NEW YORK. Nov. 27.—Passengers arriving today on the steamer Lusitania from Liverpool, say that the dreadnought Audacious, reported sunk off the Irish coast, has been raised and is now in a Harland and Wolff drydock at Belfast, undergoing repairs. According to J. J. Spurgeon, one of the passengers, this report is generally current in Liverpool and is accepted as true by those in the inside, altho the same degree of secrecy is maintained as to salvage operations as was the case regarding the sinking of the battleship and the attendant rescue of her men by the steamship Olympic.

The report is that the Audacious did not sink in the spot where she was left by the Olympic, but that other vessels succeeded in drawing her into shallow water, where the hole in her bottom was patched sufficiently to permit her being towed to Belfast.

The passengers on board included Col. G. Patterson Murphy and Col. H. H. McLean, who were attached to the first expeditionary force of Canada. They are returning home, but declined to discuss their mission or the war.

The Lusitania brought 4000 bags of mail matter, a considerable portion of which is for Canada.

Public Tember Ruffled.

However technical authorities explain the destruction of the battleship, there is no disguising that the public temper is much ruffled. Never before has the German peril seemed quite so real. That one of the navy's great fighting machines could be destroyed a bare 35 miles from the capital is a stunning blow to public confidence. Following quickly on the heels of the disaster, comes the information of the collier Khartoum's loss, almost within sight of Hull. All the crew were

There has also been a vigorous artillery exchange in the vicinity of Arras and along the line from Ypres westward to La Bassee, where the Indian troops have recently won distinction. It is denied from German sources that the bembardment of Zeebrugge on Nov. 23 by British warships resulted in the destruction of submarines being built there, of an important arsenal and great quantities of stores.

The Germans speak scornfully of the small, damage which they say was caused by the British fire.

British submarines, Mr. Churchill said, could not score, as the German ships did not come out to fight, but he added that the British torpedo boat destroyers had proved their superiority in gun power, a fact that was unknown before the war.

Superiority Assured.

As for building, the first lord said. England would add fifteen capital ships to her fleet before the end of 1915 to Germany's three. In fact, he declared, England could lose one super-dreadnought monthly for a year and still maintain her superiority over Germany in these ships.

Light cruisers, Mr Churchill continued, were being rapidly added to the British fleet, and England had commissioned since the commencement of the war more than Germany had had destroyed or interned. This number, including the Breslau, he said, amounted to six.

The loss of British merchant ships, the first lord said, was a loss that had been anticipated by the admirable, by virtue of its sea power, to draw from all over the world for the cause of the allies everything that was needed, including an abundant supply of munitions, while deficiencies in these commodities were beginning clearly to show in the enemy's military organization.

Germany Feels Pressure.

The economic pressure on Germany, said the first lord, amidst cheers, continued to develop in a healthy and satisfactory manner. German commerce has been practically swept from the seas, while Britain was applying special restrictions against certain special restrictions against certain vital commodities required for mili-tary purposes by Germany and Austria. Germany's masses of guns and war material gave them an advantage at present, but gradually this advantage should change sides, principally in virtue of the sea power which Britain was insuring for the allies.

LONDON, Nov. 27, 9.50 p.m.—Both houses of parliament adjourned today until the new year. The house of lords will reassemble Jan. 6, but the house of commons will not be in session again until Feb. 2.

David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, and Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, reviewed respectively the status of the country's finances and of the navy to the members of the house.

Each presented a cheerful picture of the condition of the branches of government over which they preside. The chancellor's statement on the subscription to the largest war loan ever floated was eagerly awaited. He announced that the loan had been over subscribed, but did not mention the amount. The chancellor said there were nearly 100,000 applications for the bonds, a great number of them for small amounts and added that the small subscribers would be given preference in the allotnent.

The new hall was selected as a temporary place of worship; and in the course or his address Rev. P. CHANGE OF ROUTE

Tuesday, December 1st, 1914

In compliance with the order of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, the new route of the College line on and after December 1st will be as follows:

College cars will run east on College to Teraulay, south on Teraulay and Bay Streets to Wellington, west on Wellington to York, and south to Front; returning east along Front, up Bay and Teraulay Streets to College, thence west over the usual route.

This route is recommended by the Board's traffic expert, with a view to reducing the number of cars operating on Yonge Street, and thereby lessening the delays due to congestion of cars on that street, particularly at the difficult intersection at the corners of College, Carlton and Yonge. It also provides the public in the northwest section of the city with a direct line to the Union Station (York and Front).

The College line operating on Yonge Street is used as a local Yonge line as far north as College Street, whereas when it is changed to Bay and Teraulay it will become an independent line, providing better accommodation for exclusively College line patrons.

The removal of College cars, from Yonge Street will result in more rapid service on the lines remaining on Yonge. In like manner, the College line will have less congestion to contend with on Teraulay and Bay Streets, resulting in a better and faster service, as was experienced when the Bloor line was changed from Yonge to Bay Street.

Patrons of the College line will best serve their interests by walking the short block to Bay or Teraulay Street and boarding the College cars there, because they will save transferring, secure better accommodation, and will reach their destination in less time than by any other route.

confess I was slightly surprised when Mary decided not to go with us in Jaynes' car to do the marketing for the motor boat trip. There are times, such as this, when a woman's viewpoint is invaluable. Marriage, however, makes one just a little suspicious, and somehow I suspected that Mary wanted to keep herself aloof from the marketing end merely to prove to young Jaynes that she didn't know very much about such plebeian things.

Mary's marvelous wardrobe had made her forget a great many things.

Since we departed from home for my recuperative trip Mary has been "evoluting" rapidly into a very grand lady.

"I'm sorry your wife didn't come with us," said young Jaynes, as we stopped before the market, a combination "grocery and butchery in one." as Jaynes laughingly called it, "a woman's sense of proportion is keener about these things than a man's. Usually when mother's home she orders for the boat parties. Mother." he added, "is an old-fashloned mother. She knows how to cook and the she doesn't do much of it, she can house-keep wonderfully."

I suspected from the general attitude at the hotel toward Hugh Jaynes that he was decidedly well to do and his description of his mother in circumstances that would have made Mary irretrievably snobbish pleased me.

The clerks were all frankly interested and twinkling. We worked pretty hard loading up the rear of the car, and after the cargo was safely disposed of I had to sit in the back and steady innumerable boxes of provisions while he drove.

Advice to Girls

I have noticed that you do not give information of this sort, but I am in hopes that you can help me out in this matter, as my girl chum and myself are planning a little gathering and are at a loss what we shall do to entertain our friends outside of singing, dancing and playing the plano.

M. B.

Well, well, M. B., you're a relief, a shining, sparkling, glittering relief. I don't know a thing about games, but I do know something about a girl who wants to do something besides tango once in a while.

Singing, dancing and playing the plano are all fine ways of spending an evening, and hark, how about some old-fashioned charades? They've been out for a long time, and they're just about due to come in again.

Divide your company into two sides; make one do the acting and the other the guessing. Have a lot of queer old clothes handy for them to wear, think up some good words to be acted and go ahead. Everybody likes to "dress up," everybody likes to "act."

Keep It Closed

The attempt to reopen the New however restricted, is one that should be frowned down by public opinion and quickly terminated by congressional action. Today's experiment in New York illustrates the anxiety of the Wall street operators and high American Monte Carlo. We earnestly hope that President Wilson will deal with the stock exchange evil when congress reassembles on the first Monday in December, and that drastic legislation may follow immediately.

For nearly four months the people of the United States and Canada have found it possible to live and do business without Wall street and its endless chain of banks, brokers, offices

In the current number of The Saturday Evening Post a financial writer urges the immediate opening of the stock exchange because there is a lot of money in the country and the average citizen is ready to invest. He wants to get the plain citizen into Wall street as soon as possible, and speaks in glowing terms of the big boom coming in the United States But in aurant or substantial prosperity in the United States until business is put on a sound economic basis, until railway capitalization is cut in two and the roads themselves are reorganized and consolidated. Such a reform in the United States would be quickly followed in Canada, and in both countries we hope to see the law so amended that no bank can assist n stock jobbing or have any connection with stock exchanges not under government control. The blight of Wall street is due not only to the actual gambling and loss but to the burdens laid upon the people by stock watering and other devices, and to the dissipation of wealth, energy and credit that should be conserved for constructive work, for the creation of new capital and for the constant employment of labor. As to ers an open letter recently issued Samuel F. Untermyer of perience, assisted the house committee on banking and currency in exposing the money trust. People who imagine that they are getting anything like a square deal when they gamble on the New York Stock Exchange are frankly told by Mr. Untermyer that the game is played with

That the machinery of the exchange has in the past been used on a vast scale to despoil the public thru the manipulation of its quotations, "wash" sales, matched orders and other devices and that the bulk of its transac-tions have been the worst form of gambling are facts established by official reports of the Pujo committee and the Hughes comm. It is cally because men are often so blinded by self-interest that they will not see that the exchange falls to realize the right of the government to a voice in matters of such vital moment to the entire community. The present crisis is the most complete vindication conceivable of the demand for government supervision such as government supervision such as exists and is now being exercised in every other country, including Great Britain, which was the last country except ours to nold out against it.

The greater crime in all this thing fact that the savings of the people in the banks of the United States and Canada have for many years been the instrument by which this havor was wrought. These de-posits should never be allowed to be loaned to brokers or for stock pro-

Men and More Men

Men, and more men, is the motto of he authorities in England charged ng the army at adequate strength, and increasing it to the point of ability to cope with the huge task of inading Germany and securing acceptble terms of peace. It must not be forgotten that Ger-

All this has to be regained, and the best military authorities regard it as a stiff piece of work, which will entail severe fighting and the expenditure of nuch blood and treasure. Argos v. Tigers Today at Stadium; Kick-Off 2.15 EATON

BOTH TEAMS READY FOR CRUCIAL RUGBY STRUGGLE THIS AFTERNOON

Even Money Will Rule When Argonauts and Tigers Meet to Play Off the Tie for Big Four Championship.

Argos and Tigers are both ready for their crucial struggie this afternoon at the Stadium.

Argonauts' work yesterday consisted of light running and at the finish the coaches smiled broadly. Knight is at top form. Burkast finished O.K., and not only will be atart, but he is likely to finish the game. Two of the backs, however, are out of it. Holmes and Gonter will not be in uniform. E. Smith O'Connor and Bickle will start on the defence, with Ldwson in prime form to lump in at any moment. Cap. Murphy, if needed, will go back, with Duke taking his place at flying wing. Quarterback Mills is always on the job. The scrimmage and the rest of the wings are the stalwart regulars. Other spares who will be on the side lines are G. Murray, Lepper, Simpson, Smith, Lebraico, McDonald and Duff.

Eleven thousand is the estimated attendance, including 3000 from Hamilton. The gates at Varsity will open at 1 o'clock. All the reserved seats are sold, and three sections in the centre of the bleachers. The rest of the bleachers with standing, room will be sold at 50c, and the big stadium can hold 13,000.

Argonauts' wing line is doubly strong to enter the battle today. Frank Knight was hardly in the top form at Hamilton but is right now, and he can be counted on to bothese Mallett. Burkart will start with a steel brace over his weak shoulder. This means all the regulars on the job.

Tigers had to have something to start an alibi on and picked on Eddle Phillips' choice, of an impire as the grounds 'or complaint. Roberts will work with the Big Four presiden, despite the Hamilton kick, and the Tigers will never say a word when it comes time to lineup on the right. Close to two thousand Hamilton 'ans will, come down for the great game and vellow 'mums' will be in demand.

St. Michaels and Tiger II will play for the intermediate Dominion honors at Varsity Stadium on Tuesday.

Betting around town is at even money, the reports, from Hamilton say that they are looking for odds, with the Tigers line up, althe there is a slight shape.

Varsity Not So Strong

The field at Yarsity Stadium is in excellent condition for the Tiger-Argo game tomorrow, and the weatherman promises ideal foptball weather. A strong student body will be in attendance to size up the relative merits of both teams, for it is generally conceded that either Tigers or Argos will meat Varsity in the finals. Hamilton, however, are apt to do the unexpected, and spring such a curprise as the Alerts did a few years ago. Bo.h the Tigers and Argos have a strong following among the students, but a victory for Argos would be the most popular.

bo he are not very for Argos would be the most popular.

The students as a whole are not very optimistic about the final game here a week from tomorrow. It seems to be the feeling that Varsity is not as strong as in former years, while Argos and Tigers have greatly improved their teams by an infilitration of college and American players. One down town paper claims that Varsity, once the home of trick and fast one playing, has retrogaded into a bude and kick organization. But this organization was clever enough to win from McGill, whose long suit is open playing and trick formations. The predictions of the daily paper cannot keep Varsity from winning the championship, and just one week from tomorrow these same journals will in all likelihood be filled with "Varsity Canadian Champions."

All the team were out with the exception of Lindsay Adelsard and Cassells Lindsay has sprained a tendon in his leg and the coaches consider it will be more beneficial to the team if he rest up for a few days. Cassells fractured a small bone in his arm in the McGill game, and is carrying it around in a plaster cast, but it is promised that he will be on deck for the big game. Adelard has developed water on the knee, but the danger is no, serious. There is nothing to be discouraged about and Varsity supporters have every reason to hope for the Canadian Championship.

The value of minerals produced in Canada this year will be considerably less than last year, because of the scarcity of capital for mining development and also the low prices for silver and other minerals.

Bonds of strong goodfellowship were cemented at Dunning's last evening on the occasion of the annual banquet of the Transportation Club of Toronto, and the organization received an impetus which will ensure a year of unusual prosperity. OTTAWA, Nov. 27.—The proposed trade of Benedict or Leseuer of Ottawa for Art Ross, has been turned down by Sammy Lichtenhein, who values his players anywhere from two to three hundred per cent, above other players in the N.H.A.

MUST BE TRUTHFUL How an Error in Print Might De-stroy Public Faith in a Sale.

"One small typographical error nearly wrecked faith in this quittance sale of ours at its beginning," said the manager of the Semi-ready Store.

"We decided to clear out all our underwear at cost—and we had many thousand dollars' worth in the store and warehouse. We took our Wolsey underwear and cut it to actual cost, sterling, without duty added in some cases, but through some unexplainable cause the price was quoted as $1.45 'the suit' instead of $1.45 the garment. We had enquiries from all over Canada, many from merchants who knew this to be half the cost, and had it not been for our long record of plain price telling the damage to this sale had been irreparable.

"For to be convincing one must be meticulously eareful in stating every fact. And that we have tried to be. Our label in the pocket just compels us to be. We cannot say a $15 suit is worth $30 even if you walk upstairs for it, for the lubel tells the exact value."

SCOTIA EXECUTIVE William Lloyd and James Sylvester of 67 Hayter street were arrested yesterday by Detectives Twigg and Montgomery on a charge of shopbreaking. Just before last exhibition time a store at 353 Yonge street was broken into and several suits of clothes stolen. For this offence three men, Meyers, Kosloff and Goldberg, were all sentenced, but the most of the stolen property was not secured. Yesterday the tailor was walking down the street when he spied Lloyd wearing one of the suits which were stolen, and he gave the information to the police. Banking System.

There should not be enormous profits in banking. (Hear, hear.) The banks should not be entitled to those large reserves which they have built up out of their profits. They ought to be used to reduce the rate of interest or paid in to the government. (Applause.)

"The banks now sell credit and they put it, in their ledgers as a deposit but they have an objection to the nation is a whole using that credit. The thing which backs up the paper money is not gold, but the natural resources of the country Gold, will never be sufficient to back the bank notes in issue. (Hear, hear).

Room For Small Banks.

"I believe there is room in this country for a number of smaller local banks, as well as the larger ones, as there are in the States. The savings of the people ought to go into the business of the people and into the supply of funds for building purposes.

The best note we have today is the Dominion note; there is nothing wrong with the national note. The government of the country stands behind every note: I would not allow the banks to use their notes at all, but national notes and these only. (Hear, hear).

"The time has come to create a mational bank of Canada, to let our larger banks become shareholders in it and to issue a national currency to the people of the country. We want men in charge of the country. We want men in charge of the banks who seek to give service instead of amassing profits. The bank ought to be an ordinary everyday business and should be run for the everyday business man, who should be able to get a loan on a reasonable security. (Applease).

IN for YEARS

"Gains 22 Pounds in 23 Days"

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in

"Sargol has put just 10 pounds on me in 14 days," states W. D. Roberts. "It has made me sleep well, enjoy what I ate, and enabled me to work with interest and pleasure."

"I weighed 132 pounds when I commenced taking Sargol. After taking 20 days I weighed 144 pounds. Sargol is the most wonderful preparation for flesh building I have ever seen," declares D. Martin, and J. Meier adds: "For the past twenty years I have taken medicine every day for indigestion and got thinner every year. I took Sargol for 40 days and feel better than I have felt in 20 years. My weight has increased from 150 to 170 pounds."

When hundreds of men and women-and there are hundreds, with more coming every day—living in every nook and corner of this broad land voluntarily testify to weight increases ranging all the way from 10 to 35 pounds given them by Sargol, you must admit, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Thin Reader, that there must be something in this Sargol method of flesh-building after all.

Hadn't you better look into it, just as thousands of others have done? Many thin folks say: "I'd give most anything to put on a little extra weight," but when someone suggests a way they exclaim, "Not a chance. Nothing will make me plump. I'm built to stay thin." Until you have tried Sargol, you do not and cannot know that this is Sargol has put pounds of healthy "stay there" flesh on hundreds who doubted, and in spite of their doubts. You don't have to believe in Sargol to grow plump from its use. You just take it and watch weight pile up, hollows vanish and your figure round out to pleasing normal proportions. You weigh yourself when you begin and again when you finish and you let the scales tell the story.

Sargol is absolutely harmless. It is a tiny concentrated tablet. You take one with every meal. It mixes with the tablet. You take one with every meal. It mixes with the food you eat for the purpose of separating all of its flesh-producing ingredients. It prepares these fat-making elements in an easily-assimilated form, which the blood can readily absorb and carry all over your body. Plump, well-developed persons don't need Sargol to produce this result. Their assimilative machinery performs its functions without aid. But thin folks' assimilative organs do not. This fatty portion of their food now goes to waste through their bodies like unburned coal through an open grate. A few bodies like unburned coal through an open grate. A few gol in your case will surely prove whether or not this is true of you. Isn't it worth trying? If you want a beautiful and well-rounded figure of symmetrical proportions, if you want to gain some solid pounds of healthy, stay-there flesh, if you want to increase wour weight to normal, weigh what you should weigh, go straight to your druggist today and get a package of Sargol and use it as directed. Sargol will either increase your weight or it won't, and the only way to know is to try it. A single package of Sargol easily enables you to make this test. Sixty days' use of Sargol, according to directions, is absolutely guaranteed to increase your weight to a satisfactory degree or your druggist will refund all the money you have paid him for it. Several'Men innocent.

"We may lose several men who are entirely innocent," said a colonel to The World. "Then again if we let one man slip thru the net he might give away a position and cause a severe loss. It is rather hard on some of these fellows, but the rule must be strict,"

The invasion of the Canadian camp for suspects (who were not suspected), was the result of a widespread agitation in Great Britain. The public and press have been clamoring for the apprehension of all allens or people suspected of being German sympathizers. Every camp in England has been searched similar to the Canadian camp. A story is told of a soldier named Hill, who was fined a considerable sum for not registering as a naturalized British subject. Hill fought in South Africa and as a matter of fact, swore he did not know that there was any German blood in his veins. His family had come to England before he was born, and he was ignorant of the fact that he had to register until he was arrested and fined.

"I feel awfully sorry for that fellow," said a captain to The World, when speaking to one of the men he had lost, as a result of the order to "clean up" all soldiers with German names. "He was a good soldier. He worked hard a Valcartier and here. Why, do you know what he was doing the other evening? Well, it was the day before the King's visit and I could see him standing in the moonlight, in front of his tent practicing his "present arms" so that he would be able to do it correctly when the King viewed the troops."

The officer said that the day he was placed under guard he pleaded for a chance to go to the front with the troops and actually broke down and weet, but this was of no avail.

It may be that some of these men may be allowed to join the colors again. They Ontario Liberals are not yet satislied that there will be no federal election early in the year. They were afraid that it would have taken place this month. Now they are inclined to believe that the government may yet be meditating a general call early in 1915. This was hinted in the address of Hon, Geo. P. Graham at the annual meeting of the Ontario Reform Association yesterday. The speaker was bold in stating that it would be very unpatriotic and preferred a truce as in the old country. If an election comes however they would not be unprepared. He had seen Sir Wilfrid Laurier two days ago and found him never more fit for a political contest.

Pleased With Themselves, There was a marked spirit of self-satisfaction in the meeting. Retiring President Hon. W. L. M. How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try earing a little Sargol with their fneals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every most root to be the first and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will feel their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first four-teen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

tion. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of i self make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fate, sugars and starches of what you have saten, into rich, ripe fat-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—pranage it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it outsky and makes the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. be called after the war is over, according to a statement by Mr. Rowell. He pointed out that it had been decided to call a convention this year before the general elections, but the early dissolution of the house had made this impossible. The Liberal leader and his colleagues had now decided to hold the meeting when the war was ended. Mr. Rowell said that during the war he had avoided controversial political issues, but as this was the first opportunity he had had since the general elections of meeting the officers of the Liberal associations, he felt he should make some reference to the election and its result. The contest had brought no solution to many problems which were clamoring for attention, among them tax reform, education, agriculture and rural depopulation, unemployment, women's votes, and other issues.

riendship with the United States by granting mutually wider markets, and calculated to give a sense of security and pride if a Canadian navy had been organized. The war situation, he hoped, would go far towards wiping out bitterness between the two parties, and uniting Canadian people in bearing the burdens of empire.

On the temperance question, Mr. Rowell said: "I would rather have fought the fight I did and have been returned to the legislature with 25 members than to have fought on the other side and now be the leader of the government with the following they have in the house. I believe that everything that has hapepened since, particularly in connection with the war, has emphasized the importance of the policy we presented and the wisdom and patriotism of the course we pursued."

POLICY OF SILENCE RE GERMAN PROFESSORS lumbia Southern and South Ontario

Undergraduate Newspaper Intends to Be Quiet-Student Body Not Interested.

"A discreet policy of silence will be observed by the undergraduate newspaper," declared one of the editors of The Varsity to The World last night, referring to the controverys regarding the German professors. "We believe that the sentiment which has been stirred up is entirely outside of the university. The student body has no university. The student body has no feelings whatever on the subject. There have been a few letters written for publication in The Varsity, but they have been supressed in order to keep the matter from the attention of the undergraduates."

The entire matter was condemned by The Varsity representative in question, and he gave it as his opinon that there would be a loss of in terest in the mattre until it would be quite forgotten.

MONTREAL, Nov. 27.—The export plies owing to the further weakness and the sharp decline in prices at both American and Canadian centres. The feeling in oats on spot was weaker, and prices declined 3-4c to 1c per bushel in sympathy with the break in prices in the Winnipeg market during the past two days. At this reduction there was a fair demand for car lots, and a larger volume of business was done.
