DUNCAN REPORT MADE PUBLIC AT OTTAWA TODAY

Inspector Accuses Officials of Receiving Liquor Shipments

THEFT CHARGED

Document Outlines Eleven Alleged Offences Against J. E. Bisillon

Ottawa, April 27.—The confidential report of Inspector Walter Duncan, which has been before the customs probe for some weeks, was made public this morning. Chairman Mercer announced at the outset of this morning's proceedings that the committee had decided unanimously that the report be read. Hon. G. H. Rowin, Minister of Customs, said that the report had not been placed before the country. Persons accused directly or indirectly in the report had been given no opportunity to refute the accusations. He was aware, however, that the committee was supreme and could publish the report if it so desired. The report states that evidence taken by Inspector Duncan shows that Hon. Jacques Bureau, ex-Minister of Customs and Excise, R. B. Farrow, Deputy Minister, and M. J. Larochelle, a member of the Civil Service Commission, "received liquor that they knew was being shipped from the government warehouse in the province of Quebec, City of Montreal, also that they contravened the Canada Temperance Act and Ontario Temperance Act in transporting liquor through the province of Quebec into Ontario."

CLERK INVOLVED

The report includes a complaint from H. Provencher to the Deputy Minister of Customs that R. P. Clark, inspector of customs of the port of Montreal, was "shipping out of the province of Quebec a large quantity of liquor through W. F. Wilson, chief inspector of liquor, to Hon. Jacques Bureau, former Minister of Customs, R. B. Farrow, Deputy Minister of Customs, and M. J. Larochelle, a member of the Civil Service Commission. "I would particularly draw your attention to page 218 of the report. Clark's great deal of hedging he finally had to admit that the liquor was for these gentlemen. "The first shipment that Mr. W. F. Wilson, the chief inspector, received, was one case containing 25 bottles; a few days elapsed and he received another shipment of five cases which contained at least one dozen bottles in each case and then a third shipment of four cases of one dozen bottles in each case, which makes a total of at least 10 dozen bottles of liquor."

WILSON OBJECTS

"Mr. Wilson, the chief preventive officer, objected as to the medium through which this liquor was being sent to these gentlemen, and Inspector Clark admitted that he then entered into an arrangement to have at least one or five cases sent to the Deputy Minister's chauffeur, one Raymond How many more cases went after Mr. Wilson's objections, I have been unable to ascertain. Inspector Clark, in his evidence, admits that the liquor was duly received by the persons in Ottawa already named. "The evidence discloses, Inspector Duncan states, that R. P. Clark has received wholesale quantities of liquor from the customs house for a number of years and large quantities of sugar and molasses. "It reveals, says Inspector Duncan, that Inspector Clark used a smuggled and stolen car and illegally removed the tires from a car under seizure that had been sold by tender to H. Provencher. "J. E. A. Bisillon, chief preventive officer at the port of Montreal, figures in the report at length. "ELEVEN CHARGES. Eleven alleged offences are enumerated: "1.—Procuring Customs Excise Officer Ralph Garceau to commit forgery on September 12, 1924. Garceau, under oath, admits that he did commit forgery. "2.—Uttering a forged document on the customs department, Ottawa, so as to mislead and cover up the disposition of a sedan automobile on September 12, 1924. "3.—Theft from an automobile under seizure of a larger number of parts of that automobile. "4.—Theft from a seized automobile of an automobile door. "5.—Releasing without authority from seized automobiles license plates and battery. "6.—Releasing without authority seized automobiles. "7.—Wrongfully signing seizure reports as seizing officer when he did not take any part in the seizure. "8.—Allowing other customs excise names to be entered as assistant seizing officers, knowing that they did not take any part in the seizure, for the purpose of them receiving moneys, so

Churchill's Proposed Tax On Betting Is Cause of Furore In England

Three Englishmen, Two French Women Placed On Trial In Paris On Espionage Charges

United Press PARIS, April 27.—Amid the greatest secrecy, the trial of three Englishmen and their two French accomplices, on charges of spying, began Monday. The Englishmen, John Leather, William Fisher and Oliver Phillips, and the accomplices a dancing girl named Aimee Letevre, and Marie Mordeuil, a parachutist. The presiding judge insisted on hearing the case in camera, despite the protests of defence counsel, and kept interest in aroused here in the affair. The Englishmen represent a British wireless set firm and did a good business in their Madeline shop. They deny the charge of espionage made by Mlle. Moreuil some months ago. She had just been arrested on the statement of an international adventurer, Lionel Well, held for swindling, but who had aroused suspicion by frequenting military aviation camps. The girl confessed, saying she visited naval air bases, notably those at Toulon and Nantes, to obtain secrets about new French planes for the Englishmen.

Wired-In Campus Arouses Ire of Oxford Co-Eds

Girl Student, Out Late, Spills Beans, So Whole College Suffers

LONDON, April 27.—Because a barbed-wire thirteen feet high had been erected around part of the campus, the girls of Somerville College, Oxford, are indignant at what they term the enforcement of strict curfew rules. "In fact, it is an insult to the university that Somerville cannot insist its own students," said one of the undergraduates. "The trouble came about when one girl stayed out after late at night. We have to be in at 11 o'clock, an hour earlier than the men, and this girl came back from a private party with a man after midnight. "WITH his assistance she climbed the top of the ten-foot wall and dropped to the other side. Unfortunately, the incident was seen, and the next morning the whole town knew about it. "The following day spikes three feet long were strung across the walls of the college and a wire fence was built to enclose a break in the wall necessitated by the construction of the annex to the college."

Austrians Are Turning From Beer To Wine

VIENNA, April 27.—The Austrians have given up beer and, instead, are drinking wine. This is due to the fact that the price of beer has risen to such an extent that it is no longer profitable to produce. "The first shipment that Mr. W. F. Wilson, the chief inspector, received, was one case containing 25 bottles; a few days elapsed and he received another shipment of five cases which contained at least one dozen bottles in each case and then a third shipment of four cases of one dozen bottles in each case, which makes a total of at least 10 dozen bottles of liquor."

Daylight Time Traced Back To 12th Century

DUBLIN, April 27.—The adoption of a summer time is no novelty, but only a reversion to a modified form to a custom that existed for thousands of years prior to the 12th century A. D., according to the Dean of St. Patrick's Cathedral here. An Irish sundial of the sixteenth century recently discovered in County Down, and another in County Kerry, confirm conclusions to that effect drawn from the Gese dial in Palestine. The hour varied in length according to season and, therefore, daylight hours in Ireland being in midsummer 80 minutes and decreasing in winter.

OPPOSITION IN PARLIAMENT AND OUTSIDE

Both Racing Men and Moralists Attack Scheme

CALL PLAN EVIL

Declare New Rule Will Drive Wager Business Into Illegal Channels

Canadian Press LONDON, April 27.—Already it is clear that there is going to be a big controversy over Winston Churchill's proposed betting tax, with the prospect of strong opposition both inside and outside Parliament. Even those who favor the tax in principle seem nervous regarding its reception by the country and doubtful whether it can be satisfactorily collected. The opponents, including both racing men and moralists, give voice to their hostility in no uncertain tones. SEE EVIL EFFECTS. Betting firms and many race goers declare the only effect will be drive the betting business into the hands of disreputable street bookmakers, compel the closing of many race meetings, damage a clean sport and produce a generally chaotic situation. Anything the government may derive as revenue they say, will be overbalanced by the evil done. The Laborites and Liberals will oppose the tax in parliament. Prolet meetings by religious bodies and other opponents of such a tax, are already being arranged. CHURCHES OPPOSE. Dr. J. Scott Lidgett says: "The free churches will offer the most strenuous opposition to the proposal. The national council of evangelical free churches has been summoned to a conference which will take place next Wednesday. Rev. P. T. Kirk, vicar of Christ church, Westminster, says: "It is a monstrous proposition and a challenge to the whole Christian community. We in the churches say that the duty and absolutely refuse to see the tax imposed."

LADY M. P. ALSO

Ellen Wilkinson, Labor member of Parliament, says "I am furious about the tax. I think it is a retrograde moral step for the community. Lady Astor calls it "A political blunder." "The Government seems to be losing all moral sense," she says. "It is giving approval to a great moral evil."

TELL OF REDUCED FERTILIZER COSTS

Directors of N. B. Agricultural Societies United Invite Inquiry of Affairs.

Special to The Times-Star. FREDERICTON, N. B., April 27.—Seven members of Agricultural Societies United were present by invitation, including Messrs. J. D. McKenna, A. A. H. Margison, Stanley Wilson, C. McCain and W. B. Gilman to answer an inquiry regarding the business conducted by that organization in the importation of fertilizer materials for agricultural societies. Mr. Gilman as president called upon Mr. McKenna who gave a brief history of the organization which had succeeded in reducing the price of fertilizers by about 25 per cent. at least. The organization had never had any credit or capital and at first did not import large quantities of fertilizer. They had however had found that a good deal of money could be saved by importing quantities and the purchasing agent of the organization had had to put up his own credit amounting to about $1500 annually.

NO PROFITS MADE. "The business was that of buying fertilizer for the agricultural societies and not of selling to them or anyone else," he explained. It had been found advisable in order to reduce costs to buy in as large quantities as possible. In this way freight and insurance were both greatly reduced and supplies for selling agencies such as the Anglo-Canadian Chemical Company and Eastern Brothers, who gave orders for large quantities, were also purchased.

By this combination costs per ton were greatly reduced. Hon. Mr. Smith explained that he had invited the directors to come to the committee and as the department had the information which was being asked for by members of the House. He suggested that a chartered accountant be obtained to go over the books of the organization and make a report to his department. The directors expressed themselves as entirely in agreement with this suggestion and a motion was passed by the committee expressing approval of this course.

Mr. Suddall wanted the report made to the public. This suggestion did not meet with the favor of either the members or other members of the committee as it was felt that private fertilizer companies who were competing with the organization and trying to put it out of business were not entitled to all the details of the business. All agricultural societies who joined the organization had a full opportunity to know just how the business was being conducted and they were the only interested who had any money involved. There was no public money in the business or spent to help it. Some of the directors showed what they thought of this suggestion and it was agreed that the complete details of the business should be filed with the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Melville told of the great benefit the operation of the organization had been to the farmers of Carleton county in reducing the price of fertilizer.

After a full discussion of the many points involved in the importation, Mr. McKenna expressed the thanks of the committee to the Agricultural Societies United Directors for coming to meet them.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN

SAINT JOHN FILM IS FINE INDEED

The complete pictorial of Saint John under the title "The Loyalist City" which graced Imperial Theatre's curtain yesterday was one of the finest moving picture scenic visitations ever shown at that scene and elicited not only enthusiastic comment from the large crowd present but the picture was actually applauded. It is the Dominion Government Motion Picture Bureau's chapter on this city and belongs to the complete picturing series being made of the cities of the Dominion under the general direction of Raymond S. Peck, a former Upper Canada newspaper man. Saint John is pictured from an almost entirely new group of viewpoints. The tour of the city and surroundings being worked into a little scenario in which a party of tourists see the town per automobile starting from the Admiral Beatty Hotel. A bevy of Saint John young ladies and a member of a local theatre staff depict themselves more than a week to assisting Director Bagley and his cameraman in carrying out the scenario idea. It was a service that entailed considerable sacrifice of time, though as the picture is ready in fifteen minutes it seemed a merry lark. The Saint John picture is being shown again tonight and will precede the Harold Lloyd picture at the four shows Wednesday.

CONDITIONS OF AMITY TREATY MADE PUBLIC

Basis of Relations To Remain Agreement of Rapallo

O'KAYED BY BERLIN

Pact Creates Unfavorable Impression in France; Experts Examine Text

Canadian Press.

BERLIN, April 27.—The Russo-German treaty of amity, after being approved by the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Reichstag, has been made public. It contains but four articles, and begins by stating that both governments are inspired by the wish to do everything toward maintaining peace, being convinced that the interests of the Russian and German people necessitate intimate co-operation.

The first article declares that the basis of the relations between the two governments remains the treaty of Rapallo, and that they will keep in friendly touch so as to reach an understanding on political and economic questions.

Article 2 provides that should either of the signatories be attacked by a third power or by several powers, in the face of its peaceful attitude, then the other signatory shall remain neutral throughout the entire conflict.

Article 3 sets forth that should a coalition be formed among third powers with the object of imposing an economic or financial boycott against one of the two signatories of the present treaty, the other will not join such a coalition.

Article 4 declares that the treaty shall come into force when ratifications are exchanged and that it holds good for five years. Both parties will come to an understanding in good time before the expiration of this period concerning the further development of their political relations.

CONFORMS WITH LEAGUE

The German government considered an amity treaty imperative with neighboring Russia, which in pre-war days was the best consumer of German products. It was insisted, moreover, that the treaty should be strictly in accordance with Germany's policy at Locarno, and the League of Nations, as not representing the slightest opposition against other nations, but that it should be considered a further step in Germany's avowed policy for the pacification of Europe.

FRENCH ATTITUDE

PARIS, April 27.—The Russo-German treaty, received in official form at the French foreign office this morning, created a most unfavorable impression. The Foreign Office experts will carefully examine the text before any decision is taken as to what steps may be necessary.

Sir William Tyrrell, of the British Foreign Office, is now in Paris on his way home from Rome. It is understood here that he will be present here throughly to discuss the problem from the Franco-British viewpoint.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., APRIL 27, 1926.

IN BRITAIN—AND HERE

The Winston Churchill budget receives what they call in England "a bad press." That is, the average editorial comment is cold or adverse.

The Churchill budget is by no means so bad as the Press comment would indicate. Some of that comment is born of deep-seated Tory resentment because Mr. Baldwin took Churchill into the ministry and gave him the Exchequer.

Mr. Baldwin knows that the coal-mining trouble is today Britain's greatest menace, involving as it does the very life of the nation.

The budget, under all the circumstances, is unsatisfactory only in the sense that it presses very heavily upon the taxpayer, and it does that chiefly because Great Britain is paying its way more rapidly, and at greater sacrifice than any other country.

Mr. Baldwin, facing troubles almost comparable with those which Lincoln faced before the North and South engaged, still proclaims the supremacy of the state over all private interests.

recede from it no matter how black lowers the approaching storm.

THE BUSINESS OF GETTING TOGETHER

Saint John's prospects, it is now generally recognized, have improved very materially within the last few months.

The situation at Ottawa, as respects affairs here, is much more satisfactory than it was formerly.

Unless the signs of the times hereabouts are unconsciously deceptive, we shall soon be getting things done as shall be able to see our way clear before us.

If we have unanimity with respect to the essentials, if we can combine all interests in resolutely pressing for certain concrete advantages which are clearly due us, we need have little fear concerning the future.

Odds and Ends

Disappointed

The well-known "steepjack," Mr. W. Larkins, who has recently published the story of his life under the title "Steepjacks and Steepjacking," tells an amusing story concerning one of his men who was at work on top of a chimney sixty feet above the road.

AN American was boasting to an Irishman about the fatness of American trains.

"Why, Mike," said the American, "we run our trains so fast in America that the milestones look like a cemetery!"

"Do they now?" said Mike. "Well, sir, I was wan day on a train in Ireland and as we passed first a field of turnips, then wan field of cabbages, and then a large pond of water, we wex'n go that fast I thought it was soup."

"No, sir," said the photographer, "not yet."

"Ah," said the elderly gentleman, "very like him indeed."

THERE was a squabble on the corner of the street. Two men were fighting. A crowd collected, and a gentleman seeing that one man had the other down on the sidewalk and was pommeling him unmercifully, called on him to stop.

"Let the man get up!" he cried. "Make it a fair fight!"

"Faith, sir," said the man on top, "if you'd had the trouble I've had to get him down you wouldn't be for letting him get up so readily."

GIVES ACCOUNT OF BIG EDUCATIONAL MEET AT MONTREAL

Mrs. D. V. White Tells I. O. D. E. of Women Speakers at Sessions

LAUDS MISS GANONG OF NETHERWOOD

Next Conference Goes to Halifax in 1929—Interesting Review

A very interesting account of the triennial convention of the National Council of Education held recently in Montreal was given before the Municipal Chapter of the I. O. D. E., at its meeting yesterday afternoon in the government rooms by Mrs. D. V. White, who had attended the sessions and who spoke more especially of the women who had addressed the convention.

Mrs. White made special mention of Miss Susan Ganong, of Netherwood School, Rothesay, who had followed Dr. J. Clarence Webster, of Shelburne, and had spoken on ideals in education, stressing the importance of building up the child's health and the importance of moral training.

Mrs. Heber Vroom, regent, presided at the meeting and told of having placed a wreath on the civic war memorial on Easter eve in the name of the I. O. D. E., and of the tea given by the members Lady Allenby, as well as of the greeting extended to the Duchess of Atholl when she arrived in Saint John. Further details in the planning for the entertainment of the national I. O. D. E. convention to be held in Saint John in June, were considered. It was decided to have the I. O. D. E. members attend in a body at one special showing of the motion picture film of the Prince of Wales' tour when it is presented in Saint John.

CONTRIBUTIONS URGED.

As it was reported that there was still a substantial sum needed to reach the $500,000 objective of the National I. O. D. E. war memorial the chapters were urged to give large contributions to this cause. The fund provides bursaries for nine students to attend Canadian colleges and scholarships for thirty students to attend British college overseas, besides providing for work among the foreign born in Canada and for the placing of war memorial pictures in schools.

Mrs. White in relating the history of the National Council of Education, said it had been formed after a meeting in Winnipeg in 1919 and at first was financed by the Rotarians of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. At the present time it was maintained by individual subscriptions with limited grants from government. It had three chief objects.

NEXT IN HALIFAX.

The first was to hold triennial conferences and these had already been held, one in Winnipeg in 1920, one in Toronto in 1923, and the last in Montreal this year. The next triennial was to be held in Halifax in 1929. The second objective was to bring noted lecturers from overseas and chiefly from the British Isles. Already 19 lecturers had been brought to Canada under the auspices of the council and six had given addresses in Saint John. The last and greatest objective was to unify Canadian education so as to form a national spirit and ideal.

The Montreal convention, Mrs. White said, had been the smallest of those yet held but was considered the most thoroughly representative of all parts of Canada. Among the women speakers the chief had been the Duchess of Atholl, who spoke five times at the Montreal meeting, once in Ottawa and received an honorary degree of LL.D. from McGill University. Lady Surma, princess regent of the Assyrians, had spoken of her country as one of the greatest in the world but now reduced to a wretched remnant.

The British government had provided

ALKALI IN SHAMPOOS

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces which you can get this at any street or beautiful hair drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonsful of Mulford's is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your drugist gives you Mulford's. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Mulford on the package.

The Greatest Modern Improvement is the Improvement in Women—While Grandma Had to Be Merely a Good Housekeeper, Modern Wives Find They Must Be Combination Cooks, Vampires, Financiers, Mothers, Help-mets and Playmates.

IS THE modern wife inferior to the wife of the past? I get a great many letters from men who say that the women to whom they are married are lazy and shiftless, and pleasure-mad and extravagant; that they take everything and give nothing in return; that they will not make a comfortable home, or cook their decent meals, that they nag and are high-tempered. And these unhappy and unlucky husbands invariably characterize their spouses as "modern wives."

DOROTHY DIX

Why, there is nothing modern about that kind of a wife (brother!) She is as old as human sin and weakness. There have always been women since the very beginning of time who have been too lazy to work. There have always been women who were grafters and shrews, and there have always been husbands who were their victims.

IF YOU could go back to our remotest ancestors in the cave days, you would find that there was some sleek female who always loitered on the job and managed to get out of doing her share of labor, and who made some big hairy giant of a husband jump when she spoke to him.

No, the parasitic wife isn't a modern invention. Tempers aren't a new form of discord as jazz is. Nor is nagging a new way women have devised of expressing their opinions of their husbands at breakfasting is.

THE drone wife and the vixen wife have always been with us, and probably always will be with us, but I think that her tribe has not increased, and that she is no commoner a figure now than she was in the past.

Indeed, on the contrary, the greatest modern improvement is the improvement in women. They have learned efficiency and acquired habits of industry through being in business. They have learned how to handle money thriftily by making it. Education has broadened their outlook, and given them a truer sense of value, and so, taking them by and large, the present generation of wives are the best help-mets men have ever had.

OF COURSE, it is natural for us to idealize and glorify the good old times. Men are especially prone to do this, and to let their imaginations run riot when they picture the woman of the past. They figure her as a composite of Patient Griselda and a French chef and a cash register, and think how lucky Grandfather was to have a wife who was content to stay put in her kitchen and concoct dainty dishes for him to eat, who never talked back, no matter how she was treated, and who was a miracle worker who could run a house and put up a good appearance, without also running up bills.

Of course, no such creature ever existed as this mythical Perfect Wife of the past, but if it were possible to summon Grandmother from the shades, Grandson would have none of her. For the modern man demands far more of his wife than the old-fashioned man did of his.

IN GRANDFATHER'S time, for instance, all that a man expected of his wife was for her to be a good housekeeper, and a good wife and mother. That was all, and when she performed her duties in those respects she could knock off and call it a day.

He didn't expect her to remain perpetually young and beautiful and keep a boyish figure. He didn't expect her to be a vamp and a fascinator; to have always read the latest book, and to be ready to grab her hat and run with him whenever he felt like stepping forth.

But the modern man wants his wife to do all of that, and then some. She must be a kitchen cook who can make old sheep taste like spring lamb. She must be a financier who can get 105 cents out of every dollar. She must be able to be up all night with a sick baby and appear serene and smiling in a pink frock at breakfast. She must be able to keep him from looking slantwise at the flappers. She must be queen of the jollies, a working partner, a playmate, a siren, and a wife all rolled into one.

SOME little job, what? One that takes a bit of doing, as our English friends say. Yet there are thousands upon thousands of women who are making good on it every day.

The only way Grandmother had of helping Grandfather was by being a weight around his neck which would realize that he had to strike out and fight for all that he was worth, or else it would crush him.

The modern wife shares her husband's burden. Her hands are not weak and clinging. They are strong to push him up the ladder. If they are poor, she goes out and helps support the family. If he makes money, she makes and holds the social position. Behind the door of nearly every modern man's success you will find his wife.

A GREAT many men have the idea that their mothers and grandmothers were more industrious and frugal than their wives are, because they spent all their time scrubbing in their kitchens, while their wives belong to clubs and go to parties, and have leisure to amuse themselves. The modern woman really works just as hard as the women of the past did, but household conveniences lighten her labor to a large degree, and she has acquired efficiency, and learned how to let her head save her heels just as a husband has.

Furthermore, the woman of today has to wrestle with a demon that the woman of the past never knew—the high cost of living, and the miracle of financing that the average wife does with her housekeeping allowance would entitle her to be Secretary of the Treasury, or head of the Standard Oil Company if she got her just deserts.

OF COURSE, the modern wife is far from perfect. Heaven knows she would be no fit mate for the modern man if she were! But taking her all in all, she puts out a pretty good job in her line. And every day, in every day, she is growing better and better.

Splendor of Arabian Nights Marks 'Mr. A.'s Coronation

The coronation of the new Maharajah of Kashmir, Indian potentate, and perhaps better known as the mysterious "Mr. A" in the British scandal, has rivaled the Arabian Nights tales in splendor and gorgeousness. Gifts amounting to two million pounds sterling have been received by the prince. Religious ceremonies, weird gradations of jeweled nautch dancing girls, mystic historical rites, all bathed in a riot of color and splendor, have played parts in the coronation. Upper photo shows the Hindu Ragnath Temple at Jammu, scene of the religious rites at the coronation. Below, the Maharajah putting clarified butter scented with rare perfumes on sacrificial flames, a part of the mystic rites, and the Maharajah or "Mr. A" as he appeared early in the rites.

Fashion Fancies

Gray has reappeared for spring with a vengeance. The only possible drawback to this modish color may be found in the fact that one must have practically all accessories to match. The extremely smart costume above carries out its color scheme to perfection. The slim gray kasha coat is topped by a gray felt hat and worn over a gray crepe frock. The fur is also gray. Notice the stitched bands of fabric about the shoulders suggesting a yoke.

LIVE your life so that people will not say and think that you are long on talk and short on cash.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

WHEN a screen mother is wanted in Hollywood who can bring tears from the audience by convincing acting rather than the usual stuff, producers now turn to Belle Bennett. Samuel Goldwyn gave her her first big chance in "Sierra Dallas." She died her tears the day after she laid her son, Billy, to rest in a Hollywood cemetery and went to work at the same Goldwyn studios. She gave the role of the tawdry mother such a pathetic touch that Natcha Rana (the former Mrs. Rudy Valentino) told us she wept so hard at the New York premiere that she ruined a new gown. In "Sierra Dallas" she was cast as the mother of the willful Lois Moran. Since they have played together as mother and daughter in "The Reckless Lady" Lois calls Miss Bennett her "other mother." Miss Bennett's path hasn't been what you would call rose strewn. At an early age she was a tent show performer, married at 12 and deserted a few years later. Her child died soon after. Billy, who died recently was an adopted child. Success has come to Belle Bennett, but at what a cost. She learned to act in life's dearest school, that of experience.

COMING PRODUCTIONS "Road to Mandalay" will be Lon Chaney's next release. He plays the part of "Singapore Joe." "Collaboration," starring Anna Q. Nilsson, a First National picture. "Take a Chance," with Richard Dix, supported by Alys Mills. Paramount. "The Reckless Lady" Lois calls Miss Bennett her "other mother." "The Boy Friend," with Marjorie Day and John Harron. M-G-M.

A Thought Study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your hands. —Thess. 4:11.

THE true epic of our times is not "Arms and the Man," but "Tools and the Man," an infinitely wider kind of epic.—Emerson.

IN NEW YORK SEE SAWING UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

WITHIN shooting distance of one of Broadway's gayest corners you can find a watering station for horses—even at Seizure's Corners in Punksville. One may walk two blocks in either direction and, caught in the maze of motor traffic, wonder why there is any necessity for thinking of the horse. Standing at a Broadway corner one may glimpse a brougham or a phantom drive by and, now and then, a horse-drawn vehicle passes in cross-town traffic. But there are two thoroughfares in Manhattan where there is sufficient horse traffic to merit watering troughs. One is Houston street and the other a section of Eighth avenue. Each of these arteries in the city's great organism leads to the fruit and vegetable markets, and in this morning belt horses still outnumber motor cars by a considerable percentage. But only charitably inclined folk seem to realize this—for the watering stations are maintained by philanthropic societies. The men who preside over these keep 10 full pails of water in constant readiness and, strolling down 39th street but two blocks from the bright light center, one can come upon an almost pastoral scene as the lines of horses are driven to water.

THE goat, I am told, has almost passed from Manhattan life, though it occupied an important place not so many years ago when many new arrivals from Europe felt that life without goats was impossible. But such backyards and corner lots as afforded pasturage fast gave way to new buildings and the goats were crowded out and forgotten. Now and then, perhaps in the outskirts of Brooklyn, one still comes upon one. Spuyten Duyvil, a beautiful and unspoiled hill rising up from the Hudson river, is New York's last stand of the ruralite. Goats, cows, chickens—even pigs—give a farm-like touch to a little colony of dwellers who, while able to hear the echo of the roaring elevated, still feel themselves well sequestered.

In some of the old Dutch houses a sort of farm life is still lived within a comparatively short distance of a city-way entrance. On Sundays city-tired Manhattanites wander over this quiet hill and look wistfully upon the chicken coops and ruminant cows.

ONE of the most amusing sights to be witnessed on our great white way is that of an announcer at the microphone in an empty club trying to give "the thousands out there in the air" the impression that a hot time is under way. "Well, it's a mighty jolly evening we're having, folks," he comments through the mike while the waiters yawn and lean against the tables. "Well, well, our little friends, Gloria Swanson and Mary Pickford, have just arrived. As a matter of fact no one has arrived, but the band strikes up a jazz piece and perhaps a dozen or more curious ones are lured from their comfortable places beside the radio. They arrive to find a half dozen more "suckers" similarly drawn. A bad time is had by all.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

THE GAZOOKUMS AND THE CANDY. In due, Mister Owl. It's fifty cents in fairy money. "Fifty cents in foolish money," said Mister Owl. "What do you think I got anyway? I paid my rent not an hour ago." It was Mister Tinsaling's turn to shout. "What? Paid your rent? How could you pay us when we weren't here?" "Well, somebody was here," said the owl giving his feathers a shake that made the dust fly. "Or rather three somebodies were here. And I paid them." "What did they look like?" asked Nick. "They looked just alike," said Mister Owl. "And they said you had sent them." "They looked like three little boys." "The Gazookums!" cried Mister Tinsaling and the Twins together. "They were the Gazookums who got your rent, Mister Owl. Which way did they go?" "Down toward the candy-store," said Mister Owl. "That way." "Poor Mister Tinsaling and the Twins almost flew to the candy-store." "Were three queer little boys here lately?" asked Mister Tinsaling in a trembling voice. "Yes, sir!" said Mister Bags, the candy-store keeper. "They spent 50 cents in fairy money." "Oh, dear!" said poor Mister Tinsaling. "Which way did they go?" "That way," pointed Mister Bags. So off went Mister Tinsaling and the Twins again, pocketbook and all, to try and catch the Gazookums who had stolen Mister Owl's rent money. But no Gazookums could they see anywhere. Finally they stopped under an old dead tree, with a crow's nest in the top. "I'd give a dozen cookies to know where those rascals went," said Tinsaling. Just then a lolly-pop stick hit him on the nose. "Where'd that come from?" he demanded. "But nobody answered. The Twins ran this way and that and looked in all the holes and up all the trees. But they came back and said they couldn't see a soul." Just then a chocolate-bud jacket all rolled up into a little tin pill, hit Mister Tinsaling on the ear. "Where'd that come from?" cried Tinsaling picking it up. "But nobody answered. And just then a little paper frill all rolled up into a little tin pill, hit Mister Tinsaling on the ear. "Who's up in that nest?" he called suddenly, looking up suspiciously at the big nest of sticks and straw in the dead tree. "Just us crows!" came three voices in a chorus. "You crows must have a sweet tooth," said Mister Tinsaling, winking at the Twins. ALL is not gold that glitters. Neither is a man who has oil connections always an oil man. PARIS DOCTOR SAYS CANCER IS FORM OF MILDEW

Claims To Have Found Causes of Several Diseases

I. B. SPONTANEOUS

Declares Original Sources of Allments Lie In Men's Daily Food

Canadian Press

PARIS, April 27.—That cancer is caused by an abnormal form of mildew is the claim set up in a paper written by Prof. P. Tisot, of the Paris Natural History Museum, and read before the Academy of Science last night by Prof. J. A. D'Arsonval.

Mildew, Dr. Tisot declares, is the original cell from which all life on earth developed, and all animal and vegetable organisms are nothing but highly developed organized mildew.

Dr. Tisot says he succeeded in taking healthy human tissue, changing its form and transforming it so that cultures developed cancerous elements and these elements could be reproduced as easily as cultures of microbes. The cultures so obtained also contained bacterial elements, which, together with the other elements, form what Dr. Tisot describes as the "cancer virus" and as akin to the virus of tuberculosis.

This led him to study numerous diseases, the cause of which is unknown to science and he claims that he has been able to ascertain the cause by isolation.

MEASLES AND LETTUCE

Thus, he found that the virus of measles is identical with the organic mildew of lettuce; that of exanthema and rubella with the mildew of the carrot; the virus of eruptive typhus with that of oats; the virus of vaccine and smallpox that of the potato; chickenpox, of the tomato; foot and mouth disease in cattle, also in the potato, like smallpox.

Pursuing his research into the virus of diseases incompletely or incorrectly known, Dr. Tisot claims to have discovered that syphilis is caused not by the spirochaeta, but by mildew and similarly that malaria is not due to the hematocoon but to mildew of rice and certain vegetable organisms.

SAYS T. B. SPONTANEOUS

Dr. Tisot claims to have transformed tuberculosis cultures into mildew which he found was identical with that of the human organism and this led him to what he considers the important conclusion that tuberculosis develops spontaneously in man, although it can, when once developed, be transmitted by contamination. Therefore, he argues, the proper way to prevent contagion is not to suppress the cause of contamination, but eradicate spontaneous development of disease.

He reaches the conclusion that the original sources of most diseases exist in man's daily food, but that contamination by foodstuffs is very rare. Food is only dangerous when mildewed or rotten.

Dr. Tisot does not put forth the claim that he has found a remedy for these diseases, but maintains that in the light of his experiments certain epidemics might be forestalled, such as cholera, by destroying poisonous mushrooms in the woods and diphtheria by suppressing barley from children's diet and avoiding the use of barley straw in cow stables.

Aid Is Preparing For "Flower Day"

Preparation of Dainty Little Nosegays Now Occupying Attention of Members

Women's Hospital Aid members have a novel and very fascinating occupation at the present time when they are assisting in the preparation of the dainty little nosegays which are to be used for "Flower Day" on May 9.

The "Flower Day" is a substitute for "tag day" and it is confidently believed that the little nosegays will prove a more tempting badge for the contributor than the familiar bit of pasteboard which has been used on recent tag days.

Deaths

Miss Caroline Holly

After an illness of seven weeks, Miss A. Caroline Holly passed away last evening at 9 o'clock at the General Public Hospital.

Miss Holly was 22 years of age and a graduate nurse of the hospital which, as the place of her three years of training, had been a very happy home to her. She was of a very sweet disposition and as a nurse she was devoted to her work and endeared herself to her patients. It was fitting that she herself should have the loving care of two of her classmates and devoted friends throughout her long illness.

Miss Holly was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray McLellan Holly, who resided in Saint John up to about one year ago when they moved to Gaspe, where Mr. Holly is with the Shepard and Morse Lumber Company. Miss Caroline Holly was one of those in the fatal automobile accident on the Gaspe coast several months ago when Mr. H. A. Mene's car plunged over a precipitous cliff.

Although painfully injured herself in that tragic accident, Miss Holly gave timely and skilled assistance in caring for the other members of the party and gave no heed to her own suffering.

Mrs. Holly was called to the city by her daughter's illness and has been staying with a cousin, Mrs. Pearl Jor-

TWO ALBERTA MEN BELIEVED DROWNED

Herbert Harriman and Frank Walker Missing Since Sunday Afternoon

Canadian Press

EDMONTON, April 27.—There is considerable anxiety in the Tofteld district as a result of the disappearance on Sunday afternoon, of two well known residents of the district, Herbert Harriman and Frank Walker. They are believed to have been drowned in Beaver Lake, which lies just northeast of the town.

According to reports reaching the city, the two men had gone out on the lake in the afternoon in a rowboat with one oar.

During the afternoon a heavy wind sprang up and when search was made following the prolonged absence, no trace could be found of the missing men or the boat.

Look for 5 POINTS when selecting Fine Hosiery

Holeproof offers you 27 Paris colors

THE most careful inspection often fails to reveal 5 common flaws that destroy smartness the moment you put hosiery on.

Now Holeproof safeguards you against these common imperfections. Longer wear results. And smartness is attained to such degree that fashion rates Holeproof styles authoritative.

Note below the tests of style correctness. See how Holeproof answers them.

[1] No imperfections. Style vanishes with imperfections. And here Holeproof safeguards you by nine separate inspections. It is a fact that few other fine hose are so uniformly perfect.

[2] Correct Paris shades. Paris authorities select the newest colors. Our scientific dyeing process keeps them clear and bright. Our anti-fade treatment protects from fading.

[3] Superlative transparency. Even in the heavier weights there is no cloudiness, no streaks. First, the silk is tested, then it undergoes the scientific Holeproof treatment.

[4] No loose ends. Loose threads mar appearance. So Holeproof carefully trims the inside of each stocking by hand.

[5] Exquisite clearness. In sheer chiffons, clearness comes only with the use of uniformly even thread. The lack of it in cheaper silk causes unsightly shadow rings. So, at greater cost, Holeproof selects in China the silk judged finest of all oriental grades.

Every Holeproof number has this five-fold fashion safety. Go to your nearest Holeproof shop today. Do not fail to see the special service weight values. The two styles below are typical.

"100% PURE" Paint Covers More Surface and Covers it Better

IN any painting job, the problem is to best cover the most surface for the money expended. A coat of protection will work wonders in beautifying the home, inside or out—both.

Because of its absolute guaranteed purity MARTIN-SENOUR "100% PURE" Paint is the most economical that can be obtained. It covers more surface and covers it better, because it is free from adulterations and substitutes.

Buying "cheap" paint is mistaken economy. You may save on the first coat of material but later you pay for this supposed saving. A gallon of "cheap" paint covers only about half as much surface as can be covered with a gallon of "100% PURE" Paint. Then again never forget that the labor cost for applying "cheap" paint is just as great as for applying "100% PURE" Paint while "100% PURE" Paint will look better and last years longer. Buying "cheap" paint, therefore, is in reality the greatest extravagance.

You need never seek further than a MARTIN-SENOUR dealer for the materials for any and every painting or varnishing job. There's a MARTIN-SENOUR product specially prepared for every surface and for every purpose—and the dealer is equipped to give you complete information, color cards and practical suggestions. Call on him for good service.

LONDON BUILDS HOMES TO HOUSE MANY THOUSANDS

Street After Street of New Villas in Metropolis Suburbs

EASTER HOLIDAY GREAT THIS YEAR

King To Sail Britannia This Summer in Yachting Season

Correspondence of The Times-Star

LONDON, April 26.—Motoring out of London one sees streets upon streets of brand new villas and cottages are springing up. These new homes for heroes are of all types and sizes except the big mansion. In the suburban area between the Crystal Palace and Shooter's Hill there will soon be house accommodation for another 140,000 people. Between the Crystal Palace and Richmond Park, again, there will be accommodation for 150,000 people. Out at Dr. Johnson's favorite suburb of Streatham southern building operations promise homes for another 24,000 people, and not far away from that locality the L. C. C. now owns 1,000 acres between Sutton and Mitcham, where 50,000 people will soon be housed. So in the matter of meeting the house famine London is really forging ahead.

ROMANCE OF THE WAR

If Prince Giovanna, third daughter of the King and Queen of Italy, is to be betrothed to a son of General Diaz, the young couple will have many well-wishers in this country. It was General Diaz who "took holes" when a British expeditionary force, along with a strong French contingent, was transferred to Italy after the Caporetto disaster. As generalissimo of the allied armies, with Field-Marshal Plumer in command of the British, he soon stiffened up an extraordinarily peaceful firing line on the Piave and elsewhere quite irrespective of some beautifully upholstered, text-book trenches behind. Diaz and Plumer were of one mind with Foch's "cut-throat" and the final clearing of the river barrier might have occurred a year before it did had not the volume of Prussia suddenly made it impossible for one of our infantry brigades to help the Third Italian Army to free Venice from threat of bombardment.

YEOMEN POLITICIANS

The old tradition of English yeomen politicians is not quite extinct. Stanley Baldwin's true metier is, of course, the City of Westminster, and his fortune is derived from modern industrialism, but he genuinely lives the country squire's life down in Worcestershire. With his old cherrywood pipe going, and a pair of farmer's leather leggings on, Mr. Baldwin not only looks, but is, an authority on crops and stock. In like manner Sir William Jeynson Hicks, that most up-to-date London solicitor, now ruling the Home Office, is a famous breeder of Suffolk shires on his own farm in Sussex. This farm and model dairy is on Sir William's newly acquired estate near Lewis, Newick Park, where the Home Secretary is going into occupation soon, and will be a not very distant neighbor of Winston Churchill, who has a country place at Chartwell.

A MILITARY UNIVERSITY

The proposal to establish a great central university for the training of all army and air force officers will provoke a great deal of controversy throughout the services. It is particularly repugnant to those who hesitate to change from the Woolwich and Sandhurst, with their great traditions, and the modern establishment to which the Royal Air Force cadets receive their initial training. There is much, however, to be urged on behalf of the proposal, especially when the tendency today is towards interchange of training among the several arms, as opposed to each being run on several segregated lines. Broadly speaking, the scheme aims at the same result, whereas the Royal Air Force cadets, the staff college, and the schools of instruction.

A VENERABLE PRIMATE

His birthday this week brings the Archbishop of Canterbury within two years of 80, and though he has been somewhat of an invalid for years, and forced to take daily rests on a couch, Dr. Davidson's approach to the 25th year of his primacy finds him still the same zealous worker and astute diplomatist as of yore. Though he has been an intimate pastor to four royal generations and all his early contemporaries are "lapped in lead," the archbishop's hour of resignation seems an affair of the Greek Kaienda. Lambeth Palace is, in fact, the central artery of his life.

An Edinburgh man by birth, he went to Harrow and Oxford, and started his curacy at Dartford. Later he married Archbishop Tait's daughter, became his father-in-law's biographer, and then court chaplain. His great ambition is pan-Anglicanism, but he is above all a statesman of sane vision, and no impetuous crusader. His impaired health is attributable to a gunshot wound, the result of an accident in early manhood.

EASTER HOLIDAY

By common acclamation of the "bus tops and the parks this has been London's record Easter Bank holiday. A small thunderstorm on Sunday night cleared the air delightfully, and on Easter Monday was sunshine and blue skies all the way. It was "it" in bank holidays. The result was that all London turned out of doors, from the oldest grandpapa to the youngest baby, and the rush for all fresco picnic spaces on all the available grass round the metropolis resembled a Klondyke gold dash. There was just room for each family or group and its paper baggage, but not an inch more. The oldesters feasted and basked, the youngsters strolled and rolled, and the adolescents yielded to the call of spring. "Linked and open skyline. The tragedy of it was that they could not get away from themselves. The overcrowding of the prison house pursued them even into the open.

NEW ROLE FOR ROBERT

The suggestion that policemen should turn schoolmasters and give lectures to elementary school children on traffic dangers and how to avoid them is not quite so comic as it may sound; not in London, at all events, where our streets casually roll now swell rapidly towards the 100,000 per annum. Policemen are experts on street traffic, and the metropolitan force numbers many constables admirably fitted to give short lectures to children or even to older audiences. Some authorities think that it would be better for the police to instruct teachers, and the latter to give the lectures, but would they possess quite the impressive effect? A policeman is an awe-inspiring person to most children, and the combination of the blue uniform and the schoolroom would produce an immense impression.

YACHTING SEASON

Major Philip Hunloke, who is the royal yacht master, tells me a rumor about not commissioning the Britannia this summer is not a bit true. Major Hunloke has recently been in town a good deal, and the King has discussed the season's yachting plans in detail with him. The Britannia will be launched about the middle of this month, with a new mast, and some new sails. She will at once undergo sailing trials to test the new topmasts, and Major Hunloke seems to hope that the old clipper will give an excellent account of herself in some close racing. In addition to Cowes' week as usual, she will keep sailing engagements on the Clyde and at Southend later in the yachting season, but the King will be aboard at Cowes only.

Why do motor cars cost more in Canada than in the United States? Here is one of the big reasons accounting for the difference: Last year manufacturers of motor vehicles and parts in Canada paid the Canadian Government--- In customs duties on parts and materials - - - $10,000,000 In sales, excise and stamp taxes - - - 7,400,000 Total - - - $17,400,000 Meanwhile, the number of motor vehicles they made and sold in Canada was - - - = 84,000 Dividing one into the other it is obvious that on each such car the Canadian Government collected in taxes - - - $207.14 Therefore, every person who buys a made-in-Canada motor car has to pay a price that includes an average of $207.14 which the manufacturer has had to collect for payment to the Canadian Government! So don't lay the blame for this on the Canadian manufacturer! Automotive Industries of Canada Representing 25,000 workers --- an annual production of $107,000,000 --- 100,000 dependents

Fine of $20 Struck In Foreclosing Case

John W. Vanwart, charged with foreclosing in the city market, was fined $20 in the police court yesterday afternoon. John Stephenson, clerk of the city market, brought the charge. It was alleged that the defendant had purchased a box of chickens before they had been exported for sale the necessary number of hours. Evidence was given by Samuel Wilbers, assistant clerk of the market, and William Wallace, a teamster in the employ of the defendant.
Mr. Vanwart intimated that the clerk was unfair and made exceptions and the magistrate said that if such were the case relief should be obtained from the commissioner of public safety. Mr. Vanwart paid the fine and said that the case would be appealed.

The accompanist of the evening was Mrs. A. C. Powers.

Weddings

A wedding of much interest was solemnized on Saturday afternoon, April 19 at four o'clock, in St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., when Marguerite Brough, younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Brough, became the bride of John W. Currie, son of Mrs. Agnes E. Currie, formerly of Saint John, now residing in New York, and the late John S. Currie. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert E. More. The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, Percival M. Brough, of Welsely Hills, Mass., looked very charming in a smart gown of blue de rose crepe romaine with picture hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Brough, as maid of honor, who wore a becoming gown of grey georgette crepe, with hat to match and carried a beautiful bouquet of sweet heart roses, and forget-me-nots. Little Miss Jean Brough, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl and the bride's young nephew, Duncan Brough, acted as ring bearer. St. J. Jackson was the groomsmen and the ushers were Norman Brough, brother of the bride, Paul B. Cross, of Saint John, brother-in-law of the groom, William Richardson and Leo P. Roy, formerly of Saint John. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the Buckingham Chateau, after which the happy couple left on an extended motor trip through the Southern States. On their return they will reside at 831 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Percival Brough and children, of Welsely Hills, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Cross, of Saint John, N. B.

If the policy is continued, the taxpayer must prepare for greater extravagance." The Daily Express says: "The bad budget is Churchill's, not the nation's." "A dull budget, brilliantly presented," comments the Daily News. "Viewing the budget broadly we see

Painting And Repairs Necessary To Keep Up Insurable Value

FEW appreciate to what extent depreciation on properties is taken into account by fire insurance companies. Depreciation takes place, of course, in direct proportion to the amount of paint, varnish and improvements which are applied to a building. The better condition the property is kept in, the less depreciation, and the more the property is neglected, the greater becomes the depreciation. A striking example of the amount of depreciation which takes place on unpainted buildings was emphasized by a branch manager of a large Canadian paint and varnish manufacturing concern who, in discussing this question, said in part:

"After our fire three years ago I learned a lot about fire insurance, which knowledge was gained through the adjusting of the loss. Since that time I have acted as adjuster for the assured in several fire losses, and I am still learning. Just a short time ago, I acted for the assured in a fire loss which destroyed completely the assured's dwelling, and in adjusting this particular loss, I learned some facts, which to my mind are of great importance.

"In the first place, practically all fire adjusters use a standard table, as to the depreciation that takes place on a building during its life time. The life of a frame building is set at forty years; this is a normal depreciation of 2 1/2 per cent. per annum.

"Here is how it works out. A man has a house worth $8,000, and he would probably have it insured for $5,000. We will suppose that the house has been built for twelve years. We will suppose again that this house burns down completely and the loss is total. The assured expects to collect $5,000 insurance. The insurance company takes the stand, that in order to keep a building at the normal depreciation, it must be kept well painted, both inside and outside. If it is not kept well painted all the time, then the depreciation instead of being normal, will run from three per cent. to six per cent. per annum, according to the condition the building was kept painted.

HERE ARE THE FACTS.

"Fire insurance companies figure that the normal depreciation on a frame house is 2 1/2 per cent. Supposing a $5,000 house were insured for $5,000. After being built twelve years the house burns down with a total loss. The insurance company takes the stand that in order to keep the building at the normal depreciation it must be kept well painted both inside and out. If this is not the case the depreciation instead of being the normal 2 1/2 per cent. is increased anywhere up to 6 per cent. In this instance if the assured had painted his house only twice during the twelve years the assured would probably set the decrease at 3 or 3 1/2 per cent. In this case the assured would be paid $8,200, at the 3 per cent. rate, instead of $5,000 as he expected. By painting his house twice more during the twelve years the assured would have saved $1,800."

KWITICH, Honan, China, March 13, 1926. We've been having such a time here at the hospital with crowds of wounded men pouring in. Our wards and all outbuildings are full, and we're a score over at the Boys' School. It has been a hideous experience—these poor shattered mutilated creatures—many of them will drag on for months with infected fractures of the leg. It's sickening to see so much suffering and such an unnecessary business. Oh, war! I've no words for my contempt and horror of it!

Sunday, the 14th, yesterday, wasn't springlike—'twas summer. In the night a fierce north wind sprang up and the mercury dropped to freezing. Today I almost froze going to the station, though I had two rugs and a woolly

TENDER FEET. Burning, swollen, shoe-chafed feet. The minute you put your feet into a "Tiz" bath you feel pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. "Tiz" draws out the poisons and acids that cause foot misery. It is almost magical. "Tiz" takes all the soreness out of corns and callouses. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store. End foot torture forever—wear "Tiz" shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet, comfortable. Bathe Them in "TIZ"

Don't Poison Baby Through Your Constipation. Nursing mothers must avoid constipation. Slow bowel movements allow poisons to form and be absorbed by the blood. This means tainted milk for baby. Mothers are the best friends of Nujol. When precious new lives are at stake they use and give their babies Nujol—the remedy prescribed by authorities because it is so safe, so gentle, and so natural in its action. Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without gripping. Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time. Ask your druggist for Nujol.

Nujol FOR CONSTIPATION. THE REAL THING FOR A BAD BREATH! Mouth washes are fine things—but afford only temporary relief. Get at the cause—and you've solved the problem. It is 20 drops of Seigel's Nujol taken in a glass of water, removes the cause. Try it and you'll sweat it.

It took more than the ordinary amount of courage for Miss Anna Brown, Ada (Oka.) school teacher, to bob her hair. Her brown locks reached clear to the floor—but she finally had 'em cut short. Inset shows how she looked after it was all over.

PLANTING MANY TREES. We are trying in the intervals of dressings and operations to get some tree planting done. I'm wild to get some locust saplings, to fill in between some taller ones I set out last year to make a sort of screen between our home and the highway to the east. Also I want to root out some "Pride of India" saplings, unsightly things, and move some Acacia trees (my favorite tree out here) to suitable spots. We're going to get two good ones to place beside the front entrance to north and south. Also some peach and apricot trees for our place, more for the hospital and the fruit—the Chinese will appropriate most of that by night, probably.

NURSING WAR CASUALTIES. I hardly know how we have survived the experiences of the last two weeks—it's been perfectly horrible. I went out to the station, driving the car, and taking Dr. Chang and four nurses—that was one night at 11 o'clock, two weeks or more ago. We went around to several places crowded with hideous SICK ABED EIGHT MONTHS. After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Could Do All Her Work and Gained in Weight. Melfort, Saskatchewan.—"I had inward troubles, headaches and severe pains in my back and sides. I was so sick generally that I could not sit up and I was in bed most of the time for eight months. An aunt came to visit and help me as I was unable to attend to my baby and could not do my work. She told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles I could get up and dress myself. I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. When I first took the medicine I only weighed seventy-eight pounds. Now I weigh twice as much. If I get out of sorts or weary and can't sleep I always take another bottle of the Vegetable Compound. I find it wonderfully good for female troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. I will be only too glad to answer any letters I receive asking about it." Mrs. WILLIAM RITCHIE, Box 486, Melfort, Saskatchewan.

WAS GRIPPED WITH ECZEMA. Mrs. Job Sims, of Crediton, Ont., is rejoicing in the fact that she can appear before her friends and acquaintances with shoes on both feet, something she was unable to do for a long time, owing to severe eczema which caused her no end of suffering. Mrs. Sims is one of over 35,000 former sufferers from eczema, itch, leather, salt rheum and similar skin troubles who declare they have entirely recovered through the use of Ovelmo treatment, a combination of scientific internal and external medicines which druggists are now offering with a guarantee of prompt results or money back. Regarding her case, Mrs. Sims says: "I tried nearly everything but got no better. I could not wear a shoe but after several treatments of Ovelmo the eczema left me. I feel I am perfectly relieved at this time." This clean, odorless, stainless and pleasant treatment stops itching and burning at once, soothes the inflamed surface and causes eruptions to quickly heal, fade and disappear, leaving the skin beautifully soft, white and healthy. It also improves digestion and purifies the blood. Try it. Tell some suffering friend about it. Remember it must do the work or costs nothing.

FORD SALES RISE, PROFITS DECREASE

Report For Last Five Months Shows Earnings Totalling $794,316

Canadian Press. WINDSOR, Ont., April 27.—Although the output of the Ford Motor Company of Canada shows a decided increase during the last five months, the profits are not as large as for the same period last year, it was disclosed in a report to the shareholders. The directors reported no mention of a dividend declaration. The reason for the five months' report is embodied in the fact that at the last annual meeting it was decided that the fiscal year should close on December 31, and not July 31. The total sales and income for the five months period, amounted to $16,191,441.96. This is an increase of $5,138,660.97 over the corresponding five months period of the previous year. This shows a profit of $974,316.85.

Mrs. Wm. Hughes, Appleton, Ont. writes: "I have suffered from piles for many years. I used many remedies but they all failed. I began to prepare for one when I remembered reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment. I resolved to try it and after using two boxes I had no trace of the piles. It was the greatest relief I ever had. I only hope other sufferers who read this letter will lose no time in purchasing a box and see for themselves the miracles it works. It will be the best investment they ever put their money into."

WHITES FIRE CHURCH ASSAULT NEGROES

Race Riots Threatened at Carter, N. J., Following Fatal Stabbing

Canadian Press. CARTERET, N. J., April 27.—The church of the First Baptist negro congregation from which negroes were driven by a white mob, was burned to the ground yesterday. Race riots were threatened when Robert Ducet, a negro was arrested Sunday and charged with the fatal stabbing of John Carroll, a white boxer. Shortly after Rev. George H. Reed, pastor, began the usual Sunday evening services in the negro church, bricks and stones were hurled through the window. When the worshippers fled from the building, several were struck by stones thrown by the pursuing whites. Yesterday the church was destroyed by fire. Firemen from several towns joined in attempting to save it, but were hampered by lack of water.

Backward Season Hold Up Athletics

FREDRICKTON, April 17.—The late spring and the cold weather has put a quietus on spring sports among the Maritime colleges. Mount Allison was to have called the intercollegiate track meet, but the University of New Brunswick has heard nothing, and no meet is expected, as weather conditions off the ground, and the soil has not been uniformly unfavorable over the three provinces. The university track and field meet of U. N. B. also may be cancelled this season. Up to date there has been no opportunity for training, and the university closes for the year a fortnight from Thursday. The snow is barely dried out at all. Japan produced 85,000,000 pounds of cotton yarn in a recent month.

Lovely RUGS are No Longer Luxuries

IN days of old, woven rugs were as precious as the rarest gems, very often indeed the cherished prizes of foreign kings. They were laid before the thrones of conquests and princes, at the feet of images, and held as canopies for great dignitaries of the church. Nowadays you can choose from the wide range of luxurious BARRYMORE Guaranteed RUGS, many selling at prices well within the means of every income. Special to The Times-Star MONCTON, April 27.—A rousing welcome greeted John C. Miles, 20-year-old Sydney, N.S., youth, who won the marathon championship race in Boston last week, when he stepped off the Boston pullman on the east-bound afternoon express here yesterday.

As he alighted from the car with his father and mother, A. T. Weldon, who returned home from Boston on the same train introduced the three to the assembled crowd. Each were then accorded three ringing cheers following which Mayor Wheeler, W. U. Appleton, ex-Ald. H. H. Warman and others congratulated the youthful runner on his wonderful accomplishment.

To Mrs. Miles, Mr. Appleton presented a large bouquet of roses.

TELLS OF PLANS Young Miles talked freely about the great race with everybody who spoke to him, and also of the great reception tendered him in Boston, saying that the Royal family could have received no more regal welcome than was accorded to himself and his parents.

The proud father showed the crowd the medal won by his son. It was the massive gold emblem in the centre of which was the crest of the Boston A. A. and above a large diamond was set in the gold.

As to his participating in the races at Baltimore on May 17, young Miles said he was uncertain as yet, although he had three offers in Boston to go there he is, however, determined to run in Sydney on May 24, in the three-mile event which he won last year.

GOOD PROSPECT FOR IMMIGRANTS IN MARITIMES

Opinion Is Expressed by Colonization Superintendent of C. N. Railways

QUEBEC, Que., April 26.—"Prospects for British settlers making their new homes in the Maritime Provinces are indeed favorable," said F. C. Biette, Eastern Colonization Superintendent of the Canadian National Railways, who crossed by the Anoula, of the Conard Line, arriving here with the rush of newcomers which signalled the opening of the St. Lawrence season. Mr. Biette, whose headquarters are at Moncton, went to England for the purpose of visiting various centres and making a survey of conditions with particular relation to the Maritimes.

"It will be understood," said Mr. Biette, "that it is not possible to immediately direct any large numbers of settlers toward the Maritime Provinces during this season. Some will come, however. It takes some time to make complete arrangements for the movement of even a single individual as any one who contemplates pulling up stakes in the Old Land and crossing to Canada to make a new home will have to give serious consideration to his plans."

CONSIDERATION TO MARITIMES The agencies in England are very sympathetic towards all efforts to place families and individuals on the land in Canada and I was given assurance that full consideration will be given to the merits of the Maritime Provinces when inquiries are made regarding the opportunities in the Dominion.

Mr. Biette said that a very fine class of people crossed by the Anoula. "The British families and individuals on board were all splendid," said he, "indeed they formed an excellent class of settlers as it has been my good fortune to come in contact with for some time."

Bookings for some weeks to come are quite extensive, reported Mr. Biette, and considerable numbers will go to communities situated along the lines of the Canadian National Railways.

Moore, in the heart of the village, came near destruction from flames, that in some unaccountable way started in the upper part of the building. The volunteer fire fighters found it necessary to chop through the roof and after a hard fight got the flames under control. The occupants, expecting the house would be destroyed, had all the furniture moved out for safety. There was considerable excitement for a time, as the residence is situated in close proximity to the United church, the new parsonage and some of the best residences and stores in the village. The house was badly damaged.

According to reports, a convention date for this riding already has been struck, and the only question remaining to be solved is that of the personnel of the "heavy artillery" who will endeavor by weight of oratory to convert the former Progressive constituency into a Liberal conquest.

New Combination of Yeast With Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

Thin, run-down and underweight men, women and children can now improve their health, increase their energy and regain normal weight in a surprisingly short time. For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight. Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast. Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back. Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package. Harold Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

BRIGHT SPEECHES MARK CLOSING SESSION OF FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

A PROGRAMME of witty addresses was much enjoyed at the 27th annual dinner of the Fortnightly Club, held last evening in one of the private salons of the Admiral Beatty Hotel, with 19 of the 24 members present. W. F. Burditt, president, was chairman. After a toast to the King had been honored, members of the club were called upon to deliver addresses on themes that had been set forth by the program committee, consisting of Magistrate George A. Henderson, William Brodie and W. R. Pearce.

Mr. Burditt, who had a quotation from Virgil for his theme, discussed the wonders of memory and gave interesting reminiscences of his early years in England and Wales.

A. F. Blake, required to speak on a certain quotation from Pope, discussed nature's methods of reproduction in the plant world showing that although to appearances everything was left to chance, in reality nature had made ample provision for her purposes.

Rev. H. A. Cady was required to discuss the following passage from "But words are things and a small drop of ink, falling like dew upon a thought, produces that which makes thousands, perhaps millions think."

Rev. Mr. Cady, in an able speech, spoke on the undying words of the great writers.

ON IDLING

F. A. Dykeman admirably developed his theme which was found in the words of Jerome, "It is impossible to enjoy idling thoroughly unless one has plenty of work to do."

D. King Hazen was required to speak on Bryant's statement: "Go forth under the open sky and list to nature's teaching; speak on the pleasures of the out-of-doors."

Dr. H. L. Spangler, was given for his subject, Dr. Johnson's saying: "Much may be made of a Scotchman if he be caught young" and he dealt with it in witty fashion.

Dr. J. C. Weyman had to speak on the saying of Murphy: "The people of England are never so happy as when you tell them they are ruined."

He spoke of the Englishman as fighting back when he had his back to the wall.

MEN'S FASHIONS.

D. Gordon Willet, the last speaker with a set theme was asked to discuss the following quotation from Burns:

"The wisest man the war'er saw He dearly lo'd the lassies, O"

Mr. Willet considered Solomon had been the wisest man, but he spoke of Solomon's raiment rather than his wisdom. Mr. Willet expressed the opinion that the club might take action with regard to the introduction of proper raiment for men and suggested appropriate bright hues for the members present. He had noticed that at the present time there were far more young men displaying spring styles in head-gear than there were women wearing spring millinery creations.

COMMITTEE CALLED ON.

After the conclusion of the assigned program Mr. Hazen said that the members of the program committee had been so extremely modest that they had not assigned addresses to themselves and he proposed three quotations on which the members of the committee were required to address the gathering.

Mr. Brodie was asked to speak regarding a commodity of every day use.

Y. M. C. A. was given a theological paper which was said to be from the Chinese, and Police Magistrate Henderson was required to speak on one of

Brokers Opinions

NEW YORK, April 27.—Stock construction is a rising market. Constructive forces are in the ascendancy again. Money is plentiful and good stocks are going into strong hands. There is a large short interest and that some of the bears feel confident.

Household—We anticipate the oil and rail will be depended upon to furnish the basis for the continuation of the upward trend. The expectation that the oil companies will show better results in the next quarter than in the first quarter is a positive market factor. We do not believe that short covering has ended in allied them and we look for greater activity and higher prices for mining properties.

Pinchon—The advance has been a little too rapid. The short interests have been greatly reduced and stocks bought during the recent decline are apt to be stuck back in the market on any further advance.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard was first to find the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonard tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Wassons Two Stores today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.

Well, sir, I never got red of a cold as quick in my life, no, sir. All you got to do round here is to do somethin' you orn't to do an' you'll soon find out you can't git away with it. Why, one of them three nurses'll give you a pill an' thank you fer takin' it—like you was doin' 'em a great favor. They're goin' to try somethin' noo on my chest tomorr—'but I ain't sayin' 'it how thankful I'll be, I haint never took my clothes off an' put 'em on agin as many times in the course of a day since us boys went in swimmin' five or six times a day more'n fifty year ago.
