"Red" Faber Scores His First Home Run—Snappy Plays in Athletics' Game—Western Nationals Clean Up.

New York, June 7.—From the evidence shown in their toughest assignment so far this season, it appears that the Chicago White Sox have been kidding themselves by remaining in the American League cellar.

Four lighting-fast double plays featured yesterday the Athletics' support of "Slim" Harris.

Walter Johnson was in rare form, and Washington evened the series with Detroit, 6 to 1, and the Senators moved toward leadership of the second division.

The western teams of the National League, all playing at home, made a clean sweep, Brooklyn dropping its second consecutive loss to Philadelphia, 3 to 2, because of the ineffectiveness of Picher Ruetter, who is slated for the contest at Chicago.

Both St. Louis and Cincinnati triumphed, the former being victorious in twelve innings by Philadelphia in the outcome of a disputed play and the latter making it two straight from Boston with the score of 5 to 1.

As Hiram Sees It

"Any news in The Settlement?" asked The Times reporter of Mr. Hiram Hornbeam. "Yes, sir," said Hiram. "The meeting house is all split up."

"Over church union?" queried the reporter. "Wuss'n that," said Hiram. "The preacher has took to wearin' tan shoes in the pulpit. Some folks wont stand fer it. They say the Lord never intended a house of worship fer any sich vanity."

"Suppose he wore a red necktie?" queried the reporter. "They wouldn't hev it," said Hiram. "An' them there tan shoes he got to come off or they'll be another meetin' house. Everybody's readin' the Bible lookin' fer texts to confound the other fellers with. You never seen so much religion breakin' out. The preacher he says it ain't what you wear, but what you think and what you do to your neighbor that counts—an' they could do that barefooted. He says the Lord that made red cows wouldn't mind seein' him wear tan shoes if they didn't hurt his feet. That made some of the women folks mad—fer they thought he was hintin' at them squeezin' their feet. I guess he'll go to—yes, sir—it looks like it to me. —By Hen"

Orders Siki Out Of Restaurant; Gets A Knockout

Battling Senegalese in More Trouble—Two Charges Placed Against Him.

Paris, June 7.—A Paris magistrate has sent to the public prosecutor two cases in which Battling Siki is charged with law breaking. The boxer will be summoned to police court at an early date to answer the charges.

On April 7, a waiter in a Montmartre night cabaret which Siki was patronizing, told the fighter that the promoter desired his departure. The envoy, it is alleged, was met with a knockout blow and the words: "You are nothing here, but I am Siki." The police were called to turn the boxer out.

A month later Siki is said to have fired a revolver, twice in a saloon, explaining later that he used blank cartridges such as animal trainers fire. In this instance he was charged with carrying prohibited arms.

AMENDMENT TO THE CLEO MOTION PASSES HOUSE

Suspension of Prohibition of Manufacture to be Removed—Judges' Salaries Up Today.

Ottawa, June 7.—Today in the House the first order will be the resolution regarding judges' salaries and after that the amendments to the pension act.

Yesterday in the House of Commons Premier King said that he hoped to bring down legislation resulting from the report of the Lake George Club Commission next week.

W. F. Carroll, Liberal member for South Cape Breton, moved for continuation, without a time limit of the freedom to manufacture and sell oleo in Canada. The motion was seconded by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, former minister of agriculture.

Mr. Carroll told the House that two hundred thousand Canadian women had expressed approval of the continuation of the manufacture and sale of oleo. Dr. Tolmie said that the people of Canada had right to determine whether they wanted it or not.

W. F. Kay (Liberal, Missisquoi) moved an amendment that suspension of prohibition be now removed and the question left without prejudice as to its merits, in the same position as before the enactment in 1917 of the temporary suspension. To this amendment, W. C. Good, Progressive, Brand, moved that the amendment be added to the agenda.

"And that the government do before the end of the present session submit to parliament such legislation in the premises as may be deemed advisable." The Good sub-amendment was voted down by 162 to 20, and the Kay amendment carried by 125 to 64.

Street Cars Wrecked and Several Operators Hurt—Strike in Progress for a Month.

Schenectady, N. Y., June 7.—Spontaneous disorder during yesterday, the first since the inception of the strike on the lines of the Schenectady Street Railway Company, nearly a month ago, became rioting and service has been curtailed on all lines, because of violence.

State street and the heart of the business section last night was a battle ground where new employed motorists attempted to drive their electrically propelled vehicles through mobs which hurled stones, bricks or any other form of missile which came to hand. Half a dozen cars were stalled under the railroad bridge, which spans the State Street depression, windows were dented and wrecked within and without. Broken window glasses from cars and stores littered the sidewalks and streets, and an augmented police force constantly is on duty in an attempt to prevent further outbreaks. Several carmen are known to be injured.

The discussion was strictly private and the details of the French plan were kept secret. It is known, nevertheless, that the principal difference between the French and British plans is that the former makes disarmament most categorically subordinate to the guarantee pact.

OFFER TO FURNISH A WARD FOR BOYS

St. John Chapter of Graduate Nurses' Association Ask That One be Established—Women's Hospital Aid Press Need for a Maternity Ward.

Several matters of considerable importance were taken up yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the board of commissioners of the General Public Hospital. M. E. Agar was in the chair. A delegation from the St. John chapter of the Graduate Nurses' Association was present to press the need for a boys' ward and to offer to furnish such a ward should one be established.

The delegation from the Nurses' Association consisted of Miss Ella McGaffigan, Miss E. J. Mitchell and Miss Gregory. Miss Mitchell explained that the chapter realized that every bit of space in the hospital was at present in use, but it asked that, if extension were contemplated the chapter might furnish a ward for boys. The nurses thought a ward of this kind most desirable. They would undertake the furnishing as a memorial to one of their own members, Nursing Sister Anna Stammers.

M. E. Agar, chairman of the Board, said any extension would mean a big building and the expenditure could not be contemplated at the present time. He appreciated the need, however. The Women's Hospital Aid wrote to ask if a committee from the aid could meet a committee from the Board to consider the need for a building for a maternity ward. The feeling of the board was that an expenditure as this would entail could not be considered at the present time but a committee composed of M. E. Agar, Alexander McMillan and Mrs. J. V. McLellan was appointed to meet a committee from the aid.

The superintendent of nurses reported eight graduates and fifty-seven pupil nurses, among whom there had been practically no illness, which was a record. Two nurses, Miss Ruby Dore and Miss Hazel Richardson, having graduated, were recommended to receive their bonus. This was approved.

The lectures had closed for the year and it was recommended that in the fall the course of lectures should include instruction in V. D., mental and nervous diseases and tuberculosis. This recommendation was referred to the training school board.

The visiting staff reported satisfactory work in all departments. The dietician reported 25,088 meals served and an increase of nearly one cent per meal. Mr. Gale said that the special diets requiring out of season foods were largely responsible for the increase.

The matron reported on cleaning and told of 450 new articles of linen having been made and put in use. It was recommended by the matron that fly-screens be provided for the Nurses' Home. This was referred to the chairman and the commissioner for the month with power to act, copper wiring being recommended as most economical.

Much commendation was given in connection with the nurses' graduation exercises.

The Great Canadian Sweetmeat

WILL INVESTIGATE COMPLAINTS

At a meeting of the St. John Milk Dealers' Association last evening, with J. N. Riley presiding, it was alleged that public institutions, private individuals and stores that get their milk from the Purity Ice Cream Company are complaining about its sourness. A special meeting of the Board of Health is being held this afternoon to discuss the matter. A. L. Stern, manager of the Purity plant, made a statement last night to the effect that Mr. Riley did not get his milk pasteurized at the Purity plant and that, therefore, any statements made by him about the plant were absurd. He claimed that the plant was of the most modern type and everything possible was done to clear up the sour milk problem. He added that two specialists, Dr. McLellan of Montreal and Professor Harding of Detroit, were coming to the city to investigate the matter.

GERMAN DAILY NEWSPAPER

CELEBRATES 25TH BIRTHDAY

Jena, May 7.—(By Associated Press.)—(By mail.)—The Jenaische Zeitung, a daily newspaper, has just observed the 25th anniversary of its establishment. On the basis of available records, it was founded thirty-one years before the first American newspaper, which is said to have been the Boston News Letter, established by Bartholomew Green in 1704. The Jenaische Zeitung is still published by the descendants of its founder, Johann Ludwig Neuenhahn. The biggest local story of its history undoubtedly was Napoleon's complete defeat of the Prussians at Jena in 1806.

"I Can Now Do My Work Without Feeling Tired"

Mrs. A. Moffat, Roxton Falls, Que., writes: "I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. Today I feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work without that dreadful tired feeling."

CAN EAT MOST ANYTHING SAYS MR. ANTHONY

New Brunswick Farmer Suffered for Years—Is Now Well and Happy—Praises Drecto Beyond All Medicines.

Mr. W. C. Anthony, a farmer of Ired Head, near St. John, N. B., finds that Drecto has overcome years of suffering and restored to him the health and vigor that was rightfully his. His experience is one of the many that constantly emphasize the wonderful properties of this medicine as a regulator and restorative for all who are victims of internal disorders. Read what Mr. Anthony says: "I suffered terribly with stomach trouble and indigestion, and everything I ate would turn to gas and I had intense pains in my kidneys. I also had liver trouble and biliousness and sometimes I would get so dizzy and sick that I could hardly stand. Now, thanks to Drecto, I am well again and can eat most anything without it causing me to fill up with gas. I am no longer troubled with my kidneys or liver and have gained five pounds in weight. I can recommend Drecto strongly, as it has made a new man of me. Drecto's goodness can hardly be measured." Drecto is Nature's root and herb remedy that readily overcomes even the most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation and other disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It builds health in a natural way, by causing all these organs to function as Nature intended. Drecto is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King Street, in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop, and by a good druggist everywhere.

Quick Help For Run-Down Folks

Yeast With Iron the Newest Scientific Triumph

Pale, thin, underweight folks have a great deal to think science for because of this new combination called Ironized Yeast. Think what a wonderful thing it is to be able to strengthen weak, anemic blood at the same time yeast is re-inforcing the vital forces in the manner already understood and proven in so many thousands of cases. The world always needed a tonic and builder like this—so perfectly balanced that very life-process is assured benefit. You can now not only build yourself up to normal weight, thereby putting plenty of firm, mild flesh on your bones, but you can at the same time put iron into the blood. And this means permanent and stay-there improvement for many who perhaps heretofore may have despaired because of lack of results from just ordinary tonics.

Scientists now agree that brewer's yeast is the richest source of vitamins known. So thousands of pale, ace and underweight people are gaining health and strength through Ironized Yeast, which is a combination of iron and other valuable tonic ingredients, with yeast imported from Bass' Ale Brewery, England, and especially concentrated under the process recommended by Dr. A. Seidel of the Hygienic Laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service. Get Ironized Yeast from your druggist today. It is convenient and pleasant to take, being in handy tablet form. The ten day treatment costs only $1.00. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results or your money will be cheerfully refunded.

People Refuse to Indulge in Illness in "Hard Times"

Doctors, Barristers and Solicitors in England Assert the Professions Are Hit the Hardest.

London, May 20.—(By mail.)—People cannot afford in these hard times to indulge in illness, or litigation, or property-buying, according to The London Daily Express. This is the general complaint among doctors, barristers and solicitors. There never was a year like the present, they say, when expenses were higher and incomes smaller for members of the learned professions. Doctors are seriously feeling the scarcity of patients. "I cannot remember so many years," said a medical man to a Daily Express representative. "There is undoubtedly less sickness this spring than for many years past. The principal influence affecting the medical profession, however, is high taxation and the tightness of money. People think three times nowadays before sending for their doctor, and ordinary small ailments are left to home nursing. Operations must be imperative before they are performed. Specialists are feeling the hard times most of all. When I suggest sending my patients to specialists, they reply that they will wait. The only medical men who have no complaints are the panel doctors." There is much less litigation than formerly. The number of cases down for hearing in the next sittings of the high courts is a thousand less than last year. Eleven county court work has fallen off considerably, said a London solicitor. "Council of great reputations are doing more than well, but the ordinary rank and file man at the bar is generally sitting idle in his chambers for the greater part of each week. "General legal work is falling away sadly. The new income tax assessments have knocked the bottom out of conveyancing. Prospective buyers of property will not face the increased assessments and are waiting."

CANADIAN FARMERS GET 34-YEAR LAND LOANS

Railroad Grants Extension on Payments to Offset Loan After War Years.

London, May 18.—(By Mail.)—Again the Canadian Pacific Company has taken an advanced step towards the colonization and development of western Canada writes the Toronto correspondent of "The London Times." It is announced that the indebtedness of the farmers now having contracts with the company will be taken over and rewritten and the payment spread over thirty-four years. No annual payment of interest and principal is to exceed 7 per cent of the cost of the farm.

Thirty thousand farmers will be affected by the new arrangements. The company explains that during the war high prices for farm produce and bountiful crops induced farmers to incur heavy expenditures for extra equipment and increased land holdings. As the result of the subsequent decrease in the value of produce and increases in wages and the cost of living, with crop failures in some districts, many farmers were left behind in their payments, and this bred a spirit of pessimism, with its attendant evils. For such reasons, and recognizing the necessity for a greater population in the West, the Canadian Pacific decided upon a readjustment of contracts with the farmers and an extension of the time of payment.

BRITISH GIRLS ARE EAGER TO BECOME CLOAK MODELS

Want to Star as Fashion Mantequins and Rival Popularity of Actresses.

London, May 14.—(By Associated Press.)—(By mail.)—A new craze has seized the young women of England. They want to become fashion mantequins and share the niche of popularity with musical comedy favorites. A London newspaper is conducting a mannequin contest in conjunction with England's most fashionable dressmaking establishment, and has drawn applicants from all parts of the British Isles. Those aspiring to become fashion models are required to send in their photographs, physical measurements, description of facial features or details of any special qualifications they may possess. The best London couturiers declare that the mannequin of the future must possess brains as well as mere physical charms. In their opinion mere prettiness of face and grace of figure are no longer enough for the efficient display of their artistic creations, and dress has become so elaborate, they say, and the struggle for originality so acute that the girls on whom these creations are built up must co-operate intelligently in the work and not content themselves merely with being exquisite live figures.

Willard, Dudswell Jct., Que., writes:—"For about three years I had eczema, in a very bad form, on my hands. They were all raw and would crack and bleed so that I could not do my housework. I tried everything I could think of without any result. At last I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and when I had it about all taken I could see it was helping me; by the time I had taken five bottles my hands were as well again and I have not been bothered since. I cannot praise Burdock Blood Bitters enough."

A CYNIC UNMASKED.

(London Chronicle.) In our little circle he was known as a cynic beyond all hope and help.

Quite by accident, and for reasons that are no one's business but my own, I had to go to an east end parish one night to see an old school fellow who is now a vicar.

We dined, if I remember the menu aright, on a cup of tea and some bread and butter on Tuesdays and Thursdays; none of us knew why he gave up cigars and took to a pipe with great suddenness; none of us knew why he abruptly ceased to indulge in a pretty and well-cultivated taste in wine and drank, if he drank at all, the humble and less expensive glass of beer.

A ROAD COLLISION. St. John, N. B. June 6, 1923. Editor Times. Sir.—Concerning an account of a collision between two autos, one owned and driven by John E. Anderson, coal and wood merchant, of 180 Rodney street, and the other by Mr. Spragg, taxi driver, the accident occurred on the Sand Cove road, not on the Musquash. The occupants of the car, Mr. Mills and family and Mrs. Anderson, were thrown from the car. Mrs. Anderson was cut about the head and face, while Mrs. Mills was badly hurt, one wound on the face taking several stitches caused by broken glass from the wind shield. Mr. Mills and children escaped without injury. The injured parties were conveyed home and Drs. Day and Davidson called. Mrs. Mills' condition remains unchanged, while Mrs. Anderson may be around again in a few days. This accident occurred Monday afternoon about 8:30 on the Sand Cove road. The car collided. Mr. Spragg's car was none the worse, while Mr. Anderson's is a wreck. The reports were they were struck by a train, which of course was untrue. WILLIAM MILLS, 178 Rodney street.

WOMAN EXPLORER SENDS HER CARD TO DEAD SULTANS

Stupid Native Takes Traveler in Lahore to Tomb Instead of to Ruler.

London, May 18.—(By mail.)—How she sent visiting cards into dead sultans was one of the many interesting stories related to The Westminster Gazette by Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, the explorer, who has just returned from a six months' tour through Borneo, Java, the Malay States, and the Philippines.

"I was anxious to visit H. H. Sir Ibrahim, the Malay Sultan of Lahore," she explained. "We got hold of a perfectly stupid native chauffeur with a prehistoric tin Lizzie, and he took us to the palace. Imagine our surprise when he pulled up at a cemetery. Moreover, there was a building in the middle of it, and I thought, 'This, then, must be the place. How queer!' "A native attendant came out of a little door, and I asked him to take in my card. I had also heard that the Sultan liked decent-looking women, and so I fumbled for my powder-puff. Then the attendant came back nonplussed. It was, he explained, the Mosque in which all the dead Sultans were buried. That was the first time in my life I had ever left cards on the dead."

More than once Mrs. Cameron woke up in her hut in the night to be confronted with a native—and a knife; and only survived the danger by making free play with her revolver. The natives have phenomenal memories. Mrs. Cameron was once with a beachcomber in Borneo who became annoyed because a native kept staring at him. On asking why the man behaved like that, he was informed, "You killed his father many years ago."

She wondered, after he had gone, what had made her say that. She did not tell the family that night. They were full of their own concerns.

"I'm starting a bank account for the little beggar," he said, and dropped a gold piece into the tin. "Next year, old girl."

He put his arm around Nina. It seemed to him that life was doing considerably better than he deserved by him, and he felt very humble and contrite. He felt in his pocket for the square jeweler's box that lay there.

shut away, not big enough nor woman enough to meet him half way. She saw him fighting his losing battle alone, protecting David but never himself; carrying Lucy to her quiet grave; sitting alone in his office, while the village walked by and stared at the windows; she saw him, gaining harbor after storm, and finding no anchorage there. She turned and went, half blindly, into the empty street. She thought he was at the early service. She did not see him, but she had once again the thing that had seemed lost forever, the warm sense of his thought of her. David was beaten; most tragic defeat of all, beaten by those he had loved and faithfully served. He did not rise on Christmas morning, and Dick, visiting him after an almost untasted breakfast, found him still in his bed, and questioned him anxiously. "I'm all right," he asserted. "I'm tired, Dick, that's all. Tired of fighting. You're young. You can carry it on, and win. But I'll never see it. They're stronger than we are." (To be continued)

FLOOD OF "HARD STUFF" NEARS NEW YORK LINE

Ottawa Dispatches Say Rum Runners Plan Big Movement. Toronto, June 7.—Dispatches from Ottawa declared that cargoes of Canadian beer and whiskey were moving toward the international boundary on their way to New York state, as a result of the repeal of the New York state prohibition enforcement law.

Canadian officials stationed along the border reported that rum runners were actively engaged in plans to flood New York with Dominion "hard stuff." With the coming of summer weather, the liquor smugglers' trade is beginning to boom again. Repeal of the enforcement law has brought new blood and new capital into the business and the dispatch declares it appears that unprecedented quantities of illegal beverages will soon be moving south.

INSURED KANSAS LAW STUDENTS GET $250 BALSAM IF THEY FLUNK

Lawrence, Kan., June 7.—A student "insurance" company has made its appearance on the campus of the University of Kansas, issuing a policy which insures a student from "financial loss and mental anguish caused when a student falls short along the highway of precedent or sinks in the mire of procedure or loses his way in the Labyrinth of pleading. W. H. Arant, Dean of the Law School, received a special delivery letter, telling him of the insurance project;

he finally made out that the company's terms were something like this: Each student who accepts a "policy" will pay $8 for every month that he sits at the feet of the teachers in the school of law. If a flunk compels him to withdraw at the end of the semester he will receive a scholastic death benefit of $250. If he fails to pass the bar examination after receiving his LL. B., he will receive $200 as balm for his wounds.

HOLY PICTURE FELON PAINTS MAY FREE HIM

Interpretation of Christ Ministering to Helpless, by a Convict, is Masterpiece.

Atlanta, June 6.—An oil painting of Christ ministering to the helpless, placed on the wall of the chapel of the United States penitentiary here by Max Sasano, Russian artist and opera singer, may be the means of obtaining for him a complete pardon from serving the remainder of a three-year sentence for conviction in a counterfeiting case in New York City.

Max has just finished the picture, and it took him from the first of last December until May 10 to complete it—almost six months of intensive effort. According to Father Hayden, rector of the chapel, who, Max says, inspired the painting, he worked on it every day from early in the morning until they compelled him to stop at night.

"Sometimes at 8, and even 9 o'clock at night, I would find Max in the chapel, laboring over his work, and I almost had to drag him away from it," said Father Hayden. "He was so enthusiastic over it, and so intent on finishing it, that he thought nothing of working right through mealtimes unless some one came by and made him quit and eat. He seemed never to tire, but wanted to work all the time."

Picture Painted on Wall

The picture measures 8 feet wide by 16 feet tall, painted directly on the wall of the Catholic chapel. It depicts the Saviour standing on the rose-strewn steps of a temple, while all about Him are gathered in supplication, the sick in body and the sick in soul, the beggars and the blind and the wayward youth, while the hand of the Master rests on the head of the Magdalene. Above in the clouds are three cherubs, symbolic, the artist says, of the Angels of Mercy.

It is painted in oil and has elicited high praise from art critics. Prisoners furnished the models for Max. So interested were they that many of them sat for hours at a time. Max says that without their co-operation he never could have carried the picture to a successful completion. "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest," is the text that furnished the theme for the painting.

Max is of Russian-Italian heritage, having been borne in Italy. His mother is an Italian, while his father is a Russian Jew. He is of diminutive stature, standing barely over five feet tall, and of a decided rotundity. He has bright black eyes and the manners of a well bred and well read foreigner.

He was educated in the schools of Moscow, attending and being graduated from the Moscow University. Later he studied art and music in Paris and other European art centres.

Besides being an artist of note he is an opera singer of recognized ability, having sung with the late Enrico Caruso and the Russian Chaliapin.

Max first came into prominence locally by his concert broadcast over a local station. He has a fine tenor voice and created much favorable comment from music critics of New York by his work in operas presented by the Metropolitan company during the two years he was with them.

As an artist he has had many canvases accepted and hung in various galleries. He also has painted many portraits in oil and painting, and his best work, a painting of the World War, now hangs in the Congressional Library in Washington. Many thousands of copies of this canvas were printed and distributed during the war.

"Max should get a pardon," Father Hayden said. "An investigation has shown that he was ignorant of what he was doing when he made a plate to be used in counterfeiting money, and I honestly believe that he is innocent of any crime. He says that when he did find out that what he was doing would help some megalomaniac break the law he tried to quit, but that they forced him to go on under penalty of death."

"I'm certainly glad to know that a movement has been started to get him a pardon, for I think he deserves one. I hope he gets it."

Father Hayden told of how a prisoner at Leavenworth had painted a picture in the chapel of that institution, and that the President of the United States, on a visit there, immediately pardoned the artist when he viewed the work.

"I saw that picture at Leavenworth," continued Father Hayden, "and it was nothing like as good as the one Max has painted. This one here is one of the finest mural decorations I ever have seen anywhere."

Not only Father Hayden, but other inmates and officials of the prison, have praised the work. One of them, known simply as "J. F. B.," became so enthusiastic that he wrote a poem about it, ending:

"The face of Christ—his soul—looks out at you.
A task well done! United States, do thou they share
By judging men by what they are and do."

BANKS MAY QUIT VLADIVOSTOK

Vladivostok, May 2.—(Associated Press, by Mail).—The Soviet government, in its endeavor to collect 2 per cent. on all money brought into the country has demanded a considerable sum from the Korean Bank. This institution refuses payment, saying it would rather close up in Vladivostok and move to Harbin. The Yokohama Specie Bank, faced with the same situation, is said to be closing its accounts.

If the government persists in exacting this percentage, Vladivostok will be without foreign banking facilities.

MURDERS MARK CLASHES OF BARCELONA SYNDICATES

Attempt of Government to Pacify Workers' Organization Proves a Failure.

Barcelona, May 10.—(By Associated Press, by Mail).—Terrorism has broken out afresh in Barcelona after a period of comparative calm. Both the United and Free syndicates are participating in frequent assassinations, the victims generally being prominent members of the opposing societies. Hitherto the assassins have succeeded in escaping scot-free.

In face of this fresh outbreak the authorities are placed in a difficult situation. For many years the system of suppressing the workers' unions was tried, but during all this period the murderings continued. Then Premier Sanchez-Guerra announced the restoration of the constitutional guarantees, thus giving the workers the right of association. For a time there was a slackening of the flood of crime, but now it has assumed its old volume and nearly every day or night a terrorist outrage, usually fatal, is recorded.

The two workers' syndicates, since civil law again has been restored, show just as much hostility to one another, and the third element—that of the employers—which also is accused of using terrorist methods, displays equally little evidence of coming to terms.

This Laxative Works Fine on Old People

Thousands have kept themselves healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

ADVANCING AGE with its subdued ambitions and strivings could be made very happy if only good health accompanied it, and the basis of good health, as everyone learns upon reaching the age of 60, is the regular daily movement of the bowels. If it can be effected through the food you eat, the water you drink and the exercise you take, so much the better. But if nature will not operate it must be assisted and constipation causes the blood pressure to go up 25 per cent, and that is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. It makes rheumatism and gout worse, too.

The ideal constipation remedy for people of advancing years is Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is gentle and mild, and does not cramp or gripe. It is a mistake to think you need a violent salt or powder or pill, calomel, coal-tar drugs and such things. They purge and weaken.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "There can I find a true, healthy laxative for my family that can be used when constipated?" I urge you to try Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. It will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for one moderate trial. Write me where to send it. Address: W. B. Caldwell, Dr. Caldwell's Building, Toronto, Ont. Do it now!

you, and their reaction tends to make you more constipated than before.

Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary. Mrs. Ellen Laird of Pictou, N. S. who is 87, keeps herself in good health with it, and Mr. Chas. N. Nicholas of Winnipeg, Man., finds it both helpful and beneficial, and everything that can be desired from a laxative standpoint.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin yourself the next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps. Egyptian senna and pepsin with use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose. Druggists have sold it successfully for 30 years, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world.

Berlin, May 10.—(By Associated Press, by Mail).—Voltaire is sharing in the Frederick the Great revival which is spreading all over Germany. The books of the eccentric French philosopher who lived so long at Sans Souci Palace, Potsdam, with Frederick the Great, are being offered in the bookshops along with the works of the idolized Prussian King.

In Russia, during four years, there have been some 80,000,000 cases of typhus.

Clock Presented Duke of York Is Novel Mechanism

Wedding Gift of City of Glasgow Embodies All Ingenious Eccentricity of World's Time-keepers.

London, April 28.—(By Mail).—The wonderful clock presented to the Duke of York as a wedding gift from the city of Glasgow embodies all the ingenious eccentricity of the world's collection of curious clocks.

A similar piece of ingenuity was owned by a man in Lutterworth, says "The London Daily Express." This clock's "orchestra" consisted of a flute, a cello, two violins, two dancers and three singers, who performed every three hours in "solos or concerts."

The Duke of York's clock has a procession of the royal family of 1804. But this is only one of a number of professional scenes which have intrigued the fancy of clockmakers. The clock constructed in 1842 for Strasburg Cathedral had a gallery below the dial across which heathen deities drove in chariots. Diana drove on Monday,

—a friend of Millions of Babies.—
—the "Safe" Powder

MENNEN

BORATED TALCUM

Mars on Tuesday, and so on. Higher up was a second gallery, with a figure holding two bells. At each quarter a second figure appeared and struck one of the bells. At the hour an old man walked across, striking the four quarters, and after him came the figure of Death, which struck the hour with a bone.

At noon in the top gallery the twelve apostles walked in procession round the Christ, who at the close made the sign of the cross. While this went on a creak on a pinnacle on the left flapped his wings and crowed three times.

A grimmer and more astonishing mechanical pantomime is that of a clock owned by a Hindu prince. The dial consists of a great gong, under which there are a certain number of human bones and skulls. When the hand point to 1 o'clock some of the bones unite to form a skeleton which—actuated by hidden mechanism—springs to its feet, seizes a wooden mallet and strikes the gong a single blow. The skeleton then collapses into pieces.

At 2 o'clock two skeletons repeat the actions and at 3 o'clock three skeletons and so on till 12, when a dozen of these ghastly objects stand in a row and strike the gong in an uncanny burlesque of human actions.

BOSTON HONORS PREMIER VENIOT

Given Keys of City and Tree Will be Planted in His Honor—First Canadian So Signally Honored.

(Special to The Times.)
Boston, Mass., June 7.—Unusual honor was paid Premier Veniot and New Brunswick at Boston City Hall today when His Honor Mayor James A. Curley not only presented the keys of the city to the Premier but said that a tree would be planted in his name in Oliver Wendell Holmes Mall in the Commons. Pellicious speeches were made by His Honor and the Premier in the chief executive's office. Mr. Curley also invited the whole New Brunswick party to be at city hall tomorrow morning to view a parade of thousands of Boston school children. 100 reservations are to be made for the visitors at city hall tomorrow.

It is said that the presentation of the keys to Premier Veniot was the first occasion on which a Canadian so honored here but the tree planting outdoes that, for it has been conferred on only four other men—Clemenceau, Marshal Foch, Marshal Joffre and Admiral Benaud.

CHARGES UNFAIR METHODS TO KILL PASTEURIZATION

Purity Manager Says Some Dealers to Blame for Milk Conditions—Experts Coming Here.

So many complaints have been made against the pasteurized milk that the matter before him. The Times this morning called up Manager Stern of the Purity Company and laid the matter before him. "You may say," said Mr. Stern, "that we have an expert here today from Montreal, and either tomorrow or next day one from Detroit, both of them men whose verdict will be questioned, and we will abide by their report. You may say further that the Board of Health inspector has been practically living in this plant, and if there had been anything wrong with our methods the board would have taken action."

"I do not say more. There has been a deliberate drive against our plant as well as against pasteurized milk, and very shady methods have been resorted to. For example: One dealer took a load of our milk away and kept it in a warm barn over-night. When asked by a citizen if that was fair to the company, he replied that the more sour and rotten he could deliver the milk the sooner the law would be done away with. We have evidence of a dealer taking milk that had gone sour through too long under bad conditions in one store and delivering it to another. I know that people are making complaints and heaping blame on us. We hope, however, to get that blame placed where it really belongs. I do not say we are perfect, but we want to provide the people with such milk as under any reasonable system of care in store and home will satisfy every one of our customers."

FRANCE TO MARK HEROIC ACTS IN THE CHAMPAGNE

Monument will be Placed in Middle of Sector Where Many Fell.

Paris, June 6.—A war memorial in which Americans will be deeply interested (for many American soldiers fought in the region on which it is to be placed) is the colossal monument to be erected on the Champagne front. It is to be built in the middle of the Champagne sector, on what was known in the war bulletins as the Navarin Farm, ten kilometers north of Suippes and six kilometers south of Somme-Py.

The sculptor is Maxime Real del Sarte, a soldier who lost his left arm on the battlefield. He has designed a heroic three-figure group—one a light infantryman, one a grenadier and one a machine gunner (the last an American)—which will stand on a pyramid and be visible fifteen miles around. The three soldiers are in a posture of attack. The names of the Champagne regiments will be inscribed on the sides of the pyramid.

The enterprise is in charge of General Gouraud, commander on this front in 1918. The honorary committee is composed of President Millerand, Premier Poincare, Minister of War Maginot, Ambassador Herrick and all the French marshals. On the main committee are all the generals who commanded in Champagne, the Prefect of the Marne, the Archbishop of Chalons and all the former chiefs of staffs of the armies of Champagne.

General Gouraud recently addressed to the public a moving appeal for support of the memorial undertaking. In it he said: "Among the customs which all civilized peoples, and even barbarous ones, have observed, none is more general and more worthy respect than that of honoring soldiers who died on the field of battle.

"But in this immense line the part called the Champagne front in the communications, and which ran from Moronvillers to the Bois de Gruerie, is empty. It still remains a monument worthy of the hundreds of thousands of dead who watered it with their blood.

"Not only has the Champagne front been marked by continuous and often violent combats; not only were the guns never silent there, but the fatal gas waves were constant in their flow. But five of the most important battles of the war were fought there: The First Battle of Champagne, of February-March, 1915, the first offensive in the grand style after the Battle of the Marne; the Second Battle of Champagne, the big offensive of September 23, 1915, leading us to hope so strongly that we could capture the hills of Moronvillers, which was one of the most brilliant successes of the offensive of April, 1917; the Third Battle of Champagne, in which the 42d American Division took part, and which, on July 15, 1918, stopped short the last German drive and was the turning point of the war; finally, the Fourth Battle of Champagne, carrying on, on September 26, 1918, the old fortified front of the enemy to a depth of seventeen kilometers, and continuing its successes, in which the 2d and 36th American divisions took part, and which, from September 26 to November 11, 1918, carried our flags to the Meuse, to Metz and to Sedan. "Was it possible to leave this group of Champagne front without a monument worthy of the valor of those who fell there and of their sacrifices?" "Many officers and men who fought there do not think so. "To collect the necessary funds for the erection of the monument the committee appeals to all these: "To French and American families which lost a member on this part of the front: "To all officers and soldiers who fought there and to whom these names still live in their memories: Moronvillers, le Coraillet, le Mont-Haut, le mont Blond, le Teton, le Casque, Westhuis, les Marquises, Prosses, Auberville, Souain, Navarin, Tahura, la butte du Mesnil, la main de Massiges, le bois Sabot, le Trou Briot, les entonnoirs de Perthes, les Hurus, Beausjour, Malons-de-Champagne, Ville-sur-Tourbi, Bonconville, Saint-Souplet, Saint-Marie-a-Py, Somme-Py, Aure, Gratreuil, Binarville, le Blanc-Mont, Orville, Liry, Saint-Etienne-a-Arnes, Youlers, Cliez, Chrestes, la Croix-aux-Bois, les Quatre-Champs, Voucy, Mesieres, Vignes-sur-Meuse, Sedan; "To all Parisians who heard with anguish on the night of the 14th to the 16th of July 1918, the cannonade, and who, learning on the morrow that after German offensive had been broken short on the Champagne front, felt their hopes rise again. They were not deceived. The charm was broken, and on July 15, three days later, all our offensives were to be crowned with success on to the day of victory."

Cleveland, June 7.—Two deaths caused by lightning were recorded in Ohio when an electrical storm swept the state yesterday, bringing to an end a six day heat wave. A third death, that of a woman was attributed to the heat, making a total from this cause in the state for the week six. Boston, June 7.—Showers last night brought partial relief from the hot wave that had made New England swelter during the past two days. The mercury fell rapidly this evening marking a light fall of rain from the high mark of the day of 84 reached this afternoon. Yesterday the maximum was 95 degrees, the highest temperature recorded in this city since July 28, 1921. One death was attributed to the heat in this district and another was reported from Woonsocket, R. I. Providence, R. I., June 7.—Deaths of two women here are ascribed to the heat wave. Doctors declare the record temperature of 98 degrees with humidity ranging from 92 per cent. to 81 per cent. can also be held responsible for several deaths from heart trouble.

SUBMARINE COMMANDER TELLS OF SINKING WARSHIP

London, May 18.—(By mail.)—A thrilling story was told in the Prize Court by Commander K. M. Bruce, D. S. O., R. N., of the submarine E-12, when claims for bounty were made in respect of the sinking of Turkish ships in the Sea of Marmora during the summer and autumn of 1915 and 1916, says The Westminster Gazette. Commander Bruce described how, after dodging nets put down for his capture, he popped up within a few yards of his quarry and found in the first case a Turkish mystery ship with disguised guns which opened fire on him. He brought a six-pounder at close quarters to bear on the Halitch I, an armed steamer, and two dhows in tow, and sank all three, and then gave chase to the Halitch II, another armed steamer, which ran ashore in trying to escape. The crew fled. Rifle fire was opened on the British submarine from all the vessels and from shore batteries. All enemy vessels were duly accounted for, without British casualties. The president, Sir Henry Duke, awarded £235 in respect of the Halitch I and two dhows.

Australia Land Of Vivid Colors

Member of Auto Expedition Describes Diversity of Wonders on Island Trip.

London, May 18.—(By Mail).—Captain S. A. White, who accompanied the McCallum Motor Expedition, which crossed Australia south to north and back again, has given the members of the Field Naturalists' Society the considered results of his observations. Captain White, a well known Australian ornithologist, showed that, far from being a gigantic desert, central Australia is a land of color—the colors of birds, flowers, and waving grasses. His remarks related chiefly to what he saw north of Alice Springs, according to "The London Times." The season had been a dry one, and the small annuals were scarce. On this trip the years before, Captain White had traveled through many miles of ground flora. From Lake Eyre to the MacDonnell Range, a desert-loving shrub (Eremophila freelingii) was gay with mauve-tinted blossoms. On the vast Burt Plain, north of Alice Springs, the mulga (Acacia aneura) and many grasses were found. The latter were of a tussocky nature, and, in the opinion of Captain White, they would make ideal pastoral country. Range Holds Back Tropics. At Central Mount Stuart he encountered a range which seemed to keep back the tropical vegetation of the north. There was a gap where thirty-two species of plants were found, but they did not pass southward of this point. A wattle was discovered in the vicinity which carried pods 12 inches long—a fine tree—and also a cassia with large leaves and an abundance of flowers. Captain White found at this spot a red-backed kingfisher. This bird goes without water for a long period, subsisting on grasshoppers and other insects. There was a beautiful greville which attracted numerous insects to the honey secreted in its mass of blossoms. At Daly Waters he saw the northern territory bean tree, fifty feet high, carrying pods with a red bean, which only the emu was known to eat. The gums which grew in this country were covered with flowers. A remarkable color effect was noticed from the blue gum at Barrow Creek. From the distance the tree looked like a blue haze on account of the luminous bloom on the leaves and pods. A scarlet finch was observed here; it was named in 1911 after Captain White's wife, who accompanied him on one of his trips into the interior, and visited localities unknown to white women since time began. Grasses Six Feet High. After leaving Barrow Creek the motorists entered the magnificent Stuart Plain, with grasses over six feet high, billowed like a sea. Rabbits are found in this country but the heavy tropical rains drive them out. A plea was made by Captain White for the preservation of a large area of the country in its natural state so that the native vegetation and animals might be kept intact. North of Daly Waters he saw some magnificent gums with handsome tango-colored flowers. These trees were blossoming for the first time in seven years. A striking picture was composed of trees carrying vivid yellow-brown autumn leaves, lifted above a carpet of pink flowers. The light effect on this vegetation was dazzling, especially in a setting of gums, with banks of varying colors, some with white and others with green or brown. It was here that mud-building birds were seen, called jumpers, or, because they were always in flocks, "happy families." Bare-Eyed Pigeons Tame. The bare-eyed pigeon proved so tame and confident that the motorists almost ran over it. As the tourists advanced north they noted a tendency for the birds to become smaller. Many beautiful species were observed, including rufous-breasted thickheads, double-barred finches and a gorgeous red-winged parrot. The tropics were entered at Daly Waters, where Captain White, at a locality nearer to Darwin, came across the cyanid—a rare plant. Some specimens were twenty-five feet high. It was calculated that these might possibly have taken hundreds of years to attain their present size. The squatter pigeon was found happy in his home amid the long grass of the Barkly Tablelands, but was seen flying only at dusk and dawn. The travelers met the bronze cuckoo all through the journey and the black-faced wood swallow was nearly as ubiquitous.

Plans for Attracting Visitors to New Brunswick Made on Board S. S. Governor Dingley — Premier to Speak in Boston.

The idea of holding the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association on board the steamer Governor Dingley met with a great success. Some sixty members assembled for the meeting and a hearty spirit of enthusiasm was apparent. Address of welcome was made for luncheon when the steamer reached Eastport. E. A. Schofield was appointed chairman in place of the president, F. W. Roberts. Mr. Schofield extended the thanks of the organization to A. C. Currie and the Eastern Steamship Company for the trouble they had taken and to the Boston people for the preparations they were making to receive the association. Mr. Schofield rehearsed the history of the Tourist Association and its meetings in various parts of New Brunswick. He emphasized the benefits accruing to every line of business from tourist travel and expressed regret that Mr. W. Harry Allen, noted guide, was unable to make the Boston trip. He closed with words of high appreciation of the financial assistance given the association by the New Brunswick government and the city of St. John. Reports and Committees. A. L. Gibb, of the Canadian National Railway, St. John, was appointed assistant to the secretary, C. B. Allan. A comprehensive account of last year's meeting and the secretary's report were presented by C. B. Allan. The latter went on to draw a round of applause. R. E. Armstrong, of St. John; C. C. Avar, of Sackville and R. P. Allen, of Fredericton, were appointed a committee on resolutions and Hon. A. A. Dwyer, of Beauséjour; A. H. Lindsay, of Moncton and J. W. S. Baskirk, of Loggieville, a nominating committee on the boat. Mr. Hoskins presented each delegate with a card from Frederick R. Basley, president of the Canadian Club of Boston, extending the privileges of the club for the two weeks. He also distributed, with the Bellevue Hotel's compliments, large colored maps of Massachusetts. There were also passed out copies of "Vacationland" a nice booklet issued by the New Brunswick Tourist Association presenting the attractions of New Brunswick offers. In the state rooms were copies of the Boston Sunday Herald with a booster article by Mr. Allan, reporter for the committee which had got out "Vacationland."

which, recently, about three weeks after he committed suicide, says the Birmingham correspondent of The London Daily Express. Mason, destitute and starving, having spent his last sixpence, threw himself under the wheels of a train. His career in the army was long and honorable. He served on the north-west frontier of India, in the Boer War and in the great war. He was discharged with shattered nerves and applied for assistance to the Ministry of Pensions. Officialdom pondered his case week by week, while Mason suffered destitution, starvation and finally despair.

Believe Church Union Will Carry

Consummation at Present Session of Presbyterian General Assembly is Expected by Rev. Dr. Baird. Fort William, Ont., June 7.—That church union, as the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational communions are concerned, will be finally consummated at the present session of the Presbyterian General Assembly, was the opinion expressed by Rev. Robert Baird, D. D., for ten years principal of Manitowish College, Winnipeg, one of the outstanding Presbyterian divines in Canada. "I expect church union will carry by a large majority," said Dr. Baird. "If the next step will be that legislation will be prepared for presentation to the Dominion parliament first, then to each of the legislative assemblies in the various provinces."

ENGLISH WRITERS PLAN SPOKEN VERSE CONTEST

Believe Beauties of Poetry Will Be Spread by New Method. London, May 18.—(By Mail).—Some famous writers are associated with a movement to encourage the beautiful speaking of poetry by means of a contest in verse speaking in Oxford during the coming summer, reports "The Westminster Gazette." Mr. and Mrs. John Masfield, Professor Gilbert Murray and Professor George Gordon are the organizers. It is felt that spoken verse has been too much neglected in favor of verse printed or set to music. The contest will be held July 25, and will be known as the Oxford Recitations. The adjudicators will be Sir Herbert Warren (President of Magdalen), Professor Gilbert Murray, Professor George Gordon, Laurence Binyon and John Masfield. Lorne Powers, driver for J. Clark & Sons, was before Magistrate W. H. Parole in Hampton yesterday charged, on complaint of Provincial Constable Robert Crawford, with driving furiously through Renforth, having no lights on his automobile and with using a dealer's tag. Fines totalling $88 were imposed. The fines amounted to $15 and the costs to $23.

Church In London Is Being Consumed By Hungry Beetles

Edifice, Which Was Built About 200 Years Ago, Is Facing Destruction in a Short Time, Says Pastor. London, May 10.—(By Mail).—The Rev. J. G. Birch, the rector of St. Anne's, Limehouse, announces that his church is in danger. Not that the Dutch tower sailed up the Thames and pointed their guns at the steeple, which is one of the landmarks in Dockland, or that the sacred edifice has been "cracked" for destruction after the manner of the nineteenth churches in the city, says "The London Morning Post." The enemy in this case is the beetle, small but pugnacious, which is eating away the roof beams, as he has done at Westminster Hall and Staple Inn. The beetles must be checked, even if it means their utter destruction. Limehouse Church is not a "venerable fabric" in the sense that one speaks of the "old" in its beautiful in itself. It was designed by Hawksmoor, and finished in 1724, so that it has nearly two centuries of history behind it. One critic has said that it presents all his worst qualities, with scarcely any of his best. Take away the indescribable semi-circular projection at the west end and the massive tower, and the whole might be very aptly designated by the one word, "pugnant." Another critic is hardly more generous when he compares St. Anne's to: "A very large ship under an easy sail with a flag flying at the main top." This is far more intelligible, in Dockland, than saying that the interior is utter confusion and seems to have been designed so that the preacher could deliver the congregation a lesson in architecture. What then, is the attraction of St. Anne's? Lined with its "reach" closely connected with Dickens, who came here to visit his godfather, one Huffam, a rigger employed in a water-side shipyard after whom he had been named. Somewhere in the neighborhood lived the genial one-armed Captain Cuttle, and St. Anne's is believed to be the church where he was punctual in his attendance, and which hoisted the Union Jack every Sunday morning; and where he was good enough to be the church where he was punctual in his attendance, and which hoisted the Union Jack every Sunday morning; and where he was good enough to be the church where he was punctual in his attendance, and which hoisted the Union Jack every Sunday morning; and where he was good enough to be the church where he was punctual in his attendance, and which hoisted the Union Jack every Sunday morning.

Life Story of Man Who Found-

Second Wife to Be Given
The World.

London, May 27.—(By Mail).—
"Sometimes I feel I am not as other men—that I have a mission in life,
the nature of which I hardly dare breath
to a living soul."

These words were uttered by a young student at the famous Lampeter College in March, 1840, says "The Cardiff Times" and "South Wales Review."
They indicated the daring scheme that already was floating in the mind of a visionary man, who was destined in after years not merely to bring his ideas to a practical issue, but to establish a sect dwelling in a "Secret House of Love," the full story of which has never yet been published.

The speaker was James Henry Prince, a man of good family and unquestionable piety, who entered Lampeter College as a student of Divinity, with the intention of taking Holy Orders. While at this noble college he had burned with a mystic piety and sent that had affected some of his fellow-students so much that there had been formed the famous "Lampeter Brethren"—an earnest band of young men who were responsible for the great religious revival in Wales in 1840. In the center of these enthusiasts was Prince, animated by a zeal that afterwards turned to mania, and led him along one of the strangest paths ever trod by a Man of Good Intentions.

There may be found today at Spaxton, Somersetshire, a strange set of people known as the Agapemonites.
Their house is called "The Abode of Love." Their head is a man named Piggot, who has arrogated to himself in the title of "The Messiah." All this is the direct outcome of the mystical dreaming of the earnest student of the Lampeter College, James Henry Prince.

Certainly fiction contains nothing to equal the story of how a student in a Welsh theological college founded a new sect, and finally set at naught the laws of God and man by a daring assumption of "divinity" and a total disregard of the accepted conception of morality.
For it was Prince who set up the doctrine of "free love"—the theory that men and women could live together in a beautiful "House of Secret Love" and be bound by a bond of "celestial love." He set up his weird establishment, and, although he had a wife, took to himself in a mystic midnight marriage a young girl, the daughter of his rector where he had taken up his first curacy after leaving Lampeter.

For years the secrets of the "Abode of Love"—as Prince named his mansion, where he finally set up his new "religion"—have been jealously guarded. Strange stories naturally have been afloat, but the truth has been carefully hidden. Now, however, they are about to be given to the world in a series of articles.

For sheer drama and fascinating interest nothing just like this has before appeared. It is a narrative of the Man of Good Intentions, who was filled with highest and noblest ideas. Gradually, however, his visions became clouded with baser desires—the love that he had for the beautiful Julia, daughter of his rector. To take her in marriage while he had yet a legal wife he evolved the "soul-wife" doctrine, and began the downward path that ended in the evolution of "The Abode of Love."

The narrative has been written by C.
Creagh-Jerningham, an author famous for his researches of strange "religious" and cults.

Mayor Fisher has written to Hon.
James Murdock, Minister of Labor, in regard to the proposed closing of the Employment Service Bureau here. His Worship pointed out that the Common Council favored the maintenance of the office here and that the city had never been officially advised as to the closing of the office. The Mayor expects that the office will be kept open here.

"Don't Move!"

—Said the Ice

"I won't disturb you getting in even if I do weigh 100 lbs.

and—
I've come to stay
over the week-end"

"WELL," called out the cream. "No doubt your intentions are good. But mistress said it was going to be a very hot week-end!"

"Ha, ha!" laughed the ice. "The heat won't affect me at all—nor you either. I've heard all about this refrigerator. It's a Barnet, you know.
And it's almost impervious to weather conditions.
And then, too, I weigh 100 lbs! I'll melt at a much slower rate than my little brothers of 25 lbs., who are sent to ordinary refrigerators. The Barnet ice chamber is the only one big enough to hold me!"

"Oh, you'll see! There'll be plenty of me left on Monday or even Tuesday morning to still keep you all fresh and wholesome."

And the ice is quite right. The Barnet ice chamber is larger than in ordinary refrigerators.
It has a several-day ice capacity. And it really consumes less ice than smaller ice chambers because the larger amount of ice melts much slower than when a smaller amount is used.

Cold and Dry All the Week-End

The Barnet ice chamber accommodates enough ice to keep the most perishable foods fresh and wholesome over the week-end. The whole Barnet interior is kept cold and dry. In an ordinary refrigerator the ice chamber is so small that even when crammed to capacity there is not enough ice left by Sunday afternoon to keep the food chamber really cold.

And that is the danger time in a refrigerator,
for a refrigerator that is not cold becomes damp.
Germs multiply in such an atmosphere, and foods become tainted and spoiled very quickly. This is a waste of food and a dangerous menace to health.

Deterioration of food in its earliest stages is not always noticeable to the palate, yet such foods should not be eaten. Food in this state causes digestive disturbances in adults, and stomach and intestinal indigestion, cholera, infantum, summer complaint and other ailments among children.

A Barnet Refrigerator gives you the safe, cold, dry, ventilated accommodation absolutely necessary to keep foods in perfect condition every day, and over the week-end.

Other Barnet Advantages

The Barnet eleven super-constructed walls, keeping all the cold in and the heat out; exclusive (patented) syphon and ventilation system keeping the air in constant circulation and relieving it of all food gases and odors; pure white vitreous porcelain enamel food chamber—absolutely seamless; and the absence of the dangerous, unsanitary drain pipe.

Wouldn't you like a Barnet in your home? It is the refrigerator you can depend on. It is sanitary and safe. And the ice lasts in it. It will keep foods fresh and wholesome every day and over the week-end. A Barnet will save you money in ice bills, doctor's bills and dollars and dollars' worth of food you are now forced to throw out.

Any Barnet dealer will be glad to tell you all about the Barnet, and to show you its several sizes and styles.

The Story of Heathized Butter is an interesting one. Did you ever watch a sunbeam streaming into a darkened room through a hole in the blind. You have, of course. You remember seeing the millions of dust particles floating in its path. Well—those dust particles invisibly fill every part of the room.

In the ORDINARY churning process a quantity of this impure air gets into the Butter, with the result that the Butter is likely to lose its natural flavor unless kept at a very low temperature, because this interior air gradually breaks down the Butter and causes it to become rancid.

After much experimenting, Professor W. Paul Heath, food expert of Chicago, discovered a way of driving out the injurious air, and churning Butter in a clean, sterile atmosphere 100 times purer than air.

PURITY HEATHIZED BUTTER is the PUREST and RICHEST you

London, April 28.—(By Mail)—Lord

offers will be considered at a public

Lord Durham is expected to preside.
The meeting is under the auspices of the local voluntary hospital committee.

Both Sea-ham Hall and Brancepeth

the war. Brancepeth Castle has been the seat of the Russell family since the eighteenth century. Originally built before the conquest, Brancepeth dates from an earlier period as a castle than any other in the country.
Lord Boyne is now living at Bur-waston, Bridgnorth, Shropshire. Seaham Hall was closed by Lord Londonderry owing to heavy taxation and the cost of upkeep. It has been in possession of the Londonderry family since 1822.

Trojans Win Again.
Heavy hitting with good pitching and fielding brought the Trojans in easy winners in the baseball game on the South End diamond last night against the Garrison club. Kerr held the Garrison to two hits while his team mates netted fourteen, giving them the game by 13 to 0. There were eleven errors in the game, the Trojans making five and the Garrison six. Both Nels and Brookins, the two Garrison pitchers, were hit hard.

Umpire Stunned.
In a game at Newcastle on Monday evening between the local team and Nelson, the umpire was struck by a batted ball and carried off the field unconscious. He recovered under medical care.

Fortunes Won At Derby.
A fortune of $32,000, about $150,000, yesterday made happy a woman mill-worker of Yorkshire, Mrs. Nellie Ford, who drew Papyrus in the Okeley Club's sweepstake. She was offered $3,000 for her chance but refused. A London man who won £12,000 announced that he would give one third to the city hospitals. Sums of £10,000 were won by a stenographer and a street cleaner. It is estimated that £250,000 changed hands in the larger sweepstakes besides an enormous sum in the smaller ones.

Taylor Holds Title.
Winnipeg, June 7.—Jack Taylor of Winnipeg, heavyweight wrestling champion of Canada, successfully defended his title here last night against Emile Maupas of Montreal, also a claimant of the title, in two straight falls.

The weekly sport shoot of the Permanent Force Rifle Association was held yesterday afternoon on the local range. The winners were as follows: A. class, Sergt. G. L. Landry, B. class, Sergt. D. Morrison; C. class, Sergt. W. J. DeVenne.

Suspension and a fine of $200 were imposed on Jack McAllister, Detroit heavyweight, by the state boxing commissioner of Michigan for the alleged poor showing he made in a recent bout at Detroit against Martin O'Grady. Unless the poor showing is explained soon, McAllister may be kept from meeting Floyd Johnson.

Mickey Walker, world's welterweight boxing champion, was suspended and his title was forfeited in New York State yesterday for failure to accept a challenge from Dave Shade of San Francisco.

THE DUMBELLS STILL POPULAR

Large Audience Delighted With Their Bright New Show, "Carry On," at the Imperial.

The Dumbells are always sure of a welcome in St. John, and last evening at the Imperial Theatre they upheld the reputation which has made them general favorites here. It was the first occasion on which the newly constituted company had visited the city, but there were some familiar faces, and the numbers went over with a bang. The company is personally conducted by Captain M. W. Plunkett and he has a cast of entertainers that keep the audience on its toes from rise to fall of the curtain. The scenic effects were excellent and formed a fitting background for a good show.

The irresistible Al Plunkett received a warm ovation and the applause was never more vociferous than when he sang some of the old favorites which have made his name a by-word among music lovers in the city. "The Wild, Wild Women," "I Know Where the

PARIS WILL EXPAND TO END CONGESTION OF HOMES IN CITY

Municipal Plan Under Way to Acquire Land and Sell It Without Profit to Those Who Care for Sites.
Paris, June 7.—The Municipal Council of Paris and the General Council of the Seine have been discussing plans for remedying housing conditions here. Too many people are crowded together in some sections of the city; the number of wretched dwelling places is increasing; tuberculosis is prevalent on the outskirts of the city, communities have grown up as a result of speculator's schemes. All the available land has been purchased by these speculators and sold or rented in lots without making the necessary sanitary provisions.
The present land policy has been developing for some time under the direction of M. Aulrant, then under Mr. Juillard, and finally under M. Maiberge, director general of works, and M. Doumero, director of the plan of extension. It is somewhat similar to the land policy of several other countries, especially Germany, and consists in the purchase by the city or province of the lands over which it expects to extend itself. The city then divides up the land, laying out roads, and sells the property at just enough to meet expenses, with the understanding that the buyers build houses.
It is probable that the first section to be divided up will be to the north-east, in the neighborhood of St. Denis and d'Aubervilliers.
