HOPES FOR GOLDEN AGE

Rev. Mr. Hodgins Says Hague Tribunal Is Move Towards Peace

Independent Order Of Odd-fellows Attend Holy Trinity Church

The Independent Order of Odd-fellows met in a body to divine service in Holy Trinity Church last evening. The weather was fine and there was a large turnout of the brethren. This was the first church parade held this year.

An eloquent, instructive and forceful sermon on the brotherhood of man was delivered by the rector, Rev. J. W. Hodgins, who took for his text, John 17th chapter and 20th and 21st verses.

"Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; That they may be one; as thou, Father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."

Rev. Mr. Hodgins said that he always sympathized with a minister who was called on to preach a sermon to a fraternal organization of which he was not a member. On this occasion he was placed in such a position, but he would endeavor to say a few words in a general way about the good objects of fraternal societies and their splendid results in alleviating poverty and want.

Christ preached the brotherhood of men and lived it. His great love for other men had overshadowed the suffering and mental tortures of Gethsemane. Christ's object was that all men should be united through God as one great family. Too often the world exercises a great influence over the professors of Christianity, and they do things that could not be pleasing in the eyes of the Lord. It was the hope of the speaker that during the onward progress of civilization during the twentieth century, that Christianity would break many of the bands at present about her neck.

Rev. Mr. Hodgins briefly touched on the Hague peace conference, which he spoke of as a giant stride toward the universal brotherhood of men. This conference could make and encourage peace, but it could not keep peace. He deprecated the fact that the nations are still spending millions yearly on engines which which are useless except for war. While the powers continued to build machinery designed for war, there would be a continuation of war. He hoped for the Golden Age, when men would turn the sword into a ploughshare, and follow the paths of peace.

Union of effort is what is needed in Christian circles to-day. If Christians only could complete a perfect organization of their forces, they could put up a fight against unrighteousness that would in a very short time make Satan's kingdom tremble.

The speaker made many complimentary remarks about the good work which the I. O. O. F. is doing. Fraternalism has proven itself to no longer be an experiment, and need make no excuse for its existence. He welcomed the brethren to Holy Trinity Church, and invited them to come again.

During the course of Rev. Mr. Hodgins' sermon, the electric lights in the sacred edifice went out, and for a period of some moments the church was in darkness. The rector, however, did not cease speaking, but went on with his remarks as though nothing had happened. The cause of the lights going out was an exhausted fuse. Fortunately, Mr. Phil. H. Coate, manager for the Chatham Electric Company, was present in the congregation, and it was through his action in quickly repairing the fuse that the lights were soon on again.

HORSE SHOW

The entries for the Canadian National Horse Show closed last Saturday, with one of the largest lists in the history of the exhibition. The quantity and quality are both remarkable. All the largest horse owners in the country are represented, including several from this vicinity. The reduced rates on the railways will attract many people to Toronto and the show, this week, on May 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th. Return tickets good going May 1st are sold at single fare, and tickets good going May 2nd, 3rd and 4th are issued for a fare and one-third, all tickets good returning up to and including Monday, May 6th.

The awards at the Canadian Horse Show will decide what horses are to be sent to the great International Horse Show to be held in London, Eng., in June. This year among the Canadian exhibitors who will be represented at the International Horse Show are The Hon. Adam Beck, Mr. Geo. Pepp, Messrs. Crow & Murray, Mr. J. J. Dixon, Toronto; Mr. A. Yeager, Simcoe; Sir Montague Allan and Mr. F. R. Lewis, Montreal.

TWO FORCEFUL SERMONS MARK THE ANNIVERSARY

Large Crowds Attend Special Services In First Church

—Rev. Mr. Kilpatrick Preacher—Excellent Music

First Church was packed with large throngs of worshippers at both services yesterday. It was anniversary Sunday, and it is safe to say that a more successful anniversary may be popular and considered wise; the way of sinners may be taken by the majority; the scornful idea may be witty and clever—he has nothing to do with them. He stands aloof from sin. There is no possibility of temporizing or compromising. When sin comes within your scope, there is nothing to do but to cut it off, root and branch, and have nothing to do with it.

Then there is the positive side. To many, there is a deep abhorrence for binding laws. It is thought that laws confine too closely, and that through living up to them a man loses his personality, freedom and liberty. Men are afraid that they will be ignoble, and surrender their dignity as men. To a thoughtful man, there is nothing in this. The law of the Lord is the most gracious thing in this universe. It is God's greatest gift. It is a manifestation of the mind of the Creator when he surveyed all and said that it was good. It is the expression of the mind of God. It is the law which saves, sanctifies and glorifies. The Psalmist's delight was in the law of the Lord. God's law is better than a promise, more gracious than an invitation, and when taken into life it gives the first feeling of freedom. Before he accepts it, man is the slave of every caprice, a bondsman to his lower nature.

What is wanted is to put permanence and power into character, not to follow at the command of low despots, but to follow the law of Him whose name is Love. It is quite a general opinion that such a follower is a man who leads a sad life, and wears a long, drawn, sour visage. He is in truth the happiest man. He shall be blessed, we are told by the Psalmist, like the tree. There is a difference between a tree and a saw-log. One is living and the other is dead. There are a few people who are like a saw-log. You can cut a great deal with them—but they are not alive. The righteous man shall be like a tree that is planted. There are different kinds of trees. There are Christmas trees. When placed in a tub they look very much as if they were planted. They are not as the trees, however, which have their hooks in the soil, sending them out in all directions for life-giving nourishment and strength, and which, when the storm beats, it sways to and fro, but it is safe, for it is founded upon a rock. There are many people like trees in a tub. They are highly decorated, but they are only stuck there. They are not living—they are not growing. There is no blessedness there. He shall also bear fruit in season. There are many people who are lax when they should be stern, and stern when they should be lax. Their leaf also shall not wither.

What about the ungodly. All you can say is that they are not so. There are only two ways—the righteous and the ungodly. The way of the righteous is the way of the Man of Sorrows. The Lord knows it. He planned it and took it. He treats it with us. The way of the ungodly perishes. Which way are you on? There is a note of gladness to-night, no matter which road you are on. If you are on the wrong road there is immediate blessedness for you, because there is One who says, "I am the way, the truth and the light—I am the door." Will you come, enter by the way of the cross, and in the end meet Him where He is—at the gate of the Holy City.

The music at both services was most appropriate and inspiring. In the morning a splendid anthem was rendered by the choir and a selection was given by the First Church male quartet. In the evening an excellent style, and a quintette number, "God Be With You," was also rendered. Special mention should be made of the excellent choral work. It was quite generally commented upon as being of the very highest order.

POST OFFICE REVENUE

Ald. Austin Saturday morning made inquiries from Postmaster Barfoot and found that the revenue of the local post office during last year to June was $25,565, and for the nine months ending March 31, 1907, it was $26,385, making a provisional increase of $1,500. This year's revenue should amount to $27,000 or over. This should amply qualify Chatham for free postal delivery, as the amount of revenue specified by the Government as entitling a city to free delivery is only $20,000.

A LAST WORD TO THE YOUNG

Rev. F. E. Malott Preaches Excellent Sermon—Large Attendance

Temperance In All Things Good; Abstinence From all Things Hurtful

Rev. F. E. Malott preached a farewell sermon to the young people of his congregation last night, from the words found in III. John, 2,—"Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health even as thy soul prospereth."

"This three-fold wish of John for his friend Gaius is my wish for the young people of Chatham," said the speaker. He then proceeded to show how business success, good health and soul prosperity may be gained. He urged upon the young people present the need of integrity and industry if they would succeed in their business or profession. The secret of good health was given them in one word, "Temperance in all things good, and total abstinence from all things hurtful." The recent victories of Longboat and Peter at Boston, and of the young Canadian Surgeon who was awarded the highest prize by the Royal College of Surgeons in England, were used as illustrations of what clean living and proper attention to health can do.

In closing, a strong and earnest appeal was made to the young people present to put first things first and seek above all else the soul prosperity mentioned in the text. Mr. Malott called attention to the great work that consecrated young people can do through the Young People's organizations of this city for those who are not connected with any of the churches, and urged aggressive Christian work as a condition of soul prosperity. The church was crowded to the doors. A large number of young people were present, and the sermon was followed throughout with the closest attention.

During the service a duett by Miss Jackson and Miss Dyer, and a quartette by Messrs. Wrigley, Horstead, Morrison and Morrison were pleasingly rendered.

FIRST MORTGAGE OFFERED

In Saturday's Planet it was stated that the Wolverine Manufacturing Company, who are seeking assistance from Chatham, in establishing a large brass works here, offered a second mortgage on their plant as security to the city for the loan asked. This was an error. It should have read that the company will give a FIRST mortgage to insure the city against any possible loss. It is unfortunate that the error crept into our columns. The company, moreover, will pay interest on the loan at four per cent. They will give their personal guarantee for the first five payments. This is one of the best propositions which could be secured and it should receive hearty support.

CARRY THE BY-LAW!

Every honest and loyal minded citizen of Chatham learned with the greatest feeling of commendation of the splendid work already commenced by the Maple City's active young Board of Trade, an account of which was contained in Saturday's Planet.

As has been wisely pointed out by strong minded men who view with intelligence Chatham's position to-day, the only way that this city can advance further along the road to increased prosperity, is by securing more industries. The Board of Trade realizes this and it has inaugurated its work in building up Chatham by landings, as far as they are able to do so, one of the best appearing industrial propositions ever presented in Chatham. The personnel of the Board of Trade is composed of the city's strongest and shrewdest business men. They have weighed carefully every point in connection with this new proposition. They have looked at it from every side and they give their word to the electors of the city that the offer is a desirable one to Chatham. What further testimony is required?

A close scrutiny into the terms of the agreement as previously published will satisfy the most careful and conservative voter that it would be a calamity to the city should the by-law be defeated. Once this is thoroughly realized, there should be no doubt as to the fate of the measure at the polls.

One thing should be kept constantly in mind. The work is just commenced. The by-law will be submitted some time in May, but before that time every ratepayer will have to be thoroughly informed upon every feature of the proposition. The vote will have to be gotten out. This means work—the hardest work in connection with industrial schemes. There is no doubt that the Board of Trade and City Council will do their part towards helping to carry it. All that remains is for every citizen to personally do his part. Their indifference, or a decision not to vote against, will never do. The municipal election laws require that at least two-thirds of the total vote shall be polled, or, if less than one-fifth vote against, three-fifths only will be required. The trouble, should there be any, will be with the number of men who do not vote at all.

There is a personal duty resting upon every elector of Chatham. Let there be no shirking. Assert your claim to citizenship by voting, and your loyalty to the city by voting FOR the by-law.

The Banner editor has evidently been somewhat of a sport in his day. A short time ago, he wrote an article insinuating that Toronto should not be called, "The Good." He said that people intimate with Toronto know of many rooms where they can go to enjoy a "quiet game." One of the Toronto papers asks, "How does he know all this?" The Banner editor has not yet answered the question. Maybe he doesn't want to put the Toronto editor "next."

OH, FOR A CLEAR COMPLEXION!

A clear complexion is the outward evidence of inward cleanliness. In bad health the face becomes a sign-board, telling of disease within. If yellow, bile is not properly secreted; if pallid, the kidneys are faulty; if skin is murky and dark circles beneath the eyes, look for constipation. Whatever the cause, no remedy compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are mild, safe, purifying and vitalizing in their action. They give a marvelous rosy tint to the cheeks, brighten the eyes and establish health that defies age and disease. Sold everywhere in 25c. boxes.

Change In United States

Subscription Rates

The Planet, in common with all other newspapers of Canada, has been notified by the Postoffice department at Ottawa that on and after May 8th next, the rate of postage on papers entering the United States will be changed from one-half price of The Daily Planet sent to the cent for every four ounces or fraction of four ounces.

This means that single papers entering the United States will each require one-cent postage, that parcels of papers sent to one office will be four cents a pound.

In view of this, after May 8th the price of The Planet sent to the United States will be $5 per annum. There is a reduction in the actual price of the paper of over $1, as the postage the publishers will be obliged to pay will be $3.12 a year on each subscription. The Weekly Planet will be $1.50 per annum, strictly in advance.

WROTE "ICHABOD" ON TEMPLE.

Strangers Disfigured Sacred Edifice in London.

London, April 27.—Passers-by were astonished yesterday morning to see the word "Ichabod" (the glory is departed from Israel), in glaring letters

18 inches high, over the portico of the City Temple. It had evidently been written by a skilled hand as the letters were perfectly formed and spaced. Persons not aware of the significance of the word thought that it was merely a new decoration and passed on.

Eventually somebody sufficiently curious found the Temple caretaker and enquired why the word was on the portico. The caretaker, who until then was not aware of its presence, promptly obtained a ladder and washed

the letters off.

A subsequent investigation revealed that two well dressed men, with a long ladder, had inscribed the word early in the morning. Nobody interfered with them, it being assumed that they were orthodox Christians, who, saddened by Dr. Campbell's heresy conceived it to be their duty to fulfil the invocation of the late pastor of the church, Dr. Parker, who on a memorable occasion declared from the pulpit of the Temple: "Should it ever come to pass that the great truths of Christ's death and resurrection be denied by the people, let the fact of His gracious Godhead and Divinity be questioned, may the word Ichabod be written over the doors of the City Temple."

15-year-old daughter of the husband, and a son of the woman by a former marriage named Frank Varasko.

Varasko had been paying or trying to pay his respects to the girl and was jealous of her speaking to or being seen with any of the other young men of the neighborhood. Varasko and a number of other young men of the place had been drinking rather heavily for some time.

The tragedy occurred at about 5 o'clock Monday evening. The girl was employed in a sugar bush boiling sap.

After the finding of the body of the girl, search was made for Varasko by

C. K. Arthur, J.P., and Anton Wagner, and his body was found a short distance away in the woods.

The old couple, the father of the girl, and the mother of the young man, were both confined to their beds by illness at the time of the tragedy.

The parties are all Germans and members of considerable settlements in that vicinity.

FAMOUS PROPHET DIES

FOUNDER OF ZION CITY, JOHN A. DOWIE, PASSES AWAY.

Had a Wonderful Career—Might Have Been Canonized Some Years Ago—Was Victim of Conspiracy—Cult Was Founded Upon Mental Healing—Made Millions—Chicago Lawyer's Testimony to Him.

Death comes as a melancholy anticlimax to the career of John Alexander Dowie, the founder of Zion City, and one of the most widely known religious leaders of his day. Had he died gloriously at the crowning moment of his career, when he led his hosts to New York in 1902, he would have been canonized by his followers, and the movement that he represented would have been only stimulated by the event. Separated from his family, deserted by his lieutenants, and with only a handful of pitying believers about him, Dowie's death makes hardly a ripple. The old man was down before, and now he is out. With ten years more of life he might have won back his little kingdom, but he was an old man, and his vitality was hardly strong enough to resist his great reverses.

A Victim of Conspirators.
Dowieism died before Dowie, or rather it was assassinated by William Glenn Voliva and the others who conspired against the leader when he was recuperating from a paralytic stroke in Mexico in 1906.

Dowie was a big, strong man at his worst. Incurably narrow, he had the force of his vice, and to thousands his intolerance seemed convincing of his sincerity. At any rate, Dowie believed something, and was ready to suffer for his convictions. It is not necessary to sympathize with either his ideas or his methods to admire his force of character and his enthusiasm.

The Foundation of the Cult.

Dowieism was founded upon mental healing, but differed from the other cults of the same origin chiefly in the fury with which its tenets were expounded. Dispassionate investigators have credited Dowie with many cures, and there can be no doubt that he relieved much human suffering, unless it is to be assumed that some hundreds of people were his fellow-conspirators. It was his tenets, added to his impassioned exhortations, that first attracted to him a little group of believers; but to his persecutions must be attributed his great celebrity. In Chicago he was arrested a hundred times for violating city ordinances. He was pelted in the streets, and lampooned in the newspapers, with the inevitable result that his little sect grew. Eight years of this kind of treatment in Chicago were followed by the announcement of Zion City and its enterprises. It was learned that Dowie had lots of money, and a change came over the susceptible public mind. He established a new industry that of making lace, and was hailed enthusiastically as a public benefactor.

He Made Millions.
Other factories were started in the model city on the shores of Lake Michigan, and soon 5,000 people were settled there. There followed a period of prosperity, for Dowie himself admitted that he had made $5,000,000 out of the enterprises.

A Christian Man.
That the world is any the worse for his life and example we do not believe. A Chicago attorney thus pronounces his obituary:

"Personally I entertained the highest regard for Dr. Dowie, and have no hesitation in saying, after several months of very intimate association, that I considered him the most sincere, the most devoted, and the most conscientious Christian man I have ever met. His greatest weakness was that he was liberal and generous to a fault."

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better. The cause of the wrong treatment, but probably worse, is a proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription directed to the cause would have centered the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known in half cure is equalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

"As a powerful invigorating tonic 'Favorite Prescription' imparts strength to the whole system, and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, 'worn-out,' run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, 'shop-girls,' house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic."

As a soothing and strengthening nerve tonic, 'Favorite Prescription' is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

The Majority.
Some people work for glory, But many of them, though, Put in theiricks and turn the tricks For just plain dough.

A Substitute.
"I do not believe in corporal punishment."
"But what would you do with an incorrigible child?"
"You might send him to a painless dentist."

Had to Do It Himself.
"Why is the young lady wringing her hands?"
"The young man who promised to ring them for her didn't show up."

Sure Cure.
"What's good for a bad temper?"
"Marry a small but proficient woman."

DIVIDES THE WORLD.

The Line That Marks Where Day Begins and Ends.

IT TRAVERSES THE PACIFIC.

The Way This Important Boundary Came to Be Established—Spots Where Today, Tomorrow and Yesterday Are Still a Confused Jumble.

It is evident that the day must begin somewhere, though it is a confusing thing to undertake to determine just where, for one may go on and on around the world and never catch up with it. On the other hand, if we are not careful in reasoning we will reach the absurd conclusion that it is Monday noon and Tuesday noon at the same time in any given place.

A writer in the St. James' Gazette treats this peculiar phase of the subject in a very definite way.

Seeing that as one moves westward the time gets earlier and earlier, so that when it is Monday noon in London it is some time on Monday morning in America, it follows that, if this principle were continued without limit halfway round the world, at the same moment that it was Monday noon in London it would be also twenty-four hours later—that is, Tuesday noon—in London. As this is reduction ad absurdum, we have to look for the limit, which does, in fact, exist, on the principle that as one moves westward the time gets earlier and as one moves eastward it gets later.

Before the circumnavigation of the globe there was no difficulty. When on a Monday the sun stood over London it was Monday noon in London. As the sun moved (to use the popular phrase) westward and stood a little later over Dublin it became Monday noon in Dublin, and so on until it reached the western limit of the known world.

When the sun passed over that limit, that was the end of noon for that Monday, and nobody knew what the sun was doing until he reappeared on the eastern limit of the known world, bringing with him Tuesday morning.

It is evident, therefore, that while the sun was in the unknown abyss between west and east he dropped the attribute of making the time at all places directly under his rays Monday noon and took to himself the attribute of making it Tuesday noon.

As the confines of the world were pushed farther eastward and westward, respectively, the unknown abyss where this change of attribute had to be made got narrower and narrower until, when the globe was circumnavigated, the place of change became simply a line.

The line exists and is the place where the days begin. As the sun crosses this remarkable spot the time jumps twenty-four hours onward—from noon one day to noon on the next day. The situation of the line has been located quite fortuitously—namely, by the circumstance whether any given place was first reached by civilized man journeying from the east or from the west.

The discoverer brought with him the almanac from whence he came, and if he came from the west the time in the new country would be later, and if he came from the east it would be earlier than the time in the country he came from.

America was reached by civilized man voyaging westward and China by man traveling eastward, and the result is that the line that marks where the days begin lies between these two

the Pacific ocean and, instead of being a straight line, zigzags about, dividing islands which happened to be discovered from the east from those which happened to be discovered from the west.

There must still be many islands in that ocean where it is not yet decided to which side of the line they belong and where, if one were put down, one would not know whether it were today, tomorrow or yesterday.

There must also be many islands there which, never having been permanently occupied by civilized people, change their day from time to time, so that a ship calling there coming from China might arrive on Tuesday, while another ship calling at the same time from America would arrive on Monday. There must be people living so near this line that by going a few miles they can leave today and get into tomorrow, or, by going back, can find yesterday.

"Why, I understood that you gave a quite different order from what you were instructed to give."

"Sh-sh! It netted me a thousand dollars."

"Oh, I see! Not so much of a mistake as it seems."

Really Necessary.

"Some men get such an exaggerated opinion of their own importance that they think the business couldn't run without them."

"Still, there is one of that sort occasionally."

CRAZE FOR MAHOGANY.

Latest Designs of the Furniture Makers in This Wood.

Mahogany has come back into its own again as a furniture wood, and its popularity was never greater than at the present time. Old mahogany is particularly desirable, but when it is not possible to get antique mahogany furniture copies of old styles make very acceptable substitutes. For the collector, of course, nothing suits but the genuinely old productions. A prominent physician of artistic taste whose hobby is collecting antique furniture is particularly proud of the fact that in his bedroom, furnished entirely in mahogany, not a piece but is 100 years old, one or two even reaching back nearly to the two hundredth year. Some are heirlooms, the rest acquired after careful search.

This "feeling" for antique furniture is not so general as the liking for mahogany, for which dealers have reason to be thankful, and so the modern reproductions find a ready sale. A novelty is the cocktail tray, with its gay decoration and inscription. A combination piece of furniture is the cellaret, with a tiny steel safe filling a niche in the center.

In contrast to these specimens of mahogany furniture is the magazine stand of weathered oak.

Breaks Smallpox Quarantine.

Windsor, April 26.—Crown Attorney Rodd has been notified by Edward Price, health officer for Maidstone Township, that several people near Elmstead, who were quarantined for smallpox, have refused to comply with the regulations and are mingling with their neighbors.

He has been instructed by the crown attorney to use his authority, by which he may have the offenders locked up and guarded by constables.

Alleged Highwayman In Jail.

Peterboro, April 26.—William McGee was arrested yesterday on a charge of attempting to hold up his Majesty's mail Wednesday morning. James Reid, the mailcarrier, was returning from the station with the mid-night mail, when he was stopped and ordered to hand over the mail bags. Reid, however, hit the man twice on the head with an empty mail bag and was allowed to go on.

Crown Counsel Withdraws.

Winnipeg, April 26.—Owing to a disagreement with the coroner R. A. Bonner, crown counsel in the grain exchange conspiracy cases, has withdrawn, and it was yesterday necessary to adjourn the hearing until May 5.

Judge Phippen said Bonner was subject to discipline by the Law Society.

Story of a Famous Hymn.

A popular hymn is Theodulph's "All Glory, Laud and Honor," belonging to the thirteenth century, and said to have been written by the poet while in an Angers prison.

The author of "Hymns and Their Makers" quotes a legend in relation to its use on Palm Sunday, 821, to the effect that when Louis the Pious, King of France, was 38, Angers, he took part in the usual procession of laity and clergy, and as the procession passed the place where St. Theodulph, the Bishop of Orleans, had long been incarcerated, he was seen standing at the open window of his cell, and there, amid the silence of the people, he sang his hymn, to the delight of the King, who at once ordered him to be set at liberty and restored to his see. In some minor details this legend is referred to by other writers as well.

The original is too long to be sung in modern services, as it has no fewer than 78 lines. The verses usually found in our hymnals are but a fragment of the original hymn, which, with more or less abbreviation, has been used as a processional for many centuries.—The Quiver.

"Why doesn't the Health Inspector get busy and have something done towards cleaning up the back yards along the river front," asked a ratepayer this morning. "While I was passing through the park Sunday I couldn't help noticing the disgraceful state of the back yards along King St. They are simply awful shape, and are a disgrace to the city. These dirty, germ-breeding eye-sores should be removed, if for nothing else than to improve our appearance in the eyes of visitors to our city."

Although the much-talked-of Exposition at Jamestown, Virginia, will not be officially opened until the 26th of this month, and probably not at its best until some time later, the special railroad rates are already announced by the Canadian Pacific Railway. There are special rates for season tickets, sixty-day tickets and thirty day tickets, from Toronto to Norfolk, Va., and return, from now daily until the last day of November. Norfolk is reached by several different lines of railroads and steamboats; during the summer a particularly delightful journey, but the very variety of routes renders it difficult to give rates. There are too many. All Canadian Pacific agents will be glad to quote them and give full particulars of service, or write to C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent C. P. R., Toronto.

Train Has Narrow Escape.
St. John, N. B., April 27.—By the merest chance the Maritime Express was saved from being ditched near Rogersville yesterday. A man who saw the northbound train pass noticed that she had broken a rail. The Maritime was following close behind and he rushed back and flagged her. The place is rough with deep cuttings at each side of the track, and the trainmen believe that the whole train would have been ditched had the break not been discovered. The Maritime was crowded with passengers.

Montreal Residence Burned.
Montreal, April 27.—The residence of J. N. Greenishields on Peel street was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. None of the family were at home at the time. The fire was discovered by some of the servants, one of whom, a woman named Sarah Shields, had a narrow escape from losing her life in the flames. She jumped to the ground below, but in the fall she broke her leg and sustained other severe injuries.
The interior of the house was completely ruined and the loss is placed at over $50,000.

Lord's Day Alliance Up in Arms Against Decision.
Victoria, B. C., April 27.—The Provincial Government, at the close of the session, announced its attitude on the Dominion Lord's Day Act, declining to assent to any prosecution under the act.
The Lord's Day Alliance is already up in arms, declaring the Dominion had no power to leave it optional with the provinces to enforce the law.
The Government's reply is to go to Ottawa and fight that out in Ottawa.
