WATCH REPAIRING.

Having lately taken in to repair quite a few watches that have been recently repaired by others, without success, and for which work excessive charges are said to have been made, it occurs to me to inform the public that my charges vary from 60. to $1.50 and but rarely exceed this. My numerous customers will bear me out in the assertion that it does not cost them more than from $1 to $2 to get good time from their watches the year round. I do not charge my conferes with overcharging for the work done, the mistake is in needlessly Do-ING TOO MUCH, from not having the experience and skill to readily perceive the cause of the difficulty, which may be a mere trifle. The New York Hareld, which devotes considerable attention to weather news, says that nothing can be more startling than the movement of a great Arctic wave reported on Friday (July 12) from both sides of the North Atlantic. In the British Islands smow fell on Wednesday as far south as London, the first, it is said, ever recorded there in July: while the peaks of Skiddaw and other mountains were white with snow. He says that the published statements regarding a coming excessive het wave within a day or two are all wide of the mark. There will be no protracted heated spell during she month of July. he says, for the reason that the existing conditions are such that they cannot generate a hot wave. The present cold weather is directly traceable to the storms that have recently passed over the country from northwest to southeast, and drawn the cold sir from Manitoha and scattered it over the eastern portion of the United States. Heated terms are caused, according to Gen. Creely, by the earth throwing off the heat of the sun's rays accumulated during a long dry spell. The tecami severe sain storm throughout the country from hours, has so moistemed the earth that it is impossible for it to become heated damindantly to cause a spell of excessively hot weather, such as was experienced in the story which is almost impossible that any unusual heat should occur at present. Sir Richard Cartwright and Deacon Cameron. And we have further heard it whispered that for this bright idea both The Globe and Grip are indebted to Mr. H. H. Cook, in whose fertile brain it originated.

To me more dear, congenial to my heart,

On the subject of "Full Reciprocity" The Mail, again, has an idea from Washington, whence it seems to get a good many of its ideas of late. Mr. Bayard, Secretary of State, has just issued a statement in reply to Senator Hoar's recent speech against the Fishery Treaty. The latter charged that the public had been kept in the dark with sespect to the negotiations. Mr. Bayard applies that the conference was informal, and that it was agreed to maintain an honorable confidence touching its discusting six and that it was agreed to maintain an honorable confidence touching its discusting the conference was informal, and that it was agreed to maintain an honorable confidence touching its discusting the conference was informal, and that it was agreed to maintain an honorable confidence touching its discusting later than the conference was informal, and that it was agreed to maintain an honorable confidence touching its discus-After the return of Sir Charles Tupper to Ottawa a request was sent to Washington for permission to publish one of the proposmade. This is Sir Charles Tupper's famous "offer of Unrestricted offer of Reciprocity," or "Unrestricted offer of Reciprocity," which be lives in his sandy home; and may be the could be countried to wife.

The Herald says that the surge of the "cold

But doctors differ; and next let us hear what Gen. Greely, Chief of the Weather Bureau at Washington, has to say about it; so cooled the atmosphere and scattered the hold of the Northwest over the States that it is almost impossible that any unusual heat should occur at present. Continued warm breezes from the South are a great aid in bringing on hot weather, and there has been none of these. Taking all things into consideration, the heavy rains and the martherly breezes, Gen. Greely says he feels absolutely safe in predicting that there will be no excessive heat during the month of July. There may be very warm days accasisficulty, but no protracted hot wave.

Well, we generally do have some kind of weather about this time of year.

The patient was taken ill very suddenly on Wednesday and grew rapidly worse all the time, dying in just forty-eight hours from the moment he became ill. THE WAR OVER THE BULTER -A Chat About All Sorts of Bustles The recent innovation of Mrs. Frances Fol-som Cleveland in which that lady, in spite of all rules of etiquette and in defiance of all established principles, discards a bustle en-tirely, is meeting with but few followers in this western part of Pennsylvania. At least that is the net result of several interviews last evening with leaders who ought to have knewn what they were talking about, especially as they were each attached to one them

"The fashion Mrs. Cleveland is trying to it sugurate." said a vivacious young lady who was almost buried behind a stack of bustles of every style, color and decrepitude, "will never be a success, and I hear that even the few daring ladies who attempted to follow her lead have deserted her entirely; and n wonder, for it certainly won't do." "Why can't the ladies go back to the old style of dress before bustles came into use?" "For the same reason that men won't go back to knee breeches; because the average form of the man of the present day wouldn't look well in knee breeches." "Then you mean that—" "I simply mean that Mrs. Cleveland is blessed with a plumper form than the average woman, and she can go without a bustle and look well where ninety-mine handsome women would look flat. That's what I mean.

"There was a lady in here from the East yesterday, and she was telling me what a great flutter was created by the quiet circulation by Mrs. C.'s girl friends that the first lady had flutter was created by the quiet circulation by Mrs. C.'s girl friends that the first lady had discarded the bustle. Her admirers really tried to follow het, and for a month there was a great refitting of magnificent dresses, and they ware ribbed and steels were run in, and still the dresses hung limp and awkward."

"And they gave it up?"

"Certainly they gave it up, if for no other reason than that a lady hates above all things to have the fold of a limp, soft dress fall about her: heels. Mrs. Whitney and the Cabinet ladies are still getting their dresses made with a small bustle attached under the folds of the lining.

ladies are still getting their dresses made with a small bustle attached under the folds of the lining.

"Now I will tell you a little feminine secret—a lady pays far more attention and worries more about the fit and hang of her dress behind than she does in front. She is also more particular about the snug fit of her waits in the back than she is in front. Above all things, a nicely dressed lady desires to present good appearance where others will see it if she can't, and this intended onslaught on the bustle will be fought to the bitter end, espesially by your thin, gracful girla."

"What sort of bustles are the favorites?"

"Small ones, by all means. The large-sized Paragrons and Aames have almost entirely disappeared. They looked like a bird cage stretched out, and some of them actually flopped from one side to the other in the ugless fashion imaginable. This motion, however, was given to them by the wearer, who swung herself purposely. The 'Langtry' is quite a favorite. With it on, a girl can sit deliberately and squarely down just like a man, when the 'Langtry' shuts up like a jack-knife.

"The Potter gossamer is the favorite of all-You can fasten it this way," said the girl, cleverly putting it where it belonged without ever glanging at the mirror. "Now, you see, when I sit down, if I sit on it sauarsly, it doubles all up like a telescope, and if I sit down with it on either one side or the other, it is so flexible it gives way perfectly, and then recovers its usual shape at once.

"Then here is the 'Frankie Cleveland." It is made of graas cloth; but I think it's both agiy and uncomfortable. Of course, beauty in bustles doesn't count; but if a young husband were to see one hung over a chair for the first time, he would think he had the night-bane.

"The Empress bustle is very nice for stout seven years now, and all the steels and ribs and reads that can be put into a dress will never replace them. Besides being extremely graceful, they in a great measure take the heavy bade of skirt off the hips, and I believe them to be really beneficial in that way. You will have to excuse me, please. I see I am wanted at the counter by that thin young lady, and they are the hardest to suit. She is too hashful to try one on while there is a gentleman present; but you will hardly be out of the room before ahe will have on the higgest one we have in stock."

ANOTHER DYNAMITE PLOT

CHICAGO ANARCHISTS PLAN A REIGN OF TERROR. nation of Judges Gary and Grinnell.

Inspector Boutield and others-The CHICAGO, July 17 .- A dynamite bomb Pr factory was discovered by the police this morning in a small frame building at Ashand-avenue and Thirty-Third-street. The owner of the place, an old anarchist, was arrested with two accomplices. A conspiracy of long standing, the object of which was the murder of Judge Gary. Judge Grinnell and Police Inspector Bonfield, was about to be put into execution. Twelve dynamite bombs, a revolver and a dagger were found in the day.

Inspector Bonfield is reported to have said be that the plot was a well-arranged one. About twenty determined murderers were in the conspiracy and they were to be at a certain hour to-night at the houses of Judge Grinnell, Judge Gary, Inspector Bonfield, Assistant State's Attorney Frank Walker, Gen. Stiles and others prominent in the prosecution of the anarchists. Dynamite was to be placed beneath the houses of these and the explosive was to be touched off simultaneously. The Board of Trade was to be blown up at the same time and a wholesale reign of terror inaugurated.

Before making the first arrest, Inspector Bonfield had the house surrounded by five bicked officers. Just as day light was breaking the Inspector was joined in the vicinity by a stranger and a few minutes later a man emerged from the house. The stranger nudged Boufield and an order was given to the men who closed on the man.

stranger nudged Boufield and an order was given to the men who closed on the man. He made a desperate fight but was quickly overpowered and placed in charge of two of the officers. Bonfield and the other officers then rushed into the house. They were met on the stairs by a woman, the wife of the man who had been captured, but she was brushed aside and the police, guided by the stranger, en-ered a hall-bedroom where, hidden in a corner, the Inspector found a dozen dynamite cartridges wrapped in brown paper. A further search of the room disclosed hidden in the bed a dagger and revolver. Some bundles of letters and other papers, which were also taken apatrol wagon was called and the prisoner taken to the station.

Duluth, July 17.—Valuable discoveries n the north branch of the Vermillion range, on the Canadian side of the line, a considerble distance east of Tower and Ely and able distance east of lower and Ely and closely adjoining the international boundary. Samples broken from the surface of the ledge show about 50 per cent. metallic iron, which is certainly a first class showing from and a certainy a hist class showing from curface specimens. Whether this ore con-tains much phosphorus has not yet been de-termined, but it has shown itself good enough on careful examination to induce the Duluth discoverers to purchase 400 acres or Duluth discoverers to purchase 400 acres or more land along the vein. The little exploration done so far shows up a wide vein and a long one which will undoubtedly grow richer as shafts are sunk into it. The continuance enatward of the northerly branch of the Vermillion vein into Canada has long been known by explorers, though previous to this find but little work has been done
