THE VACANCY IN PRESCOTT, caused by the death of Mr. Harkin, has given outsiders a chance to nominate Mr. James Fahey of the Mail as the next representative of that constituency. Mr. Fahey is a clever man, and would no doubt make a useful member of the legislature, but he may look with just suspicion on the candor of those friends who propose his name for a county in which he is not known to half a dozen electors. At the general election the wire pullers of the U. E. Club procured for Mr. Fahey the nomination for South Grey, where there are many voters of his own faith and race, and where parties are not unevenly divided. What was the results and the successor in the Quebec cabinet. wire pullers of the U. E. Club procured for unevenly divided. What was the result? The electors resented the meddlesomeness of the wire-pullers, and the stranger can didate was defeated by a majority of seven hundred. The chances are that what happened in South Grey would happen in Prescott, and they are no true friends of Mr. Fahey who would inveigle him into a contest there. A nomination coming spontaneously from the electors themselves would be worthy of consideration.

SIR LEONARD TILLEY'S BUDGET SPEECH. The opening part of Sir Leonard Tilley's budget speech is as well spiced with "if's" hibition is anything but edifying. If it was not for this and for that, Sir Leonard said, there would have been a balance to our was only $243,228, instead $1,543,228 as shown by the public accounts. For the shown by the public accounts. For the current year the estimate of receipts made last March was $25,517,000, but calculating upon the actual receipts of seven months the finance minister now reckons on an income of $27,586,000,—custom revenues alone promising an increase over the estimate of nearly two millions. The estimated expenditure for the year was $25,773,394, and the minister thinks he is safe in expenditure for the year was $25,773,394, and the minister thinks he is safe in saying that the amount will not exceed $25,573,394. This would give him a surplus at the close of the fiscal year, 1881-2, the estimated revenue from all sources is $27,800,000, and the expenditure—including $200,000 for surplementary estimates—is put down at $26,389,896. This leaves an estimated surplus of $1,410,104, which is possibly a good deal under the mark. Business has been steadily improving during the past-year, and the imports of duriable goods have increased month by and the minister thinks he is safe in courteous and expansive—she dignified and reticent. She waited for him to commence the attack. Their positions were reversed this time. It was for him to take the initiative. He was not long in doing so.

"You did me the honor, Mrs. Sherwood, some months ago, to confer with me on the subject of a proposal which my son had addressed to your daughter. I at that time concurred in your own view of the matter. I did not know how deeply my son's affections were involved. I believed that a little change would dispel impressions which, however charming may be their object, are sometimes evanescent. I have since seen reason to alter my view. My son is very sincerely attached to Miss Sherwood. His health and spirits have suffered; even the new career he has adopted fails to interest him. I have come to you to day, madam, hoping that I may be able to induce you to reverse your late decision. It must be for Walter himself to persuade the young lady to relent."

When Robert came back that September, Robert was not very observant; he did not even miss Mrs. Sherwood and Katie very greatly for he had made good use of his time that summer. He had climbed the Rigi and lingered by the Lake of Lucerne in pleasant company—company so pleasant, in fact, that he was minded to prolong its advantages indefinitely; and the first announcement he made to his brother was of his intended marriage. "My father, Sir Ralph, was a barrister, my grandfather a clergyman—we have no blue blood in our veins."

Sir Ralph took a turn up and down the room.

"Bless my soul, madam," he exclaimed, testily, stepping in front of her, "can't you give m if I to ?"

And then they both laughed.

"I may send Walter then?" Sir Ralph asked as he took his leave.

The young fellow was not far off; in reality, only in his father's brougham, at the end of the street, gnawing off the fingers of his brand-new gloves with impatience. His pleading was not doomed to_a second repulse. The "Fashionable Intelligence" was responsible for the happy tarn affairs had taken, for, on seeing in it that he was to be married to Lady Edith Brymer, Walter lost all patience, rushed off, first to the newspaper office, and then to his father, and so brought on the crisis.

The wedding took place at the end of the season, and Katie went to Switzerland first, and then home to her husband's maternal estate of Hunterbury.

And Philip? Philip met his fate like a man. He went back to his deserted house, took off the London tailor's fine clothes—worn then for the first and last time—folded and laid them away as one lays by the garments of the dead, and then set himself to bury-his love. He was a man to be bovermastered by unrequited passion for a woman. So he stamped it out resolutely—

Importing Hay from Canada.

(New York Sun.)

Hay in large quantitie: is now being imported into this country from Canada. This is owing partly to the light crop of last summer and partly to the fancy which consumers in New York and Philadelphia have lately taken to Canadian hay. In crossing the line a duty of 20 per cent, ad valorem, has to be paid on hay, and the freight charges from Toronto to this city amount to $50 per car load. Even then the cost of imported hay in this market, is Over $5000 worth of valentines were sold by a city wholesale house. Thirty-one barrels of tanners grease orwarded to Boston on Friday. eceived the latest American designs.

Over 250 bales of raw-leaf tobbacco were brought into the city by the G.W.R. during the week.

A sample lot of 371 bushels of peas was forwarded to Boston on the 12th inst. by a Toronto firm. Judging from the vast amount of builders hardware imported this season, building operations will be lively this spring.

Sixty-five casks of granite earthenware from Staffordshire, England, was delivered to a Front street warehouse on Thursday. It is safe to predict that the importations this month will greatly exceed that of any February in the previous history of the city's trade.

Mr. James Besty Taken to Time by the Temperance People.

At the meeting of St. John's lodge No. 58, I.O.G.T., held last evening, the following resolution was moved by Bro. George Spence, seconded by Bro. D. Smellie, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved,—(1) That the thanks of the members of this lodge are hereby tendered to those members of parliament who by their votes and championship of our principles on the floor of the house of commons secured the defeat of Mr. Boultbee's proposed amendment to the Scott act.

(2.) That the action of those members who supported the said proposed amendment to the Scott act.

(2.) That the action of those members who supported the said proposed amendment is deserving of the severest censure by the members of our order, especially that of Mr. James Beaty, member for west Toronto, a professed temperance man, who previous to his election presided over and took part in meetings held under the auspices of our order, thereby securing votes which he would not otherwise have obtained.

New York, Feb. 19.—The will of the late Wm. H. Hollis, Brooklyh, leaves $70,000 more on the death of his father, and $20,000 more on the death of his father, and $20,000 more on the death of his estate on the death of his widow.

A STRIKING VALENTINE. Thomas Jones.

A reporter of this paper was wending his way to the scene of his labors yesterday morning, when at the corner of Parliament and St. David streets he almost collided with two young ladies who came suddenly round the corner. They were linked arm. Our furniture manufacturers have just received the latest American designs.

A heavy shipment of clover seed for Philadelphia was made on Thursday.

Dressed sheep skins are mentioned among recent exports to Wyandotte, Mich.

Another new wholesale dry goods house will shortly open its doors for business.

A number of English houses find it to their advantage to keep resident agents here. Last Wednesday 150 begs of clover seed were shipped to Hull, England, from this city.

The jobbing business of Colborne street the proportion of the tender note imprinted itself indelibly on the unwilling listener's mind. The sentiments expressed were so beautiful, and the affection conveyed so unaffected, that we are sure we will be doing our readers and she young ladies no hurt if we reproduce it, imitating as far as possible the reader's pronunciation. Bella Brown, you are beautiful,
You are my Valentine,
Then meet me at church on Sunday night—
My girl, you're surely mine.

Your hat is full of feathers fire.

Brighter than anny valentine.

Then, love and kisses, tears and groans,
From yours, forever, Thomas Jones.

Eight car loads of window glass have arrived at the western freight sheds. The greater portion is intended for the city trade and the balance will be distributed throughout the province.

Toronto boot and shoe firms are making stremuous exertion to secure the trade of Manttobs and British Columbia. One firm is reported to have "struck it rich" in the Mantobs and British Columbia. One firm is reported to have "struck it rich" in the Pacific Province last year.

It is fashionable for our wealthy ladies to import their wedding and reception costumes from London and Paris, and many of our city swells patronize English tailors because they give long credits.

A brisk trade is being done in hosiery, and heavy shipments of new lines have been received recently. "Clocks"—so fashionable last season—have been supplanted by hand-painted silk and Balbriggan.

The book-trade is firmly active. One city firm during the past week filled twenty-five orders for Sunday school libraries, but strange to say not a single volume was published in Canada. Every volume was imported from Philadeiphia and New York.

That there is a big bonanza in bones is evident from the fact that the Michigan Carbon works employ agents in this city to collect our vagrant ones. Two car loads were shipped on Friday by the Grand Trunk.;

Notwithstanding a duty of 25 per cent., Massachusetts shoe manufacturers continue to supply our local trade with large stocks at prices which seem ruinous when compared with what it costs to manufacture the same class of goods here.

That Torotto is fast becoming the head quarters of the Canadian dry goods trade is admitted by all except a few old croakers in Montreal. Firms doing business in the latter city are realizing the fact that in order to retain the trade of Western Ontario their houses must be located here. Several city firms have opened branch establishments in Montreal and are doing a successful business.

The clause recommending that the Dominion government be allowed one-third the cost of a new pavement in front of the post-office was, on motion of Ald. Ball, referred back to get the engineer's report as to whether the pavement was necessary or not.

Mr. McArthur, solicitor for Mr. Jno. Carruthers, addressed the committee in favour of paying a claim made by his client, being a drawback on the St. George street sewer; but the matter was referred back to the committee on works for further consideration, the city solicitor having stated that Mr. Carruthers had a moral claim for a small sum for timber left in the drain, but no legal claim which could be enforced by law.
