CANADIANS PUSH ON EAST OF ST. LAURENT Outposts Draw Closer to German Line—Troops of Dominion Ply Enemy in Cellars With Cylinders of Deleterious Gas.

By Stewart Lyon. Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Aug. 31.—Watchful waiting has for the moment followed the recent intense activity on this part of the front. The enemy clings most tenaciously to his cellars in Lens, despite the steady pouring of our gas, and the frequent projection of gas. Early yesterday morning drums of gas were thrown into that part of the town in which the cellars are the most numerous. The Germans are mortally afraid of gas in this form, and most of the prisoners taken tell us of serious losses from gas attacks. Despite these losses and the extreme difficulty of bringing food and ammunition into Lens, enemy working parties take advantage of every opportunity to repair their damaged positions.

More than 600 additional Austrian prisoners and five machine guns have been captured in the Bainsizza region. South of this region, on the dominating peak of Monte San Gabriele, more ground has been taken. On the Carso plateau the big Caproni airplanes are aiding in the attack.

ALLIES EXPECT DRIVE FROM SEA UPON RIGA

London, Aug. 31.—Having failed in all their attacks by land to break the Russian front and capture Riga, Russia's principal naval base on the Baltic, the possibility that the Germans are now preparing for an offensive by land and sea is forecast in the manoeuvres of their torpedo boat destroyers, submarines and mine-sweeping trawlers in adjacent waters, and in aerial attacks in the Gulf of Riga. It is believed that the German fleet is being concentrated for a drive from the sea upon Riga. Ninety of their submarines were lost Thursday in the Gulf of Riga, and a series of works, and raids also were carried out against islands in the gulf. What the result will be, it is not stated in the Russian official communication.

Wheat Will Be the Big Barometer of Business Price of Wheat and Flour to Be Stabilized and No More Speculation Allowed.

The best of Canadian and American business is to be timed to the price of wheat, and the price of wheat has been fixed by the American Government's food controller, and the price in Canada will fall into the same trough.

Buying wheat, milling it, selling it, largely baking it into bread is to be a publicly regulated business, like selling postage stamps. Of course until some enterprising mind finds a way to beat the game that John Bull, Uncle Sam and Jack Canada are framing up to squeeze out undue profit, forestalling and the like.

According to Mr. C. B. Watts of the Dominion Millers' Association, the only course left open to the Canadian Government with regard to the fixing of prices on wheat will be to follow the lead of the United States and make Canadian prices conform within reasonable limits to those established there.

Should the Canadian price for Canadian No. 1 northern be fixed at the same figure as the American? Mr. Watts was asked, and he replied, "Certainly not lower, and if anything higher, was his reply. Just how the fixation of prices would affect the Ontario new fall and spring wheat, local grain men were not in a position to say, as there has only been a small amount of the new fall wheat come on the market as yet. According to the price committee of the Toronto Board of Trade, the price is still nominal, but sales have taken place at from $2.16 to $2.20 per bushel.

WHEAT PRICES WERE DEBATED BEFORE HOUSE American and Canadian Authorities Are in Harmony, Says Foster.

UP TO GRAIN BOARD Supervisors May Have Fixed the New Schedule Already.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, was asked by The World tonight if the Dominion Government would fix a price for new wheat to correspond with the price fixed by the United States authorities. The minister said in reply that the subject was one for the board of grain supervisors, and he would not be greatly surprised to learn that they had taken action today, but he had as yet received no official notification. The embargo on the export of wheat, he said, would continue.

BRIGHT BOYS Need Bright Clothes

Not necessarily bright from the standpoint of color, but in effective characteristics of our newest models and patterns. Toronto is full of bright boys and a host of them are clothed at our big store. One lady told us only last week that she could buy cheaper priced boys' clothes than ours but none with the wearing qualities and the looks that ours have, furthermore she said, "I have cleaned and pressed Arthur's suit up a great many times and it still looks nice compared with the other boys I see, who wear cheap makes."

It's A Positive Fact

A good suit is the cheapest in the end, and we tailor real worth into our suits which give them the staying power that is so absolutely essential in Boys' Clothes.

Our New Fall Suits are here, "dandies" too, A1 values at $6.50, better at $7.50, still better from $8.50 to $12.00 and the best money can buy from $13.50 to $18.00. Then too, we keep every size right up to the big, big ones, so bring in your bright boys and let us take care of their clothing needs, both in Suits and Overcoats.

NOTE--We can make an extra Pair of Pants for any suit we have in stock if you need them.

EMPLOYERS DENY MEN'S STATEMENT

Farmers' Dairy Say Trouble is Due to Professional Unionists.

MILKMEN REPLY

State They Will Continue the Fight for Increased Wages.

Commenting on the reports in yesterday's papers regarding trouble between the Farmers' Dairy and the union of drivers, R. D. Hughes, general manager of the dairy, made the following statement:

"While the newspaper reports would indicate trouble and dissatisfaction with our drivers, this is not the case. Our employes are entirely satisfied, and not one man has expressed any intention of going on strike, or of supporting the union. The entire regrettable affair has been caused by the professional unionists who wish us to accept their word as law.

"Some of the statements given to the press were absolutely false. For last week the average wage earned by our men was over $22.00. This is a higher rate of pay than the union asks. As to the hours of work—men who reach the dairy as early as 11.20 or 11.45 at night, do so for their own convenience. Our drivers do not leave the dairy until after midnight, and many of them have left for home by 10 o'clock in the morning.

"Some days ago we received a letter from Mr. Cox, business agent of the union, asking for a meeting with a delegation on the morning of Friday the 31st. Because of this, the trouble Wednesday night caught us unprepared. But we are deeply indebted to our drivers, who stood loyally by us, and resented the interference of the union men who tried to prevent them going to their work. The attitude of our employes is ample proof of their satisfaction with the treatment we have given them.

Drivers Held Meeting.
A meeting of the milk drivers, dairy-men and chauffeurs was held in the Labor Temple yesterday afternoon, following which a press committee, consisting of J. H. Prevost, president of the union; R. A. Cox, business agent; and J. D. Bull, a trustee, made the following statement to a reporter for The World:

"The men at their meeting decided unanimously to carry on the strike against the Farmers' Dairy, and wish to correct some statements made in the announcement of the company. There is trouble between the Farmers' Dairy and their employes. The wage of $22 a week, which in the announcement is said to be a higher rate of pay than the union asks, is three dollars below the minimum wage that we are asking for. Our minimum is $25 a week, or $20 a week and three per cent. on sales. Up to one week ago the schedule of the Farmers' Dairy was $12.50 and two per cent, with a guarantee of $16 a week.

"In addition to this a man was raised one dollar a year. The men do have to reach the dairy before midnight in order to get their routes delivered in time. On Tuesday last the men were granted by the dairy $15 a week and three per cent, the dairy thereby recognizing that the wages previously paid were too low.

"The men, at the meeting, expressed absolute confidence in their committee, and are determined to carry on the strike until the Farmers' Dairy recognize our union. We are willing to meet with the company at any time, if they so desire," said the spokesman of the committee.

SCORE'S "BALACLAVA" SLIP-ON A SMART AUTUMN OUTER GARMENT.

The "Balacava" has style and quality merit in every line in the design and stitch in the making—designed by our own designer from individual measures. Made in splendidly generous proportions from the finest of imported English, Irish and Scotch woolsens, in a rich color and pattern assortment, including greys, slate, blue-grey, heather mixtures, greeny tints, tawny browns, and in the quietest plain colors, including west of England coverlets. A distinctive garment and a seasonable mention of it to a clientele of discriminating dressers. The autumn weight "Balacava" sells for $30. R. Score & Son, tailors and haberdashers, 77 King street west.

The air is still befogged with rumors as to what has really happened in Great Britain in regard to the meat products of Canada. Certainly the British Government buying on behalf of itself and the allies has ceased more or less taking of Canadian meat products, and apparently the great bulk of the trade is going to the United States. A despatch from London states that the Canadian packing companies are still selling their goods to the dealers of Great Britain and that their representatives in England are now in some kind of co-operation to get a statement as to the attitude of Lord Rhondda, the food controller of the British Government, and the allies on the question, and it may be that it will come out that the prices are higher than can be got in the United States and that there is some superior quality of American meats over Canadian; or that there may have been some carelessness as to quality and handling. But it is altogether likely that in a short time the situation will be cleared up and the Canadian trade will be restored to the leading position it has maintained for a long time.

Of course there is a reason why America should in a measure have a preference and that is the one referred to in the house of commons the other day, namely, that inasmuch as the Americans were lending so much money to the allies they would expect the allies to buy all they possibly could in the way of provisions and munitions from those who advanced the money. In other words they were not lending the money so much to the allies as they were providing to sell them goods to the extent of the credits that they gave them.

London, Aug. 31.—(Special Cable to The Star.)—On Wednesday it was reported here that purchases of all kinds of Canadian products for the government had temporarily ceased, and that no further orders were being issued beyond those already out. The greatest reserve is shown by all responsible authorities in discussing the situation. The leading Canadian importing houses are calling a meeting to consider their position in order to endeavor to meet and overcome any difficulties simultaneously. Important official negotiations are proceeding, and the highest authorities express the hope and belief that the stoppage is only temporary. The report that the British food controller (Mr. Rhondda) had given orders that no more Canadian bacon was to be imported, is wrong. Lord Rhondda has nothing to do with purchases of bacon for the government. These are undertaken by the war contracts department. Rhondda, however, after some delay, states he is unable to make any statement, and that he has communicated with the Canadian food controller.

Mr. Shedd of the Shedd, Thompson Company, British agents of the Williams Davies Company informs us: "We are seeking information about the cause of the stoppage of purchases. All we know is we gave our quotation to the war contracts department this month as usual, and received no orders. We understand this is general with other importing houses, therefore we have endeavored to arrange a meeting of the Canadian importers in order to act in common, and make a united representation. There can be no difficulty over the quality of the goods supplied, as it is unquestioned. The cessation of the government buying affects private importation. This still continues freely. We have a number of private orders being executed as usual, and we hope, by concerted action, that friendly co-operation with the British authorities will remove any difficulties hindering the trade."

I gather, as a result of the widespread enquiries, the entire difficulty is with financial authorities here, who are compelled, in distributing orders, to consider the facilities of payment. The United States is providing large financial support for the British Government, and is able, by loans and advances there, to meet the payment for goods supplied.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

THE Italians, having driven the enemy to the outer eastern edge of the Bainsizza Plateau, are turning their arms against Monte San Gabriele at the extreme southern edge of this high level mountain range. The Italian lines about it form an arc of about 130 degrees, enabling them to bring against it a greatly superior gunfire. Before proceeding to destroy the Austrian front to the south, the Italians have to reduce this position. Their next procedure will probably be an advance by the road east of Gorizia, in support of their progress along the coastal route. Fighting in the coastal region has temporarily ceased, while the allied monitors used in bombarding the Austrian communications are re-fitting, re-evaluating and re-fitting.

The news that the allied monitors in the Adriatic Sea are going to begin an attack on the Austrian fleet and naval base at Pola is highly important. It will be more than a mere attack; it will be a grand experiment. Warships and monitors have developed a construction so much since the war began that the allied naval designers, it is said, have created vessels impervious to torpedo and mine attacks. If the assault on Pola succeeds, it is likely to be the forerunner of an assault on a grander scale upon the German high seas fleet. Ever since the war began the project of digging out that fleet has exercised the greatest minds in the British navy and naval construction staff.

The Germans, on their side, since the failure of land attacks against Riga, are evidently designing an attack on the town from the Gulf of Riga. Numerous vessels, destroyers, submarines and mine sweepers are appearing in the Baltic off the entrances to the gulf for a sweep into those closed waters. The enemy evidently believes that the present is the time for action, while the Russian navy remains disorganized by the Maximilian propaganda.

The French report an outburst of heavy fighting at Srka di Legen, west of the Vardar River, in Macedonia, as a result of heavy attacks by the Bulgarians. These partly succeeded at first, but later French counter-attacks practically restored the original situation. The allies are continuing their active raiding policy in order to drive the Bulgarians deeper under ground and to establish a superiority over them. As the Greek army is assembling and drilling under the protection of the allies, preparations have probably proceeded far for a big military effort. The Rumanians, after their gallant defence of the Sereth lines, may require strong support from Salonica, since they are deriving little help from the disorganized Russians. An advance into old Serbia is advisable in order to save the people from extermination. The enemy is deporting Serbian children to Constantinople to be slaves and inmates of harems.

In the pause succeeding the last heavy fighting before Lens, the Canadians are getting ready for further operations against the fortified cellars in the town. They have just shoved forward that portion of their advanced line which stood east of St. Laurent for a considerable distance, until it has established close contact with the German positions. This movement drew a heavy gunfire from the enemy. The siege work is proceeding with bombardments and gas projections.

The disorganization in the ranks of the Russian army from socialist intervention is giving the enemy time to conscript the Polish population under his sway and to compel them to fight the allies under the command of Austria-Hungary. The enemy has raised considerable numbers of Polish troops under one pretext or another. He now sends these to the front, while he sends drill instructors to Poland to train other forced levies. It is uncertain what number of Polish troops will be available, but allied statisticians have reason to believe that the human material procurable in Poland will number at least half a million men. By the application of his ruthless disciplinary methods the enemy believes that he can compel the Poles to fight.

GALT CUSTOMS RETURNS. Galt, Aug. 31.—An increase of $11,039.82 was reported by the collector of customs in returns for the month of August closing today. Total collections for the month amounted to $56,389.74, while for the corresponding month of 1916 they were $44,810.23.

EIGHT WITNESSES REVEAL NOTHING

No Sensational Disclosures in Mystery Surrounding Death of Physician.

RESUMES TONIGHT
Witnesses Show Remarkable Lack of Memory and Rile Crown-Attorney.

Hamilton, Saturday, Sept. 1.—Despite the fact that eight witnesses were called at the adjourned inquest last night into the death of Dr. Douglas G. MacRobbie, nothing of a sensational nature was disclosed, and no further light was thrown on the mystery surrounding the tragic end of the prominent physician. The inquest will be resumed again to-night.

The evidence of Herbert Assestine, who was the first to find the body, and Harry Bell, whom the former first notified, was checked up by Crown Attorney Washington from sworn statements made by them at the first inquest. Assestine proved once again that he had an extraordinarily poor memory, while the latter recounted about the same story as he told when in the witness box the first time.

Some New Evidence.
Most of the evidence was new, but had no connection with the finding of the body. It dealt principally with the movements of the men previous to the finding of the body and the cries that were heard to issue from the Crescent Oil Company on the night of the tragedy.

The other witnesses called were Mrs. Harry Blackwell, 137 West Cannon street; Mrs. Baker, 83 East Barton street, and her 12-year-old son; V. C. Scoble, 247 York street; Ernest Theobald, 267 York street; Benjamin Fowler, 247 West King street, an employee of the Crescent Oil Company; Edward Dorman, Herbert Dorman, of the Royal Oak Hotel, and William Hynes.

Considerable excitement was caused when the second witness was called as a result of the electric lights going out. Police searchlights and candles were used to illuminate the fatal glare of these the inquest was proceeded with.

Scott, Smith and MacAuliffe, who are all well known to the coroner's court, appeared to be suffering from a nervous strain when placed in the prisoner's box to hear the evidence. Smith, especially, looked very ill.

Now Open
THE DANCE TEA ROOM, where afternoon tea and refreshments will be served, will be opened shortly.

"Who went first?" asked the crown. "Assestine," was the reply. "Had Assestine been drinking?" "Yes," said the witness. "What next?" "MacAuliffe and Smith were lying on the floor. The body was slightly in the shadow. I told Assestine that there was a man hurt, and he went over and placing his hand under the head, turned the face to me. I knew then that it was Dr. MacRobbie." "What did Assestine say?" "He stood up and said, 'Look, my hand is all over blood; he must be hurt.'" Head Near Iron Rods.
The witness confirmed previous statements to the effect that the head of the dead man was about an inch from a number of iron rods piled on the floor, but he could not swear as to whether there were one or two pools of blood. While Assestine was ringing Bell up the witness went to his residence to procure some ice. When he returned Dr. Langs was working on the body, having been brought there by Bell.

At this point C. W. Bell, counsel for Smith and Scott, drew attention to the fact that the position of Scott was such that anyone passing him might easily have fallen forward into the room where the body of the doctor was found.

Dorman's evidence also brought out the point that when he first saw the body of the doctor there appeared to be some life left. He stated that both Bell and Hynes had touched the body, besides Assestine.

William Hynes, who walked to the oil company with Dorman, substantiated the former's evidence in every detail. He stated that the body appeared to be lying on its right side, and that Bell and Assestine had touched it also.

Body Turned Over.
"When Bell touched the body what happened?" asked the crown. "It seemed to turn over on its back or else it fell over," replied the witness.

Here Coroner McMichael questioned the witness as to whether there were one or two pools of blood. "I don't know if there were two pools. It might have been only one large one," replied Hynes.

Herbert Dorman, also of the Royal Oak Hotel, said that he knew Dr. MacRobbie by sight and that the four men had been together on the Sunday of the tragedy. They went out together and appeared to be in the best of humor. Dr. MacRobbie had not been drinking, but the other three had, he said.

Assestine Recalled.
Assestine's recollection in the box caused the spectators in the crowded court room to gasp in surprise. He was even more evasive in replying than at the opening inquest and refused to answer several questions which would have made him contradict his previous statements.
"Memory improved any?" said the crown with a smile.
"Assestine only nodded."
"Did you tell Dorman that there were four men upstairs dead drunk?" "Don't know," said Assestine, and the court roared.
"You said the other night that you didn't lay hands on the body. Do you still remember that?" "Don't remember," retorted Assestine.

In a very unsatisfactory manner, and shouted at him: "Do you know what you are talking about? I have had too many witnesses that did not tell the truth. I would be obliged if you would tell me exactly how Smith got down those stairs." The witness then explained that he had helped Smith down, but that the latter had the use of his limbs. No light, however, could be thrown into the mystery of how Smith, who was supposed to be heavily under the influence of liquor, got to his home. The witness stated positively that he had not assisted him, as did also the other witnesses called the first night. The crown attorney was unable to clear up this point, so he questioned Fowler closely, and after the witness had stated that Bell and he drove to Smith's residence to bring him down, the crown asked: "What did Bell tell him on the way back?" "Bell was driving," replied Fowler. "He doesn't drive with his ears," sharply retorted the crown, but could get no answer to his question. Coroner McMichael also asked Fowler if he could explain how Smith got home, but he stated that he could not.

turn from Winona Sunday night?" asked the crown. "No."
"What does the Smith family consist of?" "Mr. and Mrs. Smith, yourself."
"And a girl?" interrupted the witness. "Was Mrs. Smith's door closed when you went in?" asked the crown. "I think it was," said Bell. "Did you see her when you came in?" asked the crown. "No."
"How did Smith get home that night?" was the question. "Don't know."

Cheaper Bread Needed.

In the fixing of the price of wheat by the American authorities at $2.20 the last excuse for delay in regulating the price of bread is taken from the Canadian food controller. One of these excuses was the unsettled price of wheat and flour. Now that wheat has been established, flour will follow to a relative standard. We know and have the administration of the food authorities that 22 cents is an exorbitant price for bread with wheat at $2.40. With wheat at $2.20 the ax must be swung. If it does not cut prices it must cut heads.

Liverpool has always had the reputation of controlling the wheat market of the world. We may judge that the United States authorities did not establish the price of wheat without consultation with the British authorities. The Russian market and other markets must respond to this standard price, and Canada will not be omitted from the list. Wheat at $2.20 in Canada, steady will do more to fix the price in grain fields than an up-and-down market between one dollar and four. Wheat at $2.20 is a gold mine for the farmer.

The world faces famine at present, and the strictest economy has been enjoined on the nation, but this did not take account of the moral effect on the wheat farmer of wheat at $2.20 a bushel. There will be a bigger crop next year than this, and it will all be needed. But the price is right and the crop will be raised.

There is positively no reason why bread should be sold at 22 cents a loaf with wheat at $2.40, and now that the price has been fixed nearly ten per cent lower we should have cheaper bread immediately.

Bourassa and Bourassa!

Henri Bourassa has been announcing his views of President Wilson's note to the Pope's proposals for peace. His criticism is a hostile one and cannot be regarded as in any sense impartial.

He speaks of Mr. Wilson's note as "a haughty and quasi-insolent reply to the Sovereign Pontiff," although as a matter of fact it is remarkable for the studiously courteous terms in which it is couched.

When, then, the motive for attempting to discredit the presidential note before his fellow-citizens of Quebec? There is apparently one motive alone. In discrediting the president Mr. Bourassa discredits democracy. His criticisms of the note reveals the true reason for the lack of sympathy of those who oppose the war and the measures to carry on the war in Quebec. It is a clue also to the indifference to the interests of republican and democratic France, which those who cherish the white flag and the golden lilies have exhibited since the war began. Their sympathies are with autocracy and not with democracy, and hence the spokesman of democracy, uttering the sentiments of the democratic world in alliance, finds no favor with Mr. Bourassa.

He alleges that the aims of the Pope and of the president are identical, and that the latter has therefore no reason to reject the Vatican proposals. This betrays very shallow, if not light-headed thinking on Mr. Bourassa's part. The aims may be the same, but the important thing is the attainment of these aims. If the means proposed to attain them are worthless it is idle to adopt them. Mr. Bourassa would accept the Kaiser's reportedly dishonored word and relinquish all that the allies have gained in three years of incredible labor and incalculable treasure. His faith in autocracy after these years of the abomination of desolation appears to be unshaken, and he upbraids the spokesman of democracy for not trusting once more the unshakable Kaiser Wilhelm of Prussia.

Lord Robert Cecil's endorsement of President Wilson's "open door" note is sufficient indication that it expresses the views of the allied nations opposed to the Hohenzollern forces. It is only devotion to the principle of autocracy and its chosen representative to stigmatize the president's communication as consisting of a "veil of lies," equivocation and hypocrisy. We come very near in this to the Prussian point of view. The same spirit and the same alienation from democratic ideals are manifest. May there not in all this be a clue to the blindness that appears to have fallen on a large part of Quebec, separating the people of that province from their fellow Canadians, and detaching them from the glorious cause in which their cousins in France have won immortal honor?

If the people of Quebec, and the people of Germany also, will lend the words of President Wilson, they will see that it is to the people of Germany and not to any arbitrary ruler that the appeal of the allies is made. When they are ready to accept responsible government and to ask no more for themselves than any other asks for himself on the same terms, then the Great Peace of all the people may be concluded.

But it would be madness to accept the word of a man who plotted for forty years to have war, who defied every code of truth and honor to give himself the advantage of deceit, and whose retinue is now speculating on how best to bring on another and victorious war, in which to beat down the nations of the world into slavery to German force. With such opponents there can be no peace, even if war to the death be the only alternative. But the German people may choose a wiser way, which is not the special right of privilege, but the way of equal rights and common interests. It would be strange if the German nation should finally grasp the democratic idea and Quebec fail to see it.

Japan's Mission to the West.

There is much to consider about the visit of the Japanese mission to Washington. For several years before the war definite efforts were made to set the two nations by the ears. Since the revelation of the Zimmermann negotiations to get Mexico and Japan to attack the United States, it does not require a son to recognize the origin of the former rumors and suspicions. There is not the slightest reason to suspect Japan of acting in bad faith. As an ally of Great Britain for a prolonged period, she has been found faithful and helpful. In the war with Russia she showed unexpected strength, but since the beginning of the present war it has been revealed that she gained through the treachery of the Russian leaders, just as the Germans did before the revolution. The Japanese factories have contributed tremendously to Russia's strength in the present struggle, and but for the ignorant folly of the Russian peasant soldiers, the war would have been over this year.

There is no reason to suppose that Japan has any aims incompatible with the interests of the other powers anywhere. It will always be a part of the white democracies that they refuse to extend equal treatment to the races of another color, but the problems of miscegenation of cheap labor, and of social competition generally afford a valid ground for much of the opposition. After the war these questions must be dealt with and settled, and it is evidently the desire of Japan, as it is of China, to settle them on the most amicable basis. It would be a terrible calamity if Europe and America were so blind as to raise a hostile issue between them and the great Asiatic nations comprising more than half the human race. This was Germany's reckless and unscrupulous policy, and the white nations should be most guarded and careful not to do anything to give ground for reasonable offence. We may feel assured that offence will never be offered by the Asiatic powers.

Hard-Headed Men.

Editor World: The only way I could express my opinion of Premier Borden and his ways of conducting the business of governing a people during a war would be to express it personally. You would never print it. And I can safely say I speak for the majority of the working class. He is all for winning the war as long as someone else does the winning and also the paying. That is the common people of working class.

When these combines, such as that of which Flaville is the head, and the cold storage plants are shown up as they have been as to their methods of robbing the people, and nothing is done, it is a poor lookout for the ordinary individual.

If we had hard-headed men, as they have in the United States, at the head of the different affairs of this country, there would be some encouragement for the working man to still do his bit and do it willingly.

The War Needs of Canada

THE NEED FOR CONSCRIPTION OF MEN FOR PRODUCTION

By Benjamin Appothorp Gould

It is probably premature to discuss at any length the need under the above caption for the reasons that it is practicable to enforce such conscription of men only in a country which is very thoroughly organized for war purposes. Canada will have to advance a long way towards such organization before such conscription can be accomplished except in a few special cases, although the need for preparing for such conscription and the possible ultimate need of enforcing it may be indicated.

In those nations which are living under the constant shadow of the war, like France, England and Germany, in those countries in a few special cases, although the need for preparing for such conscription and the possible ultimate need of enforcing it may be indicated.

There may, however, be almost immediately what may be termed a moral conscription for such purposes, and this may prove of considerable value in increasing necessary production. Such moral conscription can only be accomplished by continuously bringing before the people in concrete form the immediate needs of the country. It is a matter to be attempted by a government publicity bureau, which shall be assisted in this by the general press, by commissions or patriotic committees working under government direction. There is in Canada a vast amount of patriotic "which needs only a correct direction to accomplish a great deal. There are tens of thousands of men and women who are doing little or nothing for the war because they do not know what they ought to do. If it were possible to organize in each community a system, under a co-ordinated direction, to complete and effect what the men and women ready to serve into the different classes in which they could be useful and to give each of them special work to be done according to their different abilities and the different amounts of time which they could give to it, the total results would be very considerable. We have seen the value of public appeal in the assistance which has already been rendered in harvesting the various crops, and we can see the effect of such a conscription which is only a small fraction of what could have been accomplished had there been an organization more complete and effective than that which has hitherto been established.

In a country completely organized for war, every human unit would be catalogued in its particular place of greatest usefulness. As stated before, we cannot in Canada approach anything of this kind, but we can do so further and enforce an actual conscription of men for those essential industries which are at present undervalued. There would, for instance, be nothing in the principle of compelling a skilled workman to serve in time of war in the government shipyards from compelling him to serve in the army. The general principle of conscription is recognized in those countries which will not allow strikes on government work or on government transportation during the war. It may be said that the tendency of this organization as has been indicated would be toward a Prussianism as well as the Prussianism in Europe which we are fighting. The answer to this is that fire cannot be fought except by fire, and that it is far better to be toward a Prussianism as well as the Prussianism in Europe which we are fighting. The answer to this is that fire cannot be fought except by fire, and that it is far better to be toward a Prussianism as well as the Prussianism in Europe which we are fighting.

In the meantime, it is absolutely necessary that those industries which are essential to the production of war requirements of the government should have the men needed to operate them. Hitherto the method adopted to accomplish this has been to buy the required labor away from other industries by offering excessive wages in particularly urgent instances. It is evident that this method is unscientific and may at any time break down. It is therefore quite within the bounds of possibility that the government may at any time for the salvation of the country be compelled to enforce a conscription of the services of certain classes of skilled operators, and the public mind should be educated to an appreciation of the fact that such conscription is one of the rights of a democratic state in time of war. It ought not to be within the power of any class of workmen to hold up needed war material either in time or for exorbitant pay. The profiteering of the workman, the less individually, as a whole may be as great as the profiteering of the contractor, and neither should be permitted by a government which has the power to prevent them.

SERBIAN CHILDREN SENT TO TURKEY

Bulgarians Perpetrate Great Atrocities on Subject Population.

WOMEN JOIN REVOLT

Enemy Plans to Exterminate Entire Population of Little Country.

Paris, Aug. 31.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—There has come into the possession of the Serbian authorities recently a letter, written by a Serbian patriot who barely escaped hanging by the Bulgarians. He describes in some detail the insurrections in Serbia, and the cruel and unscrupulous manner in which the Serbian revolutionists were treated by the Bulgarians. The letter frankly advises all Serbs to kill themselves rather than submit to capture; it tells of the forcible deportation of thousands of children to Constantinople; of the frightful tortures inflicted upon prisoners before they are executed by the Bulgarians, such as hanging by the tongue of gibbets erected everywhere to dispose of Serbian prisoners of war, especially of insurrectionists.

The names of both sender and recipient have been suppressed for obvious reasons, but both are on file with the original of the letter, which runs as follows:

"Here I am in a mountain, which is actually, my sad residence. I escaped on April 15 from the Bulgarian prison where I was incarcerated with twenty comrades after having been surrounded and captured in the result of the revolt. There had been 20,000 of us insurgents; we had more or less fought with a German division that defeated us and drove us to flight. There we had been attacked by two Bulgarian divisions armed with cannon and machine guns. I was taken, put in prison and condemned to be hanged, but, during the night, my friend—arrived with a band in Prokuplie, killed the ser-gents and rescued me. In consequence I was able to reach the mountains. There are more than 5000 of us insurgents. Nearly all of the Bulgarians are killed and disarmed.

Impress Serbians.

"The Bulgarians had summoned all the great mass of the population of the ages of 15 and 65 in order to incorporate them in the army and send them immediately to the front. All the young people between 15 and 18 had sent them to Constantinople. It was this youthful population that the Bulgarians gathered all together and had sent them to Constantinople. The unfortunate mothers, exasperated by the cries of their children as they were carried off, threw stones at the Bulgarians and women and children. Finally the people, exhausted and revolting, threw themselves upon the Bulgarians and killed them. We were then divided into three groups: the first to fight, the second to carry arms and ammunition, first to Prokuplie, then to Leskovatz, Lebane, Vranje, Vlasovintze, Zvetevitch, Zvetevitch, Poljarevitch and the villages.

"It was agreed that the insurgents of Zvetevitch and its suburbs should march on Nish, that the rest of us, from Prokuplie, Leskovatz and Vranje, should do the same and, reunited, should take possession of the city. Unfortunately those from Zvetevitch were late—we got ahead of them and had, alone, to withstand an attack from a German division. We beat them and took away two batteries and 800 soldiers. The battle took place near Gloradz. From there we carried Leskovatz and Prokuplie, of which we made ourselves masters. Then we attacked Nish, carrying the depot and half of our city.

"Meanwhile two Bulgarian divisions arrived, and a bloody battle developed; we should have been able to defeat the Bulgarians if they had not used a cowardly strategy to prevent us from attacking them; they forced the women to carry the wounded in front of their ranks. Unable to fire upon our own people, we withdrew as far as Korvingrad, where a Bulgarian who had fled from the Hugarians attacked us from behind. We made an opening and took refuge on the mountains. Since I was dead from fatigue, I was taken prisoner, and with a dozen other insurgents was condemned to be hanged. Wait—when the gibbet was prepared, we were incarcerated in the prison of Prokuplie, but one of our hands killed the sergeant and rescued us.

"So here I am in the mountain of... It may be that when you read these lines I shall no longer be among the living. But the insurrection cannot be snuffed out so easily for the Bulgarians are proceeding systematically to exterminate our nation. On the 15th of April they placed aboard trains of Eolozura 8000 children between the ages of 12 and 15, bound for Constantinople. Many of the children were killed in the cars along the way, and found death in that manner.

"The Bulgarians gathered the entire population for the purpose of vaccinating everyone. But, instead of injecting serum against cholera or small-pox, they inoculated them with injections of bacteria. The doctors admitted that to those who had fled to the mountains with their child, they had given the cholera vaccine.

"The Bulgarians have raised snare-bets on the bridges of Leskovatz, Vlasovintze, Vranje, Lebane, Nish, Korvinatz and at other places, and on them have hung the women and children, compelling the others to help them in their terrible tortures.

One of the notable Serbs who was hanged, the writer states, was a certain Jordan, registrar of a municipality, who, he asserts, was hanged by the Bulgarians. The writer says: "I have neither time nor space to describe my misfortune, but I can tell you briefly that it is so sad, so terrible, so worth while coning at all. It will be too late.

FOR RESISTING ALLIES

People of Country Have to Fight Against Liberators.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—(Via London, Aug. 31.)—The foreign office today informed the Associated Press that, notwithstanding the retirement of the Polish council of state, Germany and Austria would proceed to complete the work of organizing the Polish state. The negotiations between the powers of occupation virtually had been completed, and they had assigned to the resident states' council an important role in the new government.

"The general offensive now being carried on by our foes," the foreign office official declared, "also is being carried on by the Polish council at Poland, which therefore is given the opportunity to fight shoulder to shoulder with us against the common enemy. For this purpose, a large number of troops composing the newly organized legions have been placed at the disposal of Austria. A sufficient number of officers and instructors have remained behind, however, to continue the work of organizing the army.

"As soon as the military situation warrants, the Polish troops now at the front will return home.

"It is to be regretted that the council of state has made a pretext of this measure, which was wholly dictated by military necessity. The incident, however, will not interfere with German and Austrian plans for establishing a government that will permit Poland to enter the ranks of independent powers."

Toronto 4 Baltimore 1

DOWNED THE BIRDS IN HANDY FASHION

Leafs Regained Some Ground in the Pennant Hunt, With Win.

The Leafs regained considerable ground in the pennant race by taking the Baltimore Orioles into camp yesterday. Larry's boys downed Dumm's crew four to one, and Providence and Newark were defeated. It still leaves us in second place, but within easy striking distance of the leading Grays.

Timely hitting and excellent fielding behind Leake's pitching sums up yesterday's win. Manager Leake was the big name with the club, and his three naps had considerable to do with the verdict. The Leafs also pulled the double steal for one of their centers.

Hill, the Baltimore pitcher, was hit with regularity and the hits were in the right spot. Leake was in several bad spots, but sharp fielding pulled him out of two or three bad innings.

George Whitman is still on the injured list, but Thompson made a capable substitute in left field and supplied a couple of good snuff pitches to help along the spot work. Baltimore pulled three double plays on the Leafs, and this kept the Larryites from talking some more.

Leake opened poorly, and the Birds put over their only run in the opening round. The first three men got on base and we are thankful that they only counted once. Acosta opened with a two-base hit and it looked bad. Fowster dumped one down in front of the plate and Acosta was run down between second and third. Barber's hit scored Fowster. Carter rolled to first and Larry threw Barber out at the plate.

Two double plays killed our chances early, but we took the lead in the fourth. Two runs were scored over here. Thompson and Leake dropped his into left field and Hill moved them up a peg with a wild pitch. Schultz came thru with a beautiful hit to deep right-center to count both runners.

The Leafs got the other two in the next inning. Hill started trouble for himself by walking Leake. Truesdale held down the sacrifice and Jacobson beat out an infield hit. Thompson fanned, but Larry's cleat talked one. Larry and Jacobson started the double-steal and Jacobson scored when Shannon hit him with the return. Larry came in too, but the movie allowed him only one base. This made our total four.

CHAMPION LEONARD WILL ARRIVE TODAY

Lightweight Title-Holder, Who Boxes at Stadium Monday, Will Attend Ball Game.

All arrangements have been perfected for the big patriotic open-air boxing show which will be held under S. F. A. auspices on Monday afternoon at the Island Stadium. Champion Benny Leonard will arrive this morning and will be a guest of the Toronto ball club at this afternoon's game, when he will be introduced to the fans by Umpire Carpenter. Local fight lovers will see a clean, compactly built man, who looks anything but a champion boxer, but more like a bank clerk. Benny has been in many tight battles, but he sports few of the ear-marks of the trade. Three preliminary fights will precede the main contest, and the first bout will be called at 3.15 on Monday afternoon. Wounded soldiers will be admitted free. Major Lou Marsh has been agreed upon as referee. Leonard and Young, Rector, of New York, will box six rounds at 133 lbs. in the chief bout.

The war tax of 25 cents a head, payable at the boxing show at the Island Stadium on Labor Day afternoon, has been remitted by the provincial treasurer, Hon. Thomas McGarry, the proceeds of the entertainment, promoted by the Sportsman's Patriotic Association being devoted to patriotic purposes. One of the chief needs of the association now is the provision of a fund for the annual Christmas tree for the wives and dependents of overseas men.

SUPPLY OF COAL WAS IN DANGER

Washington Authorities Had Shut Down on Shipments for This Country.

EMBARGO LIFTED

Fuel Controller Magrath and Assistants Get Busy at U. S. Capital.

While a number of citizens were meeting in Parliament on Thursday night making reflections on the efficiency of the Canadian fuel controller, C. A. Magrath, and asking that the retail price of coal be fixed, the official, with the assistance of H. P. McCue and H. C. Harris, was down in Washington using every energy to lift an embargo that had prevented Canada receiving a ton of anthracite coal from Aug. 29.

On that date the United States authorities had placed an embargo against the shipment of hard coal to Canada, and it was only thru the able work of the above-named officials and the information they were able to place before the American authorities that the embargo was removed at 10.40 yesterday morning.

This is the information that was given to a reporter for The World yesterday by H. A. Harrington, traffic manager of the Retail Merchants' Association.

"The action taken by last night's meeting," said Mr. Harrington, "is going to hinder, rather than help, the coal situation. Had those men known the actual conditions they would never have made the statements they did. He then told of the embargo that had been placed and removed by the quiet work of Mr. Magrath without the public becoming alarmed over a condition that threatened them with a fuel famine in the course of a few months.

A Delicate Situation. "Mr. Magrath and his assistants are certainly to be congratulated and given great credit for the way they handled a delicate situation," said the secretary of the retail coal dealers.

It is understood that Mr. Magrath received word of the embargo some time before it was actually placed and rushed to Washington to intercede for the Canadian consumer. On arriving there he called Mr. McCue from Pittsburgh and when Mr. Harris went to Ottawa he was also requested to join Mr. Magrath in Washington.

In Washington they were able to make such representation of the needs of Canada and her dependence upon the American coal fields for hard coal that after the embargo, lifted yesterday morning.

This doubtless explains the absence of the fuel controller from the Parliament meeting on Thursday night.

Change In Milk Delivery Sunday

On Sunday, Sept. 2nd, The Farmers' Dairy will commence day delivery of milk. The reason for this will be plain to all our customers who enjoyed its advantages last winter.

They found that delivery was more sure. That the milk reached them in better condition. Day delivery in cold weather overcomes every disadvantage of night delivery.

We found that our salesmen work better in the day time---that they enjoy their work more. We found a noticeable increase in efficiency and esprit de corps in the organization. Our service was improved.

In line with our fixed policy of making The Farmers' Dairy service of as high quality as The Farmers' Dairy Milk, we have instituted the change this year as soon as weather permitted.

You, who are our good friends and customers, will welcome this increased efficiency and courtesy of our service.

You who do not now enjoy the advantages of daylight delivery and The Farmers' Dairy service should commence using our milk today.

The Farmers' Dairy milk costs no more than ordinary milk, though rich, pure and fresh. And you get The Farmers' Dairy service in addition. Order a trial bottle by telephone or post card, or get tickets from our drivers.

Stops Stomach Trouble Or Money Back
INSTANT RELIEF GUARANTEED
Recently a writer on the treatment of stomach troubles, who has obtained practically all stomach trouble is due to acidity decided to put his theory to the test. Every sufferer from stomach trouble was told to take a teaspoonful of pure magnesia neutral in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain was felt. The test completely vindicated his theory; for immediate relief was indicated in nearly every one of the first hundred reports received, showing conclusively that the trouble had been due to stomach acidity, and that wall known, is instantly neutralized by magnesia neutral. Since making this test, the well-known manufacturing chemists, who have specialized in preparing pure magnesia neutral, continue to furnish guarantee contracts of satisfaction or money back, proof positive of their belief that nearly every so-called dyspeptic is really suffering from acidity, and their confidence that genuine magnesia neutral will instantly neutralize stomach acid, stop food fermentation and thus relieve the trouble caused thereby.

YORK COUNTY — AND — SUBURBS

SAY MOTORMAN WAS INCOMPETENT

Verdict at Silverthorn Inquest Returned Early Friday Morning.

After being out one hour and a half the jury, inquiring into the death of the late Charles Silverthorn, reeve of Etobicoke, returned before Coroner Dr. E. Bull, in the Kingston Town Hall, brought in the following verdict at 12.30 Friday morning.

Verdict shows that the car was not properly equipped. J. W. Walker, the motorman, admitted that he was an unlicensed motorman and was employed by the company as a repair man and only in trial cases would he take out a car and then only about the barn. He also admitted that the skidding of the car. He further admitted that he did not operate the air brakes correctly, for they immediately locked the wheels and then skidded. As to the collision the motorman said he first saw the automobile when about four car lengths from the crossing, but thinking the gate was closed proceeded and could not stop in time when the automobile was already coming towards the truck. He said he both blew his whistle and operated the brakes without result. Heard Warning Given. The three railway employees in the car at the time were all agreed that a warning had been given, that a slight brake had been applied to steady the car down the two per cent. grade, and that the emergency brake had been used before the collision. As to the speed of the car the three varied in their opinions. They thought the car was going from 15 to 25 miles an hour. Other witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Garbutt, the parents of the little boy who was killed with the car; Marjory Silverthorn, who was also killed; Frank Faulkner, Engineer and Inspector of the Suburban Railway Company. Some of the witnesses said the car could not be seen from the line on account of the trees which it had to pass. Some had not heard the motorman's whistle sound. J. D. Montgomery, counsel for the Silverthorn family, stated last night to the board that he would bring in proceedings against the railway company for violating the railway law, requiring that every motorman be licensed and passed by the board.

WANT SERVICE ACT ENFORCED AT ONCE North Toronto Ratepayers Urge Need for Immediate Reinforcements. ENTITLED TO BE HEARD District Has Given One in Five of its Total Population.

Residents of North Toronto meeting in the old town hall last night endorsed the action of the Dominion Government in placing the Military Service Bill upon the statute books. The meeting urged the immediate enforcement of the act in order that the men at the front may not lack the needed reinforcements longer than is necessary. A resolution to this effect was carried unanimously, and a copy will be forwarded to Premier Borden. The resolution is as follows: This meeting of the residents of North Toronto, a district which has voluntarily given one in about five of its population to the service of the empire, is pleased to learn that a conscription bill has finally been enacted. Now having legislative sanction, the measure designed to further uphold the integrity of world-wide freedom and liberty, we earnestly request that those at present in control of the Dominion's affairs will see that the measure is enforced without any semblance of delay so that the sacrifices already made for the empire will not be in vain and that our gallant men will receive the support of which they are so much in need.

Splendid Record. Aid. H. H. Ball, who presided, stated that in calling for the immediate enforcement of the bill nothing more was being done than what was warranted by the actions of those who had already left the district. Of the 10,000 residents of North Toronto, only 2,000 are in the military service. The time had come when the duty must be done and the men who had not yet been called upon to go and do their part and carry on the work of the nation already gone. We must have a man in every home in Canada if this act could not be enforced without delay. Conscription was the only fair way to raise an army in war time, said R. L. Baker, the mover of the resolution. The voluntary system permitted a young man who did not realize the importance of the war to be called up, and others, endowed with an excessive love of country, to go when there was more need that conscription of wealth-bearing men than of the welfare of Canada and the empire. Must Wake Up. 'We will win as soon as we wake up and do our whole duty,' said Con- troller Cameron during the course of an eloquent address. 'If we put forth our best efforts, everybody realizing that they have a real part to play, we will shorten the war and save countless thousands of lives. There is no excuse for delay in putting this act in force. If we must have a man in every home, let us have it today rather than tomorrow.' The people of Quebec, he added, were like to see their lot of panacea in the newspaper, but the mere sight of a determined people before them would make them back down.

Union Government. John M. Skelton was of the opinion that the people of this country should be led by a non-partisan government. Politics should be eliminated, and there was only one man who was to lead such a government, and that was Sir Robert Borden. This suggestion did not meet with the approval of one member of the audience, who interrupted with "Oh, come off, with your politics." W. V. Todd was the only member of the audience who opposed the reso-
