

PISTOL SHOT ENDS GANGSTER'S CAREER

Italian, Five Times Convicted, Slain in Front of His Cafe.

New York, Sept. 1.—John Pelletieri, who had several aliases, was shot and killed while sitting in front of his cafe at 42 Monroe street.

Pelletieri first came to the attention of the police twelve years ago when he was wounded and his father killed by an assailant against whom the son refused to testify.

The murderer crept up on Pelletieri from the back of the Monroe street cafe, which reaches back to Hamilton street, shot him, and hurdling children and boxes of produce on the sidewalk, raced east to Market street and then south to Hamilton, where he disappeared.

REUNITED BY ADVERTISING Bernard Leveque Finds Father in Montreal When He Uses Newspaper Columns.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Bernard Leveque of 816 West 26th street, New York City, came to the end of a nineteen-year-old quest in a Montreal hotel, when he was reunited to his father who left him in an orphanage in Odgensburg, 28 years ago, when Bernard was only five years old.

The death of his wife caused Leveque senior to place his child in an orphanage. Bernard thrived and lived at the orphanage until he was eleven years old. Then he was sent to work on a farm of Keene Centre, New York. He was fourteen years of age when he left the farm and went to New York City to earn his living.

Every year Bernard spent his vacation touring through the various districts of New York State in search of his father. Three weeks ago he chanced to visit the farm where he had worked for three years. He was told that five years ago his father had been there in search of him but not being able to find him had returned to Montreal, where he probably still lived.

The son immediately set out for Montreal, armed with a 22-year-old photograph of his father. He searched the city. Directories and telephone books led him on false trails but he finally advertised. Leveque senior will probably return to the United States to make his home with his son.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just plain Multifid coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use. Two or three spoonfuls of Multifid in a cup or glass with a little warm water, is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Multifid coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure you get Multifid. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

ITALIAN FLEECE OF HIS SAVINGS Confidence Men Work Old "Italian Charities" Trick on Victim.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Following hot upon the heels of the Richman swindle, in which confidence men relieved a woman of more than $2,400, is the case of Salvatore Parri, fruit merchant, aged fifty of 341 Parliament street, who was robbed of $860 by two men by means of the hoary old game of "Italian charities." The men have disappeared, and as a memento of their fleeing visit Parri retains his grief and a tin box containing two handkerchiefs stuffed with paper, a local weekly paper and two one-dollar bills. Parri is penniless. The police say that Parri met a comrade, whom he claims to know, in Centre avenue. This man suggested to Parri a whiskey-selling scheme, which, however, Parri was not enamored of. In a moment or two they were joined by another Italian, who, after a short conversation, said that he had $15,000, which he intended to distribute among the Italian poor of the city, if he could get some reliable Italian to handle the money for him. For this task the distributor would be rewarded in a suitable manner. The upshot of the affair was that Parri handed over his money as a bond to the confidence men and received in return the box containing the supposed $15,000, which he took home with him. At the time appointed for the distribution Parri waited in vain for his erstwhile companions and when they did not come he got suspicious, opened the box and discovered the swindle. An inspection of the proposed reconstruction work at the C. P. R. overhead crossing in Chesley street was made yesterday by Mr. Simmons, C. P. R. engineer, from Montreal, accompanied by George N. Hatfield, city road engineer, and C. C. Kirby, divisional C. P. R. engineer. It is probable that changes will

THE AMERICAN ESTIMATE.

A remarkable tribute to Canada is paid by Commerce Monthly, a journal issued by the National Bank of Commerce, New York, in its September issue. An article on the International Position of Canada, written by Mr. Faris R. Russell, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce, fills nearly thirteen pages of the Monthly, and is the leading article for the month. The tenor of the article may be gleaned from the opening paragraph, which is as follows:

"By the accepted tests of greatness, Canada now ranks as one of the foremost nations of the world. It is immensely rich in natural resources. Its government is stable, its population is thrifty and energetic, and its business leadership has been proved to be of the imaginative type requisite for the organization of modern industry. The banking and currency system is among the best, and transportation facilities, both within the country and with other countries, are equalled in adequacy only by those of the United States."

AMATEUR SPORTS.

St. John will be represented at the amateur athletic championship in Halifax next week, but not as largely as is desirable. Of course the reason is that attention in this city has been centred on baseball. Everybody likes this game, and it ought to be encouraged; but not to the exclusion of field sports. Each of the four Improvement Leagues in the city should be training athletes and when big events are held in other places they should send their best to participate.

ROADS AND TREES.

The revival of the project of planting trees along the road from the city to Brookville has everything to commend it. If it is carried out there will be in due time a stately avenue of trees making the pleasure of the roadway infinitely greater for the traveler. We may find in the city itself a fine illustration of what trees do for a road or street. Not many years ago Germain street, from Princess to Queen, was utterly bare and cheerless. It was paved and a strip of grass left between street and sidewalk on each side, and trees planted at intervals. Today those trees have a thrifty growth, and the lovely green vista as one rides or strolls along is a delight to the eye.

The Diesel engine has been discovered by Mayor McLellan. It is a wonder. Out in Oklahoma it produces power at .019 per kilowatt hour. The mayor, however, did not tell his hearers that they had a Diesel engine as a standby in an Ontario town and got rid of it at the first good opportunity, while another town also found it a white elephant. This engine is all right where only a small unit is required, but in larger propositions it is of no value. The mayor, who is always learning that he had been wrong and prides himself on his ability to get that way and get over it, will in due time find out about the Diesel engine, and add another chapter to his Confessions of a Mised Man.

If the city had accepted the Bodell offer, every big industry in the United States would have had a branch in St. John inside of six months. They were only waiting for the people here to give to the New Brunswick Power Company's plant a valuation of $3,500,000, and to spend the half million or so needed to put it in repair, and they would fall over one another in their eagerness to plant factories all over the place. That's sure—as the mayor would say.

POULTRY SHOW WILL BE FEATURE

A Model Farm an Interesting Part of This at St. John Exhibition.

The poultry show, in the agricultural hall, is to be one of the main features of the exhibition this year. The main feature of this show is the model poultry farm which occupies a large part of the space in the middle of the floor. It is being run by the exhibition management with the co-operation of the department of agriculture, which is lending some apparatus and is giving demonstrations daily. The miniature farm shows the whole life of the chicken, from the time the egg is laid until the bird is ready for market, either as a chicken or as a fowl. The first enclosure consists of two hen-houses for the different varieties of birds, the light weight laying breeds and the heavier general purpose breeds. The next enclosure houses the incubators for hatching the chicks and brooders for keeping them warm and growing. In the next pen are the young chickens and those just maturing. Then are the fattening coops and in this connect are exhibits of poultry dressed and ready for the market and eggs ready for sale. The pens also contain some record-making birds. An interesting feature of this exhibit is a quantity of food measured as sufficient and necessary to keep one hen for a year.

Some special coops have been erected in this space for the housing of some breeds of wild fowl, including the wild jungle black cock from Java and some Angus pheasants. A runway has been put up containing a small pool of water for some examples of wild geese and ducks, together with some breeds of farmyard ducks. This poultry farm is in charge of Mrs. Olson, a prominent poultry raiser of Brown's Plata. W. C. Rothwell is in charge of the whole poultry show.

In the corner of the floor space are two commercial exhibits of practice all the apparatus used in chicken farming, including sprayers, poultry foods and paints for hen-houses. The demonstrating booths of the federal and provincial government poultry departments take up the rest of the centre space with their showing of morning pictures, egg testing, killing and plucking exhibits and other educational features.

be shown in the demonstration departments. The government is also keeping a pen of record birds and giving demonstrations of how the records of each bird may be taken. The big arch at the entrance to the main building is rapidly being completed and the crowd of boy scouts at work there under the direction of V. C. Timbery expect to have the work completed today. Streamers of flags are being hung in all directions around the roof and the decorations generally are receiving an overhauling to make the building as attractive as possible. The midway shows are commencing to arrive and a few of the booths are already in place. An encouraging feature is the report from the sellers of strip tickets that their supplies are exhausted and they have names of many people who arrived too late to get these tickets. An effort will be made today to find any of those who have some of these tickets left and to distribute these to the dealers who run short.

In April, May and June there were seven incendiary fires in the province, entailing a loss of $193,173. Of this amount the insurance loss was $177,001. In all there were 321 fires, the insurance loss amounting to $666,870 and the loss not covered by insurance amounting to $288,619. Eighty-six fires were classed as "unknown."

The greatest fire sufferers were as follows: Moncton, $152,114, twenty-four fires; Edmundston, $126,896, ten fires; St. John city, $79,248, fifty fires; Bathurst, $57,524, twelve fires; Fairville, $48,898, two fires; Donkton, $32,000, two fires; Fredericton, Shediac, Sackville, St. Stephen, St. Andrews, Sussex, Chatham, Gagetown, Dalhousie, Andover and Perth were immune from serious fires during the three months period under review.

A horse owned by T. Griffin, 16 Richmond street, was shot by Detective P. F. Biddiscombe on Wednesday night upon the order of Dr. A. J. Boyce that the animal, which had been sick for several weeks, be destroyed.

MR. DRURY "DRESSED UP."

When Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public highways for Ontario, won a "pluk" hat on a bet recently, it was said that he was the only member of the Drury cabinet so bedecked. That is not true, however, for here is Premier Drury wearing a silk topper.

MAN DROWNED IN HALIFAX.
Halifax, Aug. 31.—Joseph Murphy, 21, was drowned here today when he was overcome while swimming in the harbor and sank. Friends went immediately to his rescue but found difficulty in reaching him and he was beyond resuscitation when taken out.

Premier Foster said last night that he read in the evening papers that he was to speak at the official opening of the exhibition tomorrow night. This, he said, was the first intimation he had received that he was to speak. He will not be one of the speakers as he is leaving on Saturday to spend the holiday in St. Andrews.

FEDERATION PLAN REFERRED BACK TO ACADIA GOVERNORS

Wolfville, N. S., Aug. 31.—The hart-time United Baptist convention, in session here today, voted to refer the proposal of the federation of the maritime universities back to the board of governors of Acadia University for the purpose of continuing negotiation with other colleges and reporting their findings to a meeting of the convention to be held later. The discussion of the project occupied considerable time, several speakers taking the view that further consideration should be given before a final decision either to accept or reject it was made.

Three courses were open, first, to endorse the principle of federation; second, to reject the proposal; third, to refer the project to the board of governors to continue negotiations with other colleges and to report their findings to a later meeting of the convention. The report recommended the adoption of the third course which was moved by Dr. Oakes and seconded by Dr. W. C. Goucher. Dr. Cutten was given an ovation as he rose to address the convention. He reviewed the development of Acadia during the twelve years of his presidency. He came to his work just when everybody was aroused to the necessity of rallying to the support of the college.

Dr. Cutten then turned attention to the proposed college federation. It was a federation that was proposed not an amalgamation, he said. The Carnegie Corporation had in no way taken a dictatorial attitude on the proposition. It was wise to go into the consideration of the scheme along with the other colleges. This was due to the college and to the Carnegie foundation. No one knew what might be the final proposals in the matter. When these findings were reached it will be for the convention to decide the course of action.

Rev. G. C. Warren strongly supported the recommendation of the board of governors. Dr. H. T. DeWolfe was called to the platform and expressed his high appreciation of Dr. Cutten. Dr. DeWolfe said the university existed for the furtherance of the Kingdom of God. If it was discovered that the Kingdom of God might best be advanced by entering the proposed federation it was the duty of the convention to enter the federation.

Dr. A. Cahoon said the easiest way would be to say they would have no part in this plan. The easy way was not always the wisest way. It might be wiser to remain in harbor awhile longer to get more light. The part of wisdom was to follow this proposition to its legitimate conclusion.

A large number of distinguished visitors were invited to a seat in convention. Among those was Rev. Palgrave Davy, of Auckland, New Zealand, who addressed the meeting. Others were Rev. Dr. E. M. Keirstead and Rev. Messrs. H. C. Vedder, E. D. Webber and H. E. Stillwell.

The board of governors of Acadia University reported through their secretary, Dr. I. B. Oakes. The report noted that the college year now closing has been unusually eventful. The resignation of the president, Dr. Cutten, whose services for Acadia had been so notable, had been received and accepted with sincere regret. Dr. A. C. Chute, after twenty-one years of loyal and useful labor as professor of old testament language and literature, retired from active work at the close of the college year.

At the last closing exercises Acadia graduated the largest class in her history and larger than any other similar graduating class ever graduated from any maritime college or university. These occurrences were of special significance and of special interest to Acadia and her constituency.

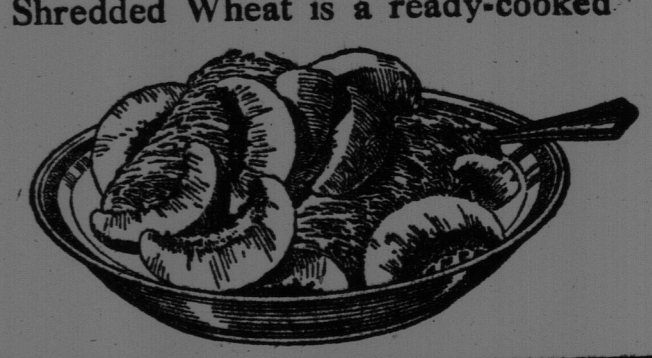

The total enrollment in the three institutions was 896. In the college, 507; in the academy, 200; in the seminary, 89; total, 896.

When the closing exercises of the year had terminated three vacancies in the teaching staff required to be filled: the

THE DRURY COVE COMMUNITY CLUB HOUSE IS OPENED

All Drury Cove was in festive array last evening for the official opening of the new club house which was erected this summer by the Drury Cove Community Club. This club has set a new standard for rural organizations as the building was almost entirely constructed by the club members, and in this way an almost unbelievable amount of expense was saved. No fees are paid into the club treasury, the expenses being paid by public subscription. This is a rather novel idea, but so far it has been found to succeed remarkably well in this case.

Supper was served last evening at the club house from 5.30 o'clock until 8 o'clock. A programme was then carried out in connection with the opening of the building. An address of welcome was given by the president, Thomas Inkpen, declaring the building official for its various purposes. George Dishart, the oldest resident of the community, gave an historical sketch of the activities during his time. The treasurer, E. E. Thomas, gave a short account of the financial standing of the club. An imposing birthday cake which had been given to the club was auctioned by A. H. Wetmore.

The ladies committee in charge of the supper were Mrs. E. E. Thomas, convener; Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. L. H. Sandall and Mrs. T. E. Simpson. The trustees of the building are Thomas Inkpen, president; George Dishart, vice-president; E. E. Thomas, secretary-treasurer; George Stafford, A. C. Clark, L. H. Sandall and T. E. Simpson.

HON. DR. ROBERTS RETURNS FROM MASSACHUSETTS

Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, minister of public health, returned on the Boston train last night, after an absence of about one week, spent in Massachusetts. During his absence, Dr. Roberts devoted much of his time securing information which he will turn to good advantage in the public health work of the province. He delivered the memorial address for Hon. David I. Robinson, a member of the governor's executive who died a short while ago. The memorial address was delivered in the First Baptist church at Gloucester on Sunday, August 27, and the congregation, which filled the large auditorium, was greatly interested and appreciative.

Dr. Roberts took advantage of the opportunity to consult with Eugene Kelly, commissioner of public health for the state of Massachusetts, and his staff regarding matters affecting public health and their methods of administration. He was afforded every facility of becoming acquainted with the work of the public health department there and he was able to say that he was no less pleased with conditions as they are in New Brunswick after making himself familiar with the public health work in Massachusetts. Maternal and child welfare are receiving special attention in that state, and the commissioner was most courteous in giving

Dr. Roberts every opportunity to study the methods being pursued. Asked concerning the work of St. John's new health centre, Dr. Roberts said that he had not yet learned of what had been done in his absence, but that a meeting of the directors of the health centre was to be called shortly for the election of officers and to put things in working order with all possible speed.

He had been commissioned by the board of the General Public Hospital to secure information regarding modern anaesthetizing apparatus, and he said he had consulted Dr. Richardson, of Boston, a well known expert in such matters and had also visited two large firms which make these appliances. He believed, as the result of his inquiries, he would make some special recommendations to the hospital commissioners.
