydory" as a term of praise! How far away is the period when "Whoa, Emma!" was a by-word of wide application! How many years have passed since the height of excellence could be expressed by so tepid a word as "boss"!

These words may be better or worse than "fierce," "rotten" "corking," "peachy" and all the other verbal "gems" with which the youth of our own day adorns its speech. No tribunal is l!kely to decide the question for the words themselves, in their temporary application, will probably perish before it is worth while to take them too seriously Yet there is one point on which the person of middle age—or of the middle ages, if that implies a suffi-cient antiquity—may truly claim an advantage for the time in which he was young. The slang of that day was employed with a truer sense of the fitness of time and place. It was not ordinarily inflicted upon grandmothers. The youth of the moment, seated at a table with the middle-aged, who may conceivably follow his lingo, and with the venerable, who cannot possibly do so, flings out the jargon of comic supplement and vaudeville—"cut it out," "the limit," and "bonehead" as confidently as if those terms were the common heritage of the English tongue. "Common" enough they are—in another sense. they are—in another sense. They may be indeed no more objectionable than the slang of earlier days, but their unrestricted use in circles that are merely bewildered by them raises a question not so much of diction as of manners—and to this question of manners the exuberant young may well devote a little more

CASTORIA The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Chart Hillither

A rather amusing answer was given by one of the prisoners at the Barrie jail during the church service at that institution on a recent Sunday afternoon. Rev. Andrew Smith, who was conducting service, asked the prisoners if there was any hymn for which they had preference. One young man promptly replied "We've reached the land of corn and wine," and the hymn was forthwith sung with a heartless that was evidence that the prisoners appreciate the comfort of their surroundings. The jail menu costs but 8½ per man per day, notwithstanding the ever-increasing cost of living.

East Lambton Nominations.

Martyn and McCormick Formally Before the Electors.

Addresses by the Candidates

The official nomination meeting for the East Riding of Lambton was held in the Music Hall, Watford, on Monday last Music Hall, Watford, on Monday last from 12 o'clock to 2 p.m.

The writ, appointing the date, and the list of polling sub-pivisions in the Riding were read by Mr. William English, Returning Officer, Mr. Morrell English acting as Election Clerk.

Mr. R. J. McCormick's nomination was moved by Mr. Arch. McKinlay, of Plympton, and seconded by Mr. Donald L. Fisher, of Brooke.

Dr. J. B. Martyn was nominated by Mr. Hugh Russell, of Bosanquet, and seconded by Mr. Hugh A. Gilroy, of Alvinston.

seconded by Mr. Hugh A. Gilroy, of Alvinston.
Mr. McCormick appointed W. S. Fuller, notary, of Watford, as his finan-cial agent, and Dr. Martyn named Wm.

cial agent, and Dr. Martyn named Wm.
T. Young, merchant, Alvinston, as his.
The official proceedings closed at 2 p.m., and on motion Mr. Wm. English was asked to take the chair.
Mr. R. J. McCormick, the representative of the riding for the past term, was first called upon. The speaker said he did not like the idea of the Government Mr. R. J. McCormick, the representative of the riding for the past term, was first called upon. The speaker said he did not like the idea of the Government holding the election one year ahead of the proper time instead of holding the by-elections this year and the general elections next, and claimed that some $30,000 had been thrown away for nothing. The government that stooped to such tactics was not doing right. Nothing would please him better than to see Sir James riding round on the rough roads instead of travelling in his private Pullman car. The expenses of the province were running too high. Since the last government came into power 89 more officials were employed than under the Ross regime. The estimates now ask for ten millions, when the Conservatives decried the Ross government for asking half that amount. The speaker claimed that he had refused to sign the round robin asking for an increased indemnity and by so doing he had saved the province some $53,000. He was one of five who would not sign, but three of the five gave in. He thought the farmers did not get their share of the public expenditure. Had saked that $25,000 more be granted towards Fairs. The government had somewhat increased the grant bit not so much as he desired. He touched lightly on the bi-lingual school question, and then referred to the assessment act. He claimed that improvements should not be taxed but favored the leaving of such details to the municipalities. He favored the reduction of the representation in the Legislature, claiming that one member was sufficient for each county. He went into the Model School question at some length and said that he had fought the question for three sessions with the result that seven or eight of the schools had been re-estrblished, the one in Chatham now having 56 pupils. Trustees had told him that they had better satisfation from model teachers than from normalites. He told the government that they had made a mistake in abolishing the schools, and that it was a small and mean thing to do away istration wiped out of existence or if that was not possible to have a good solid opposition that would I prevent them from having things their own way. He spoke of Experimental Farms, saying He spoke of Experimental Farms, saying that Conservatives had opposed them when in opposition but when they came into power they fell in line and are now doing all right. He wanted to see more farmers elected and suggested that the provincial government be run the same as a county council. He would do everything in his power to support which he thing in his power to support what he thought was right and hoped that on election day they would not forget "Bob." "Bob."

Dr. J. B. Martyn, the Conservative candidate, was the next speaker. He said he had great pleasure in meeting such a large body of electors. He had been selected as the Conservative candidate, and although he did not seek the appointment he intended to carry the flag to victory. He had the honor to represent the best government that Ontario had ever had, a government without one single scandal, or the suspicion of a scandal against it, forming a striking contrast to the old Ross government of ballot box stuffing, marked ballots and other corrupt acts. There was not a prominent Liberal in the province who had not admitted to himself that the Whitney government himself that the Whitney government was making good. He referred to the salary increase and said that every memsalary increase and said that every member had accepted it, and that Mr. McCormick had brought his $1400 home with him. In speaking on bi-lingual schools he explained the resolution passed that French be used as a means of helping French children to learn to speak English, and said that Dr. Merchant was preparing a report covering the entire questions. lish, and said that Dr. Merchant was preparing a report covering the entire question that would be considered by the government. Personally he would not have any text book but English used in the schools. He stated that the government intended to go very fully into the assessment question, at next session. He thought some improvements could be made but was not at the present moment prepared to give a definite opinion as to what changes were necessary. Referring to the model schools he believed that the teaching profession was not what it should be. Students of 17 or 18 went to model school and after 14 weeks' training and teaching about ten lessons were sent to teach school. Such teaching was of little advantage to children, as good of little advantage to children, as good teaching was largely a matter of experi-ence. Under the model school system teachers were continually changing, much to the detriment of the pupils. A better system of education is needed and the government is trying to give it to us. The speaker said that Inspector McDougall of East Lambton had stated to him that the Inspectorate was never better equipped with teachers than to better equipped with teachers than to-day, Reviewing some of the work of the government he said that they had abolished the numbered ballot, had abolished the numbered ballot, had honestly and successfully enforced the liquor license law, had spent $475,000 this year year on public schools and $488,000 on Universities. The income of the province had increased from $4,464,100 in 1904 to $8,891,004 in 1910, and through an amendment to terms of confederation had received $240,000 instead of $80,000 as formerly. An increased tax had been placed on banks, railways and electric lines, express companies had been required to contribute to the finances of the province, and a large revenue received from race tracks and picture shows. The speaker went into figures showing the increased revenue received from lands and forests, the increased grants given to education and for agriculture also showed to a support of the finances of the province of the first part of th figures showing the increased revenue received from lands and forests, the increased grants given to education and for agriculture also showed the increased assistance given for main country roads by the present government over the Ross government, etc. He advocated the extention of demonstration farms and said he believed he could get one for East Lambton. He spoke on the enforcement of the liquor licence law and the management of public institutions by Hon. W. J. Hanna, and praised his policy regarding the Mercer Refuge and Asylum Hospitals where 85 per cent. of the inmates had been sent home cured. During the campaign, Dr. Martyn said, he had formed friendships that would last through life no matter which way the vote goes. The speech was a long one and space will not permit more than a bare synopsis. The doctor concluded with the words, "Gentlemen, I thank you."

J. W. Curry, K. C., of Toronto, spoke next in favor of Mr. McCormick, and was followed by J. F. Armstrong, M. P.

The meeting was probably the largest one of the kind ever held in Watford, every inch of space in the building being occupied.
