POETRY.

From the New York Weekly Tribune
MY FATHER.

The weight of many a weary year
Rests on my Father's brow,
And none but silvery hairs appear
Above his furrowed brow;
His quiet life has not been spent
In luxury and ease,
But humble scenes, with sweet content,
Have power his heart to please.

His hands are hard with honest toil,
But they were never stained
With aught of the unholy spoil
By dark Oppression gained;
For kindly thoughts have ever dwelt
Within his open soul,
And his warm heart has never felt
Stern Avarice's dark control.

I never from my Father heard,
Through all my happy life,
A single false, deceitful word,
Or one of angry strife;
For power or place he has not sought,
But for his Country's weal
His heart has always had a thought
Of patriotic zeal.

The world would call him poor indeed,
And pass him proudly by,
But his proud soul will little heed
The glance of haughty eye;
He may be poor, but at his side,
When'er I take my place,
I feel that I can gaze with pride
Upon my Father's face.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT POKEMOUCHE.—We are sorry to have it to record, that the new Chapel in course of erection at Pokemouche, in the County of Gloucester, was discovered to be on fire on the morning of Wednesday, the 25th inst., which was soon communicated to the vestry adjoining, and the old chapel, situated a short distance from it. The three buildings, in a very short space of time, were reduced to a heap of ashes. The new building was 190 feet long, 44 feet wide and 26 feet high, with a fine tower. The outside was completed, and all the window sashes were in the building, ready to be placed, together with much of the inside finishing. The loss, a Correspondent informs, cannot be less than £1,000. [Miramichi Gleaner, Nov. 28.]

Genuine Wit.—Curious and odd things not unfrequently occur "before the Mayor." The other day, on attending to applications for situations in the police force, the Mayor, it was supposed, was about to invest Patrick Murphy with a "star," when some of the Irish competitors, outside the railing cried out: "Are ye goin' to pint 'Pat, yer Honor? He can't write his name, yer Honor." I am only receiving applications to day; in a fortnight we make appointments," said the Mayor; and Pat was told to call on that day two weeks. The friend through whose influence Pat had been induced to apply for office, said to him, as they came away from the Hall: "Now Pat, go home, and every night to you get a big piece of paper and a good stout pen, and keep writing your name. I'll set the 'copy' for you." Pat did as directed; and every night for a fortnight he was seen running out his tongue and swaying his head over "Patrick Murphy." Patrick Murphy, in the style of chirography generally known as "course hand." When the day for the appointment came, Pat found himself before the Mayor, urging his claim. "Can you write?" said that excellent functionary. "Truth and it's meself that just kin!" answered Pat. "Take that pen," said the Mayor, "and let us see you write. Write your name." He took the pen as directed, when a sort of exclamatory laugh burst from his surprised competitors who were in attendance; Howly fault!" said Dike, "but small good 'twill do him, he can't write 'ud it, man!" But Pat did write; he had recorded his name in a bold round hand. "That'll do," said the Mayor. His rivals looked in each other's faces with undisguised astonishment. A lucky thought struck them. "Ask him to write somebody else's name, yer Honor," said two of them in a breath. "That's well thought off," replied the Mayor. "Pat write my name! Here was a dilemma; but Pat was equal to it. "Me write yer Honor's name!" exclaimed he, with a well dissembled "holy horror; he commit a forgery, and I a-goin' on the Pelisse! I can't do it, yer Honor!" And he couldn't!—But his wit saved him, and he is now a "star" of the first magnitude.—Montreal Trans.

THE BOOK IN THE FORECASTLE.

A horrid oath was uttered by a wild and he-dress sailor-boy, as he dashed a small volume across the forecastle of a whale-ship adding, whoever wants may have it. It was a copy of— which had been placed in his trunk by a pious friend, and which on being taken out, as he was overhauling his things, on a stormy day had been hurled against the wall in the presence of his shipmates, with the expression of an oath as just stated.

The volume, as it fell, was picked up by an officer of the ship, himself a profane, and as to religious subjects, an utterly thoughtless man. With the single remark to the young sailor, that he ought not to treat any book in that way, he put it in his pocket, without even noticing its title, and soon went to another part of the ship.

For days the book was forgotten, until at last, in a idle moment, it was drawn forth by its possessor. At once, as he glanced at its pages, he became interested, and more and more so, as he went on, until the entire volume was finished before he left it. And it proved to him an arrow from the quiver of the Holy Spirit; it was blessed of God to his conversion so that in a short season he could rejoice in Christ as his portion. As the voyage wore on, his example and exhortations were blessed to the conversion of one or two of his shipmates; and at its close he was returned in safety to his wife and two children. That wife, like himself, had long been impenitent; and nothing could exceed the astonishment she felt, when on preparing to retire for the first night after "Mary, shall we no commend ourselves to God's care and ask his blessing?" They knelt in deep emotion, and as his humble and fervent prayer was poured forth at the throne of grace she wept and sobbed in agony of spirit, feeling that she was a guilty and unworthy sinner, and wishing that she had the blessed portion she saw her husband had found. Aided by his counsel, it was not long before she, too, was rejoicing in the Saviour, and after a proper delay for self-examination and prayer, both were received on the same Sabbath, as members of the same Church.

In a few months he sailed on his next voyage, from which he never returned. His body rests beneath the billows of the ocean, his spirit we trust, in the bosom of his Saviour. Years have passed away. His widow still lives leading a life of humble and useful piety; few have done more good in the proper sphere of a woman's influence. His children have grown up to years of intelligence and the eldest has already become hopefully a child of God, and a member of the church. The youngest is the subject of many serious thoughts which may God bless to salvation. How far, through them, the influence of that one volume may yet reach, eternity only can reveal.

PAINTED TEA.—Professor Reid, a practical chemist of New York, and a person to be relied upon, states that, having seen in the shop windows of that city a sample of green tea of a very bright colour, he suspected it was of the, class of painted and poisonous teas recently examined by London chemists. He examined the article, and says he has discovered it to be painted tea; that is old stale and exhausted tea, covered with some colouring matter, no doubt injurious to health; and proposed a simple test, which is, to take a spoonful of tea, and put it in a half a tumbler of water, and allow it to stand for five minutes, and then stir it up, when the paint will be detached and form a turbid mixture with the water.

FROM BERMUDA.

The Royal Mail Steamer FALCON arrived at Halifax from Bermuda, with dates to the 22d ult.

Several convicts had escaped from one of the hulks but had been recaptured.

YELLOW FEVER still prevails at Barbadoes—Assistant Surgeon Montgomery Irvin, M. D., 72nd, Highlanders, and Lieut. Pyne, 66th Regt., were among its victims.

GEORGETOWN, DEMERARA, Oct. 19, 1848.—Our Market has been thrown into a great state of commotion, in consequence of all the Duties being in abeyance. Immense quantities of Gin, Brandy, Tobacco, and all other articles, that, under the old Tariff paid a heavy duty, are being forced into the Market and, consequently, the loss to the Revenue will be immense. There is likelihood of our Colonial Legislature doing anything towards a New Tariff until something decisive comes from the Colonial Office, at home, which cannot be before December. In the meantime our Market will continue to be flooded with every description of Imports.

Accounts from Tortola Grenada, state that the blacks in St Croix are still holding out.

By an arrival from Martinique, we learn that considerable excitement prevailed in that Colony, on account of the disorderly conduct of the lately emancipated population.

COALS FROM DORCHESTER.—During the present week a cargo of coals has arrived from Dorchester, Westmorland County, which is of an excellent quality, and ignites very quickly. It produces a very brilliant light and is said to be much superior to the imported article for generating Gas. We learn that a quantity of this coal has been purchased for the use of the Gas Company. It gives us much pleasure to notice the efforts that are being made to develop the resources of this Country, and that in this instance we are indebted to Mr. John Steadman, a native of this Province, for the valuable discovery. [New-Brunswick.]

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

THE PITCAIRN ISLANDERS.—Every reader is familiar with the story of the mutineers of the Bounty and the singular circumstances which led to the formation of a settlement on Pitcairn's island, where the Patriarch John Adams taught a community of South Sea Islanders to live in Arcadian simplicity and virtuous bliss. Within a few years some reports have prevailed which indicated an unfavorable change in the condition of these interesting people. But we are gratified to find that the simple-hearted Islanders still maintain their innocent manners and happy ignorance of luxury and vice. There seems to be one spot in the world where the benefits of civilization prevail without any of its evils. The following is the most recent description of the Pitcairn community. It is furnished by Captain Worth of the British ship Calypso, who visited the island in March of the present year. The old sailor's eyes appear to have quite run over at the sight of such a picture of happiness:

"I was so gratified by such a visit, and would rather have gone there than to any part of the world. They are the most interesting, contented, moral and happy people that can be conceived. Their delight at our arrival was beyond anything. The comfort, peace, strict morality, industry, and excessive cleanliness and neatness that were apparent about every thing around them was really such as I was not prepared to witness. Their learning and attainments in general education and information, were really astonishing. All dressed in English style. The men a fine race and the women and children very pretty and their manners really of a superior order, and smiling and joyous. Crime appears to be unknown, and it there is really true happiness on earth it is surely theirs. The island is romantic and beautiful, the soil of the richest description, yielding almost every tropical fruit and vegetable—in short it is a little paradise."

I examined their laws, added a few to them, assembled them all in the church and addressed them, saying how gratified I was to find them in the happy state they were; advising them to follow in the steps of virtue and rectitude they had hitherto done, and they would never want the sympathies of their countrymen, the English, who were most interested about them. I added such advice as I thought useful, and such suggestions as would, of course, be for their advantage.

It was really affecting to see these primitive and excellent people, both old and young, 140 in the whole, looking up to me and almost devouring all I said, with eager attention, and with scarcely a dry eye among them, and, "albeit unusual to the melting mood," I found a moisture collecting in my own eyes which I could scarcely restrain, they were so grateful, so truly thankful for all the kindness that had from time to time been shown them, and the interest in their welfare shown by us and our countrymen. I had all the men and most of the women on board, but there was such a sea that the poor girls were dreadfully sea sick—I fired some guns and let off rockets on the night of our departure; and they returned the compliment by firing an old honey-combed gun belonging to the Bounty.

I set them completely up; gave them 100 lbs. of powder, gunpowder and union jack, casks of salt beef and pork, implements of agriculture of all kinds, clothes, books, &c., and sailed on the evening of the 11th for Tahiti.

A VERDICT AGAINST A RAILROAD COMPANY.—A case was tried in Buffalo last week, between Mary Walker, wife of Hiram Walker, deceased, and the Buffalo and Niagara Falls Railroad Company. On the 18th of December, 1847, the husband was killed by the upsetting of the cars upon the road, at the curve in the road at Black Rock Dam, and the suit was brought for damages. The jury returned a verdict for $3,500.

Romantic marriages seem to be all the rage in Cincinnati. As an offset to the case of the young lady who married her coachman, an instance is mentioned in the papers of that city, of a youth who married his sister's cook.

A daring but unsuccessful attempt was made on the 27th inst. to burn the National Theatre, Boston; but the flames being quickly discovered, were put out without much damage being done.

The Republic of Liberia, the independence of which was recognized last month by England and France, was founded in 1-20, by the American Colonization Society.

SAINT JOHN AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The monthly meeting of the Directors of this Society was held at the Secretary's Office on Thursday last, and was well attended. The Board agreed, with much satisfaction, that measures were in progress for establishing Branch Societies in several Districts of the County, and that notice had been given of a meeting at Patrick Brown's tavern at Loch Lein, on Tuesday next, at noon, to organize a branch Society in that district. It was therefore resolved that the Rules of this Society should be published for general information, and they will be found below. Several Directors were requested to attend the meeting.

It was communicated to the Board, that the celebrated Professor Johnson, so well known by his excellent lectures on agriculture, and who has for some time past been engaged by the Highland Society of Scotland as a practical instructor, will visit America next season to travel for six months. It was thereupon resolved that a communication should be addressed to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, praying that an invitation may be forwarded by him to Professor Johnson to visit New Brunswick next season, with the view of obtaining his opinion as to the best means of improving the condition of agriculture in this Province.

The Board resolved to import twenty-five copies of the Farmer's Ready Reckoner, from the Glasgow Free School, and fifty copies of the Manual of Farm Husbandry, for distribution—as also a copy of Stephens' Book to the Farm for the library of the Society.

Mr. Robert Power of Black River, was added to the list of Directors of the Society, and was also appointed a member of the committee for establishing a Branch Society in the Black River District.

The active exertions of the St. John Society, and the lively interests evinced by the Directors in every matter connected with the advancement of the agricultural interests of the Province generally, will, we hope, have a beneficial effect and induce other Societies to be equally active in their respective Counties and Districts. —Courier.

ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH.—The Telegraph posts are now all up, the wire distributed along the entire line, and put up about twenty miles from Calais this way. We understand that the line will be ready for working in a fortnight or three weeks.

The Shop in Prince William-street lately occupied by Mr. Smellie, has been taken for an Office in this City. —Id.

The Weather of late has been very fine for the season, and so unusually mild, that the River St. John is open all the way to Fredericton, with the exception of a mile or two in the vicinity of that City. The Steamer For St. John stated from Indian Town last night for Head Quarters. —Id.

Earl Dundonald.—The Halifax Courier says:—

The Earl of Dundonald who is now about to leave for a season this part of his extensive command, and who came here almost an invalid, has, we are happy to learn, enjoyed uninterrupted good health during his short sojourn in Nova Scotia. It is said he has expressed his determination, if all be well, to return to Halifax as early in the ensuing year, as the important nature of his duties will permit. The noble and veteran Earl has not been an idle visitor; he has evidently estimated the importance of the Mineral and Maritime resources of the province. We observe by an English paper, that the North American Fisheries have especially enlisted his attention; and a strong remonstrance to the Home Government has, it is said, had the effect of calling attention to the limited number of ships of war on this station, considering the immensity of the interests requiring protection;—together with an intimation that the force in this quarter is to be considerably augmented. The thanks of the people of this province are due to the Earl for the zeal he has manifested for our interests; and it is to be hoped through his instrumentality, the Mineral and Fishing resources of this portion of the British Empire, may receive that attention, both at home and abroad, their importance demands. We are satisfied that much good will result from the Earl of Dundonald's visit to the Eastern coasts of Nova Scotia.

The company formed some years since in Philadelphia, and which has sent out several successful expeditions to recover the treasure sunk in the Spanish Main, in the frigate San Pedro, the other day dispatched another vessel, with diving bells, and all the necessary apparatus. In three previous expeditions they have recovered about $50,000 in Spanish dollars, but there is still supposed to be two or three millions in the wreck, besides a large quantity of jewels and plate.

THE STANDARD.

ST. ANDREWS, WEDNESDAY DEC. 6, 1848.

The letter portion of the English Mail arrived just as our paper was put to press, but no papers.

The gold mania of California is spreading over the United States. We observe by the papers of New York and other cities, that expeditions are fitting out for the El Dorado of the West. With the gold beds of California will soon outstrip Oregon and New Mexico, in richness and in population. The commander of the U. S. forces and governor of the colony, has sent an official account to the Secretary of War, of both the gold and quicksilver mines of California. The gold region is said to extend on both sides of the Sierra Nevada, a surface equal to the State of New York. "All is not gold that glitters" may prove an unpleasant truth to the "gold hunters."

From the Colonial papers we learn, that the various St. Andrews' Societies through the Provinces, celebrated Thursday last, St. Andrews Day, by the good old custom, of dining together, and from the descriptions we have seen, a right merry time they had of it.

EXTRAORDINARY.—There fell under our observation yesterday, says the Kingston, (Quebec) Journal, the most singular case of disease we ever witnessed. The subject is a man named Snyder, aged 35 years residing in the town of Wawarung in this county. Four months ago he had an attack of sickness; but recovered and was to all appearance entirely healed. About a fortnight after his recovery he was seized with drowsiness, and for some time slept nearly two-thirds of the day. This increased until he would sleep two or three days without waking. When we saw him yesterday he was continuing an interrupted sleep of 5 days. His pulse is regular though not very full; his respiration is easy and natural, and his skin moist and cool. If food or drink be placed in his mouth he swallows it, and he walks when led by the hand and slightly supported. Tuesday last he awoke from a sleep of two days, spoke a few words, struck a lady who was in the room violently with a chair, and almost immediately afterward sunk into his present slumber. He has been sent to the New York Hospital.

NEW TELEGRAPH.—It is stated that a line of magnetic telegraph is about to be constructed in Cuba, by a gentleman of New York.

There are three literary debating Societies in Halifax—the Catholic, the Young Men's, and the Athenaeum.

INCIDENT TURKISH.—Rev Mr. Fletcher, Pastor of the Second Universalist Church in Lowell, has been suspended from the Ministry, that he was engaged to be married at the same time.

USURIOUS INTEREST.—It is books of a firm which failed, show the payment of $2,000 interest money within a short time, one hundred thousand dollars, paying their creditors but cents on the dollar; whereas, had payment when they first failed, their creditors would have received larger dividends, and paid in full. The moment a place itself in the hands of its fate is sealed; the longer it is kept in the hands of its creditors, the more rapidly it dwindles away, and the more the note shatters. —N. Y. Herald. In the who pays unusual interest is barred from getting his certificate. —Montreal Herald.

Cuba.—A Spanish position the Tebar, the run-out, so that it corresponded to the Spanish Government for the and Porto Rico to the United States.

Copied.—The whole and that has been shipped this. Supplied, up to August 13th, one hundred and sixty-two of nearly pure copper.
