National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

The Navy League of Canada

It's objects; Education, Relief, and Boys Naval Brigades.

In a word, CANADIANS MUST SAIL THE SEAS.

The object of the Navy League is to accomplish this.
What has the Navy League done?

Growth:

On the 2nd of October, 1917, at a meeting called by The Lt. Governor Sir John Hendrie, the Ontario Division of the Navy League of Canada was born. On the 1st of September, 1918, there were 80 Branches and approximately 25,000 members—to date there are 115 Branches and approximately 55,000 members.

Accomplishment:

Canadians all over the Dominion will remember how in September of last year the Navy League of Canada made an appeal for One Million Dollars for the relief of the dependents of dead and injured seamen of the Merchant Marine who were the victims of the German submarine campaign.

It will be remembered how under the name of "Sailor's Week"—thanks to the thorough-going cooperation of the public with the workers—the campaign was a complete success and the objective was reached and passed.

At that time the appeal was made on behalf of the victims of the War. More than 14,000 seamen made the supreme sacrifice to keep the British flag flying on the high seas and the dependents of these men numbered well up to the 50,000 mark. So heavy was the call upon the reserves of the British seamen's institutions and homes that these organizations had to appeal for help and Canada responded heartily to the appeal.

Through the King George's Fund our appropriation benefitted 53 benevolent institutions.

Help was extended to 1,044 cases through the appropriation to the Overseas Relief Fund. A grant made by the General Committee for relief work aided 53 cases, while a grant made by the Advisory Committee for Relief Work relieved the stress in 420 cases.

70 sailors' orphan schools benefitted by a grant of $45,000.

We find that funds provided and expended for its normal work, the Navy League of Canada gave during the past year as follows:—

Administration:

Almost without exception the important posts in the administration of the Navy League are filled by men and women accustomed to large personal affairs, who are absolutely giving their time and service to its work without any remuneration, and of these who receive salaries, the large proportion are working for reduced compensation.

The Drive:

The Navy League of Canada asks for $500,000 (Ontario's proportion $225,000) and for as much more as Canada's patriotism and devotion will put at its service. This money, for which the Navy League is asking, is needed as money has seldom been needed before, but beyond the money we want YOU — your interest, your enthusiasm, your service, that you may have a part in this great heart work of the Nation.

Nelson Day Campaign:

All monies raised throughout Canada in the Nelson Day Campaign, October 21st, 22nd and 23rd, this year, will be expended in Canada, as money is absolutely necessary for the continuance of the great work of the League.

The Need:

If the citizens of the Empire were asked today to name the most pressing need of the hour would not the answer be ships, Mercantile ships. Farmers, as well as business men, must surely appreciate the distressing fact that we are short of shipping to transport our merchandise and help us in the race to obtain our fair share of the world's markets.

How Can That Be Met?

No fairy can wave a magic wand over the situation and produce these ships. Sentiment alone can do that, and one of the primary duties of this Campaign is to educate and develop that sentiment in such a manner as will produce concrete results.

How Can this be done?

1. By obtaining the pledges of both Federal and Provincial Representatives that they will stand firm in their support for an adequate Merchant Marine.
2. By subscriptions to this Campaign in order that the Navy League of Canada may educate the public, whose conscience needs to be awakened to the fact that unless we do something at once, we can never hope to overtake our great competitor to the South.

Have we a Competitor?

1. In August, 1914, the Empire went to war with the Central Powers, whose Merchant Marine at that moment was on the high seas. What became of them—they ran to the only neutral ports available, namely, those of the United States of America. True, they were promptly interned, but the great thing to remember is that when the United States in April, 1917, entered the lists of the World's War, they obtained, as by the wave of a magic wand, a great portion of the second largest Mercantile Marine in the world, and have no intention of returning the same.
2. The nation to the south of us has had poured into its treasury, wealth the world never dreamed of, and they are great financially.

Are They Competitors?

Any serious minded person, who has had the privilege of being in the States for any length of time, knows that the United States advocate an ever increasing Mercantile ship-building programme. Their ship-yards all over America ring with the sound of the hammer, and their "cradles" are full of ships, which will presently glide down the "ways" and take the water. We know what they are doing, and we cannot blame them, for they see an unparalleled opportunity of gaining the trade of the world.

What Are We Doing?

It is idle to say it is the business of the Government to attend to this, for we are the Government and must see to it, insofar as lies in our power, that no stone is left unturned to bring about a better state of things, and the Navy League of Canada in this Campaign pleads earnestly for money to carry on and maintain the Sailors' Homes and Institutes it has erected, and to provide the boys of Canada with an opportunity of following the calling which, more than any other, has made the Empire great.

Are You Interested?

A subscription to the forthcoming Campaign is practically a payment upon the finest insurance policy in the world. Our late foes, the Central Powers, aimed their deadliest blow at the Merchant Marine of the Empire. The high-ways of the seas are literally the jugular vein of the Empire, destroy that and the Empire will bleed and die of exhaustion, taking her place amongst the powers that have been.

During the War the Mercantile Marine of the Empire carried on in an amazing manner, awakening the admiration of the Allied Powers. Havelock Wilson, President of the Seamen's Union, and Councillor Peter Wright, his able Lieutenant, both stated that not one man left his ship despite all dangers and privations. Yet, notwithstanding their magnificent courage and devotion to duty, the submarines of the enemy took heavy toll of merchant shipping.

The Navy League of Canada now desires to bring to your attention its platform, the three main objects of which are: — Boys' Naval Brigade, Relief, and Education.

BOYS' NAVAL BRIGADE: It is apparent that if you have ships you must have men. A ship may be built in a few months, it requires years to produce a sailor. The Navy League of Canada already has a training ship, the "Pinta," and over 600 boys are already receiving training with a view to their going, either into the Navy or the Mercantile Marine. We hope, by reason of the training the lads receive that they may be led to follow the sea, and the life of the sea which is inculcated through the training.

RELIEF: The Navy League of Canada has already built, and is building, various sailors' homes and is supporting institutes from Halifax to Vancouver. The merchant seaman has a peculiar claim upon our sympathies—he is far away from home. The Navy League of Canada is supporting men and their dependents who lost their lives or received injuries at sea through the great War.

EDUCATION: The aim of the Navy League of Canada is to create a sentiment favorable to the development of a Merchant Marine capable of meeting the full requirements of the Empire; they desire to educate the public to the paramount importance of such a Marine; further, to point out to the public that they must impress upon their Federal and Provincial representatives in Parliament, the importance of the Government leading the way. In a word, the Navy League of Canada, desires to educate the people to the supreme need of Sea Power.

Without an export trade we cannot pay the interest upon our loans, to say nothing of a reduction of our debt. It is imperative that we begin at once in the right direction. The British Authorities, who are buying our wheat, are going to come for it and take it away—we cannot get rid of it otherwise—we have no ships.

We all rejoiced when the Armistice was signed, we are glad our boys are back again, but if we desire, (and surely we do more than anything else) that the result of victory make for the permanency of the Empire, we must see to it that we have ships and men to man them.
