South Ward Committee—Red Lion Hotel.

On Friday night a GENERAL MEETING of all the Committees will be held at the Wellington Hotel at half past seven o'clock, when a full attendance is expected.

Town and County News

MASONIC ENTERTAINMENT.—It is the intention of the Spool Lodge 180, A. F. and A. M., to hold a grand Masonic Festival in the Town Hall, on Tuesday, the 29th inst.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.—The tender for seating and completing the above Church were opened last night. The contracts were awarded as follows:—Plastering, W. Day, $1,215; carpenter work, F. Chace, $1,147; painting, W. H. Jacob, $235. The building is expected to be completed about the middle of August next.

CHURCH OPENING.—The new Baptist Church in Erin Village will be opened by the Rev. E. J. Stobo, of Brampton, and Dr. Davidson, Guelph, on Sunday, December 20th. A tea-meeting will be held on the Monday evening following, when addresses and good music will constitute the intellectual programme.

WARD MEETINGS.—We would remind the Ward Committees favorable to the election of Mr. Melvin and colleagues that the meetings will be held this evening in the places mentioned in the notice over our local news heading. We trust that every member, as well as those favorable to the gentlemen nominated will turn out to-night and give them their aid and advice.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETING LAST NIGHT.—The meeting in the Congregational Church last night was well attended. Rev. Dr. Hogg, occupied the chair and gave a very eloquent and pointed address upon this important subject. Mr. J. Ryan also addressed the meeting at considerable length. The meeting to-night will be held in the Wesleyan Methodist Church, commencing at half past seven o'clock. We hope to see a large turn out of our citizens.

POPULAR PHRENOLOGY.—At the Town Hall last night Prof. Evans lectured on Popular Phrenology and his solution of the problem of mind. The Hall was well filled with anatomical and phrenological charts. The lecture was novel and new, differing in fact from the accepted theory of phrenology. The lecturer called up several gentlemen during the evening and illustrated his propositions by reading their characters, and we must admit that he thoroughly knows his subject. The lecture this evening is on "The Formation, Growth and Development of man." Those interested in Education would do well to attend, especially the ladies. It is impossible for us, from pressure on our space, to give our report of the lecture. They are meeting with good success in their private examinations.

THE METHODIST MAGAZINE.—We have received the first number of this new periodical, published in Toronto, in the interest of the Methodist Church of Canada. The publication of this magazine was determined on at the late meeting of the General Conference. It presents a very interesting and varied list of contents. The first paper is by Rev. Mr. Dewar on "The Life and Theology of Arminius," with a well executed likeness of the great Theologian. There are also very readable papers on "The General Conference"; "Higher Female Education"; "Recent Discovery in Africa," with map; "Is Man responsible for his Belief"; "The Higher Christian Life." The articles of a lighter character are—"How Joe preached to the Squire"; "John of the Golden Mouth"; "My First Christmas in Germany," and "Christmas and its Memorials." There are also two or three good pieces of poetry. The editorials, reviews of current events, book notices, religious and missionary intelligence, paper on Church Architecture, with engraving of new Church to be built at Avlymer, and the notes on Science and Arts and Music also form an attractive feature of the periodical. We had the appearance of this new candidate in the field of Canadian literature and if the same ability and editorial care displayed in this number are continued, we shall have no doubt about the signal success of the Canadian Methodist Magazine. It is very neatly got up, is well printed, and has altogether a handsome appearance. The price is $2.00 per year, and as the number now out is for January, this is a good time to subscribe. Copies for sale at the bookstores.

POLICE COURT.
(Before the Mayor.)
Dec. 17.
Henry J. Morris who presented an appearance of broken down respectability, and was seriously cut and bruised about the face, was charged by P. C. Doolley with being drunk on the Market Square. A statement which he made is altogether incoherent and showed him to be laboring under the delirium tremens or mental derangement. Fined $10, and costs or twenty days; as cash was scarce he was committed.

Von Arnim's Trial.

Snow Storm in London.

Ocean Storm.

The Warehouse $200,000 Fire.

Fe o de se.

The Longshoremen's Strike.

Damage Estimate of the Boston Fire.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The counsel for the defence having closed, Von Arnim was permitted to speak. He said the documents relating to his conflict with Prince Bismarck were a grave in which were buried the friendship of his youth. Nothing could show that he had at any time acted in opposition to his instructions, he could swear that he had committed no illegal act. Judgment in the case will probably be rendered on Saturday.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—A snow storm set in early this morning, and at this hour, 12:30, the ground is covered to the depth of six inches, rendering travel by vehicles and pedestrians difficult. It is still snowing.

SANTANDER, Dec. 16.—A storm which has been raging in the Bay of Biscay for several days, continues unabated. Many boats and over seventy persons are missing from that port, and no foreign mails have been received there for eight days.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Maximilian Humbrecht, book keeper for the Metropolitan Gas Company, suicided yesterday by taking strychnine. He was a Prussian Count and was decorated for gallantry in the Franco-German war. The cause is supposed to be over sensitiveness, his position in life, and difficulty in supporting his family.

The defeat of the longshoremen was rendered complete yesterday. A committee from the strikers called upon the agents of the Steamship Companies, and informed them that they were ready to compromise matters, and work for 35 and 50 cents an hour, for day and night work, respectively. The agents decided to employ no strikers unless they abandoned their organization and even then at an increase over present prices.

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—The losses by the Plympton and Marchant streets fire are now aggregated at $590,000. The insurance, as far as known, is $141,000. The loss by the Charlestown fire are $145,000. Insurance $60,000.

HARTFORD, Conn. Dec. 17.—The loss by the burning of the silk mills at Warehouse point yesterday, is less than at $200,000; insurance, $85,000.

Ontario Legislature.
Dec. 16th.
A motion was carried for an address for any correspondence between the Imperial or Dominion and Provincial Governments, with respect to granting half-holidays to Government employees during elections.

Mr. Mowat moved, "That on Saturday next there shall be two distinct sittings of this House, the first sitting to commence at 11 o'clock a.m., and to last till 3 p.m., the second sitting to commence at 3 p.m." He said it seemed at present that the House would probably close by Saturday, and it was in view of that probability that he made the motion.—Carried.

The Orders in Council with regard to aid to different railways was approved of by the House.

Mr. Crooks moved the first reading of the Supply Bill, appropriating a total sum of $2,235,598.15 for public service.—Carried.

The Railway Traffic and Marriage License Bills were read a second time.

BURGOLAR CAPTURED.—An Ingersoll burglar was arrested in Preston on Tuesday by chief Constable Robinson of Gall. Several articles were found in his house, his possession of which looked suspicious. He pleaded guilty, and was sent up to Berlin to stand his trial.

Xmas comes but once a year. Special efforts have this season been made by Anderson, at his famous Temple of De-light, to suit the tastes and purse of all who may give him a call.

The G. W. R. have made arrangements, so that parties attending the Hamilton Borspiller will be able to travel the double journey for a single fare.

NOT TO BE UNDERSOLD.—Anderson begs to inform the public that he has published the advance of such facilities. Call and examine his immense stock, and secure a bargain.

Mr. Jas. Young, M.P., in response to an invitation from a number of influential constituents, will give his views on the proposed Reciprocity Treaty at a public meeting in the Town Hall, Ayr, on Wednesday evening, 23rd inst.

ANDERSON intimates to the public that he has now in stock the largest assortment of Christmas and New Year's goods ever displayed in Guelph. Don't forget to call.

MURDER OF AN INDIAN.—On Tuesday morning a squaw, living on the Indian Reserve, near Sarnia, was shot, and is supposed to be mortally wounded. The charge is laid against five men from Strathroy. The police have succeeded in securing four of them, and are on a sharp look out for the fifth. The particulars of the case are not fully known as yet.

THE MOLSON BANK DEFEALCATION.—A communication from the Cashier of Molson's Bank appears in the Montreal Herald which states that the Toronto branch of that Bank has been robbed of $48,000 supposed to have been taken by R. J. Dallas, late manager, who left the Bank on Monday, the 7th inst., and has not returned. The loss is partially covered by securities. The money taken being Dominion notes of $1000 each may be traced in negotiations. The services of the best detective force in New York has been secured.

THE TORONTO "ADVERTISER."

We have received the prospectus of this Daily paper, which is to be started in Toronto about the middle of January. It is to be published by the proprietors of the London Advertiser, and is simply a fulfilment of their design of adding this additional paper to their list of publications whenever their business warranted the outlay. The Morning Advertiser will be issued in Toronto, the Evening Advertiser will be continued in London, and the Weekly edition will be issued both in Toronto and London. The publication of another Reform paper in Toronto is a bold venture, but the enterprise is in the right hands, and with the assistance of a thoroughly qualified staff, it will doubtless gain a large measure of support throughout the country. Mr. C. Tyner, the present editor of the Hamilton Times, and acknowledged to be one of the best political writers in Canada, is to be chief editor, and he will be assisted by a competent staff of writers in the different departments. We understand that the agricultural and horticultural department will be under the management of the Rev. W. F. Clarke, one of the best informed writers in Canada on such subjects. We believe he will also take a share in other editing, and the Toronto Daily Advertiser, all of which will necessitate the removal of himself and family to Toronto. The publishers in their prospectus state that they have "no new departure to announce. While maintaining their attitude us outspoken and independent journalists, they will in the future, as in the past, be staunchly and progressively Liberal in their views and utterances, and continue to extend a cordial support to the Administrations respectively of Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Mowat."

Such a promise faithfully carried into effect, as we believe it will, cannot fail to mark the Toronto Daily Advertiser popular and influential, and by careful management soon raise it to a high position in the rank of newspapers.

Agricultural College Committee.
TORONTO, Dec. 15.

Lieut. Scoble's evidence continued. The Chairman asked witness if Mr. McCandless had mentioned any member of the Opposition who approached him. Witness said that he thought that Mr. McCandless mentioned that Mr. Rykert had been in Guelph; Mr. McCandless told him that the lectures had been stopped; that he had been told by Mr. George Brown that it was folly to give lectures to the boys; when witness went to the institution, the building was in a scandalous state; they were dirty; the boys were allowed to go into the bedrooms at all hours of the day, and some of the beds were not made up as they should be by the boys for a fortnight; the same remark applied to the domestic department, and to the outside departments; they had also in a bad state; there was no system in the keeping of them; witness had been obliged to discharge some of the female servants; he thought the boys were a good enough lot of young fellows but there was a sort of subordination among them when he went there; he had no difficulty with them; he considered that Mr. McNair was quite a competent man; Mr. Stinton was also a good man, energetic and intelligent; Mr. McCandless had paid no attention to the outside work for about two weeks previously to the time he (witness) went there. The expressions which were used by Mr. Petrie's character, judging from a close observation of her demeanor, were most scandalous and unjust; she had never had much experience in the kind of duty she was performing, but she was quite willing to learn, and he believed she was quite competent. Mr. McCandless said that Mr. McNair made visits to the institution at improper hours, and made direct imputations of misconduct on the part of Mr. McKellar and Mrs. Mercer, but he (witness) did not believe him; witness had known Mrs. Mercer at the London Institution, and it was quite impossible that she could be guilty of anything improper. Mr. McCandless told witness that Mr. Clarke was in the habit of playing cards with the boys, and that he had seen coming from Mrs. Petrie's room at three o'clock in the morning. Witness was at the College about a month, and he left it in a satisfactory condition; Mr. Johnston was rather a strict disciplinarian, but he was giving good satisfaction, and all the students spoke well of him. There was not enough accommodation at the College even yet.

In reply to Mr. Lauder the witness said that he blamed Mr. McCandless for having inspired an article in the Toronto Sun reflecting on him; Mr. Spence proceeded to witness at the institution by one day; he went up to collect the accounts; he did not know that Mr. Spence had told in the institution that Mr. McCandless was no longer at the head of it; witness heard that the boys were intoxicated, but he had not heard Mr. Stinton blame for it; he had stated that he did not want anything said about the past; Mr. McCandless habitually spoke disrespectfully of Mr. McKellar, and his ill-feeling with regard to Mr. McKellar cropped out continually.

Mrs. Ellen Falley was examined and said that she was in Mrs. Mercer's employ nine years before she married Mr. McKellar; Mrs. Mercer employed her as cook of the College, and she was there from October 1873 to the last of February 1874; witness did not wish to stay after Mrs. Mercer left, and only did so for a short time; Mr. McCandless took a dislike to her from the beginning, and when he first came there he told Mrs. Mercer witness was a dirty woman; witness saw Mr. McCandless playing cards with his female servant, named Sweeney, his sister and Rev. W. F. Clarke in his (McCandless's) room; Mr. McCandless was in the habit of treating those under him as if they were dogs; one night that the plumbers were up watching the heating, Eliza Sweeney sent for a bottle of brandy and two cans of oysters to give them a jolly good treat; witness was sorry she went to the Agricultural College at all to be under Mr. McCandless; she had said that it was the "devil" that sent such a man there. (Laughter.)

In cross-examination by Mr. Lauder, witness said that she stayed perhaps two weeks after Mrs. Mercer left; she had seen Mr. McKellar come to the College twice to tea; perhaps it might have been as late as ten or eleven o'clock.

Mr. Lauder asked the witness how long Mr. McKellar stayed.

Witness said she could not tell, as she went to bed after tea; in reply to another question from Mr. Lauder, she said that she thought she ought to strike such a "ruffian" for trying to injure such a respectable lady's character. (Laughter.)

Mr. McCandless interrupted the proceedings to ask a question, as he had done on several other occasions, and been remonstrated with in consequence. The Chairman told Mr. McCandless that he must ask his questions through his counsel, and that if he did not keep order he (the Chairman) would be obliged to have him removed from the room.

Witness—Yes, pitch him down stairs, the rascal. By Jove, if I was a man I'd do it.—(Laughter.)

Mr. Hodgins raised an objection to going into the private relations of Mr. McKellar and Mrs. Mercer as not being relevant to this enquiry.

After some discussion this view was acted upon. The witness was then examined at a little further length by Mr. Lauder, but nothing important was elicited. While she was under examination she caused great mortification by the forcible language she used in characterising Professor McCandless, and the contemptuous expressions she made use of with regard to him.

The Committee then adjourned until half-past 10 to-morrow morning.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 16.
The Committee met at 10:30, Mr. Hodgins in the chair.

It was decided to examine Hon. Mr. Christie first, who said he had been notified of his appointment on the Commission, by letter from the Assistant Provincial Secretary; on the 10th of June he had, at the request of the Premier, made an informal enquiry, and the impression he had received was that Mr. McCandless was anxious to do all he could for the success of the institution, and that Mr. McCandless had at that time made a very serious charge against Mrs. Petrie, but he could not charge his memory as to what he had said in reference to Mr. McKellar and the lady who is now his wife; Mr. McCandless had expressed his desire for a full inquiry into the matter, and complaints were constantly being made by others in the institution, so that the Commission was decided on. They examined all the officials connected with the institution with the exception of the then gardener, and but one feeling was expressed, and that was a sense of feeling of dissatisfaction with Mr. McCandless; the students had also been examined separately, and with one or two exceptions they had manifested an equally strong feeling on the subject; the feeling was so strong that it was stated that unless some change was made the students were prepared to leave a body; they had also heard Mr. McCandless's statement, which was a reiteration of the one he had previously made to him (Mr. Christie); after the examination Mr. McKellar, Mr. McLellan and himself had addressed the officials and the students, urging them to conform to the rules and get along as agreeably as they could; they had also given some advice to Mr. McCandless in the reception room; he (Mr. Christie) had hoped that the difficulties might end without further trouble; the students complained of arbitrary treatment on the part of Mr. McCandless, among other things stating that he never spoke to or recognized them out of doors; he did not attend them while at their work in the fields, in order to give them lectures, as was arranged for in the programme laid down at first; it was generally complained, too, that he treated them in a very contemptuous manner in the class-room; he had stated these complaints to Mr. McCandless when giving him advice in the reception room; he had left Guelph with the impression that the difficulties might be removed, but the complaints were soon renewed, and it was believed that unless decided action was taken at once the students would leave in a body; he was requested by Mr. Mowat to visit the institution again, which he did on the 22nd of June; he had seen Mr. McCandless, and had spoken to him very decidedly about the matter; he (Mr. McCandless) stated during the conversation that he felt it to be his duty to resign his position in view of all the circumstances; he (Mr. Christie) thought that it would perhaps be better that he should remain a little longer and see how things would work; he had again spoken to the students, urging them very strongly to try and get along as well as they could; just before he (Mr. Christie) had left the institution Mr. McCandless came to him again and said that he had made up his mind to resign, and that he was going on the afternoon train to Toronto for that purpose; he (Mr. Christie) had said that if that was his determination he had nothing to say; Mr. McCandless replied, "Well, the fact is these women won't allow me to remain"; he had apparently come out of his bedroom then, as he was only a half-dressed; when he (Mr. Christie) went to Toronto he found that Mr. McCandless had not said a word to the Premier in regard to his resignation, and he had lost all confidence in Mr. McCandless after that; he was convinced from Mr. McCandless's management of the farm that however proficient he might be in the science of agriculture, his knowledge of the practical part was nil; he (Mr. Christie) had been a practical farmer for 40 years; he had found the lavatory in a most filthy and disgraceful condition on the occasion of his first visit and it was not improved when he was only a half-dressed; when he (Mr. Christie) had complained very strongly against the rule which did not allow students to leave any portion of their best clothing in their bedrooms; they were kept in presses in the lavatory; he inferred from what Mr. McCandless told him that the relations between him and Mr. Clarke were not friendly; his impression after hearing Mr. McCandless's statements was very unfavourable to the matron, but she had not been under examination two minutes until that impression was removed; the relations between Mr. McCandless and the farm and stock managers appeared to be rather unfriendly; Mr. McNair seemed to be a very capable manager, and Mr. Stinton seemed to have a respectable amount of knowledge of his department; he made a number of excellent purchases, while some of the animals purchased by Mr. McCandless were very high priced; he paid himself $400 and $500 for one very indifferent team of horses.

The Canvass for Deputy Reeves

We have been waited upon by Messrs. McCrae and Sleeman, candidates for Deputy Reeves, and requested by them to state that owing to their numerous business engagements, they have mutually agreed not to canvass any more. In making this announcement we beg to say that we are heartily pleased at the decision they have come to, and would feel glad were all the other candidates to make the same agreement. We have long held that it is the duty of the electors to look out for candidates and voluntarily offer their support, for such is the true relation that ought to exist between them and those who come forward as their representatives. Messrs. McCrae and Sleeman leave the issue in the hands of the ratepayers, and as far as they are concerned there will be no more canvassing. Will the rest of the candidates agree to do the same thing? Of course if one persists in canvassing, his opponent is obliged to follow his example. Gentlemen candidates all, let us hear from you on this subject.

Presbyterian Union.

A very important religious convention assembled in New York, on the 3rd inst. The delegates represented Presbyterian churches from all parts of the country, the design being to unite in more perfect harmony the Presbyterian churches throughout the world. It is widely known that a movement is in progress to bring into a representative federation all the churches in the world that hold to the Presbyterian form of Church government. The thing has gone so far on the continent of Europe, in England, Scotland, and Ireland, and in the United States (with scarcely an exception) the proposal has been favourably entertained by the several branches to whose attention the plan has been broached. Various Presbyterian bodies in the United States and Canada, including the Reformed (Dutch) Church, which is thoroughly Presbyterian, having appointed Committees of Conference, it was arranged by correspondence that these Committees convene in New York. It was then decided that the Council in correspondence with the Committees of the British churches shall call a preparatory meeting of the churches joining in the confederation, to be held in London in 1875. The preparatory meeting is expected to agree upon and circulate a Constitution of Confederation, to be laid before a General Council of Federal Churches, to be held if possible in 1876; and that this preparatory meeting shall agree upon a provisional plan of representation, that is, upon the number of Deputies to be sent by each church to the first General Council.

A TRUE PICTURE.—The Globe in a trenchant article, showing up the tergiversations, falsehoods, meanness and ambition of McCandless in regard to his promise to "get the best constituency in the country," says truly—"This McCandless has something of the truculence of Lauder, many of the peculiar virtues of Boulbée, a great deal of the airy mendacity and pugnacious agility of Rykert, much of the pragmatic self-conceit of Cameron, while sharing with the honoured group a profound belief in the omnipotence of slander as a means of attaining desirable ends. Like all of them he revels in foul suspicions, while having the reasons of each for keeping his dark surmising, even it true, to himself."

WEST TORONTO.—A very enthusiastic meeting of the Reformers of this constituency, was held on Wednesday night. Mr. Wm. Thompson, merchant, was nominated as the Reform candidate for West Toronto, in room of Hon. Mr. Crooks, who has accepted the nomination for East Toronto. Stirring speeches were made by Messrs. Crooks, McMurrich, Edgar, John O'Donohoe, Turner, McMaster, and others. Mr. Thompson's election for West Toronto is just as sure as it is Mr. Crooks's for East Toronto.

EAST MIDDLESEX.—Mr. Crowell Wilson, the Tory representative for East Middlesex, has also gone by the board, Chancellor Sprague, on Tuesday, declared his election void, on account of corrupt practices by agents. He defeated Mr. Glass last January, and now Mr. Glass will have an opportunity of measuring his strength with him again under the more favourable test of the ballot.

It is said that Mr. Thomas White, who opposed Mr. McKenzie in Montreal, voted for himself. Knowing as we do the great confidence Mr. White has in himself, we are not at all surprised at the vote.

CHAPTER XI.
 What were Herbert Clinton's thoughts as, sitting silently in the stern of the boat, he watched the dancing waves flash and sparkle in the sunlight. Very different from those he had indulged not long since, when, on one eventful night, he and Jessie had crossed it together. This Fanny Vaughan, with her pretty, piquant face, and part, sunny manners had first won his boyish heart. He had raved, and vowed, and implored at her feet, but she only laughed at him and his passion, and now she had no more power over his heart than if she had never existed. Might it not be the same with those he had loved since? Was not his passion for Jessie beginning to grow cold already? Would it not grow colder every day? And in the hot ardor of his love he had made this little, obscure, uneducated, shy child his wife. Why, oh, why had he not waited? And now that the deed was for ever irrevocable, where was this to end?

They reached Craig's End before dark, and Evan having landed him, set off for the island again, promising to return for him in the morning. The moon was just rising above the trees when he reached home; and on entering the house, the first object that he beheld was his young mistress, in close conversation with his mother.
 "Good gracious, Miss Helena, you here!" was Evan's first ejaculation.
 "Yes, Evan, and glad to be home again," she answered, gayly. "Aunt Allie tells me that you have just been taking Mr. Clinton over to Craig's End."
 "So I have; but I'm to go for him early to-morrow mornin'. I expect if he'd known you was comin', he'd stayed."
 "Evan!" said Aunt Allie, dubiously.
 "Did he seem lonely during my—during our absence?" asked Helena.
 "Lonely? Indeed he didn't. He was in first rate spirits all the time."
 "Ah!" said Helena, a shadow falling over her face; "he spent his time in fishing, and shooting, I suppose, and snoring birds?"
 "Snoring birds? Yes; an' caught one, too," said Aunt Allie, in a tone that spoke volumes.
 "Caught one! What do you mean, Aunt Allie? I don't understand," said Helena anxiously.
 "Miss Helen, don't listen to her. She's always got some nonsense to tell," interrupted Evan, casting an angry warning glance at his mother.
 But now the opportunity she had so long waited for had come, the old woman's tongue was not to be stopped.

THE RECENT CASE OF DEATH by strychnine poisoning from taking SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES, noticed in the Montreal Daily Witness, of August 1st, renders great caution necessary not to confound Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of PHOSPHATES and Calcium, with COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES. Observe well the difference in orthography, and bear in mind that medicinally there is no similarity in action or effect. PHOSPHATES ARE ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY to sustain life, being an element of every solid and fluid of the body, and they are incapable of injurious results at any period from infancy to old age, or under any possible condition of the system, and no more harm can result from taking more than the prescribed dose than from eating too hearty a dinner. dcewt

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM
 Is the great modern remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, CHRONIC BRONCHITIS. It is recommended by Physicians everywhere, who are acquainted with its great usefulness.
Dr. A. L. Scovill, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says—
 "I have witnessed its effects on the young and the old, and I can truly say that it is by far the best expectorant remedy with which I am acquainted. For coughs, and all the early stages of lung complaints, I believe it to be a certain cure; and if every family would keep it by them, ready to administer upon the first appearance of disease about the lungs, there would be very few cases of fatal consumption. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the lungs), and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops the night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state."
 Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

DEATH ON THE ALPS.—An accident has occurred on the Great St. Bernard in Switzerland. Eight Italian workmen were crossing a mountain, and two mules and a servant, followed by a dog, went on to meet them. The whole party was overtaken by a snow storm, and buried in the drift. One of the mules succeeded in extricating himself, but was only able to walk a few steps. The dog went back to the monastery, and assistance was sent, but it was too late. The mule died half an hour after being found; the others still remained buried in the snow.

FRASER'S STORE
In consequence of the late great fire in Montreal, Messrs. Fraser, French & Co. have sold the balance of their stock saved from the fire $360,000 at auction, of which G. B. FRASER bought largely, at such low prices as will enable him to sell
Dry Goods this Winter much Cheaper than any other Store in Guelph!
FRASER'S store is crammed from cellar to attic with cheap goods. The rush of customers to FRASER'S for the cheap stocked goods is enormous, which causes other merchants to grumble and growl. Still FRASER is determined to look after the wants of his customers, no matter what others may think.
Being the only merchant in Guelph who attended the Great Auction Sale in Montreal, can state with confidence that he can show Goods at prices much below their regular value.
Parties buying at FRASER'S will save more money than they would elsewhere. FRASER keeps a general store where all can get suited without having the trouble of going all over town.
CALL and SEE THEM.
G. B. FRASER.
