THE LAST PLANK.
It is well that the reader hereof should know that I am not one of the politically favored ones who enter the U. S. Navy through the cabin windows—but that after years of toil and privation, ranking from a cabin boy upwards in merchantmen, I found myself, in May, 1861, in New York, just returned from China, in command of the clipper ship Meteor. Twenty years of sea service had bronzed my face—thirty-two winters have failed to whiten either hair or beard for me.

Fired of that. The thunder of the first gun first. Sumpter were rolling throughout the land—the hearts of an excited people were throbbing with fears and hopes—the flag I loved had been insulted—one country which was the only mother I, as an orphan boy, could look to, was in danger of destruction by the treacherous hands of her own sons, urged on by the minions of avaricious "rascals" abroad I knew my duty. I had but one course to steer. It was for Washington, there to offer my services to aid in strangling the serpent of secession. They were accepted. I was commissioned as volunteer lieutenant, at once ordered to duty, and thence then I have been christened, as well as adopted, in smoke and fire, in blood and carnage, under Porter, Dahl green and Farragut in succession. All of this only to tell how I became, and what I am now, a lieutenant commander in the regular navy.

My last voyage, before I was made captain of the Meteor, was the most fearful of my life.
I was first mate of the ship Triumph bound from Boston to New Orleans, with an assorted cargo of great value. The captain, Babbitt by name, was an oddity in every way. He always struck for new courses, took all tracks but those prescribed by custom, and thought nobody knew anything but himself.

For instance, he insisted that a countercurrent ran southward inside of the Gulf Stream, and that the only way to make a quick voyage to New Orleans was to hug close in on the shore side of all the way out, despite the danger of capes, rocks, and reefs, the whetswords of which he said he knew too well not to avoid them.

Who could gainsay him? He was captain of his own ship—monarch of it, and all on board. So, sailing with a stiff nor'-wester on our quarter, we sped swiftly on, passing all the dangers of the coast successively, such as Barregat, Hatteras, etc., and found ourselves on a morning suddenly becalmed off Cape Florida, close in with the land, but soon drifting northward despite the captain's "southerly current."

It was very clear—not a cloud in sight—warm and close; though it was September, and the time for an equinoctial gale to be upon us.

Heave the deep-sea lead, Mr. R., said the captain to me, and see if it is shoal enough to get an anchor to hold.

I rounded, and forty fathoms was given.
Send two hawsers together and drop our heaviest ledge, was his next order. Then do a full every sail but the fore-storm-say-sail and the balance-reefed spanker, and send down all the light spars from aloft, and get ready to house top masts and secure lower yards, get up preventer-braces and see all secure below and aloft.

Ay, sir! And it was done.
We were now ready for a storm, but I, old as I was in sea matters, could see no token of it anywhere.

We're going to have a tough time of it, Mr.
R. said Captain Babbitt to me.
Why, sir, said I, the sky is as clear as my love's dear eyes, and the water is as smooth as a mill-pond. I see no sign of wind.

Wait about two hours and you'll sing another tune, he replied. I've been in these latitudes before. The worst of this will be that it will come down off shore, and if we must sail, Cuba and her reefs will be under our keel. If we bump our heads there, it will be the last of the old Triumph and us too.

I made no reply, for I thought if only one of his fancies, and leaving the second mate in charge of the deck, went below to take a nap, for I'd had the mid watch and felt rather snoozish. I went to my state-room and threw myself on my bunk, and soon was dreaming of a blue-eyed angel-a-hore, whom I hoped to be applied to at a not far distant time. A heavy tramping overhead, and the shout of "all hands about!" brought me out of sleep, and to my feet in an instant. I hurried on deck. Never can I forget the change of scene, of sky and sea, from the calm beauty in which I had left it when I went below. Now, black clouds were rolling up to the northward, coming on in great blotchy waves, like crags of ebony mountains, overhanging and about to fall upon us. The sea was black under the shadowy wing of the storm, and the roar of the tempest, like a hoarse, angry voice, came to our ears from the distance.

Up with the fore-storm-say sail—never mind the spanker!" shouted the captain. You two mates take the helm—now, lash yourselves to the rigging—it will wash us fore and aft before we get headway. And as he spoke an ax from the becket, he bounded forward and cut away the hawser which held us at anchor.

As he did this, I looked off over starboard beam and saw the water apparently rolling in a huge white breaker towards us. The next instant the wind struck us, and for a moment I thought all was over, for the ship keeled until her lower yard-arms were in the water.

Hand up—hard up the helm! shouted the captain in my ear.
I could but just hear him, and pointing to the wheel, he saw that his order had been anticipated.

Just then away went our mizen-mast close by the deck, and that alone saved us, for now he had paid off before the wind, and the ship righted. Then the stay-sail filled, and away the old craft shot, like an arrow sped from a well strung bow. As we got out into the gulf, the sea rose literally to a mountain height, and the wind blew so hard that the foam was scattered in cloudy mists through the air.

How does she head? I asked the captain, who stood forward of the wheel.
Sea—sea—west, sir! I replied, in a shout, for the gale drowned all common tones.

If she goes at this rate, and holds that course, we will strike Cuban rock inside of ten hours!
he cried.

Why not try to heave her to? I asked.
But in a sea and gale we would be keeled in a minute were we to try it; all our hope is in a change of wind, or a lull which will let us put the mainsail on her.

This looks rough, but what is to be will be.
There is no rubbing that out, I replied; and then I did my best to steer her as nicely as I could, so that no broaching to should hasten our fate.

On—on—once passing a hapless vessel drifting bottom up, with her sails and spars aboard of her—we swept, until the night was upon us. Then the captain and a good seaman relieved us from the helm, and I had time to think. I went below and looked at the chart. I made an estimate of our speed, and to my horror, saw we could not be over twenty, or at most, thirty miles to windward of the rockiest part of the Cuban coast.

I went on deck sick at heart, for sea and gale seemed higher than ever. I told the captain how near the last peril was, but he did not seem to heed me. He stood with his shoulder to the wheel, and the ship flew madly on. Never had she sailed with such speed before.

I went forward, and while I looked at the phosphoric flame flashing from beneath the bow, I thought of home, of my own loved Ella —and I groined in bitter agony. I never before had feared death—but now—now so near, it was terrible!

An hour—maybe more—and then I hear all too plain, even above the wild roar of the storm, the dreadful sound so sudden and deep, of the surging breakers. "A rushed aft," and shouted the fearful tidings in the captain's ears.

God help us! God help us! was all he said.
An instant after, we were in the white, seething water, and then lifted skyward on a mountain roller, we were dashed down with a crash upon the dreaded rocks. Darkness above—flashing phosphoric all around—the ship shattering, parting beneath our feet, men struck in wild misery, my pen cannot paint the picture!

And now wave after wave swept on over us, tearing her all asunder, and yet I clung to a rope which I had fastened to a bolt in the deck, not knowing whether one was alive beside me, or not, for all was silent but the winds and waters. Like howling demons they went on with their fearful chorus.

How long seemed that night, while I could feel that the shattered remains of the old ship were going fast from under me! But the blessed daylight came at last, and even the sun shone out. And I saw, lashed like myself to the deck, but one man—that man was the captain. Whiter than foam was his face, and full as white his hair, which had been glossy brown the day before. Our eyes met—his were wild and wolfish—insanity's fire was in them.

The sea now drove the last part of the wreck asunder, and for a moment I thought we were both gone, but on one high spot of rock we got a foothold, and there clutching the coral crag, with bleeding hands we hung.

Until then neither of us had looked from each other or the wreck. But together glancing southward, there we saw not a mile distant, beautiful, flower-carpeted, fruit laden Cuba.
White cottages, groves of golden oranges, and tall palm trees; never had they looked so beautiful to me. Yet a mile of terrible breakers lay between us and it—a "wristle of waters," through which the strongest swimmer could not hope to pass.

And the ship was gone—no, one plank—a single plank—small, but large enough for one to cling to, came drifting in our reach. With one hand each of us seized it, with the other we clung to the peak of the rock which alone had saved us from instant destruction.

Let go the plank! it is mine. I will lash myself to it and live! cried the captain, his eyes glaring fiercely on me.

I will not yield my right; the plank is mine and life is as dear to me as to you! I shouted.

I have a wife and children, you have none, let me live for them! he pleaded.

I have no dearer than all the world, I will live for her who yet shall be my wife! I cried.

Fool—fool! she shall look for you in vain!
As he said this, he drew a pistol from his bosom. Well I knew it was capped, water-proof ed body. I clutched it—it was that, but I drew the plank towards me which he had let go of when he clutched his weapon. He raised his hand, his weapon was levelled at my heart.

Give up the plank! he shouted.
Never, coward never! Fire, and my dying curse go with you!

I closed my eyes—I knew my fate—but a wild rush of water, a fearful wave, swept me far, far away from the rock. Then I was drowning—gurgling choking in the water—But I rose, and as I did something hard touched my body. I clutched it—it was that, but I drew the plank towards me which he had
let go of when he clutched his weapon. He

COLONEL ANDERSON'S LETTER.

We deem it only a simple act of justice, to that worthy, efficient, and highly popular Officer Colonel Anderson, to copy his letter, published in the Globe of the 12th inst. It will open the eyes of the people, as to the way their money goes.

[To the Editor of the Globe.] Sir,—You may perhaps remember that about this time last year an anonymous complaint was made in some of the papers that Major James, (formerly 7th Hussars), my very efficient paymaster, was receiving double pay as Frontier paymaster, and as filling the same capacity at the Camp of Instruction. This enquiry, proved to be incorrect, although, had it been the case, there would have been good grounds for allowing the double pay as at a personal inconvenience, he was alone performing work for which otherwise two officers would have had to be paid.

On consulting the Auditor General's Report, I find that more than one Officer, without the claims of Major James, has been drawing pay in more than one capacity.

I have distinctly endeavored to discover if any Officer was so paid permanently or how many Officers are now so paid permanently as Militia Staff, but I believe I do not exceed the truth when I mention six as the number. With the rates of pay I am also in-acquainted, but I find after considerable trouble that one of the Subordinate officials, alone drew in the last year within a few dollars of the total amount required for Staff expenses in the year 1865-66, comprising pay for Adjutant General and Quartermaster General, travelling expenses, stationery, postage, telegraph rent of office, fuel, &c. This you find stated clearly under my head, page 12 of Adjutant General's Report for 1866, and will find the total Staff charges amount to $1,285.37. It therefore, becomes a question for the consideration of the Province, and especially of those interested in the Militia

EUROPEAN INTELLIGENCE.

Dublin, June 14.
It is supposed that the Fenians who landed and were captured a short time ago at Dungarvon, were subsequently taken to Waterford and confined in jail there. This week they have been undergoing a preliminary examination, and the testimony given so far shows that four of them had served as officers in the United States army during the late rebellion.

It has already been reported that Corvion who was one of the chief witnesses against them, had been roughly handled by a mob.

Yesterday while the prisoners were being conducted from the Court House to the Jail in charge of a strong police force a crowd of sympathizing friends gathered from all parts of the city and made a fierce attack upon the guards, with the intention of making a rescue. A light ensued during which some thirty of the police escort were injured.

One of the attacking party was killed, and six are known to have been wounded by the fire of the guard.

The latter made a stout defence, and succeeded in safely depositing their prisoners in the city prison, where the mob dispersed.

The trial of the Fenian Walsh and a number of his companions which has been in progress before the Special Commission in session at Limerick has resulted in the conviction of all the accused.

London, June 14.
It is reported that the negotiations which for a long time have been pending between the Cabinets of Copenhagen and Berlin with reference to Schleswig have been concluded, but the results at which the two governments have arrived has not yet been made public.

Despatches from Athens report that many volunteers have left Greece to reinforce the ranks of the Christian patriots in Candia, and a large volunteer camp has been established in that island.

ST. ANDREWS, JUNE 19, 1867.

The approaching Election.

The people of this County have again and again been warned to make selection of a man to represent them at Ottawa; although some conversation has taken place upon the subject no decided action has been taken. It is generally understood that the southern and eastern sections of this County have resolved by their united voice, to send a member to the House of Commons, and they can do so if they only will. In making this statement we are only reiterating the publicly expressed sentiment. Mr. Hibbard does not appear desirous of the honor, indeed he is reported to have said he will not "appeal," and consequently has not yet given his assent to become a Candidate, but as it is reported requisitions are to be presented to him, he may comply with the wishes of his constituents.

Geo. D. Street, Esq., has also been spoken of as a Candidate for Ottawa, by persons from various parts of the County. We believe that Mr. Street will comply with the wishes of the people, provided that requisitions from the different parishes are sent him. With reference to his abilities, and qualifications, there is but one opinion—that he possesses both of a high order. Let it be understood that the nominations do not originate in St. Andrews but that this Parish will ably second the views of her sister Parishes.

The public voice then has nominated B. R. Stevenson as the man for the local Legislature.

Mr. Stevenson is a young man of good abilities, classical education, enjoys a liberal share of practice as a lawyer, and popular. It is probable he will be prepared to resign his office of Registrar of Probates, and in some measure to give up his practice. Mr. Stevenson is not unknown to the electors, as he was a Candidate in 1865 when he with the other Confederates was defeated, but got disheartened. His speeches during the canvass in the various Parishes were listened to with marked attention, and at the Polls, such was his popularity, that he received several Anti votes. Had he not been engaged in active military service last year, in defence of the country, these are no doubt he would have offered, and been elected. There will be two members required for our local legislature, and it belongs to the people to select two good Union men. They can be had, and elected, if called out. In other Counties meetings are being held, to choose Parish delegates for County convention, for the nomination of Candidates for the Local and General Legislature. It is to be hoped this County will not be behind in the political race.

The St. Croix Courier says:—"In reference to a representative for Ottawa public opinion seems to be pointing to John Bolton, Esq., who we earnestly hope will be induced to accept a nomination."

The names of the gentlemen above mentioned, are those who are spoken of by influential electors.

The Act exempting lumber from export duty shipped at the port of St. Stephen, has been repealed. Mr. Stevens and Mr. McAdam did all they could to prevent the bill being passed; but the House almost unanimously passed the Bill as did the Council also. Every port in the County is now very justly placed upon the same footing. The beacon and light-house, funds which now be augmented, and the Pilots will receive their lawful dues.

We understand that some persons are negotiating for a property here, to commence the business of manufacturing Boots and Shoes by machinery, and that operations will be commenced without delay, as soon as the purchase is completed. The facilities for carrying on such a business, are not surpassed in any other part of the Province; with a large back country, and rapid means of transit, there is a good prospect of driving a remunerative trade. It is to be hoped that a liberal policy will be pursued by owners of property, and that encouragement will be given to capitalists, and business men to come here. Every inducement should be held out, and facilities afforded to them, now that there is a prospect of their casting their lot among us. An infusion of new blood would do much towards rendering this locality what nature intended, a manufacturing town and seaport accessible at all seasons of the year. With a Railroad passing up some eighty miles into the interior of a rich agricultural country, and branches to St. Stephen, Woodstock and ere long to Moncton, and may we say it—the almost certain prospect of our Railway forming part of the Intercolonial line, with we trust Western Extension running into it, what better locality could be selected as a business centre? We have energy and enterprise and all that is required is the introduction of capital to develop our natural resources. Again we repeat, let a wise and liberal policy be adopted—let there be facilities afforded and encouragements held out to capitalists to invest their money here, and then we shall have, manufactures and business.

INCREASE OF SHIPPING.

We notice with much pleasure that our harbor is once more presenting a lively appearance. Week before last there were twenty-six vessels in the inner harbor, including ships, barques, brigs and schooners, all loading for British and Foreign ports. The fleet of schooners owned at this Port is much increased, and we are happy to learn have been doing a profitable business. We purpose shortly to give a list of the vessels, their tonnage and owners. Like the Revenue collected at this Port, they have been largely increased, within a few years; the latter mainly through the business energy of Mr. Robert Ross.

Representatives.

It is probable that within a few weeks, this County will be called upon to elect "two able and discreet persons" to represent the county in our Provincial Legislature, to take the places of Jas. G. Stevens, Esq., and J. W. Chandler, Esq., who it will be seen have been appointed District Court Judges. A member for the Parliament at Ottawa will also be required.

The Act to incorporate the Deep Sea Wharf Company, and to build a Railway therefrom to the New Brunswick & Canada Railway, passed both branches of the Legislature and has received the Governor's assent.

The Rev. B. F. Rattray delivered a lecture on Temperance, in Paul's Hall, on Monday Evening last. The audience was large and attentive and the Rev. lecturer spoke eloquently, convincingly and argumentatively, for upwards of an hour. The Sons of Temperance and Cadets were present in their regalia. A vote of thanks was unanimously given to the Lecturer for his able instructive and convincing lecture.

A "Calendar of the Baptist Seminary, Fredericton, for 1866-7," has been received. From it we gather that the Institution is in a flourishing state; its number of students at present is 122. The recent examination was highly creditable. Gen. Doyle, Dr. Jack, President, and Prof. Campbell of the University, and other gentlemen were present.

DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE for July has been received, and maintains the character of being fit the head of the Monthlies in the States. The fashion plates and Music furnished in each number, is worth more than the subscription price, $3 per annum; and the large amount of reading matter could only be published for so low a sum from the Magazine having a very large circulation. The proprietor has still room for increasing his list, and will send the Magazine upon $3 being remitted to him at his place of business, 473 Broadway, New York.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY.—A plan of the central and frontier routes prepared by the townsmen W. M. Bush, Esq., C. E., for the Intercolonial Line, has been exhibited in town, and the distances and comparative cost given of each route. The information is based upon reliable data; from these figures we learn that

The Central line 340 miles, $15,435,000

The Frontier line 208 " $6,868,128

Another note states that when the Annapolis and Windsor line is built the distance from St. John to Halifax will be 182 miles

And by rail, via Moncton and Truro 272

Difference 90 miles.

It is to be hoped that the general government at Ottawa will be furnished with copies of this plan, and that the shortest and best, as well as the least costly route will be selected, viz: the FRONTIER line.

A BIG SHOW COMING.—If one might be allowed to judge by the announcements extraordinary of the grand caravan of Cushing & Co., covering an acre or so of fence with the choice of wall literature, highly illustrated, our citizens are to be regaled on Friday, June 21st with one of the most interesting equestrian and zoological entertainments combined that has ever made its appearance. The institution referred to is the "United States Circus and Menagerie," under the personal supervision of our old horse acquaintance Colonel Joseph Cushing.

Now, all these performances, gymnastic feats, grand display of wild beasts, etc., may be seen in one exhibition at St. Andrews on Friday June 21st—afternoon and evening—one ticket only being required to see everything in circus and menagerie both. The entertainments are so arranged that those who cannot make it convenient to wait and see the circus performances, will have an hour and a half on each occasion to examine the wonders of the menagerie previous to the commencement of the equestrian exercises. How the proprietors can manage two first-class exhibitions at the price usually demanded for one, is no business of ours; but that such an entertainment will be given by the United States Circus and Menagerie at the time indicated in their advertisement, to which we refer the reader, is a fact that interests every body, and we therefore give it to the publicity it deserves.

PROVINCIAL APPOINTMENTS.

Thomas C. Justason, Esquire, to be a Coroner for the County of Charlotte.

William Benjamin Guphill to be Postmaster at Grand Manan, in the room of Joseph Lake man, resigned.

Henry M. Paughlin to be Commissioner of the Wrecked Property, and Samuel Johnson to be Pilot Commissioner, in the room of Francis Hibbard, Esquire, resigned, in the County of Charlotte.

Charles F. Clinch, James R. Bradford, C. E. O. Hatheway, Henry Hitchings, John S. Magee, Hugh Morrison, Isaac Newton, Hayden Guphill, Thomas Watt, James A. Moran, Abram Young, A. H. Gilmour, and Isaac McElroy, to be Justices of the Peace for the County of Charlotte.

William M. Smith, Esquire, (Inspector of Steamboats, Saint John.) to be the Inspector of Steamboats for the Gulf Ports also.

Scotlan Vail to be Preventive Officer at Magdalen, in the room of Thomas Davis, deceased.

By His Excellency's Command.

Secretary's Office, S. L. TILLEY.

11th June, 1867.

THE DISTRICT JUDGES.—These appointments have been made. They are as follows:—Charles Waters, Esq., for District of St. John and Kings; Jas. W. Chandler, Esq., Westmorland, Albert, and Kent; Jas. G. Stevens, Esq., Charlotte, Carlton, and Victoria; James Steadman, Esq., York, Sanitary, and Queen's; and Edward Williston, Esq., for Northumberland, Gloucester, and Restigouche.

The first of July cannot, as was at first supposed, this year be observed as a Dominion holiday, but it will be so virtually if it be appointed as a provincial holiday by the different local governments. Secretary McDougall on the part of "the present Province of Canada," invites "all Her Majesty's loving subjects" to "celebrate the said first day of July as a Day of Rejoicing," and the commander of the Canada Volunteer Force has given notice of a parade on the day. We presume Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will pursue a similar course. We think there ought to be some local arrangements made which would secure a social reunion of the friends of Union in this quarter.—[Journal.

FREDERICTON, JUNE 15.

After routine business, the resolution to appropriate $800 in aid of the new chair taken up, and now under discussion. It is put forward as Government measure, and supported on the ground that the proposed chair is most important one that could be instituted, and necessary to enlarge the usefulness of the University, and would take only $400 out of the Treasury of the Province, as on late President's death his pension would fall in. Chandler, Connell, Beckwith, Fisher, spoke in favor.

Smith, Hibbard, Bosford, Ryan, Lindsay, have spoken in opposition. It was finally passed.

—Charlotte County last year paid $600 for marriage licences.

Capt. Strangway's Battery of Royal Artillery, which has been stationed in St. John for some years, will leave on Monday for Montreal and overland. The march will occupy several days, and at Little Falls they will meet the Battery which comes from Canada to take their place in St. John. The departure of this fine corps, who—officers and men—were so well and favorably known, will be deeply regretted by this whole community.—[Freeman.

The Woodstock Iron Works have we understand been purchased by Mr. Best, from the Commercial Bank, and as soon as arrangements can be made for a supply of wood, the operations will be commenced again. Mr. Best's experience as former manager of the works will now do him service.—[Globe.

—A large excursion party from Woodstock—800 or more—visited St. Stephen on Friday last.

DROWNED.—We regret to learn that a young man named Henry Clinton of Oak Hill was drowned in the second Lake on the Digbyquash last Sabbath afternoon. He was aged 18 and an only son. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents.—[Courier.

The Hon. Messrs. Tupper and Archibald arrived from Halifax on Saturday night via steamer from Windsor, and took up their quarters in the Park Hotel, where they were visited by numerous Union friends during their stay. These gentlemen leave by the steamer this morning for Ottawa in company with the Hon. S. L. Tilley and the Hon. Peter Mitchell.—[News.

Mr. Hanford sold some 800 lbs. flour by auction yesterday at Johnson's wharf. Prices ranged from $7.75 to $8.50.—[Telegraph.

PASS THEM ALONG.—A Minstrel Troupe, known here as Skiff and Gaylord's, have de-camped leaving their advertising bill at this office unpaid. Our contemporaries along their line of march will please be on their guard.—[Ibid.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We learn that Mr. Geo. W. Hammond, while passing through Charlotte Street, on his way to his home on Mecklenburg street in company with some friends yesterday, suddenly fell down and expired.—The deceased leaves a wife and a small family to mourn their sudden bereavement.—[Ibid.

ITEMS.

There was no news from the Westward yesterday.

—A house at upper Woodstock, owned by Mr. O'Donnell, and occupied by Mr. Amos Daw, was destroyed by fire on the night of Wednesday last.

—Mr. J. Q. Howard, late American consul at St. John, N. B., has just returned from England.

—An exchange of opinion that the liquor law amendments would have been ratified by the people of Maine even if liquor sale had been made a capital offence.

—A portion of the cemetery at Middleboro, Mass., is planted with turnips and potatoes, which the Boston Transcript thinks is a better evidence of Yankee economy than good taste.

—Feminism is dead. Why should it not be buried? We advise the poor Irishmen and Irishwomen in this city who have been swindled out of their wages by the Jeremy Diddlers who have strutted their brief hour as its leaders, to give it a rousing wake, and joining in the long funeral procession, to bury it in Jones' Wood forever.—[N. Y. Herald.

—Appearance seem to indicate that the Hon. Charles Fisher will consent to offer for the representation of this County at the coming election for Ottawa.—[Fredericton Reporter.

—The marked decline in flour as the birthday of the New Dominion approaches has not yet struck the Freeman so forcibly as some other current events, such as the rise of flour, closing the shipyards, &c.—[Journal.

—Jas. G. Forbes, Esq., has been appointed Clerk of the St. John County Court.

—It is stated, and we believe correctly, that the Hon. David Wark has been appointed Receiver General. At any rate, Mr. Wark has the refusal of the office, and it is very likely that he will accept. If he does there will be a vacancy in the Senate.

Notwithstanding some complaints of the Spring having been a cold and backward one—accounts from the country districts represent the crops looking as well as usual. It is said that the grass crops throughout the Province is unusually promising.

DIED.

On the 17th inst., Mr. Hugh Dixon, son of the Scotch Church aged 71 years.

At St. John, on the 16th inst., after a lingering illness, Mary, relict of the late Rev. Richard Knight, D. D., in the 67th year of her age.
