VETERANS OBJECT TO RED CROSS PROGRAMME

Enough Field for Relief at Home Without Going to Balkans, is Contention.

South Vancouver, Nov. 26.—The local branch of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association went on record at a meeting held in the club rooms at a meeting against the action of the Red Cross Society in disbursing money for relief among Austrians and to similar work being carried on in China by church organizations. The veterans hold that there are many cases where relief is necessary within the municipality and that the spending of money in foreign fields should be undertaken by wealthy natives of those countries.

The meeting was one of the largest the association has ever held. It was decided to co-operate with the Widows, Wives and Mothers of the War Veterans' Association in providing Christmas cheer for widows and orphans.

It was decided to hold a series of weekly lectures in the club rooms on Sunday afternoons.

TWO SHOT IN FIGHT WITH SILK THIEVES

Railroad Police Set Trap and Catch Seven Men—One on Each Side Wounded.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 26.—Seven men are under arrest here, charged with robbing a Pennsylvania freight train, following a pistol fight on the tracks of the main line, near Metuchen, in which five railroad detectives of the Pennsylvania system got the better of the robbers. One of the detectives, Patrick Dalloran, of Jersey City, is in Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, with a bullet wound in his abdomen, and one of the robbers, Conrad Albert, also of Jersey City, is in the county jail here, with a severe leg wound.

Frequent robberies of freight trains caused the railroad police to set a trap near Metuchen. The detectives, in hiding, saw a freight slow up and stop near an automobile truck, running along with the train, stopped at the crossing and two men jumped out and started toward the train at the point where one of the freight cars slid open and several men began to throw out bales of silk.

The railroad detectives opened fire on the robbers, who returned the shots. After a momentary stand the robbers fled, with the detectives in pursuit. Albert, whose leg wound prevented his escape, and Ramon Rindal were overtaken and arrested. Five men were arrested in Jersey City—William McQuillen, Martin Cavanaugh, Martin McMahon, William Alton and P. H. Kegan—and brought here to face the charge of train robbery.

It is believed that the robbers about the freight jumped on after the train had left the Jersey City yards. Signals were set against the train at the point where the silk was thrown out, but whether that was done by the robbers has not been learned. The silk thrown out was valued at $150,000 and the entire lot in the car at $8,000.

The police believe the men under arrest are ring leaders in a band that has been robbing trains of silk valued at $150,000 in the last few weeks.

BILL TO PROHIBIT SUNDAY MOVIES Measure to Be Put Before U. S. Legislatures Would Bar Sports.

New York, Nov. 26.—Strict Sunday laws prohibiting motion pictures, professional sports and business of any sort will be introduced in the U. S. House of Representatives this winter, the Lord's Day Alliance announced today.

The bills, according to Dr. Harry L. Bowley, secretary of the Alliance, based on patriotism as well as religion. The Alliance, through them, serves notice, he said, that no race or corporation can inflict a continental Sunday on America. The design is to preserve Sunday as the Lord's Day and at the same time support the Christian business man who closes his institution over Sunday.

The support of labor will be urged on the ground that if the bills are not adopted, Sunday business will expand and the Post Office Department will have Sunday operation and finally there will be no rest day.

"These are not blue laws," Bowley said. "Blue laws are a hangup. But if opponents insist on calling them blue laws we will fight along that line. Blue is the color of loyalty and of loyal Americans."

A bill already has been prepared for submission to Congress to enforce strict Sunday observance in the district of Columbia.

Dr. Bowley said there is no intention of suppressing necessary business. Sports, the automobile industry, candy and tobacco selling—anything tending to divert attention from the home or religion on Sunday would be on the taboo list.

"The moral tone of the nation is slipping backward steadily," Bowley said. "Something must be done to make people return to spiritual things."

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "I was glad to read what the New York folks said to the Canadian Club last night. You know, me an' Hanner has been way them Yankee has been actin' fer quite a spell. We knowed they was be with the old Mother Country an' Canada in that here League of Nations, workin' fer peace—an' we was gittin' afraid they was goin' to listen to the critters that's been callin' us names an' hollerin' about America."

Them critters is like some we got in this off-a-other people an' yell fer more pickin's. It's just gonto give the right sort o' people all they kin do to handle these critters an' lie k'ern into some kind o' shape. Unless they scatter 'em, an' make 'em learn English, an' send their kids to school to learn what the country stands fer, I wouldn't live in the same country with 'em—By Hen!

When the bishop returned from the funeral of Father Griffin he asserts he found at his home a letter addressed to himself and bearing a Galway postmark. The letter read: "If any members of His Majesty's forces are interfered with in Galway, you will meet Griffin's fate."

Bishop O'Dea adds that Father A. J. Considee, Father John W. O'Meehan and Father John W. Cunnane, priests in his diocese, have been threatened with death, and that Father Cunnane's house has already been fired upon. He says a stoned shrine was smashed and vessels used in the celebration of the mass were stolen.

A reception on their sixtieth wedding anniversary was given recently to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Carleton, 12 Alice street, Revere, Mass., at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Harry Smith, 32 Vera street, Revere. Mr. and Mrs. Carleton, though both more than eighty, take an active interest in the lives of their nine children, seventeen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton were married in Hampton, N. B., on Nov. 8, 1860. Mrs. Carleton has the distinction of being the first bride to ride on the famous Intercolonial railway.

For many years Mr. Carleton was well known as the captain of a trading schooner. He did not retire from his active career until he was more than sixty. Mr. and Mrs. Carleton moved to the United States soon after they were married and have been residents of Revere for a number of years. Most of their large family is also living in Massachusetts.

BISHOP SAYS HIS LIFE THREATENED

Several Priests Also, Writes Most Rev. T. O'Dea

Letter to Sir Hamar Greenwood Says Government Outrages in Ireland Greater Than Those of Other Side.

London, Nov. 26.—Denunciation of the "horrible government outrages to which the people of Ireland, are subjected" is voiced in a long letter written to Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, by the Most Rev. Thomas O'Dea, Bishop of the United Diocese of Galway and Kilmeadogue. The bishop warns Sir Hamar that his own life and those of other clergymen have been threatened and that the Irish executive is responsible for their safety.

"Government outrages," the bishop declares, "have been incomparably greater in volume than those on the other side. The murder of Father Griffin of Grammore was due to government forces, and marks a new departure in the campaign, which apparently indicates the beginning of an attack upon Catholics and religion."

When the bishop returned from the funeral of Father Griffin he asserts he found at his home a letter addressed to himself and bearing a Galway postmark. The letter read: "If any members of His Majesty's forces are interfered with in Galway, you will meet Griffin's fate."

Bishop O'Dea adds that Father A. J. Considee, Father John W. O'Meehan and Father John W. TAKEN UP IN ROME

Papal Secretary to Have Interview With British Minister on Irish Protest.

Rome, Nov. 26.—Pope Benedict has received a protest couched in strong terms, from the Irish episcopacy, and clergy, headed by Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, against the "ferocious, bloody attacks of British police and troops on defenceless citizens, which are making victims of many of the innocent."

The pontiff discussed the communication at length with Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, who is to have an interview on the subject with Count De Sails, British minister to the Vatican.

MORE CARE IN ISSUING OF LICENSE TO WED

Women's Courts, Women Magistrates and Police Women Also Advocated.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—The Toronto Liberal Women's Association, placed itself on record as emphatically yesterday in favor of more stringent regulations with regard to the issuing of marriage licenses, stipulating that a physician's certificate should be essential; also that evils resulting from the arrest of women by men and trial of women by men before men can be remedied only by the establishment of women's courts and the appointment of women magistrates and police women.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, told a delegation representing the Local Council of Women yesterday that he would support their plea for a woman magistrate for Toronto.

TRADE BIGGER BUT BALANCE UNFAVORABLE

Imports Into Canada From United States Show a Steady Increase.

(Canadian Press.) Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Canada's total trade for the twelve months ended October 31, 1920, was $2,093,429,987, as compared with $2,154,411,288 for the corresponding months of the previous year. Instead of a favorable trade balance of $349,692,520 in the 1919 returns, there just issued show an unfavorable balance of $75,854,921.

Imports from the United States show a steady increase in spite of the depreciation of Canadian funds in New York. In the last twelve months, Canada imported from the United States to the extent of $924,000,000 and exported to the United States to the extent of $830,000,000. A year ago imports from the United States were $718,000,000 and exports to the United States $489,000,000.

MONTREAL TALK OF FINANCING OF ATLANTIC

One Report is Issue of Short Term Securities Secured by Second Mortgage.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—There was considerable conjecture in brokerage houses circles here yesterday as to what form the new Atlantic sugar financing would take. It was said in one quarter that the securities to be issued would be short term ones—probably five years—and be made redeemable at 100 on maturity. According to this report the issue would bear six per cent interest and be secured by a second mortgage on the company's property.

It is unlikely that any announcement will be made until the shareholders meet on December 4.

CAMPAIGN FOR ORGANIZATION OF THE FARMERS

Maritime Province Union One of Aims

Moncton Would Probably be Headquarters—Chain of Stores—Social and Commercial Union as Well as Political.

Amherst, N. S., Nov. 26.—A "close union" campaign of the United Farmers of Nova Scotia, was commenced in Cumberland county last night in Tidnish, the opening meeting of a series of thirty in this county. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Charles D. Shipley, of Amherst, a local organizer for Cumberland. He advocated organization not only along political lines, but social, to make country life more congenial, and hold the young man on the farm; and commercial, to secure better buying and marketing conditions. He also discussed maritime union of the farmers' organizations, and affiliation with the dominion. The headquarters of the maritime union would probably be Moncton which would also be a purchasing agency for a chain of retail stores in various parts of the provinces. Joint labor and farmer meetings are to be held in Amherst and Springhill later.

In Ontario, Toronto, Nov. 26.—Secretary J. J. Morrison, of the United Farmers of Ontario, said yesterday that a report that the U. F. O. had drawn up a tentative political platform in preparation for the next federal elections was somewhat premature. In drawing up a platform he said the policy would be for every group in the organization to make suggestions. These would be carried to the agricultural council in Winnipeg and thence to the provincial level. All must agree before they had a dominion platform.

San Jose, Calif., Nov. 26.—Ty Cobb was boomed out of the ball park by indignant fans who came to see him here, when he quit the game yesterday at the end of the sixth inning after an argument over an empty ball. The umpire and the San Jose team refused to take the ball, to which he objected, out of the game. He declined to go to bat and left the park. Cobb's all stars were defeated 7 to 2.

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—Eddie O'Donnell, automobile racing driver, injured at the Los Angeles speedway yesterday, was still unconscious early today. O'Donnell's automobile crashed into the one driven by Gaston Chevrolet near the end of the race.

New York, Nov. 26.—(Canadian Press)—Arthur Spencer, Toronto professional, and holder of the United States bicycle championship, was in the lead at the end of the 10th hour of the six-day bicycle race now in progress at the 22nd Regiment Armory. With the exception of Pierce and Oster, who were still one lap behind at this stage, the teams had all covered 1083 miles, one lap. The record for 103 hours is held by Goulet and Grewia, who in 1914 had a score of 2,086 miles, nine laps.

MORE CURES IN CHURCH REPORTED

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Some remarkable cures last night in the church of St. Andrew by an Ontario missionary, Mrs. Alma Scoble McPherson, are reported. Among the outstanding cases was one of a young woman apparently far gone in consumption who was home into the church on a stretcher and who, after the cure, walked from the platform to the pews while her stretcher was carried away. Hip disease cases also were given relief.

WARNING ABOUT OUR FOREST RESOURCES

Conservation Official Says Fire and Insects Causing Great Ravages.

(Canadian Press.) Montreal, Nov. 26.—James White, secretary of the conservation department, warned his audience against orators who declare that the resources of Canadian forests are unlimited. He said a million out of 1,000,000 square miles of timber in Canada had been destroyed by fire alone. Insects did great damage. He warned, too, that fire had caused a terrific devastation in eastern Canada.

Heifer Breaks Record

SUBURBY WARNING TO UNEMPLOYED

Sudbury, Ont., Nov. 26.—There is no work in Sudbury district for other than experienced log and pulpwood cutters. Hundreds of men are idle and their numbers are being increased daily by the letting out of men from the nickel mines. All of them are reducing output. This alone is sufficient to supply what demand there is for men in other lines of work, and the inflow of men from the south, Windsor, Hamilton and Toronto, has created a serious unemployment situation.

IN MONTREAL LOOK FOR CHEAPER BREAD

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Reduction in the price of bread is expected by the Montreal bakers within a short time, possibly by the first of the month, said a representative of one of the large firms yesterday.

COMMENT ON STOCK OF DOMINION STEEL

Montreal, Nov. 26.—The Montreal Gazette says: "The impelling influence behind the declines in the price of Dominion Steel and other products is somewhat difficult to understand. The usual quarterly dividend of one-half per cent was announced today and, although labor troubles are impeding the operations of the company at its Sydney plant for several days past, 1920 earnings are said to be of a very satisfactory nature. The statement was made some time ago, in fact, that earnings for the first half of the company's year had been sufficiently good to provide for a full year's dividends on the junior securities of the enterprise."

A MOST INTERESTING CHRISTMAS CAMPAIGN WILL BE LAUNCHED ON SATURDAY

A Store Full of Gift Things Bought at the Great Advantage of Lowered Prices—Which Advantage is to be Passed on to the Public.

We are fortunate in not having contracted for our Christmas goods months ago, as is usual, for by holding off we have been able to secure great advantage from lowered prices within the last three weeks.

This advantage will now go to the Christmas shopping public and incidentally we believe will give us the biggest Christmas business we have had for years.

The task of a thirty-five per cent increase has been agreed upon for the different departments and from the variety of gift things at the moderate prices marked and the enthusiasm of our salespeople we believe the object will be accomplished. It is only a question of letting the people of St. John know about it and we would like you, as an individual, to join the hundreds and perhaps thousands of people who will visit our store tomorrow, Saturday, the first day of Christmas display. We recognize also that there are only twenty-seven days to Christmas Day and business will have to be interesting, quick and at lower prices than have been prevailing of late.

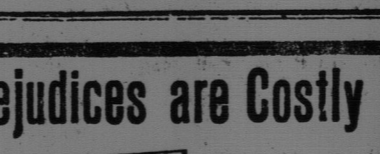

Visit this interesting Christmas store tomorrow and get the Christmas habit in this Christmas atmosphere. Yours truly, F. W. DANIEL & CO. London House.

Another event in the anniversary celebration at the Marsh Bridge Mission and a greatly enjoyed event, was an illustrated lecture on the West Indies, given last night by Rev. Ernest Styles of the Carmarthen Street Methodist church before a big crowd that almost filled the mission hall. William Baxter, superintendent of the school, was the chairman and among those present were William Shepherd, Mrs. James MacTavish and Mrs. Ada Snyder, who have been very active in the work of the mission since its inception. Before the pictures were shown Mrs. W. C. Good sang a pleasing solo. A silver collection was taken for the Sunday school fund. Mr. Shepherd and Mrs. McLaughlin spoke to the vote of thanks. In the ten years of its existence the mission has made a splendid record. From its members two have been ordained as ministers. Plans have been made for obtaining an Honor Roll and when this is done it will show what a large proportion of the members enlisted for overseas service in the great war. Several were killed in action and among them was George South, who was one of the first St. John men to make the supreme sacrifice.

Old Fashioned Prejudices are Costly

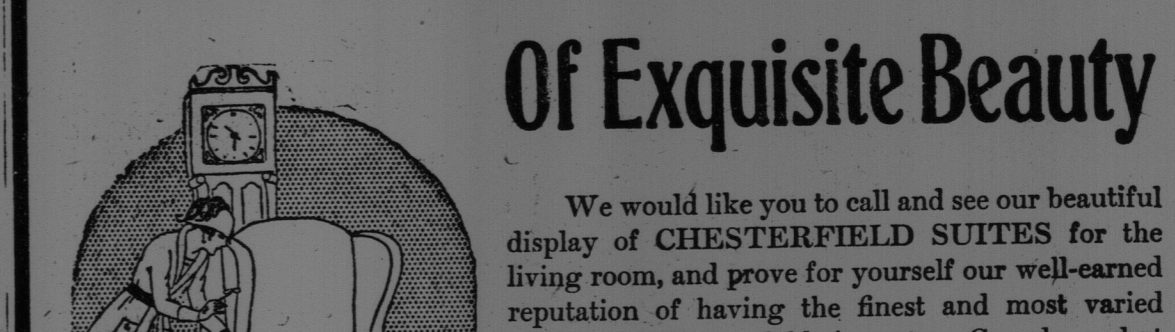

Thirty years ago housewives asked grocers whether the sugar was beet sugar or cane sugar and often insisted on the latter. Today everyone realizes that beet and cane sugar are equally good. In a few years nobody will trouble to ask if the SWEET NUT is made from cow's milk alone or cow's milk with cocoanut added. SWEET NUT is a delicious churning of the white inside of the cocoanut with pasteurized milk. It tastes just like  and only costs you about half as much. The law does not permit us to color it like  and it comes to you white, just like the cocoanut from which it is made, but a few drops of pure vegetable  color worked into it will give it the appearance of fresh June *****.

NOTE—An Order-in-council dated from Ottawa, Aug. 30, 1920, forbids us to use in any advertising of Sweet Nut the word represented by asterisks in the above. Your intelligence will, however, easily supply this missing word.

Music—The Great Home Entertainer

There is snow outside, and the wind is howling round the chimney. But inside all is bright and cheerful. The Pathephone is playing a rollicking melody just before the kiddies go to bed. Everybody enjoys it. There isn't a dull moment all evening. Father has laid aside the cares of business. Housekeeping problems are blotted out from mother's mind. The young folks sit dreaming of the future, and all because of the Pathephone's magic charm. The Pathephone plays all records. No needles to change. SOLD ON VERY EASY TERMS

A SIGNIFICANT DEFEAT.

Fuller information about the East Elgin by-election shows how severe a blow to the hopes of the farmer-candidate is the election of the Meighen government.

THE ENGLISH SPEAKING RACE

Mr. John A. Stewart of New York, who has been for years a very active advocate of the most friendly relations between his country and the British Empire.

Naturally the government hoped for another Conservative victory, but in order to be sure that no stone was left unturned Premier Meighen went twice into the constituency to speak and was followed by Sir George Foster, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Senator G. D. Robertson, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Dr. Edwards of Frontenac, R. C. Henders, M. P., John Best, M. P., Donald Sutherland, M. P., H. B. Morphy, M. P., Dr. Michael Strick M. P., and others.

The premier and his friends tried to make the electors believe that they were asked to choose between protection and free trade, but they declined to believe it. Neither farmers nor Liberals were campaigning for free trade.

What if it could not win East Elgin, in what part of rural Ontario can it hope for success? It may be replied that the result was equally discouraging to the Liberal party, but there is this difference—the Liberal policy was not repudiated.

A MUNICIPAL FOREST. The county of Simcoe, Ontario, has decided to make an experiment in reforestation. It has secured a block of 600 acres to be converted into a municipal forest.

ELIJAH ROSS. The passing of Elijah Ross recalls the days when St. John boasted two world champions. Mr. Ross was one of them. The fame of the Paris crew will not be forgotten so long as aquatic sport is honored in the world.

TO SAVE THE CHILDREN (New York Evening Post.) Three and a half million children abroad, says the American Relief Administration, are in pitiable need of our help.

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason. (Copyright by George Matthew Adams.)

AFTER THE FUSS. The welkin ceased to rattle, and calm is everywhere, and now the smoke of battle no more obscures the air; spellbinders have departed; the losers, heavy-hearted, now look for holes unchartered, where each may have his lair.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Domestic Happenings of Other Days

THE WAR FEAST.

Curious were the habits of the Indians of America when the first settlers came to the shores. Superstitious and warlike, their days were filled with many fears while every strange sight and sound filled them with alarm.

INTERIM. The sun goes down beyond the purple than upon the discordant notes that are struck by certain elements in his country's feelings and aspirations of the American people as a whole.

IN LIGHTER VEIN. had many quarrels. But a woman never is a fair antagonist, because she always weeps during every quarrel in order to win her point.

Just Like Their Parents. Student societies have been abolished in the schools of Port Huron because it is said, the students are paying more attention to social affairs and dancing than to their studies.

Uncle Was Candid. The two village trouble-makers had gotten into a row, and the matter was up in court. Uncle Wash, an old gentleman of color, was a witness.

You Know Smarts. Aunt Mary had been introduced to all the friends of the family while visiting her brother. Now she was trying to discover if her niece favored any young man in particular.

Sure Sign. Certain rumors caused Mrs. Freeman some anxiety and she decided to investigate. She found that a policeman was paying her cook a great deal of attention and, as she wished to make sure that it would not prove disastrous to domestic discipline, she questioned the cook.

A DOUBLE SURPRISE

Never before have the negroes of the South been so prosperous as during the last year and a half. Mandy and Sambo for instance, are a coal-black couple who live in a two-room cabin at the edge of a little town in South Carolina.

REASONS FOR COURAGE. In view of the close relationship between Canadian and United States finance, and the fact that anything like a depression across the border so frequently follows, it is not surprising that the present situation of Charles H. Sablin, President of the Guaranty Trust Company, New York, that the present situation has much to inspire confidence is worth quoting.

Y. W. C. A. RESIDENCE CLUB IN DEBATE

Relative Value of Services of Teachers and Nurses Subject of First of Series.

The residence club of the Y. W. C. A. held the first of its debating meetings in the recreational centre in King street east last night and put up a most spirited contest. The subject was "Resolved that a girl can give more service to the world as a nurse than as a teacher." The affirmative was upheld by Miss Bessie Connel, Miss Eudora Brown and Miss Muriel and the supporters of the negative were Miss Britton, Miss McMoran and Miss Stewart. The judges were Mrs. J. D. Hunter, formerly a nurse; Miss Julia Crawford, who is a teacher, and Mrs. T. H. Somerville, who has followed neither of the two professions. Representatives of both professions were among the debaters and deliberate and convincing arguments were used. The judges declared the affirmative victorious. While they were making their decision on the subject of the first debate, the club entertained with some delightful music. The debate was so greatly enjoyed that plans for the next one were begun almost as soon as the first debate had closed. The residence club is well started on a flourishing and successful career.

PREFERS WORK TO SPENDING MILLIONS

Charles Garland Turns Down Fortune to Labor on Farm.

Boston, Nov. 25.—Charles Garland, second son of the late James A. Garland, Boston multi-millionaire, has declined to accept $1,000,000, his share of his father's estate, because he prefers manual labor to a life of luxury. He is living with his wife and infant daughter at Bay End Farm. His mother's summer residence is at Buzzards Bay. His mother forfeited her claim to the Garland millions by marrying Francis Cushing Green in 1912. Since then the big estate has been held in trust for the three sons. His brother, James A. Garland, third son, now twenty-two years old, accepts his share of the estate. The third brother, a student at Harvard, is inclined to believe he will follow Charles' example. Charles is planning to become an auto-mechanic. Charles Garland became of age last June, and by the terms of the trust became eligible for his $1,000,000, but will have none of it. "I believe," he says, "that in refusing to take the money I am placing my life on a Christian basis. Private property is the main cause of our unrest and unhappiness. It saps all the meaning from life. Why should certain men have control of land and food any more than of the air they and their fellow-men breathe?"

GOOD RESPONSE TO RED CROSS APPEAL

Rotarians to the number of forty-two and a band of workers from the local Red Cross Society, some twenty-four in number, gave devoted service yesterday in the canvass in behalf of the fund for the 4,000,000 children facing starvation in Central Europe as the result of the war. The weather was against the completion of the canvass yesterday and some Rotarians were unable to cover the districts allotted to them in the time at their disposal. It was not possible last night to make any statement as to the probable returns from the appeal. The public seemed to be much in sympathy with the cause and the workers report some very generous givers having been met with.

A Most Interesting Christmas Campaign Will Be Launched on Saturday

A Store Full of Gift Things Bought at the Great Advantage of Lowered Prices—Which Advantage is to Be Passed On to the Public.

WE ARE FORTUNATE in not having contracted for our Christmas goods months ago as is usual, for by holding off we have been able to secure great advantage from lowered prices within the last three weeks.

This advantage will now go to the Christmas shopping public and incidentally we believe will give us the biggest Christmas business we have had for years.

The task of a thirty-five per cent increase over last year's business has been a greed upon for the different departments and from the variety of gift things at the moderate prices marked and the enthusiasm of our salespeople we believe the objective will be accomplished. It is only a question of letting the people of St. John know about it and we would like you, as an individual, to join the hundreds and perhaps thousands of people who will visit our store tomorrow, Saturday, the first day of Christmas display. We recognize also that there are only twenty-seven days to Christmas Day, and business will have to be interesting, quick and at lower prices than have been prevailing of late.

Need For Further Efforts on Behalf of Children of the City is Emphasized

AT ANNUAL MEETING OF CHILDREN'S AID

Although Facilities For Caring For Needy and Homeless Children Have Been Greatly Increased, Institutions are Not Able to Accommodate All Those Who Seek Shelter.

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society of the City and County of St. John was held last night in the Children's Home, 68 Garden street, with the president, A. M. Belding, in the chair.

During the meeting several honorary members were elected and the election of officers resulted as follows: A. M. Belding, president; Mrs. W. B. Tennant, first vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Doohey, second vice-president; Mrs. Colby H. Smith, third vice-president; Rev. George Scott, secretary; James Patterson, treasurer.

Possess Good Health By Looking After THE BOWELS

A free motion of the bowels, once or twice a day, should be the rule of every one, as half the ill of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition.

When the bowels are allowed to become constipated, the stomach gets out of order, and the liver does not do its work properly on account of holding back the bile so that it does not pass through the bowels, but is allowed to get into the blood, thus causing a poisoning of the whole system.

If you would escape constipation, flat and bilious headaches, heartburn, stoak and foul breath; the nasty irritating bleeds, itching and protruding piles you should keep your liver stirred up by the use of Milburn's Laxative Pills.

These pills, being purely vegetable, keep your liver working actively, helping it to resume its proper functions, and thereby removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the whole system.

Mrs. H. Barrows, Enfield, N. S., writes: "I was troubled with sick headaches and constipation. One day a friend told me of Milburn's Laxative Pills. I got two vials, and found they did me a world of good. I therefore have great faith in them."

Milburn's Laxative Pills are 25c a vial, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price to The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WOMAN SO COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J.—"For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache, was unable to walk, and in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often faint. I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would never get better."

I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—that is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommend it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish, for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ills.—Mrs. MARTHA STANISLAWSKI, 524 Penn St., Perth Amboy, N.J.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

NIGHT COUGH

You know it! It begins with a tickling, irritating sensation in your throat. You cough to clear the throat. In a moment—there it is again!

A minute's peace, then again you cough, and so on until you cough your throat sore as if you were trying to tear it out.

Pepp make this sort of thing quite unnecessary. Put a Pepp pastille on your tongue and allow it to slowly dissolve. Healing fumes are then liberated, which mingle with the breath and are carried to the remotest parts of the air passages and lungs, allaying the irritation and soothing the inflamed membranes, thus ending the cough and making sleep possible.

Pepp are also best for bronchitis, laryngitis, sore throat, and colds. Try Pepp at our expense. Send this advertisement, with a stamp (for return postage), to Pepp Co., Toronto, and receive your TRIAL Pepp at once. Dealers, 50c. box.

PEPP

If any words of mine could influence the thoughts and feelings of the people of this city, inducing them to look a very grave problem squarely in the face, with determination to have it solved, I would first desire to point out to them that in the matter of child welfare we are still, as someone has aptly phrased it, building hospitals at the foot of the cliff instead of a fence at the top.

The president's annual report was as follows:

provide an industrial farm for their special benefit.

But back of all these remedies lies the more effective one of community welfare work, properly organized in neighborhoods, unobtrusively and systematically carried on, not by groups, but participated in by all persons of good-will, obeying the law of service. Then there would be no home in any street whose inmates would feel themselves isolated from the common life of the community; the deserving would be encouraged, stimulated, helped in times of trouble; and to the undeserving would be given treatment designed to suppress that which is bad and bring out that which is good in their character, always with an eye single to the welfare of the children who are the community's most precious heritage.

Then the community centre would, to a large extent take the place of the charitable shelter, and the forces of heredity, environment and education would have a fairer field in which to operate for the regeneration of the society. These are the very things which the preventive and educative work systematically carried out by the churches, the health department, the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the medical inspector of the public school, the playgrounds association, the Kindergarten and other agencies which influence for good the life of the people in the more congested sections of the city. It is also a good omen that the Rotary Club, Commercial Club, Board of Trade, and municipal authorities are all showing a deeper interest than was manifest in former years in the social aspect of the city's life.

The members of the Board, especially those whose faithful and tireless work has been ill-recognized, are due almost daily in the summer. It is a pleasure as well as a privilege to work with those who are sincerely desirous to promote the welfare of the children committed to their care. I trust in the coming year there will be a larger part taken by our citizens who are ready to do their share towards the work that lies ready to our hands.

Agent's Report. In his annual report, the agent, Rev. George Scott, referred appreciatively to the unselfish services rendered to the inmates of the Children's Home during the past year by Dr. L. A. McAlpine and Dr. A. E. Logie. These two gentlemen had always been ready to respond to any call for their professional services, and it was largely because of their care that there had been no serious epidemic outbreak among the children of the Home during the year.

It was found that a great many inmates had stood by him so well during that part of the year which was directly interested in the Children's Aid Society of St. John. During the twelve months Chief Justice McKewen heard five cases in which the society was directly interested, one case came up before Magistrate Adams and the agent was several times present in the city police court in connection with cases involving children being charged with not filing statements to be continued next Tuesday.

Had Bad Cough For Three Years

The constant hacking, racking, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious becomes the danger to your health. There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't go—like Dr. Wood's Cough Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Minibus, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cough for three years. I tried several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me of Dr. Wood's Cough Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 30 years, and so great has been its success, that it is natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper 3 p.m. (3 p.m. a bottle) manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Give This to a Constipated Baby

Why Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is the Favorite Constipation Remedy with so Many Mothers

YOUNG Mothers in the midst of bringing up a family of small children should consider it a duty to investigate the action of the various remedies for constipation. This is the ailment most common among children, and it often leads to serious diseases. It is important for the mother to know the right remedy to give, for they differ widely in action.

Children do not take kindly to drastic drugs, salt waters, calomel, physics, castor oil, cathartics, mercurials and such things, and they find difficulty in swallowing these harsh medicines even when disguised in sugar-coated tablets or pills. It is not only that the child doesn't like the taste, but these drugs are so violent that they wrunch the little system. They should not be given to children.

Thousands of wise mothers, after having tried many things, give only a combination of simple herbs with pepsin, known to druggists as Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

The formula is on the package. It is a mild, gentle remedy, free from all narcotics, that relieves constipation and its symptoms, such as headache, biliousness, colds, fever, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, and it does it without griping or weakening. A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for sixty cents and is enough to last an average family many months.

Last year over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were sold in drug stores, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and as the preparation has been on the market over thirty years the second generation of mothers are now giving it to their babies. No careful, well-regulated home will be without a bottle for a mild, safe constipation remedy like this may be needed by someone in the family any minute. Every bottle is guaranteed to do exactly as claimed for the ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels or your money will be refunded.

There are heads of families who will want to prove to their own satisfaction that my Laxative Syrup Pepsin is as effective in constipation, as mild and gentle in action, as pleasant-tasting and safe, as I claim. Let such write me for a free sample. It will be sent postpaid. Simply say "Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 10 Front Street, Bridgeport, Ont. Canadian Press Despatch. Speedway, Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.—Gaston Chevrolet, famous racing driver and Lyall Jolls, mechanic for Eddie O'Donnell, were killed today when Chevrolet's and O'Donnell's machine crashed together on the Los Angeles speedway at the east end of the grandstand, near the close of the 250-mile race.

O'Donnell was so seriously injured that it was first reported he was killed. His skull was fractured and both arms broken and little hope was held that he could recover.

John Breshnan, Chevrolet's mechanic, was seriously injured. Roscoe E. Saries, driving the distance without a stop, won the 250-mile race. Eddie Miller finished second and Eddie Hearne third. FIVE PLEAD GUILTY IN INCOME TAX CASES

Proceedings Against Citizens Charged With Not Filing Statements to be Continued Next Tuesday.

The cases against several citizens charged with not filing an income tax return for the year 1918 were resumed in the police court yesterday afternoon. Dr. E. J. Broderick had not been keeping any books and did not think that he would have to pay a tax after the reductions allowed for his five children. He pleaded guilty, as did O. B. Akerly, Thomas J. Phillips and J. H. Pullen.

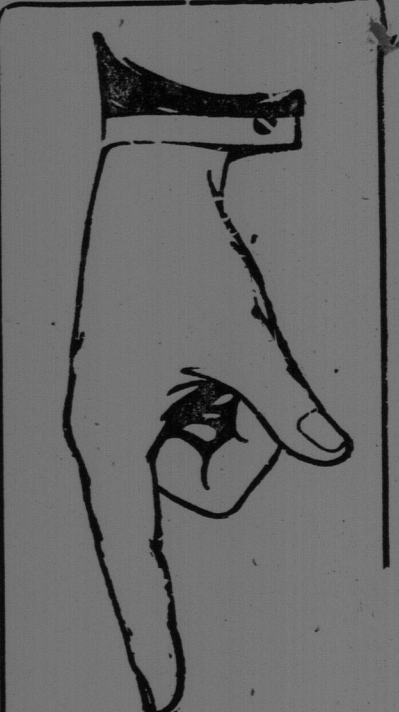

The only case in which evidence was taken was that of H. L. McGowan. Hedley C. Wilson, an accountant in the office of A. W. Sharpe, inspector of taxation, testified that the office had sent notices to Mr. McGowan that the statements for 1918 had not been received. Notices were sent on July 16, August 7 and October 10, 1919, but no replies had been received. No statement for that year had yet been filed so far as the witness knew. Mr. Sharpe also testified and corroborated the evidence of the previous witness. A card system had been installed in the office and there was small possibility of a statement being filed. Mr. McGowan then pleaded guilty. The cases were stood over until Thursday at 2 o'clock. I. P. D. Tilly conducted the prosecution.

social menace. The existing Federal and State laws for the restriction of the traffic in drugs, the commissioner says, were built upon a theory that in recent years has been proved false, and it is for this reason that legislation must be enacted before certain progress can be made against the traffic.

What has been done, Miss Mulhall says, to check the legitimate sale of drugs by urging doctors to lessen their prescriptions, but this is no more than to scratch the surface of the problem
because of the tremendous illegal traffic which is going on despite Federal and State laws.

There is nothing in human experience, she says, compelling as the desire for drugs is, that it is not a medical one at all.
It is a social one. It is a social one because it is a social one. It is a social one because it is a social one. It is a social one because it is a social one.

N. A. E. ARSENAULT WALKS IN MONTREAL

Majority of P. E. I. Fox Companies on Dividend Paying Basis.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Nov. 25.—Speaking at the annual luncheon here today, Hon. A.
Arsenault, former premier of Prince Edward Island, dealt with the history of the silver fox breeding industry and prospects for the future. In the past, live foxes were sold for $25,
a pair but in 1918 a pair was sold for $25,000. With the outbreak of war the bottom fell out of speculation and prices fell to $5,000 a pair and then to $1,000. The figures that could be realized by the majority of the companies are now dividend-paying basis and the speculative period had passed. The Industrial Mr. Arsenault concluded, was now permanent paying basis.

HOME RULE WINS

London, Nov. 25.—In the House of Commons today a motion, which provided for the Home Rule Bill, was defeated 177 to 91. This was taken as a defeat to show that the Irish Home Rule Bill will not be passed by the House of Commons. The motion for rejection of the bill was defeated 164 to 75, and the second reading.

SAVE PALESTINE AS JEWISH HOMELAND

Report by Jacob de Haas at Meeting of Zionist Organization of America.

Buffalo, Nov. 25.—Jacob de Haas, executive secretary of the Zionist Organization of America told the members of that organization in their convention here
today that President Wilson, the members of his cabinet and the U. S. government scolded every effort the Zionists made to save Palestine as a Jewish homeland.
When the San Remo Conference wrote the Balfour declaration into the Turkish Treaty
"black despair was turned into a new and never before experienced happiness," he declared, into that effort the Zionist Organization of America poured all its strength and "whenever the story of political development of the movement from 1914 to April 1920 shall be told, unstinted praise
will be given to President Woodrow Wilson."

"Touching on the present situation in Palestine, Mr. de Haas said:—"The appointment of Sir Herbert Samuel as high commissioner to Palestine was in the eyes of most, even more significant than the San Remo decision, and there is plenty of evidence that Sir Herbert has brought a new spirit into Palestine and has made a wholesome readjustment of forces. One great change has evidently come over Palestine, and that is that the Arab problem has dwindled to its natural proportions. But while the political problem has become simpler, the problem of the general development of Palestine still waits upon the settlement of the northern and eastern boundaries,
a problem that is being settled outside of Palestine and the methods to be pursued in the actual development of the homeland as a homeland, must, in considerable measure, await until the League of Nations has approved the terms of the mandate, which are still in the making."

According to Mr. de Haas' report, the American organization is paying from 70 to 80 per cent of the budgets of the various departments. From September 1919 to July 1920 the American organization paid out $75,000 a month to the international organization, including the cost of maintaining in Palestine the American Zionist Medical Unit in conjunction with the joint distribution committee. Since

July the commitments have been changed
so that the international organization receives $25,000 a month and the medical unit $35,000.

BRITISH LIQUOR BILL DEAD.
Canadian Press Despatch.
London, Nov. 25.—The liquor bill recently introduced to transfer control of the liquor traffic from the war board to the home secretary, will, it is stated, be abandoned. The government at this stage is not prepared to face the hostility which the proposal has unexpectedly aroused.

The civic employees held their monthly meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall last night. There was quite a large attendance.

CARGO PROSPECTS POOR BUT EXPECTS MANY PASSENGERS

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Sir Thomas Fisher,
in charge of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services activities in Great Britain, and who has arrived in Canada on his company's business said today that cargo traffic between Canada and Great Britain probably would be very poor both on account of the labor situation overseas and also the exchange, especially the latter, since with the possibility of a sharp rise or fall in exchange business was impossible. On the other hand, he said that C. P. O. S. prospects for passenger traffic were extremely good. He could not say whether passenger rates
would go up or come down, this depending largely on the cost of coal.
Sir Thomas said that next spring
would see a weekly service of first-class boats from Montreal to Liverpool and fortnightly service of the three class ships.

PLANTATION DAYS.

The Eclectic Club, at its meeting at the home of Mrs. James F. Robertson in Carlton street, last evening, enjoyed an entertaining and interesting programme arranged by Mrs. Robertson and having for its subject Plantation Days. Musical numbers were given alternately with the papers. Following Mrs. Robertson's inroduction, Mrs. George F. Matthew read a paper on the industrial life of the early days. When Miss Louise Knight had sung a plantation song, Mrs. G. A. Kul-ring read her paper. Miss Bustin's song preceded the paper read by Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, after which Miss Knight gave another song. Mrs. Robertson's inroduction, Mrs. Matthew read the story of the Rebel Pony and Leslie Be-wick sang the solo "Mother of Mine."
The next paper was given in character
by a "West Indian Man" who was more familiar to the members of the club under another name. With Miss Knight as soloist and a quartette chorus a very pleasing musical number was given and Mrs. Robertson, in telling of personal recollections of the south, brought the programme to a close. There was a large attendance of members and of visitors.

C. P. R. ENGINEERS HERE REGARDING FALLS BRIDGE

Acting upon the suggestion of Hon. Frank B. Carvell, chairman of the board of railway commissioners; J. M. R. Fairburn, chief engineer, and P. R. Motley, engineer of bridges, both of the C. P. R. staff, came to the city yesterday for information regarding the proposed raising of the new railway bridge at the falls. Yesterday afternoon accompanied by J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the New Brunswick district, they conferred with Mayor Schofield, the city commissioners and the city engineer.

Both the railway engineers said the plans for the new bridge had been approved by the railway commission and the dominion marine and fisheries and public works departments, and that the piers now in position and those being erected were designed for the present height. They thought the proposed raising of the bridge on pedestals would spoil the appearance of the bridge as well as detract from its strength. They estimated the change in height would cost about $20,000, which estimate the city engineer thought was rather high. Messrs. Fairburn and Motley left for Montreal last night.

WOMEN TAKING TO FINER HOSIERY

Shortened Skirts and Low Shoes Bring Stockings Into Greater Prominence.

(New York Times.)
When France decreed that all women should wear short skirts, it was with the idea that by cutting off a foot or so in the length there would be saved so much material, which was a matter of economy. But, in this, she was not working for the good of the American woman who found that short skirts made more of the stocking visible and made a tall for better hosiery.

Never have the women of this country spent so much money for hosiery as at the present time, and they are buying more and better stockings than ever before. It is said at one of the big New York hosiery shops. There is no complaint of poor business there. Last year, the stocking business beat all records and, with the present month only half gone, there is already a 25 per cent. increase over that of the same month in 1919.

One other reason for this is the economy of the shoemaker who ran down with his shoes as the French did with gowns, only he has cut off his material at the top to save the cost of the upper and is pushing low shoes to an unusual extent. Between the two, the American woman has to increase her investment in hosiery or look shabby.

Investment in hosiery means more today than it did a few years ago, for now every well-dressed woman must have wool as well as silk stockings. She wears her silk stockings in the city and has them to match every gown. Last year, she could not buy enough of the openwork, but this year she wears a straight weave, but as thin as she can get it, as near gauze as possible, and such stockings are expensive. With these she wears thick heavy wool stockings in the country, for golf, tramping and skating. How she changes from one to the other only the American woman, who is proof against any ill from scanty clothes, knows.

It is some seven or eight years since the woolen stocking was brought over here from England. English people always wear them more or less. There has always been a steady small sale of a certain standard make of plain black woolen hosiery in this country, for both men and women, of the quiet, old-fashioned type. It took some time to make the wool sport hose known, but it has been increasing in popularity until this year, when even the little stopping in the street has come to adopt wool hose, to the great benefit of her health. In the popular shops part-wool hosiery for women, which look like the genuine, sell for less than a dollar. Good all-wool and silk-and-wool stockings are never inexpensive. They range in price from $2.50 up to $5, $4 and $3. A fine cashmere that is softer than silk costs $6 a pair, and, in the same material, a thick ribbed stocking will cost $12.

Very smart stockings are made in the woven ribbed silk, and cost $15 a pair in a plain color, while a smart plaid will cost $25. Some cotton stockings have cost about $2.50, and a fine English hand-woven lace stocking will bring $6.50 a pair. These are the prices for the women's stockings which nowadays are more in evidence than those of the men. It is not many years ago since women were criticised for carelessness in both shoes and stockings, and the men, as a whole, made a better appearance. The American woman now outdo the women of the world in the daintiness of their shoes and hosiery and the care they give them. It has been a matter of education the stocking man says, and the women who buy the best class hosiery now would not look at that with which they were at first quite satisfied.

New York women are not the most extravagant in the prices they pay for individual pairs of stockings. It is the women in some of the smaller, more conservative cities who pay the highest individual prices. This year the highest price has been reached in a beautiful pair of stockings imported. There was only one pair brought in and its sale price was $300. It is of white silk with a lace front. The lace is exquisitely beautiful, in a lovely chaste design, made in a combination with many different stitches. If the woven silk of the stocking gives way, the lace is sufficiently beautiful to find a place in any other part of a woman's wardrobe. The foundation net is of exquisite fineness.

The next most elegant thing in hosiery is the black stocking with the black and white lace front which sells for $250, and there are women who have acquired the habit for this particular bit of daintiness.

With the new general use of woolen stockings, the stocking board, the same upon which the stocking is stretched in the factories, has become a useful adjunct. The stockings are pulled upon them to dry. The boards come in different sizes and retail at $1 for men and $1.50 for the longer one of the women.

Fate of St. George's Recalls the Immortal Mr. Bumble and Oliver Twist.

London, Nov. 25.—News of the closing of a workhouse is not likely to excite any other emotion than a mild satisfaction. But the razing and demolition of St. George's workhouse in The Mint marks a severance of particular poignant interest to the process of the past. In fact with a London older even than Dickens. Of course it is the workhouse sacred to the immortal memory of Mr. Bumble.

It was to St. George's workhouse that Oliver Twist, aged 9, returned from the baby farm to be educated and taught a trade. It was there that he was raised by rising at 6 in the morning to pick oakum. It was in St. George's workhouse that Oliver appealed the master and later the guardians and stipulated the guardians and made himself an everlasting name by asking for "more."

That is the title to recollection which St. George's can defend with most Americans. For the London antiquarian its interest is more ancient still. The Mint, a name still preserved in the label of the street in which the workhouse stands, was established by Henry VIII for the production of his coinage. Despite the deluge of this process the surrounding neighborhood arrogated to itself immunity from the ministry of bailiffs and tipstaves, and highwaymen made it their headquarters.

"Mat of the Mint" an Outcast.
Playgoers who have revelled in the antique delicacies and intricacies of "The Beggar's Opera" at the Hammer-smith Lyric in the last six months have as a rule misinterpreted the name of the heroic blackguard Captain MacBeath's swiftness friend, Mat of the Mint. He was not an operative within, but among the purlieu of that institution. He was a convivial spirit with Jack Sheppard and Jonathan Wild, and to the hungry poets of the school the "Beggar's Opera" immortalized of Nat Lee and Nahum Tate, who, with one Brady, wrote Tate and Brady's metrical psalms.

What the district was when Jack Sheppard rode out to stop a chaise it was in the early days of Dickens, "murderous, melancholy and miserable." Many of its courts stood just as they were when Puritan and cavalier turned searched them for traitors, with great, desolate houses broken and open, inhabited only on the lower floor, whence tottering staircases led crazily to ruinous rooms busy with the "shrieking and running of large, black-eyed rats." It is little wonder that when the cholera reached England in 1832 the first case was in "The Mint of the Borough."

Dickens learned the district sorrowfully and well. During the novelist's boyhood his father was imprisoned for debt in the Marshalsea prison near by. He has told of the "little low browned old shop" in which he bought bootlaces of a Saturday night and of the show wagons at the corners into which he plunged to see "the fat pig, the wild Indian and the little lady." He was living then in Lant street in the house to which he afterwards assigned Bob Sawyer. Many of his characters and scenes shiver of the old borough, but none more loudly through the ages, perhaps, than the unnamed workhouse of Oliver Twist, Mr. Bumble and the guardians.

Slow or Quick Starvation.
Guardian who, like these, sage, deep, philosophical men, established the rule that all poor might choose between gradual starvation in the home and quick starvation out of it, have happily ceased to figure in the eleemosynary schemes of today. They, down there in the Mint, "contracted with the water works to lay on an unlimited supply of water, and with a corn factory supply periodically small quantities of oatmeal, and issued three meals of this gruel a day, with an onion twice a week and half a roll on Sundays."

The first results, it will be remembered, were disappointing owing to the increase in the bill of the undertaker to whom Oliver was later apprenticed on account of his criminal appetite. But persistence revealed that "the number of workhouse inmates got thin, as well as the paupers, and the board were in ecstasies."

All of it is changed. The old workhouse system was dead long before the workhouses—in fact, discharged soldiers have now been happy to pay for lodgings in some of them for themselves and families on account of the housing shortage. That it did pass, with the Dotheboys School and the debtors' prison, may be inscribed upon the mighty sword of Dickens. But, though St. George's workhouse has gone, the Daily Telegraph comments, "Mr. Bumble we have always with us." There is still a faint of him in an occasional burlesque: "His spirit, like his portrait, is immortal."

CHURCH MORTGAGE PUBLICLY BURNED

Last evening was notable in the history of the St. Columba Presbyterian church in Fairville, Rev. William M. Townsend, pastor. The last of the mortgage indebtedness which has been on the church for many years was entirely cleared off. The mortgage was burned in the presence of a large congregation. More than $3,000 of the mortgage was paid off during the pastorate of the present clergyman. Now the total property, church and manse, is free of debt. Rev. Mr. Townsend, his church officers and congregation, deserve great credit for their work. Letters of congratulation were received from Hon. J. G. Forbes and from Rev. Dr. Stewart of Halifax, congratulating the church and minister on their success. Rev. Mr. Townsend read the history of the church during the last twenty-five years, having prepared it from the official books. Congratulatory messages were brought by the local clergy: Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison from the First Presbyterian church; Rev. W. P. Dunham from the Church of the Good Shepherd in Fairville; Rev. T. Marshall from the Fairville Methodist; Rev. F. S. Dowling from St. Andrew's church, who also intimated that Rev. J. A. MacKeigan of St. David's church,

EAST AFRICAN
BABIES ARE
DRUG VICTIMS

British Explorers Found a Great Many of Them Doc-

London, Nov. 26.—The Daily Mail publishes further details of the Rev. John Roscoe's expedition among East African tribes. Mr. Roscoe found that among the best tribes infant mortality was terrible, and that this was almost wholly due to the use of drugs. Out of sheer kindness babies were dosed with drug after drug, most of them prepared from crushed herbs given in water or milk. Although the people are for the most part monogamous, certain temporary exceptions are approved. A wife is separated from her husband before the birth of a child and for a period of three years thereafter, during which she is expected to nurse the child. During the period the husband shares his highlands near Albert Nyanza have habits of incredible degradation. For example, they flavor their bread by dipping it into living flesh. Laws of old standing and good sense and considerable complexity have been handed down, dealing with morality, with marriage regulations, with fines for adultery, with reasons for divorce and the methods of it, and with land tenure of many sorts. In all Mr. Roscoe made a complete survey of the customs of five tribes, and one, only less nearly complete, of two others.

other tribes, and what connection they have had has been to use their weaker and less civilized neighbors as slaves. Mr. Roscoe found prevailing among some of these tribes many customs that students of Egyptology write of as extinct thousands of years ago. Indeed, he saw and photographed some of the customs hitherto regarded as almost mythological. Many of the things which he saw and some of which he photographed cannot be described. The cannibal tribes on the highlands near Albert Nyanza have habits of incredible degradation. For example, they flavor their bread by dipping it into living flesh. Laws of old standing and good sense and considerable complexity have been handed down, dealing with morality, with marriage regulations, with fines for adultery, with reasons for divorce and the methods of it, and with land tenure of many sorts. OF SENNACHERIB

Egyptian Prism Brought from Buried City of Near East.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Dr. James H. Breasted has returned from the Holy Land with a rare collection of relics of 4000 years ago. He headed an expedition sent out by the University of Chicago to survey the most important buried cities of the Near East. The collection was packed in thirty-seven cases. One of the prizes is an Assyrian prism recording the defeat of Sennacherib's army before Jerusalem. It confirms the Biblical account of the battle. Of all the relics discovered, Dr. Breasted regards the one depicting the destruction of Sennacherib's army as the most valuable. "This is a six-sided prism, containing the royal annals of Sennacherib," said Dr. Breasted. "It relates the chief campaigns of his western wars and chronicles the defeat before Jerusalem. There is a similar prism in the British Museum, but ours is three years older, and is the first in the United States." A picture of early Egyptian home life is afforded by a group of twenty-five figures found in an Egyptian tomb. Servants making bread, washing and doing other familiar things about the house 4000 years ago, affords the most complete group of its kind, according to Dr. Breasted, that has ever been found in a tomb. Dr. Breasted is professor of Oriental history and Egyptology, and has been connected with the University of Chicago for a number of years.

To be sure of perfection in the interior construction as well as in the quality, look for the name Kum-a-part—it is stamped on the flange of every button for your protection.

Convenience Started
This Big Idea

THE original Kum-a-part Cuff Button was designed when soft cuffs became popular. The idea was simple—Why should one go on using the old-style shank or link button which was made for stiff cuffs? So the Kum-a-part was originated—to complete the comfort and convenience of the soft cuff. This new-idea cuff button is separable. To button the cuffs you snap the two halves together. To release you simply press down quickly with one finger. Perfection of design and unique mechanism makes Kum-a-parts absolutely dependable—they stay securely in the buttonholes, hold the cuff snugly and neatly about the wrist. Skilled craftsmen have wrought Kum-a-part convenience into buttons of many designs and qualities—solid gold, gold-filled, sterling silver and fine enamel. A cuff button for every man, for every occasion, for every shirt. Thousands of leading jewelers and haberdashers from coast to coast are showing a complete range from $1.00 to $30.00.

FORCE TO HEAL
FRETFUL SOUL

Address on Brotherhood by Former Pastor of St. John Church.

Brotherhood was the force that would heal the fretful soul of man, pacify his spirit and sweeten his existence, said I. W. Williamson, formerly of Victoria street Baptist church, St. John, who attended the World's Brotherhood Congress at Washington, D. C., and who addressed the Men's Brotherhood of Hamilton, Ont., the other night. Quoting Foss' beautiful lines: "Let me live in my house by the side of the road, and be a friend of man", Mr. Williamson said that the whole pith of the World's Brotherhood Movement was wrapped up in those words. They breathe the gospel of brotherhood; they challenge to men to lighten the load of those who bore heavy burdens. The essential quality in successful brotherhood work was the accessibility of friendship, the readiness to extend the helping hand in the moment when it was most sorely needed. Sympathy was also a strong factor. "Often we see men grovelling in the mire," continued Mr. Williamson, whom we think are quitters who we think are no good because they have lost their manhood. But we should realize the fights those men have waged with their souls. Perhaps for 99 times they have worsted that which has reared its head to destroy them. The fight has been so intense, the odds so unequal, that often the fight has enervated the man, and when the contest must be fought for the hundredth time, he has not the stamina to conquer. If one man loses out, a whole community suffers; if one man wins out a whole community profits. Men are hungering for our gospel of brotherhood. Let us go and seek them," he concluded. Mr. Williamson will organize a Hamilton Brotherhood in Wesley Methodist Church.

GEORGE GIDDENS,
ACTOR, DIES AT 75

The Noted English Character Comedian Last Appeared in
"Happy-Go-Lucky"—Sixty
Years on the Stage.

(N. Y. Times.) George Giddens, long well known as an actor both in this country and in England, died yesterday at the St. Paul Hotel, Columbus avenue and Sixty-first street. He was seventy-six years of age and had been on the stage for nearly sixty years. At the height of his career he was considered one of the foremost low comedians of the English-speaking stage, and in more recent years, although generally cast for lesser roles, he never failed to score a personal triumph in any play in which he appeared. The actor made his last stage appearance at the Booth Theatre recently in "Happy-Go-Lucky" but ill health prevented his going on tour with that play. He had been failing for many months, but his death yesterday followed a comparatively brief illness. Although he contributed scores of delightful characterizations to the many plays in which he appeared, George Giddens is perhaps best remembered for two roles—that of Toney Lumpkin in "She Stoops to Conquer," and as William, the waiter, in "You Never Can Tell." He played the former role here in 1906 and 1907 with William H. Crane and Ellis Jeffreys, and again with Annie Russell in 1912. He last acted in "You Never Can Tell" about six seasons ago at the Garrick Theatre with Arnold Daly. George Giddens was a store clerk in Middlesex, England, before he went on the stage. He chanced to be seen by Sir Charles Wyndham in an amateur production, and went to Sir Charles's company at the age of fifteen. He made his first journey to America with Sir Charles in 1871, appearing with him in a long list of plays. He remained here for several seasons, and then went to Australia, coming back here again in 1877 to appear at the Union Square Theatre in "Pink Dominoes." Returning to London, he then remained with Wyndham almost continuously until 1891, and during this time became one of the foremost favorites of the English stage. In 1888 he became joint lessee of the Novelty Theatre, and appeared there for a time under his own management. He paid another brief visit to America in 1898, and then did not come back here again until 1906. Since then, however, he has spent a majority of his time in this country. He played Sir Peter Trounbus in "Pomander Walk," (the role subsequently acted by Cyril Maude in London) at Wallack's Theatre in 1910, and continued in this part until 1912. In re-

U. S. MARINE IS HEIR TO HAREM

South Sea Sultan Bequeathes Island and 40 Wives to Sailor.

Franklin, Mass., Nov. 26.—Due to the fact that he is already supplied with one wife, who is quite satisfactory, Robert A. McLain, formerly of San Francisco, marine adventurer and soldier of fortune, will not be able to accept the forty dusky wives willed to him by the Sultan of Liang-Liang, who was the ruler of an empire located on an island in the south seas.

McLain once saved the life of the Sultan, and was formally adopted as a son by the ruler. Now the Sultan is dead, and he has left his empire, consisting of the island, valuable pearl fisheries, and fifteen subjects besides the forty wives, to McLain, who has been informally notified of the award.

The island is located at the extreme end of the Philippines. It was in 1908 that McLain, then a marine, was ordered to the island to quell an uprising, which he did, saving the life of the Sultan thereby. If the unofficial report that he has been made sole heir is borne out, he will disband the harem and turn the island over to the United States Government.

KIDNAPPED BOY FOUND IN WOODS

Mouth Remembers Being Captured, But Not How He Escaped.

Morrisville, N. Y., Nov. 26.—The authorities are investigating an attempt by unknown individuals to obtain money from Mrs. Lplant, of Hyde Park, by kidnapping her 17-year-old son, Grover. The youth was found, dazed and half frozen in a small building in a maple sugar orchard on Saturday night. On Saturday morning Mrs. Lplant found in a box nailed to a post near her home a letter demanding that she leave $500 in the box in payment for her son's return, and saying that otherwise "his body will be disposed of."

After being revived Grover Lplant said he had been in Richmond for a two weeks' visit and on his return last Friday he started to walk home from Hyde Park station. Near the fair grounds in Morrisville, he said, three men in a closed automobile made him get into the car. He asserted that they refused to let him out, and when he tried to shut off the power he was struck on the head. He could not remember what happened after that.

No trace has been found of the alleged kidnapers.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Two Toronto girls, with their locks closely shorn and garbed in men's attire, set out one day this week

The girls carried with them cooking utensils, but no food; they had brought a blanket roll, but in the mixed sleet and snow falling they had not found the woods of Peel county feathery places to sleep. The stuff that the movies showed about the great out of doors was all then their host of the night provided them with tickets back to Toronto and

TIME NOVELS FAIL TO INTEREST BOYS OF PRESENT TIMES

Lad in Summer Camp Canvasses Comrades to List Their Literary Favorites.

(Literary Digest.)
"Dick Turpin," "Claude Duval" and "Jack Harkaway" were the youthful heroes of our fathers, who now think they know better. Their periodicals were the Chimney-Corner, the Waverley Magazine, and the New York Ledger. These "perused" behind the barn or in secluded spots "if," says the Omaha Bee, "parents had no supervisors or their literature." When they had, youths were given "Uncle Tom's bin," "Sanford and Merton," Oliver Twist stories and the Youth's Companion.
When recalling these facts the Bee used a buzzing last summer by adding: "We wonder what the boys of 1920, between 10 and 16 years of age reading and how their natural sections would compare with those of the boy of fifty years ago?" Gas Logie (New York) has lighted a burned for the benefit of the Bee and prints a letter from a lad of 14 named "Hank" who went the summer in a camp with about 40 other youths, and was asked to take a canvass of his comrades.
Here is the answer: "To the Editor of Gas Logie: In your paper you asked me to tell you what books and papers boys read today. I have asked the fellows in our tent and many others and they all have their favorite authors. In father's day it was "Oliver Optic," but his books are not read very much by boys nowadays.

"Our counselor often reads to us evenings, and 'Sherlock Holmes' and stories about Robin Hood are the ones that the fellows like the most.
"The most popular magazines with the boys in camp are the Open Road, American Boy and Popular Mechanics.
"The books that are easy to read and exciting are 'Baseball Joe on the Big League,' and books like that. 'Tarzan' is the most popular book all around with boys and counselors alike. There are a bunch of them. There are some more books by the same author—'A Trip to Mars' and other books with names like that. There are others that were just as popular last winter, such as 'Jimmy Dale,' supposed to be a noted 'safe-cracker.'
O. Henry a Favorite.
"Then there are the stories for the fellows who are 'read up.' The favorites are Poe and O. Henry, all of Doyle's stories, and Scott. These are what I'm getting to like best.
I hope this will give you a better idea of what the boys of today like and read.
"The modern boy, according to Gas Logie, 'is not taken in by mystery and illusion as such. He has a broader outlook on life and a large vision. He finds reality far more enticing and startling than imagination.' Consequently the author who writes for the small boy has not "the simple task of spinning a thrilling narrative," for the modern boy "not only demands reality and accuracy of fact, but he is a relentless critic."

A TIME OF CAUTION.
(Journal of Commerce.)
The President of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Mr. Bogert, at the annual meeting last week, asked his brother bankers to be as considerate as possible of the position of their customers who obtain loans against commodities. The advice is good and it will probably be followed by the banks generally. These are anxious times for business men. The consuming public, who have complained long and loudly of the high cost of living, are halting with sat-

"DANDERINE"

Girls! Save Your Hair! Make It Abundant!

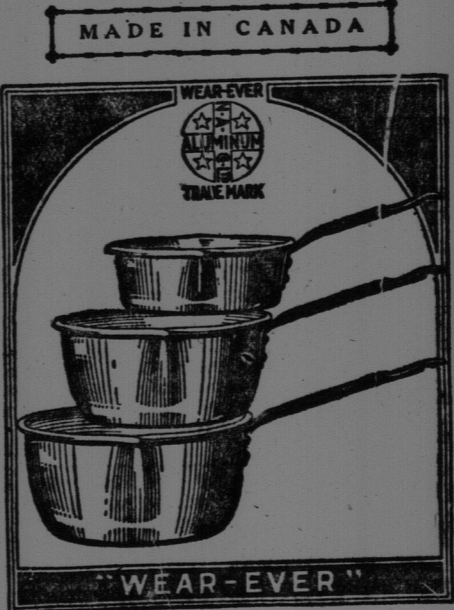

Immediately after a "Danderine" massage, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful because each hair seems to fluff and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong, beautiful hair.
A 35-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" freshens your scalp, checks dandruff and falling hair. This stimulating "beauty-tonic" gives to thin, dull, fading hair that youthful brightness and abundant thickness—All druggists!

THE FARMERS' STRIKE

(Canadian Finance.)
It is stated on good authority, and it is generally believed that the farmers of Western Canada are refusing to sell their wheat until a better price is obtained for it. At first glance it would seem as though this is a personal matter for the farmers to decide for themselves. Unfortunately many of these so-called personal matters have a very wide-spread effect, and really cease to be personal, as soon as they affect the welfare of the community at large. It is no exaggeration to say that this "wheat strike" is fast becoming a matter of serious importance to the general public.
The action of the farmers in holding their grain until a suitable time for selling arrives may be justified on many counts, the first and foremost being that every man is entitled to do as he pleases with his own property so long as he obeys the law of the land. But there are many farmers who cannot claim this justification. The man who owes money to a bank, a mortgage company, a retail storekeeper or any other class of creditors and deliberately refuses to pay that money when he has the means of realizing it from his grain is departing from strict business principles and is gambling—from a moral point of view—with that which does not belong to him if he holds his grain for a higher market. Such a policy can have but one end—it will act as a boomerang and react adversely upon the man hoping to profit by it.
Fortunes have been made and quite a number have been lost as a result of waiting for higher prices. We do not pretend to know what will happen to the price of wheat this winter, but there are a few factors in the general situation with which we are all more or less familiar. It is an open secret that financial conditions in Canada have been far from satisfactory during the past few months. We know that our financial men have thus far prevented anything in the nature of a panicky condition such as has been in evidence in the United States. Every effort has been made to reach bedrock by a gradual decline in prices, rather than by a precipitate drop which would have meant financial ruin to many Canadians.
Thus far the downward movement has been orderly. The process of deflation has been carefully handled and the morale of the people has been maintained. We are confident that the problems resulting from falling prices will be successfully overcome, but a continuation of the "wheat strike" will add to, and complicate these problems to a very pronounced extent.

Thomas Hardy, English novelist, has a habit of invariably wearing two waistcoats. Indeed, in a severe winter, he has been known to don as many as four, but even on the hottest summer day he sticks to his two, the outside one being generally of the old-fashioned knitted sort.

CALL FOR PLANS

For New Municipal Building

The quarterly meeting of the buildings committee of the municipal council was held yesterday afternoon with the chairman, John Thornton, in the chair and Warden Bullock and councillors Schofield, Jones, Frink, Golding, O'Brien and Donovan, present. Matters in connection with the ruins of the court house were discussed and a sketch plan of a proposed building to occupy the present site was presented by C. S. Archibald and submitted to the meeting. The proposed building called for the court house and city offices in the same building. The sum of $400 was ordered paid to Mr. Archibald for his work. Permission to erect a new building on the present site or on some site to be selected will be sought at the next sitting of the legislature and the sum of $5,000 will be offered for competitive plans, after the legal position of the municipality has been inquired into regarding the offer of such a large reward. The morgue building in Water street was ordered disposed.

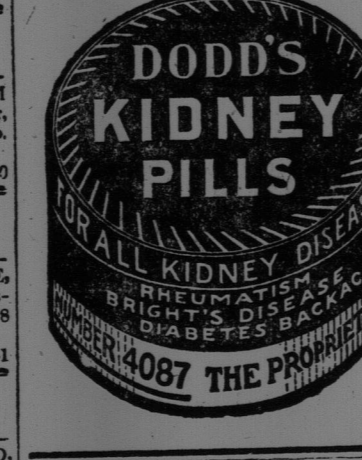

FARALINE HOME

TO BE OPENED

'EARLY NEXT YEAR

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Faraline Home for the Aged held yesterday afternoon at the King's Daughters, Chipman Hill with Miss Ellen Thorne of Fredericton, the president, in the chair, it was announced that the home which is situated in Fredericton will be opened as early in the new year as possible. Fredericton members of the board were entertained at luncheon at the Dufferin hotel by the executive of the St. John branch and City Union of the Kings Daughters. Afternoon tea was served at the Guild. Automobiles were placed at the disposal of the visiting members by Mrs. T. H. Estabrooks and Mrs. F. E. Williams. At the business meeting Mrs. C. A. McVey reported for the house committee. She explained that the committee would furnish the reception rooms, the offices and the rooms for the staff, but the inmates would provide their own furniture. The resignation of Lady Ashburnham as treasurer was regretfully received. Mrs. A. E. Cunard tendered her resignation from the board because of ill-health, and Mrs. L. A. McAlpine was appointed in her place. Mrs. E. B. Nixon, Mrs. John Bullock and Mrs. L. A. McAlpine were appointed to the house committee.

Roy M. Wolvin, president of the British Empire Steel Corporation yesterday gave emphatic denial to a report that the Corporation had fallen through or was to be modified. He said that there were many details to be worked out but that if those remaining are worked out as satisfactory as those already settled there is no doubt as to the deal going through.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

The Great Kitamura Japs In Hazardous and Sensational Feats At Opera House

Will appear in one of the best acrobatic offerings ever booked on this circuit. There will also be four other feature acts—Special showing of local motion picture Saturday afternoon.

Tonight the great Kitamura Japs, who are said to surpass in athletic skill any of their country men who have yet visited America, will appear at the Opera House in the new week-end bill. Their scenic and costuming embellishment is the last word in Oriental splendor. They perform a series of hazardous and sensational acrobatic feats.

Another feature on the programme will be Annette and Rose, in a pleasing variety of comedy, singing, talking, dancing and violin playing. Their act is reputed to be highly entertaining. Other acts on the new bill will be: Wilbur Hold, an eccentric tramp comedian, who will appear in songs and stories; Ezra and Mable Austin, in novelty singing, chatter and fancy bits of juggling; Sobel and Ross, "two eccentric comedy chaps." There will also be another episode of the motion picture serial "Hidden Dangers," featuring Joe Ryan.

As a special feature for Saturday afternoon the great local motion picture "She Would be a Vamp" will be shown. This has made one of the biggest hits of the season and the riotous scenes in the den of thieves, the great love scenes, and the plotting of the Vamp all combine in creating some of the best comedy ever enacted on the screen in these parts. It will undoubtedly prove a banner attraction for patrons.

"ELIZA COMES TO STAY" IMPERIAL SHOW NOW

Well Known Comedy by H. V. Esmond Done by Metro With Viola Dana and Milton Sills.

Viola Dana in the role of an ugly duckling school girl who transforms herself into a charming young woman with an audacity that enables her on occasions to pose as a wicked vampire, finds in "Eliza Comes to Stay," otherwise known as "Dangerous to Men," a lively screen version of H. V. Esmond's stage drama, "Eliza Comes to Stay," an opportunity for the fullest display of her powers as a comedienne. Mr. Esmond, the author, played here a few weeks ago. Eliza is orphaned when her father, on a scientific expedition in Afghanistan, is slain by bandits. His dying act is to leave his daughter as the ward of his dearest friend, Sandy Verrall, a serious minded young scientist. Sandy, who has never seen Eliza, is prepared to receive a blue-eyed, golden-haired child of ten. He is astonished and chagrined to find that she is a hoydenish girl of eighteen, and plays it with such adroitness that the entire complexion of events is changed. Incidents of the most intense interest follow in rapid succession, leading to a denouement that is as unexpected and absorbing as it is unusual.

DROWNS IN OIL ABOARD SHIP.

Mechanic on Tanker Caught in Flood From Leaking Pipe.

Severin Hansen, a mechanic on the Standard Oil tanker De Soto, was drowned in oil recently when 100,000 gallons of the crude product rushed into the pump room of the tanker, while it was moored at a pier in New York.

The De Soto, one of the Standard's newest and largest vessels, arrived Saturday at the oil docks in Bayonne with a capacity cargo of oil from Mexico. In preparation for unloading the oil tomorrow, Hansen, the police said, went into the pump room to repair one of the feed pipes. In some manner a plate on one of the big pipes was loosened and the oil under its own pressure spurted out in a great stream.

Whether Hansen was overcome by the oil vapors before he could get to the hatchway, or whether the flood of oil had been too sudden and big for him to get away, the cause of the tanker were unable to say. Special pumps were working at capacity trying to get the several thousand barrels of oil out of the tank room by this morning. Hansen's home was in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Other acts on the new bill will be: Wilbur Hold, an eccentric tramp comedian, who will appear in songs and stor-

LAST OF PARIS CREW IS DEAD

Elijah Ross Passed Away This Morning

Oarsmen Who Brought Fame to St. John in the Sixties and Seventies—Their Notable Record Recalled.

The death of Elijah Ross at his residence, 220 Prince street, West St. John, occurred this morning at 12:30. He passed away very quietly. He was in his seventy-fifth year and leaves his wife, one daughter, Mrs. W. S. Beatty, of 298 Lancaster avenue, and a brother, George Ross, of DeMont's street, West St. John. The late Mr. Ross was born at Parrsboro (N. S.), and came to this city when a small child. He was an expert boat-builder and an enthusiastic sportsman. With the passing of Mr. Ross, who was a member of the Paris crew, which had so many victories to its credit, there are now no surviving members of that group of world famous oarsmen.

"Gone but not forgotten" need never be inscribed on the tombstones of the men of the Paris Crew. Although the members of this former world's famous rowing quartette have passed to the "great beyond," their achievements will live perpetually in the memory of generations. Their path in the sporting world was emblazoned with glory which time will never efface.

How the Paris crew came into being is an interesting story. Samuel Hutton rowed in a boys' crew known as the Brittain crew, in 1859 and 1860. It was composed of William Brittain, William Perkins, Samuel Hutton and Samuel Brittain. On May 24, in 1861, Elijah Ross, Robert Cox, Gilbert Cox and Wesley Baker rowed the Brittain crew in a match race from Reid's Point around Partridge Island and return. Something happened to Robert Cox and the Brittain crew won.

In 1862 Robert McLaren, George Nice, Edward Woodward and Elijah Ross rowed at Father Dunphy's picnic at Bay Shore against a crew composed of Robert Fulton, Edward McAuley, Robert McAuley and Fred Mallinan and the Indian town crew. The North Enders won with Ross' crew second and Fulton's third.

In 1863 Samuel Hutton and Elijah Ross purchased the lapstreak boat J. A. Harding, from Chris. Coyle. She was rowed that year by the two Brittains, Samuel Hutton and Robert McLaren, Ross not rowing in deference to his father's wishes.

In 1864 William Brittain went out of the crew and Robert Fulton took his place. They were defeated by the Indian town crew in a race in the harbor. Three weeks later Elijah Ross went aboard the J. A. Harding in Samuel Brittain's place. The crew then met the Indian town crew at Father Dunphy's picnic at Bay Shore and the J. A. Harding won. The same fall they raced the Indian town crew a six mile race on the Kennebecasis and were defeated by three seconds. In 1865 they doubled the stakes and rowed Indian town again on the Kennebecasis and defeated them, in 1866 they raced Indian town, the Reid's Point crew, the new Neptune and the Logan crew. The race took place at Father Dunphy's picnic and the J. A. Harding won. Price took McLaren's place in this race and the crew became for the first time the crew come together in one boat. The same fall they rowed the M. D. Austin crew on the harbor and defeated them.

At Paris. In 1867 they rowed at Paris in two races, one forty-five minutes after the other. It was for the world's championship and eight crews were entered. The St. John men won both and became known as the Paris Crew.

In 1868 they rowed the Ward Brothers at Springfield, Mass., for the championship of America and won.

In 1869 they won at Lechine, Toronto and Niagara.

In 1870 they were defeated at Lechine by the Tyne crew.

In 1871 they rowed the Tyne crew again on the Kennebecasis river for the world's championship and won. In this race Renforth died.

In 1873 they won the International regatta on the Kennebecasis against four crews, including the Long Shore crew. They were defeated in Philadelphia in 1876 in a very close race. This was their last race as a crew.

Thus it will be seen that this famous St. John crew won world's honors in open competition, defending them against all comers, and after a victorious career retired practically unbeaten, leaving behind them a record which has never since been equalled, much less surpassed.

The Quartette.

When the crew were in their prime a description of them was recorded as follows:—Robert Fulton, stroke, is twenty-five years of age, stands six feet one inch and weighs 168 pounds. His complexion is swarthy, and his face bears the impress of indomitable energy. A pluck. His shoulders are broad, chest well developed and loins spare.

"Elijah Ross, No. 8, is five feet eleven inches in height, weighs 168 pounds and is twenty-five years of age. He, too, is of dark complexion and is a decidedly handsome man. His muscular development is immense and his whole appearance is that of a trained athlete.

"Samuel Hutton, who pulls No. 2 oar, is of dark complexion, and has dark brown hair. He is compactly made, possesses a considerable development of chest and shoulders and exhibits every appearance of great strength. From his countenance we should judge him to possess more nervous energy than any of his comrades and that he is not one of the slow, dogged kind, but rather used to going at things with a view to finishing in a hurry. He is twenty-five years, stands five feet ten inches and weighs 155 pounds.

"George Price, bow oar, is the veteran of the crew, being thirty years of age. His height is five feet ten inches and he weighs 154 pounds. His expression of countenance is stern and indicates dogged perseverance. Unlike the rest of the crew his complexion is light and notwithstanding long exposure to the sun his skin retains its usual color.

"All of the men were born in or about St. John, and from their childhood have been almost more at home in water than on land. Fulton, Hutton and winter do ship carpentering or tur their hands to any other kind of employment in that line which may offer. Ross has for some years been a light-house keeper."

The Paris Crew's shell is at present the property of the Y. M. C. I., and is permanent place in the Cliff street institution.

WASTE PAPER BOOM
SUDDENLY COLLAPSES
Mills Refuse to Buy and Sellers Now
Get $5 Instead of $25.

(Financial Post.)
Few commodities are subject to such wide fluctuations in market price as waste paper. This has always been the experience of those engaged in the scientific reclaiming of waste paper, ragged, etc.

At the present time waste paper is worth but a fraction of the value it had even a month ago. The waste paper boom has collapsed.

Up to a few weeks ago buyers of waste paper were paying as high as $25 a ton
for it. Industries and other institutions with large quantities of commercial waste for sale found their by-products a good source of revenue. The waste paper people were glad to pay that price
as they could get around $45 a ton from the pulp and paper mills.

Now the mills refuse to buy. They are determined to break the waste paper market. Waste paper can only be sold at about $20 a ton, which makes it impossible for those in the business to pay much over $5 a ton to those from whom they buy. One firm which does a large business in waste paper has announced
to the firms that supply it with waste paper.

"Waste paper is a commodity. Like every other commodity its price depends on the law of supply and demand."
"We're glad to buy waste paper—all ways glad to get it from any source.
For waste paper is our business.
"But if the mills don't want it, it loses

All in the Day's Work
(By W. B. Creighton, D. D.)
There is a very great deal of work lying around waiting to be done in this country. Much of it is hard work, and such as cannot be done with gloves on, or after any easygoing fashion. And it requires doing very badly. One of the great vital needs of our times is more men who have a zest for work; who are ready to undertake it with enthusiasm, carry it out with patience, and complete it with thoroughness and care.
It is not that our task are so supremely difficult, but rather that we have developed a great fertility of excuse for not going at it and keeping at them. Pretenses for laziness and shirking are numerous and often made outspokenly and without shame.

We need a great many more men than
we have ready to do a full day's work,
day after day, without too much question as to reward, but because they find work good, and the call to it imperative within their own souls. Unless we get these there does not seem to be a way by which we can catch up with the unfinished tasks that lie all about us.
These tasks will certainly never get done by men who only play and trifle with them.

Work, and the joy in it, is one of the sure ways out of dissatisfaction and unrest. Indeed, it would seem as if it were the only way open to us. They tell us that we need very much increased production, but in reality what we need is a very much increased number of honest and earnest producers, men and women to whom labor, steady every day, productive and worth-while labor, is a necessity of their being and the great satisfaction of their lives. We must get our minds more fixed upon the tasks of life and give less thought and consideration to its rewards and emoluments before there is any chance that life will yield us its truest joy and highest satisfaction. If we could get tomorrow a world full of people to whom society, hard work was the natural and willingly accepted programme for life,

we would find our discontent leaving us
and the way to the solution of our problems made very plain and easy.

TURN HAIR DARK
WITH SAGE TEA
Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy and youthful with a simple mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair
dark, even color, which is quite sensible,
as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All because nobody can discover it has been improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because it can be used in a number of ways. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with it, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

GIFTED SPEAKER
AT CANADIAN CLUB LUNCHEON

J. A. Stewart Predicts Closer
Friendship Between English Speaking Races—The League of Nations and Irish Question.

In an address before the Canadian Club
luncheon at Bond's last evening, John A.
Stewart, president of the Sulgrave Indi-anation, New York, predicted a closer friendship between English speaking countries of the world and that the movement of friendship will go on until no storm will be strong enough to disturb it. In opening his address he spoke of the boyhood days of Senator Warren G. Harding, Lloyd George and Sir Robert Borden. In a letter recently received from the president-elect, which was read by the speaker, Stewart hardly expressed himself as heartily in favor of a closer friendship between the English speaking nations. The letter tries to be instrumental in bringing about the civilization of the world and that these peoples will play no small part in the world, or exclude the friendship of other nations, but to protect and include them.

In speaking of the League of Nations
Mr. Stewart said that nine-tenths of the people of the United States would vote for some kind of a league if the foundation for such a league should rest
on Anglo-American friendship. Mr.
Stewart told of the arrangements for the celebration of the 100 years of peace between the United States and Great Britain. He spoke of the conference at the Mansion House in London, at which men of all kinds of politics and all grades of social position met for a common end. He said in connection with the movement of friendship that if statesmen would go to the books of God for their foreign policy
there would be another war.

Of the Irish question he said it must be settled right and in good old Anglo-Saxon way; man to man, the rights of each side preserved and the wrongs of both forgotten. He said that America would not let any group come between her and her friendship with the English speaking countries. He paid a glowing tribute to Great Britain in establishing a sure foundation on which society might rest in the upbuilding of civilization. He

Council, asked for an expression of opinion on the advisability of forming provincial and inter-provincial federations in the maritime provinces to deal with labor matters generally and to take political action in all elections. Mr. Campbell said that there is more or less talk of the Farmer-Labor movement in politics, but little can be done unless there is a federation of idea and action throughout the provinces. He said it is not necessary that men holding union cards should represent this faction, but broad minded men who can see that labor does not ask for class legislation, but that their aims are built upon the broad principle of doing the greatest good to all. Mr. Campbell believes that there will be a favorable response to this plan.

"MEN OF BELGIUM"
Interesting Lecture at Opening of N. H. S. Winter Sea-SON.

One of the most popular lectures in the winter course under the auspices of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society, was given last night in a paper prepared by Mrs. Corland Rolinson and read by Mrs. C. B. Allan, on the "Men of Belgium." An interesting account of the achievements of that plucky little nation was given and the paper was illustrated with some beautiful slides, showing scenes of Belgium and some of her art treasures. Reference was made to the part played by Belgium in the great war, but the paper was an impression of that nation as Mrs. Rolinson had seen it before the war. Mrs. W. H.
Shaw, the president, tendered a vote of thanks to Mrs. Allan for reading the paper in the absence of Mrs. Rolinson, who is in Montreal. Miss Agnes rendered a solo to the accompaniment of Mrs.
Thomas Guy. Mrs. Alfred Morrisey explained some Belgian curios which were shown and Mrs. George Matthew told some incidents of King Albert's warfare.
His picture was shown on the screen and received the applause of the audience.

BOYS AND GIRLS ARE GREATEST ASSET

Need of Juvenile Courts, Big Brother and Sister Organization—The Church's Part

(London Free Press.) When we speak of the nation's great-natural resources such as forests, minerals, fisheries and other material wealth. We are having it impressed upon us now that our boys and girls comprise the greatest asset of the nation. In a wonderful way the country is awakening to the fact that the latter idea is true and that if we are to save the nation from shipwreck we must save our youth. When Baden Powell was asked when the war would be decided, he gave the simple but strange answer: "The war will be decided in 1923." There is much truth in his reply. He meant to impress upon the nation that not until the present young people have grown to years of responsibility will the war be truly decided, and that the nature of the decision will depend upon the character of manhood produced.

The boy today is becoming the centre of attraction for the nation, the city, the church and the home. Some may think he is made too much of; that there is too much done for the modern boy and not enough expected of him; that he is pampered and feasted by too many organizations until his self-importance becomes intolerable. There may be some truth in all this. At the same time the boy presents a problem that must receive attention from all the institutions just named. The boy is born into a world his grandfather knew nothing of and is surrounded by an environment different to past generations. There is great reason why the state should give more constructive thought to our youth. It has been said that "While our forests are protected, our hogs inspected, our boys are neglected." The nation cannot afford to give more heed to material resources than to young soul life. The prevalence of juvenile crime is giving nations deep concern just now, and most of that crime is carried on by boys. In a Canadian city not much larger than London 201 were brought before the juvenile court in one year, 1919 of whom were boys, eight of them girls. If that can be considered a fair percentage for gauging other cities, is there any wonder why organizations are feeling special attention must be given the boy. Since the war, juvenile crime has certainly increased among boys and girls from the ages of twelve to sixteen. It is for the nation to do all in its power to discover the causes and deal courageously with those causes for the good of our youth. We need juvenile courts, Big Brother and Big Sister movements to handle the unfortunate and the wayward, but we need to direct our attention to fences at the top of the precipice rather than specializing always on hospitals at the bottom. Germany has given us an illustration of what a nation can become by the way a nation deals with its youth. The kaiser began a generation ago to prepare for this war, whether he realized it or not. He began with the boys in the schools. One of the greatest German educationists, Dr. Fuchus, after advocating that the family should be educated in hatred of international relations and should abolish unripe and false shame before brutality and fanaticism, said: "We must not hesitate to announce to us is given faith, hope, hatred, and the greatest of these is hatred." Is it any wonder the youth grew up ready for such atrocities as were later committed in Belgium and France. Our educational institutions can do no better than instill into the minds and hearts of our youth Dr. Fuchus' phrase, with one word changed: "To us is given faith, hope and love, and the greatest of these is love," and the fruitage of such teaching will be seen in the manhood of tomorrow. We cannot overly emphasize the need of greater parental responsibility in training the youth of the home. The boy missed the father's counsel and authority during the war. Many fathers never came home. They fell in battle. An added responsibility has been thrust upon mothers who have had already more than they could bear. These conditions have added to the boy problem. But the boys who get into trouble are not all from soldiers' homes by any means. Many of them come from well-to-do homes, whose special privileges are available for the boy. One of the sad features of today is the lack of parental authority, and the tendency is to heap that responsibility more and more upon the school, the community and the church, and relieve the home of it. This is a fatal mistake. The home, to function properly, must accept its full share of responsibility for the training of its children, and if the school and community lift the burden the parents should assume, we are simply perpetuating the weakness and the failure of the home. Why should it not be said of our fathers today what God was pleased to say concerning Abraham: "For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment." The moral training of children is primarily a domestic task, and the gospel of "Parental Responsibility" ought to be preached with no uncertain sound. We recognize there are the underprivileged boys and those who are unfortunately deprived of parental care. These should have the special thought of the community, and the community should not wait until they get into the juvenile courts before it thinks of them. No institution can be of greater help to the home and the growing boy than the church. It has the real message for our youth. What the church needs to do is to adopt methods that will best interpret that message to the boy. A deeper study of the boy life by religious leaders and Sunday school workers will be of invaluable aid in leading them into the Christian life and developing character that will make for noble citizenship. If the moral and religious training of our boys is neglected that which is our nation's greatest asset may become the nation's greatest liability.

An old shepherd who has just died in an English village was unable to count beyond three.
