LET US HOPE SO. ROBERT DALE'S DEATH.

LONDON, March 13.—Robert William Dale, M.A., D.D., LL.D., an independent minister, who died today, was born in London Dec. 1, 1829, and was educated at Springhill College, Birmingham, and graduated M. A. at the University of London in 1852. He began his ministry at Carre's Lane (Congregational) Church, Birmingham, in June, 1853, as co-pastor with the late John Angel James, on whose death he succeeded to the full charge of the church. Dr. Dale was charman of the Congregational Union of England and Wales in 1868-9. For seven years he edited the Congregationalist, and he is the author of many works on theological subjects. In 1877 he delivered at Yale College a series of lectures on preaching, being the first Englishman appointed to the Lyman Beecher lectureship, and in the same year he received from Yale the degree of D.D. In 1883 he received from Glasgow the degree of LL.D. Dr. Dale had taken an active part in Noncomformist con-troversies and Liberal political move-ments. He was formerly vice-chairman of the Birmingham School Board, and had been appointed by the Senate of the University of London governor of King Edward VI.'s School, Birmingham. In 1886 he was appointed member of the Royal Commission on the Elementary Education Act, and he signed the minority report.

Dr. Dale had suffered from fainting fits for months and had Bright's disease and heart trouble.

GOV. O'BRIEN'S REQUESTS. LONDON, March 13.-A Parliamentary paper has been issued giving the correspondence between the authorities of Newfoundland and the British Government in regard to the financial crisis in Newfoundland. The paper contains a ernor of Newfoundland, for aid in providing a loan of $1,000,000, together with a warship and the appointment of a royal commission for the province. Lord Ripon's reply to these requests says the Home Government will do nothing in the matter until the committee has made further inquiries. Further equests are made by the Newfoundland Government as follows: "That the Home Government sanction the issue of treasury notes, that they pass a bill guaranteeing a certain value to all bank notes, that they give an assurance that the London Government will not meddle with the constitution of the colony, and that they guarantee £30,000 yearly for a quarter of a century as interest on the colony's bonds." The Home Government in reply refuses to give the assurance asked, and declines to assume the ground that self-governing colonies should look to the Imperial Government for aid in financial affairs. However, Lord Ripon writes that the Government would dispatch a commissioner to Newfoundland to relieve actual public distress from the treasury funds, but they would not extend assistance to commercial houses.

TORONTO, March 13.-The decision of Chief Justice Meredith at St. Thomas that no evidence of previous applica-tions by John Hendershott for insurance upon the lives of people other than those who are directly concerned in the case, as young Hendershott, the alleged murdered man, is admissable, will have an important bearing on the Hyams case, which comes up in the police court on Monday. A considerable amount of evidence upon which Crown Attorney Curry hoped to make out a strong case against the prisoners will be excluded. It is almost certain that an attempt to upset Chief Justice Meredith's ruling will be made shortly and a reserved case prepared for argu-

STANDING OF THE C. P. R. As Stated by President Van Horne-No Floating Debt.

MONTREAL, March 13 .- The recent heavy decline in Canadian Pacific stock in the London market was accompanied by bear rumors that were industriously circulated with a view to further depressing values. The New York Evening Post said in a cable dispatch from "The annual report is expected to show that the entire reserve is wiped out." Another paper went so far as to say that the company had now a heavy floating debt. Sir William Van Horne, president of the company, was seen Saturday with reference to these statements, and said: "No doubt the reports about which you ask are started to affect the prices of the company's securities. There is little information that I can properly give in advance of the annual report, shortly to be issued, and which will be so full and clear that the critics will no longer have any excuse for drawing upon their imaginations. The report that the company has a floating debt is false. Aside from its funded debt and current monthly accounts, it has not owed a dollar for a good many years, and I may go so far as to say that it is not likely to for a considerable time, even if the times do not improve."

Mr. J. Israel Tarte Replies to Personal Attacks-Mr. Bain Consents to Run in Wentworth.

MR. BAIN CONSENTS. HAMILTON, March 13.-Mr. Thomas Bain, M.P., will carry the standard of the Liberal party in Wentworth at the coming contest for the Dominion Parliament. Yesterday a representatve deputation of the Liberal Association of the riding waited upon him and secured his consent to be nominated, and arrangements were at once made for holding a regular party nomination meeting one week from tomorrow.

MR. TARTE TALKS. MONTREAL, March 13.-The Gazette has recently made a number of personal attacks upon Mr. J. Israel Tarte, M.P., and yesterday it asked: "Is the Mr. J. Israel Tarte who goes about speaking from the same platform as Mr. Laurier the Mr. J. Israel Taxte who got half of Mr. Pacaud's $10,000 strike from Contractor Whelan of the Quebec court house?" Mr. Tarte publishes the following answer in the evening papers: "Mr. J. Israel Tarte, M.P., who speaks from the same platform as Mr. Laurier is the same J. Israel Tarte who, in 1890, when he was one of the leaders and one of the large subscribers to the political funds of the Conservative party received, with the full approval of the leaders of that party, and distributed amongst them and their friends in the House and outside of the House a certain sum of money which later he learned had come from Mr. Whelan. The nature of the transaction has never been made public, and it is from conversations overheard in my own room in the St. Lawrence Hall between Senator Lacoste, Senator Tasse and myself that the Gazette people have been able to abuse me as they have done in the past and as they are doing today. I had made up my mind in 1890, during the elections, to make a clean breast of the whole thing and to throw the responsibility on the shoulders that should bear it, and I had, accordingly, prepared a full statement for La Minerve. Senator Tasse and Mr. Lanow Sin Alexander Lacoste justice of the court of Queen's Bench, brought the statement back to me at the St. Lawrence Hall and begged me not to publish it, as it would expose Conservative candidates and leaders to misrepresentation from Liberal newspapers, and I acquiesced to their request. At times I am very much tempted to feel sorry for it. I had nothing to hide then, and I have still nothing to hide in that matter." MR. LAURIER'S ANSWER. WINNIPEG, March 13.-The Battleford Herald says editorially: "A letter received yesterday from the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier announces that he will accept the nomination as Opposition candidate in Saskatchewan, provided no local man enters the field."

WORDS OF WARNING. KINGSTON, March 13. — Sunday evening Rev. C. O. Johnston, pastor of the Queen Street Methodist Church, preached a vigorous and eloquent sermon in which he predicted that if some change did not take place soon in the business of the Dominion there would be inaugurated before long a reign of terror, and people would carry on such a revolution as would make the rulers and those high in authority tremble. He believed this revolution was not far off, and it would be the outcome of high taxation and reckless government. What was needed for this country was legislators with pure character, who would handle the funds of the country as carefully as they would their own. If such men had composed the Government at Ottawa would the debt of the Dominion be as great as it is? Would not the funds have been honestly spent, and would there have been such revelations as have come to light in connection with the letting of Government contracts and in the building of canals and bridges, while thousands of men are going up and down the country in search of work and unable to find

Unless the governmental policy of managing the country's affairs is not changed soon there will be cause for the common peeople to run down those in high positions, and demand their rights under threats of violence. People needed to be represented by men of character and bravery, who would do their duty faithfully, no matter what the result. Are there such men at Ottawa? The Cabinet has been fighting shy of the Manitoba school question, which could be settled in five minutes by men who desired to be fair and just in their rulings. All they had to do in this matter was, as in other matters, to give the people their

What have the electors of Kingston done in the matter of representation in Parliament? Have they not voted for men whom they would not trust alone in a drawing room while a purse filled with money laid on the table? He urged them to consider the matter, and let their slogan be "Economy and Good Government." Credit was given the Mowat Government for honest administration of the affairs of the Province of Ontario; and sympathy was extended to the people of Quebec on account of the reckless way in which their funds were handled.

MR. LAURIER AT LORETTE. QUEBEC, March 13.—Hon. Mr. Laurier and Mr. Fremont, M. P. for Quebec county, Mr. Fitzpatrick, M. P. P. for the same county, and a large number of Liberal politicians met at Lorette today. The town hall was placed at their disposal. After the usual introduction by the mayor, Hon. Mr. Laurier opened the meeting with a speech in favor of Quebec county. There were present a very large number of electors from the county and Quebec city. Hon. Mr. Laurier in his speech showed to his hearers how they were burdened with taxes. He took as an example the most necessary articles of consumption, suc as coal oil, sugar, cotton, etc., which vere taxed 100 per cent—a heavy burden on the Canadian farmers and laborers. Canadians, said Mr. Laurier, paid more than Americans for their articles of daily consumption, and yet labor in Canada is much lower than in America. If the Liberal party should ascend to power taxes would be reduced, as the tariff would be revised in such a manner as to give the poor man, the lat rer and the farmer the opportunity of providing their families with the needful at a low figure. The Government might have given us reciprocity, and a large quantity of our hay might have been exported to the States. During the Mackenzie Administration a profitable trade was carried on in hav with the States. Under Conservative rule the hay product is almost lost for want of a ready and profitable market. The speaker reviewed briefly the Conservative polic and told his hearers that if Canad n producers were not able to cope th American industries protectic i was the cause of the trouble. In fir hing his address Mr. Laurier anounced that Mr. remont would again be the Liberal candidate in Quebec county in the coming ele "ons. Messrs. Fremont and Fitzparick and

Dress Goods

The backbone of the business. This is the largest Dry Goods house west of Toronto. and Dress Goods is the vertebrae of the house. In all this vicinity, no equal stock-(that has been true for years). It is eminent, pre-eminent truth now. One hundred and ninety-four feet of counter devoted to the display and handling of these goods. It is simply impossible in cold type to describe the many beautiful colorings and varied effects gathered here for your examination and choice.

Where they all come from, what we're going to do with so many, are subjects of general inquiry. An exposition of textile fabrics, a dress goods education—if you take the time to study them.

The whole Dress Goods stock grows fuller, richer, better every day, and thus far this season it is without serious competition. The task of the buyer is heavy. It demands that each season's stock be better than the last, that it shall include all the latest good things. He has been away close on three months, looking and hunting for things to interest you. The best of everything. Visit our counters.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE

Decides to Meet in London Next Year.

Separate Schools and Dual Language Condemned Officers Elected.

ST. CATHARINES, March 14.-Yesterday was the best session of the Grand Lodge that the "stalwarts" have known for many a year, their views prevailing on several important points. It was not a complete victory for either side, but the rank and file prevailed to an un-wonted extent, and have succeeded in amending the grand master's recom-mendations in one or two vital points, a bit of rude treatment for which they subsequently made some amends to Mr. Hughes by re-electing him to office, along with most of the grand board, to cared itself uncompromisingly in favor not only of national schools, but also in support of non-interference, while the lodge has gone a step further and has declared in favor of an agitation to amend the British North America Act so as to abolish the dual language and all separate schools. The election of officers was then proceeded with, and the grand board was re-elected, almost entirely by acclamation. The only changes were in the grand lecturer and the grand director of ceremonies. In the former office Mr. C. H. Baillie is replaced by Mr. O. F. Wilkins, of International Bridge; in me latter Mr. R. Burns is replaced by Mr. Wm. Wilson, of Brantford. The officers chosen are as follows: Jas. L. Hughes, Toronto, G. M.; W. M. Lockhart, Everett, D. G. M.; D. M. Jermyn, Wiarton, Junior D. G. M.; Rev. W. Walsh, Brampton, G. C.; E. F. Clarke, Toronto, G. T.; Wm. Lee, Toronto, G. S. (all by acclamation); R. H. Holmes, Toronto, and T. C. McAvoy, Balsam, grand auditors, the latter being re-elected; O. F. Wilkins, International Bridge, G. G.; Wm. Wilson, Brantford, G. D. of C.; J. H. Scott, Kincardine, D. G. S. The following clergymen were appointed deputy ing clergymen were appointed deputy grand chaplains' Rev. D. Carscaden, Forest; P. T. Mignot, Milton; C. C. Perry, Davenport; H. J. Leake, Drayton; Philip Jones, Coldwater; J. C. Madill, Sarnia; T. A. Wright, Brantford; R. Hobbs, Brantford; W. F. Brownlee, Corpie and C. Hall, Pinter. Gorrie, and G. Hall, Ripley. A number of gentlemen were appointed deputy lecturers for the respective districts included in the Grand Lodge jurisdiction. London was selected as the place of

WOMEN'S ART CLUB.

Their Annual Exhibition Now in Progress.

A First Glance—Many Excellent Exhibits -Some of the Most Notable Pictures.

The Woman's Art Club, of London, is now holding its second annual spring exhibition at the large and commodious rooms, 4361 Richmond street. The exhibition was formally opened at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, and before it closes on Saturday it is expected that thousands will have availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect the pictures. The first impression made upon one on entering the club rooms is that a higher level of excellence has been reached than ever before. There is much more evenness of quality in the work shown. The obvious dissimilarity between the work of beginners and that of professionals is not now so striking as it would naturally be the first time local talent was amassed in London. Already the hope and wish of the founder of art clubs for Canadian women (that the advantage of interchanging work might prove itself a benefit to those who would not otherwise be likely to keep themselves in-formed on the progress of art) shows no distant signs of being realized. The influence that a broader outlook, the opportunity to compare home and personal talent with that of maturer and more experienced effort, is to be seen on every hand. One is impressed with the conviction that London women will prove themselves a bright sisterhood, not slow to take hints from themselves and others, and that reciprocity and co-operation in art as well as in many other spheres are valuable things.

SOME NOTABLE PICTURES.

A painting in oils of a stream winding through a meadow, by Miss McConnell, of Toronto, was a little gem gleaming on the south wall which instantly caught and held the eye, arrested by its rich yet dignified coloring. It was almost reluctantly that one deserted this luscious bit of meadow grass and mirroring water to consider other claimants for notice. In the vicinity of "A Meadow Stream" is found a little picture by the president of the Woman's Art Asso ciation of Canada, called "A Gusty Day, essentially French in atmosphere and mos probably painted somewhere in the neigh borhood of Paris. The colors in this pic-ture are wonderfully handled, and there is a boldness about it which gives strength and truthfulness to the work. Not less pleasing, but of another kind, is Mrs. Dignam's picture of "Roses in a Glass," in which her handling of flower subjects is as usual displayed to great advantage. A more ambitious effort of her brush, in which she gives us one of those studies of the wild and broken Muskoka country, is a "Wood Scene," which is a bit of real out-of-doors, seen through a frame. There is nothing uncertain in the treatment of this picture, nor does it lack positive values or distinct enunciation of notes. It was somewhere in this part of the exhibition that a rather charming little study of violets attracted our attention by the happy manner in which the artist had caught and expressed the peculiarities of this very simple but subtle little flower. The artist, upon consulting a catalogue, proved to be Mrs. C. W. Leonard. Mrs. Leonard has nothing else to show which compares with this little flower, but there is always something very refined in whatever she attempts. "Apple Blossoms," by Miss Moore, of Winnipeg, is very nice in color, as is a study of game by Miss Farn-combe, in which this latter young lady has avoided entirely that obnoxious treatment, which so many painters give to a difficult subject, which is apt to make one turn away in disgust if not well managed. "Corner of a Kitchen Table" by the same young lady is harmonious in color if not quite certain in perspective. Among other things we noticed paintings by Mrs. Williams, Miss Budd, Miss Higgins, Miss Fenwick, Miss Kemp, Mrs. Screaton, Miss Jeffrey, Miss Gibson, Miss Minhinnick, Miss Emily Gunn, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Talbot Mac-beth, Miss McCallum, Miss Callard, Miss Elsie Perrin, Mrs. McBean, Miss A. Fisher, Miss C. A. Levin, Mrs. Caldwell, Mlle. Van den Breeck, Miss Houghton, Miss Evans,

LONDON, March 14.—The regular half-yearly meeting of the directors and shareholders of the Bank of England was held today, David Powell, the governor of the bank, presiding. In course of the meeting he congratulated the bank upon the successful conclus-ion of the Baring obligations, and thanked the guarantors for their assistance in liquidating the Baring indebtedness so smoothly. He announced that the dividend of the bank for the last six months was 41-4 per cent.

FORMER LONDONER ARRESTED. A Chicago dispatch says: Edgar T. Paul, the millionaire real estate dealer, formerly of London, Ont., has been arrested on charges of obtaining money by false pretenses and fraudulent sale of real estate. A PECULIAR ACCIDENT. CONSTANTINOPLE, March 14.—The French steamer Armenic, which left Marseilles on Feb. 27, has arrived here. The Armenic while rounding Cape Matapan during a gale, was struck by a heavy sea, which swept over her deck and broke 23 of the jars of acid she carried. A frightful explosion followed, demolishing the deck-house. The cabins were filled with the fumes of acid, and two passengers died from suffocation.

Four others were seriously injured. TO ABOLISH CAPITAL PUNISHMENT. LINCOLN, Neb., March 14.-In the Senate yesterday the amended bill to abolish capital punishment was called up and recommended for passage. It will pass the Senate. A canvass of the Lower House shows that of the 100 members 37 waver, 22 oppose it, and the remainder are non-committal. Gov. Holcomb is said to favor it. HOT AT HILTON.

BRIGHTON, Ont., March 14. - This morning fire destroyed the postoffice and general store at Hilton, four miles north of this place. The building was owned by A. A. Becker and occupied by S. S. Pake, general merchant and post-master. Pake lost everything; insured for $500. Everything belonging to the postoffice was destroyed; insurance on building $300. A small building adjoining belonging to Marshall Nicholl, and occupied by Widow Chatterson, was also burned, The contents were saved.

HOW IS THIS?

Who Were the Parties Who Got the $100,000 Customs Money?

TORONTO, March 13.—The Canadian Grocer says the Dominion Government was afraid to go into the Watters' case. There were others mixed up in it, it says, and Watters did not receive all the customs department moneys that had been misappropriated, and which exceeded $100,000.

DAIRYMEN MEET.

Successful and Instructive Convention at Kincardine

KINCARDINE, March 13 .- The Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario held a very successful district convention here this afternoon and evening. There was a large representation of farmers from North Bruce, the commodious town hall being well filled. At the afternoon meeting addresses were delivered by J. W. Wheaton, London, secretary of the association, J. S. Pearce (London), Wm. Dickson (Atwood) and Prof. Dean (Guelph.)

In the evening addresses were given by Prof. Dean, of the Ontario Agricultural College, W. C. Shearer (Bright) and others. The convention in many respects was equal to any of its kind held by the association. It will serve to create a new interest in dairying and to promote a better quality

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 13 .- The committee of citizens appointed to raise the $25,000 bonus demanded by the Massey-Harris Company for the removal of their Brantford and Woodstock plants to this city, began today the work of receiving subscriptions, and are meeting with fair success. It is said that Cleveland has offered the Massar Harris Company the Massar Harris Company to the Massar Harr offered the Massey-Harris Company $30,-000 to locate their plant in that city, but the Canadians prefer the Falls, owing to the cheap power available and the splendid and 1,000 men,

Two Divisions Taken in the Legislature Yesterday,

And in Each the Government is Sus tained_A Patron Proposal and Conservative Amendment Defeated.

(Special to the "Advertiser.)

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TO-RONTO, March 18.—The Legislature had two divisions to enliven its proceedings this afternoon. The Patrons had their wish and got an opportun-ity to vote against the Government on the question of the maintenance of the Government House.

Mr. Haycock moved his motion that at the expiration of the term of its present occupant, the establishment should not longer be maintained at the expense of the Province.

In amendment Sir Oliver Mowat moved that the final settlement of the question be deferred until all the facts shall have been gathered and presented to the House by a small committee. He did not think the matter should be finally settled according to the opinion of members and their pledge to their constituents. But he asked the House to set about the matter with all the facts

The debate was brief. The Patrons would not accept the modification. Messrs. Marter, Whitney and Hardy spoke and the vote was taken. The result was a vote of 44 to 37 for the Premier's amendment. All the Patrons voted with the minority except Mr. Pardo. Mr. Taylor also voted with the minority, and also Mr. Haggerty, the independent member from Hastings.On the other hand, Mr. Howland voted with the majority. Three Liberals were absent without pairs and one Patron.

The second division followed an hour later and was upon Mr. Marter's amendment condemning the present system of the Government of purchasing supplies for Provincial institutions. Mr. Hardy made a slashing reply to the criticisms of the Government. Mr. Haycock explained that the Patrons were divided on the question and had agreed to disagree on it. He himself would vote against the Govern-

The result of the vote was a majority of 16 for the Government. The Patrons divided their vote. The evening was spent quietly in committee of supply.

It took the committee nearly an hour to decide whether to readvertise or open the tenders alover the council's action on the city had won laurels aganst the world. engineer's recent recommendation of a change in area. The engineer reported that there would likely be some petitions against certain streets, but when it was shown that all tenderers were required to water extra streets pro rata it was decided to go ahead and open the tenders. They were twelve in number, each accompanied by a check for $50. Some tendered on one section some on the whole six; some offered to do the work by the day, others to supply men and horses only. There was a big difference in the price of the different sections, and the figures ranged from $277 to $590. Teams and drivers were offered at from $2 to $4 a day.

The tenderers were: W. M. Waldock, J. Hartley, J. Smart, Geo. McNeil, Maurice Baldwin, Robert Quick, C. Beckett, E. Morkin, T. Morkin, W. Donahue, and James Webb and Wm.

The contracts were awarded as follows: Maurice Baldwin, sections 1, 2 and 3, at $287, $277 and $298; George Smart, section 4, at $334; E. Morkin, section 5, at $297; T. Morkin, section 6,

Chief Roe asked for his usual supplies, and it was recommended that tenders be called for: 1,000 feet of 2 1-2 inch, three-ply cotton hose, 1 Waldron nozzle, 1 Clemens nozzle, 3 dozen expansion rings, 9 rubber coats, 9 pairs of gum knee boots, 19 suits of uniform and 19 caps, copper zinc and other battery rooms supplies, etc. The question of a new hook and ladder truck and chemical engine was laid over.

Residents asked for an electric light at the corner of Dufferin avenue and Cartwright. Mr. T. A. Rowat urged the petition, and on motion of Ald. Garratt the light will be recommended. Inspector Bell reported that he had collected $186 for license fees to date. He was instructed to call for tenders for relief wood.

Market Clerk Wilson had all the obstructions in the center of the Covent Garden basement removed. He also recommended that the tenants in the meat market be compelled to place their tables of a uniform distance from the stalls, but no action was taken. Several applications for positions on the fire department were filed, there being no vacancies. Wilson Hall and an Italian lad asked for fruit peddlers' licenses at the old figure. The latter was filed and the former referred to the council. Hall says he is unable to pay the present high fee, and could not work at anything else. Re the complaint that No. 3 fire hall was not warm enough, Engineer Graydon reported that there were 36,000 cubic feet of space in the hall, and the heating capacity of the furnace was estimated at between 40,000 and 45,000 cubic feet. Progress will be reported until the committee examine the hall. When the question of fire alarm boxes was taken up, Ald. Garratt said that there were already four different kinds of alarm boxes, and before get-ting any more they should have an electrician examine and report on the whole system.

Chief Roe reported that all the present boxes but eighteen could be remodelled at a cost of $27 each so as to work on the same principle and act non-interfering. A number of alarm box representa-tives were heard in support of their respective devices. The boxes will be tested by an electrician and a report made in two weeks.

The Government's Latest Fake Well Scored

At the Meeting of the Brockville Farmers' Institute.

The Government Would Lose Six Cents a Pound, and the People Would Be Taxed to Make Up the Loss.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., March 13.-Bonusing of butter by the Government and the general policy of Prof. Robertson in regard to the butter and cheese trade of the Dominion came up for a hard scoring from Mr. M. K. Everetts, Easton's Corners, at the meeting of the Brock-ville Farmers' Institute held at Mallorytown last night. Mr. Everetts is a very prominent cheese factory man, and from his extensive interests in Ottawa Valley factories is known as "The Cheese King of Eastern Ontario." His views always carry great weight among the agriculturalists of this section. In his protests against Prof. Robertson's work he was particularly vigorous in denouncing the attempt of the commissioner to force a market in England fo the sectional flavor goods of Prince Edward Island, which action he claimed is fraught with great danger to the al-ready established cheese reputation of Ontario and Quebec.

The placing of Canadian winter made butter in competition in the English market with the butters of Australia he claimed was absurd. The Government would lose 6 cents or more on every pound of winter butter, and the people would be taxed to make up the loss. He argued that the Dominion was big enough, had the proper soil, con-ditions of climate and grass to produce milk that would make the very finest quality of both butter and cheese, but contended that the conditions for producing the finest of both classes do not exist in the same section. The State of Vermont at the Chicago Exhibition had led the world in the production of fine butter. The eastern townships bordering on this State have the very same conditions and can produce as fine a grade of butter. In the sixties, when dairy butter was the only dairy export of Canada, the make of that section commanded from 1 cent to 1 1-2 cents more per pound than that of the Morrisburg section. While the latter was of a better grade than the butter produced around Brockville, and Brockville butter could command 1 cent to 2 cents more per pound than that of Renfrew. It was unreasonable to suppose that the same conditions for producing fine butter existed over the

On the other hand it was allowed by all classes of dairymen that the section east of Bellevlle and down to the boundary line of this Province produced the finest cheese in the world. From these facts, Mr. Everetts' arguments were plain. Canada was known as producing the best cheese in the world and could make just as good butter as cheese, but the butter should be produced under the best conditions, and the cheese in the same way. The cheese interest was one of vital importance to the country. The competition was great, and the Americans were hiring our best makers The principal work of No. 3 commit- at large salaries in their determination single case on the criminal docket, and when the farmers of the Dominion could handle the industry themselves, and the cheese of Prince Edward Island were ready in, owing to a misunderstanding not the kind to send out, for Canada

God's in His heaven. All's right with the world. -Browning.

London, Thursday, March 14.

-The news from Ottawa today is that everything points to an early election, though the men in power stand shivering and shaking, unable to decide which would be least damaging to them-another session or a speedy facing of the electors. The clerk of the crown in chancery has all the writs prepared for issuing at a moment's notice. All the voters' lists are in except West Huron, 75 of the 213 are printed, and the others are in a forward state.

-By a bill brought into the Legislature, Sir Oliver Mowat provides that in future standard time shall be legal, instead of solar time. This will settle a question that was first raised in this city in connection with the closing of is the matter of paying up the employes licensed premises.

-The Grand Association of the Patrons of Industry have dealt with woman suffrage and the prohibition question. Both matters have been sent down to the subordinate lodges, the and citzens.' members of which will be asked to vote on them, and not till these associations refused to pay these men their fairly are heard from will a decision be earned wages, though the "Advertiser" reached.

-There is some confusion in the publie mind as to the identity of the Rev. Dr. Sutherland, whose death was chronicled by the "Advertiser" yesterday. There were two clergymen of that name in the Methodist Church of Canada. Dr. Alex. Sutherland is the missionary secretary of that body. Rev. Dr. D. G. Sutherland, whose death is MILITARY VS. just announced, was stationed at Toronto. He had been pastor in this city and other places.

-Hon. Mr. Hardy has introduced into the Ontario Legislature a bill respecting juries and jurors, providing that jurors shall receive pay for Sundays, when they are kept over that day. is in the right direction, and will have Ontario Agrcultural College.... 22,178 74 public indorsation.

-The decision of the United States Supreme Court with regard to patents | les paid to the respective teaching handed down recently is far-reaching in its effects. It is estimated that by it all United States patents expire at the expiration of patents on the same invention previously issued by foreign countries; it affects a larger amount of invested capital than any decision ever made by this court, some putting it as high as $600,000,000. The decision. which was unanimous, was made in a suit concerning the Bate refrigerator patents, but it affects hundreds of others, including many telephone and other electrical patents.

-No one supposed that the first vote recorded by the new Legislature in support of the Ontario Government, Prof. Mills, principal..........$2,000 when Sir Oliver had a majority of 37, Prof. Panton, geology and natural would be normal. The resolution submitted by the Opposition was a "fake," Prof. Dean, dairy husbandry..... 1,400 and it was so generally recognized. But Prof. Reid, veterinary science.... 900 on Wednesday night, when the first unpaired. On the subsequent motionthat by Mr. Marter on how best to settle the great egg, vinegar and sauce question-the Government was sustained by a clear majority of 16. Mowat is all right!

-The Presbyterian pulpits of this city will shortly be all once more occupied by competent ministers. But a short time ago, through removals and the death of a prominent pastor, three of the five Presbyterian pulpits in the city were vacant, and in the case of another -that of the Rev. Mr. Talling-the resignation had been sent to the Presbytery. Now, however, London East has recently been supplied; London South will have the induction on April 4; the St. Andrew's congregation will have their new pastor inducted on the 12th prox., while Rev. Mr. Talling has consented, at the unanimous request of his congregation, to withdraw his resignation. So that, within a few weeks, all five of the Presbyterian congregations of the city will be once more placed under regular pastoral oversight.

-Mr. A. A. McArthur, the Independent and Liberal candidate for the representation of Selkirk, Man., in the House of Commons, is well known in Western Ontario. He was born on a farm in Lobo, Middlesex county. Upon this same farm he founded the noted breeding establishment known over this continent as "Balmoral Farm," and by his skill and energy in the science he made his home a household word to every breeder in the United States and Canada. He has been the recipient of MANUFACTORIES, NOT IN COMhonors from the hands of state governors, and in the awards won at the Dominon show held at Ottawa that year. Mr. McArthur disposed of his stock and farm in the spring of 1882, and the Territories ever since. The news from Manitoba is that Mr. McArthur will be elected.

UNIMPEACHABLE TESTIMONY. Curious, is it not, that trade always revives most speedily in free trade England?—London "Advertiser." Would that trade were reviving in England!-London Free Press.

Had our esteemed contemporary turned to the seventh page of its own issue, it would have seen from a cablegram from London there given that Sir Albert Kaye-Rollit, President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, upheld the "Advertiser's" view. He asserted, among other things, that "the February returns were encouraging in the increasing shipments of textiles, etc., especially to America, showing that the modification of the American tariff was producing its effect." And Right Hon. Sir John Hibbert, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, followed Sir Albert. He said that the revenue returns exceeded expectations, and if they continued as now the Government would probably have a surplus of $2,500,000. If our city contemporary will also kindly consult the cablegrams on the first page of the "Advertiser" of Thursday, March 14, it will observe that Professor Bryce, President of the Board of Trade, and a member of the British Government, declared at the annual dinner of the Associated Chambers of Commerce that the signs of a business revival were multiplying.

THE UNPAID LONDON AND PORT STANLEY EMPLOYES.

A correspondent writes: "I see in your paper the matter of electric street railway discussed, and other important matters. But there is one important matter yet I would like to see discussed and settled, and that that worked faithfully on the L. and P. S. R. for the Yankee syndicate that our former city representatives were so keen in securing running power to. I hope our present mayor and councilors will come nearer to doing their duty than their predecessors—that is, their duty of being a friend of the workingman

The mayor and City Council of 1894 showed that their claims were just. It is to be hoped that the council of this year will make provision for paying the money that is due. Twenty-seven thouand dollars were collected from the syndicate. Why should not a few hundred dollars of it be expended for wages to the men who kept the road running while it was in charge of the syndicate?

COLLEGE.

The Farmers' Sun, in its latest issue, makes a rather interesting comparison between the expense of the Royal Military College at Kingston, under the control of the Dominion Government, and of the Ontario Agricultural College This is a proper provision. The staff of the Ontario Agricultural College is paid on, a much more modest scale, thus:

J. B. Reynolds, assistant resident

W. Clark, drill and gymnastic instructor .... F. C. Harrison, librarian and

In other respects, it is intimated by the Patron organ, the Military College is conducted on an unnecessarily extravagant scale in comparison with the Guelph institution, and it holds, naturally, that the education of expert farmers is of much greater importance to the country than the education of soldiers. Then the $70,000 expended annually on the military college is expended to benefit only one-third as many students as attend the agricultural college, and who, although three times as many, cost little over $20,000. When the military college was established, we had no standing army or military schools, such as that established in this city, for the training of military officers; yet the projectors never intended that the college should cost for maintenance one tithe of the money that is yearly expended on it. We are convinced that if the time has not come for the abolition of the college, the time has certainly arrived for cutting off every extravagance connected with it. INFORMATION has reached Inverness that Norman, the chief of the Mc-Leods, died in Paris on Feb. 5. He was the 22nd chief of his surname in reguBINES, WOULD PROSPER UN-DER THE LIBERAL POLICY.

Parrot-like, the high tax journals are has been a resident of Manitoba and foolishly repeating the statement that the Liberal policy of tariff for revenue only and free raw materials (including free coal) for manufacturers would wipe out the manufactories of Canada. What arrant nonsense! In this city and in many other centers of population fully one-half of the manufacturers favor the Liberal policy and are giving their most zealous support to the Liberal candidates. The industries of Canada, outside those operated in the interests of combines, can be run more advantageously, even to the owners, under the Liberal policy than under the present trade restrictionist Administration. Intelligent manufacturers know this; so do intelligent workmen; and they simply refuse to accept the wailings of the high tax newspapers as anything more than the outcry of politicians found out and about to be shorn of their opportunity to longer plunder the masses for the benefit of a few. Take, for illustration, the following arraignment of the one-sided system of taxation now in force, recently unanimously passed by the Trades and Labor Council of Vancouver, B. C., a representative workingman's organization:

"Whereas the Dominion customs tariff is founded upon the principles of protection, and not upon public requirements; and "Whereas the existing tariff, based upon an unsound principle, has develop-ed monopolies, trusts and combinations;

"Whereas it has hindered the promotion of agricultural pursuits; it has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few; it has retarded unassisted and desirable immigrants who would attain the full stature of citizenship; it has failed to exclude from our shores Chinese and other undesirable classes, who would never become citizens, to the detriment of enfranchised workingmen, it has caused loss to our population and has.impeded commerce; and

"Whereas in these and many other ways the fiscal policy of the Federal Government has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so ong as the present tariff system remains in force.

JEAN BLEWETT.

Here is a delightful bit from the pen of Miss Eva Brodlique, of the Chicago Post: Lent is here and the season of solemn thoughts. We haven't much time for thinking—we fin de siecle little women, for there is always so much to be done. But now, for a little period, there is less care to be given to dress and to parties, and to planning for that elusive thing which we call enjoyment-a fanciful name since we seldom or never find that which the word represents to our minds. I hope that for the next forty days we shall be able to find time to think and to read—there are so many good books all the while, and the dust grows heavy on their covers while we wait leisure and opportunity to feed ourselves on the dainties bred therein. They are grey days, too, these lenten days, and one's soul shivers for warmth in the coldness of the world. Stripped of our little vanities, of the ruffles and furbelows of pleasure-making, how bare we are to the winds of conscience and of criticism. And yet—and yet—let the poem of Jean Blewett finish the sentence. It is better so.

God loveth us. In pain or bliss O heart, be true and strong! God loveth us, and knowing this We know life's sweetest song! God loveth us, O hands that grasp At human tenderness, And then in emptiness unclasp! He waits to fill and bless. God loveth us, O weary feet
That find the journey long!
His love provides a rest so sweet The hope of it makes strong! God loveth us, O eyes that find Life's lessons hard to read! By tears of loss made dim and blind, Learn his great love instead. God loveth us, O fallen one! Creep upward to the light-God's radiant star shines on and on Until the dawn grows bright. God loveth us-the world grows old Yet falls the light and dew. God loveth us-the world grows old, But love is ever new.

A MADMAN'S FREAK.

He Pleads Guilty to Trying to Wreck a Grand Trunk Train.

WINDSOR, Ont., March 14.—Detectives Logan, of London, and Bradley, of Windsor, arrested William Lozon at the residence of his father yesterday on the charge of making an attempt to wreck an east-bound train on the Grand Trunk Railway. He was brought before Magistrate Bartlet, and pleaded guilty. His father, who is a very respectable man, explained that his son is not responsible for his actions, and asked that he be let go on suspended sentence. He gave bonds for the young man's future good behavior, and Mr. Rartlett agreed to the request. Lozon admitted that he committed the deed with the intention of seeing train wrecked, but was unable to give any reason for his action. He lived close by and wanted to see the accident. The detectives are of the opinion that it was a madman's freak, and say that it was a narrow escape for the train, as nothing could have saved it if it had been running at full speed.

A BROOKLYN PIANO

That Found Its Way Into the Colds of Canada

And the Trouble it Caused-Geo. Scott Committed for Trial for Alleged False Pretense.

The peregrinations of a piano were aired at the police station this morning. This particular piano is a Brooklyn instrument that found its way into the cold of Canada in an unlawful manner, so it is alleged. And in this connection George Scott is under arrest, and the evidence strongly points to a deep-laid plan that went "agley." In the plan Scott's wife figures as "Mrs. J. Shaw," and it was a desire to get a nice piano cheaply that started the trouble. witnesses were for the most part imported from the city of perambulators. The first one was N. M. Crosby, who is in the piano business at 774 Fulton street, Brooklyn. He swore that Mrs. Scott, who was present in the courtroom with two daughters, came to his warerooms on Dec. 15 and said that she had an old piano at 46 Hanson place, which she wished to exchange in part payment for a new one. He sold her one at $450 and agreed to allow $50 on the old one. Mrs. Scott gave Crosby a chattel mortgage for the balance and signed it "Mrs. J. Shaw." She said her husband worked at Tiffany's, New York, and was a stained glass artist. He postively recognized Mrs. Scott. Wm. A. Kessick, the proprietor of a

Brooklyn business college, said that the prisoner had been in his employ ten or twelve years, and had left voluntarily.

from the prisoner, in consequence of which he got from the M. C. R. a quantity of furniture, including a piano. All the goods were taken to 959 Colborne street.

Thomas J. Atkinson, manager of the Toronto branch of the Bell Organ and Piano Company, asked the prisoner to gve the piano up, but he would not. He said that he had taken it for rent from a Mrs. Shaw, who owed him $200. another occasion Scott said that the piano was all paid for, he having given another one worth three of it in ex-

THE OPEN FORUM.

SIM FAX'S REVELATIONS DIS-CUSSED BY MR. TUSON. To the Editor of the "Advertiser." Again it becomes my duty to protect a sister, as every brother should do, from the slander of an imposter, whose object is to destroy the character of a child of whom he is old enough to be the father, forgetting at the same time that he has children of his own needing protection, or, in other words, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." In the first place, Mr. Editor, this man Fax, like others visiting our home, has bothered us till we were compelled to submit or give offense, but, being allowed to come, promised that he would throw no reflecton on the child or those connected with her. We leave the public to judge whether he has stuck to the truth. I believe he promised likewise in a home where he was ad-mitted some time ago, but the results, we know, were different. There might be an excuse for Mr. Fax to try to expose a stranger whose work is produced in the dark, but, of course, he did not do so; but when a child belonging to a respectable family, which contains the materials that would expose anything that has the development. that has the elements of fake attached to it, Mr. Fax has made a mistake which time will prove to him. Of course, to accept Mr. Fax's statements we are compelled to make all other gentlemen false, among them a minister of the gospel, who spent two hours in tying Ada's hands, and other modes or tests. I can and will give the names of some of the most highly respectable citizens who will bear testimony to the marvelous results they have received at our home and elsewhere. Mr. Fax has visited our home for no good purpose, which the phenomenon told us repeatedly, but perhaps to secure a little advertsing at the expense of a child.

Mr. Fax knew where Ada stood when he held her hand, so that she could not reach the wall by a foot or more, while he received the little result he did, without taking into consideration the long scrapes that seem to take in the whole wall. He says he can do it. We would like to know why he did not, and if he will, a welcome awaits him for the Harry Browne, a notorious San Fran- the tests that Ada has given. Scores same. which have occurred lately, but were de-

ance, it would have been an easy matter for anyone to cover them up, but per-haps they were left there for a purpose that the investigator was too shortsighted to see. Mr. Fax knows that they were not there when he first visited our home. The same wall has been examined by scores of visitors, and also walls in other homes where Ada has visited. Mr. Fax accused me of being in league with Ada and that I pulled in league with Ada, and that I pulled her dress once; but he forgot to say towards him, which was an honest notice that he might be benefited by it; but, of course, like all his sayings, he turns good into evil. I would rather he would accuse me of all than a little girl, and he can do that. He was nearer the child than I was most of the time, for did he not hold her hand? In fact, I have got my situation to attend to, and business away from home in the evening; or, in other words, can occupy my time better than in making an exhibition of myself, as Mr. Fax seems to delight in. The reports that have been circulated have not come from our home, but from others. It makes little difference to us whether Probable Strike of All the Match-Makers We gain nothing by it, and the public in France. Would know little about it if they had people believe the phenomenon or not to get it from the family, but I can say that had they seen or heard the results that we have come in contact with, Mr. Fax or any other party's statements would have no ground to stand on. We often wonder what the critics mean. Some report that the child uses her mouth, others her feet, and others her hands, and numbers of other ways. It seems a pity that they can't agree on one or the other and not be groping in the dark all the time; but it is hard to defeat the truth, which we have on our side. In concluding, Mr. Editor, allow me to warn the citizens against acts of kindness such as we have shown to Mr. Fax and others, only to receive the abuse of which elevated humanity does

THE FEDERAL ELECTIONS.

Political Questions Divide Public Interest With the Kent Case.

OTTAWA, March 14.—The interest created here by the wonderful recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent from Bright's disease, and the fact that he was only saved from death by a timely use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has been partially overshadowed by the question of the Federal elections, and people who were asking one another a week ago whether they had heard of the case, are now also discussing the political outlook with almost equal interest. Inquiries are however being persistently made with regard to the and its cure, and it is stated on good authority that several cases of recovery from diabetes and Bright's disease through the same agency will shortly be made public, and will doubtless excite as much interest as that of Mr. Kent's, still further inducing the use of the valuable remedy.

Orangemen Congratulate Their Leader St. Catharines, March 13.—The morning session of the Grand Orange Lodge was devoted mainly to routine business. An address of congratulation to Sir Mackenzie Bowell, past most worshipful grand master of British North America, on his elevation to the Premiership and the honors con-ferred upon by her Majesty, was unani-mously adopted by a standing vote.

I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought irmunerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. Finally, a week ago, I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the first application showed the curative effect of the Remedy. We have used only one-sixth of the box, but the change is very marked; the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

TORONTO, March 12.—There was a better market at the western cattle yards today than for some time. In hogs prices were firmer, but in most other lines there was hardly any advance. There were 39 carloads of stuff on the market today, which included 243 sheep the market today, which included 243 sheep and lambs, 893 hogs and 40 calves.

Butchers' cattle—Offerings not quite so liberal and market firm. There was slightly better news from Montreal. Buying for there was moderately active. Local buyers were also operating fairly well. One or two choice picked cattle touched 33c per lb, but the general range for best butchers' cattle was from 13c to 31c per lb. Some pretty good cattle sold for 3½c per lb. Some pretty good cattle sold for 3c per lb. Common cattle brought from 2½c to 2½c per lb.

Export cattle—A few head brought from 4c to 4½c. One or two bulls brought 3½c per lb.

Only for lambs was there much demand.

Only for lambs was there much demand. These were firmer, ranging in price from 3½ to 5c per lb. Shipping sheep are quiet. Not many are being taken for export, because dealers are buying to kill here and giving better prices than shipners can afford to pay. The range is from 3c to 3½c per lb.

Hogs-Offerings were high and the market firmer. Good choice long lean hogs, weighed off the cars, sold at $4 35 to $4 40 per cwt; other kinds were firm. Choice hogs are wanted.

THE STRANGE YOUNG MAN.

He Is Traveling From Mexico to Jerusalem for a Wager of $10,000-

Has Arrived at Paris. Much interest was caused last fall in many towns and cities, including Sarnia, Petrolea, London, Ingersoll, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and other places he touched on his route, by a person who represented himself as "the strange young man," traveling from Mexico to Jerusalem on a wager of $10,000. The conditions of the bet were that he was to go as a tramp, without a dollar in his pocket, and cover the entire distance within a year. He drove a "prairie schooner," or emigrant's wagon, that was drawn by two small "burrow" ponies. He had also with him a horse which, he claimed, was ridden by the notorious Bill Dalton, and was dressed as a cowboy. He earned sufficient money to pay his way by lecturing on his travels, is an expert talker, and apparently had no trouble in making enough to pay expenses. He writes from Paris under date of Jan. 22, when about to depart for Marseilles, on his way to Jerusalem, to his brother, a well-known resident of Southwold, Elgin county:

"I am getting along finely, and in all probability will reach Jerusalem in 60 days. I had a fine voyage from York to London, England, and from thence down to New Haven, crossed the English Channel at Deppe, and drove from there to Paris.

He gives a good description of Paris, and states that he is standing his jour-ney well. He says thousands of people in that country never saw a cowboy's suit before. He has had over 800 names registered in his book since he passed through London, Ontario.

Big Tournament to be Held by the London Gun Club.

$1,000 in Gold Will Be Hung Up for Compe tition-America's Best Marksmen to Attend.

The foremost sporting organization of its kind in the city, the London Gun Club, has again shown a stroke of enterprise by arranging for a monster tournament at the club grounds in London West. The tournament will start on April 9, and will conclude on the afternoon of April 12, and in that time between 2,000 and 3,000 live pigeons will be sent up from traps. One thousand dollars in shining gold is to be hung up, and this will draw some of America's crack shots to the city. These pro-fessionals, however, will be handicapped so that the hope of the amateurs to carry off a prize will not be a forlorn one. Mr. John Parker, of Detroit, one of the best managers of tournaments in America, has spent a couple of days in this city with Messrs. J. P. Evans and Fred. T. Trebilcock, the manager and secretary respectively of the London Club. Mr. Parker has consented to come to London and assist Messrs. Treblcock and Evans through the tournament, and also to furnish the latest electric traps and electric pulls. Ar-rangements have also been completed for the purchase of blue rock targes. Targets and live pigeons will be shot at on alternate days.

THE HENDERSHOTT TRACEDY.

A Doctor's Strong Evidence for the Defense

He Says the Wounds Could Not Have Been Caused by the Axe, as the Skull Was Not Broken.

ST. THOMAS, March 14.-This afternoon J. Z. Long, architect, who had taken notes and measurements of the tree, testified that in his opinion the tree fell unexpectedly, as it was rotten in the center, and that it probably swerved while falling. Robert Connolly, a lumberman, gave similar evidence.

Dr. Vanbuskirk said he did not think the axe caused the wounds upon the head of deceased. He claimed to have found a sliver of wood in one of the wounds, but was unable to produce it. Spencer Block - -His evidence was much weakened by the cross-examination of Mr. Osler. Prof. Nancrede, of Ann Arbor University, a surgical expert, said that the wounds might have been caused by either the tree or the axe, but, if made by the branches, it would require a branch for each wound.

MEDICAL EVIDENCE FOR THE DEFENSE. ST. THOMAS, March 14.-The defense medical testmony in the Hendershott murder trial was continued this morning. Dr. Mason, of St. Thomas, did not think that an axe could have produced the wounds found upon the head of the deceased, because the skull was not fractured, and he was of the opinion that the branches of the tree could have made them. None of the wounds on the head were necessarily fatal. Death was likely caused by laceration of the base of the brain, with convulsions before death, which tends to support the theory of the defense that the deceased was struck by branches of the tree, and life not being extinct he dragged himself forward to the position in which the body was found. Witness said the principal wound on the back of the head could not have been made by anything having so small a surface as an axe. Upon being cross-questioned by Mr. Osler, witness said he had practiced for three years. He would not say that it was probable that the wounds were caused by a downward blow of the branch. The wound over the right temple, which exactly fits the axe, was, in witness' opinion, produced by a blow delivered upwards. He said that all the wounds could not have been made by an axe, but could have been produced by the tree, and that if the wounds were inflicted by a man with murderous intent, his own, as well as the victim's clothes, would have been covered with blood.

Dr. Going gave similar testimony to the last witness, and would not change his opinion under cross-examination; but admitted it was possible for the axe to have been washed with the cold water used and the bloodstains obliter-

Dr. Waugh, of London, gave evidence of a similar character. A. N. McIntyre, an old lumberman, gave his theory as to the way the tree fell and the cause. Robert Miller testified as to the financial standing of Hendershott, who he said was in comfortable circumstances.

THE BRITANNIA BEATEN. CANNES, March 14.-The thrice postponed race for the James Gordon Bennett and Ogden Goelet challenge cup, No. 1, valued at 8,400 francs, was sailed today over a 39-mile course, the starters being the Prince of Wales' Britannia, the new British yacht Ailsa, and the Corsair. The weather was clear and the wind light, from the southwest. All of the yachts carried all of their headsails and topsails at the start. The Ailsa took the lead and kept it, winning the race easily. The Modern Way.

He had a soft voice, and whenever he spoke to her it grew as tender as a caress. Celia had often wished it less so. She wished it to-night, for being of an uncompromising truthfulness herself, it seemed to her an extra deceit that he should sound so loving. In this she wronged him through lack of comprehension, since she molded her nature and he merely followed his. After all our idols have not as a rule arrogated to themselves that position, and granting that it is we who have put them on heir pedestal, at whose door lies the blame f they do not maintain their balances, but all grovelling to the dust?

ia sat down, feeling desperately tired f a sudden, as women will when emked on an argument they have only contion and instinct to support, and when ese are but feeble weapons with which to ombat the other side.

"It will rain you in the future," she said, and stopped.

"Possibly," allowed Jocelyn.
He, too, had seated himself, resolved to go through with the thing since it was unavoidable, and to make her see his own view of the matter. He had never yet gone into it properly with her, rather enjoying the added importance it gave him to find himself the object of so much solicitude.

'If you want to make a woman love you start some pet vice and induce her to think she can wean you from it," used to be one of his favorite axioms. But this carried into practice had staled with custom, and he now found the admired solitude burdened on what, in his less lover-like moods, was problematical what its effect on my health will be, or even whether I shall still need a stimulus to work. But here's the present, and it is in the present that I want to make my mark. Of course, to drink until you are like a log, that is despicable enough, I grant you." Jocelyn had forgotten the afternoon, and indeed it had been exceptional. "But I am as dull as ditch water unless I am wound up properly, and it is the brandy that does it.

Celia looked up quickly.
"But to-day was the first time? You have been writing soberly for nearly three weeks?"

The expression angered him.

"Soberly?" he repeated. "Of course I write soberly. Why, Celia—"
He waited a full minute, and then speaking her name again with a gentleness against which she would have been less than woman to be proof, he crossed the room and knelt down by her, circling with his arms the wellbuilt, erect little figure which so patiently longed to yield to his caresses. "What harm does it do?" he asked. his tone a whisper. No one has ever seen me anything but sober. You never have, have you, dear? And you have seen no bad effects even, except that you say my eyes look misty. I am always locked in my room at my work. I distress no one. I hurt no one. The sole result is that I write well, sometimes even brilliantly, they tell me, instead of wriring badly. Celia, what is the

She turned suddenly, and slid her arms round his neck.

"Jocelyn, do, oh do give it up! Don't you see that the one thing which is keeping you back is that people don't know? And yet you chanced me finding it out to-night rather than forego it at the restaurant. If me now, then others soon, and then there'll be nothing to stop you."

Her sentences were commonplace. Even while he listened to them, kneeling there with her bowed head resting on his shoulder, in the dual consciousness possessed by this man-and which proved in rather a ghastly fashion that he had not mistaken his vocating—he felt certain that he could have worded her appeal far better had he been framing it for some story. But beyond the spoken phrases there was the unevenness of the breath leaping softly against his neck, the slight collapse of the trembling form he was holding as she faltered over the last words, and he guessed dimly at the vista of misery they embraced. These were things there was no getting into a mere novel.

"Marry me," he cried. "Don't let's go on being horribly prudent and waiting for luck and coin. Marry me, my darling, and make of me what you will. There was a long silence. The man in the laner room, imprisoned against his will, but only catching a word here and there from their talk, noiselessly opened the door an inch or two to see if this were a propitious moment to intrude upon them on his way to the staircase. It was the friend who shared Jocelyn Warde's rooms, an undersized, ugly man named Jefferson. He had only seen Celia Brown hitherto for a few moments at a time, and there was nothing about the plain little women to claim from him a second thought beyond a contemptuous wonder why men ever took their gold to women whom tinsel seemed equally well to satisfy. But staring at her through the cautiously opened door he was struck by the expression on her face, which, as he saw it, was sharply in profile. It was a hungering look, as if she were craving for something with an earnestness that know her life's appiness to hang in the balance, and when celyn broke the silence with an impasioned "You will say yes, my darling; let it be yez," and she enswered with a sorrow-ful, 'It must be no, something told Jefferson that there was real tragedy in the quietly utterly words. He shut the door again, and walking back to his previous post by the open window, he stood idly locking out on the forest of chimney pots.

"Let it be 'Yes.'" "It must be 'No'". It is an odd thing that in inverse proportion to a man's coutempt for woman's brain power should she ever chance to cross his own will is his increased respect for her should she through conviction and not caprice, thwart another man, and Jefferson viewed Celia differently from that minute. How miserable she had looked, poor thing; yet how unfalteringly she had spoken. It would be waste of time to spend any in conjectures as to the meaning of this scrap of conversation he had overheard, for he knew by experience that the first time he met ocelyn he would have the whole of it re-

His curiosity, such as it was (for the principal emotions of which this man seemed capable were exclusively called forth on the subject of certain stones for which he was at present digging in the British Museum), was destined speedily to be set at rest, for, realizing at length that at the risk of infinite pains to herself she was merely prejudicing her own cause, Celia went away, and Jefferson, venturing into his own domain, was received with a perfect torrent of words. Jocelyn had forgotten all about his own arguments in favor of pursuing his ordinary courses and raved against the decision that she would not marry him until he had learnt self control, ending with the usual wide-ofthe-mark and extravagant assertions that she was denying him his salvation in this world, and, he doubted not, in the world to "Bosh!" said Jefferson, unsympathetically. "You know perfectly well that you are drinking a deal deeper than you used, old fellow, and if she can't save you now with your marriage to hold out as an inducement what earthly hold do you think she would have over you if she had already

Tears sprang to Jocelyn's handsome dark "I declare to you," he was beginning, but his friend cut him short.

"Don't let's go into the whole business again. I'm sick of it," he said, testily, and with that swung out of the room, coming back to light his pipe on the threshold. "You get to work now and try to do with out any of your patent doctoring," he said, significantly. "I needn't to think of it, but significantly. do now. Miss Brown is worth it, you

CHAPTER II.

This new idea, that Miss. Brown was worth it, gradually became a settled conviction with Jefferson. Having a violin pupil in that direction in the afternoons, she often came to the Bloomsbury rooms about 5, to pour out Jocelyn's tea and sit for an hour chatting to him, and the other man who bitherto had been glad his work kept him from meeting her, now he broke through his regu ar hours and came in for tea, too, They saw a good deal of each other in this way, for Jocelyn was often late, and Celia woman-like, was glad to be able to talk of her idol rather than spend the waiting time in solitude. Feeling grateful that he consented to listen to her, she tried at last to make talk upon other subjects which might amuse him, and touching by chance upon his perilously akin to a bore.

"But it isn't the future yet. Perhaps there duced upon him. She had found him impliant, and indeed wooden, in conversation will be a future, and in any case it is tion as a rule, for which she compared him unfavorably to Jocelyn, forgetting that in this latter case she was satisfied to adminis ter sympathy and never demand it. But upon the subject of heiroglypdics Jefferson roused into flesh and blood enthusiasm, and Celia fell back contentedly into her old role of playing audience to a man's interests. (To be Continued.)

("Advertiser" Agents, R. Dickinson and

W. J. Watkinson.) March 13 .- A special meeting of the town council was held on Tuesday evening to consider the claims of Rev. W. G. Jordan for damages on account of an accident to Mrs. Jordan by falling on a defective sidewalk on Dec. 18 last. It is understood the matter will be settled without a lawsuit by a payment of about $200, a part of which will be paid by Mr. J. Bowley, who owns the building in front of which the accident occurred. Howard Lodge, I. O. O. F., will celebrate her 25th anniversary by attending service on Sunday next in St. John's Church, when a sermon will be preached by the rector, Rev. F. G. #### NEW YORK'S WOMEN. Curious Facts About the Distribution of the Feminine Surplus.

The census reveals some curious facts about the distribution of New York's excess of women. New York city has 20,000 of them; Brooklyn, 17,000; Albany, 5,500; Troy, 5,000; Utica, 3,000; Rochester, 4,000; Syracuse, 1,100. They are all, practically, in the larger cities of the State, the one exception being Buffalo, which has 4,000 more men than women.

It would be interesting to know more about those 4,000 superfluous Buffalo men, says a writer in Harper's Weekly, whether they are Poles, Italians, lake sailors, canal boatmen, or merely lively young bachelors from the country in the western part of the State, who have gone to Buffalo to seek their fortunes. New York city's business opportunitie, which attract crowds of men, seem to attract quite as many women. Yet the excess of women in New York is comparatively small. The city has 45 women to every 44 men, while Brooklyn has 26 women to every 25 men, and Troy 11 women to every 10 men. Why should it happen that in the suburban counties nearest New York there should be more men than women? It would seem that of the population drawn by the metropolis to this end of the State the unmarried men would nearly all live in the cities, and the dwellers in the suburbs would for the most part be people with families. Yet the suburban counties all show an excess of men-1,300 in Wetchester, 1,700 in Richmond, and 2,300 in Queens.

Magnificent Work Accomplished in St. Anne's Parish.

The Sick and Diseased Made Well by Paine's Celery Compound.

Thousands in the Commercial Metropolis Know What the Great Spring Medi cine Has Done.

In the great archdiocese of Montreal, he parish of St. Anne's is one of the argest and most important. The parish is a populous one, and the work of the dozen or more clergymen who devote their time and talents to the spiritual and charitable interests of the people is heavy and never-ending.

In this thickly-settled and congested parish the sick and suffering are numerous, but Christian help and consolation is ever near in the hour of danger. In scenes of sickness and disease this great parish has been blessed by an agency that has saved thousands of lives in other parts of the Dominion. We now refer to that marvelous medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, so well and favorably known in every Canadian home.

The popular clergymen of St. Anne's have, from time to time, heard wonderful reports from the parishioners of the magnificent work accomplished by Paine's Celery Compound. Fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters have been raised to health and strength. Those pronounced incurable by physicians have been snatched from the jaws of death.

The Rev. P. Rioux, one of St. Anne's most popular clergymen, knowing about the good work done by Paine's Celery Compound, and having experienced the most satisfactory results from its use in his own case, writes as follows:
"I am fully convinced both by personal experience and by the statements of many parishioners intrusted to my care that the celebrated medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, deserves a high recommendation. I therefore willingly indorse the testimonials already given in its behalf."

New and Old Methods.

The rapid growth of discoveries in all branches has developed no more able improvements on old methods than in the manner of treating chronic troubles of the digestive system. It is becoming generally known that the ordinarily used purgatives such as salts, senna, rhubarb, jalap, aloes, pills, etc., react and permanently injure their victims. The newest discovery for the treatment of constipated and bilious conditions is Eseljay's Liver Lozenges. They do not react, and are consequently a triumph of medical science.

He said he was unable to resist the impulse of placing the rail on the track and expected to look from the house and see a train thrown down the embankment and into the waters flowing under the bridge. He promised never to do anything of the kind again, and his father gave bonds for his future good behavior. He was let go on

A ROUGH PASSAGE.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 13.—The steamer Oregon, from Liverpool, docked at Richmond this morning. She experienced a very rough passage, one of the worst, the officers say, in their ex-perience. A succession of gales was encountered all the way across. Some days the steamer would only be able to go 130 to 140 knots per day. On the 6th the machinery broke down, and the steamer rolled in the trough of the sea for six hours, when repairs were made and the steamer proceeded. The worst gales were from the 5th to the 8th. One cattleman had his head cut and one seaman was considerably bruised by being thrown about the deck. The steamer brought 200 passengers in all.

-J. M. L., Courtright-As to whether a player in bidding hearts in double pedro and getting his bid has to lead in hearts, the question is an open one and eminent authorities have given different decisions. The only way to settle the matter would be to have a mutual understanding, before the beginning of the game, on which course is to be pursued. Either one is perfectly legitimate.

-In an article about whist playing in Ontario, the Toronto Globe says: "London has been famous for its whist, and Mr. R. Bayly, Q.C., is worthy to rank at the first table in the country. Mr. Wm. Furness is another past master in the game, while Messrs. N. P. Graydon, John Marshall, George C. Gibbons, Q.C., and Dr. Niven were members of the club which had a record of games going back fifteen years. It was in this club that Chief Justice Meredith and Mr. P. J. Brown played."

—It is an interesting astronomical fact that on Good Frday, April 12, the heavenly bodies which gravitate around the sun will be in exactly the same position that they occupied in the firma-ment on the day that Christ died on the cross. It will be the first time that such a thing has occurred for 1,862 years. Astronomers tell us that about noon, New York time, the moon will pass before Viginis (Spica) and hide that constellation for more than an hour.

-Charles Frohman's Company, in the laughing success of today "Charley's Aunt," will visit London at the Grand on Monday next. The comedy is a genuinely great and deserving success from a literary standpoint of view. Mr. Frohman makes a nice distinction by calling this piece a comedy farce. By this he means that "Charley's Aunt" is a distinct comedy fibre, but that a col-oring of the pure farce is given to it. It starts its audience in a ripple at 8 and dismisses them in hilarity at 10:45, two and three-quarter hours of laughter, with scarcely time enough to recover normal features of face. -The two galleries were filled and very few vacant seats were to be seen in the Grand Opera House last night, when Charles L. Davis made his "farewell" appearance in "Alvin Josiin." The audience was not only large but thoroughly appreciative, and was the greater part of the evening engaged in laughter. The play is just as funny as ever, and Mr. Davis, as Uncle Alvin, the New England farmer, fills the bill without a fault. The situations into which he places himself were most ludicrous. Mr. Davis is ably supported by Miss Estelle Gilbert and a large company, and should he call at London again he will doubt-less receive as cordial a welcome as he did last night.

Co., Walkerville, formerly of the ADVER-The man who keeps many another guest | TISER staff, has been seriously ill for over a week, but is now rapidly recovering. -Mrs. Mary Ann Butler, aged 87, died to give him one tablespoonful of FOUR T's, in Hamilton Monday. She was the relict that would end the trouble. -Mr. Wm. A. Smith, founder of the Boys' Brigade and secretary of the parent organization, will address a public meeting in the City Hall tomorrow (Friday) night, with a view of extending this important organization. The meeting begins at 8 p.m., and the Bishop of Huron will preside. Mr. Smith comes here at the invitation of Lord Aberdeen, who is honorary president of the Boys' Brigade in Great Britain, and who is taking active, practical steps to advance the best interests of "Our

As a dinner pill, one Royal Crown Pill should be taken immediately after a hearty meal and it will be found an excellent means of assisting digestion and preventing dyspepsia. Purify the system by taking a treatment of Williams' Royal Crown Remedy, the best and most economical medicine manufactured to-day.

F. C. B. C. LITERARY SOCIETY. A largely representative meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Forest City Business College for the purpose of inaugurating the college literary society. Although organization has been delayed some time, great interest was prospects are bright for some very interesting meetings during the season. After preliminary business was transacted the officers were elected as fol-lows: First honorary president, J. W. Westervelt, sen., London; second honorary president, T. H. Luscombe, London; president, J. W. Westervelt, jun., London; vice-president, H. B. Matthews, London; secretary, M. Hardy, London; treasurer, Miss M. Wright, London; executive committee, Miss Beatty, Ingersoll; T. H. Hayes, London; Miss Freer, London; Miss McMurphy, Rat Portage; G. A. Foster, Varna, Onf. CATTLE REGULATIONS.

The Grand Trunk Railway, through the Vermont Central Railway, has succeeded in inducing the United States Government to so far relax the quarantine regulations as to allow of live stock being shipped to Britain via Portland, undergoing American Government in-spection at Island Pond. Formerly sheep were allowed to be put aboard ship at New York, Philadelphia, Boston or Portland; under the new regulation they must be shipped from Portland only. These arrangements give the railways mentioned a monopoly of the land-carrying trade to Portland; as a result they charge 30 cents per head for cattle from Toronto to Portland, while their rate from Chicago to Portland, well nigh twice the distance, is only 28 cents. This is creating some grumbling among dealers here. One good effect of the new regulation will be the cheapening of ocean rates, because of the competition between vessels sailing from Halifax or Montreal and Portland. Dealers claim that some agreement for more considerate rates should be come

Advices from Strathroy throw no further light on the whereabouts of the missing bank clerk, John Patterson who is alleged to have stolen a considerable sum—about $4,000—from the Traders' Bank there on Saturday last. birthday last Friday, it is said, in a rather hilarious manner, but his work in the bank up till the time of this unfortunate affair was of the most satisfactory nature to the officers. While no excuse is given for his alleged breach of trust, the general sympathy of the community is extended to his parents, who are respectable residents of the

The manner in which the steal was accomplished seems to be that after balancing his cash on Saturday evening he put it in a large tin box used for that purpose and carried it into the vault, where it was his duty to locate it in the safe. He put the box in all right, but apparently dropped the $4,000 roll of bills under the safe, where it no doubt remained unnoticed until the vault was locked. Having a key of the bank and vault, it was no trouble for him to return when all had left, open the vault and secure the booty. If the bills had been put in the safe he could not have got them, as it requires the manager and teller together to open it. The young man is about 5 feet 7 inches in height and of a fresh and ruddy complexion. He was quite a favor-ite among his companions. The most active steps have been taken to secure his capture.

BROCK'S BICYCLES.

Mr. W. A. Brock, the well-known repairer of bicycles, has commenced the manufacture of a wheel called the "Diadem." It will be made in any height of frame, of different weights, and any tire to suit the purchaser. Mr. Brock does not profess to make the lightest machine in the world or the narrowest tread in the trade. He does not make the purchaser pay for fat salaries and big rent. He does not fix up his wheels with springs, cogs, levers, intricate arrangements and other fads and ask you to pay for them. He does not make the best machine on earth, and does not claim prizes and records that were never won. But he does make a machine that runs easy, a machine that a child can adjust. He has tried to avoid fancy mechan ism and make a machine famous for its simplicity and freedom from fads. He also gives the buyer a chance to purchase a machine outright at a right cash price. These wheels will be fitted with hollow rims wooden rims or ordinary steel rims, ac cording to price. Mr. Brock has patented a bicycle support weighing only six ounces that clasps the down tube when not in use, and does away with the necessity of huntid last night.

—Miss Georgie Calver, of Parke, Davis & or a tree to stand the wheel against. Mr. Brock also has the agency of the Eclipse and Gendron, American wheels. Marshall Wells won four Canadian championships last year on the Eclipse, and the wheel successfully resisted the strain of the weight of thirteen men, aggregating 2,448
