SENATOR HARDING IN ACCEPTING REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FAVORS A VOTE ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Candidate For Presidency Advocates Greater Production in Order To Cut High Cost of Living—Promises Official Restoration of Peace As Soon As Republicans Are Put in Power.

Marion, Ohio, July 22.—A pledge of constitutional government, administered by party and not by individual, and based on national rather than world ideals, was given by Warren G. Harding today in formally accepting the Republican nomination for the presidency.

He welcomed a popular referendum on the league of nations, advocating increased production to cut the high cost of living, pleaded for obliteration of sectional and class conflict, and declared for industrial peace, "not forced, but inspired by the common weal."

Reviewing and commending briefly many other planks of the party platform, the candidate declared for collective bargaining for farmers, repression of the disloyal 'generous federal co-operation" in rehabilitating the railroads, intelligent deflation of the currency, enlargement of Government aid in reclamation, a genuine expression of gratitude to veterans of the war, and maintenance of an ample navy and "a small army, but the best in the world."

"No man," he said "is big enough to run this great republic. Our first committal is the restoration of representative popular government, under the constitution, through the agency of the Republican party."

Promising restoration of peace as soon as a Republican congress should send a peace declaration to a Republican president for his signature, the candidate assailed the league covenant as brought home by President Wilson, but declared the war's sacrifices would be "in vain if we cannot acclaim a new order, with added security to civilization and peace maintained."

One of the celebrated banquets of Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous Irish sportsman, given to a circle of friends in New York a few days ago. In the centre of the group is shown a replica of the yacht race and America cup, while Sir "Tommy" is seen at the head of the table. Commodore Aemilius Jarvis of Toronto is seen at the side with hands clasped and head turned.

HEADS OF RAILWAY BROTHERHOODS ARE UNABLE TO AGREE

No Decision Reached Yet As To Concerted Action.

COMPROMISE IS SOUGHT

No Danger of an Immediate Walkout, Declare Union Officials.

Chicago, July 22.—Heads of the great railroad brotherhoods this morning were divided in opinion on the course of action which should be pursued as to acceptance or rejection of the $600,000,000 wage increase granted by the railway labor board.

At the close of an all-night session, at which no agreement was reached on a plan for concerted action, six of the brotherhoods, in addition to the masters, mates, and pilots of America had expected their decision as favorable to acceptance of the award in its entirety, seven favored referring the question to the unions with recommendation that it be accepted; two were undecided and one—the Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers, had decided to reject the award and was said to be preparing for a strike ballot.

Efforts at Compromise.

Efforts to compromise the attitudes of the various brotherhoods were under way this morning and hope for a report by the union chiefs to the 1,000 general chairmen was entertained. It was pointed out that should any agreement be reached by the heads of the brotherhoods, each organization might take individual action on the award.

"Despite the differences of opinion among the leaders, the union chiefs reiterated today that there is no danger of an immediate and concerted strike. They also were inclined to belittle reported efforts of members of the Chicago Yardmen's Association, 180 of whom struck in Chicago yesterday, to bring about a general walkout, and declared that sporadic strikes would be fought to the last ditch by the international unions. The railway labor board, which yesterday declined to reopen the railway wage cases at the request of the brotherhoods and expressed the opinion that it had done all possible in the case of the railroad employees ,today began hearings on the application for increased pay of 70,000 employees of the American Railway Express Company, who were not included in the railwaymen's award.

Agrees To Conditions Outlined in the French Ultimatum.

Beirut, Syria, July 22.—King Feisal has agreed to accept the terms of the French ultimatum with regard to Syria, delivered last week, according to an announcement by the French press bureau.

The terms of the settlement will be announced later.

COMMISSION TO CONTINUE HEARINGS LATER IN FALL

Montreal, July 22.—The international joint commission proposes continuing its hearing at various centres with regard to the proposed development of the St. Lawrence waterways, not later than October 15 next, and it has asked the Montreal Board of Trade to bring the matter to the attention of interested parties, and to ascertain the number of persons that will appear before the commission at its hearings in Montreal, and the time it is estimated will be required to present their views. The exact date of the Montreal hearing has not yet been fixed, but the secretary of the board of trade will be advised in due time. Any written data to be submitted to the committee should be sent in not later than October 1.

RAINS IN WESTERN PROVINCES JUST IN TIME TO SAVE CROPS

Winnipeg, July 22.—Tuesday's rain was welcomed by a large number of farmers throughout the west, as the means of saving crops endangered by the long continued heat and drought. Rain fell plentifully in Central and Northern Manitoba, the southwestern portion of the province being also visited by generous showers. Weather throughout the west Tuesday was warm and attended with showers in many places, and forecasts predict unsettled weather for Manitoba, Saskatchewan, with showers and thunderstorms.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

HARRY LEWIS, or HARRY SMITH, who was killed in G. T. R. Yards in East London.

VICTIM MAY BE HARRY LEWIS

Dead Railwayman Believed to Have Come From Cincinnati.

Fellow workmen of the Grand Trunk yardman killed in the local yards Wednesday afternoon, informed The Advertiser this afternoon that his correct name is Harry Lewis, and not Smith, as at first stated, the latter being an assumed name. Lewis was known in railway parlance as a "boomer," working in various cities for short periods, and was employed here since April last. He was always reticent regarding personal affairs, and although it is not known definitely his home is thought to be in Cincinnati, as he often talked of that city. Arrangements have been made here to have the body embalmed and placed in a vault until relatives of the dead man are located, if possible.

Lewis was one of the most popular and efficient yardmen in the employ of the Grand Trunk, according to his fellow workmen. They state that a local shoe worker, who is a chum of the victim, came to London with him, and if he can be located he may be able to enlighten those interested as to the whereabouts of Lewis' next of kin.

MONTREAL LIBERALS TO SUBMIT DEMANDS TO NEW PREMIER

Resolution Will Be Presented To Caucus Tomorrow.

Montreal, July 22.—A resolution will be presented to a caucus of local Liberals to be convened tomorrow to discuss provincial legislative matters, demanding of the new premier, Hon. L. A. Taschereau, that the principle be adopted that only such ministers of the crown be appointed as are responsible to the people, which means that the head of the Provincial Government should make his selections in the legislative assembly and not in the legislative council.

A second resolution to be considered is to the effect that deputies should always be consulted before a new minister is named. A third resolution insists, in effect, that the Montreal deputies out of session shall have a voice in the affairs of Government. The wording of the resolution provides that the members shall meet in caucus every two months, and that when this caucus is concluded it shall adjourn to a date two months hence.

LIVED HIGH ON BORROWED MONEY

London, July 21.—Harold Ashton Richardson, stated to be now living in Canada, has applied for discharge under the bankruptcy act. His liabilities are £66,000, on which no dividend has been paid. He lived at the rate of £8,000 a year on borrowed money He was a candidate for Parliament, which cost him £5,000. The case was adjourned for six months, the magistrate remarking that it was most unsatisfactory.

PLEBISCITES LIKELY TO BE HELD IN ALL PROVINCES SAME DAY

Polling May Be Set For October 25 in Five Provinces.

VARIETY OF OPINIONS

Prohibition Forces Prefer Separate Dates To Get Accumulative Benefits.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, July 22.—While October 25 has been set as the date for the holding of plebiscites under the amended Scott Act in Alberta and Saskatchewan, no dates have yet been set for the prohibition referendums in Ontario, Manitoba, Nova Scotia and the Yukon, from which provinces petitions have been received.

The Government desires to hold all the plebiscites on the same date, if possible, so that the preliminaries may be arranged uniformly, and the machinery put in motion simultaneously.

Prohibition forces, however, are divided in their opinion on the subject, some holding that succeeding plebiscites will have an accumulative effect. In Ontario, the Baptists object to October 25 as the date, pointing out that their convention takes place at that time. It is considered probable, however, that, excepting in the case of the Yukon, all will be held on the same date.

PRINCE OF WALES IS FORBIDDEN TO SPEAK

Fatigued Owing To Constant Round of Festivities.

ZORRA TO HOLD FIRST CULLING CAMPAIGN

Woodstock, July 22.—For the purpose of increasing egg production by eliminating non-layers in flocks, the henculling campaign in West Zorra commences on Monday, under the auspices of the Maple Leaf U. F. O. Club, in cooperation with the Embro and Brooksdale Egg Circles. The campaign will last a week and will be in the hands of local men in the vicinity of Embro under the supervision of Professor Graham of Guelph, and district representative, G. R. Green of this city.

For some time hen-culling has been going on in the United States, but never before in Canada has it been tried on a township basis, and the results are awaited with much interest. R. H. Marshall is president of the Maple Leaf Club and Dexter Day, secretary-treasurer.

COMMISSION PLANS TO ERECT AT LEAST 30 MORE HOUSES

Fifty-Five Dwellings Are Nearing Completion—Meeting of the Commissioners Is To Be Held Tonight.

More than twenty houses erected by the housing commission are already occupied. Fifty-five are nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy this year, and it is planned to build at least 30 more. This is the substance of a report which will be presented to the housing commission at its meeting tonight.

Two policies have been followed. Under one the commission has erected houses with the intention of selling them when completed. With the other the money has been merely loaned to the applicant for a house, who obtained the services of his own architect and builder, and had the house erected, according to his own plans.

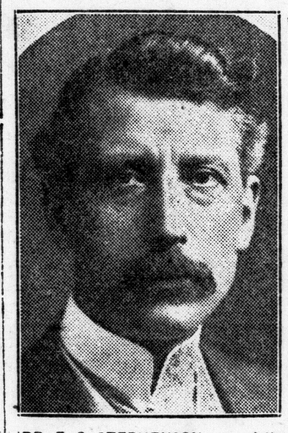

Eleven Occupied.

Thirty-seven houses, for which loans of this character have been made or are under consideration for the commission. Eleven of them are occupied. Eight require only painting to complete them, while six need plastering and painting. The foundations of seven more have been built and excavations have been made for two more.

Nine houses on Beatrice street have been completed under the direct supervision of the commission. On Garfield avenue seventeen houses are being built on contract by J. G. Wilson & Sons, while on the Pine Lawn survey, off the Hamilton road, Hayman & Willis have twelve houses under way for the commission. It is planned to build 42 houses on this site. Definite figures on the amount of money involved are not available yet, but it is believed to be at least half a million dollars.

Fair Progress.

Other building in the city is making fair progress, a total of $96,530 having been reached on 69 contracts. This makes a total of $221,635 for the year. J. W. Scott has been granted a permit to build a one-story brick dwelling at 41 Elmwood avenue to cost $4,000. The housing commission has taken out a permit to build a one-story brick veneer dwelling for G. T. E. Martin on Duchess avenue, to cost $4,035. A. M. Piper designed it, and it will be built by Joseph Sotroff. G. A. Harris will build a one-story brick veneer house on Emery street, costing $3,300.

DR. F. G. STEPHENSON, one of the chief general conference officers of the Methodist Church, who is going to study social conditions in China, Japan and Korea. He will take with him a motion picture man to make a motion picture record of the tour, which will last one year.

VICTIM'S WATCH HAD STOPPED AT 10 O'CLOCK

Practically Every Bone in Body of Percy Smith Was Smashed.

Particularly sad circumstances surround the death of Percy Smith, the returned soldier, who was fatally gored on Thursday at Weldwood Farm in Westminster Township. It was only this morning that his father, Rev. Albert Smith of Emsdale, in the district of Parry Sound, heard of his son's death. Several wires had been sent through, but failed to reach Mr. Smith. The young man's mother is at present on her way out from England, from where Mr. Smith and his son only recently came. Rev. Mr. Smith on his arrival from England was given a rectorship at Emsdale.

It is thought that Smith was killed some time between 9 and 10 o'clock. A watch which he was carrying was found and had stopped at 10 o'clock. When the body was discovered it was crammed into a small box in the corner of the barn where the animal had its stall. It is believed that the bull probably killed Smith outright and afterwards trampled the body. Hardly a bone was left unbroken, and the flesh was terribly bruised.

The remains are at the undertaking parlors of A. L. Eatman, awaiting the arrival of his father or instructions to forward the remains to Emsdale.

WERE FINED $20 FOR CHANGING AUTO MARKERS

C. F. McLean of Lucan and L. Hudson of Arva appeared before Squire W. H. Chittick in the county court today, charged with unlawfully changing auto markers to other cars and were fined $20 and costs each for the offences. The information against them was laid by Harry Passmore, provincial highways department inspector of Toronto. Both of the accused pleaded ignorance of the law in mitigation of the charges.

TORONTO OFFICIALS ON WAY TO DETROIT SEARCHED FOR BOOZE

Protests Merely Aroused Suspicions of U. S. Customs Officers.

Windsor, July 22.—Among the delegates to the Great Waterways Congress at Detroit, were a carload of city councillors and officials from "Toronto the Good," and today the story is being told of how their train was held up at the border, for half an hour, while the United States officers went through all their baggage, in a search for "wet goods." It is stated that the worthy aldermen from the provincial capital made vigorous protests against this "indignity" imposed upon men from a city of such high repute as Toronto, but the more they protested the more suspicious became the revenue men. It is said that every spare collar button in every grip was overturned in the hunt for liquor. The result of the search is not "officially known."

THREE KILLED IN FIGHTING IN BELFAST

Many Are Injured in Rioting in Streets of Irish City.

MANY ARRESTS MADE

Sinn Feiners Attack Orangemen in Mill—Police Come To Rescue.

Belfast, July 22.—Rioting was renewed in the Falls area of West Belfast during the mill dinner hour today. The postoffice was wrecked and the police fired on the rioters. In the melee a soldier and several civilians were wounded.

Belfast, July 22.—Belfast this morning was quiet after a night of sanguinary fighting between Sinn Fein and Unionist mobs, but the situation was tense, and the military with armored cars were patrolling the affected areas. Rain was falling, and it was hoped this would prove a deterrent to further fighting.

Casualties thus far recorded are two men and one woman killed and twenty treated at hospitals for serious gunshot wounds. Many wounded did not report to hospitals. Fifty-four arrests were made.

The primary cause of the trouble is believed to be the recent murder of Col. Smyth in Cork, as many men employed at Belfast come from Banbridge, which was Smyth's native town.

The rioting began yesterday after a number of Sinn Fein employees of Harland & Wolff's shipyards were attacked.

Sinn Feiners are said to have besieged a number of Orangemen in a mill for two hours late yesterday, capturing them later, and beating them. A few of the Orangemen were rescued by troops.

When troops and police attempted to separate the combatants, the Sinn Fein attacked them with stones and other missiles. The police charged with drawn clubs and temporarily dispersed the rioters, but they reassembled and the Falls road and Sandy Row districts again were thrown into uproar. The soldiers fired over the heads of the mob. Barbed wire barriers were then hurriedly raised by the military.

During the afternoon trouble developed in the east end of Belfast when a mob invaded a distillery and tried to get the workers from the premises. Order was restored only by the arrival of a machine gun detachment.

There was continuous stone throwing in Kashmir and Cupar streets this afternoon, and further looting was reported from the Netownards district.

Revolver firing developed at Mackie's foundry, near the shipyards. As the workers were leaving the foundry at noon today they were fired on by a crowd of men said to be Sinn Feiners. Some soldiers stationed nearby returned the fire. Two of the foundry workers and one soldier were wounded. The casualties among the attackers could not be learned.

Jack Johnson On Way To Chicago To Stand Trial

Former Champion Pugilist Surrenders To the U. S. Authorities.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 22.—Jack Johnson, former champion heavyweight pugilist, was bound for Chicago today in the company of federal authorities after years of self enforced exile from the United States following his disappearance while out on bail after being convicted of violation of the Mann act. Johnson surrendered Tuesday at the Lower California border. He had been living at Tijuana in sight of the international boundary for some time.

THOUSANDS OF COAL MINERS IN ILLINOIS ARE OUT ON STRIKE

Men Demand an Increase in Wages of $2 Per Day.

Chicago, July 22.—Seven thousand coal miners in the Harrisburg, Ill., district joined the strikers today. Not a shaft in the district was working, according to reports here.

Strikes of day laborers in the Southern Illinois coal fields with demands for higher wages today had closed more than a score of mines in the important Franklin County coal fields. Reports from the district around Belleville say that approximately 12,000 men were idle. The men average $5.50 per day and are demanding $2 per day increase.

CATHOLIC UNIONS URGE CLOSING OF ALL PLANTS IN QUEBEC ON SUNDAY

Quebec, July 22.—Canadian Press.—The National Catholic Union convention at Chicoutimi last night adopted a resolution which suggested the passing of a law in this province similar to that of Ontario, concerning the manufacture and inspection of steam boilers.

By another resolution the Federal Government is urged to promote by all possible means the construction of ships which would provide employment of a steady nature for thousands of laborers.

Concerning the building of houses for the working class a resolution was introduced claiming the right for any laborer to build a home for himself wherever he chose providing the ground and location were hygienic.

The observance of Sunday in all industries was strongly recommended by a resolution. Even barber shops should be closed, the convention decided. During the sitting, Henri Bourassa declared his faith in the national Catholic unions, and in the help they may render to the country.

BRITISH DREADNOUGHTS ASSIST GREEK CRUISER IN BOMBARDING TURKISH REBELS AT RODASTO

Nationalists Are Finally Routed—King Alexander of Greece Was Aboard Battleship Overoff During the Attack—Operations Commence in Campaign Launched to Drive Turks From Wide Area.

Athens, July 21.—(By the Associated Press).—King Alexander of Greece was aboard the cruiser Overoff during the bombardment this morning of Rodosto, on the European shore of the Sea of Marmora Greek troops were landed by the fleet, driving out the Turks. Two British dreadnoughts assisted in the bombardment, which is the beginning of operations which have as their purpose the routing of the forces of Jafar Tayar Bey, Turkish commander at Adrianople, whose front extends from Adrianople through Kirk Kilisse to Lule Burgas.

Passenger Rates Will Be Raised From Half To One Cent a Mile

New York, July 22.—It is reported this morning that the increase in passenger rates to be asked by the association of railway executives as an offset to the $600,000,000 added to the payroll of the railwaymen by the labor board, will be one-half to one cent per mile.

ALLIES PREPARE TO SEND TROOPS TO HELP POLES

Entente Powers To Help Check Bolshevik Invasion.

Paris, July 22.—The Allies have decided to take measures preparatory to giving military aid to Poland, if that should prove necessary, it was learned here today.

SHAMROCK WILL CUT DOWN HANDICAP BY REMOVING TOPSAIL

British Racer Is Put in Drydock For Cleaning of Hull.

New York, July 22.—Shamrock IV. may enter the race tomorrow without its big topsail and with a reduced handicap, according to an announcement last night by H. de Berkeley Parsons, chairman of the racing committee of the New York Yacht Club. "Shamrock has asked for a new measurement," he said, "and it has been decided, we were informed, to take down the big topsail, in which event the handicap will be six minutes, 40 seconds, unless another change is made in the meantime."

CLEANING SHAMROCK'S HULL.

New York, July 22.—The cup challenger, Shamrock IV., went to the drydock of the Staten Island Shipbuilding Company shortly before 10 a.m. today to have her underbody thoroughly cleaned. When the Lipton sloop was high and dry, inspection revealed that there was no oil on her outside except for a few thin streaks along her waterline. Shipyard workers immediately started to work cleaning the Shamrock's hull, putting her in first-class trim for tomorrow's race.

"BILLY" SUNDAY REFUSES TO BE RUNNING MATE WITH WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Evangelist Considers Harding Is Satisfactory Dry Candidate.

Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—With the nomination of its presidential candidate completed, the prohibition national convention today turned its attention toward the selection of vice-presidential candidate, the adoption of a platform and election of a new national committee. Adjournment tonight was considered possible.

The convention nominated William J. Bryan for its presidential candidate, over a protest made by Charles Bryan, his brother, through New York delegates. Early today no word had been received from Mr. Bryan concerning his attitude on the nominations.

As a running mate for William J. Bryan, the name of Miss Marie Brehm, Los Angeles, Cal., stood out in discussion among the delegates.

Early talk of "Billy" Sunday as a vice-presidential possibility was brought to an abrupt stop by the evangelist's statement made in Hood River, Oregon, that he considered Senator Harding a satisfactory "dry" candidate.

NO VOTE TAKEN TO CHANGE NAME OF GRAND LODGE

Niagara Falls, July 22.—No vote was taken at the morning session of the Masonic Grand Lodge of M. W. Bro. W. H. Wardrope, Hamilton, to change the name to the Masonic Grand Lodge of Ontario. The motion was supported in a virile address by M. W. Bro. F. W. Harcourt, K.C., Toronto, grand master, while strong opposition was expressed in the speeches by R. W. Bro. E. T. Malone, Toronto, and W. H. White, Pembroke.

PAINFULLY INJURED.

Strathroy, July 21.—Archibald McDougall of concession 6, Caradoc, was painfully injured today by being crushed under a heavy roller. The accident occurred when the lines fell to the ground and Mr. McDougall got down to pick them up.

DEEP WATERWAY IS STRONGLY ADVOCATED AT DETROIT CONGRESS

1,500 Delegates Gather To Urge Development of Upper St. Lawrence.

BENEFITS ARE OUTLINED

Many Advantages Claimed If Project Is Brought About.

Detroit, July 22.—Demanding development of the Upper St. Lawrence River to provide an open waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic, fifteen hundred delegates, representing almost every section of Canada and the United States, assembled here today for the opening session of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Congress.

During the congress, which will continue until Saturday, speakers from ten states will urge development of a tidewater route as a means of relieving congestion at eastern ports and development of the middle west.

Every phase of the project will be discussed during the three-day meeting. Among speakers on the program are Charles E. Townsend, U. S. senator from Michigan; Charles K. Anderson, of Chicago, officer of the American Manufacturers' Export Association; Albert Krell, Cincinnati, and U. S. Senator Poindexter of Washington.

The object of the congress, as outlined by officials of the Detroit Board of Commerce, who called the meeting, is to bring before the people, and ultimately the congress of the United States, the advantages they believe will result through providing a deep waterway from the sea to the Great Lakes. Supporters of the movement declare the middle west would be benefitted because each Great Lakes city would become an ocean port, and that the commercial and industrial life of the east would be enhanced by cheaper transportation to its markets from the interior.

"Future historians will give the builders of a waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic an equal place in history with the inventors of steam railroads and steamboats," said United States Senator Charles E. Townsend of Michigan speaking here today before the congress.

Waterway a Necessity.

"Not only is a waterway to the sea necessary to keep the products of the farms in the middlewest from rotting, and commercial life from a state approaching stagnation, but 1,700,000 horsepower of energy will be harnessed when the work is completed. Sale of the power alone would pay for the project within a comparatively short time.

"The entire country is menaced by a shortage of coal. The supply of this fuel gradually is becoming exhausted. The power that could be obtained through development of the St. Lawrence would save about seven millions tons each year."

Senator Townsend, who was among the first members of Congress to urge a connecting link between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic, reviewed the efforts that have been made in Ottawa and Washington to bring the proposal before the law makers and citizens generally of Canada and the United States.

Relief to Millions.

The proposal to link the Great Lakes with the Atlantic is not a sectional, selfish movement, but one so broad and fundamental that it is a national necessity, said H. A. Gardner of Chicago, president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association.

"Development of the river will bring necessary relief to millions of Americans and Canadians," Mr. Gardner said. Power will be developed; industry and agriculture will be made more secure and 100,000,000 tons of coal saved each year.

"The people of the United States and their lawmakers must be made to realize that opening of the St. Lawrence is an economic necessity."

Mr. Gardner pointed out that 14 states

SONS OF SCOTLAND THRONG TO ANNUAL PT. STANLEY PICNIC

Skirl of Bagpipes, Prize Dancing, Sports, Baby Show, All Features of Enjoyable Day — Showers of Rain Fail To Spoil Fun.

Rain at Port Stanley Wednesday afternoon failed to dampen the spirits of St. Andrew's Society members of this city, who staged their annual picnic at the lakeside. The sports were well under way before Jupiter Pluvius let lose, and undaunted the merry-makers continued until a veritable downpour called for an interruption. However, it was of short duration, and in a few moments the sun shone brightly, the new platform was sanded and the dancing contests were continued.

The skirl of the bagpipes reigned supreme on Invererie Heights all afternoon, and far into the evening, while descendants of St. Andrew of all ages and both sexes danced merrily for the cups and medals awarded in the various classes. Natives of old Scotia may be a bit backward at times, but once a year they throw discretion to the winds and provide a real old-fashioned good time, namely, at the annual outing of St. Andrew's Society.

Juvenile Dancers.

To view the juvenile dancers in native Scottish costume performing the Highland Fling and other steps dear to all persons with Scotch blood flowing through their veins, was the treat in store for those who journeyed to Port Stanley. The tiny tots who not many months ago first walked, danced on the platform to the delight of everyone present, while youthful musicians dispensed tunes on the pipes. It was necessary for the judges to order special competitions in order to break several ties for first place, so keenly were the various contests competed.

Following are the successful ones in the various events run off on the sports program:

Boys' race, under 7 years—Thomas Herbert, Alfred Johnston, Donald Haldane, Lyle Mercer.

Girls' race, under 7 years—Mary Fitzgerald Jean Govenlock, Peggy Rogers, Laura Ross.

Boys' race, under 11 years—Clarence Ormes, Frank Miller, M. Brown, C. March.

Girls' race, under 11 years—Ruth Wilson, Olga Hunt, Jessie Brown.

Boys' race, under 16 years—D. Rigg, R. Copp, J. Buchlan, S. Lomox.

Girls' race, under 16 years—Lenore Hendry, Marion Wilson, G. Beemer.

Single ladies' race—Lenore Hendry, B. Russell, M. Robinson, V. Smith.

Boys' kiltie race—Kenneth Dunlevy, Cecil Hunt, Donald Ellis.

Men's 100-yard open race—C. Campbell, A. Fick, P. Robinson.

Girls' kiltie race—Bessie Squires, Margaret Russell, Marion Stark.

Highland fling, boys and girls under 8, for competitors who have never won a prize of any kind for dancing—Gertrue McPherson, St. Thomas, winner of Donald Ellis medal; Evelyn Nicholson, London, second; only one prize in event.

Sword dance, boys and girls under 8, for competitors who have never won a prize of any kind for dancing—Donald Ellis Medal, won by Gertrude McPherson, St. Thomas; Evelyn Nicholson, second, only one prize in the event.

Campbell Griggs, Flint, Michigan, the eight-year-old dancer, again carried home the Wray Trophy, donated by W. J. Wray & Co. The young American dancer won the trophy at the Scotch picnic. If he defends it at the Scotch picnic next year he may be able to add it to his already long list of medals and trophies. Campbell Griggs has only been dancing in public for the past two years, but is now the proud possessor of 45 medals. On Friday he intends competing for more honors at the Detroit Scotch dancing competitions.

St. Andrew's Cup.

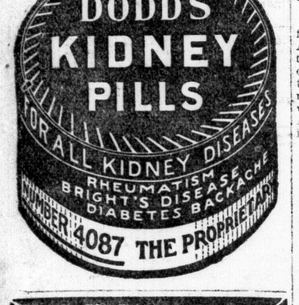

Margaret McIvar, Cleveland, for the first time was winner of the St. Andrew's Cup. The former holder of the cup was Jessie Charleston of Chicago, she did not appear at the picnic to defend the cup. It, however, still remains in the United States. The cup was donated by a member of the St. Andrew's Society. It is for competitors in the sword dance, 12 to 16 years.

Daisy Mitchell of London was the winner of Past President Forbes' solid gold medal, presented for the competitors 12 to 16 years who scored the greatest number of points in the Highland fling, shean trews and sword dance. Competition was for dancers of Elgin and Middlesex Counties.

Violet Gilmour of London was the winner of Past President Forbes' silver medal for competitors under 12 who score the biggest number of points in Highland fling, shean trews and sword dance.

Donald Ellis of St. Thomas and Roy Baldwin of London were tied for the Sons of Scotland silver medal in the boys' piping contest, and when the judges ordered them to replay Donald Ellis proved to be the winner.

The judges were D. E. McPherson, Toronto; Charles Dunbar, Hamilton, and J. M. Inverarity, Windsor.

CENTENNIAL CONGREGATION PICNICS AT SPRINGBANK

Games Are Popular—Diamond Chosen Was Too Close To Thames.

One of the jolliest of annual picnics held on Wednesday afternoon at Springbank was that of the Centennial Methodist congregation and Sunday School. A chartered car took the picnickers from the church grounds at 2:30 o'clock. On arrival at the grounds a baseball game was played, but the players found it impossible to keep the score in mind, having chosen a spot near the river, the ball made its way to a watery grave several times, and at last the game was replaced by a ball-hunting game.

After a lengthy program of sports an old-fashioned tea was served by the ladies. Group games and ball games were participated in again after supper.

Those winning the various events were:

Beginners' race—All entries were given a candy treat.

Primary race—F. Fullarton and E. Fryer.

Boys, 8 to 11—S. Cunningham, B. Wilkey, H. Armstrong.

Girls, 8 to 11—E. Carruthers, E. Gatecliffe, C. Evans.

Boys, 12 to 14—F. Martin, R. Leah, S. Cunningham.

Girls, 12 to 14—E. Gatecliffe, M. Pirtie, V. McDaniels.

Banana race—H. Ferguson, Mrs. G. T. Allen, Alfred and E. Fraser.

LABOR WANTS BOARD TO OPERATE GAS CO. BECAUSE OF ACTION

Trades Council Passes Resolution To This Effect—Some Members Object.

London Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night passed a resolution on motion of H. Wray and W. G. Tite, asking the city council to call in the Ontario Municipal and Railway Board to operate the City Gas Company as a public utility, because of the company's action in making extra charges upon its customers.

Delegate Burke of the molders' union, protested against opposition to a fair increase in the gas rates if the company could not profitably continue business at the present rate, but explained that he was opposed to the special charges in lieu of increased rates.

Personalities flew freely at one part of the meeting between Mr. Burke and the Independent Labor party supporters, which prompted Delegate Hessel to declare that they were "worse than a lot of schoolboys," and he was tired of this "damnable mud slinging." The dispute between the stove-molders and their opponents had been threshed out before, and no good had come of it, he said.

Since they were drumming the gas company for increased gas prices, why not protest against the Dominion Board of Commerce sanctioning the increase of sugar to 26 cents a pound? asked Mr. Hessel.

It was decided to approach the Western University authorities and the board of education to protest against non-union hodcarriers and laborers being employed on the new medical school and public school construction jobs.

The critics of the gas company contended that under the companies act the gas company had no right to increase its rates or make extra charges without permission of the lieutenant-governor.

Delegate Burke wanted to know whether, should the railway board be called in, the labor council members would accept the board's findings, or would they refuse to accept it if not in their favor, as they had done in the matter of the street railway findings.

Issue was taken with the other delegates with the company's contention that it had never had an increase since it started. The late Major Beattie, it is claimed, had secured the passing of a law reducing the candle power of illuminating gas from 70 down to 50 candlepower, which reduction really amounted to 28 per cent increase in rates.

An educational committee was appointed to undertake the education of Poles and Russians in the newly organized union of tin-plate workers. According to Secretary Tite they are lamentably ignorant of all the high principles of trades unionism, and through their native language newspapers are imbibing the dangerous doctrines of Bolshevism and a belief in the soviet system of government. Mr. Tite wanted to have them educated to the standpoint of realizing the superiority over Bolshevism of a constitutional system of government, such as the Dominion of Canada enjoys.

J. H. Thompson opposed the resolution on the ground it was bolshevistic in itself, aiming to arrogate to the trades council matters of education, which properly belonged to the province or the government.

MOCHA PATROL HAS BIG OUTING AT PARK

Three Hundred Nobles With Families Gather At Springbank Wednesday Afternoon.

One of the large picnics at Springbank yesterday afternoon was that of the Arab Patrol of Mocha Temple. About 300 sat down to one of the best suppers that could have been provided. Sandwiches, cakes, olives and ice cream were soon put out of sight once the picnickers started at them. Some of the best prizes of any picnic this year were awarded. Following are some of them: Chevrolet touring car, electric range, portable bath tub, phonograph, Frisco chickens, six-months' washing contract at a local laundry, round trip to New York, ebony casket, Hecla heating system, keg of nails, ton of bricks, case of cigars, 100 pounds of pork and a Grank Trunk station. All were of a miniature size, and in some cases the prizes were far from being what they were thought to be. The ebony caskets were about six inches long and resembled the regular casket. The gentlemen received half a dozen cigars in theirs and the ladies ones were filled with chocolates.

Officers.

Following are the names of the officers in charge: Chairman of the executive, Harry Hayman; W. D. MacGregor, secretary; Edward Gaze, Harry Morgan, Fred Tulett, J. G. Gammage, A. Skelton, B. Noble, B. Price, Edward Marley, Edward Hayden, president of the patrol.

Following are the results of the sports:

ROTARIANS ACT AS FATHERS TO CITY ORPHANS

Treat Them To Big Picnic At Ray Lawson's Summer Residence.

Children from the various orphans' homes of the city had the treat of their lives yesterday afternoon, when, as guests of the Rotary Club, they were motored out to Ray Lawson's beautiful summer home at Hyde Park, there to spend the afternoon in games, eats, prizes and an uproariously happy time generally.

From Mount St. Joseph came sisters and children to the number of 98; from the Children's Aid Shelter, 32; fourteen children came from the Ronald Gray Memorial Home, and 40 from the Protestant Orphans' Home. Those in charge and helpers brought the total number of those who enjoyed the hospitality of Woodholme up to 200.

After loading up with their little guests the Rotarians proceeded from the Tecumseh House by a roundabout route through the central part of the city to the Sarnia road. Horns and flags were distributed to the children before leaving. By joyous blasts and frantic flag-waving the small passengers of the procession informed the passing throngs of their complete bliss and joyous anticipations.

On Their Way.

On through the beautiful rolling country they sped, past one farm where goats and "sheeps" and spotted ponies greeted their enraptured gaze, until finally, after entering at Woodholme gate, they corkscrewed down a shady avenue of trees to the lovely valley of the Medway where the picnic was to be held.

At first the skies seemed to threaten rain, but George Wenige had stated that arrangements had been made that no rain was to fall until 7:30 at the earliest, and so perfect weather conditions prevailed.

The first item on the program after arrival was the distribution of ice cream.

One little lad came confidently up to Tom McFarland. "Haven't you had one, my little man?" he said.

"Yes, sir, 'n I want 'nother," said the small boy.

And he got it, too; in fact, three more.

After every child had been satisfied with cones the races began.

Of these, perhaps the most interesting to the onlookers and the committee were the "throwing baseball" of the girls, and the boys' obstacle race.

Obstacles.

There was a beautiful uncertainty about the throwing of the baseball, rather about the landing of it when thrown, which kept up the liveliest interest in the minds of all the bystanders. But the boys' obstacle race—imagine the gentlemen of the committee being obstacles. Each boy contestant had to "leap-frog" a Rotarian on his way to the goal, but he got there at that. Rides on the pony, owned by the Lawson children, were another delight for those not racing.

After the races came the "eats." Everybody was hungry. One hardly dared look for the hero of the cone episode, but apparently his hat was still in the ring, as he was able to eat two more.

Then came the prizes, and everybody got a prize. Blocks and brooms and puzzles; games and paper dolls; spades and shovels and drums and horns—no youngster's heart was left sore by his being prizeless at the close of the day.

Surprise Package.

A big multicolored pile of toy balloons and some huge boxes were exciting the curiosity of the children, and when they were told to line up for a march past and each received a balloon and a mysterious package, which later was found to contain a bag of peanuts, peppermints, krackly-nut and a banana, their joy was complete.

When it was time to go home each youngster grasping firmly his precious bundle of treasures piled into the waiting cars. Happy faces and happy hearts they had, and all this pleasure was due to the kindness and thoughfulness of the men of the Rotary Club, and the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawson in offering their beautiful grounds for the picnic.

The Committee.

John M. Watt, who suggested the idea of the outing, was the chairman of the committee which carried out the arrangements. With him were Thomas MacFarland, Duncan McDermid, John Beemer, Walter Kelly, George Wenige, William Christianson, W. N. Manning, A. E. Silverwood, Ray Lawson, R. Dowler, John Bridge and Joseph Nolan. George Wenige was in charge of the sports; William Christianson was in charge of the "eats," and John Beemer was in charge of the transportation.

TO CONSIDER APPEAL FOR DEBENTURES

Council To Discuss Waterworks and Electric Problem Monday.

Appeal to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for permission to issue electric and waterworks debentures will be supported by Ald. G. C. Moorhead at the special meeting of the city council, which has been called for Monday night.

"I think the council should make every effort to supply water and electric light to the people, especially on streets where there are a good many new buildings," he said today. "Water is an essential commodity, and no one will take objection to issuing debentures for the purpose of laying mains to supply it."

All responsibility for present conditions is disclaimed by the public utilities commission in an official statement which has just been issued.

"For the benefit of all and sundry let it be understood that the fault does not lie with the public utilities," says the statement. "The hands of this department are tied, and according to the formal legal opinion of City Solicitor T. G. Meredith, only the city council is able to furnish a remedy.

Asked for $165,000.

"Let us go back to the beginning of the trouble. The public utilities commission this year estimated the requirements for the waterworks department at $85,000 and for the electrical department at $80,000. These sums were required to pay for the ordinary extensions, such as water mains and power transmission lines, and for the installation of water and electrical services in houses and factories. It has never been the practice to have people vote on such bond issues for two reasons: First, that the expenditures cannot affect the tax rate of the city, because they are revenue producing, and from their own earnings provision is made for payment of interest, and for retirement of debt within a limited period, and secondly, that the people cannot do without water and electric light, and if the city is going to stay in the electric or water business it must give service.

Without Funds.

"The killing of the city of London bill in the Legislature left the public utilities commission without funds to carry on. The people, troubled by a house famine, were calling for the construction of more dwellings, but the commission had not a dollar to connect up a new house to the waterworks or hydro-electric systems.

"The commission has always pursued the policy of re-investing its surplus earnings in plant extensions, and has asked only for such additional bond issues as were absolutely necessary.

"Thus the commission has put a quarter of a million dollars of waterworks earnings and a half million dollars of hydro earnings back into the plants.

"In the existing extremity due to the killing of the city of London bill, the public utilities commission consulted the city solicitor to ascertain what steps could be taken to prevent inconvenience to the public.

"The city solicitor's answer is that the public utilities commission has no right to incur an overdraft. The banks are entitled to refuse to lend the commission any money unless a line of credit is authorized by the city council. The city council has the power to arrange with the banks for a line of credit or it may apply to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board to ratify a bond issue for waterworks and electrical purposes."

Commission Powerless.

"But the public utilities commission is powerless to take either of these steps in its own behalf," the statement continues.

"If the city council does not adopt either of these two courses there are two alternatives. Tie up business and install no more mains or water or electric services, or else carry on with the prospective customer's own money. Because there is no way out of it the public utilities commission is now following the latter course.

"If a citizen wants his house connected up for water or electricity, the commission will do the work, but the customer must furnish the money. If the existing tangle is straightened out and the commission secures money to carry on it will at once reimburse all who have been charged. But if money is not made available, the commission agrees to pay the customer off in water or electricity as he uses it, by rebating his quarterly or monthly accounts.

"The average cost of an electrical connection is about $25, and the average consumer uses that amount of hydro in about two years. The average cost of a 50-foot water service is about the same amount, but water is cheap and it will take four to five years to pay the customer off through the tap.

"The situation is a disagreeable one, no more desired by the public utilities department than by the people. The commission has done all in its power. If anyone knows 'a better 'ole,' by all means let him speak up."

COUNTY POLICE CLAIM CAMPAIGN IS UNFAIR

The county police are up in arms over an alleged newspaper campaign against their methods of detecting and convicting auto speeders on country roads. They deny that these methods are of the get-rich-quick variety, and in return, point to the fact that they are the victims of economy regarding criminal cases. One constable informed The Advertiser that he journeyed many miles into the county to arrest a man, for whom he waited four hours, and brought back to London, and then had expense account cut down by the county judge to $3.71. He showed the voucher for same to the reporter as proof of his statement.

Similar complaints were voiced by several other county constables, and they hope that with the reorganization of the attorney-general's department at Toronto there will be sweeping changes all around, eliminating causes for complaint regarding speeding convictions and also duties relative to criminal cases heard in county courts of Ontario.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, July 22.—The local stock market opened this morning with prices at about last night's closing levels. During the first half hour some slight advances were made. Spanish River preferred gained a point, and Atlantic Sugar also added a point. Among the paper stocks, Brompton advanced a point and a half. Other issues were quiet.

WORK TO START ON PT. STANLEY HARBOR WITHIN FEW DAYS

Improvements Should Materially Aid in Development At the Lakeside.

Work on Port Stanley harbor improvements is expected to commence within a few days. Col. Lamb and Engineer Craig, who will be the resident engineer on the work, have been back and forward between Windsor and Port Stanley frequently of late, and plans are practically completed for proceeding at once with the deepening and widening of the inner harbor to take care of all the fishing boats and other small crafts.

A new and higher bridge will be constructed on Bridge street to permit fishing boats to pass under it, and the county of Elgin has voted $20,000 towards the construction work. The government is asking the village of Port Stanley to make a grant towards the maintenance of the bridge, but the villagers have not committed themselves to the undertaking, claiming that they will have contributed their share through the county grant.

Will Be Adjusted.

It is anticipated that the matter will be adjusted somehow, as the harbor improvements will mean the development of Port Stanley ultimately into a good-sized town. The government originally voted only $19,000 towards the harbor improvement work, but in the supplementary estimates, an additional grant of $50,000, making it $69,000 in all was made. Adding Elgin County's contribution, the total fund available at present for both the bridge and harbor amounts to $89,000.

Good Strategy.

S. Frank Glass, M.P., expressed the opinion today that it is good strategy to undertake the improvement of the inner harbor first. A certain amount of annual work on the outer harbor will have to be kept up in order to keep it open for the entrance of the smaller crafts to the inner harbor, and with the work once started all the desired improvements will eventually come.

The docking of the smaller boats in the inner harbor will leave plenty of room this year for the one or two large boats now calling at Port Stanley, and next summer the outer harbor will be widened to over 150 feet. Its present width is only about 80 feet.

SPECIAL MEETING PROMISES TO BE A BUSY SESSION

General Discussion of Civic Problems Expected Next Monday Night.

While the meeting of the city council Monday night has been called specially to discuss the matter of debenture issues for the public utilities commission, and a by-law the matter of passing a loan authorizing the city to borrow money from the bank pending the collection of the second instalment of taxes, it is more than probable that it will develop into a general discussion of city business.

One matter which is certain to be discussed is the provision of storm water sewers for South London, where many complaints have been made, because the continued rains have proved too much for the present drains.

Plans Are Ready.

Plans have been made for improving Bruce street by building several manholes and cleaning out the small sewer there. But on Edward street and Beaconsfield avenue south of the Wharncliffe road no solution of the difficulty has been found except the building of storm sewers, and there is no money for that purpose, because the people voted down the expenditure at the last election.

The 18-inch sanitary sewer on Edward street is being used for storm water purposes, and is not nearly large enough for the double purpose. As a result sewage has backed up into the cellars of a number of homes on that street, and is also reported to have been forced to the surface of the catchbasins.

Volume Too Great.

Ald. E. R. Seabrook, who is acting mayor today, points out that part of the trouble is due to the fact that this sewer empties into a 36-inch sewer on Evergreen avenue. The volume of water in this larger sewer is so great that the sewage from the smaller pipe cannot force its way into it and has to back up.

To remedy this Ald. Seabrook suggests that a short line might be built from the Edward street sewer along Beaconsfield avenue, directly to the sewage beds. Having this direct outlet the sewer would not then be so likely to be blocked, and both Edward street and Beaconsfield avenue would be relieved. The cost of such work would not be more than $2,000 or $3,000, he thinks. He has submitted the suggestion to City Engineer Brazier to obtain fuller information on it.

OLD COUNTRY PEOPLE INTERESTED IN MADE-IN-CANADA GOODS

Stratford Man Declares On Return From Exhibition in England.

STRATFORD, July 21.—That "Canadian-made" manufactured goods made the folks of London, Eng., sit up and take notice was the assertion made today by J. S. Cook of the McLagan Furniture Company, who has returned after attending the Canadian Industrial Exhibition at London, Eng. This was the first exhibtion of its kind ever held and the Canadian representation, though small, lacked nothing in quality.

CALL REV. J. A. BROWN.

The congregation of Shakespeare and St. Andrew's Churches, North Easthope, has extended a call to Rev. J. A. Brown of Fergus, who has accepted and will be inducted early in September.

A local citizen has made the offer of a lion and a tiger as a nucieus of a zoo for Queen's Park should proper accommodation be provided by the park authorities. The citizen, whose name is not disclosed, offers to present one other animal each year, such as monkeys, bears, etc. A short time ago the offer of sea fowl was received, and these with the dozen or more swans would be a good start towards a real zoo.

Lost His Life in Chase After Hat

TORONTO, July 21.—Malcolm King, 50 years old, was riding a bicycle on the lake shore road this evening, when his hat blew off. He made a grab for it, got in the way of an automobile, and was run down and killed.

—S. K. Davidson of this city is visiting with his daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) Trumper, at Exeter.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. Bexton of Delaware avenue are visiting with Mrs. H. Ellis, at Kitchener.

—F. W. Cathro, director-general of the State Bank of North Dakota, is visiting relatives in the city.

INSPECTING ORCHARDS.—P. J. Carey, Dominion Government packing and orchard demonstrator, was in London today, while touring the district inspecting fruit orchards in search of certain diseases infesting the trees. His headquarters are at Toronto.

SEEKING H. HODGETTS.—Mayor Little has been asked to endeavor to locate Harry Hodgetts, who formerly resided at 616 William street. The request comes from Fred Evans, 763 Dupont street, Toronto, who states that Mr. Hodgetts' brother Joseph is very ill.

NATURE STUDY.—A regular Indian camp for the study of birds, flowers, and everything relating to nature, will be formed by L. M. Houlding, Dr. E. S. Detwiler, Rev. W. J. Knox, Rev. D. C. MacGregor and W. E. Saunders, at a summer camp at Algonquin Park, which opens August 20, and continues for two weeks.

TAKING SPECIAL COURSE.—David Allan, physical instructor of the "Y," R. E. Crouch, boys' secretary, and L. M. Houlding, secretary of the boys' work, will take a special course of instruction at the annual summer camp for Y. secretaries near Lake Couchiching August 3 to 20. Two members of the organization are also expected to go.

WON SCHOLARSHIP.—In the list of scholarships of Toronto University, the name of Harold Couch, son of Rev. Isaac Couch, M.A., B.D., pastor of the Quebec Methodist Church, appears as winner of the Edward Blake scholarship, in the biological and physical sciences. He is an honor student in arts and medicine, and this is the fourth scholarship the former Londoner has won.

HELD FOR THEFT.—A local juvenile employed as messenger for a telegraph company was arrested by Detective Robert Egeiton today charged with entering two houses in South London and pilfering goods therein. On being searched a gold watch, alleged to be the property of one of the theft victims, was found in his possession. Accused will appear for trial before Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon on Friday morning.

GOING TO ENGLAND.—Mrs. H. A. Brazier, 703 Waterloo street, and her two children will sail for Bournemouth, England, from New York on July 31. They will make the voyage on the Aquitania, which just arrived from Liverpool recently on its first passenger trip since it was released from war service by the British Government. Mrs. Brazier will visit with relatives in the vicinity of Bournemouth for several months.

INDORSED BOTH.—Joseph Marks, secretary of the Labor Educational Association of Ontario, is in London for a day or two. In reference to the labor-hydro radial discussion, Mr. Marks pointed out that the Independent Labor Party executive, of which he is a member, passed a resolution several days ago diplomatically indorsing both hydro-radials and Premier Drury's undertaking to obtain full information on the subject through a commission.

GOING TO CONVENTION. — City Clerk Baker will leave for Montreal Sunday night to attend the twentieth annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities to be held at that city June 27, 28, 29. As president of the Ontario Association of Municipalities, Mr. Baker may take part in some of the discussions affecting that body. Other representatives of the city may attend, but none have been appointed yet. No Londoners are included in the program of addresses and discussions.

NEW ORGAN.—At a recent business meeting of the Talbot Street Baptist Church it was decided to order a new organ for the church at once and to make arrangements to lower the organ loft. This action was made possible by the generosity of M. M. Ferguson, Mrs. J. W. Westervelt and Mr. J. W. Westervelt, who are contributing $8,000 towards the project. The organ will be a memorial to the late Mrs. M. M. Ferguson, who for many years was organist of the Talbot Street Church. The loft will be remodelled, and Architect W. G. Murray is preparing the plans.

WIDENING ROAD.—The work of widening the roadway at Wortley road and Elmwood avenue has been started. The roadway at that point has been very dangerous to traffic owing to the trees and bushes hiding the full view of the corner, and many near accidents have occurred. The city council ordered the road widened. The corners at this point were so sharp that motorists were obliged to take the turn slowly so as to avoid colliding with others traveling in the opposite direction. When the work is completed the road will be at least seven feet wider. One tree and one pole will be removed and the sidewalk will be moved back a few feet.

BAIL RENEWED.—Oliver Ferns of Glanworth appeared in police court today charged with driving an auto with wilful neglect. Owing to the fact that San Fesen, who was struck by his car, is still unable to leave the hospital, he was remanded again for eight days. Bail of $1,000 in two sureties of $500 each was renewed by two Glanworth bondsmen. Fesen is progressing favorably, and will likely be able to testify in court next week. Ferns struck him while proceeding along the Wharncliffe road, near Euclid avenue, on the night of July 11, during a heavy rainstorm, and he was removed to Victoria Hospital in a serious condition, remaining unconscious for several days as a result of injuries received.

FARMERS HELP STOP BREAK IN BIG DIKE

VANCOUVER, July 21.—Through the efforts of the farmers at Matsqui, B. C., the 40-foot break in the dike has been stopped up and the inrushing waters of the flooded Fraser held back from 10,000 acres of choice farm land.

OFF THE RAILS

BOAT TRAFFIC HEAVY.

Three extra coaches, loaded with steamship passengers en route from Detroit to Montreal, were added to No. 16, the G. T. R. Eastern Flyer, Wednesday evening. The train will carry extra coaches this evening also. The passengers were mostly foreigners returning to their native lands. The movement is reported to be quite heavy.

FEAR COAL SHORTAGE.

There is every possibility that the G. T. R. will experience a serious shortage of coal next winter in the opinion of Superintendent C. F. Forrester, of the local division. The road has been under [illegible] use, and there is little likelihood that it will be able to secure an emergency supply, as it is only securing hand-to-mouth shipments at the present time.

It is the custom of the roads throughout Canada to pile up coal in the different yards for use during the winter. Even with a large supply ahead at the beginning of winter the roads, both in the United States and Canada, are often forced to cut many trains from their service because of shortage.

Mr Forrester pointed out that with no coal to fall back on during a blockade a serious tie-up would certainly result. He said that the road was doing well with small supplies at the present time.

WILL START SOON.

Work on the erection of the building where the steel rails will be sawed in the reclamation yard of the G. T. R. will start within a few days, according to Superintendent C. F. Forrester, of the local division.

AT SCENE OF ACCIDENT.

The jury, which is to conduct the inquest into the death of Harry Smith, who was killed in the east end yards of the G. T. R. Wednesday afternoon, met in the carshops at noon today.

REPLACING SWITCHES.

Gangs of workmen were replacing the switches throughout the west end of the G. T. R. yards today with new ones. The work was to have been done at the time the 100-pound rails were laid, but it was held up by a shortage of material.

NO WORD YET.

No official word of the increases to be granted on the American roads as the result of the award made in Chicago on Tuesday, has been received by the officials of the G. T. R., according to Superintendent C. F. Forrester. No action or announcement can be made on the Grand Trunk until the matter is settled in the United States.

ESCAPED UNHURT.

When the engine and cars of train No. 28, of the G. T. R., which was derailed and wrecked near Kelly's Siding on Wednesday morning, Engineer T. N. Devine and Fireman L. M. Turnbull, both of this city, escaped without a scratch, although they were in the cab of the locomotive when it overturned in the ditch. The fireman was thrown on top of Devine.

Although the engine was lying on its side in the ditch badly twisted, when they crawled from the wreck to see what had happened, the machinery was still running. The drive wheels were whirring around at a high rate of speed throwing clouds of earth into the air. The engineer crawled back into the cab and closed the throttle.

DAMAGE IS $1,000.

In a report made to headquarters the damage to the engine was estimated at $1,000. The two express cars, one of which was partly turned over, received damages amounting to $500 each. The cars were wooden and easily broken. The mail car, which was the worst jolting and was thrown on its side on the opposite side of the track from the engine, was damaged only slightly. The steel underframe protected the car. The passenger cars were not damaged.

WILL RUN SPECIAL.

A special train will be run by the C. P. R. from Goderich to this city on the occasion of the annual C. P. R. picnic, which is to be held at Springbank on July 29. The train will run by way of Guelph Junction.

BIGGS TO DESIGNATE NO MORE HIGHWAYS UNTIL AFTER SURVEY

Minister Will Name No Provincial County Roads At Present.

TORONTO, July 21.—No more provincial county highways will be designated by the Government until it has finally decided upon all provincial highways and has time to deal with the needs of the province as a whole. Heretofore provincial county road have been designated where local pressure has been exerted to secure them, but this course is not satisfactory to Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works for Ontario, and he so informed deputations today from Wentworth, Lincoln and Russell Counties.

Hon. Mr. Biggs told the deputations that no further roads would be announced until he had mapped out a scheme of provincial county roads that would give each county its fair proportion, just as was done with the provincial highways scheme.

CLEVELAND PICNIC.

The employees of the A. M. Hannah metal works, Cleveland, Ohio, picnicked at Port Stanley on Wednesday. It was the first picnic that they have held in Canada, although it was their fourth annual outing. No sport events were staged.

SPRACKLIN CHARGES TO BE LAID BEFORE ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Chairman of Sandwich Police Committee Promises Long Statement Shortly.

WINDSOR, July 21.—That he firmly intends carrying the fight against the vice conditions in Sandwich to a final conclusion was indicated by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, pastor of Sandwich Methodist Church, tonight, when he announced that arrangements had been completed for a conference with Attorney-General Raney and members of the Ontario License Commission at Toronto on Thursday.

"You just wait and I will give you a statement a mile long," declared Reeve McKee, chairman of the police committee of the town, appointed Monday night to conduct a probe into the fighting parson's charges. No definite statement as to what procedure will be followed has been announced.

In the meantime, Alois Masters, 55-year-old chief of police, who is under fire in the controversy, is "taking holidays." Mayor Donnelly denied tonight that the aged official had not been asked to resign, and said he would see "that the old man got a fair hearing, especially as he has worked for this town for over 40 years at next to nothing."

OAKVILLE MAN SETS NEW CANADIAN MARK FOR SHORTHORN COW

Frank Bailey Buys Countess Telma and Calf For $5,200.

WHITBY, July 21.—The largest auction sale of Scottish Snorthorns on the continent of America was held today by Messrs. Dryden and Miller at Maple Shade Farm, Brooklin, Ont., the home of the Drydens for two generations. A new Canadian record price for imported Scottish female Shorthorns was set by Frank Bailey of Oakville, Ont., who purchased the white two-year-old Countess Telma, fourth, with calf at foot, for $5,200.

Though the average price paid at today's sale was decidedly lower than that received at the Dryden-Miller dispersal sale in Toronto last February, one hundred and six females were sold at an average price of $1,109. Only two bulls offered and they sold at $775 and $575. The total receipts were about $130,000. The sale was opened by a short address from Hon. Manning Doherty, who referred to livestock as the sheet anchor of Canada's basic industry, agriculture.

FINED FOR BAD LANGUAGE.

John McVicar of Dorchester Township was fined $5 and costs of court in the county court before Squire Chittick for using insulting language towards James McFarlane of West Williams. A dispute arose over the visit of the complainant to the defendant's farm in connection with a recent lawsuit between the two over the sale of a bull.

LONDON LEADS PROVINCE IN SOLDIERS' AID

Total Number of Men On the Files Is Now 14,711.

According to statistics from Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa and Brantford, furnished by the secretaries of the Soldiers' Aid Commissions, London is leading all other cities in the province in helping soldiers. This conclusion is based in the average of the population.

During the month of June, 83 cases were handled by the welfare department, with Mrs. S. F. Lawrason as the convener. One hundred and sixty homes were visited. Seventeen new cases were added to the list, and 25 families were granted relief.

The number of people calling at the office has increased. During the month, 1,001 calls were made. Six hundred and forty-six local men asked help. One hundred and ninety-eight were from Military District No. 1. The letters received numbered 157. All these were called for by the men. Three hundred and thirty-five dependents of soldiers used the office for either asking help or writing for it.

Many Adjustments.

One hundred and seventy-five cases were adjusted by the branch. These were either pensions, gratuities or complaints. One hundred cases were handed in to the office. Thirty cases are still pending.

The total number of men on the files number 14,711. Of these, 3,780 are local. Twenty-three new names were added last month. The number on file for the county of Middlesex is 4,407.

Up to the present, $108,211.06 has been advanced to the finance committee for its work. This was made in 3,280 contributions. Seventy-four advances, totaling $4,216.08, were made.

Given Positions.

One hundred and two men applied for positions. Of these, forty-nine were given employment by referring to the commission. Twenty-six were sent to the employment bureau and 23 were sent for training. Four were sent for treatment.

The demand for assistance and relief continues through the summer mainly on account of sickness.

HODCARRIERS HAVE LITTLE CHANCE OF GETTING 70 CENTS

Settlement of the hodcarriers and laborers' strike in Hamilton through the good offices of the Hamilton Industrial Council has revived hopes that the London Industrial Council might make a further effort to act as an intermediary between the employers and employees, who are completely at loggerheads in London.

Secretary England of the Industrial Council stated today that the Industrial Council was established in London at the suggestion and request of the Builders' Exchange in order to secure a settlement of the painters' strike. This strike was settled, and the next that came before the council was the electrical workers' strike. The Builders' Exchange was not satisfied with the settlement of this strike, and its representatives have attended subsequent council meetings very irregularly, it is charged by the labor men.

Another Effort.

The latest development was the plain announcement of the masonry section of the exchange that the contractors did not wish to further negotiate in the matter of the hodcarriers' strike. However, Dr. W. J. Stevenson, chairman of the council, has intimated that he will make at least one further effort to have the contractors agree to an arbitration, and it was understood that a conference could be held with them some time today.

In Hamilton the hodcarriers have gone back to work at 65 cents an hour. In case a settlement should be effected here at 60 or 65 cents an hour, the labor men state that the problem arising from the fact that seven or eight smaller contractors already paying 70 cents an hour, would be left to these contractors and the men they have engaged at this rate.

The Only Benefits.

Only a comparatively few of the strikers could be employed by the contractors agreeing to pay 70 cents, and these men are now enjoying the only benefits of the strike so far, while the other men are out of work.

Probably the contractors who had their choice of men at 70 cents would be willing to continue paying this rate to their present employees in view of their extra experience and ability, but even if they had to step down to a lower figure obtained by the whole union, they would not have much ground for complaint, stated one of the strikers still out.

Expect Organizer.

Organizer Ryan, of the International Union of Hodcarriers and Building Laborers, his work being completed in Hamilton, was expected in London today. Organizers from bricklayers' and carpenters' international are also expected here, and new developments, whether towards a settlement of the existing strike, or further walkouts, are likely to occur within a few days.

With the Hamilton hodcarrier accepting 65 cents an hour, there is small prospect of the local men obtaining 70 cents, but they are encouraged by the Hamilton settlement, taking the view that it at least supports them in asking for more than 55 cents an hour, which is the best offer yet made by the Builders' Exchange.

SHERIFF WANTS MOTOR LAUNCH TO PATROL RIVER

WINDSOR, July 21.—Sheriff Irving Scoffin of Wayne county, Mich., declared his intention of asking for an appropriation to cover the purchase of a motor boat to patrol the Detroit River to prevent the smuggling of liquor, which is proceeding on a wide scale. There are at least 25 points along the river front where whiskey is being landed nightly, he declares, and under present conditions it is practically impossible to stop the traffic. Much of the liquor is being brought across by men and delivered to chauffeurs, who are not professional bootleggers, Sheriff Coffin declares.

WILL OBTAIN DATA ON COLLEGIATE PLANS

Investigation of collegiate accommodation in other Canadian and American cities likely will be commenced by the special committee of the board of education before August. As the trip will require the members to be away from the city for some days an effort is being made to arrange it so that it will take place on Civic Holiday, and the committee members be away from their businesses for as short a time as possible.

Chairman Hayman will head the committee, and will be accompanied by Principal W. H. T. Mooney and Architect L. E. Carrothers. Trustees Coleridge, Smith and Dr. Claude Brown likely will be the other members.

TEMPORARILY REFUSED RIGHT TO PRACTICE

License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside has received a letter from the Ontario Board of License Commissioners stating that the Ontario Council of Physicians and Surgeons has withdrawn the right of Dr. A. R. Pingel to practice medicine in the province for three months, expiring September 30. The council's action was a result of a conviction registered against Dr. Pingel some time ago in police court here for issuing too many liquor prescriptions, and a heavy fine was imposed by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon. All liquor dispensaries in the province have been notified of the council's action.

Lower School Results For Normal Entrance

The candidates named below, under counties, have passed the lower school examination for entrance into the Normal Schools.

In addition to the above they require to pass the middle school examination before they can be admitted to the course for a second class certificate, and the upper school examination before they can be admitted to the course for a first class certificate at the Normal Schools. Those who have already passed either of the foregoing examinations are reminded that the Normal Schools open on Tuesday, September 14, at 9 a.m., and that application therefore must be made to the deputy minister of education not later than Friday, August 27. Application should be made at an early date. If applicants will state clearly on the forms when and where they passed the lower, middle or upper school examinations, as the case may be, they need not delay mailing such applications on account of not having received their certificates.

The answer papers of each candidate whose marks would appear to justify an appeal have been already re-read by the appeal examiners. Where such a candidate has still failed, the statement of marks will be stamped as re-read and no further appeal will be allowed. In all other cases of failure appeals will not be refused if made before September 1, and accompanied by the fee of $2. If made after September 1 the fee is $5.

Certificates and statements of the marks obtained by unsuccessful candidates are in the course of preparation, and will be mailed in due course to the principals, to whom all candidates are referred for further information.

The total number of successful candidates at the lower school examination this year is 3,536, compared with 2,514 in 1919, and 1,492 in 1918, an increase of 842 over 1919, and 1,864 over 1918.

This year 66.9 per cent of those who wrote were successful, as against 56.8 per cent in 1919, and 44.3 per cent in 1918.

CHARGED WITH HAVING DRUGS UNLAWFULLY

A young man who resides in West London appeared in police court today charged with having drugs unlawfully in his possession. He declared that he obtained them on a doctor's prescription as a result of wounds received in the trenches. He was remanded for one week, during which time the jail physician will be required to ascertain if drugs are essential to him.

Two drunks were assessed $10 and costs each on pleading guilty to a charge of flirting with Bacchus.

"It is too bad that you workingmen go and get drunk and have to pay $13.50," commented the court in recording the penalty.

Breaches of the motor vehicle act cost F. J. White, Walter Wilkie, C. H. Trebilcock, R. Pearce, A. Wells and William Lewis a five spot and costs each, while Fred Joy was forced to dig down for a double dose of the same medicine on two charges. Contributions of $2 each were received from John Lismore and Berry Lawton because they broke city bylaws and were caught.

LIGGETTS PURCHASE TAYLOR DRUG STORES

London's largest chain of drug stores, owned by the Taylor Drug Company, has been sold to Louis K. Liggett, Limited. The Liggett Company recently purchased the chain of drug stores in England, owned by the Boots' Chemists. The Rexall drug stores through America and Canada are also owned by this firm.

The selling of the six Taylor drug stores of London by Fred A. Taylor, is the biggest deal put through by an individual druggist in Canada. Negotiations have been under way for the past three months and have just been completed. The Liggett Company will take over the Taylor drug stores in the course of the next two weeks, and it is understood that Mr. Taylor will for some time at least retain the management.

NILESTOWN GARDEN PARTY.

Nilestown, July 22.—More than 300 people from all over the district attended the annual garden party of the Nilestown Methodist Church, held last evening on the lawn of John Knott. A baseball game between Derwent and Nilestown resulted in a win for the visitors by the score of 13 to 0.

CANE BORER DAMAGING MANY BERRY BUSHES

The local office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture issued the following bulletin today:

"If the tips of the young shoots of raspberry and blackberry are found withered and dying they have probably been girdled by the cane-borer. The beetles appear early in the summer, and the females girdle the young tips by cutting two rings around the shoot about an inch apart, causing the tip to wither and drop. Between these tips will be found a small dark spot, where the female has inserted an egg in the cane. In a few days this hatches into a grub, which burrows downward through the pith of the stem, and by fall has bored to the base of the cane, where it hibernates. Thus the shoots of one season which become the fruit-bearing canes of the following, are killed. The most effective means of control is as follows: As soon as the tips are seen to droop they should be cut off below the point girdled, and burned. When the entire canes die from the effects of being tunneled, they should be cut in late summer before the larvae have gone to the base to hibernate. When such measures are practiced the pest may be effectively controlled."

ENTRANCE INTO THE MODEL SCHOOLS, 1920.

The candidates named below have passed the examination for entrance into the model schools. They are reminded that the autumn model schools at Clinton, Cornwall, Kingston, Madoc, Orillia, Port Arthur and Renfrew will open on Monday, the 16th of August next, and those who wish to attend in order to qualify for limited third-class certificates should make application at once to the deputy minister of education, on a form to be supplied by him. Applications will not be accepted from those who will not be 18 years of age on or before December 31, 1920. Candidates for admission to the Port Arthur Model School may ascertain from the deputy minister of education the terms on which they may be admitted.

The results of the English-French model entrance examination will be announced later.

CARADOC FARMER DELIBERATELY HANGS HIMSELF IN BARN

Timothy Howe's Dead Body Is Found by His Nephew.

SUFFERED WITH INSOMNIA

Failure To Answer Dinner Bell Caused Search To Be Made.

MT. BRYDGES, July 21.—T. Howe, lot 12, concession 1, Caradoc Township, was found hanging in his barn shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon by his nephew, Frank Howe, Jun., and some neighbors, who had been called by his wife following his non-appearance in response to the dinner bell.

Mr. Howe, who had suffered from insomnia for several months, and had as a result been somewhat moody at times, appeared to be in good health when he got up yesterday, and had been working during the morning in his hayfield. He returned to the barn about 11 o'clock and put his horse in, but did not apparently feed it. After a brief visit to the house he returned to the barn, and nothing more was seen of him until his dead body was found by his nephew.

Acted Deliberately.

Coroner Dr. W. H. Woods of St. Marys was called and an examination showed that the deceased had gone about his suicide in a most deliberate manner. He had first tied a rope around the rung of a ladder and, after throwing the loose end over a beam, had tied a running noose in it, which he placed around his neck. He had then apparently climbed the ladder and jumped off. The rope was a light one, and had slipped somewhat, for deceased's feet were resting on some litter on the floor, causing the knees to bend slightly. Death, however, had resulted from a broken neck, caused when Howe had jumped off the ladder. Dr. Woods decided that under the circumstances an inquest was unnecessary.

Deceased is survived by his wife and one son in the West.

Alkali in Soap Bad for the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

PORT STANLEY, July 21.—The real estate deals at the lakeside during the past two months include many building lots, mostly purchased by Londoners. Residential property on the beaches has increased fourfold in price since the pre-war period.

Among the transfers are the following: Manuel Payne to Robert W. McQueen, St. Thomas, a lot on Willow Beach; John Michell to Arthur R. Hurd, London, a lot on Erie Rest; Edgar J. Sanders to Henry Pocock, London, a house on Grimmond Beach; W. S. Corbin, London, to George M. Davey, St. Thomas, a residence on Orchard Beach; John Mitchell to J. A. Eadie, London, a lot on Erie Rest; the London and Western Trust Company to James A. Thomas, London, property on Orchard Beach; Manuel Payne to George Stewart, St. Thomas, a lot on Willow Beach; Frank L. Crummer to Norah Hunt, London, property on Willow Beach; John Mitchell to Maude A. Taylor, a lot on Erie Rest; Rebecca Goodhue to Alex. McDonald, property in the village; Erie Amusement Company to Mrs. Agnes R. Arnum, St. Thomas, a lot on Invererie Heights; W. E. Leonard to Annie and Maggie Quaid, London, residence on Hill Crest; John Mitchell to Mrs. Wm. R. Lackie, a lot on Erie Rest.

INDUSTRIAL COUNCIL SETTLES WALKOUT

HAMILTON, July 21.—The newly-formed industrial council has succeeded in settling the strike of 600 building laborers who have been demanding 65 cents an hour, and who returned to work on the understanding that their demand would be submitted to arbitration.

BLIMP TUMBLES INTO SEA WITH RENTS IN BAG

Commander Forces Airship Into Water To Make Landing Easy.

NAVAL AIR STATION, ROCKAWAY, N. Y., July 21.—(Associated Press.)—Disaster overtook the naval blimp dirigible C-10 today just after she had flashed out a radio telephone report that the racing yachts, Shamrock IV. and Resolute, were off on their third race.

The great gas bag, with eight men in her car, including three reporters, was hovering 1,000 feet above Ambrose Lightship. Thirty minutes later she was a wreck on Barren Island in Jamaica Bay, ten miles away. She had fallen into the bay like a shot bird after a frantic race shoreward, with the nose of her envelope collapsing as hydrogen gas escaped from rents in the top of the bag.

In the battle to reach the landing field after he discovered the airship's plight, Lieut. A. W. Evans, her commander, had forced her 3,000 feet into the air by the sheer power of her twin engines. Ballast and all movable equipment had gone overboard, but as the crippled monster swept over the landing field with her head sagging, he dared not attempt to bring her down ashore. He started her final plunge, dragged down by the weight of the men and the car.

Shifting his course toward Jamaica Bay, beyond, Evans drove the balloon, with elevators slanting clear back to lift her. Farther and farther down came the ship's head, and less than two miles away she dove into the water nose first, and a few minutes later floated gently ashore, where her passengers and crew climbed out, wet, but without a scratch.

Heals Inflamed Nostrils, Stops Catarrhal Discharge, Cures Colds Quickly

Poor remedies have given Catarrh the reputation of being incurable. But it is curable, easily and quickly, if the right method is employed. Snuffing a powder or ointment up the nose won't cure Catarrh, neither will tablets, douching; or stomach medicines cure. These treatments fail because they only affect local condition, they do not remove the cause, which is germ life established in the lungs, bronchial tubes, and nasal passages. Ordinary remedies do not reach these remote parts, but Catarrhozone does, for it is breathed through the inhaler into every air cell in the lungs, into every air passage in the head and throat. No matter where the Catarrh is Catarrhozone will reach it. It kills the germs, heals sore spots, clears the nose and throat instantly. Universally used; pleasant and clean; guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

Don't be an object of aversion to everyone you meet—get Catarrhozone today and use it regularly; it will cure your Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Trouble, spitting and gagging. Large size lasts two months; price $1.00; smaller size, 50 cents; sample size, 25 cents; at all dealers.

AWARD SETS PRINTERS' MINIMUM OF $35

OTTAWA, July 21.—By the terms of the award handed in to the minister of labor this afternoon by the board of conciliation, which sat to adjudicate the wage dispute between the master printers and their employees, members of the job printers' union in Ottawa, the latter will in future receive a minimum salary of $35 per week, in place of $31, as formerly provided for in their agreement, which does not expire until July of next year.

The increase is to be considered in the nature of a bonus.

Whether or not the award will prove acceptable will be decided at meetings of the journeymen printers on Saturday night, and of the master printers tomorrow morning.

EXPECT FORTY MILLIONS FROM INCOME TAXES

OTTAWA, July 21.—Revenue from income taxation this year is expected to total forty million dollars. While this is not in excess of last year it is attributable to the fact that the measure of excess profits is not nearly as large now as was the case in 191?, when the collection were based on the last year of the war.

An amendment made to the act this year simplifies the prosecution of defaulters, and it was announced today that there will be extensive prosecutions of delinquents. Failure to make a return and the subsequent registration of a notice to the party so failing is sufficient proof under the new act to secure conviction.

TWO FIREMEN KILLED WHEN LADDER BREAKS

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Two firemen lost their lives and ten others were injured today in a fire that destroyed a five-story building occupied by Fritz and LaRue, Inc., rug and carpet dealers.

A long extension ladder down which two men were being brought who had been trapped on an upper floor broke as the firemen were descending, hurling most of them to the ground.

GIVEN THREE MONTHS.

OTTAWA, July 21.—Murdoch Murroe, who cut a telephone wire in the jailer's office and pulled an empty gun on Warden Philip Reynolds, was sentenced to three months.

RUSSIA REFUSES TO CEASE WAR AGAINST POLES

Soviet Dispatch Charges England With Double-Dealing On Issue.

LONDON, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The refusal of the Russian Soviet Government to cease war against Poland at the behest of Great Britain is contained in a Moscow wireless dispatch received here today. The refusal also constitutes an appeal to the soviet peasants in Russia and Ukraine. It is signed by Lenine, Trotzky, Tchitcherin and Kurski, and says:

"The British Government addressed a proposal to us July 11 to cease war against Poland and begin peace negotiations with Poland and other border states, promising that the Polish troops, in case of an armistice being concluded, would retreat to a frontier marked last year by the peace conference.

"In the same note it was proposed that General Wrengel and his Crimean shelter should not be touched.

"To all this we, the council of the people's commissaries, answered by refusal.

Stop Supplies.

"If England had not desired war she would have stopped supplying Poland with munitions and money. England is carrying on negotiations with us as a concession to her working masses. Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, places it upon the League of Nations in whose name he is making the proposal, but Poland enters into the composition of this league—Poland, who commenced a robber war against us.

"All the members of the league, especially France, England and the United States, are bound hand in hand in this provocatory war of Poland against Russia and the Ukraine.

No Change In Policy.

"Our refusal of hostile mediation does not mean that we have altered our policy towards Poland. Moscow more than once has proposed peace to Warsaw, and if she will now appeal to us directly relations will be established between Russia and Poland sooner, better and more substantially in this way."

The communication says the real frontiers which the Soviet Government will establish with representatives of the Polish people will be east of the frontier marked out "by the imperialists in London and Paris" who "are equally inimical and hostile to the workers of Poland and Russia."

"If the Polish people," the communication declares, "desires to receive an honest peace and an honest frontier and find in the person of Russia a brotherly neighbor it is necessary that the Polish people itself should seek it."

GERMANY NEUTRAL.

BERLIN, July 21.—An official announcement was posted today declaring Germany's complete neutrality in the situation arising from the hostilities in progress between Russian and Poland. The statement was issued by President Ebert.

FIRE DEPT. HEADS TO JOIN CONVENTION

TORONTO, July 21.—More than 1,200 of the executive heads of fire departments have written to the local committee requesting a convention in this city next week for the annual convention of the International Association of Fire Chiefs of America, and it is expected that the attendance at the convention will be unusually large. The meetings will be held in the exhibition buildings, and there will be an exhibit of fire fighting appliances in connection with the convention.

Fire Chief Moran of Hartford, Conn., who is in this city at present, will have charge of the exhibits.

What Would You Have Said?

STUDY the Gillette Poster on the boards. What do you think of the wording, "A Handle for Every Hand"? Do you think we have taken too much for granted that everybody knows that the Gillette Safety Razor will give a cleaner and more comfortable shave in the least time? That each set at $5.00 includes 12 double-edged super-keen blades?

With the space at your disposal on this poster, would you have chosen the message we adopted, or would you have emphasized the NO STROPPING—NO HONING feature, or the fact that there are 20,000,000 Gillette users, or the saving of ten minutes each day by Gillette owners?

If you do not see the poster itself, you will find a reproduction of it in colours in dealers' windows, together with a display of some of the most popular Gillette sets.

Go into such a store and you will find Gillette Safety Razors in styles to suit every man who shaves—literally "A Handle for Every Hand"—among them the Gillette exactly suited to your hand! Take it!

IF BRITISH RULE CEASED.

The Chicago Tribune reads a lesson to the people of the United States on the foolishness of wasting sentimental sympathy over the so-called "popular" movements in Egypt and India. There are probably a good many people across the border who have been led to the conclusion, by perusal of a certain class of journals, that Egypt and India are both about to declare for independence, and that they should be given every kind of encouragement in their efforts to throw off the "British yoke." The Tribune very wisely points out what are the facts of the matter:

"If British colonial rule were thrown off in Egypt or India, what would take its place? Something glorious called Freedom, Independence, Equality, the Rule of the People? By no means. Neither the masses of India nor those of Egypt are ready for self-government. As little as the masses of Russian people, or if possible less. To estimate what would actually happen, common sense will revert to the period before the British administrator came to India and Egypt. In place of him will be native rulers, ruling as native rulers ruled in the old days; without check because the swarming millions have had no experience in self-government, and through countless ages have shown no capacity for evolving institutions of self-rule. Whatever sentimentalists may assert about British exploitation of India and Egypt, and much of it is doubtless true, the British brought higher ideals of responsibility, of humanity, of order, of law, of public health, than the native ruler conceived."

The Tribune adds that if by any mischance British rule should cease in India or Egypt, the present state of Mexico or Russia would be Elysium by contrast. It does not need much argument to make that conclusive. It is a rather curious situation that in the present feverish state of the world the people who talk of aiding the "masses" at home or abroad are unable to carry their thoughts far enough to see that it is the "masses" more than anybody else who will suffer by their reforms. The "masses" might well cry "Save us from our alleged friends."

WINNIPEG'S EXPERIMENT.

Apart from its revelation of the state of political feeling in the West, the recent Manitoba election has attracted widespread attention because of the fact that the system of proportional representation was employed in Winnipeg. The popularity of this plan has been increasing steadily, and the interest in it in London is more general than imagined. Members of the city's governing bodies have made preliminary studies of it and literature explaining the system has been issued from the city clerk's office.

Proportional representation was used only in Winnipeg, the contests in the remainder of the province being conducted under the old system. The whole city was grouped into one constituency and ten seats in the Legislature were allotted it. Forty-one candidates were nominated, ten Liberals, ten Conservatives, ten Labor and eleven Independents.

The presence of many names on a ballot might be expected to perplex the elector, but a Londoner who has had an opportunity to examine the ballots states that this condition was averted largely by the candidates representing various groups having their names printed in certain colors; the Liberals in red, the Conservatives in Blue; Labor in green, and Independents in black.

Under proportional representation the voter has only one vote, but that vote is transferable When marking the ballot the voter places the figure "1" opposite the name of the candidate he wishes to elect. This is called his first choice. He continues to place the numbers opposite the names of candidates he favors, the figure "2" against one; the figure "3" against another and so denoting his second and third choice.

When the ballots have been cast they are divided according to the first choices marked on them. In the Winnipeg elections this meant 41 separate bundles, comprising 47,427 votes.

The quota which each candidates had to receive to be elected was determined by dividing the number of votes cast by one more than the number of seats to be filled and adding one to the result, thus: 47,427 divided by 10 plus 1, equals 47,427 divided by 11, equals 4,311 plus 1—the quota 4,312. This meant that to secure election at this stage of the proceedings a candidate had to have at least 4,312 votes. Two candidates were elected on the first count, and a third candidate was elected on the second count. The fourth candidate was not elected until the 31st count. The fifth was elected on the 32nd count and the six and seventh on the 33rd count, and the remaining three on the 37th count.

"The final result demonstrates the fairness of proportional representation as a method of election," according to Canadian Finance, a journal published in Winnipeg, which gives an excellent review of the election. "The Labor vote represented a little more than 40 per cent of the total vote, and labor elected 40 per cent of the members. The Liberal vote represented nearly 40 per cent of the total vote, and the Liberals elected 40 per cent of the members. The Conservatives were supported by voters representing a little less than 20 per cent of the total vote and they elected 20 per cent of the members.

Proponents of the plain point out that under the present system it is possible for a minority of the voters to elect a majority of the governing body. For instance, supposing that London's municipal affairs were conducted on a party basis, and that approximately 1,000 votes were cast in each ward. Ward 1 might be solidly Liberal in sentiment and would return three Liberal aldermen. In the remaining wards the division of voters might be 40 per cent Liberal and sixty per cent Conservative. This would mean the return of nine Conservative aldermen.

Thus 2,200 Liberals would be represented by three aldermen, while 1,800 Conservatives would be represented by nine aldermen.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

On the first of July of this year Stan V. Henkels, the Philadelphia auctioneer of literary property, sold under the hammer the collection of autographs formed during a lifetime by Sir Stephen Coleridge. With good taste Mr. Henkels printed as a foreword to the catalogue of the manuscripts the letter written by the English knight in sending his treasures to America. It is, in part, as follows:

"The war and the income tax in this country force me to consider selling some of my valuable autographs. All the world knows that we have, without much complaining, shouldered the main burden of the greatest and noblest fight ever waged in history, and have, as a nation, to face eight thousand million pounds of debt; and it is further an indisputable fact that we are not allowing the poor to suffer, and that we of the more well-to-do classes are taking up this vast burden. To do that, most of us must make sacrifices, and there is an end of the matter. I have never yet sold anything of the kind, but, with half my income taken in taxes, and everything at very high prices, I am reluctantly compelled to consider the matter, and send them to you. And so I bid farewell to these lifelong companions with a heavy heart, but with the consolatory reflection that not my own profligacy but the necessary consequences of a just and glorious war waged in a noble and grave spirit to a splendid victory, have forced upon me the sad separation."

A letter of that kind needs no comment. Men like Sir Stephen Coleridge are the men who make England supreme among the nations.

FERNS.

"Grew a little fern leaf green and slender,
Veining delicate and fibres tender;
Waving when the wind crept down so low;
Rushes tall and moss and grass grew 'round it,
Playful little sunbeams darted in and found it,
Drops of dew stole in by night and crowned it."

Thoreau writes: "Nature made ferns for pure leaves, to show what she could do in that line," and to many there is greater fascination about the discovery of a clump of wood ferns than a cluster of wild flowers. Not always in the shadows do they beckon. Often from sunny sides of railroad embankments wind-stirred fronds of ferns, "Nature's lacework," wave gay greeting as the train speeds by, or are set for glad discovery in old spots that once knew the sheltering of rail-fence corners. In certain rocky parts of the country great boulders are completely covered with the animated little leaves of a fern, so alluring in a wind-dance, that Thoreau said: "My thoughts are with the Polypody a long time after my body has passed their green plumes on great rocks." Wherever their haunts, ferns are part of the perfect days of summer, when they are at their loveliest.

"I stooped and picked a leaf of fern,
And recollected I might learn
From books how many myriad sorts
Of fern exist, to trust reports,
Each as distinct and beautiful
As this, the very first I cull.
Think, from the first leaf to the last!
Conceive, then, earth's resources! Vast,
Exhaustless beauty, endless change!"

were the thoughts of Robert Browning. Perhaps the very same thoughts dominate the yearning search of some in London who have made a very beautiful hobby of collecting Canadian ferns with such success as to possess garden nooks and rockeries of dozens of different varieties.

If ferns have not already been given a cool, shady nook in our gardens, it is a time to seek them out in the dim woods-places and bring them as intact as possible to conditions as nearly perfect as we can make them. One of the most difficult to secure is the maiden-hair. The fragile brown stems are broken almost with a touch, and yet of all ferns they are perhaps the most beautiful, as "sunbeams turn to gold their delicate hair," and breezes play with their silken stems. Results of beauty and interest may be achieved by the enthusiast by the grouping in corners or rockeries of different fern growths, and these may be enhanced by the use of moss as a setting, or by baskets and boxes of tree bark for rustic effects with veranda ferns.

How everyone loves a bit of the woods! Perhaps at heart we are all gypsies, and for this reason recognize that "the gospel of moderation is everywhere in order . . . that none of us own the wild things growing, and that nobody can 'stake a claim,' yet the smallest soul among us should feel conscience-stricken for spoiling, even for a laudable purpose, gems of art which Nature has taken years to perfect." And thus the ferns of our woods are safe from ruthless destruction, though we carefully select a few of them for the bringing of the wildwood to our own doors. How the wonder of the uncurling, furry croziers promise the coming of spring, and how the perfect, broad, sensitive fronds in the garden whisper of cool woods-depths in the still heat of summer, and for winter wanderings there is given us the Christmas fern, which lives green and beautiful under the snow.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The new "National" Government is so national that over two million people of one race are unrepresented in it to the extent of even a single member.

It is pretty nearly time for some of the old time Tories to begin shouting "Meighen and British Connection." The cry of patriotism has long been one of the refuges of the Tories in this country.

The new "National Liberal and Conservative Party" is having a hard time of it proving that it is something new. Its backers do not like the charge that it is just the "old gang" going around in a new disguise, because they realize that the country has a settlement yet to make with the Government that has been in power at Ottawa for the last nine years, and that this settlement has not been cancelled by a mere change of name.

A Detective Story by J. S. Fletcher.

"A thousand!" responded Mr. Criedir with great geniality.

"Very well. Did Marbury say he'd call on Cardlestone?"

"He did. Said he'd call as soon as he could—that day."

"Have you told Cardlestone what you've just told me?"

"I have. But not until an hour ago—on my way back from your office, in fact. I met him in Fleet street and told him."

"Had he received a call from Marbury?"

"No; never heard of or seen the man. At least, never heard of him until he heard of the murder. He told me he and his friend, Mr. Elphick another, philatelist, went to see the body, wondering if they could recognize it as any man they'd ever known, but they couldn't."

"I know they did," said Spargo. "I saw 'em at the mortuary. Um! Well, one more question. When Marbury left you, did he put those stamps in his box again, as before?"

"No," replied Mr. Criedir. "He put them in his right-hand breast pocket, and he locked up his old box and went off swinging it in his left hand."

Spargo went away down Fleet street, seeing nobody. He muttered to himself, and he was still muttering when he got into his room at the office. And what he muttered was the same thing, repeated over and over again:

Six hours—six hours—six hours. Those six hours!"

Next morning the Watchman came out with four leaded columns of up-to-date news about the Marbury case, and right across the top of the four ran a heavy double line of great capitals, black and staring:

"Who saw John Marbury between 3:15 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. on the day preceding the murder?"

CHAPTER X.
The Leather Box.

Whether Spargo was sanguine enough to expect that his staring headline would bring him information of the sort he wanted was a secret which he kept to himself. That a good many thousands of human beings must have set eyes on John Marbury between the hours which Spargo set forth in that headline was certain: the problem was, What particular owner or owners of a pair or many pairs of those eyes would remember him? Why should they remember him? Walters and his wife had reason to remember him; Criedir had reason to remember him; so had Myerst; so had William Webster. But between a quarter past three, when he left the London and Universal Safe Deposit, and a quarter past nine, when he sat down by Webster's side in the lobby of the House of Commons nobody, seemed to have any recollection of him except Mr. Fiskie, the hatter, and he only remembered him faintly, and because Marbury had bought a fashionable cloth cap at his shop. At any rate by noon of that day nobody had come forward with any recollection of him. He must have gone west from seeing Myerst, because he bought his cap at Fiskie's; he must eventually have gone southwest, because he turned up at Westminster. But where else did he go? What did he do? To whom did he speak? No answer came to these questions.

"That shows," observed young Mr. Ronald Breton, lazing an hour away at Spargo's room at the Watchman at that particular hour which is neither noon nor afternoon, wherein even busy men do nothing, "that shows how a chap can go about London as if he were merely an ant that had strayed into another ant heap than his own. Nobody notices."

"You'd better go and read up a little elementary entomology, Breton," said Spargo. "I don't know much about it myself, but I've a yetty good idea that when an ant walks into the highways and byways of a colony to which he doesn't belong he doesn't survive his intrusion by many seconds."

"Well, you know what I mean," said Breton. "London's an ant heap, isn't it? One human ant more or less doesn't count. This man Marbury must have gone about a pretty tidy lot during those six hours. He'd ride on a bus—almost certain. He'd get into a taxicab—I think that's much more certain, because it would be a novelty to him. He'd want some tea—anyway, he'd be sure to want a drink, and he'd turn in somewhere to get one or the other. He'd buy things in shops—these colonials always do. He'd go somewhere to get his dinner. He'd—but what's the use of enumeration in this case?"

"A mere piling up of platitudes," answered Spargo.

"What I mean is," continued Breton, "that piles of people must have seen him, and yet it's now hours and hours since your paper came out this morning, and nobody's come forward to tell anything.

"And when you come to think of it, why should they? Who'd remember an ordinary man in a grey tweed suit?"

"An ordinary man in a grey tweed suit," repeated Spargo. Good line! You haven't any copyright in it, remember. It would make a good cross-heading."

Breton laughed. "You're a queer chap, Spargo," he said. "Seriously, do you think you're getting anything?"

"I'm getting nearer something with everything that's done," Spargo answered. "You can't start on a business like this without evolving something out of it, you know."

"Well," said Breton, "to me there's not so much mystery in it. Mr. Aylmore's explained the reason why my address was found on the body; Criedir the stamp man has explained——"

Spargo suddenly looked up. "What?" he said, sharply.

"Why, the reason of Marbury's being found where he was found," replied Breton. "Of course, I see it all! Marbury was mooning around Fleet street; he slipped into Middle Temple lane, late as it was, just to see where old Cardlestone hangs out, and he was set upon and done for. The thing's plain to me. The only thing now is to find who did it."

"Yes, that's it," agreed Spargo. "That's it." He turned over the leaves of the diary which lay upon his desk. "By the bye," he said, looking up with some interest, "the adjourned inquest is at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Are you going?"

"I shall certainly go," answered Breton. "What's more, I'm going to take Miss Aylmore and her sister. As the gruesome details were over at the first sitting, and as there'll be nothing but this new evidence, and as they've never been in a coroner's court——"

"Mr. Aylmore will be the principal witness tomorrow," interrupted Spargo. "I suppose he'll be able to tell a lot more than he told me."

Breton shrugged his shoulders.

"I don't see that there's much more to tell," he said. "But," he added, with a sly laugh, "I suppose you want some more good copy, eh?"

Spargo glanced at his watch, rose, and picked up his hat. "I'll tell you what I want," he said. "I want to know who John Marbury was. That would make good copy. Who he was—twenty—twenty-five—forty years ago. Eh?"

"And you think Mr. Aylmore can tell?" asked Breton.

"Mr. Aylmore," answered Spargo, as they walked toward the door, "is the only person I have met so far who has admitted that he knew John Marbury in the past. But he didn't tell me much. Perhaps he'll tell the coroner and his jury more. Now I'm off, Breton. I've an appointment."

And leaving Breton to find his own way out, Spargo hurried away, jumped into a taxicab and speeded to the London and Universal Safe Deposit. At the corner of its building he found Rathbury, awaiting him.

"Well," said Spargo, as he sprang out, "how is it?"

"It's all right," answered Rathbury. "You can be present; I got the necessary permission. As there are no relatives known there'll only be one or two officials and you and safe deposit people and myself. Come on—it's about time."

"It sounds," observed Spargo, "like an exhumation."

Rathbury laughed. "Well, we're certainly going to dig up a dead man's secrets," he said. "At least, we may be going to do so. In my opinion, Mr. Spargo, we'll find some clue in this leather box."

To Be Continued.

If you think you dare not, you don't
If you'd like to win, but think you can't
It's almost a cinch you won't.
If you think you'll lose, you're lost.
For out in the world you find
Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in the state of mind.

Full many a race is lost
Ere ever a step in run;
And many a coward falls
Ere ever his work's begun.
Think big, and your deeds will grow;
Think small, and you'll fall behind;
Think that you can, and you will,
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise,
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.
Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man,
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.

THE CANNY SCOT.

[Scottish Humor—Ingram.]

An old shoemaker in Glasgow was sitting by the bedside of his wife, who was dying. She took him by the hand. "Weel, John, we're gaun to part. I hae been a gude wife to you, John." "Oh, just middling, just middling, Jenny," said John, not disposed to commit himself. "John," says she, "ye maun promise to bury me in the auld kirkyard at Stra'von, beside my mither. I couldna rest in peace among unco folk, in the dirt and smoke o' Glasgow." "Weel, weel, Jenny, my woman," said John, soothingly, "we'll just pit you in the Gorbals first, and gin ye dinna lie quiet, we'll try you syne in Stra'von."

THE POET AND HIS SONG.

[Paul Laurence Dunbar.]

A song is but a little thing,
And yet what joy it is to sing;
In hours of toil it gives me zest
And when at eve I long for rest,
When cows come home along the bars,
And in the fold I hear the bell,
As night, the shepherd, herds the stars,
I sing my song, and all is well.

My days are never days of ease:
I till my ground and prune my trees,
When ripened gold is all the plain,
I put my sickle in the grain.
I labor hard, and toil and sweat,
While others dream within the dell;
But even while my brow is wet,
I sing my song, and all is well.

Sometimes the sun, unkindly hot,
My garden makes a desert spot;
Sometimes a blight upon the tree
Takes all my fruit away from me:
And then with throes of bitter pain
Rebellious passions rise and swell;
But—life is more than fruit or grain,
And so I sing, and all is well.

CHEERFUL WORDS FROM "DOC."

Rural Patient—Hardly expected to see you this soon again, doctor.

M. D.—Had to look at another patient in the neighborhood, so I thought I might as well kill two birds with one stone.

LOOK TO THIS DAY.

[From the Sanscrit.]

For it is life, the very life of life.
In its brief course lie all the verities and Realities of our existence;
The bliss of growth;
The glory of action;
The splendor of beauty;
For yesterday is but a dream.
And tomorrow is only a vision;
But today well lived makes every Yesterday a dream of happiness, and
Every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day!

DEFINED.

A teacher was reading to her class, when she came across the word "unaware." She asked if anyone knew the meaning.

One little girl timidly raised her hand and gave the following definition: "Unaware is what you put on first and take off last."

NOT IN THE UNION.

[W. W. Whitelock, in New York Sun and Herald.]

I met an ancient, grey-haired man,
A scythe upon his shoulder;
Than he no one I'd ever seen
Who weaker looked and older.

I stopped him and I said: "That thing
You carry like a sabre
Proclaims the workman, but do you
Belong to Union Labor?"

He looked at me and shook his head:
"My work is never ceasing;
The field I reap is very large,
And ever more increasing.

"No leisure I've for foolish strikes,
I ask no raise or bonus.
I never rest—my name is Time!
In Greece they called me Chronos."

ALL CONSUMING.

From a novel—"He eagerly swallowed every word she bestowed upon him; he fed upon her every look; he lived upon the smiles she gave him." An all-consuming passion—what!

CRETONNE TROPICS.

[Grace Hazard Conkling.]

The cretonne in your willow chair
Shows, through a zone of rosy air,
A tree of parrots, agate-eyed,
With blue-green crests and plumes of pride.
And beaks most formidably curved.
I hear the river, silver-nerved,
To their shrill protests make reply,
And the palm forest stir and sigh.

Curious, the spell that colors cast,
Binding the fancy cob-web fast,
And you would smile if you could know
I like your cretonne parrots so!
But I have seen them sail toward night
Superbly homeward, the last light
Lifting them like a purple sea,
Scorned and made use of arrogantly;
And I have heard them cry aloud
From out a tall palm's emerald cloud;
And I brought home a brilliant feather,
Lost like a flake of sunset weather.

Here in the north the sea is white.
And mother-of-pearl in morning light,
Quite lovely, but there is a glare
That daunts me,
Now the willow chair
Suggests a more perplexing sea.
Till my heart aches with memory,
And parrots dye the air around,
And I forget the pallid sound.

AT THE CONCERT.

Mrs. Newlyrich (arriving nervous and much upset)—Am I very late? How far along are they? What are they playing now?

Head Usher—The "Ninth Symphony."

Mrs. Newlyrich—Goodness; Am I as late as all that.

IN THE GARDEN OF THE LORD.

[Helen Keller in New-Church Messenger.]

The Word of God came unto me,
Sitting alone among the multitudes;
And my blind eyes were touched with light,
And there was laid upon my lips a flame of fire.

I laugh and shout, for life is good.
Though my feet are set in silent ways,
In merry mood I leave the crowd
To walk in my garden. Ever as I walk
I gather fruits and flowers in my hands,
And with joyful heart I bless the sun
That kindles all the place with radiant life.
I run with playful winds that blow the scent
Of rose and jessamine in eddying whirls.

At last I came where tall lilies grow,
Lifting their faces like white saints to God,
While the lilies pray, I kneel upon the ground;
I have strayed into the holy temple of the Lord.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST.

A young and enthusiastic golfer at a dinner party started to enumerate to his partner the details of a golf match that he had been playing that day. It was not until dessert was brought in that he suddenly bethought himself that he had been talking all the time; indeed, the young lady at his side had not said a single word during the progress of the meal. "I am afraid I have been boring you with this talk," he said in half apology. "Oh, no—not at all!" was the polite response. "Only, what is golf?"

THE RINGIN' OF THE MONEY.

[Frank L. Stanton.]

Honey, li'l' honey—
I talkin' ter you straight.
Hit's de ringin' er de money
Brings de people ter de gate!

Mind it, soon or late—
Hear de word I state;
Hit's de ringin' er de money
Brings de people ter de gate!

Honey, li'l' honey—
Don't you find it out too late;
Dar's mo' in life dan money,
But—de money swings de gate.

Mind it, soon or late—
Hear de word I state:
Yo' love is mo' dan money,
When love swings de gate!

REASONS.

Disgusted Professor—What did you come to college for, anyway? You are not studying.

Bobby Rahrah—Well, mother says it's to fit me for the presidency; Uncle Jim, to sow my wild oats; sister Helen, to get a chum for her to marry; and dad, to bankrupt the family.

MOONSET.

[E. Pauline Johnson.]

Idles the night wind through the dreaming firs,
That waking murmur low,
As some lost melody returning stirs
The love of long ago;
And through the far, cool distance, zephyr fanned.
The moon is sinking into shadow-land,

The troubled night-bird, calling plaintively,
Wanders on restless wing;
The cedars, chanting vespers to the sea
Await its answering.
That comes in wash of waves along the strand,
The while the moon slips into shadow-land.

O! soft responsive voices of the night
I join your minstrelsy,
And call across the fading sliver light
As something calls to me;
I may not all your meaning understand,
But I have touched your soul in shadow-land.

THE BURNING QUESTION.

Spiritualist (in hushed voice): "The medium is now in direct communication with the unknown. Does anyone wish to ask a question?"

A voice: "Tell us where there is an apartment for rent."

A GRAVE IN ONTARIO.

[G. S. B., in New York Tribune.]

The solemn twilight of the northern day
O'er that far water drew its pagan spell;
Somewhere a white-throat sparrow mourned, then fell
Asleep. Hard by a pious Recollet,
With locks grown greyer than his cowl of grey,
A cross had reared—a symbol that should tell
How here an Indian chieftain rested well
Who in the Christians' faith had passed away.
It may be that, arrayed in spotless white,
That chieftain harps before a golden throne
And chants a psalm the endless ages through.
It may be so—yet still, I think, despite
That cross, he stalks his quarry or by lone
Unfathomed lakes drives still his light canoe.

False Claims.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

False claims may kill, but false claims can never restore your child.

For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been aiding in the reduction of the deaths among infants as Mothers have become more and more acquainted with it. Always keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good — that it can't do any harm — and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is inclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

GERMS HAVE AFFINITIES.

Why do certain individuals suffer the lifelong handicap of valvular heart disease? And why do most of these subjects of valvular heart disease maintain fairly good health and efficiency throughout a long life and eventually succumb to some disease in no way related to the valvular or heart lesion?

The reason for the valvular disease in the beginning is, probably in more than two-thirds of the cases, neglected decayed teeth.

Decayed teeth, particularly the back teeth, are one of the common, if not the most common cause of infected tonsils. The molar teeth are practically in contact with the tonsils when the mouth is closed. The tonsils are physiologically a germ filter equipment. It is easy for the germs which produce decay of the teeth to be conveyed — mind, I do not say the germs travel of their own effort: germs never travel, they must be carried by something or someone—from the cavity in a back tooth or from the infected gum around the back teeth to the tonsil surface. Once placed upon the surface of even healthy tonsils, the germs may then be conveyed into the openings or crypts of the tonsils, lodge in pockets there undergo multiplication, and finally overcome the tonsil resistance and gain entrance to the lymph spaces or vessels surrounding the tonsils. If germs of the pus-producing type reach this situation, an abscess near or around the tonsil (peritonsillar abscess, commonly called quinsy) is one of the possible features. But most victims of tooth-to-tonsil-to-heart infection do not have frank attacks of quinsy and a few even deny having suffered attacks of tonsilitis or acute sore throat, notwithstanding the scars of these illnesses the surgeon finds present in their tonsils.

For the germs to be conveyed into the blood stream from the lymph channels is a matter of time and chance. In the blood stream, as in the lymph spaces, of course the disease-producing germs are destroyed by the billions, so long as the individual retains even moderate health. But what with our fondness for foul air, for overeating, for the lazy life, for congregating in crowded places, and for various other injurious things, it is no wonder that health becomes impaired and resistance diminished, so that one day enough of the germs survive to float down the blood stream to the heart. Here they are washed up against the heart lining and they cling there because they have acquired an affinity for the type of cells (endothelial) which line the heart. Germs acquire various affinities in the human body. This endothelial cell affinity is acquired in the lymph spaces, and it accounts for the frequency of or tendency toward attacks of so-called inflammatory rheumatism (acute multiple joint inflammation with fever) as a complication of or sequel to tonsil inflammation or quinsy. If a colony of the germs be swept ashore upon a heart valve (covered with the same endothelial cell membrane as that which lines the heart and blood vessels, they produce insidious inflammation (painless) with subsequent scar tissue, which distorts the valve. The patient then has valvular disease or leakage.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Stay, Stay, Lucile.

Please tell me if a girl aged 14, height 62 inches, weight 107 pounds, should wear a corset waist with stays in it?—LUCILE.

Ans.—Not unless she is in a hurry to lose her youthful health and graceful figure. A waist without any stays will serve the purpose of dressing—many women who dress fashionably wear corset waists without stays.

Threatened With Chorea.

My 12-year-old daughter is threatened with St. Vitus' dance. We live in the country and not convenient to see a doctor. Please give causes and remedy.—MRS. ELT.

Ans.—Chorea (St. Vitus' dance) probably is caused by infection of portions of the spinal cord and brain by a streptococcus entering the system through the tonsils. The disease frequently follows tonsilitis or quinsy or other illness in which the throat is infected or inflamed. Rest in bed is the best remedy. A few days in bed now and then will greatly decrease the nervous twitching and peevishness. In chorea the child should be spared all visits by the curious and all experiments by the unenlightened. Only charlatans claim to have a cure for this self-limited disease. The duration depends largely upon the intelligence used in the care of the child. There is a distinct tendency toward the development of endocarditis (inflammation of heart lining) in chorea. For this latter reason rest is advisable, excitement and annoyance must be avoided, and the physician should by all means regularly see the patient and examine the heart and direct treatment accordingly.

SHOWERED BRIDE.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season took place on Friday evening, July 16, in the form of a miscellaneous shower at the home of David Down, when friends numbering about 100, gathered at his place to spend a social evening with him on his return home with his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Down were the recipients of many beautiful presents. The evening was spent by the young people in games on the lawn, after which a lunch was served by the ladies.

NEED MORE ENTRIES FOR COMPETITION OF WOMEN GARDENERS

The committee of the Women's Gardening Association wishes to announce that prizes cannot be awarded in the competition, announced previously, of a larger number of entries is not received. Names of those intending to compete should be sent in at once to Mrs. Glass, 603 Queen's avenue, in order that the awards may be made. The prizes are: $10 for the best garden, $5 for the second, and $2.50 for the third. In any event, the prizes will not be given out until autumn, as competing gardens will have to be inspected several times, since the keeping of them in good condition is considered the essential in the making of the awards.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Even from a corner it is possible to spring up into heaven. Rise, therefore, and form thyself into a fashion worthy of God.—Seneca.

Corn Relish.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wrote you some time ago for a recipe of corn relish. You printed it, but not the one I wanted. The one that was in the paper last fall was 7 ears corn, 2 head cabbage, 3 green peppers, 2 bunches celery, sugar, mustard and vinegar, salt. Here are two recipes:

Lemon Pie—Two potatoes grated, rind two lemons, juice of 2 lemons, 2 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 2 teasponsful corn starch or hot water to thicken. Save whites for top.

French Cake—Four cups sugar, 4 eggs, ½ cup butter, ½ teaspoonful soda, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoonsful baking powder, 3 cups flour, flavoring.

The persons that try these recipes will have luck if they do the same as I do. I will live in hope to see these printed.

A RAILROAD WIFE, M. P.

Ans.—After much searching in last year's files I think, I have found the recipe you think has no substitute: Seven ears corn, cook and shave off cob; eight medium-sized onions, one large cabbage, two bunches of celery, three green peppers, one-half cup salt, two cups sugar, one-quarter pound mustard mixed in pint of cold vinegar. Cook all together 15 or 20 minutes.

Veranda Chats.

Congratulations, Mammy Dinah, on that precious baby. Any lady would much rather have a human baby to an animal one, no poodle dogs for this woman here, feed the dogs and then let them beat it to China. Miss Grey, when I see pageites asking "Where are all the old un's?" I wonder, do they know our friend H. J. was one of the first flu victims in Toronto, the poor man, Twenty-One, Aunt Nannie's Friend, Mere Man and a host of others will remember him.

Faded Lily, how are you and your little ones?

Hope you are quite well, Miss Grey. From DRIFTWOOD.

Ans.—Very glad to hear from you, Driftwood, but very sorry indeed to know of the death of H. J. The Boxites who did not know of this will regret thes ad news. Your request has been mailed to Shamrock.

Here I am to tell Peggy Mac I'm certainly not enjoying a vacation. No such luck, Peggy, I'm working like everything, and hardly have time to read the Mail-Box any more.

So Brookite wonders if a great misfortune will happen to her if she doesn't answer the chain of prayer. Forget it, Brookite. I got one of those chains of prayers sent to me while in public school, saying if I wrote it out for nine days and sent it to my friends I would have a great happiness on the ninth day, and if I failed a great misfortune would come to me. Well, I sent the nine out, and do you know what happened to me? Well, the teacher got huffy that day and gave me the worst walloping I ever got in my life. Enough said, eh?

Scottie is well and happy, and, mind you, he isn't Scotch at all, but Irish!

Well so long. Good luck to everyone.

URA KIDD.

Ans.—Thank you very much for the inclosed S. F. patterns, Ura Kidd.

Am inclosing poem for An Outsider. There is lots of truth in it, isn't there. I once heard a Roman Catholic say to an old Reform Presbyterian, "Why should we quarrel? We are both trying for the same end, but taking different ways about it."

MOTHER OF 6 HAZEL EYES.

Ans.—There was perhaps considerable truth in the poem, which certainly meant much work in copying. Have forwarded it to Outsider.

Here I come again, but never mind the roses will soon be over, and I'll not come again for another year. I saw in Friday's paper where Mr. Hopeful wanted "When the Curtain is of Night Are Pinned Back by the Stars." I have it, but that is not the title of it. Am inclosing it and hope it is the right one.

I see where Mrs. Hopeful wants my address. I am sending it to her in this letter. I would like to write a letter, but my hand is rather shaky; the rainy weather is hard on me. I saw in my last letter where it was printed 'soak liver, but not too much." I wrote it, "cook, but not too much," then put through food chopper, to a cup sweet milk, one egg, mix well and fry in any kind of fat. I often wonder if anyone writes to the Mail-Box that is any relation to either of the two first settlers in Goderich. One was my great-grandfather, Judge Reed. I have lost all trace of my mother's people. I never knew them anyway. Well, good luck to all.

TIRED.

Am inclosing stamped addressed envelope for Carnation's address, as she has song I asked for.

I received the S.-F. P. all O.K., and think it is fine. ONLY A ROSEBUD.

Ans.—Have forwarded address to you and your poem inclosed for Mrs. Hopeful.

Requests.

Miss Grey,—I am a stranger, but I have been reading several of your letters, but I never wrote to you myself. Will you be kind enough to send me the old songs that I am sending for.

1. "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."
2. "Roaming in the Gloamin."
3. "Tell Mother I'll Be There."

I guess that this will be all for this time. Hope to hear from you soon.

CYRIL.

Ans.—I am sorry these songs are not at present in the Mail-Box, but am sure some Boxite will welcome a stranger, Cyril, by filling your request. Thank you very much for the liberal inclosure, which I presume you meant for the children's hospital fund.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first visit to the Mail-Box, so I am going to say, "Hello, everybody!" Mother received the S. F. pattern O. K., and found it useful. Could you or any of the Boxites supply me with the words of "Jim Blacke, Your Wife Is Dying" and "Hello Central, Give Me Heaven"? I would like to correspond with someone 12 or 13 years old. I'm sending my address to Miss Grey. Please find inclosed a dime for C. H. F.

LADY BELLE.

Ans.—Thank you for hospital dime, Lady Belle. Copies of above verses are not in the Mail-Box at present, so I refer your request to readers.

I wonder if any one of our many readers can supply me with the poem which relates the tale of a countryman visiting London, carrying his guinea in his mouth for safety, in spite of which thieves stole it. Some lines run:

"And now," quoth he, "I will believe
What I have oft heard said.
That London thieves will steal the teeth
Out of a body's head."

I can let them have "The Crooked Bawbee" in return for it.

It is harmless.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

DRINK MORE WATER.

The human body, which is itself more than 75 per cent water, needs a good supply daily to make up for its losses through body wastes and evaporation.

The purity of our drinking water cannot be too carefully guarded. The ordinary filter is often more a danger than a protection because, it becomes clogged, and is then just an excellent breeding-place for disease germs. If there is any reason to doubt the purity of your water, boil it. If your water is very hard, you can soften it, even for drinking, by boiling it with a very little baking soda, not enough to taste.

Thirst is the expression of the instinct which demands more water, but we have smothered some of our best instincts by bad habits of eating, drinking and living, and can no longer depend upon our feeling of thirst, to warn us of the need our bodies have of water. Water regulates the body temperature, carries off waste products, dilutes the body fluids to render their action normal, stimulates the nervous system, enters all the body cells, and is essential to the life of every one.

In summer, owing to the rapid evaporation of moisture from the surface of the body, water is especially needed, to assist in the metabolism, or restoration of the body cells, broken down in the process of living.

It is estimated that at least five cups (half pints) of water should be drunk daily by the average person. It is safe to say that very few drink enough. The results are evident in muddy complexions, frequent headaches, constipation, poor digestion and poor circulation.

A glass of water at rising and at retiring will go far to cure many cases of chronic constipation. Soda water, which is water charged with carbon dioxide, is more cooling than plain water, because as the gas passes off it withdraws a certain amount of heat. Plain soda water without fruit juice or sugar, assists gastric digestion. Observe how little water you and your family drink, and train the household to the habit of drinking more.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

CONSUELLA.

A name that belongs almost outright to literature is Consuella. It is generally regarded as French, though in popular usage it has a distinctive English flavor. Very few etymologists list it among feminine names, and it is not possible to trace its evolution.

Consuella first gained fame in the time of George Sands (Madame Budevant). In her novels "Consuella" and "La Comtesse de Rudolstadt," the heroine was a Spanish singer, whose noble purity was sustained amidst temptations and dissolutions. Consuella was swept along on the wave of popularity which accompanied literary names in England.

In this country it achieved no great vogue until the time of the lovely Consuella Vanderbilt, who married the Duke of Marlborough, and became chatelaine of one of the noblest houses in Great Britain. The widespread use of Consuella was apparent immediately throughout the country.

The pearl is Consuella's talismanic gem, and is said to preserve her charm and bring her friends and admirers. Monday is her lucky day and seven her lucky number.

THE PERFORMING DOGS. PART NINE.

We will leave the performing dogs—the five of them that were left when Mira and Wiffet found a home—traveling along, while we tell about another dog. Now, would you believe it? This dog had just about the nicest home imaginable and a kind-hearted little boy to love him, but he was not contented. He did not like being cuddled and made a fuss of, and he thought chasing a ball and playing tag were stupid games. He much preferred to be wandering the woods in hunt of game, for this dog had been a trained hunter in his day.

So Hugo, for that was his name, decided to run away. He did not stop to think how much his little master Billie would miss him, and how lonely the little lad would be when he went away, but even if he had stopped to think I don't believe Hugo would have stayed for he was a selfish dog. Poor Billie! Hugo had not played with him much, and had not been half so nice to him as a dog should have been, but just the same Billie loved the old hound and when his pet disappeared he was filled with sorrow.

Hugo was chasing a bird through a field when he sniffed some strange dogs approaching. At heart he was not a brave dog, but he wanted to see how large the dogs were that were coming. Of course, they were our friends the performing dogs. Perhaps if little Tibby or tiny Mimso had been alone he would have given them a good tussle, but when he spied the determined looking little Boston and the broad-shouldered Ching, to say nothing of the almost-grown police dog Roderick, he decided his best course was to be civil.

"And where are you going?" Dandy always acted as spokesman for the party.

"I am going off in search of freedom and big game," cried Hugo, boastfully. "I have run away from home."

"Oh, goodness me, were you ill-treated?" Tibby gasped.

"Indeed, I am," said Hugo. "They did not appreciate my value as a hunting dog and made me the pet of a little boy. I guess they thought a dog like me would be contented with lots to eat, a nice place to sleep and no one to bother me. It would not have been so bad but I was expected to play with a little boy."

"And was he mean to you?" Tibby asked.

"No. He was too stupid to be mean. He pestered the life out of me by cuddling me and trying to make me a pet dog. No matter how I tried to run away from him, he always liked me just the same."

"And you ran away from him!" Tibby could hardly believe it. "Please tell me where he lives." Hugo gave him the right directions, and like a shot Tibby dashed off in search of Billie.

The other performing dogs took their time, and it was not until next day, when they arrived near Billie's home. Then what a sight they saw—

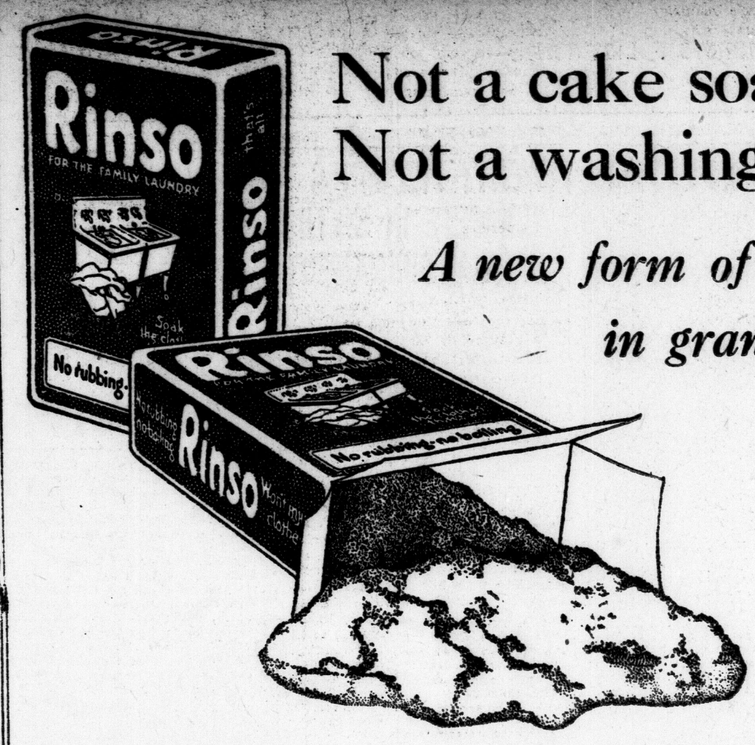

There, with a collar and bells around his neck, was Tibby, chasing a ball up and down the street, and barking at the top of his shrill little voice, while Billie was standing on the lawn, laughing heartily. Already Tibby and the little boy were great pals.

"Well, we have got rid of Tibby," old Dandy remarked, as the party of four performing dogs started off once more. "Now, if we can only find a home for Ching!"

Smooth, mellow fudge and candies—the easy way to get the sugar the system craves. Fragrant with the tropical aroma of the cane juice, big folks and little folks will long remember the flavour. Let luscious LANTIC Brown capture it for them!

Not a cake soap— Not a washing powder—

A new form of pure soap in granules.

No boiling
No rubbing
No toil
No wear

Harmless to everything but dirt

The pure Rinso granules are made of finer quality ingredients than you get in ordinary laundry soap. They are so mild, your tubful of clothes is as safe with them as with pure water alone. Yet the way they cleanse! The rich, bubbly suds that Rinso instantly makes is so rich in cleansing value that it loosens all the dirt. Even in the grimiest things! Simply soak the clothes for a few hours with Rinso. Then rinse them out. The dirt just streams away.

No standing over a steamy boiler. No wearisome and clothes-hurting rub, rub at the wash-board. No need to boil the clothes, unless you wish to sterilize them. No rubbing, unless perhaps a cuff edge, between your fingers, as you rinse it. Everything gleaming clean, snowy pure—without labor.

AT NIGHT—Soak the clothes with Rinso.
MORNING—Rinse them out—that's all.

Morrisette and Reilly Turn in Victories For Tigers Over Crippled Battle Creek Team.

BULLARD NO IRON MAN

Brantford Takes Two From Wolves in Spite of Knotty Tendering Resignation.

HAMILTON, July 21.—Hamilton won both ends of today's double-header from Battle Creek, by scores of 5 to 2 and 4 to 1.

Bill Morrisette and Reilly were the winning hurlers, the latter turning in a very good performance in the short game, allowing only two hits, and but for an error, would not have been scored on. Morrisette held the Custers in check in the first game, but he was not in his usual form.

Bullard pitched both games for the Custers. He was hit hard in the third and fourth innings of the first game, and again in the first frame of the second game. The fielding and hitting of Johnny Carlin featured the two games. He handled fifteen chances, several of them very hard, and his hitting won the first game.

Johnny Heving was in charge of the Custers today. Ex-Manager Knapp left the club this morning. The scores:

TAILENDERS WIN.

KITCHENER, Ont., July 21.—Dick Dodson, who pitched for the Aces in this evening's game against the Beavers, pulled out with a 5 to 1 victory, after allowing seven hits and issuing eight passes and one charity. The bases were filled three times in the last four innings, but the local batters could not hit when they had chances to score. Matt Kirley was not as effective as usual, allowing nine hits, seven of which figured in the run-getting. Catcher Jordan had a nail torn from a finger and had to retire. Two new umpires, Franklin and Rhue, arrived in the city and officiated with satisfaction to the crowd.

BRANTFORD, July 21.—The Red Sox and Wolves clashed in a double-header here tonight, and the Sox won both games. Winslow pitched a fine game, and his team hit well behind him. In the second game the Brantford fans were delighted to see Estelle at work again. It was his first game since he was taken ill with diphtheria, and he was never in trouble.

TWENTY-FIVE RINKS COMPETE IN SIXTH SARNIA TOURNAMENT

Barr and Sarnia Trophies Are Hotly Contested in Imperial City Tourney.

SARNIA, July 21.—Twenty-five rinks entered the sixth annual tournament for the James C. Barr trophy and the Sarnia Bowling Club trophy at the local greens today. At a late hour tonight the bowlers were finishing up on the fourth round of the series, with Dr. Kelly of Florence coming along strong and being one of the favorites for the silverware. Jackson's Dresden rink, after losing its first two games, defaulted the rest and went back home. The events, which were held up by intermittent showers, are expected to be completed before tomorrow morning. The results and draw:

Carmen Wins 16th, Beating Flinters Twice, Same Bill

Blanked Them 5--0 First Game and Held Them To 7--2 Score in Second—Big League Scout Umpires Game.

Carmen rolled up his sixteenth victory for London Wednesday, when he "Iron-Manned" it for sixteen innings against the Vehics, blanking them the first game 5 to 0, and taking the last over the 7—2 route. It made it three out of four against the Vehics—one of the nicest-balanced organizations in the circuit.

The hurler for Flint in the first game was Phat (and generous), and the Tecs took a mean advantage of him, slicing his offerings for 14 hits, pretty evenly distributed over the whole scene. Carmen had the Flints absolutely tame throughout, and only allowed them five scattered bingles, two of them very scratchy. Flint fared better in the second affair, getting pairs of hits in three frames, and a hit in the third and last chorus.

Mr. Doolan, who has been with us and against us the last several days as an umps, didn't like the rarified air of this region, and did not turn up at an umps, didn't like the rarefied air of this region, and did not turn up at yesterday's game. Mr. St. Johns, St. Louis American League scout, and athletic director of Ohio University, consented to act while Doolan was eating up the miles on his homeward way to Bayonne, New Jersey.

As for the first game, the third inning was the only one in which more than four men faced the little sidewheeler. Five Flinters emerged from the dugout in this period. London, on the other hand, though they did collect seven runs, only threatened in several innings to break the one run habit. In the fourth the bags were full up with only one gone, but both Calbert and Kuhn were out, the former doing the unusual by whiffing and Kuhn grounding out. Kuhn collected a three-bagger in the third, and Witry's three-sacker scored Calbert in the seventh.

THE SECOND GAME.

The Flinters opened the scoring in the second inning, when Wetzel hit to left for a single. Trefry sacrificed, and Honick grounded out. Johnston came through with a single to centre which scored the fast centre gardener. The Flinters didn't threaten again until the fifth, when Johnston got on through a single. He was pared down on Fisher's fielder's choice, but Fisher himself was safe at second on Shay's error of Gray's choice. Speraw singled through short, Wright popping out to Pittenger. Anderson came through with a hot one down the first base line, which Kuhn handled nicely, Carmen taking the putout and the danger was over. However, in the sixth, Wetzel's two-sacker opened proceedings again on the first ball pitched, and he was scored by the same calibre hit sired by Johnston.

The Londoners were never distanced except for the few minutes in the second inning. Pittenger was on on Honeck's error, and was scored by Carmen's single through first and second. With Dowling gone, Carmen was advanced by Kennedy's single, Shay's free pass, and scored when Speraw made a wild throw after making a great catch of Calbert's high fly.

The third came big. Crichlow singled, Pittenger sacrificed, Dowling was hit, and Kennedy was out. Shay doubled to left, scoring Crichlow and Dowling, and Calbert followed with a similar size to the same place, scoring Carmen and Shay.

In the fourth, with Crichlow on through Trefry's error, Pittenger came through with a single to right, scoring Crichlow. Pittenger himself went to second on Wright's error, stole third, but was out at the plate on Dowling's fielder's choice. Carmen singled, but Kennedy flied out, and the scoring was over.

SARNIA INDEPENDENTS BEAT LOCAL ORIENTS

SARNIA, July 21.—The Sarnia Independents made a light lunch of the London Orients here tonight in a twilight affair. After collecting six runs in the second stanza, the locals took things easy, but London could do nothing with Warwick during the greater part of the game, fourteen batters going via the strikeout route. Nopper, who started for London, was pulled when the Sarnia team nicked him for four hits, two walks, with a few errors, for six runs. Pring relieved him, and checked the rally.

Sarnia	060 010 020—9 6 1
London	000 020 001—3 7 4

Warwick and Petz; Nopper, Pring and Armstrong.

Two points for a win, one point for a draw. McClarys defaulting gave each team four points.

The league bids fair to end up in smoke, which is rather surprising, when everyone interested was of the opinion that this was the most successful season it ever had.

The last league game will be staged on Saturday, July 31, at Springbank Park. The interested teams are the Grand Army Vets and the Wasps.

As the Grand Army Vets hold their annual picnic on the same date at the same place, the captain of the Vets' aggregation, William Friend, for the extreme purpose of making the last game a humdinger, intends donating a box of cigars to the winning team.

Some of the league officials were talking the other evening among themselves about soccer players in Britain who play the game wearing long whiskers "A la Grace" style, the discussion ending with the president remarking that he knew of a player on the old sod who wore quite a long stubby beard and who used it to advantage stopping the ball with it whenever the opportunity occurred.

Remember the big game between the Great War Vets and Grand Trunk Friday night, 6:30, on Carling Heights.

As both aggregations are out to win this important game, it should be a regular curtain raiser. Both elevens intend placing their best available players on the field. Soccer fans are in for a great treat.

Turn out in your hundreds, ye Soccerites as this fixture will be one of the most important staged this season.

Don't forget the interested teams, who are Great War Vets and the Wasps. The date Friday, July 30, at 6:30 p.m. on Carling Heights. Referee, Sam Hacking.

Both the Great War Vets and the Wasps great defensive powers speaks for itself, when the former team, out of fifteen games played has scored 33 goals, there being only 11 registered against them, whilst the Wasps out of 13 league games played, have scored 33 goals, only 3 being tallied against them.

These two teams met on May 1, in their first league game, when the Wasps won by the narrow margin of 1 to 0.

Mr. William E. Nuttal of the Emma Gees, saved a local youth from death by drowning at Port Stanley last Saturday, rescuing the lad, who was in a pretty bad fix, and who had gone down for the first time.

This makes two lives saved in two weeks at Port Stanley, both rescues being accomplished in a calm but brilliant manner by a London Soccerite.

After the Wasps having played a home and away game with St. Thomas Rovers last week, the last game being played here on the Saturday, the W. F. A. sent a verbal communication immediately after they found out that both teams had tied again, ordering the Wasps to play the Rovers last Tuesday at Stratford in a sudden death game, the winners to immediately play Stratford today in another sudden death game for the purpose of deciding the three-cornered tie that exists between the Wasps, the Rovers and the Classics.

It is stated that both the Rovers and the Wasps have refused to play on such short notice. In the senior W. F. A. series one cannot blame the two teams directly interested for the stand they have taken.

The Grand Trunk Wasps have done remarkably well this season, both in the City League competition and in the senior W. F. A. series, playing hard and fast games in quick succession, which undoubtedly has put the players' calibre to a severe test, all emerging from the ordeal in grand style.

Their secretary, R. F. B. Bramell, who leaves for Britain soon in conjunction with Tommy Hogg, the Wasps' trainer, and the players themselves have all worked hard to bring about success.

Messrs. South and Lewis, who take an interest in the Wasps' achievements, are to be congratulated for the great interest they have taken in the team during the season.

Mr. South is undoubtedly the best money-getter in the league, being an extremely lively booster of the game.

We cull the following item from the athletic page of the Live Wire, the public utilities commission periodical:

"It appears from the record made by our football team in the last nine games that we are making good in this particular branch of sport with a vengeance. Out of the last nine games played eight have resulted in victories, while the remaining one with the Princess Patricias was played to a tie of 1 to 1. Great credit must be given Mr. Thomas Hodkinson, manager of this team, as well as the various players, who appear to be putting their whole heart in the game and who have helped to put the team in the nice position it now occupies in the soccer world in London.

"It has been emphasized through this periodical frequently that there is a noticeable absence of supporters turning out to these games. It will be remembered that during the hockey season there was a certain number of the staff on hand at all games, but in the case of soccer we are sorry to state this is not the case.

"Everybody come out and see the remaining games and root, root, root."

The Public Utilities engage the Army and Navy Vets at Springbank on Saturday. The first kick-off is at 3 p.m. A large gathering of soccer fans is expected, as this is the Public Utilities' last league game.

Jimmy Smith (captain), Public Utilities, will be able to take the field for his side that day, having recovered enough from his recent injury to allow him to play.

The Charles Green benefit game tickets are selling good. This special game will take place on August 2 (Civic Holiday) at Springbank Park, between Sarnia City and London City, the latter being a representative team picked from the City Soccer League. The kick-off is at 3 p.m. A great game between these two elevens should be witnessed.

Mr. S. Evans, Strathroy, has offered his services as referee for the occasion, thereby showing a great spirit, indeed, which is greatly appreciated by all concerned.

HAMS BEAT GUELPH

GUELPH, July 21.—A very weird game of baseball was witnessed here tonight, when the Delcoes of Hamilton met the local Inter-County League nine and defeated them by 11 to 1. Close to a thousand fans witnessed the contest.

PETER COLEY GRABS $3,000 PAPER MILL STAKE IN 2:08 TROT

"Pop" Greers Kept Up His Winning Streak by Capturing the 2:11 Pace.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 21.—Peter Coley, son of Peter the Great, repeated the victories he has won at North Randall and Fort Miami today by winning the $3,000 Paper Mill Purse for 2:08 trotters. The time, 2:04¾, 2:06½, 2:05¾, was a record for the stake. It was a brilliant contest, in which the Valentine mount again demonstrated his superiority over his competitors.

Murphy drove Day Star for Walter Cox and won the 3-year-old trot in 2:07¼ and 2:08¾. The last half of the first mile was trotted in 1:02½.

Murphy piloted Jane Volo to victory in the 2-year-old trot, and "Pop" Geers won the 2:11 pace with Prosser.

Racing conditions were ideal, and more than 6,000 persons saw the contests.

SHAMROCK NOSES IN AHEAD OF RESOLUTE BUT LOSES THE RACE ON HER TIME HANDICAP

Race Was Superb Spectacle — Never More Than Few Hundred Yards Separat ed Yachts—Both Skippers Used All Stra tegy At Command.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 21.—Resolute, defender of the America's Cup, came back today after two straight defeats and won over the British challenger, Shamrock IV. Shamrock finished a scant half boat length ahead, with a lead of 19 seconds, but as she gained precisely that advantage at the start the race was—miraculously in yachting events—a dead heat over the 30-mile course. Resolute won by the amount of her handicap, 7 minutes and 1 second. The fourth race of the series will be started Friday.

Veteran yachtsmen who followed the trim craft through the 4 hours, 3 minutes and 6 seconds of racing time thought back over many years of racing without being able to conjure up a picture that could compare with today's spectacle. It was a real yacht race from the start, and it provided a finish rivalling in closeness that of a neck-and-neck horse race.

Resolute had taken the lead early in her favorite 15-mile beat to windward and, rounding the stake with about a quarter of a mile lead, slipped swiftly down the wind with spinnaker and balloon jibtopsail billowing superbly.

But Shamrock with her greater spread of canvas would not be denied, and slowly but steadily ate up the intervening distance, until, with little more than a mile to go, her bowsprit reached, then slowly began to creep past the Resolute's stern.

Challenger Moves Up.

Inch by inch, as the spectators watched breathlessly, Shamrock IV. moved up and up. A mile from the stake, they were running neck and neck through the fluffy whitecaps turned up by the breeze. They appeared so close together from the press boats that it seemed as if a man might have jumped from the challenger to defender. Actually, the distance was several boatlengths.

Shamrock IV. kept up the steady crawl ahead until at the half-mile mark from the line she was nearly a full boatlength ahead.

Then Resolute caught a tiny extra puff of wind from somewhere, and straining like a thoroughbred under the lash, crept up slowly—almost imperceptibly. She had got her bow about even with Shamrock's towering mast, when a puff of steam from the committee boat's whistle registered Shamrock's finish.

The little fleet of spectator craft, although smaller by far than that which had gone out to previous races, burst into a veritable bedlam of shrieking of whistles and sirens, as the contenders swept over the line and brought their spinnakers and ballooners fluttering down.

But the finish did not provide all the thrills of the race. Shamrock IV., jockeying for position, seemed to have gotten the advantage at the start, and started on a starboard tack in the weather berth. Captain Adams of the Resolute offered little opposition, electing to wait for the port tack, which came within a few minutes.

Adams' Strategy.

Here he took the windward berth and pointed Resolute high up into the wind. Captain Burton turned Shamrock's nose further in toward the Jersey shore, and the two sloops, traveling on diverging paths, soon were nearly a half-mile apart. Superficially, Shamrock IV. appeared to have the advantage. But finally, when Shamrock tacked, about two miles off the Jersey highlands, Captain Adams' strategy was proved. He held Resolute on her course, and the yachts began to converge.

It was a question which would have the weather berth when they met, but Resolute gained it by a scant 100 yards. Then ensued an exciting series of sharp tacks, in which Shamrock IV. tried to cross Resolute's bow. The nimble yachts were like playful swallows, darting first to port, then to starboard, then back again to port—oftentimes almost before their sails had filled on the preceding swing, but it was Resolute's game, and each time Captain Adams swung her over she had drawn a little further ahead of her rival.

Skipper Burton feinted twice, bringing Shamrock about until her sails flapped, and then, swinging her back on the original tack. But he lost on the manoeuvre, for Captain Adams refused to be tricked.

Finally, Resolute gained a point where Captain Adams felt he could make the mark in one long reach, and the defender turned her tail on Shamrock and scudded away.

Shamrock quickly forsook her short tacks and gave chase. She gained slightly on the reach, but Resolute beat her to the mark, and by two minutes and four seconds, made a close turn to windward, and broke out her greatest wind catchers with surprising rapidity.

Turn Was Wider.

Shamrock's turn was a bit wider and she was slower breaking out her spinnaker and ballooners—and when she did get them out there was a great gap of daylight between them. Resolute held her own on the home stretch until Shamrock IV. filled this gap with a little triangular jib sail. This seemed to help her immensely, and she began to close up the interval until she had passed the defender.

The crews on both boats—35 on the Resolute, and 40 on the Shamrock, including skippers and observers—had an easy time of it on the home stretch with no sails to shift, and they crouched aft apparently "pulling" for their sloop to win.

When they had crossed the finish line, both yachts hoisted the "C" flag that indicated unwillingness to race tomorrow, and it was announced the next start would be Friday. Later it was announced Shamrock was to be placed in drydock tomorrow, presumably for cleaning and polishing of her hull.

ENGLISH DESIGNER PRAISES RESOLUTE AS A FINE CRAFT

Shamrock in Drydock Being Scraped for Today's Race.

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 22.—The cup challenger Shamrock IV was towed to the Staten Island Shipbuilding Company plant early today to be drydocked and have her underbody cleaned in preparation for the fourth race with the Resolute tomorrow. The contest yesterday, in which the two sloops went over the 30-mile course in exactly the same elapsed time, has added marked interest to the contests to come.

Capt. Burton, Designer Nicholson and Navigator Claude Vickman of the Shamrock were especially pleased with what they agree was a wonderfully fine race yesterday, even if the challenger lost it on time allowance.

"Resolute is a fine boat," said Mr. Nicholson, "and Hereschoff has designed a craft that goes better to windward than Shamrock. On the run home before the wind yesterday the sloops faced along beam to beam as if they were locked together. It was a fine race, even if we did lose it."

The race tomorrow will be over a triangular course, ten miles to a leg, and it is in this contest that Shamrock is expected to force the Resolute to the limit, as the legs of the race will be reaches at which point of sailing the Lipton sloop has shown to better advantage than the United States boat.

Yachting sharps declare that Shamrock can outreach Resolute in any kind of wind, but whether she can outreach her sufficiently to overcome the handicap of seven minutes and one second is a riddle which, if answered correctly, will also answer that other question, "Will Lipton win the cup?"

The Resolute remained at her moorings today in the horseshoe, where an inspection was made of her rigging and sails.

FLINT SCORER TO RESIGN BECAUSE OF PREXY'S CRITICISM

Says Heads of Circuit Put Blame On Scorers Owned Nearer Home.

FLINT, Mich., July 21.—The Mint League scorer has resigned following recent criticism at Kitchener meeting, when he says higher-up league official failed from May 1 to July 13 to provide him with proper score forms, yet they meet and deliver undue criticism of his returns, shifting the blame from their own shoulders, and suggesting fines for the future. The Journal sport editor says in future he will turn his attentions to the big factory league series here, when ten teams are to battle with Cleveland and Brooklyn in world's series in September. The Journal has been largely responsible for the marked increase in attendance at the Mint games here this year, the largest increase of any city in the Mint League.

CANADA, U. S. AND CZECHO-SLOVAKIA ENTER ALL EVENTS

Thirteen Entries Are In For Marathon—Monaco Entered in Dashes.

Antwerp, July 22.—Canada, the United States and Czecho-Slovakia are the only countries listed to compete in every event of the Olympic games at the stadium, although doubtless there are some omissions due to delayed mails

Details of the lists of entries, which have just been made available, shows the wide variety in the number of sports and the various nations to compete, ranging from the larger countries down to Monaco which is entered only in the dashes. Monaco's entry makes 32 nations answering the invitation to participate.

Great Britain is entered for all the events except the pole vault and javelin.

Though Japan and Australia will perhaps be entered later, there are now thirteen entrants for the Marathon—Canada, Great Britain, South Africa, the United States, Holland, Italy, Chile, Czecho-Slovakia, Denmark, Finland, Sweden, India and Belgium.

CAR TURNED OVER THREE TIMES AND LANDS IN DITCH

CHATHAM, July 21.—While driving in a new auto east of the city between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon a man by the name of Chaplin of Windsor, sustained a number of superficial injuries, when the car ran into a ditch on the river road and, it is reported, turned over three times. He was brought into the city by Mike Hamra, a local truck driver, and after first aid treatment by a local surgeon was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital. The automobile was badly smashed.

AMALGAMATION OF BORDER TOWNS AGAIN VERY LIVE ISSUE

Some Objection Raised To the Inclusion of City of Windsor.

WINDSOR, July 21.—With the proposed amalgamation of the border cities of Ford, Walkerville, Windsor and Sandwich again brought to the status of a live issue in the movement now under way in the first two towns for a linking of forces, Mayor King of Walkerville today expressed himself as regarding the move as a step toward the final consummation of a union of all the border municipalities. Petitions now being circulated in the two towns are being heavily signed, the councils have discussed the project officially, and a vote of the electorate is practically assured for the regular municipal election next January.

Object to Windsor.

Councillor H. R. Hatcher of Walkerville, one of the prime proponents of the plan, declares the intention of those interested now to exclude Windsor from the union. Objection to including the city are based on its higher tax rate, lack of industrial sites, its limited opportunity for residential development and the "white elephants" in the shape of what he terms a "decrepid water system" and disputes with the Union Gas Company and the ferry company, of which Walkerville is free.

Mayor King today publicly declared he believed the final amalgamation of all the towns was merely a matter of time, and that such differences as now exist will be overcome through compromise, particularly in the case of Windsor's much higher tax rate.

DEEP WATERWAY

now are actively interested in the deep waterways project.

In the absence of Governor Albert E. Sleeper of Michigan, the delegates were welcomed on behalf of the state by former federal judge, John P. Weissenhagen of the inland waterways committee of the Detroit Board of Commerce.

"I know nothing more important in the development of our national life," said Mr. Weissenhagen, "than direct and rapid communication with the seaboard. I quite appreciate the fact that many of our lake carriers are unsuitable for the ocean traffic, but, on the other hand, if you will journey to the waterfront of this very city you will see ships there which have not yet turned a wheel, which, when they are completed, will be fit to go to any port in the world. In my opinion, it is this project which will finally solve the coal and food problems of the world."

Mayor James Souzens was also unable to be present, and he was represented by Corporation Counsel Clarence E. Wilcox, Councilman William P. Bradley and Police Commissioner Dr. James W. Inches.

Harding's Name Applauded.

"Out of this congress," declared Mr. Wilcox, as spokesman for the delegation, "will result one of the greatest economic advancements in this country's history. A proposition, which has already gained the support of over half the states in the union, cannot longer be ignored in Washington. It seems to me that your campaign is over half won now."

During the reading of the greetings from various individuals by Mr. Weissenhagen, a round of applause was evoked by a telegram from "Mr. James Cox of Columbus, Ohio," but it was as nothing compared to the ovation tendered a lengthy telegram from Mr. Warren G. Harding of Marion, Ohio.

The applause lasted for several minutes when the name was read, and was followed by another long round at the conclusion of the message.

"Who is Harding?" shouted someone. "Our next president," was the ready reply from several parts of the hall.

Senator Harding regretted that he was unable to be present, as he was to be officially notified of his nomination on July 22. He asked that his personal greetings be extended to the delegates and that the congress be assured of his deep interest in the project.

GREEK VANGUARD HAS ENTERED ADRIANOPLE, SAYS WAR OFFICE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The war office announced today that it had learned that the Greek vanguard had entered Adrianople. The Turks have destroyed the bridges over the Maritza River, near the junction on the Constantinople line with the Adrianople-Saloniki line, and have also destroyed four bridges within 20 miles of Tehatalja.

The Turks have entrenched at many points along the railway between the Maritza River and Tchatalja, prepared to harass the Greek advance.

BRITISH FLEET AIDS.

LONDON, July 21.—A Greek communication received this evening announced that the Greeks, supported by British and Greek fleets, have occupied Heracles and Rodosto, and that all Turkish resistance has been crushed.

SPINE IS DISLOCATED

CHATHAM, July 21.—After a thorough examination by several surgeons on Herbert Russell, who fell while working on the new Austin building yesterday, it was found that the spinal column had been dislocated, and not broken, as was reported.

SIMPLIFY QUESTIONNAIRE.

The Retail Merchants' Association today received a communication from the board of commerce, stating that similar protests to the one sent by the local merchants had been received at Ottawa. It was also stated that the board of Commerce will meet the Dominion Board of the Retail Merchants in the near future, when it is expected that the questionnaire referred to will be simplified.

LARGE OFFERINGS OF TOMATOES AT $3.25 PER BASKET

New Potatoes Coming in Plentifully and Prices Are Easier.

Tomatoes were offered in quantity on the market today and found a ready sale at 25 to 35 cents a pound and from $3.25 to $3.75 for eleven-quart baskets.

Potatoes were slightly easier. Large, new ones brought from $4.50 to $5 a bushel, while small ones sold at $3 and $3.50 a bushel. One man had 24 bushels on sale.

Cabbage which have been selling from $1.25 to $1.50 per dozen brought from $1 to $1.50 today. They were in good demand.

Butter beans continue to drop in price. The basket quotation remained unchanged, although quart prices were easier. Wholesale, quarts brought 6c and retail sold for 8c.

Eleven-quart baskets of cherries sold from $1.55 to $1.65. They were of the best grades and the demand is very active.

Prices of new hay were unchanged.

Butter and eggs are firm and in demand.

Strawberries, gooseberries, white and black currants were plentiful.

Hogs and fat sows are in active demand.

No changes in the prices of hides were recorded.

One of the largest markets of the year is expected on Saturday.

WALL STREET.

New York, July 22—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Among oil and sugar shares the tendency of prices was variably higher at the opening of today's stock market. This was primarily due to a more cheerful feeling regarding labor conditions in their relation to the transportation situation and the comparative ease of money rates. Gains averaging a point were scored by Baldwin Locomotive, Republic Iron, National Aniline, Wells-Fargo, and several of the miscellaneous specialties.

1:30 p.m.—Steels, equipments and rails were neglected during the midsession, but sugars made partial recoveries, being sustained by moderate buying of other good shares, notably American Cotton Oil and Wilson Company. The petroleums, especially Mexican, Pan-American and Texas Company, also improved.

A DANGEROUS WARNING —BLEEDING GUMS

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhea.

This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen, and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.

Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

Team Work in Saving Money

A London family of six decided, each week, to save twenty-five cents a-piece.

Before long they increased the individual donations to one dollar a week.

In seven years this family account, at our rate of 3½ per cent, amounted to $2,000—the nest egg of a snug fortune.

WINGHAM GIVES BAD BEATING TO STRATFORD

WINGHAM, July 21.—The lacrosse match here today between Stratford and Wingham intermediate teams was a burlesque.

The score was 23 to 7 in favor of Wingham, which could easily have doubled the score, as Stratford was completely outclassed in every department of the game. Wingham showed a complete reversal of form and played like champions. Brown was Stratford's best, while it would be impossible to pick a star on the home team, as they all played good lacrosse. There was a large crowd in attendance, and lacrosse is gaining its old-time popularity here. The referee was Henning of

Mortgage Sale OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage, bearing date the 24th day of July, 1919, default having been made in payment thereof, which said mortgage will be produced on the day of sale, there will be offered

Gifts to Women Who Use Jiffy Jell

Jiffy-Jell users should write to the makers for a list of aluminum molds. Molds, spoons and measuring cups are supplied to users free.

Jiffy-Jell is the one dessert which has the fruit flavors in vials. A bottle of condensed fruit-juice essence comes in the package. So a Jiffy-Jell dessert is a real-fruit dainty. The flavor is not artificial. The sweetening is sugar, not saccharine. Women who once try it will always get it. Your grocer has ten flavors. Try pineapple and loganberry first.

For Thin Waists and Sleeveless Gowns

(Toilet Tips.)

A safe, certain method for ridding the skin of ugly, hairy growths is as follows: Mix a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface about 2 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is entirely harmless and seldom requires repeating, but to avoid disappointment it is advisable to see that you get genuine delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.—Advt.

DANDRUFFY SCALPS RUIN THE HAIR

See the Bald Spot—That Shows What Dandruff Can Do.

If you have dandruff, you must get rid of it quickly—it's positively dangerous, and will surely ruin your hair.

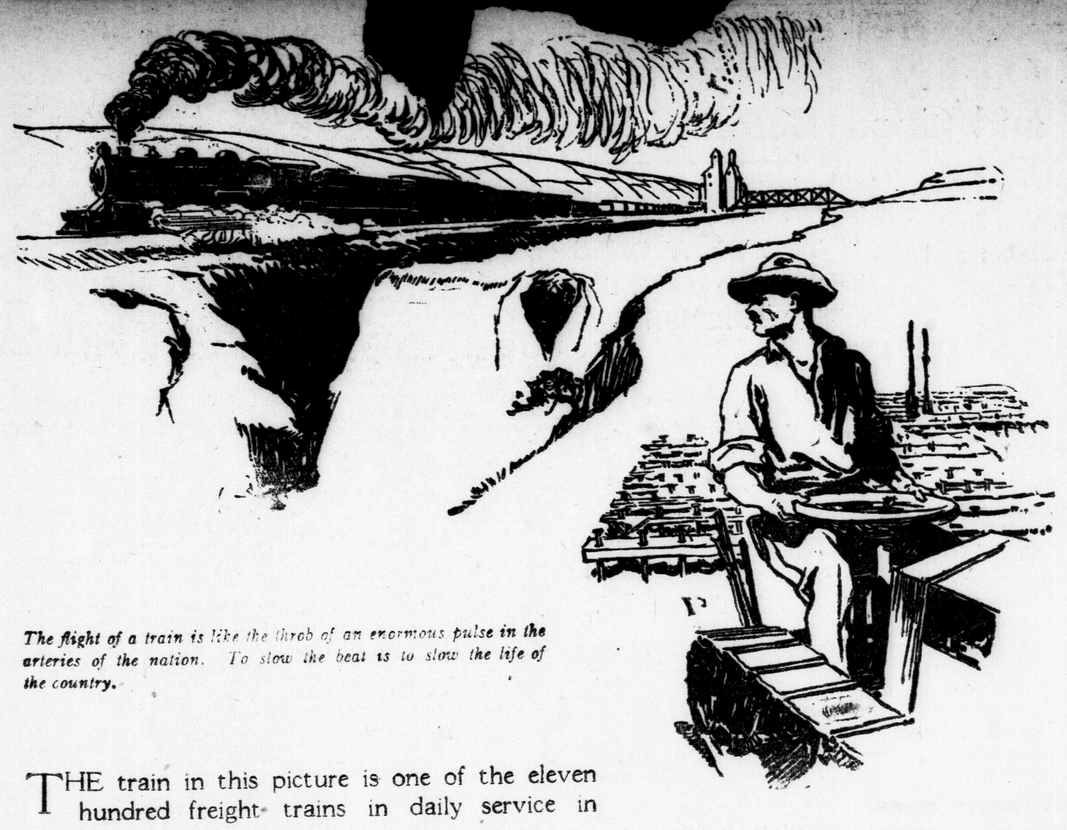

Dandruffy heads mean dead-looking, brittle, scraggly hair that finally dies—new hair will not grow—then you are hairless and nothing can help you.

The sure way to banish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, safely and without risking a penny, get from your druggist some Parisian sage (liquid form). This is guaranteed to keep away all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and promote a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parisian sage is a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—an antiseptic, daintily perfumed liquid, neither sticky or greasy, easy to apply, and guaranteed not to color the hair or scalp.

Good-looking hair is half the battle in any man's or woman's personal appearance. Neglect means dull, scanty, lifeless hair and finally baldness, while a little attention now helps insure thick and lustrous hair for years to come.

No matter what your hair troubles, try a Parisian sage massage. Don't delay—begin tonight.

The flight of a train is like the throb of an enormous pulse in the arteries of the nation. To slow the beat is to slow the life of the country.

THE train in this picture is one of the eleven hundred freight trains in daily service in Canada.

It consists of one heavy-duty freight engine and 45 standard box cars.

It can carry 2,000 tons of wheat.

* * *

In 1913 its engine could have been built for $34,700—to-day $81,000; its box cars for $1,138.85 each—to-day $3,797.50.

In other words the rolling stock alone in the movement of 2,000 tons of wheat has increased in cost from $85,948.25 to $251,887.50, or 193.1%!

* * *

The labor bill of the railways has risen in the same period from $115,000,000 to $231,000,000,—101%!*

The cost of rails for a mile of track has gone up from $9,497 to $19,680—107%!

No cost has been unaffected by the general rise.

Operating expenses continue to rise more rapidly than Gross earnings. Net earnings are sinking at an alarming rate.

* * *

These are the facts that lie behind the application for increased freight rates for the railways.

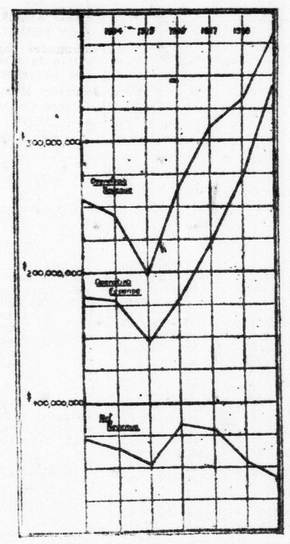

*Estimated.

Explanation of Chart:

Top line shows the rise of gross revenue.

Middle line shows the more rapid rise of operating expenses.

Bottom line shows the downward plunge of net earnings as a result of the rise in the middle line—Operating Expenses.

They Used To Strap On Spectacles!

Old pictures and collections show grotesque shapes in early spectacles.

In the earliest styles the lenses were round, very large and fastened in a rind of black horn half an inch wide.

They were strapped on with a leather thong over the nose and another about the head. Small wonder wearers of spectacles were ridiculed in those days. Obviously, the adjustment could not have been very good. Such crudeness makes those shudder who appreciate the scientific necessity of delicate, accurate adjustment, as practiced at

RECORD CROWD AT THEIR PICNIC

Springbank Outing Draws Thousands of Merrymakers Wednesday—Features Are Numerous.

Several thousand people picnicked with the grocers at the city park yesterday afternoon. Children seemed to hold sway, especially the babies. One of the largest baby shows in this district was held. There were 125 babies present, but not 125 mothers, as the twins were comparatively numerous. In the last class of boys four pairs of twins were entered, and in the last class of girls there were 22 entries. Harry Clark of Toronto, who was one of the judges, said: "This part of Ontario sure is doing its bit. If I have the fortune of acting as judge at any more baby shows I will certainly tell them the way the district around London has done in both output and quality."

Close Contest.

One of the bits of humor of the day was "the largest family on the grounds" contest. If it hadn't been for one of that family it would have been second best. Judging from appearance, the one that brought the prize to her kin was about five years old. Two families were tied for first place, until the child, noticing one of her brothers was missing, immediately recruited a searching party. Just as the judges were going to award the prize to the one with eight children, their hopes were vanished, as one of the judges startled the audience by saying, "We didn't count right!" All eyes were turned on the little boy, who by this time had realized that his coming to the scene had won for his parents 98 pounds of flour.

At least seven arrests occurred in the day's outing. The most criticized was that of Jean Williams and her brother, who tried to smuggle a bottle from off the grounds, but were caught by the grounds policeman. They were let off with a warning. Several young couples tried their ability at eloping, but were also captured after a short run. It was all in sport, and each one took it as being so.

One of the other amusing events of the day was the tilting of the bucket. Each one of the participants was given a shower bath in trying to put the stick through the hole. The winners succeeded in putting the stick through the hole the first time, while the other two fought for twenty minutes trying to succeed. Ernie Moore, the one who filled the pail after it had been emptied, also received a wetting, when two of the contestants struck the stand and the water fell on him.

Fake Phone.

Phone calls were quite frequent. Several men who were not onto the joke were called to answer a phone call from either their wife or some man with whom he had arranged business with. Here is the joke. On the secretary's desk was a desk phone. The mouthpiece was arranged so that it could be filled with talcum powder. A rubber hose went up the stalk and a tank of wind was underneath the table. The operator turned a tap, and when the person who was expecting either a "calling down" for not coming home to lunch or that a big business transaction had been called off because of him not being present, found his mouth and coat completely covered with the powder. The joke was worked until late in the afternoon, when the committee deciding that the majority of the crowd had become wise and removed the fake telephone.

Throughout the whole afternoon the kiddies and the guests were supplied with refreshments. E. J. Ryan, one of the oldest grocers, and Ald. G. Drake, the bartender, sang a solo. Ice cream cones, sandwiches and everything necessary for picnic lunches were supplied.

The Committees.

The following are the officers of the outing: President, P. H. Ranahan; first vice-president, Charles Farr; second vice-president, Ald. G. B. Drake; secretary, Frank C. Pierce; treasurer, H. P. Rosser.

The conveners of the different committees are as follows: Advertising, Thomas Shaw; reception, T. A. Rowat; sports, J. T. May; band, P. H. Ranahan; dancing, Kenzie McCormick; baby show, H. Harley; refreshments, Ald. G. B. Drake.

Some splendid prizes were awarded. Following is a summary of them: Bags of flour in sizes ranging from ten to one hundred pounds, sugar, tea, soap, beans, chocolate, cocoa, peanut butter, biscuits and coffee. All of these were given in large quantities.

Following are the names of the judges of the babies: Miss Stevenson, Harry Clarke of Toronto, Mrs. Joseph, Mc. McCallum.

In the ball game played in the morning between the grocers of the north and the south of the city, the southenders succeeded in coming out on the large end of the score of 17 to 8. Boug pitched airtight ball for the winners, while Haines for the losers was hit quite frequently. Following are the batteries: South, Boug and Boug; North, Haines and Tupholm.

The name of the man who had the largest family on the field was Harold Frank with ten children.

The W. O. R. band rendered music throughout the afternoon.

VETERANS ARE NOT IN FAVOR OF GOVT. PLAN

Central Council Opposed To Paying Small Pensions in Lump Sums.

If the expressed opinion of the members of the Central Veterans' Council, an organization composed of five representatives from each of the three local soldiers organizations can be taken as a criterion of the general feeling of the returned solders in this city, a recommendaton made by a parliamentary committee recently that the smaller pensions be paid in a lump sum will not get a favorable reception among the veterans in London.

The recommendation was discussed to some extent at a meeting of the council held last night in the armories. The parliamentary committee recommended that a man with a disability up to 15 per cent should, if he so wishes, get a lump sum of money ranging from $300 to $600, as a cash settlement in lieu of the regular pension. In the opinion of the council this plan was said to have many bad features.

It was pointed out that the plan made no provisions for the age of the men. A veteran of 45 or 50 years of age, who would find difficulty in earning a living, would receive no more money than a man of younger years, who could work steadily. It also made no provisions to cover the case of a returned soldier whose disabilities increased some time after the settlement.

Several Objections.

To overcome these and several other objectionable features it is likely the council will at a later meeting recommend certain adjustments. The recommendations will be placed by the representatives before their respective organizations. To investigate the matter more fully and to draw up the recommendations, a committee composed of Chester Butler, J. A. Glennie and W. Casson was appointed. They will report at the next meeting.

Eight applications for loans of money to cover the 10 per cent deposit required by the housing commission before building loans are granted were made to the council by returned soldiers. Under the new plan the housing commission will loan the 10 per cent, in addition to the building loan, if it is covered by bonds backed by the local Chamber of Commerce and the applications are recommended by the housing committee of the veterans' council.

Every application, along with two previous applications, were approved by the council. They will now be referred to the housing commission for recommendation.

Two complaints from different sources were made to the council that nurses in charge of patients who were being carried by the L. and P. S. R. from Port Stanley to London were bullied and insulted by the conductor of the car. One of the sick men was a returned soldier.

The person who made the complaint stated that she had a book of tickets in her apron pocket before boarding the train, which must have been lost in the excitement. Although she explained to the conductor the circumstances and promised to make payment on the reaching the destination he stormed and threatened to throw both the nurses and the patient off the car unless they paid the fare of $2.25. The matter will be brought to the attention of the management of the road and action will likely be taken, it is claimed.

HARRY SMITH KILLED IN G. T. R. YARD HERE

Caught Between Two Cars At Car Works—Coroner Orders Inquest.

Harry Smith, aged 29, a Grand Trunk switchman, who was a boarder at 440 English street, was killed by being caught between two cars in the yards of the car works at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. He had been employed on the yard engine since April.

Although no one saw the fatality it is thought that he was working on the coupling attachments when the cars were being shunted. Many of the cars in this yard are defective, having been sent here for repairs, and, it is said, the attachments on the cars between which he was caught may have been out of order, for he was jammed between the bodies of the cars.

A fellow-employee stated at the preliminary inquest which Coroner Robt. Ferguson called at 6 o'clock last night that he gave the signal for the engine which was coupled to the cars to move, but did not see Smith until after the accident.

Today at noon the jury will visit the scene of the accident, and will attend the inquest proper at the police station at 8 o'clock on Friday night. The names of the jurors follow: Percy Ashton (foreman), Stephen Duncan, Thomas Hall, James Deane, John Taylor, Arthur Mann, Cecil Mann, William Richmond and J. G. McCartney.

CONSIDER THIS WOMAN'S CASE

Mrs. A. L. DeVine of Los Angeles, Cal., says: "After I had suffered from a female trouble for years, not being able to do my housework, or get any relief from doctors, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I want to tell the world the good this medicine does." This woman is perfectly justified, and should be commended for telling others how she regained health.

TYRONE POWER IN POWERFUL DRAMA OF LABOR AND BOLSHEVIKI AT ALLEN.

A powerful blow at the insidious propaganda of the Bolsheviki and the influence they are gaining among the laboring classes is the story of "The Great Shadow," playing at the Allen today, tomorrow and Saturday. Tyrone Power, the famous dramatic actor, portrays the part of the shipyard foreman. Co-starring with him is beautiful Dorothy Bernard. What would happen if the doctrines of the Reds and the Bolshevists were put into telling effect in our Canada? This is the great question which is handled in so thrilling, dramatic and interesting a manner in this picture of our own country. Presented on the same program will be a most interesting and amusing two-reel picture of a peek "Behind the Screen" with Charlie Chaplin. Allen news, scenics and special music. The overture is "The Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2," by Liszt.

"KING SPRUCE" BIGGEST TRIUMPH SINCE "THE BARRIER."

Remember the French-Canadian half-breed in Rex Beach's "The Barrier" That remarkable performance brought Mitchell Lewis screen stardom overnight. Since then this noted actor by a series of brilliant achievements has won a tremendous following among lovers of the best in pictures, until today as the star of "King Spruce," the photoplay of the novel by Holman Day, Mr. Lewis is to the screen what he was to the stage—the greatest actor of rugged types of the past decade.

Screen analysts proclaim his work in "King Spruce," a W. W. Hodkinson release which comes to the Patricia Theatre today, Friday and Saturday, the equal of his unforgettable characterization in "The Barrier," which in itself assures a rare treat for devotees of real art and true drama in motion pictures.

AT LOEW'S, Coolest Spot in London.

They don't call $8,000 a fortune these days. Yet it was that to Angie and Abe, veteran sea captain, and the best and only husband Angie had ever had. Theirs was a story pathetically common up to the point when they invested the money in mining stocks, only to hear that the small fortune was lost. But after that the story changed into perhaps the most appealing, quaint and unusual, any playwright has ever conceived. It's called "Old Lady 31," and Emma Dunn, who played Angie in the original New York production appears again in the charming role she created in the picture at Loew's Theatre for the balance of the week.

A classy assemblage of vaudeville turns, rip-roaring, sizzling, comic from Hank Mann's Joy Factory, the ever-popular Loew Pictorial of Current Events, combine in making the bill for the last three days of this week, one of the best bills of the season. A real enjoyable hot-weather program. b

PORT STANLEY BEACH MOVIES.

An entire change of program will be featured at Port tonight with the ever-loveable June Caprice in the stellar role in "In Walked Mary." It is a romantic story adapted from the play of Oliver D. Bailey. Fragrant as southern roses, it is alive with the teeming rush and life of the north country. It is a drama of a southern peach, who walks in on a wild bachelor party and walks into a heart of one. An excellent supporting cast will be seen in support of Miss Caprice and peacherites are assured of an unusual photoplay, that should delight with every fan. A special comedy, "He Leads; Others Follow," will be one of the added features and the Pathe News will complete the bill which will be shown on the beach for the next three days. Everybody come—free show—comfortable seats for all. b

How to Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather

When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or evening, just bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. You will find this more refreshing than an hour's rest.

As a wrinkle-remover the saxolite lotion is remarkably successful. Its action is almost magical. The deepest furrows, as well as the finest lines—whether due to age, illness, weather or worry—are immediately affected. Enlarged pores are reduced, flabby skin is "drawn in," facial contour is improved wonderfully. The simple ingredients, of course, can be had at any drug store, and you need not hesitate to try the lotion, as it will not harm any skin in the least.—Advt.
