Chairman Lewis bases her judgment upon the results of the work of yesterday and the day before than on what had been done previously. By Tuesday the women had so far overcome the prejudice raised up against their cause by those who opposed their right to the franchise that the women were being used by the Liberal organization, that voluntary assistance came to their aid from scores of women and men who had previously been indifferent to the cause, and yesterday the enthusiasm shown in behalf of the movement amounted almost to a tidal wave.

Pasadena, Cal., April 16.—Miss Belle Sams of this city was the victim of a peculiar series of accidents today.

SECRETARY BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL SAYS WEBSTER IS NOT PROMINENT IN LABOR CIRCLES

Editor Albertan: Permit me to verify the statement of W. M. Scott, president of the Brotherhood of Carpenters union, in your issue of the 14th inst., commenting on a letter published in The Herald and The News-Telegram under the signature of Wm. Webster, "a prominent labor man."

It is my duty in the interests of organized labor to state as follows:

That William Webster is not active in the labor movement in Calgary.

Also commenting on a letter bearing the signature of George Evans, secretary of the Bricklayers and Masons, published in a recent issue of The News-Telegram, I wish to state that he is an unscrupulous tool of the Conservative party, and is in no way authorized by his local to make such statements, and will undoubtedly lose the respect of all intelligent trades unionists.

Furthermore, such men are stumbling blocks to organized labor and would do better if they would study the labor movement in general instead of selling themselves to party politicians.

For the Calgary Building Trades Council.

THE KAISER NOT AS HIGH AS SOME OF HIS SUBJECTS

His Holdings are Estimated to Be Worth $35,000,000; Income, $5,000,000.

Berlin, April 16.—On the very day that the German prince replied with a blank refusal to the Kaiser's appeal to them to contribute to the German war fund by paying income taxes just as all the other Germans do, the yearly Almanac of German Fortunes, by Herr Rudolph Martin, is published in Berlin. This Almanac is all the more interesting as it shows exactly what the German rulers actually own, and these disclosures cast an unfavorable light on the prince's economical patriotism.

The richest German prince is the Kaiser, whose estate is valued at $35,000,000, and whose income is about $5,000,000. But the Kaiser is by no means the richest person in the country, or even in Prussia. He ranks fifth in the list of Germany's money magnates, as will be seen:

Estates valued at
Frau Bertha Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach ..... $70,000,000
Prince Henckell von Donnersmarck ..... 60,000,000
Barn von Goldschmidt ..... 40,000,000
Duke von Ujest ..... 38,500,000
The Kaiser ..... 35,000,000

The Kaiser, like all other members of the royal Prussian house, pays no income tax, so that the exact amount of his fortune is unknown, and the officials of the finance ministry have no right to inquire, but the greater portion of his wealth consists in land and can therefore be approximately valued. In Prussia alone the Kaiser owns some forty castles (valued about $350,000 each), lands and woods, valued about $15,000,000, and houses in Berlin, valued about $4,500,000. The grand total of all this amounts to more than $30,000,000, but were the Kaiser to liquidate his estate it is sure that a much higher figure would easily be obtained. As to his wealth in cash and stocks little is known.

The Hohenzollern Fortunes
The origin of the Hohenzollern fortune is historically known to be the "savings" of King Frederick William III., the present Kaiser's grandfather. These "savings" amounted to $5,000,000 a century ago and were bequeathed by the king to his successor King William of Prussia, who became later Emperor William II., as "crown treasure" and under the specific condition that half the sum should never be employed unless the country were in a desperate position.

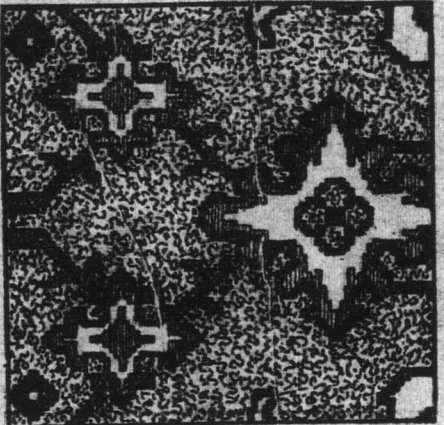

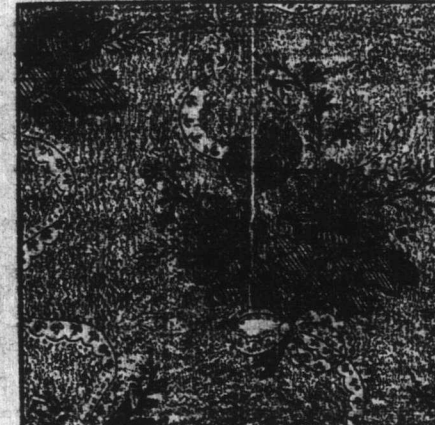

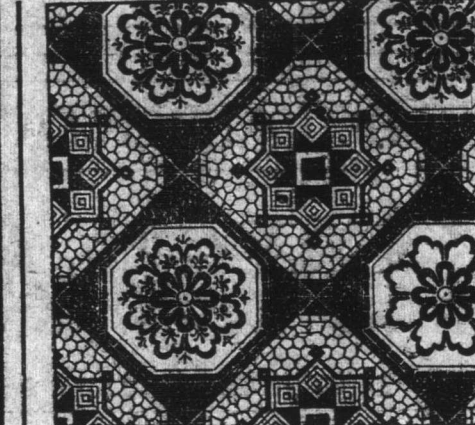

Nobody knows exactly what has become of this "treasure," but it is taken for granted that it still exists and that it must have doubled in value since the time it was constituted. The German Emperor is of opinion that Germany is now going through the "hard times" predicted by his great-grandfather he will surely place the treasury at the disposal of the war secretary as his majesty's personal contribution to the war fund. But whether this step is actually necessitated by the necessities of the German people to pay for their own defence without any imperial intervention remains to be seen.

The German Crown Prince is comparatively the poorest in the present Europe. His yearly income does not exceed $250,000. His wife, Princess Cecilie, was divorced from her husband, the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, but which fact has had no effect on the crown prince's income. A princely allowance is included in his estate of $200,000 a year, but this is not the Kaiser's gift, but a princely allowance which was bequeathed in 1836 to the Kaiser by Duke William of Brunswick, which later given by the Kaiser to his eldest son.

Other Handsome Fortunes
The Kaiser's other immediate relatives, Frederick Leopold and Henry also possess handsome fortunes by inheritance, but the Kaiser's sons—the Princeps Eitel and William August—draw from their father's private purse. Both have married very rich heiresses. As to the Kaiser's daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, her coming marriage will make her one of the wealthiest princesses in Germany.

A Host of Pretty Novelties at the Art Needlework Section

Our new spring stocks have been but recently opened up and at the present moment this section is brimful of the newest fancies in art needlework. Among the daintiest of the new pieces are those stamped in dainty stitch designs; some of them combined with the new rosette work. These are most effective when finished, but very easy to work.

Rosettes are made with a tiny braid which we can supply, or if you prefer, we have them ready made up. Centrepiece and Cushion Tops, of mercerised poplin, have carnation design to match. The "Rambler Rose" is also used in many effective ways; some combined with punch work, others in wreathed designs. Runners and Cushion Tops of oatmeal linen are also among the new arrivals; stamped in conventional designs and rambler rose designs. Stamped Linen Centres are a prominent feature of this new delivery; designs are entirely new, and prices range from 25c.

... even with deeds. Not with words. The number of two and three mark prices are being coined this year in commemoration of the uprising of Prussia in the year 1818. They bear the device "Der König ist alle Jahre ein Kame" (The king called and all obeyed the summons), which is the first line of a popular poem of that period. The Radical organs have objected strenuously to the device which they declare is contrary to historical truth and the "Völkische Zeitung," the organ of Berlin Liberalism, stated in a leading article on the subject that it was "regrettable that the chancellor had not had the will or the power to give the device a more appropriate meaning."

Ought to Make a Good Jailer
Halifax, N. S., April 16.—Among the applications considered by the prison committee for the position of warden at the city prison was the following: "I beg to submit to you my application as under-keeper at the city prison. I possess the following qualifications: I am a Spaniard by birth, but a British subject by naturalization, and 38 years of age. For three years I was a turnkey in the Castle of Montjuich, Spain, where the holy inquisition is yet in application for the good of the country, and I am well acquainted with the ways of this most efficient institution to subdue rebellious and incorrigible prisoners, to tame them without killing or hanging."

Triple Murder in Indiana

Tailors' Strike Settled
Winnipeg, Man., April 16.—Two hundred tailors who have been on strike since April 1 will go to work again this morning, as the result of an agreement reached between the strikers and the merchant tailors whereby the men will receive an increase of 10 percent on the previous prices of piece work. The strikers asked for an increase of 17 percent and were offered a raise of eight percent, and after a friendly exchange of letters the agreement was reached. The friendly relations were maintained between the two parties throughout the strike.

Belgians on Strike
Valenciennes, France, April 16.—The Belgian strike has had a serious effect on the factories of the frontier. These employ ordinarily many Belgians, practically all of which have quit work. Several establishments have been ordered to close in consequence.

THE MUNICIPAL SITUATION

Some harsh criticisms are being made of Mayor Smitt for his part in recent negotiations for the sale of treasury notes in Toronto and Montreal...

Whatever may be the outcome of the mayor's visit, it should be remembered that the mayor was sent east at the behest of the city council, as their duly authorized agent to carry out the financial policy outlined by the finance committee...

This decision followed an early interview with Mr. Hogg, the local manager of the Bank of Montreal, who pointed out that unless the city's bonds were ready early in January, a considerable loss might be expected on sales at a later date...

This action followed another interview with Mr. Hogg on the eve of his departure for the coast, after a rough estimate had been completed of the general and local improvement debentures, computed at over six millions...

The Bank of Montreal did negotiate the renewal of $2,000,000 of treasury bills, at advantageous terms; but this was only a partial solution of the city's problem...

It was up to somebody to do something! But under the terms of the city's ironclad agreement with the bank, only one thing was possible—the sale of bonds or short-term treasury bills...

Apparently the negotiation of the bills in the United States was impossible and an abortive attempt was made by the brokers to sell the bills in London, in spite of the city's agreement with the Bank of Montreal...

Although it is creditable that the Bank of Montreal has secured renewals of $3,000,000 this year for the city, at an excellent rate, that is not financing the city satisfactorily...

advising against the sale of notes and without offering any advice as to the method of providing the money to keep even the city's waterworks and street cleaning gangs employed until the bonds could be negotiated.

If the five year agreement with the Bank of Montreal is to run its course, a clearer understanding between the city and the bank is absolutely necessary. Conditions last year were far from satisfactory. The bank failed the city lamentably. Although the sales it has effected so far this year have been excellent, it has not made one-third as many as the city requires.

It is quite probable that without this ironclad agreement the city would secure quite as good terms from the Bank of Montreal for the same amount of sales; and the bank would not be in a position to tie the city up on a technicality in the negotiations for several millions of money which the city requires over and above what the bank appears to be able to provide.

However unfortunate may have been the result of the mayor's negotiations, the blame cannot be placed entirely on the mayor's shoulders; and it is hardly becoming on the part of the aldermen who outlined the policy by which he is guided and who authorized his attempts, to heap their criticisms upon him now.

HEROES AND THUGS!

In the last Saskatchewan election, R. B. Bennett spoke in behalf of the opposition, as the results of the contest plainly showed. He had a right, unquestioned, to address the meetings, and the Liberals rather welcomed him there.

Messrs. Motherwell and Calder are members of the government of Saskatchewan. They came into the fight in Alberta, as they had a right to do. They are doing the same as R. B. Bennett did in the Saskatchewan election. They were more effective, but that is a question of degree and not merely one of principle.

Mr. Bennett speaks of the ministers from Saskatchewan as election heplers. We know what he calls himself. He has done more to degrade public affairs and embitter political contests in western Canada than all of the other influences combined.

THE BETTING MAN

The most objectionable man these days is the fellow who comes along asking your opinion upon elections or something like that and directly he gets it wants to bet that you are wrong. When you decline, declaring that you do not bet upon elections and have an aversion to betting at all, he looks upon you as something of a piker, who has been bluffing all the time and is just backing out because you are afraid of losing money.

The man who values another's sincerity or confidence by the amount of money which he is prepared to put up backing his opinion, is not an uncommon occurrence, but rather a base influence. The man who clinches an argument by a challenge to bet, and looks upon the argument as won if his opponent doesn't respond and put up the coin with him, is a nuisance.

The disposition to risk a little money upon an uncertain proposition is the inheritance of man in general. However, it may be noticed that this betting inclination is more prevalent among the less civilized, and is working out as people become more civilized.

Just ordinary betting, in moderation, is not such a terrible vice. But the man who has the habit very badly, and goes prancing around seeking whom he may bluff is not always despicable.

As a rule the betting game is a senseless one. It makes more bitterness at election time than anything else, but it seems to be a necessary evil.

THE STABLEMAN STATESMAN

The Calgary Herald files to the protection of a man named Crutcher who is under arrest charged with bribery and some similar offences in the Little Bow riding, with as much loyalty as it flew to the protection of Charles Bell, when the license department closed up his bar.

If Crutcher is guilty of bribery as the crown alleges, he is not a fit subject for sympathy. There is ample evidence of crooked work in several parts of the province. The crown believes it has a straight case against this man.

Crutcher, according to The Herald, is a stableman. He leaves Calgary at his own expense, goes to Carmangay, employs a rig with a driver, and at his own expense was canvassing for J. T. MacDonald. That is the story that The Herald tells.

The story of the crown is quite different. When the case comes up for trial, we shall know which is right and which is wrong. If the crown has acted without justification, if it has done one-tenth of the injustice to this man that the Manitoba government did to a number of peaceable citizens in the Macdonald election, it is open to censure and will be censured.

We must await developments. In the meantime The Herald tells the story that a stableman of Calgary in his patriotic zeal for the cause, went down at his own expense to the Little Bow riding and at his own expense was travelling through the riding with a driver, using moral guasion upon the electors. The crown says that it has evidence that he was acting corruptly.

them until they all taste alike, but the minute that the 50-pound chunk of ice is placed inside it will fade away faster than the crowd of chickens at a church supper.

For the purpose of keeping things which otherwise would start up and die before they could be worked, a semblance of food. The refrigerator accomplishes this by freezing the contents into solids, in the meantime allowing the languorous breath of the young onion to permeate the butters. People who like cheese and Welsh rarebit, do not object to this procedure, but mingle rubiasagas, Dutch cheese and custard pie in the same refrigerator with the utmost nonchalant air.

Refrigerators are filled with ice by coarse men who weigh the ice with the human eye, while it is around the neck with a pair of tongs and jam it onto the ice box with a noise like throwing a chifferdown down the back stairs. This is done as early in the morning as possible, so that the head of the house will have to get out of bed and let the scaman in. Most women call about 10:30 a.m. and try to batter the door back while waiting for father to come.

The ice compartment in a refrigerator is built to hold fifty pounds, but the average housewife has a refrigerator that will hold only twenty-five pounds. Some refrigerators have the habit of running out of ice when the housewife is sitting at the table to serve a six o'clock dinner, compelling her to serve butter which has melted in a very humiliating manner.

REPUTATIONS
A reputation is a sort of a pure food label on a man's character.

It consists of whatever he has persuaded other people to believe about him. A reputation is about the most important asset a man has, though he never owns it. If he has a good reputation he can borrow money without security and run for justice of the peace on his record.

Good reputations are not confined to good men. This is a democratic country and anybody can acquire a good reputation if he will be patient enough. Goodness and good reputations have no more to do with each other than ham and hamlet. Many a man with a magnificent, full jeweled, alabaster washed reputation is a rank in his factory, week days, and fighting the spread of immorality on Sundays.

A good reputation is a thing that a man can get one and any honest man can see to it that he has it. It is a long life keeping his hands off other people's property and obeying not only the law but the common sense of the community. A good reputation is a thing that a man can get one and any honest man can see to it that he has it. It is a long life keeping his hands off other people's property and obeying not only the law but the common sense of the community.

Good reputations are fine things, but the government should appoint a commission to guard against mis-branding human goods.

WASTED EFFORT
Still Mexico is torn asunder. I wonder what it means? The people there are raising shoulder in protest against the beans.

Month after month the cannons rattle and burrs are pelted down by jets which blow the dirt and sand, and hauling hay to town. Their leaders talk a lot of glory, while stirring up the storms, and shouting their legs. I'd rather raise some mint for the poor, or grain for the hungry, than have a corner full of bodies all plastered full of lead.

In dropping a bomb, I'd rather dig in a ditch and plant a tree, than plant a mine and blow up a man. I'd rather have a bunch of chickens and gather up their eggs, than take a gun and raise the dust in the air, and shoot the legs. I'd rather raise some mint for the poor, or grain for the hungry, than have a corner full of bodies all plastered full of lead.

WHAT IS GREAT BRITAIN TO DO ABOUT PERSIA?
London, April 16.—The London Observer asks: "What Great Britain is to do about Persia? The question will have to be faced very soon, and it is time the public understood what it means. We have all been so absorbed in the European situation that most people have forgotten the desolate Persian empire, which lies helpless but dangerous in the broad stream of international politics.

Persia has no cover, for the boy Shah does not count. She has no regard for the worthy gentleman who fills this position as ambassador to the United Kingdom. She has no parliament, and past experience leads to the conclusion that the summoning of a new Mejlis would only make confusion worse confounded. She has no money, for the limited revenue that is now collected is either earmarked or is abstracted on his way to the exchequer. She has no efficient government of any sort. There is a ministry, but it is treated with limited respect in the capital and almost disregarded in the provinces. As a nation Persia has almost ceased to exist."

The MacLain in Vaudeville
London, April 16.—The Duke of Argyll stood on the platform at Heston and addressed the audience in connection with the United States exhibition at Shepherd's Bush.

Women Will Wonder at the Prices of These Coats

JUDGING from the many inquiries of late for low priced and fashionable coats for ladies we look to an enthusiastic selling response and hearty appreciation of such news as this. They represent a very special lot we bought direct from the makers and at a considerable price advantage.

Silks and Voiles with 25c. Cut From the Price of Each Yard!

She Is a Fighting Mother
Kansas City, Mo., April 15.—When ever a lawyer cross examines a witness, who happens to be a daughter of Mrs. Ella Hallex of Bethel, Kan., he has got to do it right. If he doesn't, Mrs. Hallex will "fix" him. And if she can't "fix" him, her husband will.

A Rare Value--Happening In Ladies' Night Gowns

"IT'S A MYSTERY to me," said a lady visitor to the city from Toronto, "how in the world you can give such values away out here. Some of the bargains are even better than I saw at home." There are wonderfully good money-saving chances here. Today, for instance, we announce the greatest bargain of its kind yet offered to Calgary women.

These Waists at 75c--Wonder Value

Among the dozens of pretty Waists gathered for this sale today there isn't a single one that wouldn't ordinarily be marked at $1.25 and considered wonderfully good value at that price. But this popular section has the happy faculty of doing things out of the ordinary, offering unheard of values when they're most wanted, yet least expected. Here is extraordinary price-making for this morning shoppers to this store.

75c AND $1.00 LADIES' DRAWERS, 50c

Women who appreciate generous values in such things as these will buy generously, for we don't know when we can again offer such a bargain.

THE CHARMS OF OUR MILLINERY

The real charm of this new and popular Millinery store on the second floor are the hats themselves, charming and becoming models that mirror the very last word in fashionable hats. Street and walking shapes predominate. The trimmings are just over from Paris, daintier and lovelier than ever.

New Nets Just Unveiled

WE'VE JUST opened, fresh and crisp from their wrappings, a quantity of the very newest creations in nets, in pebble and shadow effects. These were bought direct from the makers by our own buyer, who has just recently returned from a buying tour of Europe. At the prices they have been marked they represent marvels of good value.

Mayor Spencer Is Injured
Medicine Hat, April 16.—While returning from a ride in his automobile, Mayor Spencer, Conservative candidate in Medicine Hat riding, was thrown from his automobile a distance of 25 feet and seriously injured. Taking a short-cut, Mr. Spencer, who was driving, suddenly came upon a hole about seven feet deep, half full of water. He gripped the steering wheel and was not injured much, but Spencer was rendered unconscious and will be laid up for ten days or more. His wrist was dislocated and his knee injured.

OLD PEOPLE DO NOT NEED SO VERY MUCH SLEEP

But We Young Folks Should Get Seven or Eight Hours of It Daily

Boston, April 15.—What sleep means to the human body was told by Dr. Frederick B. Percy of the Boston University School of Medicine at the Essex Memorial this evening. He advised that the least cultivated and least developed adults need the most sleep, and the higher the intellectual development the more prone one is to insomnia. That it is possible to injure the health by taking too much sleep, is Dr. Percy's opinion. The taking of drugs to induce sleep is a real danger. The bedroom should be large, airy, flooded with sunshine in the day, and free from hangings and floor coverings, which accumulate dust and germs. There should be single beds for children, and abundance of fresh air.

"THE PRINCE OF PILSEN"
AT THE GRAND MONDAY

The Prince of Pilsen, the most popular of American musical comedies, will be presented at the Sherman Grand for three nights, Monday, April 14, Tuesday, April 15, and Wednesday, April 16, with a wealth of scenic and costume equipment and an excellence of individual and chorus impersonation rarely shown in musical comedy performance. In fact, this delightful entertainment, combining the highest and best work of Gustav Heider and Frank Pixley, has set a mark in the special field of performance and will last the season of other companies and authors to reach. Musical comedy of modern origin is essentially evanescent; changing tastes and times call for new songs and new scenes. Once in a decade, perhaps, there comes a play of this kind—so tuneful, its music so delectable and poetic and its lyrics so fresh and humorous, that it comes to be the rule of the rule of the theatre, the prince and chorus of the stage. For the coming engagement Henry W. Savage has provided a company, the principals and chorus of which have been chosen with the intention of making the performance the best ever given of this musical comedy. In the principal comedy role, Hans Wagner, the highest of comedians, Mr. "Jess" Dandy, comes personally to the stage, and with an immediate appreciation of the pointedly expressed by voice, look and action that he evokes almost the entire audience. Lottie Kendall, an American girl who after winning a high position in her own land, captures the attention of the favor of English audiences, will be the flirtatious widow of the cast. Bernard Ferguson, the real prince, as Fred Lyon, the naval lieutenant, and Norma Brown, with her bewitching face, is the French maid Sidoine, while petite Dorothy Delmore will be the bell-boy. Dainty Edna Pendleton, the Nellie Wagner, daughter of Hans and Marie C. Murray, will be the role of Edith. Campbell Duncan will enact the role of Lord Somerset and Bobby Woolsey that of the music master. Song hits in "The Prince of Pilsen" number at least a score. "The Measure of the Violet," "The Tale of the Sea Shells," "Pictures in Smokey" and "The Song of the Clitella" are household favorites.

GIVES SOME FIGURES TO BEAR OUT CONTENTION

Some Very Interesting Evidence Is Given at the Banking Committee of the House of Commons Bearing on the Banking Act

Ottawa, April 15.—Sir Edmund Walker gave evidence before the committee on banking and commerce today. He has been in the banking business since 1887, having been introduced into that career when he was 13 years of age. Since 1888 he has been connected with the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

He declared that he believed in the decentralization of the bank act but that charters should be for indefinite periods subject to limitation. He was in favor of large banks, not the small ones, proposed by Western men. He regarded the branch bank system as the most efficient. He did not think a co-operative banking system would be feasible. His bank did not expect to make profits in Western branches until six or seven years after they had started.

Questioned about appeal to submit to a commission the matter of issuing bank notes, Sir Edmund said: "Unless you would place banks in the category of public utilities I don't see why they should be subject to such a rate on new stock."

GUS EDWARDS OPENS NEW ORPHEUM BILL TODAY

Gus Edwards and his troupe of happy youngsters arrived in Calgary last night and will headline tonight's bill at the Orpheum. They have two baggage cars and a special sleeper in which they travel exclusively. Mr. Edwards will be remembered by many as the writer of such popular songs as "Yipp-I-Ady," "School Days" and "Just Can't Make My Eyes Behave," so that it will be a pleasure to see him in his troupe of happy laughing youngsters.

Next on the bill comes a class of novelties which will include the singing of Dave Kramer and George Morton, two of the cleverest blackface comedians in the new world. They furnish fifteen minutes of the best entertainment that one could ever see, or they leave and talk to you, and they intersperse from end to end with splendid songs and dances.

Mr. Edwards is a native of Ontario, but he has been on the stage so long that he will be no stranger to many in the audience. He and a capable company will entertain in a bright sketch entitled "An All Night Session," in which a young married man explains his absence from home at his favorite club, where he has enjoyed a quiet life. He is a modern specimen of a sharpshooting and a public speaker. He is a modern specimen of a sharpshooting and a public speaker. He is a modern specimen of a sharpshooting and a public speaker.

AMERICAN IS VICTIM OF FOOL PLAY

London, April 16.—The crushed and soiled pocketbook and opera hat of Mrs. Martin, of Memphis, Tennessee, who has been missing since April 3, have been found in the river mud of the Thames embankment.

A workman found the pocketbook and hat on the morning after the night of Mrs. Martin's disappearance. He was unable to read or write, and thought nothing of the matter until he heard a fellow workman yesterday reading an account of the disappearance.

The pocketbook contained Martin's message ticket on the Cunard steamer. The pocketbook bore the initials "J. M." stamped in red.

Mrs. Martin was last seen outside the Royal Automobile club on the night of April 3, when she was wearing the clothes and mentioned an appointment with a woman. In the Weekly Dispatch it is suggested that the woman's disappearance is connected with the case in which Martin made with an amateur detective friend of his.

The police incline to the theory that Martin was the victim of a snatched, but they cannot understand why Martin was off to embarkment at so late an hour, and noticed, as the locality is closely patrolled, that persons are scrutinized by the police.

FRANCIS BIRTH RATE DECLINES

Paris, April 16.—The birth rate of the French capital for 1912 was the lowest since 1861, according to a municipal report made public today. There was only one birth for every thirty families. The infantile birth rate was 74.5 a thousand. Prohibitive rents are said to have been the chief cause for the decrease in the number of births.

of this privilege would have to come on the borrower?"

"Would it fall on the borrower?"

"No."

"How did you pick up the list as to the profits?"

"I don't know."

"What do you think is a fair tax?"

"I am not a banker. I am trying to find out why this privilege should be granted."

"The country makes enormously more out of the existence of the note privilege than we do."

"How?"

"I send money for industries."

"Well, I want reasons why we should give this privilege."

MINISTERS' WIVES IN BITTER CONTEST SOCIALLY

Mrs. Winston Churchill Aspires to Social Place of Wife of the Premier

London, April 15.—One of the most interesting struggles for social supremacy ever witnessed in English high society is being waged between the wives of two of Britain's foremost statesmen. For more than a year Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the brilliant first lord of the admiralty and probable future prime minister, has been contending with the success, to wit from Mrs. Herbert Asquith, wife of the present premier, for the position of chief political hostess of the Liberal party.

The duel between these two women has been conducted in the most decorous manner possible. There has been no public rupture and little or no outward evidence of jealousy or antagonism between them; but the intimate friends of both have been aware that for some time past the wife of the younger minister has been covertly and unobtrusively making a social success, to wit from Mrs. Herbert Asquith, wife of the present premier, for the position of chief political hostess of the Liberal party.

Mr. E. M. Logan, B.S.A., left tonight for Calgary, at which point he was president of the British Columbia branch of the B.S.A. He has been editor for the last eighteen months, will henceforth be published. Mr. Logan has been an active factor in a large number of public and semi-public organizations in this city. He was given hearty send-off by the representatives of the various organizations. The Business club, of which he was president, presented him with a handsome travelling bag at a dinner at the Strand, the presentation being made by Mr. John Selby, speeches being contributed by Messrs. John Ogilby, J. N. Harvey and others. Mr. Logan will be managing editor of three papers in Calgary—The Commercial Review, The Building World and Dry Goods and Dress, three live trade papers, with their head offices in Calgary. DEAD REMEMBERED TEN YEARS

Berlin, April 16.—Statistics show that the average grave in Berlin is cared for by loving relatives for less than ten years; consequently the term of occupancy by the departed has been reduced in Wilmerdorf from thirty to twenty years. This is provision made to meet the increasing demand on cemetery space in a large and growing city, and a leeway of eight years still allowed for the protection of the feelings of those who remain behind. This applies to adults. The same ruthless statistics show that the graves of those who remain behind. This applies to adults. Town Clerk Dreams a Book
Montclair, N. J., April 16.—In a "The Door Without a Knob" Harry Trippett, the town clerk of Montclair, recounts in a peculiar dream which he experienced it was revealed to him that he has been on this earth twice before his present existence.

"It seems," declares Mr. Trippett in the preface of his book, "that on the first occasion I was hanged for a murder which I did not commit, though the evidence was all against me."

Mr. Trippett's book has occasioned a sensation here, as he is one of the known men in the city, an apt naturalist and an expert in civic affairs. He has held the place of town clerk for a number of years.

"For several years past," Mr. Trippett writes, "I have been visited by a most disagreeable dream and, though I made no record of the date at the time, it seemed to be recurrent at intervals of about four months. It was impossible to remember the details of the dream, but I would always wake with the sensation of having killed one, one, though the personality of the one killed never was made clear."
