A RUNNING SEA FIGHT

Japanese and Russians Meet in a Four Hours' Battle.

Attacking Party Was Probably Kamamura's Squadron—Nature of the Fight and the Seriousness of the Results Are As Yet Unknown—Probably Beginning of a Series of Night Battles Against Russians.

Hong Kong, April 25.—The Russian Baltic squadron has been attacked by several ships of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet, but the nature of the fight is unknown, nor is it possible to say how serious have been the results. A cable from Hae, 120 miles northeast of Kamranh Bay, announces that the Russians were attacked south of the Gulf of Tonkin Saturday night, and that the battle lasted more than three hours. The gun fire could be plainly heard off Tournon, twenty-five miles southwest of the city of Hue, and began shortly after midnight. The Russian squadron was then more than thirty miles out to sea, and it is assumed here that the Japanese attack was begun by their torpedo boats and their speedy armored cruisers.

Confirmed From Saigon. The despatch from Hue has been confirmed by another from Saigon, through the French cable line, which says there was heavy firing off the French Cochinchina coast during the night, and that the commanding lasted more than four hours. The fact that no Russian ships have returned either to Kamranh Bay or Tournon harbor, northeast, leads naval officers here to believe that the night was a torpedo attack on the part of the Japanese, and that this is the beginning of a series of night battles planned against the Russians, while Rojestvensky is making his way in the China Sea toward Formosa. Cable messages have been sent to all points on the coast, but no further definite information has come.

Fighting For Four Hours. Saigon, French Cochinchina, April 25.—The Russian and Japanese fleets have probably met about forty miles northeast of Kamranh Bay. There is no doubt whatever that firing was heard for four hours, becoming less and less distinct with the lapse of time, and thus indicating a running sea fight.

No report of any sort has come from Rojestvensky's war vessels since they departed from Kamranh harbor at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Their speed was only about three knots an hour, and all the vessels could be plainly seen until 5.30 in the afternoon. It was two hours later that the first firing was heard, and it continued at intervals until 11 o'clock in the evening. All the Russian cruisers, auxiliary warships and the torpedo boat flotilla departed from the harbor. Six colliers remained. It is understood that they will take on more provisions and coal and will meet the Russian squadron at some point this side of Formosa.

Kamamura's Warships. The belief here is that the Russian admiral went along the coast toward the Island of Hainan, in which there are several large harbors and also cable connection with this point. This is his probable course as indicated by the commanding heard during the night. It was the more plain at Tournon Bay than at other points, which makes it certain that the Baltic squadron is on a straight line for the Island of Hainan, on what is known as the Indo-Hong Kong route. Cable messages have been sent from Saigon to the City of Hue and to Tonquin, asking for information of the battle, but they have no further news there. The Russian fleet was sighted where yesterday. It must have been done in Sunday night's engagement some of the ships probably would have returned to Kamranh harbor or Tournon Bay. The attacking fleet was probably Kamamura's squadron.

Where Jap Warships Are. Manila, April 25.—Vice-Admiral Kamamura's squadron is in the China Sea somewhere between this point and the coast of Cochinchina. Several other Japanese ships have been received here for Kamamura. The Japanese Consul has gone down the harbor twice, evidently with the expectation of meeting a torpedo boat destroyer from the Japanese fleet. It can be said positively that the Japanese battleships are not further up the China Sea than Formosa, and it is doubtful that any big division of cruisers has gone as far as the French Cochinchina coast. If Rojestvensky is sailing on a direct route for Formosa he should arrive at the island on Tuesday.

Mikado Indisposed. Tokyo, April 25.—The annual Cherry Garden Party was held in Hama Park yesterday. The Emperor was slightly indisposed and was not present. The Empress, assisted by the Imperial Princess and Princesses, was the hostess of 1,200 guests, including many foreigners.

Russ Newspapers Tied Up. St. Petersburg, April 25.—The printers struck yesterday, announcing their intention of refusing to work Sundays and holidays. Only The Russ and Novoye Vremya managed to appear yesterday morning.

Aide in Own Crucifixion. Trinidad, Col. April 25.—It is reported that a fanatical member of the Pentecost has crucified himself at Torres, Las Animas County. Several Trinidad people claim to have been among the eye-witnesses. They claim the victim was nailed to a cross of his own making and died in agony.

Everything that is most beautiful in life and art owes its existence to impulse—not to intention.

DUE TO DEFECTIVE WELDING.

Opinion of Experts, But Jury is Not Altogether Certain.

Kingston, April 25.—The inquest into the death of Frederick Mullen by the explosion of a gas buoy Tuesday last was continued yesterday afternoon and evening. The evidence of the crew threw no further light on the cause. Three experts, Dr. Goodwin, professor of chemistry at Queen's; Thomas Wilson, electro-chemical engineer, Ottawa, and John Arnold, medical engineer, New York, were also examined as to properties in acetylene gas, and all favored the theory that the explosion was due to defective welding. The latter suggested that the metal in the buoys had been weakened through lying outside exposed to the frost all through the winter.

The jury entered the following verdict: "We are of the opinion that the evidence adduced does not definitely show the cause of the explosion, but would strongly urge that all such buoys be thoroughly inspected each year and subjected to a sufficient pressure test."

"All such buoys should be filled at some place where the safety of the general public would be least be imperiled."

Ghastly Find on "Whitbeck." A ghastly find is reported from Oswego. When Capt. Mallett of the barge Whitbeck fired his torpedoes on arrival there he found a part of a human rib with shreds of flesh attached. The barge was one of the Avon's escorts and was at the drydock here when the fatal explosion occurred.

Isa Asseline says that he was working on the Cataract bridge and after the explosion saw a large article flying through the air and fall into the lake. It is thought to be the cage of the buoy, into which the body of Mate Gullard was crushed by the explosion.

HEAD OF BANK DEFAULTS.

Milwaukee Has a Financial Sensation of Over Million Dollars.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 25.—Frank G. Bigelow, president of the First National Bank of this city, and former president of the American Bankers' Association, it is alleged, has defaulted the bank's funds to the extent of $1,200,000. The directors of the bank have deposited in the bank a sum sufficient to make the institution perfectly solid. Mr. Bigelow was arrested at 5.30 o'clock yesterday, and was taken to the United States Commissioner's office in the Federal building.

The capital of the First National Bank is $1,500,000 and the surplus is $1,200,000. Mr. Bigelow has signed over property to the bank amounting to $200,000, making his net defalcation about $1,200,000. Aside from the surplus, which will meet the amount of the defalcation, the sum of $1,635,000 has been subscribed by the directors to meet the demands which may be made on the bank. The aggregate wealth of the bank approximates over $20,000,000.

What speculation has cost the Bigelow their name and the bank a large sum of money. It is a family tragedy as well as a tremendous shock to the financial circles of the city.

Navigation Opens.

Port Dalhousie, April 25.—The Welland Canal opened up for traffic at 7 o'clock last night. The first boat to pass up was the steam yacht Cruiser. Seven more boats followed.

Port Arthur, April 25.—Navigation at the head of the lakes will likely be opened to-day, as one of the steamers which has been outside of the ice-field has forced her way through thirteen miles of ice, and is now inside of Welland Island. The Neopawa will be the first steamer to load grain this season. She broke her way through ice to the elevator dock yesterday afternoon. She was first to load last season.

Ontario Library Association.

Toronto, April 25.—The fifth annual meeting of the Ontario Library Association was held yesterday afternoon at the Canadian Institute, about 80 persons being present. The president of the association, W. Tyler, B.A., of Guelph, presided.

The report of the secretary, E. A. Hardy, said the next great step should be the securing of trained librarians. The public demanded skilled teachers; it should demand skilled librarians also. A Provincial library commission would do great work in this direction. The members concurred and hoped the Government would act on these lines.

Trent Valley Canal Report.

Ottawa, April 25.—A report of the surveys on the route of the Trent-Valley Canal, with a recommendation as to whether Port Hope or Trenton shall have the harbor, is expected by the new Minister of Railways at an early date.

Tenders are to be asked for facing 4,000 feet of the Fort Chabert pier with cement. It will cost about $20,000. Hereafter the steamer Arctic will make annual trips to Hudson Bay waters, instead of remaining in the north for periods of two years at a time.

Quebec Ex-Premier Dead.

St. Hilaire, Que., April 25.—Hon. Gordon Outram, retired superintendent of public instruction of Quebec, died Sunday night. He was born at St. Rose in 1823, and from 1857 to 1867 represented the County of Beauharnois in the Parliament of Canada, and after Confederation was member for Two Mountains in the Quebec Legislature. For three years he was Premier of the Province.

DEATH OF KIVAS TULLY

Eminent Civil Engineer Passes at the Age of 86 Years.

Many Memorials of His Skill and Genius to Be Seen in Public Buildings in Toronto and Throughout Ontario—Educated for His Profession in Ireland—First Secretary of Canadian Institute—King Honored Him.

Toronto, April 25.—Mr. Kivas Tully, I. S. O., the eminent civil engineer, died at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in his apartments in the Dominion Bank Chambers at Bloor and Bathurst streets. Deceased, who was 86 years of age, suffered from a complication of diseases.

Kivas Tully was one of the most prominent and best known civil engineers and architects in the Dominion. Many memorials of his skill and genius are to be seen in public buildings of the city, which show an originality in design and strength in execution beyond the commercial spirit of the present day. The custom house, Osbourne Hall, the Normal School, Government House, the Bank of Montreal, the School of Practical Science, and Trinity University are examples of the work of his art, as well as many buildings in outside cities of the Province, among these being St. Catharines' Town Hall, Welland County Court House, Victoria Hall, Cobourg.

Mr. Tully studied for his profession in Ireland, where he was born in 1820, being the second son of Commander John P. Tully, R. N. He superintended the erection of public works for Ontario, and held the position for 30 years. During this period he designed the plans for the asylums in Toronto, Hamilton, London, Brockville and Kingston, and for many other Provincial institutions.

Mr. Tully was a charter member and first secretary of the Canadian Institute, and was first vice-president and long a member of the council of that body. He also served as a public school trustee and as alderman. In 1894 he was appointed a delegate to the deep waterways convention, held in Toronto in 1894. He was harbor engineer of Toronto for the past 50 years. He was one of the first and most persistent advocates of a system for securing a city water supply from Oak Ridges. He was one of the oldest Free Masons in the city, being a member of Ionic Lodge, which conferred on him the honorary degree of past grand master. He was also representative of the Grand Lodge of Ireland in Canada.

He was a member of the Church of England, and married in 1844 Miss Elizabeth Drew, who died in 1847, and in 1852, the daughter of Lieut.-Col. Strickland, of Lakefield, who died in 1852. His surviving children are Miss Sydney Jane Strickland Tully, and Miss Louise Beresford Tully, both of whom are prominent artists. An oil portrait of deceased by his daughter adorns the walls of the Masonic Lodge, in the Temple Building. His eldest daughter by the first marriage, who died a few years ago, was the wife of Wm. P. Baird, of 8 Harbord street, and his second wife was a sister of Walter R. Strickland, architect of the city. Mr. Tully was honored in 1903 by the conferring on him by the King of the Imperial Service Order for his services to science.

JIMMY GARDNER DEAD.

Former Manager of Toronto Club Dies of Brain Fever.

Pittsburg, April 25.—James Gardner, the former National League baseball pitcher, and more recently manager of the Toronto Club in the Eastern League, died here last night from brain fever. Gardner came to Toronto from Chicago in 1902 and to his pitching was due chiefly the landing of the championship. He was appointed to succeed Ed. Barrows as manager in 1903, but proved unsuccessful. Arthur Irwin relieving him towards the end of the season. He had retired from the diamond and was engaged in a sporting goods house in Pittsburg when taken ill with brain fever.

REASON NO 29 WHY YOU SHOULD USE Red Rose Tea

Because no premiums, prizes or coupons are ever given with Red Rose Tea, either to the merchant, clerk or consumer.

You don't get a premium with a pound of butter. Why? Because the butter is worth what you pay for it. Just so with Red Rose Tea; the tea itself is worth the full price.

A pound of tea is not worth the price when a premium is thrown in free. A premium costs something. You must pay for it.

If you are doubtful, use a pound of premium tea, then try a pound of Red Rose. You will soon discover why premiums cannot be given with Red Rose Tea, and if you like a rich, flavory, pure tea, you will use Red Rose in future.

WOMAN IN THE HOME.

Her First Duty is to enforce Order and Discipline.

"There can be no fixed rule governing woman's place in the home," said Mrs. J. Harry Selz. "Every woman must be the judge of how to dispose of her time to the best possible advantage. The woman of leisure is the woman who should strive to bring the highest degree of culture into the home to better her life and the lives of others. Culture is not to be attained through elaborate entertainment and a constant giving of time and energy to social pleasures. The woman who goes into society but little and gains her knowledge through patient and solitary study may be more cultivated than she who is constantly seen in public."

The first duty of a woman in the home is to have perfect order, for without order and discipline little is to be accomplished. Order is the foundation, and on this we should rear a beautiful structure. Our homes should have an atmosphere of refinement, be possessed of an air of sweet contentment. There is nothing too worthy for the home. When possible it should be embellished by good music, a carefully chosen library and worthy pictures. The truest hospitality lies in permitting our friends to share our pleasure without any desire at ostentation.—Chicago Post.

After all, a castle in the air does not need a plumber.

What we hope ever to do with ease we must learn to do with diligence.

MAKING UP THE FACE.

If You Must Use Rouge This Is the Way to Do It.

There is no drug store which contains a line of reds to match the white or tan or brown or olive of every skin. The woman who persists in using rouge should make her own preparation at home. This is not a difficult task. First, turn your mirror so that it is backing toward the light, or, better still, so that the light falls upon you from one side as you sit facing the mirror. Daylight is the only light in which a woman should make up. Have beside you a small box of carmine, a box of rouge de theatre, a box of prepared chalk and one of cream tinted face powder; also a little oil of sweet almonds and a few clean empty saucers. Try the rouge first. It may harmonize with your skin perfectly, but there are nine chances in ten that it will be very much off color. Scrape a little of it up and darken by mixing with a little carmine or lighten by mixing with a little of the white or cream powder as your judgment dictates. If you can get no good results, discard the rouge and work with the carmine and powder. When you have obtained a tint that blends with your skin mix in just a trifle of the oil of sweet almonds to give the whole adhesiveness. Remember your quantities and always keep your formula. Always put your rouge on very lightly with a hare's foot before powdering. Thus only is painting made artistic.—New York Press.

EARNING A LIVING.

Whatever Field a Girl Selects, She Should Excel In It.

To those girls who must look forward to supporting themselves the problem of work is a difficult one. Their efforts must be concentrated on some one thing.

I do not intend to write out a list of handicrafts or possible occupations for girls. I want rather to write of the spirit in which any one of them should be taken up by the girl who is forced to support herself.

Teaching is perhaps the most influential occupation into which a girl can readily go. For this reason it is often selected by those totally unqualified for any success in it. Unless a girl has thorough knowledge of her subject, fine self control and fondness for children she will probably make a failure of teaching. It should never be entered on except with the greatest sincerity, says the Ladies' Home Journal.

I can touch on only a few occupations and professions. Those more generally followed are teaching, literature, art, stenography, bookkeeping, clerking, millinery, dressmaking, etc. In preparing oneself for any or all of these the same general course may be recommended—above all, thoroughness. Teach yourself to do well the one thing you have chosen, devote your best energies to it and make up your mind to excel in it. If it be no more than working with pen and ink, make up your mind to work the best buttonholes that buttons were ever slipped through. Good workers are not often at a loss for work.

FOREHEAD FURROWS.

Worry More Than Age Brings These Disagreeable Wrinkles.

It is not always age that makes those disagreeable furrows across our foreheads and round our eyes. There are some grandmothers whose faces have hardly a wrinkle and some granddaughters whose brows are as smooth as theirs might be at sixty. Time is not responsible for these vexing little lines. A good many of them may be charged up against worry. If one gets in the way of fretting over everything that has gone wrong and everything one thinks likely to go wrong the record upon one's face will be as plain as print. Bad temper makes a mark which is hard to erase and is far uglier than the lines the happy years bring. Age cannot wrinkle the heart. Even when the face is crisscrossed with the tracery of a long lifetime the spirit may be as young as ever. But fretfulness and ill temper make wrinkles within as well as without. The little impatient line hardly noticeable on a smooth forehead means that a deep furrow has been plowed in the heart.

DON'TS FOR MOTHERS.

Don't forget that the wish that is gratified by some self sacrifice gains in value.

Don't forget that the orderly child is a blessing to himself as well as to others.

Don't fail to make companions of your children's school friends. Re-live with your children the happiest of all days, your school days.

Don't forget that a crowded shop is a poor place for children. If you must take them there, teach "touch not, taste not, handle not."

Don't expect "Yes, thank you, mamma," or "No, I would rather not, please, mamma," if you omit to use these small words yourself.

Don't permit the wild demonstrations of temper, the screaming and kicking which one sometimes—in fact, too often—witnesses. They demoralize both parent and child. They never need be if the very first demonstration is checked.

Shield Your Nerves.

A beautiful woman gave the following advice to a girl admirer: "Shield your nerves and don't let them become too sensitive. Make yourself take life calmly. If you lose a train don't pace the platform wildly, but inquire when the next comes in and sit down calmly to wait for it. That's just what most women don't do; they sit down, perhaps, but they tap the floor with their feet and clinch and unclinch their hands, apparently in a fever of excitement over the arrival of every train that comes in, even though they have been assured that theirs is not due for another half hour. That half hour of waiting, means to them a frightful wear and tear of nerves, and they are practically weeks older for it. Try to cultivate calmness; but, if you cannot do that all at once, you can keep your face still."—London Family Herald.

Hungarian Salad.

What to Eat recommends this Hungarian salad: Cut two Spanish onions in slices, putting them in a large bowl and pouring boiling water over them, letting the onions remain in the water for just one minute. Drain and plunge into ice water, letting them remain for several hours. Prepare four long green cucumbers, by paring and slicing and letting them remain in ice water for the same length of time. Drain the onions and the cucumbers, and place them in a bowl, pouring over them a French dressing. This quantity seems rather large. A Spanish onion sliced fills a great deal of space. One onion to four cucumbers ought to be about right.

Painted Walls.

Painted walls are best for a kitchen, and they should be finished with a coat of enamel paint. Then they can be washed without injury. The best way to do this is by using a large carriage sponge fitted to a long handled mop holder.

Keene Tattoos.

In the Congo colonies of Belgium both men and women are tattooed, according to their status in society. A woman of high caste will have a design not unlike a zouave jacket worked upon her back, and it would seem that the native is as content with this mode of covering as if it were a substitute for clothing. By injecting the juice of certain herbs the scars left by the tattooing process retain a swollen appearance, giving the effect of bas-relief work. The thorns of the acacia are generally used as a needle, while a certain black clay is used as a coloring medium.

The Sober Officer.

On board the British troopship St. Lawrence, 1885, on a voyage round the cape to India, an officer left a convivial party in the saloon at midnight and, according to the sergeant of the guard, proceeded alone to visit the sentries, when the following dialogue was overheard: Officer—Sentry—Sentry—Yes, sir. Officer—You're asleep, sentry. Sentry—Oh, no, I'm not, sir. Officer—But I say you are asleep, sentry. Sentry—Very well, then, sir, I am. Officer—Then why on earth didn't you say you were asleep, sentry?

Electric Waves.

Electric waves measured by Hertz and named after him—were found by the great scientist to be 150 feet from the top of one wave to the top of the next. The waves used by Marconi in telegraphing across the Atlantic are much longer. They are said to be 600 feet or more. They travel at the same speed as light, 184,000 miles a second. But the light wave measures only a few millionths of an inch.

Setting Her Right.

Aunt Rachel—I see you've patched it up with Archie, and he's coming here again, oftener than ever. He's asked you to marry him fifty times, hasn't he? Miss Mandy—Oh, dear, no, aunty, but I suppose he has asked me fifty times to marry him.

The Fateful Message.

Hubby—Didn't I telegraph you not to bring your mother with you? Wife—I could not help it, Frank. She insisted on coming after she'd read your telegram.

Derby's Market Stone.

In Derby, England, there is a curious relic of the great plague of 1665. It stands in the arboretum gardens and is commonly called "the market stone." To avoid infection the country folk from the surrounding villages would leave their orders for anything they might want with the watchman, who used to go into the town, make the necessary purchases and deposit them on the steps of "the market stone."

BLOOD DISEASES CURED

He was surprised at how the sores healed. "I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itching of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. A REMARKABLE STORY

WOMEN TELLS OF HER FOURTEEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

From Buffalo, N.Y., comes a startling story illustrating how much suffering a woman can bear and yet live.

Mrs. H. J. Rehorn, 189 Landon St., that city, says:

"Soon after the birth of my first child, 14 years ago, constipation became troublesome, and the various pills and medicines I used would give temporary relief, but gradually they seemed to lose their influence and the condition became worse. I must have used fully 50 different remedies.

"At times I would have no relish for food, and what I did eat would digest in my stomach. Gas would form and rise, headache and restless sleep, bearing-down pain, backache, and gradually I began to recognize the loss of strength, easily tired, and never feeling fully rested.

"My husband brought me home a bottle of a new medicine called Anti-Pill and from the first I began to improve. My appetite was better and what I ate did not make me feel uncomfortable. Anti-Pill is mild and gentle in its action, and yet it cured my terribly obstinate constipation and made me feel so well."

Every Druggist sells this wonderful Anti-Pill that cured Mrs. Rehorn.

POLICE AND WORKMEN CLASH.

Collision in Santiago Resulted in One Killed and Fifty Injured.

New York, April 25.—A Valparaiso despatch to The Herald, dated Sunday, says: One dead and fifty more or less severely wounded, as a result of a collision yesterday in Santiago between a police department and a detachment of workmen. The latter had just attended an open air conference of a Catholic priest, Father Jose Julio, who is called the South American Savonarola, who, while advocating the simple life, denounced "the perversity" of his former bishop and "the adulteration of Christ's doctrine."

When they were met by a religious procession after the conference, considered by the workmen as a grotesque spectacle, the men attempted to stop it, but the police charged a score of times with unsheathed swords, the workmen answering with a rain of stones. The majority of the newspapers blame the police.

ROGERS BAFFLED.

Detective at Wits' End—Cannot Make Case Against Mrs. Covell.

London, April 25.—The grave suspicions which have been gathering against Mrs. Covell as the perpetrator of the murder of Eliza Lowry, because of the discrepancies in her stories of the murder, came to a head yesterday. Detective Rogers confronted her with her errors, but after two hours' examination, failed to make any case against the old woman. The search has ended at a stone wall, and unless new clues are found, the murderer will never be brought to book.

The flaws which have come up in Mrs. Covell's story are many and serious, but it cannot be proven that they are more than the mistakes of an intellect seriously deranged by the experience of the night of the murder.

"FOOT SLED" WARRIORS

NORWEGIAN SOLDIERS MARCH
FAST ON THEIR SKIS.

Swift-Footed Infantrymen of Norway
Put Them to Good Use in Their Winter Manoeuvres—A Summer
Army on Bicycles Can Hardly Get Away Faster Than These Newly-Shod Soldiers.

The Japanese and Russians have introduced many up to date and novel methods of fighting in the course of the conflict in Manchuria, but they seem to have overlooked the value of the skis, the "foot sled" which the Norwegian soldiers put to such good use in winter manoeuvres. If an army from another European country should attempt to invade Norway in the winter

NORWEGIAN SKI INFANTRYMEN AT DRILL.
Its soldiers would have a hard time catching the Norwegian warriors in case the latter decided on retreat. An army mounted on bicycles could hardly get away faster over an ordinary road in the summer time than the Norwegian skis infantry could in case of necessity. Wings could scarcely aid them to make a swifter flight. On foot sleas they can travel eight miles an hour, or seventy miles a day. There is record of a race in which a runner on skies made 140 miles in twenty-two hours, rests included.

The skis tournaments in the leading Norwegian and Swedish cities are the leading sporting events of those countries, and the hardy Scandinavians
have grown so accustomed to the use of the skis that it has been adopted as a part of a soldier's equipment. Scandinavian infantrymen often engage in military manoeuvres in which while wearing the skis they go through the usual exercises of a military drill. To the ordinary soldier this would be a quite difficult, for the skis are not an easy thing to wear. The skis infantrymen wear goat hair socks in place of shoes and when they go into camp
take off the skis and put on boots.

They travel in light marching order to the front, the skis being used in the winter time. When they are not using the skis the soldiers stick them up in the snow near their tents.

THE JAP BADGE OF COURAGE

Perhaps one cause of the efficiency of the Japanese soldiery is the fact that none of the Mikado's soldiers marched to the front with a "marsha's" baton in his knapsack. Instead of looking for chances to win promotion or to do rare stunts as an advertisement for valour, the Japs have been attending to the ordinary business of warfare. Special acts of bravery are not recognized by advancement nor brevet nor reward.
Since Napoleon's day western armies
have been hypnotized by the phrase,
"Promoted on the field for gallantry."

The true soldier seeks to win laurels for his company and regiment and corps. Captured battleflags and guns are credited as trophies to the organization effecting the capture, not to individuals. Whenever a soldier is engaged in doing some brilliant thing
his fellows are pegging away at commonplace affairs to help him. Otherwise a battle would be like an Irish fair
—every man on his own hook. "Invidious distinctions" in armies are an evil
and are discredited by the best professional soldiers. To do one's duty, to respond when called upon, is the highest merit a soldier can aspire to. Honors belong to all and should be shared by all, for the fortunate of one encounter may be the unfortunate of the next, and vice versa.

The Mikado awards medals and ethereal decorations for especially brave deeds, the highest of these being the Golden Kite. Like the British Victoria Cross and the French medal of the Legion of Honor, the Golden Kite may be won by private and general alike.
A medal of distinction worn by any member of a command reflects glory upon the whole command. This is as it should be and takes away all incentive to narrow personal rivalry.
Napoleon on certain occasions permitted the soldiers of an elite corps to carry the eagles taken from captured battleflags mounted upon the staffs of their own banners.

Evan Roberts a New Type.
Evan Roberts, the nominal leader of the great religious revival in Wales,
is described as a new type, neither a Wesley, a Whitfield nor even a Moody. He is without the power of eloquence or personal magnetism. After passing a long season of time in secret meditation and prayer he emerged to fire the souls of the masses with religious ardor. The founder of the movement, we learn from the gospel narrative, often went apart into a mountain to meditate
and pray.

The Man in the Case.
"Seek the woman in the case," is the cry when a man goes wrong. Recently there have been several noted female offenders in the public eye. Yet nothing is heard of the man in the case.
Students of criminology note that back of every bad woman there is a worse
man. The normal woman lacks firmness and audacity for evil deeds.
Sometimes love of a man, but more often perhaps fear of a man, leads her into crooked paths.

THE CROSS FAD.

New Jewelry Fancies and Fashions
of Smart Dressers.

The heart, worn not on the sleeve,
but dangling from a long chain, and the round locket containing a miniature are passing into a romantic memory.

Whether it is the beckoning hand of Easter or merely one of fashion's mysterious and untraceable ripples that has revived the cross as an ornament
does not matter. With whatever sentiment its use may be viewed, the cross is to be.

Many a woman other than the fair
Lenten penitent will now grope deep into her box of cherished old fashioned jewels and bring to light one of those huge jet crosses that were the black gown some years ago.

Yet, however, is by no means the preferred material today. The cross of the best turned out dresser will be of polished silver or gold in the flat style represented in the sketch and of large size, running up to four inches in length. This is the plain article. Others,
also large and in the Roman shape,
are enameled or composed entirely of some one kind of stone set in gold wire. The amethyst, sapphire, topaz and opal represent the usual stones for this purpose. These crosses are all worn on a plain and rather light log-giette chain of gold.

Less pronounced and appealing to quieter tastes are the small and dainty versions of this object in either the Roman or the Greek form. A favorite is in gold with a single stone in the center, as here sketched. This less aggressive presentation of the new accessory will better act as a pendant on the dog collar, which is largely supplanting the slender necklace that has had so phenomenal a run for the past two seasons.

The quite young and the sentimental contingent of society will rejoice in another new notion in jewelry. It is straight from Paris and a very neat thing, by the way, to mention to the one who is endeavoring to discover what you'd like for Easter. This is a pendant made up of stones the initials
of which spell the wearer's name.
Should the name be Hope, for instance,
the stones called for would be hyacinthine, opal, pearl and emerald, and the longer the name the more jewels.

Amethysts, with their rich, velvety,
lovely tint, are undoubtedly very much in fashion again, and it is said to be the exquisite taste of Queen Alexandra that first launched them upon another period of popularity.

Gold beads will this season find use, not so much as a single strand, but as broad collars of many rows with gold or jeweled bars or slides.

THE HAMBURG BOURSE.

Hamburg's first bourse, established in 1568-69, was a shelterless, paved meeting place, 112 feet long and 42
feet wide, supported toward the water front by means of bulwarks and having its three other sides surrounded by a low stone wall. In 1577 the bourse was enlarged by adding a cloth hall, supplied with a roof. The present bourse also differs in many respects considerably from American and other foreign exchanges. No membership exists here, but attendance and admission to all privileges of the floor free of charge are permitted to every respectable male person.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Doing Good Work Around Port Arthur.

Mr. Dick Souvey and Wife Both Had Kidney Troubles, and the Great
Canadian Kidney Remedy Cured
Them.

Port Arthur, Ont., April 24.—(Special).—That Dodd's Kidney Pills cure
the kidney ills of men and women
alike has been proved time and again
in this neighborhood, but it is only occasionally they get a chance to do double work in the same house. This has happened in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Souvey, a farmer and his wife, living about seven miles from here. In an interview Mr. Souvey
said:

"My wife and myself have used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and have found them a big benefit to our health.
We had La Grippe two winters and were exposed to much frost and cold.
Our sleep was broken on account of urinary troubles and pain in the kidneys. We each took six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and now enjoy good health."

Earning Their "Dot."
The manager of a large dressmaking establishment in New York says: "I suppose that the most un-American immigrants we get in this country are not the Chinese or the Poles or the Hungarians, but the Parisian seam-stresses, milliners and lingerie workers. These women come here to save the price of a 'dot' out of our high American wages. It takes from two to five years to do that. In all that time they never mix with Americans, never visit a theater, never make the first attempt to learn the language.
Some of them go to the French church
on Sundays; otherwise they never leave their rooms except to shop. This prenuptial period in New York is just a time dropped out of their lives. They talk of nothing day after day but what they'll do when they get back to Paris
and begin to live again."

Amicted with Erysipelas

For Ten Years.

Cured by Four Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. N. Peister, of Brighton,
Ont., was Cured Two Years Ago
and Has Had No Return Of
It Since.

Read what she says: "It is now about two years since I was cured of a terrible attack of Erysipelas, with which I had been afflicted for about ten years. I had tried almost everything, including medicine from several doctors, but could get no relief. I had given my case up as hopeless, but I procured five bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it completely cured me. In fact, the cure has been permanent. It is now two years since I took Burdock Blood Bitters, and I have not had the slightest sign of the disease returning. I fully believe that your wonderful remedy has taken it so completely out of my system that I shall never be bothered again with it. I have the greatest of faith in Burdock Blood Bitters."

SHAMROCKS

Chatham has a young lacrosse team which promises to be a credit to the city before the season is over. It is composed of energetic young boys who have named themselves the Shamrocks. Through subscriptions they have raised enough money to purchase sweaters and they have already commenced practicing.

A RECORD WALK

Roy Tobey has received a letter from a brother Fred, of Jack Fish Lake, N. W. T., in which Fred gives an example of what kind of men the West is made of.

Orville Moore, son of W. J. Moore, of this city, was on his way from Chatham to Jack Fish Lake, and when he got as far as The Elbow he could not get connections, so he started out to walk the distance. He walked 25 miles the first day and 29 miles the second day, and rode the other 12 miles on horseback, making the journey of 70 miles in two days. Considering that Orville is only 19 years old, this is a remarkable record.

There are 150 men working on the railroad just a few miles from where Fred is located, and as soon as the railroad is completed land will take a great boost in value. The land that Fred Tobey purchased two years ago has already increased in value $7 an acre.

THE EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW

To the Editor of The Planet:

Sir.—That this high-handed by-law has aroused the indignation of the majority of the citizens of Chatham whom it directly annoys and inconveniences, can easily be seen where two or three are gathered together on the street corner. The hardship to the housewives and general shoppers, however, is but slight compared with the utter ruin that this officious draconic legislation brings to all the small grocers of this city. The City Council may rest assured that if necessary a test case will be made as to the validity of this by-law and its constitutionality in the courts at Toronto, and those aldermen who supported it will be held responsible for any costs the city may be put to when the ballots are counted next fall. The same law was passed in Toronto and promptly repealed on the ground that it was unconstitutional, and that the Legislature had no power to delegate any such powers to Municipal Councils. As any candid person can see this by-law discriminates in favor of the bakers and fruit dealers, who handle tobacco, cigars, fruits and many other staple articles sold by regular grocers. These can keep open as long as they wish and in this way obtain a very great advantage over the general retailers, who all pay heavy taxes. The berry season will soon arrive, and it is a well known fact that berries are largely brought to the city after seven o'clock. But the bakers and fruit dealers would not be interfered with and in this way they would practically monopolize the trade, and moreover could corner it against the interests of the citizens. In one word, this by-law gives a certain class and number of tradespeople a ditch and advantage over a large class and number of others which is opposed to all conceptions of British fair play. The weather merchant prince, who have made their pile may seem careless about it, but while struggling to get to the front these very merchants would be the first to set up a high flag and kick and howl about any such hold-up by-law as this. Any housewife will affirm that for many reasons it is more convenient for them to do their shopping, at least as to groceries, in the evening and sometimes as late as seven p.m. The convenience of the great body of our citizens should be respected by our Council and not the presumptuous whims of a few hightoned merchants who can close up at noon if they wish without invoking the Jupiter thunderings of our brand new aldermen, some of whom are trying very hard to run with the hare and at the same time ride with the dog. Some of these aldermen will hear something drop with a loud thud next election. It is to be hoped that to-morrow night the Council will promptly repeal a most vicious, unfair and discriminating by-law that will only keep our people by the ears so long as it is in force, and one that is sure to end in expensive legal proceedings.

Yours truly,

A RETAIL VICTIM.

Chatham, April 19, 1905.

I wonder if all the ladies removed their new hats at the Methodist Church Sunday.

Now, if all the people who have cheated this G. H. J. would only get conscience stricken.

They tell me that the steel rails for the electric railway have been purchased for $60,000.

The police should look after the city and its water wagon. What right has the city to break its own laws?

I wonder if that new electric railroad will give The Satellite a pass in consideration of all this free advertising.

No, I don't think that they are only women and men with a woman's privilege on Murray St. I believe there are at least four real men on that thoroughfare.

Chas. Hicklin says that everybody knows that he is on the water wagon, and therefore it was quite unnecessary to leave that vehicle in front of his residence all day Sunday.
