London Daily Telegraph sees in the Windsor incident a mark of good feeling.

London, June 2.—The Daily Telegraph in the course of an editorial upon King Edward's reception of the visiting delegation from the New York Chamber of Commerce, Saturday, says: "It has happened that the royal seal upon the national flag there could have been no more fortunate than this evening on her maiden trip abroad, which is the first time in which American business rivalry is regarded in Great Britain."

The paper advocates, as one of the best means of meeting this friendly rivalry, that British employers and workers alike should visit the United States and observe for themselves American business methods, and that the United States should visit the United Kingdom and observe for themselves British business methods.

GIGANTIC RAILWAY POOL

Four Great Systems Across the Continent to Work on Community of Interest Plan.

WITH J. P. MORGAN AS DICTATOR

The Monster Pool Will Represent a Capital of Six Billion Dollars.

New York, June 1.—With the settlement of the fight between the Northern Pacific and the Union Pacific Railroad interests the way is paved for a community of interests national in scope. It will, in effect, be a railroad pool with approximately $6,000,000,000 capital.

Official statement was made yesterday of the end of the war that affected all the territory west of the Mississippi. To-day the Southern Railway system, which has been operating all the great railroad systems of the Northern-Pacific system, the great Union Pacific, and the Missouri Pacific, has been referred to J. P. Morgan. It is Morgan who will define the territory and rights of the various systems.

It is stated today that when the plan for a national railway pool is adopted the country will be divided into four great groups. The first group will be the Northern Pacific, the Missouri Pacific, the Great Northern, and the Canadian Pacific. The second group will be the Union Pacific, the Santa Fe, and the Rock Island. The third group will be the Illinois Central, the Chicago & North Western, and the Milwaukee Road. The fourth group will be the Erie, the Pennsylvania, and the Delaware & Hudson.

WORLD BY KATHERINE LESLIE

It looks very much as though the needle woman is about to become as scarce as the domestic. Reports from New York declare that in the vast city where one would suppose thousands of women would not be too glad to turn their needles to account, the death of sewing girls is so marked as to lead to the suggestion to import from Europe, but chiefly France, enough women to supply the demand.

It is not a new thing to find a woman who can realize herself with what grace she manages her drapery of grey gauze, cause being or, so innocuous a habit that it does not permit beneath it many gestures or wavings of hands or moving of feet, like Terry looks wonderful again in the white draperies, with embroidered tunic and the pendant black veil from her hair.

One of the exquisite frocks that were designed for the races, but which were not worn because of the number of the Old Probs, is a creation of Miss Weston's for one of Toronto's young matrons. It is in English pattern, in fact, of delicate chocolate shade, sprinkled with dainty white flowers.

I wonder if it is not time to protest against that Mahop effect on the new shirt waists, that is, the effect that is not a Mahop effect at all, but only a slightly, that hangs from the wrist without either ruffle or ruche, and has taken away all the smartness from the shirt waist and gives nothing to the appearance of the slender woman, who is most figure and all of sleekness to everyone. On a dress, the ruche on the top may have a place, since in a dress gown one is not supposed to perform the ordinary duties of home or business.

At night the more I think about it, the more I am convinced that I am a miserably ignorant creature. I am sure that I am a miserably ignorant creature. I am sure that I am a miserably ignorant creature.

IN IMPERIALIST CIRCLES

Decision of United States Supreme Court is Greeted With Undisguised Satisfaction.

THE SPECTATOR'S NOTE OF ALARM.

Nothing will stand in the way of American Arbitration to Reach Out Commercially.

New York, June 1.—(Special)—The Post's London correspondent writes: There is no disguising the satisfaction of imperialists circles over the insular decision of the United States Supreme Court. Outside the public prints, where talk is unrestrained, quiet gratification is expressed. The American shows those tendencies to walk, if not hand-in-hand, at least along lines parallel with English Imperialism.

There are quite the reverse things, and make the most charming trimming for a silk gown. The bodice is tucked all over with "pleats," and the skirt is a white pleated chiffon, with an outer vest of delicate gold embroidery, outlined in blue. A prettier color scheme or daintier frock it would be difficult to imagine.

I wonder if it is not time to protest against that Mahop effect on the new shirt waists, that is, the effect that is not a Mahop effect at all, but only a slightly, that hangs from the wrist without either ruffle or ruche, and has taken away all the smartness from the shirt waist and gives nothing to the appearance of the slender woman, who is most figure and all of sleekness to everyone.

Nervous Prostration.

A Noted Boston Woman Describes its Symptoms and Terrors.—Two Severe Cases Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I am so nervous! no one ever suffered as I do! There isn't a well in my body. I honestly believe my lungs are diseased, my chest pains me so, but I have no cough. I am so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion terribly, and palpitation of the heart; am losing flesh; and this headache and backache nearly kills me, and yesterday I had hysterics.

"There is a weight in the lower part of my bowels, bearing down all the time, with pains in my groins and thighs—I can't sleep, walk, or sit, and blue—oh goodness! I am simply the most miserable of women."

"This is a most vivid description of a woman suffering with nervous prostration, caused by inflammation or some other diseased condition of the bowels. No woman should allow herself to reach such a perfection of misery when there is no need of it. Read about Miss Williamson's case and how she was cured.

"Two Bad Cases of Nervous Prostration." "I had nervous prostration, was suffering such tortures from nervous prostration that life was a burden. I could not sleep at all, and was too weak to walk across the floor. My heart was affected so that often I could not lie down at all without almost suffocating. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like magic. I feel that your medicine has been of inestimable benefit to me."
