BURK'S FALLS SWEEP BY FLAMES BUSINESS BLOCKS ARE IN ASHES

Blaze Originated in Knight Bros.' Drying Kilm and Was Spread by Wind Until the Entire Town Was Threatened.

WOMEN JOIN WITH MEN IN FIGHTING THE FIRE

BURK'S FALLS—An incorporated village in the district of Parry Sound, Ont., on the Mississippi River. It is a station on the G.T.R. and contains four churches (Anglican, Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist), twenty stores, three hotels, two sawmills, one saw and door factory, one wood-working factory, one tannery, Sovereign Bank of Canada, one printing office and newspaper, one telegraph and express office. Population 848.—From Lovell's Gazetteer.

BURK'S FALLS, June 21.—(Special.)—The worst fire in the history of Burk's Falls—one of the worst, in point of comparative size in the province—occurred yesterday afternoon when property to the value of $150,000 went up in smoke.

The insurance is about $70,000. The fire started in a drying kilm at the Knight Bros. Co.'s works, but through the heroic work of the Burk's Falls fire brigade, under Chief Jones, and assisted by the employees, the big factory, saw mills, machine shops and lumber yards were saved.

Unfortunately, while the kilm was burning, the wind, which was blowing a terrific gale, carried flaming fagots over the hill and into the business part of the town, and in less than a quarter of an hour several buildings were in flames.

Soon the whole town was threatened with destruction, and women as well as men set to work to fight the flames. Gravenhurst and Huntville fire brigades were wired for, but did not arrive until the flames had been got under control.

Every business block on the east side of Ontario-street, from Yonge-street to the Salvation Army barracks, was burned to the ground, including the Clifton House.

They were all wooden structures, which have for many years been a menace to the town.

On the west side of Ontario-street, every building from Yonge-street to the Partridge block, was destroyed, with the exception of three brick buildings. All of these were also wooden structures.

The town's fire wagon was reduced to ashes.

Many other buildings caught fire, but were put out. The five drops of brick walls in the Partridge block with heroic work by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Partridge and others stopped the further progress of the flames on the west side of Ontario-street, and the splendid work barracks stopped the fire on the east side, and doubtless saved the residential part of the town south and east of that point.

Desperate and well directed efforts prevented the flames crossing to the north side of Yonge-street, and a day in England was also destroyed. Wm. Schroeter, a peddler, was so badly burned about the face and hands that he had to be taken to the hospital at Huntville today.

The absence of rain for over a week and the gale of wind that was blowing all the time in the province, made it seem probable that the entire town would be wiped out. Indeed, it is marvelous that the town escaped as well as it did.

MURCURY AT 88 'T WAS HOTTEST DAY

June of Last Year Did Not Reach Mark, But in 1901 Thermometer Registered 97.

The thermometer soared as high as 88.2 degrees yesterday in Toronto, while the average, 76.6, was 4 degrees higher than the hottest day of the year hitherto. The warmest spell of the month last year was on June 18, when 86.8 was reached. However, in June, 1901, the mercury climbed up on one occasion to 97.2, so that yesterday's performance is hardly in the record-breaking class.

The observatory explanation of the heat wave, which is causing the whole province to suffer, is that a heat area, starting from the west, has encountered winds from the south, which are holding it in check, and hence, giving it stop-over privileges in Ontario. A lowered temperature is promised for today or to-morrow at latest.

FIREBUG IS CAPTURED

VICTORIA, B.C., June 21.—(Special.)—C. B. Bratton, local agent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was arrested Saturday afternoon, charged with incendiarism. He was caught coming from the board of trade building basement, from which flames were bursting. He is thought to be responsible for fifteen fires which have broken out since Thursday, one of which did $50,000 damage.

Bratton was formerly in the employ of the United States secret service department, and has been here two years, coming from Salt Lake City.

HARRY COLLINS IS DEAD END COMES LATE SATURDAY AFTERNOON AFTER FEW DAYS' ILLNESS

Supreme Treasurer of the I.O.F. and Prominent Shriner Succumbs After a Brief Illness—Suffered Acute Attack of Nephritis.

THE LATE HARRY COLLINS.

In the death of Harry Ardagh Collins, Toronto loses the man who has been declared to be the best known private citizen on the American continent.

His death on Saturday after his prominent appearance during the week at the Supreme Court of the I. O. of Foresters came with startling suddenness to those who were unaware of the state of his health. For a year past he has suffered from kidney disease, and the exciting events of the past few days had brought on a condition of acute nephritis. He was not at all appeared to be greatly ailing, and after withdrawing from the contest for the office of S.C.R. on Monday, he appeared to be greatly shaken. On Wednesday after his re-election to the supreme trusteeship, an office he had held for 18 years, he drove home and was never out again. On Friday morning he lapsed into a state of coma, and did not regain consciousness until the end came at 4.50.

He had been almost constantly attended by Dr. Fred Winnett, and two trained nurses waited on him. Dr. Winnett was also present at his passing. Nearly all the members of his immediate family were present at the funeral, including his wife, his only surviving sister, Mrs. Fullerton, and her son, Harry; his daughters, Mrs. Harry Bastedo and Mr. James Kennedy; and Mr. Henry Bastida. His son Henry is in Strathcona, Alberta, and his son-in-law, Mr. Kennedy, a son of ex-Mayor Kennedy, is also absent from home. Came From Ireland. The late Mr. Collins was born at Thurles, County Tipperary, Ireland, in May, 1844. He was educated at Dublin and came to Canada when 17, when Continued on Page 7.

IS FEAR OF ROUND THIS FAILURE IN BURK?

Messrs. Shapiro and Levinsky Arrested on Complaint of Creditors, Who Prefer a Serious Charge.

Morris Levinsky and Joseph Shapiro of the firm of Levinsky and Shapiro, junk dealers, 138 Simcoe-street, were arrested by Detective Guthrie at 12.45 o'clock Sunday morning on the charge of removing property with intent to defraud creditors.

The warrant, which was applied for by Solway & Cohen, another firm of junk dealers, was taken out as the result of a meeting of creditors, which moved late into the hours of Saturday night, and at which Levinsky was present, his attitude creating distrust among firms in the junk business, and both lived at their business address. They have been engaged in the junk trade for eight years, and have borne a good reputation, which has made it easy for them to obtain large advances on goods contracted for later delivery. The total amount of claims is said to exceed $200.

The arrest has created a great sensation in "the ward," and particularly among firms in the junk business. There are a number of small creditors, who, it is said, will find their loss a staggering blow, unless obligations can be met on a much better scale than at present appears. One of the creditors said, however, that there was a disposition among the larger creditors at Saturday night's meeting to accept no compromises that may be offered, but to press the criminal charges to the hilt.

Some of the firms interested with amounts owing are as follows: Owen Sound Bag and Metal Co., $700; L. Rotenberg, $500; N. Granatstein & Sons, $500; S. Schwartz, $500; Andrews & Son, $400; W. Andrews, $400; E. Pullen, $325; Canadian Metal Co., Toronto, $250; L. N. Schwartz, $200; R. Rober, $200; Allinder, Hamilton, $200; Antipitzky Metal Co., Toronto, $200; Heltzer Bros., $110.

The men who were released on large bail bonds late in the afternoon. They will appear in the police court this morning.

The firm was believed by its creditors to be in perfectly sound condition at the time of the arrest. It was stated when each of the interested firms received from Levinsky and Shapiro's solicitors, Heyd & Heyd, a letter stating that the firm was in deep water financially and stating that a meeting of the creditors would be held on Monday, June 22, at 2 P.M. The announcement was received with much suspicion, not to say consternation, and heads were laid on the block when the firm was said to be in a position to hold a meeting on Saturday night at 9.30 o'clock.

Offered Settlement. The firm was invited to send a representative, and Morris Levinsky, the senior member, appeared. It was stated that Levinsky was asked whether a number of questions as to whether he had been disposed of, and what sums money had been received therefor; and that his answers were not considered satisfactory. He was offered $1700 in settlement, but as the claims amount, it is estimated, to between $9000 and $10,000, the creditors were not appeased.

During the meeting it was stated by some of the creditors that they had evinced the past few weeks, Levinsky and Shapiro had been removing goods in large quantities and storing them in the warehouses of other merchants. Levinsky was taxed with this and admitted that some goods had been removed. He would not give any idea as to the quantity of other particulars. After Levinsky had left the meeting it was hastily decided to take steps to have a warrant for the arrest of the partners sworn out, as some fear was felt that they might leave the city. H. H. Dewart, K.C., was communicated with by phone, and on hearing the condition of affairs, he advised the taking out of a warrant. This was about 11.30 p.m. Mr. Dewart then rang up Magistrate Kingsford, who consented to the issuance of the warrant, which was executed by Detective Guthrie about 12.45 Sunday morning.

Were Offered a Bargain. Solway and Cohen claim that three weeks ago they were offered 100 tons of iron at $10 a ton by Levinsky and Shapiro. The iron was shown them in the firm's yard, and they agreed to purchase, giving a cheque for $500 and promissory note for a like amount. Owing to their warehouse being overstocked the buyers did not ask immediate delivery, but on receiving the solicitor's intimation they asked delivery, which was refused.

OUR BANKS AND OUR MONEY REQUIREMENTS

The World this morning reverts to the discussion in the house of commons on Friday last dealing with the bill of the finance minister, Hon. Mr. Fielding, which, as passed, provides for what may be called an emergency increase of our bank circulation to the extent of about $24,000,000 for four months in the year, namely, at the time when the crops have to be moved. As Mr. Fielding said, this is a relief measure at best, so that it may be fairly taken as correct that Canada feels today, or will feel at a very early day, the need of increased circulation, or, to use another phrase, of increased banking facilities. The tone of the discussion was friendly to our banks and our banking system; still there was an undercurrent which showed that it was up to the banks to move on broader lines towards increasing the circulation of the country. Mr. Foster, ex-minister of finance, was severe on Mr. Fielding's scheme, but we take it that he was playing the game of politics rather than discussing the real situation, and that he wished as much to make party capital as to aid in settling an important issue.

In order that the reader may have some further knowledge, we think it right to place the following facts before him: The banks of Canada, speaking in round figures, have about $900,000,000 of money wherewith to do the business of the country. Of this $900,000,000, $100,000,000, or one-ninth, is made up by the banks themselves in the way of paid-up stock. Against this $100,000,000 of paid-up stock they issue $100,000,000 of their own notes, namely, dollar of bank note for dollar of paid-up stock. They have also what they call their own money, $70,000,000 of reserves. These reserves, however, are accumulated profits which really came from the public, and have been earned out of the public, and are, therefore, more or less a contribution of the public towards the banking business. In all fairness, however, perhaps, $20,000,000 of this sum ought to be deducted, an amount which represents the premium on new capital paid by the shareholders; so that it would be better to say that $50,000,000 of the reserve is contributed by the public rather than $70,000,000. Then they have about $600,000,000 of deposits from the public, and these four items, namely: capital stock, their own note issue, reserves accumulated, and deposits from the people, make up almost $900,000,000, which is the total of the available funds in the banks' treasuries. It will, therefore, be seen that the banks have contributed $120,000,000 of this $900,000,000, and that the public, by the legislation that they give them to issue notes, and by their deposits, contribute $780,000,000 to make up the available funds in Canada of $900,000,000. The people supply seven-eighths and the bank shareholders one-eighth.

Canada is a great and growing country. It is said to be the country of the century, and anyone who looks at our great west, who looks at the immense resources of Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, and at the inducements they offer to enterprise, must admit that, when the present depression disappears, and it is disappearing rapidly, an era of unheeded expansion must set in over this whole Dominion. British Columbia, with the prospect of a great and growing Asiatic trade, has itself immense possibilities, it has right in sight a large development and a growing need of capital.

The question before parliament last week, and which is really the great question before the Canadian people to-day, is one of money to carry on the present business of the country, and to provide for the immense expansion that must soon take place. As was pointed out in the house, three ways are open to increase our currency. One is an emergency measure of the kind that passed parliament on Friday, namely, to allow the banks to increase their note issue in the busy season of the year to the extent of 15 per cent. of their combined unimpaired capital and reserves; this would give, roughly, $24,000,000 on which the state would charge the banks anything up to 5 per cent. for the privilege. But, as was stated above, and pointed out in the debate, this is merely a temporary measure. Another way, and the way supported by Mr. Maclean, was that the banks should assume the full responsibility which their franchise has imposed upon them, and that they should increase their capital stock, and especially that they should seek for the money for this new capital stock abroad. He even went so far as to say that the business requirements of the country would soon be such that every bank could double its capital, and if they could get this capital abroad there would be another $100,000,000 available, and against this additional $100,000,000 they could, under the present banking act, issue $100,000,000 of their own notes, and in that way the currency of the country would be increased by $200,000,000.

The third way, as was mentioned by Mr. Fielding, by Mr. Maclean and by Dr. Sproule, was to increase the issue of Dominion notes. At the present time the government has the power to issue Dominion notes up to $30,000,000, and on this they must hold a gold reserve of 25 per cent. For any notes that the government issues over this amount they must hold in reserve a dollar in gold for every dollar in notes. It would be possible for parliament to change this law and to increase the note issue and change the percentage of reserve held against it and to add $50,000,000 of Dominion notes to the available currency, which could be paid out for public works, or deposited in the banks for the business of the country. The banks, however, do not look with favor on any increase in the Dominion note issue, and they especially would resent the Dominion taking over the five and ten-dollar bills, as they now have the one and two-dollar bills.

These are, then, three available ways of increasing the currency of the country, namely: the emergency proposition of the government allowing the banks to increase their note issue; increasing the capital stock of the banks and the consequent increase of the bank note issue; an increase in the issue of Dominion notes.

It does, then, seem to follow that if there is a shortage of currency (which some may deny, and on this point we are ready to hear what those who make the denial have to say), then, unless the banks increase their capital stock and increase their own note issue consequent thereon, an agitation will start in the country for an enlargement of the Dominion note issue; and that if the banks consider this latter a menace to their own business, and to the credit of the country, it is up to them to head it off by finding a way of increasing the currency as the banking act now allows them to do, and as we have already set out. It was stated in the debate, and we believe it is true, that the bank shareholders, and especially the big shareholders, do not like to see the capital of the banks increased unless they can take up their share; and if they don't have the cash ready they are not in a position to do it, and consequently they would lose their equity, which they consider very valuable, in the bank reserves, and which equity, as a matter of fact, puts the value of the shares of the banks that have the big reserves away above par, in some cases above 200. It was also pointed out, and we believe it is the fact, that if the Canadian shareholders of the banks took up the additional bank capital they can only take it out of deposits now in the bank, and that this is merely changing money from one column to another. Whereas, if the banks were more liberal in their policy to new

IN FULL RETREAT SAYS BRYAN OF G.O.P.

Chicago Platform is Declared to Be Far From the Policies Announced By the Republican Leaders.

Bryan Sure. William Jennings Bryan can read his title clear to the nomination for president by the Democratic national convention which will meet in Denver July 7. Practically it is all over but the stretching and the yelling. The line-up already shows: Instructed for Bryan 633 Indorsed Bryan 633 Declared for Bryan 88 To be selected, but for Bryan 64 Total for Bryan 788 Necessary to nominate (two-thirds) 672 Bryan's margin 116

LINCOLN, Neb., June 21.—Under the caption, "In Full Retreat," William J. Bryan, in the next issue of The Commonwealth, will discuss the Republican convention.

After citing the convention rejection of the declaration in favor of publicity as to campaign funds by a vote of 689 to 84, and the ascertaining of the value of railroads; the injunction plank agreed upon; the lack of reference to the income tax and inheritance tax, both Roosevelt pets, and to the indictment for conspiracy of great lawbreakers; and finally, the voting down of a plank in favor of the public election of senators, the article will conclude: "Here are seven propositions upon which the Republican party in national convention assembled has retreated from the position taken by that party in congress, or from the position taken by the president. What have Roosevelt Republicans to say? The president has awakened a spirit of revolt within his party, he has at least revealed to the world that there are reformers in the Republican party. Can that spirit now be quelled by a stand-pat convention? Millions of Republicans have enlisted at the president's call to arms and are ready to march forward; will they turn their banners and turn back merely because the president acquiesces in the sounding of a retreat?"

MOST BRUTAL ASSAULT ON HALF DOZEN MEN

Employes of Moffat Stove Works Set Upon by Former Workmen—Climax of Labor Trouble.

While T. L. Moffat, Jr., secretary of the Moffat Stove Company, Weston, in company with six moulders in the employ of the firm, was returning home after attending the service in the Weston Methodist Church last night, they were pounced upon by a party of the striking moulders and rushed in to the street. Mr. Moffat received a severe cut over the eye, and his head was badly bruised by being hit with stones. While he was lying on the road with blood gushing from the cut above his eye, one of the strikers commenced pounding him with his fists till he was almost insensible. Every one of the six moulders in his company were badly cut about the face and head, and one man is so badly hurt that his recovery is doubtful. The road was spattered with blood for several yards around. Doctors Moffat and Irwin of Weston were communicated with and dressed the wounds of the injured men, some of which the doctors state are very serious.

The first intimation the party of returning churchgoers had of trouble was when they were met by a shower of stones from both sides of the road while coming down Main-street. When these gave out, the strikers rushed in to their quarters and used their fists. F. W. Moffat, brother of the man who is hurt, stated to The World last night that there were at least 15 men engaged in the attack, and all of them are known. "We applied to Magistrate Cruckshanks and Reeve Bull to have warrants for the arrest of these men issued, but neither one of these officials seemed favorable to the procedure." They rather advised us to have summonses issued. However, we intend to issue warrants as we consider the matter far too serious to adopt any but the most stringent methods." Mr. Moffat added that the police protection in Weston was nil. He said he was dismissed from the employ of the Moffat Stove Company a short time before the shop was declared an open one. They have no right whatever to interfere with the work of the shop, and the company will continue the open shop principle no matter what eventuates. "The trouble between the company and men began about six weeks ago."

Toronto's Win Sunday Game

NOTE AND COMMENT
Surely the system on this side of the water of securing trials of the horses is superior to that in the old country.

Applegate Allows Five Runs in Third Innings—Rudolph Counts the Second—Bisons and Grays Score Sunday Victories.

Now that the Hamilton races are over a great weight of responsibility is off our shoulders and we can congratulate all concerned on the success of the meeting, that is allowed to be the best in the history of the red clay track, tho at one time there seemed to be trouble ahead.

The athletes of St. Catharines have lowered the colors of the two Toronto teams on successive Saturdays, the triumphs on June 21 to 22 to the Toronto on June 20 by 8 to 2. Referee Waghorne says the last game was a splendid exhibition for the first half and then the homeers and the half grounds seemed to smother the Torontos.

As every team in the N.L.U. has lost a game, the Athletics are the present champions, or rather they would be champions if regularly in the race. As a matter of fact, St. Kitts are harder to beat at home than even Cornwall and we are confident to make a good showing if in the league, and an eighth one is needed to round up the circuit.

It is worthy of notice, says Sporting Life, with regard to the Marathon race in which the English runner was pre-eminent, despite the confidence of the Americans—that at least 8 of the 12 representatives of the latter country they could do in the Polytechnic Harriers' Marathon trial by running them prominently. Some surprise may be caused by the inclusion of Fred Appleby, after his collapse in the Poly, trial, but it is difficult to see how the 15 miles world's record holder could have been overlooked.

In Sporting Life's notice of the English Marathon runners and their opponents nothing is said about Longshot and the last has likely been heard of any opposition. The Yankee understand the conditions and undoubtedly sufficiently astute to let the matter drop. When the Indian lines up next month for the start of the long race, Boss Sullivan will be as mum as the cigar store variety.

WHERE ARE THEY?

It would be unfair, tho' not impertinent, to ask, What has President Falconer done to justify his appointment? Dr. Falconer has had many internal problems in his hands, and he has been busy in his new position for only a few months. But it is neither unfair nor impertinent to ask, What is Dr. Falconer planning for the University of Toronto? Is he going to let it remain what it has been in the past, singularly so, an institution of medieval ideals? Or is he planning to make his university the progenitor of great social and spiritual ideas? We are moved to ask these questions because we have been seeking for the men which our universities have inspired with ideals of public service, for the men who are actually, with high purpose, devoting their lives to public service. WHERE ARE THEY?

Alas! Begin at British Columbia and settle attention finally on Nova Scotia—extreme west to extreme east—how many university men can we count that have been leaders in public service? One is a product of Dalhousie University, one is a product of Victoria University, and one, the greatest of them all, the only man who is continually holding up the ideal of public service to his Alma Mater and the country at large, is a product of Toronto University. In other words, in twenty years the university which is said to be the second largest in the British Empire, has produced a single real leader in public service. This is the reductio ad absurdum of the whole system of our present day university education.

Canada is crying to-day for men for leaders. And we must witness The Globe in a recent editorial pouring the sweet lavender upon a young university president, upon Dr. Falconer, as if he had already inspired his colleagues and the body of his students with great social and spiritual ideals. The reverend editor of The Globe "working" the reverend president of the University of Toronto for the honorary degree of F.H.D. (Futile Hours Divisor)? Our contemporary never before so grandly failed in its unctuous mission as when in its latest editorial it said to President Falconer, "Nice boy! You are doing just exactly as papa told you. The candy for yours."

We want to warn Dr. Falconer that as the true-blue, sane Liberals of the country are praying that their leader and party may be saved from their friends, the editors and management of The Globe, so, if he is to achieve great power, he must pray to be delivered from the designed seditious coquetry of that first and chief procurer to defeat, the editor of the morally defunct Globe.

Stand, Dr. Falconer, as your Highland ancestors stood, on the heights, and see past the country of The Globe! Rise to the demands of Canada's Century and breathe into your colleagues and your student body the ideal of active, efficient, public service! Remember, too, that scholarship which issues in private glorification and mere moral rectitude has failed, and stems a university as spiritual-ly defunct! Your friends who save you with the lavender balm, when you have only begun your educational career, are your worst enemies. They are positively baneful. List to the cry of the people for a great man, and remember that, as Matthew Arnold said, a great man is one with original spiritual ideas. Upstream now in the Canadian mind is the idea that our country must have cultured but practically efficient leaders. Is the University of Toronto, the second largest university in the British Empire, going to remain what it has been in the past, the source of medieval ideals. Cut The Globe, Dr. Falconer, hear the people, rise up and become, as you may, our country's greatest educator, by making your university the parent of pure and sane ideals of public service.

U.S. PRESIDENCY OUTLOOK. With William Jennings Bryan as, in all probability, the Democratic nominee for the presidency, the election of William Howard Taft, the Republican champion, is by no means certain. The New York papers that think all is over but the shouting are not giving any true index to the situation, and it is a curious fact in the United States political situation that public opinion, in the cosmopolitan commercial capital, is more provincial than in any other part of the country. If an enquiring stranger wants to know the real sentiments of the people of the republic he must look elsewhere—to the middle west, with a centre the district just south of the State of Michigan. There he will get the genuine voice of the people who are the backbone of the population, who carry on the United States traditions, and look for inspiration to Abraham Lincoln and the other great national heroes of the past.

Also the open and strenuous backing President Roosevelt gave Mr. Taft the selection of the jury war secretary to carry the Republican standard, it does not at all follow that it will assist him to enter the portals of the White House in the capacity of president of the republic. Mr. Taft is reputed by his friends, who have personal knowledge, to be a strong candidate and a strong man, as well as an experienced man of affairs, but to the general public he will present the appearance of climbing into office on the shoulders of the wielder of the big stick. Yet also it is an open secret that Mr. Taft is the president's choice, and is expected to continue the policies that have made the present executive the bus-bear of the high financiers and class interests of the United States and given him his extraordinary popularity among the masses of the people. It is also assumed that the capitalists are with his designated successor. Is this so? Are the franchise exploiters, and the industrial and commercial combinations, trusts and corporations likely to favor a man who will pursue the Rooseveltian policy even in more moderate measure and by less aggressive methods?

Meantime what of Mr. Bryan, who, so far as can be judged by reports, seems to be steadily gaining strength, and whose selection by the Democratic convention looks as assured as was Mr. Taft's by the Republican? No doubt Mr. Bryan is personally even more detested by the predatory classes and the capitalist interests than is Mr. Roosevelt, but Mr. Bryan at the White House, antagonized by a Republican majority in the senate and in the house of representatives, would be practically a negligible quantity. Congress under existing auspices would not be affected by party motives in dealing with measures proposed and promoted by a Democratic chief of the state. Therefore Mr. Bryan, so far as the plutocrats are concerned, would be a safe man, because he could do nothing, by way of legislation at least, to alter present conditions to their disadvantage. Contrarywise with Mr. Taft in the White House determined to carry out his predecessor's policy, the Republican majority in congress would be compelled to sustain him and to pass a material part, at all events, of such legislation as he recommended by message. These considerations render it exceedingly dubious whether Mr. Taft will command capitalistic support to the extent recently represented. The Republican convention was warned that New York, always a doubtful state, cannot be depended upon, and with the very considerable increase in the number of unemployed, who are usually against the government, Mr. Bryan's prospects should be nominated appear more favorable than they were at the same stage of his previous ventures.

A U. S. VIEW OF ENGLISH GOVERNMENT.

Few will deny that an impartial survey and estimate of the political and social conditions of a nation can, other things being equal, be better and more easily given by a foreigner than by a native. Dr. Bryce, British Ambassador to the United States, for example, has written what is conceded to be the most accurate and judicial account of the constitution, constitutional development and political and social evolution of the republic that has yet been offered, and his "American Commonwealth" is now a text book of the universities and colleges. Is it only right, therefore, that the obligation should be reciprocated, as it has been by the publication of an exhaustive book on the Government of England from the pen of A. Lawrence Lowell, who has been a careful student of British constitutional methods for many years. From reviews that have appeared it is evident that Mr. Lowell is like Dr. Bryce, an appreciative critic, particularly with regard to the wonderful flexibility and adaptability of English institutions.

One of the points to which he gives special prominence is the importance of the platform in British public life. Not the least praiseworthy custom of the British member of parliament, and it is an observance rarely broken, is the annual account of his stewardship personally submitted to his constituents. In many instances, as in the case of the late Mountstuart E. Grant Duff, at one time Under Secretary of State for India and the colonies and later Governor of Madras, these addresses were in effect reasoned expositions of the course and effect of the parliamentary proceedings of the session. This custom and the frequency with which the leaders and spokesmen of all political parties appeal to the people, in Mr. Lowell's opinion render, "English politics the most interesting and the most easy to follow in the world." Constant public debate on the part of those actively engaged in politics is a very valuable element of popular education. In his own words:

"The rulers of the country and those who both have been and will be her rulers, fight at close range across a table for six months of the year, and during the rest of the time they carry on the ceaseless war by public speaking. As in the Athenian democracy, the citizen witnesses a constant struggle among rival statesmen for supremacy, but in England they are merely spectators until a general election summons them to give their verdicts. One can hardly conceive of a system better calculated to stimulate interest in politics without instability in government."

shareholders and could offer large blocks of shares to investors in foreign countries, and especially in Great Britain, we could get a lot of new bank capital brought into the country. It was even hinted by Mr. Fielding that some kind of plan, having this in view, had been discussed by some of our banks. The conclusion that follows from all the foregoing is that, in view of the great concessions and franchises given to our banks, in view of the great expansion of our trade and the still greater expansion that is at hand, it is up to the banks to try and provide the requisite money, or to let others try and do it, or to stand aside and allow the state to do it if it can. Perhaps one trouble is that not all of our banks recognize their responsibility; not all of them see that they must grow as fast as the country grows if they can; and perhaps because some of our banks are not training the men to handle and direct these greater banking problems. As one bank president put it the other day, Where can you find the men to manage banks with ten to fifteen millions of capital? The banks should grow them.

The United States have a similar problem before that country: the one less thorn in our rose, judged by Mr. Fielding's speech, was that things were worse across the line, that our banking system was better than theirs.

It is only within the last few years that Portland cement has come into general use. This cement was originally imported from Portland, England, where it was first manufactured, and from which place it has received its name. But it is now manufactured by improved processes in the vicinity in which it is to be used. Before Portland cement was employed, ordinary lime mortars were used. But these are vastly inferior to the former, because they depend on atmospheric elements—chiefly carbon dioxide—for hardening and setting. Portland cement, on the other hand, is an hydraulic mixture. It hardens and sets of its own accord. It is this kind of cement that has been used in the new building of the Robert Simpson Co., Limited. The special characteristic or value of Portland cement is that it hardens and sets that the centre of any large mass of masonry in which it is used becomes absolutely as hard as the outside. The foundations of the new building of the Robert Simpson Co., Limited, are as hard and solid as adamant.

Taft is Not a Tipper.

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 21.—Secretary Taft belongs to the Anti-Tipping League, or at least acts as if he did. Saturday morning he dropped into the barber shop of William H. Hottel to get his regular half-hour cut, which he needed badly. After the barber finished the job he asked the big candidate if he wanted a shave. "No; I do my own shaving every morning," replied the secretary. "I don't want to have my hair cut and then I would not have to bother going to a barber shop." When the secretary had been brushed down by the colored attendant he fished out 35 cents, the price of the half-cut, and walked out. The barber was asked if Mr. Taft was liberal with his tips. "Tips nothing," he replied, gloomily. "He has been having his hair trimmed here for three years, but never did he give a tip."

Corwall Cheese Board.

CORNWALL.—The Montreal Produce Association and the Cornwall Cheese Board, who have been at loggerheads for a month or so over the changing of the day of the board meeting from Saturday to some day earlier in the week, have met half-way, and the board will hereafter meet on Friday. The Produce Association claimed that, while the Cornwall cheese shipped by boat reached the market on Tuesday, that shipped by train did not get in till late in the week, causing great inconvenience. They wanted the board to meet on Thursday. The factorymen, however, wanted Friday, so as to be able to gauge the market better. There were 134 cheese boards, which were in great demand. The 50¢ white sold at 11½¢, and 50¢ colored at 11¢.

Sold Liquor to Minor.

CHATHAM, June 21.—Peter Robert, a King-street retail dealer, was found guilty and fined $30 and costs for selling liquor to Charles Coleman, a minor.

Some Judgments.

Judge Riddell dismissed with costs the action of Ross against Chandoo over a cheque for $56,251.57 in connection with certain partnership transactions.

The action of Myerscough against Merrill is to recover $3000 as commission for Myerscough's services in obtaining a purchase of the right to drill for oil and gas on certain lands in the Indian Reserve in the County of Brant. Chief Justice Mulock has decided that Merrill is entitled to a return of $200 and the costs of the action. Defendant may also have a reference to ascertain other damages he is entitled to.

Judge MacMahon has handed out judgment in the suit of Usher against Simpson to recover $1760, the price of 1000 shares of the Green-Mechan Mining Company, which it is alleged, the plaintiffs, who are stock brokers in Toronto, purchased on the order of Simpson, who resides in Bowmanville. His lordship gives judgment for the plaintiffs for $1760 and interest and costs.

In the action of Wood against Curry, over the foreclosure of a mortgage, Mr. Justice Teetzel has given judgment for foreclosure as against the liquidator, with a reference to the master-in-ordinary. The liquidator is to pay two-thirds of the cost of the defence.

HORSEMEN!

Glance at the Cut! IT'S A NEW TOE WEIGHT

Just two pieces—a solid forged steel spur, that screws on and stays on; and a brass weight, that slides over the spur. It's a practical solution by a practical horseman, of all the drawbacks of the present kind of toe weights, with bolts, nuts, screws and springs to worry with.

The new toe weight is adjusted instantly and taken off as quickly, and every size is made to fit the same spur. It can't be jarred loose—in fact, every jar of the hoof tends to tighten it. The spur "hook" makes a practical quarter-boot holder and keeps boot from slipping or turning.

The new Toe Weight is bound to win the favor of every horseman. Examine them in our basement harness section now. Prices, weights and spurs, pair, 85c. Per Set of 1 to 4 Oz., $1.70 —Basement

MAY BE ONLY TEMPORARY. British Board of Agriculture Not Alarmed at Meat Price Increases.

LONDON, June 20.—The Canadian Associated Press understands that the board of agriculture believes the rise in the price of beef is only temporary. They do not believe in a prolonged shortage of the supply, and will, therefore, decline to bring in a bill to remove the restrictions on Canadian cattle.

The meat traders are sending a deputation to the president of the board of agriculture to urge the high prices and the removal of the Canadian embargo. Superintendent Siskman of the London Central Meat Market says the shortage is a lesson to the government to remove the embargo from Canadian and Argentine cattle. What is wanted is free competition.

WON'T INSERT CLAUSE TO PAY FAIR WAGE

Grand Trunk Are Prepared to Give Up Ottawa Hotel and Station Scheme

MONTREAL, June 21.—(Special.)—If it be not a case of bluff the Grand Trunk Pacific will give up the idea of their big depot and hotel scheme at Ottawa rather than be dictated by the labor element of the city council.

It appears that about everything has been arranged except the scale of wages to be paid by the company, the labor representatives wanting the city to name or control the wages.

The company, as represented by W. Wainwright, refused and yesterday afternoon a delegation from the capital had it out with the general manager, who took the same ground as Mr. Wainwright, the latter giving out the following statement:

"I see that in the Ottawa council one of the members has proposed to insert in the contract a clause, when the Grand Trunk P. & C. P. R. have had to dismiss thousands of men, and when any number of men would take any wages, if they were allowed to do so, is past understanding."

"Mr. Hays, from the beginning, has been opposed to any such clause, understanding quite well that there would be nothing but harassment and retaliation if such a thing were introduced.

"The company is willing to employ Ottawa labor in so far as that is available, and to pay market wage. Beyond that, it will not go. We are not obliged, you know, to build either hotel or station. We are doing it to please the people of Ottawa. And how there could be such insistence at this point, you know."

James McEwen Loses His Life at Gage's Inlet—Rev. Mr. Ketchen is Vigorous

HAMILTON, June 21.—(Special.)—Jas. McEwen, an employe of the steel plant, was drowned in the bay, near Gage's Inlet, Saturday. He lived at the beach and went to and from work in a rowboat. In the afternoon he started out in the boat and his home the boat was swamped by the storm and he was thrown into the water. He managed to cling to the bottom of the boat for a while, but was finally exhausted. Wm. Johnston, 288 North East-avenue, saw the mishap, but he was unable to give any assistance. Chief Hazell grappled for the body to-day, but did not succeed in finding it. McEwen leaves a widow and several children.

Rev. Beverley Ketchen, pastor of the McNab-street church, preached the evening in favor of abolishing the bars. He said the revenue derived from it was blood-stained lucre. The remedy lay in the hands of the people, who could elect men to the council who would cut off licenses. The Corpus Christi processions were held at all of the Catholic Churches of the city to-day. Four members of the Mulholland family were galled by the police on the charges of being drunk and disorderly. The members of the New East End Presbyterian Church, which will be known as St. Giles', held their first services to-day in a large tent at the corner of Main-street and Hocken-avenue. Rev. B. B. Cochran, Woodstock, preached.

TRAGEDIES NUMEROUS IN THE PAST TWO DAYS

Several Drownings in Ontario in Past 48 Hours—Accidents Have Also Been Numerous.

There is an unusually long list of victims of tragedies occurring in this province in the past two days. Drownings have been especially numerous, as the following records show:

Walked to His Death. OTTAWA, June 21.—George Barbeau, aged 23, who returned on Saturday night from an excursion to Cornwall lacrosse match, was drowned in the canal immediately after the train arrived. He was asleep on arrival and some friends awakened him. He got off the train drowsily, but refused to accompany friends out of the station. Instead he walked over the tracks and those around heard a splash of water.

Queen's Student Drowns. WELLSLAND, June 21.—(Special.)—Arthur Fares, a student of Queen's University, and son of Dr. O. W. Fares of Port Colborne, was drowned in the Welland River last night. With Engineers Anderson, Henswood, and McLean he went in bathing. The boat could swim very little, he stuck close to the rowboat, which they took out into the river. Left alone after the other three had swum ashore, the boat, by the heavy breeze, was carried out of the river and scuttled. The derrick was used in the quarry for lifting limestone, and the cause of its overturning was unknown. Mr. Cross was 47 years of age and leaves a widow and four children.

Crushed Under Derrick. WELLSLAND, June 21.—(Special.)—The first fatality at the huge plant of the Canadian Portland Cement Company of Port Colborne, which has just begun operation, took place yesterday afternoon when a sixteen-year-old boy, James Howe, lost his life by the overturning of a traveling derrick. He was crushed under the boiler. The body was horribly mangled and scalded. The derrick was used in the quarry for lifting limestone, and the cause of its overturning was unknown. Mr. Cross was 47 years of age and leaves a widow and four children.

Boys' Scrap May Prove Fatal. WALKERVILLE, June 21.—A typical boy "scrap" Saturday afternoon resulted in injuries to 15-year-old Edward Howe, that may cause his death. Young Howe, with a number of companions, was crossing the new bridge when they met another crowd of boys. A tussle ensued, during which one of his antagonists pushed Howe over the edge. He fell 25 feet and the bones of his feet were broken, as well as injuries to his neck and back.

Fisherman Drowns. PORT BRUCE, Ont., June 21.—Percy Young, aged 24, son of George Young, one of the best known fishermen on the Canadian side of Lake Erie, was drowned Friday night in the lake. The body was found Saturday morning, washed up on the beach. He had gone out in a rowboat to bait a night-line when a wave upset the boat.

Armenian Drowns. BRANTFORD, June 21.—(Special.)—The Grand River claimed its second victim within two days here this afternoon when H. Manogian, Armenian, 45 years old, was drowned while bathing below Lorne Bridge. Three fellow countrymen ran for assistance, and the firemen recovered the body after three hours' work. Manogian came from Watertown, Mass.

Boy Shoots Brother. WINDSOR, June 21.—(Special.)—Andrew Sherman, 8 years old, son of John Sherman, Walkerville, was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon by an elder brother, who was using a small bore rifle to shoot sparrows. The bullet was fired from the hip and struck Willie Brown, 9 years old, fell on the dock here and was rescued by his father.

Soldier Drowns. GODERICH, June 21.—(Special.)—Private Harry Porter, 28th Regiment Toronto, was drowned in the Great Lakes while swimming with his brother, also a private. The brother went to the rescue and almost sank himself. Porter was formerly a clerk in the Saverign Bank at Clinton.

EDITOR'S JOKE DIDN'T TAKE

The Man Laughed at Hit Him With a Brick.

MT. CARMEL, Ill., June 21.—With his skull fractured twice, one cheek-bone broken and internal injuries, Editor Ora F. Havill of Havill's Every Morning may survive the effects of an attack made on him yesterday by Don Ebdell, the liverman, who took Havill by surprise as he was passing along with his arms full of papers and struck him with a brick, knocking him down, and jumped on him until dragged off. The attack was the result of the publication of a joke in Havill's paper.

McCART ELECTED.

Recount Confirms Liberal in Possession of Stormont.

CORNWALL, June 21.—(Special.)—The recount of the Stormont, which was in progress for three days before Judge O'Reilly, was concluded on Saturday. There was an equal number of errors, and the result left W. J. McCart, Liberal, elected by a majority of eight. There were two polls, Antville and Moulineite, where the deputy returning officers had not detached the numbered coupons, but the judge allowed these to be counted. McCart had a majority of 44 in these two polls.

Thought It Was Suicide.

A prominent merchant was discovered a few days ago brandishing his razor at midnight. His wife called for assistance, but found her hubby was only paring his corns. Far better not to risk blood poisoning—use Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor; it's guaranteed.—Putnam's.
