REPARATIONS ISSUE REACHES CRISIS

DISCUSSION OF DEBTS PROBLEM OPENS IN PARIS

Diplomats Admit Gravity of European Situation

U. S. POSITION

British Attitude on Question May Force Issue To Hague Court

By H. BAILEY, British United Press. LONDON, Jan. 5.—The battle of the allied debts opens this week. Winston Churchill is due at Paris to attend the meeting of the Finance Ministers of the Allies and here is no attempt in official quarters to minimize the gravity of the situation or the importance of the meeting as affecting the future of Europe.

Discussion of debts is not a matter of fact officially on the agenda paper of the conference yet it is not questioned that the British Chancellor of the Exchequer will raise the issue with Herriot and Clementel, the Finance Minister of France and will make a strong effort to secure from France a categorical statement that she has no intention of repudiating her debt and offering some definite plan of the terms and method of repayment.

Winston Churchill comes back from Paris empty handed and without any satisfactory terms of settlement at least in skeleton form his own position may be seriously imperilled since there is a spirit of determination apparent in all classes to see that Britain no longer carries the entire burden of her own shoulders.

Former Premier Lloyd George is being his big Liberal campaign tonight when he addresses the council of the young Liberals federation and after this opening gun has been fired speaking will tour the entire country in an effort to revive liberalism and incidentally to begin to prepare for the next general election.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Final arrangements for Wednesday's conference of Allied Finance Ministers are being made, and the day draws nearer interest in the subjects to be considered is growing more intense.

WAS BORN IN YEAR OF CORONATION OF QUEEN VICTORIA

James McKinney Dies Suddenly at the Age of Eighty-eight

WORTHY CITIZEN Active in and was Publicly Honored by the Orange Order.

Born in Garryduff, County Antrim, Ireland, in the year in which Queen Victoria was crowned, James McKinney, for years one of St. John's family-known citizens, died suddenly this forenoon at the home of his son, W. V. McKinney, 166 1/2 Sydney street.

It was in the spring of the year 1856 that James McKinney left the Emerald Isle for St. John, the voyage consuming the better part of three months. Early in his career, he was indentured as an apprentice to the baking trade under Master-Baker McPartland.

The death of the aged citizen today further reduced the ranks of old-timers who lived and thrived in the early days when St. John was famous as a shipping port and shipbuilding centre. He went through the effects of the loss of the shipbuilding boom, the cholera scourge, the great fire of '77 and other events which have punctuated this city's history.

Mr. Evans was at one time on the police force of this city and later was a caretaker at Ball's Lake for 22 years. There will be funeral service at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night and the body will be interred at Black River on Wednesday morning.

House Shortage at Monte Carlo

All Vacant Flats and Villas Rented—To Spend 17,000,000 Francs.

Gamblers may not make money in the long run, but the owners of un-molested gambling houses do not have to worry over the passing of dividends.

The stockholders who own the famous Casino at Monte Carlo have decided to spend 17,000,000 francs during the next five years on new buildings, including a new opera house, a new sporting club, and a new dining hall.

Englishmen and Americans who live at Monte Carlo during the winter are hoping that some of the money can be used for gas and electricity. Monaco has become so popular since the war that all vacant flats and villas are rented. Some of them lack gas and electricity because these were not deemed necessities by former owners.

But Americans do not take to antiquated methods for heating bath water and for cooking.

REV. J. S. BONNELL IN SPECIAL SERMONS

Opens Series on "Rediscoveries in Religion" Before St. Andrew's Congregation.

In the first of his series of sermons on "Rediscoveries in Religion," which series will continue each Sunday night for eight weeks, Rev. J. S. Bonnell, preaching in St. Andrew's church last night, gave the first of three addresses on the Rediscovery of Jesus.

He quoted from the writing of a Babylonian tablet the inscription which had been written 5,000 years ago and was as follows: "Our earth is degenerating. In these latter days there are signs that the end of the world is at hand. Children no longer obey their parents. Every man wants to write a book. The end of the world is approaching."

Mr. Bonnell spoke of the controversy in the United States with regard to the birth of Christ and then told of the great assistance which archeology had been to religion. Archeology had discovered a papyrus fragment with sayings of Jesus on it which sayings did not appear in the Bible, and archeology had brought to light the great chalice of Antioch, found about 10 years ago which experts said belonged to the first century and on which were found what Dr. E. A. Zisch, after nine years of close study, declared he believed to be accurate portraits, two representing Christ and 10 representing 10 of the apostles.

FABLES ON HEALTH

The operation of the blood was the next lesson Mr. Mann was to learn in connection with bodily functioning. When proper respiration has supplied oxygen to the blood circulating through the lungs and for the carrying off of carbon dioxide, it is necessary that the blood transport these gases to or from the lungs. As much as 18 cubic feet of oxygen must be carried by the blood each 24 hours. Hemoglobin, a special substance, has been developed by nature and it is this that contains the red corpuscles. It can combine chemically with oxygen. Hemoglobin is not dissolved in the liquid of the blood, but is packed in the red corpuscles. These are very minute, being several million to a small drop of blood. When the blood has flowed back to the heart from which it has started, considerable of the oxygen has been removed. The heart sends the blood into the lungs and there it is minutely divided.

BELGIUM SEEKING ANGLO AGREEMENT

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The whole question of European security will have to be considered shortly by the various nations, in the opinion of British officials, it was learned Saturday. Should the protocol, drawn up by the League of Nations at Geneva last fall, prove unacceptable or incapable of bringing about the desired end, then it is likely the question of security pacts between individual nations will come up again.

HOLD KIDNAPPER ON SECOND OFFENCE WITHIN ONE YEAR

Hubert Jennings is Charged With Abducting 14-Year Old Girl.

FREED ON SIMILAR CHARGE YEAR AGO

Girl Tells Story of Weeks Spent With Accused in Various Cities.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Hubert P. Jennings, who was acquitted last year of the charge of kidnapping 8-year-old Ruth Smerling, has again been arrested on the charge of abducting Johanna Brohassak, 14 years old, of Brooklyn. He was arrested on information given to the police by a woman friend, Magistrate Dale in the New Jersey Avenue Court, held him without bail.

Philadelphia, when she had written home that she and Jennings had run away. She is now in the custody of the Children's Society.

Girl Tells Story.

The girl told the following story of her relations with Jennings to William Googhan, Assistant District Attorney of Kings County:

"I first met him about the first of September in an ice cream parlor on Edmont street, near my home. Some days later I met him there again and this time he invited me to his apartment on Vermont street. He behaved very nicely the first time I went to his apartment but the next time I went there he put his arms about me and kissed me and proposed that we run away and get married.

"On Oct. 31 we left Brooklyn and went to Hoboken, where we were to get married. We went to the office of a Justice of Peace named Muller, but he told us we could not get married unless we lived in the State at least two days. Then we went to Yonkers, but Jennings said he did not want to get married in New York State so we returned to New York and went to a show.

Want To Norfolk.

"That night we took a train for Norfolk, Va., but got off the train at Washington and went by boat to Norfolk. We stayed at a hotel there that night. The next day Jennings got a job and we moved out to the suburbs and lived in a furnished room. We stayed there for three weeks and went to Philadelphia, where Jennings got another job."

Jennings said that he had acted like a father toward the girl and had befriended her because she was unhappy at home on account of the differences between her father and mother. Jennings said that he had taken the girl away because he had not heard from her for two months.

Maternal Love Triumphs; Brings "Bobby Cinders" Mother Back HE'S HAPPY NOW

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5.—Baby "Bobby Cinders Fairview" has found his mother.

Maternal love for her baby finally triumphed over pride and fear of disgrace, and Bobby's mother, has come back to him.

Month after month this battle raged in her soul.

She fought it out alone. Not even an understanding mother's kindly counsel guided her in reaching her ultimate decision. For, in her shame, she confided in no one.

She was just a girl who had made a mistake. Just a shop girl, only 19, when her baby was born. And "Bobby's" father, long before the child's birth, had disclaimed him.

Left Him on Cinder Pile.

Almost insane through fear of neighbors' scorn and social ostracism, she deserted "Bobby" when he was but a few hours old. It was a bitter cold night last March when a policeman, attracted by a baby's cry, found him in a cinder pile.

Tenderly, but a bit awkwardly, the patrolman bundled the little mite in his overcoat and took him to Fairview Park Hospital.

For weeks physicians despaired of the child's life, keeping him in an incubator. "Bobby" gradually grew into the healthiest youngster in the babies' ward.

Every day the doctors and nurses became more fond of him. So did a whole city. "Bobby" had a happy knack of breaking into print.

There was a big christening party for him. They named "Bobby" after his policeman friend, "Cinders" because he was found on the cinder pile; "Fairview" after the hospital, his first and only home.

Hundreds of women, many of them wealthy, sought to adopt "Bobby." They promised him a name, wealth, education and social position.

But Rev. Philip Vollmer, superintendent of the hospital, was confident "Bobby's" own mother would come for him. And she did—four or five times. Always she brought some little gift—a toy, a little dress.

Yet she never saw him. She never went behind the front door. The nurses didn't know she was "Bobby's" mother until she had slipped away each time.

Christmas rolled round. Rev. Vollmer, through the papers, renewed his appeals to "Bobby's" mother.

Sent Him Christmas Gift.

On Christmas Eve a little blue sweater came. Bobby's mother brought it to the hospital on some occasion she was gone before anybody realized who she was.

The Yuletide, however, was getting a "Bobby" Presents came from miles away. But still his mother remained away.

Came then another newspaper appeal. It promised "Bobby's" mother immunity from arrest for deserting her baby.

That night a pretty girl of 20 stood in Rev. Vollmer's office. Tears trickled down her cheeks.

"I'm Bobby's mother," she sobbed.

Feared Disgrace.

"I would have come for him long ago, but I thought I'd get six months, at least if I was caught. It wasn't so much, though, that I feared jail. It was that I didn't want my friends to know."

"But when I read that piece in tonight's paper, I just couldn't stay away any longer."

The nurse said Mrs. Edna Stead had the pretty little dress and blue sweater his mother had sent him.

She took him in her arms and hugged him to her breast. And Bobby winced in a most ungentlemanly manner.

He had found his real, honest-to-goodness mother.

The baby's father? The mother has forgotten her bitterness toward him in the joy of being with her baby again. She will not prosecute him, or mention his name.

LIVES SNUFFED OUT BY ESCAPING GAS FROM LEAKY MAIN

Only One Member of Brockville, Ont., Family Escapes Fatal Fumes
BODIES DISCOVERED HOURS AFTER DEATH
Men Obligated to Wear Masks and Given Oxygen in Search of House

Canadian Press Despatch.
BROCKVILLE, Ont., Jan. 4.—A illuminating gas penetrating to the interior of the house in which they lived from a leaking main in Water street, was stated definitely today by L. A. Farrar, manager of the Brockville Public Utilities Commission, to have caused the tragedy which took six lives and all but exterminated the family of Jesse W. Gray, a laborer in the employ of the Central Canada Coal Company, here, some time during Friday night.

The victims were Jesse W. Gray, a middle-aged man, whose occupation was a laborer; his wife, Mary S. Gray, and their sons, Harold, aged 19; Purvill, aged 16; Cecil, aged 11, and Kenneth, aged 8. The sole surviving member of the family is Mrs. Henry Yelland, daughter, who lives in Syracuse, N. Y.

Investigations conducted by the commission following the discovery of the six bodies in the gas filled house resulted in the finding of a broken main recently heated by the severe frosts of recent days, from which the deadly fumes entered the house.

So strong were the fumes remaining in the space which served as a form of cellar for the house that in their search the employees of the commission were obliged to wear masks and given a supply of oxygen to prevent them from being overcome.

The discovery of the bodies was made by C. F. and E. Bell, fellow workers of Gray in the yard of the coal company. At 11 o'clock Saturday morning, when Gray had not appeared at work, they visited his home and, detecting an odor of gas, they forced an entrance. Running up the stairs of the gas-filled house they found Gray and his wife and their three boys, Harold, Cecil and Kenneth, in one room dead.

The boys were found together in one of the two beds which were in the room, and Gray and his wife lay across the other bed. In the living room the body of Purvill Gray was found.

Every window in the house was closed and there was no exit for the fumes. Today, the body of the mother, who had died, was found in a sofa in the living room downstairs, and some of the goldfish in an aquarium were also lifeless.

OPERATE FLEET OF 20 GIANT BLIMPS

$50,000,000 American Corporation Plans Passenger and Freight Airships

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—Final plans for a $50,000,000 commercial blimp corporation, with headquarters in this city, call for a fleet of 20 or more of the giant airships. Each ship is expected to accommodate from 100 to 150 passengers, in addition to the crew, and will be able to carry about 50 tons of freight.

The trip to the Pacific coast, it is estimated by the engineers, will be made in two days or less. The trip to London, the first foreign terminal designated, will consume about the same time. Passenger tariffs are to be the same as existing train and steamship fares.

The corporation is being formed by a group of local and New York financiers. The plans call for the building of two huge lighter-than-air craft, at a cost exceeding $2,000,000 each.

4 MAINE LAWYERS FACE DISBARMENT

Cases Come Before Houlton Court But Are Not Completed.

HOULTON, Jan. 5.—Disbarment proceedings have been opened against Willard S. Lewin, who is now serving a term in Atlanta Federal penitentiary on charge of conspiracy. The case against him was the outcome of investigations made by a committee appointed from the Federal Bar. In a statement presented, Lewin denied the allegations. The court asked if it was not true that the respondent had been indicted in a U. S. court, tried, convicted and sentenced and now serving his term in a Federal prison? Lewin said he was not in order and that the allegations were along the same line of evidence.

Pleads For Son.
Hon. R. W. Shaw and J. Fred Burns appeared for the respondent. Mr. Shaw made a stirring plea for his son asking for a continuance of the case. Mr. Burns made a denial of allegations charged. The court asked: "Your answer is a denial. Is it not true an indictment was found, that a trial was held, he was convicted and sentenced followed?" Mr. Shaw pleaded that of being alleged that $2,000 was asked to look after claims pending before the court.

Extortion Charged.
The next case was that of Harry M. Briggs of Houlton, charged with extortion. The county attorney called several witnesses, George E. Thompson of Bangor, assisted the respondent. One of the cases cited was that of Dr. E. F. Larralee of Washburn, it look after claims pending before the court.

TO ORGANIZE BOYS FOR WAR ON CRIME PROJECT IN STATES

Knighthood of Youth Endorsed by Authorities on Welfare Work. A "DAILY DOZEN" Various Degrees to be Awarded to Those Who Maintain Standard.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Organization of the Knighthood of Youth, composed of boys throughout the country, to combat the crime wave as announced by Dr. John H. Finley, President of the National Child Welfare Association, Charles H. DeForest, an authority on child welfare work, will direct the new association.

Daily Dozen. A "Daily Dozen for Character Building" is part of a four years' course worked out by educators as an item in the training of a knight. A typical dozen from the daily exercises is as follows:

- 1—I said only what I believed to be true.
2—I left books, clothes, toys and tools in their places at the close of the day.
3—I did not take or keep anything belonging to another without the owner's consent.
4—I tried hard to keep my temper.
5—I tried to do all my work as well as I could.
6—I did not postpone to a later day anything I ought to have done today.
7—I have saved money I received this week and expect to keep it in a bank or spend it wisely.
8—I did nothing to "get even" with anyone who has wronged me, knowing my vengeance always injures the seeker.
9—I in all play I was fair. Winning or losing I was courteous and a good sport.
10—I practiced good manners. I was considerate and polite. I was not vulgar or profane in speech.
11—I did not cowardice nor fear of ridicule interfere with any good plan.
12—I was loyal to my family and school, to my country and its laws. I tried to do my share in promoting the welfare of all.

Crime Tax Greatest.

"The biggest tax in America is the cost of crime," said Mr. DeForest. In the United States, it is estimated that about $10,000,000,000 a year, which is about three times as much as the cost of the United States Government to conduct its business, including all of its departments, is lost to the country.

Honors are to be given to the boys who maintain a high standard in their work. These honors range from knight, knight banneret and knight commander. Tournaments and ceremonies for knightening members are a part of the programme.

St. John Hockey Team to Cross Sticks With Fredericton.

AL. HOGAN HOME

Gives a Reason for Large
Scoring in Candle Pin
Bowling.

By RAY HANSEN
FULL of confidence, an abundance of fighting spirit and determination, the members of the St. John Senior Hockey League will leave here tomorrow for Fredericton to cross sticks with the fast Capital sextette in a regular scheduled game of the western section of the M. P. H. A. They are fully aware that the Fredericton sextette is fast and aggressive, but not inflexible. The local boys have won the admiration of the sporting public by the faithful manner in which they trained. Their recent victory over Amherst was convincing proof that they are in the pink of condition and they will exercise a little more judgment in shooting and keep in mind that games are usually won by team work and not individual efforts, they should carry home the bacon. Hockey fans in St. John are backing them to a man.

It is surprising the amount of interest that is being manifested in the National Hockey League here during the winter months to work at the port and also to the number who scan their little pieces of cardboard to see how their respective teams made out. To the majority of the fans the individuals are well known by name and their achievements are chronicled for future reference. As a result interest in the game is keen.

ALPHONSUS HOGAN, a well known and clever lightweight boxer who recently returned home from Montreal caused a reawakening of interest in boxing circles here when he announced that he was eager to meet up with McIntyre or any other boxer in the lightweight division. Hogan took advantage of an opportunity while in Montreal to pick up a few pointers and this coupled with his speed and sitting ability should make him a popular choice for a semi-final.

THE high scores being made by candle pin bowlers throughout the Maritime Provinces and Eastern Maine has caused many old timers to sit up and take notice. They naturally wonder why it seems so easy for the present generation to topple over the pins and pile up high scores so consistently.
In the old days—only 15 years ago—a score in the class A division. Today a man who is under 100 is only a fair bowler. While it is true, candle pin bowling is one of the most popular pastimes enjoyed during the winter months and that more are participating in the game, the fact is that the secret of this does not account for the sensational scoring. To those who are following the game closely, it is a mystery to solve. Many have been made that go for higher scores. The plate on which the pins are placed has been lowered about a half inch, while the pins are being made larger.

VIOLENT DEATHS;
1,600 IN MONTREAL

Carelessness of Victims Factor
in Majority of Cases, Says Coroner's Office.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—When the body of ten-year-old Roger Lamontagne, auto mishap victim, was carried into the morgue on New Year's Eve, the number of violent deaths last year in the district of Montreal reached a total well in excess of 1,600. During the year 1924 up to December 30 inclusive, the staff of the Coroner's Court was required to handle 1,692 cases. Normally the court passes about thirty cases a day, but in the remaining days of last month, official figures for which are not yet published, there would be approximately 80 cases. The final count will be complete early this month.

Chief blame for the fatalities, however, as shown by the verdicts in the inquests, does not rest on drivers of vehicles or faulty machinery, but rather on the carelessness of those who were killed. In this connection the coroner in his report recommends that better education of the public be undertaken. Street lighting should be improved, constables posted near schools at the hours during which children are on the streets, and pedestrians be made to cross streets only at intersections. He also stresses the importance of urging motorists to slow their vehicles at level crossings. Safeguarding of workmen as much as possible is also recommended.

It is estimated that wood growth suffers an annual loss of $30,000,000 to farmers of the U. S.
The government of San Niava is making plans for an extensive scheme of railroad electrification.

World Champions Like Their Golf

Sam Rice and "Goose" Goslin, Washington Stars, Keep in Shape During Winter on Golf Links; Clarke Griffith Acting as Chaperon

LEFT TO RIGHT: CLARKE GRIFFITH, SAM RICE, "GOOSE" GOSLIN.
What do the star ball players do during the winter? Here you see two of the world champions, Sam Rice and "Goose" Goslin, at their favorite pastime, playing golf. Both players are living in Washington and the open winter has enabled them to keep playing long after the usual closing date. Owner Clarke Griffith, who also plays golf, usually chaperones his pair of stars and settles all disputes. Kindly notice that Sam Rice is a left-handed player. He hits that way in baseball.

League.

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 5.—Calgary
Tigers advanced to second position—one behind Victoria Cougars and but one point behind the league-leading Edmonton Eskimos—by defeating the Saskatoon Sheiks at the Arena, Saturday, 2 to 1, in a game that was featured by a thrilling but unsuccessful tack, crushing back the Tigers into their own blue line, and while they had chance after chance to equalize, they count the breaks were against them.

BOSTON BRAVES ARE GATHERING STRONG
ARRAY OF PLAYERS

Have 40 Signed Up for Next
Season's Training Trip.

MAY DROP SOME

Many Recruits Will be Given Chance to Make Good.

If there is really strength in numbers, our Boston Braves outfit ought to be one of the most formidable aggregations in the two big leagues today, says Paul H. Shannon in the Boston Post.
According to the list just issued by Secretary Riley of the Boston National League club and which is printed below just two score of ambitious athletes are included in the unwieldy payroll which the Boston National League club administration must start to work to cut down before Manager Dave Baneroff steers his assorted charges southward.
May Cut To 30.
In this list of 40 ball players are included 15 pitchers, six catchers, nine infielders and 10 outfielders, but this doesn't mean that all this aggregation will be taken south. As stated repeatedly since the close of last season both of the big league aggregations are in search of speed and younger blood.
If any of the several deals which Manager Dave Baneroff has been working for many weeks to put through there is very apt to be a cleanup of veteran material. It is hardly probable that the squad reporting at St. Petersburg in February will comprise more than a dozen pitchers, four catchers, seven infielders and six outfielders and at any rate hardly more than 30 athletes will be called to work out under Baneroff's supervision next spring.
In the effort to secure faster men, players like Padgett, Lane, McIntyre, Stengel and Powell may find their sphere of usefulness changed and perhaps two veteran twirlers may be switched to other big league aggregations to give Dave Baneroff the metal he wants. Some of these same players will have their season's work left with them in other outfits—teams that have enough fast men in the squad to carry them along.

Position.
The Ottawa Senators have apparently hit their stride, winning three games within a week. Their latest victory came in the second game of the season. We all know how much damage that injuries did us last season, and I am hoping that the hospital next year will not exist. The club will embrace every opportunity to strengthen so that the Boston public may witness the high grade of baseball to which it is so justly entitled.

How About It?

If you can see yourself content with another man's speculates, hat or boots, why you are not the man to want tailored clothes.
But you are, if you think further. Especially when here they cost no more. You want the longer wear and newness of fit that only clothes tailored out of prime cloths can show.

FAMOUS DETECTIVE OF LONDON AGAIN IS GIVEN PROMOTION

Wensley Wins Way to be Chief of Criminal Investigation Department.

HE HAS FEW RIVALS

Notable Cases are Recalled by Advance Given to Police Supt.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—One night in the slums of East London, in the early eighties, a breathless encounter took place between a young recruit of the Metropolitan Police and two armed desperadoes, who had waylaid and robbed a Jewish money-lender.

After a violent struggle, in which the recruit was badly bruised and beaten, his assailants were overpowered by another constable and civilian who came to his assistance.

Such was the episode which marked the beginning of the career of the present Wensley, whose appointment now as Chief Constable of the Criminal Investigation Department is a richly-merited tribute to the officer.

Became Terror. It was at Shore-ditch, Hackney, and Whitechapel that he established a reputation and became a terror to criminals of all classes. He made war on the highwaymen, burglars and counterfeiter coins until he smashed up every organized gang of crooks in East London.

Always stout-hearted, Wensley pursued his perilous duty in the teeth of threats and menacing warnings till finally his bitterest enemies among the cracksmen advised him for his own sake to become a terror.

To the underworld he was known as the "Ace" a name by which he is still familiar to his colleagues at Scotland Yard. As an investigator of the mysterious, Wensley has few rivals. He is not only a great detective, but a master of legal technicalities, and his knowledge of the law has been the cause of admiration of the greatest criminal counsel of the time.

It is in the unravelling of baffling murder problems that his astute mind has been seen at its best.

One of His Cases. The manner in which he tracked Stintle Morrison for the murderer of Leon Beron, on Clapham Common, showed Wensley's gift for solving complicated mysteries. Just as the property of the murderer had reached a dead end, Wensley obtained a slender clue, following up of which enabled him to bring Beron's murderer to justice.

Never has a crime presented so many puzzling features as that of the murder of Leon Beron. And not the least bewildering feature was the inclusion of the letter "B" on the face of the victim.

The discovery of this mark at first suggested that Beron had been done to death by some Russian conspirator. Wensley, however, had his own theory, and after many laborious nights, he traced a gold watch, the property of Beron, to an East End pawnbroker's shop, where Stintle Morrison had pledged it.

Pieces by pieces Wensley linked up an irresistible chain of evidence against Morrison, and the desperate attempts to prove an alibi were frustrated. It was the first moment of Morrison's arrest Wensley had not the slightest doubt that he had put his finger on the right man—a conviction which was borne out by the discoveries made by Scotland Yard long after the crime.

Chief Constable Wensley handled the famous Thompson-Bywaters case, and was in charge of the police inquiries which led to the famous Sidney street battle.

Poisoned Candy. The sensational attempt to murder Sir William Horwood, the Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, last year, provided another opportunity for the display of Wensley's detective genius.

He directed the investigations, assisted by Chief Inspector Fieldon, and after many weeks of painstaking inquiries, arrested a man who was convicted at the Old Bailey for sending poisoned chocolates to the Commissioner.

Wensley's abilities have been seen to advantage in investigating nearly every phase of crime. He is the terror of every card-sharper gang in London. Many instances can be recalled in which Wensley has foisted upon the schemes of subterfuge the big card crooks.

While engaged in a raid some years ago in a notorious gambling hell in the West End of London, Wensley discovered an ingenious device which had proved the ruin of many an innocent, but wealthy gambler.

Wensley noticed on one of the marble pillars a peculiarly large and ornate weather-glass. On close inspection he discovered that it consisted of miniature mirrors which reflected the cards of the various players. By this means the sharpers were able to see the cards of their victims, and in this way many a wealthy gambler was fleeced.

This "glass," as well as a number of other crime relics, is now in the Black Museum at Scotland Yard.

REV. W. J. JOHNSTON HEADS ALLIANCE

Evangelical Body Supports Protest Against Demonstration on Sunday.

The annual meeting of the Evangelical Alliance was held this morning, with the following members in attendance: Rev. H. A. Goodwin, Rev. Ernest E. Styles, secretary; Revs. A. D. McLeod, Hugh Miller of Silver Falls, Hugh Miller of St. David's, McN. Matthews, I. L. Tedford, Dr. Farquharson, W. J. Bevis, George Orman, Dr. S. S. Poole, H. Ferner, F. L. Fleming, John Unsworth, F. T. Bertram, W. J. Johnston and Mr. A. G. Gregg.

Two committees were appointed to deal with special aspects of social service work. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. W. J. Johnston of Coburg street Christian church; 1st vice-president, Rev. W. A. Robins, Baptist; 2nd vice-president, Rev. McN. Matthews, Presbyterian; 3rd vice-president, Rev. R. Taylor McKim, Anglican; 4th vice-president, Rev. Hugh Miller of Silver Falls, Methodist; secretary-treasurer, Rev. E. E. Styles. The last mentioned was also appointed chaplain of the Boys' Industrial Home.

A communication was read from the Methodist Ministers' Association condemning the growing habit of holding mass meetings and demonstrations in the city on the Lord's Day, which inevitably affected the attendance at the regular church services. The Evangelical Alliance endorsed this protest and instructed the secretary to have it published.

The secretary then presented his report. Nine regular and three special meetings had been held during the year. The average attendance was 17 and the highest number at any one meeting was 29. Among the work accomplished was the introduction of the church directory in the Saturday afternoon edition of The Times-Star. The Alliance had also made successful protests against the violations of the liquor and gambling laws.

Special mention was made of the courtesy of the retiring president, Rev. H. A. Goodwin. During the year the Alliance had been visited by the following: Rev. John Pringle of Sydney, N. S. W.; Rev. J. McFarland, grand organizer of the Orange Association; Mr. Jessop, a representative of the Armenian Relief Association of Canada; Rev. A. E. Kochary, field secretary of the Armenian Relief Association; Rev. J. A. Downe of the Halifax school for the blind; Rev. W. H. Griffiths-Thomson, D. D. of Chicago, who since died; J. H. Dr. Elizabeth Thurrott Goes to India This Month on Mission Work.

Miss Elizabeth Thurrott, M. D. C. M., graduate of Dalhousie University, Halifax, N. S., will leave for Central India on January 12, where she will take up medical work in the large Presbyterian Mission there. Dr. Thurrott was an internist for more than a year at the General Public Hospital here, after her graduation from Dalhousie and has many friends in the city, who expect a visit from her for a few days, before she sails for her far-off duties.

Parents in Newcastle. Dr. Thurrott is the daughter of Mrs. A. McN. Thurrott, of Newcastle. Her mother, who was made recipient of a handsome gold wrist watch on Tuesday evening of this week, Rev. G. B. MacLeod, minister of the church, made the address of appreciation on behalf of the Ladies' Aid, who were the donors. Mrs. Robert Wisely, of this city, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. D. Taylor, at Milno, made the presentation of the watch.

Dr. Thurrott was one of the speakers two years ago at the annual New Year's rally of the city societies of Women's Missionary auxiliaries and made a fine impression upon her auditors.

Annual Banquet Of Staff Is Held

The "Enarco Booster Club" of the Canadian Oil Companies, Limited, held their annual banquet at the Danion Hotel on Saturday evening.

After a sumptuous repast, and after the toast to the King, C. A. Conlon, manager of the New Brunswick division, welcomed the members in a few well chosen words. Then followed the toast to the ladies, ably proposed by L. T. Roberts, salesman, and responded to by Mrs. C. A. Conlon and Miss G. A. Paterson. After this toast, the "Enarco" quartette, Messrs. R. E. Armstrong, A. H. Robinson (Moncton branch), H. C. Conlon, and W. J. Bambrury, gave pleasing numbers, the club joining in the choruses.

The toast to the company was proposed by Mr. Zachariah Brown, the oldest employe from point of service, in the New Brunswick division. This toast was responded to by R. E. Armstrong, accountant, and D. S. Trueman, agent at Campbellton. A novelty dance was given by Miss Dorothy Peters and Edwin Armstrong and proved very enjoyable.

On behalf of the club, Mr. Armstrong proposed a toast to the manager, Mr. Conlon.

An orchestra was in attendance throughout the entertainment, and after the supper and toast cards and dancing were enjoyed.

CONTROL IS PLANNED

France Hears Proposal to Deal With Question of Foreign Labor.

One of the clauses in the 1923 budget which is, at the present time, being considered in the French parliament, provides for the establishment of a new and efficient system of control over the foreign labor which is being introduced into France from central and eastern Europe. The Bankers' Trust Company of New York is advised in this connection by its French information service that if this clause of the French finance bill is voted, a permanent organization will be created under the title of the "National Office of Foreign Labor."

This organization will regulate the current of supply protecting those industries which need no outside help and directing into the proper channels the material available. It is reckoned that while the yearly increase of population stands at its present figure, only 100,000 in excess of the country will be unable to do without foreign workers. Even before the war France absorbed a certain number of immigrants, about half a million; the number, however, increased in 1921, and now, balancing the arrivals and departures, it is estimated that there are 1,800,000 foreign workers earning wages in the country.

TALKS OF BEATY

J. B. Sterling Tells Rotarians Matters of Interest About Hotel.

The Rotary Club listened today to a very interesting talk by J. B. Sterling, of the E. G. M. Cape Co., Ltd., on the construction of the new hotel. Mr. Sterling explained the method by which it is made possible to estimate in advance the approximate date for the completion of each portion of such a construction work, and told of the materials used. He said the company had never experienced so favorable a market for construction work as on this job. Their work was expedited also by the very excellent gravel secured from the dry dock beach. He did not think it could be surpassed.

As one illustration of the extent of the work he said there would be about eight acres of plastering, which is to begin in a few days. In reply to questions he told of the tanks and pumps which will provide fire protection for floors which are too high for the local water pressure. In erecting the stone work of the building every stone was numbered, and so complete were the plans that there was not one hitch from start to finish. The hotel, he said, will be finished by June 1st.

George N. Hatfield presided at today's luncheon. The attendance, over 81 per cent of the membership, was the largest since the war.

GIVE BASKETS TO POOR FAMILIES

THE holiday time giving of the Gyro Club proved a veritable God-send to many families in the city.

The club succeeded from Miss Grace Robertson of the Associated Charities the names of 18 families that were in need and sent to each family a well stocked hamper for New Year's.

The hampers were delivered by the club members in person on person on New Year's eve and where they found unemployment the club members were in several cases able to procure work for the bread winner as well as to present gifts.

Leonard M. Wilson was convener of the committee in charge of the baskets and each basket contained toys for children as well as provisions for the whole family.

"Do you keep any servants?" "No, of course not."

"But I thought I saw one in your kitchen?" "Oh, we have servants on the premises a day or two at a time; but we don't keep them."

January Thaw Here

Skids on Hill

The icy condition of the streets yesterday made even automobile chains powerless to prevent skidding and there was much excitement about 11 o'clock yesterday morning when a closed car did some fancy stunts of skidding in King street and went careering down a considerable distance on King street hill.

BISHOP SPEAKS ON PROPHECY OF ISAIAH

His Lordship of Fredericton is Heard in St. John Pulpit Sunday.

His Lordship Bishop Richardson was the preacher in St. George's church yesterday morning, in Trinity church last night, and large congregations were present in both churches to hear the addresses which he gave with characteristic eloquence and appeal.

A Revolution

A mighty revolution had been wrought by the coming of Christ, but not yet could the world say that He had all those powers upon earth which Isaiah had declared He was to have. The prophecy was only fulfilled in part, and it would only come to pass when the people ceased to do evil and held the Child in the manger learnt to follow His example of humility, trust and love, and to welcome the Child.
