

SOME CONFLICT REGARDING THE FRANCHISE ACT

At the Government Caucus Yesterday Between East and West Members.

IT MUST BE AMENDED

Before There Can be Any Unanimity of Action Between the Opposing Sentiments.

Ottawa, April 9.—(By Canadian Press)—A sharp division between eastern and western members of the government side of the House, is said to have taken place at this morning's caucus of government supporters when the Franchise Bill was the chief measure up for discussion. The western members were of a different shade of opinion to those from Ontario constituencies in regard to the disfranchisement clause of the Act. It is stated, and while some of the western men fought against such a wide measure of disfranchisement of aliens as was proposed, some of the easterners wanted to bar all military service act deserters and alieners from voting for a term of years at least. As a result of the stand taken it is expected that one or more amendments may be forthcoming before the bill passes the House. Ontario members of the bill held out for disfranchisement of aliens, and thought they were in the minority in the caucus, will likely press their views in the House debate.

CANDIDATES FOR CIVIC HONORS MADE ADDRESSES LAST NIGHT

Messrs. G. F. Fisher, John Thornton, J. F. Frink, A. E. Schofield, J. A. Chesley, F. E. Campbell, C. T. Nevins and W. L. Harding Expressed Views at Meeting Called by Clerks' Association in Board of Trade Rooms.

The majority of the candidates in the coming civic elections accepted the invitation of the Hardware Clerks' Association to address them after the Association's regular meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms last night.

The chairman, president of the association, H. D. Sullivan, explained to the candidates, that while the association did not ask the speakers to bind themselves to any platform, they would like to hear their views on Daylight Saving, the Abutters Tax and Harbor Development, as well as any other subject the speakers might wish to touch on.

J. H. Frink, the first speaker of the evening, after thanking the Hardware Clerks for the opportunity they had afforded him to lay his views before them, said that the first subject he would speak on was Daylight Saving.

Mr. Frink, who is mayor of the city, been responsible for its introduction in St. John. For this he had been blamed by some, and praised by others. He thought it was a question that should be left to a plebiscite, and the will of the majority should be accepted.

The Harbor question was a heavy one, he had made a special study of the subject and possessed considerable information concerning it, but thought a man would be unwise to make a statement in a very few words which might be misconstrued of his opinion thereon.

Commissioner Fisher, who was called upon to address the meeting, he did not consider it wise to touch on the paving question at the present time as an agreement was being reached by those in favor of the Abutters Tax and those opposed to it. He himself did not consider the abutters tax an equitable manner of dealing with the paving question.

In regard to Harbor Commission he was in favor of it, providing a satisfactory arrangement could be effected with the government and the city. He considered the price offered by the government for the harbor was too small, but in view of the advantages which would be derived therefrom it would be advisable to accept their terms.

He had served the public for four years, and his work had been in the public eye, so he did not think it necessary to say much about it. Many retaining walls had been built under his administration. It was frequently stated "I pay taxes but get nothing for them." Few realize that owing to the repairs necessary for the heavy traffic on streets little could be spent on the residential streets.

wished to make it plain, as he had in the past, that if elected he would go to the City Hall under promise to no one, but free to use his own judgment in what he considered the best interests of the city in spite of the fact that immediately on entering into office he had been asked to submit estimates for his department which was a difficult thing to do under the circumstances, and despite the heavy increase in wages and material, he had effected a surplus in both the police department and the fire department.

John A. Chesley, who is a member of the City Council, was in favor of permanent paving by general assessment, but was not sure that an extensive paving programme should be carried out in view of the heavy cost. He thought it should be limited for the next two or three years, and then, if prices did not fall, might go ahead. As there was some street work which it was absolutely necessary to pave at once.

John A. Chesley was then called to the platform. Mr. Chesley said he was glad to go back again to the city of his birth. He found that the harbor had remained much the same as it was when he left the city several years ago. The equipment and facilities essential to it as a national port had never been realized; the promises remained unfulfilled. The speaker related the difficulties which, as a member of parliament for the city had been obliged to face in order to secure the subsidy for the Beaver Line of passenger-steamers, the first to come to St. John. His threatened resignation had at last forced the government to fill their promise and grant the subsidy in regard to Daylight Saving, he had no very strong opinion on the subject, but in asking support he would remind his hearers that he had considerable experience in civic government. He served fifteen years on the old council.

Allen Schofield, on being called upon spoke of the pleasure it afforded him in addressing the meeting. He had been a clerk himself, and sure that much good could come out of their association. He did not expect to say much on civic politics. He had not secured his signature, but after much urging had consented to run. He elected, he would fill the office to the best of his power. He thought that every clerk should learn his business and then go in for himself; that was what he had done. He did not wish to make any promises prior to taking office, for he calculated to fill any promise he might make, but if elected every matter would have his careful attention. Many improvements in the city were desired by all, but these could only be had by increased taxation. He considered that the city at the present time was being run as cheaply as possible. One thing he would like to see was less antagonism amongst the citizens; he would endeavor to create a better spirit. There were two sides to the paving question, and he thought a committee representing each party ought to be able to come to an agreement. He did not think the city could be ever run from the street or the barber shop; it was up to the voters to put the best men in and then give them their support and back them up. He was in favor of playgrounds, but if elected would see that something was done about the Court House. A prison farm should be run in conjunction with the jail, instead of having prisoners remaining idle and the taxpayers paying their bills. The men would be paid a small wage, which would go to their families, and their work would assist greater production and help reduce the high cost of living. Daylight saving would be a good thing if made to coincide with the opening and closing of the schools. He regarded it as an advantage. He thought the will of the majority should prevail in daylight saving. If elected he would work in the interests of all in a co-operative spirit.

W. L. Harding, who had nothing to say on public questions. He had consented to run after having been asked to do so. If elected he would do his best. He thought Mr. Schofield would worthily fill the office of Mayor.

C. T. Nevins, who was in favor of daylight saving, which could be satisfactorily settled by compromise. Several speakers refused to commit themselves on the Abutters' Tax. He would say quite openly that he was opposed to it. Some said go slow; we went slow with the Nurses' Home, and it cost us $50,000 more than at first, enough to pave Brussels street. The harbor should be handed over to the Government; if there was not enough money for the streets there was not enough for the harbor. As a candidate he intended to be a free agent.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN COMMERCIAL MAN

Arthur H. Bray of Moncton Passed Away in Hospital Last Night.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, April 9.—Arthur H. Bray, the well known commercial traveller for the Reed Company of this city, died quite suddenly in the Moncton Hospital this evening. Mr. Bray was taken to the hospital this morning for an operation but on account of his condition the operation was not performed. He had been unwell for some months with internal trouble.

He was 49 years of age, and was well known throughout the counties of Westmorland, Albert and Kent. He had been travelling for the Reed Company for the past fifteen years. He was a native of Hopewell Cape, Albert county, and was a son of the late Benjamin Bray. He is survived by four children, his wife having predeceased him four years.

FATHER VAUGHAN AND CHRISTIANITY. London, March 28.—(By Mail.)—Father Bernard Vaughan, brother of the late Cardinal Vaughan, and London's chief social scourge, who Sunday castigates the follies and vanities of his fashion-conscious congregation in the West End, preached a remarkable sermon today.

"The great, impetuous need of today is a Man. We want a man who will draw order out of chaos. Not only our empire but the world at large today is in a state of chaos. The one thing that is needed is money, money, money, so as to have the wherewithal for the pleasures, the vanities, the frivolities of life."

There is only one Man who can bring order; He has done it already—that Man is Christ. Everything else in this century has failed; diplomacy has failed, science has failed, socialism has failed—but they cannot say Christianity has failed, because it has never been tried as a social system.

"We must see if Christianity can bring about what everything has failed to achieve."

HUMAN EMOTIONS CAN BE MEASURED. By the "Blushometer," So Says a British Scientist.

London, April 8.—Human emotions, just like ribbon or floor cloth, can now be measured. How this is scientifically done has been demonstrated by Dr. Walter Dill Scott, an expert on recording degrees of "emotive response."

A small pad is affixed to the hand of a person, and a galvanometer with a screen in front. From the chair a person watches his emotions displayed on the screen as a ray of light, which is measured by scale.

The more intense the emotion the more the light ascends. That anticipation can produce more emotion than realization is shown by this interesting mechanism. Even the emotion of blushing is faithfully measured.

THE CAILLAUX CASE AGAIN BEFORE COURTS

The Most Sensational Trial in France Since Dreyfus' Time.

Paris, March 24.—(By Mail.)—The sensational trial of Joseph Caillaux has been marked throughout by bitter frontal references by the former premier-defendant to Clemenceau, his mortal political foe.

Discussing the general forecast of his banishment from France for ten years, Caillaux has after each revelation, requested for cards of admission have deluged the authorities.

It has been remarkable the number of women who have clamoured for entrance and crowded the Chamber, bringing an unusual note of color into the environment, with their bright frocks and hats.

One of the most frequent visitors has been the Comtesse de Noailles. She has not only returned again and again to listen to the debates, but has passed through the waiting queue, as if by magic and entered before others who have waited for long hours to gain an entrance with their cards of admission.

On one occasion, this procedure called forth a remark from a woman in the crowd, to which the Comtesse replied: "Madame, there are superlatives of intellect which in themselves are sufficient to authorize a right of way." With this remark the favored aristocrat turned on her heel and passed through the door.

PROPOSED STEEL CONSOLIDATION

Will Result in Bringing in Large Sums British Capital.

Montreal, April 9.—Important developments have occurred during the past week in connection with the plans being carried out by Colonel Grant Morden and his associates in connection with the proposed big steel consolidation. In local banking circles the report is heard that the deal is now nearing completion and that on its present basis the company will be the largest industrial undertaking in the British Empire. In addition, it will provide a complete unit of industrial operation and include construction plants which will enable the Company to carry out every operation of its own undertakings.

On arrival in Canada of Colonel Grant Morden and his associates from London, England, the opinion was held that the proposed plan would include consolidation of the large steel companies. Now, however, several other features have been added, at the request of the British interests, with a view of enabling the new company to carry out all its own business itself. On this account, the consolidation, when completed, will include a large shipping concern, as the new company proposes to develop a very big export trade to Great Britain, which will require an extensive fleet of vessels.

With the progress made during the past few days, it is expected that all the important features in connection with the proposed consolidation will be completed within the next few weeks, and the board of directors of the various companies will be in a position to submit the proposals to the shareholders of the various companies.

many wealthy New Yorkers have already obtained options on cottages at Canadian resorts and will send their families to them and run up themselves as often during the summer as their business permits and third or inclination amply.

Representatives of Canadian railways here also report an unusually active demand for information regarding summer resorts in Canada and they look for a greatly increased venue of Americans to the Dominion this summer for temporary residence.
While they hesitate to attribute this to a general desire to escape the drought, they report that they had most New Yorkers who frankly admit that they wished to spend their holidays where they could obtain stimulating refreshment without taking a chance on wood alcohol.

Evidently many Canadians are alive to the possibilities of the situation. Recent Sunday editions of New York newspapers contained an advertisement of a summer cottage near Toronto for rent. It was not the charm of the scenery, the nearby golf course, the pleasant neighbourhood, or the advantage of all modern conveniences that was emphasized in the advertising. "No prohibition restrictions" was the inducement offered to prospective tenants. And, if the local railway men and real estate agents are correct, that ad. most likely brought a lot of applications to the owner of the cottage.

PROPOSED STEEL CONSOLIDATION

Will Result in Bringing in Large Sums British Capital.

Montreal, April 9. — Important developments have occurred during the past week in connection with the plans being carried out by Colonel Grant Morden and his associates in connection with the proposed big steel consolidation. In local banking circles the report is heard that the deal is now nearing completion and that on the present basis the company will be the largest industrial undertaking in the British Empire. In addition, it will provide a complete unit of industrial operation and include constituent parts which will enable the Company to carry out every operation of its own undertakings.

On arrival in Canada of Colonel Grant Morden and his associates from London, England, the opinion was held that the proposed plans would include early some of the larger steel companies. Now, however, several other features have been added, at the appointed request of the British interests, with a view of enabling the new company to carry out all its own business itself. On this account, the consolidation, when completed, will include large shipping concerns, as the new company proposes to develop a very big export trade to Great Britain, and will require an extensive fleet of vessels.

With the progress made during the past few days, it is expected that all the important features in connection with the proposed consolidation will be completed within the next few weeks, and the board of directors of the different companies will then be in a position to submit the proposals to the shareholders of the various companies.

In banking circles the opinion is held that two of the developments in connection with the consolidation are of the utmost importance; first, it will mean the bringing into Canada of many millions of additional British capital; and, secondly, it will be an important factor in the expansion of the export trade of the Dominion, a development which is regarded as of the greatest importance to the country at the present time.

by French Troops May Lead to Serious Trouble.

(Copyright by Cross-Atlantic Cable Service.)

London, April 9.—Lord Curzon and entire staff of the British Foreign Office are greatly perturbed over the new turn of events resulting through the shooting down of several Germans by French colored troops. They fear international complications and wholly condemn the attitude taken by the French Government. All along it is now revealed, the Allies (America, Britain, Italy and Belgium) have been utterly opposed to the advance of French troops into German territory. For a full fortnight they presented their views on the French Government, but without effect as events of the last three days have shown. It is understood the Associated Powers are gravely considering how the confusion which would set all Europe ablaze, can be avoided. Allied governments take the view that the rule of the Reds was a domestic affair of Germany and she ought to have been given a reasonable chance and time enough to deal with it.

London, April 9.—The overseas settlement department which was organized to look after ex-servicemen and women desiring to look further ahead than the old country for a future living report an extraordinary rush of applications. Already the waiting list exceeds fifty thousand, the bulk of whom have registered a preference for Canada.

I am told today the list is being added to by about 300 daily, the majority of whom are the finest type of manhood and womanhood. These figures do not include ex-members of the Canadian colonial forces who have a separate preferential organization. Canada is by far the favorite of the Brit-traction for what before the war was called the submerged class. The departures are only governed by the shipping facilities.

GRANT SIX

PEOPLE who are unfamiliar with motor car prices invariably believe the Grant Six sells for considerably more than it actually does. Among cars of moderate price there is none quite so distinguished in appearance. In performance the Grant Six confirms and extends your first favorable impression of it. And after months' of service you will find that your operating expense has been surprisingly low. You will never regret your purchase of a Grant Six.

The Grant Six was a pioneer in adopting the overhead valve motor. Continuous development and refinement have brought it to the highest point of flexibility and responsiveness. It has more power than you will ever dare to use.

FAMOUS ENGLISH COFFEE HOUSE HAS CHANGED OWNERS

(By MAIL.)
 London, April 1.—Never before have so many famous estates and ancient landmarks of England been offered for sale as at the present time. In recent years a London paper has put up a list of a dozen castles known from one end of the country to the other, and some of these celebrated in history. A place having many the every and political associations which recently changed hands was the property in Blue Ball Yard, St. James street, London, which included the Cocoa Tree Club. Originally an offshoot of the Tory Chocolate House of the days of Queen Anne, it became one of the most noted political headquarters in England. There is a reference to it by Horace Walpole in 1746, which proves that by that time it must have become a very fashionable place. He writes: "The Duke has given Brigadier Mordaunt the Pretender's coach on condition that he rode up to London in it." "The Duke has given me a seat at the Cocoa Tree," he said he, "and drive till it stops at its own accord at the Cocoa Tree." It must not be inferred from the name that the Cocoa Tree was a temperance house. Like its contemporaries, Almacks, Brookes and White's, all spoken of as coffee houses, it was the scene of notable orgies and gambling bouts.

The Brilliant Fox.
 In the social records of that period no figure stands out more prominently than Charles James Fox, one of the most reckless gamblers of the age as well as an orator and statesman of the very highest rank. Walpole writes that in the debate on the Thirteen Articles, Fox did not shun, and continue: "Nor could it be wondered at. He had sat up playing at hazard at Almack's from Tuesday evening, the 4th, until 5 in the afternoon of Wednesday the 5th. An hour before he had recovered £12,000 he had lost and by dinner, which was at 1 o'clock, he had ended by losing £11,000. On the Thursday he spoke in this debate; went to dinner at half-past eleven at night; from thence to White's, where he drank till 7 the next morning; thence to Almack's where he won £5,000, and between 3 and 4 in the afternoon he set out for Newmarket for the races. His brother Stephen lost £11,000 two nights after, and Charles £10,000 more on the 13th. So that in a few nights the two sons of Lord Holland, the oldest not yet 25, lost some £32,000."

Was Often Broke.
 Fox occupied lodgings close to Brookes and as soon as he arose, which was naturally very late, he went to the club where his political associates would gather to discuss their plans. A contemporary writer says: "His bristly black parson and shaggy breast, quite open and rarely purified by any ablutions, was wrapped in a four lined nightgown, and his bushy hair disheveled. In those cypre weeds and in epicurean good humor did he dictate his politics." His whole time was divided between the gambling clubs and the House of Commons. Like every other gambler, he was frequently hard up, having even set odd challenges to supply his daily needs. He might lose a thousand pounds or ten thousand pounds, which he very frequently did, and then have to borrow some loose change from the waiter. There is a well authenticated story that on one occasion he played cards with Fitzpatrick at Brookes' from ten o'clock at night until nearly six the next afternoon, a waiter being employed to stand beside the table to tell whose deal it was, the players themselves being so sleepy that they did not know.

High Play.
 It is probable that Fox's upbringing was as much responsible as his inherited character for the excesses of which he was guilty. His father, Lord Holland, once said: "Let nothing be done to break his spirit; the world will do that for him." On his death he left his son about three-quarters of a million dollars, to pay his debts.

OUCH! CORNS!
LIFT CORNS OFF

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn right off with fingers

Drop a little Frezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. It doesn't pain one bit. Yes, magic! Why wait? Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Frezone for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without soreness or irritation. Frezone is the much talked of other discovery of a Cincinnati genius.

This sum was immediately swallowed up, and in a few days Fox was as needy as before. Fox was by no means singular in his generation. High play and deep drinking were fashionable. Lord Carlisle lost £10,000 one night and owed the house the entire sum. At one time he stood to win £50,000 on the turn of a card. We refer again to Walpole: "John Damer and his two brothers have contracted a debt one can scarcely be expected to believe out of England—£70,000. Can you believe that Lord Foley's sons have borrowed money—extravagantly that the interest they have contracted to pay—amounts to £18,000 a year? It all went over the card tables in these fashionable London clubs."

A Sporting Gambler.
 Walpole records that there was a cast at hazard in the Cocoa Tree, "the difference of which amounted to £180,000." Mr. O'Brien, an Irish gambler had won £100,000 from a young Mr. Harvey who had inherited an estate from his brother. O'Brien said: "You can never pay me." The youth replied: "I can. My estate will sell for the debt." "No," said O'Brien, "I will win ten thousand. You shall throw for the odd ninety." So they threw and Harvey won. Gibbon was a member of the Cocoa Tree, and in his journal relates that, every evening there one might see twenty or thirty of the first men in the kingdom supping at little tables covered with a napkin, in the middle of a coffee room, upon a bit of cold meat or a sandwich and drinking a glass of punch. Lord Byron also was a member, and indeed most of the celebrities of the day were proud of their membership in what nowadays would be considered a "joint," and would speedily be raised by the police.

Congregation of Sikh Warriors De Honor to One of Their Number Who Had Won the Victoria Cross.

Vancouver, B. C., April 10.—Bhai Ranghi Singh, priest and reader in the Sikh temple on Second avenue, closed the Granth Sahib, from which he had been reading to the assembly the maxima of Bhai Gobind Singh. With a show of reverence he drew over the holy book its silken covering, and Hasub Singh, who while the volume was unprotected had gazed at a big white duster over to guard it from possible contamination, put away the duster.

Bhai Ranghi now addressed the congregation, stroking his great curly black beard:

"Brothers, we have with us under this roof today, one of our brotherhood who has added to the records of the Khalsa and to the lore of the people one more story for men to tell.

"Our brother, Bessaladar Singh, the Lion, who is now with us under this roof, is one of those whose deeds are recited in the books of the English. Our brother was also honored by the King of England in due proportion to the greatness of his deed, reward given by the English King for services in battle is a little cross fabricated of metal from guns taken from the enemy in conflict. To the honor of the Khalsa it may be said that not a few Sikhs have gained this cross. Our brother the Bessaladar Singh is one of those. He is here today, but tomorrow will take ship for Hind. For your edification he will tell the tale of his deed which brought honor to the Khalsa."

The Bessaladar Singh, the Lion, now came from where he had been seated among the congregation. He presented a deplorable spectacle, but he smiled cheerfully as if his injuries were quite negligible. He had lost his eyesight, and artificial limbs had replaced an arm and a leg taken off close to the body. Guided by a companion, he clumped forward and seated himself in a chair placed for him in front of the assembly.

"Brothers," he began, in the toneless voice of the blind, "I have listened to the words of the Bhai, who is a good man. Before the great war, in my regiment, we often said that we would be perfectly happy if we had a war, fighting. War came and we were merry. We fought for nearly four years. The regiment gained much merit, honor. There are few of us left.

"The Bhai, who is a good man, has promised you that I would tell the tale of my small service. That I cannot do—a soldier cannot speak of his own service, duty. I esteem very highly the honor you have done me. It is good to be here and to hear of my brothers, made in the war another story for men to tell. Let me speak of the deed of certain men of my regiment who, dying, left a story more worthy to be told.

"It was at Basm, in Roum (Turkey). There was a river to cross and a river must be made of boats, under very heavy fire from machine guns. It was asked that men from my regiment volunteer to prepare the bridge, a very dangerous service. All volunteered, though death was almost certain. A number were chosen, and made ready the bridge. But when the work was almost done, all had been slain save one man, to whom it was given to complete the work alone. But it was finished and a battalion rushed across, and though many were slain, the enemy was driven from his trenches and a victory was won. Those who had prepared the bridge died, but the tale of their deed will never die."

"And the leader of those who prepared the bridge and the man who completed the work alone, the only survivor, and the first to volunteer, my brothers," said Bhai Ranghi, when the first voice had ceased, "was the Bessaladar Singh the Lion."

The members of the congregation rose to their feet, their arms raised in the Sikh salute.

"Rango! Rango!" they shouted.

Frank P. Utah matters become more settled he said that he would not venture to forecast results of the operation for the year, but added that there is little doubt that dividends would be earned as in former years when conditions were more adverse or uncertain.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR SPRING USE

Harsh Purgatives Should be Avoided — A Tonic Will Restore Your Energy.

Not exactly sick but not feeling quite well. That is the way thousands of people feel in the spring. It is a sign that the trying indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you. Easily tired, appetite flicks, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order, and these symptoms may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives as so many people do in the hope that you can get your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell that this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will build up the blood and nerve. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do this speedily and surely. This medicine enriches the blood, clears the skin, improves the appetite and makes tired depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. As an example of the value of the pills we give the statement of Mrs. W. McBurnie, Tananagouche, N. B., who says:—"I have good reason to speak in the highest terms of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was badly run down, falling in weight and suffering from dizzy spells and weakness. In fact my condition was such that I was hardly able to do my housework. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after using several boxes there was a noticeable improvement. I continued using the pills for some time longer and found that I had fully regained my old time health and strength and was able to do my housework without feeling weak and worn out as I did before I began using the pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

QUEER CAREERS FOR EX-SOLDIERS.

A man whose pre-war job was swabbing red-hot pistons was one of the applicants at a London employment exchange. In the course of following his employment the poker-swabber had travelled over Europe. His knowledge of Germany and the language of the country secured him a Government position in Germany. "We have so many extraordinary cases through our hands," says the manager of the exchange, "that we cease to notice them. A professional flat-hunter was one of the posts manufactured for a pre-war engine cleaner. He did not do so badly on a wage of 10s a day and £10 bonus for a successful find. Anti-influenza searing was a job given to some one-armed men, who gave out handbills on the street. A soldier whose eye-sight had been damaged found a surprising post as night watchman, and a half deaf man was lucky enough to get the job of potman at an hotel." The manager and staff at the exchange are themselves all ex-service men, and on the vacancy books are posts varying from £3 a week to £1,500 a year.

"So This Is Your Birthday, Grandmother"

"YES, dearie, I am seventy-five years old today. It doesn't seem possible, for I don't feel old."
 "And you certainly do not look old."
 "Were you never sick, grandmother?"
 "Oh, yes, indeed, there was a time in my life when I never expected to live to be fifty, say nothing about seventy-five. When your mother and my other children were small I had my hands full and got run down in health. I got so nervous that I could not sleep and had frequent headaches. Every little thing the children would do seemed to annoy and worry me until, finally, I gave out entirely, and was in bed for months with nervous prostration."
 "Did you have a doctor?"
 "Yes, dearie, I had two or three doctors, but they only told me that it would take a long time for me to regain strength. One day your grandfather came in with some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. He said some one told him that it would cure me, and he went away to the drug store and bought half a dozen boxes."
 "What did your doctor say about using it?"
 "Well, what could he say? He only said that he had done all he could, and that he had run across a great many cases in which the Nerve Food had been used with excellent results. So I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it was not long before I was on the way to health and strength."

 "And did it cure you?"
 "Well, the best evidence is that I am here to-day, well and happy, after all these years. And I am more than ever enthusiastic for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for I have used it several times during the last few years when I felt that I needed some assistance to keep up vitality. As a person gets older I think their blood gets thinner, and they seem to need something like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to increase their strength and vigor."
 "That is something worth knowing, grandmother."
 "If you will take my advice, dearie, you will not forget about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when you get run down, tired out and nervous. This has been my advice to a great many people, and I know that it has done them good."

RETALIATORY MEASURES WILL MAKE BAD WORSE

The Underwood Threat if Put into Execution, Would Only Increase the Newspaper Shortage.

The following article from the pen of Frank J. D. Barnum, the well known Forestry expert, is very interesting. He says:—
 All this talk of retaliatory measures on the part of the American Congress, because the Canadian people decline longer to be hewers of wood and traders of their birch bark for a mess of postage by shipping the life-blood of their own paper mills across the border in the shape of raw material, is pure bunkum.
 That the United States would be willing or prepared to engage in a trade war with its second best world's customers is of course, inconceivable and ridiculous. Canada is nearer from all charges of selling liquor to self-supporting than any other country on the globe, through her own and other British resources.
 In the first place, Canada has ample coal deposits for the running of all her industries. It is simply a matter of transportation as they should be and will be in the near future, and our railroads and industries electrical. We should require very little coal.
 There is of course, a serious shortage of newspaper paper in the United States, but this also applies in Canada as well, and she is shipping more than 80 per cent. of all her paper to the United States to the detriment of her own newspapers, some of which have had to suspend publication on this account.
 In any event, Canada's mills might just as well be shut down for want of fuel as for want of wood; but the fact must not be forgotten that she is supplying the newspapers of the United States with half of their newsprint and the moment her mills are shut down for want of coal or any other reason not only will they not have sufficient paper to print their Congressional Record which is one of their complaints, but one-half of their newspapers will be forced to suspend publication, as no country outside of Canada can supply this amount of paper.
 The American people are not a penny bit less patriotic with reference to the Underwood reaction, which is inspired by one or two of the larger paper companies who have suddenly awakened to a realization that they have only a very small wood supply in their own country and who are simply using the American newspapers, and through Congress, to try and help them out of a bad hole.

Bumper House At Afternoon Session

Police Court Yesterday Crowded With Spectators to Witness Several Cases Being Dealt With—Case Against Policeman Dismissed.

The afternoon session at the police court has become quite the thing and yesterday afternoon's bill drew a bumper house with standing room only. Prior to taking up any cases, James Hill who was arrested for being drunk in the Asia Hotel and having liquor in his possession, came forward and deposited $50 to appease the Goddess of Prohibition. Another gentleman sliced $208 off his roll as his little offering to the Deity.
 The case of Police Officer Frederick Gaudet, charged with selling liquor was then taken up and the judge after summing up the evidence dismissed the case and emancipated Gaudet from all charges of selling liquor to the informant. The magistrate said he had given the evidence submitted full and weighty consideration and after careful deliberation was inclined to believe that the informant, although not wilfully misrepresenting facts had been working under a hallucination, in his evidence he had said he was completely sober whereas the three other witnesses said he was drunk. The witness admitted he had been drinking when he went to Gaudet's house. He had gone to see Gaudet who was an old friend of his. Leaving there he went in search of liquor, the two facts were in his mind, the search for liquor and the desire to see Gaudet. It could readily be seen that under the influence of the rum, such as was being peddled in St. John at present, the witness would readily confuse these two impressions and to give Gaudet the benefit of the doubt, especially in view of the evidence submitted by two other witnesses. J. A. Barry conducted the defence, W. M. Ryan for the prosecution.
 The case of William McNulty charged with the assault on W. J. Cohan, was allowed to stand over to Tuesday afternoon.
 In the case of Frank Doucet, charged with the theft of four plumes, the property of the C. P. R. City of Grand-Combe, buyer for M. R. A. identified the plumes found on the accused as part of a shipment he had ordered from Basseville and Cie in Paris last September, the total value of the plumes delivered in St. John he placed at $40.
 Doucet consented to the jurisdiction of the magistrate, and made a statement. He said that at about 8:30 on Good Friday evening he was going up Protection street and went into a vacant shack to have a drink from a pop bottle of whiskey which he was carrying. On coming out he stumbled over something soft. He lit a match to see what it was and put the plumes under his coat. Continuing up the street he was met by a C. P. R. policeman who asked him what he had under his coat. He showed the constable the articles and took him back to the shed where he found them. He was then arrested by the official. The defendant said he was a returned soldier, had lived in the city for over 20 years and had never been in court before.
 Herbert Mayes said he had known the accused over eight years. The accused had a large family of six children, the eldest of whom was under 14. He could say nothing but good for the accused. The man had voluntarily enlisted, gone overseas and had been wounded.
 The case was adjourned to this morning at ten o'clock. J. A. Barry for the defence H. H. McLean Jr., for the C. P. R.
 William Watts, charged with the assault on his wife Beatrice Watts, was fined $40 and the fine allowed to stand. The magistrate informed the defendant that he must not take the law into his own hands and bonded him over to keep the peace. J. A. Barry his counsel, and H. J. Graves provided sureties. His Honor told the prisoner that he had instructed the police to keep an eye on the conduct of some of the colored residents of Spar Cove Road, and if the defendant's wife or Fraser, the man who had caused the trouble were ever seen together again he would have them both arrested.
 In the morning John McDonald was charged with stealing a case of whiskey the property of Jacob E. Zatzman. Evidence was given by Sergeant Rankine and Policeman Lindsay who made the arrest. The owner of the liquor also testified, and the accused was sent up for trial.
 Inspector McAlush, as a result of evidence submitted in the trial preferred a charge of having liquor illegally in his possession against Edmund Lenzig, a barber on Main street where part of the liquor was located. The case was to have been taken up in the afternoon but on going to the barber shop nothing was found but the police, the barber having disappeared.
 William Williamson was charged with stealing a bag of flour from Steeves Bros., Erin street. Detective Biddecombe said he arrested the accused after tracking him by a leak in the flour bag right to his accused home. W. M. Ryan for the defence asked that the case be postponed.
 John Cullinan, arrested for assaulting W. J. Cohan, last Saturday night pleaded not guilty and was remanded. As a result of a liquor prosecution $208 went rolling merrily into the Prohibition strong box.
 Frank Donnelly and Daniel Doherty pleaded guilty to driving motor cars without a license. Fines were struck against the two and allowed to stand.

Save the surface and you save all Paint & Varnish

Add years to the life of your house

TIME was when the "appearance" of a freshly painted house was the only thing that counted, but now we must also realize the importance of the protection good paint affords against wear and tear. Any paint will give some protection, but if you want paint protection for years—not merely months—use

B-II PAINT
 "English" 70% Pure White Lead
 "American" 30% Pure White Zinc
 100% Pure Paint

A 100% formula (70% of which is Brandram's Genuine B. B. White Lead) providing a coat of such body, brilliance and "toughness" as to defy rain, sun or snow, where cheaper paints will chip, peel and crack.

If your house is painted this Spring with B-II it actually has a surface-protection which renders it impervious to the decay of passing years.

You have the choice of 36 attractive colors as shown on color card which is supplied on application.

PAPER STOCKS ARE AGAIN PROMINENT Atlantic Sugar Made Some Slight Gain.

Montreal, April 9.—Paper stocks were again prominent today with the Spanish River issues, particularly preferred leading. The latter reached a new high of 143 and retained 2 points of the advance at 142 1/2 at the close.

The common rose to 97 1/2 and retained 1 1/2 points of the gain at 97. Brompton rose to 87 1/2 but closed half point up at 86 1/2. Abitibi and Wapagamaac each lost a point, but Laurentide sold up to par and retained 1/2 point at the close of 98 1/2.

The traction rose easier, Brazilian losing a full point at 45 1/2, Detroit was down a half point at 104 1/2 and Quebec 1/2 point at 26.

Atlantic Sugar after touching 87 1/2 eased to 85 1/2 which, however, was a net gain of a point.

Stocks to score substantial declines were Ames Holden preferred, which lost 1 1/2 points to 104 1/2. Forgings, recently inactive, which lost 6 points at 235 and Merchants Bank down a point at 139.

The Steels were quiet.

NO DAYLIGHT BILL FOR CANADA THIS YEAR
 Ottawa, April 9.—In the House of Commons today speaking on the Daylight Saving question, Sir George Foster said it had now assumed somewhat of an international character. The government did not contemplate bringing in any bill with regard to it, "but if any enterprising states and towns wanted to adopt the system, there was nothing to stop them doing so."

PRICES FIRM ON MONTREAL MARKET

Trading Fell off, Only Two Stocks Exceeding 1,000 Shares.

(Private Wire Telegram to F. R. McDougall & Co.)
Montreal, April 9.—The activity which demonstrated itself after the holidays fell off somewhat today, resulting in transactions of but 7,792 shares which was 2,000 share less than the forenoon session yesterday and less than nearly all the transactions of the previous day. Only two stocks exceeded 1,000 shares, these being Brompton with 1,335 shares and Spanish Pfd. with 1,690.

The market held quite firm in practically all stocks. The pulp and paper issues were again the leading feature. Of these Brompton took a prominent place and showed more strength. Spanish River issues were firm. It is understood that a meeting will take place in New York on the 15th of this month, at which it is hoped that an arrangement will finally be reached relative to the adjustment which is to take place in the capitalization. Laurentide was moderately active and the stock was slightly firmer, selling at 135 par. Cotton issues were dull and firm.

Public Utilities were practically unchanged, save that Brazilian seemed to be pressing for sale. Nothing further has appeared lately relative to the dividend and it is not known whether action will be taken at the April meeting or will be postponed for another three weeks.

Iron and Steel stocks were not active. Car stocks were dull and practically unchanged. Tight money continues a topic of discussion and is undoubtedly influencing the volume of trading.

HARDWARE PRICES STILL ADVANCING

Higher prices have again been made on some important hardware lines. Warmer weather has started heavy demands for nearly all spring lines and is greatly stimulating sales of staple commodities. Owing to the ever increasing shortage of supplies, manufacturers and jobbers have considerable inconvenience and difficulties to contend with.

Nearly all lines of hammers have been marked up this week. Agricultural wrenches, cotter pins, distern pumps, pipe fittings, building paper, roofing, masons' screens, vises, rubber belting, coon mats, tents, sporting goods, calf meal, corn planters, horse and auto car, cross-cut saws, lampblack, alarm bells, stovepipe dampers, fuel and machine oil, gasoline and coal oil, fencing and smoothing irons, have all advanced.

The exchange situation although showing some improvement, is still a factor for higher prices. Collections are very satisfactory, although it is believed a situation has developed in placing of loans by financial concerns in order to hold in check speculative building. However, this shows work more beneficially to all concerned, it is believed. Many are interested in the new proposed freight rates, as it will affect some lines of hardware.

PRINCE RUPERT BONDS

Victoria, B. C., April 9.—The city treasurer of Prince Rupert will receive proposals until 12 midnight April 14th, for the following six per cent debentures amounting to $452,000 composed of $20,000 20 year water extension; $90,000 15 year telephone extension; $40,000 30 year hydro-electric; $150,000 30 year public schools; $10,000 5 year sewer extension; $120,000 15 year Morse C. R. Berge; 25,000 5 year Re-surfacing plank roads; $5,000 10 year electric light extension debentures.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Many grocery commodities have advanced to higher levels, while others have manifested a decidedly strong undertone. The produce and provision markets for the most part have developed an easier feeling and declines have been registered on some lines.

Montreal.—In summarizing the markets this week a somewhat easier undertone is manifest on many lines, although no definite changes have been effected. Current quotations show but little change over those ruling last week. Sugar is in considerably better supply, but the future condition of the market is a matter of conjecture. While in some quarters the opinion is expressed that higher levels will shortly be reached, others are more apt to think that lower quotations may be looked for. For the time being, however, sugar is very firm. Beans are easier as a result of speculation that did not pan out as was intended, and although prevailing prices show no change over those of last week, the tendency is towards lower quotations in the future. Cereals are steady and prices are unchanged. Teas continue very strong and the trade reports a great scarcity of high grade varieties. Shelled nuts are comparatively quiet and no new developments have appeared in the local markets. Spices are firm. Molasses has again advanced in a very strong market. As it is understood that supplies are pretty well used up in this market, no lower prices are looked for in trade circles. The local rice market is a very firm and decreased prices are not anticipated. Package goods show no material change, although jobbers report an early advance for cornflakes. Dried fruits stand firm in most lines, but small primes, such as 90's and 100's, are inclined to ease somewhat. Canned goods are very strong and quite active and advanced prices appear probable in the near future. The bay and grain market is very quiet, with a somewhat easier undertone. Flour is steady and no appreciable improvement has been shown in the matter of feeds. Puffs stand steady under a fairly active demand. Potatoes have again advanced, owing to the bad condition of the roads considerably hampering transportation. Cabbage has advanced to $5.00 per barrel, and Florida lettuce is selling at the high price of $3.00 per dozen crate. Coffee and cocoa are very firm, but no local changes have been effected. Canned chicken, clam, salmon, wrapping paper, camphor, onion sauce and Worcester sauce have all reached higher levels.

Toronto.—There is a generally firm undertone to all grocery lines, with advanced registered on several commodities. The situation for sugar does not look any too promising. Raw sugar has advanced about three cents per pound in the last week. Supplies of granulated have greatly improved, due to the Government control on exports. Refiners state that in regard to future prices it all depends on the cost of raw. If the prices of raw, then refined, will also be higher. Molasses stand advanced. Key Barbadoes is scarce even at the high figure of $1.50 per gallon. McKay's cream of barley has advanced to $6.25 per case. The special deal on Waxite cornflakes is now off and prices go back to the regular. The condition of the tea market shows no improvement. Java teas, which were selling at a low figure are now quoted in the primary and what stock remains is being quoted at higher prices.

The produce and provision markets are firm. Sugar is strong and advanced prices are expected. Corn is firm under an active demand. Teas are showing strong tendencies for higher prices. Canned fruits are practically cleaned up and what stock remains is being quoted at higher prices.

The produce and provision markets are bold steady. Hogs are firm, also butter, while eggs are easier.

strong under an active demand. All indications point to very high prices for new maple syrup. None has as yet appeared, but quotations are out in some quarters. Spices remain unchanged. There is every indication that prices will remain at high levels for this year. Supplies are more difficult to obtain, due to the short crops in the East. Shelled walnuts and almonds are firm and higher prices are expected. Shelled fiberts continue weak and prices are 3 to 5 cents per pound lower. Lemons are quoted lower. The potato market is firm and supplies are light. Advances have been made on biscuits, canned pineapple, jams, marmalade, chocolate, cocoa, prepared kidney, Epson salts, hives washboards, pickles, Castle soap and quick pudding.

Winnipeg.—All Winnipeg markets are firm. Sugar is strong and advanced prices are expected. Corn is firm under an active demand. Teas are showing strong tendencies for higher prices. Canned fruits are practically cleaned up and what stock remains is being quoted at higher prices.

The produce and provision markets are bold steady. Hogs are firm, also butter, while eggs are easier.

Manufacturers and wholesalers are limiting the quantities supplied to each customer. More Canadian buyers have gone over to Europe this season than ever before, and are making liberal purchases, notwithstanding the fact that prices are ruling exceedingly high.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN IN ENGLAND

Women Outnumber Men by Two Million in England and Wales.

DISPROPORTION IS INCREASING

Great War Responsible, Also Tide of Emigration - Dr. Leslie, Lecturer, Says That Girls Should be Better Educated as Comrades of Men.

Manchester, April 6.—A woman correspondent reports to The Guardian from London.

Great waves of gloom engulfed the audience at the Institute of Hygiene as they listened to Dr. Murray Leslie's lecture on the disruption of the sexes and its direful consequences.

Considering the subject in its social, economic, national and physiological aspects, the lecturer pointed out that the disproportion of the sexes was before the war greater in England and Wales than in any other country.

There were now probably 2,000,000 more females than males, and of these more than 1,000,000 were women between the ages of twenty and sixty.

According to one authority we might look forward to an excess of 3,000,000 females at no distant time. From a eugenic point of view, the war had been a greater disaster than the Black Death epidemic, which killed off 25,000,000 because the men killed in the war were those who should have been the husbands and fathers.

One cause for the disparity was the ordinary greater mortality among boys, and, indeed, among all males; and another was the vast tide of emigration flowing from these islands. It had been an enormous mistake to let so many men of marriageable age emigrate to distant lands without providing for the education of women of their own race. Dr. Leslie said:

Feminine Contentment. There could be no real social peace without feminine contentment and in this country there were many evils which could be traced to the undue preponderance of women.

As the spring house-cleaning season approaches, housewives may be interested in the device of an Indian inventor that can be used as a child's go-cart, sled, hat-rack, carpet beater or carpet stretcher.—Vancouver Province.

It was in regard to marriage and family life, he said, that female preponderance was playing the most important part. Never had there been so many unhappy marriages. Speaking from his own medical experience, the lecturer said that much of the existing unhappiness was due to the fact that there were very few men unhappy in their marriages who could not find distraction with other women.

Domestic Type Rarer. Female preponderance had forced an increasing number of the physically and intellectually fittest women in the country into the labor market, and the nation was thus deprived of the best potential mothers, the lecturer declared, saying that an extraordinary diversity of type had resulted from sex disproportion.

The domestic type, he said, still formed the bulk in the industrial classes, but was becoming rarer in the middle and upper classes. Never had the social butterfly type been so prevalent as it was now said to be—even more numerous than after the Napoleonic wars, the doctor declared, adding that it constituted a large proportion of physically attractive girls who were forever vying with each other for the scarce and elusive male appealing to man's lower nature instead of exercising the power to raise his ideals.

The intellectual type represented by the professional workers married in very small proportion, but to them was due the driving force that secured amelioration of conditions of employment of their sex. There was a great dif-

TAKE PIANOS FROM THE DRAWING ROOM

To Put in the Kitchen. Making it Attractive for Maids - So They Say They Are Doing in London.

From London, via the United News, comes the information that British housewives are stripping their drawing rooms in order to make the kitchens comfortable enough to accommodate the post-war maid.

It has become fashionable now in England to ask your friends into an almost bare drawing room. If there is no piano it makes no difference; nobody is likely to ask where it has gone if one happens to know you are the proud possessor of a maid. The only music in life emanates from the kitchen nowadays. Above stairs they have neither the time or the money to spend on it.

No more plain chairs and tables for Mary Jane. Since she bobbed her hair and jettisoned the "waaco" she has grown decidedly "arty" and her tastes must be catered to accordingly. So the drawing room bric-a-brac finds a place on the kitchen shelf, while the kitchen chairs and tables, as sold in the stores, come under the category of "art furniture."

JUST AMONG OURSELVES.

Pine feathers may not make fine birds, but they make a fine showing on your wife's new spring bonnet.

GUIDES AND SCOUTS OF TRINITY CHURCH Enjoyable Banquet Held Last Evening in the Church School House—Programme Carried Out—Tuxis Banquet—Scout Colors.

About sixty Girl Guides and Boy Scouts of Trinity Church were present last evening at an enjoyable banquet held in the school house. Among the guests were the rector, Rev. Canon Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong. Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Matthews, Mrs. Bill and Donald J. Crawford, Mrs. H. D. Gowers, head of the Girl Guides. Seven members of the present gave short addresses. A beautiful report, suitable for Friday, was served by a capable committee under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Golding and a number of young ladies acted as waitresses. After the supper, which was served at 6.30, presiding at the piano.

Adjournment was then made upstairs where square dances and guessing games rounded out a very pleasant evening. Prize winners in the games were Percy Johnston and Miss Mabel Currie, Paul Walsh and Miss Vera Daye.

Tuxis Banquet -On Tuesday evening a similar function was held by the Tuxis Boys of Trinity at which the Rector presided and speeches were made by the chairman and A. M. Greig. Miss Roberts Holder was the convener of the refreshment committee who served supper at 6.30. During the evening the new form of initiation to a Tuxis Square was introduced, which is quite an impressive ceremony.

On Sunday morning at Trinity Church the Scout colors are to be consecrated and all Scouts, Girl Guides and Scout Durs, have been asked to be present. This ceremony will be the first one of its kind to be carried out in St. John. It is understood, and the form to be used is that authorized by the Boy Scout Association for such occasions.

But when Charlie was informed of his wife's divorce intentions he said, "Such is life in the Far West" and then a lot of fellows like Sackville McKnutte try to tell you that Charlie Chaplin is not a genius of wit and humor!

Concert Party of Empress of France

Excellent Programme Carried Out in Seamen's Institute Last Evening Before a Large Audience.

Before a delighted audience which packed the Seamen's Institute to the doors, the Concert Party of the S. S. Empress of France gave a very fine entertainment last evening. Before eight o'clock it became necessary to close the doors of the Institute as it was already filled to capacity and all present regretted the fact that it was a "farewell" concert as the talented members of the party have made them so very popular in the Port of St. John.

The chairman of the concert party is H. Cosgrove, the Secretary, J. Hayes, the accompanist, U. Sorensen, and the director of the concert, J. Murphy. Last evening Walter Brindle acted as chairman, announcing that a concert will be held at the Institute this evening.

All members in the programme were so good and were so well received by the audience being kept in a room of laughter by the witty jokes and clever impersonations. The music was provided in the piano and violin solos and in several of the songs, particularly those of Miss L. M. Roberts and T. J. Grotton. Miss Roberts has a most sympathetic voice, Little Miss Rita Mc Mann by special request, gave several songs playing her own accompaniment and was so good. The programme is as follows:

Pianoforte Selection—C. Sorensen. Song—T. D. Gotton. Humorous Song—G. Tucker. Violin Solo—H. Hammond. Some Rags—Messrs. Shevlin and Wilcott. Song—Miss L. M. Roberts. Humorous Song—J. T. Jones. Violin Solo—T. D. Gotton. Comedy Duo—Messrs. Damage and Pearce. Song—B. Murphy. Violin Solo—H. Hammond. More Rags—Messrs. Shevlin and Wilcott. Song—T. D. Gotton. Humorous Song—G. Tucker. Song—Miss L. M. Roberts. Song—J. L. Jones. Accompanist—C. Sorensen. Director of Concert—J. Murphy. God Save The King.

SOCIAL GATHERING GREATLY ENJOYED

Old Country Club of St. David's Church Gave Excellent Entertainment in School House Last Evening

The organization known as the Old Country Club of St. David's Church met last evening in the school house, and enjoyed a social gathering. This Club is formed, as its name would indicate, of persons from England, Ireland, Wales, and Scotland, and in the address of the president, Alexander Cameron, he explained that the object is better acquaintance among members and the cherishing of old traditions. Mr. Cameron read a letter of greeting from Rev. J. A. MacKelligan, pastor of the church.

Rev. E. W. W. presided last evening, and the following special programme was carried out:

Rapport selection—Mr. Macdonald. Address—President Alex. Cameron. Vocal solo—Miss Osborne. Highland fling—Misses Ross and Wilkerson. Bagpipe accompaniment—Mr. Ross. Scottish reading—Miss Reid. Vocal solo—Mr. Ross. Accompanist—Mrs. J. M. Barnes and Miss Annie Aird. The meeting closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save The King.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES. If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Paralin (double strength), and add to it 14 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing, or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

MRS. FRANK GOULD NEW FILM STAR

A new star—Mrs. Frank Jay Gould, formerly the wife of the American millionaire tennis champion—is to shine in the photoplay firmament. She was well known when Miss Edie Kelly as a "Gale" girl, and her marriage to Mr. Gould was one of the matrimonial sensations of 1910. The marriage took place in Edinburgh, and was a well-kept secret. The union, however, was dissolved recently in the French courts.

The London Daily Chronicle understands that the cinema combination concerned in the venture has a very heavy financial backing.

"I am acting as literary adviser to the new combination," said Mr. Edgar. "It is going to be quite the biggest and most interesting thing done on this side of the cinema world. There are many details and some contracts yet to be settled, but Mrs. Gould's salary will be quite on a par with Pickford's. It will create a record for England.

The first film play in which Mrs. Gould will appear is being specially written. It will deal with a story of the domestic order, and be of thrilling interest. Part of the film will be taken in Devon and other portions in Scotland.

Some of the pictures will be taken as early as April near London. There is no question that Mrs. Gould will make a most attractive central figure for many home dramas."

Mrs. Gould is living in London, and although she is now to act in photoplays, has never yet seen either Charlie Chaplin or Mary Pickford on the film.

WHO IS MAYOR OF CALAIS, ME

On First Count Mr. Lord Has 544, Mr. Pickard 533, and a count Gives Mr. Pickard Majority of Three.

St. Stephen, N. E., April 9.—The voters of our neighboring city of Calais are still wondering where they are at for a mayor. Monday last was election day and when the shades of night gathered in, Percy L. Lord, a Republican mayor of last year had 544 votes, and Fred V. Pickard, Democrat aspirant for the office, was a close second with 541. A recount was demanded, as was to be expected, at this was held Wednesday afternoon the presence of both aspirants and four hundred guests, and all bound secrecy until this morning. Then, when morning came, the secret had to be divulged to the waiting public and was revealed that all the gains had gone to Mr. Pickard and that he had a clean lead of three good votes. Under the machinery of the election law, the victor appears to be elected, but it is announced that the victor is sworn in, but in the mean time next Monday is closely approached when custom, if not the law, demands that mayor and aldermen must be sworn in and formally assume the reins of office at the inauguration exercises. It is so long since the Democrats elected a mayor that they are impatient over the delay in lighting the big bonfire and the red lights on the Republican are in itself the assurance because of the delay in the election that they would stage over the election that they would stage over the election of five out of seven aldermen whether they get the mayor or not.

Outside of the honor of the thing, the Democratic candidate should be finally run out, for in a board like this he could have but little say, as all public affairs over there are run on strictly party lines.

An oratorical contest between two of the theological students of Mount Allison University, C. W. Kierstead and George E. Backman, was held in the college chapel, Tuesday evening, when eloquent discourses were delivered on "The Value of College Training to the Church of the Future," before the Theological Faculty and a large body of college students. The judges were Dr. Palmer, Rev. H. E. Thomas and Mr. H. M. Wood. Mr. Kierstead was unanimously declared the winner and was awarded a special prize of twenty dollars. The Faculty and students of Mount Allison University are planning to invite all graduates and former students to come to a general reunion in the closing days of the university year. It is hoped that a large number may arrange to be present, especially of "returned men" to greet each other and their old friends. May 17, 18, and 19 are the dates arranged. On these days there will be held in addition to the university convocation and the regular events of closing special exercises and class reunions. The best of the days may appeal strongly to anyone finding it impossible to come for the earlier two, as on that day in addition to the university convocation there will be a special gathering and an alumni banquet.

THE FAMOUS BABE RUTH Exhibition Games Played Yesterday

Babe Ruth holds the record for the longest hit ball in baseball. He knocked the ball 533 feet in one game last year. Street, who formerly caught for Washington, caught the longest thrown ball when he took a ball hurled from a height of 542 feet. The greatest number of runs ever credited to one player in one season was achieved by Ty Cobb who scored 147. The shortest game on record was that between Mobile and Atlanta which was completed in 32 minutes.

UMPIRE MADE A HIT. Bill Klem, umpired his first game behind the bat recently. He introduced each batsman before he came to the plate for the first time. His style made a big hit. It was "the next batsman is shortstop and captain, Mr. Arthur Fletcher." Bill went along in fine shape until he came to Marsans. Then he muffed the Armando.

THE TELEPHONE SITUATION IN WESTERN PROVINCES

Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta Telephone Companies Making Money.

In view of the local telephone situation, the following description of the Manitoba system will be of interest. The eleventh annual report of the Government Telephone Commission Manitoba, covering the year 1919 (which is the latest report available) gives the total assets under the management at $13,510,408. The investment securities are valued at $1,350,000, and the replacement fund at $2,800,000. The plant is valued at $9,360,408. Heavy operating costs, due to the steadily advancing wages, materials and supplies, were sustained during the year without any advance in the rates. In spite of that fact the net revenue for the year showed a net increase for exchange of $91,738, or 6.76 per cent, and $63,936, or an increase of 17.31 per cent, in toll revenue over the previous year. The operating expenses increased to $1,760,000, showing a gain of 2.58 over 1917.

Although the total income in exchange for the year amounted to $1,442,584, the books at the end of the year showed a surplus of revenue over expenses amounting to $1,768,400. The total mileage in the Province is 197,236 miles, made up as follows: Exchange, 131,282; rural, 48,979; toll, 17,975.

The rates in Manitoba are: Winnipeg, $60 for a business phone, $30 for a residential, and $40 for a rural exchange; Brandon, $40 for a business phone, and $30 each for rural and residential phones; Portage la Prairie, and other principal points, business phone, $35, $25 and $20, residential, $30, $18 and $15, and rural, $25, $22 and $20.

In 1918, when the Manitoba Government took over the telephone system, there were 5,323 subscribers in Winnipeg, and 5,219 in the rest of the Province. In 1919 the number for Winnipeg had increased to 16,120, and for the Province to 16,992, in 1919 the number for Winnipeg was 26,089 and for the Province 26,983. The city with 29,363 subscribers and the Province with 30,044. Figures for 1918 place the city subscribers at 31,482, and the Province at 32,172, making the total number of subscribers at the present time 58,554. Automatic telephones have been successfully installed in Brandon, and the installation in Winnipeg will begin this spring.

A comparison of the reports for 1918 and 1914 show that exchanges increased from 46,540 to 51,494, the total revenue from $1,284,116 to $2,003,307. The total operating and maintenance expenses with replacements and taxes from $1,346,369 to $1,453,899; net earnings from $477,749 to $609,408; and the balance decreased from $56,087 to $18,768.

In Saskatchewan, during 1918, the extension of service in the rural field was completed and inspected. There was shortage of material and labor but despite that fact 11,000 miles were completed and inspected, 1,000 miles were awaiting completion. Over 35,000 farmers were enjoying telephone connection in Saskatchewan at the end of 1918. There were 81,660 stations in the Province with 20,153 long distance wire miles, under the Government system, and 24,600 stations.

The total net earnings of the Saskatchewan Government telephone system for the year 1918 appeared in the annual report as $1,155,282.21, with the expenses at $610,514.83, leaving a balance of $544,767.38 to apply on interest, sinking fund and reserves. The sum of $680,157.30 was added to the total assets during the year. In 1917, 1,438,635 long distance telephone messages originated in Saskatchewan, as compared with 261,561 in 1910.

THE TELEPHONE SITUATION IN WESTERN PROVS.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Telephone Companies Making Money.

In view of the local telephone situation, the following description of the Manitoba system will be of interest. The eleventh annual report of the Government Telephone Commission in Manitoba, covering the year 1918 (which is the latest report available), gives the total assets under this department at $11,510,403. The investment securities are placed at $1,350,000, and the replacement fund at $1,818,880. The plant is valued at $9,699,823.

Heavy operating costs, due to the steadily advancing wages, materials and supplies, were sustained during the year without any advance in the rates. In spite of that fact the revenue for the year showed a net increase for exchange of $91,728, or 6.76 per cent, and $62,936, or an increase of 17.31 per cent, in total revenue over the previous year. The telephone increased to 61,760, showing a gain of 2,558 over 1917.

Although the total increase in expense for the year amounted to $142,554, the books at the end of the year showed a surplus of revenue over expenses amounting to $18,768.80. The total mileage in the Province is 195,226 miles, made up as follows: Exchange, 151,282; rural, 46,979; and toll, 17,465.

The rates in Manitoba are: Winnipeg, $60 for a business phone, $30 for a residential and $40 for a rural extension; Brandon, $40 for a business phone, and $35 each for rural and residential phones; Portage la Prairie, and other Provincial points, business phone, $35, $24 for residential, $20, $18 and $15, and rural, $24, $22 and $20.

In 1918, when the Manitoba Government took over the telephone system, there were 8,232 subscribers in Winnipeg, and 6,219 in the rest of the Province. In 1919 the number for Winnipeg had increased to 16,120, and for the Province to 14,992; in 1920 the number for Winnipeg was 26,069 and the Province 19,489; 1918 showed the city with 29,543 subscribers and the Province with 35,944. Figures for 1919 place the city subscribers at 31,113 and the Provincial at 26,178, making the total number of subscribers at the present time 57,291.

A comparison of the reports for 1918 and 1919 show that exchanges increased from 46,640 to 61,694, the total revenue from $1,824,116 to $2,008,907, the total operating and maintenance expenses with replacements and taxes from $1,348,587 to $1,493,899; the net earnings from $477,749 to $609,408; and the balance decreased from $56,067 to $18,768.

In Saskatchewan, during 1918, the extension of service in the rural field exceeded all previous records. There was shortage of material and labor, but despite that fact 11,000 miles were completed and inspected, while 3,900 more were nearing completion. Over 35,000 farmers were enjoying telephone connection in Saskatchewan at the end of 1918. There were 41,460 stations in the Province with 20,152 long distance wire miles, under the Government system, and 24,600 stations.

The total net earnings of the Saskatchewan Government telephone system for the year 1918 appeared in the annual report as $1,136,282.21, with the expenses at $610,648.53, leaving a balance of $525,633.68 to apply on interest, sinking fund and reserves. The sum of $680,167.90 was added to the capital assets during the year. In 1917, 1,428,625 long distance telephone messages originated in Saskatchewan, as compared with 261,851 in 1916.

The first telephone legislation passed by the Government in Saskatchewan was in 1908. Under it rural telephone systems are constructed and operated by rural telephone companies organized by the farmers in the district which the system serves. Capitalization of each rural company must not exceed $10 for each mile of line proposed to build, shares are $5 each and no subscriber must take more than four.

In leasing debentures, only lands liable for municipal taxes are assessable for telephone taxes. In 1909 there were only 390 pole miles built under the rural telephone system with 554 subscribers; since May last 7,000 pole miles have been built, and 8,363 subscribers have been added. The total rural mileage at the end of 1918 was 46,274, and the total number of subscribers was 51,242. The larger centres of Saskatchewan have installed the automatic telephone with success.

Alberta reported new construction and expansion of its Government telephone system to have been at a minimum during 1918 owing to war conditions, but a big construction programme confronting the Department for the next four or five years. The total earnings for the year 1918 amounted to $1,393,548.19, the disbursements to $773,925.07, leaving the net earnings $619,623.12 to apply on interest, sinking fund, etc. The earned reserves were given as $149,553.95. The statement of capitalization placed the valuation at $9,768,970.79. The toll lines, capitalized at $3,348,110.29, earned 25.13 per cent during the year; the exchanges, capitalized at $4,466,121.02, earned 11.80 per cent, and the rural, capitalized at $2,952,729.48, earned 6.68 per cent during the year, the last two not being considered "self-supporting." All three show a slight increase in their earnings over the previous year. All through, the 1918 financial report shows an increase in the earnings and extension of service over 1917.

Commercial Club After Tourists

Canada Steamships Lines May Operate Boats and Build Hotels on St. John River—Plans for Modern Exhibition Building and Race Course.

Something should be done to develop tourist traffic on the St. John River, said J. Hunter White, at the meeting of the Commercial Club last evening. Mr. H. McLaughlin said the Canada Steamships Lines, Ltd., at the instance of Nagle & Wigmore, were looking into the matter of running steamers on the river and also putting up hotels, though they did not expect to do anything this year.

Mr. White said that if there was more co-operation between the companies operating steamers on the river they might have a better service. The St. John River was one of the greatest assets, but its tourist possibilities had been neglected.

J. C. Chesley agreed the river was a great asset, and the Power Boat Club proposed to do something to put it on the map on July 1st, when they would hold a regatta at Long Reach, and have a large programme of rowing, power boat races and other sports. He hoped people in St. John would join with the North End club in making the affair a success, as they expected to have visitors from many other cities.

R. H. Armstrong said the transportation and industrial committee had been looking into the question of promoting a better service on the river. He thought transportation and industry should be the subject of two committees instead of one, as transportation was a big question of itself. A. M. Belding said they should also have a better service on the Valley railway in summer.

Mr. McLaughlin said he had discussed this with Mr. Ross, some C. N. R. officials were in favor of putting on a daily service both ways between St. John and Fredericton.

Mr. McLaughlin added that the club was watching transportation matters generally, and he was confident that the Eastern Steamship Company would have boats running to St. John by the middle of May, and thereafter permanently.

T. P. Regan wanted the club to take a definite part in the entertainment of the 246 American journalists, representing 10,000 papers who were coming here on June 14th. The Tourist Association, the Automobile Club and other organizations had definite parts assigned, but it looked as if the Commercial Club was to be left out in the cold. If they wanted to get on the map here was their opportunity.

Mr. McLaughlin said that the club would not take second place in any of the members of the club should turn out to welcome the visitors.

On motion of Mr. Regan the executive was instructed to appoint a special committee to see that the club took a fitting part in entertaining the journalists.

Among the new members elected were N. D. Desbriay, Gordon Sanson, J. A. Pugsley, J. McM. Trueman, H. A. Allan, C. A. Corneille, H. Mayes, F. A. Dewar, F. E. Teed, W. L. Stewart, H. A. Langbein, C. E. Shaver, M. Seely, W. H. Hayward, H. Mont Jones, M. E. Grass, E. P. Howard, W. H. Johns, Frank Wilson, G. H. Warren, R. J. Armstrong, Thos. Macaulay, Struan Robertson, J. C. Purdy.

The executive committee's report showed enrollment of 540 members, and 16 withdrawals, mainly on leaving the city. The executive endeavored to secure King's College for St. John, but thought it probable the college would remain at Windsor, suggested co-operation with other bodies to send delegation to Ottawa to urge extension of Negro Point breakwater and breakwater from eastern end of the island; deplored lack of interest in civic affairs and urged exercise of franchise, and planned to take part in entertainment of American journalists in June. A. P. Peterson and R. J. Thomson were elected to the executive.

Secretary McLaughlin reported that in the matter of the improvement of the wharves on the St. John river a Government engineer had been instructed to make an estimate of the cost of repairs, and there was a prospect the Federal Government would take them over and get them in proper condition. Stanley Elkins, J. A. Tibbet and C. A. Peters were given power to handle club funds.

The executive recommended daylight saving from the third Sunday in May till 2nd Sunday in September. J. Hunter White said this was a compromise, and had completely cured many cases which were considered hopeless. Another Epidemic OF THE SPANISH INFLUENZA

A great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one end to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after effect such as weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.

If you are run down, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against this terrible plague.

If you had the "Flu" before and it left you with any bad after effect Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring you back to health and strength. Mrs. C. C. Palmer, Koppel, Sask., writes:—"I wish to inform you of the great good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. After a bad attack of the Spanish influenza my heart and nerves were left in a very bad condition. I got two boxes of your pills and must say they are the best I ever used, and I have taken a great many different kinds. I will always keep Heart and Nerve Pills in the house."

'VIMY NIGHT' AT MONCTON

Gathering at Canadian Club Favors Banning of Hearst Papers from Canada.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, April 9.—The anniversary of the capture of Vimy Ridge was observed by the Canadian Club tonight, the occasion being termed, "Vimy Night." The speakers for the celebration were Brig-General McDonnell and Lieut-Col. Spurling, who spoke in the evening before and after Vimy Ridge. The speech making followed a supper at the Brunswick.

A resolution was passed by the club asking the Government to ban the Hearst publications. So far as Moncton is concerned, the Hearst papers have been banned already, as none of the local newsdealers will handle them.

Word has been received from General Sir Arthur Currie that he will address the Moncton Canadian Club some time in May.

NEW YORK MARKET WAS IRREGULAR

Call Money up to Ten Per Cent.

(Private Wire Telegram to F. B. McCurdy and Company.) New York, April 9.—The market's course has been quite irregular this afternoon, some issues selling up to high figures on the move, while the majority have been reactionary.

The equipment stocks led by Baldwin were decidedly buoyant until just at the close, when a slight shading of prices took place. The developments of railroad borrowing this week has created new interest in equipment stocks which cannot fail to result in new buying of locomotives and cars. The steel stocks also held up and there was a considerable rise in those shares which had not shared in the move heretofore.

National Lead was another strong spot, recovering from yesterday's loss on greater appreciation of the middle of the industry in its recent statement despite the comparatively moderate earnings shown. As has been estimated, call money tightened in the late afternoon, finally getting up to 10 per cent, which was a sufficient explanation of the shading down of prices in the last hour.

HAD ECZEMA For Over 28 Years

Eczema or Salt Rheum manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust forms, and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat is almost unbearable. The success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in skin diseases of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties, and we know of no other remedy that has done so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture.

Mr. James Walker, 152 Niagara St., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have been using Burdock Blood Bitters for some months past, and find it an excellent remedy for skin eruptions. I have suffered with eczema for over 28 years, and have tried almost everything you could think of. I am recommended to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and I am now clear of my skin trouble. It is certainly a good remedy and I shall recommend it to all my friends."

MINARD'S LINIMENT

"KING OF PAIN"

Vermouth, N.S. 6

TO TEACH LOVERS ART OF COURTSHIP

English Clergyman Suggests This as a Preventative of Unhappy Marriages.

London, April 7.—Classes for young lovers, to instruct them in right methods of courtsip, are being urged here by the Rev. Hugh L. Marsh, vicar of Mansfield, as a preventative of unhappy marriages and social evils.

"If parents neglect their duties toward their marriageable daughters and leave them in a state of ignorance," the vicar believes, "then the clergy should step in and conduct regular classes on the subject."

"In certain districts where there is a very low code of morality, it would be necessary to impress upon young lovers the need for purity and the necessity for sanctity in marriage. The papers are full of cases where the law of purity has been violated, before as well as after marriage."

For normal, healthy-minded couples, the vicar also proposes to hold classes. These would deal with the various problems of married life, as follows: Hygiene; Exercise of Tact; Comradeship; Need for Common Interests; Self-Sacrifice Respect for Each Other; and Vocation for Marriage.

"I am sure," says Vicar Marsh, "that religious instruction in such subjects would do away with the cause of a great deal of misery."

BUSY TIME AT MINE WORKERS' CONVENTION

The One Big Union Was the Big Idea and it Was Suggested as Panacea for ALL LABOUR EVILS

Discussion Took a Wide Range and the Chairman Was Kept Busy Controlling Affairs.

(Continued from Page 1) Other questions brought out statements from the International delegates that all the locals had been re-organized before the provisional contract was negotiated. Certain officials of the locals had been reinstated, and there had been no coercion used to get the men to join again. These officials had used their office to again disrupt the organization, and it might have been, as one delegate charged, that the transfer card of Nova Scotia miners presented in a Western local had been thrown in the waste basket.

G. McLeod appealed against the convention wasting time on a one-sided discussion. The delegates should refrain from trying to inflict their opinions and prejudices upon the meeting. Other delegates insisted that the question should never have come up at the convention of the United Mine Workers.

Delegate McNeill closing a speech which reviewed the whole labor and political situation in Western Canada and in which he announced himself having been an I. M. W. and not an official of it, moved that the convention commend the action of the International in condemning the One Big Union, and resolve in favor of the United Workers of America Mines. Question was taken on the motion on a point of order. The chair ruled the motion in order, as the invitation had been sent to the O. B. U. to send a man to present their case, but they were unable to do so, and had presented it in the form of telegram.

Delegate Livingstone was opposed to the motion which was in effect closure, and intended to end discussion of the question. It was the right of the delegates to be satisfied on the matter that they could perform their duty to the men of District 18. He charged that these men had become beaten in re-joining the U. M. W. in that district, and he had been instructed to vote "One Big Union."

Roach MacKay, Sprinchill, rose to a point of order, inquired if the discussion was permissible. A believer in the O. B. U., he also believed in loyalty, and his point was that as delegates to a U. M. W. convention, they were paid to talk of matters affecting the men who had sent them and not matters across the continent.

Livingstone interjected that they were railroading the motion, to which the mover objected. He demanded withdrawal of the statement which Livingstone refused.

Secretary McLachlan, who made the speech of the afternoon, then took the chair. He received a letter from Hon. G. D. Robertson, which he explained while marked "personal" was of general importance, and he had wired the Minister that he refused to keep the letter confidential. "It is a thing nature of which forced him to use for his own protection."

The Minister's reply denied that any threat was intended, and asked "if he held confidential as habit 'to promote discord'." In another wire, McLachlan said he refused to "hide the truth about the conspiracy existing." He then read the letter, the purport of which was that the Minister was unalterably opposed to the O. B. U. and condemned the "double-crossing" of the U. M. W. by Christopher Beard and others, stating also that if McLachlan or any officials in Nova Scotia "double crossed" and attempted revolutionary methods the Minister would "be just as emphatic and persistent in upholding the rights of the employers as it would be and have been standing for the rights of the employees."

A letter also contained reference to a letter of Messrs. Christopher Beard and Brown, addressed to the secretary, and Mr. McLachlan insisted that the charge of conspiracy contained in that letter was substantiated by the fact that only two copies of the letter had gone from his office, one to International Delegate S. Ballantyne, at District 13, and the other to Silbey Barrett. Mr. McLachlan pointed out that while the Minister assumed to give advice and condemned the action of Christopher as "double-crossing," he did not hesitate to ask the secretary to "double-cross" his colleague, keeping the letter to himself and give them all "the dope" contained in it, as coming from himself.

If membership in the United Mine Workers prevented him from assisting new ideas without being subject to the charge of treachery, the speaker would get out. Everything the International had done was not just. It was not so long ago that the miners of this district had protested against "hand-picking" of the delegates to the industrial conference. The condition was that the International and the Labor Department are hand in glove and "hand over the dope to each other." He did not agree with the O. B. U. in everything, but when conditions which crushed the working men were perpetuated by a "rotten government as ever existed," he would side with the O. B. U. or the I. W. W. and if the Union did not like it, he will get outside and talk. He also read letters to officials of the One Big Union and the International executive, inviting them to send representatives to this convention. The invitations were in the form of a resolution passed by the District Board, and in covering letter to the O. B. U. he had assured them that their representative would find many supporters in this district and urged that they send a "good strong man."

MAC INTERVIEWING WITH AN

By Ring W. Lardner.
To the Editor:
A great many of our readers have probably heard of Geos. Carpentier that burst a bird name Beckett in London, Eng., last fall and won the world's championship of Europe and now he is over here on U. S. soils to spend his honeymoon and maybe combine a little business with it on the side and I kind of figured that on acct. of him being in the public eye of our readers we might like to know what he is like personally and who could tell them better than myself on acct. of my command of francs and what other reporter was that could talk to him in his native tongue sandwich? So the other day I was down in N. Y. city and dropped into the Biltmore hotel and seen G. L. Rickard, who I

"Wait till you see immediately nicknamed Tex, and Tex took me up to Geos. suite and the valet opened a door and began leading us through different rooms till finally we got to one where he told us to get down and believe me I was ready. If they have any trouble finding a hall to hold the so called fight between Geos. and Dempsey in it, why all as they will have to do is hold it in Geos. suite and if they 1/2 fill it, why Geos. widow will have enough to keep her in ease and luxuries the rest of her life.

Tex said to come with him as he wanted to show me something that was 11 yrs. old— Well he has got a lot of hair comb college style and it is about the color of a gin fizz as I recall them. His face is one that I would just as soon trade him mine for it only for the nose which looks like he might maybe of done some blocking with it. He had on a shirt the color of sponge cake with a collar to match and a suit made of gray squirrel skin which you couldn't match on U. S. soils and even if you could you wouldn't. He wore a couple (2) bedroom slippers, with I suppose is on acct. of wanting to keep his feet in shape for the big fight though pretty near any one of Dempsey's opps. could tell him that the condition of the feet don't make much difference vs. that bird as as you only use them a minute.

Well by this time my twenty words was all used up and Geos. looked like he wanted to do some more road work around the suite so I and Tex got up

"Wait till you see Chicago," I said. Immediately nicknamed Tex, and Tex took me up to Geos. suite and the valet opened a door and began leading us through different rooms till finally we got to one where he told us to sit down and believe me I was ready. If they have any trouble finding a hall to hold the so called night between Geos. and Dempsey in K. why all as they will have to do is hold it in Geos. suite and if they 1/2 fill it, why Geos. widow will have enough to keep her in ease and luxuries the rest of her life.

Well I and Tex set down and in a few minutes a door opened a mile away and we could see Geos. coming along in the distance in top of the valet and I ast Tex if we shouldn't ought to arise and sing the Marseillaise but he told me to sit up and after a while Geos. finally got to where we was at and we both introduced to each other and now I guess I better explain what he looks like.

Well, I said, "I like him fine. But what a little thing he would be along the side of Dempsey?" "Yes," said Tex, "but I remember right and I generally always do, Dempsey was a little thing along side of Geos. and you bet on Geos. and I don't believe you had to pay no excess profits on that coat."

"Did you bring me up here to entertain me or insult me?" he asked. "I don't seem to have nothing to say back so I walked out on him." RING W. LARDNER. Greenwich, Conn., April 9. (Copyright, 1920, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WHILE WOMEN SUCH AS SHE ARE AT ITS PORTAL!

The Great Passion.

Best stories and sex discussions abound in print today; but most of them are on so low a plane that one questions the motives of the writers. There is even foolish talk of "a sex war." The average reader of this sort of current literature would scarcely suspect that a fundamental characteristic of womanhood is, as it was in the case of Deborah, and has been all through the ages and in every part of the world, the cherishing of the great ideals of patriotism and religion. When men's minds become bedazzled by material and prudential considerations, women see simply and straight into the heart of the great spiritual verities. Men may talk more about patriotism, but women pay its price. What a pure, clean flame of patriotic devotion burned in the hearts of the mothers and wives and sweethearts who offered up their loved ones to the cause of country and right! Countless is the company that has followed in the train of Deborah, Libanus, the martyrdom of religion is womanhood. With finer spiritual insight, it is woman who perceives the place of faith in life and in character-forming and in community-making. Despite the contention of the modern novelist, the normal woman considers her spirit before her sex.

In the world's chaos today it may well be that the great passion of womanhood for clan and for country and for God may yet save us all. When the women of the world take to their knees in impatience in prayer for our time, and this deep spiritual yearning for righteousness becomes overmastering, we may see the continuation of a new world order of patriotism and brotherhood unshaken. As truly as Deborah was the deliverer of Israel, and in character there is in the world's New, as ever, the reason over which I looked from the Kaiser's square tower is the church, in the home—in social life, in the church, in the school, woman may win the war for the highest freedom, which is freedom from the thralldom of our lower human nature. The real Armageddon is not on the plain where Deborah and Barak and God routed Sisera and his hosts, but in the heart of man. In a familiar poem Joachim Miller has paid tribute to the greatest battle:

"The bravest battle that ever was fought, Shall I tell you where and when? On the maps of the world you will find it not; 'Twas fought by the mothers of men. 'With sword or cannon or battle-boat, 'With sword or nobler pen; 'Not with the eloquent word or thought, 'From mouths of wonderful men. 'But deep in a walled-up woman's heart, 'A woman that would not yield, 'But bravely, silently bore her part. 'Lo! there is that battle-bleed!"

"No marshalling troops, no bivouac song; 'No banners to gleam and wave; 'But Oh! these battles they last so long— 'From babyhood to the grave. 'Yet faithful still as a bride of stars, 'She fights in her walled-up town— 'Then silent, unseen, goes down. 'Flights on and on, in the endless war, 'O ye with banners and battle-boat, 'And soldiers to shout and praise, 'I tell you the kindest victories 'Are fought in these silent ways. 'This ancient Hebrew prophetess and

HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED

A public hearing in regard to the application of the New Brunswick Telephone Company for increased rates will be held by the Public Utilities Commission, on Thursday, April 15, at 2:30 p. m. in the Municipal report will be taken up.

TAXED TO CAPACITY
Hotels in the city yesterday were taxed to capacity and travellers arriving on late trains found difficulty in procuring accommodations. Passengers looked to call on the steamships Empress of France and Grandplan were largely responsible for this filling of the hotels.

TRADE COMMISSIONERS
Canadian Trade Commissioners Vernon McKenzie, of Glasgow, and Norman Johnston, of Bristol, were in the city yesterday conferring with local merchants on matters dealing with export trade. Mr. Johnston left for Montreal last evening, while Mr. McKenzie sails on the Empress of France.

NEEDLES ALARM
A false alarm was sent in at 8:30 o'clock last evening from box 241 on the corner of Winter and Stanley streets for an imaginary blaze in a building under course of erection in that vicinity for the Purdy Ice Cream Company. Smoke from fires used in drying plaster which was coming from the building caused a citizen to pull the hook.

SAND POINT ACCIDENTS
H. J. Britten, 230 Sheffield street, a longshoreman working at No. 5 wharf, was taken to the Emergency Hospital late Thursday night suffering from a crushed toe, injury sustained when his foot was caught between two heavy keels. He was later taken to the General Public Hospital where the toe was amputated.

CHARLES LIVINGSTONE, 89 Acadia street, a longshoreman working at No. 15 wharf, injured his right hand when he caught it on a crate. He had the wound dressed at the Emergency Hospital and went back to his work.

What will become of the 44 widows owning property in Brussels street if they must pay from $150 to $2 a foot frontage under the new paving bill?

City Road is one of the main arteries of the city, and the poor man owning property should not be driven to the wall to provide a street for heavy traffic.

The streets belong to the people and the people should pay for them as they do for the schools.

POLICEMEN TAKEN FROM BEATS TO GUARD A CARGO OF LIQUOR

Three Local Officers Now on Duty, and Nine Will Go to Work When Ship Discharges — Steamship Company Pays City Sixty Cents An Hour for Each Man, While Sections of City is Left Unprotected.

As was recently mentioned in The Standard, certain sections of the city have little or no police protection, inasmuch that there is not enough policemen doing patrol duty to properly patrol the different beats. The police force is perhaps not larger in the number of men than it was some years ago when there was two police officers on each beat at night, but in the past year there was nothing in St. John as a traffic officer. Six sections of the city at the present time has a traffic man and the duties of these officers perform a quite necessary. The Commissioner of Public Safety in his last annual report mentioned the need of more traffic men, but when officers are placed on traffic duty it leaves the force sparse of men to patrol the different beats in a manner that the citizens receive the proper protection. In addition to the men on traffic duty, the detective department has about five men, who, like the traffic officers, are performing excellent work, but where no extra police are added to the force a large part of the city is practically left unguarded during the night and day. The beats to be patrolled are large and no one officer can properly cover the area, in fact, there are many nights when for several hours some of these beats are without an officer and the residents are unaware of such conditions. If the city is to be properly patrolled it is a certain fact that the police force should be strengthened with more men.

The Standard was informed yesterday that there has arrived in port a steamship with a large consignment of liquor as a cargo. The liquor must be guarded against thieves, and the Standard's informant says that at present three policemen have been taken from their regular duty on the streets and placed to guard the booze, further that the officers are working on regular eight hour shifts, and the steamship company is paying the city for the police duty which is special, while the consignment is held for the services of these officers who are not doing patrol duty in the city streets. If this is a fact the city is receiving double wages for an officer who himself receives the one. It is further stated that one of the three policemen who were doing duty on the steamship yesterday was a traffic officer or at least an officer who should have been doing duty on the corner of Water and Union streets, which has for years been known as "Danger Corner" and that this important place was left without any officer on duty. The Standard's informant also states when the steamship starts to discharge her cargo of liquor that five additional policemen will be needed, making a total of eight. With the city beats not properly patrolled at the present time, and eight men taken to guard a cargo of whiskey, it certainly leaves the residential and business sections of St. John without very much protection. On a previous occasion when the services of police officers were re-

Frank Hall Has Been Identified

War Veteran With Lost Memory Who Arrived Here Few Days Ago Has Been Identified in Toronto by His Regimental Number.

The unidentified Canadian soldier who arrived on the steamer Grandplan a few days ago, and who said he is Frank Hall of Brantford, Ont., was identified in the Toronto Orthopedic Hospital on Friday, by his regimental number. He apparently was of the 86th Battalion, recruited in Brantford, and the Soldier's Aid Commission was thrown off the track by his statement that he was of the 1st Battalion. The soldier recognized G. S. Motat, a patient in the hospital, and a resident of Brantford.

Under the proposed paving law the owner of a house worth $2,000 would have to pay as much per foot frontage as the owner of the most valuable house on the street. That is the law is unfair to the poor man and favors the rich, while under the general assessment every man pays in accordance with his means. Vote down such a law.
