Commissioner Chapman Refuses to Agree to General Managing That Would Permit Unquestioned Dismissals of Any Employees.

"WE WANT PROTECTION," DECLARES THE SECRETARY, OLIVER ELLWOOD

He Charges That Mr. Glaubitz Would Dismiss Department's Employees at Any Time at the Direction of Hon. Adam Beck.

Superintendent Glaubitz announced to the water commissioners yesterday that he would not remain with the city unless given Capt. T. J. Murphy Optimistic Coal Company, formally made an ofabsolute control over both the water and electrical departments. The statement was made following criticisms of his plan of reorganization. The commissioners laid the matter over, and definite action will not be taken until the next meeting.

Mr. Glaubitz submitted blue prints showing the plan of reorganization he had prepared. Under the scheme he was to be known as general manager, not superintendent.

OFFICES HE WOULD CONTROL.

Under him would be the various department heads: The parks commissioner.

The waterworks construction department. The electrical construction department.

The plant operation department.

The designing department. The power solicitor's department,

The stenographers.

The storekeeper.

The secretary-treasurer.

The plan was somewhat after the Van Cleve style, over which there was considerable friction about a year ago. Mr. Glaubitz, as general manager, was to be head of all the departments, and to have the absolute right to hire and dismiss as he saw fit.

MAYOR MOVES ADOPTION. When the scheme was proposed, Mayor Graham moved its adoption, and then the discussion took place.

"I cannot see my way clear to adopt that plan," said Commissioner Chapman. "I think that it is giving too much power into one man's hands. The board should be consulted in every matter of importance. I think that this is only right. Suppose one of the emto our support. Beginning at Elgin

Farmers' Day.

The morning was occupied by the ddress of President W. W. Waddell, f Kerwood, and the presentation of he report of the board of directors. In the atternoon J. A. Ruddick, chief of the dairy division of the department of agriculture, addressed the convention on "The Outlook for Cheese and Butter Making Industries in Canada,' Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, gave an interesting treatise on the 1911. raising of hogs for market.

Dr. Amyot, who was to have addressed an evening session on "The history of the Canadian dairying in-Sanitary Handling of Milk," was undustry, we exported 98,360 pounds to able to be presene because of poor train connections. His place was supplied by Mr. Ruddick, who gave an ineresting discourse on the dairy indusry as considered from the historical standpoint.

Mayor Coleridge welcomed the conrention to the town. The exhibit held in connection with he convention, while not so large as ast year's, was well patronized. An nteresting comparative exhibit of cheese, made under divergent conditions, and from different grades of milk, was provided by the Department of Agriculture. Canada's Dairies. Mr. Ruddick, the first speaker of the fternoon, presented statistics of Candian dairy industries, and urged the ecessity for a closer study of world

dred cheese and butter men crowded creasing. This may be true, but it is none the less a fact that the quality of milk produced is constantly growing better, and the amount of milk see at least one hundred more pres- products is consequently increasing. This, I think, is largely due to the test system.

"About the only competitor which we need fear in the British market is Australasia, and it may be well to examine a little into the conditions of the dairy industry in that section of duces butter almost entirely, in 1903 exported to the United Kingdom 10,626 pounds of butter. In 1911 60,247 was sent out. Most of the cheese is made while Prof. J. H. Grisdale, of the in New Zealand, which exported 2,710 pounds in 1902, and 20,873 pounds in Canada's Record.

"In 1904, the biggest year in the the United Kingdom, as against 76,457 pounds in 1911. So it will be seen that while New Zealand's export trade with England has increased 18,000 pounds, ours has correspondingly decreased during almost the same period. This decrease in our trade is not, however, due to the increased demand for goods in New Zealand, but rather to the enormous growth of our home market. The conditions would have remained approximately the same had New Zealand and Australia been eliminated from the situation. I believe that in future New Zealand will take the lead in cheese export trade. Australasia now comes next to Den-mark as an exporter of dairy products, and at the present rate of increase will soon pass it. No European Competition. "There is very little reason to fear importer of dairy products. "If the present rate of consumption continues Canada's home market dairy products will soon amount $80,000,000 annually, and it is, there-

"The increase in our industrial population is causing a great demand for milk and cream. Already Winnipeg obtains a large portion of its supply houlder badly bruised in an attack by from St. Paul, Minn, 500 miles distant, and in the vicinity of Vancouver the demand has closed many of the creameries in the Fraser Valley region

A Suicidal Policy. "The most suicidal policy which can think of for the Canadian manufacturer is the practice followed by some of sending out green, poorly-cured cheese to the English market. This may be partly the fault of the buyer, but it is the manufacturer who must suffer in pocket and reputation from the result. Although the natura John and Mary Bell, who have been from the result. Although the natura advantages of climate are somewhat in force of the helidays, have returned in force of the helidays, have returned in force of the helidays. in favor of the Australasian manufac turer, owing to the fact that his chees arrives on the market just after th close of the demand in Canada, w can compete successfully with him we will. But in order to do so it i necessary to have a regard for repu-tation. He who disregards that will ooner or later suffer."
Will Cease to Export.

In the opinion of Mr. Ruddick, the United States, like Germany, will soon cease to become an exporter of dairy products and will soon be forced to import an increasingly large amount of dairy products. This state of affairs is, he thinks a very encouraging outlook for the Cana dian dairyman.

At the conclusion of Mr. Ruddick' PREMIER IS ACCUSED address, Professor Grisdale spoke for pigs for market, as determined by ex periments on the government farm. He laid especial stress on the importance of ventilation in winter quarters occupied by these animals.

Some History. In the evening Mr. Ruddick gave an nteresting historical sketch of the dairy ndustry in Canada.

"Cattle were first brought here," he said, "by the Norsemen in the earliest known history of this continent, but the first well-authenticated introduction dairy animals was on Sable Island, i to 1815. They were brought over by some of the early French colonists, and excombination which was practically isted on the island for many years, until of they were killed off by the Puritans from Massachusetts Bay. The first permanent colonization of cows was at Port Royal Ontario's First Cattle.

"The first cattle in Ontario were those brought by Cadillac to Fort Detroit, but coming of the United Empire Loyalists in 1783, 1784, 1785. Col. Talbot of Port Talbot, was the first dairyman in this section of the province, and it is "Quebec claims credit for the first ream separator used in an American dairy, which was installed in the County of Belance in 1882. The first in Ontario was used at Spragg's factory, on Prince Edward Island in 1884. In 1865 the first cheese factory was established, and by 1867 it was estimated that more than two hundred such establishments were in operation in the Dominton."

Pre Stock-Taking Clearing of All Remnants in Linoleum, Oilcloth and Carpet Sections

Only a few more days and another year's business will close. We have been busy preparing for stock inventory since the first of the year, which has afforded an excellent opportunity to sort out all short lengths which have accumulated during the past season. We find about 75 ends of carpet, including our best makes in Wilton, Velvet, Axminster, Brussels and Tapestry, in lengths from 1 to 12 yards, splendid ends for mats, small rooms, or hall and stairs. Also about 50 ends of inlaid and printed linoleums and oilcloths.

Instead of making these carpets up into rugs and mats and selling them perhaps at a little more profit, we find it works out more satisfactory to sell you the carpet end first, then you know just what you are getting and how much you are saving, as all are marked at exactly half price—then you may have these ends cut and sewn in any shape or size you wish in our carpet sewing room, or you may have the shorter ends made into mats and ends fringed at just the cost of fringe and sewing.

All Ends at Half-Price Friday and Saturday

The reason for this is that each season must stand upon its own footing, and these ends, if carried into the next, would be then sold at more or less reduction. Therefore in order, if possible, to clear all during the next few days previous to stock inventory, every end will go at half price, as stated above. Come early if you wish to share in these bargains.

HOW OUTSIDERS VIEW IT.

Under the heading "A Case of Rank Injustice," the Hamilton Herald comments editorially at some length on the case of Miss Dearness. In a trenchant manner the Herald, which has not hitherto been favorable to the claims of Western University, condemns the attitude of the education department, recognizing in this single instance the sort of treatment that Western University has had to endure and the general stupidity at educational headquarters:

"It is well," the Herald concludes, "that the case of Miss Jean Dearness has been brought before the public Officialdom in the department of the Hon. Dr. Pyne presides."

the persecution to which the university has been subjected. The professors of the Western University who, few in number, have been selected with care as to their high qualifications, have endeavored to keep up a high standard of class-work and examinations in their several subjects. It has never been charged even by the department that the examination papers at the Western are below par. Students from this university who go elsewhere to complete their course. for one reason or another, are admitted by the other universities "ad eundem gradum" (to the same standing); and they say themselves that the work elsewhere is not more but ern. These allegations are true, but the to give honor courses in science, and specialists in the languages and history are not so vitally concerned with scientific subjects, which as teachers they will never teach, that they should be barred on that score. Besides let the department show from the record of marks at the Faculty of Education whether Miss Dearness or other graduates of Western University have fallen down particularly on the scientific courses so far as there tested. As the Herald asks, what have considerations of endowment and museums to do with the granting of speclalist's standing in languages? The Herald goes on:

"If a graduate of the Western University, taking a post-graduate course, can pass the examinations at the end of the course, that gradsurely as much entitled to the advantages accruing from such success as he or she would be if he or she had graduated from the Tooronto University, or Oxford, or Harvard, or the University of Berlin. What matters it where the education is acquired so long as it enables the student to fulfill all the requirements of the examiners: Educational Officialdom at Toronto evidently thinks more of the shell than the kernel, less of the jewel than its case, less of the end than the means.'

The Hamilton Times also discusses. the matter. It expresses surprise that "the people of London are willing to submit to be subjected to that sort of abuse on the part of Whitney's officials," in particular, "the dictator of the education department." As was stated in this column the other day. the case of injustice which Mr. Murphy has revealed, is not a matter of merely local concern, but a matter of the gravest concern to the whole province, both for what it is and for what it represents.

SIR JAMES BACKS DOWN.

The joke is on the Toronto Mail and letter: Empire. Today it makes an acrimonious attack on Mr. Rowell, because of his protest at Dundas against Sir James 'Whitney's proposal to merge the hydro-electric commission in a department of Government. Says the Mail and Empire:

"Apparently, Mr. Rowell has either little understanding of, or little regard for, the people's will in this matter. The question of placing the hydro-electric power service in charge of a minister with a portfolio, specially pertaining to that

CHURCHILL'S WAR STAFF.

When that young and energetic tatesman; Winston Churchill, was transferred, or transferred himself, from the Home Secretaryship to the post of First Lord of the Admiralty, the political world wondered what lay behind the move. The radical step he has taken within a few weeks after his appointment, the creation of a navy war staff, suggests that a reformer with courage and initiative was needed at the Admiralty, and that Churchill was chosen specially for the work. Tha. new war staff is intended to co-ordinate the naval departments and activieye. It seems to reveal-better than ties in one central, directing intelliscore of general charges-the nar- gence, with a view to attack or defence row prejudice, the stupid obstinacy, in the event of war. The record of the year is remarkole for the evidence it affords of a steady and continued prosperity, and notwithstanding the large increase of ur resources we have been able to nake a profitable use of the funds ommitted to our care with a reasonable assurance of safety.

The average paid-up capital during the year was $10,591,405, and the net profits were $2,305,409 42, the latter tem showing an increase of $467,-344,38, as compared with our last reort, and amounting to 21.76 per cent on the capital employed. In spite of the decrease our exports are still the largest for any year except the previous one, but the volume of imports is much greater than ever before. It is useless to repeat arguments often advanced in other years. Few nations have such an alluring future and few can afford to mortgage at higher prices, the market for high their future to such an extent, but our grade white pine is good, while power to do so depends upon our common grades of lumber, which have credit and there are those in England been so difficult to sell since the dewho are asking whether we are not borrowing too much. There is, of course, are in better demand, although the one great reason why we must go cheap southern pine is still a menace more and more largely into debt for to our product. As yet, however, we use only everything for these people, from a fractional amount of fire-proof matransportation to housing, is a huge terial as compared with an old-world for more than the difference between our imports and exports. Not only must the improvements necessary to ditions and improvements to older ones are required, indeed, betterments of all kinds throughout the community. More important than all, two new transcontinental railway systems must be completed and many branch lines added to our three great systems. There is, therefore, little cause for wonder that we need so much new money every year. The import returns show settlers' effects at only

The farmers in Ontario and Quebe have made progress during the past year, but while in many parts the year would be described as an average, in others it was hardly so, and in few respects was it better than the average. Hay and grain crops, except fall wheat in some parts, after an early spring and a good start, suffered in varying degrees, but often badly, by the prolonged drought so general in was $769,390,000, against $693,161,000 a acreage of Indian corn is increasing, and the ownership of plenty of cattle ful year. Horses and hogs have done well for the farmer, but those who bought cattle in the autumn to feed through the winter found the spring prices little higher. Cattle to be fed this winter were bought on a lower basis and as roots, fodder, corn, and alfalfa crops were satisfactory, the outlook for the such rash speculation is based often lie year in 1911 include, however, an in- cattle feeder who grew these crops is many miles from any settled part of crease of about $7,500,000 in gold coin. good. The number shipped was the smallest in twenty-nine years, being only 45,966, against 72,555 last year and 99,830 in 1908, and of this small total about 15,000 head were from the United States. The falling off is, however, due somewhat to the fact that United States exporters who had contracted for ocean space were obliged to draw their supplies largely from Canada. We evidently cannot learn much from our export figures at the $119,203,000, leaving a balance in their moment. The very high prices in 1910 proposed agreement for the union of certainly caused a great increase in the raising of live stock in Canada and The Eastern Townships' Bank being the United States. In manufacturing we have again to record general additions to plant, a much increased output, and in many cases inability to cope with the demand for goods.

The cut of lumber in the Ottawa valley and in most districts in Ontario and Quebec will, because of low water, be slightly smaller than for the previous year, and the cost of production will again be higher. Deals are all sold pression of 1907 in the United States, 4,500,000 new people entered the est point per capita consumption of task, quite large enough to account country such as Germany. We are watching with keen interest the developments in the Porcupine district, where the question of the importance of Ontario as a gold producer is being tested. Very important sums, running altogether into millions, are being spent in development by men of experience and there is certainly a large value of gold in sight. It seems probable that the production for 1912 will be enough to attract still further attention to this district. The whole north country of Ontario Las great possibliities in agriculture, mining, and other industries, but much more must be done in affording transportation before even a moderate scale of development is possible. It is nearly impossible, for instance, to demonstrate he merits of a camp such as Goweanda so long as supplies have to be hauled about fifty miles after leav ing the railway

Notwithstanding the general effect The of the drought, the provinces of Ontario and Quebec had a very successexperience of the folly of creating socalled mergers, not so much to improve the conditions of the particular business as to create bonds and shares on an imaginary basis of profits for stock-jobbing purposes. A very large amount of savings in these Provinces is also being risked in real estate speculation in the outlying sections of rapidly-growing cities in other parts of Canada. PEAT PLAYING ak Wins Out on Last St. Marys

The fate of the McNee trophy depended upon the last shot in the last end in the final match between Skip Cunningham and Skip Anderson for the coveted cup at the London Club rink yesterday, but that final shot determined the resting place for the trophy for this year, and as a result Skip Cunningham goes back to St.

An extra end had to be rover; Little centre; McGuire, right played, and with Anderson lying shot, and Cunningham only one more stone, it looked as though the St. Thomas ring might win out. A good many spectators witnessed the match: Anderson won the toss-up for choice of rinks and decided upon the London Club rink, where he had been playing sensationally all week. Cunningham scored two on the first end, and neither team had a stone on the ice in the second end. Anderson then scored off the four succeeding ends and was up six shots. The St. Marys rink, however, scored on the next three ends and the game was tied in the tenth end, each rink with seven. Cunningham then took the lead, but Anderson evened up in the twelfth end, and was one up at the thirteenth. In the fourteenth, Cunningham scored three, and Anderson's prospects were not very bright. By some great playing, however, his rink lay two shots in the fifteenth, and the score was tied once more. It was then necessary to play an extra end, and both teams were on edge for the struggle. So close was the play that when Anderson sent down his last stone, he lay shot. It was now up to Cunningham to make a nice draw and take the stone out. By a splendid effort, he accomplished the trick, and won the trophy by one shot, The last moments of the game were the most exciting of any contest held in the rink. The spectators were following every move of the play, and the last end was a thriller. The rinks and the score were as fol-

KINGSTON FRONTENACS WIN FROM BELLEVILLE

Game Was a Tie at Full Time and Two Extra Ends Were Played.

Belleville, Ont., Jan. 10. - The first scheduled hockey match of the season was played here this evening between the Junior O. H. A. team of this city and the Frontenacs of Kingston, junior team. It was a good game, resulting in a victory for Kingston by a score of 11 to 7. In the first half of the match the score was 3 to 2 in favor of the Frontenacs. In the early part of the game Gunn, left wing for the Frontenacs, was compelled to retire, being hit over the left eye by the puck, cutting the optic severely. At full time the score was a tie, both teams scoring five goals. Two extra ten-minute periods had to be played to that the club may be shifted across lecide the match. YOUNG CANADIANS WIN FIRST GAME

Defeat St. Marys in Opening Game o United Sunday School League.

The Young Canadian Club of King Street Presbyterian Church defeated St. Marys in the opening game of the nited Sunday School League at the Westminster rink last evening by score of 3 to 0. The game was a good exhibition of hockey and both teams travelled fast all the time, the halftime score being 1 to 0. The Young Canadian Club lineup vas a fast one, particularly the forward line. Their back-checking was a feature of the game, and St. Marys had very few shots on the goa! as a result. The defence also played well, and both England and Perry made some good rushes through the St. Marys forward

Hunter, in goal had very little to do, but he stopped everything that came along. Harrison, in goal for St. Marys, played a great game. He stopped some difficult shots, and only for his splendid playing, the score would have been much larger. Hoy, Murray completing arrangements with local and Pelton also played well for St.

For the Young Canadians, Hannibal, Hill and Reed played a good game. The Young Canadians notched one in the first half, and in the second period added the other two. Base Ball Yarns By Billy Evons

Eddie Summers a Weak Hitter, But He Turned Joke on Storekeeper Humorist.

Eddie Summers, of the Detroit club, while a good pitcher, cannot be ranked with Ty Cobb as a batter. Two years ago he made two home runs in a game off Harry Krause, of the Athletics. Now, Krause is one of the best southpaws in the American League, and Summers thought the feat would elevate him as a batter in the eyes of fandom.

No matter how the fans regard a pitcher's batting ability, the twirler is just as particular about his bat as the demon sluggers. In sorting the bats one day, Summers found one of Ty Cobb's that suited him. He sent the clubhouse boy to a sporting goods store to get one like it. "Who is the bat for, Cobb?" asked the dealer.

'No; Eddie Summers," answered the youth. "Tell him we're out of the model, but will send him one as soon as they arrive," said the dealer. "In the meantime let him use this. He can strike out as easily with it." The bat he sent back to Eddie was a horrible looking When the youngster handed it to the pitcher, Summers was astonished. 'Why, that isn't the bat I sent for. You couldn't hit the ball out of the infield with that stick.' "I guess he didn't expect you would," said the kid. "He said it was as easy to strike out with it as with any other." Summers made two hits that afternoon, one a triple. He had a good laugh on his friend, who later sent him the Cobb model, with his compliments.

Pat Dougherty, of the Chicago White Sox, is a wit. He also has a tongue hat waxes sarcastic. Seldom does he make open protest to the umpire, but many are the exchanges of courtesles he participates in.

Few players have won more games for the White Sox through their hitting and base-running than Pat. For years he was the idol of the South Side fans. Last year in one series with the Athletics Dougherty dropped a fly after hard run and lost the game. Sox fans like to beat the Athletics, and Dougherty had to stand for a lot of roasts. Unfortunately Pat fanned the first time up the next day. Instantly the fans were after him on the new, as well as old score. Tommy Connolly, another "son of Erin," was in charge of the game. Pat was peevish over his reception and the umpire was the only person he could argue with, and he didn't care very much whether he played or not, he afterwards admitted. "After I had fanned the first time," said Dougherty, "I told Connolly that ust as soon as I was satisfied I had gone blind, I intended to start umpiring."

You had better send in your application today," replied Tommy. "The second time after Tommy had called two strikes on me, I popped ap a foul fly to the catcher. The crowd yelled murder, Turning to Tommy, I remarked: 'It is strange why Mr. Johnson persists in running an old man's nome for umpires.' "'I was thinking the same thing about Comiskey's policy towards certain "On my final appearance I struck out, much to the delight of the Sox fans, and to my disgust. Two strikes were called and both were good ones. You must have gotten in late last night,' I said to Tommy as I walked toward the 'A triffe earlier than you from the way you are hitting,' said Connolly, nice and quietly. 'Also tell Mr. Duffy when you get to the bench that I have decided to strengthen his team by sending his left-fielder to the clubhouse."

"That was a tough day for me," said Pat, with a smile. "I lost every

As a dashing young Irish physician fighting for the possession of the woman he loves, Mr. O'Hara gives an impersonation of one of the most fascinating of types.

DELCASSE MADE FOREIGN MINISTER

His Selection Excites Great Interest in German Diplomatic Circles.

[Canadian Press.] Berlin, Jan. 10 .- The fall of Foreign Minister De Selvas in connection with the selection of Theophile Delcasse as his successor at the French ministry of foreign affairs, has excited interest in Germany second only to the retirement of M. Delcasse in 1905. While some of the newspapers make an attack on M. Delcasse, and anticipate that trouble between the two

CATTLE PRICES AT TORONTO MARKET

TORONTO, Jan. 11—The abattoir com-panies appear to believe firmly in what they say, and are adhering to all their statments in regard to the present crisis on the Toronto markets. The insurance scheme proposed by the packers is not being met with any kindly feelings. the drovers and commission men inter-viewed today stated clearly that they would not submit to this kind of an insurance scheme. Mr. Sam Hisey, secretary of the Drovers' Association, has ordered a meeting of all the drovers of On-tario, to be held Monday, at which they will make preparations for a stiff and prolonged fight for what they claim are their rights. If necessary they will raise 275,000 to oppose the packers. An example of how the drovers and farmers are co-operating is given by Mr. Stephen Badger, of Thornbury, who accepted 50c per cwt less for his cattle from a "small" dealer rather than let the packers have his offerings. BREAKWATER MAY BE SWEPT AWAY

West Londoner States That It Is In "Absolutely Rotten" Condition Now.

FOR THE RADIAL LINE

Members Believe That Dyke Would Be Strengthened if Roadbed Were Constructed.

That the breakwater erected to proct West London from hooding in the spring freshets is now in worse condiion than at the time that section was annexed by the city was the declaration made during an informal discussion by members of the West London mprovement Association last evening. "If the water ever trickles in during spring freshet, the breakwater will be swept away like a hedge of mullein leaves, causing all the surrering that has been experienced here before," one nember complained.

"The breakwater is not being kept n proper repair by the city. A little brush has been thrown in behind the dirt, but several sections are now absolutely rotten and would withstand no unusual pressure."

Because of this condition of affairs he association decided to vigorously support any proposition to give a radial railway right-of-way into the ity along the breakwater, West Lonon would then have some assurance hat the breakwater would be kept in epair for the reason that no company would allow its trackage to be washed away, was the concensus of opinion.

BRIGADE OF INFANTRY

ORDERED 10 PERSIA [Canadian Press.] Calcutta, British India, Jan. 11 .- Orders have been issued today to the brigade of infantry stationed at Ahmadnagar to hold itself in readiness to roceed immediately to Persia, Reports as to the dangers incurred y merchants travelling over the trade routes in the southern provinces of Persia have led to this step being taken. The brigade which is a strong one of three battalions belongs to the Sixth or Poona division of the southern army of India, and is under the command of Col. Gastrell who holds the temporary rank of brigadier-general. troops composing the brigade consist of one British battalion, the First Royal Dublin Fusiliers and two Indian battalions, the One Hundred and Third Mahratta Light Infantry and the One Hundred and Twenty-third Rifles.

The constant attacks on traders in Persia led to the dispatch of squadrons of two regiments of Indian cavalry in December, and it was while troopers were escorting the British consul at Shiraz, W. A. Smart, to his post that they were attacked by tribesmen and lost six killed and elevenwounded. Immediately afterward a strong detachment of Indian Carnatic infantry was sent to Bushire, which will be the port where the present expedition will disembark after travelling by sea from Kurrache. Medicines that aid nature are always most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature restoring the system to a healthy ndition. Thousands have testified to its superior excellence. Sold by al
