The Perseus is a steel screw steamship of 4,728 tons, and was owned by the Ocean S.S. Co. Ltd., and managed by A. Holt and Co.

A Paris despatch says: Official announcement was made today of the sinking, on Feb. 21, of the Dutch steamship Ambon, 3,598 tons gross, and of a British trawler.

A National Policy for Nickel, Nationalization of Railways and a National Government for War Times.

Some of the political problems of Canada in connection with the war are being discussed by The World from a new angle—from the public welfare standpoint rather than from any party advantage.

We have got a long way ahead on nickel; we have forced out of the Ontario Legislature a policy looking toward the refining of crude ore into pure metal in Canada instead of shipping it out of the country to make work for our neighbors.

HONOR MEMORY OF BELOVED PASTOR

Many Attend Funeral of Late Rev. Charles E. Perry.
Perry.
WAS AN ORANGEMAN
Former Chaplain of the Black Knight of Ire-land.

Many tributes of respect were paid to the memory of the late Rev. Charles E. Perry, former chaplain of the Black Knights of Ireland of British North America, during impressive services yesterday afternoon, in the North Parkdale Methodist Church, Sorauer and Dalley avenue, when last funeral rites were conducted for one of the oldest and most respected ministerial members of the Orange order in Toronto.

Relatives and friends and members of the Orange lodge, under the auspices of which the funeral was held, numbered several hundred persons. Practically every seat in the auditorium of the church was occupied and many persons were seated in the balcony.
The virtues and personal qualities of Rev. Perry were extolled in speech and song by several speakers, and a choir, which led in the congregational singing of hymns.
The large funeral cortege, including motor cars and other vehicles, then went to the Mount Pleasant cemetery, where interment was made, after a brief service conducted by the Young Britons, honorary members of No. 40 Orange lodge. Grand Lecturer McKeown had charge of the service.
The chief speaker at the church service was Rev. A. P. Brace, pastor of Howard street Methodist Church, a

CITY HALL NOTES

Without comment the board of control yesterday accepted Ald. Singers' motion to secure legislation enabling the city to license balliffs.
The Toronto Suburban Railway Co. have filed with the city plans of some alterations in the route of their road from the northwest. The plan will be before the Ontario Railway Board for approval on March 6.

Civic delivery of coal will probably end this week. According to Commissioners Chisholm and Wilson, the demand has fallen off almost completely during the last few weeks, and it is believed that the period of shortage in fuel has passed.

Only Controller Foster opposed the settlement of the city with the government regarding the closing of the Toronto Jail. He declared there was no justification for Toronto paying the governor a $1200 a year pension and the deputy governor $1000 a year. In addition to these features of the agreement between the city and provincial government, five guards are to be retained as well as an steward, one engineer and a matron.

Oppose Payment of Fees to Auditor for Outside Work
The board of control yesterday declared itself opposed to City Auditor Sterling's policy of accepting fees from the Hydro-Electric Commission and the Canadian National Exhibition for special audit work.
"He should get no fees beyond his salary," declared Controller Cameron. Mayor Church: He wanted $2500 from the harbor board, and some of the commissioners were prepared to give it to him, but I stopped it.

DISMISSALS ACTION.
Judge Winchester, in chambers yesterday afternoon, dismissed the action of John McKay & Co. against the Carwell Co., Limited, for $680. The amount asked for was the balance of an account of $1480 for auditing the defendant company's books. The company paid McKay $800 and stated that this amount was in excess of what it should have been.

To Supply More Accommodation For Norway School Children

At the meeting of the property committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon, the report of the sub-committee re providing accommodation for Norway school children was discussed. Trustee Edmunds, who was chairman of the sub-committee, stated that on investigating they found more than one class ready for promotion and no rooms to put them in. It was suggested that with a change of the boundaries, portable rooms can be installed pending the building of a new school in the district, between this school and Roden School. He stated, even if the present building was torn down, it would be dangerous to rebuild on the present site owing to the railway crossings.

Toronto citizens will have the opportunity tonight of hearing Jessie Alexander, the charming entertainer, whose appearances in Toronto are always so welcome, and Ruthven MacDonald, Toronto's favorite baritone soloist, at the concert given by the Imperial Concert Band, at Massey Hall.
The popular and extremely interesting program which the band has perfected for this occasion is one which should meet the approval of every one in the big audience. Not only does it include compositions by world-famous composers, but there are patriotic selections, descriptive pieces and others, which will meet the fancy of the less critical.
An invitation has been extended to the returned soldiers from both convalescent hospitals, and it is expected that "our heroes" will turn out in large numbers.

Baltimore, Feb. 22.—The first mail to be brought here from Europe on a tramp steamer arrived today on the Swedish steamer Ocean, from Gothenburg. A total of 161 sacks was delivered here, but Captain Gothard said that was only about half of what was placed on the Ocean, the rest being taken off at Kirkwall. As much of the mail was for Canadian delivery, it is supposed the British took occasion to let the Ocean continue as a mail steamer. The cargo comprised 14,000 bales of wool-pulp.

Yesterday morning their Excellencies the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire paid a visit to Loretto Abbey, accompanied by their daughter Lady Blanche Cavendish, Lieutenant-Governor Sir John Hendrie, Lady Hendrie and Miss Hendrie.
On entering the hall the vice-regal party were greeted with the national anthem sung by the pupils. Flowers were presented to their excellencies by Miss Helen Mullins, Miss Irene Guinness and Miss Irene Mulligan, after which Miss Mullins read an address of welcome, voicing the pride and honor which the visit of their excellencies gave the school, the happy memory which the duchess had left from her former stay in Canada, and the hope that long before the term of office was over the world would be enjoying a victorious peace.
His excellency in replying spoke of the pleasure it gave him to visit the institution, and of the good fortune of those who, despite the struggle of the moment, were able to continue their education. The senior pupils then went thru a combination of Swedish and flag drill, in the course of which they sang a number of patriotic songs. At the conclusion the duke and duchess held a reception in the drawing room, among those present being His Grace Archbishop McNeill, President Falconer, Justice Kelly and Miss Kelly, Dean Harris, Monsigneur Kidd, Dean Moyne, Prof. Keyes, Dr. Ryan, Rev. Father Coughlin, Rev. Father Vighinti, Rev. Father Bunonomo, Rev. Father Carey, Rev. Father MacLaughlin.

Provincial Treasurer's Speech Shows Surplus of Over a Million Dollars.

1916— Total ordinary receipts... $13,841,333 Total ordinary expenditures... 12,706,333 Surplus... $1,135,000

A surplus of $1,135,000 for the fiscal year ending October 1, 1916, was announced by Hon. T. W. McGarry in his budget speech yesterday.

This was the first time in the history of the province that the surplus had reached such a figure, he said. The revenue for the year had been $13,841,333, an increase of $1,000,000 over the previous year.

It was extremely fortunate that the province was in such good financial condition, said, forecasting the situation to take effect in this province the $17,000,000 worth of provincial securities held in Great Britain to assist the old country in supporting the financial straits of the war.

Receipts for last year were $13,841,333 and expenditures $12,706,333. For the first time in the history of the province, said Mr. McGarry, the provincial treasurer was enabled to announce that the expected revenue for the next year would be $14,000,000.

Special Cheer Was Sent Them During the Christmas Season.

An exceptionally fine program was presented in the assembly hall of the Central Technical School last night when the Women's Christian Temperance Union held a concert in aid of the soldiers' comforts committee of the organization.

The fine weather has played a great part in this improvement, as power can now be used with much greater freedom.

Snowstorms during the past month greatly hampered the movement of goods, but the fine weather conditions have been better than normal.

The three outstanding features of the program were the singing of the recently re-organized South African states, the spontaneity of free control of the sea by the British navy, and the improved situation on his road.

Sir John Willison Makes Strong Appeal for Stronger Empire Ties.

An indication of improvement in the coal situation at the border reached Toronto yesterday in the form of a notice that the New York Central had modified its embargo against the Grand Trunk to permit of coal shipments from the mines to Canada.

Addressing the members of the Men's Own Brotherhood or Christ Church, Deer Park, last night, on the subject of "Imperial Federation," Sir John Willison said, "A spirited people like the Canadians would not, after the war, submit to sharing in the results of the struggle in the British empire without representation in the British parliament."

This Ointment Possesses Power to Heal the Skin. Two Cases Which Prove the Extraordinary Healing Power of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Peterboro, Ont., Feb. 22.—The use of Dr. Chase's Ointment is wonderfully satisfactory because you can actually see the results accomplished in a surprisingly short time. I brought about in a single night this great healing ointment. Mr. George Besvise, 113 James street, Peterboro, Ont., writes: "As a healing ointment, I consider Dr. Chase's the best obtainable. I had a large running sore on my leg and although I had tried all the prescriptions of two doctors I was unable to get any relief from the pain or to get the sore healed. One day my drug dealer handed me a sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and I used it with such good results that I decided to give the ointment a fair trial. Altogether I used four boxes, and am glad to be able to say that the sore on my leg is entirely healed. Since this experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment I have recommended it to many people."

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it irritates the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain unperfumed coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Advertising Company's Case Will Have to Be Retried. When the evidence in the action brought by John Imrie, of the Canadian Press Association, against E. B. Eddy, of the Eddy Advertising Company, was practically concluded in the non-jury assize court yesterday, Chief Justice Mulock announced that the case would have to be retried. He gave as his reason for this decision, that one of the alleged contracts on which the action is based, is with the Globe Printing Company, of which he is a shareholder. He said he could not render judgment in a case under such circumstances. Justice Clute was called, and the action was re-opened, the same evidence being submitted as that given on the previous day. Imrie is suing for £1,618, alleged to be due for advertising by the defendant. Argument by counsel representing both parties was concluded late in the afternoon.

Cobalt May Be Second Butte

The visit of Mr. W. L. Creden to the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday might be interpreted as a recognition of the standing of the Toronto market as the centre of mining interest in the Dominion.

Western Farmers and the Tariff

The tariff as it affects the western farmer is ably and interestingly discussed by a number of writers in a recent issue of The Grain Growers' Guide.

Mr. Walter Carter, of Calgary, reminds the western farmer that the protective tariff creates industrial centres which furnish farmers with a satisfactory home market.

thus enable the farmer to buy and sell at home.

Mr. McKenzie, for many years secretary of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association, and now secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, does not reply to these arguments in detail, but delivers a terrific broadside against the whole protective tariff system.

Mr. McKenzie argues that the Canadian manufacturer charges an exorbitant price, but the evidence he adduces tends to prove that our tariff is not high enough to prevent foreign competition for us.

Canadian manufacturers of tinware, which includes, at the present time, a cabinet minister, supply the trade with ten-quart tin pails.

Mixed farming, it is said, will cure the difficulty, but mixed farming will not come in advance of urban population.

Unquestionably there is a feeling that the Canadian factories are nearly all located in the east, and that the manufacturer in the west would be unable to compete successfully.

We cannot pause here to discuss the tariff question, but we have no hesitation in saying that no greater mistake could be made than contemptuously to brush aside as unimportant, or fatuously ignore the free trade sentiment of the west.

SHELL SHOCK BARS MEN FROM FRONT

Col. Thompson, M.P., Says Victims' Morale is Greatly Lowered.

FEW INSANITY CASES

Great Majority of Those Afflicted Never Reached the Trenches.

By a Staff Reporter. Ottawa, Feb. 22.—Soldiers who suffer from shell shock do not return to active service. Only one case of a man returning to the front after shell shock is known to Col. Dr. Thompson, M.P. for Yukon, medical superintendent of the military hospitals commission, and this man only lasted a fortnight.

Col. Fred W. Marlow's assertion in a report to General Hughes when minister of militia that thousands of invalided soldiers in Great Britain were unable to be sent to Canada because there was no accommodation for them was "not true," said Col. Dr. Thompson.

There was a physical and mental deterioration, but not mental. The mental process seemed to be almost intact, but the victim lost the power of resistance to temptation, as in the case of an alcoholic subject.

With regard to the insanity, Dr. Thompson said that the greater percentage were the British soldiers who were hereditary cases in which they were hereditary tendencies to epilepsy, etc. Not many of the insane men were found before going to war.

Describing what he termed "borderline cases" or those that were not quite insanity and might be recovered, Dr. Thompson said that many of them were of low mental ability and were doing their best to bring their own minds back to a normal state.

However, there are not so many insane cases as is believed. There are 25 in the special hospital at Colburn, and 31 from the Canadian camp.

Dr. Thompson said that undoubtedly trench work provoked tuberculosis, and also broke down a great many men who had rheumatism.

In the course of his examination the witness stated that when General Hughes came back from England last fall he told the commission to be prepared to receive from twelve to fifteen hundred cases.

Explaining the system of supplying artificial limbs to the men at Toronto, he said that several months were allowed to elapse before fitting a limb in order to allow the swelling to go down.

Artificial limbs to the men at Toronto, he said that several months were allowed to elapse before fitting a limb in order to allow the swelling to go down.

Col. Potter, acting director-general of medical services, was the next witness. He was asked why it was that so many men medically unfit came to be allowed to go overseas.

Sir Herbert Ames wanted to know why 1600 men rejected as medically unfit were still retained in special service companies.

Vice-President James J. MacKay, of Hamilton, was named president, and H. J. Beattie, of Pembroke, was elected vice-president.

The members accepted an invitation to visit Toronto's munition plants in the afternoon, and at noon a veterans' luncheon was held for members who received their final certificates before 1887.

Preston, Ont., Feb. 22.—Jerry Laflamme's Dentals are sure to enter the semi-finals in the first game of the seven-goal lead before sections winners.

The 20th Tiger Battalion of Hamilton romped away with the hockey championship of Military District No. 3 last night at the Arena, when they defeated the Toronto Headquarters set by the score of 12 to 5.

Bill Box was the whole never played better hockey, and went thru the Preston bunch any time he liked. He worried the Preston defence all night long, and he came down the ice struck terror into their hearts.

First for Preston. It was a gift. C. Stewart cleared Walker's lift, but Ruppell was left uncovered and he slammed the puck into the goal.

Box took down behind the net, secured the puck and passed it to Walker, who beat Flory from close quarters.

Box made a show of the opposition when he got thru the defence and scored Dentals' third. It was a fast clean period with the Dentals showing their best of the game.

It was a passing play. The Dentals just away from the Preston outfit in the third round. The Toronto set by the score of 12 to 5.

The 20th Tiger Battalion of Hamilton romped away with the hockey championship of Military District No. 3 last night at the Arena, when they defeated the Toronto Headquarters set by the score of 12 to 5.

The game was a very even one until well into the last period, and the local boys had a great deal more of the play until that time than the final score would indicate.

It took the Dentals a few minutes to get their feet under them, but they were unable to get in any effective back-checking.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

By ADELE GARRISON
What Madge Did When Left Alone

Don't you think you would better lie down awhile? This performance of mother's cannot but have upset you. If I were in your place I would not come down to luncheon—I'll tell Katie to bring you up something. And I'll try to have mother calmed down before dinner.

Dicky stood in the doorway of my room with his hand on the door knob. He had come direct up to me when I had rushed from the living-room after his mother's scolding remarks concerning Robert Gordon, and had gently scolded my hand and my feet. I knew that he must have left his mother in a towering rage, and I was that if it were possible he preferred that she and I should not meet until the elder woman had recovered from the tantrum into which she had been thrown by the persistent inquiries of Robert Gordon.

I should have acceded to his suggestion under any circumstances, but I was especially thankful for this unexpected chance of an untroubled afternoon. I wanted an opportunity to get out a package which was in the bottom of a trunk of my dead mother's. I had scarcely thought of it since her death, but in the course of my conversation with her I had been forcibly reminded of its existence and I was impatient to see it.

So I smiled cheerfully up at him, and affected as nonchalant an air as possible. You do have my luncheon, don't you? I think I'd rather have four or five hours' rest than anything I know. I'm going to "sort my car"—that's what they say in English school boy jargon—and I shall expect not to be disturbed, so good-by until dinner.

You shan't be disturbed but once," Dicky retorted. "I'm going to send Katie up with your luncheon. I'm going to—" "Trust I couldn't eat a thing, Dicky," I protested.

"Throw it out the window then," he returned nonchalantly. "I'm sure you'll go to bed in a long while."

"Little Mother's" Last Request

I went out of the room miserably, closing the door behind him. I waited until I heard his footsteps descending the stairs before turning the key in the lock. Then I went directly to a little old trunk which I had always kept in my room ever since my mother's death, and kneeling before it, unlocked it until I saw my fingers.

It was my mother's own little trunk, one in which she had kept her treasures and mementoes all her life. The chief delight of my childhood had been sitting by her side when she took out the different things from it and showed them to me. These thoughts of my little mother of mine almost the last thing she did before she died. I had been so busy with my mother's death, and kneeling before it, I had almost forgotten to look over these things which she knew I would not see.

"I do not wish you to have to look over these things while you are still fresh from me," she had said, with the divine thoughtfulness that mothers keep until the last breath they draw. There is nothing in it that you will have to look at for years if you do not wish to do so—that is, except one package that I am going to tell you about now."

She stopped to catch the breath which was so pitifully short in those torturing days before her death, and over her face swept the look of agony which always accompanied any mention by her of my father.

"You will find the inside lock box that was your grandmother's, and which you have always admired so much. I do not wish to be any request or command upon you concerning it, but I must be the only person to know where the others belong, or until you no longer harbor the resentment you now feel toward your father."

The look of agony which always accompanied any mention by her of my father.

At one time she had mentioned me to her from her desk the old-fashioned key ring on which she kept her keys, and which I had always felt toward him.

I had never opened that key ring since my mother's death, there was no thought of my unknown father except the bitterest of which I had always felt toward him.

"FLAT FEET" OFTEN DUE TO IMPROPERLY FITTING SHOES

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins University)

Your walk thru life is seldom a bed of roses, for there is more than a remote possibility that you may have a "miserable" pair of feet. It is the average citizen who is afflicted with flat feet, and it is the average citizen who is afflicted with flat feet, and it is the average citizen who is afflicted with flat feet.

A.—Directions, gland substances which flow into the blood, excess of cold or heat, artificialness, all cause the capillaries under the skin to expand and under blood to the surface of the face, causing the flush or blush. A control of the emotions and the will power are ways to correct the annoyance.

A.—Wash the head with castile soap and water into which if grains of malcolic acid to the cure has been mixed.

T. A. M. Q.—My heart beats rapidly. What is the trouble?

A.—This may be due to lack of exercise and lack of adaptability of the blood pressure and heart to excessive eating and inactive life. There is, perhaps nothing at all wrong with the heart.

L. R. Q.—I am in regard to your many satisfactory answers I beg to ask you to advise me as to the best way to study and read.

A.—You are mistaken. Studying and reading are the same, except that interest makes you pay attention to what you are reading, and you seek the necessary refreshment and pleasure in the more important reading. You should teach yourself how to take pleasure and feel interest in any study. Then you will pay attention and not be bewildered or tired.

Mr. Neverwed—Does your wife treat you the same as she did before you were married?

Mr. Peck—Not exactly. Before we were married I was in the lead and she refused to speak to me.—Boston Globe.

Berlin, Feb.—German women never knew what a woman's club was until, with the aid of Miss Constance Smedley of London, they established a Berlin Lyceum Club in 1905. ## THE FORMAN MYSTERY

By GEORGE HUGHES.

So he got up from his bed, donned a robe, and seated himself on the couch under the window, where he could look out upon the night and the lone policeman making his nocturnal tour of the beat. But even there he was not at rest. Before him appeared the terrible incidents of the night in wearisome sequence—the loss of his automobile, the terrible apparition of Norah Rafferty, the discovery of the slain girl and the sudden appearance of Edith Forman and her attempt to bribe him to commit wrongdoing.

What was the object in trying to hide the tragedy of her sister's death? Was it merely, as she had told him, to prevent exposure and the besmirching of the family name?—or was there something else, something hidden behind her frantic appeal to him for co-operation? Was her motive ulterior?

Seated there, eyes fixed immovably upon the yellow face of the city hall clock, peering craftily over the distance of intervening buildings, he reviewed his experiences of the night with sickening repetition, creating and discarding theories, taxing his brain to the limit. But at last he could stand it no longer. His brain rebelled and he was fain to lay his throbbing head upon the inviting pillow of Mental exhaustion eventually put the demon to flight just as the glittering shafts of a new day stabbed the east with their splendor.

The time to get up came all too soon for him. As in a dream he heard the distant voice of Mrs. Rooney, his Irish housekeeper, calling out that it was 8 o'clock, and that breakfast was served. He crawled out of bed slowly, yawning and stretching his tired limbs meanwhile. For all the good the sleep had done him he might just as well have never gone to bed at all. As his bare feet touched the carpet his head whirled, and for a moment he was able to see nothing distinctly thru the red mist that beclouded his vision. He sank back upon the bed, and bowed his palpitating head in his hands to still the pounding.

A few moments and he felt better. He dressed himself lethargically and in a careless manner, caring little how he looked upon him.

In the same apathetic way he dragged his weary limbs downstairs to the breakfast table. Mrs. Rooney was the wonderful cook and waitress usually attached to the vis-a-vis she set for him with the vigor of a healthy man. But this morning he had no appetite. Excellent as they were, the appetizing dish of ham and eggs failed to interest him. In fact, they nauseated him. His head still ached abominably, his eyes felt pained, his skin was hot, and his tongue was rough as a file and parched as the desert sands. He was exhausted mentally and physically, and after he had swallowed a mouthful of hot tea, he pushed aside his plate and rose from the table.

Just on the point of entering Mrs. Rooney's room he heard her voice. She was instantly all sympathy.

"You're not feeling well this morning, doctor?" she queried, hastening toward him.

Warren smiled and tried to be cheerful.

"Just a little headache. Mrs. Rooney," he said, "but they were, the apples at cheerfulness was a miserable failure, and Mrs. Rooney, wise in her generation, saw thru the subterfuge.

"It'll be a fine getting up something that'll fix ye up all right, then," she stated. And with that she bustled about and mixed Warren a concoction that tickled his palate and made him sick for more. This served, he went to his surgery.

He was relieved to find attending doctor, comparatively few that morning. Those who did attend he treated with scant sympathy when they related their aches and ills to him. He was intensely glad when the last of them left the office and he was free to get out into the fresh air.

He made his way downtown and reported his loss to the police authorities. This formality over, he hid himself to the nearest motor livery and hired a rakish looking runabout built for speed and hard usage. A few minutes later, he was spinning toward Leadenhall.

The clean air and a ripping breeze invigorated him and set his nerves a-tingle, so that by the time he reached the Leadenhall terminal his head had ceased to ache, his eyes were brighter, and he felt more capable of facing the day's work which lay ahead of him. He slowed up as he reached the lane leading to the Forman home. Thru the springing branches of the apple trees in the orchard he could see the house, quiet and unostentatious in its seclusion. He halted with one foot on the step, undecided whether to alight and call at the house, or to continue his way to the suburbs. A moment's thought urged him to keep on.

The Automobile & Supply Co., Limited PAIGE

OURS IS ONE of the oldest automobile companies in the City of Toronto. Time has dealt kindly with us and our history has been a prosperous one.

Each year we have substantially increased our wide circle of friends until, now, Paige cars have become a familiar sight wherever automobiles are encountered.

These cars have "backed up" every last claim that has been made for them. Through sheer merit of the product, they now occupy an unchallenged position of leadership in the moderate price field.

But—though we are accustomed to success the record-breaking events of the past year have quite overwhelmed us.

Never in our history as motor car dealers have we witnessed such a tidal wave of demand as that which has developed for the two Paige six cylinder models.

We have been literally deluged with orders.

Every facility of our old sales room has been taxed to the utmost and, at times, it has been impossible to take care of prospective purchasers as we would like to.

So, there was only one thing to do—expand—seek larger quarters so that we could keep step with this ever increasing business.

And that is precisely what we have done.

The new home of The Automobile & Supply Co., Limited, and the Paige is located at 100 University Avenue.

We now occupy an entire building of 4 floors and every inch of the space is devoted to one form or another of The Automobile & Supply Co., Limited, 100 University Ave.

Here, we frankly believe, is one of the most completely equipped retail automobile establishments on the continent.

The show rooms are large and sunny—the repair shop is a model of efficiency—and we have provided storage facilities which enable us to offer "Immediate Deliveries"—and make them.

BUTTE MINING EXPERTS TALK TO TORONTO BROKERS

Montana's Mining Camp Changed from Silver Producer to Copper, and Later Zinc.

The following is part of an address delivered yesterday to the members of the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange by W. L. Credean, E. M. of Butte, Montana.

Now the great master vein, known as the Anaconda vein, is covered by claims of the Anaconda Co.

Associated with the Emma Ancient vein is what is known as "feeder leads" spraying off from the master vein in a southeasterly direction.

Located on the Ophir claim is a mill of 200 tons capacity, and within the next thirty days I expect to double that capacity, to bring it up to 400 tons per day.

We have not quite accomplished making both the mining and milling operations as on a paying basis.

Very favorable results are attending the diamond drill campaign at Schumacher, and it is understood that, if it were possible to secure a larger force of men, the management would do so.

Plans for raising the capacity of the mill from 150 tons to 400 tons daily have been concluded and preliminary work will probably be gone on with just as soon as the moving of freight is more satisfactory.

Small in Area.

Butte itself is a very small area—about four square miles.

Our cost per horse power now averages from $40. to $44 per h.p. per year.

PORTO RICO RY. EARNINGS.

MINE STOCKS STEADY IN QUIET SESSION

Davidson Showed Strength—Exchange Closed in the Afternoon.

The closing of the American markets yesterday, in celebration of Washington's birthday, had a dampening effect on the mining stocks locally.

Davidson was a feature of strength in the Porcupine stocks, making a new high record at 84 1/2, and closing at 84 bid.

Tracing in Hollinger fell off to small proportions, and its tone was steady, trading being made at $5.25 to $5.30.

Twenty-Foot Body of Ore Yields Very Satisfactory Assays.

The directors of the Davidson have just returned from visiting the property. They have brought down samples of ore from the 200 ft. level.

From a careful examination of the Davidson on several occasions, as well as a number of prospects in the vicinity, the writer is convinced that this section of Tisdale is sure to make good.

War Conditions Hinder Operations, But Earnings Are Increased.

Homer Gibson, in his fortnightly review at the mines, says: "The results of the unusually unfavorable operating conditions, which have prevailed during the greater part of the past 18 months, continued to be felt."
