HEALTH BOARD

Mr. Patte Becomes Elected Chairman for the Year--A Live and Practical Discussion of Needed Improvements

The inaugural meeting of the Board of Health took place in the Mayor's office last night. Present, Mayor Hartman, City Clerk Leonard, Dr. Pearson, Messrs W. E. Walsh, J. W. Patte and A. S. Pitcher.

The inspection of dairies and the inspection of milk was talked over and it was the unanimous opinion of the Board that there was something very lax with the County Inspector, as the milk dealers had applied for their 1913 licenses, but same could not be granted them because they could not produce a certificate from the County Health Officer for the simple reason that he had not made a tour of inspection of the dairies.

LABOR PARTY

Is in Favor of the Suffragettes--Premier Asquith Has an Exciting Time in Scotland

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The British Labor party today officially declared itself in favor of woman suffrage. By a vote of 850 against 437, a conference of the representatives of most of the trades unions of the United Kingdom now sitting in London, adopted a resolution instructing its labor members to oppose any franchise bill in which women were not included.

The significance to the woman suffrage movement of this resolution of the workmen's unions is very great. Trades unions in the United Kingdom comprise between two million and three million members, nearly all of whom are electors, and these would carry enormous weight in case woman suffrage was made a plank in the program of any party at a general election.

Hot Time in Scotland (Courier Leased Wire). EDINBURGH, Scotland, Jan. 30.—Well organized bands of suffragettes raised a clamor during the ceremony celebrating the freedom of the city of Dundee on Premier Asquith today. The Premier had hardly begun to acknowledge the honor, when shouts of "traitor, traitor" resounded through the hall.

you brutes, you brutes," and sharp scurrilous remarks marked the passage through the hall of each eviction. One woman sprang over the front of the gallery, and was only saved from falling among the crowded audience, twenty feet below, by the fact that several men seized her by the skirts and held her suspended.

Tales of Heroism (Courier Leased Wire). PLYMOUTH, Jan. 30.—Tales of heroism on the part of the engineers were told by the crew of the Italian tank steamer Margaretha which arrived here from Philadelphia yesterday. During her voyage the captain in order to save the ship had been obliged to sacrifice 1,000 tons of oil out of the 3,000 tons carried. The full force of a succession of fierce Atlantic gales struck the vessel which was continuously swept by the seas.

THE VERY LATEST DESPATCHES

A TRAGEDY (Courier Leased Wire). DAWSON, Y. T., Jan. 30.—The dead bodies of W. F. Smith, his wife and M. Kelly, were found here this morning. It is believed Smith killed his wife, and Kelly of whom he was jealous and then committed suicide.

ONE MONTH (Courier Leased Wire). HAMILTON, Ont., Jan. 3.—Andrew Methven of Mimico, the Grand Trunk conductor who left a freight train of which he was in charge, standing on the main line in the Stuart yards after completing his run, instead of waiting to see that it was shunted to a sidetrack, got a month in jail to-day. Magistrate Jelis told him he might have been sent down for two years, but he thought a month's imprisonment would serve as a warning to him and others in responsible positions that they must exercise every precaution to protect human life.

BRYAN ACCEPTS (Courier Leased Wire). MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 20.—Conference between Wm. J. Bryan and other prominent Democratic leaders including Henry E. Alexander, Trenton, N.J., close personal friend of President-elect Wilson, resulted in the announcement late last night that Mr. Bryan had given a positive assurance that he would accept the portfolio of Secretary of State in the Wilson Cabinet. Mr. Alexander left early to-day for Trenton and he is believed to be the bearer of Mr. Bryan's answer to Mr. Wilson.

BOMB EXPLODED. (Courier Leased Wire). CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Men, women and children were thrown from their beds, hundreds of Italians driven into the streets in their night clothes, and window glass shattered when a bomb was exploded early to-day in a three storey brick building at 727 Forsner street. No one was seriously injured although the explosion shook buildings for blocks around. It is believed that a time fuse was

Duke and Duchess of Connaught to Leave Canada and May not Return

(Courier Leased Wire). OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—It is announced from the Government House that the Duchess of Connaught, accompanied by the Governor-General, will return to England in the spring for medical treatment. The date of the return of the Duchess has not yet been determined. Although the announcement makes it clear that the Duke and Duchess are to return to Canada, it is felt that this will very largely depend upon the future condition of Her Royal Highness and it would not be surprising should the royal tenure of office in Canada conclude next summer.

NO WATER WAGON CLAUSE (Courier Leased Wire). CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Contrary to the statement made last fall by Chas W. Murphy, president of the Chicago National League Baseball Club, contracts sent his players this year do not contain a "water wagon" clause.

The announcement reads: "Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught is making steady progress toward recovery and it is expected Her Royal Highness will be able to return to Ottawa at some not distant date. It is proposed that the Duchess should return to England in the spring for further medical advice. His Royal Highness will accompany her going home on leave of absence. The date of their Royal Highnesses return to Canada cannot be definitely fixed as the date of the departure and the length of the Governor-General's leave of absence have not yet been determined. enabling the men who placed the bomb to get blocks away before. WEALTHY MAN DEAD. DENVER, Jan. 30.—F. L. Sigel, who "krub-staked" hundreds of prospectors during the last twenty years died yesterday leaving an estate valued at $3,000,000. In addition to mining he was largely interested in live stock and water power companies. CIVIC BANK (Courier Leased Wire). TORONTO, Jan. 30.—A banking institution paying about 4 per cent on deposits, owned by the citizens and running under the direction and supervision of the civic financial authorities or a special board of directors is a scheme which the city council of Toronto it is said, will consider very shortly.

declared she had given up a "perfectly good job at $25 a week with an anti-suffragist" to march with the army. She said she had decided she was a traitor to work for an "anti" Another of the early recruits is Elizabeth Freeman, who dressed in a bizarre gypsy costume will precede the army all the way to Washington in a yellow stage wagon, distributing campaign buttons and literature.

CITRUS FRUIT DAMAGED. (Courier Leased Wire). LOS ANGELES, California, Jan. 30.—Thirty million dollars is the estimate of the damage done citrus fruit by the recent cold weather in this state, according to a bulletin issued last night by state horticulturist A. G. Cook. He says that "from one of the ablest citrus experts I learn that not more than 20 per cent of the crop was saved." The bulletin says that where oil pot smudges were used an average of 85 per cent of the fruit escaped injury.

WONT WEAR THEM. (Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Pledges never again to wear the much prized plumage of either the bird of paradise or the egret, are being signed by many women prominent in society here. Mrs. H. Fairfield Osborne, wife of the president of the American Museum of Natural History, started the pledge-taking at a club meeting yesterday when it was resolved that everything possible should be done to protect from extinction the two birds whose plumage has been much sought by women of fashion. The women pledge makers are mainly members of the ladies auxiliary of the New York Sociological Society. By formal resolution they endorsed the principal of federal protection embodied in the McLean Bill now before Congress.

UNCLAIMED MONEY. (Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—More than $250,000 has been left unclaimed by relatives in the cases of persons found dead under peculiar circumstances during the past year. The public administrators report just made public is filled with tragic stories of hardships or loneliness in the mailboxes of a great city telling of baggage picked from under trains and street cars, dragged from rivers and ponds, discovered as suicides in halls, bedrooms and hotel suites or revealed in desolate places as the victims of mysterious murders. The unclaimed estates left range from one cent to $14,735. The "penny estate" was that of Frank Dehm and notwithstanding its insignificance legal moves were made out to administer it. The larger amount was that left by Alfred Bulling, a baker born in England.

It will pay you to attend the Merchandise Brokers' Sale of men's furnishings at C. P. McGregor's old stand, commencing Feb. 1st at nine o'clock.

BRITISH PAPERS

Comment in a Friendly Manner with Reference to the Case of Thorpe--Professionalism Among all Amateurs

(Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—It will be impossible for the Olympic games authorities to accept the return of prizes which James Thorpe won in the all-round championship at the games in Stockholm until the full Olympic committee meets in Lausanne next summer, according to advice received here from Stockholm. Charges that Thorpe played professional baseball, to which he confessed should have been made within thirty days after the Olympic games, according to the rules of the Stockholm contests in order to have such charges formally recognized. It is believed that the only way to have the prizes recalled is to have the American Amateur Athletic Union make a request to this effect at the next meeting of the Olympic committee.

True British Feeling LONDON, Jan. 30.—Sporting authorities continue to comment sympathetically in the case of James Thorpe and laudatory of the American Athletic authorities who have reported the famous Indian athlete's disqualification as an amateur. In no quarter has there appeared any evidence of taunting Americans over the discovery. "If America really wants to know the true British feeling towards Thorpe," says a sports writer in The Daily News, "we can reduce the frenzied pace of Secretary Sullivan's outraged pulses. Britain is satisfied that Thorpe's victory was above board, even if Sullivan does not." "If Thorpe was the only American who had taken the letter of amateur laws, then in their army of athletes they have a wonderful collection," says a writer in The Daily Mirror. "No one who knows British athletics from the inside, would for a moment imagine that none of our team had taken pension on an Olympic competitor was imminent. Unfortunately Thorpe is only one of many. He was unlucky enough to be found out, but the fact remains that America had the best man in the Pentathlon and Decathlon events. As for the American spirit in sport, I think we should recognize in this critical matter that the Americans behave in a perfectly correct manner."

A Bar Room Synod is Formed in Moosejaw

(Courier Leased Wire). MOOSEJAW, Sask., Jan. 30.—A barroom squad of three members is the latest addition to the Moosejaw police force. Annoyed by the presence of loafers and chair boarders in their hotels, the hotelmen of this city appealed to the police commissioners a short time ago for protection. They agreed to foot the expenses of an addition to the police force of three men, who were secured by the commissioners and assigned to hotel duty. They make their first appearance at ten o'clock in the forenoon and spend the remainder of the "open hours" in the bars. The scheme has proved a success for in addition to picking up dozens of vagrants the new officers have cleared up several robbery mysteries and have taken in a number of dangerous thugs.

U. S. Suffragettes are Outlining a Big March

(Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The suffragettes who expect to march to the National capital next month, expect to outdo General George Washington by crossing the icy waters of the Delaware three times. General Rosaline Jones has drawn up calls for crossings at Trenton first and then from Bristol, Pa., to Burlington, N. J., and the third time from Camden, N.J., to Philadelphia. "We expect to rival the Continental army in history-making," said General Jones. Among the suffragettes who yesterday began their preliminary drills in Central Park is Martha Klatschen, a young stenographer, who

GRAND VALLEY

A Meeting of the Bondholders Takes Place in Toronto--Nearly Two Million Dollars Outstanding

A meeting of the bondholders of the Grand Valley Railway was held yesterday at the office of the Trusts and Guarantee Company of Toronto for the purpose of considering the present position of affairs and the prospects of the railway. A large number were present and the disposition was manifested of endeavoring to get at all the details of the business as far as possible and the status of the various sets of bondholders. Two committees were appointed, the one representing the holders of the six per cent bonds issued in 1902, consisting of John Stark, Dr. Addison of St. George and Geo. H. Muirhead on behalf of several Brantford holders and others consisting of Messrs. Worrell, Owen, Davies and A. C. McMaster representing holders of the 1907 five per cent bonds. Mr. W. T. Henderson, K.C., city solicitor was also present and defined clearly the new position claimed by the City of Brantford in the suit now pending. It appears that bonds to the extent of nearly two million dollars are outstanding. The committee above named hold a joint meeting next week.

LATER. TORONTO, Jan. 30.—An important meeting of the bondholders of the Grand Valley Railway and Brantford Street Railway was held yesterday morning and afternoon at the Trust and Guarantee office in Toronto. Mr. Warren, the general manager of the Trust Co., occupied the chair and there was a large attendance of bondholders from Brantford, St. George and Toronto and other places. Mr. W. T. Henderson watched the proceedings on behalf of the city of Brantford. Mr. Stockdale, the receiver for the company, presented an elaborate report, showing the workings of the company for the past seven months. The company is now making a profit of $7,000 per month. The outstanding bonds of the company total the large figure of $2,000,000. Besides this there is now owing the city some $25,000 overdue taxes and some $50,000 on local improvement taxes and share of Market street bridge.

A committee of three from the first mortgage bondholders and three from the second bondholders were appointed to act with the receiver and trustee to ascertain if possible, the best manner to administer the property and assets, if any. The bondholders generally took a very pessimistic view of the whole situation, although under Mr. Stockdale's capable receivership the prospects of the company seem somewhat brighter than they did a few months ago. Mr. Geo. H. Muirhead and Dr. Addison of St. George, were two of the committee appointed to look into the affairs of the company. Mr. Henderson, the City Solicitor, positively stated that unless the back taxes were paid, the city would take action to revoke the franchise of the Brantford Street Railway Co.

ONTARIO WIDOWS

Are After the Men of the West--Make Application to Edmonton Board of Trade

(Courier Leased Wire). EDMONTON, Alb., Jan. 30.—Ontario widows appear to be of the opinion that the Edmonton Board of Trade is being run as an adjunct of a matrimonial bureau. The Secretary of the Board has just received a letter from a young and eligible widow living at London, Ontario, asking for a husband, following by just a few weeks of a similar communication, a Hamilton widow, who seems to have set the fashion. The London lady wants "a good man with a good position" and would prefer to remain east until spring, presumably to prepare her trousseau. She has, she says, "a fairly good education in both French and English" and would appreciate any assistance the board might give her. The Secretary will give her name and address to any marriageable male applying.

An Ohio widow wrote Secretary Fisher a short time ago seeking a mate and got a reply from an Alberta farmer, who thought that he was "just the man you are looking for." Secretary Fisher expects to be invited to the wedding.

A Double Tragedy Takes Place in France

(Courier Leased Wire). PARIS, France, Jan. 30.—A double tragedy was occasioned here during the night by the doctor's orders that a man and wife would have to be separated owing to the woman suffering from an incurable spinal disease. The sick woman, Madame Paul Carriere, the wife of a workman in poor circumstances was told last night by her doctor after he had consulted some specialists that she must be taken to a public hospital. Her husband then sent their son, aged 17, to stay over night with an uncle. The boy left his father and mother distracted with grief at their coming separation. She expressed the wish rather to die than be sent away from her husband. This morning both were found dead in their room, the woman strangled, it is supposed by her husband, and the man hanging dead from a hook behind the door.

An Amusing Incident in Connection with the Wardenship

In connection with the election of the Warden of the County of Brantford yesterday, a somewhat amusing position has developed. According to the vote, the First and Second Deputy Reeves of the Township of Brantford cast their votes against their own Reeve for the position of Warden. This incident happened through a very rapid change in the names of the parties put in nomination for the position of Warden. Previous to the first meeting of the Council, the contest appeared to lie between Mr. Taylor the Reeve of Burford Township and Mr. Cooke the Reeve of Oakland Township and the members of the Council of the Township of Brantford were in favor of Mr. Cooke as against Mr. Taylor.

At this stage, no mention was made of the Reeve of Brantford Township being the candidate for the position. Apparently, the supporters of Mr. Taylor came to the conclusion they could not elect their man and thereupon put the name of Mr. Kendrick, Reeve of the Township of Brantford in nomination for the position, without his first and second Deputy being aware of the change. The result was that on the vote being called, the First and Second Deputy Deputy Reeves of the Township of Brantford supported Mr. Cooke according to their promise which was made without the knowledge that their own Reeve was to be put in nomination. Of course, this promise was made after they had asked their own Reeve if he intended to contest the position, and he stating that he did not. If they had any idea that their own Reeve was to be placed in nomination they would have unanimously supported him. This incident shows that an election is still as uncertain as a horse race, and in this case the dark horse most certainly won in a canter.

Music and Drama
Actor a Church Painter.
Wallace Berry, who plays the part of Max Heim, alias "Prince Boris," in the musical success, "The Balkan Princess," which comes to the Grand on Wednesday, Feb. 5, is a good Presbyterian, albeit it does make his living in musical comedy. In order to reconsecrate song, dance and musical comedy, he occasionally feels called upon to give special proof of his religious sincerity. Not long ago the little Presbyterian church in Casper, Wyo., where Mr. Berry's parents live, became very shabby and in need of painting. Berry was appointed one of the committee of gentlemen to put on a fresh coat of paint that would give the building a shiny exterior. The result was that Berry painted the Casper Presbyterian church with the assistance only of the minister.

HEALTH MATTERS.
If the members of the Board of Health follow up with vigor their excellent programme mapped out at their inaugural meeting, they will serve and receive the hearty thanks of citizens generally.
It will be noticed that the main items discussed consisted of:
The overcrowding of houses, especially of foreigners.
The unsanitary condition of the tenements which meet the eye in the city.
The need of a public abattoir.
The housing of foreigners.
These are some of the most important items discussed.
It may be affirmed that gentle speaking those in Brantford have quite speedily adapted themselves to the rules of law and order as observed in all British communities, but the overcrowding of residences under such conditions is somewhat of a problem. An intelligent and ambitious foreigner with a wife and two children complained to The Courier, the other day, that neither he, nor his wife, nor many of his compatriots, were to be huddled together, but said in effect:
"What are we to do. In the parts of the city if we try to have our houses we are refused. If we try to buy, the price at once goes up, then neighbors get together and higher than we do. For my wife would like a separate house, perhaps a boarder or two, but under present conditions and to land where I would like, is beyond means. That's why myself and family are packed in a house that you call sardines."
There is a good deal of truth in this, and it would be well for the Board of Health, together with the City Council, to recognize the facts and to see if some remedy can be outlined.

He was born in Canada, of Scotch parentage, in 1835, and in early life was associated with newspaper work.
When 33 years of age he was elected a member of the first House of Commons at Ottawa, representing South Waterloo. He was defeated in the election of 1875 and next year came member for North Brant in the Local Legislature, and sat until 1891 when he declined re-nomination.

Mr. Young was a fine type of man, a good writer, an excellent speaker, a staunch friend and a courageous opponent to all with whom he differed politically.

It was a privilege to know him and it is an equal privilege to bear testimony to his many excellent qualities of mind and heart.

HEALTH MATTERS.

If the members of the Board of Health follow up with vigor the excellent programme mapped out at their inaugural meeting, they will deserve and receive the hearty thanks of their citizens generally.

It will be noticed that the three items discussed consisted of: the overcrowding of houses, especially of foreigners.

The unsanitary condition under which meat is sold on the market. The need of a public abattoir.

The housing of foreigners presents some difficult features. It may be affirmed that generally speaking those in Brantford have speedily adapted themselves to the laws of law and order as observed in all British communities, but their tenacity of residences under right conditions is somewhat of a problem.

An intelligent and ambitious foreigner with a wife and two children complained to The Courier, the other day, that neither he, nor they, nor many other of his compatriots, liked to be huddled together, but he did in effect:

"What are we to do. In many parts of the city if we try to rent houses we are refused. If we try to buy, the price at once goes up, and then neighbors get together and bid higher than we do. For myself I would like a separate house, with perhaps a boarder or two, but under present conditions and to locate where I would like, is beyond my means. That's why myself and my family are packed in a house like what you call sardines."

There is a good deal of truth in this, and it would be well for the Board of Health, together with the City Council, to recognize such facts and to see if some remedial scheme can be outlined.

2—Conditions for the sale of meat on Brantford market are altogether too lax and unhealthy. Carcasses are left on the Square on Friday night for Saturday selling, often largely exposed. What this means, especially in summer, when myriads of disease distributing flies have full swing, it is unnecessary to demonstrate. The truth is that the city has been criminally lax with regard to the erection of a covered market. Anyone would imagine that such an undertaking presented insurmountable difficulties when in reality a commonsense plan could be quite easily evolved, with rentals meeting cost of sinking fund and interest.

The market is going to remain just where it is. That's settled and it was never in any legal doubt under the terms upon which the city was given the location for nothing.

The idea on the part of some well meaning people, that it is a mistake to have a fine central property devoted to market purposes is not only absurd but retroactive. All over this continent and in Europe a central position is considered a great desideratum.

A few days ago a well known Brantford citizen received a letter from a U. S. friend now on a trip down South. In it he says:

"I have just come in from a visit to the public market of this wonderful Southern City (Houston, Texas), and it would be impossible to give you any comprehensive idea of the vast amount of produce that is displayed on this market each morning. Most of it is sold directly by the producer to the consumer, which represents a very great saving to the laboring men. This market covers two blocks almost in the geographical centre of the city."

This paper could quote many similar instances but it is not necessary. By all means Brantford market should at once be put in proper shape, in the interests of buyers and sellers alike.

A public abattoir where animals could be slaughtered under proper conditions and none but healthy stock be so treated, is another prime necessity. Even the most rigid inspection cannot effectively keep track of widely separated slaughter houses and the fact that last year the veterinary-market inspector seized some hundreds of pounds of meat as "unfit for food" should serve to forcibly impress upon the public the need of such a public abattoir just about pay for themselves.

QUICKLY CURES THE WORST BACHACHE

Makes Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, and Rheumatic Pains Vanish.

It is no longer necessary for any one to suffer with backaching, kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders to contend with, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints, and its heart-rending pains, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely relieves all such troubles.

Croxone is the most wonderful remedy yet devised for ridding the system of uric acid and driving out all the poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. It acts on the principle of cleaning out the poisons and removing the cause.

It soaks right in through the walls, membranes, and lining, like water in a sponge, neutralizes, dissolves, and makes the kidneys sift out and filter away, all the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys, healthy and clean.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have used, the very principle of Croxone is such, that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it.

If you suffer with pains in your back, and sides, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles, or rheumatism, such as puffy swellings under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, if you are nervous tired and run down, or bothered with urinary disorders, Croxone will quickly relieve you of your misery. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

The domestic side of a great singer's life is always interesting to the public, and Madam Clara Butt, the English contralto now in this country, is no exception to the rule.

In private life Madam Butt is Mrs. Kennedy Ramford, a most devoted wife and mother. Her home in St. John's wood, just outside London, contains rare treasures—signed portraits from royalties and art objects from every part of the world.

Madam Butt is a strikingly handsome woman and possesses a speaking voice that is as rich and sweet as her singing voice, with that hint of sadness in it one somehow expects from a contralto whose songs lie among the saddest notes on the piano.

When asked about the songs she liked best in her repertoire she replied: "I love all music, all music that is sincere. I like sentiment, but I hate sentimentality. And I believe in singing a sincere song, sincerely to the consumer, which represents a very great saving to the laboring men. This market covers two blocks almost in the geographical centre of the city."

"IMPOSSIBLE TO HELP MY KIDNEYS"

Until I Used "Fruit-a-lives" World's Greatest Kidney Cure

Practically everybody in Toronto knows Professor F. Davis. For years, the elite of that city has taken lessons from Prof. Davis in the art of Dancing and Deportment.

His constant active gradually weakened his Kidneys, which calamity threatened to make him an invalid. But read Prof. Davis' letter—

563 Carleton St., Toronto, Ont., December 29th, 1911

"I want to say that 'Fruit-a-lives' is my only medicine, and has been for the past five years. Previous to that, I had been troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Disease, and had taken many remedies without satisfactory results. Noticing the advertisement of 'Fruit-a-lives' I adopted this treatment altogether, and as everyone knows, I am now—and have been since taking 'Fruit-a-lives'—enjoying the best of health."

J. F. DAVIS.

If Rheumatism or Kidney Trouble is making you miserable, take 'Fruit-a-lives' and get well.

Miller's Worm Powders not only make the infantile system untenable for worms, but by their action on the stomach, liver and bowels they correct such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness and other internal disorders that the worms create. Children thrive upon them and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will show improvement as soon as the treatment begins.

Notice is hereby given that The Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, offer a reward of Five Hundred Dollars (500.00) for information that will lead to the conviction of the party or parties who set fire to the building of The Brantford Cordage Company, on the nights of the 13th and the 18th January, 1913.

A WONDERFUL CURE.

Just think of it a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarrh-zone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—head-ache is cured—symptoms of grippe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarrh-zone that enable it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Safe even for children. 25c. and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

Choked for Air—Some little irritant becomes lodged in the bronchial tubes others gather, and the awful choking of asthma results. Nothing offers quite such quick and positive relief as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. The healing, soothing smoke or vapor penetrates, clears the passages and gives untold relief. Usually it completely cures. It has behind it years of success. It is the sure remedy for every sufferer.

Write Ideas For Moving Picture Plays

WE WILL SHOW YOU HOW!

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—We will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100, and more, for single scenarios or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure

You Will Earn $100 Monthly for Spare Time Work FREE Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book, "MOVING PICTURE PLAYWRITING"

MISS TARBELL ON SUFFRAGE.
The Ballot Not So Important as General Efficiency.

"Personally I am rather indifferent about suffrage," said Miss Ida Tarbell recently. "Whether women vote or not is a matter of comparatively small moment in the great evolution of woman and humanity. The important thing is to develop efficiency, and there is no sex in that, for men and women alike must learn to make efficient human beings of themselves. That applies to every one. The young married woman must make a profession out of her home life, not sit back in archaic laziness. And she has one of the most difficult professions in the world. The young unmarried woman should find the work in which she can be most useful and then she should develop herself along that line. "I do not at all believe in marriage for every woman," said Miss Tarbell with quiet emphasis. "It is practically a crime to marry without a foundation of true love, and I am absolutely convinced that marrying merely for the sake of marriage defeats the whole institution. But efficiency is the great thing, and I believe that most of the marriages that are failures go to pieces just because of the lack of efficiency of either the man or the woman or both."

this shade of velvet. The costume pictured is a happy illustration of the success of the combination of taupe velvet and fur.

Miss Boardman Decorated.
Miss Mabel Boardman, secretary of the American Red Cross, recently received from the White House the insignia of the Fifth Order of the Crown, conferred upon her by the Japanese emperor for distinguished service. It is the first time an American woman has been so honored by Japan. The order conferred upon Miss Boardman was specially established to recognize meritorious service done by women.
The insignia were sent to President Taft, president of the American Red Cross, by Marquis Matsukata, head of the Japanese Red Cross. President Taft has written to the marquis and the Japanese emperor, thanking them for the honor paid Miss Boardman.

The White Slave Traffic in New York

(Courier Leased Wire).
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—With his evidence adduced to the matter of fact form, Samuel H. London, formerly prosecuting attorney of El Paso, Tex., who said he was semi-officially connected with the department of justice at Washington, has laid before the aldermanic committee, which is investigating police conditions here, the result of his seven years study of white slave traffic. He called New York the capital of commercialized vice, and said that with the assistance

Three Men and One Woman Burned to Death in Chicago

(Courier Leased Wire).
CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Three men and one woman were burned to death, three men were seriously injured and a dozen others suffered less hurts, in a fire which early today destroyed the Iowa Hotel, a four story brick structure at 330-332 north Clark street.
The hotel was a cheap affair, which had only cots for beds. The seriously hurt jumped from windows, either into the alley or onto the spur of the

Men and Their Wives Live Separately in Order to Secure Land

(Courier Leased Wire).
EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 30.—Instances of man and wife living separated on isolated homesteads in the Peace River country in order that they may establish a claim to more land than would be possible if they remained together, are told by Rev. A. Forbes, Presbyterian Missionary at Grand Prairie City, who is here on his annual visit. Many of the settlers have the land hunger in an acute form, he says and in their anxiety to possess themselves of acres are putting up with all sorts of privations.
Mr. Forbes says that often a man and his wife hold four South

Give Notice of the Termination of the Armistice

(Courier Leased Wire).
CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 30.—The Balkan allies gave notice of the termination of the armistice, the period of grace to start at 7 o'clock this evening.
The armistice which has been in operation since Dec. 3, was signed on that day by Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro on the one side and Turkey on the other.
Sorry Outlook for Turkey
LONDON, Jan. 30.—Events in the Balkan Peninsula are being precipitated with such rapidity that the world may soon be confronted not with the question of peace or war, but with a catastrophe which will lead Turkey to civil war.
Those who know the Ottoman Empire believe the revolt among the Turkish troops on the Tchatalja lines was much more grave than is to be gathered from the short despatches allowed by the censor to trickle through. Close observers of events in Turkey expect that similar revolts will occur in the Turkish Asiatic provinces.

Dog Killed.
Mr. Wm. Fraser of the Belmont Hotel had the misfortune to lose a valuable dog this afternoon. Mr. Thomas Ryerson had borrowed the dog from Mr. Fraser for the purpose of killing some rats which had been caught in a trap.  years. During the course of his lec-

 60 slides, beginning with views of his long journey from Edmonton to the Arctic circle. He showed views of the state the inhabitants were in when he landed amongst them some twenty years ago. The inhabitants then were in a very degraded state, but as years went on his good Christian and instructive work in bringing them to a better condition, morally and physically, was rewarded. As time progressed they became more and more

BREATHE FREELY! OPEN NOSTRILS AND STUFFED HEAD AT ONCE END CATARRH

Ely's Cleansing, Healing Balm
 Instantly Clears Nose, Head and Throat—Stops Nasal Catarrhal Discharges. Dull Headache Goes.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless. Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Permits.
 Mr. Charles Benwell, proprietor of the Benwell House, Market Street, has been granted a permit at the City Engineer's office to make alterations and improvements to his hotel. It is Mr. Benwell's intention to spend in the neighborhood of one thousand dollars. He intends also to build a two story extension adjoining the rear of the hotel.

Evangelist Brown at Wellington St.
 Another large audience enjoyed the services last night. The pastor, as usual, took charge of the devotional exercises, which were heartily entered into. The famous "Glorious Song" was sung for the first time during the services, and was much enjoyed by the audience. Mr. Brown took as his theme, the man sent from God—who came for a witness and spoke upon the power of Christian testimony. This was followed by an altar service. Several again asked for prayers. The services are quiet and convincing.

The Phillipot Meetings
 A large number gathered last night to hear the appealing and powerful words of Mr. Phillipot. Taking up the various judgments, for such a thing as a general judgment was unknown to scripture, he referred to that in Matthew as of the "living nations." No dead there in Rev. 20:11, 15, had no living but only the dead, small and great." In II. Cor. 5:10 we had only Christians, the epistle was addressed to Christians only. Christ had heard their judgment for sin, and here it was a question not of life but reward. Then Mr. Phillipot dwelt upon the solemnity of that scene that had Christ for its foundation in our lives would stand the test of a holy God, the rest would be the hay, wood, stubble of scripture. As in I. Cor. 3, the lie of Lot was referred to. He chose worldly prosperity, and he accumulated property and was given places in Sodom, but when it came to the test it was found he after all had no influence. He lost his property in the fire which destroyed Sodom, he lost his wife, he lost all—but two of his daughters, and it would appear that it would have been better if he had lost them. He loved his fellowship with Abraham, the man of God, whose prayers were heard by God. So people did now, many Christians lived in such a way that they had no influence for God with their families or those about. There will be two meetings to-day, 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Change in Collecting.
 A re-arrangement of street letter boxes has been made, fifteen new boxes having been added. Owing to the fact that many of the boxes are on the outskirts of the city, collections will commence to-night at nine o'clock instead of ten as formerly. The hours for day collections will remain the same.

Severe Penalty.
 Postmaster Raymond has received from Ottawa a notice calling attention to the fact that any damage to street letter or rural delivery boxes, renders the offender liable to five years imprisonment.

Mother Ill.
 Mr. Robert Reid left for Goderich this morning where he had been summoned by a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his mother.

Obituary.
 Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rush, 5 Dublin street, mourn the loss of their infant daughter, Annie E., who passed away last night. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Thomas Muirhead passed away at the family residence, 55 Oxford St. last night. The deceased is survived by a sorrowing wife, one daughter, Gladys, and one brother, E. B. Muirhead of Scotland. The deceased was a member of Brantford Council, C.O.C.F. The funeral takes place to-morrow from his late residence to the Scotland Baptist church and burying ground.

FOR BURNS—ZAM-BUK
 Stops Pain at Once.
 This is the verdict of all who have tried Zam-Buk. The woman in the home knows best its value. A burn from the stove, from a flat-iron, or a hot pan, is instantly soothed by Zam-Buk. When the little ones fall and cut or scratch themselves, Zam-Buk stops the pain and, incidentally, their crying. The best proof of this is the fact that children who have once had Zam-Buk applied come for it again. For more serious burns, too, it is unequalled. Mr. John Johnston, of 734 South Marks street, Fort William, a moulder in Copp's Foundry, says: "Some time ago I burned the top of my foot severely by dropping some molten iron from a ladle I was carrying. A large hole was burned through my shoe and into the top of my foot. I was taken home, and Zam-Buk was applied to the burn directly. It was surprising what relief this balm afforded. The burn was so deep and so serious that they required careful attention, but Zam-Buk prevented other complications arising, and as it was daily applied soothed the pains and allayed the inflammation. In the course of two weeks the hole burned in my foot had been quite healed."
 Mr. W. B. Gibson of Belleville writes: "We have tried Zam-Buk often on cuts and sores and I think there is nothing that can equal it."
 Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poison, various sores, piles, sculp sores, ring-worm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, and skin injuries generally. All drug-gists and stores sell at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

GETTING GRAY? USE SAGE TEA TO RESTORE NATURAL COLOR OF HAIR

Says Sage and Sulphur Darkens Hair Beautifully and Ends Dandruff.

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair, says a well known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and even today this simple preparation has no equal. Millions of women and men too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive even on the most common hair.

Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the mussy mixing at home. Simply ask any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of the ready to use preparation called 'Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.' Customers like this best because it darkens so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it contains ingredients which take off dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair. No, it isn't a dye or even like it. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with 'Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur' and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color. What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.

LIVE STOCK

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—Better grades of cattle advanced ten per cent at the Union Stock Yards yesterday. The run was not large, although it followed on a week of surplus receipts. The short run, with the colder weather, helped to strengthen the market. Practically everything was sold before noon. A few very fine butchers were offered and brought from $7 to $7.10. These were exceptional. The bulk of the offerings were medium to good grades, and a good enquiry came for them. They were off, and holders could not secure their price. The run of stockers was meagre, and as there was some demand they went at firm rates.

Small meats were steady to firm. Receipts were comparatively light and there was a snappy enquiry. Calves went up a dollar, fine veals bringing $10 per hundredweight. Ewes brought 25c higher than last week, the top price being $5.75. Lambs were about steady, $8.50 being the top price paid. Hogs strengthened decidedly, 40c more per hundredweight being paid than at the close of last week. Receipts were 96 cars, containing 1,814 head of cattle, 50 calves, 692 hogs, 184 sheep and lambs, and 30 horses.

Secured by a Former Brantfordite From Property Sales in Windsor

The following despatch refers to a former Brantfordite, who used to be a partner of Mr. E. B. Peddie and Son, dry goods merchants, and A. R. Bartlet and Walter Bartlet, solicitors. The terms of sale are not made public, but are believed to have been considerably in excess of what property in this district has ever sold for before. Within the past few months, Mr. Applebe has disposed of over $200,000 of his extensive real estate holdings.

SHE USED ONLY THE NATURAL CURE

Nova Scotia Woman Was Relieved of Her Heart Disease.
Made Her Kidneys Right with Dodd's Kidney Pills and all her Troubles Vanished Speedily and Completely.

EEL CREEK, Cumberland Co., N. S., Jan. 27.—Suffering from Female Kidney and Heart Trouble, so run down, nervous and depressed that all the brightness had gone out of her life, and never expecting to be a healthy woman again. Mrs. J. W. Leadbetter of this place tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and is once more in the best of health. Her simple statement is the best evidence that no case of Kidney Disease is so bad that "Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure it."

"I was treated by five doctors," Mrs. Leadbetter states. "Four of them did me no good. The fifth operated on me and that gave me relief for a time. I had Female Kidney and Heart Trouble. I was so nervous and run down that my friends did not think I would ever get better. An advertisement led me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I found in them a cure for all my troubles. I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills too highly."

Female Troubles and Heart Disease are caused by Kidney Disease. The natural way to cure them is to cure the Kidneys by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Breaking Him In

He Had Good Grit
By CLARISSA MACKIE

Three men of the Circle O ranch met the newcomer at the railroad station and solemnly escorted him down the platform where half a dozen horses were tied to the hitching posts. Secretly they were laughing at the small, undersized chap who had actually secured a job with the Circle O outfit through the medium of a letter. If ever an individual merited the title "tenderfoot" it was the slender, pale faced newcomer, who wore a derby hat and tan shoes and a faded blue serge business suit. His manner was diffident, and his name was Irving Pinney, and he was under twenty.

"Of course you can ride," suggested Long Jenks as he tossed a castrate horse in the direction of a white horse. "Not very well," returned the newcomer with a slight frown. "I hope he isn't wild."

"The white horse was meek enough and carried his timid rider without event to their early camp for the night. Long Jenks informed the newcomer that the ranch lay thirty miles beyond and that they would sleep before resuming the journey. Pinney said little to his companions. He seemed merged in despondency and after eating a light supper wrapped himself in his blanket, placed his feet to the fire and went to sleep.

Something roused him in the darkest hour, and he became conscious that a whispered conversation was taking place with his companions. Long Jenks was speaking earnestly: "Oh, pshaw! You needn't tell me I can't pick out one of that kind. Didn't I wake up half an hour ago and see this Pinney come sneaking into camp on that blue steamer of Wither's? He must 've heard me stirring, because he didn't stop to un saddle. He just slipped off and laid down and pretended to be asleep. He's as mean a cattle thief as ever I see, and if I have any way he'll hang to the highest cotton-wool hereabouts!" Long Jenks spoke fiercely.

"What made him come back here? Why didn't he run the critter off?" demanded Saleeby's voice.

"That's an easy one. He was going to pitch one or two more and run the lot of 'em together and leave us—us here without a hide to get back to Circle O. Got any loading?" Pinney heard the click of revolvers and muttered remarks as the men exchanged cartridges. Then they rolled over and apparently went to sleep, for long and noisy outward demonstrations bore witness to their slumbers.

What unfortunate complication of circumstances had combined to place suspicion on him? On his very first day, too, when he was homestead and weary.

All night long he shivered in his blanket under the brooding, sultry sky. Then just as a faint grayness tinged the murky black he wriggled his way toward the spot where the ponies were staked.

There was a low whinny as his hand met a velvet nose, and his fingers trembled as they touched the dangling bit and slipped it between unwilling jaws. In another instant he had jerked the group of restless ponies and was speeding away through the darkness, the soft thud of hoofs leaving a trail which he felt would be followed to the death. Long Jenks had said so.

He bent his head low to the rough mane of the horse and pounded with fists and sprigged heels on the vibrating fess. He felt the onward rush of the beast, the pumping of blood through swollen veins, as he clung to the bridle rein. Somehow the saddle became loosened and at last slid away in the darkness, almost unheeding him, and driving the horse almost frantic with fear. He tried to entwine his legs beneath the pony's belly. There came a smashing blow from flying hoofs and one foot being reared, threw him, he turned, and the glitter of steel and a

"Blame it all—shoot if you wanted!" he yelled.

Pinney was speaking earnestly: "Oh, pshaw! You needn't tell me I can't pick out one of that kind. Didn't I wake up half an hour ago and see the faller man lay quiet for a few moments, when he was helped to his feet by one of his friends. But he was breathing hard and positively declined to renew the encounter.

"Gentlemen," said Bill, "step inside and join in a tattle. Mr. Stakeholder, give the gentlemen back their stakes. Come in, all I've been interrupted in my refreshment long enough and am very chilly."

All socked into the saloon except the victor, who remained outside.

"Say, stranger," called one of the party as he saw Johnny walking away to the coach, "where 'y' goin'?"

Johnny made no reply, and the other followed the crowd into the saloon.

"What's the matter with the kid?" he asked of Bill. "Don't be drinkin'?" "Not just now. You see, he's a featherweight boxer on his way to Frisco to a match made with the Sacramento bantam. I'm his trainer. I don't let him drink."

So many and so varied were the explanations to this startling announcement that they could not be separated one from another.

New Year's Party.
Invitations in the following form were sent out for what proved to be a specially pleasant little gathering of married couples:

"Mr. and Mrs. Outbrett Smith request the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. James Whiteing's company at a New Year's party to meet Father Time, on New Year's eve, at 8 o'clock."

Arriving guests at the hour appointed were received not by their general host, but by Father Time in flowing robes, wig, beard (and holding the traditional scythe imitation), whom the hostess presented to each in turn.

"Time did not remain to the close of the entertainment, but he stayed long enough upon the scene to get the fun of the little sociable into swing by devising some amusing contests.

For one of these a mysterious looking box, labeled "The Ages," was passed, from which each in turn drew a slip marking with a pencil on a card as A. D. 1492, A. D. 1095, B. C. 55, A. D. 1815, and so on. When all had drawn Father Time called upon the players to say what event occurred on the date drawn. If successful in naming it he or she retained the slip. If not the little paper was returned to the hostess. This latter was passed again and again until no more slips remained. The person with most slips to his credit received a pretty bound diary for the coming year.

Father Time also posed for his portrait (a pencil sketch, pose and pencil being distributed for the purpose) to all. He awarded a calendar as a prize for the cleverest likeness.

Funny, too, were the resolutions for New Year which they were requested to formulate mentally and to write out in time. The absurd jingles were read aloud by the minor participants, and a prize consisting of a book of nonsense verse was presented to the competitor adjudged most successful.

In another round pencils and paper were retained, and ten letters of the alphabet were read aloud. Ten minutes were given for the purpose of writing a New Year's resolution of ten words, each word beginning with one of the letters given. The characters, it was understood, might be used either in or out of the order in which they were named. The player whose message was accounted cleverest won a prize.

Each guest later on was bludgeoned and led, so bandaged, to a large book, a dictionary in this case, which was asked to open at random. The first word on the page turned up, it was Johnny's and made some mystic bearing upon the fate of the subject during the coming year.

At the conclusion of the games Father Time disappeared and mine host entered, full of apologies for his tardiness, but nevertheless in time to take the guest of honor out to supper.

Sending Wedding Gifts.
A gift to a prospective bride must always be sent to her individually, whether she is personally known to the sender or not—this, of course, where the bridegroom is a friend, but the girl he is to marry not known. If there is silver and it is marked it should be with the name or initials of the bride to be. Table or bed linen, an embroidered centerpiece or anything that has the name must be in her name.

There is a reason for these laws. The old saying of "many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip" applies. Something may happen to prevent the marriage. Death or even a misunderstanding that cannot be straightened may mean that the marriage will never take place. Then would come the difficulty of the bride and groom being assumed beforehand a name that is not legitimately hers.

In sending a gift the donor's card without any writing at all is ineluded with the present; if sent after marriage, the name of the bridegroom must accompany the name. Husband and wife may send a gift jointly; then the calling card must have "Mr. and Mrs." on it, but always the gift is sent to the bride to be.

Of course in a note of congratulation the name of the bridegroom must be included, and the most simple and friendly such notes are the better.

Street Car Etiquette.
A woman should get on a car ahead of a man, but when they leave it the man should descend first and be ready to give the woman his hand to help her to the ground. If the car is crowded and another man rises to give a seat to the woman escorted by a man the latter should lift his hat in recognition of the courtesy. If a woman is alone she should acknowledge the offer of a seat with a bow and a word of thanks. The man who is escorting a woman pays her fare, but should they meet by chance it is not etiquette for him to do so.

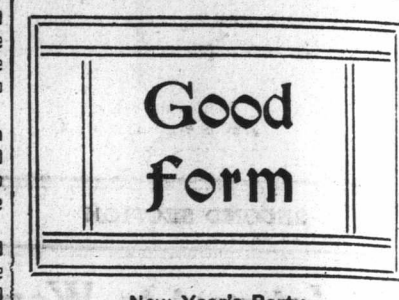

Candor and Manners.
Pitt was once canvassing for himself when he came to a blacksmith's shop. "Sit," said he to the blacksmith, "will you favor me with your vote?" "Mr. Pitt," said the son of Vulcan, "I admire your head, but hang your heart." "Mr. Blacksmith," said Pitt, "I admire your candor, but hang your manners."

Lady Marjorie's Love

"Do I?" He laughed lazily. "Ah, that comes of being in everybody's visiting book, Marjorie. Why, I don't think I've turned in before three in the morning once in as many weeks, so if I am a little done up it's small wonder."

"I should think it is not. But you must be awfully silly to do it, I say, you know," she said with an unflattering frankness which she sometimes used to her lover. "Whatever is the good of going to a stupid ball or a stupid dinner when you are dreadfully tired and would rather not? Quite absurd I call it."

"Do you, little unsophisticated?" He laughed again with a good humored indulgence mixed with the lazy sound. "Ah, you have a good deal to learn about Society, little lady, in spite of that famous one season of yours, a fellow in the swim has had a better time at a ball than you."

"Perhaps you don't like it?" She laughed too, and gave him a shrewd little mocking look.

"Oh, I don't say that. It suits me better than too much of Castle Marling, for instance." He stifled a yawn, for he was bored as well as dull, and glanced over his shoulder at the Countess. "It is early yet," he remarked resignedly, "and her ladyship seems quite absorbed over there. What do you say to a stroll?"

Marjorie said "yes" to the stroll and produced a white wrap which she kept conveniently and surreptitiously tucked away under a certain sofa cushion. Mr. Bligh put it over her head and shoulders, not without a glance of tolerant approval at the rosy, little brown-eyed face that peeped saucily out at him, and they went out together, leaving Lord Marlingford still abashed in her explosive-looking volume.

But conversation, sluggish at the dinner table and languishing in the drawing room, did not, as might surely have been expected, revive under the inspiring influence of the scented June night and the bliss of the rising moon—the contrary it dwindled and died away altogether.

Lady Marjorie, in spite of her sweet temper, and her being so entirely used and resigned to her lover's way, decided that by the time they had made a second circuit of the terrace-garden in solemn silence, that it was all nonsense for Loftus to pretend that there was nothing the matter. He was as dull as little Mr. Peppercorn, the curate, who surely was the dullest of masculine creatures. He had been betting, perhaps? Or gambling? All men—Loftus and his wife—were a natural and necessary part of their fashionable existence. But even though Loftus might have been amusing himself with either of these pastimes, or with both, that was no reason why he should be so silent and glum and walk at her side as though he did not even know that he had got her hand upon his arm—the hand that bore her engagement ring too. For almost the first time since she had worn it she resented this very calm and cool treatment of her. She stopped suddenly—so suddenly that her hand fell at her side, and she looked at her with a start.

"If you are really going back to Upton Waters to-night you had better go and see the Earl now, hadn't you? Loftus He isn't at all well, I says, but I am sure he will be fine if you see you for a few minutes. And if you do not go before Mr. Petherick comes he will most likely be too tired to see you at all."

"I suppose I had, dear—yes. Thanks for reminding me. Of course I must not go without seeing him. I'm sorry he's not at the thing. Will you come in now or stay out here?" "I'm not cold. I'll stay out here, thanks."

Upon sensitive ears her voice might have struck as having a cold and sharp note in it, but possibly Mr. Bligh's were not sensitive, for he left her with a carelessly good-humored gesture of acquiescence. And Marjorie, for her part, did not stay to watch him disappear. She called to Jack and ran down the terrace steps.

"Mr. Petherick will be here directly," she said, speaking so just as she might have done had her companion walked on two legs instead of trotted on four, "and I want to stop him if I can. I must tell him how out of sorts the Earl seems and that he had better not talk to him more than can be helped."

She was in the path along which the lawyer must pass and she santered slowly up and down, waiting for him. It was not for long, for she had barely made half a dozen turns when Jack cocked his ears at the sound of approaching footsteps—upon the gravel, and a moment later Mr. Petherick presented himself—a tall, spare, gray-haired man, who had his profession stamped upon every feature of his handsome sharp face and every inch of his erect, black-clothed figure. A very comfortable practice indeed had Mr. Petherick, although it was only a country one—a practice which would have been comfortable even without the patronage of the Earl, for Castle Marling was by no means the only great house in the county where he was welcomed as a friend.

"Why, Lady Marjorie?" With a pleased smile peaking the professional gravity of his face, he raised his hat to the small white figure in the path. "Really," he said, "I could almost flatter myself, do you know, that you were doing me the honor to wait for me."

"So was Mr. Petherick," Marjorie put the hand which she had given him within his arm and turned in the path with him. "I was waiting for you because I want you to be very good and do something to please me."

"Do you, my dear?" The old gentleman had raised Lord Marlingford's daughter on his knee before she could toddle, and he patted the little hand affectionately. "I'm more honored than ever," he said, "What are your ladyship's commands?"

"That you are on no account whatever to talk to the Earl too much, or to let him talk too much to you. Her light tone dropped with the anxious change in her face. "He is not at all well to-day—not at all, Fenella says."

"The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?"

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

Doctors Could Not Help Mrs. Templeton—Regained Health through Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Hooper, Nebraska.—"I am very glad to tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me. For five years I suffered from female troubles so I was scarcely able to do my work. I took doctors' medicines and used local treatments but was not helped. I had such awful bearing down pains and my back was so weak I could hardly walk and could not ride. I often had to sit up nights to sleep and my friends thought I could not live long. At my request my husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I commenced to take it. By the time I had taken the seventh bottle my health had returned and I began doing my washing and was as well as ever. At one time for three weeks I did all the work for eighteen boarders with no signs of my old trouble returning. Many have taken your medicine after seeing what it did for me. I would not take $1000 and be where I was. You have my permission to use my name if it will aid anyone." Mrs. Susie Templeton, Hooper, Nebraska.

Ottawa Loses Another.
OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—Quebec defeated Ottawa by 5 to 3. The first period ended with a score of 2 to 1 for Ottawa. In the second the Senators again went to pieces after they had been playing about ten minutes. Tommy Smith tied the score on a pretty piece of individual work. The Ottawa defence cracked under the strain and Smith got another in two minutes. Smith went off at this juncture with a broken skate, but even without their best shooter Quebec forced the play. Only Lester's work in goal saved Ottawa from a bad beating. Smith resumed and immediately went through the Ottawa defence, making it 4 to 2, with a wicked shot.

In the second period Tommy Smith, who was the individual star of the night, married his performance by putting Eddie Lowery out of the game with a wicked blow over the read. Then Darragh forced Marks to retire with a bad cut over the left eye.

Wanderers 6, Tecumsehs 2.
Montreal, Jan. 30.—It was Wanderers all the way in the final game of six man hockey last night, when they defeated the Tecumsehs by a score of 6-2, outscoring them in two of the three periods. The Tecumsehs showed marked signs of their recent overtime matches, and with the exception of the McNamara brothers did not show the dash and the vim of the match played on Saturday against the Canadiens.

For The Nervous Woman.

Or the woman who experiences hot flashes nothing is so good to soothe, quiet and calm the nervous system as a pure glyceric extract of native medicinal plants, and made without alcohol, which has been used by druggists for the past forty years, and most favorably known as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In younger years some women suffer from dizziness, or fainting spells, hysteria, headache, bearing-down feelings and pain. All these symptoms of irregularity and female disturbance are relieved by the use of this famous "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is an excellent appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.
"My disease was called retroversion," writes Mrs. LYDIA McDONALD, of Mescoota, Mich., June 1. "I had nervous chills and numb spots and they would leave me very weak. Then I had inflammation and the doctor said I had a floating ovary. I doctored seven months with my family physician. He said I would have to have an operation. Then I stopped taking his medicine. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine I have not had any nervous chills or weak spots. I am better than for years."
"My daughter is now taking the 'Prescription' and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, also the 'Felle's' for nervousness and weak, tired feeling. These remedies have helped her over so much in a short time. We have great faith in your medicines for female troubles."
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement.
