CREW GET ASHORE

Week-end Storm Plays Havoc With Telephone Lines On North Shore

Special to The Times-Star ST. GEORGE, Oct. 12.—The two-masted schooner Cora Gertie, Capt. Geo. making harbor from rum rowed up on White Horse Ledges at Bilsland Island in Saturday's gale. The report here is that the five schooners lying off the wolves have all been wrecked on the Wolves.

The Cora Gertie was driven ashore about 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The vessel struck and after pounding for a time foundered, although not before all the members of the crew were able to reach shore. The schooner was reported to have been carrying a heavy shipment of liquor, and her deckload was said to have been washed ashore and broken on the rocks. The vessel was alleged to have had 1,500 cases in her hold and these went down with her. The vessel was reported to be resting evenly on the bottom with the tops of her masts above the water at low tide. The schooner is registered under the ownership of Harry Stone, of Saint John.

TELEPHONE CO. HIT

The New Brunswick Telephone Company were hit hard in the northern section of the province during the storm of Saturday night and Sunday morning. At noon today the line to Chatham and Newcastle had not yet been put back in operation, but it was hoped to have at least one trunk line up this evening. Extra men were hurried to this section and that district yesterday afternoon, and repairs were being made as rapidly as possible. It was not known just when the line between Newcastle and Fredericton would be open. The line is open from Newcastle to Boiestown, but from the latter place to this section the line will be cleared as quickly as possible.

HEAVY ON RIVER

The heaviest storm in years was reported along the main river. Quite an amount of snow fell in some places and the high wind and cold made travel difficult. Captain Flossing of the steamer Majestic, said this afternoon that it was reported coming down this morning that at Shannon it had been impossible for teams to get about on account of the drift of snow in some places.

WIRE TROUBLES

The C. P. R. Telegraph Company had no trouble with any of the lines in the province, but on account of trouble west of McAdam up to noon it was hard to get messages through. It was said that there were several poles down. This afternoon the service was back to normal. The Western Union Telegraph had trouble on the north shore. While none of the lines were actually out of commission there was much delay in getting messages through all this morning.

IN NEWCASTLE

Special to The Times-Star NEWCASTLE, Oct. 12.—The storm which started Saturday morning with heavy rain and high wind, later developing into a blinding snowstorm, did heavy damage to the lumbermen, merchants and householders. A great quantity of Virginia piling, ranging from 50 to 80 feet in length, belonging to the Canada Creosoting Company, went adrift. Several hundred cedar poles, the property of D. & J. Ritchie, were also washed away. J. F. Kingston lost a large quantity of railroad ties. Merchants having warehouses on the waterfront suffered heavy losses from the water. The Stothart Mercantile Co. had to destroy 35 barrels of lime. Baird & Peters had a considerable quantity of salt and sugar ruined. The storm reached such an intensity that the passenger steamer, "Max Aitken," broke away from her moorings. Schooners tied to the wharves had to anchor elsewhere. The public wharf front was destroyed and floating debris was washed up onto the main roads. Electric light and telegraph wires are torn down and in some cases communication will not be had for two or three days. As yet it is impossible to estimate the damage. The river men are recovering some of the lost stock and it is thought that most of the valuable timber will be recovered.

Australian Girl Who Shot Lover Is Freed By Jury As Unwritten Law Is Invoked

By C. F. GRANDALL British United Press. PERTH, Western Australia, Oct. 10.—A Perth jury exercised the unwritten law in the trial of Audrey Jacob, 20-year-old art student, who shot and killed her lover, a man named Gidley under dramatic circumstances during a dance at Government House. Gidley toyed with the girl's affections and afterward jilted her, threatened her parents and made grave insinuations against her mother. Gidley was dancing at the time with another girl when Jacob, dressed as a pierrot, approached him. Gidley told the girl that he was engaged to another partner whereupon Miss Jacob drew out a revolver and shot and fired directly at Gidley's heart. The incident caused a tremendous sensation. During the hearing, counsel for Miss Jacob raised the defence that the shot was fired accidentally, being caused by the emotion and the excitement under which the girl was laboring and that while she was in the act of raising her hand to her head the gun was accidentally discharged. The jury were out for three hours and eventually brought in a verdict of not guilty. It is the first verdict of the kind that has been heard in Australia for many years.

Sympathy With Maritimes Felt Throughout Quebec

BY A. M. BELDING Staff representative of The Telegraph-Journal and Evening Times-Star, who is now on an active canvass of Canadian importers and exporters in behalf of the more general use of Canadian ports.

SHERBROOKE, Oct. 10.—I am sure you will find throughout Quebec a real sympathy with the Maritime Provinces. The problem is to find out how you may best be helped. The speaker was J. H. Walsh, general manager of the Quebec Central Railway, with whom and with G. D. Wadsworth, general freight and passenger agent, I had a long conversation this morning. Mr. Walsh has visited the Maritimes, and while in Nova Scotia learned of the troubles of the farmer whose children go away and who is not able to get satisfactory farm labor. He saw the menace to national unity which lies in the situation in which the Maritimes find themselves, and saw some danger also in the western attitude toward the east. The first task is to create a good understanding, and he said that in presenting the Maritime case I was helping to create this understanding.

THE Quebec Central handles a great amount of asbestos for export. With the exception of an occasional small shipment routed by the buyer through Portland or New York, perhaps to ports where there is no Canadian service, all the traffic goes through Quebec in summer and Saint John and Halifax in winter. Mr. Walsh strongly endorsed the policy of using our own ports for the nation's business, to the largest extent conditions will permit.

C. A. Goslin, for the Panther Rubber Co. Ltd.; B. A. Brooks for Walter Blue & Co. Ltd., clothing manufacturers; and G. W. Steppenson for Dastour & Co. Ltd., brothers, informed me that they use Canadian ports, and they

No Word of Change in Plan Following Report of Illness

FREDERICTON, N. B., Oct. 12.—Moose are unusually plentiful in the province's northern woods this year, and the week-end sports have provided a foot of snow in the woods, which will make fine conditions for hunting, according to Charles Cemin, well-known guide, who spent the week-end at his home here. He left this morning for the Tobique to prepare for the arrival this week of the party of baseball stars, who are being plied to New Brunswick by Bob Shawkey, veteran pitcher of the New York Yankees.

ARRIVE ON FRIDAY

Next Friday, October 16, instead of the day previous, has been named as the date for the arrival of the party on the Tobique. They will not leave Boston until the evening of the 19th, which will land them at Fort Fairfield, Maine, the next morning, and they will motor from there up to Miller's on the Tobique, whence they have a 15-mile hike to their hunting camp.

EMERSON, Man., Oct. 12.—W. T. R. Preston, Ottawa, was the chief speaker at a meeting here Saturday night in support of Edward Comaout, Liberal candidate for Frencheville. Mr. Preston claimed that history proved the three party system of government to be a failure and that the Progressive group in the Canadian Parliament "simply hampered the machinery." He declared that Canada's only market was through the seaboard, but the government must "smash the shipping combine." Mr. Preston, who was author of the Preston report on shipping, devoted his address mainly to an attack on the so-called Atlantic shipping combine.

DAUGHTER OF ANGUS M'LEAN IS MARRIED

Becomes Bride of A. A. McNaughton, of Buffalo. Many Witnesses Ceremony. Special to The Times-Star BATHURST, Oct. 12.—Crowded with friends of the principals, St. Luke's United Church was the scene Saturday of a wedding of great interest not only in Bathurst but in many sections of Canada and the United States, where the contracting parties are widely known. The groom, Athol Austin McNaughton, is well known in business in Buffalo, the bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLean.

CHURCH DECORATED

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The chancel and choir loft were covered in a bower of cedars, centering an arched bower, illuminated with concealed lighting. Bunting this impressive arrangement of entwined evergreens were groups of chrysanthemums, the whole scheme being most artistic in its conception. The aisles of the church were heavily carpeted and the invited guests occupied reserved pews. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage to the groom. She wore a costume of wedding-ring velvet, trimmed with white fox fur and court train lined with cream georgette. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms and her bouquet was Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. She was supported by her twin sister, Mrs. R. E. Sproule, of Ottawa, who wore American Espirouite velvet and carried Sunset roses.

Systems of All Canadian Provinces To Be Studied Before January

Canadian Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Quebec liquor commission was styled as "model" and the belief expressed that Quebec is on the "real road to temperance" by a special committee of 50 named by the Association Against Prohibition Amendment to make a study of liquor systems in the various countries throughout the world. Beginning its operations a month ago, and consisting solely of prominent business men of the United States, the committee is said to have made an exhaustive study of the Quebec government's liquor regulation, and reported to the Anti-Volstead Association that the control system was a model one.

FURTHER STUDY

The committee's final report is not to be made until next January, and before that time, the liquor systems of all Canada's provinces, as well as those of many other nations, will be thoroughly studied. A partial report on the committee's findings up until now, is set forth in a publication of the association against the prohibition amendment Saturday. It gives statistics to show that the people of Quebec are becoming more temperate and cutting down on strong liquors, while the use of light beer and wine, is increasing.

PROBING FATAL
AUTO ACCIDENT

Evidence Given in Connection With Death of Charles Hayter

Driver of Auto Tells of Occurrence—Matter of Dimmed Lights Gone Into

Coroner Dr. William Warwick opened court at Grand Bay on Saturday night to hold an inquest into the death of Charles A. Hayter, an aged resident, who succumbed on Thursday to injuries received in an automobile accident near his home between Paradise and the English Friday evening, Oct. 2. The witnesses examined were: Dr. L. M. Curran, George Keeble, Miss Jeanette Keeble, Miss Lillian Hayter, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. S. C. Clifton, Harry E. Palmer, Provincial Constable Robert Crawford and Arnold McLeese.

TECHNICAL EVIDENCE
Much of the testimony was technical concerning light projection and the effect of dimming and glazing of auto lamps. Arnold McLeese was called in this regard. He said among other things that it was sometimes considered safer to have both cars glaring at one another with full lighting than for one to dim and the other not.

Robert Crawford was present in the interests of the motor vehicle law. Hon. L. P. D. Tilley represented the Hayter family. George Keeble, the young man whose car struck the aged pedestrian, was unrepresented.

DRIVERS STORY
In giving his evidence Mr. Keeble said he was proceeding along the road way at a speed not considered fast by any means. His lights were burning. A car approached him from the opposite direction with lights on also. He said he at once dimmed his glare and answered to the side of the road. The other car did not dim. When he cleared his auto back into the centre of the road again he felt a bump and engaged the young lady in the car what it was.

He stopped the car within a few feet and rushed back, discovering Mr. Hayter lying in the road.
OTHER WITNESSES
Other witnesses told of responding to Mr. Keeble's call for help and assisting in carrying Mr. Hayter to his home about 100 yards back.

CONTROVERSY
There was a controversy in the testimony adduced as to the distance Mr. Keeble's car went after striking Mr. Hayter and as to whether the car struck the car to the roadside. Traffic Officer Crawford gave measurements taken upon the testimony of some who arrived on the scene after the accident. Dr. Curran's statements had to do with the cause of Mr. Hayter's death, which he said was due to concussion.
WAS IT DAYLIGHT?
Another point brought out in evidence was as to whether it was daylight or not. In the case, evidence was given that the headlights of the victim of the accident were covered back to his home in daylight.
Another session of the inquest will be held tonight.

Trouble in City Supply Is Located at Lake Latimer

Joint of Sixteen-inch Main on Union Street Causes Flood on Sunday

Commissioner Wigmore and the men of the water and sewerage department had a strenuous week-end, due to the high wind and the failure of a joint in the 16 inch main in Union street.
On Saturday morning about 10 o'clock the pressure gauge had fallen to 15 pounds and a search was started to locate the trouble. At Lake Latimer it was found that the high wind had raised such a sea that large pebbles and stones, with a great quantity of grass from the bottom of the lake, had been forced into the intake and clogged the screens in the gate house.

The mass piled against the gates and the pressure of water leaked two of the gates and drove them from their position. The water was shut off and after a hard struggle the men succeeded in getting the gates out and the water was turned on again.
The commissioner said that next Saturday night and Sunday he planned on clearing out the gate house and this would necessitate the shutting off of the Loch Lomond supply early Sunday morning for a time.

Sunday Trouble.
Yesterday morning about 7.45 it was seen that the pressure gauge was down to 10 pounds. A big leak was found in Union street, near the head of St. David street. A joint of the 16 inch main had split from end to end and it practically dug a trench for the main to work in when they started repair work. The water shot up into the air until it was turned off. The greater part of the water ran down St. David street, but at least one cellar in the lower level was flooded, that of Fred Noble, St. Patrick street.

The damaged joint was replaced by a new one and the water turned on again last evening. When the water was being turned on one of the gates at the corner of David street ruptured by the triple occurrence, and dug a trench to repair it.

Summer Residence of Allan Rankine is Broken Into and Ransacked.

The summer residence of Allan Rankine at Westfield was broken into some time last week but this was not discovered until yesterday when Mr. Rankine went to the house. The contents of the house were badly upset and some articles stolen. The matter is being investigated.

THE entry was secured, Mr. Rankine said, by climbing on the rear veranda and thence to the roof, where a small window was forced. Desks, bureau drawers and trunks were pried open and their contents strewn around. Cigarette butts were thrown around the rooms.

An old revolver, several pipes and some small trinkets were taken. Clothing of considerable value was also taken. A valuable rifle was moved from its stand but was left lying on a chair.

In leaving the thieves unlatched the dining room window and went out that way.

Rheumatics

Old-time Remedy Gets to Work Fast Day—Drives out the Dangerous Poison.

Twisted, swollen, unyielding joints are quickly freed from pain and brought back to normal with Rheuma. Lame people walk without aid; sleep comes to those who have been unable to lie in bed; hands that were helpless because of terrible rheumatism are now able to do their share for the support of the family.

Rheuma is a wonderful remedy for rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago and neuralgia. It is a wonder worker; it never fails, never gives up until every vestige of pain is expelled from the body. Rheuma acts quickly and brings long relief for comfort to distressed sufferers. Wasons two stores and all druggists sell it with guarantee of money back if it isn't satisfactory.

night and yesterday morning, winter heralded an early approach. Snow started falling here yesterday at 3 o'clock. Old residents of town state that a storm similar to this visited Bathurst on October 11, 1906. During the storm, which ceased about 9 o'clock this morning, the wind blew with great force. Trees were uprooted and branches broken off many others in different sections. The telephone service was interrupted during the evening, caused by trees and branches breaking down the lines. About 8 o'clock the whole town was in total darkness and the electric service has not yet been restored.

Between Beaver Brook and Gloucester Junction, a stretch of about 20 miles, the New Brunswick Telephone Company had 12 poles down altogether, 88 were broken, and they found 45 trees lodged across the wires at various points.

FAIRVILLE CHILD
BURNED ABOUT BODY

Three Year Old Francis McGovern is Patient in Hospital.

Three-year-old Francis McGovern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo McGovern of Fairville, was quite severely burned about the body on Sunday morning about 7 o'clock in his home and now is a patient in the General Public Hospital. The little lad and his brother Joseph, aged 6, left their bed while their parents were sleeping and made their way to the kitchen. There Francis, it is believed, got some matches. At any rate, the cries of the boy alarmed the parents and they hurried to the kitchen to find the younger boy's night clothing alight. The other lad, frightened by the triple occurrence, had gone under the table for safety. Dr. D. V. Davidson was called and treated the suffering boy and had him removed to the hospital.

Canadian Association Makes Appeal for Further Assistance for Industry.

Association represents lake and Pacific as well as Atlantic fisheries, and cannot give publicity to one more than another. Another remark worth noting is that fishermen would exercise more care with their catch from the water to the buyer they would get better prices and that many fish dealers need to be educated in handling the fish so that buyers who are sensitive to appearances will be attracted and not repelled.

ASKS CO-OPERATION FOR ALL DOMINION

Whole Dominion Cannot Forget Provinces Down by Sea, It Says

SHERBROOKE, Que., Oct. 11.—The Sherbrooke Record prints the following editorial under the heading:

"Presenting the case of the Maritime Provinces." The Maritime Provinces have a case to present to the people of the other provinces of Canada in the opinion of the Saint John, N. B., Telegraph.

$289,000,000 worth of Canadian business exports and imports, passed through American ports for the year ending in July. Of this only about $11,000,000 represented imports.

LEONARD HILL

Leonard Hill, British scientist, says that if men would dress as lightly as women physicians would have to take up another calling.

ing. This means much to the country and to the Maritime Provinces. It means the employment of more longshoremen at Saint John and Halifax, more and longer calls of ocean freight carriers, with the consequent expenditure of more money, and resulting in improved local conditions and better home market for Canadian manufacturers.

These are other features of the Maritime Province situation which we want to place before the people of other parts of Canada. Committees of each province are studying these questions. Immigration, Industrial and Development and Status under Confederation. A conference will be held on November 4, at Charlottetown.

The force of the statement will be apparent to all. A Canadian spirit and patriotism, as broad as the country itself, must be developed if this Dominion is to go ahead.

A Cabinet Range For Small Kitchens

THE Moffat model we recommend for the smallest kitchen is our "E-36.F". The body of this range is only 41 inches and takes up a floor space 42 x 25 1/2 inches. It has everything a woman longs for—deep, one-piece, Electra Porcelain Enamel 20-inch oven, big enough to take a large turkey. Moffats Heat Deflector (patent applied for) is a new feature which insures an even heat in every corner of the oven, front and back.

Every surface exposed to grease splashes, steam or the fumes of cooking food is coated with hard, shiny, electric enamel, including the inside walls of the oven. The terminal switch handles are right at hand, plainly marked. The range is wired on the soundest and surest electrical principles. The elements are of the quick-heating and durable type for which Moffat Ranges are famous. The Moffat elements are economical of power.

This range has a 660-watt electric outlet for the Electric Iron or any other Electric Appliance. And many other features. Your electric dealer wants to help you choose the range that suits your purposes best. Let him show you the good points of them all and then compare the Moffat "E-36.F". Would you like our catalogue? The Evening Times-Star printed at 25-27 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by New Brunswick Publishing Co., Ltd., J. D. McKenna, President.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 12, 1925.

USING THE PORTS OF THE MARITIMES.

The Halifax Herald and the Toronto Star have been engaging in an exchange of views regarding the rights and prospects of the Maritime Provinces with respect to the greater utilization of Maritime Ports, and Maritime betterment generally.

The Toronto Star is not so sure about that. It says that if trade does not now go through these ports, it is because trade has found cheaper paths and exits.

The Maritime Provinces are not in the mood to take any answer lying down. In the first place, the cost of carrying traffic to Maritime Ports is no greater to the shipper than that of carrying it to alien ports not alone the issue.

All Canadian ports are affected, and to-day something like two-thirds of Canada's grain crop finds its way to Europe through alien channels.

The Central provinces—if the Star is speaking for them—should not be too tender about this matter of subsidies. If it is horrified at the proposal to give a preference to Maritime ports, or even to Canadian ports generally, it should be no less horrified at the fact, which it admits, that the Maritimes and the West are to-day being taxed through the tariff in order that the industries of Ontario and Quebec may be prosperous.

Confederation must pay dividends all round, not merely in the Central provinces. The Star and those like it, who turn a cold shoulder upon the Maritimes, must learn—and their education is going to proceed much more rapidly in future—that the people down here by the sea are Canadians as well as customers for Ontario's industries.

If sectionalism exists in Canada, where there is a better—or worse—example of it than in this Central Canadian complacency in the face of Man knows no more blissful feeling than that which comes in realizing that the rent is paid for a month ahead.

When a man has no engagement for the evening, he is mighty lonesome, sighs Frank McCafferty. A girl can always wash her hair.

OVERCROWDED. It happens not infrequently that closets have more skeletons than families in which to keep them.

One man in England has testified in court that he didn't know there was a world war. Well, we had a lot of skeletons over here who didn't know it, either.

Dietary indiscretion is said to be one of the chief causes of arteriosclerosis and high blood pressure. Diabetics, too, are usually heavy eaters—or sweets especially.

Other Views A CORRECTION. (Toronto Star.) The Ottawa Journal says The Star has opposed J. L. Church in all his elections. This is slightly inaccurate. When he first came out as an aldermanic candidate in Ward Two we did not oppose him—we only laughed.

NEVER MIND THE WORKMEN. (Hamilton Herald.) With a view to squeezing the last drop of protection out of the tariff, the Winnipeg Free Press is urging the co-operation of Liberals and Progressives. The welfare of the industrial workers does not count in the least, in the eyes of that paper.

SELL THE SKIN FOR A GROAT. (Toronto Telegram.) Seven hundred years ago an English proverb ran: "The stranger buys of the Englishman the fox's skin for a groat and sells him the tail for a shilling." There are politicians today who would sell Canada's raw material to the stranger for a song, and buy back his manufactured products at his own fancy price. While it is slightly unbecoming to move, but the foolishness of fools never does.

U. S.-CANADA INCOME TAX. (Vancouver Province.) We have higher taxes than they have in the United States, and our need of a reduction is correspondingly greater. An unmarried man with an income of $5,000 pays an income tax of $24.28 in Vancouver, while in Seattle he pays $80. The difference is too great. In the United States they have already had a couple of reductions; we have had none.

"AN APPLE A DAY." (Toronto Globe.) How about "an apple a day to keep the doctor away" this winter? Growers tell the Government that they have the best apples ever, and just about the biggest crop in Ontario's history. They seek the aid of the Minister of Agriculture in finding suitable markets. This famed Annapolis Valley has suffered from frosts and fogs and cannot be the serious competitor of other years.

So the apples are here and they want consumers. They should be within the reach of everyone and should not be dearer than oranges from California. The growers and the Government must solve the marketing problem for the small consumer.

Dinner Stories Smith and Jones were discussing the question of who should be head of the house—the man or the woman. "I am the head of my establishment," said Jones. "I am the bread-winner. Why shouldn't I be?" "Well," replied Smith, "before my wife and I were married we made an agreement that I should make the rulings in all major things my wife in all the minor."

"How has it worked?" queried Jones. Smith smiled. "So far," he replied, "no major matters have come up."

Two Irishmen who had just landed were eating their dinner in a hotel, when Pat spilled a bottle of horseradish. Not knowing what it was he harkened to a big mouthful, which brought tears to his eyes.

HANDCUFFS AND SHACKLES FOR ALL. A PERSON whose desires and impulses are his own—are the expression of his own nature, as it has been developed and modified by his own culture—is said to have a character.

Now, from the highest class of society down to the very lowest every one lives under the eye of a dreaded and hostile legal censorship that penetrates to their most personal affairs.

But the legal censorship is not the worst. In what most people do for pleasure, conformity is the first thing thought of.

It does not occur to them to have any inclinations, except for what is customary. The mind itself is bowed to the yoke. They like in crowds; they exercise choice only among things commonly done.

Peculiarity of taste, eccentricity of conduct, are shunned equally with crimes: until, by dint of not following their own nature, they have no nature to follow. Their human capacities are withered and starved.

They become incapable of any strong wishes or native pleasures, and are generally without opinions or feelings of home growth, or properly their own.

POEMS THAT LIVE WHERE DID YOU COME FROM? Where did you come from, baby dear? Out of the everywhere into here.

Where did you get your eyes so blue? Out of the sky as I came through.

What makes the light in them sparkle and spin? Some of the starry skies left in.

Where did you get that little tear? I found it waiting when I got here.

What makes your forehead so smooth and high? A soft hand stroked it as I went by.

What makes your cheek like a warm white rose? I saw something better than anyone knows.

Whence that three-cornered smile of bliss? Three angels gave me at once a kiss.

Where did you get this peevy ear? God spoke, and it came out to hear.

Where did you get those arms and hands? Love made itself into hooks and bands.

Feel, whence did you come, you darling things? From the same box as the cherub's wings.

How did they all come just to be you? God thought of me, and so I grew.

But how did you come to us, you dear? God thought of you, and so I am here. —George MacDonald.

What We Eat Is Only Matter Of Habit

FOOD and drink, like clothes and coliffures, are mainly matters of mode—temporal and territorial. To-day we eat the mackerel and snuff at the dog-fish, we swallow the oyster and trample on the snail. Yet our descendants in 2025 may regard the "native" as rank poison, while esteeming the snail the delicacy which it is considered today in France, where three million pounds are raised annually and they are retailed at about 16 cents a dozen.

He would be a bold man who should offer his guests hulled porpoise at a dinner party. Moreover, they appeared only a few weeks ago on the menu of the Paris Zoological Society's annual dinner, together with shark's fin, roach, cod, and seaweed jelly.

What is a lamprey? Not one person in five hundred today could tell you. The encyclopaedia is very brusque about it, and declares contemptuously that "its flesh was formerly esteemed for the table." So highly esteemed, indeed, at one time, was this eel-like "fish" that our history-books assure us that a certain English king died in consequence of a "surfeit of lampreys."

Queen Elizabeth was another sovereign who confessed to a passion for the lamprey, while Edward III. ordered a dish of 44 for his Christmas dinner in 1341.

LAMPREYS DIET OF ROYALTY. Yet nowadays, if any well-known restaurant should include lampreys in its bill of fare, all the papers would have long articles about it. Perhaps, however, a notable day will dawn when some doctor will make the startling discovery that the lamprey contains "all the essential vitamins," after which the poor creature's life will no longer be worth a moment's purchase!

The hostess who dares to offer her guests seaweed sandwiches at afternoon tea would probably not hear the last of her error for many a long day. But why? We set great store by vegetables that grow on land and fish that swim under water. Then why despise the ocean's vegetable growth? In Japan seaweed sandwiches are eaten quite commonly, while Welsh epicures greatly prize what they call "laver bread," made from seaweed gathered off the rocks.

MYSTERIOUS SKELETONS. Diggers have come across a number of graves containing mysterious skeletons fifteen feet below the surface of the alluvial diamond fields near Potchefstroom, South Africa. Each of the graves carries a head-stone faintly marked with strange characters, which are now quite indecipherable. The skeletons are not those of natives, and it is thought that the site marks the graveyard of a bygone people.

GLOBES NO LONGER SALVAGED. No more can be returned to the electric companies in part payment for new ones. When electricity first came into general use platinum was used to encase the filament in leading it through the sealed end, as platinum has a coefficient of expansion that approaches zero. It is only within comparatively recent years that an alloy, in most cases invar, has been produced to replace platinum and it does not pay the light companies to reclaim it as it did when platinum was used.

REV. J. DUNLOP

Central Baptist Preacher Calls for Higher Ideals of Young People.

Rally Day in Central Baptist church yesterday was observed in a threefold manner—by an address from Rev. Waldo Machum, field secretary of the Maritime Religious Educational Council, a mass gathering of the various branches of the Sunday school in afternoon especially addressed by A. M. Greig, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., and a special sermon at night by the pastor, Rev. James Dunlop, who took for his subject "Patriotic Ideals of Young People," using for his text the twelfth verse of Psalm 114.

DEVELOP YOUNG LIFE

Rev. Mr. Machum in his morning address eloquently stressed the necessity of developing the young life of the country along spiritual lines but not without due attention to its physical and social welfare. He drew the picture of the boy Jesus as a model, and declared the opposition sometimes encountered from adult church members in making the social and wholesome organized play of boys and girls in church and Sunday school activities, part of the programme. Properly supervised by godly people the youth of the church enriches its usefulness and stimulates its spirituality by its forthright activities laid down in the carefully planned routine of the organization in whose interests he is laboring.

CITIZENSHIP TEST

A man cannot be loyal in world affairs, said the speaker, who is untrue to his own people and loyalty to country, as to God, must be part of our programme for the young. Our young people have no true Christian conception of patriotism when we boast of our nation's greatness we think in terms of material prosperity. Yet a nation's golden age, as in the experience of Rome in material things, may be a period of moral and spiritual degeneracy. National trading must not take the place of communion with God. The market place must not overshadow the Holy place. The test of national progress was not census but citizenship.

In national life character was a permanent asset, continued Mr. Dunlop. Britain's word was her bond. That made her great. No person should vote for a politician whose name had been discarded as a man. A bad man cannot be a good statesman. His ideals were wrong and his highness was not greatness. The world's nations had been small nations, he said, putting a tape around a man's hat will not measure his mind. It was not Canada's square miles that her square deals that made her great. It was not quantity of land but quality of life that counted in the eyes of God. Canada We Stand on Guard For "Thee," who should be under guard and behind the bars.

"The church is the moral and spiritual institution is the creator and inspirer of patriotism," declared the speaker in conclusion. "The business college is essential as the day school. The pattern of Christ is our ideal. He is the Savior of man and nations. His Spirit guides and His presence inspires. To be true to Him is to become patriotic and render sacrificial service to God and country. It is to hasten the day when—

"Man to man, the world o'er,
"Shall brethren be for A' that."

Large congregations attended the rally day services in the Main street Baptist church yesterday morning and evening and at the rally day programme for the Sunday school in afternoon the auditorium of the church was used and there was a large gathering of the pupils of the school. Rev. W. U. Hatfield was the preacher at the morning and evening services and at the Sunday school rally gave an address on "Loyalty to Jesus." W. J. McAlary, superintendent of the Sunday school, presided at the rally of the school and the programme prepared by the Religious Education Council was followed.

ORPHANS ARE KEPT FROM FAIR BY STORM

Treat, However, is Sent to Them—Prize Winners of Saturday Evening.

Although the stormy weather of Saturday prevented the children of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage from attending the fair in St. Andrew's Park they did not lose their treat. The candy, ice cream, cake and good things were sent out to them at the homes and each child also received a gift from the fish pond. The storm lessened the attendance at the fair to some extent, the crowd being estimated at about 1,000. The door prize, a carving set, was won by ticket 8,220 and will not be claimed. Other prize winners included the following: Ladies' bean board, Mrs. Geary; men's bean board, W. B. Stearns; ten pins, Murray Clark; bagatelle, Mrs. William Price.

The New Marriage Course Should Teach Each Bride Not to Nag, Not to Criticize, to Be Diplomatic, Cheerful, a Good Cook, and, Above All, to Show Love and Appreciation.

IT IS announced that the University of Chicago will establish a special course to teach girls the art of home management, how to make husbands happier and how to eliminate the worries and conflicts that so often wreck love's young dream.

day and heavy the next. Her chief research work is devoted to finding some food that will agree with the baby's stomach, and the romance language of which she has most need is that in which she can jolly her husband along the road of domesticity.

Heretofore the so-called higher education of women hasn't taken woman's ultimate destiny into consideration. Yet after a woman has taken her M. A. degree in the University of Wedlock the problem in higher mathematics with which she daily wrestles is how to spread a small income over a big expenditure.

For the kitchen is the foundation stone of the home. All the superstructure has to rest upon that and whether a family is healthy, even tempered and contented, or dyspeptic and irritable and fretful, depends primarily upon the way it is fed.

IN STRESSING the preparation for marriage, I trust that the learned professor in this course will also urge upon the young ladies the importance of settling the financial question with the man they marry before they sign up for a life partnership.

If a man believes that a wife should be nothing but an unpaid servant, glad to work for her board and clothes and an occasional tip, a woman should at least know the kind of slavery she is going into before she commits herself to it.

A ND, at any rate, there is 80 per cent. less friction and danger of quarrels in getting money out of a man once a month, instead of having to hold him up for it every morning at breakfast.

First. That it is easy enough to make a man fall in love with you, but it is hard and never-ceasing work to keep him in love for thirty or forty years. You can't fascinate a man once and let it go at that. You have to do the trick over again every day.

THE wife who wants her husband to kiss her must keep herself kissable, and for this reason there never comes a time in a woman's whole life when she can afford to slump and get drowsy and slothful. She must always keep herself up to her best and be able to stand comparison with the other women with whom her husband is thrown in contact.

Second. To take husbands as they come, faults, aggravating little ways and all, without trying to make them over. No man marries to be reformed or to have his habits changed. Nor does he marry to acquire a critic.

THERE is no surer way to drive a husband to the poolroom in the evenings than not to let him smoke in the house. There is no surer method of turning him into a liar than to make such a fuss over every little sidestep that he is afraid to tell the truth about meeting an old woman friend and taking her to lunch or staying downtown for a game of cards with the boys.

Third. Not to nag. The women who can never say a thing once and have done with it slip away with the jawbone of an ass.

VERY often are women who have for twenty years on a mistake a man has made or a foolish thing he has done, who never let him hear the end of the money he lent to a friend and lost, and who remind him a million times to wipe his feet on the door mat and not to forget to wind the clock.

Fourth. Not to whine and complain. Men have about all the unpleasantness they can stand in their daily work.

HUSBANDS have to come home at night to a wife who deluges them with all of her own woes and who spends the evenings bemoaning the fact that she can't have all that rich women have. It takes the last spark of courage out of him. It is like after death, the judgment. Chief among the virtues that every wife should cultivate are cheerfulness and optimism.

Fifth. Students in the course of husband managing should also be taught that there is a time for all things, and especially for telling a husband bad news or asking for money.

THE psychological moment for breaking the tidings of an impending visit from mother and the need of a new dress is only after hubby has a good dinner under his belt and a cigar in his mouth.

Sixth. They should be taught diplomacy and tact, how to deal with their best friends and stroke their fire in the right way, how to sidestep their little prejudices. In short, how to jolly them along, instead of trying to goad them along. And, above all, they should be taught to show their husbands some of the love and appreciation they feel for them, instead of asking it for granted that their husbands understand the state of their affections.

OH, THERE is a grand and glorious field of usefulness for a school for wives! For most women who fall as wives fall through ignorance and not intention.

A Puzzle a Day

A builder in Miami bought a job lot of square tiles. Each block when laid in a cement bed occupied a 12-inch square. These tiles were laid as flooring in two square entrance halls. The first room was larger than the second. When they were completed the builder was asked the size of the two rooms, but all he could remember was that the first room required 29 more tiles than the second.

Is it possible to discover the size of the rooms from this information? Last puzzle answer: The one letter given was "sp" and the other two letters are "m" and "a." In the word "sp" the "s" is the first letter, in "sp" the second letter, and in "ap" it is the third letter.

MUCH attention these days is paid to designing frocks for the girl in her teens.

The youthful cloth model above is a product of careful designing for the girl who is classed as the junior miss. This model would also be smart for the small woman.

The material is navy blue sheen with touches of bright red silk. This is inserted at the waistline, leaving the sides of the dress hanging free above it, to stimulate the bezero jacket treatment.

Family Menus

Breakfast—Baked apples, cereal, thin cream, creamed eggs on whole wheat toast, crisp whole wheat buttered toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Mock lobster salad, raisin cookies, rye bread, baked Indian pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—Cream of carrot soup, shepherd's pie, creamed string beans, apple and cream cheese salad, chocolate bread pudding, bran rolls, milk, coffee.

Since the menu course suggested in the dinner menu is rather light a hearty dessert is planned.

The dessert is the hot dish in the luncheon menu, a fish salad being substituted for a soup or hot vegetable dish.

SHERHERD'S PIE

One and one-half pounds lamb cut from forequarter, 1 cup sliced onions, 1-2 cup diced carrots, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-8 teaspoon pepper.

Wipe meat and cut in neat pieces for serving. Cover with 8 cups boiling water and simmer for one hour. Add carrots, onions, parsley, salt and pepper and cook about 30 minutes longer, until vegetables and meat are tender. Strain off all but 1-2 cups stock. Stir flour to a smooth paste with a little cold water and stir into remaining stock covering the meat and vegetables. Cook, stirring carefully to prevent breaking the vegetables for five minutes after the gravy begins to boil. Border a heat-proof platter with mashed potatoes and put meat and gravy in the centre. Put into a hot oven long enough to brown the potato border.

The stock can be thickened with rice and used as a substantial luncheon soup for children the following day.

New Hats Call For Fatter Faces, So

Three-cornered hats are to be worn this season, says a Paris fashion edict. And for a woman to look the best in one of them, she should have a fat, round face.

So to meet the demand of many who have reduced until their faces are but skin and bones, manufacturers are putting out next little hats that are to be worn inside the mouth.

The supports rest against the teeth on each side and give to the cheeks a full, rounded appearance. Another aid to fashion and beauty is the kiss-proof lipstick. The paint is guaranteed to be waterproof.

Blood Not Thicker Than Love, Judge Holds

"Blood is thicker than water," but blood is not thicker than love.

It is a court ruling. For a judge at Glaston, Ohio, has held that before the law a claim to a little child based on love is stronger than a claim based only on parentage. Mrs. Martha Manful came to Canton from her home in Wisconsin. She left her little baby in a church nursery and returned to her home.

HER ONLY MOTHER.

One of the women in the nursery took the baby home. Later the little tot came into the custody of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cline.

They cared for the baby as if she were their own child. As the baby grew into a sweet-faced little girl, she knew of no other mother than Mrs. Cline.

Back in Wisconsin Mrs. Manful remarried and came back to Canton to claim her child. The Clines had become so attached to the little girl that they couldn't give her up.

Mrs. Manful sued, asking for a writ of habeas corpus which would return the child, called Baby Ellen.

LOVE WINS.

But love won over blood. In deciding the case, Judge Alger held a parent who abandons a child forfeits the natural parental rights.

The feelings of those who take the child and care for it tenderly as well as the welfare of the child itself must be considered before the claims of parentage merely, the reason of blood relationship, he held.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON THE END OF THE YELLOW CAR.

"Uncle Ringtail, your speedometer says 35 miles an hour," cried Coby to his uncle, Mister Ringtail Coon. Not that Coby was worried, because he and Coby, his brother, loved to go fast.

But Mister Coon had distinctly said, when he started out with his new yellow car, that he didn't believe in fast driving. "Twenty or 25 miles is fast enough for anybody," he had said. "I never intend to drive fast and what's really going more than 25 miles, I am sure, is to be plainly understood that they drive no faster than I do. I shall take them out and give them a lesson in safe sane driving."

So that's what they were doing now. And the reason that Coby said anything at all about the speedometer was because his uncle had said: "Well, mind I go faster than 25 miles boys. Keep your eyes on the speedometer every minute."

So that is why Coby called out. "You're going 35 miles, Uncle Ringtail. Honest, you are!" The speedometer isn't set exactly right," said Mister Coon. "We're not going more than 25 miles, I am sure. Besides the road is so straight and level and there's not another car in sight. We're perfectly safe. We're not going so very fast, boys. I don't approve of fast driving, as you know."

"But it says 40 miles now, Uncle Ring," said Coby, who loved to go fast, but who felt it his duty to tell his uncle all about it. "Mister Coon did not answer. The road was smooth, and as straight as a line, and as if the long yellow car had wings and was going through space.

The air whistled past their heads and the joy of moving along so evenly and swiftly made Mister Coon forget everything else in the world. The speedometer is surely wrong," he said to himself. "We don't seem to be moving so very fast."

"Uncle—that sign there says 'Fifteen miles an hour,'" said Coby, pulling at his sleeve. "You said to watch for signs and tell you."

"I know! I know!" nodded Mister Coon. "That's all right for careless drivers, but not for me. I'm a careful driver. A VE-RY careful driver."

"Say, Uncle, it says 50 miles now," said Coby. "You're going 50 miles an hour!" "Surely not," said Mister Coon. "I have to slow down."

But he didn't slow down. He kept on going. He put his foot on the accelerator—and "let her go!" And then something happened. It always does. Right out of a side road that nobody knew was there, came a little black car. It came puffing out onto the other road without even blinking—you might say. There it was like an ugly black cat, going 35 miles, in front of them. It was really going, but so slowly that it appeared to stand still.

It was right in the path of Mister Coon and the big yellow car. Mister Coon remembered one thing from his lessons. In case of danger, push down both pedals hard and stop your car, right in front of them. It was really going, but so slowly that it appeared to stand still. Right out of a side road that nobody knew was there, came a little black car. It came puffing out onto the other road without even blinking—you might say. Anglican Churches Call for Service by Members of Congregations

Meetings to be Held During the Week to Organize Associations of Laymen.

The call to laymen of the Anglican church to take up their share of church work and to organize in Laymen's Associations was sounded in all of the Anglican churches of the city yesterday when laymen were heard in stirring appeals.

and vice-chairman of the Fredericton diocesan laymen's committee for Saint John denney, speaking in Trinity church in the morning stated that the plan to form Laymen's Associations in every parish was being undertaken first in this diocese.

NATIONAL MOVEMENT. The National Laymen's Movement, he said, came from the highest authority, the General Synod of the Provinces of Canada, and was a call to laymen to do their share of the Church's work, and to do it better and more completely.

ment, Mr. Kirby believed was evidenced by the cordiality of their invitation to the laymen to speak in the churches. It was hoped to have a laymen's association formed in every parish, and the aim was fundamentally to give and not to receive.

MEETINGS THIS WEEK. Special stress was laid upon the fact that the laymen were not undertaking this work relying on their own power but sure in the sustaining power of God were going forward knowing full well that they were undertaking an unthinkable task.

He spoke of the intention of calling meetings of laymen in each of the city congregations in the present week to organize Laymen's Associations, which would in no way usurp the functions of existing organizations but seek to further their interests.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES. He spoke also of the special opportunities for practical Christianity found in Saint John in assisting immigrants, caring for the sick and aged, distributing relief to the unemployed.

OPERATION POSTPONED. Percy Hargrove, of Moncton, who came to Saint John to enter the Military Hospital to undergo an operation has contracted bronchitis which has made it necessary to postpone the operation.

PROBLEMS OF YOUNG SUBJECT

Rev. Frank Langford of Toronto Speaks in Portland Church

Inventions of Modern Days Have Made New Problems, With New Opportunity.

After 16 years as religious education secretary for the Methodist church Rev. Frank Langford, of Toronto, now religious education secretary for the United Church, said last night that since the United Church had come into existence he had found young people's work was obtaining far deeper hold and more intense fervor than he had ever known before.

Mr. Langford is in the city to attend the convention of the Young People of the Saint John Presbytery of the United Church which meets in St. Andrew's church today. He was a speaker at the New Brunswick R. E. C. convention in Fredericton, and has just come from the Young People's convention in Hartland. Tomorrow he will address the Young People's convention in Moncton; on Wednesday he will be in Sackville to speak to the Mount Allison students; on Thursday he will speak at the Young People's convention in Halifax; and on Friday he will speak in Truro, leaving the next day to return to Toronto.

SOME CONTRASTS

Speaking in the Portland United church yesterday morning Mr. Langford addressed the young people, more especially pointing out that their problems today were different from those of young people in former days. Science had given the young people of today many wonderful new inventions, including automobiles, telephones, radio and motion pictures, and at the same time young people today had more leisure time than any previous generation. There was a new opportunity for young people and they should do greater things than their fathers or mothers to meet world needs. In face of this responsibility there was the need for still greater support in divine power.

In the afternoon Mr. Langford addressed two of the St. David's Sunday school classes. In the evening he was the preacher in St. Andrew's church when his theme was "Conservation of Life and Life's Resources." He pointed out that life had personal responsibilities which passed away with each stage of life, but social responsibilities renewed themselves and extended from generation to generation. He spoke of the church of today as having been built upon the church of the past, and of the responsibility to see that in building the church today it be done so wisely and with as much devotion as could be. The ultimate and permanent resources he referred to as Divine Power.

MANY GATHER AT ANNIVERSARY

Yarmouth Male Choir Sings at Special Queen Square Services.

Singers Number 46 in Sunday Music—Rev. H. C. Rice is Preacher.

Splendidly inspirational music with the Yarmouth male choir as leaders and eloquent addresses by the pastor, Rev. H. C. Rice, marked the services in the Queen square United church yesterday when the 19th anniversary was celebrated. The church was thronged in the morning and in the evening, after every available nook had been occupied, there were between 500 and 700 turned away. A service of sacred song followed the evening service and for that third gathering the church was again filled to capacity.

The Yarmouth male choir, whose singing enthralled Saint John music lovers when the choir visited the city to assist at the last anniversary in the church, enhanced its previous reputation by the magnificent renderings of 12 special numbers yesterday. Among those numbers by the choir which were most appealing were "Some Blessed Day," by Nevin; "Absent" and "Whispering Hope." For the service of sacred song Mrs. L. V. Lingley and E. Clyde Parsons were soloists. Mrs. Blair MacLean was the organist for all services and the church's augmented choir numbered in all 40 voices. Because of the roughness of the weather it was feared that the Yarmouth choir would be unable to cross the bay and the anniversary committee greatly appreciated their having braved the storm. The members of the choir are: Tenors, Keith Nickerson, William Wyman, Mel Parker, Percy Carow, S. C. Hood, Fred Pitman, J. D. Burton, E. J. Vickery; bassos, Ronald Horton, J. H. Malcolm, G. Wilson, H. A. Waterman, A. W. Gardner, B. H. Keating, J. Arthur Cann, W. E. Simms and R. Roy Williams, director.

The members of the Yarmouth choir after the services were entertained at supper at the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

THE LAW OF LIFE

Mr. Rice in his morning sermon spoke from the text Hebrews 11:40, his theme being the "Solidarity of Our Race," the law of life by which the competing and divergent races of men seem to lose their distinctive racial characteristics in the contribution which they make to the common life of all. A man was an isolated unit in that he must bear his own burden of individuality, personality and responsibility, but he must lose himself in the race and a man was born to shame whose aspirations were confined to the limits of his own life.

Red Cross Support Urged From Pulpits

A generous response to the Red Cross campaign for members and funds which is to be launched on Oct. 15 was urged upon the city congregations by the clergy in the various churches yesterday. With reference to the work of the Saint John branch of the Red Cross Society it was said that in the last year it had aided 2,000 persons, helping with maternity care and in the providing of layettes, responding to special needs in the time of emergency and giving relief or transportation when there was no other organization through which relief could be obtained. The house visitation and the canvass of the business section.

Red Cross is to meet this afternoon to report progress and to complete all arrangements for the house to house visitation and the canvass of the business section.

Why Don't All Children Grow Up Strong and Healthy and Happy? It is the birthright of every boy and girl to grow up from childhood into manhood and womanhood with the equipment for making life successful, happy, worthwhile—to have a well-developed, healthy body and a clear, quick-thinking mind. Mothers! Do you realize that in your hands is the key to these desirable things for your children? Health experts will tell you that a child's physical future—its health, its size, its appearance—are determined by its food. Proper balance of food elements is vitally important. Even the form in which their food comes to your children is a deciding factor, for the contours of the face and head—the very outlines which make up their appearance in later life—depend, to a surprising degree, on the exercise of the jaws and facial muscles. For normal development of these bones and muscles, children must eat foods that require chewing.

DEFOREST CROSLLEY THE NEW RADIO. THE inventive genius of Dr. Lee DeForest (whose basic discoveries have made present day radio possible) and his associate engineers, the fine production standards of Powell Crosley Jr., the big new DeForest & Crosley plant in Toronto producing over 1,200 sets a day, scientific tests by one of Canada's leading radio engineers, the undivided enthusiasm of Canada's finest furniture designers, a corp of experts on marketing—these brief flashes indicate but sketchily a great work, a new vision, that for months has been developing into what we now present as the DeForest & Crosley "R" series of Radios. Here is Radio as you have always expected it—so remarkable in efficiency, so distinctive in character, so utterly different in its refinements that only one phrase fittingly describes these triumphs—"THE NEW RADIO." In exterior design the New Radio, as interpreted by DeForest & Crosley, represents, we believe, the ultimate in radio ensemble. "Sani-Bilt"
Means New High-Class
Fillings

Besides the unequalled mothproofing feature, Snyder's "Sani-Bilt" Chesterfields and Chairs have other outstanding superiorities.

As the name "Sani-Bilt" implies, they are stuffed with strictly new, fresh, clean fillings, thoroughly sterilized. Absolutely no old or second-hand materials are used in furniture bearing our "Sani-bilt" label.

A Snyder "Sani-Bilt" Chesterfield has a greater number of springs than the usual Chesterfield. And the springs are of double-cone coils of oil-tempered steel wire. They are full of life and resiliency. They give "Sani-Bilt" Chesterfields a wonderful ease and depth of comfort.

The springs, fillings and coverings are supported by a strong, sturdy frame of Canadian hardwood, with all corner blocks glued and screwed. These frames are built to last a life-time.

Snyder's "Sani-Bilt" Chesterfields and Chairs are built in a wide range of designs, coverings and colors. Starting with very moderate-priced suites and advancing by easy stages to the most luxurious of suites, the "Sani-Bilt" line provides a choice of beautiful Chesterfields and Chairs for everyone.

If your dealer cannot supply you with a "Sani-Bilt" Suite in the design, material or color you desire, or at the price you want to pay, ask him to show you the Snyder Catalogue. We are sure you'll find the suite you want shown therein.

If offered something
"just as good" as Sani-Bilt
remember these six facts

ENVIUS of the remarkable success scored by Snyder's "Sani-Bilt" Mothproof Furniture during the past two years, other makers are now offering you mothproof Chesterfields and Chairs.

If you should be tempted to accept one of these other mothproof Chesterfields by a cut-price bait or some other attraction, just remember these facts, before doing so:—

- 1 That Snyder's were the first to offer you mothproof suites. You would not be offered other makes today, if Snyder's had not created a demand for mothproof furniture.
- 2 That the Snyder "Sani-Bilt" Mothproofing process was fully tested and proven permanently mothproof before Snyder's introduced it to the Canadian public. It is not in the experimental stage.
- 3 That Snyder "Sani-Bilt" Mothproofing is not a moth poison that soon evaporates and disappears, leaving the material unprotected. The Snyder process makes Snyder "Sani-Bilt" coverings and interiors non-eatable by moths and moth-worms. These pests cannot live and grow if they cannot eat. The "Sani-Bilt" Starvation Process is permanent. Poison is temporary.

- 4 That the fillings of "Sani-Bilt" Furniture are thoroughly mothproofed as well as the coverings. To mothproof coverings and not the interiors is only doing half a job. Moths and their grubs prefer to work in the dark and, naturally, sneak into unprotected interiors to do their deadly work.
- 5 That the Snyder Mothproofing Process is odorless and colorless and does not change the appearance or durability of the materials.
- 6 That the process used by Snyder's was discovered by a group of foremost European industrial scientists and chemists, after years of research and experiment. Does it seem likely that other equally good mothproof compounds and methods of applying them to the goods could be devised and perfected in a few short months?

If you will give these Six Facts the serious consideration they deserve, you will not be satisfied with anything else than Snyder's "Sani-Bilt" Mothproof Furniture.

Here Are Convincing Tests

Two pieces of wool cloth were put in a glass frame. One was mothproofed by the "Sani-Bilt" mothproofing process. The other was not. About fifty moth eggs were placed on each piece. Seventeen months afterwards, the piece not mothproofed had practically disappeared, nothing remained but a few dead grubs and excreta. The grubs died when there was nothing left to eat. The mothproofed piece was entirely unharmed, as it had no food value.

Two pieces of fur were similarly tested. The mothproofed one proved immune. The other was eaten bare, only the pelt remaining.

Two jars of wool were tested, with four hundred moth eggs in each. The mothproofed wool remained in exactly the same condition. Hardly anything remained of the other, except a little compressed ball of refuse.

So confident are the makers of Snyder's "Sani-Bilt" Chesterfields and Suites of the mothproofness of this furniture that the Guarantee shown below is attached to each genuine "Sani-Bilt" Chesterfield and Upholstered Chair. Read it.

CONFERENCE ON WORK OF CHURCH

Meetings in St. Andrews Today Urge Young People's Activity

Attendance of 80 Expected—Addresses by Rev. W. J. Bevis and F. Langford.

Seeing the need of the support of the young people in the work of the church and wishing to co-ordinate the various methods applied by the societies previously operating before church union, the United Church of Canada as represented in the Saint John Presbytery opened a convention in St. Andrews' church hall this morning.

Rev. J. Sutherland Bonnell, Moderator, Rev. Ernest E. Styles led the devotions and addresses were made by Rev. W. J. Bevis and Mr. Frank Langford of Toronto, one of the secretaries of Religious Education of the United Church of Canada.

EXPECT 80 DELEGATES.

It is expected that 80 delegates will be present during the three sessions today. The meeting was small this morning with the following registering: Donald Campbell, Miss Greta Floyd, Chalmers church (Presbyterian), Sussex; Miss Hazen Myles, Miss Ella I. Silliphant, United Church, (Methodist), of Sussex; Rev. F. T. Bertram, Mrs. J. B. MacKinnon, Carleton United Church, (Methodist), West Saint John; Miss Florence Beville, Miss Isabella Carr, Fred N. Myles, Rev. E. E. Styles, Exmouth United Church (Methodist); Mrs. G. Clayton Teed, Leola M. King, Queen Square United (Methodist) Church; Rev. W. J. Bevis, East Saint John United Church; Rev. J. S. Bonnell, St. Andrews' United Mount Allison Church; Rev. J. M. Murchison, British and Foreign Bible Society. Rev. Dr. W. G. Watson of Sackville, was a visitor.

RESPONSIBILITY.

Rev. Mr. Bevis spoke of the change of outlook in the minds of the young people of the churches, since the latter had enlarged their borders. He urged the young men and women to put first things first, which he felt they were not doing at present. He asked them to realize their responsibility to others, individually, in meeting their companions; collectively in their duty as leaders, and teachers in the Sunday school or other branches of the work. After showing what the church lacked because of indifference of the young people, who should be its life, he showed what was possible in the church's work of redeeming the world, when the young people put their energy into its work, making the up-building of Christ's Kingdom their first endeavor.

DEVOTIONAL FIRST

Mr. Langford explained in his address the things which had brought about the meeting held this morning. He told of the first organization of young people, the Christian Endeavor movement, the former Presbyterian church, which was wholly devotional, and of the Westminster Guild, which operated in western Canada. The former Congregational church also endorsed the Christian Endeavor, he said. He then showed the differences which existed in the later organization of the Epworth League of the former Methodist church. This introduced literary and social evenings. It was the purpose of the United Church to give the young people a comprehensive program, which would meet their various needs, and which would at the same time make the devotional element the leading factor in their meetings. He emphasized the need of a religious core, from which the other less important features of the meetings would emanate. Great authors will be studied in "Parables from Great Books."

The programme would include this year a study of the large field of missions now covered by the United Church, introducing Africa, where the former Congregationalists operate, and India, Southern and Middle China, India, Formosa and other countries, covered by the former Presbyterians, and the Western China and Japanese mission fields of the former Methodists. Citizenship would also be studied.

Several present asked questions and the members present were asked to think up questions for the afternoon session.

Mr. Langford said that he had attended very encouraging organization meetings in Hartland and Fredericton, and was leaving here to go to Moncton and Mount Allison, where he will address a large body of students, and to Halifax and Truro, after which he will return home.

Rev. F. M. Milligan, secretary of the

expressed hearty sympathy with my mission; as did J. W. Woodside, for J. S. Mitchell & Co., Ltd., wholesale hardware merchants.

The Sherbrooke Daily Record prints an editorial summary of the Maritime case, reproduced on another page, and declares its force must be applied to all; and commends The Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star for their part in seeking a basis of co-operation between the component parts of the Dominion. The Tribune, the French daily, and the Forum, a weekly, will also make sympathetic reference to my mission. A. W. Reid of the Forum and E. Haines of the Tribune showed a very keen interest in my presentation of the case. In leaving Sherbrooke I can speak only in the highest terms of the courtesy, and sympathy of every individual interviewed, and especially of the personal kindness of D. J. Steel, of the Canadian Pacific staff.

ONTARIO WANTS MORE FISH

MONTREAL, Oct. 11—Running yesterday afternoon from Sherbrooke I fell into conversation with a man from Ontario who visits the Maritimes from time to time and who wanted to know why Ontario does not get more fish from our provinces. He declared they would find a ready sale. He had got some mackerel at the hotel in Sherbrooke and declared it made him hungry for Halifax. They get no mackerel in Ontario, and lobsters when sold are at a prohibitive price. He believed a very large trade could be developed in fresh fish, if prompt dispatch were given from the Maritime coast, and he further believed the railways should make a rate to encourage the business. In his view our people should make more vigorous efforts to supply Ontario with fresh and cured and canned products of the sea.

THIS observant gentleman said he saw far too few herds of real dairy cattle in our provinces. We ought, he said, to become a great dairying centre. He had seen few horses on the farms to compare with those of Ontario, and too few flocks of sheep. He was surprised that Nova Scotia orchardists did not do more crop cultivation in their orchards, and contrasted them with the Niagara Peninsula. He believed it would bring great profit to the Nova Scotia orchardists if they would put more of their apples in boxes. The Georgian Bay Northern Spy, attractively boxed, brings a very high price in the English market. New Brunswick, in his opinion should be a great orchard province. Co-operation and standardization of products would, he said, immensely benefit our farmers.

The conversation turned on industries and power, and the Ontario man recalled hearing the late Sir Adam Beck say on one occasion that he would like to get through with his task of hydro development in Ontario and have a try at the immense tidal force of the Bay of Fundy. Touching the matter of utilizing our hardwood forests, my companion said Ontario was in the market for hardwood, and that the time is coming when New Brunswick birch and maple will be a most valuable asset. He is a thorough believer in converting all our natural resources into a finished product, and in this connection referred to asbestos, nickel and pulpwood, in the case of which this policy is not adopted. So far as the Maritimes are concerned, the whole country should deal with them, and in his opinion leadership is the great need of the Dominion at this time, when there is too much sectionalism and a great lack of mutual understanding.

Other Excursions From Boston Are Planned

Those who came here Saturday on a railway excursion from Boston will return this evening. It is planned to run a special train here from Boston during the world's skating championships and the promoters hope to secure 1,000 people to make the trip. Further excursions are planned for next summer.

ON FRIDAY of this week, amateur clubs all over the Maritimes will send delegates to Halifax to meet in annual session and while there is not any special subject to mangle, there is enough dynamite in the personalities who will attend to start a regular "bear garden," for which, we must confess, M. IS INSTITUTE HEAD 3RD TERM

Joseph P. Coughlin Again Chosen President of Y. M. C. I.

New Board of Management Elected—Good Report on Start of Season.

Joseph P. Coughlin will direct the work of the Young Men's Catholic Institute this year. He was unanimously re-elected president at the annual election of officers conducted last evening.

MEMBERS OF BOARD.

The new board of management chosen last evening also includes: Vice-president, William Kelly; financial secretary, Warren L. Gray; treasurer, William L. Walsh; recording secretary, James Whelby; chairman of sports and games committee, Joseph McGrath; chairman of literary, dramatic and entertainment committee, John J. Jennings; chairman of rooms and social committee, Leo McCrossin; chairman of religious committee, Thomas Bonner; sergeant at arms, Nicholas Doblestein.

The election was of interest and quite a few others were voted on in the selection of the ten to form the committee of management. The members of the new board were welcomed in an address by Rev. Joseph Floyd, who is the spiritual director of the institute this year, and they were also greeted by the members present.

Regret was expressed at the retirement of Richard Sullivan as financial secretary, a post in which he had given excellent service for several years. Mr. Sullivan found that he could not give the time to the office this year. He presented a statement last evening showing that September had given the institute a much better start than was the case at the beginning of the 1924 fall activities.

A round of speeches by the new board members was marked by expressions of enthusiasm over the outlook. The board will meet on next Wednesday night to complete committees and get the activities for the season under way. Some special events already are under consideration.

City Solicitor Reports on the Complaint of J. B. Day

St. Andrew's Street Property Matter—Taxation Question Over Till Thursday.

Commissioner Wigmore this morning submitted to the Common Council a report on a complaint of J. B. Day that sewerage backed up onto his property in St. Andrew's street. He presented the opinion of the city solicitor that the city was not liable. The report said that the sewer complained of had been renewed in 1920 and 1922 and now had three outlets to the main sewer. It ran under the house owned by Mr. Day and it might possibly back up after a very heavy rainfall. The basement of Mr. Day's house, the report said, was six feet below the level of the street.

The commissioner said he had suggested to Mr. Day that a trap be placed on the sewer pipe leading from the house to the sewer pipe leading from the house to sewer and this would stop any backflow.

The report was ordered filed and a copy sent to Mr. Day. Commissioner Frink reported that on July 16 an order had been passed for the purchase of an air compressor and other tools from the estate of Hon. William Pugsley. It had since been found that these goods were the property of the New Brunswick Real Estate and Loan Company, and on his motion the order was varied to permit of payment to the latter company.

MATTER OF TAXES.

Commissioner Wigmore produced copies of two letters from the Maritime Nail Company, one to the chairman of the Board of Assessors, dated July 21, 1925, calling attention to the tax bill of $6,200 and asking that the bill be the same as last year, as the same conditions, that the plant was idle. The second was addressed to the Mayor, under date of August 18, and said the assessors had written that they did not wish to take the responsibility of making any abatement in this bill, and asking that the Common Council take the same action as last year.

Commissioner Frink asked that the matter be allowed to lie on the table until the Thursday meeting of the committee and in the meantime he would take the matter up with the chairman of the board of assessors. This was agreed to.

NOT DETERMINED YET.

Commissioner Bullock said this morning that he was waiting further information from the Anchor-Donson line in regard to sailing schedules before making a reply to their request for a berth for this winter. The company asked that a definite berth be allotted to them for their ships as they proposed to make weekly sailings if this was done.

HOME-MADE COWBOYS

A dash of western color decorated the streets today when a group of returning grain harvesters appeared all topped up in flannel shirts, neckerchiefs and regulation Tom Mix-Buck Jones cowboy hats. The up-country lads had some hamlets in New Brunswick are in line for a flutter.

After the ceremony they returned to their hotel at 124 German street where each one was confirmed a member by Elders Rine, Orchard and Frodsham. Elder Frodsham gave a lecture on the subject of baptism, and followed in entering in their new sphere of life. The meeting then closed with Benediction by Sister Brown.

MINISTERS MEET

Explanation is Made Relative to Maintenance and Extension Fund.

Because of a misunderstanding in the bodies uniting in church union as to the nature of the Maintenance and Extension Fund, there was a discussion of this at a meeting of the Saint John Ministerial Association of the United Church, held in Canterbury hall this morning with Rev. Robert G. Fulton in the chair. It was shown that the fund was not a new source of financial strain upon the churches but a budgeting of funds carried by the churches before union. The only additional amount asked for by the fund was to meet the expenses of the church union and emergency fund, necessary for the support of ministers temporarily out of charges because of the readjustment.

A. A. KEARNS TO HIGHER COURT

Sent Up For Trial on Charge of Robbery With Violence

Mrs. Ida Dreskin Says She was Attacked and Robbed Saturday Night.

Arthur A. Kearns, of Charlotte street extension, Beausfield, appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Allingham in the Fairville police court this morning on a charge of robbery with violence from Mrs. Ida Dreskin, 46 High street, and after evidence had been given by Mrs. Dreskin, Thomas Jones, 2 Summer street, Beausfield, and Mrs. Bella Long, also of Summer street, he was committed for trial. Kearns was not asked to plead although it was said that he would present an alibi for defence. G. Earle Logan appeared for the defence.

WOMAN TESTIFIES

In her evidence, Mrs. Dreskin said that a little after 9 o'clock Saturday night while she was collecting over in Summer street and on her way home near the Martello Tower, a man accosted her and struck her over the heart, catching hold of her collar and striking her a second blow and knocking her down. When she recovered, she found that a blue suit she had been carrying, and also a pocketbook containing $78, had been taken.

In answer to Police Constable Tower, she said she thought her assailant wore a light cap.

To Magistrate Allingham, she said there was not any doubt in her mind that the accused was the man who had assaulted her.

TOOK HER HOME

Thomas Jones, railway mail clerk, residing at 2 Summer street, testified that while sitting in his home about 9 o'clock last Saturday night, he heard screaming outside. He investigated and met Mrs. Dreskin near the grave-yard fence. Her hat was off and she was very much excited. He took her to his home and there got in touch with the police authorities.

Mrs. Bella Long said she had been on her way home in Summer street Saturday when she heard screaming. She went in the direction of the cries and met Mrs. Dreskin coming towards her. The witness said she did not see anyone else about at that time. Later, Mr. Jones joined them.

Constable Tower said he had notified other witnesses to be present but they had not attended.

The Magistrate was of the opinion, however, that there was sufficient evidence to place Kearns on his trial and he, therefore, committed him. Mr. Logan made application for bail but this was refused.

Annual Meeting Hears Reports—President Speaks of Year and Future Work.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society, this afternoon in the Natural History Union street, Mrs. Margaret E. Lawrence, president, was in the chair. The meeting heard reports from the secretary, committees and was to have election of officers. Mrs. R. R. Rankine, secretary-treasurer, reported that the balance in hand was $101.41. The gross receipts for the year had been $261.41 and expenditures $160. The lecture course had brought $98 to the treasury and the exhibition of antiques had been $103.50. Miss Adelaide Flech, representative to the Local Council of Women from the Ladies' Association could not give any report, because of inability to attend the meetings because of illness. She was welcomed to the meeting after her absence.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mrs. Lawrence outlined the excellent results achieved in reviving the interest of people in heirlooms and in the awakening of many to the value of possessions which they had not previously known were worth while, until the exhibition of antiques had been held in the museum. She spoke of the other activities of the association and proposed plans for its work, urging the members of the executive to enter into the new year with earnest purpose to make it the best year in the history of the association.

The lecture course, with its rich promise of good things, literary and musical, was referred to by Mrs. Lawrence and she announced that Mrs. Frances Ayscough, of St. Andrews, would begin the course for this season at the museum tomorrow afternoon.

HERE PENNILESS; TELL OF ROBBERY

Two Sydney Men Were Cleaned Out of Funds in Winnipeg.

Having their hard-earned money stolen from them while in Winnipeg en route to their homes in Sydney, N. S. and arriving in this city penniless and being forced to seek the police station for shelter during the night was the sad experience of Clarence Lewis and Lindsay Lewis who arrived here yesterday from the West.

They said they put up at a boarding house in Winnipeg. Clarence had $139 in his pocketbook and Lind any $100. Apparently while asleep they were relieved of their rolls, but whoever did the job, one of the men said, left their pocketbooks and through tickets. The men did not discover the loss of their money until they were on the train. One man then found that he had only 90 cents and the other a little over $2. Efforts are being made today to secure them tickets for their home as their tickets brought them only to this city.
