INDIAN DEAD AFTER FIGHT; MURDER CHARGE IS LAD

Albert Isaacs succumbed in hospital to injuries inflicted by George Duncan, former constable, and half-brother of Isaacs; brawl occurred last night

Albert Isaacs, Indian, died in the Brantford hospital at nine fifteen this morning, succumbing to injuries believed to have been inflicted in the course of a brawl last night by George E. Duncan, a half brother of Isaacs, and a former member of the local police force.

The alarm was given by Mrs. Gerrard, who jumped from a window of the second floor, breaking both feet by so doing, as a result of which she is now in the hospital.

Upon entering the building, and ascending to the second floor, they found Isaacs unconscious upon the floor, his head horribly battered.

Several members of the police force expressed themselves this morning upon the recent reduction in the personnel of the force. They point out that within four days there have been three violent deaths in the city, that of Charles Ellison, who was drowned in the canal; Ludwig Dubock, who was killed by a train on Saturday night; and finally the present murder case.

Isaac was a taxi driver and was known to the police as he had been concerned in several liquor cases recently. He was generally conceded to be a bad actor when intoxicated, and it is believed that both men were in that condition when the brawl took place last night.

When word of Isaacs' death reached the police station this morning, it was conveyed to the prisoner, who expressed little emotion.

REPORTS CONTINUE TO BE FAVORABLE TO THE ALLIES

German Assaults are Slackening in Number and Intensity ---Canadian Cavalry and Australian Infantry Have Been Doing Much Fighting

As allied troops begin offensive movements on the Picardy battlefield, the German assaults show signs of slackening both in numbers and intensity and the Germans are digging themselves in feverishly around Lassigny, on the southern line of the salient, where pressure by the French has been heavy.

The German peace drive toward Amiens, Paris and the channel ports is fast becoming a battle of the nations. The conflict opened with British and German soldiers the adversaries. Since then the French and American armies have joined with Field Marshal Haig's forces, while Austrian and Bulgarian troops are aiding the enemy.

The most intense fighting is progressing south of the Somme, where attempt after attempt is being made by the Germans to break the indomitable Franco-British defense and reach the Paris-Amiens railway line or Amiens itself.

Around Montdidier, where the battle line curves northward, the French have reclaimed Avencourt and Monchel. Further east toward Lassigny in the direction of Noyon, the Germans have been pressed back and a salient driven into the enemy lines.

North of the Somme, where the Germans were thrown back with severe losses by the British Saturday, the enemy made no further attempts Sunday and the fighting activity has been moderate.

If Field Marshal von Hindenburg intended to spend April 1 in Paris, he must have meant some other year than 1918. His troops are still more than 50 miles from the French capital and in eleven days of fighting and under tremendous losses have not even reached the Paris-Amiens railway, the principal route from northern France to Paris.

In northern Italy the artillery firing is increasing in intensity and patrol actions are more numerous, but there has been no infantry action on a large scale.

London, April 1.—To-day's reports, although showing a continuance of heavy fighting are favorable to the allies. The enemy has made no further progress either in the direction of Amiens or towards the Oise valley, while French forces in brilliant counter-attacks have recaptured some of the lost positions.

Lavergne Not Authorized to Make His Statement

Quebec, April 1.—Major General Landry was asked by the Canadian Press as to Lavergne's declaration to the mob that he, Lavergne had made a deal with the militia Department to call off the troops.

Arthur Quart of 57 D'Artigny St., of the civilian casualties yesterday, was the most seriously injured, a bullet piercing his right arm. His two companions, the Misses Roach of 3 Blanche street, were less seriously injured, one of them receiving a slight wound in the back while the other had a foot grazed by a bullet.

When the soldiers had successfully removed all the guns and ammunition from the hardware stores, they began their march uptown. They were harassed by the mob all the way until they reached the upper town.

While climbing Abraham Hill, they were showered with bottles, ice, and stones from the side streets and despite the fact that some of them suffered painful cuts from the flying missiles they marched on their way ignoring the bombardment and the taunts of the infuriated rioters.

A passenger on a street car in St. John Street, named Beland had his head badly gashed by a brick, and a woman's face was cut by flying glass when the mob smashed the street car windows.

The Chinese grocery store of Hing Nam, 243 Colborne street, was raided by the police late last night. Fifteen Celestials were found in a back room, which contained three tables equipped with cards, dominos and other paraphernalia.

ARRIVAL OF MANY TROOPS QUELLED RIOTS IN QUEBEC

Three Persons Were Wounded by Stray Bullets—Cardinal Begin and Armand Lavergne Appealed for Order

Quebec, Que., March 31.—Three people were shot and slightly wounded during a renewal of the anti-conscription riots here to-night. The shooting took place during a mix-up between the rebellious element and soldiers who were removing firearms from a hardware store.

The military decided to remove all firearms from all hardware stores following the raid on an establishment handling guns and ammunition in the early hours of this morning. The firearms were taken to the Citadel.

The action of the military was resented by the mob, faction, and soldiers engaged in this task were pelted with missiles. In one case the rioters set a hardware establishment belonging to Martineau Brothers on fire.

All buildings in the city likely to be the subject of attacks were very strictly guarded to-night, while companies of soldiers with fixed bayonets were stationed at the various points which the mobs used for rendezvous on Thursday and Friday nights.

To-day Cardinal Begin's appeal for a cessation of the disturbances was read in all the Catholic churches, and to-night Armand Lavergne, the Nationalist leader, addressed a gang raiding a hardware store and counselled the men to stop the disorders.

Mr. Lavergne told the crowd that the military authorities had promised that the outside troops would be removed, and that the city would be policed by Federal officers and the Military Service Act applied in a proper manner.

This announcement had the effect of quieting the crowd. Mr. Lavergne was addressing a dispersed group of men when he was interrupted by some of the men who stated that if the promise of the military authorities was not carried out they would urge Mr. Lavergne to lead them in French raids to-morrow night.

Mr. Lavergne's announcement may have pacified the crowd, but it is likely to lead to further trouble, as it is said he had no basis for his promise to the rioters. Major-General Landry, officer commanding No 5 district, said he knew nothing of such an agreement.

The city is crowded with local and outside troops, and squads of men with fixed bayonets and machine guns are patrolling the uptown and downtown sections of the city. In addition all buildings that have been attacked, or are considered likely to be attacked, are surrounded by soldiers. A special guard was placed around the Grand Allee Apartments, where Col. Landry, the officer commanding this military district, resides.

Through the disturbance Saturday night the soldiers acted with great moderation. The rioters hurled insulting epithets at them.

The Toronto and western troops sent here to supplement the local forces, arrived yesterday afternoon. The Toronto men consist of the second battalion, C.O.B., under the command of Major E. Goodenham, Mitchell, of the general staff, Toronto.

With the infantry came a section of the Royal Dragoons, which have been stationed at Toronto. The westerners comprise a corps of engineers, voluntarily enlisted from all parts of the prairie provinces. They were moved yesterday from St. John.

The firing which took place last night occurred while the military were rounding up rioters. It was not done by the soldiers. This assurance was given at military headquarters this morning. Arthur A. Quart and the Misses Roche who were also struck, were reported to-day to be in no danger. Two Quebec soldiers were hurt last night with flying missiles.

General Landry, who was hit in the chest by a lump of ice, while driving through the streets on Saturday night, was none the worse for his experience to-day.

Mayor Lavigneur, who again denied reports that he had read the riot act, this morning sent a reply to Premier Borden, who wired him on Sunday asking for particulars of the alleged lack of discretion, tact and discipline shown by Dominion Police officers in the administration of the Military Service Act.

Early Sunday morning a raid was made on the hardware store of Brouseau Freres. This firm's store is on St. Paul's Street, near the C. P. R. Station, and away from the points of mix-up between the rebellious element and soldiers who were removing firearms from a hardware store.

The wounded are Arthur Quart and the Misses Roche, and several blocks away from where the melee was taking place.

NEWS FROM NORFOLK COUNTY

MEMORIAL WINDOW UNVEILED TO LATE MAJOR R. L. DUGIT

Easter Services in Churches of Simcoe.—Other Simcoe News

Simcoe, April 1.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—Yesterday was no day of rest for choristers of the various churches. Two heavy services and a midday rehearsal was the order.

Trinity, Anglican. Although the relatives would have feared a quiet unveiling, public interest in the memorial window to the late Major Robert Louis Dugit brought out a capacity audience to yesterday morning's service and compelled a public recognition of the event. The window is on the west side nearest the transept. About thirty returned soldiers marched in a body to the church, conspicuous among whom were Harry Peachey, members of the contingent that Dugit took from Simcoe: Corp. H. W. French, Pte. R. Dertinger, Pte. James Desavoie and Pte. T. H. Nichols, the major's batman from January 1st, 1915, when he enlisted, till April, 1916, when Dugit left England for France.

These four were detailed as escort to the officers at the unveiling and moved to their places from the contingent as the audience arose. Pte. Wesley Gurr, though not present, was the fifth of Dugit's men already back to Simcoe. Following appropriate prayers by the rector, the Jack was removed by Flight Lieutenant Douglas R. Nelles for leave from internment in Holland, where he was compelled to come down while operating from the lines in France, and Lieut. Hope King, D.S.O., "last post" was sung by Bugler Harry Peachey and the congregation sang "God Save the King." The anthem at morning service was "Why Seek ye the Living Among the Dead?" (E. A. Clare). The soloists were Miss Leah Butler and Mr. Chas. West, at evening "I am the Resurrection and the Life" (Simper), Mr. West again soloist.

St. James, Methodist. Rev. Rove of Norwich preached, the pastor, though convalescing, and much improved, being still unable to take charge. The morning anthem, "Ye Choir of New Jerusalem" (Smart), and the evening selections, "They Have Taken Away My Lord" (Stainer), and "Christ is Risen" (Turner), were all rendered in the efficient and expressive manner which characterized the work of this congregation in their numbers at the Friday night concert. Good attack, well-balanced ensemble, and evident appreciation of the theme resulting in good articulation are being highly developed here.

Mr. A. Edmunds sang Parker's "Jerusalem" at the evening service. St. Paul's, Presbyterian. Prof. Jackson's choir sang "What Saw Ye" (Geibel), and "The Resurrection Morn'" (Rodney) in the

At evening service the music included a chorus, "Worthy is the Lamb" (Handel); "The Resurrection Day" (Lester); Miss Hadlow, "Hail us, Builders" (Millard); solo (Miss Eileen Hurley) and chorus, and Handel's "Hallelujah," chorus by the full choir.

Young St. Bandist "Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee" (Sanders) was the morning anthem, and at the evening service, Haven's setting of "Saviour Breathe an Evening Blessing" and "Peace I leave with You" (Rehead), were rendered worshipfully.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dawson, of Burford, formerly of Victoria, spent Easter in town, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. McKnight.

Mrs. Calvert and little son, Stewart, of London, are visiting Mrs. Calvert's aunt, Mrs. Harry Moulton.

Miss Pearl Smith, of Windsor, who left Simcoe as a "tiny wee tot" a few years ago, is in town, the guest of Miss Edna Hensillmann.

Mr. J. D. Wychoff has been visiting in St. Thomas and London. Miss Watts of the Dresden public school staff, is holidaying with her sister here.

The funeral of the late John Blin of Charlotteville, was held yesterday to the Baptist cemetery and was attended by the children, grandchildren, friends and neighbors of the deceased. The event was recognized as the passing of one among the few in the ordinary walks of life who link up the present day with the early history of the district.

The name of a son, Charles, of Charlotteville, was not listed in our despatch on Saturday, owing to an inadvertent omission on the part of our informant.

SOW FLAX, THE SIMCOE SLOGAN Lt.-Col. Pratt Coming Home to Aid in Campaign.

(From our own Correspondent). Simcoe, April 1.—Cable received by Dr. Wm. Burt here on Saturday from Lt.-Col. A. C. Pratt, under date London, Mar. 28th, the Colonel intimates that he is coming over to aid in connection with a flax campaign, and Dr. Burt is advised that it is hoped that Norfolk can seed 5000 acres with a special variety of seed under a guaranteed price of $4.50. With this advance information, corroborated by a letter from the government office at Toronto, Dr. Burt is launching a flax campaign and will have further particulars very shortly.

He May Still Be Consulted. The removal of R. R. Waddie to St. Thomas does not prevent fruit growers in Norfolk from securing the valuable assistance of this fruit expert. For three years, Waddie was demonstrator with the Ontario department, and for six years he has acted as chief inspector, and has carried on educational work under the federal department. He may still be called for consultation in all matters connected with the fruit growing industry.

ROGER CHRYSLER DEAD AT SIMCOE Another Norfolk Official Passes; County Treasurer Called by Death.

Simcoe, April 1.—(From Our Own Correspondent). At six o'clock Saturday evening Guy R. Marston, C.E., county engineer and superintendent of good roads, received word that two hours previously Roger Chrysler, for 23 years treasurer for Norfolk, had passed away. He was stricken severely with paralysis on Tuesday morning when about to leave his Delhi residence for the depot to come to his office in the county buildings here, and had never regained consciousness. His demise follows closely that of the late sheriff, Dr. Fred S. Snider, and these were two of the county officials whose ages aggregated almost 360 years. The late treasurer was a son of the late Roger Chrysler, a Middleton farmer, who lived near the site of the Cotton dam, south of Delhi.

He was an efficient treasurer, and during his long term in office had become an authority on county financing. During the last two years he protested strongly against the issuing of debentures to provide funds for patriotic work, believing that the county was able to bear the levy from year to year, and when the issues were made he protested more strongly against the neglect to open a special account for the proceeds when the debentures were sold. He was thorough in all his work and in later years showed no abatement in his interest in public matters, whether concerning his home village or the county, the Province, or the Dominion, and he read the daily paper studiously.

The funeral will be conducted on Tuesday from his late residence and the rites of the Anglican Church, at which the deceased was a member and liberal supporter, will be observed.

Warden John L. Buck arrived in town from Port Rowan this morning and it is quite probable that the County Council and officials will attend in a body.

Tommy's Go East. Three trailblazers of American infantry en route for the front from Oklahoma, passed through Simcoe last evening. If the boys all write to all the girls in town who gave them their names and addresses at the depot here, the local post office force will require augmenting soon. Each train stopped for water and some of the soldiers came out to limber up.

Getting Impatient. The game warden has received complaints that anglers have been seen out in front streams during the past few days and frankly confesses he has been notified to be alert for the offenders.

SAYS MAXIMALIST POWER IS GROWING Jap Statesman Looks for Spread of Movement to Central Europe

Tokyo, March 28.—James B. Wright, counsellor of the American embassy at Petrograd, has arrived on board a train which brought Viscount Uchida, the Japanese ambassador, and Chinese from Petrograd, who left America and a number of Japanese and Chinese from Petrograd, who left the Russian capital at the time of the arrangements for the peace treaty between the Germans and the Bolsheviks.

Viscount Uchida is quoted by Japanese journalists as expressing the belief that Maximalists would increase in power; that even if they were destroyed by Germany, their principles could not be buried and it seemed as if these principles would affect the whole world, especially entering and permeating Austria and Germany. The ambassador added that he thought the development and expansion of Germany would be ended with the war and that there was no cause for fear of an eastward trend of Germany's influence.

Women! It's Cheap! Use Lemon Juice and Make Lotion

To keep your skin and complexion naturally soft, white and clear at all times you simply must use a lotion or cream every day. But choose the one that is best and cost the least.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most respectable beauty lotion at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream.

Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no seeds or pulp remain. This lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness, and tan, and is the best skin softener, smoothener, beautifier.

Just try this lotion! Make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant cream and massage it into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should usually help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin.

Four drops will sell three ounces of ordinary white or pink soap, and any grocer will supply the lemons

MAYOR AND TREASURER TOOK ISSUE Debate Purchase of Coal for City at Special Meeting of Council

The special meeting soon had before the City Council, and before them today, the special meeting held when once its virus enters the body it has it over the liquor habit and the tobacco habit, the drug habit and all other chronic habits like these. The latest session extraordinary of the city fathers was held on Saturday afternoon, when misunderstandings as to the purchase of coal by the city authorities were thrashed out at some length.

Mr. Bunnell inquired as to the matter of the purchase of coal for the city. He had been authorized to purchase. His worship proposed to devote the award of $2,197,000 to the purchase of coal for the city. Mr. Bunnell explained that if the city was purchasing the fuel for its own use, without the direct participation of entering into competition with the local dealers, he would be within his rights in assisting to finance the deal. Otherwise, the city would be obliged first to receive the sanction of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for the project.

Mayor MacBride gave assurance that the city would not enter into competition with the local dealers, he would be within his rights in assisting to finance the deal. Otherwise, the city would be obliged first to receive the sanction of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for the project.

The plan is to serve farmers in any part of the country where there is a need and where the farmer can be persuaded to use them. One of Dr. Ogilvie's duties will be to decide just where the labor is needed and how large the units should be. The department of labor at Washington has offered the land Army hearty co-operation.

Thus does the Women's Land Army, American plan, differ from the European plan, for in England the workers live on the farm they are working on. Here the farmer's wife will not even have to bother about preparing a noon-day meal for the farmerettes. They will carry their own lunches.

The workers will be under the supervision of one trained worker or captain. The rank and file will be trained women, the only explanation which they will be asked to submit to being a physical examination.

The former will be charged according to the normal scale prevailing in the community, and the latter will work eight hours a day. They will receive a certain wage, which has not been definitely decided upon as yet, from $5 to $15 has been suggested.

So I did, and through it I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. CANADIAN CAVALRY IN FIGHT

Aided Allies in Defence of Amiens and Capture of Moreuil

In an official report issued by the War Office last night, it was stated that in "a brilliant operation yesterday by the Canadian cavalry and British infantry, in conjunction with the French, we recaptured Moreuil and the wood to the north of that place." Earlier despatches stated that the Germans had first driven the French out of Moreuil, and the French had counter-attacked and re-captured the place the second time. The Germans advanced into the town, which was an important bridgehead on the River Avre. On the third occasion they were thrown out by a joint attack of the allied forces. It was in this third attack that the Canadian cavalry took part. Fighting south of Somme.

The Sunday night bulletin from London said: The Germans were quiescent north of the Somme on Sunday, their attacks not being renewed against the British front. Field Marshal Haig reports from headquarters last evening: There was considerable fighting, however, south of the Somme. The text of the report reads: "North of the Somme the enemy did not renew his attacks to-day. Some heavy hostile shelling, however, has taken place on different parts of this front. We secured a few prisoners and machine guns in local fighting.

"South of the Somme, a hostile attack developed in considerable force about mid-day south of the main Peronne-Amiens road. Fighting is continuing in and between the valleys of the Luc and the Avre, where possession of tactical features, woods and villages is at present being contested.

British Taking Initiative Again. An Associated Press bulletin from the British Army Headquarters late last night gave the following satisfactory statement:

"Sunday morning the British were holding the whole of their long line with strength. They had smashed numerous heavy German attacks at various points and successfully taken the initiative on several sectors." Situation Satisfactory, Says Paris. A late bulletin from Paris last night said: "The battle is slackening, according to news reaching Paris late to-night. The attacks of the Germans have been less violent and less numerous today, and it has been observed that the enemy is feverishly digging himself in, particularly in the neighborhood of Lassigny. The general impression is that the situation is most satisfactory."

HAND WOVEN ART FABRICS IN DEMAND

Soldiers in M.H.C. Hospitals Find Milliners and Decorators Eager to Buy

Milliners and interior decorators are making constant demands for the fabrics woven by the peasants on their hand looms in the hospitals of Montreal. The vocational officers of the Military Hospitals Commission are besieged with requests for these art materials and many of the men are laying aside a substantial sum for the day of discharge through their convalescent occupation.

Hand wrought materials in this twentieth century are rare. The fabrics manufactured by the peasants of the old world are not to be had to-day. Cretonnes and tapestries from the French looms must be replaced by other art materials and the big class upholsterers and interior decorators are only too eager to get the materials which the returned men are turning out on their bed looms.

Restoring Antiques. Old Quebec is a district full of old world charm and a Mecca for those in search of antiques. Clever cabinet makers can easily restore the woodwork of these old treasures, but to replace the old upholstery is often a great problem. This offers a splendid opening for the returned soldiers.

Some of the fabrics which the soldiers have woven under the instruction of the Military Hospitals Commission instructors have sold in Montreal for as high as ten dollars a yard.

It is the lighter weight silk materials, the gold threaded stuffs, which are adapted for millinery and have been used artistically that even Her Excellence the Duchess of Devonshire placed an order.

SEEING MARS AT CLOSE RANGE

Far Famed Planet of War Now at Nearest Point to Earth.

Mars just now is a very conspicuous object in the sky. It is the reddish looking star that you can see shining so brightly almost overhead at about ten p.m. each clear night. It is due to its reddish color that it got its name, the red trilling blood of war.

Mars is the planet next out from the earth, and its distance from the sun is 141 millions of miles, against only 93 millions of miles for the earth. Mars is smaller than the earth, being only three tenths the size of our planet. It turns on its axis, the same as does the earth, and the other major planets. The time for Mars is 24 hours, 37 minutes, and 22 seconds, so the day is 40 minutes and 42 seconds longer than ours. Its year, too, is much longer than ours, the planet taking 686.9 days to go once round the sun, against our 365.25 days. Another interesting thing about Mars is that it has two moons, instead of one as we have. Its moons are called Deimos and Phobos or fear and light, and they are so small that their diameters are only 35 miles and 10 miles respectively, and they are at a distance of only 14,000 miles from the planet's surface, and the other but 15,000 miles. The most curious feature about these moons is that one passes round Mars in less than one hour or three times each day, so that the inhabitants of Mars, if any there, will not need a clock, being able to tell the time by the position of their moon. Just now Mars is relatively close to the earth, and on March 18th last the two planets were exactly opposite each other, being what is called in opposition. They were then 61,000,000 miles apart, but now the one planet is going in one direction and the other in the other, so we are rapidly drawing away again. In the telescope Mars is a fine object. It has ice and snow on its poles just as we have, and at the moment the sum of Mars in its height, it being equal to the 28th of July on the earth. Its pole cap, at the north shows up very faintly, having been nearly all melted by the long summer's heat for Mars has a summer more than twice as long as we do, as indeed all its seasons are. To look at Mars through a telescope you see a reddish ball about half an inch in diameter, and as your eye becomes accustomed to the light, observe on its surface a dark ring, and about the centre of the planet dark areas that soon take on regular forms. Around the ring of white you often see a dark green band, which is supposed to be the sea surrounding the melting snowcap.

Across the ball of the planet are dark lines, called "canals," and these are the subject of much discussion. By some they are thought to be ditches, actually dug by the Martians, through which the water is brought through the arid areas of the planet. By others they are thought to be mere cracks on the planet's surface, and the same people call the white parts carbon dioxide. As, however, they are actually seen to melt, and to disappear as the summer advances, and as they reappear in the winter months, the better reasoning is that they are snow

THE SITUATION.

At present writing the great German drive would seem to have been perceptibly slowed up and the danger which at one time seemed to threaten Amiens has been very largely abated.

Speaking generally the big crushing plan of Hindenburg has been a failure, the Allied lines have not been broken and the British and French troops are commencing not only to hold their own, but also to retake lost positions.

Two important repulses to the foe were reported Sunday on the Somme front and Canadians took a glorious part in the recapture of Moreuil.

Further assaults of a violent nature may be expected on the part of the foe, but confidence is fully warranted.

King George upon his return from a visit to the front expresses himself as more than satisfied with the morale and the spirit of the men and his statement in this respect coincides with that of all others competent to give testimony.

As one of the first results of the appointment of General Foch to the supreme command on the Western front it is announced that United States troops will be merged with those of the French and British.

The feeling grows with regard to the troubles in Quebec that there is need for drastic and salutary action.

THE TREND OF THE TIMES.

The largely attended gathering which took place in the Labor Temple, Toronto, on Good Friday was significant of the trend of the times.

The delegates represented a variety of organizations, including labor unions, United Farmers of Ontario, Socialists of America, Social Democratic Party, Fabian Socialists, Social Reconstruction group of the Theosophical Society, and Single Tax.

The Radical Socialists are stated to have numbered less than forty in a total attendance of over three hundred and their extreme advocates did not carry any general weight.

The general tone of the gathering was sincere and emphasized the fact, now generally recognized, that with the passing of the war there will come a big change in social conditions with an all-round distribution of a more equitable nature.

One of the main discussions arose with regard to the proper interpretation of the word "worker." Some seemed to think that only those who worked with their hands should come within this category.

While others held that those who depended upon their daily bread by the exercise of their mental powers without manual labor were also entitled to come within that category.

IMPROVED MARKET IS ASKED

It will be noticed that at the annual meeting of the members of the Brant County Board of Agriculture held in the city on Saturday, market conditions came in for a good deal of discussion and that as strong resolution was passed.

The fact is emphasized that farmers lose valuable time under present conditions for the reason that they have to place their stuff on the square the night before, in order to secure positions.

To this it might be added that more or less exposure is not at all desirable from a sanitary standpoint. More protection from the sun and rain is also asked, in other words a covered market. This is something which The Courier has advocated for a long time, and this paper believes that interest and sinking fund on such an outlay could be fully met by small rental fees.

Another thing the farmers request is that restrictions should not exist with regard to early purchasing. The whole market question is one which the City Council of this year can well afford to grapple with to a final conclusion.

Present conditions are certainly not right for either seller or buyer, and there is a splendid chance to make the entire condition of affairs more in accord with the needs and conveniences of both classes.

THE KING IS SATISFIED

With What He Saw on Visit to the Front

Inspiring Determination Characterizes All Ranks

London, Apr. 1.—The King, on returning to London from his visit to the front, sent a message to Field Marshall Haig in which he said:

"Though for the moment our troops have been obliged by sheer weight of numbers to give some ground the impression left on my mind is that no army could be in better heart, braver and more confident than that which you have the honor to command."

The King noted how he had seen the units recently withdrawn from the front and the entraining of fresh troops, "eager to reinforce their comrades." He said he had listened with wonder as officers and men had narrated thrilling incidents of the stubborn fighting.

The King also told of a visit to a casualty clearing station "where the patient cheerfulness of the wounded was equaled only by the care and gentleness of those who administered to their wants." He added:

"With these experiences short, but vivid, I feel that the whole empire will join with me in expressing gratitude to your army for the skillful and unswerving manner in which this formidable attack has been met and repulsed."

FARMERS ASK IMPROVED MARKET CONDITIONS

Need of Greater Production Also Dwelt on at the Annual Meeting of Brant Board; Want Free Implements, and Against Daylight Saving

The annual meeting of the Brant County Board of Agriculture was held in the Department of Agriculture room, Dalhousie street, Saturday afternoon. A fair number of farmers were in attendance.

The president, Mr. Taylor, in his remarks, laid special emphasis on the need of greater production and urged that nothing be left undone to gain this end.

After the routine business was disposed of a number of matters of vital interest to farmers were discussed. A resolution passed by the East Simcoe Board of Agriculture was presented to the school, showing the most improvement in surroundings, the same to be won three years before becoming the permanent property of any one school.

The prize of $10 voted last year was won by the St. George Public School. Much credit is due the St. George School Board for the expense of maintaining the well equipped playgrounds and well kept lawns, drives and flower beds falls entirely on them.

Prizes for Judging Team. It was felt that the prize offered in the inter-county Agriculture contest at Guelph was not a sufficient incentive to the boys competing. It was moved that $15 be set aside to furnish an extra prize for the inter-county team.

Market Conditions. A considerable discussion took place when this subject was introduced. Several members spoke in no uncertain terms about the market conditions of the city of Brantford, especially of the necessity of the farmers having to waste time coming to town the night before to secure a stand.

The following resolution was moved and seconded and carried unanimously: That the Brant County Board of Agriculture, in an annual meeting assembled, would respectfully urge upon the Government that in its consideration of the setting of prices for agricultural products it give due consideration to the interests of greater production.

Resolution of officers resulted as follows: President—Albert E. Westbrook. Vice-President—R. J. McCormick. Secretary—A. W. Pate.

DISASSEMBLING PROHIBITION OF IMPORTS FROM U. S.

Strong Effort to be Made by Canada to Restore Balance of Trade—Will be Great Impetus to Home Manufacturers of Many Articles

Toronto, April 1.—The Canadian Government following the visit to Washington by Premier Borden and Hon. A. K. Macleod, the Acting Minister of Finance, have decided to collect the balance of trade which has existed between Canada and United States by prohibiting the importation from the United States of a number of items of manufactured articles to the amount of $150,000,000 a year.

The adverse balance against Canada has operated seriously upon exchange, which has been running to almost two per cent on New York.

AN EXTENSIVE EMBARGO. The working out of the details of the embargo on imports has been turned over to the Canadian War Board, which has been in consultation with a number of Canadian industries affected, including automobile manufacturers. Among the articles the entrance of which to Canada is proposed to prohibit are: Automobiles, tires, accessories, patient medicines, silverware, jewelry, musical instruments of all kinds, boots and shoes, ready-made clothing, and, in fact, every article which can be manufactured in Canada.

It is estimated that, with imports of finished automobiles forbidden the materials necessary to make up the automobiles in Canada can be imported from the United States to the amount of enough material for two automobiles. In that way the value of one automobile can be saved in the case of automobiles, the expenditures of Canadian funds in the United States is reduced by one-half in the production of the same number of vehicles. Eventually it is hoped to work up to eighty per cent saving of expenditure in the United States.

loose them easily. In the opinion of this meeting assembled it would be good business to sell the spaces for a stated amount (with restrictions) for the year or season, and we further believe that in the interests of production no restrictions should be placed on anyone who wishes to purchase early, and that the city housewife would greatly co-operate by making a special effort to market early in the day, and further that more suitable protection from the hot sun and rain should be provided and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the City Council.

A resolution passed by the East Simcoe Board of Agriculture was presented to the school, showing the most improvement in surroundings, the same to be won three years before becoming the permanent property of any one school.

It was moved by Messrs. Clark and McCormick that a resolution be presented to the school, showing the most improvement in surroundings, the same to be won three years before becoming the permanent property of any one school.

Margaret Garrett's Husband

By JANE PHELPS

A LAST WEEK END VISION. Chapter XVIII. The last Sunday in September mother invited Elsie and Tom down to spend the week end with us. They were to go down Friday night and return with us on Monday morning. Bob was delighted.

"I'll wallop Tom Barton so he'll remember it this time!" he declared as he swung his racket idly back and forth. He had had his revenge, and was sure he could win again.

"I hope so, if it will please you," I returned. I liked Tom, and was willing Bob should be amused with him. That was quite different from enjoying the society of the evening.

"No wonder your husband looks so contented and happy, Mrs. Lawton. You certainly know how to make people comfortable—and feel comfortable too."

"There is no use fussing over non-essentials, Elsie. What difference does it make if the roast is cold if our hearts are warm? The boys will be happier over their vacation if no one frets over their getting out or being late for meals," and though mother never glanced at me I knew she was talking for my benefit.

"You're not a bit like your mother, are you, Margaret?" Elsie said mistily a few minutes afterward.

"Oh, I don't know why?" "Elsie is so placid, nothing trivial seems to annoy her. I suppose if some great trouble came she would be like the rest of us, but she is so selfless. Some women would be angry to get up a nice dinner and have it get cold waiting for those two men."

"You mean that I would?" "No not exactly that, the dinner I meant. But you do fret over such foolish things, Margaret. You will be increased if it has been decided to ask each affiliated society to appoint a delegate to confer with the Conservation Committee of the Women's Patriotic League."

TORONTO CATTLE MARKET. Toronto, April 1.—The trade at the Union Stock Yards was very slow this morning, while the quantity of cattle was stronger. Hogs and sheep were steady, prices medium. Receipts are as follows: 1,166 calves, 334 calves, 1,396 hogs, 50 sheep.

Export cattle, choice, $12 to $12.50; export bulls, $8 to $9; butcher cattle, choice, $10.50 to $11.75; medium, $9.50 to $10.50; common, $8.50 to $9.75; cows, choice, $9 to $10; medium, $8.75 to $9.75; cullers, $8 to $9.25; feeding steers, $8.50 to $10.25; stockers, choice, $8 to $8.75; stockers, light, $7 to $7.50; milkers, choice, $9 to $10; springers, choice, $9 to $10; sheep, choice, $13.50 to $15; bucks and culls, $7.50 to $10; lambs, $19 to $20.50; hogs, red and watered, $21; hogs, f.o.b., $20.15; calves, $15 to $17.

Additional pairs have been sent in for "Secours National," bringing Brantford's gift to the French up to the grand total of 914. The following letter speaks for itself: From Secours National, Toronto. Toronto, March 24th, 1918. To the Secretary of the Women's Patriotic League, Brantford, Ont.

Dear Madam.—The ladies of the executive wish me to convey to you their very warmest appreciation of your magnificent donation of many hundred and fourteen pairs of socks to the Secours National. Kinship thank the members of the Brantford Patriotic League and all interested society for their generous gift, which beside helping us out very materially in our weekly shipments of socks to the front, has many uses of which we have a fair number in Brantford, who are truly interested in this work for the French soldiers.

Yours very sincerely, M. McCreary, Sec. Brantford. A similar acknowledgment acknowledgment of a splendid shipment of quilts to the Secours National. Monthly Report of Miss L. Carlyle, Co-ordinator of Conservation Committee.

Today we are once to face with the most momentous event in the history of the world and an unparalleled responsibility is resting upon our arms holding the western front, and in no degree less an unparalleled responsibility is resting upon us at home, who must see to it that our armies are fed. And not only our armies, but our kindred across the sea. I am sure you will be glad to hear that we are doing without already for many months. In a very clear-cut definite way, we in Canada and our neighbors to our south, are called upon to concentrate our efforts upon this part of the service and it will be to our lasting disgrace if we fail to respond. The latest food bulletin is much taken up with the problem of increased production. Increased production to any large extent, in the necessary wheat, beef and bacon is possible only by the increase of assistance on farm work. We are all familiar with the Soldier's note which says, "I hope for splendid results." The latest suggestion noted is that conscripted men who failed to pass for service overseas be conscripted for farm work.

PATRIOTIC AND RED CROSS REPORTS

Our fighting men are ever foremost in mind, their comfort our chief consideration. We try to reach them, whether in the front line trenches, quietly resting in billets or convalescing in hospital.

A convalescent Canadian was given one of the useful little products made of attractive chintz and filled with necessary comforts. As he lay on his bed, he asked "Where do I sign for this Sister?" "You don't sign," the nurse said with a smile. "It's yours. It bears written on its label, 'God bless the women of Canada,'" he fervently exclaimed.

Such a little thing to give a sick soldier pleasure—but the interesting scrap-book, which is so snug in its bag, may keep his mind from dwelling on his pain, and every time he makes use of the various comforts the bag contains he knows he is not forgotten by the women of his native land.

Three hundred and thirty-six of such "Sister" bags were shipped overseas this month. May they bring pleasure to our wounded men, despite the lack of wool, 435 pairs of socks have been knitted in the past month.

Additional pairs have been sent in for "Secours National," bringing Brantford's gift to the French up to the grand total of 914. The following letter speaks for itself: From Secours National, Toronto. Toronto, March 24th, 1918. To the Secretary of the Women's Patriotic League, Brantford, Ont.

Today we are once to face with the most momentous event in the history of the world and an unparalleled responsibility is resting upon our arms holding the western front, and in no degree less an unparalleled responsibility is resting upon us at home, who must see to it that our armies are fed. And not only our armies, but our kindred across the sea. I am sure you will be glad to hear that we are doing without already for many months. In a very clear-cut definite way, we in Canada and our neighbors to our south, are called upon to concentrate our efforts upon this part of the service and it will be to our lasting disgrace if we fail to respond. The latest food bulletin is much taken up with the problem of increased production. Increased production to any large extent, in the necessary wheat, beef and bacon is possible only by the increase of assistance on farm work. We are all familiar with the Soldier's note which says, "I hope for splendid results." The latest suggestion noted is that conscripted men who failed to pass for service overseas be conscripted for farm work.

surely make yourself most unhappy if you worry every time Bob is out of your sight." I realized that Elsie had seen my tears, but was fortunately saved, making my reply by shouting from Bob announcing they were ready and hungry as bears.

Dinner was very gay in spite of its being a bit cold. Bob and Tom made plans for every minute of our stay.

"If the rest of you would like to come over to the link I'll drive you over in the morning," Tom said. "Or if you do not care for that and would like a nice long ride, I'll get a chauffeur from the garage to drive you where you like."

"Unless the girls want to watch you play, I shall vote for the latter proposition," mother replied. "Father and I enjoy driving immensely, and don't often get a chance in such a car as yours, Mr. Barton."

"All right, tell me the time you will be ready and I'll send a man over with the car." "Ten o'clock will suit me," and as we all acquiesced, it was settled. We had a beautiful ride way down to the end of the island. We stopped for luncheon at a quaint little inn almost hidden from the road by vines and trees. We reached home just as the boys came in tired and happy from their day's sport.

The next day they were up at daybreak, and only came in again as dinner was ready. They had lunched at the club house. We started for home directly after dinner, for one had to get back where I could at least see something of Bob in the evening. At mother's he had been so tired he had gone to bed immediately after dinner both nights.

Dear Madam.—The ladies of the executive wish me to convey to you their very warmest appreciation of your magnificent donation of many hundred and fourteen pairs of socks to the Secours National. Kinship thank the members of the Brantford Patriotic League and all interested society for their generous gift, which beside helping us out very materially in our weekly shipments of socks to the front, has many uses of which we have a fair number in Brantford, who are truly interested in this work for the French soldiers.

MEN'S SONG SERVICE.

The address of Rev. C. F. Logan at the Y.M.C.A. men's song service yesterday was one of great strength and inspiration, the subject being "Men's Possibilities". The speaker contrasted the wonderful days in which we live with those of the past. Men mix their possibilities because they lack vision. It was the Master who was the greatest discoverer of men—he always saw what they could become if rightly related to Him. The address was striking in its wealth of illustrations and incidents from nature and life. The soloist was Mr. A. E. Martin of the Wesley Church choir, who sang "The Resurrection Morn" in a most impressive manner. The song service as led by Mr. J. H. Friend included a number of Easter day selections. Next Sunday is Father's Day—it being the beginning of Fathers and Sons' weeks.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES

With the gentlest of spring zephyrs bestirring the sunshine laden air, yesterday was an Easter Sunday to bring joy to the hearts of the most oppressed. The Easter conditions were ideal, for which femininity gave thanks, for what is Easter? Is Easter fashions cannot be worn to advantage. And never were the streets of Brantford resplendent with a more gorgeous galaxy than yesterday afternoon, when they became a veritable Bazaar of fashion.

But in view of all this, the deeper, the religious significance of the feast was not forgotten; rather, in view of the acute war situation, unusual reverence and devotion marked the services in churches of every denomination.

HALFOUR STREET. At Balfour Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, the Rev. D. L. Campbell took his text from Luke xxiv, 32, "Did Not Our Hearts Burn?" The journey of Christ to Emmaus was typical of the Christian pilgrimage; first in its beginning, secondly in its doubt and unbelief, thirdly in the hour of sorrow and bereavement, and fourthly in going through the valley and the shadow of death.

OXFORD STREET. Easter is a day for the young folk at Oxford Street Methodist Church. In the morning, a special illustrated service and object lesson. "He is Not Dead, but Sleepeth," was conducted for the junior congregation. The attendance at the Sunday School in the afternoon reached the record figure of 200. General Easter exercises and recitations were taken up in the evening, the pastor, the Rev. Wray Smith, spoke from the text, "How is Christ Risen," special Easter music being given by the choir. The church was appropriately decorated with Easter lilies which were afterwards distributed among the sick members of the church.

Oxford St. Methodist is to be congratulated on having a pastor who appears to be so faithful, earnest, up-to-date and giving of his best, as if he were ministering to a congregation of a thousand.

CONGREGATIONAL. A note of encouragement and optimism was sounded in the Congregational Church by the Rev. W. J. Thompson. The choir was very full and rendered excellent music. Mr. Thompson not only delivered Easter messages, but made reference in hopeful tones to the military situation. From the text, "They have taken away my Lord," the speaker showed the error of those who believed, like Mary, that this was so. Cephas, Mr. Thompson emphasized the importance of the individual. Christ appeared also to comfort Peter, who had denied Him, this emphasizing the need of comfort to the distressed. Nothing was needed more to-day than encouragement. Finally, Christ appeared to Peter to prepare him for his ministry, and so to-day the vision of Christ was of more importance than scholarship or ability in serving the Lord.

BRANT AVE. CHURCH. In Brant Avenue Church the Rev. J. W. Fitzpatrick spoke in the morning on Mary at the Tomb—Jesus appeared first to a woman. He marked the truth of the narration and also its divinity. In a day when it was considered a disgrace for a man to speak to his own wife on the street, and when women were only allowed in the synagogue behind a heavy screen, no story writer would have made his hero reveal himself first to a woman. The first Easter was the dawning of a new day for womankind. And wherever His gospel has gone the hoary prejudices of the cemeteries are breaking down to give woman her rightful place of equality with men.

Mary mistook Him for the gardener, and yet she spoke with courtesy to this supposed humble toiler. She learned much of the spirit of Jesus, and though she made a mistake she never could regret her attitude of kindly address to Him. The criterion of the judgment is to be that kindness shown to needy and helpless ones, is service given to Christ. "Inasmuch as ye have done it with one of the least of these you have done it with me." Services rendered in these days through the Red Cross, the Red Triangle, for Soldiers Comforts, for prisoners of war, are services rendered to Christ. His methods are, therefore, that all methods adopted to secure funds, or to render assistance in these Christ-like ministries, should be kept clear of anything that would reflect upon the name of Christ.

Jesus was made known to Mary by speaking her name. It was not His form, or His face, but the tone of His voice as He pronounced her name, that revealed the Lord to her. He had often spoken it before she recognized that which was so familiar. And we will know Him not "by the print of the nails in His hands" as we sometimes sing, but by something that has become very familiar to us in our communion here.

The music was of exceptional quality. Mr. J. A. Hall sang "Open the Gates of the Temple," and the anthems were, "God So Loved the World" by Moore and "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" by Mozart. In the evening, Mr. Fitzpatrick spoke on Christ's revelation of Himself to the two disciples on the walk to Emmaus.

ZION CHURCH. The Easter services in Zion church were of a very impressive character. The church was beautifully decorated and the big auditorium was crowded to its utmost, some people sitting in the vestibule at both services. In the morning the Rev. J. W. Woodside, of Toronto, brother of the local minister, presided and officiated at the baptism of the minister's little daughter, Jean Elizabeth. He spoke on the words, "If a man die shall he live again." It was an old question, he said, but one of perennial interest.

YOU NEED A TONG

Hood's Sarsaparilla, as a Spring Medicine, is the Best.

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devalitized blood. It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption.

The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Ask your druggist for this old reliable family medicine. It purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood. It is an all-the-year-round alternative and tonic, and is absolutely the best Spring medicine. Get your blood in good condition at once—now. Delay may be dangerous. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, nothing else can take its place.

PUT IT RIGHT THERE

London, April 1.—Ritter's correspondent wires from British army headquarters in France:

"The King has spent a crowded fifty hours in France. His Majesty moved freely among the troops who resisted the first enemy onslaught. No official program was arranged. The King desiring to make a quite informal visit in order not to interfere with the great flow of military movements. Your correspondent accompanied him throughout the whole tour. His Majesty congratulated the male and cheered up the wounded. The royal mission throughout was admirably fulfilled.

"The King, who had a rough sea passage, commenced his tour in a small town in northern France, where the various staff officers and corps commanders were presented to him. Throughout the journey the King moved amongst the divisions on route to and from the front, chatting with animation about their adventures.

"Meeting a certain regiment on the way to front lines His Majesty cried out 'Are we downhearted?' The reply was an enthusiastic roar: Many pathetic and many humorous incidents occurred amongst the wounded. One wounded colonial, lying waiting in Bed Cross, leaned forward when the King opened the carriage door. The colonial looked critically at the King, then painfully extending his hand he said: 'I've often heard of you. Put it right there!'

"The King immediately did."

SALVATION ARMY UNVEILED HONOR ROLL YESTERDAY

Special Services Conducted, Morning, Afternoon and Evening

The Easter services at Brantford throughout, were real times of awakening, in every sense of the word.

The commencement was made on Good Friday with splendid annual Band Tea and Concert, when two hundred set down to a bountiful supper and aid through justice to the spread. A splendid programme arranged by the band, was given by the Bandsmen and other members of the Corps.

Shortly before 7 o'clock Easter Sunday morning about fifty uniformed Salvationists, headed by a very good band, aroused the residents of the central section by the playing and singing of Easter songs. Upon the conclusion of the march, a Love Feast was held in the Hall and a very beautiful spirit prevailed throughout.

The meetings all day were conducted by our Divisional Commanders, Col. and Mrs. Chandler, from Hamilton. In the morning service the Colonel dedicated the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Mears. In the Sunday School the Colonel took charge of an altar service, when the Junior brought in their little envelopes, the price of a "brick" for our new Junior Hall, which is rapidly nearing completion. $16.70 was brought in in this way by the children only.

A fine lot of new laid eggs, each bearing an appropriate Easter text, together with lovely flowers covered a table at the front of the hall. These eggs and flowers brought in by Comrades and friends, will be distributed amongst the sick of our Corps and at the Hospital.

At the 3 p.m. service the Colonel enrolled five recruits. The Citadel was packed for the evening Salvation meeting, when the Colonel unveiled a very fine portrait of the late General Booth, in a beautiful frame, worked and presented by Mr. A. B. Lee, artist, this city. The Union Jack was removed from the picture by Mr. Lee. The additional singing of the "General's" song, "Oh Boundless Salvation." On behalf of the Corps the Colonel then thanked Mr. Lee, after which our friend expressed his pleasure in thus being able to show his appreciation and sympathy with the work of the Salvation Army. Following this a splendid Honour Roll was unveiled, while the audience sang "Oh God our Help in Ages Past." The Honour Roll bears the names of sixty-eight members and adherents of the Brantford Corps, who are fighting for King and Country. Four of these have paid the supreme sacrifice.

Mrs. Colonel Chandler spoke feelingly at this service, followed by a heart-wrenching address by the Colonel. A man and his wife claimed forgiveness of their sins at this service.

Throughout the day, splendid crowds attended the open air stand in this way, in particular, an awakening was noted. Spring is surely here with all its possibilities, and Brantford shall make the most of its opportunities.

BRITTON BEATS DUFFY. Altanta, Ga., March 28.—Jack Britton, welterweight, was awarded the referee's decision over Jimmy Duffy in their bout here last night. Referee Flaack in the eighth round of a scheduled ten round fight stopped the bout and, pointing to Britton said, "this is the only man doing any fighting and I award the fight to him." Duffy and his manager claimed they had not been given "fair treatment."

SYDENHAM METHODIST.
 The most largely attended and in all respects the most successful service in the history of Sydenham Street Church was held yesterday morning. "I am he that liveth and was dead," Revelation 1:18, was the text of the sermon preached by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Smythe. Before the morning service the Junior League gave a half-hour song service.

RIVERDALE BAPTIST.
 Rev. A. Carr, at the Riverdale Baptist Church, preached on Acts 2:8, "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead." It was pointed out that the death of Christ apart from the resurrection, would be worthless. Christianity was founded upon the resurrection. The soloists at the morning services were Miss Harcourt, soprano, and Mr. A. T. Pettit, tenor.

.....
TRINITY ANGLICAN.
 Easter was observed at Trinity Anglican Church yesterday with special communion services. Rev. A. W. Whelan preached from Saint Matthew, choosing for his text "Fear ye not" (Math. 28 chapter, 5 verse). Both morning and evening services were well attended.

SHENSTONE MEMORIAL.
 The congregation which attended Shenstone Memorial Baptist Church was indeed a large and devout one. The special Easter services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Silman. The sermon preached was on John 20 chapter, 13th verse. "They have taken away my Lord and I know not where they have laid him," the joy of the resurrection as seen by the grief of Mary turned into gladness at the sight of the risen Christ. Baptismal services were held also.

IMMANUEL BAPTIST.
 "And they spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem" (Luke 9:31), was the text of Rev. David Alexander's sermon at Immanuel Baptist Church Sunday morning. "The Cross of Christ, viewed from the Mount," the Exodus about to be accomplished, was brought out by the speaker. Miss Vera Smith gave a beautiful rendition of "The Man of Sorrows," and pleasing Easter anthems were given by the choir. In the afternoon Mr. Christopher Book gave an illustrated talk on "The people and religion of India" to the Sunday School. Baptismal services were held at night.

SAINTE JAMES'.
 Rev. J. H. Mills at the Saint James Anglican Church preached from John 10:14, "Because I live ye shall live also." In a logical manner the pastor pointed out the immortality of the soul. An insignificant of everything mortal was well taught. The communion services were well attended, there being 21 more communicants at the church.

SPLENDID ADVANCE MADE BY THE BRITISH
 On both banks of the Somme the British Wednesday drove up the valley and regained three or four miles of ground on a front of about 12 miles, greatly improving the possibilities of holding the front up the western bank of the Ancre. The enemy now is about 17 miles from Amiens, which is west of Corbie. The French have given ground far to the south west of Rosieres making the British position more difficult.

yesterday than were present at last Easter services.
 A thank offering of $100 was solicited, but the offering given at the morning service alone exceeded this mark.

GRACE CHURCH.
 Grace Church was beautifully decorated for the Easter services—the pulpit being hidden in the wealth of flowers. The special music was rendered by a large choir with excellent effect. There were large congregations, over two hundred communicating at the eight o'clock celebration.

The rector preached at all the services. Mr. Fotheringham's text was "Master," St. John, 20th chapter, verse 16.
 The sermon began by a review of our national situation. The darkness of uncertainty, of danger of death, had been our Empire during the last week. Easter had dawned red with blood. But the day had brought us a vision of the "Master" in His victory over the darkness of the grave and the forces of sin. He dealt with the grief of Mary, to whom Christ appeared. She had lost not only her friend, but her vision of purity and her dream of a kingdom of righteousness. But to her came the Christ and with Him the beginning of a fellowship which could not be broken, a hope of purity and of righteousness that could not fade. And so in our honor of seeming defeat, of death and of the breakdown of the modern world comes Christ, the Master of "Master," so will victory be assured.

ST. JUDE'S.
 The utmost capacity of St. Jude's church was taxed by the size of the congregation yesterday morning, it being necessary to find temporary accommodation for many. There were over three hundred and fifty communicants. The sermon of the pastor, the Rev. C. E. Jenkins, was upon "The Threefold Message of the Resurrection." Christ had shed a new light on immortality and new dignity and significance to human life which had robbed death of its power. At the children's services in the afternoon, the mite boxes containing the Lenten Mission offerings were handed in, and were found to contain the sum of $135, far in excess of all previous years. The music rendered by the choir during the day was excellent.

ST. BASIL'S.
 Special music was given by the children and adult choirs at St. Basil's church afternoon and evening yesterday. The altar was beautifully decorated with Easter flowers. Preaching upon the resurrection of Christ, Rev. Dean Brady pointed out the manner in which this foreshadowed the general resurrection upon the day of judgment. He cited numerous instances in the present war, where churches and cathedrals had been destroyed, and only a crucifix left standing.

ST. MARY'S.
 St. Mary's church was filled at both masses yesterday, a very large number receiving communion. The altar was beautifully and appropriately decorated for the feast of Easter. Rev. Father Padden in his sermon outlined the true significance of Easter.

WELLINGTON STREET.
 The services in Wellington Street Methodist church were held on the main floor yesterday for the first time since January, and were attended by unusually large congregations. In the morning, Rev. Dr. Henderson gave the final Bible reading of a series following the life of Christ through Easter week. The five appearances of Christ were related, and expositions drawn from

ST. LUKE'S AND ST. PAUL'S.
 Easter morning services at Saint Luke's were conducted by Rev. H. C. Light, who preached from Revelation 1:18, "I am he that liveth and was dead; and behold I am alive forevermore." At Saint Paul's church the same text was preached from by Rev. J. J. Morton. At both churches the choir rendered pleasing anthems.

ALEXANDRA CHURCH.
 The atmosphere of Easter pervaded the services at Alexandra Church yesterday. Especially large congregations greeted the pastor, Rev. Charles S. Oke, for both services, who were more than amply repaid in the splendid message he had for them. The chancel was prettily decorated with lilies, ferns and other beautiful flowers. Exceptionally good music was rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. George C. Phelps of Toronto, who is officiating as organist pro tem. Most delightful Easter solos were sung by Mrs. Barton, Miss Elida Hurley and Mr. Theodor Hamilton. An organ recital was given by Mr. Phelps, prior to the evening service, which included the following numbers: "Largo," from the symphony, "The New World" (Dvorak); "Gertrude," (Moszkowski); "Priore Notre Dame," from Guitto Gothique (Boellmann); "Morning," from Pere Gynter's songs (Grieg); "Abendlied" (Schumann).

WESLEY METHODIST.
 The Easter services in Wesley church were inspirational and well attended. At the morning service the choir sang the two Anthems, "God so loved the world," (Stainer) and "Alleluia, Alleluia" (Stults) in a very pleasing and helpful manner. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Martin, took as the text of an Easter message, John's Gospel, Chapter 1 and verse 9, "In Him was Life and the Life was the Light of Men." The context of the Christ Life was discussed as Human, Creative, Sustaining and Redemptive—Redemptive because it was Divine. It was this which gave it atoning merit, as to why this Life in Christ was the Light of men. It was so because it revealed the Power of Truth. It uncovered the rumpency of Love and the Path of Duty. It also showed the way to God. It was the Life that was the Light of Men. Life and light belong to one another. Christ was able to say, I am the light of the world, because he was the embodiment of a Divine Life.

COLBORNE STREET.
 Paul's sermon upon Mars Hill was the subject chosen by the Rev. C. F. Logan at Colborne street Methodist Church yesterday morning. The church was filled to the doors. The speaker pointed out the mixed audience to which Paul addressed this sermon. Epicureans and Stoics, Sceptics, followers of Socrates and Plato; yet from that strange gathering he had drawn converts. His message was "Jesus, the Resurrection." The resurrection of Christ was the strangest fact in all history, which we were called upon to accept with faith. Mr. Logan went on to give proofs of Christ's resurrection, deducing from it two lessons; first, that as Christ was a man ordained of God, we should accept His teachings above all others; secondly, that as the resurrection proved His power over the grave, so it also proves His power to fulfill His promise that we shall rise again. The cross, once looked upon by the Jews as a symbol of ignominy, had become the glory of human life, and so might the ignominy of war, devastating life and land, eventually glorify God's humanity. In the evening, a very pleasing musical program was rendered by the choir.

RIVERDALE CHURCH.
 At the Sunday evening service at Riverdale Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. A. Carr gave a message that would be suitable both for the day and for the baptismal service. He chose as a text for his theme, 1 Corinthians VI, 19 and 20, "What? Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own. For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's."

We are not our own, and so our lives are not ours, much as we would like them to be. Even so, neither our possessions nor our will, belong to us. The men or women that give back the most of these to the Lord are the ones who become greatest in His Kingdom.

Easter was also viewed from a National standpoint, after the gloom caused by the war situation during the past week. It was hoped that Easter Sunday would bring good news from the scene of fighting.

SPHAGNUM MOSS DRESSINGS FOR WAR PURPOSES

SPHAGNUM Moss, to which attention has been drawn by the fatal accident to Mr. Harry James Smith, the American Sphagnum Moss expert, is one of Canada's natural resources, one great value of which has been brought to light by the war. The use of mosses in surgical dressings dates at least as far back as the Napoleonic wars, but the demand for and extensive use of Sphagnum Moss did not materialize until 1915, and even in the Spring of 1916 its use was in the experimental stage. So great has become the demand that Great Britain is no longer able to fill it, and Canada and the United States are now being actively exploited for this highly absorbent dressing.

The first effective work on this side of the Atlantic was initiated by Prof. Porter of McGill University, who secured samples of various qualities of moss from the British authorities early in 1916 and then explored the bogs of Eastern Nova Scotia until he was able to locate supplies of material which the same authorities accepted as "perfect." The first sphagnum dressings sent overseas were made up from this moss in the autumn of 1916 by the Junior Red Cross of Guysboro, Nova Scotia.

Since then the industry has developed steadily. The McGill University Women's Union established a sphagnum department in a large laboratory very generously placed at their disposal by the University Medical School in the autumn of 1916, and from that day until this has been preparing moss and shipping dressings. Another important function of this organization has been to make up experimental sphagnum dressings of many sorts to try out the different grades of Canadian material under varying conditions.

During the winter of 1917 another work room was started at Dalhousie University, Halifax, and the Canadian Red Cross definitely adopted sphagnum for hospital dressings and prepared to open working centres on a large scale. Unfortunately the changes in the Atlantic shipping situation which resulted from unrestricted submarine warfare necessitated a temporary check, but the work of exploration and development was continued.

The late Mr. Harry James Smith of New York became interested in the possibilities of sphagnum last spring, and after spending some time with Dr. Porter to familiarize himself with the technology of the subject, established a sphagnum organization at his own expense at Arichat, Cape Breton, and collected and prepared a large amount of moss. Success in the use of this material led to the adoption of sphagnum by the American Red Cross and to the formation of a department which was placed under the control of Mr. Smith as organizer and Dr. J. A. Hartwell of New York as technical advisor.

During the last two or three months developments have been very rapid. The demand for dressings has increased to such an extent that the Canadian Red Cross has decided to start production on a large scale, and the Americans are organizing for an immense output for the use of their own and the French hospitals.

No moss can of course be procured in the east until the snow melts, and the bogs thaw out, but excellent sphagnum is also found on the Pacific coast. Mr. Smith, with the help of the Canadian Sphagnum Committee, prepared a car of Vancouver Island moss early in the winter, and this carload (which Mr. Smith paid for out of his own pocket) proved so satisfactory that he went to Seattle early in March to organize the industry in the north-western States, and incidentally to look into the situation in British Columbia for Professor Porter, who was unable to go west at the time.

As a matter of fact Mr. Smith met his death while searching for moss for the Canadian Red Cross, and thus set the seal to a life of exceptional generosity and nobility.

Sphagnum grows in moist and boggy places, and can be found in almost all parts of the country, but the moss to be useful must have exceptionally full and soft foliage, and the stems while tough and elastic must be flexible, as otherwise the dressing would be liable to cause irritation.

First class material has been found in boggy districts close to the Atlantic coast, and equally good moss grows plentifully in the far West—as, for example, on the west coast of Vancouver Island—but little or no first class surgical material has been found far from the sea, although there are immense areas of Sphagnum bog in the interior both of Canada and the United States. The best qualities of moss are likely to be found close to the margins of the ponds, and sometimes considerable areas of clean high-grade material all that was once a small pond. Before any attempt is made to collect moss in quantities, all of the bogs in the district should be examined with a view to locating the largest supplies of good material, and this preliminary examination should be made by persons who have had previous experience in collecting Sphagnum.

Owing to the great variations in usefulness of different kinds of Sphagnum, and the fact that different species grow very much intermingled, the material has to be collected by people who have been trained to know good moss from bad, and even an experienced collector will often have difficulty in deciding just what to take and what to leave when he first visits a new locality.

The accompanying photographs show the work of the McGill Women's Union. No. 8 illustrates the preparation and drying of sphagnum and the manufacture of dressings. No. 9, the general soldiers' comforts work. The Union was organized during the first weeks of the war from among the families of the Governors and staff of the University. Its original purpose was to help provide "soldiers' comforts" for McGill graduates and students on active service, and as these now number over 2,200, the possibilities of its work may be imagined. During the three and a half years of its existence the Union has expended nearly $8,000 on the purchase of high grade materials, which have been made up by its members into socks, caps, mufflers, pyjamas, shirts, etc., to a total of about 9,000 articles of clothing. No. 8 illustrates the preparation alone, to say nothing of an immense number of sphagnum dressings, etc.

The organizer and first president of the Union was Mrs. H. Walter; since then the chair has been filled successively by Mrs. E. E. Howard, Mrs. J. B. Porter and Mrs. J. W. Ross, the present President. The Sphagnum Committee of the Union was organized in 1916 under the chairmanship of Lady Gordon, and its present Chairman is Mrs. Porter. The Treasurer of the Union is Mrs. A. McGinn and the Secretary Mrs. A. Willey. Any correspondence regarding the work of the Union should be addressed to the latter, but questions relating to the technology of Sphagnum and Sphagnum dressings should be addressed to Miss S. M. Balmbridge, Hon. Sec. Committee on Sphagnum Dressings, Canadian Red Cross Society, care McGill University, Montreal.

DETROIT TO N. Y. BY EXPRESS TRUCK

Tire Company Begins Regular Schedule of Overland
Transportation

In order to help relieve railroad congestion and at the same time insure prompt deliveries of tires to the dealers a large tire company with a factory in Detroit has established a system of motor truck transportation between Detroit and New York. The first truck loaded with 4,500 pounds of tires for the metropolitan district, arrived in New York at noon on Feb. 27 from the big Detroit factory of the tire company after bucking the fierce snowstorms on the way east.

The big vehicle, a two-ton Pierce-Arrow was equipped with pneumatic truck tires, and in spite of the strenuous work it was called upon to perform neither truck nor tires showed signs of wear.

The run from Detroit to Buffalo was made in twenty-eight and one-half hours—except the time when the conditions are taken into consideration.

Between Buffalo and Albany the truck encountered the worst roads and heaviest snows of the trip. Snowdrifts completely obscured the roadbed, making it impossible for H. Diez, the driver to avoid ruts.

This not only slowed down the speed of the last half of the journey but added materially to the wear and tear on the truck tires.

This tire truck followed an army convoy of sixty trucks out of Buffalo, leaving them at Amsterdam a few hours, before arrival in New York City.

In and around Detroit, where the congestion in the railroad yards blocked traffic for weeks at a time, the Detroit factory of this company supplied the automobile plants in the city and suburbs by air truck.

STRIKERS RIOT.—Dawn today found the down town district of Kansas City patrolled by members of the National Guard to prevent a repetition of rioting and wrecking of business establishments that marked the first night of the general strike of Union workmen in the city called yesterday in sympathy with striking laundry workers.

Three alleged strikers were shot and severely wounded, one probably fatally in attacks on laundry plants last night. Strike leaders claimed approximately 2,000 persons had walked out.

Hard Colds.—People whose blood is pure are not nearly so likely to take hard colds as are others. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure; and this great medicine covers the system after a cold as no other medicine does. Take Hood's.

CHILD'S LONG WAISTED DRESS.
By Anabel Worthington.

A splendid little school dress for a small girl is given in No. 8572. It is in the well liked jumper style which is so practical for children, because a number of gimpes can be made to be worn with the one dress. With a cloth dress the gimpes may be of either wash material or silk. The dress is to be slipped on over the head and there are no fastenings. The neck may be made round or square, and the gimpes show two styles of finishing—with and without the round collar. The skirt may be side plaited or gathered.

The child's long waisted dress pattern, No. 8572, is cut in five sizes—6 to 14 years. In the eight-year size the separate dress with plaited skirt requires 2 1/2 yards 36 inch and 4 1/4 yards braid. The separate gimpes require 1 1/4 yards 36 inch material.

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Eva Trout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Trout, Broadway St., was united in marriage to Mr. John D. Hodgson of Caran, Sask. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely dress of white silk, and carried an armful of white carnations. Miss May Trout was her sister's bridesmaid, while Mr. John Trout ably supported the groom. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Langton. After the ceremony the guests adjourned to the dining-room, where a sumptuous dinner was served.

THE RED TRIANGLE CLUB

A Vigorous Offspring of the Y.M.C.A.

By WILLIAM LEWIS EDMONDS.

There appears to be no limit to the ramifications of the Y. M. C. A. in behalf of the soldier boy. Canada had not long been a participant in the war before those taking an interest in the men who had joined the colors became impressed with the necessity of something out of the ordinary being done particularly in the large centres of population, to provide ways and means of easing for their spiritual and social life when not under the immediate discipline of the military authorities. Kind-hearted people entertained small groups of the boys at their homes. This as far as it went, was excellent. But it was only nibbling at the problem. It wasn't solving it. And as time went on and the boys came back from the front on furlough, or to recuperate from the effects of wounds or shell shock, the necessity for solving the problem by organized effort became all the greater.

Naturally the Y. M. C. A., with its watchmen ever on the outlook for opportunities to extend its usefulness, saw nothing of its wide experience in welfare work among young men in general, was the first to discover the ways and means by which the great problem might be solved.

The birth of the Red Triangle Club was the result. Scarcely a year has passed since this club idea was put infor the purposes of the Red Triangle Club, it soon became totally inadequate on account of the extent to which it was patronized. And now a building equally spacious, immediately adjoining, has been commandeered, and when the alterations under way are completed will double the accommodation.

In the dining hall all the serving is done by young and middle-aged ladies gathered from the best homes in Toronto. They are carefully selected for the purpose and render their services free. Under a captain they work in groups. Each group is on duty for a stated number of hours, and there is not an hour during the day when these ladies are not on hand to furnish such refreshments as the boys in khaki and in blue, or those who have obtained their discharge, may require. There are instances by the score of the beneficial effect which these ladies have exercised upon the soldier boys, most of whom are far from home and missing its influence.

Last year among the young men who came over from the United States to enlist in the Canadian army was one who was without either acquaintances or friends when he landed in Toronto. With others he was taken to the Red Triangle Club, where afterwards he became a frequent to practical operation in the Dominion, but it has through the remarkable success which has attended it, demonstrated beyond peradventure that therein lies the solution of the problem.

The first Red Triangle Club to be established was that opened in Toronto at the corner of Queen and Victoria streets on April 16, 1917, in a building formerly known as the McCarron House. Since then the Red Triangle Club has been established at Halifax, St. John, Elkhorn, Man., and Vancouver.

The Red Triangle Club is much more than a club in the generally accepted sense of the term. Plus that it is both a home and a rendezvous for the boys in khaki and in blue where they can not only meet each other, but relatives and friends as well.

When the "Y." under the supervision of the National Council, affixed the red triangle to the McCarron House the spacious bar, something like a hundred feet long, became a dining hall. Another large room became a billiard parlor with these tables supplied by the generosity of friends, while a piano was placed in a corner. This billiard parlor is free to soldier boys day in and day out, except for one hour on each Friday and on Sundays. For the one hour on Fridays it becomes a concert hall, where the boys are entertained by the best talent procurable. On Sunday afternoons, at 4.15, it becomes a place for religious services of a broad as well as of a healthy character. At both concerts and religious services the attendance is large. In the bedrooms sleeping accommodation is furnished for about a hundred men. As between five and six hundred men are on an average occupying these rooms each week at the nominal sum of forty cents a night there is no doubt as to their popularity. Upstairs, reading and writing rooms are located, where literature and stationery are furnished free, while in the basement wash basins and a dozen shower baths have been installed.

But spacious and all as the McCarron House was originally thought to visitor. Finally he went overseas. And this is in brief what he said the other day in a letter written from Wiley Camp to Secretary Dave Thompson, who is in charge. "When we landed in Toronto we were taken up to the club and got our tea. That is where I first sat up and took notice of the interior of the club was recently evidenced in a street car in Toronto, when a soldier, having his attention drawn to the fact that 'Y.' bar was sitting near him, stopped his stream of profane language that was flowing from his lips, remarking: 'If I had known 'aister' was sitting next to me I wouldn't have uttered such language.'

In addition to the service the Red Triangle Club is rendering to the soldier boys who come under its roof, it plays an important part both as a post-office and an intelligence bureau. The outgoing and incoming mail daily carries several hundred letters, while through the good offices of the secretary soldiers are often brought into touch with missing friends and relatives, and vice versa.

A short time ago a young woman journeyed all the way from Washington to meet her sweetheart, who was returning from the front. On her arrival she went to the Red Triangle Club only to find that the letters she had sent him there had not been called for. Secretary Thompson, taking pity on the girl, immediately instituted a search, and finally, after three days' patient effort, located him.

That the Red Triangle Club idea has developed beyond the experimental stage there can be no doubt. It is now a very much all and valuable institution.

Rippling Rhymes

Oh, Monday may be wearisome, and Tuesday may be meatless,
but I'll be happy still; if I can eat
the loamen by skimping my abdomen,
I'll do it with a mill. The luscious ham and bacon by me will be forsaken,
if that's the proper move;
I'll cut out red meat dishes,
and feed on bony fishes, and shortle while I hoove. That rent is most winning who skips because his dinner is shy of pork or beef, who eats his wheatless radish, and grumbles at privation, and airs a lot of grief.

FILMLETS

Marshall Nelson was rejected by army examiners on account of poor eyesight. The children who played as "extras" in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" declare nothing escapes Marshall's eagle eyes. And there you are!

Ymagaph has enrolled Miss Hilda Nova, a famous Russian actress. Although the lady's name sounds like a breakfast food, we are—and she should be comforted with the thought that it might have been far worse. Suppose her last name had been "Cabbage!"

Maurice Tourneur, who is producing Maiterlinck's "The Blue Bird," says the nude figures in the play will be viewed with reverence. Ugh! What with those Chicago censors get a look at 'em! Why, say, out there they even made 'em take the bear out of the Lincoln Park Zoo!

COAL GAS IS NOW USED FOR MOTORS
Replaces Gasoline, And is Both Convenient and Economical

Washington, March 30.—The war has brought one piece of good fortune to Britain in the development of the use of coal gas for motor vehicles.

In a despatch to the Department of Commerce, Consul Haldeman Dennison at Birmingham says that the device is not merely a war expedient, but has come to stay, and that after the war it will continue to be used as now for reasons of convenience and economy. The gas is kept in bags fastened on top of covered automobiles and in compartments provided on trucks. There are now in Britain over 4,500 automobiles propelled by coal gas, a large part of them in heavy trucks for commercial purposes.

Saves Much Gasoline. The manufacturers have now orders for 2,500 more. The savings in gasoline is estimated at 2,000,000 gallons a year in the United Kingdom. The gas engine manufacturers are engaged in designing a tank to hold compressed coal gas for automobiles, and intend to develop the use of the gas-propelled machine as an industry after the war. The flexible holders now used are at atmospheric pressure, and impose some difficulties in the matter of space and radius of action, to say nothing of danger of puncture. Gas engineers are inclined to think that gas under pressure may prove even more effective than gasoline as now used.
