

ceived, which speaks in highest terms of the work of the Y.M.C.A. Capt. Arthur McLean, 24th Battalion, C.E.F., has written of the "great work yet to be done" by the Red Triangle Club in doing.

Col. R. Field, agent-general for Ontario, says the work being done is of value impossible to over-estimate. Col. C. B. Keenan writes: "The work is worth while," and General Odium says: "The Y.M.C.A. has commended itself to the men at the front." These are but a few of the letters which have come during the past day or two.

Prospects Bright.
G. H. Wood, chairman, said no appeal was ever launched that had such bright prospects. It is because the care of the men at the front was a work of love. The organization was of the best, and never before had the women responded so well. In addition the boys were hearty and ready to do their part, and the boys of today would be the men of tomorrow. Not until the men at the front were tired of fighting, should the people be tired of such campaigns as this one.

Col. Deacon announced that special subscriptions to date had totaled $118,500. The team captains were enthusiastically applauded as they announced the return for the first day. In regard to the boys' end of the campaign, Hume Duffell, Harvard College, made a neat, short speech, in which he pledged the boys "of the Red Triangle" to their best efforts in helping the older brothers who were carrying on at the front.

George A. Warburton, director of the Dominion campaign, reminding the workers that the evening meetings were a great factor in the success of the campaign. Sidelights were presented that helped everybody. He explained that subscriptions need not be paid in cash, but that 40 per cent could be paid immediately, and 60 per cent in two instalments.

In the most remote portions of Canada, the junior boys are everywhere there are meetings like this being held, over 15,000 workers at work in the Dominion tonight, he said. In India, Leonard Dixon was carrying on the work, while the Y.M.C.A. was represented on every battlefield.

Grants from Countries.
The following grants from countries were announced: Middlesex $20,000; Essex $17,000; Kent $15,000; Essex $20,000; Wenslow $15,000; Wellingborough $10,000; Prince Edward $7,000; Renfrew $15,000; Carlton $20,000; South St. Marie $5,000.

OTTAWA MADE GOOD START.
Ottawa, May 7.—A total of $28,317.00 was secured for the Y.M.C.A. over-see fund today, the opening of a three-day drive in Ottawa for $75,000.

"It is more than a disgrace, the manner in which the city has dragged all the way thru. The city officials stated that they had the viaduct repaired last summer, but no one seems to know where they were to be found."

IS PRAISING IT TO ALL OF HIS FRIENDS

"If Any of the Boys Here Haven't Heard of Tanlac, It's Not My Fault," Says Smith.

"If any of the boys here haven't heard all about Tanlac yet, it is not my fault, for over this wonderful medicine I have told everybody I know," recently said Victor Smith, a well-known switchman in the yards of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and who lives at 445 Pacific avenue, Toronto.

"I suffered terribly from stomach trouble," he continued, "that had worried me constantly for the past six or seven years. My appetite was poor and soon after eating anything I would have indigestion so bad that I would have to lie up for days. Bitter, acid water would rise up in my throat and my stomach would burn like I had swallowed coals of fire. Vegetable or any sort of acid food would upset me and I would have no sleep for a night until I could get that sour fluid of my stomach. I got so I couldn't even eat food without having trouble, and my life was made miserable from one day to another."

"I had tried all kinds of medicines, but nothing helped me. One day a friend told me how Tanlac had benefited him, so I decided to try it. I have taken only two bottles so far, but they have entirely relieved my stomach trouble, and I feel like a new man, and never have a touch of indigestion in any form. That awful burning and the heavy feeling in my stomach are gone, and even tobacco doesn't hurt me now at all. Tanlac is the only medicine that ever gave me any relief, and I can't say too much in its praise."

Over the French and British battle front a perceptible change has come. The Germans have kept their men attacking for nine full days; they betray extreme nervousness at the slightest sound of an alarm; any British movement or raid evokes from their batteries drumfire of battle intensity. Moreover, they have attempted raids of their own at several points. These actions show the confidence of the British positions. In the Ypres sector their guns have been actively bombarding the British batteries, but the actions of the British are becoming less and less. The news of the gigantic failure of all their plans and all their hopes.

The allied camp the position has much improved. They have brought up more guns than the Germans; they appear to have a larger shell supply; they have repulsed their purporting left flank divisions with strong divisions composed of their freshest and best shock troops. The actions of the allied counter-offensive have been of great assistance.

Some reports generally desultory fire by the enemy artillery on the Italian front. Hostile patrols appeared at various parts of the front and the Italians dispersed them. The Austrian attack will probably stop. The German offensive is most weakly guarded. If he fails to find one, his alternative may be an attack with great directness in the Trentino. The allies in Italy have a front of 160 miles to guard. A large portion of it is mountainous and therefore unfavorable for fighting.

For the past two or three days the cables from Europe have come under a strong censorship. This censorship is apparently applies to the dispatches of the press correspondents at the front. These contain little news beyond the raising operations of the Canadians. The censor's office recalls the previous increase in strictness before the offensive of the British army in Flanders last year.

In Austria the threat of the Socialist workmen to strike and even revolt comes as a surprise, for these Socialist are principally Germans, and as in Germany their leaders serve as docile tools of the government. It may be said that any news of Socialist and labor troubles permitted to come openly from Austria arouses suspicion, for the enemy often deliberately manufactures such news to excite the workmen on the Clyde. The Emperor Charles for the applying of the pressure upon Berlin. The Austrian politicians, dreading the consequences of failure, may be attempting to avoid the offensive against Italy. The Austrian political excitement is having a depressing effect on Germany.

Major-General F. B. Maurice, formerly director of British military operations, has involved himself in difficulties owing to a letter to the newspapers. He charges Premier Lloyd George and Bonar Law with inaccuracy in statements to the house of commons. The matter, however, resolves itself into this, that the statements of the ministers are based on information furnished by subordinate officials and military advisers. The attack of General Maurice is, therefore, against the new British chief of staff and General Foch. It has come about that a change in the supreme command has evoked opposition from the old subordinates. The best British opinion, outside of a few of the particular friends of the overthrown military junta has become dissatisfied with the old higher command, mainly since the reverse at Cambrai.

RAILWAY IS WORTH REPRODUCTION COST LESS DEPRECIATION

According to Mackenzie and Mann Counsel at Canadian Northern Enquiry.

COURT CANNOT FOLLOW Statement Applies Only to Going Concern and Not to "Bare Bones."

In his argument before the C.N.R. arbitration proceedings yesterday afternoon, Pierce Butler, counsel for Mackenzie and Mann, maintained that the fact that the plant was earning money was an element of value that must be taken into consideration, and in ascertaining the value of the railway as a going concern the fact that it was earning $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 must not be lost sight of.

Speaking on the life of a railway, he stated that when the deterioration of its physical parts was taken care of by proper replacements when they became due, the life of a railway might be said to be perpetual.

PARKS DEPARTMENT AFTER TUSSOCK MOTH

The city parks department is doing its best to deal with the tussock moth on the trees and shrubs aligning the public thoroughfares. The department has control of no less than 46 parks, including Rosedale and the driveways. The appropriations in 1912 amounted to $280,000; those for 1913 totalled $282,000.

On Parliament Hill
BY TOM KING
Ottawa, May 7.—The speech of the day was delivered by Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer. As usual when he speaks, the galleries were crowded, and the speech concluded amid enthusiastic cheers from supporters of the Union government.

Mr. Lemieux then branched out on a free trader's line and declared for the autonomy of Canada. He was glad to hear the prime minister was not going to England, and hoped that he would keep Mr. Rowell and Hon. Mr. Bieghen at home to attend to the business of their departments instead of maddening overseas.

Mr. Hocken, of West Toronto, and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux preceded the member for Red Deer. Mr. Hocken got the floor in the budget debate shortly before the noon recess, and concluded his speech in the early afternoon. He dealt with the aims and purposes of the Orange order and the great service it is rendering Canada and the empire in general.

Mr. Hocken said his paper had studiously refrained from commenting upon the slow recruiting in Quebec until after The Toronto Globe had called attention to that fact in its issue of July 25, 1915.

Mr. Clark then made a speech before the House on the subject of the reconstruction of the Ontario Railway Board.

THE MOTIVE POWER BEHIND INVENTION

Bicycling Greated Need for Pneumatic Tires and Encouraged Motoring.

LOW COST OF UPKEEP

Necessity for Curbing Extravagance is Bringing Cycling Back Again.

By W. M. Gladish.

In this great age of inventions, due to war necessities and other mechanical demands, it has often been said that nothing has yet been devised to take the peculiar place of the simple bicycle for general utility, low cost of maintenance and exercise. Even in ordinary competition with the automobile, motorboat, street car and other modes of modern transportation, the bicycle holds its own in many ways. It is also a fact that the bicycle made both the automobile and the airplane possible. If it had not been for the bicycle, pneumatic tires would not have been perfected, as they were before the automobile came along to need them. Numerous mechanical theories were also worked out on the bicycle long before the motor car became existent. Then, the airplane is a development of both the bicycle and the automobile in more than one sense.

The bicycle made a severe blow with the advent of the trolley car because the riders thought how much easier it would be to sit in street car than to use less power. Cycling had been more or less of a fad or a craze, anyway, and little attention had been paid to general usefulness or cheapness of the wheel. During the past few years, however, there has been a reversal of feeling toward the humble bicycle. In this time of conservation along all lines, the bicycle has come back. In fact, under present circumstances, it is patriotic to ride a bicycle. Bicycle tires are cheaper than shoe leather and it has been proved on many occasions recently that a bicycle more than pays for itself in a year's time thru the carfare saved.

Another patriotic reason why a bicycle should be used is that it makes a man or woman fit and keeps them in good condition. From the standpoint of economy and practical value, the bicycle has been described as 'the world's greatest utility.' Sales increasing.

The bicycle business records show that the sales of bicycles during the past three years have increased 500 per cent., according to official statements of manufacturers. It is approximately one-half of its market value twenty or twenty-five years ago. Incidentally, the market value of used bicycles has jumped considerably during the past two years because of the great demand for rebuilt machines. Purely from the standpoint of a bicycle, many dealers have waiting lists for ladies' bicycles because of an unexpected call for them and the fact that the manufacturers cannot turn them out fast enough. Another feature of the present situation is that the repair departments of bicycle stores are overwhelmed with work because many people are bringing out bicycles that have been lying in cellars or sheds for years. To those who have been watching the value of the bicycle industry there has been an evidence of a strong bicycle revival for several years. The increased popularity of the wheel has been shown all over the country—even in remote sections. Further, all classes of people are taking an interest in cycling. Enthusiasts. Some want them for their work; some want them to ride back and forth to town places of business; some want them for their economy; others want them for their recreation; still others want them for their health; and many society people take them to winter or summer resorts, and children prize them as their most treasured possessions. They are seen at the golf links; they are used at country residences; they form the delivery service at many stores;

"Thank the Pneumatic Tire!"

Thank the pneumatic tire for making bicycling possible. Thank J. B. Dunlop for making the pneumatic tire possible. And thank your own good sense after you have realized that as Dunlop Tires carry the exclusive ideas of the inventor, all other bicycle tires are only as good as imitations can be.

they are generally used by public utility companies, and thousands of them are seen on the road every Sunday. The bicycle is highly democratic.

France, England and Italy today are the countries that are found everywhere. They are seen at the golf links; they are used at country residences; they form the delivery service at many stores;

There have been many recent developments of interest in bicycle circles during the past few years. One of the innovations has been the establishment of bicycle week as the opening event of the season. The idea of holding a bicycle week originated in Canada three years ago and the stunt has been copied until now it is universally observed in all parts of the United States and Canada. This is being held in Montreal and other cities. In Montreal a real bicycle show is being held this week. It is being widely supported and has aroused wide interest. The holding of a bicycle week must arouse old memories among veteran cycling enthusiasts. Toronto and other Canadian cities will probably hold bicycle week next year, because, as has been pointed out before, it is a patriotic thing to ride a bicycle. Another interesting development has been the organization of the Canadian Bicycle Dealers' Association with local associations in many cities. This body was formed for the purpose of improving conditions throughout the retail trade. The aim is to make the ordinary dealer a 100 per cent. merchant. This only means that the person who rides a bicycle is going to get even better satisfaction from cycling. Toronto has one of the largest bicycle trade associations on this continent. An evidence of the activity of this association was the great run last Sunday to High Park. Almost 800 cyclists took part in this "health jaunt," and enjoyed themselves. This is said to be a record for attendance on such a run. Last year about 400 took part in a similar run, and this year's increase is only one more indication of the revitalization of cycling for health, economy, utility and pleasure. Similar runs are being staged in many other Canadian cities during bicycle week, and other means are being adopted to encourage people to ride their bicycles for their own sakes.

Thru cooperative methods among the dealers many features have been added to bicycle week. There is considerable newspaper advertising and publicity, outdoor demonstrations, such as short runs, tours and outings, window displays, decorated stores, bicycle slides for moving picture theatres, parades, carnivals, Boy Scout drills and other events. All these are intended to emphasize the usefulness of the silent two-wheeler.
